'Could Have
Been Stronger'

W. LAWRENCE OLIVER

San Francisco, Cal.—An Iowa alternate delegate said Tuesday that the Republican civil rights plank will not do any good with the Negro voter this fall.

W. Lawrence Oliver, Des Moines attorney said the plank "could have been much stronger."

"I am a bit surprised that the Republican party is attempting to court the South when opposition to the South actually was the reason for founding the party," Oliver added.

Rites Held for Mr. Willie West, 73

Services for Willie West, 73, of 615 S.E. Fourth Street, were held Tuesday at Fowler and son Funeral Home. Burial was at Glendale Cemetery.

Mr. West died August 17 at Broadlawn General Hospital.

Surviving is an aunt, Mrs. Belle Wilson of St. Louis, Mo.

Capital Close-Up From Washington

BY CONSTANCE DANIEL

The Chips Go Down at Chicago Washington, D. C.—As we were saying before the balloting at Chicago, after the Stevenson primary losses in New Hampshire and the Mid-West, and before the Stevenson victories in California and the South, the 1956 Presidential contest will be between Eisenhower and Stevenson, both "charged" with being moderates.

This because political honesty on civil rights has come from no other candidates. The rest, and we persist in looking without blinders, has been sound, fury, furtive back-dooring and insincerity.

Early in February, this column began calling the turns on the candidates. Kefauver had just sparked a widely-announced switch of buttons by West Coast civil rights more emotional than discerning, following a reported huddle with Negro delegates at a California nominating convention—and with the GOP meeting at the Cow Palace, some of the huddlers should be speaking up.

Kefauver's Washington office played up the button switch, but flatly repudiated the "huddle" reports, and could produce nothing to account for the switch, other than a pledge to support the Constitution and Supreme Court decision, without suggesting how. In Florida, Candidate Kefauver made a statement saying that both races seemed to have good schools!

Desegregation

Stevenson, more specific, said, publicly, that he was in favor of desegregation, but that this must be accomplished "without troops or bayonets." This would seem to be a superfluous statement, but because some of us have attempted to fight demagoguery with more demagoguery, it is not.

"Inactive Candidate" Harriman, said, at the time, that civil rights and school desegregation were "all in the hands of the courts." In July, Active Candidate Harriman, a good Governor of New York State—a vastly different deal from President of the

Roy Wilkins Pleads to GOP Platform Committee For Strong Race Plank

San Francisco, Calif.—Speaking before the platform committee of the Republican Party, Roy Wilkins urged that not only a strong civil rights plank be made, but he reminded GOP leaders that Democrats will lose votes because of their weaker platform.

The executive secretary of the NAACP told Reporters that he did not know how much strength the Democrats would lose, but he did predict that the Republicans would gain with a strong plank. He also cited that he expected the Republicans' civil rights' plank to be a very good one.

Six Points

Wilkins had six points he wanted the platform committee to include in the GOP platform.

1. End racial segregation by pledging the Federal Government to act and specifically to implement the Supreme Court decision on school segregation.
2. Strengthen Federal civil rights laws and provide additional machinery and authority for the Department of Justice.
3. Protect the right to vote.
4. Enact Federal fair employment practices legislation.
5. Change Senate and House rules to eliminate the filibuster and the bottleneck in the House Rules Committee.
6. Alter the method of selecting chairmen of Senate and House committees so as to eliminate seniority as the dominant factor in such selection.

Celebrate 25th Year of Red Dot Potato Chip Firm

No longer is the potato chip industry a "small potatoes" operation! Since 1931, this business of slicing, frying, and salting potatoes has increased some 2,000 percent, reaching a total sales figure of over $301,680,000.

Nearly 13 percent of all the potatoes grown now become golden brown potato chips.

According to Courtland Buchanan, Regional Manager of Red Dot Foods, Inc., potato chips consistently outsell such well-known grocery items as cold cereals, canned soups, and canned baby foods. Red Dot has a large plant in Ottumwa, Iowa.

National Average

In addition, the national average per capita consumption of potato chips has reached three and one-half pounds.

Along with the fantastic sales growth of potato chips have come equally gigantic strides in processing and packaging techniques. Potato chips in the 1930's were largely a delicatessen item, retailing in those depression days at about 80 cents a pound. Today, through scientific mass production techniques in processing, packaging, and distribution, a pound of potato chips retails for about 65 cents. Potato chips are one of the few grocery items selling for less money today than during depression years.

25 Years Old

Mr. Buchanan reports that Red Dot Foods, Inc. is celebrating its 25th anniversary in the chip business this year. One of the nation's largest potato chip producers, this midwest firm serves 12 midwestern states.

The only chip company to finance and operate its own potato development and research program, the firm now has about 12,000 acres of potato farm land in Alabama and Wisconsin. Red Dot operates factories at Madison, Rhinelander, and Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Minneapolis, Minnesota; Indianapolis, Indiana; Ottumwa, Iowa, and York, Pennsylvania.

Tells Labor 'New Period Of Violent Lawlessness' Will Weaken Democracy

Long Beach, Calif.—Southern defiance of the Supreme Court decisions on school segregation and attacks upon the NAACP "have ushered in a new period of violent lawlessness which will seriously weaken the whole fabric of American democracy and greatly endanger the organized labor movement," an NAACP official told 1,500 labor delegates here Aug. 16.

Addressing a convention of the California State Federation of Labor, NAACP Labor Secretary Herbert Hill maintained that "defiance of the law by southern states is spreading far beyond that region alone and is debasing the national morality from one end of this country to the other." He cited recent cross burnings before the homes of Chief Justice Earl Warren of the Supreme Court and several U. S. senators.

Trade Union

He warned that White Citizens Councils leaders are anti-labor as well as anti-Negro, pointing to "recent violence against trade union organizers in the South."

The trade union movement, Mr. Hill warned further, "will pay heavily unless it joins with the NAACP and the Negro community in a vigorous battle right now for enforcement of the Supreme Court decisions in the school cases and for full civil rights for Negroes in the South."

"The AFL-CIO will not be able to organize workers in the South ruled by trigger-happy sheriffs and violent mobs," he added. "It does not make much difference whether these mobs are led by the Ku Klux Klan or the White Citizens Councils. The effects are the same."

Mr. Hill urged organized labor to join with the NAACP in a "vigorous struggle" for enactment of civil rights laws. He also called for "more vigorous" civil rights programs by unions.

Miss E. Davis New NAACP Field Secretary

New York.—Miss Serena Elizabeth Davis, an attorney, has joined the staff of the NAACP as a field secretary, it was announced here Aug. 16 by Roy Wilkins, Association executive secretary.

Miss Davis will be assigned to NAACP work in the State of Ohio. Previously, she practiced law in Washington, D. C., and worked with the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Born in Selma, Ala., Miss Davis studied at Howard University and School of Law, and at Georgetown Law School. She is a member of the American Bar Association.

Murray Back from Germany; Brother To Paris, France

At home temporarily with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Murray, 1801 Maple Street, are Donald A. Murray, who returned last April from Germany, after four years of service with the air corps, and Airman Walter D. Murray, who is bound for France after a 30 day leave here. Donald will enter the University of Iowa next month.

During the 18 months Airman Murray was stationed at the Hahn Air Force Base in Laufzenhausen, Germany, he was "running all over Europe," he said.

An outstanding athlete, all the way from East High School, to Drake University and over to Germany, Murray served as track coach at his base and represented the United States, winning trophies in Germany, France, England, Switzerland, Italy, Greece and Belgium.

Liked Travelling

Between track events Murray said he went on sight-seeing tours of Spain and Luxemburg and enjoyed travelling anytime he had an opportunity. His favorite country was Greece because "I had studied much of its history in school."

Murray will enter the State University of Iowa this fall to study for a teaching career, with emphasis on

Governor's Commission Told No Opportunity in Professional Fields Seen

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—In its fifth of a series of hearings around the state to determine the extent of job discrimination against minority groups in Iowa, the governor's commission for study of job bias learned Monday that there is practically no opportunity for Negroes in professional fields in Cedar Rapids.

The first hearing was in Burlington and the next will be Sept. 17 in Ottumwa.

On the basis of its findings, the commission will recommend to the next session of the Iowa Legislature whether a state fair employment practice law should be enacted.

Because of lack of opportunity in employment, there are only four Negro college graduates here, Earl Carr, chairman of human relations committee of Local 3, United Packinghouse Workers said.

Leaving Rapids

Mrs. Abbott Lipsky, president of the Cedar Rapids branch of the American Association of University Women, said:

"It is our feeling that we are wasting the best part of the human resources offered by the Negro segment of our population by not offering them job opportunities which would keep the best of them here."

Mrs. Lipsky cited examples of a Negro medical student, a law school graduate, a teacher and others who left Cedar Rapids to find work.

"These young people do not return to Cedar Rapids because opportunities for employment commensurate with their ability are not available here," she said.

"A few years ago Cedar Rapids took great pride in the fact that a Negro boy was elected by his classmates in one of our high schools to be their representative at Boys State.

Want to Teach

"This boy was elected governor of Boys State. He left Cedar Rapids upon completion of his education. It is doubtful that he will return, for we do not offer the type of opportunities that appeal to a young man of his caliber," Mrs. Lipsky said.

Two Negro women told the commission that they have not been able to get teaching jobs in the Cedar Rapids public schools.

One of them, Mrs. Joyce Mayfield, said she was told "politely but emphatically" that Negro teachers are not employed in the Cedar Rapids public schools.

Mrs. Ernest Roby, who said she has a master's degree and considerable teaching experience, told the commission that Superintendent Clyde Parker and Assistant Superintendent Hale C. Reid have put her off for three years since she first applied for a teaching job.

She now is teaching in Waterloo.

Denies 'Policy'

Mrs. Roby said she concurred that Parker, who she said encouraged her at first, "is not genuine in his interest in opportunities for Negro teachers."

Parker said after the hearing that the Cedar Rapids schools have no policy against hiring Negro teachers. He said Mrs. Mayfield now is on the "supply list" of teachers who could be called to teach.

"If a teacher doesn't get a job, it's

Commencement At Drake Friday

Degrees and certificates will be awarded to approximately 225 persons at Drake University's Summer Session Commencement at 8 p. m. Friday in Drake Stadium.

Main speaker at the event will be J. C. Wright, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. He will speak on "The Future of Education in Iowa."

The Summer Session commencement class includes representatives from ten states, and one foreign nation. A total of 77 advanced degrees will be awarded at the event.

Tickets will not be issued for the event since adequate seating is available in Drake Stadium. In the event of rain at 6 p. m. or later, Commencement will be held in the University Auditorium.

Feels Democrats Rights Compromise Falls Short Of Party's Requirements

Chicago, Ill.—Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, today reiterated the criticism he voiced Aug. 15 of a compromise civil rights plank adopted by the Democratic convention here.

It is evident that Mr. Wilkins feels the compromise plank falls unacceptably short of the requirements for a major political party seeking the nation's votes in 1956.

Passages in the plank dealing with the Supreme Court decision on public school segregation are totally meaningless, the NAACP official said. He pointed out that other passages calling for continued "efforts" by the Democratic party in behalf of other civil rights guarantees now have dropped the 1952 plank's references to federal legislation and thus are a definite step backward.

Ineffective Argument

The compromise plank will not be an effective argument for the votes of those who expect to see equality of citizenship a reality for all Americans in the foreseeable future, Mr. Wilkins indicated.

Compromise on the disputed civil rights plank struck down an amendment carry out the Supreme Court's anti-segregation pledge the Democrats to segregation decisions, without interfering "with the orderly determination of these matters by the courts."

Defeated Amendment

The defeated amendment also asked federal laws to guarantee fair employment, personal security and full voting rights.

The compromise civil rights plank said nothing of implementing the Supreme Court decisions on segregation, and dealt with racial discrimination only in general terms without proposing a specific course of action.

Services Held for Mrs. Marguerite Dyer

Services were held Monday morning at Estes & Son Funeral Home for Mrs. Marguerite Dyer, 64, of 1127 Twelfth Street. Burial was at Glendale Cemetery.

Mrs. Dyer died August 17 at her home. She had been a resident here 47 years.

Born in Decatur, Ill., Mrs. Dyer, a housewife, was a member of Burns Methodist Church.

Surviving are her husband, H. W. Dyer, and a half-sister, Mrs. Hattie Solomon of Muskogee, Okla.

Tasty Summer Treat

"It's truly a treat—first, to eat; and second, to prepare"—that's a fine description of this hearty rice salad. The base is made in minutes with packaged pre-cooked rice, which means little time in the kitchen. Bologna, carrots, peas and pimento give it unique flavor, and for additional goodness it has a garnish of tomato aspic molds and ripe olives. Serve it with crispy bread sticks, a cooling beverage and a favorite dessert. This new entrée salad is a nourishing meal in itself, with plenty of "eye appeal"—yet one that's quick to make. It can happily supply the answer to a luncheon or dinner menu these hot, humid days.

BOLOGNA RICE SALAD
1 1/2 cups packaged pre-cooked rice
1 1/2 cups water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 to 1 1/2 cups mayonnaise
2 teaspoons grated onion
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 pound bologna, cut in cubes
1 cup grated raw carrots
1/4 cup diced pimento
1 1/2 cups cooked peas

Combine rice, water, and 1/2 teaspoon salt in saucepan. Mix until all rice is moistened. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, uncovered, fluffing rice gently once or twice with a fork. (Do not stir.) Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 10 minutes. Then uncover and let cool to room temperature.
About 1 hour before serving, or otherwise, it's back to school Sept. 4.

Iowan Educational Speaker in Wichita

ATTY. H. T. MCKNIGHT

Atty. Henry T. McKnight was the principal speaker Aug. 15 at the 63rd annual session of the Southwestern District Association held at the Tabernacle Baptist Church of Wichita, Kansas, the Rev. U. W. Barron, pastor and Dr. C. Albert Henson, moderator.

Speaking on the subject "Life's Goal, The Top of The Hill", Attorney McKnight told a packed church of delegates and citizens of Wichita that "the road to the top of the hill would be found to be rough, unkept and infested with discouragement, opposition, temptation, disappointment and heartaches," but he added that "heights of great men were not reached by sudden flight, but they while their companions slept were toiling upward in the night."

Attorney McKnight closed his address by reciting "My Creed", by Edgard A. Guest.

Good Samaritan

REMNANTS OF ANCIENT SECT: About 200 of the last remaining members of a unique sect of Samaritan Jews still live peacefully in the town of Nablus, 40 miles north of Jerusalem, in Jordan, one of the Bible Lands. They are strict adherents to one God, believe only in the Pentateuch or first five books of the Old Testament and make three pilgrimages a year to Mt. Gerizim, their sacred mountain, for sacrificial rites. They pitch their tents and carry out ceremonies enjoined upon them since the time of Moses, including the sacrifice of a sheep for each person present. Their Patriarch, dressed in red turban and flowing white surplice, is shown here pointing to the words of the Torah of Law of Moses. The Good Samaritan who came to the rescue of the stranger on the road to Jericho (Luke 10:33) was a member of this sect.

What others are doing—you can do!

The spread of slum blight is everybody's problem. Others are taking effective counter-action. Here is what you can do to protect your own home and community.

Here is what has been done

With five million of our homes outright slums, and twenty million more threatened with decay, the need for action and alertness is acute.

All over America, cities and communities have taken up the fight against housing blight. Individuals first put their own house in order, then work with their neighbors to protect their community. These are but a few of the many examples of how intelligent action stopped slums cold. If you have cause, you can do likewise.

In Maryland: Citizens' efforts resulted in a special Magistrates' Housing Court being established to handle violations of the municipal housing code.

In Illinois: A number of major industrial companies joined Purdue University in a $1,000,000 non-profit foundation for slum clearance and neighborhood rehabilitation.

In Pennsylvania: A local Real Estate Board surveyed every property in town, got 500 substandard units improved, had over 50 slums torn down.

In California: A citizens' committee influenced the city administration to streamline and centralize the city's procedure in handling housing problems.

In Ohio: A citizens' project developed and published one of the first practical guides to conservation of declining neighborhoods, and obtained a charter amendment to establish a City Planning Commission.

Here is what you can do

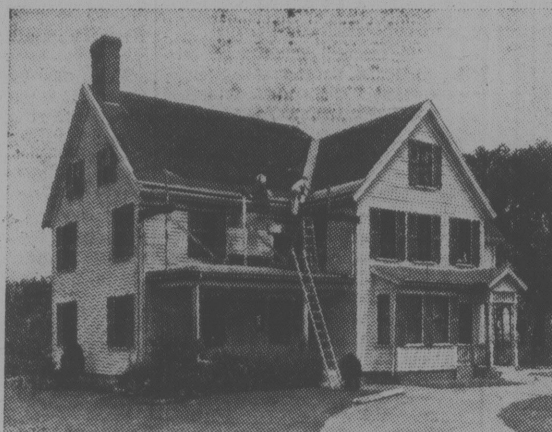

Slums just don't spring up overnight. They are a silent, stealthy enemy that reach out faster and further than you think. From tiny toeholds in one home they spawn and surge outward to ravage entire communities. They thrive on neglect and carelessness. Apathy, ignorance, indifference—these are their strong supports.

Stay on guard, be alert. Remember that no home is an island. Realize that the worth of your property can increase or decrease as your neighborhood improves or declines. By taking pride in your own property, by working with your neighbors for the common good, you help build neighborhood strength and stature. You better your own way of life.

Some slums are beyond repair and must be torn down. Others can be rehabilitated and saved. A wise householder supports the programs which fight substandard housing. An intelligent citizen works with his neighbors to help raise local living standards.

A.C.T.I.O.N. can assist you

The American Council To Improve Our Neighborhoods is a national, non-profit organization which can help you protect your property and neighborhood. It has already assisted many local groups to combat slum growth and attain higher local living standards. Try to get the local facts first. Then, if you need further information, write a letter explaining your specific problem to A.C.T.I.O.N.

Massachusetts: A wise householder plays it safe, protects his property through timely repairs.

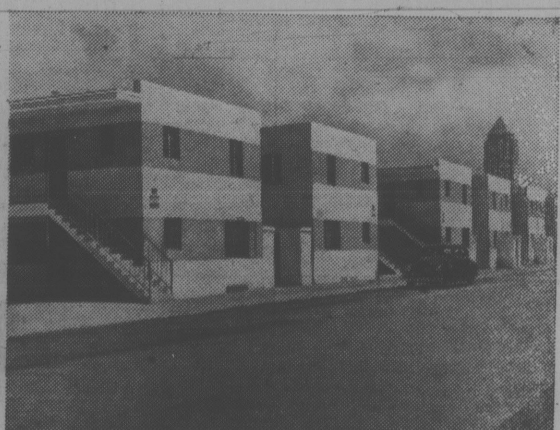

District of Columbia: Community action transforms shabby area into clean, respectable street.

California: City-wide program converts a ramshackle dwelling into a pleasant, desirable home.

Florida: A community program transformed local housing eyesores into handsome, modern homes.

The J. L. McGuires, Jr., of California Entertained on Vacation by Many Friends

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McGuire, Jr., and sons, Kenneth Anthony, 6, and Vernon Andre, 3, of Compton Cal., ended a two-week vacation here this week with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. McGuire, 1101 Eleventh Street.

Mr. McGuire, an architect for the military division of the federal government in Los Angeles, recently motored to Okmulgee, Okla., to join his wife and children who left California in June to spend the summer with their father and grandfather, Dr. W. V. Simpkins.

Among the social courtesies extended the visitors were by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wimberly, dinner; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas

V. (Sonny) Wilson Of Houston, Tex., Shown Courtesies

Mr. Vincent (Sonny) Wilson, proprietor of Vincent's Lounge of Houston, Texas, left Monday after spending several days here at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morris.

A native of Des Moines, Mr. Wilson and family moved to Houston three and one-half years ago. At the time he was employed as a supervisor at Armstrong Rubber Manufacturing Co. He was well known here, also, as a singer and dancer directing his own orchestra.

A past president of Olympian Club, Mr. Wilson was guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinson for breakfast; luncheon guest of the executive of Armstrong Rubber Co., where he had a pleasant visit with the personnel. He was dinner guest of Mr. W. C. Buice, William Bell, A. P. Trotter, and E. Mease at the Cloud Room.

Mr. Wilson drove to Des Moines from Houston with Mr. Quenton Mease, Houston YMCA secretary, and Mr. C. Cunningham, a high school principal.

So much is being said and written this week about San Francisco, with the Republican National Convention in session there, that seven-year-old Brad Morris, the Third, the editor's grandson, who visited there the early part of the summer, decided he would write a few non-political lines entitled "Article by Brad Morris and His Mother."

To speed up matters and dispense with the problem of spelling, Little Brad dictated, the following to his mother:

(In Brad's Words)

"Me and my mother went to California on the train and the name of the train is the 'City of San Francisco.' When the train came through Perry, Ia., Aunt Rosemary was on it and so was my cousin, Cheryl. We had a good time on the train. We rode through the Rocky Mountains and we saw two deer. I liked to eat in the diner on all of the trains.

"We saw palm trees in California while we were on the train. It's the first time I've ever seen palm trees in all my life.

"Aunt Della met us at the train station in Berkeley, Cal. It was a sunny day. My cousin Tony met us at the train and so did Junior.

'Frisco Fire-Fighting'

"I had a good time playing with my cousins in California. One day we went downtown shopping in San Francisco. My mother gave me a dollar to spend and I bought a fire-fighting ship. Here are the directions for making it work:

"You are supposed to put water in the chimney and then there is a trigger (like on a water gun) and you push it. Then water comes out of the nozzle on the hose. I lost it one day on the playground. After we shopped we went to Fisherman's Grotto and ate lunch there. We had a good time.

"One day we went to Golden Gate Park and we went through the aquarium. We saw all kinds of fish, turtles, and alligators. After this we went through the zoo and saw monkeys, tigers, bears, bear cubs, leop-ards, big white birds, elephants, a mother giraffe and a new baby giraffe. Then we went to Playland on the beach and went on rides and to the fun house. After that we rested and ate lunch in Golden Gate Park.

Lots of Boats

"We saw a whole lot of boats at Fishermen's Wharf. We went over the Bay Bridge.

"I went to Bible School for a week and we made a horse and a Christian Flag. I couldn't bring the horse back home because the tail was too long.

"My cousin, Michael Scales, came to Berkeley and stayed for a day.

"On the way home, we stopped and visited my Aunt Eva and Uncle Bill in Salt Lake City. I had lots of ice cream and cake. I had a big piece of cake and couldn't eat it all. I took pictures of Aunt Eva and Uncle Bill and I took a picture of downtown Denver and a mail truck.

"We got back in Des Moines on the Fourth of July on the Rocky Mountain Rocket."

Thanks to Little Brad and his mother for their refreshing article on San Francisco. They have promised to bring back pictures on their next visit to California.

Commenting on her recent vacation to Los Angeles, Mrs. Guy Greene said: "Had I known I could have secured courtesy tickets here from WHO-TV Channel 13, I could have been admitted any day to live television shows in Los Angeles." She revealed that she had to wait in a long line for free tickets there, for an evening show to see "Queen For a Day." "Anyone visiting Los An-

BETTER, BUT LESS THAN EXPECTED

Roy Wilkins, secretary of the NAACP, says the Republican plank on civil rights adopted at San Francisco is a shade better than the one adopted by the Democrats in Chicago. And while it is generally agreed that this observation is correct, undoubtedly neither party was willing to face up to the problem of adding definite moral force back of the U. S. Supreme Court decision on school segregation even though a willful group is carrying a vicious attack against the court.

Of course, politicians are politicians in every sense of the word and in election years their every act is done in the light of the ballot box.

In spite of what the platforms provide, much depends upon the leadership in the white house and the majority in Congress. In 1952, President Eisenhower promised nothing other than the elimination of second class citizenship, but during his administration great progress has been made toward the accomplishment of that end. His great popularity and sincere leadership carried the public along with him, generally.

With the election over, and undoubtedly Mr. Eisenhower will be reelected, a new surge of the effort to further eliminate second class citizenship will be seen and which the country needs in order to do the job.

Even though politicians compromise on human rights, there is no reason for the masses of the people to do likewise. Admittedly, much needs to be done in this field if America is to maintain its place of world leadership. Surely those in high places recognize this situation and will tackle the problem with honesty and integrity.

IMPROVED NEIGHBORHOOD
VITAL TO GOOD NEIGHBORS

In its effort to secure better housing for minorities, the Bystander has always insisted that minorities themselves have a large responsibility to help such a program work.

All kinds of publicity is being given to such a program. Important of which is the work of the American Council to Improve Our Neighborhood, called for short "Action".

Readers of the Bystander will find on page 4 an ad prepared by "Action" and sponsored by the outstanding business institutions listed below. These firms recognize that in order to have a beautiful city, there must be beautiful neighborhoods, beautiful homes and the message is directed toward that purpose.

Here is shown what has been done in other states. Much of it can be done in Iowa. And while under Iowa law low cost public housing is not available, however, the FHA and other lending agencies have been liberal in providing improvement loans and reasonably cost mortgages enabling most people to make such remodeling as is required and/or to finance new homes.

Much of the improvements suggested in this ad can be done by cleaning the neighborhood, keeping rubbish and trash raked up and hauled away, maintaining the yard and alleys in presentable condition, all of which is inexpensive and yet adds much to the beauty of the home and the neighborhood.

More of this excellent publicity will come to the readers of the Bystander in the near future.

Below Capacities

Carr, of the Packinghouse Workers Union, said Negroes are segregated in housing and excluded or made uncomfortable in places of service.

"Worst of all, we hire them at jobs generally below their capabilities," he said.

He gave statistics which he said showed that the percentage of Negroes in every job category here except the most menial is lower than the percentage of whites, in proportion to total employment.

"It's simply the results of discrimination against Negroes," Carr said.

There are fewer than 1,000 Negroes in Cedar Rapids. Commission Member Donald Johnson of West Branch took the witness stand during the hearing to tell the commission that he has written to the commerce associations in states that have fair employment laws, to get their reactions.

He read a letter from the New York (state) Commerce and Industry Association which said that although employers there had misgivings about the law at first, they now are generally favorable toward it. New York's law was enacted in 1945. Johnson said he is "disappointed" that employers haven't appeared at the hearings to defend themselves.

Burlington View

The Commission received a letter from John M. Klein, chairman of the mayor's committee on civic unity at Burlington, saying that committee now endorses fair employment legislation in Iowa, similar to the New York law.

Commission members at the Cedar Rapids hearing were Meyer Levitt, Sioux City, chairman; Richard Bruner, Des Moines, secretary; Dr. Harry Harper, Fort Madison, vice-chairman; Johnson; Mrs. David Krukenier, Jr., Des Moines; State Representative Gladys Nelson (Rep., Newton) and State Senator Arnold Utzig (Dem., Dubuque).

Harriman's Huddles

Columnist Marquis Childs last week charged that Harriman had gone so far "as to call prominent Southerners to strictly private conferences to try to assure them that he was less radical than Stevenson on the race issue." We were unable to reach either Mr. Harriman or Mr. De Sapio to verify this charge. The erstwhile candidate, unlike the others, had no headquarters here, and, of course, was not in New York.

Disaster via Truman

In Chicago, Harriman-to-the-enders, rallied by Mr. Truman, marched through the Coliseum with placards reading "Harriman—advisor to FDR—HST—" while Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt quietly folded her late husband's "mantle" and put it away, with the succinct comment that New Deal and Fair Deal were over, and new and more timely programs in order.

All Should Thank Her

N5 Republicans and few Democrats, other than Mr. Truman, are apt to dispute her on that. In fact, they all have reason to be grateful to her. President Eisenhower is assured, at least, of a worthy adversary, even though "an amazing number of leading Democrats are credited with the view that, in spite of Mr. Stevenson's first-ballot nomination, he has less than a snowball's chance in the ne-ther regions to win against the President.

Boss Truman

We have been in disfavor in many places for many years, because of our extremely dim view of Mr. Truman, his motives and his methods—which was quite all right. Now that he has satisfied himself by attempting to dictate the nomination of a weak and vacillating candidate who would take

HEALTH FOR ALL

The One That Got Away

This summer, when the lucky ones among us will be able to go fishing, "the one that got away" will probably be the most important fish of the season. We take pride in the ones we catch, but we never stop worrying about the fish that escaped us. How big was he anyway?

"The one that got away" can be just as baffling in public health matters as in fishing, particularly when it comes to finding a contagious disease like tuberculosis.

To control a disease like tuberculosis, that is spread from person to person, it is necessary to find people who already have the disease. They must be placed under treatment. This is why the TB associations and health department ask us to have a chest X-ray at least once a year. However, finding a case of TB is only half the battle. What good does it do to find a man with TB if you aren't able to get him to accept treatment until his disease is under control and he no longer can infect his neighbors?

SPORTS

By ALLEN ASHBY

The pennant races grind on. The Yankees, barring a complete collapse, should be in, but that national league race is closer than ninety-nine is to one hundred. Looks as if the Milwaukee Braves have the inside rail and will be hard to beat. Just any number of fans around here are pulling for the Braves to come through. They think they might have a chance to see a Series game or two. But, if the Braves should win tickets will be cheap at twenty-five dollars apiece.

When we were in Milwaukee for that one game, we were impressed by the hustle and confidence of the club. They have that poise that goes with confidence. The Cincinnati team hustled but didn't seem to be as confident or as well poised as the Braves. Oh well, hope that they make it if Brooklyn can't. That Crone is a big guy.

While we were gone, the Hotentots got their lineup in the state softball meet, a couple of Little Leaguers turned in no-hit games and things just generally went on without Yours Truly being missed.

Oh yes, we saw Solly Drake of the Cubs play against St. Louis and the guy is as fast as ever. The reason the Cubs aren't beating too many clubs is the fact they haven't had Baker and Banks in there side by side for a while.

We will watch Althea Gibson in the national and wonder when some man is going to break in. We have a couple who might have at one time. Wonder what happened to Jimmy McDaniel and Schoolboy Mitchell? There may be some more, but we haven't seen them and all we know is what we see.

See you at Burlington Labor Day.

his orders, it may be that "the greatest President since Lincoln" chant will cease. Many fine people joined that chorus—apparently thinking they "owed" him allegiance for going down the line for civil rights mess-ages when there was no other place to go—and have a chance of winning. Even so, along with "FDR" who accomplished much, and also did some "selling down the river," he was politician, first of all.

Could Stevenson Hold the Fort?

The question now, for those, who "stay put" show much higher TB rates than the rest of the population. Health agencies are making special efforts to find the cases to tuberculosis among these groups, but they are faced with some special problems. For example, X-raying of prisoners is done in some communities, but a prisoner may have been released from prison and left the community before a follow-up of the X-ray findings is possible. Similarly, persons without fixed residence who participate in X-ray surveys may disappear before the state of their health can be determined.

The American people can take great pride in each case of tuberculosis found and treated, but it's the one that gets away that keeps us from feeling complacent about our progress against the disease. He can hurt more than our pride—he can destroy his own health and spread

Disappointed in Children's Reaction
To New Toys: Accept Child's Perspective

Father came home from work looking smug. Announcing that he had brought a surprise for their three-year-old Jimmy; he led his wife to the car, where she found the most beautiful child's wagon she had ever seen. She gasped. "It's marvelous! But wasn't it expensive—and is he big enough to handle such a nice one?"

Father replied, "I never had a new wagon, and I never stopped wanting one. I promised myself that some day, no matter what, my boy would have a good one."

They brought the wagon out and called their son. He danced around it, approaching it and backing away as if he thought it was too lovely to be true. Just then the phone rang and father ran in to answer it, after urging his son to try the wagon.

Tugs at Handle

The boy tugged at the handle, but succeeded only in overturning the wagon. He immediately sat down on the bottom and began to pretend that he was driving a truck, using one of the front wheels as a steering wheel and making what he thought were the noises of a powerful machine. When father came out, he dashed down the steps, shouting, "No! No! That's not what it's for. Here, I'll show you how to use it."

Jimmy had to be wrenched away from the "steering wheel." The sidewalk-sloped, and Jimmy was not quite strong enough to pull the wagon up the hill, nor strong enough to keep when he tried taking it down hill. The wagon from bumping into his legs. Soon he abandoned the wagon, and an exasperated father stalked into

We are convinced that this answer is "No."

A LOAF OF BREAD
Freedom's symbol everywhere could be a loaf of bread. Enough for every living soul for whom our Saviour bled. Hunger is the cruel club oppressors always use to beat the populace in line keep famine on the loose. A loaf of bread for everyone that lives upon this earth would break the walls of slavery and man would know rebirth. With rebirth, talent would be used to banish every dread. So all the troubles, on the globe swing on a loaf of bread.

Members of Cosmetiste Clubs Attend
National Beauty Culturists Convention

The Cosmetistic Clubs numbers 1 and 2 were well represented in Detroit, Mich., at the National Beauty Culturists League convention from July 30th to August 9. Des Moines operators who attended were: Pauline B. Humphrey, Dora Elva Mackay, Ruth Cole, Mildred Duke, Dorothy Taylor and Leona Southers. Members there from Waterloo were Louise Whitehead, Alice Martin and Joy Laurence.

The first week of the convention was taken up with the National Institute held from July 30 to August 5. Graduates from this institute were: Ruth Cole, Joy Laurence, Alice Martin and Louise Whitehead.

Pauline Humphrey was on the institute faculty. Dorothy Taylor completed her freshman year. Leona Southers, Dora Elva Mackay and Mildred Duke also attended the institute.

Graduation

Graduation ceremonies for the institute were held at the Veterans memorial building. Congressman C. Diggs gave the commencement address.

During institute week, a tour was made to Windsor and Amesburg Canada. A banquet in honor of the N.B.C.L. officers was held at the Prince Albert Hotel. Mrs. Humphrey attended. Government officials of Canada were hosts at this affair. The annual emancipation week was being celebrated in Windsor at this time. The institute was invited to participate in the National Sepia beauty contest. Iowa was represented by Mesdames Humphrey and Duke.

Hair Styling

In the National Hair Styling Guild of which Mrs. Humphrey is a member Mr. Londoras of Olivia's Beauty House in New York City was guest instructor. Exceptional hair styling, cutting, coloring and shaping were his features. Tinting awards were given by the Clairol Company, were received by Ruth Cole, and Dora Elva Mackay. The hair styling show was held at the Latin Quarter.

The convention proper convened on August 5 and continued through August 9. The president's banquet was held on August 5 honoring Mrs. Cordelia Green Johnson at the Sheraton-Cadillac hotel. Tokens from all the states were given her to be taken on the voyage to Europe.

Other convention highlights included the annual Polio breakfast. The principal speaker was C. Bynum from the National Polio office.

NAACP Breakfast

The NAACP breakfast was held with Marion Stewart from the National office in New York as guest speaker, Cottie Lucas and Alice Martin served as co-chairmen for the NAACP and Polio committees. They were able to submit a favorable report for Iowa.

The Revlon company provided a speaker who gave highlights on merchandising and promotion. He was Mr. Robert R. Hoffman, vice president.

Mr. Marcus Grigin of Washington D. C. who has the largest Beautyrama in the District of Columbia, a 24-hour shop, spoke on "Our Place in the Business World."

Political Parties

Representatives from the Republican and Democratic parties were present. Mrs. Hatcher represented the Democrats and Mrs. Thelia Murphy represented the Republican party. They took part in the Political action and Civil rights discussion.

Mrs. Humphrey was re-elected to serve in the capacity of vice president. She is also one of the "Chosen One Hundred" who serve the institute. She also received an award for service to the organization and civic affairs.

Former Iowans

Iowa representatives were entertained by former Iowa residents, Mrs. Margaret Patton and Mrs. Hortense Peters and others.

Operators from Iowa have returned to the state determined to renew effort to serve their district to the best of their ability and to make their profession all that it should be, said Mrs. Humphrey.

Cosmetistic Clubs 1 and 2 will immediately start to work on the plans for their fall clinic at which time the public and other operators who were unable to attend the convention get to see and receive the value of knowledge acquired there.
