Rev. Joseph R. Roman Dies; Was Veteran Minister

Largely attended were the last rites for the Rev. Joseph H. Roman, 78-year-old veteran Des Moines minister, held Thursday afternoon at Maple Street Baptist Church, with the Rev. George Parrish officiating. Burial was in Glendale Cemetery.

The Rev. Mr. Roman of 603 S.E. Eighth Street, died Monday, April 8, at Broadlawn General Hospital.

Formerly pastor of St. John's Baptist Church here for two years and Mt. Olive Baptist Church for 10 years, the Rev. Mr. Roman was a member of Maple Street Baptist Church.

Born in Virginia, he had lived here 17 years and had been a maintenance employee at the Victoria Hotel.

Surviving are his widow, Mabel; three daughters, Mrs. Roberta Frazier, and Elise and Marguerite Roman, all of Des Moines; four stepdaughters, Mrs. Iva Nelson, Mrs. Hattie Engram, Mrs. Lillie Allen and Hazel Starks, all of Lansing, Mich.; two sons, Macyo of Des Moines and Theodore of Flint, Mich.; eight grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Funeral Friday for A. J. Bland, 84

Services for Alfred J. Bland, 84, 910 Grove Street, will be held Friday, 1:30 p.m., at Estes & Son Funeral chapel. Burial will be in Glendale Cemetery.

Mr. Bland died Tuesday, April 9, at Broadlawn General Hospital, following a year's illness.

A resident of Des Moines 41 years, he was born in Rockville, Ind. He and his wife, Rosa, had observed on April 5, their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary.

For years, Mr. Bland was well known throughout the city as a hot tamale vendor. He was a member of Brotherhood, Inc.

Services for Mrs. Elvie Jones, 59, of 1305 Ascension street were held April 4 at Hammitt-Robinson Funeral Home, with burial at Glendale Cemetery.

Mississippian Gets 20 Years for Assault on Girl

Magnolia, Miss.—Ernest Dillon, 30, McComb, Miss., a white man, drew a 20-year prison term and a denunciation from a judge for assault to rape a 16-year-old Negro girl.

Circuit Judge Tom Brady told Dillon April 5 he not only brought disrespect to his family "but also bitter condemnation on the state of Mississippi and the people of this area."

Dillon was one of four white men accused of abusing the girl on March 13, 1956.

Richard Carter Seized in Raid by Narcotics Agents

Richard D. Carter, 24, of 1235 McCormick Street, was charged April 3 with illegal possession of narcotics after police and state narcotics agents raided his home.

Capt. Louis Volz, head of police vice squad, said officers seized white powder believed to be heroin and several syringes.

Two other men were arrested at the Carter home, but were later released.

Volz suffered a cut on his hand when Carter scuffled with officers as they placed him under arrest.

2 More Alcorn Students Placed at Other Schools; Proud to Assist NAACP

New York—Two additional students who were expelled from the Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical College at Alcorn because of their leadership role in the recent student protest against Professor Clennon King have been placed at Central State College in Xenia, Ohio, Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, announced here April 4.

The Association already had arranged the transfer to other colleges of five Alcorn students expelled for the same reason. Three of these were placed at Central State College and two at Virginia Union University in Richmond.

Protested

The seven students were expelled from the Mississippi college after they protested against Prof. King because of a series of articles the teacher wrote for the Jackson (Miss.) State Times criticizing the NAACP's anti-segregation activities.

Mrs. Elnora Jones, Ill 3 Weeks, Dies

Mrs. Elnora Jones, 48, 855 Sixteenth Street, died Tuesday, April 9, at Broadlawn General Hospital. She had been ill three weeks.

Born in Madrid, New Mexico, she had resided in Des Moines 12 years. She formerly lived in Seattle, Wash. Surviving are a son: James Lycurgus, Des Moines; three brothers, Albert Durden, Des Moines, and Herbert adn Wilburt Durden of New York; and two granddaughters.

Rites Held for Mrs. Mary Susan Renfro

Services for Mrs. Mary Susan Renfro, 75, of 945 Seventeenth Street, were held Monday at Hammitt-Robinson Funeral Home, with burial at Glendale Cemetery.

Mrs. Renfro died of cancer Friday. Born in Pineville, Ky., she lived in Des Moines 31 years and was a member of First Church of Christ Scientist.

Surviving is a sister, Mrs. Georgia Haskins, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. Jones died of a heart ailment Monday, April 1, at Broadlawn General Hospital.

Some NAACP Captains in the Current Membership Drive

lee, Alice Holbert and Georgine C. Morris. Captains not in picture are: Mrs. Bertharena Cropp, A. P. Trotter, George Wells and Rev. Luther H. Smith.

Branch Seeks 500 Extra Members for Monroe, La.

Launching the Des Moines NAACP's annual drive for 1,000 members at the kick-off dinner meeting April 2, ATTY. ROBERT A. WRIGHT, membership chairman, made a plea for an additional quota of 500 memberships for the Monroe, La., NAACP branch, which the Des Moines group has adopted.

"Members of the Monroe, (La.) branch are unable to carry on their freedom fight because of an injunction banning NAACP from operating in the state, but while they are rendered inactive, the White Citizens Council carries on at full speed," Wright told campaign workers.

Bend Every Effort

"They bend every effort to maintain segregation, jimcrow and all other forms of white supremacy on the one hand and push us down into the gutter of an inferior status of citizenship on the other—seemingly, no holds barred.

"Any hopes which colored citizens may entertain for full freedom depend upon how we come through this crisis. NAACP has been the bulwark of salvation for our freedoms in the South and in many areas of the North, wherever racial problems exist. If NAACP fails—we fail. And, if we fail, the future will be dark."

Wright added: "It is our responsibility to carry our end of the load and to lend a helping hand—in this case, a small two-dollar membership—to our brother in the South."

'Doing Their Part'

"Volunteer workers will knock on your door and ask for a contribution to the membership drive. They receive no pay, except the satisfaction of knowing that they are doing their part toward making the world a little better. They are out walking and working for you and your freedom as well as their own," Wright appealed.

Wright informed that the captains and team workers who will seek memberships in the current drive, also will take votes for the "ideal girl" to represent the Des Moines branch as "queen."

Finds Economic Standards Of Negro Wage Earners Below White Populations

Washington—If American society continues to restrict the potential of Negro labor, that society will be "denied urgently needed manpower skills" while the Negro will be "forced into an even more marginal position in the American economy," Herbert Hill, NAACP labor secretary, warned here April 5.

Addressing the annual conference of the National Civil Liberties Clearing House, Mr. Hill declared: "A basic need today is to make possible the full realization of the individual Negro's talents and abilities in terms of industrial and engineering skills, to eliminate all the restrictions and limitations which prevent Negro youth from becoming highly skilled workers."

Refused to Admit

Such restrictions center in large part on refusal to admit qualified Negroes into apprenticeship training programs in industry and into other forms of vocational training, he explained.

"It is evident," he asserted, "that, despite great changes in the employment and occupational characteristics of Negro wage earners in the last

Rev. James to Address Maundy-Thursdays Feast April 19

William Frank Powell Consistory No. 46 will observe its Maundy-Thursdays Feast Friday, April 19, at the Crocker Branch YMCA, at 8 p. m.

M. H. McCraven, Peer, will be in charge of the memorial services. The Rev. H. W. James will be the principal speaker.

Says McClellan's Charge 'Merely Another Facet' of South's Tactic of Delay

New York—Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has asked Senator John L. McClellan if he is accurately quoted in an Associated Press dispatch which attributed to the Arkansas Democrat the charge that "the FBI made a check" on NAACP-sponsored witnesses who appeared before the Senate Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights on Feb. 28.

As he emerged from a closed session of the full Senate Judiciary Committee on April 1, Senator McClellan is quoted by the AP as having said in reference to these witnesses: "The FBI made a check on them. They committed perjury. That's the allegation."

If Accurate

In a telegram to the Senator, sent on April 3, Mr. Wilkins inquired "if reference to FBI is accurate since other news services did not mention (this charge) and since FBI so far as we know has not made any allegation that witnesses sponsored by the NAACP perjured themselves before a Senate subcommittee."

Previously, on April 1, Mr. Wilkins has issued a statement asserting that "Senator McClellan's charge is merely another facet of the southern tactic of delay, the purpose of which is to kill the civil rights bill. We have full confidence in the integrity and veracity of all the witnesses whom we made available to the Senate Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights. The record of civil ten years, the economic standard of Negroes remains substantially below that of the white population."

Public Support

The NAACP, Mr. Hill noted, "has repeatedly urged that all forms of public support be withdrawn from discriminatory apprenticeship programs, including the use of public school buildings and other facilities in programs which deny admission to Negroes."

A civil rights victory at a southern industrial plant was cited by the NAACP official. Negroes soon will be admitted for the first time into the apprenticeship training program conducted jointly by the union and the company, and the segregated local unions will be integrated. This action follows NAACP efforts with the union and complaints filed with the President's Committee on Government Contracts, he said.

Third Chief in Haiti Ousted

Port Au Prince, Haiti—The army ousted in three months of Haiti Wednesday an able and able Caribbean Negro republic ousted its third president in four months.

Provisional President Franck Sylva, who resigned Tuesday night under public pressure, was reported under palace arrest pending investigation of an alleged bomb plot against presidential candidates.

Sylva's cabinet was forced out last week under charges that he was rigging the presidential election set for Apr. 28 in favor of candidate Francois Duvalier. Nine other candidates are in the race.

The capital finally simmered down Tuesday night after three days of demonstrations and strikes.

Fort Dodge, Iowa

Fort Dodge, Ia.—A drag race which grew out of a tavern argument brought death early last Saturday to a 25-year-old Fort Dodge man. The fellow was killed while racing at speeds up to 100 miles per hour. He won the race but lost his life. The accident occurred at the intersection of Highway 5 and a county black-top road, commonly known as Clare, at about 3 p.m. The 21-year-old driver of the other car was able to stop in time and was not hurt according to officers. The men had been seen together in various taverns, when finally they decided to race, police said. Only simple action is needed in driving a car. That simple action is: "Drive Carefully and Stay Within Legal Speed."

SUDDENLY IT'S SPRING

FOR A TOUCH OF SPRING ON YOUR TABLE, try this Strawberry Cream Icebox Cake! It's easily prepared in not much more than an instant—cool and refreshing, too.

The filling is made with strawberry instant pudding and whipped cream. This is spread between split cake layers and on the top and sides, as pictured here. Fresh green mint leaves or fresh strawberries as garnish give it that "extra special" party look.

STRAWBERRY CREAM ICEBOX CAKE

2 cups cold milk 1 cup whipping cream
2 packages strawberry 2 8-inch sponge cake instant pudding mix layers

Pour milk into mixing bowl. Add pudding mix and beat slowly with egg beater just until well mixed, about 1 minute. Do not overbeat; mixture will be thin. Let stand until slightly thickened—takes about 2 minutes. Whip the cream and fold it into the pudding. Cut the cake layers through center horizontally, making 4 layers. Spread the mixture between layers and on tops and sides of cake. Garnish top of cake with mint leaves or fresh strawberries. Chill before serving.

Surviving are: one son, Henry L. Shanninghouse, Jr., one daughter, Mrs. Harry V. (Lenna) Stewart, both of Minneapolis, Minn.; three grandchildren; and one nephew, Dewey Holmes of Fort Wayne, Ind. Mr. Lawrence Bailey was hostess of the Hobby Club. Guests were: Mrs. Harrison Young, Mrs. Olea Holton, and Mrs. Katherine South. Prizes were won by Mesdames Holton, Young and Johnson.

The Sepia Slenderizing Sallies met at the home of Mrs. Muriel Berry. Prizes were won by Mrs. Ala Johnson, Mrs. Katherine South and Mrs. Mari M. Jones. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Jones. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Thomas and son, Robin, of Minneapolis, Minn., were week end guests of Mrs. Thomas' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Robinson, and family.

The High Notes Club met at the home of Mrs. La Verne Carter. Whist was played. Prizes were won by Mrs. Harrison Young, Mrs. Rosemary Buckner and Mrs. Thelma Johnson. Guests were Mrs. Flossie Scott and Mrs. Betty Bradley.

Write Ask: 'What Does America Owe Joe Lewis?'

Philadelphia, Pa.—What does America owe Joe Lewis?

Russell C. Harrington, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, who dog Joe's heels over back income taxes, was told that this Nation owes Joe more than he owes it.

In an open letter to Harrington, John Fischer, editor-in-chief of Harper's Magazine, contrasts Joe's plight with that of wealthy oil men, some of whom make a million dollars a day but who are exempt from paying the full income tax because of the depletion allowance on oil wells.

Eartha's New Musical, 'Shinbone Alley' Coming; Billy Daniels in Palm Springs; 'Land Beyond the River', New Play

WITH DOLORES CALVIN

New York City—(Calvin News Service)—New Play Opens . . . With a $3.85 top, the "Dutchess of Malfi" starring Earle Hyman and Hurd Hatfield got off to a great start at the Phoenix Theatre here . . . and never have we seen such an eerie number as this . . . filled with assorted murders and spine-chilling thrills which all but stop the patrons from breathing . . . With four corpses dropping at various places on the stage, horror lurking in every corner—Earle Hyman, the handsome Negro actor who did a good job in "Anna Lucasta," and others—ghostly-like role in "The Picture of Dorian Gray" which is much akin to "The Dutchess of Malfi."

There's nothing but excitement around this old town—for Eartha Kitt's new musical "Shinbone Alley" is coming . . . and the leading male star will be Eddie Bracken, a great comedian and a wonderful guy to work with . . . we note this especially due to Eartha's known temperament . . .

Movie goers complaining that their favorite stars, such as Fats Domino and others have too brief a part in "The Girl Can't Help It" . . . soon as you got in the swing of things, it was over . . . We're glad we weren't the only ones who thought beautiful Dorothy Dandridge didn't do justice to "Julie," one of the top songs of last year which she sang at the Oscar Award Presentation . . . Though looking lovely enough to vie with any of the great stars who graced the stage, Dorothy's voice seemed strained and without expression . . . Once before a star sang one of the hit tunes in a most unbecoming way: she was Rosemary Clooney and she sang Judy Garland's song "The Man Who Got Away" with such a dead feeling we were glad when she finished . . . After hearing

"Julie" sung in the film by Doris Day, Dorothy Dandridge was a complete letdown . . .

Micky and Sylvia, who are scoring with records, playing Philadelphia. Their return to the Apollo here, however, was not too profitable, being many felt their booking was too quick behind the first . . .

Billy—Daniels at the Chi Chi in Palm Springs, with old standby Benny Payne, followed Nat King Cole without a whimper . . . Billy is still a great favorite among the elite . . . Billed as "Mr. Black Magic with Benny Payne" at the piano, Billy goes back to such old timers as "Bye Bye Blackbirds" then comes up to the present with "I Could Have Danced All Night," with many moods of music in-between . . . He finishes with, of course, "Ol Black Magic" and he puts everything left into it . . .

Lil' Richard will tour Britain before '57 is out . . . Dorothy Donegan goes into the Theatrical Grill June 3rd for the summer . . . Ella Fitzgerald all excited about her trip to Europe with the Oscar Peterson Trio April 22nd . . . They have Roy Eldridge, Stuff Smith and drummer Jo Jones with them . . . Titled "Jazz at the Philharmonic" it is naturally produced by Norman Granz, manager for Ella . . .

Sammy Davis, Jr. is whooping it up in Las Vegas at the Sands—glad to be out in the wide open spaces after a confinement in New York for his Broadway musical . . . Sammy here has arranged the score to read like a musical—with comedian Allen Drake, the Copa Girls in chorus and of course the Will Mastin Trio which goes along strongly . . . Sammy does an impression of Elvis Presley, complete with bowing knees, that is riotous . . .

The Apollo revived "Stormy Weather" for a week's run . . . Completely welcome in a town which hadn't seen top entertainment in quite a while, Lionel Hampton and band did a fine job at the brand new Gaiety Club in Ottawa . . . The

Mother Attending Kindergarten Roundup Tea at Crocker

Mrs. Ervin Nichols, (second from left) 1117 Ninth Street, whose son will start kindergarten at Crocker School next fall, chatted with school officials recently at the annual Kindergarten roundup tea. Affairs are Hamp, we hear, made quite a spectacle of himself when, on opening night, he broke a snare drum head, then smartly autographed bits of the skin and threw them out to excited patrons . . .

A new play, based on the theme of segregation, has opened in the Village and carries a message of the times—explaining it for even the least-informed person . . . Called "A Land Beyond The River", the story deals with a group of South Carolinians who search for a better world for their children . . . Tired of broken down schools and segregated systems, they band together to fight for their right, but not without many tragedies along the way . . . Borrowed from news events, their leader is a pastor—his house is bombed, etc. but none of this discourages the hearty group who believe the only way to success is to keep at it . . . Although it is a play with a message, it has its entertaining moments and serves as an inspiration to all oppressed groups . . .

Child Learns Very Early to Desire Mother's Care; Next Attention from Others

By May P. Youtz, Associate Professor

"Why is Billy so crazy about what the crowd is doing?" his puzzled mother asked recently. "I believe he would be glad if he were forced to live forever in a cave with a bunch of boys and never have to come finish a meal because somebody from the gang is sure to call before he is through eating."

It may give this mother doubtful comfort to tell her that almost every child of Billy's age learns to answer the call of the gang much more promptly than he learns to answer the school bell or mother's call. But it may give her greater comfort to tell her that this is a good sign of healthy, normal, social growth on his part.

We are what we are, largely because our experience has made us so. You may call this experience by any name you please: environment, home and community influence, or social pressure. The child learns very early to desire the mother's care, affection and approval; and then he desires next attention from other members of his family.

At about six years or even younger he is thrust bodily into a whole new world of school associates of his own age. He develops a whole range of new interests which often bear only a remote relationship to his family interest, but are closely allied to the interests of his companions at school.

But his family at home may evince merely a mild adult approval of these so-called childish interests—they may even frown upon his behavior. Thus, the child comes by degrees to feel more interest in the crowd life than in the family life.

Guidance of this crowd life, called often the gang or the club, is of utmost importance.

National Travelers Aid Association In Regional Conference Here

Des Moines Travelers Aid is serving as host for the first time to a regional conference of the National Travelers Aid Association on April 10-12. Travelers Aid in this city is a merged agency known as Family Service-Travelers Aid, a Community Chest agency, with its central office located at 625 Flynn Building. Miss Agnes McCroery is the executive secretary. Mr. Charles W. Holmes and Mr. William N. Cropp are supervisors.

For over a hundred years Travelers Aid has specialized in overcoming the difficulties resulting from movement on a vast scale of the country's population. This is the only voluntary social service concerned with helping people who are away from home and in trouble.

Last year 1,288 benefitted from the work of the Des Moines Travelers Aid Society, but this was not a one-way street because at the same time that strangers to Des Moines were being taken care of here, Travelers Aid Societies in other cities were helping residents of Des Moines when they were in difficulty away from home.

Delegates from 8 States

"Travelers Aid in Changing Times" is the theme of the conference. Delegates from seventeen Travelers Aid Societies in eight West Central states are attending the meeting to exchange experience and develop methods of further improving service to people in trouble away from home. Mayor Ray Mills extended the greeting from the city. Judge Ray Harrison, newly appointed judge of the Municipal Court, will be principal speaker in the Friday afternoon session, "Working with the Alcoholic."

The Board of Directors of the Des Moines Travelers Aid Society has planned various forms of hospitality for the visiting delegates. Dr. Geo. Young is president of the Des Moines agency board and Mr. Morris Kahn, member of the board, is executive chairman of the committees for planning the conference.

T.O.B. Club To Meet April 19

A representative of the Civil Defense office will present a color film of the Filter Center at the regular meeting of the T. O. B. Club last week. Mrs. Pauline Humphrey was program chairman. The next meeting will be Friday, April 19, at the home of Mrs. Iva Mae Hayes, 1045 13th Street.

Parliamentary Law Club to Meet

The Parliamentary Law and Culture Club will meet Friday, 8 p.m., at the home of Atty. Gertrude Rush, Dr. S. J. Williamson, guest speaker, will talk on "Mental Health." Mrs. Sarah Jett, president, will preside over the business session.

Personal Touch
By MARIE ROSS

This is the time-of-year when shoppers are busy securing wardrobes for the Easter parade coming up on Sunday week.

One Des Moines resident, Mrs. Olin Cooper, 1112 Eleventh Street, is getting her wardrobe together for her first visit to New York City and Washington D. C. She plans to leave Des Moines by plane on May first, arrive in New York City that afternoon—and meet there—a very distinguished person, her daughter, Mrs. Gwendolyn Fowler, who will be returning to the States after a two-year absence.

Mrs. Fowler, a United States Foreign Operations Administrative analyst in Saigon, Viet Nam, since March 1955, is taking a trip around the world on her three-month vacation from her job. She left Saigon March 31 for New Delhi and Karachi, India; Beirut, Syria; Istanbul, Turkey; Athens, Greece.

According to her itinerary, Mrs. Cooper said her daughter is to spend Easter in Rome, Italy; then arrive April 20 in Paris, France, where she will spend four days; then go to London, England, and Glasgow, Scotland, where she will board a plane on April 29 for New York.

Mrs. Cooper said she got a thrill when she went to the station on March 27 to get "Winnie," her daughter's 12-year-old dachshund pet dog, which left Viet Nam on March 22 by plane, to Kansas City, then by train the rest of the way.

"When I got the dog home, I began to think that she was deaf for she paid no attention to anything I would say. I would call her, like I used to, and she wouldn't move. Then, I slammed a few doors and I noted that she heard the noise."

"I didn't know what to do. Then, it came to me that all during the time that 'Winnie' was in Viet Nam, she was cared for by Gwen's maid who spoke French."

"Well," Mrs. Cooper laughed and said, "I didn't know any French so I began to push 'Winnie' around here and there—and now, she is beginning to understand the English language again."

"I don't have to call her to eat—she always comes running," Mrs. Cooper said.

In Mrs. Cooper's special wardrobe for her May trip will be a black silk dress, made from material her daughter sent from Hong Kong, China, to be worn with pink accessories.

She and Gwen plan to spend ten days in the East, then return to Des Moines where Mrs. Fowler will remain until the latter part of June.

Month in California

It seems like Iowans are boarding the trains daily—to or from California. Just last week, Mrs. H. W. Walden, 3013 Amherst Street, returned from San Diego where she spent a month visiting relatives.

She was house guest of her husband's youngest brother, and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Walden who live on their seven-acre ranch, which they have built up with multiple dwellings.

Harold, Mrs. Walden revealed, grew up in their family and calls her "Mom." He left a real estate business in Detroit, Mich., six years ago and went to California.

On her first trip to "sunny" California, the Iowan said she was most impressed by the beautiful flowers—the Iceland moss, sweet peas, roses, geraniums—which she gathered each morning.

"The pointsettias grow as high as houses and the geranium are as tall as I am."

"I enjoyed the ranch—the beautiful six-room ranch home. One whole side of the home was glass—and you looked out on palm trees and flowers—and you looked up to the mountains. It was a glorious view and I spent many hours looking."

"In the back yard of their home grew figs, lemons, grapefruit, dates, avocados. It was like a Garden of Eden."

The Iowan went sight-seeing, too. The Waldens took her to Los Angeles, for three days. They visited Hollywood, Farmers Market and other prominent places.

Sees Spanish Sights

Mrs. Walden said she enjoyed sight-seeing along the route from San Diego to Los Angeles, seeing the old Spanish Missions, one San Juan Capistrano, where she viewed many old relics of the settlements established by the Jesuit missionaries; and, landmarks of the era when Spain occupied San Diego and other points in California.

While there she went on a three-

Contributions for Easter Seals Should Be Sent In

A final plea went out to citizens of Polk county who have not yet made their contributions to the 1957 Easter Seal Campaign.

Larry Anderson, of Des Moines, chairman of the Easter Seal Campaign in Polk county, urged residents who have not yet sent in their contributions to do so as soon as possible.

Mr. Anderson said, "So much depends upon the success of the appeal. The future of every crippled child in our county is at stake."

Announce Engagement Of Naomi L. Hoffman

NAOMI LEE HOFFMAN
Mr. and Mrs. James B. Morris, Sr., 955 Seventeenth Street, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their niece, Naomi Lee Hoffman to Clark Edward Jeffers.

Miss Hoffman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ashby Hoffman of Madison, Va. Mr. Jeffers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Brown, 2579 Onawa Street.

Miss Hoffman is employed at Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. Mr. Jeffers works for Iowa Packing Co.

They have set May 25 as their wedding date.

Social Art Club To Meet April 18

Mrs. Minnie McGuire, 1101 Eleventh Street, was hostess to the Social Art Club, Thursday, April 4. The next meeting will be April 18 with Mrs. Clara Miller, 1249 Hutton Street.

Civic Breakfast Club Meets Apr. 15

The Civic Breakfast Club will meet April 15, 10:30 a. m., at the YWCA, 9th and High Streets. Mrs. Capitola Jones is hostess. Mrs. Ruth Moore is president.

MRS. WADE DOING NICELY

Mrs. Evelyn Wade, 916 School Street, is reported to be doing nicely at Broadlawn General Hospital.

Mr. Gerald Carey Of Chicago Here

Gerald Carey of Chicago, Ill., here for the funeral of Mr. French Brown, Sr., spent a few days with his mother, Mrs. Alice Douglass, 1432 Maple Street.

Three Purpose Club To Meet April 17

The Three Purpose Club held a business meeting April 3 with Mrs. Dorothy Wallace, 1010 Seventeenth Street. The box lunch held April 7 was a success. Mrs. Mabel Weathers, 1067 Sixteenth Street, will be hostess Wednesday, April 17. Mrs. Bettha Wolder is president; Mrs. Lenore Johnson is secretary and reporter.

hour harbor excursion on M. V. Silvergate excursion boat with about 200 other persons. She saw seagulls and pelicans; and old sailing ships, the U. S. Navy Repair base, Old Spanish Lighthouse, U. S. S. Philippine Mars "Jutro," U. S. S. Battleship Iowa.

Mrs. Walden went to the movies to see "Ten Commandments;" did a lot of eating at Chinese restaurants; attended religious services each Sunday at Bethel AME; and went down to Tia Juana, Mexico for sight-seeing and shopping.

She also visited a grandson, Walden Miller, a son of the Samuel Millers here, who is attending junior college there and working at Convair, airplane company; and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Florence and family formerly of Des Moines. Mrs. Florence, the former Harriet Walden, is a granddaughter of Mrs. Walden.

Returning home, the Iowan said her train "crept through a tunnel of snow" in Kansas, where a train was snow-bound several weeks ago. "I'm glad to be back home. California is pretty, but I like the change of seasons," she assured.

Speaking of spring flowers, I picked my first outdoor bloom Wednesday morning—a healthy blooming dandelion, lighting up the city hall lawn.

Miss Wilma Atkins and Mr. William Robinson Take Vows at Mt. Olive Baptist Church

Miss Wilma Atkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Atkins, 615 S.E. Fourth Street, became the bride of William Robinson at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, March 2, at Mt. Olive Baptist Church.

Mr. Robinson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robinson, 1004 Enos Street.

The Rev. H. R. Fields performed a double-ring ceremony in the presence of friends and relatives of the couple.

Altar decorations were baskets of pink snapdragons, and white carnations.

The bride wore a princess style gown of pink acetate, fashioned with an embroidered lace yoke and full skirt.

Bride Wears Pink

The bride was attired in a pink princess style acetate dress, fashioned with embroidered yoke and full skirt, and a pink nylon straw hat. She carried a corsage of pink carnations on a white Bible.

Miss Temple Flanagan, the bride's attendant, wore a pale blue sleeveless dress with a lace yoke; a blue hat and carried a corsage of yellow carnations.

Mr. Lawrence Castine was best man.

Reception

A reception followed immediately in the church parlor, attended by about 75 guests.

Hostesses were Misses Mildred

MRS. WILLIAM ROBINSON

Brown, Darlene Gatewood, Marjorie Booker, Mesdames John Burkett, Richard Henderson, Edward Robinson, George Carter, Morton Graves, Olivia Cooper, Irma Johnson.

Mrs. Robinson, a native of Des Moines, is a graduate of East High School and a member of Mt. Olive Baptist Church. She is employed at the Insurance Exchange Bldg.

Mr. Robinson, born in Des Moines, is a graduate of North High School, member of St. Paul AME Church, and a veteran of World War II. He is a serviceman at the Polk County Court House.

The couple is at home at 1157 Eighteenth Street.

'So Tragic to See Certain Forces in South Try to Act as if They Were God'

Greensboro, N. C.—"There can be complete self-fulfillment only when we live up to our maximum capacities," Dr. Benjamin E. Mays of Atlanta, Ga., declared in an address that marked the close of the 31st Homecoming Institute at Bennett College, Sunday.

To an audience, some of whom were compelled to stand, the president of Morehouse College, in keeping with the institute theme, spoke on "Guides to Achieving Self-Fulfillment through Understanding."

'Different Circumstances'

"People are born under different circumstances," he said, "some to great wealth, some to poverty. Some have parents with education and culture, some have parents who can neither read nor write. Some are born white, some brown, some dark. "But we don't get our status in the world from family, race or college. We get that from God, and the founding fathers of this nation were speaking wiser than they knew when they said that God gives men certain inalienable rights."

"That is why it is so tragic to see certain forces in the deep South who try to act as if they were God."

The week-long institute, which had as its theme: "Achieving Self-Fulfillment through Understanding," included an address by Dr. Joseph S. Himes, professor of sociology at North Carolina College in Durham; two addresses by Dr. Lowell R. Ditzel, Bronxville, N. Y. minister-lecturer; a panel discussion, discussion groups, exhibits and demonstrations.

tino, and a group of favorite Negro Spirituals.

Studied in L. A.

For a number of years, after her arrival in Los Angeles, Mrs. Thompson studied with Valdemar Banke, and later with Dr. Hugo Sterlitzer of Los Angeles City College. She won the city-wide music award for sopranos in the Adult Education Schools of Los Angeles, and had the distinction of appearing with the famous baritone, John Charles Thomas, in "Symphonies by the Sea," in the Santa Monica Bowl. She has also sung on radio programs and participated in many opera workshops.

A series of concerts is being planned for her during the coming months in the Los Angeles area, where she has won many friends and supporters.

VICE PRESIDENT NIXON

Last week, Vice President Nixon reported to President Eisenhower on his recent trip to Africa where he went as the President's representative at the celebration of the entry of the new country, Ghana, in the world of free nations.

On this trip Mr. Nixon visited several countries occupied by the brown races of North Africa and Negroes in Liberia, Uganda, and adjoining territories, as usual, he sought out and made friends with all classes becoming very popular wherever he went.

Salient points in the report were:

Improved relations with African leaders.

Stepped up economic aid in some categories.

Stronger emphasis on the investment of private American capital in Africa.

Arrangements with other free nations to share the burdens of African improvement.

Promotion of even closer relationships between the free trade movements in the United States and Africa.

Support for a co-operative approach among the nations directly involved for the development of the Nile River.

Creation of a bureau of African affairs in the state department.

General improvement of U. S. personnel in all agencies in Africa.

Support for African education institutions.

General improvement of the American information program and better personnel throughout.

He further said:

"We cannot talk equality to the peoples of Africa and Asia and practice inequality in the United States."

"In the national interest as well as for the moral issues involved, we must support the necessary steps which will assure orderly progress toward the elimination of discrimination in the United States."

As on previous missions, Mr. Nixon admonished America that not only was it important to create good relations with these people in order to block communist influences, but that we must treat our minorities better in order to demonstrate that democracy is practiced as well as preached in America.

And tying in with this admonition was the advice of sending a better type of representatives to these countries for the natives, judge America by those we send to represent us.

No better advice could be given in these crucial times when world unrest makes it imperative that America win the hearts of the people with whom it is allied and which it needs as leaders in world affairs.

BAD ADVICE

It happens occasionally that people in high places find themselves at variance with the policy of the agency with which they are employed and often make unscrupulous statements in expressing their views which undercut what would appear to be the objectives sought after.

to be the objectives sought after by the employer.

Bernard Stanley, appointment secretary to President Eisenhower, fell into this predicament, when, in addressing Leigh Dickerson University said "feeling engendered by the Supreme Court's May 17, 1954, (anti-segregation) decision have resulted in the dropping of Negroes, especially graduate students, from universities in the South where previously they had been accepted."

Stanley demonstrated that he does not know the facts because the NAACP, in reply, states that there are more Negroes enrolled in white schools in the South than ever before; that Louisiana is the only state which has tried this but so far its efforts have been unsuccessful.

Here is a man working in the executive department of the government who is sworn to uphold the law as declared by the judicial department. He ought to know that successful enforcement of any law needs the moral support of the public. And this is particularly true of laws changing patterns which have existed for years.

Instead, remarks by men in Mr. Stanley's position are dangerous to the effort to enforce the Supreme Court (desegregation) decision for they tend to weaken the influence and integrity of the court and lend aid and comfort to those who defy it.

the students of Alcorn College in school. We have welcomed to our campus Miss Robessie Young and Miss Susan Owens. They have already begun to make friends here and, I am sure, the disruption in their education will be less severe because of the interest the NAACP has shown in them.

Today, all the displaced students were reported to be studying hard to make up for the time lost from their studies. The students received tuition, travel expenses and an incidental expense fund from the NAACP for the remainder of the school semester. This action on the part of the Association was taken by the NAACP Committee on Administration at its regular monthly meeting on March 25.

Crocker Conservation Club Meets April 18

The Crocker Conservation Club will meet Thursday, April 18, 8 p.m., Crocker Branch YMCA, at which time Mr. Kenneth Oslund, a representative of the Remington Arms Company Inc., will be guest speaker.

Warren N. Hall, chairman of the program committee, announced that Mr. Oslund, of Lincoln, Nebraska, will screen one of his company's outstanding sports film along with demonstrating their latest lines of guns. Visitors are welcomed to attend.

At the meeting of April 4, the club elected officers for 1957-8. They were: James S. Bostic, president; Warren N. Hall, vice president; Emmett M. Winston, secretary; Malcolm C. Hogan, assistant secretary; Milton L. Miller, treasurer; Richard C. Perry, sergeant-at-arms; and members at large to executive committee, John A. Williams, Arthur P. Trotter and James F. Dixon.

Western District Omega Meets in L. A.

Los Angeles, Calif. — The 12th District Omega Meeting of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, which convened here March 15-16, closed with the election of officers. John C. Long was named as the District Representative, Charles Turner is the first vice, Willie Hopkins, 2nd Vice, Allen Woodward, Keeper of Records and Seal, with William Warren as Keeper of Finance.

The 1958 session will be held in San Francisco. A program of expansion is to be presented at that session which calls for many advances in the work of the Omegas on the west coast.

The highlight of the meeting was a panel discussion on the "Strategic Use of Money in the Securing of Full Civil Rights". This discussion brought out the fact that Negroes can no longer beg for what they need and pay for what they want. It was proven very definitely that the cost of first-class citizenship was very high.

The session also featured the religious side and a fine fellowship breakfast was held at the Fraternity House Sunday morning. The entire delegation journeyed to the Wesley Methodist Church, at 11:00 a. m., and heard Rev. Rakenstraw deliver an inspiring sermon on "An Invitation to Discipleship". The talent hunt was held at 1:45 p. m. Sunday and John Rogers took the honors. The session closed with the installation of new officers by Carl A. Earles.

ATOMIC AGE MIRACLE

With all the tensions and worries of this Atomic Age, we are apt to forget that it has also meant great advances in medical science.

One of the by-products of atomic energy production is radioactive Carbon 14. In recent experiments, drugs used in treating tuberculosis patients were "labeled" with Carbon 14 so that their behavior in the body could be studied.

With the aid of the radioactive tracer, scientists found that the drug isoniazid had a definite affinity for the infected tissue in the body. The typical tuberculous lesion, the area where the disease was destroying the body tissue, accumulated and retained large quantities of the drug. On the other hand, they found that another drug used for TB treatment, PAS, readily penetrated the lesion, but left again just as easily. No concentration of the drug was retained in the infected organs.

Little Remote

This scientific research may seem a little remote to your every day life, but it's all part of the effort to find out how best to cure the TB patient. Doctors have used these drugs for some years, knowing that they help TB patients, also knowing that patients vary in their response to the different drugs and combinations of drugs. Research such as this helps them know why and how they work and may therefore aid in planning specific treatment for patients in various stages of the disease.

Modern treatment of tuberculosis has removed much of the terrible curtain of fear that has hung over this disease for centuries. In the old days, people used to say they'd "rather not know they had TB." They felt it was an automatic sentence of death. Today, TB can be cured. It's still a lot more serious than the common cold, but there's no reason to hide from the facts. Our doctor will advise you how often you should have a chest X-ray to make sure you don't have TB.

A Visitor

There was a fellow in town last week who was quite a sports figure in the twenties and early thirties. Tenes Jaco who lives on the West Coast was here for a brief visit. Jaco knew more about sports than a lot of so-called experts. He pitched for the Maple Street Baptist team in the old Sunday School baseball league. Tenes couldn't throw a ball through a piece of Kleenex, but nobody ever got many runs off him. Never did find out why. The ball came up there with no curve and big as a watermelon, but try and hit the thing squarely. Had a lot of fun talking over old times with the guy.

Catfishing Begins Early; Continuous Open Season

Scattered reports from happy anglers indicate that King Catfish is on "the feed", and is being caught in many sections of the state.

Harry Harrison, fisheries biologist for the Conservation Commission, said that catfish are being caught much earlier than usual, and that good fishing success was being had in late March.

Anglers Checked

Harrison cited seven anglers checked on the Des Moines River, of whom five had from three to seven catfish. The fishermen were "throwing back good numbers" of little catfish and keeping only large ones. The most successful anglers were those fishing near dams, the biologist stated, and those fishing away from dams were having poor luck.

Northeastern Iowa rivers have also been producing catfish since Mid-March, with good catches being made in the Maquoketa and Wapsipinicon rivers. Tom Berkley, Area Game Manager for northeastern Iowa, recently watched three men fishing near Oxford Mills on the Wapsie and said that "the men caught five good catfish, the largest weighing five and one-half pounds."

All catfish have been taken on worms and nightcrawlers, baits which may take almost any type of Iowa game fish in early spring. There is a continuous open season, with a daily catch limit of eight and a possession limit of sixteen.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

Wonder how many more of these crazy fight decisions we are going to have. It seems that a fellow has to wait until everybody gets over being excited before he knows what happened. And, the best boxer doesn't always have to win. One judge says "A" won. The other judge says "B" won. The referee decides that "C" won and the commissioner calls in the press and says nobody won. Nobody lost but the spectators who paid to see the thing.

We never like to discredit anyone but we just can't see why this series of articles glorifying Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion. The guy deserves credit for being a sort of self-made boxer. But he, like most rising champs caught the Great Dempsey on the way down hill and won twice. Then he picked his fighter to meet Jack Sharkey, a fast hard hitter and a good boxer would have fought Tunney for coffee money, but Gene picked this guy from Australia who couldn't punch his way out of a wet paper sack, knocked him out and retired undefeated after two fights as champion.

Met All Corners

Joe Louis, Charles, Joe Walcott and Rocky Marciano met all corners but even carefully ducked fights with Harry Wills and Arthur Godfrey. He hired Godfrey as a sparring partner and just tossed away a twenty-five thousand dollar forfeit to stay away from Wills. Maybe Dempsey could have taken Wills. Personally we thought he would because Harry was a close-in fighter and fighters of this type were usually Jack's meat. But we never found out. Then we soured on Tunney when in an interview about Louis he said one never could tell what a Negro would do if he were hit on the chin. That, Mr. Tunney, is applicable to fighters of all races and nationalities. Intellectual, poeey!

SUPER-BOXER

Joe Louis, greatest boxing champ of them all, will make his first SUPERMARKET appearance at the two EAGLE Food Centers, Monday Evening, to give a "person to person" demonstration on "The Art of Self Defense." The former heavyweight champion of the world will appear at the Eagle Food Center at 2821 1st Avenue East, at 7 P.M., and at 8 P.M. at Eagle's store located at 1400 Mt. Vernon. It is his hope that demonstrations of good sportsmanship will curb the growing trend toward juvenile delinquency.

Let's All* Have FUN

FLY KITES SAFELY

- 1 KEEP KITES AWAY FROM ELECTRIC WIRES, and T.V. Antennas
- 2 USE DRY COTTON STRING, not Metal
- 3 NEVER USE METAL ON KITES, or Kite Tails
- 4 NEVER CLIMB POLES, at any time

Report any Kite You See Tangled in Wires to IPALCO AT ONCE—It's Serious!

Spring and kites go together naturally. It's a wonderful time of the year. Kite flying at a well-chosen spot can be real fun for young and old alike... with little to worry about. By following Reddy Kilowatt's 4 simple safety rules shown above, many thoughtless accidents can be prevented.

If by chance your kite gets caught in wires, or you see a kite caught in wires, call Iowa Power and Light Company at once! We'll recover it for you if we can... for FREE! Please leave the pole climbing for Reddy's expert helpers!

Reddy asks you one and all to help him maintain his good record. He will appreciate your help in making this kite season another safe one.

*Note to MOTHERS AND DADS

Please read Reddy's timely message to your children. It's good insurance against tragedy. They'll like the idea of being Reddy's helpers!
