CHARLES L. SANDERS

Willkie House's new director to succeed Mrs. Lillian Edmunds who died last December is Charles L. Sanders of Hartford, Conn., appointed recently by the Willkie House Board.

Mr. Sanders, who arrived in Des Moines last Friday, began his official duties at the center this week. He came here from Atlanta, Ga., where he resided the last two years, studying at the Atlanta School of Social Work for his Master's of Social Work degree which he received last June. Son of a Baptist minister, the Rev. J. R. Sanders of Canton, Ohio, Mr. Sanders was born in Youngstown Ohio, and was educated in the public schools of Canton.

He earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in the field of social work at Morehouse College, Atlanta; then began to study for the ministry, receiving his Bachelor of Divinity and Master of Arts in Religious Education degrees at Hartford (Conn.) Seminary.

For five years Mr. Sanders served as director of the Friendship House at Lackawanna, N. Y.

He is a Baptist, member of National Association of Social Workers, National Association for Advancement of Colored People, Young Men's Christian Association, Urban League, Business and Professional Men's Club, Ministers Alliance of Buffalo, N. Y., National Federation of Settlement Houses, National Recreation Association.

At Morehouse College, Mr. Sanders was a member of the track team, a varsity man for three years. He also played basketball. In New York, he directed mixed choruses at the Friendship House.

Mr. Sanders, his wife, Marjorie, and their two children, Kenneth, 5, and Lynelle, 2, are residing at 803 Boyd Street.

Believe Call to Get Powell's Son Was Threat

New York, N. Y.—A phone caller who apparently knew the habits of Representative Adam Clayton Powell (Dem., N. Y.) and his pianist-singer wife, Hazel Scott, was thwarted Saturday in his announced intention of picking up the couple's 9-year-old son.

The unidentified person telephoned the Powell home while neither Powell nor his wife were there, and said he had been instructed by Miss Scott to pick up the child and take him to her.

Became Suspicious

Miss Sally Clark, the Powells' housekeeper, became suspicious and would not tell the caller where young Adam (Skipper) Powell III was at the time.

The housekeeper quickly called the child in from his play outside and locked all the doors in the house.

Powell, who returned to New York from Washington, D. C., shortly afterward, said he just "doesn't know" if the caller was attempting to kidnap his son.

But he emphasized the caller was "someone who knew us very well."

The congressman is an outspoken foe of segregation and author of the controversial Powell amendment to the school aid bill. It would deny federal aid funds to any segregated schools.

Powell pointed out that it is not

'Mrs.' Assistant County Attorney Begins Her Duties

Atty. Willie Stevenson Glanton, believed to be Polk County's first woman assistant county attorney, began duties recently in her office at the court house. She has been assigned the disposition of child support and paternity cases.

Her appointment was announced June 26 by County Attorney Leo Tapscoff, to succeed her husband, Atty. Luther T. Glanton, Jr., whose resignation as an assistant county attorney was effective June 30. Mrs. Glanton was a deputy clerk in Des Moines municipal court from October 1953, until she entered private law practice in September, 1955.

Louisiana's Governor Signs Bill Prohibiting Race-Mixing

Baton Rouge, La.—Gov. Earl Long Monday signed a bill banning interracial athletic contest in Louisiana.

He said he weighed reaction to the bill, which also outlaws interracial social activities, before signing it. "The comment I've had over the state has run about four to one in favor of the bill," Long said. "I'm going along with the majority that I've heard from."

"However, there are some features about it that I wasn't too pleased with and I hope it won't work any hardship."

"In my opinion," he said, "it will wind up in court."

"The time for the opposition to have gotten busy was when it was in legislative committees. It was held up several days in the senate, but no one appeared as far as I know to oppose it."

No "Social Contacts"

The new law will prohibit "dancing, social functions, entertainments, athletic training, games, sports or contests and other such activities involving personal and social contacts in which the participants or contestants are members of the white and Negro races."

The measure further requires segregated seating and "separate sanitary, drinking water and other facilities."

The Sugar Bowl and the Texas League joined forces in urging Long to veto the bill. Both said it would hurt their programs.

A Negro player, fullback Bobby Griener of Pittsburgh, took part in this year's Sugar Bowl football game against Georgia Tech. Several Sugar Bowl basketball tournament teams had Negro players.

Wisconsin Game

The bill is expected to result in the cancellation of Louisiana State Uni-

Reading Railroad Appoints Negro Train Caller

Philadelphia, Pa.—The Reading Railroad Company recently appointed Oliver Marks, Jr., of Philadelphia as a train caller at its North Broad Street and Wayne Junction stations in that city.

Before being promoted to train caller, Marks was employed in the freight department of the Reading Railroad for six years. The only Negro employed by the company in this capacity, is affiliated with the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks No. 6114.

To prepare for the new position, Marks served a 30-day apprenticeship after having been encouraged by his fellow workers to apply for the job.

When off duty, Marks spends leisure hours listening to his collection of phonograph records. He is married and attends Faith Baptist Church.

School Aid Bill Was Defeated by Partisan Politics

New York—The Powell amendment "had nothing to do with the ultimate defeat of the federal school aid bill," Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said July 12 in a telegram to Congressman Adam Clayton Powell congratulating him upon his "valiant and successful fight . . . to prevent federal subsidies for the construction of segregated schools."

Enemies of Measure

The NAACP-approved amendment was introduced by Congressman Powell who, despite pressures, refused to withdraw it and succeeded in getting the House to pass it by a vote of 225 to 123 on July 5. Speaking on behalf of his amendment in the House debate, Mr. Powell cited the resolution passed on June 30 at the NAACP convention in San Francisco. "A vote against the amendment," the resolution declared, "must be interpreted as a vote in favor of using northern money to underwrite segregation and defiance of the Constitution."

Student Testifies It 'Is Nice Town to Live in If You Don't Have to Work'

Council Bluffs, Ia.—Robert Jordan, a State University of Iowa graduate student, told the governor's commission to study discrimination in employment Monday that "Council Bluffs is a nice town to live in if you don't have to work here."

The commission heard also that more Negro students than white students drop out of high school here partly because they feel a diploma won't do them any good.

Maynard Telpner, Council Bluffs attorney and president of Irving Cohen Lodge of B'nai B'rith, told the commission that one young Negro said "you don't need a diploma to work on a cement truck."

Short Hearing

Telpner was the major witness to appear before the commission in the fourth and shortest of a series of hearings around the state.

Only two Negroes testified in the one-hour hearing, and one said the reason there were not more was that many Council Bluffs Negroes have jobs in Omaha, Neb., across the Missouri river.

Telpner read a report based on a B'nai B'rith study of Negro employment here.

He said home environment and "the absence of a tradition of scholastic achievement" also were given by school officials as reasons for the higher drop-out rate among Negro students.

"6 or 7" Graduate

Some of the "six or seven" Negro students who graduate each year go on to college to train to become teachers or doctors, Telpner said.

He said one young man, after completing two years of college, is looking for work as a machinist in Omaha.

"When asked if he had explored opportunities in Council Bluffs, he told our interviewer, 'I can't think of a place in Council Bluffs that would

Window Washer Remains in Critical Condition

John Washington, 51, of 1117 Thirteenth street, a window washer who fell from the sixth floor of the Paramount Building, 509 Grand Avenue, to the canopy the early afternoon of July 11, remained in a critical condition this week at Broadlawn General Hospital.

Washington's fall was broken three times. The force of his body dented the "A" and the "O" in Washington the Paramount Theater sign and snapped a guy wire that supports the sign.

Safety Belt 'A-1'

His employer, Sam Rissien of the Rissien Window Cleaning Co., said he examined Washington's safety belt and found it in "A-1 condition."

The mishap occurred at 1:12 p. m. George Hardy, 48, of 132 Ninth Street, West Des Moines, an assistant to Washington was inside, and did not see Washington fall.

Hardy told Police Lt. Charles Andreado that Washington had finished washing the sixth-floor window west of the Paramount Theater sign and was moving to the next one, which is partly obscured by the sign, when

Montgomery Pastor Makes Retraction of Charges Against 'Certain Leaders'

Montgomery, Ala.—Published in the June 18 issue of the Montgomery Improvement Association's official organ, MIA News Letter, was a retraction made by the Rev. U. J. Fields, who made charges against the organization.

"These statements were issued by the Rev. U. J. Fields who discontinued his connections with the Montgomery Association (MIA) for the purpose of correcting statements that he had been charged with making concerning certain leaders of the Montgomery Improvement Association."

"These statements are being made voluntarily and without being pressured to do so by other persons."

"It is with deep regret that the statements I made Monday night, June 11, 1956, about some leaders of the MIA and as to my reason for leaving the organization were misquoted, misinterpreted and misunderstood by people throughout the nation."

"Therefore, this is an attempt to set the record straight by re-stating and using my personal signature to substantiate what I have to say about the MIA and its leaders.

Reason for Quitting

"First, allow me to state my reason for quitting the organization. I left the MIA because of 'personality clashes' with several members of the Executive Board. (Reverend King was not involved personally). Our relations have always been cordial."

"Secondly, I said what I did about the 'few exploiting the many' and about money being misplaced (not misused) in anger and passion."

"Certainly, there is no evidence available to me to indicate that money has been misplaced and there is no proof that money has been misused by the MIA. To my knowledge money sent to the organization has been used only for the purpose of transportation."

No Evidence

"Surely, some leaders have enjoyed the privilege of visiting other

Probers Pick Crump's Ax-Man

Washington, D. C.—On Saturday, July 7, Subcommittee Chairman James C. Davis, of Georgia, announced the appointment of William E. Gerber of Memphis, to the D. C. School of Integration Probe post rejected by Supreme Court foe Leander Perez of Louisiana. Gerber, Russian-born immigrant who became Memphis' corrupt Crump administration, ruled for over two decades over Shelby County, Tennessee, (which includes Memphis) as its attorney general, and has been credited with out-Crumping his late boss.

The story in the Washington Daily News, for July 9, by the Memphis Press-Scimitar's Clark Porteous, a Nieman Fellow and veteran of 23 years on the Memphis press, spelled out Gerber as a "belligerent type prosecutor, usually successful and on some occasions so vindictive . . . that higher courts reversed his convictions," and as a political boss who played his politics so tough that even the Crump machine finally shelved him.

"One Long Nightmare"

Race leaders in Memphis support Porteous' story and refer to Gerber's

Curry, Steele Named to Head East-West Squads

Chicago, Ill.—Homer Curry, of the Memphis Red Sox, and Ed Steele, of the Detroit Stars, have been chosen to manage the two squads in the 24th annual East vs. West Negro Baseball Classic on Sunday, August 12, here in Comiskey Park.

The two pilots of their respective teams in the four-team Negro American Baseball League, both veterans, were named to lead the All-Stars by Dr. J. B. Martin, of Chicago, president of the sponsoring circuit.

Curry will head the West team, which also will include players of the famed Kansas City Monarchs. Steele will guide the East forces. The latter also will use players from the Birmingham Black Barons.

This will mark Steele's second straight appearance as an All-Star manager, having led the East last year. Unfortunately, however, Steele was with the loser as the West won, 2-0 for its 15th victory in the long rivalry and fourth in a row.

Dr. Martin announces that screening of the All-Stars is now going on among the players of the four league members, with averages in both fielding and sitting being determining factors in the selections. The four club owners, managers, the coaches and league officials, headed by Martin, are on the selection board.

To Make 'Classifiers'

IN THE well-ordered home, there is ample opportunity to use "classifiers" in cabinets and drawers. Probably the simplest kind is the egg-crate type illustrated.

As shown, these pigeonhole classifiers are first-rate for a tool or storage cabinet. In a flat position, the same style of classifiers may be used in a drawer.

One-eighth-inch slots should be sawed into pieces of Masonite 1/4" Tempered Duolux, a strong, smooth, two-sides hardboard which won't snag the finest fabrics and which wears indefinitely. Each slot should be cut half the width of the hardboard. To make the egg-crate construction, fit the slots together.

Cheese Crusted Hamburger Pie

Here is a flavorful, colorful, meal-in-a-dish—just the thing to please the end of the month food budget.

Tempt family appetites with this Cheese Crusted Hamburger Pie early this spring. You may even be surprised yourself at how your family will accept a new dish so quickly—and demand repeats in the future.

This pie can be your economy dish for the week. The hamburger pie picks up a delicious new flavor with the "melt in your mouth" cheese crusted topping. Luckily too, it not only tastes good, but is good for you! When the cheese crust is made with enriched flour, you get extra shares of B-Vitamins and food iron along with food energy and protein.

Along with this Cheese Crusted Hamburger pie you will like to include a fresh green tossed salad with some of the new spring vegetables. This in itself would make a complete luncheon but for a dinner perhaps you'll want to include a dish of fresh new asparagus. Nothing more will be needed to get the "You're the best cook, mom" reward.

Clip this recipe not only for this week's menu but also for future demands.

CHEESE CRUSTED HAMBURGER PIE

1 garlic bud, sliced
3 tablespoons fat or drippings
1 pound ground beef
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
¼ cup enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
2½ cups tomato juice (1 No. 2 can)
¼ cup chopped celery
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce juice and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Stir in celery and Worcestershire sauce. Pour into 8-inch square baking dish. Top with Cheese Pastry.

1½ cups sifted enriched flour
1½ teaspoon salt
9 tablespoons cold water (about)
¼ cup shortening
¼ cup shredded American cheese
Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening. Add cheese. Sprinkle with water. Mix lightly until dough begins to stick together. Roll out about ¼ inch thick. Cut into 8-inch square and cover hamburger mixture. Cut remaining pastry into strips ½-inch wide and arrange lattice style on top of 8-inch pastry square. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

'Men Should Copy a Few Summer Clothing Ideas from Women'

How to dress or how not to dress?

That is the question. Women are more sensible in this than men when it comes to summer comfort. Men should copy a few summer clothing ideas from the women. Said one housewife, "I wear loose, light clothing. Light in weight and color."

This is a dress for summer comfort as it does not interfere with the body cooling system and permits loss of heat from the body.

The uncomfortable male insists on clothes that restrict air circulation about the body and holds the body heat. This limits the desirable effect of breezes, and prevents radiation of heat from the body.

Slaves to Habit

Dr. Abraham Gelperin, Director of Des Moines-Polk County Departments of Public Health, stated that men are slaves to habits formed. Said Dr. Gelperin, "Man may quip and hoot over the fashion foibles of women, but for years he has insisted on long sleeved shirts, buttoned collar and then to add insult to an already overworked body cooling system, he ties a muffler around his neck. This bit of adornment he calls a tie." Who does man try to please with this illogical array of body covering. Is it his tailor, the fashion or the ladies?

"I'm very uncomfortable in this coat." That is a statement often heard. Men should get together on a program of sensible summer clothing and give the body cooling mechanism a chance. This will cut down the possibility of heat exhaustion. Wear loose and light clothing, light in weight and color. Cotton, linen or any absorbent material is best. Bear in mind too that dark colors absorb heat and light colors reflect heat away from you.

Health authorities believe that men should insist on a sensible approach to summer clothing. In this they could get some good ideas from the women, eliminate some of the outdated habits and get together on a program of sensible dress.

When a group of men are by themselves on a summer outing, they are completely comfortable. When they are back in society—why, men, why?

Recent Happenings in Montgomery, Ala. Case

(From Montgomery Improvement Association Office)

Montgomery, Ala.—In the preceding issue of MIA News Letter, mention was made of the fact that a three-judge federal court had outlawed segregation of races on motor vehicles in Montgomery on the grounds that it violates the Fourteenth amendment, and is therefore, unconstitutional.

The judges gave attorneys on both sides a period of two weeks to submit suggestions as to how the formal judgment given on the case could be carried out. This means briefly that:

1. The judges could call for an immediate end to segregation on busses.
2. The judges could grant an order restraining the immediate implementation of integration while the

North ten (10) feet of the West Forty-nine (49) feet of Lot Three Hundred Fifteen (315) of the Subdivision of Block "A", Polk and Hubbell's Addition to the Town of Capital Park, now included in and forming a part of the City of Des Moines, Iowa, and all the heirs, spouses, assigns, grantees, legatees, devisees and beneficiaries of each and all of the above named defendants.

TO THE ABOVE NAMED DEFENDANTS: You and each of you are hereby notified that the petition of the plaintiffs in the above entitled cause is now on file in the Office of the Clerk of the District Court of Polk County, Iowa, and that the plaintiffs are the absolute and unqualified owners in fee simple of the following described real estate, to-wit:

North ten (10) feet of the West Forty-nine (49) feet of Lot Three Hundred Fifteen (315) of the Subdivision of Block "A", Polk and Hubbell's Addition to the Town of Capital Park, now included in and forming a part of the City of Des Moines, Iowa, and that the plaintiffs are credibly informed and believe that the defendants make some claim adverse to the title of the plaintiffs in said property and that the said unknown claimants, to said premises claim some interest in or to the said real estate as the plaintiffs are informed and believe, but that the plaintiffs have no knowledge or information and do not know how said interest is claimed by said unknown claimants to have been derived to have been derived or the method of obtaining the same and the plaintiffs aver therein that the names and residences and mailing addresses of the unknown persons are unknown to the plaintiffs and that the plaintiffs have sought diligently to learn the same and that plaintiffs in said petition set out certain instruments of record which cloud the title of these plaintiffs to said real estate and to the pretended claims or questions which have arisen with reference to said title and you are referred to said petition for a more particular statement thereof. The plaintiffs in said petition state that none of the said defendants or unknown claimants have in fact any right, title or interest in or to the above described premises or any part thereof or any color of right, title or interest therein and that the plaintiffs and their immediate grantors have been in the sole, complete, open, notorious, actual and undisturbed possession of the said premises for more than ten years past under claim of title and ownership thereof and have been the undisputed and unqualified owners thereof for over ten years, and by reason thereof and of the lapse of time and the laches of the defendants in failing to assert any pretended claim thereto and in permitting valuable improvements to be made thereon relying upon such possession and ownership, the defendants are estopped from asserting any right, title, claim or interest therein adverse to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs in said petition pray for the establishment of their estate and title against the ad-defendants, the City Commission, Public Service Commission and the Police Department—appeal the case to the Supreme Court and receive a verdict.

The two weeks period terminated on June 19. The formal judgment halted segregation on busses, but delayed the implementation of integration for an extended period of ten days to allow the defendants time for appeal. Negroes await the final judgment from the two possible decisions with great anticipation. No attempt has been made by Negroes to ride busses until segregation has been completely abolished. The car pool service is still in operation.

A Regrettable Incident

Between 30,000 and 40,000 Negroes are being transported daily by the car pool. There are very few complaints, if any, for service is wonderful. Hundreds of people are still driving their cars, wearing out tires and automobiles, re-lining brakes and mending automobile parts. They expend their own energy and devote long hours daily to the cause. They are tired, but they don't complain. They have been faithful for more than six months. They may have to serve many more. Nothing definite

Similar Mishap

Painful memories were recalled to Hardy's mind by his partner's mishap. Twenty-four years ago, on March 18, 1932, Hardy himself lived through a fall from the same building to the same canopy.

Hardy somersaulted from the ninth floor when his safety belt broke. His head and part of his body crashed through the canopy, but he did not fall to the street.

He suffered a broken leg, internal injuries and a cut lip. Hardy spent nine months in the hospital and at first was told he would have to give up washing windows.

He has been back at his profession for many years—and with the same employer. He was employed by the Russian firm at the time of his accident.

will be known for ten more days.

A month ago the MIA was incorporated into a permanent organization, with some new officers elected to serve the various posts. Prior to this time the MIA operated on a temporary, emergency basis to meet the unprecedented needs arising from the bus protest. Until the recent election, all officers were temporary.

The Rev. Uriah J. Fields, who had served as temporary recording secretary of the Executive Board of the MIA, was replaced by another minister, Rev. W. J. Powell of Old Ship AME Church. Rev. Mr. Fields, a student at Alabama State College, was busy with studies at the college, as well as with his regular pastoral duties at the Bell Street Baptist Church. He could not be present at all meetings and was, therefore, unable to render the type of service that the organization needed. He had not been present for several weeks before his replacement.

Rev. Mr. Fields resented the fact that he had been replaced, and in an emotional state, went to the press with false charges against the MIA.

Much Opposition

Since its beginning the MIA has encountered much opposition from local authorities and a few disgruntled persons within its own ranks. The charges made by Rev. Fields were so preposterous that the Association felt the accusations were unworthy of refutation.

Since that time Rev. Mr. Fields has been dismissed by his church, because of the false charges. But, in a spirit of Christ, he has regretted his retaliatory steps against the organization and has apologized to the executive board and to the MIA mass meeting public. He has also issued, of his own free will, a statement to the press retracting his accusations.

The Association regrets the unwarranted, false accusations made and also regrets the personal suffering encountered by the minister, who tried to retaliate against, what he later called, "personality clashes" with two men of the transportation committee. Rev. Mr. Fields "admits with regret, the falsity of his accusations."

In the election of permanent officers, Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy was elected to the position of First Vice President, replacing Rev. Roy Bennett, who moved to California. Dr. Moses, Second Vice President. Rev. A. W. Wilson, Parliamentarian and Mr. C. W. Lee, Assistant Treasurer. The other temporary officers were elected to regular posts.

Acknowledgement and Request

Since the protest started December 5, the headquarters of MIA have had to change location four times before a permanent place could be found. Various methods had to be tested and tried for the emergency before one was finally accepted for keeping records. The situation was entirely experimental. Under the circumstance the organization did the best it could toward keeping records up to date and acknowledge receipt of all mails. Now that a very fine system has been adopted, there will be no delay in replying to the correspondence, inquiries, etc.

The MIA has sent receipts or replies for all monies received, but there is the possibility that some have not received acknowledgements or receipts of funds. The Association, therefore, requests that every individual, organization, or church, that sent money, but failed to receive acknowledgment of that money, to notify the organization immediately. Every penny received can be accounted for by the MIA, for the personnel is made up of the most reliable of people, who are dedicated to the job of securing for Negroes justice. They possess integrity, fidelity and honesty. Negroes of Montgomery are completely satisfied with their handling of public funds. The nation, too, which has been so wonderful in helping to bear the financial burden, should know that all money sent has been used solely for the purpose for which it was sent.

Voters' Clinics

A movement has gotten underway to encourage Negroes to register and to become qualified voters. Hundreds of volunteer workers are contacting non-registered, age-eligible people to exercise their constitutional right to qualify.

There are more than 50,000 Negroes in Montgomery, yet only 2,058 are registered voters. According to statistics, 34,000 Negroes are twenty-one years old and older. Of these, hundreds have tried, but failed to qualify as voters. They feel that voting is a privilege; that it is their constitutional right. Thus, they are going to try again in large numbers to secure their right of suffrage.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Honored

In recognition of the outstanding work Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. has done as spokesman in the great movement in Montgomery, several honors have been given him.

1. The Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice presented him the "Holmes-Weatherly Award for 1956". It was presented in Boston. The citation identifies him as an "uncompromising champion, and vigorous moral guide to countless people . . . in their struggle for freedom."

2. "The Fisk University Alumni Award for Outstanding Contribution in Human Relations" was presented him in Nashville, Tennessee in May. It credits him with uniting "the non-violent, passive resistance of Gandhism with spiritual power of Christianity, which forced an invincible weapon of love to inspire Negroes to walk to freedom and justice, through barriers of intimidation, violence and wealth."

Dr. King has justly earned such outstanding awards. He has given himself to this movement, ignoring threats, enduring arrests, intimidations and humiliations of false accusations. He has remained calm, serene, Christ-like. The strain tells on him, however. He looks older than his twenty-seven years.

Conduct Hearings

On Delinquency

St. Louis, Mo. — U. S. Senator Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., right, is greeted by Chester E. Stovall, new executive director of the St. Louis Council on Human Relations, during the Senate Subcommittee hearings on juvenile delinquency in St. Louis last week.

Juvenile Crime

St. Louis, Mo.—Testimony that the present upsurge of juveniles involved in crimes in the St. Louis area is not coming from members of two prominent minority groups, was made here last week by the Senate Subcommittee on Juvenile Delinquency.

United States Senator Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., (Dem., Mo.), chairman of the committee, who conducted the one-man hearings following the rise in juvenile committed crimes, said the hearings were "the most productive, helpful and intelligent" of all yet held.

While only one Negro testified at the hearings, the questions of minorities was raised by more than one speaker, although not by the single Negro witness. Ralph Young, executive director of the George Washington Carver House, a community settlement agency, described the "abuses" of ADC (Aid to Dependent Children) by many adults.

Stovall, formerly the director of industrial relations for the St. Louis Urban League, was an observer during the hearings. Hennings, a Democrat, and senior senator from Missouri, conducted the hearings as chairman.

Young said leisure time activities cannot correct broken homes from which come the largest percentage of juvenile delinquents. He said teenagers resent adult apathy and lack of parental guidance.

Richard H. Amberg, publisher of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, testifying on Friday, declared that it is "significant . . . that the crimes which have aroused the community in recent months . . . have been the acts of whites, not of Negroes, and many of them have come from the so-called better homes and better neighborhoods, and from homes where parents make very respectable, and in many cases excellent livings. 'This suggests,' Amberg declared, 'that we must look farther than to the slums or to the Negro as the source of the problem.'"

Negro Policemen

The publisher of the newspaper, which has given the largest play to the problem, called for more uniformed and plainclothes policeman to patrol parks and other trouble areas. He said he thought Negro policemen should be added in Negro areas "for they can do a far better job in those neighborhoods than white officers."

Mrs. Grace Gorman, chief probation officer of the St. Louis Juvenile Court, praised the work of the Mount City Youth Association, in forking to combat delinquency by constructive programs.

Rabbi Jerome Grollman, president of the St. Louis Rabbinical Association, told of the various programs and agencies designed for constructive guidance in the Jewish Community.

He pointed out that on a national level, the incidence of delinquents among juveniles from the Jewish community is relatively low.

"I don't know when Lt. Jacobs-meyer (Head of the St. Louis Juvenile Division) has had a case with a youth from our community," he said.

The William R. Fields', 1436 Walker Street, returned last week end from California where they were guests of their son, Laverne, in Sacramento.

The Iowans visited in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

In talking of his trip, the Rev. Mr. Fields, a Des Moines furrier, said he was much impressed with the beauty of the flowers, how inexpensive they were in the shops. He was thrilled to ride the cable cars in San Francisco, dine at Fisherman's Wharf, look in on some of the fur shops and note that ranch mink was the popular fur.

Asked if he would like to live in California, the Rev. Mr. Fields, an assistant pastor at the Maple Street Baptist Church, made this remark: "It is better to live in Des Moines with a tent than to live out there without one."

The Rev. Lovell Johnson, pastor of Bethel AME Church here, continues this week, highlights of his recent trip through the Southland, with special emphasis on "Housing As I Saw It In The South."

"One of the most delightful sights that my family and I beheld while traveling in the South was that of beautiful homes owned by Negroes. Of course we saw, too, many shanties and shacks. But the shanties and shacks that we saw were definitely in the minority and these were largely concentrated in rural areas on plantations. We actually saw houses in Cairo, Ill. (by the dozens) which were as sub-standard as it is possible to get."

"Of course we needn't travel way to Cairo, Ill., to see sub-standard housing. It's right here in my back yard. My considered opinion from what I saw on my recent trip is that as a whole Negroes live in much better houses where I traveled in the South than they do here in Des Moines."

Stucco Finished

"In Miami, Fla., most of the houses we viewed were stucco finished as is the majority of all other buildings, (hotels included). They had what appeared to be fresh coats of paint on them and the surroundings were well kept. We also saw a large number of public housing projects. They were finished in white stucco and seemed to have been well kept."

"I dare not leave considering Miami, housing without mentioning those beautiful and almost out of this world hotels in Miami Beach. Of course Miami Beach is more than just a beach. It is a beach city, with hotels lined up like the homes on a well appointed street. These buildings range in monetary value from a few thousand dollars to several millions (eighteen to be exact.) The price of a room ranges (on the beach) from $6.50 to $100 per day. With the courteous treatment that we received a person does not hesitate to pay almost any price asked. To be treated as a human being is worth more than all the money in the world. However, it should not be such a rare thing since the world is full of humans."

"In my next article I shall deal more fully with my experiences in Miami Beach and Miami."

Dandy Town

"Skipping on to Jackson, Tennessee, where we spent two nights, I must say this is a dandy little town for Negroes. There is a fairly large public housing project named 'Mary Lane Courts'. The buildings are fire-proof and very well arranged. They are built of red brick. Of course you cannot earn too much money or else you have to move. Most of the apartments are either three or four rooms. All apartments receive their heat from a central heating plant in the winter. There is a playground in the middle of the project area. It is complete with slides and swings for the kiddies. However, one of the most inspiring things about Negro housing in Jackson, is the recent development of a new area called 'onion field' for Negro home owners. Here you see almost numberless homes which Negroes have built themselves. They are of all styles and prices. The streets are asphalt but not all of the sidewalks have been laid. The people take great pride in their homes. The lawns almost without exception are well kept. The homes have hardwood floors inside and indoor plumbing. (Just think, it was only a few months ago that a sewer was laid down East 17th street so that people could put in indoor plumbing — this is Des Moines I refer to). Jackson, Tennessee is the town I mentioned earlier where a white cab driver will ride you just as quickly as a colored one. This is not generally true throughout the south."

Common Sight

"Arthur D. Shores, the attorney who represented Miss Autherine Lucy in her fight with the University of Alabama, lives in an ultra-modern ranch-style home which must cover at least one-half block. This is a common sight. And Negroes are building more. Honey Suckle Drive and several others are adorned with these luscious structures. Not all of these homes are inhabited by professionals. The men who work in the steel mills and elsewhere have their share also. I longed for the Negroes of Des Moines and others to behold the sights which I saw. These houses were so numerous that we drove for at least three or four hours and did not see one-half of them. What I did see convinced me that Negroes where I visited lived much better than those where I came from. (NEXT WEEK MIAMI AND MIAMI BEACH)."

Most Beautiful Homes

"By far the most expensive and beautiful homes which we saw on

British Actors Divided Over Growing Racial Problems; Hamp and Wandering Band Return to USA: Belafonte Clears $73,000

BY DOLORES CALVIN

New York—(CNS)—British actors divided over growing racial problems. Racial prejudice is seeping through British life due to the growing numbers of migrating British subjects of color, that it has even effected Britain's theater. At a recent meeting of British Actors' Equity—which governs the status of its actors, it was decided that members should not work in theaters where racial prejudice operates unless audiences consist of specified proportion of colored people.

British Equity also agreed to boycott offending countries to racial prejudice. Equity vetoed discrimination as "unacceptable" and any form of restriction as being "wretched business" . . . British actors were divided on these proposals—claiming that Equity has no place "being used as a political forum on problems this trip were located in Birmingham, Ala. Here in this Pittsburgh of the South the $15,000 and $20,000 ranch style home is a common sight. On Eanon Ridge and Vinesville it seems that Negroes who can afford it are trying to outdo each other to see which can build the most beautiful home. A certain dentist is reported to live in a home costing $60,000. You would just have to see it to believe it. There is nothing located in the city of Des Moines which surpasses the beautiful modern homes which we saw in Birmingham.

"I shall never forget the almost extravagant sight of street after street of sheer architectural beauty surrounded by some of the most beautiful grass and shrubbery that one's eyes could ever behold."

"Arthur D. Shores, the attorney who represented Miss Autherine Lucy in her fight with the University of Alabama, lives in an ultra-modern ranch-style home which must cover at least one-half block. This is a common sight. And Negroes are building more. Honey Suckle Drive and several others are adorned with these luscious structures. Not all of these homes are inhabited by professionals. The men who work in the steel mills and elsewhere have their share also. I longed for the Negroes of Des Moines and others to behold the sights which I saw. These houses were so numerous that we drove for at least three or four hours and did not see one-half of them. What I did see convinced me that Negroes where I visited lived much better than those where I came from. (NEXT WEEK MIAMI AND MIAMI BEACH)."

Another important British star, Sylvia Thordike thought: "Don't mind if you do lose a few film jobs. Get out on tour. The Actor's job is to go into every blooming country and preach the gospel of the theater." She felt Equity would be taking a backward step if it were to deny members admission into other countries.

Meanwhile, it was debated that an effective way to get South Africa to cut its prejudice in the theater would be to ban British film and so hit where it counts. Only had feature about this would be that American films would sell to Africa right along.

After six months of intense bookings in Europe with Israel an extra trip for prestige, Lionel Hampton and his wandering band return to the good ole U.S.A. with bulging pockets on July 25th. Hamp's due to make quite an exhibition over "there's no place like home"—especially since his U.S. offers coming fast and loaded.

Al Hibbler to Pittsburgh's Copla for a summer date . . . And Dinah Washington to Chicago right away . . . "That Uncertain Feeling" with Pearl Bailey, and Bob Hope one of the big money makers in films this summer.

Harry Belafonte cleared $73,000 for one week's work at the Greek Theater in Hollywood. Harry continues to smash box office records and for this particular one, he has been topped only by Victor Borgie's one man recital at the Greek Theater . . . Count Basie's whole crew will go on Steve Allen's Sunday TV show at much expense. For instance, the equipment alone will come close to $4,000 and the orchestra will be $4,500.

It seems only yesterday that attractive Leighla Whipper-Lewis, daughter of actor Leigh Whipper, was telling us how much she used television to keep her teen aged daughter occupied until she returned home from her job with a publishing firm. This week, that daughter—Carol Lewis—became the bride of

NEGROES HAVE A RESPONSIBILITY TOO

Much has been written and said about housing for minorities because it is one of the greatest problems. Full discussion and publicity have done much to acquaint many people with the problem and a favorable reaction has resulted.

Criticism has been heaped upon the real estate, finance and development operators and individual owners, and justly so, for too many of these people have not shown a sense of fairness.

But in all these social problems, both the sellers, agents and purchasers have a responsibility if the problem is to be solved.

One particular unfair practice is the policy among some real estate salesmen that when one Negro family moves into a mixed neighborhood, the neighbors are advised to move at once as the community will be flooded with Negroes and property values will go down.

Real estate members have a code of ethics. If this practice is not included, it should be.

Here, Negroes themselves have a responsibility to prevent such practices from succeeding. If one Negro family moves into a neighborhood, it makes little difference eventually, but if a large number moves in that makes a difference.

If a Negro family wishes to move, there are other houses than one where another family has moved recently. Try some other place.

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL MOVES AHEAD IN CONGRESS

The civil rights bill sponsored by President Eisenhower's administration won the first test in the lower house of Congress this week in spite of stiff opposition by southern Democrats. Republicans and northern Democrats teamed up in a vote to limit debate on the measure.

The bill incorporates a four-point civil rights program sponsored by the Eisenhower administration. Two sections would establish a bipartisan civil rights commission with powers to investigate grievances, and set up a special civil rights division in the attorney general's office.

The measure also would permit the attorney general to file suits on behalf of persons whose voting or other rights were impaired or threatened. At present a civil suit must be brought by an individual.

Southerners contend that the measure violates state rights and is designed to catch the Negro vote.

Whatever the reason — and the argument of the southerners is not convincing — the bill should pass. In fact, it is long overdue. It simply implements the constitution, a step which Congress authorized when the civil rights amendments were passed.

Of course, it is no surprise that southerners are opposed to the measure for everything presented to Congress, even fair-minded nominees for federal jobs, designed to enable Negroes to enjoy their civil rights meets opposition.

It is hardly probable that the measure will pass the senate for the rule against filibusters is not sufficiently strict to cut off debate within a reasonable time. However, it helps to keep talking about civil rights laws.

MINORITIES MUST PRESS THEIR CAUSE

The Republican State Convention meets in Des Moines Friday. Besides a series of speeches by prominent figures, a candidate for Commerce Commissioner will be named and a platform upon which the party will conduct the campaign will be adopted.

In 1952, the platform contained a fair statement on civil rights. As Roy Wilkins said recently, these platforms should go further and endorse the Supreme Court's public school and other liberal decisions.

Platform committees are generally bombarded by all sorts of interests and those which appear and press their cause generally get further. With this in view Negro representatives appeared before the prevention resolutions committee and made known the NAACP and their views on civil rights and employment.

With the convention over, the Bystander suggests a more vigorous campaign among Negroes this fall. In recent years we have slipped materially here. Representation at headquarters has been inadequate; and so have campaign workers and speakers.

These defects should be remedied if there is to be an effective campaign among Negroes this fall.

Race-Mixing In Louisiana

University's 1958 football game with Wisconsin. It also probably will stop Army, Navy and many other northern teams from playing in the Sugar Bowl.

One Louisiana baseball team team, Shreveport, is a member of the Texas League. Although Shreveport has no Negro players, most of the other teams do use Negroes.

The effective date of the bill was delayed until Oct. 15—after the end of the season—to help Shreveport.

However, Shreveport may not have a team after this season because of Long's action. Bonneau Peters, president of the club, indicated he would resign after 19 years in his post.

He said the team might be moved to east Texas—Texarkana or Longview—but that he would no longer have any connection with it.

"No Hope"

In Dallas, League President Dick Butler said he could "see no hope Shreveport can remain in the league after this year."

Commenting on the baseball league opposition to the bill, Senator W. M. Rainach, chairman of the joint legislative committee on segregation and a backer of the bill, said Butler "has no right to tell us in Louisiana how to run our affairs."

Job Bias in Council Bluffs

gave me anything but a pick and shovel."

Regarding the employment situation in general here, Telpner said: "In spite of frequent statements to the contrary, there is discrimination in Council Bluffs."

"This does not mean there are violent prejudices, but it does mean that knowingly or unknowingly, the Negro population is not given equal job opportunity."

None In Some Jobs

"On the sales and clerical level we find no Negroes employed by our leading firms. There is no evidence that any Negro bus drivers are employed in Council Bluffs."

"On the unskilled level, we find that the very firms who are in the best position to offer employment to Negroes limit Negroes to service and janitorial positions."

"Trade unions representing the bulk of skilled trades have no Negro members."

"We do not believe this is due to any willful prejudice. It may result from oversight, neglect and a lack of accurate knowledge."

The Chamber of Commerce estimates the Negro population here at about 750, or about 1.4 per cent of the total population, Telpner said.

Urges Legislation

Telpner said the Council Bluffs B'Nai B'rith "strongly recommends the passage by the legislature of Iowa of a state fair employment act."

"We realize that aside from the moral issues, our state and community is paying a high cost in dollars by permitting discriminatory practices in employment."

Members Present

After completing its study, the commission will recommend to the legislature whether a fair employment law should be passed.

Robert Jordan, a State University of Iowa graduate student, said the attitude of many young Negroes here is that "Council Bluffs is a nice town to live in if you don't have to work here."

Commission members who attended were Meyer S. Levitt, Sioux City, chairman; Richard Bruner, Des Moines, secretary; Mrs. David Kruidenier, jr., Des Moines; Dr. Thomas Scales, Des Moines; Ray Smith, Os-

HEALTH FOR ALL

BLOND BOMBHELL

If you're tempted to bleach your hair the shade that gentlemen are supposed to prefer, you might remember that the famous quote ends "but they marry brunettes."

If you can reconcile yourself to the shade of hair that nature gave you, it will be better for the health of your hair. Medical authorities warn that a woman risks losing many of the prized properties of her hair when she sets about becoming a blonde the peroxide way. The hair's sheen, its ability to take and hold a curl, and its generally healthy look are often sacrificed.

Bleached hair always looks dry and is brittle and hard to manage. There's little doubt that bleach weakens the hair, since it must be strong enough to penetrate through the major part of each hair to reach the pigment in the center of the shaft.

Getting the right shade of blonde hair is another problem. Peroxide most often produces a harsh yellow, unflattering to all but the very young. So a hair dye must be added to get a shade that will be suitable to the complexion. The two processes considerably increase the strain on the hair.

And that's only the beginning. It isn't the initial cost, it's the upkeep. Hair bleaching requires skill and should be entrusted to no one but a professional. Hair grows about a half inch a month, so newly grown hair must be bleached at least once a month—a continual strain on the budget. Another problem is the fact that bleached hair resists curling. Permanent waves and even routine setting after a shampoo produce inferior results.

So ask yourself, before you decide you must become a blonde bombshell, whether it will be worth the price.

School Aid Bill

The defeat of the bill, Mr. Wilkins said in his telegram to Congressman Powell, revealed that the enemies of the measure are "opposed to federal aid with or without segregation."

Clarence Mitchell, director of the Association's Washington bureau, declared that "partisan politics, and not the Powell amendment, killed the school construction bill. . . . Democrats said that they were for a school bill. Republicans said the same. Actually, both parties were for different bills and, apparently, each was willing to kill the entire plan if they could not have their way."

Agree With NAACP

At least two Washington correspondents agree with the NAACP spokesmen that the Powell amendment was not the real issue. Says Doris Fleeson in the New York Post: "Civil rights was only incidental to the struggle. The principal minority interest served was not the southerners. The South is fighting history and must lose in the end."

According to Richard Wilson of the Minneapolis Tribune, "a deep-seated fear that the federal government will, inescapably, interfere in the education and training of the young played as large, if not a larger part" than the Powell amendment in the defeat of the bill.

20-odd years as prosecuting attorney, there, as "one long nightmare for Negroes." They warn that the Davis Committee investigator is a "keen, conniving opportunist," who "played Crump's game and must be constantly watched."

They cite Gerber as the Memphis prosecutor who killed off a meeting called for Sleeping Car Porter chief A. Philip Randolph, in October, 1943, when Gerber called in twenty Negro leaders and warned that they "would be responsible," if anything happened, "and point out that Memphis papers already are carrying the story that integration in the Federal City 'has not been going to well'—hence the committees to investigate school integration."

If we heard correctly, and we think we did, Thurgood Marshall's committee-meeting walk-out at San Francisco, taken in protest over attempts to stretch the Rights organization into the field of social and economic programming, should be a warning bell to many earnest and sincere workers in the field of civil rights.

It is our information that a resolution concerning housing was the point of conflict. If so, there have been many straws in the wind which started to blow at the housing "Press Conference" called at the Statler Hotel, here, a year ago, by Urban League's national director, Les Granger, a performance (we sat in), which did "Rights" advocates no credit and convinced few. There have been many straws since, including recent pronouncements on housing by Mrs. Roosevelt.

But anyone who, thereby, expected Thurgood to "straddle" a policy issue, as an NAACP official, here, suggested that he should have done a boycott query, some weeks back—just didn't know Thurgood. He is, a fighter who inspires confidence be-kaloosa; Donald Johnson, West Branch, and Arnie Hansen, Council Bluffs.

The next hearing will be Aug. 20 at Cedar Rapids.

SPORTS

By ALLEN ASHBY

Everybody wonders what has happened to the Dodgers. They have the same team that literally ran away from the rest of the league. Now they are unable to put together enough to do any good. Our humble guess is that their spark plug is about shot. Campanella, like Jackie Robinson, was past his prime when he broke in. Now he has just about had it, and simply can't carry the rest of the team. Maybe they are overdue for a winning streak and might make it in September.

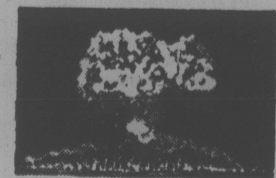

Our guess would be that the Cincinnati Redlegs would be the team with the best chance to beat the Yankees. They are young enough so they don't care who they play. Reputations as a rule don't scare young hungry teams.

The Little Leaguers are popping up all over, so fast you can't keep count on 'em. We will have to take a day off and devote it to the acquainting ourselves with the program. We hope some of the kids we have heard about get into the finals of the play-off.

Des Moines Open

The annual Des Moines Open gets under way the week of July 30. Originally begun as an all-Negro meet, the thing has grown now to such proportions that players come from all over the state. The Langston Hardaway Memorial trophy in the men's singles will be up for grab. Faye Dunn has two legs on it and a few hopefuls have one each. Dunn could retire the trophy this year, but it isn't hardly likely. We will seem lost without Bill Ashby who used to literally carry the meet on his shoulders at times. Sure will seem funny not having him around.

cause he always puts his brain before his brawn. We believe that he always will.

"As for Rev. King, president of the MIA, I hold him in high esteem. In my association with him I have found him to be kind, understanding, honest and a dynamic leader. I feel that his integrity is beyond question, and it is to be regretted that the statements published involved him as has been observed."

"I would like to take this opportunity to offer my apology to leaders of the MIA, Montgomerians, and our many friends and supporters throughout the nation for the statements that have been attributed to me as having said."

"It is my desire that you will accept this apology in the spirit in which it has been made. My determination to work for equality, justice and first-class citizenship for all people has not changed in recent months. He noted also that the party called his home on an unlisted number and at a time when both he and his wife were away.

Miss Scott was visiting relatives, and Powell was in Washington attending the second Saturday session of this term of congress.

Powell revealed Saturday night that the tempo of threats against him has stepped up in the past three to four weeks. He said his secretaries in Washington have told him they are receiving three or four threats against him daily.

The congressman also said he received a bomb threat three weeks ago.
