GOVERNOR'S COMMISSION IN DAVENPORT:

'No Skilled Negro Workers There'

Jackie Named 41st Spingarn Medalist

JACKIE ROBINSON

New York.—For the first time, the coveted Spingarn Medal, awarded annually to a Negro American for distinguished achievement, will be presented to an athlete, Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn World Champion baseball team, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, announced here.

The medal was awarded to Jackie for "his superb sportsmanship, his pioneer role in breaking the color bar in organized baseball, and his civic consciousness," particularly his work in the efforts to curb juvenile delinquency. Joining the Brooklyn Dodgers as an infielder in 1947, he became the first Negro major league baseball player.

Presentation Later

Customarily, presentation of the award is made at a public meeting during the NAACP annual convention. However, due to the Dodge schedule, Mr. Robinson will be unable to attend the convention which meets in San Francisco, June 26 through July 1. Presentation of the award will be made in New York at a later date, probably after the close of the baseball season.

The Spingarn Medal was instituted in 1914 by the late J. E. Spingarn, then chairman of the NAACP Board of Directors. It is a gold medal awarded "for the highest or noblest achievement by an American Negro during the preceding year or years."

The award to Jackie Robinson is the 41st. Among previous Spingarn Medalists have been Dr. Ralph Bunche, Marian Anderson, Judge William H. Hastie, A. Philip Randolph, Thurgood Marshall, Carl Murphy, Dr. Channing H. Tobias, Roland Hayes, the late Walter White and the late Dr. Louis T. Wright.

Die-Hards Die Hard

Washington, D. C.—Two Federal City groups—one professional and one politically-affiliated—now, openly but furiously are leading segregation die-hards in their respective areas of activity. One is the District of Columbia Bar Association. The other is the League of Republican Women of the District of Columbia.

Six weeks ago, on May 8, the Bar Association desegregated, on a voice-vote led by its hard-working liberal element. The organization's die-hard membership, led by a group of seven, a month later asked the District Court to nullify this voice-vote on the grounds that it was illegal, and that the two-thirds vote required to amend the by-laws could not be shown. Whatever the court's ruling on this, we think that the open and aggressive fight for desegregation waged by the liberal members, was worth their effort, a credit to their group, and a sound step forward.

Significant Effort

Much less can be said for the District of Columbia League of Repub-

NAACP Convention Opens Tuesday in San Francisco; To Study Desegregation

San Francisco.—Ways and means of accelerating community action to secure desegregation of public facilities and institutions will be explored at the 47th annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which opens here on Tuesday, June 26, Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, announced today.

The six-day convention, which will be attended by some 800 delegates from all sections of the country, will be held in the Civic Auditorium. It will open formally on Tuesday evening with a keynote address by Thurgood Marshall, the Association's special counsel and chief of the battery of NAACP lawyers who argued the historic school segregation cases. Mr. Wilkins will be the principal speaker at the closing session on Sunday afternoon, July 1.

Opening Welcome

The delegates will be welcomed at the opening session by Mayor George Christopher and R. J. Reynolds, general chairman of the convention.

Prominent on the list of speakers for the convention are the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., leader of the Montgomery, Alabama, mass protest against racial segregation on the buses of that city, and A. Philip Randolph, a vice president of the AFL-CIO and international president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

A feature of the convention will be an election year debate between a Democratic and a Republican spokesman on the civil rights program of their respective political parties.

Reprisal Victims Expected

To illustrate in human form some of its work since last year's convention, the NAACP has invited the leading figures of three of its most celebrated civil rights cases as convention guests. They are Mrs. Catherine Lucy Foster of Tyler, Tex.; L. A. Blackman of Ellmore, C. S.; and Gus Courts of Belzoni, Miss. They will appear at the Sunday session.

Mrs. Foster, now a minister's wife, became the subject of world-wide interest when she was stoned by a mob on the University of Alabama campus after having enrolled there as the university's first Negro student.

Forced Out

Mr. Blackman, president of the Ellmore NAACP branch, was threatened by the Ku Klux Klan and denied needed building materials because of his race.

Expresses 'Renewed Hope' For Rights Bill Before Adjournment of Congress

New York.—Following agreement by the House Rules Committee to take a vote on the Administration-sponsored civil rights bill, NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins expressed "renewed hope" that "before adjournment, the Congress will take affirmative action to assure equality of opportunity and rights for all Americans irrespective of race or color, religion or national origin."

"To fail to take such action," Mr. Wilkins asserted, "is to encourage rebellious elements which are openly calling for defiance of the United States Supreme Court and all federal authority."

At Stake

At stake is a federal civil rights bill with three main provisions: establishment of a bipartisan Presidential commission to study the status of civil rights; creation of a civil rights division in the Department of Justice under an assistant Attorney General; extension of the authority of the courts to include civil rights enforcement through civil judicial processes.

On Thursday, June 14, after a heated argument behind closed doors, the House Rules Committee by a vote of 6 to 4 overruled its chairman, Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), and agreed to vote by June 21 on reporting the civil rights program to the floor.

The committee's hearings on the civil rights proposals were set for June 20 and 21, after which it is anticipated the measure will be sent to the full House for a floor vote. Committee action was set for direct reply after the hearings.

Current Delays

The House committee's action contrasts sharply with current delays in the Senate Judiciary Committee where 75 anti-civil rights witnesses

New York Executive Speaks at Tuskegee's Graduation

Tuskegee, Ala.—More than 5,000 present at Tuskegee Institute's 75th anniversary graduation exercises heard a New York executive predict that change is inevitable but by no means threatening.

The speaker, Devereux C. Josephs, president of the New York Life Insurance Co., added that "People, persons and individuals are at the center of all changes whether in the order of our society as a whole or merely the evolution of its industrial components."

The board chairman, in unfolding his thesis based on "Changes in An Expanding Economy," sought to explain that "our future problem is man and not his technical handiwork."

The speaker said economists calculate that a decade hence the average family will have 25 percent more personal income than now, even though a small reduction in weekly work hours is anticipated.

YMCA Plaques To Two 25-Year Men

Plaques were presented recently to Fred J. Peterson, (left) member of the Des Moines YMCA board of directors and treasurer for 25 years, and A. P. Trotter, one of the original members of the Crocker Branch YMCA management committee. That branch was established in 1919. Trotter also has been a member of the YMCA board since 1951. (Photo Courtesy of Des Moines Register).

New Building

One of the features of the Des Moines' new $2,500,000 YMCA building will be a glass-shielded observation deck from which spectators may watch swimmers in the 25-by-76-foot tiled pool without entering the highly-humid atmosphere of the natatorium.

Others will include two gymnasiums, a large memorial meeting room, a chapel, a health club with steam, hot and ultra-violet light rooms, four handball courts, and a boxing and wrestling room.

This and other detailed information about the new Y were disclosed June 5 at the seventy-second annual meeting of the organization at the present

Overlooking River

The new building will be on the site of the old Coliseum between Grand avenue and Locust street. An Eight-story lobby and dormitory section with rooms for 200 residents will overlook the Des Moines river. All will be "outside" rooms.

It is expected that plans will be ready for bidding late this year. The Y gets possession of property extending west along Locust to Second avenue and along Second half-way to Grand avenue Sept. 1.

Members and guests at the annual dinner say tinted slides of exterior and interior sketches of the handsome building.

Zoe Richardson Bequest to Be Used for YWCA Camp Swimming Pool; Dedication Sunday

When the YWCA Camp Swimming pool is dedicated Sunday afternoon, note will be taken of the donation from the estate of the late Zoe Richardson.

Miss Richardson was a member of the Des Moines YWCA for many years. When she died her will provided for a substantial bequest to be used for the benefit of Negro girls.

With this request in mind the committee from the former Blue Triangle Branch agreed that the swimming pool at the YWCA camp would best represent this provision. The bequest is for more than $2,800 and will pay for the bath house at the pool.

Study Group Hears of Bias 'In All Avenues of City And Private Employment'

Davenport, Iowa.—"In the city of Davenport there is not one Negro skilled worker employed in industry," the Governor's Commission to study discrimination in employment was told in a hearing here Monday.

This testimony came from Charles W. Toney, chairman of the labor and industry committee of the Davenport branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Third of Series

Strong denials that discrimination exists here also were heard by the commission in the third of a series of hearings to gather facts on discrimination in employment in Iowa because of race, religion or national origin.

The commission was appointed by Gov. Leo A. Hoegh. It will make recommendations to the next legislature as to whether state fair employment practices legislation should be passed.

Toney said Davenport Negroes are discriminated against "in all areas of private and city employment."

"There are Negro skilled and semi-skilled workers living in the community but they are forced to find employment in Illinois," he said.

Estimates of the Davenport Negro population ran from 3,000 to 6,000.

Banged Gavel

Commission Chairman Meyer S. Levitt, Sioux City, had to bang his gavel for order at one point in the hearing.

The Rev. William T. O'Connor of St. Ambrose College started to introduce a resolution "strongly" urging state fair employment legislation when a member of the audience who identified himself as Edward Fields stood up and objected that it was against commission rules to hear plea for legislation.

"You said you wanted to get only the facts and I would like to see you stick to that," Fields said.

Father O'Connor said his resolution was signed by a number of members of the Catholic clergy.

Fields said he is a member of the Davenport committee of the National Conservative Society. He said about 10 members of the society were present in the audience of 50 to 75 persons in the city council chambers.

Warns Audience

A moment later, when part of Father O'Connor's testimony was overruled as irrelevant, several persons in the audience applauded.

Levitt then said: "If there are any further demonstrations we will have to ask the participants to leave the room and they won't be permitted to testify."

Fields was one of those scheduled to testify. When his turn came, Levitt questioned him closely about the nature of the National Conservative Society. Fields said the group was organized to defend "nationalism and political conservatism in the United States." Its membership is mostly in the Davenport area, Fields said.

Get Their Side

He urged the commission to contact the employers named in the hearing to get their side of the discrimination question.

"No one has come forward yet to say that he is being discriminated against," Fields said. "Since you are here only one day hearing these charges against businessmen and merchants, how can they defend themselves?" he asked.

Civil Service Tests

"They have never heard these charges before."

Fields said Mayor Walter Beuse told him not one Negro had applied to take a recent civil service examination for police department jobs.

Beuse said after the hearing, "I don't know Mr. Fields. He was not

Many Leaders Talk at New York's Largest Rally for Rights; 18,000 Attend

New York.—The Negroes answer to those who preach "moderation, gradualism and stoppism" in the civil rights fight, was given in no uncertain terms by 18,000 persons who jammed into Madison Square recently in what is described as the largest civil rights rally in New York in years.

"In the interest of justice and to the glory of America, the Negro people demand freedom now. We are not prepared to equivocate. We shall not compromise."

These were the stirring words of A. Philip Randolph, chairman of the mass protest rally as thousands roared their approval, closing the historic emotion-packed meeting, which had heard calls for the use of federal troops and a new "March on Washington" to bring an end to discrimination and segregation in this country.

5 Hour Program

From 7:30 to 12:30 p.m., speaker after speaker continued to stress that this was a critical period in race relations in this country, and Negroes and other minorities will not get full freedoms "unless they fight for them."

The oldtimers in the struggle for equality—Roy Wilkins, A. Philip Randolph, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Ashley Totten, Rep. Adam Powell, Atty. Gen. Jacob Javits, Rabbi Israel Goldstein, and others, threw their arms around and joined forces with Wis-

Gelatin Salad Molds Go On A Picnic

BLUEBERRY CHEESE SOUFFLE SALAD, a cool and welcomed change from the usual picnic salad, can be easily and safely transported to woods or shore in a 9-inch layer cake pan that slips in the top of a picnic cooler. This souffle salad combines lemon-flavored gelatin and mayonnaise with blueberries, cottage cheese and crushed pineapple to make a deliciously different taste treat for outdoor eating.

BLUEBERRY CHEESE SOUFFLE SALAD

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup hot water
1/4 cup cold water
1/4 cup pineapple juice

Dissolve lemon-flavored gelatin and salt in hot water. Add cold water, pineapple juice, lemon juice, and mayonnaise. Blend well with egg beater. Pour into refrigerator freezing tray.

Quick-chill in freezing unit (without changing control) 15 to 20 minutes, or until firm about 1 inch from edge but soft in center. Pour mixture into bowl and whip with egg beater until fluffy.

Fold in blueberries, cottage cheese and drained pineapple. Pour into 1-quart mold or individual molds. Chill until firm in refrigerator (not freezing unit) 30 to 60 minutes. Unmold and garnish with salad greens. Makes 4 to 6 servings. (ANS)

ICED-TEA-MENU-OF-THE-MONTH

Low-Cost Low-Calorie Foods

WOMEN WHO HAVE THE SLIM, TRIM FIGURE IN MIND for both waistline and pocket book this season, will do well to keep in mind the iced-tea-menu-of-the-month. Low-cost, low-calorie foods and beverages are the highlights of this complete menu which has been rounded out to provide a family of four approximately 357.3 calories per person at a cost of about 42 cents per serving.

THIS MONTH'S MENU IS:

Jellied Beef Consomme
Mock Chinese Dinner
Spiced Cling Peaches
Whole Wheat Wafers
Iced Tea with Lemon

THE ICED-TEA-MENU-of-the-month is so-called because iced tea adds no calories that count, to your daily diet. It's important to keep this in mind because summertime is drink-more-time. The body craves additional liquid to make up for water lost through perspiration. A quick glance at the following chart will amaze and alert you to important do's and don'ts next time you want to quench your thirst.

BEVERAGES

	Approx. no. of calories per six fluid ozs.
Iced tea (unsweetened)	4.0
Iced coffee (unsweetened—without cream)	11.0
Sugar-free carbonated beverages	18.0
Beer	59.0
Cola beverages	82.0
Lemonade, frozen	86.0
Carbonated, fruit-flavored beverages	91.0
Grape juice	111.0

ICED TEA on the other hand, when sweetened with a non-calorie sweetener, is non-fattening, non-filling. It's thirst-quenching because it has no sweet, cloying after taste—and leaves you refreshed. To make about 10 servings of ICED TEA pre-measure 5 tablespoons loose tea (or 15 tea bags). Bring 2 quarts fresh, cold water to a full rolling boil in saucepan. Remove from heat. Immediately add tea. Brew, uncovered, 5 minutes. Stir and strain into pitcher. Cool at room temperature.

To make Jellied Beef Consomme—simply chill and serve with a slice of lemon or chopped chives.

To prepare Mock Chinese Dinner for four, combine and cook for five minutes, 1 No. 2 can pineapple chunks (drained) with 1 teaspoon butter and 1/2 cup drained pineapple syrup. Combine 2 tablespoons paste. Gradually stir into pineapple mixture. Add 2 tablespoons soy sauce, 2 tablespoons vinegar and 3 non-calorie sweetener tablets. Cook, stirring constantly till thickened and smooth. Add 1 7-ounce can solid pack tuna (flaked) and 1 3-ounce can sliced mushrooms, 1/4 teaspoon salt and a dash black pepper. Heat. Prepare 1 5-ounce package pre-cooked rice, according to package directions. Place rice in deep platter. Top with pineapple-tuna mixture. Serve immediately.

Spiced Cling Peaches make a dessert that is full of spice and everything nice, especially when served with crisp, crunchy whole wheat wafers. Drain 1 No. 2 1/2 can cling peaches. Simmer syrup gently with 1 teaspoon whole cloves, and 1 stick cinnamon for 10 minutes. Pour over peach halves. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Cover. Allow to cool. Chill before serving. (ANS) patient at Mercy hospital. Mr. Buckner is home now getting along fine.

Washington Lawyers Try to Ban Negroes

Washington, D. C.—(CNS)—Seven members of the District Bar Association—angered over the Association's recent vote to admit Negroes and to drop the word "white" as a membership qualification—have gone to the District Court to seek to nullify the vote of the group. The seven lawyers assert that a voice vote was taken and that this was illegal and contrary under the circumstances to Roberts Rules of Order governing parliamentary procedure. Plus they claim that unqualified persons were present when the vote was taken.

The voice vote of the group had amended the by-laws so that Negro lawyers could be admitted. Under the by-laws a two-thirds vote of the membership is required for such a change. The measure was deemed so unanimous as to be carried by a voice vote alone.

can Women, where no significant effort toward desegregation has been discernable. As stated in this column for the week ending February 18, (See "Lincoln Day Irony"):

"Most of the thousand GOP-ers who attended the Lincoln Day rally here, (Feb. 8) were blissfully unaware that the District of Columbia League of Republican Women, that sponsored the event in cooperation with the Republican National Committee, is a Jim-Crowding organization which excludes Negro women from membership, and in which the 'moral climate' of which Deputy Attorney General William P. Rogers spoke so feelingly, is conspicuous by its absence.

"The alibi is, 'This is a private club.' The 'out' has been an off-the-beaten-path token club for Negro women, known as the 'Virginia White Speel Club' —. It was to this latter club that Negro women wishing to join with other Republican women here, were directed. It is the club to which we were directed by Mrs. Nora Kearns, then and now President of the National Federation of Republican Women.

"After the District of Columbia League's last election of officers, we checked its office to see whether under the new president, Mrs. William Foster Burdick, there had been any change in the policy of excluding Negro women from membership. Mrs. Rethel Murphy, the League's secretary, said that there was no change—that 'the colored women deserved their own organization.'

"As we go to press, (Feb. 9) the routinely acknowledged applications of a number of Republican women who are Negro, are in the hands of D. C. League officials."

And as we go to press on June 14, they are still there, without further answer, some six months after filing. They include, as we said at the time, that of a Republican woman whose prosperous free forebears, in Cleveland, Ohio, had directly participated in the Convention that sent Lincoln to the White House, and whose fam-

New Thinking in Hollywood; Nat 'King' Cole to Promote Joan Crawford Picture, "Autumn Leaves"; Eartha Kitt in Glasgow, Scotland

BY DOLORES CALVIN

New York. (CNS)—New Thinking in Hollywood... It's beginning to happen more and more often that Hollywood is treating racial relationships exactly as they occur instead of weakening them down so that the story is so lost and its color gone that it not only offends nobody but doesn't interest anybody.

Latest producer to see the light is Frank Ross, who has bought the book and is filming John David Brown's "Kings Go Forth." The story is of a white-Negro relationship and Ross says this: "To buy a book and then throw out the very elements that made you buy it is nonsense."

And if the story might antagonize the South, Ross says: "That's the risk a producer must take... The other risk is complete anonymity. Turn out a picture that's not different, that doesn't take a chance, and like cats at night, all pictures look gray to the public."

The much travelled Louis Armstrong is due back in New York this week at his old haunting place—the Birdland. Trust that it won't seem so insignificant after all the places Louis' been roaming.

Velma Middleton rumored to be set to get married. After all these years, she took no chances with the bridegroom prospect and rather named the date and the place within the next two weeks.

Imagine a Negro artist being used to promote a Joan Crawford picture! We're referring to Nat King Cole, of course and the picture he's to help promote is "Autumn Leaves"—the veteran Crawford's latest flicker. In all trade papers, it's being advertised:

ily came to Washington when one member became law clerk for Lincoln's Chief Justice Salmon Portland Chase.

Mrs. Bolton, Africa and the Doorstep Job

On June 9, Republican Congresswoman Frances Payne Bolton, of Cleveland, addressed half a thousand Howard graduates and their seven thousand guests, at the University's recent Commencement. Said: "We must create a climate of opinion in which solutions are possible."

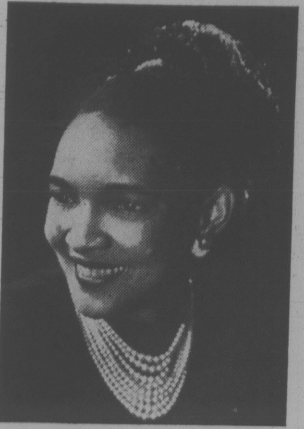

Last fall, Mrs. Bolton, a member of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, made an extensive tour of African countries. Impressed, she told H.U.'s graduates that America's race relations are important "to millions outside the United States"—a statement with which few will disagree, since few will relate it to themselves.

Class Presents Gift To Red Cross

The members of the American Red Cross Standard First Aid Class sponsored by the Volunteer Nurse Unit No. 1, honored their instructor, Mrs. Jessie Mae R. Wright with a potluck supper, June 13, at her home, 1424 Maple Street.

Garden flowers decorated the supper table.

A cash gift was voted to be presented to the Red Cross by their instructor, Mrs. Wright.

The following graduates receiving certificates were: Mrs. Emma Caswell, Mrs. Bertie Hayter and Mrs. Naomi Perkins; brush-up certificates—Mesdames Ava Brewer, Gladys Brown, Essie Davis, Violet Hunley, Bessie Matthews, Sadie E. Peters and Mary Reeves.

The regular meeting of the nurse unit will be July 25 at 1424 Maple Street. Mrs. Brewer is president; Mrs. Brown is secretary.

the Camera Guild

The sky is one of the best, most flattering natural backgrounds against which to picture your favorite people.

Good Backgrounds Are Natural or Neutral

Of course, your subject is the most important part of a picture—but you can easily ruin the best of subjects by failing to look "behind" them in your viewfinder.

The eye can easily skip over a couple of garbage cans and a patterned fence to concentrate on a cute child, but the camera isn't so selective. It will record anything within its field of vision. So, a good background is important.

To give you a quick idea of what we mean by "good" backgrounds, let's just roughly divide them into two broad classifications: neutral and natural. A neutral background is one that makes the subject stand out merely because it itself is completely inconspicuous, adding nothing to the story the picture tells. Plain walls, the sky, a grassy lawn, the sweep of wide open spaces—these are the most common neutral backgrounds.

If you want to take a snapshot that will tell more of a story, try placing the subject against what we call a natural background—one that serves as a stage setting for the action being performed by the person in your picture. A proud fisherman would probably look best against the wooded bank of his favorite stream, the professor at his desk in his book-lined study. The garden would be a natural setting for the attractive young girl carrying a basket of flowers, the home workshop for the "do-it-yourself" weekend carpenter.

Whichever type of background you choose, however, remember that color contrast is important for the best results. Be sure to pose light subjects against rather dark backgrounds, and vice versa. You can readily see that a dark green hedge would be a poor background choice for a dark-haired girl in a black dress—but she would certainly be a stand-out against a white garden-gate or a cream-colored convertible!

Children's Visits Away From Home Are Vital 'Part of Their Growing Up'

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

vited to spend two weeks visiting his grandfather's farm. He planned and packed enthusiastically for a couple weeks, but as the end of school approached he began to worry. He kept wondering what his friends would do during his absence, and he seemed perturbed about his own family's plans for some activities during the time he would be gone. His father laughed one day. "He's homesick before he's left," he said.

The family went about making Jimmy's visit as pleasant as they could. Since he'd never stayed away from home overnight, they arranged for him to exchange overnight visits with nearby friends a couple times. They minimized the exciting nature of their own plans for the summer, and scheduled several of them so that he could go along, too.

They postponed Jimmy's visit to the farm until later in the summer, to give him a chance to do many things with his friends. This also gave them time to take him on several all-day visits to a friend who lived on a farm near their town, to help Jimmy learn what life on his grandfather's farm would be like. were careful to prepare him for the fact it would rain some days, and that he couldn't always "help" drive the tractor.

A couple of library books helped Jimmy understand the purpose for many of the things he would witness on the farm, and the family emphasized that he would be having many interesting experiences that they wouldn't have. They sympathized when he said he would miss them, but they didn't tell him that the visit was "a part of growing up."

When the time for the visit arrived, Jimmy was less anxious about being gone so long, and he seemed to feel that even if he did get lonesome sometimes he could still enjoy the vacation. He didn't feel that he was being "banished" from his own home for two weeks, and he looked forward to an exciting time with his grandfather.

Appointed House Associate Counsel

SAMUEL PIERCE

Washington, D. C.—Samuel R. Pierce, Jr., 33, was appointed Associate Counsel to the House Judiciary Subcommittee on Antitrust. Mr. Pierce is a Republican. As Associate Counsel, he ranks next to the Counsel on the Subcommittee's legal staff. Since the Counsel is a Democrat, Mr. Pierce will be minority counsel to the Subcommittee. In that capacity, he will be particularly concerned with advising the Republican members of the Committee. If the views of the Republican members differ from those of the Democratic members, Mr. Pierce will be responsible for writing the minority report.

The House Judiciary Committee is made up entirely of lawyers so that in his new position Mr. Pierce becomes a "lawyer's lawyer." The House Judiciary Subcommittee on Antitrust is an extremely active and important committee. It will soon begin an investigation of the National Broadcasting System and the Columbia Broadcasting System for possible antitrust violations relating to television.

Mr. Pierce is the first Negro to be appointed to the legal staff of the House Judiciary Committee. It is reported that his salary will be $12,000 or more per year.

Personal Touch
By MARIE ROSS

One by one, Des Moines young women are packing up and shoving off for the West Coast where they are finding "better jobs and more opportunities."

Back home on a vacation this week is Miss Lenna Reeves, daughter of Mrs. Lola Reeves, 1029 Thirteenth street, who went to Los Angeles, Calif., last summer to attend a wedding, and decided to stay.

Last February, two more Des Moines girls, who liked what Miss Reeves wrote to them about California, got transfers from their telephone company jobs, and moved to Los Angeles, too.

The fourth Des Moines girl arrived in Los Angeles just last week, after getting her job transferred there.

Asked what Los Angeles had to offer the Des Moines girls, Miss Reeves summed it up like this:

"Well, Des Moines is a nice place—but, if young people our ages want to get any place in life, it is best to get away—where there are more Registering the guests was Mrs. Emery Wade. Pouring were: Mesdames Cleveland Campbell and B. F. Wellington. Hostesses were Mesdames Helen Simmons, Alfred Guy and Elton Warden, J. H. Ward and Alice Douglass.

Out-of-town guest was Rev. C. Albert Henson of Wichita, Kas. Mrs. Warden is president of the club.

Last summer on a vacation from her job as typist-clerk in the Iowa Tax Commission offices here, where she had been employed for four and one-half years, Miss Reeves went to Los Angeles, to attend the wedding of a friend.

She liked the city, took a two month vacation before she decided to remain. Then she went to the California State Employment office, took a test, and secured a position as a billing clerk with Cora, Inc., a wholesale costume jewelry company.

When a friend, Marlene Wellington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rueben Wellington, 1122 Eleventh street, arrived there with Miss Lois Smith, Miss Reeves said she had secured a four-room furnished apartment, in the heart of town, and has found the rent very reasonable.

"After work hours, we go bowling, play miniature golf, go on a weiner bake to one of the beaches; or to any of the fine night clubs—and I do mean very definitely respectable and you can go to any of them."

"We take trips to San Diego, San Francisco, Berkeley and nearby California cities—and plan, soon to go down Mexico way."

Miss Reeves said she "finds food much cheaper there by shopping at

Miss Delores Dunn of Manly Weds Mr. Sterling Macer in Elaborate Mason City Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. STERLING MACER

Mason City, Iowa.—In one of the prominent June weddings here, Miss Delores Dunn of Manly, Iowa, became the bride of Mr. Sterling Macer, son of Mrs. Ruby Macer of Mason City.

Miss Dunn is daughter of Mrs. Willie Turner and Mr. LeRoy Dunn, both of Mason City.

The wedding took place Sunday afternoon, June 10, 3 o'clock, at the St. John's Baptist Church here with the Rev. G. M. Williams officiating.

Altar decorations were bouquets of pink and white gladioli, snapdragons, and roses and candelabra. The church pews were tied with white satin bows.

Traditional wedding music and prelude, "Walk Hand in Hand," were played by Mrs. Doris Davis of Des Moines. Soloists were: Mrs. Wm. Wigginton, "O Promise Me" and "Wedding Prayer"; Mrs. Reva Douglas, "Because"; and Mrs. Louise Kipper, "The Lord's Prayer."

Bride's Gown

The bride wore a floor length gown of imported Rose Point lace and crystal pleated nylon tulle. The molded lace bodice was styled with a sweetheart neckline and buttoned down the back with miniature self-covered buttons. The long sleeves tapered to a deep bridal point over the wrists. The full gathered skirt worn over hoops was fashioned with tier upon tier of crystal pleating. Her double veil of imported silk

Morris, Jr., and W. Lawrence Oliver, attorneys, motored through Minneapolis, Dufuth, Minn., crossed the border at Pigeon River, to Fort Williams and Port Arthur, Ontario.

"Among the beauty spots along the way were the Kakabeka Falls, a waterfall on the road between Fort Williams and Atikokan," talked Brad Morris this week.

"We arrived at Atikokan Sunday night, had reservations at a fishing camp on one of the lakes—and I'm sure that they (the camp operators) were surprised when they saw that we were colored Americans, but the people (Canadians and Indians) treated us fine."

"In Canada, they have what is called a Fair Accommodations Act—and if any person is denied service because of his race or color, the Department of Lands and Parks will take away the license and criminally prosecute the person committing the deed," the Iowan noted.

"We arose early each morning and cooked our breakfast of bacon, eggs, had fruit juices, toast and coffee. We had brought along much canned goods, including a canned ham, the only form of pork that can be brought into Canada. The first evening there, we ate fish we had caught that afternoon, with fried potatoes with onions, and green beans."

"The evenings are long as it doesn't get dark up that way until about 10 p.m."

"We had interesting fishing guides—some Canadian and others Indian. The water out in the open stretches in the big lakes was very very rough and most of the time we wore raincoats to keep from getting drenched."

"We fished in wooden boats, made out of strips of pine—a Peterborough Fisherman brand, made in Canada. They are fast, have a lot of room and are wonderful for floating."

"Our Indian guides were not very talkative, but one day, I had an interesting conversation with one. We talked all day on the lake—and came to find out, his father was an old aged pensioner. This guide had a brother who ran a bulldozer in the iron mines. In 1942 he (the guide) had tried to enlist in the Canadian illusion in ivory fell in a circular sweep from a pearl and iridescent encrusted coronet.

The bride's flowers were lilies of the valley, stephanotis, white gladioli, centered around pink roses.

Bridesmaids

Honor maid to the bride was Miss Benna Jean Grayson of Albia, Iowa. Bridesmaids were the Misses Ruth Burrell of Mason City and Kaye Wilkerson of Fort Madison. They wore identical gowns of Nile green crystal-ette over taffeta with matching rose center headbands. They carried colonial bouquets of pink snapdragons, roses and carnations.

Other members of the wedding were: Debbie Ann Turner, flower girl; Janice and Genevieve Burrell, candle-lighters; and Clarence Turner, ringbearer.

Mr. Richard Macer of Mason City, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were: Messrs. LeRoy Dunn, Manly, Jerry Parker of Mason City.

Reception

A reception followed immediately in the church parlors where the following were hostesses: Miss Kathryn Moore, guest book; Mesdames Ruby Haddix and Ruth Harper who poured and served refreshments; Mrs. Alberta Saunders, friend of the bride, who cut the cake, assisted by Mrs. William Wigginton.

The mothers, Mrs. Turner, of the bride, was attired in dusty rose lace with navy blue accessories; and Mrs. Macer, of the bridegroom, wore powder blue lace with pink accessories.

For her going-away attire, the bride wore a light gray summer suit with white accessories and a large picture-hat.

The couple left for a honeymoon trip to Canada.

Mrs. Macer, a graduate of Manly High School and Broadlawn School of Nursing in Des Moines, has been employed as a staff nurse at the University Hospitals at Iowa City.

Mr. Macer, a graduate of Mason City High School, and Iowa Barber College in Des Moines, is employed as a barber at Jim's Barber Shop in Des Moines.

Out-of-Town Guests

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dunn, Fort Worth, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Grayson, Albia; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mace, Des Moines; Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Togus, Chicago, Ill.; Messrs. Randy Grayson of Albia, Ralph Maxwell and J. Johnson, Des Moines; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Turner and Mrs. Curly Brown, Lansing, Mich.

After returning from their honeymoon trip, sometime next week, the couple will be at home at 1100 School Street.

Showers

Pre-nuptial showers were given by Mesdames Louis Kipper, O. H. Burrell, and William Wigginton of Mason City; by Miss Benna Jean Grayson at Iowa City; and a pre-nuptial party on June 9 by Messrs. LaVile Tate and Kenneth Bennett.

bad. "We saw other Indians who were not so fortunate."

"One day, on the lake, we saw a couple standing on the shore. A man was waving an Indian welcome sign. When we went to the shore, the Canadian couple told us they had heard that some 'dark Americans' were here and they wanted to meet us. They invited us to their camp on Pickerel Lake where they were spending their vacation; and—the next day we fished with them and spent part of the day at their camp. The woman revealed that during her childhood days, after her father moved from Ohio to Canada, her family's nearest neighbor was a Negro family—and that always she had a warm spot in her heart for Negro Americans." The couple invited us to come back next year and camp with them.

"Also we met a group of business men from Allison, Iowa, and among them was Henry Burma, chairman of the State Board of Control," the lawyer paused. "I could keep on talking about the many experiences and beautiful scenery."

"Did you get any pictures?" I asked.

"You know one thing, we got our cameras ready for this trip—and went off and left them here," he lamented.

After the Storm

"What did you do for light—Tuesday night after the storm left a part of the city without electricity?" I was asked, to which I replied: "I wrote this column by the light from a flashlight." It was much cooler than candles or the oil lamp.

New York.—(CNS)—Mrs. Joe Louis is under the doctor's care for sheer exhaustion and upset nerves. The bride of Joe Louis, who has so many business activities including her own Rose Morgan House of Beauty Salon and her line of Rose Morgan Cosmetics, thought she was at first suffering only a troublesome summer cold.

She was taking part in the New York State Beauty Culturists League's annual convention at the Hotel Theresa here where she demonstrated to hundreds of Beauticians her cosmetic line when she felt very ill and had to cancel out on the final two days of the show. Complete rest has been ordered and it has not been determined just when she will pick up her regular business appointments.

YMCA HONORS TWO OUTSTANDING MEMBERS

Most people who devote a lot of time to civic activities, do so that their community might be a better place in which to live. And their satisfaction is a job well done.

At the annual meeting of the Des Moines YMCA, two men who have given years of service in this work, were honored: A. P. Trotter for his 30 years as a member of the Crocker Branch board and 6 years on the general board and Fred J. Peterson for his 25 years as treasurer of the organization. Two outstanding Hi Y youth presented a plaque to each of them.

The YMCA is in excellent shape today. It has not always been so for like most charitable organizations, it suffered during the depression. At times its policies did not square with the avowed purposes of the national organization.

But those misfortunes and shortcomings did not deter these men—certainly not Trotter—for in the face of severe criticism he hammered away at building a YMCA; until a Negro was elected to the general board, until those unchristian like principles had been eliminated so that the critics of the organization, and the Bystander was among them, were silenced.

Speaking at this meeting James Wallace, president of the board, said it was the duty of the YMCA to help create an atmosphere in the community which would help others working in the field of brotherhood do a better job.

Both men deserve great credit for their faithful service to the boys and men in Des Moines and thus have helped make this community a better place in which to live.

THE NAACP WILL MEET THE CHALLENGE

So far, two states: Louisiana and Alabama, have outlawed the NAACP. They find their tactics have not prevented that great organization from exposing their violation of the law of the land in the fight for justice and equality for all men.

In each instance, laws created to ban other organizations, were used to do the job but since what the NAACP has done which violates those laws, is back of the expulsions, then they have no place on the statute books of those states.

The constitution guarantees every citizen free speech, the right of assembly and the right to protest to the government to redress wrongs. Certainly, this is all the NAACP has done. And any state which stoops so low as to nullify these guarantees bows to a very low position.

For years, the NAACP has been trying to secure for minorities their constitutional rights; for years those states gave little attention to what was going on. But as the props were knocked down from injustice and inequality through the leadership of this great organization, the segregationists decided that they must dispose of the leaders.

But those are temporary setbacks in these states. They will be used as stepping stones to greater things; they help to educate the NAACP how better to meet the challenge.

In the meantime, the leadership in other states should double their efforts so that their work well and help those handicapped states. There must be no stopping now.

Little do the diehards realize that their tactics, their methods are hurting America's position with other nations, particularly the nonwhites. Our officials are trying to convince them that democracy is what the constitution says it is. On the other hand, those who would deny minorities the full protection and benefit of democracy make America talk out of both sides of its mouth. This sort of performance does not create confidence. It creates suspicion and mistrust which is calculated to drive them to other ideologies.

Rally Draws 18,000

Howard, and Mrs. Rosa Parks.
Raise $15,093.52

The thousands of Negro and white persons crowding into the Garden also put their money in the struggle as they contributed over $15,093.52 in cash to aid in the fight, and many more thousands of dollars in pledges to the rally committee.

Mr. Randolph called upon Negroes to wear no political party labels this fall, but to pick their choices on their civil rights record and platforms. The Democrats nor the Republicans can take the Negro vote for granted without giving them more than they have given up to now," Randolph asserted.

Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary declared bluntly that "if we went any more slowly, we would be standing still. If we want our freedom, we are going to have to fight for it. Nobody is going to give us anything, and sympathy won't get us anywhere."

Ike Can't Be Neutral

Wilkins and Dr. Goldstein warned that the Eisenhower administration could no longer remain as a "neutral observer" in the present crisis. "It is the duty of the Chief Executive, no matter what his party, to act firmly to guide the nation in observance of the law."

Dr. Goldstein said that "unfortunately, the national administration has failed to put its full influence behind the enactment of civil rights legislation."

Powell Hits Ike

Switching from his position two years ago when he praised the President, Powell charged Mr. Eisenhower with being "a President in exile, a commander-in-chief of the armed service, stripped of his stars; a leader of the people, insulated and isolated from them; the most commanding figure of the free world, captured by his own palace guard."

"The forces of reaction, obstruction, segregation, white citizens councils, Eastlandism, have reached out with their own tentacles of his own palace guard and stopped progress," Powell declared.

He also charged that discrimination is rampant in New York, citing the recent stoning of a Bronx couple's home and the report that no Negro physicians are allowed staff privileges in several Harlem hospitals.

Powell called upon Mr. Randolph to lead a new March on Washington movement.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said that America's attitude toward minorities determines our prestige abroad, and called for nationwide compliance with the Supreme Court ruling. She said the North must achieve integration in housing and the South must first give Negroes the right to vote.

Interviews Miss Lucy

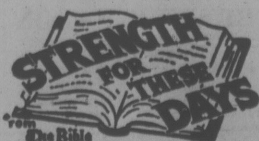

Mrs. Roosevelt interviewed Mrs. Autherine Lucy Foster, who told the cheering audience that she expected to return to the University of Alabama "this September."

Dr. T. R. M. Howard, leader of the Mississippi Council of Negro Leadership, said that as a last resort, if the South continues to defy the Supreme Court, "we should employ federal troops to enforce the law of the land."

E. D. Nixon treasurer of the Montgomery, Ala. Improvement Association, and Mrs. Rosa Parks, over whom the protest began last Dec. 5, predicted that Negroes would continue walking in Montgomery "until segregation is done away with."

Courts in Texas

Gus Courts, the Mississippi storekeeper who was shot and forced to flee his home town of Belzoni, Miss., because he registered to vote, said he was now living in Texas, but, "I am still fighting for the NAACP. I think everybody should join the NAACP," he said.

Beware of covetousness, for a man's life consists not in the abundance of the things which he possesses.—(St. Luke 12, 15.)

The greatest of all human possessions is within everyone's reach, the easiest to acquire, and the most lasting—for it is peace of soul and mind, gained through loving God with all one's heart, thus to receive His love, without which worldly wealth is ashes.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Vacation Mood

Sunstroke, drowning, insect bites, car crashes, food poisoning, sharks, polluted water, high prices, jelly fish, forest fires, sprained ankles, overexertion, summer romances—these are only a few of the many vacation hazards you're warned against. You get good advice from magazines, newspapers, radio, TV, friends, and even enemies.

This column is as ready as any to advise you to carry rattlesnake antidote, boil the drinking water, sit quietly in canoes, and avoid college boys. Your health is our concern. But occasionally we are haunted by a picture of any family that might follow all the good advice:

Vacation preparations take weeks. Once packed, the car is a moving drugstore carrying preventives and cures for all possible emergencies. There's enough safety equipment for a Himalayan expedition.

At last the family arrives at the sea shore, lake or mountain, but life is a perpetual fight against fear, seeking protection against the perils of nature. There's one consolation.

They'll be glad to get home. We wonder how they got up their courage to leave home at all.

Quite Healthy

There's something not quite healthy in this picture. It's wise to take reasonable precautions so that your vacation won't be spoiled by accident or illness. But worry won't keep you well.

On this lovely June day, this column would like to advise you to take a vacation. Decide where you want to go and what you want to do, and then do it. Unless you decide to pack into the Canadian wilds or the jungles of Guatemala, you will not be too far from civilized, human help in emergencies. Pack the car with suitable clothes, crackers to hold off starvation between hot dog stands, a simple first aid kit, and a reasonable amount of good sense.

And for goodness sake, have a good time.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by your county tuberculosis and health association. Polk County Tuberculosis & Health Assn.

SPORTS

By ALLEN ASHBY

The decks are finally cleared for a fight between Floyd Patterson and Archie Moore for the heavyweight crown vacated by Rocky Marciano. When Patterson eliminated Hurricane Jackson we thought he might punch himself out in the earlier rounds and get swamped in the later ones. But Floyd proved able to pace himself remarkably well. He seems to have all the tricks and ring know-how of an old veteran. But do you know what we think if Archie Moore hit either Patterson or Jackson as often as they hit each other, neither the Hurricane nor Floyd would be around too long. Hope the guy's hand gets well so the brawl can go on as scheduled.

Baseball

Looks as if the kids are beginning to get back into the groove for baseball. Sec. Taylor of the Des Moines Register had a quote from some guy to the effect that the kids don't throw like they used to and so don't develop strong throwing arms. Of course, that could be applied to just about anything kids do today. The gang used to meet at Good park or the old Crocker Y and walk over to the East Side, play ball and walk back. Next week the East Side kids would walk over to Good and we would go at it all over again. But now, the kids must have a car to haul them six blocks to practice. Then they practice a short time and want to play. Nothing makes us madder than to hear kids of twenty-five or six say they are too old to play games. There are probably a half dozen boys in town who could go places in boxing if only they would get into condition. But you have read and heard all this many times before.

Tennis

Our Hilltop Tennis Club is being pushed to put on our annual open meet, but we will probably come through. Seems odd not to have one of our guys playing in the ladder meet of the Des Moines Tennis Association.

Chet Williamson says the scramble for trophies has got to—"How in times like these?" Ask Chet about that. Maybe, he will tell you. It is really a good story. Oh yes, we expect to spend a week end next month in Cedar Rapids as our annual chore as state tennis meet referee.

Discrimination In Davenport

Beuse said four Negroes took the examination and one passed.

Levitt told Fields, "I hope you don't think the commission is so unintelligent that it accepts everything it hears at face value."

Levitt said, "We can verify the facts without going either to the employer or the employee."

C. of C. Notified

Dr. Thomas Scales, Des Moines, acting commission secretary, said the Davenport Chamber of Commerce was notified of the hearing and was invited to send representatives.

"I think you are in absolute affront in questioning the methods of this committee in doing its business," Scales told Fields.

Henry N. Neuman, a Davenport attorney who appeared representing American Legion Post No. 26, also disputed the charge that there is discrimination in Davenport.

"I've been unable to find any genuine discrimination on the part of employers against employees on account of race, creed or color," he said.

Toney told the commission that there "is not one male or female Negro clerk employed in Davenport." He said Scott county employs two Negro workers, and that the city employs two Negro janitors and two Negro garbage collectors.

Public Schools

The public schools, the fire department and the police department employ no Negroes, he said, although they all have had one or more Negro applicants.

Toney noted that the national policy of the A.F.L.-C.I.O. is in favor of spending a week end next month in Cedar Rapids as our annual chore as state tennis meet referee.

AND I SHALL LIVE

The Lord is my creator,
I shall not go astray;
for He protects and leads me,
is night me, night and day.
Into the fruitful valleys,
by waters blue, and still;
my Saviour walks beside me,
I'm glad He always will.

He feeds me when I hunger,
and thirst I do not fear,
His staff of life supports me;
His springs flow sweet and clear.
When evil doth beset me,
or death should hover nigh,
His word shall be my shelter;
for He'll not pass me by.
My heart is overflowing.

my cup of joy filled high.
His blessings are my treasure;

of racial integration. "But in Davenport these unions have, for the most part, conformed to the local pattern," he said.

Quizzed on Blame

Commission member Donald Johnson of West Branch asked Toney if he would blame management and labor equally.

Toney answered: "No, the only blame on unions is that they don't make management live up to the contract clauses requiring that they hire without respect to race, creed or color."

He said the NAACP recommends a state fair employment practices law with punitive powers.

Fear Claimed

"When you deny my brother and me equal and fair employment because of the color of our skin, you help make thieves of our sons and prostitutes of our daughters," he concluded.

The Rev. T. Spencer Patton, pastor of the Third Baptist Church here said, "Many of our people are afraid to testify because they might put their jobs in danger. You might wake up in the morning and be without the job you had the day before," he said.

"But anybody who can say there is no discrimination in the city of Davenport—God help that man's soul."

The Rev. Mr. Patton said the one Negro who passed the police force civil service test was not hired "because they said he had high blood pressure," even though his test score was second high.

"Best Man"

Since that time two white men have been appointed to police jobs, he said.

Commissioner Member Ray Smith of Oskaloosa repeatedly emphasized the point that company personnel managers must get the best man for the job.

"If he doesn't he'll lose his job," Smith said.

The Rev. John I. Thomas, pastor of Bethel A.M.E. Church here, argued: "In the course of time, some Negroes must have qualified to fill these positions."

The next hearing of the commission will be July 16 in Council Bluffs.

reportedly are to be heard at weekly intervals before the civil rights measure under consideration presumably may be transferred to the Senate floor. The Senate Judiciary Committee is under the chairmanship of Sen. James O. Eastland of Mississippi.

President Eisenhower has been quoted as considering it "very important" that Congress act favorably on the Administration's civil rights measures before adjournment.

Bi-Partisan Push

A bi-partisan push secured the favorable action in the House Rules Committee. Voting positively were Democratic Reps. Ray J. Madden, Ind.; James J. Delaney, N.Y.; Richard Bolling, Mo.; and Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr., Mass.; and Republican Reps. Clarence J. Brown, Ohio, and Harris Ellsworth, Oregon. The action for civil rights was opposed by Democratic Reps. Smith, William M. Colmer, Miss.; and James W. Trimble, Ark.; and Republican Rep. Leo E. Allen, Ill.

The committee also agreed to hold hearings on the federal aid to school construction bill, action upon which has been delayed because of seeming unwillingness to include in the bill the Powell amendment which would restrict such aid to integrated school districts and those making plans for a "prompt and reasonable start" towards desegregation.
