Natives Demand Alexander's Ouster

GOV. ALEXANDER

According to the Associated Press Dispatch, 2000 Virgin Islanders gathered in a mass meeting at St. Thomas' Market Place Tuesday night demanding the removal of Governor Archie A. Alexander. A resolution was addressed to President Eisenhower asking that he be replaced. Governor Alexander is in Washington conferring on official business. He had no comment when informed of the resolution.

Capital Close-Up From Washington

BY CONSTANCE DANIEL

Grass in the Car Tracks

Washington, D. C.—Grass is growing along the tracks of your Capital's transit system. No cars, no buses have run on Washington's streets for more than three weeks. Business is "off" by wide margins—merchants frantically price-slashing, changing store hours, even offering to pay shoppers' taxi fares, in an attempt to catch the private-car trade, bring out the stay-at-homes and fill near-empty store aisles.

Grass in Other Tracks

In late January, Close-Up noted the advent of a new five-member watch-dog committee on Government Employment Policy, authorized to make investigations, and responsible directly to the President. (The old Fair Employment Board could initiate nothing, and was responsible to the Civil Service Commission.) The chairman of the new Board was Chicago lawyer Maxwell Abbell, now in Europe for the summer, or longer. Archibald Carey of Chicago, a public member, is Acting Chairman. Assistant Secretary of Labor J. Ernest Wilkins is a Government member. We referred to them both—hopefully—as "go-getters."

But after six months, the grass appears to be growing, here, also. If any action has moved over these tracks, we haven't "heard tell." Although the committee has held monthly meetings—the latest on Monday through Wednesday, last

Decrees Handed Down in School Cases Satisfy No Side, Says Roy Wilkins

New York—The decree handed down by the lower courts in the Clarendon County, South Carolina, and Prince Edward County, Virginia, school segregation cases satisfied neither side, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said in a statement made public here July 22.

Mr. Wilkins expressed the opinion that the decrees are not necessarily "typical of what will happen throughout the South." He noted that many communities in several southern states had proceeded voluntarily with plans to desegregate their schools in compliance with the United States Supreme Court decision of May 17, 1954 and May 31, 1955.

Text

The text of the statement follows: In the school case decisions in South Carolina July 15 and in Virginia, July 18, neither we nor the other side got all we asked of the three-judge Federal court.

They wanted the court to grant them definite permission to operate through the 1955-56 school year on a segregated basis. The court denied this, but did say they did not have to begin a plan of desegregation by September of 1955.

We wanted the court to order a beginning of desegregation by September, 1955, or the presentation of a plan looking toward desegregation at an early date. The court denied this, but did state that all laws "requiring the segregation of the races in public schools are null and void because they are violative of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution."

Court Refused

The court refused to set a deadline for compliance, although it retained the cases on its calendar so that from time to time a hearing may be ordered on any point or points plaintiffs may consider violative of the Supreme Court language

Mrs. Heath Still Critical; Shot 3 Times by Mate

Mrs. Norma Heath, 27, of 1211 E. Seventeenth street, this week remained in critical condition at Broadlawn General Hospital where she was admitted Monday night with three bullet wounds in her abdomen.

Police arrested her estranged husband, Levi Rollie Heath, 29, and Tuesday filed charges of assault with intent to commit murder against him.

According to police report, the shooting occurred about 100 feet north of the Heath home, after Heath had gone to the home to talk to his wife about a reconciliation.

Detective James Allen said Heath told of shooting his wife three times with a rifle after a quarrel about 10:30 p.m. at her home.

Heath took his wife to the hospital following the shooting, then surrendered to police.

Police said the couple had been married 10 years and had no children.

Heath was arraigned before Municipal Judge Harry B. Grund Tuesday and released on $1,000 bond after pleading innocent to the charge. He refused to make a written statement.

Suggests Nationwide Job Opportunities Compiled For Teachers and States

Houston, Texas — A three-point program to strengthen the tenure rights of Negro teachers in the change-over from segregated to non-segregated schools was proposed in an address scheduled for delivery to the American Teachers Association convention here Monday night by Dr. John W. Davis, director of the NAACP program for teacher security.

Dr. Davis proposed enactment of new tenure legislation, establishment of a teacher aid plan, and the setting up a teacher placement bureau by the ATA.

The text of Dr. Davis' proposal follows:

Job Rights of Teachers

The maximum security for teachers can only be obtained through the enactment of tenure legislation. The membership of the A.T.A. in non-tenure states should join hands with their fellow teachers of the N.E.A. and urge state legislature to pass tenure laws.

The legal right to the jobs of non-tenure teachers employed under annual contract or contracts for any term of months or years expires at the end of the contract term. At most, the teacher can be said to have an expectancy, not a right, of future employment. Nevertheless, in many situations, an expectancy may be an interest upon which legal action in the courts may stand, especially where governmental authorities have acted in violation of state or federal law. It is necessary to add here that our lawyers have indicated many times that they cannot seek to apply legal principles in a vacuum. Therefore, in the event that any teacher seeks their assistance, all, not just some of the facts must be furnished them.

States Teacher Aid Plan

It seems to me to be strongly desirable for the state organizations of the American Teachers Association to establish and freely support a teacher aid plan which will be comparable to the Donald Dushane Plan

Displays Sign for Russian Delegation

An unscheduled part of last Tuesday's program for the Russian farm delegation, while touring the George Hora barnyard in Washington, Iowa, was the appearance of Vernon K. Wilkerson, carrying a sign which read: "Iowans are prejudiced, narrow, hypocritical to Negro workers."

Wilkerson, of Washington, D. C., has been attending Iowa Wesleyan College, Mount Pleasant, Iowa, when questioned by Washington County Sheriff Charles C. Snyder, said he had been refused drinks in various bars in eastern Iowa cities. (Photo Courtesy of Des Moines Register).

Alabama Sets Up Measures To Prevent Integration

Montgomery, Ala.—The Alabama legislature took a bold, far-reaching step to preserve classroom segregation Friday by giving local boards almost unlimited authority to determine where individual pupils must attend school.

Without debate and without dissenting votes, the senate passed and sent to the governor a school placement measure previously approved by the house.

Police Power

The bill gives city and county school boards unprecedented police power to "assure social order, goodwill and the public welfare" in the assignment of pupils on the grade school and high school level.

Each school child would be given his assignment on an individual basis, determined by what board members decide to be the best interest of the pupil and the community and considering also his intelligence, learning ability and personal character.

Hold Four Men to Jury in Tire Theft

Four men were held to the grand jury by Municipal Judge Harry B. Grund Tuesday on grand larceny charges in connection with the theft of two tires from a service station.

The defendants are William Mason, of 1615 Crocker street, Ralph Jackson, of 1318 McCormick street, Robert Jenkins, of 1444 DeWolf street, and Alfred Helman, of 1618 Walker street.

Frank J. Blaze, of 1441 1/2 E. Walnut street, testified Jackson and Helman tried to sell him the tires but that he refused to buy them.

Patrolman Thomas Teale, Jr., testified the tires were stolen July 9 from the Gerhart service station at 714 Keosauqua way. All four defendants were released under $200 bonds.

Justice Department to Probe Trooper's Brutality

New York—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has been assured that Georgia State Trooper J. W. Southwell, severely, and without provocation, beat William Henry Owens, a 16-year-old Negro boy, last month.

Informed of the brutal beating, Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, called upon Attorney General Herbert Brownell to make an investigation. In response to this request, the Department, through Assistant Attorney General Warren Olney III, said: "The matter is under careful consideration, and such action as may be found to be appropriate will be taken without delay."

Tuskegee Given $800,000 March of Dimes Grant to Assist School of Nursing

Tuskegee, Ala. — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has awarded a March of Dimes grant of $800,000, effective July 1, to assist the program of the School of Nursing, Tuskegee Institute, Ala.

This was announced jointly July 19 by L. H. Foster, president of Tuskegee Institute, and Basil O'Connor, National Foundation president. Dr. Foster stated that this sum represents about half the operating cost of the School of Nursing. The remaining amount is provided through a grant from the state of Alabama and other sources.

Additional Grants

Additional March of Dimes grants since 1945 in amounts in excess of $900,000 have gone to support the School of Nursing, which provides opportunity for education in nursing for qualified students and in turn supplies an increasing number of graduate nurses to a large area of the South. Nursing has been taught at Tuskegee Institute since 1891.

Dean Lillian H. Harvey, director of the nursing program, in a statement commenting on this newest March of Dimes grant, declared: "In addition to a program of training in the fundamentals of nursing, our students receive practice in the care of poliomyelitic patients of all ages and in all stages of the disease. After graduation, the students are prepared to work intelligently with physicians in the care of polio patients and others with similar needs."

Ranks Largest

The National Foundation's grant in aid is part of a comprehensive program in support of professional education which today ranks as the largest ever undertaken by a voluntary agency. Since 1938, more than $20,250,000 in March of Dimes funds have been authorized to train professional personnel, and to help an able medical and other professional schools and associations to maintain and improve their educational standards and services.

The Polio Unit of the Tuskegee Institute John A. Andrew Memorial Hospital, established in 1940 provides patient care for county chapters throughout the nation.

Fine Six After Dump Dice Game

Five men and a woman were fined $10 each by Municipal Judge Harry B. Grund Monday when they pleaded guilty to gambling at the city dump at S. E. Sixteenth and Harriet streets.

Detective Lester Kellogg of the vice bureau, told Judge Grund he and other officers found the group shooting dice on a cardboard box with $2 in front of them. He said the dice were "crooked".

The defendants gave their names at Ottis Harris, 1118 University avenue, Emma Butts, of 1825 Racoon street, John Crockett, of 613 S. E. Twenty-fifth street, Thomas and Robert McNeeley, of 4154 E. Twenty-seventh street, and Percy Porter of 167 Harriet street.

Supt. Carruth said all the high schools of the city will be affected by the decision. Eighteen of the 45 school districts have Negroes living in them.

Noble Prentice, president of the school board, said that Austin would comply with the Supreme Court ruling "as early as possible." A definite decision on whether it will be possible, administratively, to integrate the high schools in September will be made within the next few weeks, Supt. Carruth said.

Remember Grandma's Watermelon Pickles?

From Nancy Haven's Beet Sugar Kitchen comes this recipe for pretty-pink sweet watermelon pickles, definitely fancy but with a good old-fashioned flavor. Easy to make too!

PINK WATERMELON PICKLES

Peel green skin from thick watermelon rind; cut rind into fancy shapes with small cookie cutters or sharp knife.

4 quarts cut-up watermelon rind
1/2 cup salt
1 quart cold water

Syrup:
2 (8 oz.) jars maraschino cherries
2 1/2 cups white vinegar

5 cups beet or cane sugar
2 teaspoons whole cloves
2 (3-inch) sticks cinnamon

Soak prepared watermelon rind in brine solution of salt and water in crock for 2 hours; drain. Place rind in preserving kettle and add warm water to cover. Cook gently until tender, about 8 minutes; drain. Combine pink syrup from cherries with vinegar; stir in beet or cane sugar. Add spices, tied in a cheese-cloth bag. Bring to boil on high heat; add cooked rind and maraschino cherries. Cook gently until rind is transparent, about 10 minutes; stir occasionally. Spoon pickles and cherries into hot sterilized jars; add hot syrup; seal at once. Makes 4 pints pickles.

the Camera Guild

Hobbies and photography go together. Take pictures of various members of the family working at their hobbies, as well as close-ups of the items they make or collect.

Collect With Your Camera

It's fairly safe to say that practically everybody has some kind of pet hobby—whether it's collecting rare stamps and coins or just old fishing hats and strings! And we've always felt that one of the nicest things about photography is the way it can aid and complement the pursuit of almost any other hobby.

In fact, it is only by means of picture-taking that many hobbies can become "collecting" hobbies at all. If you're interested in bridges, old buildings, art treasures, railroad engines, aircraft, sailing vessels or old automobile models, your camera is the only method by which you'll be able to bring home items for your collection.

Many "collector's items" are fairly small objects, and you'll be shooting them indoors. The easiest method of providing the artificial light you need is using a synchronized flash attachment on your camera. But, if you prefer, you can illuminate your collection with photoflood lamps or ordinary household light bulbs and then make a time exposure.

In either case, if the items are small, you will want to take close-up shots. With a box-type camera, you'd normally be shooting at a distance of about six feet from your subject. If, at this distance your subject seems lost in the middle of the viewfinder, you'll do well to get a simple close-up attachment that will allow you to move in to three and a half feet.

at home with the English language, so she doesn't play coy. From where we sit, we'd say she's extra good at matching wits, and gave her interviewers a good-natured, well-bred going-over in corn and cheese-cake. Sang-froid's what she has!

When she gets around to writing that autobiography, "I Remember Me," that she's reported to be considering, it will be, for sure, a piece of "must" reading that won't linger long on the shelves.

Last Stand on the Beaches!

All Washington is divided into three kinds of residents—those who work all of the time, those who work most of the time, and those with all-summer vacations.

Late in the Spring, the all-summer folks began opening cottages "down on the Bay"—which means the Chesapeake. At Highland Beach, near Annapolis, where many of today's grandparents went as youngsters, the Frederick Douglass cottage, now occupied by the family of his grandson, the late Joseph Douglass, violinist, is a landmark.

At nearby Columbia Beach, the "summer residents" keep up year-round activity—boating, swimming, fishing—and just relaxing—from the vantage point of charming homes, many built for year-round occupancy. Incidentally, the Columbia Beach Boat Club is holding its Annual Regatta on August 7, with eight events scheduled—outboard and inboard,

Dallas School Board Studies Desegregation

Dallas—The Dallas board of education is studying the whole question of desegregation, it was announced here in a formal statement July 13 by Dr. Edwin L. Rippey, president of the board.

The statement was the first official recognition of the desegregation problem by the board and apparently was prompted by a petition presented by the Dallas branch of the NAACP asking the board to "take immediate concrete steps leading to the early elimination of segregation in public schools."

Dr. Rippey asked the patience of all concerned and said the board would be impatient with undue pressure from groups. When he had finished, Kenneth Holbert, secretary of the NAACP branch here, said: "We are happy to see that you have taken the matter under consideration. We will, however, be impatient and disturbed by any prolonged delay."

sailing and oars—all open to lovers of water sports. "Columbia" is a live and interesting community of Dees professional and business folk, which even has its own orchestra. (We know about that because they often rehearse at our house during the winter.)

Then there are the river colonies at Colton, Longview, Greenway, Sandy Point and Mill Point Shores. And some take to the hills of Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania—within easy reach by car. Tokes Inn, at Winchester, has been a popular retreat for many—and Winchester, in addition to the late Miss Susan Tokes, a Virginian of great charm and culture, was also home to Dr. Sarah Brown, Howard trustee, the late Dean George William Cooke of Howard, and other citizens of distinction.

Young Robert G. "Grayson" McGuire, who summered with his Grandfather Richardson, at Highland Beach, has recently bought an extensive orchard, above the clouds in West Virginia, where he says "You can reach right up and touch Heaven!"

The few left in year-round residence—besides ourselves—take off to wherever, when the spirit moves and a few days can be snatched... we usually head for the "Lower Forty" just below the garage!

White Student Gets Negro Elks' $1,000 Scholarship; Program Designed To Back High Court Ruling

Atlantic City, N. J.—In a gigantic step toward nation-wide desegregation of the educational institutions and scholarships; a white high school student will be given a $1,000 scholarship award to further his college education by the Negro Elks this year.

William Lisenmeyer, of Phoenix, Arizona, a white student of St. Mary's Catholic High School in that city became the first student other than Negro to receive an Elks scholarship. He will be one of the seven high school students to vie for the national title in the Elks oratorical contest at Atlantic City August 22.

Opened Doors

In a joint statement issued to newspapers by Dr. Robert H. Johnson, grand exalted ruler of the Improved Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World, and Lt. George W. Lee, grand commissioner of education for the lodge, it was pointed out that Elks' program was designed to create favorable opinion towards the U. S. Supreme Court's decision on racial segregation in educational institutions. The program opened the doors of oratorical contests on local, state and regional levels to high school students of all races. Several white students have participated for Elks scholarships which are granted each regional winner, but young Lisenmeyer was the first to win.

Mixed Contests

The grand exalted ruler and commissioner of education asserted that other white students have competed for scholarships. The Indiana contest at Indianapolis had five whites of the ten participants. In Texas, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and West Virginia the contest had white participants. These mixed contests were the first steps taken by a fraternal organization to award scholarships to students of all races.

Fifty-seven scholarships have been awarded for 1956 to students from 23 states including the Bahamas. Five of these were given to students who participated in the long legal fights which caused the Supreme Court to render a decision to wipe out segregation in public institutions

week—there have been no reports of decisions, and no public releases of any kind. According to the office of Gwendolyn Tice, Acting Executive Secretary of the Committee, the only published materials have been policy memos circulated only to the various agencies. Miss Tice, who is without authority, appeared to be limited to "taken under advisement" replies to questions.

This grass may be different from that which grew in such profusion around the old FEP Committee. If there is a difference, the public would like to know it. It should know what, if any, positive action has been taken.

Adam Pulled His Punch

When West Virginia's .69-year-old Cleveland Bailey (Democrat), swung a "solid one" at 46-year-old Adam Powell (Democrat), in a debate over Powell's anti-segregation amendment to the School-Aid Bill, during a closed session of the House Education and Labor Committee, the big New Yorker pulled his punch. Powell contended himself with warding off the ire of his smaller and much older adversary, with whom he later shook hands. The Bailey wrath broke when Adam said Bailey lied in questioning the sincerity of his proffered amendment, which lost, in committee, by a 17 to 10 vote, following the incident. If the school-aid bill is cleared for debate by the all-powerful Rules Committee, Adam thinks he will "be forced" to offer his much-criticized proposal as an amendment, when the bill reaches the floor of the House.

Anti-Integration Via Pay-Raise

Gimmicks

A sliding-scale provision for three categories of School Superintendent's salaries may be the gimmick by which Mississippi's Congressman Thomas G. Abernethy, who chairs the sub-committee on teachers' pay, expects to knock out school integration—or reduce it to token action, here in the Federal City. The scale provides for superintendents without the master's degree, as well as for those with master's and earned doctorates. The District of Columbia Board of Education has established no criteria for superintendent's qualifications. It is all left to the appointed Board, which is about as predictable as the mercury. Congressional pressure could, with very little trouble, but the District's school system under the direction of an inadequately-trained superintendent who would do the bidding of his sponsors. Mr. Abernethy, it is reported, has already called in the present superintendent, and the School Board's chairman and put them on notice to go slow on integration—or else.

Major Lawrence at Travis Field

Dr. Paul F. Lawrence, Assistant Counselor in the Liberal Arts counseling service at Howard University, is at Travis Field, Georgia, on maneuvers with the District of Columbia Air National Guard. Dr. Lawrence, promoted from Captain to Major during summer maneuvers, received his doctorate in Education from Stanford University, and did advanced study in clinical and counselor training, while on sabbatical leave, last year. At Travis Field, Major Lawrence heads the Military Personnel Services Unit of the 113th Fighter-Interceptor Wing, advising on all matters affecting morale, and including lectures on public and community relationships and the psychology of leadership.

Eartha "Takes" the Dee Cee Press

Eartha Kitt was here, last week, at the Casino Royal. We didn't see her downtown show. Neither did we meet her with the Fourth Estaters. We just read about her meeting with the news gatherers—and she sounded good. In fact we think that, popular as she is, she's still been vastly underrated. She's been called a sophisticate—perhaps by way of compliment—but she is not, because sophisticates are poseurs—put-ons. Eartha has so much "plus" beyond sex-appeal that she feels no need to pretend anything at all. She likes herself the way she is, and is smart enough to be herself—unabashed. Well-read, she sees no point in playing Dumb Dora—so she doesn't. She enjoys expressing herself and is

Cooking Thermometer Shelf

THERE is a growing trend in American kitchens to keep many utensils out in the open where they are easy to reach. This is particularly valuable in the case of often-used instruments and those which are apt to be damaged if left to roll around in a drawer with a lot of other tools. For instance, if you have a fine set of cooking thermometers, as so many good cooks do today, it is a very simple matter to construct a small, handy shelf to display them and protect them.

First take a rectangular piece of one-inch board and two rectangular pieces of Masonite Presdwood. This is a particularly versatile material which can be used for innumerable jobs around the home. The dimensions of these pieces are up to you, depending on the available space and the number of cooking thermometers you wish to display.

These two pieces will actually make two shelves. Into the piece to be used for the top, drill two small holes, into which you can insert the stainless steel stems of your roast meat thermometer and your candy-jelly-deep fat frying thermometer. The round, clock-like faces of the thermometers will prevent them from slipping through the holes, and the thermometers will be always within easy reach if you attach your shelf to the wall or cabinet near the range.

Goal of $1,388,181 for Fourth United Campaign Of Greater Des Moines

A $1,388,181 goal has been set for the fourth United Campaign of Greater Des Moines, Oct. 14, through Oct. 25.

This is an increase of 2.7% over the amount raised last fall for the thirty-three community health, welfare, and recreation agencies and is the smallest increase since the United Campaign was organized in 1952. Announcement of the goal was made by Sherry R. Fisher, vice president of the United Campaign board of trustees, following approval at noon from the appeals review board of the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce.

No new organizations have joined the United Campaign for the fall fund-raising drive. Meetings were held with representatives of the Muscular Dystrophy Association and the American Heart Association, but neither group chooses to participate at this time.

Over 3,500 Volunteers
Over 3,000 volunteers will help raise the funds. Heading this group are Philip E. Jester, insurance partner of Jester & Sons, general chairman; A. Paul Thompson, vice-president and treasurer of Iowa Power & Light Company, vice chairman; Mrs. Henry G. Harmon, 227 37th St., chairman of the Women's Division; and Mrs. Dwight E. Amounts for Sister Kenny Polio Foundation, Co-operative Thrift Shop, and Day Care Service are set at substantially the same as a year ago. USO-United Fund of Iowa, Polk County Association for Mental Health, and six Community Chest agencies have requested slightly less.

Radio and TV Stations Make Agreement

Chicago, Ill.—Nine major Chicago radio and television stations have agreed upon a common program for handling news of racial disturbances in the event of such an outbreak.

Their news directors said the program is designed to minimize such disturbances as race tension and gang fights which could grow into major mob violence.

Also a party to the agreement is the City News Bureau of Chicago which furnishes local news to Chicago newspapers, radio and television stations.

In the event of a disturbance, the Airman Theodore Grant, third class, who flies home for week ends from the Sioux City Air Base where he is stationed, was downtown Saturday eating lunch with mother, Mrs. Leona Grant, 1010 Thirteenth street, when he presented a box of honors that had been bestowed upon him last week at Camp.

In his box which he was taking home to show the family, were two certificates—one which stated that he had been voted "airman of the squadron" at the Sioux City Air Base, which made him eligible to be a candidate and win the honor of being voted "airman of the month."

"It is one of the highest honors given, twice a year at the base," Grant revealed.

Also in Grant's box were prizes and honors that had come to him for winning the "airman of the month" honor. He received a $25 bond, box of cigars, carton of cigarettes, a portrait picture, theater passes, clothing certificates and a steak dinner with the commander of the base.

"It was mighty nice," Grant talked. He revealed that the airman's ability, courtesy, personality were judged.

A Des Moines Tech High School graduate here who won many honors in art, Grant thought his art work around the base may have helped some. He does all the art work on the posters around the base, he said. His regular duties are in the base hospital.

Singing praises of a cool, quiet restful, yet interesting vacation trip to the AME Camp Baber at Cassopolis, Mich., is Mrs. Rufus Parker of 127 Ridge street, who accompanied her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ruth White, and granddaughter, Misses Annette and Jill White, representatives of Bethel AME church.

"When I left here I had planned to stop by Camp Baber and see the set-up, then go on to Idlewild, Mich., to visit my kin, but when I got to the Camp and found so much activity, and so much beauty, I decided I would stay—and really enjoyed it and had a good rest," talked Mrs. Parker.

She said she had a pre-conceived idea of most camps and inconveniences and all, but "it's altogether different at Camp Baber," she said. She stayed in a dormitory, went to classes when she felt like it, learned

The R. A. Wright Family Return From Vacation Trip to Los Angeles

Mrs. Robert A. Wright with daughter, Charmaine, and son, Robert A. Jr.

Atty. and Mrs. Robert A. Wright, and son, Robert A., Jr., and daughter, Charmaine, of 920 S. E. 27th street, returned last week from a vacation spent on the West Coast.

Mr. Wright, who made a 5,000 mile motor trip, left the city the early part of July on a business-vacation trip. His family who flew to the coast, joined him in Los Angeles, where they were house guests of her great aunt, Mrs. Alice Johnson, and aunt, Miss Pinkie Johnson.

While there the Iowans were extended social courtesies by former Iowans, Paul and Willa Mae (Hayes) Devan; Charles and Nancy (Smith) Windsor and Mrs. Barbara Kaiser of Des Moines who is there visiting the Windsors.

Sightseeing tours took the Wrights to Santa Monica to the beach, Disneyland, Farmer's Market, the famed Clifton's for dinner, and San Bernardino to a former army base.

Returning home, the Wrights stopped at Las Vegas, Nev., where they visited the new Moulin Rouge hotel. In Denver, Colo., they were guests at the home of former Iowans, Rev. and Mrs. L. L. Barnes.

Mrs. Wright was on her vacation from Iowa Military District, Ft. Des Moines, where she is employed as a stenographer.

Mr. Yeager To Leave On Vacation

Clark Yeager will leave on a vacation trip early Sunday morning to visit relatives and friends in Milwaukee and Chicago. On the way Mr. Yeager will attend the annual Negro All-Star game in Chicago Sunday and the Brooklyn, Milwaukee and Chicago games.

a few crafts like the making of flowers, cloth painting and collected a box of stones from the camp grounds which she will use to make a Camp Baber rock garden in her own yard before annual conference time, the end of next month.

Mrs. Parker said she enjoyed "not having to worry about food, for all I did was get my plate and go down the line for my food."

Mrs. Parker visited Paradise Lake, not far from the Camp, and met a number of interesting persons who were coming and going to camp during the week.

Leaving Camp Baber, after a week, Mrs. Parker finally reached Idlewild and had dinner with her brothers, Elder Charles Smith and William Smith and their families.

The Robert A. Wright family of 920 S. E. 27th street, did quite a bit of traveling on their vacation trip to the West Coast.

While the attorney—ex-patrolman left the city early to break in a new convertible, and transact some business, his wife, Bernice, and their two children, Robert A., Jr., and Charmaine, took a plane, later, and joined him in Los Angeles, Cal.

The Wright family took the scenic route homeward bound, stopped at motels and "all along the way, bathed our feet in mountain streams."

Wright said they found pleasant and first rate accommodations in motels. The rate charged him and his family for a night in a Grand Junction, Colo., motel, still sticks in his memory.

"They were very nice—but they charged me thirty-two dollars for one night. I don't want to think that they stuck me just because . . ." and Wright paused and added that "the manager said there were plenty of uranium hunters who paid that price." The Iowan is still perplexed.

He said the family "was sorry" that they left Los Angeles, Calif., before the official opening of Walt Disneyland. Maybe, he was lucky. Juan Herrod, in a review of Disneyland in the current issue of Los Angeles Tribune, said: "If you, your wife and three children pay for parking, entrance fee, minimum food, and

Life of Adolescent Is Difficult In United States; Parents Need Patience and Insight to Solve Problems

BY MAY P. YOUTZ, SUI ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR

Jim was 16 years old. Again and again he asked his father for money. He was unhappy about it for his needs ran ahead of the amount his father could give him.

He earned some money but still asked his father for more from time to time.

There were three younger children. Finally, at the mother's suggestion, the father, mother and Jim had a discussion of family money matters. All the cards were laid on the table: salary, cost of the home they were buying, cost of insurance, both for property and life, groceries, savings—everything was set forth.

Jim was fascinated. He studied it all, asked questions and finally pushed back his chair and exclaimed, "Gee, Dad, you've done a good job!" After that he fitted into the family life happily and with more understanding.

Recognizing that our teen-age children are really grown-up in many ways is important. And trusting them in matters closest to their own life and experience may be hard to do but it has its rewards.

Life for the adolescent is difficult in the United States. Dependence is prolonged through the teen-age years, sometimes into the twenties. Schooling takes time. The adolescent boy longs to prove himself as an earner but must forgo a real job to stay in school.

The combined good sense, good judgment and experience of the teenager, of his parents, of his teachers and others close to him, such as ministers and group workers, all are

Delores Calvin Writes of Margaret Tynes, Vivian Dandridge, Singer Camilla Williams and Miss Schuyler

By Dolores Calvin
New York.—(CNS)—Most attractive Margaret Tynes—who has probably done more TV singing roles than any other Negro star—told us how little she's made up before going in front of the cameras. Margaret says her brown complexion is the tone most other stars seek when they are made up. Margaret needs only a little touching up . . . Miss Tynes was heading for Washington, D. C. where she'll be for two weeks before resuming a heavy fall schedule on TV.

Pretty Vivian Dandridge—sister to Dorothy, of course—came into New York to step into the musical "Ankles Aweigh" . . . Vivian's doing the part Thelma Carpenter vacated last week . . . Carpie, meanwhile, is filling night-club and theater dates—teasing off with Broadway's Palace Theater as a headliner. The Palace has been the scene of many stars' greatest triumphs as Judy Garland, Danny Kaye in recent days.

Another singer—Camilla Williams—was in the news this week. She did so well in Vienna in Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" that she's been re-engaged for a second performance in that most romantic of cities . . . Meanwhile, Camilla, a charming gal from Virginia—sang her heart out at the Lewisohn Stadium in a concert version of "La Traviata." . . . Pianist Philippa Schuyler ran into some criticism from New York music critics for her performance of Saint-Saens' Piano Concerto. Said the Times: "What it lacked, was complete technical freedom. Some passages were much too hurried and Miss Schuyler, sensitive as she is, lacks the virtuosity for so demanding a piece."

Despite the transit strike—which has tied up all Washington's buses, the National Beauty Culturists' League plans to still hold its convention August 14th-18th. Though there's no "peace" in sight, Washington is taking this strike very well with theater owners reporting business as good as ever. So, Beauticians feel why shouldn't they walk, too!

Pay Cut August 1 To Iowa Families Receiving ADC

A pay cut is coming Aug. 1 for 999 Iowa families receiving aid to dependant children (ADC) grants. The state social welfare board said Saturday the new ceiling of $175 a month on an individual family's ADC check will go into effect on that date.

The 999 families have been receiving grants averaging $217 a month. The $175 ceiling voted by the 1955 legislature will reduce the total grants received by those families by $42,101 a month. A few families have been receiving $300 and $400 a month.

The new ceiling will affect more than 15 per cent of all families receiving ADC. There were 6,577 families on ADC in June. The average needed to solve the problems of the adolescent growing up in today's world.

Parents are still the most potent influence in their children's lives. Sometimes it is hard for them to realize this, especially when the teenager is critical. But evidence that adolescents do need and want their parents is brought out in many studies.

Probably patience and insight are the most needed attributes of parents today.

PRESIDENT ATTAINS OBJECTIVES AT GENEVA CONFERENCE

It has been the position of many people that Russian and the Western Powers would never get together on any peace move as long as an atmosphere of suspicion and bad feeling existed. And too many Americans in high places have done entirely too much namecalling which has added nothing to create a better feeling between the nations.

When President Eisenhower returned from the Geneva Conference he said that one of the objectives of the meeting was the creation of a feeling of friendship between America and Russia which would enable their foreign ministers to negotiate in a spirit of friendliness the broad subjects upon which there was general agreement.

Judging from comments of Russian and American officials that task was accomplished. Generally, Presidents don't go outside the country on many occasions, but Mr. Eisenhower was so anxious to assure the world that America is sincere in its appeals for peace, that he was willing to do the unusual.

Fortunately, Congress gave the American representatives to the Conference overwhelming bipartisan support and thus enabled them to go to the meeting with the backing of the people.

Relations between America and Russia have been a powder keg for the past ten years but it appears that the Geneva Conference has given hope of more cordial relations, mutual understanding and respect.

MINORITIES MUST STAND UP FOR THEIR RIGHTS

There is an old saying among lawyers that there can be no case without a client. The same reasoning may well be applied to the work of the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights.

While the Commission does much work in education, it can do little about individual cases of discrimination unless those who have been subjected to unfair treatment report the facts to the office.

For instance, a Negro union official called, asking that his name not be mentioned, and reported the plant where he is employed has hired no Negroes for three years.

A young man working in a plant where he is called upon to pinch hit in the unskilled and skilled departments can't get in the union and thus cannot get a journeyman's pay.

Another worker who has the reputation of being the best in the city in his line, must draw pay as a laborer because he cannot get into the union.

A young girl was denied a job in a bank solely because of her race and yet she was unwilling to report the incident to the commission.

A young man was denied an ordinary porters' job because the company did not hire Negroes and yet he could never find time to report the case to the commission.

Nobody wants to be labeled as practitioners of discrimination. On the other hand, many people welcome an opportunity to adjust differences. Like the unions that feel workers should share the difficulties of obtaining benefits for the men, so the fellow who is discriminated against should be a guinea pig that not only he but others who follow shall get fair consideration.

There is absolutely no reason why a person should hesitate to stand up for his rights as an American citizen. The commission was created and operates with the backing of the City of Des Moines to help see that the job is done in an orderly fashion. Use it.

School Case Decrees

SEE FRONT PAGE and the three-judge court's order.

Temporary Stay Granted

In effect, the three-judge court has granted a temporary stay which permits the local school boards to operate racially segregated schools in violation of the Constitution. It has done this without saying to the local boards that, while they may open schools in September on a segregated basis, they must comply with the Supreme Court by a specified date.

In the South Carolina case there is some indication that the defendants have gone through the motions of indicating that they are studying a plan looking toward desegregation. How much good faith there is there cannot be known at this time. Time will tell.

No Indication

In the Virginia case there is no indication that the defendants are giving any consideration whatsoever to a plan of desegregation. The Virginia defendants are maintaining at

of the N.E.A. Under an arrangement of this sort, teachers who might be embarrassed through loss of jobs because of their fight for freedom or consolidation in the processes of desegregation of public schools, would have temporary support for themselves and their families.

Teacher Placement Service

I submit also for the consideration of the American Teachers Association a suggestion which if acted upon favorably would bring into existence a body in your membership which would compile nation-wide employment opportunities for Negro teachers. To the known vacancies in teaching opportunities, displaced teachers could be referred, for work consideration and possible employment. It would seem advisable that the compilation of employment opportunities and teacher placement proposal now made might well be related to and concentrated in the offices of Dr. H. C. Trenholm, executive secretary of the American Teachers Association. This office would be able to serve equally well all of the teachers and states involved.

Warning Against Thought Control

Teachers have always been in the vanguard for freedom and independence. In this age of tensions and forced conformity there is the grave danger that such principles will be submerged in an atmosphere of fear and silence on important issues. Vitality is possible only when there is controversy and controversy is possible only where there is freedom.

Even now too many channels of communication are closed on the implementation of the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States which outlawed segregation in public education in this country. Many officials of colleges and universities in the South admit freely that this subject which has broad social, economic and spiritual implications is not given attention in their courses or discussion programs and that such courses or programs are not now contemplated for the future. This represents the submergence of one of the essential principles of our democratic life—freedom of speech; and, points strongly to thought control. Real liberty in America guarantees not only freedom to think but the right to teach objectively, openly and without interference, any issue of vital concern to the American people. The teachers of the nation are called upon to combat this menace to freedom and basic human values. Education is the teacher's tool to open channels of communication so as to lead people to understand the meaning of the Court's decision and its relation to democracy and the future of America.

the present time that state laws prevent them from changing their system in each locality.

The three-judge court in both cases issued an injunction restraining the two school boards "from refusing on account of race to admit to any school under their supervision any child qualified to enter such school." However, the court ruled that this injunction becomes effective only after the school boards have set up a non-discriminatory school system.

Elastic Interpretation

The three-judge court in both cases gave a most elastic interpretation of the Supreme Court's edict that local school boards make a "prompt and reasonable start" towards desegregation and proceed "with deliberate speed" toward complete desegregation.

We do not regard these two cases as typical of what will happen throughout the South. In both South Carolina and Virginia the state administration has advised circumvention or defiance. This is matched only in Georgia, Mississippi and Louisiana.

No such positive state attitude has been taken in the other states. In fact, voluntary desegregation is now underway in localities in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and Kentucky. We expect that beginnings will be made in some cities of North Carolina, and at points in Tennessee and Florida.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Sunstroke, Heat Exhaustion

"Summer is a pleasant period of the year, but it can be dangerous with possibility of sunstroke and heat exhaustion," said Dr. Abraham Gelperin, director, Des Moines-Polk County Department of Public Health. Sunstroke occurs when the body's heat regulating system breaks down during prolonged heat or over-exposure to the sun. High humidity in hot weather adds to the strain by interfering with the evaporation of sweat, which is an important cooling device.

"The first thing to do for a person suffering from sunstroke or heat stroke," continued Dr. Gelperin, "is to move the person stricken into the shade and call your family doctor. Loosen any tight clothing and give first aid until the doctor arrives."

Sunstroke usually starts with a splitting headache. The person may lose consciousness and he is hot to the touch.

First Aid

"Put a pillow under this victim's head," said Dr. Gelperin, "and cool him as quickly as possible. Wet his clothes with cold water, cover him with wet sheets or bath towels and put ice packs around his head, neck and body."

This condition can be prevented by adequate shading of the head and neck, adequate fluid intake, and not overdoing during high temperatures.

Loss of Salt

Heat exhaustion occurs when there is loss of large amounts of salt through perspiration. This condition is different from sunstroke or heatstroke. The victim is usually conscious, but weak and dizzy. His temperature falls instead of rising and he feels cold and clammy.

For heat exhaustion, keep the head low and warm the body with blankets. Give him heavily salted drinks.

This condition can be prevented by replacing the salt lost in perspiration.

"Knowledge of what to do and summertime precautions," continued Dr. Gelperin, "will help make the heat period more pleasant and endurable."

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

With the Brooklyn Dodgers five miles ahead in the National League everyone keeps saying they might lose because they were way ahead one year and lost. But, people forget that in that race, the Giants won forty out of forty-five games and that might be anyone. Don't believe they can do it again.

As for World Series play, there aren't too many teams that do win in Series play. The big American winners have been the Yankees.

Baseball just forces its way into the headlines each day. With the American League race closer than ninety nine is to one-hundred, everybody can show you reasons why his team should win. We still favor the Indians, although Boston is getting tougher day by day. The addition of Connie Johnson to the White Sox makes one more reason for wanting to see them win. Besides, if the Pale Horse should come through, we might scuffle up some World Series tickets, the old athletes and the Boston Red Sox. The rest have just so so records in the National League only the Giants and St. Louis Cardinals have been winning very often. So don't say that your team; unless it is one of these we mentioned isn't a money team. Not too many are.

Little League

That fiasco in dear old Dixie only illustrates the silly lengths to which people go to maintain the good old American custom of segregation. We will bet that not only one of that team that quit that Little League meet didn't want to play. They can't make us believe that those kids didn't want to prove who was best by playing it out.

Sugar Proves Guts — Next Stop Is Olson

San Francisco, Calif.—(CNS)—Sugar Ray Robinson, who has been taking his fight comeback far more seriously than any one else, proved here against Rocky Castellani that he still has plenty of guts. Though it was by no means a performance of the old Robinson, still it had enough interest and spark to earn the fighting Sugar a shot at Carl (Bobo) Olson's middleweight title.

Robby was below 160 for his battle with Rocky. It told on the 35 year old in the later stages as he seemed to lack stamina and fought on courage alone.

Of course, Sugar would like to take on Tiger Jones again before going after Olson. A man of much pride, Sugar would like to vindicate that beating last January 19th in his second comeback scrap. Whichever one he goes for, Robby has certainly shown how serious he is about his comeback business, by coming back faster and farther than anyone expected.

relationships with other pupils and with teachers.

No child could be compelled to attend school with members of another race. If withdrawn for that reason, he would be "entitled to such aid for education as may be authorized by law." No formula has been devised, however, for making such payments. Parents could appeal to court if dissatisfied with the school board's ruling, but the judge could order a jury trial. Paige to Pitch First 3 Innings In East-West Game

Chicago, Ill. (Special) — LeRoy ("Satchel") Paige, baseball's 'ageless' wonder, will pitch the first three innings for the West team when it meets the East Sunday afternoon, July 31, in the Negro annual Classic.

The Classic, as all previous 22 Classics, will be unreeled at Comiskey Park. In event of rain, the game will be played on Monday night, Aug. 1, under the arcs, starting at 8:30 p. m.

Opposing Paige on the mound as the East's starter will be the Detroit Stars' Mell Duncan, the Negro American League's no-hit pitcher thus far this season. Duncan's manager at Detroit, Ed Steele, named his star.

Jim Ford, One of Drake's Great Sprinters, Back

Jim Ford, one of the greatest sprinters in Drake history, has returned to the Bulldog school to complete his studies after being in service.

A former National Collegiate and National A.A.U. champ, Ford enrolled in summer school at Drake Monday and will return to full-time classes in the fall. The former Fort Wayne, Ind. ace won the M.C.A.A. 200-meter title in 1952 and the year before was N.A.A.U. 200-meter and N.A.A.U. junior 100-meter titleholder.

In 1951 when the Bulldogs completed a sweep of the 440, 880 and mile relays at the Drake Relays, Ford was leadoff man on all three quintets.

Ford has been in the army since the fall of 1952 and has been stationed in Europe almost all of that time.

Althea Gibson Gets Beaten

Philadelphia, Pa.—(CNS)—Althea Gibson, the race's leading figure in tennis, lost to Wimbledon champion Louise Brough, in the final match of the 55th Pennsylvania and Eastern States Women's Lawn Tennis. Scores were 1-6, 6-2 and 6-1, in favor of Miss Brough.

In the first set, Althea could do no wrong as she won handsomely. In the second, Miss Brough came from behind and in the third, the Wimbledon finalist won in a romp.

EARTHBOUND

An earthbound soul? What a ghastly thought!

The eye can see what men have wrought!

These plunderers that have no God profane the paths that saints have trod.

There can be no more wretched sight—

than a race whose creed is appetite, for they curse, destroy, and seal their fate:

create the misery that make their mate.

Wake man! Break free from this vile clay.

Look, soul! And see His light of day. Within you burns the eternal flame, a part of man made in His name.

I pray, "O my soul, believe and do, draw on His strength, and follow through." When the heaven in my heart I've found, Then it's not to earth that I'll be bound.

Resigns as Grand Elks' Recorder

Philadelphia, Pa.—The resignation of Harry Eddicks, grand recorder of the Improved Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World, was announced this week by Dr. Robert H. Johnson, grand exalted ruler. Appointed to fill the unexpired term as grand recorder, was Herbert K. Wilson of Queens Lodge 1001. The new appointee resides in Brooklyn, N. Y.

In his announcement Dr. Johnson said: "It is regrettable for me to announce on the eve of our 56th national convention the resignation of Harry Eddicks as grand recorder. Mr. Eddicks has been an active and loyal Elk since 1926 and his loss due to ill health is sincerely felt."

Most navigation laws are designed to protect the lives, property and rights of boaters, fishermen and swimmers. For example, no motor boat may be operated at a speed greater than 5 miles per hour when within 250 feet of another craft, and it is unlawful to run a motorboat more than 10 miles per hour within 300 feet of the shore of any lake.

Boats are also required by law to be equipped with prescribed lights when operated between 30 minutes after sundown and sunrise.

Rules

Boat traffic and rights-of-way are governed by the following rules:

1. Boats passing from the rear must keep to the left.
2. Boats passing head-on must keep to the right of each other.
3. Boats passing at right angles: the boat at the right has the right-of-way, other conditions being equal.
4. Sailboats have the right-of-way over all other craft and motorboats, when passing sailboats, must pass on the leeward side.
5. Any boat backing from a landing has the right-of-way over incoming boats.

In recent years a strong upsurge in boating interest, with powerboats now owned by thousands of Iowa families, has made such laws a necessity, both to protect lives and to make public waters more enjoyable for everyone.

Complete copies of Iowa navigation regulations may be obtained from State Conservation Officers or from the Conservation Commission, East 7th and Court, Des Moines.
