Capital Close-Up From Washington

BY CONSTANCE DANIEL

"CARMEN JONES" DELIGHTS CAPITAL
Washington, D. C. — "Carmen Jones," which, as everyone knows, is a 20th Century musical version of Bizet's "Carmen"—80-year-old opera favorite—arrived in the National Capital just ahead of drenching rains and a mad Congress-closing on Capitol Hill.

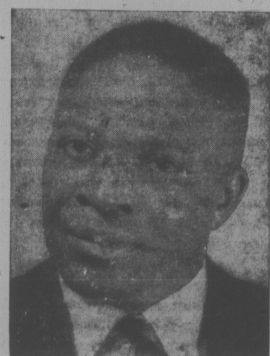

The Civil Rights bill was passing the House on its way to death in the Senate, D. C. School probers were hard at work building a case against Federal City integration to use back in the States—people were tired. Then the liting show from New York City Center reached the Carter-Barron Amphitheater in Rock Creek Park, where a first fine performance overcame several days of rain-outs, and delighted this tension-weary Capital with a week and a half of fine entertainment before Congress adjourned.

Critics' Vie in Praise

Critics, here, actually vied with each other in praise of the operamusical, "fairly throbbing with vitality," in its World War II setting. Muriel Smith, actress-singer, who created the title role in the original Broadway production, in 1943, was variously hailed as a "lusty, hip-swinging, raucous, smoldering, earthy Jezebel," and, more discriminatingly, as "a first-rate artist who handles her role with ease and competence." Reri Grist, second soprano, as "Cindy Lou," won acclaim from one critic as the show's "singing star," pointing out that Bizet's best "Carmen" music (used unchanged in the musical) was that written for her part.

William DuPree, Howard Music School-trained and now in the Air Force, who sang "Joe," the "Jose" of "Carmen," was rated "at all times a fine singer and competent actor."

Both Parties Blamed for Failure on Civil Rights

New York — Both parties must share the blame for the failure of the Senate to act on the civil rights bill, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said here July 26.

"The leadership did not lead," Mr. Wilkins charged, "and some of the senators in both parties who heretofore have supported civil rights kept mum. At the times when motions were to be made southern Democrats 'just happened' to be presiding temporarily over the Senate. They exercised the prerogatives of the chair."

Blocked

The measure, Mr. Wilkins asserted, "could have been passed if it had been permitted to reach the floor. The Democratic leadership under Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas quickly engineered the bill into the hands of Senator James O. Eastland of Mississippi, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, who, of course, bottled it up."

East-West Baseball Classic To Be Played Aug. 12 in Chicago, Ill.

Chicago, Ill. — (Special) — Battle lines have been drawn for the 24th annual East vs. West Negro Baseball Classic to be played on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 12, here in Comisky Park.

Both squads have been filled with top-grade talent from the sponsoring Negro American League after nearly two months of screening.

Dr. J. B. Martin, president of the Negro American League, announced that the fans can expect to see 45 of the league's top players in action on All-Star Day.

That's the number of stars who have been selected by the four club owners, managers and coaches and approved for the one-day competition by President Martin.

The West squad, to be managed by Homer Curry, of the Memphis Red Sox, will carry 23 players into the fray. Memphis will have 14 performers and the Kansas City Monarchs nine.

West Squad

Three of the West stars appeared in last year's game when they helped defeat the East, 2-0. They are shortstop John Kennedy and Enrique Moroto, pitcher, both of the Monarchs, and third baseman Bill Washington, of Memphis.

Blast President And NAACP at Klan Meeting

Florence, S. C. — Klan memberships were sold at $3 and robed and masked speakers lambasted President Eisenhower and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) at two Ku Klux Klan meetings in South Carolina Saturday night.

An estimated 4,000 persons showed up at openfield rallies at Camden and Hartsville. A masked Klan official said 800 memberships were sold at Camden.

At Hartsville, an unmasked speaker who identified himself only as a "country preacher from down the road," denounced President Eisenhower as "a low down scoundrel" for ordering integration of the armed forces.

He deplored the fact that the Klan had to hold its meetings in an open field.

"If the NAACP was meeting in Hartsville tonight, they would undoubtedly use the Coler College auditorium and if (Negro Singer) Nat (King) Cole was playing here tonight he would use the city auditorium," the speaker said.

The East

The East, which trails in the series—losing 15 of the 23 games played thus far, the last four in a row—will have 22 players, 11 each from the Detroit Stars and Birmingham Black Barons who form the East squad. Ed Steele, of the Detroit Stars, last year's losing East pilot, will attempt to make amends for his setback when he leads the East again this year.

Five players who were on the East squad last season are back again this year. They are second baseman Willie Ivory, shortstop Juan Soler and outfielder Herman Green, of Detroit, and right fielder John Williams and catcher Otha Bailey, of Birmingham.

Birmingham also is supply the East squad with the league's top hitter. He's first baseman Billy Joe Moore, who, according to league averages, heads the circuit with a .393 average. This is Moore's first appearance in the Classic.

NAACP Strives to Prevent Exposing Loyal Members To Threats and Violence

Montgomery, Ala. — Attorneys Tuesday asked the Alabama Supreme Court to stay a $100,000 contempt of court fine against the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (N.A.A.C.P.).

The court recessed without acting on the request.

Association lawyers said the fine was designed to "frustrate and deny" a review of a lower court's contempt order.

The fine was imposed by Circuit Judge Walter B. Jones when the N.A.A.C.P. refused to make its Alabama membership list public. The association has contended that its rights are being abridged by the proceedings against it.

Want Time

Association attorneys said Tuesday they want time to file a petition for review of the fine by the state supreme court before the fine is assessed.

Judge Jones turned down a request Monday to settle for some other N.A.A.C.P. records he had ordered handed over and not to let an earlier fine of $10,000 go up automatically to $100,000.

Atty. Gen. John Patterson had asked for the records to back up a June 1 injunction banning N.A.A.C.P. activity in Alabama. Patterson contended they would sustain his charges of operating illegally in Alabama and of fomenting attacks on state segregation laws.

Would Subject Them

An attorney presented Jones a statement by N.A.A.C.P. National Secretary Roy Wilkins that said releasing the 14,566 names of Alabama members would subject them to economic reprisals, intimidation and "use of actual force."

In hearings on the injunction and again Monday, the lawyers is sustained they will try to have a federal court take the case. The association has contended that its rights are being abridged by the proceedings against it.

New York — The Alabama State Supreme Court will be asked to set aside the $10,000 fine levied against the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People by Circuit Court Judge Walter B. Jones of Montgomery on a contempt of court charge, Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, announced here July 26.

The fine was imposed by the Alabama judge on July 25 after NAACP attorney Robert L. Carter declined to turn over to John Patterson, Alabama Attorney General, the list of NAACP members in the state. The membership list and other documents were demanded by Mr. Patterson in SEE PAGE SIX

Predict Strong Rights Plank at GOP Convention

Washington, D. C. — Senator Bush (Rep., Conn.) Monday predicted the Republican national convention will write a strong civil rights plank into the party's campaign platform.

Deltas to Give Three Scholarships To High School Grads

Application blanks are being sent out this week by the scholarship committee of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. Any girl graduate of the 1956 January, June and August classes is eligible for one of the three one-hundred-dollar scholarships.

The scholarships are awarded on the basis of superior scholarship, extra-curricular activities, character and financial need. They are made possible by "the Jabberwock" produced annually by the sorority.

Teachers Who Refused to Snub NAACP to Get Twin Cities Awards of Courage

Minneapolis, Minn. — Twenty-four South Carolina teachers who sacrificed their jobs rather than sign a pro-segregation, anti-NAACP affidavit will be honored as "Citizens of Courage" by the citizens of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

The 24 Negro teachers of Ellorree, S. C., will become the first recipients of regular awards to be given by Campaign for Courage. Each will be given a citation and Twin Cities citizens will present a check for $500 to the NAACP in the name of the teachers. The South Carolina teachers, who now are without jobs, asked that the money be given to the NAACP.

Goals

Campaign for Courage is an organization of Twin Cities citizens who have begun a campaign to encourage Negroes in the north to give moral and financial support to citizens of the south who are making a courageous effort to uphold the Supreme Court's decision outlawing segregation.

The Campaign originated in the Twin Cities where Negro citizens contribute funds and Leroy Lazenberry, chairman, St. Paul announced these goals:

1.—To lend encouragement and moral support to people regardless of race or color, living in the south, who are carrying on the fight to uphold the law of the land so that in those states no person shall be discriminated against nor deprived of his constitutional rights because of race, creed, color or origin.

2.—To mobilize the support and affirmative expressions of the entire nation so as to reinforce the determination of those persons participating in the fight for freedom.

Contributions

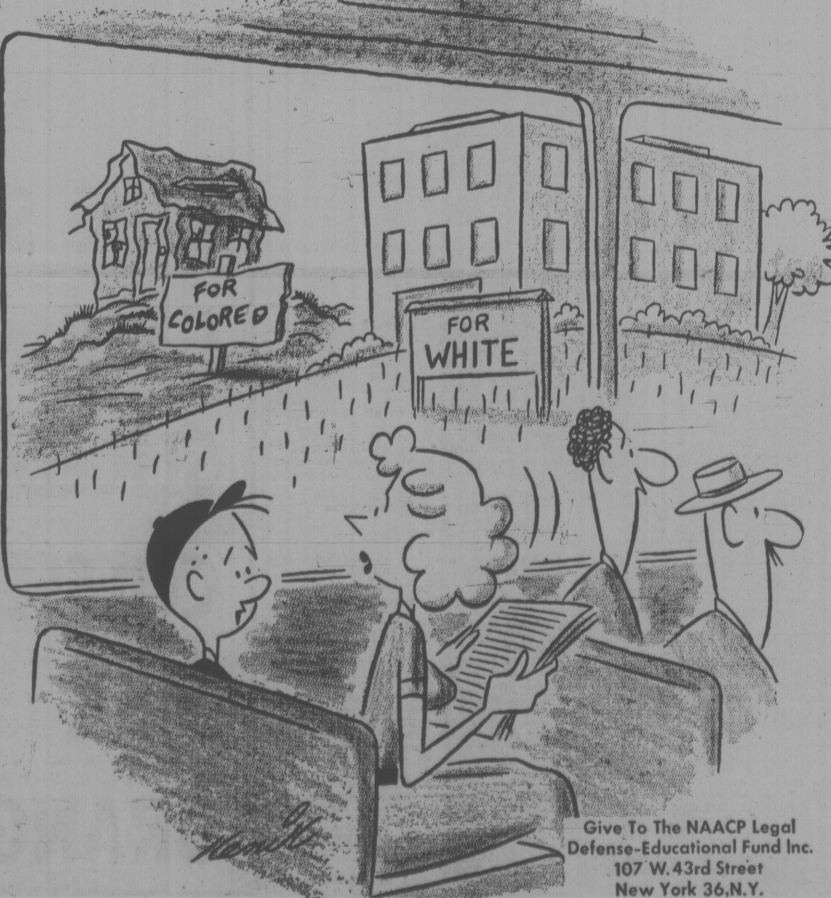

3.—To present appropriate awards to persons making significant contributions to the fight for freedom and democracy through their activities.

4.—To give evidence to the nation that Negroes in the United States, North and South, stand united and solidly behind efforts to end racial segregation and achieve first class citizenship for all Americans.

The South Carolina teachers were selected for the first award "because of your courage in deciding to give up your jobs rather than bow to the demands of the forces of segregation . . . and deny the Negro's claim to first-class citizenship in an unsegregated society."

Pineapple Salad Supreme Makes Festive Plate When Party Time Arrives

Avocados and Tomato-Pineapple Aspic top Golden Slices.

Salads should be colorful and gay for the decorative effect on table and for contrast in taste and texture. In today's recipe refreshing pineapple slices combine with avocado slices and cubes of tomato-pineapple aspic for a main course salad that will add sparkling elegance to a very special luncheon. It's designed to please the feminine eye.

Selection and artistic arrangement of the ingredients and the choice of dressing all help to make this decorative and appetizing salad.

PINEAPPLE SALAD SUPREME

Shredded lettuce
8 slices canned pineapple
Cubes of tomato-pineapple aspic

Tomato-Pineapple Aspic

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling hot tomato juice
1/2 cup pineapple juice
Juice of 1 lemon

For each salad arrange a flat bed of shredded lettuce on a salad plate. Cut 2 pineapple rings into halves and lay on lettuce to form a pineapple shape. Center with cubes of tomato-pineapple aspic. Place 3 avocado slices at base of pineapple as shown. Decorate with 4 small Romaine leaves. Place sprigs of mint for the pineapple leaves at the top. Serve with French or creamy type dressing.

Aspic: Dissolve gelatin in boiling tomato juice. Add cold pineapple juice and lemon juice. Chill until firm in ice cube tray or small shallow pan. Cut in cubes. Serves 4.

that the teachers gave evidence to the world "that the Negro is united in his march toward equality and that he knows there can be no free ride to freedom."

Mr. Charles E. Davis, former principal of Ellmore Training School, who also resigned, will be in Minneapolis on August 28 to accept the citations in behalf of the teachers.

A top official is expected to represent the NAACP.

Asked Questions

Thirty-one Negro teachers in the Ellmore school district of Orangeburg county, South Carolina were asked, as a condition of employment this fall, to sign affidavits which included the following questions:

"Do you favor integration of races in schools? Are you satisfied with your work and the schools as they the now maintained? Do you feel that you would be happy in an integrated school system, knowing that parents and students alike do not favor this system?"

"Do you feel that an integrated school system would better fit the colored race for their life's work? Do you think you are qualified to teach an integrated class in a satisfactory manner?"

M. G. Austin, superintendent of schools in Ellmore reported several teachers told him they were not NAACP members but that they objected to signing such statements affecting their personal opinions.

Supt. Austin reports that a total of 210 applications have been received for the job vacancies left by the 24 teachers. He also said that reports had reached him of Negro-sponsored petitions expressing criticism of the seven teachers who did sign statements of non-NAACP membership. Negro citizens in the district have vowed they will refuse lodgings to any teachers who may be hired after signing the anti-NAACP affidavit.

The consolidated school in Ellmore has more than 1,000 pupils, with some 630 in the elementary grades, and 31 teachers.

would have created a bi-partisan civil rights commission, set up a special Senators Ives of New York, Bender of Ohio and Langer of North Dakota all attempted to get the bill to the Senate floor for action but were blocked at every turn. The bill remained in the hands of the East-land committee.

Civil rights supporters, Mr. Wilkins declared, "should remember the performance of their senators and congressmen at election time and should weigh carefully the actions of both parties as to assuming their proper responsibilities."

The NAACP spokesman noted that in the House "most of the Republicans and northern Democrats worked and voted for the civil rights bill with the result that it passed and was not crippled by the amendments unsuccessfully offered by the southern bloc. In the House, prominent supporters of civil rights in both parties gave leadership. This they failed to do in the Senate."

Miss Ruth E. Simmons is Bride of Floyd Daniels in Los Angeles Wedding

MR. AND MRS. FLOYD DANIELS

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Simmons, 1070 Sixteenth Street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruth E., and Mr. Floyd Daniels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Daniels, Milwaukee, Wis.

The wedding took place Saturday, June 30, at the Mt. Sinai Missionary Baptist Church in Los Angeles, Cal., performed by the Rev. H. B. Charles.

Attending the bride was Miss Lenna Reeves, formerly of Des Moines. Mr. Thurston Daniels, was best man to his brother.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle, fashioned with a fitted lace bodice with a scalloped illusion neckline. Her finger-tip veil was attached to a beaded tiara.

She carried a bouquet of baby orchids.

Mrs. Daniels, a native of Des Moines, is a graduate of East High School, attended Drake University, and since arriving in Los Angeles two years ago, has gone to Los Angeles City College. She is employed as secretary-receptionist at the AFL Union, Local 52.

Mr. Daniels is an accountant with the Los Angeles County Assessor's Office.

A reception followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bogan, 2802 S. Western Avenue in Los Angeles, where the couple will be at home at 4517 S. Normandie Avenue.

Mrs. Simmons attended the wedding of her daughter.

Not only was the food good at Toppers but the service was most courteous. (This was not so at the restaurant on the corner where we were shopping).

Given Assurance

"On the day that ex-governor Fuller Warren made his infamous anti-integration, anti-Negro TV appearance, the manager and owner of the Patrician hotel (in which we lived) assured us in a most confidential manner that there was absolutely nothing that the governor or anyone else could do to get us out of our hotels. The only thing he was interested in was more Negroes to fill more of his vacant rooms. As I recall there were at least ten rooms occupied by Negroes in this particular hotel. The manager also told us that one Caucasian couple had refused to live in the hotel after learning that we were living there.

The manager informed them that we would stay regardless of who left. This was the only incident of this kind that we heard of during our stay on the Beach.

"Incidentally we never heard of one word of criticism about our conduct during our entire stay in Florida. Our people seem to have been on their best behavior. Of course this is as it should be with a group of Christians. What we did hear was that these people are well dressed, well behaved, and well in the pocket."

Better Position

"It seems to me that of all the people in the United States, the Jews are in a better position to sympathize with the Negro in his struggle for equality. Also the Jews are in a better position than any other minority group to help the Negro in his struggle. Of course, Negroes have been a big help to the Jews. Many have gotten rich off Negro trade. Negroes and Jews have much in common. Both have been the object of oppression and persecution. Both have overcome much of this in spite of handicaps.

At Conference

"Lest somebody gets the idea that we went to Florida merely to see the sights of nature and man, I think I had better say a few words about our experiences at the 35th

Kappa Alpha Psi Annual Picnic Held At Walnut Woods

Des Moines Alumni Chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity gave their annual picnic last Sunday at Walnut Wood State Park and invited their families. Also as special guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. Sanders and Dr. and Mrs. Frances Batipps and family. Mr. Sanders is executive director at Willkie House.

session of the General Conference which was held at Dinner Key Auditorium. It is estimated that there were at least 15,000 of our members (AME) in attendance at this conference. Of course only a fraction of these were delegates.

"It is agreed by all that this was the most historical conference which our denomination has held since the first general conference which was held in 1816. The most important thing which happened was not the election of Bishops as intimated by Ebony. The most important action was the approval of a budget of $2,200,000, on which to operate the total program of the African Methodist Episcopal Church annually for the next four years. This single act went farther toward drawing our communion closer to gether than any other act since our organization into a connection in 1816. In connection with this there was established a general board to administer the budget. Also this budget operation will give us greater returns for money spent.

Bishop Must Move

"This conference also removed the eight year limitation on the length of time a pastor can serve a particular church. However, a bishop must move to a new district after eight years. The new change says that a pastor can remain at a church as long as his service is acceptable to the local congregation. However he must still be appointed each year by the presiding bishop.

"Another forward step was granting permission for women to be ordained local elders. This means that women who otherwise meets the same qualifications as men may perform all of the rites of the church but cannot be placed into the ranks of those eligible to pastor a church. "Finally after 1960, every AME pastor who serves a class 'A' church (this is determined from his academic preparation and length of years served) will be guaranteed an annual salary of at least $3,000. (Next week more about our Florida experiences and then the summary).

Miss Charlotte Jones who is on a vacation in Los Angeles, Cal., with her mother, Mrs. Leon S. Jones, and her brothers, and her grandmother, wrote: "Just a few lines to say hello . . . I returned from Chicago Thursday night and we left for Los Angeles Sunday at 4 p. m., arriving here last Tuesday at 3 p. m. We are having a nice time."

REV. MR. JAMES' CAR ROCKED 'N' ROLLED

When the Rev. H. W. James, pastor of Burns Methodist Church, returned from his recent vacation to the West Coast, I asked him if he would make some notes on his trip, for the benefit of many of the readers who do their "traveling" by reading of other person's trips. The Rev. Mr. James is starting his "travelogue" in this week's column: "William Cullen Bryant in his 'Thanatopsis' says: 'To him who in the love of nature holds communion with her visible forms, she speaks a strange language.' She does indeed. And, one of the best ways to hear nature speak is that of traveling over a large section of this wonderful country of ours—America—with a congenial company in an automobile. This is what we did recently.

"On our trip were Mrs. James and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Davidson. Our destination was Los Angeles, Cal., and return. We left Des Moines, Ia., Friday afternoon, June 29, via highway 6 to Omaha, Neb., and thence to Salt Lake City, Utah, via highway 30; and from the City of the Mormons, we travelled highway 91 into San Bernardino, Cal., and from there we rocked 'n' rolled into the city of Angels, arriving there

Misses Martin and Miller Hostesses At Shower Breakfast

The Misses Coleen Martin and Charmaine Miller were co-hostesses at a shower and breakfast honoring Bride-Elect Eva Scroggins, who will be married August 12 to Mr. John A. Haskins.

Sharing the courtesy were: the Misses Frances Seales, Beyerly and Barbara Oliver, Marian Simmons, Naomi Hoffman, Patricia Graves, Barbara Black, Ruth Martin of Ames, Mesdames Marjorie Benning, Celeste L. Slaughter and Minnette Copeland.

After breakfast the young women attended services at St. Paul AME Church.

Rolling Hills

"Our Dodge Wayfarer required of us no attention except that of keeping it supplied with gas and oil. As we travelled over the rolling hills of Western Iowa and across the plains of Nebraska, nature spoke a strange but glad language of God's abundant supply of food for man and His lesser creatures. Corn, wheat (ready to harvest), soybeans, oats, alfalfa—all told us of a full bread basket this fall and winter. As we looked over the vast fields lush with grain and provender, we recalled the words of another poet: 'O beautiful for spacious skies, For amber waves of grain—above the fruited plains.'"

"As we entered Wyoming, 'the purple mountains majesties' spoke to us a strange, but significant language. They told us of the strength, the stability and the majesty of their Creator. And we seemed to hear them say: 'The righteousness of God is like the rugged mountain.'"

Mountains Spoke

"But it was on our return trip that the mountains spoke to us most eloquently. They said to us: 'The hand that made us divine.' His artistic skill and genius are past finding out. We came back over a route that led us through Zion National Park in Southern Utah. One of its chief features is the multi-colored gorge, called Zion Canyon. Its sandstone cliffs rise to dizzy and awesome heights and encircle the valley. Two-thirds the way up these 'marvelous walls and temples are painted varying shades of red, and above the red rises a startling white, which in turn is surmounted by a cap of red.

By Quite Waters

"Here, standing out in bold relief and towering above the wall's rim, one beholds in awe and wonder: The Angels' Landing, the Three Patriarchs, the Sentinel, the Great White Throne and Mt. Carmel. All of these are rock formations whose shape suggests their names. Deep down at the bottom of these mountain peaks is the Virgin River, meandering about them, in serpentine grace, creating here and there oases in the desert where grow luscious fruits of many kinds and rare quality. The scene speaks of plenty and peace for one sees sleek cattle lying down in green pastures by quiet waters.

"The vacationists going through Zion National Park should never be in a hurry. Some things require

Eva Scroggins' Wedding Aug. 12

MISS EVA SCROGGINS

Miss Eva L. Scroggins, daughter of Mrs. J. O. Mason, 1228 Fifteenth Street, and Mr. John L. Haskins, 1116 Tenth Street, will be married Sunday morning, 9 o'clock, August 12, at St. Paul AME Church. Miss Scroggins' father is Ray Field Scroggins of St. Paul, Minn. Mr. Haskins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Haskins of Baltimore, Md.

The Rev. John E. Hunter will officiate. A wedding breakfast at the church will follow the ceremony. (Guests planning to attend are asked to contact the family by August 6). The bride-elect a native of Abeline, Kas., attended Contra Costa Junior College in Richmond, Cal., and Drake University, where she will be a junior this fall. She is employed now by the Register and Tribune Company.

haste. But a trip through Zion National Park requires leisure. For if one would hear the voice of nature speak through her visible forms, one must pause and meditate upon the things she so eloquently says.

'Top of the World'

"We emerged from Zion National Park through a tunnel which more than a mile long cut through solid mountain rock, to ride it as it were, the crest of a mountain range through Utah and Wyoming which

PUBLIC OFFICIALS STOOP
LOW TO STIFLE
DEMOCRACY

The state of Alabama is prosecuting the NAACP. A judge has held the organization in contempt and levied a fine of $10,000 with a possible increase of $100,000 if it refuses to produce its membership rolls.

What is back of this court action? The attorney general proposes to back up an injunction issued June 1 contending the organization is operating illegally and forming attacks on state segregation laws.

When did it become a crime to protest or attack a law? It is not and the NAACP contends that the purpose of demanding a list of names of NAACP members is done to enable Alabama to subject them to economic reprisals, intimidation and use of actual force.

The NAACP knows that Negroes have been subjected to economic reprisal, intimidation and the use of force because they registered to vote and attempted to aid in securing the elimination of segregation and Jim Crow. Should the list of NAACP members be made available to the public, members would be subjected to all kinds of further injustices and intimidation.

So far, all this action is in state courts. Undoubtedly, the matter will be shifted to the federal courts and find its way to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Unquestionably, the action of Alabama authorities violates the constitution of the United States and particularly the 14th amendment.

Talk of the attempted enforcement of the school segregation law by runs and bayonets has been yelled by these same public officials who, with their power by virtue of position and influence, use not guns and bayonets but illegal tactics in court to intimidate and beat back the effort of Negroes to enjoy their civil rights.

It becomes increasingly clear that those people who seem to be running things in the South will stoop to any means, no matter how low, to keep the Negro down. In fact they have been at it all along which accounts for the retarded condition of the masses in these devilish states.

TELLING HALF TRUTHS
IS DANGEROUS

David Lawrence, whose syndicated column appears in newspapers from coast to coast, has a hard time placing human rights on the same basis as property rights. And although he claims to favor non-segregated schools, he never passes up a chance to dig the Supreme Court school case.

Writing in the Des Moines Evening Tribune last week—no doubt the article appeared in hundreds of papers over the country—he took great pains to point out that the 14th amendment, upon which the court based the decision, was never adopted legally, was thus invalid and that the court had sidestepped every effort to pass on that question.

Without going into the writer's charge that the 14th amendment is illegal, what is most striking is his attempt to leave in the minds of his readers that the school segregation cases and other civil rights cases only are based on an illegal amendment to the constitution.

The writer did not tell his readers that corporations have made liberal use of the amendment to protect their rights. In fact some of the leading U. S. Supreme Court cases, dealing with corporate rights have been decided. And upon checking the annotations of cases decided by the Supreme Court, it will be found that as many cases have gone to that body based on the 14th amendment as any other. A small minority has been based on civil rights of the Negro.

Of course, like a writer who takes a small portion out of a speech and calls it the views of a speaker, Lawrence does the same to imply that civil rights cases brought in the interest of Negroes are the only ones based on the 14th amendment.

Such tactics fool unsuspecting, uninformed people and do a real injustice.

WHO PUT OUR ENEMIES ON TOP?

Congress adjourned without passing President Eisenhower's civil rights measure. Here was a modest bill which would have created a bi-partisan commission to deal with civil rights with provisions that would hurt nobody who wants to be a law abiding citizen.

The job was nailed down by Senators Eastland of Mississippi, George and Russell of Georgia. These boys are in control and operate a well oiled roller against civil rights.

And they have the nerve to ask the Negro and their northern white friends to help keep them in a position to carry on these tactics.

connection with the state's suit to ban NAACP activity in Alabama for failure to register with the state. When the NAACP offered to register, the court ruled that it could not.

The Association was given until Monday, July 30, to produce the documents in court. Refusal to comply, Judge Jones ruled, would automatically increase the fine to $100,000. In addition to filing the writ of certiorari with the State Supreme Court, NAACP attorneys laid the ground for transferring the case to the Federal District Court.

Membership List Crucial

Although the state asked for a number of other documents, the crucial item was the membership list. Mr. Wilkins said that the Association was withholding this list because "NAACP members in Alabama and elsewhere in the South have been subjected to economic pressure, personal threats and acts of violence for no cause other than their membership in the NAACP and their support of equality for all citizens. We cannot, in good conscience, risk exposing our loyal members to such reprisals."

The NAACP leader cited the publicly-avowed policy of the White Citizens Councils to penalize Negroes who oppose segregation or otherwise assert their demand for civil rights. These councils, he charged, include in their membership many state officials. He quoted a WCC leader as having said at a public rally in Dallas County, Alabama: "We intend to make it difficult, if not impossible, for any Negro who advocates desegregation to find or hold a job, get credit, or renew a mortgage."

It is to persons holding such views, Mr. Wilkins said, that the NAACP is called upon to deliver its membership list in the name of law and justice. Basically, the Alabama action against the NAACP is a threat to the constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech and assembly and this has significance for all Americans who believe in the Bill of Rights.

Other Documents Demanded

In addition to the membership list, the State of Alabama demanded: (1) copies of all charters of NAACP branches in the state; (2) all lists, books, and papers showing names and addresses of persons paying dues to the Association and the amounts of such dues; (3) names and addresses of all persons in the state authorized to solicit memberships and contributions; (4) all files and copies of correspondence for the past 12 months between the national office of the NAACP and "persons, corporations, associations, groups, chapters and partnerships within the State of Alabama"; (5) all deeds and other evidence of ownership of real or personal property.

Financial Files

Also, (6) all files on financial transactions during the past year between the national office and persons and groups in the state; (7) all "agreements, correspondence and other memoranda pertaining to or between the NAACP and Autherine Lucy, and Polly Myers Hudson"; (8) all lists "showing the names and addresses of all officers, agents, servants and employees of the various chapters of the NAACP"; and (9) all correspondence between the NAACP and the complainants and their attorneys in the Montgomery anti-segregation bus suit.

Associated with Mr. Carter in this case were NAACP attorneys Arthur D. Shores of Birmingham and Fred Gray of Montgomery.

HEALTH FOR ALL

ADOLESCENT AGONY

The adolescent peers into the mirror anxiously. It is too dreadful? Will people notice? Does he dare ask a girl to dance? Does she dare wear that pretty off-the-shoulder dress?

This is "carefree youth" suffering from acne. At the very time of life when the desire for popularity is greatest, the adolescent finds himself disfigured with skin blemishes. The situation can be magnified into real tragedy. Feeling like a sort of leper from whom others shrink, the youngster may draw back from the world he really yearns to be a part of.

Parents can help or harm in the situation. It does no good to blame the youngster for withdrawing, to urge him into social and school activities, to assure him that "he'll grow out of it." Action must be taken. Acne and the scars which may result can seriously disturb a boy's or girl's mental health.

Patience

Something can be done about acne.

With patience and persistence, the average case can be cleared in about three months. Even those who have pitted scars can now be assured that in most cases these blemishes can be removed.

The doctor's help is needed. He will probably lay down rules for general hygiene: outdoor exercise, rest, sleep, avoidance of certain foods. He may prescribe a lotion or salve. Severe cases of scarring have been cleared up by new methods of skin abrasion.

When something can be done about acne, it is pitiful to see so many adolescents suffer from their pimples. Parents should not shrug off acne as a minor ailment that time will heal. Serious personality disturbances can develop. Parents can help their adolescents with encouragement and affection, and by seeing to it that they get medical attention.

SPORTS

By ALLEN ASHBY

A lot of Good Park and Hilltop tennis players got into the City Play-ground meet this week. Edward Mays and Phil Tindrell were in the men's and Tindrell lost a semi-final match. Esther Myers lost a three-set match to champion Dorothy Dunn.

In the boys singles and doubles, Walter Carter, Edward Holt, John Corthorn and Michael Knox all gave good accounts of themselves. Knox lost a tough three-set final match to McCollum in the 13-14 singles in Class I, while Edward Holt was winning the class II title. Corthorn and Carter also wrapped up a doubles title together and at this writing Corthorn was still in the singles.

By the time you read this our Hilltop Open meet will be well underway. We do hope there will be good weather all the way. Fay Dunn, the only player with two legs on the Langston Hardaway trophy can't play, so we guess everyone is happy in a way, but it is tough for the big redhead.

People will like to be around to see if Jensen of Ames can make Number Two in the men's singles finals at Good's Park.

Iowa State Tennis Meet

We never get over our amusement at the look on the faces of the people there for the first time when someone like your illustrious scribbler walks up and old time players and tournament officials start handshakes all over the lot.

Several of the younger players asked us where were the kids we brought down last year. We explained that those kids were brought down by the Myers family who did a grand job of looking after them and deserved full credit for it. Well, one guy thought the kids should have put forth every effort to come back this year because with the experience of last year, the boys would probably be tough now.

Surprised at the interest in our Hilltop meet. Several of the players wanted in but couldn't make it.

Never did find out who won the girls, 18 and under singles title. The announcer said one name and the paper said another.

The two families, Parker and Brody of Omaha are certainly tennis families. Make a sumer of it.

Tried to offer our pay for advisors to the gate but they wouldn't take it. You look at the Parker family winners of four titles among them. You reason how far they are over our best. Then you think how very far buried in the senate. The Eisenhower-supported bill civil rights division in the justice department, and made it easier to take civil rights cases to federal courts.

Senator H. Alexander Smith (Rep., N. J.) agreed with Bush that the Republicans will use vigorous language in endorsing civil rights.

Smith, also a member of the platform group, said he doesn't know yet whether the platform should go into such specific details as endorsing the United States Supreme Court's decision banning racial segregation in public schools.

Contrast

The Republicans are aiming for as much contrast as possible between their civil rights plank and any compromise statement that might be worked out by the Democrats in hopes of avoiding a Democratic party-splitting row.

Senator Ervin (Dem., N. C.), a member of the Democratic platform committee, said there will be a general effort within his party to "agree on a civil rights plank that will not be highly offensive to either side."

Ervin said he will oppose strongly any mention of the supreme court's school integration order in the platform. He said he feels the platform itself will cause no southern bolt at the Democratic convention.

Peg Leg Bates at Veterans
Auditorium Sunday, August 5

PEG LEG BATES

"Peg Leg" Bates, famous tap dancer, will appear at the Veterans Memorial Auditorium Sunday, August 5, in a variety show starting at 6:30 p.m.

Bates has carved a career for himself in a field usually reserved for only the most perfect of physical specimens—tap dancing. The amazing steps he produces with only one leg and a "peg" is the talk of audiences the world over who have seen him perform.

Has Tremendous Talent

Bates has appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show "Toast of the Town" a total of eight times—more than any other performer. His other engagements read like a glossary of the finest entertainment spots in the world. Critics everywhere have acclaimed his tremendous talent and as a result he is the most sought after dancing act on the stage today.

Other Features

The Show which will appear in Des Moines is called The Peg Leg Bates Family Variety Show. In addition to Bates, the show will feature Ed Coatney, known as "the Will Rogers of the harmonica." Other acts include Gay Stafford, well-known contortionist; The Harrisons, outstanding bicycle and unicycle family act; V. Roy and Company, magicians. Earl Nickle will act as Master of Ceremonies.

The entire program promises to be two full hours of outstanding family entertainment. Tickets are on sale now at the Auditorium and New Utica Box Offices. Ticket prices are $1.00 for adults and 75 cents for youngsters 17 and under. There are no reserved seats, all tickets being general admission only. The Auditorium seats 15,000.
