FLEE FROM MISSISSIPPI TERROR:

Till's Uncle Tells of Midnight Visit

New Police Officer

THOMAS V. SPENCER

Thomas Vaughn Spencer, 29, of 1006 Tenth street, was one of the ten new police officers appointed by City Manager Leonard G. Howell, following certification of the civil service commission list by the city council and approval by Police Chief Howard Eide.

He was sworn in and began the training course Monday morning at the Municipal Court building.

A navy veteran of World War II, Spencer, a native of Marshalltown, served previously as Polk county jail turnkey.

He is a Presbyterian and a member of the Masonic lodge and the American Legion.

Lionel Hampton and Bandmen Hurt in Crash

Socorro, N. M.—Lionel Hampton and 12 members of his band were injured Saturday night in a bus accident 26 miles south of here.

Police said Hampton suffered a broken left ankle and that "two or three others are in very bad shape," including the driver of the band's leased bus. There were 26 persons on the bus.

Police said the bus was northbound from El Paso, Tex., to an engagement in Albuquerque, N. M., when the right front tire blew out. The bus ran off the road into a deep arroyo.

Capital Close-Up From Washington

BY CONSTANCE DANIEL

The Pol - and Chinas Washington, D. C. — Some time back, when we hung up our hats in the country, we had a name for scrub cows that ate a lot but produced little milk. We referred to them (with apologies to the Poland Chinas in the pigpen), as Pol - and Chinas—dropped up with a pole and milked into a china cup.

The political parties that produce little as such, but loan constantly and determinedly on the strength of great, personal leadership—past and present—seem to have much in common with the Pol - and Chinas. In terms of the deeply regretted illness of President Eisenhower, we feel a certain queasiness at the belt-line, and a need for something to hold on to, as the first winds of 1956 herald approaching gales of "Party of Eisenhower," "Party of Lincoln," "Party of Jackson," "Party of Jefferson" — "Party of FDR."

Dwight D. Eisenhower is a sturdy individual whose sincerity, friendliness and personal charm are in no way diminished by the poise and "finish" that he has also brought to the Presidency (thank Heaven!) He has towered head and shoulder over the politicians who knew all the answers, exploited his personal popularity to the limit—but thought him politically inept.

Mr. Eisenhower revived the idea that honestly, after all, may be the best politics—foreign or domestic—and sold it to Americans as home and to the world abroad. He has harvested the reward of honesty and sincerity—which is confidence. He has also told his party (politely, of course) to get off his coat-tails and

Hold Services for H. Hart, Who Died After Heart Attack

Services were held Tuesday in Hammett and Robinson Funeral Home, for Howard Hart, 60, of 1338 Stewart street, with burial at Glendale Cemetery.

Mr. Hart died Saturday, Oct. 1, after a heart attack while at work at the YWCA, where he was employed as custodian.

A native of Moline, Ill., he had lived 40 years in Des Moines. He was a World War I veteran and a member of Lincoln Post, American Legion.

Surviving is his wife, Samantha Hart.

College Football Teammen Killed in Bus-Car Collision

Eudora, Ark.—Seven persons are dead of injuries received when their auto rammied head-on with a bus returning a football team to Little Rock, Ark.

Seven occupants of the bus were injured, two seriously. Police said the auto swerved into the path of the bus about 6:30 a. m. Sunday, Oct. 2.

The team, returning from a Saturday night game with Dillard University at New Orleans, La., represented Philander Smith College.

Public Protests Moratorium E. Till Case; Recommend Kremlin Award to Jurors

New York—Mass protest meetings on the Mississippi trial verdict which acquitted two white men of murdering 14-year-old Emmett Till, drew huge crowds here, in Detroit, in Youngstown, Ohio, and in Dothan, Ala.

Concurrently, NAACP headquarters has been deluged with telephone calls and letters offering financial and other assistance to the organization in its fight to end what Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, has termed a "reign of terror" in Mississippi.

15,000 at Manhattan

Some 15,000 persons attended the Manhattan meeting on Sept. 25, which was addressed by Mrs. Mamie Bradley, mother of the lynch victim; Councilman Earl Brown; Mr. Wilkins; A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, A.F.L., which sponsored the meeting, and by others. An overflow crowd in the streets listened to the proceedings via loudspeakers. Traffic in the area had to be rerouted by the police.

A similar meeting held the same afternoon in the Bronx was under auspices of the Bronx NAACP.

In Detroit a mass meeting drew approximately 15,000 persons, who heard Rep. Charles Diggs (D-Mich.), an observer at the trial, and Medgar Evers, NAACP field secretary for the State of Mississippi. The crowd contributed $14,000 to the NAACP. A statement issued by the chair-

Hide in Brushes As Men Ransack Cabin after Trial; Others Under Protection

New York, N. Y.—Mose Wright, uncle of a Chicago Negro boy slain in Mississippi and chief witness against two white men charged with murder, has told a New York newspaper he had to flee for his life after the trial.

The victim, Wright's nephew, was Emmett Till, 14.

Wright, now in Chicago, talked by phone with the New York Post.

He was quoted as saying three carloads of white men paid a midnight visit to his Mississippi cabin, just a few hours after the trial ended in acquittal.

"But I had been warned they were coming," Wright told the Post. "So I put my three sons in the car and we hid out in the brushes near the cemetery."

Lights

"My neighbors said they (the visitors) drove up and shone their lights on three sides of the house. They kept calling out: 'Preacher, Uncle Mose, come on out here.'"

"And when they didn't get any answer, they pulled out their searchlights and ransacked the place."

Wright said he and his sons, ranging from 12 to 16 years old, remained ed "in the brushes" all night and then spent the next day trying to sell their possessions—with very little success.

Journey

"They went back into hiding the second night, he added, and left afterward on the journey which finally took them to Chicago."

Jackson, Miss.—Two witnesses who were reported to have seen a Negro boy in the hands of kidnapers, have been removed from Mississippi by other Negroes, a leader said Saturday.

The informant said Leroy Collins and Henry Lee Loggin are remaining out of the state for "safekeeping."

Reported Missing

Collins, a plantation hand, and Loggin, a sleeping-car porter, had been reported missing Friday by Phillip Randolph, president of the A. F. L. Brotherhood of Railroad Sleeping-Car Porters, in New York, N. Y.

But, the Mississippi Negro leader said Collins was sent to Chicago 2 days ago and that Loggin stayed in

Southern Pines Tumult Quiet As the Martin White Family Get Settled in Home

Southern Pines—The tumult and the shouting that preceded the moving of Mr. and Mrs. Martin White into their home in the heretofore all-white Kenwood sub-division have just about died and the Whites are going about the business of settling down.

Except for an occasional glance in the direction of the green-and-gray cottage on Fairway Drive, neighbors have evidenced little interest. Previously, the Whites had said that "if they attend to their business, we will attend to ours."

When her furniture came from New York, Mrs. White found her kitchen too crowded, so they are having a basement due for their washing machine and other appliances. Mr. White has been spending much of his time in clearing the yard and trying to get a lawn to grow.

A number of Negro visitors have dropped in and much "fan mail" has arrived because of the nationwide coverage given by press, radio and television.

The Whites moved in when no one came forward with the $20,000 which they said they would take for the home which reportedly cost them $11,000. As one observer put it, "the neighbors probably found out that prejudice was too expensive."

Congressman Diggs Plans 5-Point Rights Program; Hits Justice Department

Detroit, Mich.—The Department of Justice and the leaders of both major political parties are mentioned as targets in Congressman Charles C. Diggs, Jr.'s five point program to press for strong national civil rights legislation.

Michigan's first Negro representative outlined his plans after returning from the Emmett Till trial in Mississippi and stated that he was "thinking seriously of appealing to the President to call a special session of Congress to get effective action on the highly important issue of civil rights."

Indefinite Stand

Diggs said that he would "tremendously follow up" several bills he had introduced with the intention of strengthening the power of the Department of Justice to intervene in cases where civil liberty is threatened.

He recalled that members of the Justice Department, though invited, failed to attend a special hearing arranged by the House Judiciary Committee for the purpose of formulating ways and means of authorizing intervention. This snub, Diggs declared was an indication of the "indefinite" stand on civil rights taken by the Eisenhower administration and Attorney-General Herbert Brownell.

that the Justice Department already has power to take action he suggested, but has refused to do so. He intends to "test the sincerity of the Administration" by seeing whether it will support his bills when he presents them again. Diggs stated that the issue of Negroes being denied the right to vote in southern states should have the "immediate and constant attention" of the Attorney-General.

To Challenge Seating

The Detroit Congressman repeated his promise to challenge the seating of every Mississippi representative. He cited amendment 14, Section 2 of the Constitution as supporting him in this move. According to figures he has on citizens of voting age in Mississippi, Diggs said, the five con-

Tea With Meals For Family Good Will

When planning a family meal, most women think in terms of the likes and dislikes of the members of their family. They strive for good nutrition first, which is essential in rearing a healthy family. But meals serve a purpose other than gustatory revelation... it's also a time of day to encourage esprit de corps among family members. One of the elements so basic in encouraging family oneness is relaxation. In this connection we'd like to recommend a hot beverage—tea—as the ambassador of good will in the family unit.

Tea not only aids digestion but relaxes the body, relieves nervous tension and provides a pick-up which most folks need—especially parents after a busy day.

To make a good, full-bodied pot of tea for the family meal, it's important to follow the Four Golden Rules—just as it's important to follow a cake recipe precisely. The rules are simple—(1) always use a teapot (2) use 1 teaspoonful of tea or 1 tea bag per cup (3) bring fresh water to a full-rolling boil and (4) brew 3-5 minutes.

A surprise main dish, sure to please the family is Duck Hawaiian.

DUCK HAWAIIAN

(Makes 4 to 6 servings.)

Cut 1 5-6 lb. Long Island duckling, dressed weight, into serving pieces. Remove skin; place duck pieces in mixing bowl. Combine 2 tablespoons kitchen bouquet, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1 clove garlic finely minced; pour over duck. Marinate 45 minutes turning occasionally. Heat 2 tablespoons duck fat in heavy frying pan. Brown pieces of duck on all sides. Add 1 cup unseasoned pineapple juice and 1/2 cup unseasoned marinade. Cover tightly; simmer until duck is tender—about 45 minutes. Add 2 green peppers cut into 1 1/2 inch cubes. Cover and cook 15 minutes longer. Blend together 2 tablespoons corn starch, liquid from 1-3 ounce can of mushroom crowns and 1/2 cup sugar. Add to duck stirring constantly until thickened. Add 4 slices unseasoned pineapple cut in quarters, 4 medium sized carrots, quartered and cooked and fresh water to a full-rolling boil and (4) brew 3-5 minutes.

day party given to honor Miss Judy Kincaid, Saturday, Oct. 8, from 7 to 10 p. m. Miss Kincaid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kincaid, will celebrate her twelfth birthday. There will be games and prizes for the guests and lots of refreshments for everyone attending the event.

The Union Missionary Baptist church, junior choir, would again like to announce the success of their skating party, due to the cooperation of many, held on Sept. 29.

Mr. Cuba Tredwell returned from a week end trip Sunday to Chicago, Ill., where he attended a sick uncle,

Culps Enters Plea Of Not Guilty of Fort Dodge Murder

Fort Dodge, Ia.—Joseph Edward Culps waved formal arraignment and entered a plea of not guilty to murder in Webster County Court here Sept. 29.

A demurrer to indictment was entered by Culps court-appointed attorney, Donald Mitchell of Fort Dodge, but was overruled by Judge H. C. Nichol.

A special session of the grand jury was called Monday morning, Sept. 26, in the District Court here, to hear evidence against Culps, accused of fatally shooting his former wife on August 27, this year.

Serving on the grand jury were:

Even after so-called thorough cleansing with regular cleansing cream, Lucky Heart's new Deep Down Liquid Cleanser wipes away more dirt and make-up!

New Liquid Skin Cleanser Cleans Deeper, Supplements Natural Oils

Every fastidious woman knows how wonderful it feels to be really clean—to get rid of the day's dirt and dust and perspiration. And now comes a new kind of liquid skin cleanser by famous Lucky Heart Cosmetics that really penetrates down into the pores to bring out all the dirt!

Appropriately named Deep Down Cleanser, the new product brings a refreshment that actually makes a woman feel younger and lovelier. It rids the skin of stale cosmetics, dried perspiration and all the various kinds of surface matter that clog pores and encourage blackheads and other blemishes.

One of the finest things about this is that it is generally Lanolin enriched so that while it quickly and effectively cleans the skin it also supplements the necessary natural oils which are regularly thrown off and lost through the natural drying process of age, changes in weather and so forth. It tends to keep skin with that wonderful, dewy-fresh look we all admire in a fine young skin.

The attractive, unbreakable plastic bottle makes application easy. And the makers have run extensive tests that prove that this easy-on liquid cleanser will remove more dirt and make-up even after a supposedly thorough cleansing with regular cleansing cream.

Deep Down Cleanser is available only through your neighborhood Lucky Heart Representative. During September and October only, there is a special introductory price of just $1.35 plus tax. In addition, there is a special Lucky Heart Jubilee offer of a $1.25 pair of first quality 51 gauge, 15 denier, full fashioned nylon hose made by a well-known hosiery manufacturer in the popular Red Fox shade. And they're yours at an unbelievably low price of $4.49 with any purchase of Lucky Heart Cosmetics amounting to $1.50, just during September and October. This sounds like a splendid time to see your Lucky Heart Representative about this wonderful new Deep Down Cleanser! You can get the name of your Lucky Heart Representative by simply writing Lucky Heart, Memphis 2, Tenn.

C., Yet We'll let you know when our slow-moving District of Columbia Commissioners finally get around to appointing the three-man Elections Board under the D. C. Primaries Law. All we have now are candidates named by the two party State committees. This is one reason why your National Capital needs to vote for its office-holders from top to bottom.

The Capital's Crowded Schools

Last week the District of Columbia Board of Education held hearings on overcrowding in the District Schools. It was not clear what part desegregation may have played in the redistribution of pupils, who now attend the nearest school — which formerly were by-passed to reach caste schools, with resulting under-use of some facilities and serious over-use at others. The large numbers of parents of both races who turned out to state their views, at the hearings, last week, followed the first merged meeting of the former white and Negro PTA's, which reorganized as a single unit, after a year of careful planning.

Howard's Public Relations

The Public Relations office at Howard University has been abolished. That leaves Public Relations Director Otto McClarrin out in the cold—at least so far as Howard is concerned. Unconfirmed rumor says that Secretary James E. Nabrit will set up a fund-raising office in place of the PR office, and do his own public relations. Other unconfirmed rumor says that McClarrin looked over the fence into the green pastures of the State Department and let it be known that he was interested. This, we are told, was displeasing to President Mordecai Wyatt Johnson of Howard University. And that is all.

It's 'The New Look' For Lincoln U.

Jefferson City, Mo.—The campus of Lincoln University (Mo.) will take on "The New Look" for its 30th annual homecoming celebration on Oct. 22.

That's the theme which has been selected for the yearly festivities which include a queen coronation, float parade, alumni reunion, dances and receptions.

The highlight of the week end will be the annual football classic with the Lincoln Tigers meeting an arch rival, Texas Southern University of Houston.

stand on its own feet. The words that said this were "There is no indispensable man."

Now, he is ill. The world is praying for his speedy recovery—for his own sake and for the sake of peace. Only the most selfish could be hoping that Mr. Eisenhower would risk the impact of a second, grueling term in the Presidency on his prospects for many well-earned years in which to enjoy retirement. We hope that he will not take the risk.

We also hope—still believing in miracles—that the Grand Old Party will strike out and get itself a package to sell. Mr. Eisenhower doesn't need to be sold. And he can't sell the GOP. Neither can the Ghost of Abe Lincoln. And the same for the "Crats. Some Activities at Crocker Branch, YMCA at 14th and Keo Way - A Chest Agency Group 1 Mr. Leo B. Marsh, of the National Council YMCA staff, guest speaker at a public meeting chats with a few of the laymen present for the occasion. Several such programs, featuring prominent national and international staff and laymen of the Y, are held each year.

Group 2 Members of the Friday Night Social Club. This is a coed program designed with the purpose of furnishing an opportunity for teen-agers to meet in social fellowship and recreation. Approximately 150 young people are active in this program.

Group 3 Group picture of the Crocker Boys Club. This is one of three boys clubs at the Branch. Approximately 75 young boys, between the ages of 10-15, participate in the three clubs. The clubs meet weekly and the activities consist of game room tournaments, movies, field trips, calisthenics, special interest projects, etc.

The Crocker Branch YMCA is proud of its service to the people of this community for the past thirty-six years. Its influence for good has been evident in the lives of many individuals, some of whom are now providing outstanding leadership in education, business, professions and social service organizations throughout the country.

As in the past the Crocker Branch YMCA serves our community, working with large numbers of youth, boys and girls, as well as adults, in a program that builds character and leadership—a program that makes our community a better place in which to live.

Mississippians Seek to Ban Right-to-Vote Probe

Columbus, Miss. — As FBI agents continued the probe into charges that Mississippi Negroes were denied the right to vote or that their ballots had not been counted in the August primaries, the Lowndes County Democratic executive committee here passed a caustic resolution condemning federal intervention in the gubernatorial primary.

Negroes in this area whose votes were challenged during the state Democratic primary election have been questioned by FBI agents who began the investigation following complaints filed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People with the Department of Justice. On September 7, Warren Olney III issued a delegation headed by Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, that a thorough investigation would be made.

The Lowndes County committee resolution called for enactment of a state law "making it a criminal act for any federal agent, officer or employee to interfere with, impede or seek to investigate any matter which lies wholly within the power, authority and jurisdiction of the State of Mississippi, and prescribing a penitentiary sentence as a penalty for violation thereof."

Meanwhile the committee instructed its members not to "aid, abet, or assist" or cooperate in any manner with FBI agents conducting the investigation. It asked for the support of "all loyal Mississippians."

United Campaign In Action

By BILL HECKMAN

It was a whale of a tale from a whale of a man. And the audience loved every minute of it. They sat in the big South Room of the new Veterans Memorial Auditorium. They laughed often and just as often they were cheered and made warm by his words.

The speaker was H. Roe Bartle, mayor of Kansas City, Mo. The event the third annual Labor-Management Rally sponsored by the labor participation committee of the United Campaign.

They laughed when he told them his mother advised him he might just as well marry a pretty rich girl as a pretty poor girl.

They were touched when he told how his first girl friend refused to date him because he was then a poor boy who wore second hand clothes.

Mayor Bartle poked good-natured fun at all that separates one American from another. And in his serious words there shone through two ideas. One was that America is unique and great wonderful and must stay that way. And the other was that United Campaigns and Community Chests throughout the country are both an expression of democracy and religion in action.

Most impressive, though, was his deep felt remark that if you want to make the world better, you must make first yourself better and then your community a better place to live in. And he implied if everyone did that, everyone could stop right there. That better world would have arrived.

He talked about three kinds of people too. Those who say, "What's mine is mine and what's yours is mine too if I can take it away from you." Those who say, "What's mine is mine and what's yours is yours and lets keep it that way." And those who say, "What's mine is mine, but I'll share it with you if you show me you need it."

3500 United Campaign volunteers, who will be visiting everyone beginning next week, hope there are many, many people in the third group.

DINNER AT EIGHT SOCIETY

The F. W. Browns 35th-Year Reception Colorful Event

Mr. and Mrs. French Brown, Jr., 933 Fourteenth street place, renewed their wedding vows in a single ring ceremony held at the Des Moines YWCA, at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, September 25, when the couple celebrated their thirty-fifth anniversary.

In a setting of fall flowers, candelabra and palms, emphasizing the coral and green colors of the thirty-fifth year, the Rev. John E. Hunter, pastor of the St. Paul AME church, officiated.

Attendants

Attending the couple were their daughters, Mrs. Lawrence (Marian) Carter and Mrs. James (JoAnn) Saunders; their granddaughters, Donna Jean Carter, flower girl; and Sherry Saunders, ring-bearer.

Anniversary music was played by Mrs. Joburness Kelson, with Mrs. Price, sister of Mr. Brown, singing "When Your Hair Has Turned to Silver."

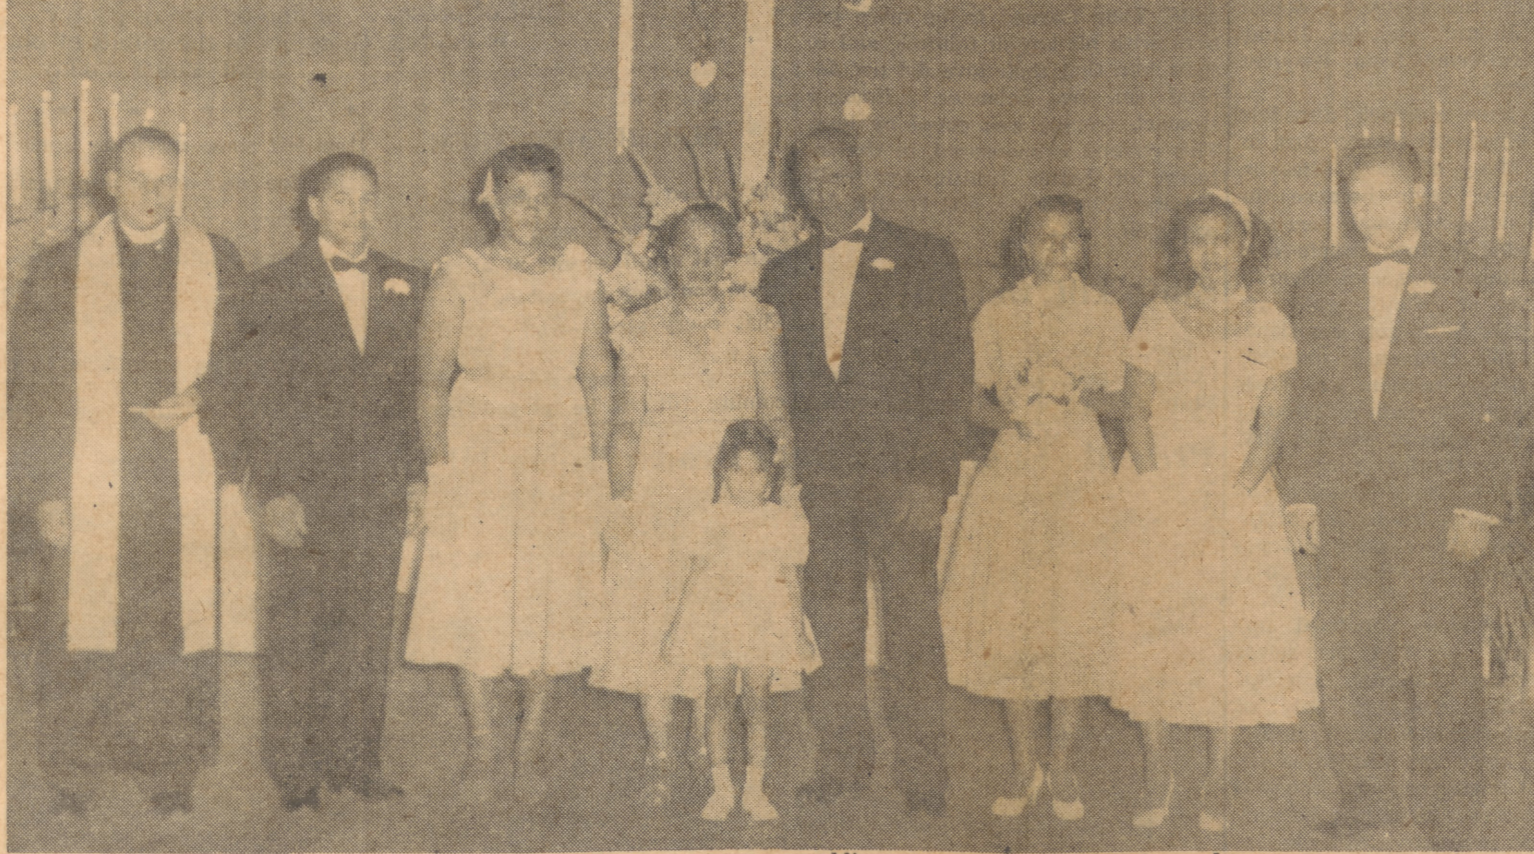

For her anniversary event, Mrs. Brown wore a pastel blue waltz length lace and chiffon dress with a shoulder corsage of white carnations. The daughters were attired, Mrs. Carter in blue pial and Mrs. Saunders in pink pial with white carnation corsages; and Miss Carter in chartreuse taffeta carried a nosegay of white mums.

Among the guests were Mr. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. French Brown of 1051 Eighteenth street, who have celebrated their golden anniversary.

Reception

Many guests attended the reception which followed immediately. In the receiving line with the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Saunders, Miss Carter, Mrs. Anna Jones of Omaha, Neb., aunt of Mrs. Brown, and Mrs. Guy E. Greene. Hostesses, headed by Mrs. John M. Danforth, were: Mesdames Lenna

The reception table, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with a bouquet of pink, green and white carnations, chrysanthemums, Figmums and gladioli.

Married Here

Mr. and Mrs. Brown were married in Des Moines, Sept. 23, 1920, by Mrs. Brown's grandfather, the late Rev. Henry McCraven. She was the former Gladys McCraven, whose father, Mr. Harry McCraven, now resides in Los Angeles.

The Browns are parents of seven children, three of whom are living. A son, Eugene Brown, resides in New York City, in the Merchant Marines. They have eleven grandchildren.

The Browns are members of the St. Paul AME church. She is active in the Pastor's Aid club of the church; and is past matron of Princess O'Zeil chapter of the O.E.S., a member of Amaranth Court and the Le Mesa Social club.

Bride-Elect Glendora Smith to Wed Here

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Glendora Smith and Mr. Harold Simmons was announced this week by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Cherry, 1447 Railroad.

Mr. Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Simmons, 1070 Sixteenth street, is a dental technician in Chicago, Ill.

Miss Smith, student of dress design, is employed as a pattern drafter in Chicago, also.

Plans are being made for a Thanksgiving week end wedding here.

at the penitentiary thought about me, but she queried: "Have you ever wondered what the men with whom you have traveled to Camp McCoy thought about you?"

When she asked the question, I didn't know, and, really, it hadn't dawned upon me to wonder. I had been invited—so I accepted the invitation and went. But, since that time, thanks to two of the distinguished men on the tour, I have an answer to the lady's query.

A letter from Mr. Harry D. Linn, executive vice president of Iowa Manufacturers Association, arrived first. He had received from me a couple of snapshots I took on the Camp McCoy trip, and he commented: "You are an excellent photographer and can certainly be proud of the good work that you do with

Great Books Leaders' Training Course at D. M. Public Library

A series of six weekly meetings for training leaders of Great Books discussion groups will be held at the Des Moines Public Library, 100 Locust, beginning Wednesday, October 12 at 8 p. m.

According to Dan A. Williams, Librarian of the Library, the leader training course is open to the public. All reading materials for the course are supplied to the participants without cost. There is no fee.

Those who complete the course will have the opportunity of leading Great Books groups in their own community. These groups meet bi-weekly to discuss the ideas contained in the great writings from Mr. Williams at the Public Library.

this camera." He added later:

"I would also like to compliment you for the excellent job of public relations which you were able to carry on at Camp McCoy, and I am frank to say that I bragged considerably on my return about your contribution in this public relations role. More work of that kind and most of our so-called problems of today would disappear."

Then, N. Bernard Gussett, president of Iowa Power and Light Company, wrote about his snapshots: "They will have an honored place in my album."

"I thought our trip was most instructive and I personally got a good deal of good out of it." Mr. Gussett sent best regards to Editor Morris of the Bystander and said, "tell him I think he had a very fine representative on the Camp McCoy trip."

Both letters will have a treasured place in my Camp McCoy memoirs.

A little package, containing a handmade doily with the name of "Marie Ross" woven into it, arrived Saturday from Kermit L. Wilson at Iowa State Penitentiary, who penned: "I enjoy reading the Bystander from time to time, and especially like your column very much. I am very happy to let you know I did receive a parole and hope I can come

Personal Touch

By MARIE ROSS

Now that the Brooklyn Dodgers have won their first World Series in baseball, many households, offices, institutions and organizations can go on with their — "business as usual."

At some of the churches last Sunday, the ministers were cognizant of the fact that many of their members would be anxious to get back to their homes, after services, in time to start out with the World Series play that day.

Many persons who had errands to make, got them done before the game starting time; and, if by mistake you accidentally phoned a fan, during a game it was necessary to make an apology, right quick, for having to disturb that person while he or she was listening or watching television.

Truly, I felt like a traitor in camp, around our office, trying to get editorial work done, read mail, browse through papers, write stories and read proofs while the Dodgers and New York Yankees were fighting for the title.

And, when everybody about you is for listening at games—and you are for concentrating on copy for which the linotype operators are waiting—then, that is quite a battle, too.

I am proud that the Brooklyn Dodgers have won the World Series—after eight attempts. That should give much courage and inspiration to other organizations fighting world battles—the greatest of which is the fight for civil rights of all human beings—inside of America and around the world.

The battle for civil rights goes on slowly with civil rights' teams fighting habits, prejudices, old customs, laws—fighting without the beating of bands, the cheering of millions of fans in fields, stadiums, at radios or television sets. But, like the waters wear away the stones, victories are being won—in education, in housing, in employment and in all phases of life.

When you read newspaper stories stating that: the scene in the courthouse at Sumner, Miss., in the recent "Till murder case was like a "circus;" that "three carloads of white men paid a midnight visit to Till's uncle's Mississippi cabin, just a few hours after the trial ended in acquittal" of the two white defendants; and the uncle and his family had to flee North; and, that the Negro newspaper men from the North, who attended the trial had made plans for a "quick getaway," — all that is enough to make your blood boil.

But, if you look back into American history, to just a century ago, the daily press was neither publishing columns of news about the brutalities and lynching of the Negro slaves, nor about the flights for freedom by way of the Underground Railroad. There were no radio or television broadcasts of slavery's atrocities.

Frederick Douglass, the great Negro abolitionist, was on the scene then, speaking out for civil rights and publishing his pleas for the abolition of slavery in the "Liberator," and later, his own newspaper, "The North Star."

So, while the age-old battles for civil rights roll on, let's do a bit a cheering and give the sponsors moral and financial support.

During the week end, a travel note arrived from the John E. Hunter family which is vacationing with homefolk in Ohio.

They had been sent snapshots taken at the recent AME Northwestern Annual Conference which convened at St. Paul AME church, pastored by the Rev. Mr. Hunter, and they wrote on their card:

"Thanks so much for the pictures. They were very good. We are really enjoying our vacation. We've been all over Ohio visiting relatives and friends in Columbus, Cleland, Dayton, Fremont, Lima, etc. We plan to spend this week end in Pittsburgh, Pa."

I'm sure Mrs. Orzealya Roberson, evangelist, who accompanied me on a trip to Fort Madison, Ia., to attend the August Emancipation Celebration at Iowa State Penitentiary, will be interested in two other letters I received last week.

Returning from the penitentiary program, the Rev. Mrs. Roberson remarked that she knew what the men

Ten Drake University Freshmen at Delta Sigma Theta's Annual Dude Ranch Party

The rustic cabin in McRae Park last Saturday afternoon was the perfect setting for the annual Dude Ranch party of Phi chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. This is Delta's traditional ranch party for freshman girls at Drake and other Iowa colleges and universities.

The caravan of cars which conveyed the girls to the park, assembled at the home of the president, Miss Delores Morrow. Twenty-seven active Deltas, pledges and their guests participated.

The costumes of the girls and the table decorations carried out the Dude Ranch idea. A barbecue, ranch menu, dinner was served. A program of songs, led by Mrs. Sarah Tucker and games, conducted by Miss Claudette Neal, followed. Miss Catherine Atkinson gave a history of Delta, entitled "Nuggets Go Delta." Mrs. Crystal Peavey was general chairman.

The guests from Drake university were the following freshmen: Carol Anderson, Joyce Argrove, Merle Bates, Tempie Flanigan, Anita Hughes, Joanne Jackson, Gwendolyn Martin, Ida Wells, Anna Mae Wilson and Barbara Wright. Fourteen sorority members and three Pyramid members were in attendance.

Inter-Fraternal Council's Jubilee Day And Parade Sunday

HAWKEYE SQUAD DISPLAYS FUNDAMENTAL WEAKNESS

The football game Saturday between the Universities of Iowa and Wisconsin brought to light further some glaring weakness in the Iowa team which may prevent Hawkeyes from finishing in the top five Big Ten competition.

Coach Evashevski has gone along with Richow as quarterback but it was quite evident even last year that when the going gets rough, he does not meet the test. There has been no change so far this year. Four of his passes were intercepted Saturday.

Last year Iowa lost to Minnesota because of a clipping penalty called while Earl Smith was scoring a touchdown which was nullified. Saturday several long penalties were called against Iowa for clipping.

So much of Iowa's bad showing was due to lack of fundamental knowhow which too many men don't seem to have been taught.

LAW ENFORCEMENT AT A LOW LEVEL

It has come to this. A citizen of Mississippi who testified for the state in the now famous Till murder case, must hide in the woods to save his life from a mob which came to his home at night to spirit him away and no doubt murder him.

Recently, a Mason City woman who ised the south, wrote a letter to the Des Moines Register, said that she had become convinced and understood why the white people down there treated the Negro as they do and approved it.

It would be interesting to know if she approves this kind of conduct.

The general opinion is that the politicians and trash in the south gave Negroes the most trouble. So it may well be assumed that she visited with one of these classes. Certainly she did not have contact with any of the decent white people, rich and poor, who believe in law and order.

Conduct of this character lowers America in the estimation of the world. It smacks at heathenism. It is lawlessness in the highest form and a poor example for the younger generation to follow.

Congress has been investigating everything under the sun. Senator Kayfauver's committee created quite a stir investigating crime and corruption in the big cities but his next door neighbor (Mississippi) can sniff the life out of children, drive witnesses out of the state and not a word is said.

So it is important to find out the why of crime and corruption among thugs and thieves, but not of crimes against peaceful men.

What's America coming to anyway?

TRY, TRY AGAIN; THE DODGERS WIN

So the Dodgers finally did it. They deserve the honor which has been sought for many years.

Most people in these parts favored the Dodgers much because the Yankees had won the pennant for many years and felt that it is well to pass the top spot around some.

But to the Bystander, the Dodgers is a symbol of opportunity for all Americans for it was they who were first to open the door to Negroes. Other teams had used Mexicans, Cubans and good players from any group they could pick up. And some still do without Negroes. But not the Dodgers.

Of course, other teams have done a good job in this respect including the Yankees. But the Dodgers won from many, in their first, a lasting debt of gratitude.

Congressman Diggs

SEE FRONT PAGE gressmen from the state "are seated by only half of the people they allegedly represent".

Representative Diggs appealed to Negro voters to put pressure on candidates of both parties to force them to include positive civil rights programs in their platforms. He stated that he will contact national leaders of the Democratic party and all prospective presidential candidates and attempt to get "definite constituents" as to their intentions.

Warned Negroes

Diggs warned Negroes in the South against any plans to make a mass migration to northern states. He said such action "would play directly into the hands of southern bigots who want to get rid of the strong potential Negro vote."

The 32-year-old Congressman disclosed that he has high hopes that southern Negroes soon will gain the right to vote and that "the more around when it happens, the better".

Emmett Till Case

St. Louis, Mo., after being advised by Mississippi Negro friends.

This was the latest development in the case of Emmett Louis Till, 14. Two white men, Roy Bryant, 24, and his half-brother, John W. Milam, 36, were found innocent of murdering Till, principally on a point of identification.

A Tallahatchie county jury said the state failed to convince them that a body taken from the Tallahatchie river 3 days after Till's disappearance was that of Till.

The youth's mother, Mrs. Mamie Bradley of Chicago, and his great-uncle, sharecropper Mose Wright, identified the body as that of Till and it was buried in Chicago.

Free on Bond

Still charged with Till's kidnaping, Bryant and Milam posted $10,000 bonds and went free to wait grand jury action.

During the trial, witnesses testified the body was taken from the river appeared to be that of a mature man. They said it had been in the river longer than the 3 days Till had been missing.

Rumors recently have spread throughout Mississippi that Till's disappearance was a trick and that the Till boy had been found alive in several places, including Detroit, Mich., Greenville, Miss., Chicago and other cities. These rumors never were verified.

The Negro leader said Saturday the body buried as Till will be exhumed. He said Chicago physicians will attempt to establish the victim's age.

Collins and Loggin may be called as state witnesses, if the grand jury indicts Bryant and Milam of kidnaping counts. Collins worked on a plantation operated by Leslie Milam, brother of John Milam.

During murder trial testimony, one witness said he saw Till and two Negroes enter a plantation barn with four white men, one of whom he identified as John Milam.

Couldn't Be Found

Neither Collins nor Loggin testified during the murder trial. State attorneys said they tried unsuccessfully to find the two.

In Chicago, a Negro newspaper said Collins and Loggin were held in jail at Charleston, Miss., during the trial. A jail attendant Saturday said jail records do not show that they were held.

Finally, Congressman Diggs urged all Negroes and other fair thinking Americans to contribute to the NAACP's Legal Defense Fund. He alerted contributors, however, to give only to drives sponsored by or sanctioned by the NAACP.

"There are many individuals and groups", Diggs warned, "who are using the feelings aroused by the tragic Emmett Till decision to fatten their own pocketbooks".

Noting that Communist organizations are taking an unusual interest in the situation, the Congressman said "we don't need their help to win this battle".

Waterfowl Season Opens Saturday

The 1955 Iowa waterfowl season will open Saturday, October 8, and state conservation officers are already reporting the arrival of teal and other early ducks in the state.

A brief summary of the waterfowl regulations:

Ducks: Open season October 8 through December 16. Daily shooting hours, one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour before sunset. Bag limit 4; possession limit after the first day's shooting. Only one hooded merganser and one wood duck may be possessed at any time.

Geese: Open season and shooting hours the same as ducks. Bag limit and possession limit 5 geese. Not more than 2 of these may be Canada, Hutchin's or Cackling or white-fronted geese. The entire bag may be made up of either blue geese, snow geese, or any combination of them.

Coots Bag and possession limit 10. Wilson's snipe or jack snipe: Open season October 8 through October 22. Bag and possession limit is 8. Shooting time is the same as for ducks.

An Iowa hunting license and a federal duck stamp are required for hunting waterfowl. No shotgun may be larger than 10 gauge, and must be plugged so as to contain not more than 3 shells. Waterfowl may not be shot with a rifle.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Rx: Love

"Love, to be taken regularly in large doses." Those were the words on the prescription blank the doctor handed to Jimmy's mother. Jimmy had been suffering from frequent stomach upsets.

Children have stomach disorders caused by emotional upsets, just as adults do. Many of these illnesses, doctors believe, begin because the children do not get enough love and are surrounded by an atmosphere of irritability, impatience, and anger.

Many cases of infantile colic are also thought to be largely emotional in origin. Colic frequently develops in babies whose mothers are cross and impatient. A baby's greatest need is for the sense of security that affectionate mothering gives him. When a baby becomes "colicky," he may be expressing his feeling of insecurity. More affectionate and patient mothering is often the best remedy.

In older children, "bottled up" emotions may also show themselves in real physical illnesses. Perhaps the child may complain only of "knots in my stomach" or "cramps." But peptic ulcer and ulcerative colitis are not uncommon. Children who develop these conditions may be very well-behaved youngsters who are unable to express their angry feelings. Their troubles are often traced to the fact that their need for security and love was not met in infancy.

Jimmy's trouble started the spring he became a pitcher for the Tigers, his Little League team. He was a good pitcher. But he began to be afraid to play for fear of losing. He felt that his parents were proud of him and loved him only when he won. So the stomach upsets arrived with every game.

The doctor was able to recognize the emotional basis of Jimmy's trouble. He was able to show the parents that their good little boy who was so eager to please was not a happy child. They learned to be more patient with his boyish failures, and to show him that their love did not depend on his behavior. Jimmy's stomach trouble was cured by love. To Preside at Job Rights Session Oct. 25

Washington, D. C.—Vice-President Richard Nixon announced Oct. 2 that the National Equal Economic Opportunity Conference scheduled for Oct. 25 will proceed as planned, despite President Eisenhower's illness.

The conference, to be held in Washington, is designed to emphasize the administration's policy of persuasion against job discrimination regardless of race, creed, color or national origin.

Nixon told reporters that all 66 of the nation's industrial and labor union leaders invited to the conference had expressed a desire to hold the meeting even though the president will be absent.

Nixon said a presidential dinner at the White House previously on the program, will be replaced by a dinner in a Washington hotel with members of the cabinet invited.

Nixon will preside at the conference and will be host at the dinner, at which conclusions and discussions of the all-day session will be reviewed.

BY ALLEN ASHBY

Well Sir, the World Series crowded Iowa football and everything else right out of the news. That was about as spine-tingling series as ever saw. Yours Truly was a Dodger rooter and a Yankee better, so we went down. We found ourselves with a small wager on the Yankees and yet rooting like mad for the Dodgers in that seventh game.

We were in a downtown restaurant watching the last game. There were perhaps a half dozen Negroes there and when Snider and Gilliam let the ball fall between them you should have heard the roar. Well, here's the best to the Dodgers who made the oft-repeated "wait till next year." Stand up.

Football

Iowa didn't figure to meet as much trouble as they did at Wisconsin. The loss of end Mark Gilliam, really hurt because he is the guy who keeps up the spirits. Indiana this week. The Hoosiers have a potentially tough outfit and are going to run amuck on somebody yet. Hope it isn't Iowa.

High School

That East Waterloo — East High game was about as exciting high school game as we have ever seen. That guy from Waterloo really packed the mail on that hundred-yard kickoff return. The Waterloo team featured an all-Negro backfield most of the time.

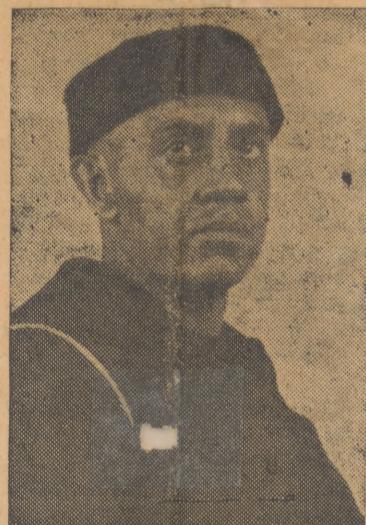

Wonder how anybody's going to really stop East's Chuck McQuerry? The big guy hits like a runaway truck and this they can't catch him. If East gets by this one they will probably go all the way. What a great back that guy will make some college!
