Mrs. Estes Attends International Council
For Exceptional Children in Minneapolis

MRS. JOHN M. ESTES, SR.

Mrs. Irma B. Estes of Kansas City, Mo., wife of Mr. John M. Estes, Sr., Des Moines mortician, returned Monday to her teaching post after having spent the week end here.

Accompanied by her husband, Mrs. Estes attended last week the annual convention of the International Council for Exceptional Children, (ICEC) which convened April 9-14 at the Nicollet Hotel, in Minneapolis, Minn.

Employed as a speech correctionist in the Kansas City (Mo.) Public Schools, Mrs. Estes was a delegate from the Kansas City Branch of this organization of which she is secretary.

Her assignment as a speech correctionist in the public schools includes work with "the so-called normal and exceptional child," she revealed. Included in the exceptional group are children with visual impairments, physical handicaps, impaired hearing, speech handicaps, or children with emotional or social maladjustment as well as those with mental deviations.

In a brief interview here this week, Mrs. Estes revealed some of the highlights of the convention which heard among it many speakers, Dr. Romaine Mackie, chief of the exceptional children and youth branch of the U. S. Office of Education.

In a speech to the general session, Dr. Mackie outlined the "twin problems" of getting enough teachers and good teachers—for handicapped children, Mrs. Estes related.

"Dr. Mackie estimated from a study she is conducting that 100,000 special teachers would be required to teach the nation's exceptional children; and that only about one-quarter of this number, 25,000 are currently available.

"The quality problem was stressed in a later speech by Harold Fields, chairman of special education licenses for the New York City board

Cole Attack Points Up OR Bill

Washington, D. C.—The vicious, unprovoked attack on Nat "King" Cole, in his native Alabama, last week, points up the urgency of the long-awaited Administration civil rights bill, which reached Congress only a few days prior to the attack, together with strong letters of transmittal from Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., one to the Vice President as Chairman of the Senate, and one to the Speaker of the House.

In the Senate, the letter was read by the Clerk of the Senate, and referred. In the House, the letter was read and action immediately taken by Congressmen Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Kenneth B. Keating of New York, both Republicans. The two Congressmen introduced the Administration's proposed legislation in identical bills, HR 10340 and HR 10349.

The air, hereabouts, is filled with the usual accusations as to why this legislation was introduced now. Mrs. Agnes Meyer, wife of Board Chairman Eugene Meyer of the Washington Post, called for a bi-racial White House Conference such as Congressman Adam Clayton Powell and other Democrats have been demanding for some time.

Conference Should Be Called
Said Mrs. Meyer: "A White House Conference should be called at once, of the most reputable white and Cole 'Afraid' to Sing in Atlanta After Alabama Attack; Appears in N. C.

Atlanta, Ga.—Nat (King) Cole cancelled a Tuesday night Atlanta appearance telling Promoter B. B. Beamon he would not appear here "for a million dollars."

Beamon announced the cancellation after talking with the singer Monday night in Winston-Salem, N. C. He said it was then that Cole told him he was "afraid to come to Atlanta."

The promoter said he relayed to Cole the assurance of Atlanta Police Chief Herbert Jenkins that there would be adequate protection during Cole's entire visit here.

Beamon quoted Cole as saying, "It's not a matter of police protection. Someone might try it again, even with a hundred policemen on hand."

Raleigh, N.C.—Nat (King) Cole resumed his Southern tour Friday night, April 13, as a "crusader in my own way" for better race relations.

The singing star said he was ready to "forget" the attack by a group of white men which interrupted his tour in Birmingham, Ala., Tuesday night, April 10, and added: "This has thrown me into a political situation which I don't want to be in."

Cole performed Friday night before a segregated capacity audience in Raleigh's 3,700-seat auditorium. The audience greeted him with enthusiasm. There were no incidents.

Asked to comment on an invitation from Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to join "in the crusade against racism," Cole said: "I'm crusading in my own way . . . I am not intending to become a politician."

Attack Planned

Birmingham, Ala.—An attack by about 150 white men had been planned on Negro singer Nat (King) Cole as he sang at the municipal auditorium, police said.

Officers said the attack, Tuesday night, April 10, in which six men were arrested, had been planned for 4 days.

Cole was shaken but unhurt when several white men assaulted him across the footlights while he was singing before nearly 4,000 white persons.

Detective C. B. Golden said the attack was planned at a filling station owned by one of the men from Anniston, Ala.

Blame Attack on Nat Cole To 'Men in High Places'

Chicago—"The hoodlums who attacked Nat 'King' Cole in Birmingham and the mob at the University of Alabama last month got their inspiration from men in high places—including governors and United States senators—who have urged their people to defy the courts and the law of the land," Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, charged in an address here before 8,000 persons in the Chicago Coliseum.

The session, held on the night of April 11, consisted of an hour of prayer, led by clergymen, followed by a report meeting. The huge meeting was held under the auspices of the Chicago NAACP branch.

Millions Still Barred

"Despite some improvement in recent years," the NAACP leader said in his address, "millions of our brothers in the South are still barred from voting and are thus at the mercy of the local and state political machines and their officeholders. Up here Senator James O. Eastland's name is not on our ballots. We did not make him chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee where he has life and death power over civil rights bills, and over the appointment of federal judges and U. S. Attorneys.

"But up here we have something to say about the party that made Eastland chairman of a committee which can choke us whether we live in Mississippi or Illinois or Montana. Up here," Mr. Wilkins continued, "we can strike a blow in defense of

Some of Nation's Finest Performers to Be at Drake Relays Classic April 27-28

There're readying one of the biggest Drake Relays of all time here April 27-28 when the 47th Drake classic unfolds.

There's a new director, Bob Karnes—the former Kansas U. distance ace—but aside from him the cast is pretty much the same as in the past: some of the nation's finest performers from North, South, East and West.

The Drake event assumes even more importance this year—with the Olympic Games coming up next fall in Australia. Many of the athletes who will perform here will be wearing the Red, White, and Blue of Uncle Sam within a few months.

Broad Sweep of Teams

Early indications point to another broad sweep of teams, with Duke, Georgia Tech, and Tennessee from the Southeast; Syracuse from the East; Arizona State and powerful Occidental of Los Angeles; and Seattle Pacific from the far West.

Add to these the perennial visitors from the Big 10, Big 7, Southwest Conference, Missouri Valley, and such strong independents as Notre Dame and Marquette and you have a great array of talent.

Six 1955 champs are scheduled to defend their titles, plus two from previous years who are back in school again. But the intensity of competition may see several of those crowns topple.

100-Yard Dash

One of the biggest attractions of the two-day meet should be the 100-yard dash where a possible Olympic finish might result. The National Collegiate champion, Jim Golliday of Northwestern (and 1955 Drake

Appointed Last Year by Governor Heogh to Study Discrimination in State

Burlington, Ia.—The first of nine scheduled discrimination hearings around the state by the Governor's Commission to Study Discrimination in Employment was held here Monday when several Fort Madison and Keokuk citizens told how they had been refused jobs.

The Governor's Commission was appointed last year by Gov. Leo A. Hoegh to study job discrimination against minority groups in Iowa.

Three commission members present were: Richard Bruner of Des Moines, secretary; Dr. E. Thomas Scales of Des Moines, and Dr. Harry D. Harper of Fort Madison, vice-chairman, who presided.

After hearing statements from the individual Negroes and from representatives of several organizations, Dr. Harper said:

"Our purpose is to find facts of discrimination. We hoped we wouldn't find any, but it looks as if we may have. However, there is nothing conclusive until we have gathered all of the evidence."

Orville Woods, a steward at the Fort Madison Elks Club, said he applied to two Fort Madison firms in 1953.

"I was given to believe I would receive employment as soon as there was a vacancy," Woods said. "Until this day I have never received any

Liberian YMCA Head Tells Work of World Organization

David N. Howell, YMCA world service secretary, praised the work of the world service organization at a dinner of the Y's Men's Club last Thursday evening at the YMCA.

Howell, who heads the YMCA in Monrovia, capital of Liberia, Africa, said the world service organization "produces more good will per dollar in foreign countries than any other agency—governmental or otherwise."

Howell started the first YMCA in Liberia 5 years ago. Today, the YMCA is Liberia's leading youth organization, with associations in six cities and clubs in 11 other towns and villages.

"We attempt to work ourselves out of a job in foreign countries by developing and encouraging self-leadership," he said.

A native of Georgia, Howell is a graduate of George Williams College, Chicago, Ill., and the University of Chicago. He took graduate work at Denver University. Howell took to his Liberian assignment 22 years of experience as a YMCA secretary.

Admit 20 Children, After 20-Month Delay to Public Schools in Hillsboro, Ohio

Hillsboro, Ohio—After having been turned away daily since September, 1954, twenty Negro children have been admitted to two elementary schools in this South Ohio town as the school board at last yielded to federal court orders banning segregation in public schools.

The children were admitted on April 12 following an order issued the previous day by United States District Judge John H. Druffel who directed the Hillsboro board of education to comply with a decision of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ordering their immediate admission. Judge Druffel's order was the result of the refusal of the U. S. Supreme Court to review the Circuit Court's decision and the high court's rejection of an application for further delay pending decision on the school board's petition for a rehearing.

Subject to Tests

The twenty children were admitted subject to tests to determine the grades to which they would be assigned. During the year-and-a-half they were barred from the "white" public schools they received private instruction.

There are three elementary schools in Hillsboro: Webster, Washington and Lincoln. The Lincoln school since the Civil War has been maintained as a school for the exclusive attendance of Negro children. Following the Supreme Court's anti-segregation school decision in 1954, the school board to end segregation

Jim Crow Pattern Changing Southern Oil Industry

Beaumont, Texas—The first significant breakthrough in the Jim Crow pattern within the southern oil refining industry has been reported here by Herbert Hill, NAACP labor secretary.

Mr. Hill said the change occurred at the Magnolia Petroleum company's Beaumont refinery, where 32 Negroes were promoted from labor department into the "process mechanical division" which previously was all-white.

The labor secretary, now working in Texas and Louisiana, made his report at a conference of Negro oil workers in the CIO Hall here.

Gains Made

He also revealed gains made in the status of Negro employees at the Shell Oil plant and the Phillips Petroleum company refinery, both in Houston, where a small number of Negroes were promoted out of the previously all-Negro labor department.

Mr. Hill said that as a result of cases filed by the NAACP with the President's Committee on Government Contracts and because of work with the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union (AFL-CIO), new union contracts have been negotiated which eliminate the "separate line of progression" limiting Negro employment to unskilled jobs in all Negro labor departments.

Pine-Maple Yams Go To A Party!

Giving a party? Or just interested in giving the family a special supper treat? Then you'll like this delicious baked yam dish with its subtle maple flavor plus the piquancy of pineapple and the crunchiness of pecans. Easy to make—with the added advantage of being able to prepare the yam part in advance. Then, when preparing dinner, heat the maple-blended syrup with the fruit and nuts and pour over the yams and bake. Try it on the family... but for "outside" applause, serve this dish at your next buffet supper!

YAMS WITH PINEAPPLE

|-------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| 2 1/2 cups mashed cooked yams | 3 tablespoons maple-blended syrup |
| 1 tablespoon butter | 1/4 cup crushed pineapple and juice |
| 3 tablespoons butter | 1/4 cup chopped pecan meats |
| 2 tablespoons milk | |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | |
| 1/4 teaspoon pepper | |

Combine yams, 1 tablespoon maple-blended syrup, 3 tablespoons butter, milk, salt, and pepper in saucepan. Place over medium heat and cook until mixture is heated, stirring constantly. Place in greased 10x6x2-inch baking dish. Combine 3 tablespoons maple-blended syrup, 1 tablespoon butter, pineapple and juice, and nuts in saucepan. Place over medium heat until mixture is heated—about 3 minutes. Pour over sweet potato mixture. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

Vicious Device

After documenting an industry-wide pattern of racial discrimination in the oil refining and chemical plants of Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana, Mr. Hill asserted: "Separate seniority lists and Jim Crow lines of promotion are a vicious device

A Shortcut for Shortcake

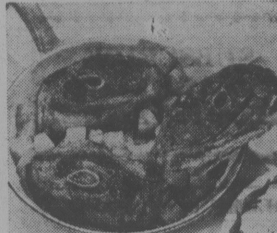

EVERYBODY loves it, especially when lots of sweet, luscious fruit comes sliding over the top and through the middle. And now when you can depend on your grocer for fruit all through the year, fresh or frozen, it means shortcake comes more often to your table. And as long as you have an excellent recipe for shortcake such as this, you can have as many variations as there are fruits to spoon on the top—and be happy there are so many reasons for serving this dessert. This new recipe comes through the courtesy of Pream, the 100% dairy product to "cream" your coffee as well as your cooking. They suggest you try serving the individual shortcakes unadorned with several varieties of fruit in serving dishes, then let each guest select his own fruit topping.

LAMB STARS IN SKILLET MEAL

Like to relax a bit before dinner? Take the long-time partners—lamb chops and pineapple; add a covered skillet—old favorite heavy iron, colorful new porcelain-coated cast aluminum, or versatile automatic electric skillet; and there you have it—thirty precious minutes of freedom from the kitchen at a time you are usually chained to the range.

This easy-to-do skillet meal makes use of low-cost, meaty, full-of-flavor shoulder lamb chops. Tender enough to be oven-broiled or pan-fried, accommodating as oven and casserole meals, these shoulder chops are a good buy any time of the year.

LAMB SKILLET MEAL

Using 1 lamb shoulder chop for each serving, melt small amount of butter in heavy skillet and brown chops over moderate heat, turning once. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, a dash of powdered thyme, minced parsley. Add half slices or cut pieces of canned pineapple, and, if desired, raw carrots cut in finger-sized strips. Pour in 1/4 cup of the pineapple syrup, more if liquid cooks low. Cover tightly and cook very slowly until fork-tender, about 35 minutes for 3/4-inch thick lamb chops. Serve hot with steamed rice and a tossed green salad.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible

Each one of us knows in his heart when he has done unjustly, unkindly by his brother And though he may present an unconcerned face to the world, the injustice, unkindness he has done will lay like a heavy, cold stone on his conscience, his soul—in the quiet of the night, alone with his God, he cannot escape it. But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.—(Proverbs 4:18.)

Heads Committee to Raise $440,000 for Rehabilitation of Goodwill Industries

Ike Smalls has been named chairman of a membership drive to be conducted from May 1 to 15 by Goodwill Industries of Des Moines to raise $40,000 for rehabilitation of its three-story workshop and store at 325 E. Fifth street.

Co-chairman of the membership committee with Mr. Smalls are: Mrs. A. J. Draper and the Rev. Roy H. Mills.

Orville Clark, president of Goodwill Industries, announced plans at a Friday noon luncheon. He said the organization's recently acquired building "needs modification to conform to city ordinances."

Funds from the drive will prove, in addition, fireproofing, new lighting, plumbing and heating equipment, transportation facilities for employees and raw materials.

Goodwill Industries will use the building as a workshop where disabled persons will be employed in repairing and renewing discarded household articles.

O. K. Drive

Smalls said the $40,000 fund drive has been approved by the appeals review board of the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce.

Goodwill Industries, just newly established, is not a member of the Community Chest "because there is no means yet of determining the annual budget required to operate at its efficient level," said Clark.

Smalls said the entire board of directors of Goodwill Industries will serve on the membership committee, with additional members to be named soon.

Learned of Democracy

"Long ago in our various classrooms," Mrs. Estes said, "we learned of democracy. We learned—'All men are created equal.' We believe that every child is entitled to an education to the limit of his capacity."

"The exceptional child is equal in right to learn if not in his capacity to learn. We are committed to the principle of education for all regardless of race, creed or abilities. We are committed to the education of all who are educable."

"When we give the exceptional child—the child who is physically, visually, acoustically, mentally, emotionally, or socially different—equal opportunity in our schools, community, and everyday life, we are making application of our belief in a true democracy," Mrs. Estes commented.

The ICEC sessions were "both stimulating and inspirational and

Drake University's Modern Dance Club Is First Prize Winner in 'Jabberwock'

Eva Vonceal Cropp, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Nathaniel Cropp, 1060 12th street, was crowned "Little Miss Jabberwock, 1956" at Phi Chapter, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority's annual Jabberwock performance, which was held on stage of Des Moines Tech. High School auditorium on the evening of March 28.

Eva Vonceal represented the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity in the Sorority's 1956 "Little Miss Jabberwock" contest.

Second prize was awarded to little Miss Loral Bailey, representing the Three Purpose Club; third to Miss Patricia De Van, representing the L. B. S. Club; and fourth to Miss Tony Holmes, representing Mary Church Terrell Club No. 2.

As "Little Miss Jabberwock", 1956, Eva Vonceal was awarded a savings bond and will reign over social activities of Psi Chapter for the ensuing year.

To Many Countries

Jabberwock is the national sorority's copyrighted name for entertainments held by local chapters to replenish their local scholarship funds. Phi Chapter's 1956 theme of "Nite Flite" took the audience to many different countries as tourists; opening with a Hiatian scene which included an interpretative dance by Miss Gwen Davis and songs by High Sample.

Skit number two was the first prize winner and Drake University's Modern Dance Club held the audience spellbound with their interpretative dances of South American rhythms. Jerry Miller, vocalist and little Miss Mary Gill, dancer were also featured.

France was presented as "The Tourists' Paradise" with vocalist Al-berta Bates singing "I Love Paris in the Springtime." Accordionist, Karen Barney and dance soloist Susan Book participated.

Italy, "Land of Music and Laughter" won second prize with Gary Leatherman as vocalist. Instrumental solos were played by accordionists Larry Carter and William Wells.

Chorus Lines

Chorus lines for the skits included: Elaine Brooks, Ramona Houston, Diane Kitchen, Janie Madison, Helen Owen and Barbara Sue Williams in the Haiti skit; Diane Gray, Claudette Howard, Norma Jackson, Sharon Hammit and Nancy Harris in the skit depicting France; and Elaine Dixon, Elinore Dixon, Marsha Houston, Verbena Sloan, Ruth Wilburn and Beverly Williams in the Italy scene.

Miss Terri Ives, Drake University student, was featured in the Finale singing "Mood Indigo" with Phi Chapter Pyramid Club members and an ensemble of dancers.

Interlude Music

Interlude music was ably provided during the show by Bob Sally and Daryl Reid, guitarists, who received a special award. A combo of musicians provided the music.

Judging the performance of the contestants were Mr. Jerry Thompson, 1338 19th street; Miss Mary Joyce Lind, 1211 31st street; and Mrs. Theodore Hughes, 902 16th street.

Usher's were: Guy Greene; G. B. Tucker; Clifford Bayles; Charles BaBnes, Albert Brewer; Leonard Peavy; Rodney Smith; Levi Greene; Lewis James; and Frank Evans.

Out-of-town guests at the Jabberwock included Mrs. Valetta Fields of Waterloo, a member of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority and Mrs. Guesner Shaw of Marshalltown, mother of Pyramid member Barbara Shaw.

Jabberwock committees were under the direction of Miss Joyce Fant, General Chairman. Miss Delores Brewer is President of Phi Chapter.

In 1955 Phi Chapter awarded scholarships to Miss Carol Anderson who attended Drake University and Miss Bennie Sloan, who is presently attending the State University of Iowa.

Proceeds from Jabberwock will be used for awarding 1956 scholarships and supporting other community projects. Application for these scholarships are solicited and further details will be announced in the Bystander.

Allowing Children Freedom to Take Initiative Helps Develop Them

BY MAY P. YOUTZ, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR

"Why for, why for do I always have to do what you say?" Four-year-old Barbara shook her head so vehemently that her curls stood out straight from her head.

Her mother asked the visiting neighbor, "What's the matter with her?" The friend said, smiling, "Too much reminding, Isabel. Let up on your suggestions for awhile."

The line between nagging and necessary reminding may be a very thin one. Certainly, the friend who heard Barbara's outburst felt that the child was justified.

A grown woman said the other day, "One thing that irked me as a child, and one that I remember to this day, was mother telling me to do something which I was just starting to do—indeed, I had every intention of doing it. Why did she feel that she must keep after me constantly?"

Why, indeed? Some awareness of the child's point of view will help here. How to get it? Check on the number of times she really carries things through without your reminding her. Praise her for creditable performance. If possible, as she grows older, when she is nine or ten, go away for a few days, leaving her and the other children with persons you trust. You may be happily surprised at what the children do.

A mother who broke her ankle one winter was amazed how her children stepped into the breach; with her advice the two girls, twelve and ten years old, produced a very creditable Christmas dinner. And were they proud of themselves, pleased at father's and big brother's praise!

Allowing our children freedom to take the initiative rather than carrying all the burden ourselves, often helps develop a sense of responsibility.

COLE ATTACK A MOB
VIOLENCE PATTERN

The cowardly attack on Nat King Cole in Birmingham, Ala., last week is indicative of the pattern maintained by some forces in the south designed to intimidate the Negro, particularly those who have attained positions of leadership; positions which negate the theory that all Negroes fall in the same class.

Thousands of southerners in the audience resented the attack and demonstrated it by the applause given Cole when he returned to the stage following the commotion.

Unfortunately, these same people who were embarrassed by the mob action of the hoodlums who attacked Cole, have not been alert to combat the atmosphere in the south which makes such things possible.

All too often, hoodlums of the type who attacked Cole have abused, intimidated and embarrassed the Negro with impunity, and nothing has been done about it. Negroes have been driven from the polls, denied the opportunities to register and in many other instances treated in an inhuman manner—and the mobs have gotten away with it.

Such instances seem to disprove the plea that the south can settle its own racial problems by education—only, that the races get along satisfactorily if left alone by outsiders.

EMPLOYMENT STUDY
BEARS OUT
DISCRIMINATION

The commission appointed by Gov. Leo Hoegh to study discrimination in employment is holding a series of hearings in eastern Iowa towns. Testimony has been taken in Fort Madison from Negroes in Keokuk and Burlington as well.

While many people have been aware of rank discrimination in employment in all these towns, it is well to have individuals who have had actual experience tell just what has gone on.

Other towns further up the Mississippi such as Davenport, Clinton and Dubuque are equally guilty. This commission should by all means get some first hand information there.

Unfortunately in most of these towns, Negro leadership has not had sufficient experience with the so-called "runners of the community" to bring about changes in the employment pattern. Except in Waterloo and Cedar Rapids, where the Negro newcomers were brought in to work in heavy industry, employment in most Iowa towns has not been good.

No doubt the committee will be able to gather sufficient material to help convince the members of the legislature that measures should be taken to correct unfair labor practices based on race, creed or color.

THE FARM VETO

When Mr. Eisenhower vetoed the farm bill Monday, he made some people glad, some people mad because its provisions attempted to satisfy so many divergent segments of the population.

About the only thing which has solved the farm problem satisfactorily to all has been a war. That made a large demand for commodities and high prices.

Unfortunately, the farmers have allowed themselves to be made political footballs and thus efforts in their behalf have been more or less stop gap measures.

If the problem could be studied objectively by a group representing the farmer, consumer and processor with a view of coming up with a long range program, maybe a satisfactory solution could be reached. But left to the politicians, the farmers will always be in trouble.

Name Engelbeck

R. B. Engelbeck, president of Queal Lumber and Queal Distributing Co., has been selected as vice-chairman of next fall's United Campaign by Charles A. Wheeler, 1956 drive chairman.

This is Wheeler's first step in the recruitment of over 7500 volunteers who in October will seek pledges for the support of the 33 health and welfare services in greater Des Moines which are United Campaign members.

Included are the American Cancer Society, American Red Cross, Polk County Association for Mental Health, Sister Kenny Polio Foundation, United Fund of Iowa, and 28 Community Chest agencies.

Went Back

He said he went back to check on his applications "a good many times." He said his recommendations were "above reproach" and that he is fully qualified.

Edna Williams of Fort Madison said she applied last year at a store and a cleaning establishment.

"They were to let me know Monday and I'm still waiting," she said.

Mrs. Marjorie Lewis of Fort Madison said she tried to get a job in answer to an advertisement.

"When I went to the company, they didn't ask my name—the manager just said they didn't have any openings," she said.

Group of Girls

Mrs. Shirley Carter, 24, of Keokuk, said a group of young Negro girls, including herself, "went from one end to the other" of the main Keokuk business street last year applying for jobs in retail stores.

"They just took our applications and that was it," she said. A few of the places had advertised for help, Mrs. Carter said, but not all of them.

Mrs. Pauline Boyd of Fort Madison told the commission she applied to a Fort Madison company in July, 1948, for a job. "I had a letter in October that year saying I would be notified, but I haven't heard yet."

She said when she was in high school a sample of her shorthand "brief forms" was chosen to be used as a model by this same company for training purposes.

LaVerne Carter, 35, Keokuk city policeman, told the commission that of 20 factories in Keokuk only three employ Negroes: the Dryden Rubber Division of the Sheller Manufacturing Co., the Midwest Carbide Corp. and Purdy Oats Co.

'Menial Jobs'

He said most of Keokuk's Negroes work at "menial" jobs. The Negro population of Keokuk in the 1950 census was about 1,500, Carter said. The commission was advised that a state fair employment law should be enacted and that "voluntary cooperation" by employers would be better.

Meyer Levitt, of Sioux City, is chairman of the 11-member commission. The commission's next hearing will be May 21 at Waterloo.

area was to join at the auditorium. "Our information is that they had planned to infiltrate the audience, overpower the band, the police, and anyone else who interfered with them," said Golden. "But the expected mob failed to show."

Cole, 37, canceled three Southern appearances Wednesday. The Alabama-born musician said, however, that he had hopes to sing again in his native state. He made the statement before flying to Chicago, Ill., for a rest.

At Chicago, Dr. James Scott examined the singer and recommended he take a few days' rest.

He said Cole received "injuries of the back, right arm and left leg which are not serious but which could present complications when coupled with the nervous tension he has suffered."

With British Band

Cole said the attack might have occurred because he appeared with an orchestra composed of white men. He said he was sorry the attack happened because the orchestra leader, Ted Heath of England, and the bandmen might have gotten "a bad impression" of America on their first tour.

Two Anniston men were charged with assault with intent to murder. They are W. R. Vinson, 23, and Kenneth Adams, 35, a member of the board of directors of the Anniston Citizens Council.

Up to 20 Years

Four others were charged with conspiracy.

Conviction of assault with intent to murder carries a penalty of from 2 to 20 years in prison. Maximum sentence for a misdemeanor in recorder's court is 180 days in jail and a $100 fine.

May Help Cause

Cole said Thursday, after the attack, that "It will do a lot of good for the cause of integration."

"I was a guinea pig for some hoodlums who thought they could hurt me and frighten me and that way keep other Negro entertainers from the south," Cole said.

HEALTH FOR ALL

"MUSIC HATH CHARMS . . ."

"... to soothe the savage breast, to soften rocks, or bend a knotted oak." William Congreve wrote those words more than three hundred years ago. He wouldn't be surprised to learn that today music has become medicine. It is prescribed as part of the treatment of many different illnesses.

Although rarely a cure in itself, music is included in the total treatment in many mental hospitals. It can provide enjoyment, self-expression, an outlet for the emotions, and is especially helpful in treating those with inferiority problems.

Learning to play a musical instrument is often prescribed for the physically handicapped, to help develop stricken muscles and develop the necessary sense of rhythm in their use. Music and the playing of musical instruments have been used effectively with the blind, with those afflicted with cerebral palsy, polio, heart troubles, speech disorders, and even with the deaf.

The sound of music played before general anesthesia is given, or during local and spinal anesthesia, helps to soothe patients facing operations.

New Career

These new developments in the use of music in hospitals have brought into being a new career—that of the music therapist. Already one university is offering a degree in this specialty which combines an interest in music, medicine, and teaching. The music therapist is a kind of musical pharmacist. The physician, psychiatrist, or psychologist prescribes for his patient and the therapist then mixes the "ingredients" of music called for in the specific case.

When man runs out of ideas and things to do, a greater power seems to take hold. We hope He has Bill on his list.

king), will face the battle of his life in Bobby Morrow, the sensational Abilene Christian National Amateur champ, and Dave Sime, late U. S. sprint sensation from Duke.

As usual, the relay events will bring out some of the finest talent in the nation. Kansas, kingpin of the recent Texas Relays, will find the going much tougher at Drake but the Jayhawks still are regarded as the team to beat the university class.

Iowa high school trackmen also will take their place alongside the collegians as record producers. In early competition this year three state marks already have been shattered and the preps are barely under way.

All signs point to a banner year at the Drake Relays. Reserved seat tickets for Saturday are $2.50 each and for Friday $1.50. Write the Drake ticket office, Des Moines 11, for your order today.

Might Do Better

"It could be that the witch, if freed from the necessity of teaming up with the devil, just might do better by us. Certainly with East-land on our necks, and with every southern politician yelling that we won't get our rights until doomsday, we cannot be any worse off than we are now."
