"Coffee Day" for Crippled Children Tru State Apr. 10

Plans for the state-wide "Coffee Day" for Crippled Children sponsored by the Iowa Restaurant Association in cooperation with the Iowa Easter Seal Society gained momentum today as Harold Warneke of DeWitt and James R. Friedl of Waterloo, Co-chairmen, reported that a chairman had been appointed for practically every county in Iowa.

"Coffee Day," April 10, will see restaurants all over Iowa serving free coffee to their customers and accepting contributions to the Crippled Childrens Camp Fund. Areas of Interest in Negro Market Are Highlighted at Annual Professional Clinic

Nashville, Tenn. — The pros and cons of the Negro market underwent exhaustive inventory here last week when the National Association of Market Developers met in annual session and participated in the fourth annual marketing clinic sponsored by Tennessee A. and I. State University on the theme, "1957 Inventory of the Negro Market."

Four areas of interest in the Negro market were highlighted in the marketing clinic, which is considered the professional institute of the Market Developers. H. Naylor Fitzhugh, professor of marketing, Howard University, and research associate of The Moss H. Kendrick Organization, Washington, D. C., developed the subject, "Market Headlines," while the subject, "Marketing Case Histories," was discussed by LeRoy W. Jeffries, Johnson Publications, Inc., Chicago.

Other Aspects

Two other aspects of the Negro market were explored in papers by Dr. Herman H. Long, director, Race Relations Department, American Missionary Association, Fisk University, Nashville, and Dr. W. O. Bryson, chairman, Departments of Economics and Business, Morgan

State College, Baltimore. These educators devoted attention to "Patterns in the Negro Market" and SEE PAGE TWO

Racial Tolerance Undergoes Test In Indiana City

Lebanon, Ind. — Racial tolerance underwent a test Friday in this central Indiana county seat town of 6,000 when the school board considered hiring a Negro basketball coach. The city has fewer than 50 Negro residents.

Lebanon, a predominantly farming community with a few small industries, had a mixed reaction.

One of State's Best

The coach is Ray Crowe, brother of infielder George Crowe of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Ray's teams at the all-Negro Crispus Attucks High School in Indianapolis have won 177 of 199 games in the seven years he has been head coach.

His teams won the state championship in 1955 and 1956.

Proud of Tolerance

Lebanon, with only two Negro families in its schools, has prided itself on its tolerance. A Negro boy was president of a high school class last year and a Negro girl was queen of a festival.

The Lebanon school board decided SEE PAGE SIX

Public Hearing on D.M. Expressway Set for April 19

Russell Lundy, in a speech Thursday noon, said the date for the public hearing of the expressway through Des Moines has been moved up from April 20 to April 19 at 10 a.m., in Des Moines. Site is still undetermined, he said.

All testimony for and against the project will be recorded at the public hearing and made available to the federal bureau of roads.

Stuart P. Walsh, president of Industrial Planning Associates, told business leaders and city officials Friday the freeway's effects would be more lasting than those of the earthquake that shook his home town of San Francisco, Cal., last week.

Based on experience of other cities Walsh said Des Moines could expect:

Says Present Difficulties Of South Not Created by Supreme Court Decision

New York—A statement by Bernard M. Shanley, appointments secretary to President Eisenhower, "that feelings engendered by the (Supreme Court's May 17, 1954, anti-segregation) decision have resulted in the dropping of Negroes, especially graduate students, from universities in the South where previously they had been accepted," has been called "erroneous" by Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

'Erroneous Statement'

Mr. Shanley's remarks were made following an address he delivered on March 21 to students at Fairleigh Dickinson University in Rutherford, N. J. Queried about the Supreme Court ruling during a question-and-answer period, the White House aide is quoted in The New York Times as having said the "Supreme Court decision on segregation has set us back many years." Later he is reported as having said that the decision had done "incalculable harm."

In a telegram dispatched to Mr. from the national office, "in grateful recognition of outstanding services rendered in the membership campaign of the Des Moines, Ia., Branch of the NAACP" during 1956.

Named for merit certificates which were signed by Channing H. Tobias, chairman of National board of directors; and Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary; then Archie Greenlee, Des Moines branch president, were: Mesdames Georgine C. Morris, Clara Bayles, Guy E. Greene, Ione Lloyd, Alice Holbert, Ruth E. Turner, Azalea E. Mitchell, Sarah E. Jett, Donna Greenlee and Messrs. Ike Smalls, A. P. Trotter, R. A. Wright, Frank Holbert and George Wells.

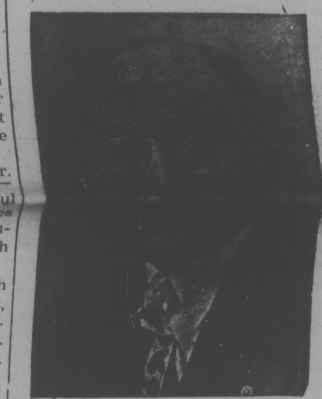

Mrs. Clara Bayles, branch president, said, "The need for membership is intensified this year because of the three states—Alabama, Louisiana and Texas—which are rendered inactive."

"Those who believe in democracy for all are the ones who will accept the challenge of taking out members. I feel confident there are enough people in our city who do believe in the principle that our goal is assured."

Shanley on March 22, Mr. Wilkins said that the NAACP regretted Mr. Shanley's "erroneous statement" and declared that "there are more Negroes enrolled in southern universities today than at the time of the ruling. For example the University of Texas last year opened all undergraduate schools to Negro students as against only graduate schools in 1954. Also, additional church-connected and other private institutions have enrolled Negro students since 1954."

Only in Louisiana, the NAACP leader told Mr. Shanley, has an at- SEE PAGE SIX

She said this means paying the dues for 50 persons there. The organization has been outlawed for its fight against racial segregation.

Brownell Is Asked to Tell Manning Johnson's Job In Justice Department

New York—U. S. Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., has been asked if Manning Johnson, admitted former Communist who recently testified before a Louisiana state legislative committee, is, as he was described in the Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier, "Director of Research for the Department of Justice in Washington."

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, raised this question in a letter dispatched to the Attorney General on March 28. The letter was made public today. In his testimony before the Louisiana legislative committee, Mr. Wilkins pointed out, Mr. Johnson is quoted as having said that the NAACP "has become a vehicle of the Communist Party designed to overthrow the government of the United States."

Grave Injustice

News stories originating in Baton Rouge, La., where the hearings were held early in March, "give the impression that an official of the Department of Justice has branded the NAACP as a 'vehicle of the Communist party.'" Mr. Wilkins told the Attorney General.

"We do not need to emphasize," the letter continued, "the grave injustice that will be done the NAACP if the Department fails to clarify (a) Manning Johnson's official position in the Department of Justice, if any, and (b) the official or unofficial or other nature of Manning Johnson's testimony before the Louisiana legislative committee."

Mr. Wilkins went on to ask what, if any, position Mr. Johnson now holds in the Department and if he were "speaking for the Department of Justice or reflecting in any manner its official views or findings in his testimony before the Louisiana legislative committee."

U.S. Steel Foundation Grants Educational Gifts To Over 600 Institutions

Philadelphia. All of the country's privately supported, fully accredited four-year Negro liberal arts colleges have been included in an educational grant announced by United States Steel Foundation, Inc. Forty-four Negro colleges will share in the over $1,000,000 to be given to more than 600 institutions, including technical institutes and medical schools.

The Foundation's move includes a covering grant to the United Negro College Fund, in which substantial gifts have been made during each of the last several years, and $1,000 each to additional schools now new members of that college group. The grants, according to the Foundation, will constitute unrestricted operating aid so far as the liberal arts schools are concerned.

The covering grant made to the United Negro College Fund will be administered through its regularly established channels and formula as operational aid for the 31 member units averaging $1,000 each. Executives of the Fund have also been instrumental in guiding the U. S. Steel Foundation in the clearance of this year's president setting aid for the 13 Negro colleges not members of the United Negro College Fund.

In addition to the Fund's 31 member colleges, the nine accredited four-year schools receiving aid include: Allen University, Columbia, S. C.; Barber Scott College, Concord, N. C.; Claflin University, Orangeburg, S. C.; Florida Normal and Industrial College, St. Augustine; Miles College, Birmingham, Ala.; Rust College, Holly Springs, Miss.; St. Paul's Institute, Lawrenceville, Va.; Stillman College, Tuscaloosa, Ala.; and Davis Christian College, Hawkins, Texas. The four other institutions receiving aid indirectly through the Association of American Colleges include: Oakwood College, Huntsville, Ala.; Paul Quinn College, Waco, Texas; Selma University, Selma, Ala.; and Daniel Payne College.

Broad Scope

In announcing the broadened scope of U. S. Steel Foundation's aid to education, Roger M. Blough, chairman of the board of trustees of the Foundation said that the action of the trustees "represents an effort by this Foundation to extend aid in some form to almost every voluntarily supported institution of higher learning which has clearly demonstrated both its desire and ability to help itself through the crisis presently facing higher education."

This year's grant by the U. S. Steel Foundation to the United Negro College Fund is in addition to a $100,000 capital gift made to the by all participants for immediate application to operational expenses fund two years ago. The 1957 appropriation, therefore, may be used

New York City (CBS)—Apollo Under Pressure for Suggestive Shows

The Apollo Theatre was this week under most criticism for allowing what many patrons termed as "extreme vulgarity" to not just creep but be loudly displayed on the stage during the week featuring Chris Columbus, the Cadillac and others.

The Apollo, long the stem on Harlem's main avenue, and a Mecca of showbusiness, was torn apart by press articles and comment by indignant patrons who were cited as being "shocked" at the low grade of comedy the theatre is housing.

The management will be asked to try and prevent this sort of thing from repeating.

What the crowd most objected to was the suggestive manner of sax man Jimmy Tyler's horn playing, and Joe Tex of the Chris Columbus outfit, who demonstrated a version of Elvis Presley's "Hound Dog" in a not-too-complimentary fashion.

With the rock and rollers taking over the Apollo, the standard of jokes should be even more enforced as teenagers are the main audience and the impressions made upon them at early ages are lasting ones.

Songs "There Out To Be A Cowboy" by Mickey and Sylvia and "Love's a Hurting Game" by Ivory Joe Hunter, are exciting fast.

Lionel Hampton, anxious to see real band games when he plays the down under continent, Australia, for 3 weeks.

With Dorothy Dandridge terrifically recent still echoing in the Embury Room, New York still night-very, society pianist Carmen Cavallaro bows in.

Billy Daniels, going strong in New England states.

Larry Steele has promised an even more exciting "Smart Affairs of 37," a huge annual stage show where everybody gets into the act—comedians, novelty acts but mostly pretty showgirls and they're not for the Village in San Francisco.

Naturally will make the annual appearances at Atlantic City this summer.

New Orleans Jazz artist Sidney Bechet who has been in Paris these nine years and not without two ballets and including in many best selling records—is appearing at Sydney.

Young Steve Davis have been brought back to the Lido Club in Springfield, Ill. for the first time this year and they're very happy about it.

—as is the management.

The boys never fail to make a star while there— with such new favorites as "Young Love," "Green Door" and others which they do in their own style along with a few rock and roll numbers.

Billy Holiday who has certainly had her share of trouble and woe, is doing big business at Mr. Kelly's in Chicago—and doing it in a quiet, simple manner. Casting her over-frilly gowns to the wind—Billie has donned simple white for the occasion with a simple but great instrumental for background.

Her voice, always one in a million, now stands out so far above the crowd, you cannot help but wonder how come a woman like this is not right at the top with the big money-makers.

Doing many of her old favorites, "Lady Day" draws in those who are ready for torch singing and never tire of it. There is a strange silence cast when she begins and remains till the last note.

Lena Horne and Spouse, Lennie Hayton, have taken the Eden Roc in Miami Beach by storm. With a $4-$7 average minimum, this lavish room, the cafe Pompeii, has really spread the welcome mat.

Highly complimented is Lennie Hayton, who does a really wonderful job backing her. To add to the lush scene, Lena sings the old favorites plus a few new ones which include intimate lines—and the audience goes wild. She's to be followed in two weeks by Vic Damone.

Soon many American stars will be trouping over to Africa for performances just as they do to Paris and London—and that part of the world will be brightened up and lose its "dark continent" title if Dick Campbell, American representative for the American National Theatre and Academy accomplishes his mission, which he always does.

Mr. Campbell, now on a tour of Africa to set up the deal, has visited 18 countries in his efforts to establish a play for theatre and ballet companies, musicals singers and comedians to touring cities of Africa in International Cultural Exchange program.

His job is to interview government officials, sport promoters and theatre impresarios to pave the way.

Citing that such stars as Lionel Hampton, Duke Ellington, Benny Goodman and other greats will soon be flying over to Africa which includes the Belgian Congo, Gold Coast, Liberia, North Africa, South Africa, East and West Portuguese Africa, etc. in an effort to bring African music and theatre lovers face to face with American artists.

NAACP Helps Students of Alcorn College to Re-enter Other Institutions Nearby

New York. Five students, expelled from the Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical College at Alcorn because of their leadership role in the protest against Professor Charles H. Hixson, will receive NAACP assistance in continuing their education elsewhere, Bay Wilkins, the NAACP's executive secretary announced.

Ernest McEwen who, as president of the student body, led the protest against Prof. Hixson because of a series of articles the teacher wrote in The Jackson (Miss.) State.

Mr. Campbell, husband of stage and concert star Muriel Balm, who won fame as "Carmen Jones," is an old hand at coordinating act.

He was such for the USO, sending Negro stars abroad to entertain during the war. He's also an accomplished director and for many years affiliated with the stage, being a pioneer in the growth of the American Negro in the theatre since the nation.

Times criticizing the NAACP's anti-segregation activities will attend Central State College at Niles, Ohio. He will be joined at Central State by Miss Robessie Young and Charles Hixson. The Misses Susan Owens and Ruby Hixson will attend Virginia Union University at Richmond.

After Alcorn had refused to readmit these students, the NAACP made arrangements for their transfer to other colleges. Dr. Charles Wesley, president of Central State and Dr. Samuel Proctor, president of Virginia Union, readily agreed to make emergency provisions to permit the students to enroll without loss of time or academic credit.

Action to aid the students was taken by the NAACP committee in administration at its regular monthly meeting here on March 25. The committee voted to provide financial assistance for travel and other expenses for the remainder of the school semester.

North Carolina Minister Drops Dead in Pulpit

Raleigh, N. C. — Services were held here Friday, March 22 for the Rev. Arthur Clifton Yarbrough, 49, well known minister and teacher. The Rev. Mr. Yarbrough suffered a heart attack at the Faith Tabernacle Church in Stantonburg and dropped dead in his pulpit during the Sunday services.

An instructor of social science and English in the junior high department of Ligon School here, the Rev. Mr. Yarbrough had no previous record of a heart condition, according to a statement from his wife, Mrs. Ella J. Yarbrough.

Members Overwrought

According to reliable reports, the cleric had just finished delivering a touching sermon to the overflow congregation at the time of the seizure. The congregation became so overwrought at his words that many members continued to shout after he concluded his sermon. Later he collapsed in his pulpit.

A native of Sanford, the Rev. Mr. Yarbrough attended the public schools there, Fayetteville State

More Speakers Named for L. K. Williams Institute April 30-May 4

Marshall, Texas.—The Chairman of the Division of Religion and Philosophy and General Chairman of the 27th Annual L. K. Williams Ministers Institute has announced the names of more speakers and leaders for the Institute. The Rev. H. L. Thompson says the following persons have accepted invitations to visit the campus either as speakers or seminar leaders: the Rev. George Dudley, Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. T. M. Chambers, Los Angeles; Dr. J. M. Ellison, Washington, D. C.; Rev. S. H. James, San Antonio; Rev. C. W. Black, San Antonio; and Drs. C. A. W. Clark and E. C. Estell, Dallas.

Rev. Thompson announced sometime earlier that the Reverend Sandy F. Fay, pastor of the Cornerstone Baptist Church, Brooklyn, New York, would be one of the speakers at the Institute. President Curry announced a few weeks ago that the theme for this year's Institute would be: "Justice, Jobs, Jesus—Crucial Concerns of the 20th Century Church." Each year, the Institute attracts the most progressive ministers and leaders from all parts of the county. Visiting ministers usually occupy the pulpits of local churches while in Marshall.

This year's institute will be held on Bishop's campus from April 30 through May 3. For more than a quarter of a century, the Institute has been held as a memorial to the late Lacy Kirk Williams, a Bishop Alumnus and world religious leader. The Institute also is part of Bishop's program for in-service ministers which is designed to keep pastors and other religious leaders abreast of developments in their fields.

NAACP Lawyers

Richmond, Va.—(CNS)—Furtively and secretly the Boatwright Committee is examining witnesses which have been subpoenaed before it in its attempt to investigate the NAACP's activities. So far, all attorneys who had participated for the plaintiffs in Virginia's school-segregation cases and in the Seashore State Park segregation case have all been called.

That the probe should be held in the open, Attorney Oliver W. Hill, one NAACP lawyer spoke forthrightly out loud. "We would like the press and public to know what goes on rather than for the committee to hand out a statement afterwards." Mr. Hill went on to state that the Committee made quite a thing over a "profit" in the NAACP operation last year. This was not correct, he explained. While the figure was accurate, the statement "gave an inaccurate interpretation."

Second row—Catherine Cooley, Retta Bettis, Mary Lou Brewer, Wanda Newton and Paula Propps.

The contest, to raise money for the church, opened March 10, and will close Sunday, April 14, at 3:30 p.m., when an organ recital will be the feature of the program, played by Fred Nelson, Jr., of the Church of Deliverance, Chicago, Ill.

Three major prizes and a small one to each of the ten contestants will be awarded. First will be a complete Easter wardrobe; second, a clock radio; third, a sports wardrobe. (Frye Photo).

Personal Touch
By MARIE ROSS

The family of the Rev. J. R. Roman, 603 S.E. Fifth Street, has been at the mercy of kind neighbors and friends since fire partly destroyed their home during the early morning of March 25.

According to Mrs. Roman, the kitchen and all of its equipment, and dining room were the most damaged parts of their seven room home. The stove, dishes, electrical appliances, refrigerator and dining room furniture were burned.

"We have been making out with an electric hot-plate and neighbors and friends have been lovely to us, sending us already cooked meals," Mrs. Roman talked.

The Rev. Mr. Roman, veteran Des Moines minister, has been bedfast for several weeks—and since the fire his condition has grown worse, Mrs. Roman said.

Fire, which was believed to have started in the kitchen, somewhere around two or two-thirty o'clock, filled the house with smoke.

"I was awakened and smelling the smoke, got my daughter up and went upstairs to awaken my husband and two children. There were eight in the house at the time. I got my husband and children out on the porch by the time the firemen arrived. They picked him up and put him in a car outside, where the children were taken until they went later to neighbors," Mrs. Roman related.

The night of the fire was the night of Des Moines worst blizzard and for that Mrs. Roman said she was thankful.

"If it had not been for all of the snow which dampened the house, we might never have known, as our house is a frame one and it is old."

The well known gospel singer, Mrs. Roman works in the mornings at Booth Memorial Hospital. She has been aided by friends in assisting her with her 411 husband since the fire.

She revealed that she will be "most grateful" for any kindnesses

William Jefferson, Irving Turpin, William Jewett and John Danforth.

The next meeting will be April 8 with Mrs. Sims. Mrs. Maybelle Jefferson is reporter.

friends wish to extend.

Letters come in weekly from some of the readers of the paper who keep up the needlework and sewing features that run weekly.

One reader is seeking a pattern for the making of a log cabin quilt. She wrote:

"My grandmother's quilt had the bright red center, which was to represent the red chimney. But, I cannot recall sizes or how the strips were put on. Is there a pattern book of quilts or appliqued quilts?"

"I have about ten pounds of new silk pieces, and I am sure they would make a beautiful log cabin quilt, if I could just get it started. Hope you can help me."

Most of the needlework counters in department, variety and dime stores carry instruction books for making quilts. Assuming that the reader has searched the stores' counters and still is unable to find instructions for making a log cabin quilt, I am asking anyone who does know how to make this quilt, to send the instructions in to this column.

You will receive as a "thank you" from the needlework editor, instruction sheets for crocheting or knitting five different articles.

MEANEY AND ASSOCIATES NOT DUCKING ISSUE

It happens often that those who are in the position to correct evils are the last ones to tackle them. This is particularly true with the evils which have grown up in labor organizations since public officials are often afraid to offend them either because of their vote or less they be charged with crucifying labor.

Most citizens, with their eyes open, have known for a long time that entirely too many people had worked their way into high places in the labor movement who were using their position to accomplish ends that the rank and file of the members did not authorize or approve.

Information disclosed in Senate hearings has been appalling. Men like Beck, Hoffa, and others of their type have abused their office and the workers they represent many of whom knew it but were stifled in an attempt to rectify the situation.

George Meany, president of the AFL and CIO and his close associates have lost no time in disavowing shady practices in the labor movement which have been turned up at these hearings. They have not ducked this issue and are to be congratulated. They know that if labor expects to retain the respect of the public, the leadership of these unions must be kept free of those who use their office to abuse and misuse those who elected them.

GOV. LOVELESS MAKES TWO GOOD APPOINTMENTS

Governor Loveless has made two judicial appointments in Polk County, which most will agree, are commendable.

Judge Ray Harrison, who has been serving on the Municipal Court bench during the illness of the late Judge Chas. T. Cooter, was named to fill the unexpired term.

Heretofore, it has been the custom to appoint the runnerup in the last city election of judges. And by this process Attorney Luther T. Glanton, Jr., who did this in the last election, would have received the appointment. By the rules of the game: character, ability and party affiliation, he deserved it. Certainly, this would have been the logical spot to give a worthy appointment to the Negro.

However, the governor did have before him a judge who has done a commendable job during his short term of service. Thoroughly cognizant of the plight of unfortunate alcoholics who came before him, he has followed a program which has helped many of these people to change their habits and become better citizens.

For this, besides his experience and training, Judge Harrison's appointment is a good one.

The same observation as to Mr. Glanton would apply to the district court appointment except that he never ran for that office. Passing over him, choosing a member of his party, a good choice was made in the selection of Carroll O. Switzer. Judge Switzer has been a county attorney, served a short term on the federal bench and is well qualified for the office.

The editorial below appeared in the Bystander last week. However, the continuity was broken so that much of it was misunderstood. It is being rerun properly arranged.

FULL INFORMATION NEEDED TO FORM OPINIONS

Last Friday, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, in her syndicated column said "Build Schools First, then Integrate". In it, she expresses approval in principle of Rep. Powell's amendment which would restrict federal funds to schools which refused to comply with the 1954 Supreme Court decision but urged that it should wait until after the schools are built.

Quoting from her article, Mrs. Roosevelt said:

"The Powell amendment would have denied federal aid to school districts that had not complied with the Supreme Court decision to integrate their schools."

I am surprised; it is unfortunate that Mrs. Roosevelt did not give her readers the benefit of this further provision in the amendment.

"... and pay full amount of aid if state within three years complies with Supreme Court decision on desegregation."

In other words, no school district which makes an honest effort to begin integration will be denied these funds. And this is very important for it shows that neither Rep. Powell, the NAACP or any group has ever tried to be unreasonable in fixing a date for the integration to begin in any school. It is the school district that makes no attempt to comply with the decision to which the amendment and law suits are directed.

For sixty years Negroes obeyed the "separate but equal" doctrine laid down in Plessey vs. Ferguson by the U.S. Supreme Court in 1894 without the use of any force to gain compliance. But now that the shoe is on the other foot, not only are some schools deliberately defying the courts, but many of our friends, who ought to know better, are urging Negroes to wait.

Negroes don't wish to wait any longer and that's why the Powell amendment and numerous law suits against school boards. As much as the Bystander respects Mrs. Roosevelt, it must say that her article was very misleading.

The Bystander fully support the Powell amendment.

Negro Coach

It needed a new coach to go with a planned new gym.

Lebanon has won the state championship three times, but the last was in 1918. It won only four of 20 games in the 1956-57 season.

The school board's consideration of Crowe came out Thursday when the Lebanon Kiwanis Club took a secret ballot. The vote was reported overwhelmingly in favor of hiring Crowe. That was reported in the newspaper.

Friday there was talk of little else in Lebanon.

Nobody wanted to be quoted but there seemed to be little objection to Crowe personally—only to the possibility of a heavy influx of Negro families from Indianapolis wanting Crowe to coach their boys.

Only one Lebanon Negro came out for athletics during the past year.

Didn't Apply

Delue Akerman, secretary of the school board, said Crowe had not applied for the job—but 53 other coaches have.

Crowe admitted interest in the post but said it depends on "salary, what they expect, facilities and so forth."

Crowe has no thought of moving his family to Lebanon. His home in Indianapolis is within easy commuting distance of Lebanon.

Nigerian Official L. U. Headliner Week Guest to Apr. 6

Jefferson City, Mo.—A high ranking officer of Nigeria's federal information service is among the distinguished guests at the Ninth Annual Headliner week being conducted April 3-6 by Lincoln University's (Mo.) journalism department.

Mobilaji Odunewu, 46 year old ranking information officer of Lagos, Nigeria, is studying in this country under the U. S. International Educational Exchange service hoping to learn as much as possible about federal, state and private techniques for disseminating information. His government is considering establishment of an information office in New York City.

General Picture

Odunewu's interests include public and private methods of combating subversive activities. In addition, he seeks a general picture of America, including race relations, the press, radio, television, schools of journalism, education at all levels, courts, prisons, hospitals, libraries, churches, industry, agriculture, and state and local government.

He was subeditor of the Comet, a weekly news magazine in Nigeria from 1934 to 1937. Since then he has been columnist, West African Pilot, daily newspaper 1937 to 1942; managing editor, Eastern Nigeria Guardian, daily newspaper 1943 to 1946; editor Africa News Agency, 1947 to 1948; associate editor, Daily Service, newspaper, 1948 to 1949. He joined the Federal Information service in 1949.

Odunewu is a founder of the Nigeria Union of Journalists and has been its president since 1955. He has been a member of the National Union of Journalists, London, since 1943.

CHICKEN POX

"Varicella" the doctor calls it. We call it "Chicken Pox" although you can't avoid it by staying away from poultry. As a matter of fact, most children have it before they reach the age of 15.

This is the time of year for the itchy polka dot complexion. Junior doesn't want to eat his supper. He is fussy, headachy, and a little feverish. It's a wise mother who looks immediately for the typical pink spots on his body. She'll call the doctor immediately. Chicken pox is one of the least dangerous of childhood diseases, but the symptoms are somewhat like those of smallpox. The doctor should make the diagnosis.

Rash Appears

The rash first appears on the child's trunk, then the face, and may cover the whole body. The pink spots change to clusters of blisters. These become crusted with scabs in three or four days. Sounds simple?

It isn't. During this time constant itching makes the child extremely uncomfortable.

To scratch or not to scratch? The doctor says, "No." Scratching can lead to infection of the blisters. Moreover, scratched eruptions may leave scars. Scars may be the pride of the elementary school sets, but they are very painful to the vanity of teenagers. Even though they will fade in time, it's best to avoid them.

To keep a small child from scratching where it itches best, the ingenuity of any mother. Mitts can be tied on the hands of very young children. A stiff tube over the elbows may help. The doctor may prescribe a soothing lotion. Crayons and pencils and games that keep the hands busy will help. The best efforts sometimes fail, so fingernails should be cut short, hands washed frequently, and clothes and bedding kept fresh and clean to avoid infection.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

There was a nice story last week about Iowa University's Roberts being the first Negro to win a national college wrestling title. Roberts won his crown by defeating an old high school rival, Gray of Iowa State in the 147 pound class.

That is big news, but not too much to get excited about. Ten years ago, Negro wrestlers in high school were scarce and even more so in colleges. But now just about every high school of any size where Negroes attend is apt to turn up with a Negro in any sport. And so as these kids go on to college and pursue their favorite games it is only natural that some of them are going to become varsity material. Then, eventually, at least one of them is going to become the best in his business. That accounts for the success of young Roberts. Congrats young man.

Basketball

Notice that St. Elizabeth Academy of Chicago went to the Negro National High School basketball meet and won top honors. Then they won the Chicago City title from the public school representative there. We are interested in St. Elizabeth because the son of our friend, Everett Wadsworth, was an athlete there. May still be. Kenji Wadsworth used to be a little guy, but now he is over six feet tall and correspondingly heavy. St. Elizabeth, a Catholic school just outside Chicago and it has only been in recent years that the school was admitted to the Chicago school league.

Baseball

The Des Moines Demons are out scuffling in a ticket drive that may pay off. Last year there was a couple of Negroes on the club. Wonder what will be the score this year. There ought to be at least one. There might be more as the seasons wears on.

Simon Roberts First Negro to Win NCAA Mat Title

Pittsburgh, Pa.—The State University of Iowa's Simon Roberts of Davenport, Ia., became the first Negro ever to win an N.C.A.A. mat title, in the National Collegiate wrestling tournament Saturday night.

Roberts went into an overtime period to decision an old rival, Ron Gray of Iowa State, 2-0, for the 147 pound championship.

Oklahoma won the team title with 73 points and Sooner Star Dan Hodge ended his college career with 46 straight victories by winning the 177 pound title. Hodge was voted the meet's outstanding wrestler for the second year in a row.

Gray and Roberts were the only final-round survivors from Iowa schools.

MARCH

So March blows in—rough tough and bold
With snow-squalls, cold; blue skies and gold.
When he's near his end, he has lost his starch.
Hurrah for spring, so long old March
—Glenn A. Gallagher.

APRIL

Now April comes, to bless this earth
And every hill and dale gives birth;
To lovely bloom, fresh from the loom
Our Master made, lifts winters' gloom.
The barren loam and naked tree
Become a masterpiece all see,

As if each grain and mote had tried
Their very best on every side:
To follow all the Fathers' plan
And beautify this world, for man.
Birds sing, while laughing children play
All heaven blest, each April day.
—Glenn A. Gallagher.

tempt been made "to get rid of Negro students at the state university and this attempt has thus far been thwarted."

The present difficulties in the South, Mr. Wilkins continued, were not created by the Supreme Court ruling, "but by the White Citizens Councils, the Ku Klux Klan and other elements openly and contemptuously preaching defiance of the Supreme Court. Whatever your declared intention," he asserted, "your statement has given White House staff approval to the oft-stated views of these groups."

Moreover, Mr. Wilkins said, "as a lawyer, your statement places you on the side of expediency in the law rather than in support of the constitutional morality expected of the nation's highest court."

Dodgers to Miss Jackie's Gate Draw

Vero Beach, Fla.—(CNS)—How the Dodgers will miss Jackie Robinson this season has been the subject of much winter debate. This spring training season, however, the miss has been in the dollar department. Ordinarily the Dodgers draw extremely well as they trek North—especially among the Negro fans of the South. Not so this year. Negroes have been noticeably lacking from the stands.

In some respects, part of the slack has been taken up by one Pitcher, Valdes, whose affections are endearing to some of the fans. He reminds one of "Ole Satch" Paige in his heyday. Valdes has a jerky wind-up and realy wows the crowd.

But Jack's box office magic has yet to be solved even by Valdes.
