Hawkeye Cage Team Is Honored For Big Ten Title

Chicago, Ill.—Two of the Big Ten's most prolific scorers in history and two stars each from champion Iowa and Illinois composed the all-Big Ten basketball team selected Tuesday by the Associated Press.

For the second straight year, a six-man first team was selected because of the tense competition among the top players.

The mythical team picked by 12 Associated Press sports writers who cover Big Ten games included:

All-American Robin Freeman of Ohio State; Michigan's State's brilliant Julius McCoy; Bill Logan and Carl Cain of Iowa; and Bill Ridley and Paul Judson of runnerup Illinois.

Rep. Powell Prayer Plan for March 28

New York—The proposal of the Rev. Adam Clayton Powell for an hour of prayer on March 28 in protest against the arrest of 80 Negro clergymen and lay leaders in Montgomery, Ala., for participation in a movement to secure equitable treatment of Negroes on the city bus lines is "heartily endorsed" by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary, said here March 1.

Local units of the NAACP throughout the country are being asked to cooperate with the churches in observance of the prayer protest. Mr. Wilkins also is calling upon people to contribute one hour's wages to the NAACP to help carry on the legal defense of the arrested Montgomery leaders and for the general struggle to secure full citizenship rights for Negroes wherever they are being denied. Rev. P. D. Hale, pastor of the Union Grove Baptist Church in Columbus, Ohio, has already announced that he is calling for such contributions.

Capital Close-Up From Washington

BY CONSTANCE DANIEL

No More Messiahs!

Washington, D. C.—When Mary McLeod Bethune died, last May, we wrote in this column—"a magnificent character has left the American scene... a strong hub for the wheels of much progress. Few of any political faith failed to feel the force of her drive, in the Roosevelt-Truman era. She became a near-fabulous figure, with an emotional following seldom equalled by any leader of her times... She was probably the last of the Messiahs."

That was as much, and as little, as we felt that we had a right to say, for as a leader, she was neither a deep nor analytical thinker, and consequently, could not be independent—a fact, which, generally speaking, she recognized. But, by virtue of constant and almost unlimited support from Administrations whose cause she promoted indefatigably, she was able to surround herself with experts and professionals in many fields, who pooled ideas and developed programs, which she forthwith "sold" with all her natural flair for the dramatic, her powerful personality, and the techniques of the thoroughly-trained evangelist that she was.

In all probability no one aspiring to a like role of leadership will ever have such intellectual and material resource. With all respect for what she helped to accomplish (and devout thankfulness that some well-intentioned ventures failed to click) it is to be hoped that Mrs. Bethune was, in fact, "the last of the Messiahs"—the symbol of an era ended. This, in spite of the fact that many who lean toward emotion rather than reason, in seeking a way out of their distress, would revive the torch-bearing era if they could, and substitute mass

Des Moines Ministers Continue Protest Against Oppression in Alabama

Des Moines ministers are making protests in sermons against racial injustices and oppression meted out upon the Negro leaders of Montgomery, Ala., since the recent arrests of 115 of them in the bus boycott and the mob violence demonstrated when the Negro coed, Miss Autherine Lucy attempted to seek an education at the University of Alabama. Their sermons reveal:

REV. G. H. PARRISH

"In these hectic days, these trouble times, it would seem that we here in America would have learned how to treat one another," preached the Rev. G. H. Parrish last Sunday morning to his membership at the Maple Street Baptist Church, East Sixteenth and Maple streets.

"Our people are called upon to fight wars to help make America safe. We spend our blood, sweat and tears—yes, we even give our lives like any other good American for the thing we love and want. Then, after planting our boys on foreign soil, in untended graves, we come home to America and ask for the things our boys have fought and died for and we are denied those things.

'Good Enough to Fight'

"We are good enough to fight that other men might enjoy the blessings of God in this country; then, we ourselves are denied these same things;... we send our sons and daughters away to fight for democracy abroad. We die for it on the barren fields of France, Germany and the Islands of the Seas—but, we are denied democracy at home—because our skins are dark.

"I am not bitter, but hurt that this country, so blessed by God... this country with so many churches, this country with so many fine ministers of the gospel of Jesus Christ

'Land of Till Murder' Featured In April Ebony

Chicago—The Mississippi Delta region, high today is blazing with fierce racial tensions is featured in the April Ebony. The article entitled "The Land of the Till Murder," was written by Miss Clotye Murdock, who covered the Till trial for Ebony last September.

The Negroes, chafing under the degrading pre-Civil War master-slave relationship, are fighting desperately to end it. The whites, especially the poor whites, are fighting to maintain the old status quo.

Common Bond

Today the races are almost equal in number, there being 1,200,000 whites, 990,000 Negroes, with the majority of the Negroes living in the Delta region.

In some counties Negroes outnumber them as much as four to one, with the bulk of them being sharecroppers. But whether sharecroppers, physicians or teachers, writes Miss Murdock in Ebony, all Negroes share a common bond, ostracism. They are second-class citizens with each hemmed into his "place" from birth to death.

REV. H. R. FIELDS

Using as a theme, "Remedy for World's Troubles," the Rev. H. R. Fields, pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist church, 511 Southeast Fourth street, preached to his congregation Sunday morning, March 4, on the subject, "Who Touched Me?" He had this to say:

"The world ought to be on its knees today—the world is intellectually mad! It doesn't know where to find God. It needs to humble itself. "Political men in high places need to touch the hem of Christ's garment; humble themselves. Men with hatred in their hearts can't get by.

'Out of One Blood'

"For out of one blood God created all men to dwell upon the face of the earth. He is no respecter of person. He rains on the just as well as the unjust; also, He shines on the just as well as the unjust.

"We live in a world in which society is politically, mentally and physically sick with racial tensions. If conditions are to stop, men must be born again; for, when the heart is changed, the mind is changed. If men are touched by God's spirit, and accept the Golden Rule, all this would end.

"Man must accept God's plan. Man must give account for all deeds done in his body. Man needs to pray. Prayer changes things. Prayer, a cure for the world's ills, will move out prejudice; no violence. "When men have been touched by the power of God they become new creatures."

The Son of God, her millions of church goers, her many religions, could be so unreligious as to deny a man or woman the right to go to school because her face is black.

"I think it is about time for America to stop fooling herself. She is only fooling herself and not the world. I think it is time for the Saints of God all over these United States to unite themselves in prayer to God—to save America from her sins."

Montgomery Boycott Has Businesses in a Dither

Montgomery, Ala. (CNS) — The still-going-on boycott of the city's buses by Negroes has business of all kinds in a dither. Shops that are near the bus stops report "almost no business" since the boycott began. But the city's businesses aren't the only ones to suffer. It seems that shops scheduled to enter the city are trying to get out of the dates. For Montgomery is a "dead" town in many respects.

The touring "Holiday On Ice" is trying hard to be released of its engagement March 20-24. It plays at the Coliseum which is on the outskirts of town and thus is very dependent on all kinds of transportation for a success. Usually its Montgomery stand is very prosperous one, yet if it has to go through its date

Coed Goes Back To Home State

New York (CNS)—A very brave and very attractive young lady, 26-year-old Miss Autherine Lucy, will leave her New York sanctuary of the weekend and fly back to Birmingham, Ala., from which she had fled after the stunning blow of "expulsion" was delivered by the University of Alabama.

As Miss Lucy explained it: "I thought we had won." She meant by these words that she thought by Judge Hobart Grooms' order for the University to readmit her by Monday morning March 5, to be the end of it all. Instead, she found that she had been "expelled" by the University for her "outrageous" charge that university authorities conspired in last month's rioting against her.

On her arrival here at La Guardia field, Miss Lucy was greeted by a crowd of 300 who had to be held back by 15 cops. Attorney Thurgood Marshall accompanied her.

Mrs. Myrtle Butler, who operates a bakeshop, has been ill at her home this week.

Senator Eastland Decried as Successor to Senator Kilgore

New York.—Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Senate Majority Leader, was urged this week by the NAACP to "pass over" Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) in selecting a successor to Sen. Harley Kilgore as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, noted that the death of Sen. Kilgore places Sen. Eastland "directly in line for chairmanship of Senate Judiciary Committee."

Has Ramped

The civil rights leader expressed the conviction that "nothing could be so disastrous to the prestige of the Senate and of our nation as to designate a person of Sen. Eastland's

Washington Doctor Convicted of Abortion Charges

Washington, D. C. (CNS)—For six times, socially prominent Dr. Schley Brown had been indicted on abortion charges but never once convicted. Last week a jury deliberated more than three hours before bringing in a verdict of "guilty" on a new abortion charge. This time Dr. Brown faces 40 months to 10 years imprisonment.

The 50-year-old physician was charged with administering a drug to induce an abortion and for this being paid $300. Dr. Brown claimed he never saw the young woman and was in North Carolina at the time she stated she saw him.

Massed Prayer For Alabama Boycotters Mar. 11

provincial limitations chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee."

Mr. Wilkins pointed out in his telegram which was sent also to all members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, that Sen. Eastland "has rampaged throughout the South denouncing the United States Supreme Court."

In another message concerned with the death of Sen. Kilgore, Mr. Wilkins extended condolences to Mrs. Kilgore and told her: "The Senator's enlightened and intelligent approach to domestic and foreign matters was apparent during his 15 years in the nation's highest legislative body."

The telegrams were sent on Feb. 28.

Services Held for E. E. Galbreath

Services were held Tuesday at Estes & Son Funeral Home for Earl E. Galbreath, 56, of 912 Grove street, with burial in Glendale Cemetery.

Mr. Galbreath died March 2 at Broadlawn General Hospital after a three-month illness.

Born in Fulton, Mo., he had been a Des Moines resident for five years, and was an employee of the Des Moines Clay Co. He was a member of the Richland Baptist church in Fulton.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Buchanan, Des Moines; a son, Henry D. Grinnell; and a sister, Mrs. Ollie Meadow, Fulton.

AME Churches Raise Funds to Assist Boycotters

A combined total of more than seventy-five dollars ($75.00) was raised last Sunday morning in special offerings received at Bethel and St. Paul African Methodist Episcopal Churches in Des Moines to assist the Negro leaders in the Montgomery, Alabama bus boycott. The offerings have been sent to Bishop George W. Baber, Detroit, Michigan, who is receiving funds to be sent to Montgomery from all of the A. M. E. churches of the 4th Episcopal District over which he presides.

Recently, the thirteen active Bishops of the A. M. E. church appealed to Pres. Dwight D. Eisenhower to act against the tragic persecution of the Negro leaders in Montgomery, Alabama. They offered prayer on the steps of the Supreme Court Building in Washington, D. C.

Claims He 'Interfered with Worship' by Putting New Padlock on Church Door

Bishop F. D. Washington of Brooklyn, N. Y., was due in the city this week to check problems that have arisen in the Church of God in Christ, 711 S. E. Fourteenth street. Trustees of the church filed an injunction suit in municipal court Monday against a minister they claim "interfered with worship" by "padding" the church door.

Judge Don L. Tidrick set the case for hearing March 26.

Henry Hayden, 401 S. E. Fourteenth court, and Norman Norfleet, 719 S. E. Fourteenth court, claim in their petition that they are church trustees "acting on behalf of the membership."

Cite 'Interference'

They asked the court to enjoin the Rev. Palestine Johnson, 55, of 2900 Fourth street, acting pastor of the church, from further interference.

The petitioners said that the Rev. Mr. Johnson was notified on Feb. 17 by the Rev. M. W. Goodwin of Des Moines, the state bishop, that the Rev. Carter Aaron would replace him as pastor.

Placed Padlock

The petitioners said they placed a padlock on the church door after the Rev. Mr. Aaron's appointment but that it was removed by the Rev. Mr. Johnson and replaced by one of his for which the members have no key. "The defendant defies anyone to

Autherine Lucy Still Has 'Faith in My Country' And 'Ultimate Justice'

New York.—"There is nothing that anyone in Alabama or any place else can do which will check my faith in ultimate justice within the democratic principles," declared Miss Autherine Lucy here March 2.

At a crowded press conference held in the Wendell Willkie Memorial Building under NAACP auspices, the young woman who on Feb. 29 was permanently expelled from the University of Alabama said, "I still maintain my faith in my country."

'Terrific Strain'

The university expelled Miss Lucy, its first Negro student, the same day that her reinstatement on the campus was ordered by a federal court in Birmingham, Ala. She flew to New York March 1 with Thurgood Marshall, NAACP special counsel, and Mrs. Constance Baker Motley, NAACP assistant special counsel, to consult physicians and, as she put it, "to get a rest from the terrific strain I have been under since this case began."

In the short statement she read to the press, Miss Lucy said she was "completely disheartened" by the expulsion action of the university. "At the same time," she continued, "I intend to continue not to be angry or to bear ill will to anyone."

To Take Steps

She said she has "authorized" her lawyers to "take whatever steps are necessary" to "test the validity or invalidity of this latest action of the Board of Trustees."

Suffering from exhaustion, Miss Lucy left immediately after reading her statement. Reporters' questions about her case were answered by Mr. Marshall, who had accompanied her to the press conference.

Asserting that "we will not allow anybody by any action to make us angry or to make us emotional about this," Mr. Marshall said that a decision will be made tonight or tomorrow.

Walk Hard, Talk Loud

Walking very hard and talking very loud, but minus the Bethune aura of sanctity, Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, the current "spectacular personality," strode across the political stage, on Friday, February 24, with the usual distracting flourishes, thundering a "call" for a nationwide work and school stoppage, by Negroes, on March 28, on which date "no Negro of any age would attend school or work, between

State Churches of God in Christ's Spring Conference Meets Here Mar. 13 Thru 19

The spring state conference of the Churches of God in Christ will convene at the Church of God in Christ, East 17th and University, Tuesday, Mar. 13 through Monday, Mar. 19. Bishop F. D. Washington is presiding host-pastor and state bishop. Rev. Richard Bogle is associate pastor. Services will begin each day 9 a. m. and 6:30 p. m.

Bishop Washington of Brooklyn, N. Y., was appointed state bishop in the national convocation at Memphis, Tenn., last December 13, by the Senior Bishop, Bishop Charles H. Mason, as the successor to the Bishop Louis Henry Ford.

Over 150 delegates are expected to attend the sessions. Among the out-of-town visitors expected are: Madam

Ernestine Washington of Brooklyn, N. Y., gospel singer; Mrs. Vera Grant of Indianapolis, Ind.; Mrs. Jessie Washington of Little Rock, Ark.; Rev. B. Jones of Sedalia, Mo., state youth president; Rev. W. L. Johnson of Huntsville, Mo., district superintendent; Bishop C. T. Childs of Brooklyn. Other visitors will include: Bishop W. L. Morris of Milwaukee, Wis.; Bishop C. H. Brewer, New Haven, Conn.; Bishop C. Peaker, South Bend, Ind.; Bishop A. B. McEwen, Memphis, Tenn.; Bishop J. O. Mason, Chicago, Ill.; Rev. C. Williams, New York, N. Al Williams in Recital Mar. 9

Mr. Al Williams will be presented in a recital at Mt. Hebron Baptist Church in West Des Moines, Friday, March 9, 8 p. m. with members of the choir participating. Mrs. Minnie Love is sponsor of the program.

2 and 3 p. m., in protest against the gestapo-like arrests of Negroes in the Montgomery, Alabama, bus boycott. Congressman Powell staged his "call" outside a New York Baptist Ministers' Conference, at which members were discussing (1.) a suggestion that each church hold a day of prayer, and (2.) that each send a contribution of money, directly to the Montgomery committee.

But Mr. Powell's "call" was presented first, not to his fellow-pastors, in session, but outside the meeting to "30 or 40 newsmen who arrived, opportunely, out of a clear, blue sky," and met with Mr. Powell, who had just withdrawn from the meeting, in an adjoining room.

The Ministers Say "No."

The press promptly picked up the obvious implication—that the Conference was supporting the "call," with statements in the news services releases such as "Powell and a group of New York ministers called for the Nation's Negroes to stop work for one hour, the Wednesday before Easter."

Cherry Cream Cheese Pie Is a Spring Delight

SPRING MAY-MEAN DAFFODILS AND SUNNY BLUE SKIES but it also means unexpected company weekends when friends and relations out for a drive decide to drop in on you generally just before dinner.

One familiar sight on the pantry shelf that comes in very handy at a time like this is a 15-ounce can of sweetened condensed milk. With it you can make a mouth-watering Cherry Cream Cheese pie in a wink because the filling requires no cooking at all. It is made by putting a layer of red cherries on the bottom of the pastry shell and then pouring in a fluffy filling made from sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice, cream cheese and 2 eggs. This luscious pie filling can also be combined with strawberries, raspberries, bananas or crushed pineapple for the sake of variety.

CHERRY CREAM CHEESE PIE (Makes a 9-inch pie)

1 baked 9-inch pastry shell, 1 3-oz. package cream cheese cooled
2 egg yolks
1 1/2 cups sweetened condensed milk (15 oz. can)
2 egg whites
1/2 cup fresh lemon juice
1 1/2 cups (No. 2 can) cooked pitted sour red cherries, well drained
Put sweetened condensed milk and lemon juice into mixing bowl; stir until mixture thickens. Soften cheese at room temperature; beat with spoon until fluffy. Beat in one egg yolk at a time. Fold into sweetened condensed milk mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff enough to hold a peak; fold into milk-cheese mixture. Spread 1 cup cherries evenly on bottom of pastry shell. Top with milk-cheese mixture and decorate with remaining cherries. Chill. (ANS) church. Mrs. Gray and family visited her brother-in-law and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gray while there. Mrs. H. Gordon is home from Broadlawn's Hospital and is improving. Gray, visited last week end in Waterloo, Ia., with the family of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Dunn. Last Sunday visitors were: Mrs. M. Turner, Mrs. J. Green, Mrs. S. Williams and Mrs. J. A. boycott, as unfair and unChristian. Editor Cecil Newman of the weekly Minneapolis Spokesman and the St. Paul Recorder has pointed out that it would be manifestly unjust to penalize 34 states "in which there is no open oppression," and "who don't approve of the actions of the Alabama authorities," in order to discipline the 14 that do.

From such comments we move to those reflected by Nannie Burroughs, who heads the Woman's Convention of the National Baptist Convention, Inc. (Membership two million), who says: "In the name of the Lord, don't try to lead them from work. No Negro clothed in his right mind would stop work and quit school, to put on a show I consider the proposal unnecessary, nonsensical, ill-advised, impossible and ineffective!"

In other words, solid thinking and courageous action, such as the Negroes of Montgomery have already displayed. But no more Messiahs.

Cab Calloway's Children On TV; Sammy Is Great

BY DELORES CALVIN

New York (CNS)—Sammy Davis Jr. makes $5 for new musical despite weak script . . . The musical starrer for Sammy Davis, Jr. called "Mr. Wonderful" has been highly touted as just what Broadway needs. It opened in Philadelphia last week to such an advance sale that the eight performances grossed record breaking box office receipts—$49,800. Still the moola couldn't cover up the fact that the show's weak on script—though long on ballyhoo.

Sammy's great says the critics—in every shape or form. But great as he is, he can't carry a weak play past Broadway critics who are always tougher than the tryout ones of Philadelphia, Boston.

Funny how weak scripts are frequently the case of most vehicles starring Negro great talent. It certainly was with "House of Flowers"—which Pearl Bailey tried so valiantly to carry off. She almost did make a hit of it. "Mr. Wonderful" writers have time to rewrite their wordy first act and think of a few better situations for their star. They had better get busy or the publicity beforehand will not sell it out as it did here in Philadelphia. Bad news travels fast.

Billie Holiday's nabbing on a dope charge here in the City of Brotherly Love came at a most inopportune time. Billie had just finished her autobiography "Lady Sings the Blues." If it has any merit at all, it could bring Lady Day the kind of rich bookings she had in '47—after her stint for narcotics at Federal Penitentiary in Alderson, W. Va. . . . She's being held now under $7,500 bond for action by a grand jury so that it could be a long stay for Billie. Tap dancer George Anderson, Jr., the half of team "Pork Chops and Kidney Stew," met a violent death in New Orleans when he was stabbed on Valentine's Day by his common-law wife. They had quarrelled in part of the team, had appeared in their home. George, the Pork Chops engagements all over the country and in Europe. Mantan Moreland has teamed up with Flournoy Miller—you remember him from the old days—and together they made an appearance at the Palace Theater in New York. The comedy act wasn't bad though reminiscent of the Miller and Lyles act.

Cab Calloway clan acquitted themselves very well on the "Person to Person" Show emceed by Ed Murrow. However, it's a bit sad that none of the Calloway youngsters have the talent of their old man. At 48, he's young and vibrant. His family, though, is a credit to anybody but especially to one in show business.

Mrs. Harry Belafonte has joined a distinguished group of ladies of show business—headed by Faye Emerson—in a celebration concerning "Stevenson for President." . . . Maxine Sullivan terrific in her new record album. . . . a rarity indeed to Maxine. Nat King Cole becoming such a habit at the Ed Sullivan Show that he's got the longest record of any artist there. Nat appears again the day after his St. Patrick's birthday.

Billy Daniels is by no means out of trouble stemming from his reported shooting of a fight promoter in a Harlem after-hours spot. Though freed on a $2,500 bail to fill engagements at the Chi Chi Club and Palm

The Mission society will meet Monday at the home of Mrs. M. McGruder, 825 1/2 S. Harrison.

the Camera Guild

The sky is one of the best, most flattering natural backgrounds against which to picture your favorite people.

Good Backgrounds Are Natural or Neutral

Of course, your subject is the most important part of a picture—but you can easily ruin the best of subjects by failing to look "behind" them in your viewfinder.

The eye can easily skip over a couple of garbage cans and a patterned fence to concentrate on a cute child, but the camera isn't so selective. It will record anything within its field of vision. So, a good background is important.

To give you a quick idea of what we mean by "good" backgrounds, let's just roughly divide them into two broad classifications: neutral and natural. A neutral background is one that makes the subject stand out merely because it itself is completely inconspicuous, adding nothing to the story the picture tells. Plain walls, the sky, a grassy lawn, the sweep of wide open spaces—these are the most common neutral backgrounds.

If you want to take a snapshot that will tell more of a story, try placing the subject against what we call a natural background—one that serves as a stage setting for the action being performed by the person in your picture. A proud fisherman would probably look best against the wooded bank of his favorite stream, the professor at his desk in his book-lined study. The garden would be a natural setting for the attractive young girl carrying a basket of flowers, the home workshop for the "do-it-yourself" weekend carpenter.

Whichever type of background you choose, however, remember that color contrast is important for the best results. Be sure to pose light subjects against rather dark backgrounds, and vice versa. You can readily see that a dark green hedge would be a poor background choice for a dark-haired girl in a black dress—but she would certainly be a stand-out against a white garden-gate or a cream-colored convertible!

SWEET POTATO TREAT

Your friends will talk for weeks about this toothsome dish once you give them a taste. A delicacy we owe to the Southland, Sweet Potato Treat is so easy to make you'll want to use it as a standard companion piece for your favorite ham recipes.

6 medium sweet potatoes
2 bottles Dr. Pepper
2 tablespoons butter
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1 box marshmallows

Pare and slice sweet potatoes lengthwise into half-inch strips, filling casserole which has been well-buttered. Pour Dr. Pepper over sweet potatoes and dot with butter. Dust with cinnamon, top with 8 or 10 marshmallows, and bake one hour in 300 degree oven.

'Important Goals Towards Which People Might Strive'

Greensboro, N. C.—Some people die trying to get rich, others die trying to be popular, although there are many more important goals toward which they might strive, Dr. Camuel D. Proctor declared at the Bennett College vesper service Sunday.

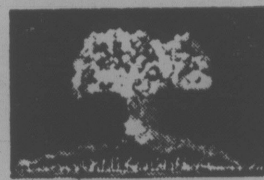

Taking as his subject, "How're You Dying?" the president of Virginia Union University at Richmond, Va., gave numerous illustrations of misdirected activity, some from his own campus.

The physical body "dies" about every six months, he pointed out, due to changes in cells and tissues, but the average human is not consciously aware that he is actually dying. Our lives would probably be vastly different, if we were, the speaker stated.

"In my state," he said, "a distinguished former college president came out of retirement to provide leadership in Virginia's resistance to school integration. What a pity that he should spend his dying days in such an endeavor."

Dr. Proctor called attention to the fact that we are dying spiritually as well as physically each day and urged his listeners to enlist their energies in causes for which they would be willing to die, if necessary.

enemies." "That statement is as true in 1956 as it was in 1855 when Mr. Douglass uttered the words. "Let me give you a word of the philosophy of reform," Frederick Douglass said in another speech.

History of Progress

"The whole history of the progress of human liberty shows that all concessions, yet made to her august claims, have been born of earnest struggle. The conflict has been exciting, agitating, all-absorbing, and for the time being putting all other tumults to silence. It must do this, or it does nothing. If there is no struggle, there is no progress.

"Those who profess to favor freedom, and yet deprecate agitation, are men who want crops without plowing up the ground. They want rain without thunder and lightning. They want the ocean without the awful roar of its many waters.

Moral Struggle

"This struggle may be a moral one; or it may be a physical one; or it may be both moral and physical; but it must be a struggle. Power concedes nothing without a demand. It never did, and it never will. Find out just what people will submit to, and you have found out the exact amount of injustice and wrong which will be imposed upon them; and these will continue till they are resisted with either words or blows, or with both.

"The limits of tyrants are prescribed by the endurance of those whom they oppress. In the light of these ideas, Negroes will be hunted at the North, and held and flogged at the South, so long as they submit to those devilish outrages, and make no resistance, either moral or physical. Men may not get all they pay for in this world; but they must certainly pay for all they get.

"If we ever get free from all the oppressions and wrongs heaped upon us, we must pay for their removal. We must do this by labor, by suffering, by sacrifice, and if needs be, by our lives and the lives of others."

Frederick Douglass' words 100 years ago! How applicable to the problems of civil and human rights of the Negro today.

Personal Touch By MARIE ROSS

A welcomed note arrived this week from Cleota Proctor Wilbekin of 684 Glenwood Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio, who mentioned the name of Frederick Douglass, the great Negro leader, during this country's great fight to end slavery.

The former Des Moines young woman wrote:

"Your column on Frederick Douglass and brotherhood, more than gratifying to read, was used on a display I prepared in commemoration of Brotherhood-Negro History Weeks at our church, Immanuel Lutheran church.

"It was more than appropriate and said the things I would like to have said."

As I recall the column, its contents were not so much as what I had to say, as what Frederick Douglass said himself.

Though campaigning for the rights of the American Negro, then a slave, Mr. Douglass seemed to have had the key to every problem, the answer to every question that involved the rights of human beings.

Since the racial incidents have arisen in Alabama—the bus boycott, protesting the jimcrow of the Negro passengers, the mob violence at the University of Alabama, when the Negro coed, Miss Autherine Lucy, attempted to get an education there, some persons, far removed from the scenes, seem to think that the Negro is trying to "rise too fast."

One hundred years ago, Frederick Douglass, campaigning for the ending of slavery, found that same attitude among Americans.

"But," he said in an anti-slavery speech, "If the colored people would ever arrive at a respectable place in society, they must do their own thinking."

He added: "Those who pretend to be their friends measure their places and pat them on the back, but when they step beyond that narrow place, their friends become villifiers and

Adolescent Wants to Decide for Himself What Work He Will Do As An Adult

The adolescent wants to decide for himself what work he will do as an adult. But this doesn't prevent him asking questions when he believes his parents will help him and won't try to dominate him.

"What do they expect a person to do when he works at a trade? What do lawyers really have to do to get ready to try a case? Is trying cases all a lawyer does? Is the medical course awfully hard? Do doctors really need so much training? How does one get to be a public accountant? Jim's dad is one and he makes awfully good money." Often the questions come in early adolescence; ones like these really tell of the adolescent's youth and inexperience. But they are significant, for he is thinking of what he might choose.

Realistic Facts

In trying to answer such questions, parents will bring to the teen-aged boy or girl some of the realistic facts of training for various fields without curbing the natural enthusiasm of youth. We must first realize that the teen-ager has begun to look realistically at the world around him, to consider himself, what kind of a person

Des Moines NAACP to Cooperate With National; FEP Ordinance Hearing Mar. 19

The Des Moines Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People met Feb. 28 at Willkie House and pledged full support to the leaders of the Montgomery, Alabama, boycott offering financial assistance and mass prayer. The organization sent a telegram of encouragement to: "Rev. M. L. King, Jr., 309 S. Jackson, Montgomery, Alabama." It read:

"The Des Moines Branch of the N. A. A. C. P. wishes to take this opportunity to congratulate the citizens of Montgomery who have so unselfishly given themselves to the cause of all freedom loving people.

"We wish to commend you on the stand which you have taken and encourage you to continue, knowing that our prayers and whatever financial assistance we may contribute through the National Office will be placed at your disposal."

It was signed by Archie M. Greenlee, president, Des Moines Branch N. A. A. C. P.

A resolution was sent to Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary in reply to a telegram from him asking that the branch take local action on the Montgomery, Alabama Bus Boycott.

To Cooperate

It was resolved that the Des Moines Branch "cooperate with the program or directives from the national office with respect to and in regards to the previous condition in which the victims find themselves in Montgomery; and, that the members cooperate with local ministerial alliance in holding protest and prayer meetings and fund-raising efforts.

Speaking before the group, Robert C. Sweet, executive secretary of the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights favored the proposed Des Moines Fair Employment Practices Ordinance.

Better Opportunities.

"Its passage would mean more and better employment opportunities for minorities now discriminated against," he said.

The proposed ordinance contains a penalty clause which would make it unlawful and punishable by a fine of up to one-hundred dollars ($100.00), or imprisonment not exceeding thirty (30) days or both, at the discretion of the sentencing judge, for employers to discriminate in the hiring of employees because of race or religion. The present ordinance lacks this power.

"We could progress more rapidly and would be better off if we did have the enforcement power which the proposed ordinance would provide," Sweet said.

"We would be strengthened in our position of providing equality in job opportunities."

Hearing March 19

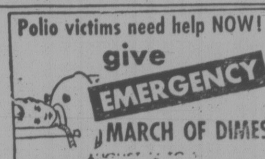

Sweet said the proposed ordinance, which is scheduled for hearing March 19, would have many advantages over the present one. There was only one possible disadvantage which Sweet noted — the possibility that a commission reorganized under the new proposed ordinance might not be able to do the "goodwill work" in interracial and religious relations which the present commission now performs.

"This could be amended however," Sweet said.

SUITS Memorial Roll Made Possible

Iowa City, Ia.—During the early, frenzied days of World War II, student members of the class of 1942 at the State University of Iowa suggested that a memorial be erected in honor of the University's war dead.

Members of the class of '42 started a fund for the memorial and the war-time classes of '43, '44 and '45 added to it in following years. Their gifts have made possible the Memorial Honor Roll which will be dedicated in the Iowa Memorial Union on Palm Sunday, Mar. 25.

HARD FOR STEVENSON
TO BE CONSISTENT

Adelaide Stevenson has a hard time throwing off his misstep on civil rights. And the more he talks the worse he gets.

Last week, he made a good step forward by calling for a non-partisan approach, suggesting that President Eisenhower call together a group representing both sides of the question and settle the matter.

But later in an address before the students at the University of Minnesota, he said the north had no right to criticize the south when Negroes were discriminated against in housing and otherwise in most northern communities.

What Gov. Stevenson says about discrimination in the north is true; it existed during the anti-Civil War days, but that was no reason for abolitionists to cease their fight on that inhuman practice. And it must be remembered that the fight is on the system and the individuals who espouse it and not against those right thinking white people in the south who, though inarticulate because of the pressure from the rabble rousers, don't approve what is going on.

Gov. Stevenson must remember that he, along with liberty loving people in America, criticize Russia for its domination of captive peoples and the mistreatment of many of its citizens behind the iron curtain, when at the same time conditions are bad in many respects for millions of people within our own midst. To be consistent, according to him, America should cease criticizing Russia for their injustices.

Of course, Mr. Stevenson must do something to hold on to his Senator Eastlands and others of his ilk because they carry a lot of delegates to the convention.

HAWKS ARE BASKETBALL
CHAMPS AGAIN

All Iowa was joyful when the State University Hawkeyes basketball team beat Illinois, the leading team at the time and more so Monday night when it defeated Indiana and won the undisputed Big Ten Championship for the second straight year.

Coach Buckley O'Connor trained the five members of this team during their whole college career, used them as regular starters for three years and produced one of the finest aggregations Iowa ever had.

Basketball is a game requiring strength, stamina, quick thinking and well coordinated muscles. These five regulars, had all this and something more for they possessed the extra ability to come through when the play became toughest.

Speaking of these boys last week, O'Connor said they were good students, another feather in their cap for they had an eye to getting their education first and becoming fine players afterwards.

The whole team has brought honor to their school for which they and the coaching staff deserve the thanks of the people of Iowa.

THE COUNTRY WELCOMES
PRESIDENT'S DECISION

President Eisenhower's announcement that he would seek a second term brought welcome news to the majority of the people in the country.

Coupled with the fact that he was popular with the citizens of this country at the time of his election, his record of accomplishments may well be summed up by saying "there is honesty in government. We have peace and prosperity".

Naturally, some errors have been made. This is human. But those errors have not been defended; they have been recognized as acts not to commit again.

The president has surrounded himself with people who have made a success in their own business and thus are better prepared to make a success in running the government.

Mr. Eisenhower made no special promises about civil rights during his campaign but insisted that what we needed was not laws but enforcement of those on the statute books. His record on civil rights has been good.

Of course, everybody does not agree with him. That's what makes good campaign issues. But in the final analysis, the voters are pretty sound. They know a good man is in the white house and that he should remain another term.

row on legal action on Miss Lucy's case.

Miss Lucy was admitted to the University of Alabama on Feb. 1 by a federal court order after almost four years of legal battle. She was temporarily suspended from classes on Feb. 6 following several mob demonstration and threats on her life.

In order to get her readmitted to the university, Miss Lucy's lawyers had filed contempt charges, based on preliminary information available at the time, against the university officials. However, upon thorough investigation it was discovered that the charges could not be supported by competent legal evidence. At the hearing on Feb. 29, the charges were withdrawn by her lawyers.

These charges—that university authorities had conspired with the mob to force her temporary expulsion from the campus—were cited by the university trustees as their reason for permanently expelling her.

Mr. Marshall observed that the reason used to expel Miss Lucy was not the real one. Her lawyer's complaint was filed three weeks ago, he recalled, and the university had sufficient time to act before the judge ordered her readmission.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson said he was appointed by another state bishop, the Rev. F. D. Washington of Brooklyn, N. Y.

"I was appointed and not elected by the people," the Rev. Mr. Johnson said. "I'm just standing up for my rights. I have the right to exclude and expel any member I choose."

"They have no authority to make me give up the key. They are not trustees since they were not appointed by me."

The Rev. Mr. Johnson said he had held services at the church Sunday morning and evening. He said he had been officially appointed to serve at the church on Feb. 6, though he had "worked there" since last October.

"Not Trustees"

"The people don't have the authority to remove a pastor," he said. "I refuse to give up the keys and I don't intend to. The men who filed the suit are not trustees and have no voice in the church at all."

Henry McKnight, attorney for the plaintiffs, said the Rev. Mr. Johnson became "supply" pastor for the church some time ago on a voluntary basis and without any contract.

McKnight said the Rev. Mr. Aaron had been pastor before the Rev. Mr. Johnson but had left to help another minister organize a church.

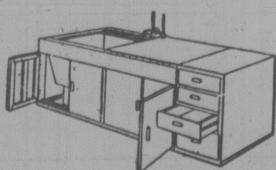

The petition states that the membership asked the bishop to re-appoint the Rev. Mr. Aaron and claims that the bishop has the authority to make such an appointment.

Enclose Laundry Tubs

STORAGE is a "must" in the laundry, but oftentimes it is makeshift and unsatisfactory. Wise homemakers can readily make a combination linen chest and laundry supply cabinet which will serve also to hide unsightly stationary tubs.

As shown in the illustration, the handyman can enclose the tubs, construct a chest of drawers next to them, and create a handy clothes sorting table on top. To do the best job from the standpoint of cost, appearance and long life, he should build a framework of 2 by 2-inch lumber and cover it with smooth Masonite Tempered Presdwood, one-quarter inch thick.

Drawer construction can be simple. Just form the framework of lumber and attach a bottom of Presdwood. Wooden slides attached to the cabinet and sides of the drawers complete that part of the project.

The lumber framework for the enclosures should be no farther than 16" apart. Swinging doors to enclose the tubs may be made, too, as illustrated, or sliding doors of Tempered Presdwood unframed, may be made. They will slide in grooves cut into the cabinet floor and upper framework.

Prime and paint the installation for the best appearance.

HEALTH FOR ALL

New Responsibility For Family
Doctors

In the past the family doctor was seldom thought of in connection with treating tuberculosis. This highly complex disease was left to specialists specifically trained to fight the "great white plague."

Although it was always important for the family doctor to be able to recognize tuberculosis in his patients, today he is being brought more and more into the treatment as well as the diagnosis of the disease.

What has happened to bring about this change? The discovery of drugs to treat tuberculosis and the medical advances of recent years mean that, under certain circumstances, victims of tuberculosis may go home to continue their treatment after an initial period in a hospital. Because these patients must take good care of themselves and often must follow prescribed treatment for a long time after leaving the hospital, the family doctor becomes very important as the guardian of their health.

Since he has greater responsibility for caring for tuberculosis patients, the family doctor must know more about the disease than ever before. This situation may require some important changes in the teaching of tuberculosis in the medical schools, with greater emphasis on diseases of the chest than ever before.

Tuberculosis associations are encouraging the teaching of tuberculosis in medical schools on a broader scale so that the young men now training to become doctors will be able to care for tuberculosis victims they will find among their patients in the years to come.

By ALLEN ASHBY

Well sir, the Hawkeyes came through in the big one. We watched the battle and we were glad we were wrong. We had picked the Illini in a close one, but when people began to talk wagers, we placed a small stipend on Iowa. Much as we wanted Iowa to win, it always makes us feel sort of bad when we see a good team just sort of fold up. We like to watch a great team battle down to the wire, refusing to accept defeat and even though outclassed never give up. We don't think Illinois quit but they just didn't find the right combination.

Hats off to the great Iowa team. Back in about 1929, a guy who liked to study basketball as a hobby, worked out a sliding zone defense that could start at one basket and drift to the other basket, using the same shifts. The late Carl Harris, then coach at Roosevelt High, saw the thing in action and had the guy diagram it to him. Then Harris took the defense and proceeded to win a couple of state crowns and before many years was a power in state high school circles. The Roughriders

Alabama Lawmaker

New York. — The NAACP denounced this week what it interpreted as incitement to racial violence by a state representative in Alabama.

In a telegram to Alabama Governor James E. Folsom, NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins quoted an assertion by Rep. W. L. Martin of Green county, Ala., that white people in Alabama must leave the state, "stay here and be humiliated, or take up our shotguns."

Could Spark

"With the tensions created by resistance to the orders of the Supreme Court, this statement could spark tragic disorders in the State of Alabama," the Wilkins message declared. "Should anyone now take up his gun in an act of aggression, the blame can be firmly fastened on Rep. Martin."

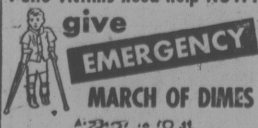

The NAACP, Mr. Wilkins said, "urges you to take every precaution against such an eventuality, which could result not only in serious loss of life but would be most damaging to the reputation and prestige of the State of Alabama and our nation as well."

Mr. Wilkins' telegram to the governor was dispatched on Feb. 29.

SOUL OF HARMONY

Somewhere within our universe
a galaxy must be,
That has a star-strewn lovely world
For souls like you and me.
A place of rhythm, soft down-beat,

Where discord cannot grow,
Here all the bards will congregate,
When comes their time to go.
Give a poet love, a moon above,
And a sweet maid by a sea,
Then, ecstasy of mind is born,

To feed the soul of harmony.
What more could any bard desire,
Than life where every heart is free,
A lovely dream to tend the fire;
Keep warm the soul of harmony.

179 Negro Papers Function Today L. U.
Survey Shows; 15 in Alabama

Jefferson City, Mo. — There are eleven fewer Negro newspapers operating in the United States today than there were a year ago. The annual country-wide poll conducted by the Lincoln university (Mo.) department of journalism arrived at a total of 179 papers by mid-February.

Results of the survey have been published in a state-by-state listing arranged by cities. The list may be purchased at nominal cost on order from the department of Journalism. The count includes only commercially-operated newspapers of predominantly weekly frequency.

Fifteen Negro newspapers are published in the state of Alabama, which leads the country. Only three other states number papers in double figures—California and Tennessee with 12 each, and Texas, with 11.

Two Dailies.

The 179 total includes two dailies, five semi-weeklies, three bi-weeklies and 169 weeklies. They have a combined weekly circulation of slightly less than two million, or 1,939,750 copies.

The last Negro newspaper to be established is a daily—the Daily Defender at Chicago. The Daily World at Atlanta, Ga., has been in existence since March 13, 1932.

During the past year 16 new papers were started or added to the Lincoln University record. Twenty-seven newspapers expired during the year. Alabama and Ohio head the casualty list with four each. Pennsylvania had three and California, two.
