Crocker YMCA's 'Boy of the Year' Is All-Star Baseball Player in Babe Ruth League

EDWARD C. CARTER

Highlighting the open house activities Wednesday night at Central YMCA, during the observance of National YMCA Week, was the presentation of an award, a trophy to Crocker YMCA branch's "Boy of the Year," Edward C. Carter, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur C. Carter, 1114 Twelfth Street. He was one of the three boys named this year.

Carter, an athlete who "has a way with younger boys, is chairman of the program committee of the Ambassador Boys' Club at Crocker, where he works many hours supervising the game room and operating the movie projector—jobs which carry a small pay.

Percy Parker Found Innocent; Defended By Twin Brother

Percy Paul Parker, 37, of 2926 Easton Boulevard, was found innocent Thursday, Jan. 24, on a charge of driving while intoxicated, by a municipal court jury.

Parker—who was defended by his twin brother, William, a Waterloo attorney—was arrested June 24 after police said his car was involved in an accident at Pennsylvania and University avenues.

Patrolman Harlan Speck testified Parker's car was gone when he got to the accident but that he trailed the car by tire "rim marks" on the paving to Second avenue and Walnut street.

Flat Tire

Speck said he found Parker trying to remove a flat tire. He said Parker's alcohol blood test showed 304 percentage points as compared to 150 deemed necessary to prove intoxication. Speck said Parker told him he drove the car.

Parker testified he had drunk "three or four highballs" at the Elks Club and that a man—whose name

Famed Chapel at Tuskegee Institute Guttled by Fire During Electrical Storm

Tuskegee Institute, Ala.—The Tuskegee Institute Chapel caught fire near midnight Tuesday, January 22, and was completely destroyed.

Cause of fire was not immediately determined, however, the first alarm was sounded from a nearby dormitory for women, during the height of a severe electrical storm.

The fire spread so rapidly that fire fighting equipment was of little use. In addition to the Institute Volunteer fire squad and the fire department from the city of Tuskegee, the Veterans Administration Hospital Fire Department joined in keeping flames from spreading to other buildings.

Deplores Loss

Dr. L. H. Foster, President of Tuskegee Institute, deplored the loss and expressed hope that the structure can be rebuilt at an early date.

Although the Chapel was partially insured it will be impossible to duplicate much of the fine old timber and hand work of the original. Dr. Foster said that the Chapel, located in the heart of the campus, was a place of worship and a center for many cultural activities shared by students, faculty, community friends, and visitors from all over the world. It had become as much a symbol of Tuskegee Institute as the Booker T. Washington monument.

The Chapel was designed by the late Robert R. Taylor, a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology who served as Director of Mechanical Industries and as vice president under Dr. R. R. Moton. Ground was broken for the structure on March 20, 1896 and it was built largely by students under faculty supervision. It was completed in 1898.

It was built in the form of a Greek Cross. Its extreme dimensions were 154 x 106 feet. It had a seating capacity of 2,500.

The Chapel was a gift of Misses Olivia and Carolina Phelps-Stokes of New York.

Urban League Director Hails Conference on Youth Training Incentives

Washington, D. C.—The Youth Training-Incentives Conference, scheduled in Washington on February 4, will be one of the most important national conferences on job training of youth in recent years, according to Lester B. Granger, executive director of the National Urban League and one of the principal speakers at the conference.

The meeting of superintendents of public and parochial schools, business, labor and civic leaders from 16 metropolitan areas and specialists from other cities was called by the President's Committee on Government Contracts, which is concerned with the elimination of racial and religious discrimination in employment.

Wider Variety

The group will discuss methods of motivating the youth of minority groups to train themselves for the wider variety and greater number of opportunities for skilled employment now opening to them.

"New and wider employment opportunities have been available to Negro and other minority youth in recent years, but it has been difficult to find persons qualified to fill many of these jobs," Mr. Granger pointed out. "One important reason for this shortage is the fact that information about these opportunities and the training required to fill them has not reached the students and their parents," he added.

More Information

"It is equally important that the youth have more information about the new and developing opportunities that will be waiting for them when they complete their education," Mr. Granger said.

"Minority youth have had little incentive in the past to prepare for skilled and technical work, because jobs demanding these skills were not available to them," he continued. "If those who are in a strategic position to change old and traditional employment patterns are now to discuss ways of helping these youth prepare for broadened opportunities, this is encouraging indeed."

"This conference will bring together representatives of institutions

Wilkins Tells of Terror, Intimidations 'Without Rebuke' from President

Atlanta, Ga.—A South of fear-ridden whites and persecuted Negroes, neither of whom are free from thugs bent on dynamiting, shooting and cross-burning carried on without fear of punishment, was described here by Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary.

The tone of Mr. Wilkins' address, made before a meeting of the Atlanta NAACP branch on Jan. 23, was grave. He deplored President Eisenhower's silence on violence in the South.

"The wave of terror and intimidation that has swept sections of the South in recent weeks without rebuke from our President or from state or local official is a reproach to our nation and to human decency," the NAACP official declared.

Drought Area

Referring to Mr. Eisenhower's personal visit to the Southwest drought area, Mr. Wilkins said: "The soil in the drought area gets the personal attention of our President, but the human beings in the Dixie Disaster belt do not receive a reply to their appeal. They ask only that he speak out from his high office against lawlessness and violence."

And again, Mr. Wilkins said of the President: "Just a few days before the Nov. 6 election, Mr. Eisenhower spoke in Philadelphia and declared, 'There can be only one law, or there will be no peace.' He was speaking of the Middle East unrest, but his words could apply as well to the entire unrest in some parts of the South."

Of the total southern situation, the NAACP officer declared that "if ever there was a time when evil-doers seemed to have the upper hand, that time is now."

Southern Whites Not "Free"

"Most white people in the South are not free today," he maintained. "They are not free to speak, to write, to assemble, or to petition. They are on the brink of being unable to think their own thoughts. Their ministers are not free to preach unless their sermons uphold segregation. Even those who believe

Montgomery Leader's Home Bombed Again; City Called 'Dangerous' One

Montgomery, Ala.—A second attempt to blow up the home of the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., missed Sunday but another Negro's home was bombed in a new outbreak of racial violence.

Twelve sticks of dynamite wrapped around a metal tube were tossed on the porch at the home of King, a leader in the long and bitter fight against segregation. But the bomb failed to explode.

3 Hurt by Blast

However, another bomb tossed between a nearby Negro house and a service station damaged both buildings. Two Negro taxicab drivers and a third employee at the cab company's headquarters in the service station suffered cuts.

King, 28, a Baptist minister, and members of his family were away from home at the time. The pro-integration leader said he hasn't occupied the white frame residence "for some time."

Another

The bombing was another in a series of outbreaks of violence which began shortly after segregation was ended on Montgomery city buses Dec. 21 under a federal court order. Buses have been ambushed with gunfire six times and a young Negro woman passenger was shot in both legs. Four Negro churches and the homes of two pro-integration ministers were damaged heavily by dynamite explosions Jan. 10.

$2,000 Reward

Mayor W. A. Gayle said the city commission decided Sunday to offer a $2,000 reward for "any information bombs." After the Jan. 10 bombing.

Reveal Extraordinary Recruiting Tactics by Kansas to Get 'The Stilt'

New York—An army of recruiters was used by the University of Kansas to obtain 7-foot tall Wilt ("The Stilt") Chamberlain, the nation's top college basketball player, it was disclosed today in the current (January 28th) issue of LIFE Magazine.

Sought after by a hundred colleges, the onetime schoolboy whiz from Philadelphia's Overbrook High School was lured to Kansas by a highly organized effort utilizing influential Kansas Negroes, educators and businessmen. Commanding the operations to secure the talents of the basketball prospect of the century was Dr. Forrest C. ("Phog") Allen, longtime Kansas basketball coach. When asked by LIFE what he used to recruit Chamberlain, Allen replied: "Of course I used everything we had to get him. What do you think I am, a Sunday School teacher?"

Successful Kansas Negroes

Coach Allen admits that what proved key to getting Chamberlain away from other basketball-famed colleges, notably Indiana, was showing Wilt "how successful the Negro was in Kansas." Extremely helpful to Allen in the recruiting efforts were prominent Kansas Negro graduates: journalist Dowdall Davis, general manager of the Kansas City Call; concert singer Etta Moten, and businessman Lloyd Kerford.

In the spring of 1955 a stream of letters, visitors and phone calls flowed into Philadelphia telling Wilt that the University of Kansas was the place for him. Finally, Phog Allen himself showed up to charm leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone who has thrown Chamberlain's mother, "I always Season's In For Ham 'n' Yams!

"Pretty-perfect" for a party... this fine way to use up left-over mashed potatoes and bits of ham which results in gourmet eating! And, with the Louisiana yam season at its height, you'll get peak enjoyment too, in these easy-to-make, and easy-to-serve yam rings. With the delicate flavor of maple-blended syrup enhancing the yams, you can be sure of requests for second helpings. So better not depend upon having "left-overs." Better double the recipe, in fact!

HAM AND MUSHROOMS IN YAM RINGS

1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons butter, melted
2 cups mashed cooked Louisiana yams
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 1/2 cup Log Cabin Syrup
1 1/2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1 cup diced cooked ham
Combine egg, 2 tablespoons milk, and 2 tablespoons melted butter. Add to mashed yams. Mix well. Add salt, pepper, and maple-blended syrup and mix until well blended. Shape yam mixture into rings on greased baking sheet, using a pastry bag or spoon. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit) 20 minutes, or until delicately browned.

Meanwhile, saute mushrooms in 3 tablespoons of butter until browned and tender. Add flour, mixing to a smooth paste. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture is thickened. Add ham and heat thoroughly. Serve creamed mixture in center of each yam ring. Makes 6 servings.

Centennial Year For the Borden Milk Company

January marks the beginning of the Centennial year for one of the country's largest dairies, The Borden Company, according to Max Lamb, general manager of Borden's Hi-Lan Dairy.

In 1857 at Burrville, Connecticut, Gail Borden founded the New York Condensed Milk Company, which later became The Borden Company. Gail Borden has been a surveyor and a newspaper publisher before turning his attention to developing a process for condensing milk.

The Des Moines branch of The Borden Company, Borden's Hi-Lan Dairy, marked the opening of Borden's Centennial Year with a dinner-dance January 10 at the Hotel Savary. About 250 Borden employees, wives and husbands were present.

1/2 cup heavy sour cream
1 tablespoon grated orange rind

Difficult to Measure Exact Amount Of Influence of Father or Mother

Many older persons remember vividly the influence of a beloved father in their childhood. Others remember a mother more vividly.

It is very difficult to measure the exact amount of influence either a father or mother has on a child, though there have been many studies which have shown that both parents influence profoundly the child's developing personality.

It is certainly true that fathers and mothers have different kinds of influence. How much they have depends to a considerable extent on the kinds of attitudes they show toward the children. The number of hours that a parent spends with a child is not the important thing; it is what he does with those hours.

An amusing anecdote was told about his eight-year-old daughter by a father who had been away from home a great deal and had begun to feel that his daughter really didn't or even think about him very much. He was beginning to get a little depressed about the situation and felt as if he were hardly a member of the family any more.

Daddy's Picture

Then one night he laughed uproariously at a cartoon in the evening paper. His daughter said nothing, but the next morning when he came down to breakfast, he found that she had clipped out the cartoon and put it up in one corner of the family bulletin board. On it, in her funny little printing, she had written, "Daddy's Picture."

The father said he felt better right away on seeing that scrawl, since the children had not made much outward manifestation of their affection for him, they were terribly interested in everything he did and were very anxious to participate as much as possible.

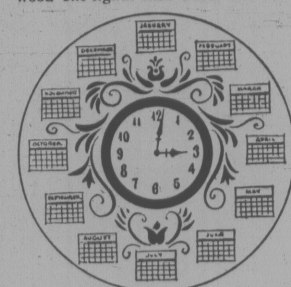

These children were much more talkative with their mother and played with her much more. Nevertheless, it was clear that the father's Collar the Clock!

PUTTING a collar on the average kitchen timepiece will brighten up the clock wall and make it both attractive and more useful.

Lay the clock on a piece of paper and trace its outline. Transfer the drawing, by means of carbon paper, to a panel of Masonite Tempered Presdwood one-eighth inch thick. The material should be large enough to allow for the sawing of a "collar" to fit around the clock.

The center of the "collar" may be cut out with a coping or similar-type saw. To get the blade started, insert it in a hole bored near and inside the line marking the outline of the clock.

Shape of the clock will determine whether the outer edge of the "collar" is round, square or hexagonal. The distance between the clock and the outer edge of the Presdwood should range from four to six inches, depending on the size of the clock and the amount of wall space available.

Friction ordinarily will keep the "collar" in position, flat against the wall at the back of the clock, but if the sawing has been irregular and the border is loose, insert small pieces of wood to take up the slack.

Arranged in clockwise order around the clock's new border may be glued the leaves from a small calendar. The ingenious homemaker can decorate the clock in various ways.

attitudes and interests were being very carefully noted and very likely he was having a good deal more influence than either he or the children suspected.

Six Sons of the John Youngs in St. Paul in Barber Business

St. Paul, Minn.—Six sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Young, Sr., of 1120 Mackubin Street, operate the Young Brothers' Barber Shop, one located in South Minneapolis and the other in North Minneapolis, and prospects of another in St. Paul.

The brothers began a barber business in 1948 by Sylvester "Chubby." After working in other shops for two years as an apprentice, he opened Chubby's Barber Shop.

Following in line were Merle, Fred, Johnny, Richard and Raymond, all graduates of Moler Barber College of Minneapolis.

"Chubby" got the idea of going into business after he began cutting the hair of his father, brothers, sons and "the neighborhood kids." He decided it should make a profitable business, since other opportunities then were limited.

The Young brothers are the nephews of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Brodus of 1026 Twelfth Street, Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. John Young, the parents, also have three daughters. Left to right in photo are: Freddie, Richard, Merle, Chubby, Raymond and John.

With DOLORES CALVIN

New York City—(Calvin News Service)—NO CROWDS FOR KING COLE PACKAGE... It certainly was not the fact that the stage at the Paramount Theatre was not loaded with talent—for the one week only engagement which brought back the good ole days when stage shows going hand in hand with movies were "the thing." As we say, it wasn't the talent as each of the headliners have sold thousands of records of hit songs annually...

There was Ella Fitzgerald, who has lightened her hair most effectively—Nat King Cole, whose current style is singing as a single more so than as a group leader—and last but not least, Count Basie, whose rotund figure still fits neatly in those expensive silk-looking suits... You'd think that at long last, with a treat like this, the doors would be jammed to the bursting point—fans would even be hanging from the chandeliers as they almost did for Elvis Presley—and he wasn't even appearing in person—just on the Paramount screen...

But alas, there was no line outside (perhaps 15 degree weather was the reason)—no line inside (it was warmer there)—and certainly no terrific enthusiasm—not even the usual whistles and clamor for encores these stars get practically everywhere else...

Why—we'd like to know—has the public changed to towards the idea of stage shows, yet in the same breath, they have been longing for such a delicious package as the Paramount presented... It was a two for one—two attractions for the price of one—with even a lure of a 95c price before 10 a.m., $1.25 before noon and so on. With prices all along Broadway the same for one picture only, you might have been tempted to make easy money and expect a stampede—if so, alas you were wrong. The public now seems to be so geared to the trend of no more stage shows—they perhaps couldn't believe the bill... At any rate, we are sorry it was cancelled out what could be now, as once, a lucrative deal... The Apollo Theatre, in Harlem, remains the only mecca for showpeople left where stage shows are "the thing"—yet the movie is usually so ancient there is no comparison between the uptown and downtown "packages", being the downtown ones feature new, if not always good, movies... The entitled to receive from the surplus or net profits of the Corporation, cumulative dividends of five per cent per annum on each $100.00 share of capital stock; payment of cumulative dividends (as set out in Paragraph "b" hereinabove); the balance of the assets, if any, shall be distributed among the holders of common stock, pro rata.

4. The corporate period of this Corporation commenced on December 12, 1956, and is to be in existence for twenty years thereafter.

5. The business affairs of this Corporation are to be managed by its Board of Directors which shall consist of not less than one nor more than seven persons to be fixed by the By-Laws of the Corporation or by the stockholders at an annual meeting. The Board of Directors shall be elected by the holders of the majority of common stock entitled to vote at the annual meeting for the election of Directors. Until the first annual meeting of the stockholders to be held on the second Tuesday of March, 1957, at 10:00 A. M., and until their successors are elected and qualified, the following shall constitute the Board of Directors:

M. J. Blond, Granger, Iowa; Raymond J. Blond, Granger, Iowa; A. F. Miller, Polk City, Iowa; W. C. Miller, Polk City, Iowa.

The Officers of this Corporation shall be elected at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors for a term of one year, which shall be held each year immediately following the regular annual meeting of the stockholders on the second Tuesday of March each year. The Officers of this Corporation shall be a President, one or more Vice Presidents, a Secretary, and a Treasurer, and such other officers as shall be provided for in the By-Laws. The officers shall manage the affairs of the Corporation under the direction of the Board of Directors. Until the first annual meeting of the Board of Directors on the second Tuesday in March, 1957, and until their successors are elected and qualified, the following shall be Officers:

President, M. J. Blond; Vice President, Raymond J. Blond; Secretary, W. C. Miller; Treasurer, A. F. Miller.

6. The first regular annual meeting of the stockholders of this corporation for the year 1957 and all subsequent annual meetings of the stockholders of this corporation, are to be held annually in Polk City, Iowa, on the second Tuesday of March of each year. If such second Tuesday of March is a legal holiday, the meeting shall be held on the next succeeding day which is not a holiday.

7. The private property of the stockholders, Directors and Officers of this Corporation shall be exempt from corporate debts, obligations and all liabilities, except the exception of Article XI, may be amended at any annual meeting of the stockholders or any special meeting called for the purpose of sixty percent of all the shares of common stock then outstanding, entitled to vote, voting for such amendment by amendments.

We really feel for Sandy Saddler who had to hang up his gloves because there is a chance of blindness if he continues to fight... Sandy, just 30, is so wrapped up in fighting...

As he says himself: "It's the only thing I know"... which should make youngsters starting out realize how important it is to latch on to a trade or profession or business other than boxing—so as when the end comes, it can be a delightful switch into a new career, a la Jackie Robinson, not a mournful reproach.

Sandy, at 30, could well finance himself to a new career without the hazards of tragedies of the fight game—providing he's handled his finances properly...

The Trinidadian, a new club which was open in the midtown area, featuring calypso music, having union difficulties... With pressure put on Internal Revenue by lawyers for top name stars to allow them to incorporate themselves (which amounts to 52%) instead of paying individual taxes (which can amount to 91%)—stars such as Nat King Cole, Sarah Vaughn, etc. could be greatly aided with income tax worries if such a ruling is made...

Rented or borrowed films offer interesting entertainment for the family. They are available in a wide variety of subjects.

Show Professionally-Made Movies at Home

We always thought it's a good idea to rent professionally-made movies to show at home when you are entertaining. We've talked about it before and marveled at the wide range of subject matter covered by the films which you can get on a rental basis.

But we didn't know until recently just how smart this is considered socially. A friend of ours showed us something in one of the top women's fashion magazines that really proved how right we've been all the time. It was an article telling what kind of clothes a woman in an exclusive suburban New York area wears on various occasions. And it showed a dress for wearing when friends or neighbors invite her to drop in for the evening to see a film they've rented to show at home! The article went on to point out how popular this idea has become in the modern way of living.

Of course, we aren't going to suggest that you wear any particular type of clothing for viewing films—but we do want to remind you that there are so many wonderful movies available, both from an entertainment and educational standpoint, that it's a shame not to take advantage of them.

If you don't have a projector, it is usually fairly easy to borrow or rent one. The movies you show with it can be used to amuse the family on a rainy weekend, to fascinate young guests who come to play, and provide an enjoyable evening for your adult friends.

Personal Touch

By

ROSS

The men and boys in, out, around and "above" the city seem to have crashed the spotlight of news activities this week.

If you were in Des Moines Tuesday from noon on until about 4 p.m., you will understand the meaning of "above the city"; for the young man in the stolen airplane who gave the citizens an airplane thriller and chiller as he dusted treetops, building tops, and even the gold on the Statehouse Dome, certainly piloted himself into state and national prominence, regardless of the consequences.

The Loop in downtown Des Moines, one of the favored paths of the wild flying, was one of the hottest spots, as the student pilot played hide-and-seek and tag around and above the buildings, swooping down to wave at the crowds who pointed, waved, and fled as his plane neared them.

From north and west windows at my desk, I could see his plane go and come; and, hear the drone of the engine. That didn't bother me much as I tried to work. I listened to the radio news reports: "He's up the river again . . . he's heading west . . . he's crossing Walnut . . . he's flying very low . . . he's actually lower than the tree tops . . . once again he's heading towards the downtown section . . . he's flying down Locust Street . . . he's heading towards the Capital . . . there he goes . . . he's smiling . . . he's coming down Locust Street again . . ."

He seemed to like Locust Street so well that I decided to leave—and I went home until I heard the newscasters say that the pilot had crash-landed in an open field, outside of the city limits, in West Des Moines. Then I returned to Locust Street and resumed my work at my desk. What an afternoon!

In the office this week was one of the prominent mid-year graduates, James Thomas, who received many honors during his high school career at East. Aside from the many awards he won in athletics, his place on the honor roll, the highlight of his school career came during his junior year, in 1955 when he represented Des Moines at an international YMCA meeting in Paris, France.

Congratulating him, someone in the office remarked that "East High seems to be getting all of the honor this year." Thomas smiled, and rushed out. He had plans to go to Drake University to check some courses he wants to study while completing

The R. L. Ligans Re-Marry After 33 Years of Separation

Reunited in marriage here Saturday, Jan. 18, were Mrs. Goldie Bell Ligon of Chicago, Ill., and her former husband, Robert L. Ligon, 700 S. E. Twenty-Third Court.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph Gaines, pastor of St. John Baptist Church, at the home of the bridegroom, in the presence of immediate members of the family.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hawkins, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, and her brother, Sylvester Miller; Mr. and Mrs. Estell Ligon, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom. The couple has a daughter Mrs. Leola Ligon, who has resided in Chicago with her mother.

The couple was divorced here 33 years ago. He remarried; and, his second wife died last year.

She is a former Bethel AME member, and he affiliated with St. John Baptist Church.

Hilltop Tennis Club Entertains at Hardaway Home

On Saturday evening, January 26, through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Rozenting Hardaway, the Hilltop Tennis Club entertained the following guests at their home: Mrs. Ethel Burrell, Mrs. Arlene Graves, Mrs. Ethel May, Mrs. Evelyn Smart, Mr. Sylvester Strothers and Mrs. Ernestine Tindrell.

Mr. Hardaway, one of the three remaining charter members of the Hilltop Tennis Club, showed interesting slides of previous club parties and tournaments. He also showed slides taken when he and the family vacationed in the West.

Other entertainment was in the form of whist and group games like "Snap" and "The Preacher's Cat." The evening was highlighted when Mr. Everett Mays, president of the Hilltop Tennis Club, presented his daughter Evanette (also a member of the club) with a surprise birthday cake and a beautiful necklace and earring set. Refreshments were served.

Other club members present were: Morton Graves, Marion Myers, Leonard Rife, Kizzie Strothers and Philip Tindrell. At the end of the party the president reminded the members of the coming events, like the club dance, the annual tennis tournament, inter-city matches, and the trip to Ohio for the National Tennis Tournament.

Esther S. Myers is Secretary.

plans to enter a men's university at Middletown, Conn., next fall.

All of the honor this week does not go to East High. North High School is in the picture with a "Boy-of-the-Year," in the person of Edward Cecil Carter, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Carter of 1114 Twelfth Street, who was given a trophy as Crocker YMCA's candidate.

In naming Carter as Crocker Branch YMCA's "Boy of the Year," James F. Dixon, executive secretary, wrote the following letter to the National YMCA Week Committee:

"It is a pleasure for Crocker Branch of the Des Moines YMCA to submit this letter of nomination for Edward Cecil Carter, age 16, as our candidate for 'Y Boy of the Year.'"

"A 10-B student at North Des Moines High School, Edward maintains average grades. His favorite subjects are English and biology. He is looking forward to pursuing a degree in either physical education or social work in college. Edward is a member of the Boys Glee Club and also participates actively in his school's athletic program. Last fall, he was first string left-halfback on North's sophomore football team and the leading scorer with eight touchdowns and thirteen points after touchdowns for a total of 61 points. Edward is presently a first string guard on the sophomore basketball team and the team's leading scorer with a 22 points per game average."

"While attending Washington Irving Junior High School, he was active in the Hi-Y program serving as chaplain and sports captain. He also served as sports captain of his home-room."

"The past two summers our candidates participated in the Babe Ruth Baseball League being selected to the All-Star Team both years. Last year he led the American League in batting with a .479 average."

"Edward has been a member of Crocker Branch YMCA for six years."

To Play With Des Moines Symphony

Selected From 45 Entrants

Four Drake University students from among 45 entrants were chosen Saturday, Jan. 26, to appear with the Des Moines Symphony Orchestra in its spring concert.

Joseph Hardy, Kansas City, Mo., concert violinist, teacher and former concert-master of Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra, judged the day-long auditions at Hoyt Sherman Place.

Hardy said it was most difficult in many cases to make a decision. "There is a wealth of talent here today," he said.

He also said in some cases the difficulty of the composition performed was a factor in the choice.

For the first time one entrant was a double winner.

Marianne Schneider, 23, daughter of Mrs. Miriam Schneider, 710 Fillmore street placed first in voice and composition.

The other winners were:

Piano: John Myles, 17, Kansas City, Mo.

Strings: Janice Richards McCoy, 19, of 1067 Twenty-first street, violin. Brass: and woodwinds: Toby Abramson Caplan, 20, of 1700 1/2 North-west drive, flute.

Each will appear as soloist with the orchestra at 4 p.m. Mar. 17 at Hoyt Sherman Place. Frank Noyes, head of Drake's violin department, will conduct.

Sings "Asie"
Miss Schneider, studying for her masters degree in music, sang "Asie" from the song cycle Scherezade by Ravel. Her composition was "The Magnificat" for orchestra and voice.

Mrs. Caplan and Miss Schneider both teach in the music preparatory department at Drake.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex A. Abramson of Los Angeles, Cal., Mrs. Caplan is a Drake junior. She has studied nine years. She played "Fantasy Concerto" by William Latham.

Studied 14 Years

Myles, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Myles, of Kansas City, has studied music 14 years. A Drake sophomore,

Mothers March Friday For Polio Contributions

An estimated 5000 women will make their annual Mother's March of Dimes from six to eight o'clock on Friday evening, February 1, Mrs. Paul Hahn, chairman of the March said here.

All marching mothers will be identified by a badge which says "Special Representative for Mother's March" and, in addition to soliciting March of Dimes funds, they will carry information relative to the importance of having all citizens under 40 years of age vaccinated with Salk Vaccine, the chairman advised.

Not Licked

Pointing out that "polio isn't licked" in Des Moines, Mrs. Hahn said that just three of the several hundred cases benefitted by March of Dimes contributions have received over $122,000 in care and rehabilitation allotments and that this care will need to be continued. Over $26,000 was spent in Polk county on patient care in 1956, Mrs. Hahn explained.

NO POWELL AMENDMENT;
NO SCHOOL BILL

President Eisenhower has renewed his request to Congress for the passage of an aid to education bill for the states. The measure calls for the appropriation of 1.6 billion dollars over a period of four years distributed on the basis of need.

Unfortunately—and this is of their own choosing—some states are far behind the accepted standard of education. Some of that inadequacy may be traced to the almost complete stoppage of construction during the war; some to the shift of many teachers to other fields of activity where pay was more lucrative; some to the smaller number of teachers which were graduated during and immediately after the war.

President Eisenhower made this same request of the 84th Congress. An amendment was proposed by Rep. Powell of New York which would deny funds to those states or school districts which failed to abide by the U. S. Supreme Court school segregation decision. However, the share they would receive would be placed in a fund to be turned over when the schools were integrated. A combination of opponents for this and other reasons blocked its passage.

At the time the Bystander favored the Powell amendment. It has not changed its views in the least. In fact, it is more convinced than ever that the federal government should not go any further in its support of schools that thumb their noses at the courts and the law and refuse to obey them.

The Negro is sick and tired of using his tax money to further keep him in the status of second class citizenship. Of course, he has been doing it for years in states where segregation prevails; he has done it with taxes he has paid the federal government for years where grants are already being made for study and research in agriculture, industry, and science. But this should not be a license to extend the practice any further when the federal government is supposed to be putting a stop to it.

President Eisenhower is working hard for peace and democracy among nations. He might as well spend some of that energy and money for peace and democracy at home. Surely, public officials cannot continue to close their eyes and ears to the mistreatment of Negroes in the South for trying to assert the simple rights guaranteed by the United States constitution when so much concern is being shown to people across the sea to whom we owe no obligation other than that of trying to maintain peace among nations and save our hides from attack and destruction by other nations.

The Bystander supports Rep. Powell in this position and every red blooded American, black and white, should do likewise. America can have nothing but anarchy as long as it tolerates that attitude toward law and order which some have shown on the school segregation question. The school aid bill without the Powell amendment helps to perpetuate such conduct.

NAACP NEEDS
ADDITIONAL FINANCES

Jackie Robinson, as a fund raiser for the NAACP, made an excellent start by securing a donation of 10 thousand dollars from his firm to the legal and education committee. Charity begins at home—they practice charity—but of course it should not stay there so other firms might well do likewise.

The NAACP has done a herculean job over the years in the enforcement of the constitution of the United States which rightfully is and was the responsibility of the executive branch of the state and local governments. For instance, it has been forced to pay lawyers and court costs out of memberships and donations while the opposition has been financed by taxpayers' money of whom were those whose rights are being denied.

The financial job has been difficult. It has been made more difficult by the action of some states in outlawing the NAACP. And don't forget the former members in those states are being watched pretty carefully lest they find themselves in the toils of the law.

This means that in order to carry on as usual, somebody must take up the slack of those people who cannot participate; more money must be raised to do a bigger job which is costing more each year.

There are many people who want to help; many who will help. It will be the responsibility of Jackie Robinson's group to do the job in a big way; the responsibility of every liberty loving individual to do his share to see that the work of the NAACP goes on.

Soldiers win objectives in battles; they must fight to hold them. The same is true of the Negro in America. The job is not easy but with intelligence, courage, determination, good thinking and money he can and will win.

Special committee to assist with the Bulletin, Kenneth Whitney.

Mrs. George C. Morris, president emerita of the state, conducted the installation. Mrs. Bayles was presented with a corsage for the occasion from the Phi Chapter Delta Sigma Theta Sorority of which she is a member.

Powell Vows

Washington, D. C.—Representative Powell (Dem., N. Y.) said Tuesday there is "absolutely" no chance that federal school aid legislation can be brought up without a fight to make racial integration a condition for federal help.

Thus the Negro congressman opposed President Eisenhower's request for passage of such legislation "uncomplicated" by antisegregation amendments.

Powell said he would attempt to substitute his own bill for the administration's. His stand seems to insure another floor battle of the kind that led to the defeat last year of a $1,600,000,000 school construction bill after the house tacked on Powell's integration amendment.

The amendment would have denied any funds to school districts that continued racial segregation.

In a special message to congress Monday, Mr. Eisenhower asked for "emergency" action on a four-year program of school construction calling for an overall outlay of $2,220,000,000.

head for the mother," Phog explained to Life. "I'm a mama's guy."

Often rumored the donor of cash, under-the-table deals and trust funds to Wilt and his family to get Chamberlain to Kansas, Allen says: "Let's be realistic. Until 1946 I never had any help. Then alumni started to sweeten the pot. Well, I heard that another coach charged us with giving Wilt $5,000. Well, if he charges $5,000—and he's sore about it—why then that must mean someone was dickering for less."

Gets Standard Help

Today, LIFE says, Wilt openly gets standard athletic help—free board, room, tuition and books, plus $135 for selling football programs and sweeping the stadium. He major in business administration and is an average student. His faculty advisor says his only problem is "too much publicity."

Ironically, Phog Allen, the man who brought Wilt to Kansas and who calls him "the greatest basketball player I ever saw," has been forced to quit as his coach because last year he reached the University's compulsory retirement age of 70.

Today Allen watches Wilt's amazing performances from the stands. He says, admiringly, "I could win games with two sorority girls, two Phi Beta Kappas and Wilt Chamberlain."

The only team to beat Kansas this year was Iowa State and they did it by ganging up on Wilt and holding him to 17 points. But the Stilt leads the nation in scoring with a 30.6-point-a-game average, and deserves an assist for many points his teammates score. Kansas currently is in mid-season hiatus due to exams. But in February the team will resume its quest for the nation's number one ranking. Key to that drive will be Wilt Chamberlain.

which have prime responsibility for getting information to young people, providing them with training, and directing them to employment. The meeting will have far-reaching effects.

It can certainly suggest ways and means of developing the full potential of minority youth and at the same time make a significant contribution toward solving some of the long-term problems of racial and religious discrimination in employment," he said.

HEALTH FOR ALL

YOUR VICTORY OVER POLIO

Through the March of Dimes, which financed Dr. Salk's work on the vaccine against polio, victory over this devastating disease has now been brought within the reach of mankind. Two things omne—both possible, both practical—need to be done to finish the job and clinch the victory.

ONE: If everybody gives generously to the 1957 March of Dimes, new hope, new usefulness, a new and better life for many of those who have already been stricken by polio will be a possibility of the future.

TWO: If everybody between the ages of six months and 35 years gets vaccinated, polio itself would very shortly be a thing of the past.

Ever since it began its fight to wipe out this crippling, life-blighting affliction, the March of Dimes has marched a two-way street—to give help to those who needed it and to protect those who didn't.

Today, with victory in sight, joining the March of Dimes means, more than ever before, giving and getting.

In this 1957 March of Dimes, let's express our gratitude by giving to help those for whom the vaccine is too late. And let's safeguard ourselves by getting vaccinated early. Best time to do both is now.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

Never could have much stock in national ratings after we learned how a small Minnesota school earned a national rating. It seems as if one of the fellows who votes on the ratings of these teams had a buddy who coached at the Minnesota school. The team was winning all of its games against teams in its class. So every time this writer rated his team he would put in a vote for "X" college with a probable footnote. "Did you see what they did last week?" Well, writers began to notice the school and one by one a few more began to include the "X" team in their rankings until by the middle of the year there was "X" night with the basketball giants.

So you see why we don't think too much of polls. Iowa certainly owes Illinois a vote of thanks for keeping them supplied with good Negro players. Wonder why some of them don't go to Illinois. Don't think it is prejudice. Our guess is that there are so many good ball players in that State that one school just can't handle them all. So they get away. It is our guess that Iowa will win about half their games. This guy in Wardlaw must be a shooting rascal.

Local

At East High Jim Thomas ends a brilliant career as an athlete and scholar. Hear he planned to go to Northwestern, Conn., school, to study something serious. Sure would like to see Tech beat somebody sometime.

Professional

About this time last year a certain disgruntled All-American college star was saying that Bill Russell couldn't play pro basketball. Well the guy has caused a near revision of the game as far as tall men are concerned. Makes the other team change their offensive and defensive patterns. Not bad for a guy who can't play.

Boxing

Too bad Sandy Saddler retired. Pound for pound, Saddler was just about the roughest man in the ring today.

Basketball

The basketball season is just getting warm in both Big Ten and Big Seven. If you saw that Jim dandy last week between Iowa State and Kansas, you saw one of the best defensive games played around here in years. Iowa State's Crawford is quite a ball player and Wilt of Kansas proved to be a real competition and a fine sportsman as well. Don't know how many shots he batted down, but he discourages any drive in for lay-up shots.

Campy and Robby

New York—(CNS)—Roy Campanella and Jackie Robinson—two of the most revered names in baseball are locked in an ugly war of words. Seemingly, it all started when Jackie Robinson stated casually that he thought Roy might not make it from his poor season of last year. The remark so incensed Roy Campanella that he took off with much pent up bitterness calling Jackie "ungrateful" and one "who stirs up trouble."

Said Roy to all who would listen: "He (Jackie) has been shootin' off his mouth about everybody. And most of the time he doesn't know what he's talking about. A guy like Jackie should have gone out of baseball with a lot of friends. Instead he made a lot of enemies. He was always stirring up this stuff in the clubhouse, too, making a lot of trouble."

"Instead of being grateful to baseball, he's criticizing it. Everything he has, he owes to baseball. That beautiful house of his, and this new job of his, too. Does he think those Chock Full O'Nuts people would have had anything to do with him if he had never played baseball?

"He better learn to talk differently to those people who are working for him in that director of personnel job of his. If he talks to some of them the way he talks in baseball, they'll wrap something around his neck and walk out. Jackie will find out how quick you can be forgotten when you're out of baseball. It has happened to greater players than him. I'm willing to bet I'll catch at least 100 games for Brooklyn in each of the next three years."

ings, Gov. James E. Folsom posted a similar $2,000 reward.

A crowd of several hundred Negroes gathered quickly at the scene of Sunday's bombing and King told them:

OUT OF THE FOG

If everybody that I know—and that's including me, could rid themselves of phobias how different things could be. Brotherhood could really live—not as a mis-used word, but as the natural way of life that the "commies" term absurd. The self-ordained, the Devil spawned that plot to rule all men, have built great empires in the past; debris marks where they've been!! I speak for self, with heart and pen and say, "let's leave the fog..."

Now it's call the shots on IVAN, or act the yellow dog!!! The truth is in the book of life—there is no mystery... For the winning way, is plain as day, for right and liberty... Glenn A. Gallagher. (First American Serial Rights Only) in segregation, but do not believe in the wild words and the cowardly crimes of the extremists, do not date to offer a mild dissent."

Georgia Governor Marvin Griffin was rebuked by the speaker for having delivered a state address to a joint session of the General Assembly in which he called for continuance of segregation in Georgia "no matter what any court may rule."

Green Light

By this declaration, Mr. Wilkins said, Gov. Griffin "was telling all irresponsible elements in Georgia and, indeed, in the South, that they need not pay attention to the courts. He was giving a green light to the hoodlums. The dynamite, the snipers, the poison pen artist, the cross-burner and the run-of-the-mill mobster have all been given absolution in advance by Gov. Griffin and others."

quest for equality, it is going to be necessary to blow up 50,000 homes."

There are approximately 50,000 Negroes in Montgomery, a city of 125,000.

Later, King told his congregation in Sunday service that "even bombing 50,000 homes would not stop it because others would reach up and take the banner."

"Dangerous" City

Montgomery has become "a city that is dangerous to live in," King told an almost-full church.

So far city authorities have refused offers of outside help in curbing violence. Negroes have appealed to President Eisenhower to say something about the situation.

Some of the Negroes at the bombing scene were visibly angered and police arrested two on charges of disorderly conduct. They were booked at city jail as Vurlie Wilkins, 28, and Samuel Wallace, 26, and released on $100 bond each.

For Burned Chapel

Booker Washington Birthplace, Va.—World-famed Tuskegee (Alabama) Institute's chapel, a beautiful architectural edifice which has served as the center of the school's religious life for more than 50 years, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday Jan. 23, shortly after midnight. It is believed to have been struck by lightning.

Sidney J. Phillips, an outstanding graduate of Tuskegee Institute, in reviewing the history of this chapel stated that it was built in 1898 by students of the institute under the supervision of John H. Washington, and Dr. R. P. Taylor, director of mechanical industries.

Sends $1,000 Check

In an effort to aid immediate reconstruction of the chapel the Booker T. Washington Centennial Commission of which Mr. Phillips is president, sent its check for $1,000 from its headquarters at Booker Washington Birthplace, Va., to Dr. Luther Foster, president of the Institute.

It is only when we have gained, through devout prayer, Our Father's everlasting mercy, that we can gain also a clean heart and a right spirit. Then we will know His presence, enveloping and filling us, and find therein a strength superhuman, a peace beyond description.
