Dr. King Says 'We Are Moving Up the Highway'

New York — (CNS) — Rev. Martin Luther King paid a whirlwind visit to New York to urge more support to the mass civil rights prayer pilgrimage to Washington May 17th. With 50,000 persons throughout the country taking part, 10,000 are to be New Yorkers.

"We're moving," he said. "The motor is now cranked up. We're moving up the highway to freedom toward the city of equality. We can't afford to slow up, because our nation has a date with destiny."

Grueling Schedule

On less than three hours' sleep, Rev. King whipped through a grueling schedule that started with a ministers' meeting of 200 Negro and white clergymen; next a synagogue service before Stephen Wise Free Synagogue when the congregation could hardly refrain from applauding; a mass rally at Harlem's 125th Street before 3,000 wildly cheering Negroes; wound up by a radio appearance after midnight.

When does King sleep? Well he doesn't when on such a trip. But often he tries to catch up on sleep after it's all over and then sleeps for 15 hours at a time.

Sugar will be minus this sum when he gets his check.

Caravans to Washington May 17 for Pilgrimage; Local Groups to Observe

New York — America's Negro prepares for an exodus to Freedom. As the great day of the Prayer Pilgrimage approaches, the plans become more definite and the results more clearly expressed.

In Washington, over sixty churches are being set up as reception centers so that when the buses and cars arrive in the city, there will be some way for the Pilgrims to get fast refreshments before the noon time ceremonies.

In New York, several auto dealers are setting up car pools with their own merchandise. They want to be personally responsible for seeing that at least 500 people from their area are in Washington on the 17th of May.

By Plane—Train

In Chicago, the NAACP is making arrangements to have a thousand people in Washington, by plane, train and auto. Also in Chicago, about a score of churches and labor organizations have joined in their Pilgrimage efforts.

In New York, the mammoth Civil Rights Rally to organize support for the Pilgrimage will be held on Friday, the third of May at 9:00 p.m.

Grant of $10,000 Made To Chicago Urban League For Race Relations Study

Chicago, Ill. — The Field Foundation, Inc., of New York City has authorized a grant of $10,000 to the Chicago Urban League for the purpose of conducting a two-year apprenticeship training program in race relations.

Announcement of the grant was made by Maxwell Hahn, Executive Vice President of the Foundation in a letter to Edwin C. Berry, Executive Director of the League. Accompanying the letter was the Foundation's check for $5,000. The second $5,000 installment is to be forwarded to the Chicago Urban League on May 1, 1958.

Critical Condition

The Foundation's action followed by just one month Mr. Berry's written request for the $10,000 grant.

"We are profoundly grateful to the Foundation," stated Berry, "for making it possible for us to partially alleviate a critical condition which has

The speakers include Martin Luther King, Adam Clayton Powell, Roy Wilkins, and South Carolina's Billy S. Fleming.

Chartered planes seem to be the fashion for this movement, although, it's true that we're really running the gamut transportation wise—from walking by some in New York to planes from Nashville, Charlotte, Los Angeles, and several points south.

Station Wagons

In Montgomery, the station wagons used in the historic boycott will be used to transport scores of former walkers to Washington.

Rosa Parks will be in New York to speak at another rally on the 12th. The rally will be the culmination of a parade which will be called the "Pre-mother's Day March" and will honor the heroic mothers of Montgomery. Most of the work, in this is being done by the newly designated New York Ministers Mobilization Committee, which is working out of the church office of Rev. Adam Clayton Powell (Abyssinian).

The feeling of freedom is in the air and its lovers are working hard to make it a mate with reality.

Says Reverence for Law, Process Should Be Among Citizen's First Concerns

New York — Felicitating Vice President Richard M. Nixon on his call for "reverence for law and due process," the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has expressed to the Vice President the hope that his recent declaration and his report to the President on his African tour indicate "that the Administration is prepared to back to the hilt the civil rights proposals now bottled up in House and Senate committees."

In a telegram dispatched to Mr. Nixon May 2, Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, congratulated him on his civil rights address before the Joint Defense Appeal of the American Jewish Committee and the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith in Chicago on April 30. In that address, Mr. Nixon warned that Americans must take care "not to feed red propagandists raw material" with which to discredit the United States in the eyes of "millions in Asia and Africa that today are deeply concerned with winning or maintaining their freedom."

Essential

The Vice President further stated: "It is essential that we realize that such civil rights and liberties are among the highest achievements of civilized man. They do not merely protect the rights of minorities against the arbitrary rule of the majority for majority and minority."

Ordered from Apartment, SUI Students to Stay

Iowa City, Ia. — An eviction notice to force two State University of Iowa Negro students to move from their apartment here was withdrawn Thursday.

Glenn Meeks, real estate and insurance salesman and owner of the apartment, said he withdrew the notice because a majority of residents in the apartment building wished to allow the students to remain.

Meeks had said Wednesday he asked the two young men to leave because of protests from neighbors.

Meeks said a petition circulated through the neighborhood by friends of the students revealed that only two of 17 persons contacted were opposed to the students remaining.

The students, Nathaniel G. Williams, 35, Nashville, Tenn., and Philip T. Saunders, 24, Mason City, said after being informed of the withdrawal they intended to remain in the apartment.

First Negro High To Virginia City

Front Royal, Va. — (CNS) — Claiming that now is the first time the Negro population could afford a high school, Negroes of this area are being allowed their first one in the county at an estimated cost of $400,000. Warren County Board of Supervisors have given the school board approval to build it. The 91 Negro school children who attend high school have been going to nearby towns at the expense of the board.

'We Owe to Humanity Fair Share of Our Toil And Time,' Says Laws

"We as human beings owe to our community and to other human beings a certain amount of our efforts, energies and money. We owe to humanity a fair share of our toil and time because we have benefited from the sweat, the blood and the tears of others," Clarence A. Laws, regional field secretary of NAACP, said, as he addressed the members of the Des Moines Branch at the Willkie House, Tuesday night, April 30.

Laws urged the people to "work for the total advancement of the community. We must not think of ourselves as separate or a part from the total of our community," he said. Segregation is not only physical but mental as well and mental segregation is as venomous and deadly to a group as the physical setting apart. Remember that," he said, "when you are tempted to segregate yourselves because you are fearful of being insulted or offended by our fellow citizens."

Do Not Segregate

"Do not segregate yourselves either mentally or physically. This is your community. You are a part of the total and the total is not complete without your participation. Be active in civic affairs. Join other groups. Work for the whole community benefit."

Savory Skillet Chops With Vegetables

This pork chop recipe has extra appeal as an "easy meal." Cook the chops and vegetables together in the same utensil. A fancy skillet will allow you to take it from stove to table. An electric skillet can be used conveniently. After the vegetables are put in the skillet, browned pork chops are attractively arranged over the golden corn and white rice. Each browned chop is garnished with a tasty piece of tomato.

INGREDIENTS:

- 4 to 6 pork chops depending on servings wanted
- 1 large clove garlic, finely chopped
- 1/2 cup chopped onions
- 1 No. 303 can tomatoes and juice
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon thyme
- 1/4 cup uncooked white rice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups water
- 1 cup whole kernel yellow corn

METHOD: Trim some of the fat from the chops. Fry out this trimmed fat in a large skillet. Remove pieces of fat and add the pork chops. Brown well on both sides. Stack the chops to one side of the skillet. Add the garlic and onions. Cook, stirring occasionally, until yellow. Add additional fat only if necessary. Place the chops over the bottom of the skillet. Drain the juice from the tomatoes into a measuring cup. Add water to make one cup. Pour over the chops. Sprinkle with the 2 teaspoons salt, pepper and thyme. Cover and simmer 30 minutes.

Stack the chops to one side of the skillet. Stir in the rice. Sprinkle with the 1 teaspoon salt. Arrange the chops over the rice. Pour on the 2 cups of water. Bring to a vigorous boil over a high heat. Turn the heat down. Cover with a lid and simmer 25 to 30 minutes or until the rice is tender. Add water if the mixture cooks dry. When the rice is tender, stir in the corn. Break up the tomatoes and arrange over the pork chops. Cover and simmer about 10 minutes to heat the corn. Add water if necessary. Most of the water should be absorbed before serving. Serve at the table from the skillet, if desired. This recipe makes 4 to 6 generous servings.

Texan Takes Over Management of Radio Station KIOA

John H. Pace, vice-president and general manager of Public Radio Corp., Houston, Tex., has taken over direct management of radio station KIOA here as part of a complete change in station policy.

KIOA was purchased recently by the Texas company which also owns radio station KAKC in Tulsa, Okla. Pace was formerly with radio stations in Shreveport, La., and Houston.

Music and News

He said KIOA will extend its broadcast time and, within the next two weeks will be on the air 24 hours a day, seven days a week, with music and news.

"We intend to build the most comprehensive and immediate radio news coverage in the mid-west at KIOA," Pace said. He said the station will carry 24 news programs each day and that two mobile news units will be on the streets of Des Moines 24 hours a day for on-the-spot news coverage.

Donald Hughes, formerly news director at KAKC in Tulsa, has been named news director at KIOA. Hughes has won several awards from press services for news achievement, according to Pace.

Program Director

Pace also announced the appointment of Rex Jones as program director at KIOA. Jones was formerly program director with stations in Dallas, Tex., and New Orleans, La.

Disc jockeys Don Bell, En Montray, Donald McKennon, Mike Henry and Jones will handle the station's music programming. Pace said the station will follow a public service policy "that will be positive and alert in support of community and social needs."

KIOA will continue to broadcast at 940 kilocycles with 10,000 watts daytime power and 5,000 watts nighttime power. President of Public Radio Corp., is Lester Kamin, Houston advertising executive.

"While we naturally expect the apprentice to become increasingly productive during the one-year period," stated Berry, "the Urban League would regard this program as an internship with primary emphasis placed on the learning experience for the trainee."

The trainee would also participate in the annual conference of the National Urban League and also attend one other important national training institute; possibly the conference now being planned by the National Association of Intergroup Relations Officials.

Timmie Rogers Planning Huge Stage Show Extravaganza; Sammy Davis Quite An Authority on Race Question

WITH DOLORES CALVIN

New York City — (Calvin Service)—What's happening on the scene . . . When we recently caught a glimpse of Timmie Rogers, comedian extraordinaire, along Broadway, we might have guessed he was up to his ideas of planning a huge stage show extravaganza . . . And sure enough, he was . . . Playing this week at the Apollo, Timmie's show, named "No Time for Squares" features many new performers and is really what the title says . . . They have geared themselves to the last word in calypso and rock n' roll . . . The new hopefuls are plugging for chances . . . Namely they are: Mauri Leighton, singer and Lon Fontaine.

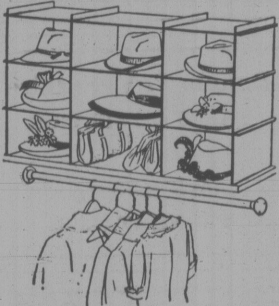

The veteran performer is Bunny Briggs, who we believed had a great future—about 6 years ago—when we caught his act at the Paramount Theatre . . . However he never seemed to get above the heap . . . Although a very good dancer who never fails to arouse the audience, Briggs once was so sure he would see his name in big lights, it must seem a let-down after many years, to be on the decline . . . A young man, in his early thirties, Briggs might be said to have been one who was acclaimed highly at an early age—felt the flint of spending money and got too use to the exciting life of a performer . . . Somewhere along the way he forgot there's much hard work, heartache and disappointment enroute to the top . . . Or perhaps he is learning now . . .

Pigeonholes for Hats

A HANDY pigeonhole file for men's and boys' hats and caps, women's small hats, gloves and purses can be placed on the closet shelf. This collection of separate compartments is simply constructed like the dividers in an egg-crate.

Use sheets of long-wearing Masonite one-eighth inch Presdwood that's smooth on both sides. It may be obtained at any lumber yard. Cut slots with a power saw the thickness of the boards so they will fit together at right angles. A good width for each compartment is 13 inches. The height may be varied, depending on the closet. This pigeonhole storage rack should be made to fit the available space quite snugly, so that it will be steady. Slots for the "legs" may be cut into the wood shelf as an additional brace.

tional Conference of Christians and Jews, and the Anti-Defamation League.

"The City of Chicago also presents the most fertile laboratory for 'on the job' training in race relations, its population is heterogeneous and growing rapidly."

After selection of the apprentice has been made, the League will communicate regularly with the Foundation and report progress.

Rogers, on the other hand, also had the makings of a great comedian—and here too we find an artist who greets success in spasms—he rises then declines before you realize it . . . When Cafe Society Downtown was the rage as a nightclub and Lena Horne (then Helena Horne) was just rising to fame—Timmie was getting his big breaks . . . That was more than 10 years ago . . . Today, he seems to be starting again—with a whole new generation but with many of the same jokes and tunes . . . For instance, one of his hits was "Give Me Some Good Whiskey and Bad Women". Today he uses the same tune but adds to the lyrics "and I'll rock and roll all day" . . . completely ageless with his lithe figure, Timmie never loses enthusiasm and belief that success—big time success—is just around the corner and that he's on his way there . . . The unit, which made a good showing here, is booked for the season at Atlantic City's Club Harlem beginning June 20 . . . This is the spot held for many seasons by Larry Steele and his "Smart Affairs."

Sammy Davis, Jr. is one guy we always adored — for his talent is something to write about—but now we adore him for even still better reason—he's quite an authority on the race question—and what's even better—not afraid to speak his mind . . . During his television interview in what he jokingly called "the hot seat" on Mike Wallace's "Night Beat", Sammy got a few things off his chest and explained away . . . One was a slur that he has too many white friends . . . Sammy made a face at this question and quickly answered that he has friends and never stops to count how many Negro friends and how many whites — in fact many times he never even stops to notice what color they are . . . Another time Sammy told of an incident at the Versailles a few years ago where he was refused admittance even after he had reserved seats for a party and saw his name on the list . . . Sammy said his friend Jeff Chandler (the actor) did a very good thing. He went in and spat on the floor, which served, at least to us, as a triumph.

Sammy Davis, Jr. is the kind of guy who has strong beliefs and fights for them and abides by them . . . He says he's found there's no use using violence — he tried it once in the Army when a recruit called him a dirty name . . . Sammy hauled off and knocked the guy down . . . When he got up, he said "You're still what I called you" . . . Sammy thought "well here I hit the guy, knocked him down, hurt my fist and there's blood coming from his jaw—and it didn't do any good." . . . From then on, Sammy avoided fist fights—but protect the very basis of human civilization with words and logic, as Rev. Luther King advises us to do.

A strong Stevenson man who campaigned heavily in the last election (and so did we), Sammy says he's still for Stevenson and named his reasons . . . He also spoke his mind about Rep. Adam Powell—citing he admires Powell as a man but does not go along with him politically . . . Sammy feels he "confused" three million Negroes at the polls . . . A great performer from head to toe and one who never gives up or gives in—the race when he hits big night spots such as in Las Vegas and Florida . . . He refuses to perform before a jim crow audience . . . He fights for his race, yet he realizes his opinions are individual and refuses to even attempt to speak for the Negro as a whole . . . He wants more Negroes to support Negro plays and aspiring performers who need the boost to get to the top . . . He'll go all out of his way to aid a charitable cause and gives his time, energy and money freely for what he believes in . . . It is most gratifying to see and listen to a Negro performer of this caliber—who is at the top of his profession, admired by all races, and yet is now more than ever interested in the problems facing the younger Negro performers when he could so easily

the Camera Guild

YOUNGSTERS SHOULD HAVE THEIR OWN CAMERAS

Maybe the younger members of the family have been taking an occasional turn at using the family camera, but that's no substitute for brother or sister, with his or her own camera.

At what age should a child be given his first camera? It all depends on the child. With most of them, eight is about the right age. To an eight-year-old, a camera is an exciting gift, one that ushers in a whole new world of experience and pleasure. Start him off with one of the inexpensive modern day versions of the old familiar box camera. It's easy on your budget, easy for him to use.

He'll find countless subjects that he'll want to snap—pets, playmates, parents, and things you'd never think about. And that brings us to point which we feel is very important. Remember that an eight-year-old's idea of good picture subject material isn't necessarily the same as that of an adult. So, don't be surprised if Junior turns up pleased as punch with pictures that you'd never take.

And while we're giving advice, remember that to the average youngster a camera is just a toy. Try to think of it that way yourself and don't make him afraid of using it. You shouldn't expect much more of him in handling a $5 camera than if it were a toy fire truck at the same price. He'll have a lot more fun and be much more inclined to use the camera if you keep your supervision to a minimum.

turn deaf ears and forget it.

The $64,000 question is where was Louis Jordan when the Apollo Theatre staff was looking frantically for him the night before closing as the time was too close for his unit to appear . . . The Urban League will benefit from the Spencer Tracy-Katherine Hepburn premiere of "Desk Set" at the Roxy . . . Proceeds of opening night go to them.

As if there wasn't enough trouble with the movie censors who would clip with their scissors any time they felt the need or desire—now we have come up against the television censors, who clip whole scenes from the Late Show and other movies at night . . . For instance, the clippers cut "Cabin In The Sky" completely out and parts of other movies where Negroes were seen—as they felt Southern audiences would not appreciate the films.

Presbyterian Fund Aids Own In Integration

Columbia, S. C.—The stated clerk of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., Wednesday night, May 1, said it's true—as the Ku Klux Klan asserted—that the church gave $10,000 to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to pay off a lawsuit.

The South Carolina Klan said Wednesday that the church gave the money to the NAACP to use in an out-of-court settlement of a libel suit brought by Atty. Shepherd K. Nash of Sumter, S. C.

Authority

The stated clerk, Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, said in Chicago that he advanced the $10,000 from the church general assembly funds under the general authority of the assembly given last year "which asked me to go to the aid of any of our ministers or members who got into difficulty because of taking a position for desegregation as adopted by our church."

He said the funds of the assembly were replaced by money raised by the Negroes of South Carolina and by additional gifts made by the individual Presbyterians all over the country when they read of the circumstances in the Jan. 5 issue of Presbyterian Life Magazine.

School Case

Nash sued for $120,000 contending that a statement by an NAACP representative of a group of petitioners for integrated schools at Sumter damaged his professional reputation.

Nash was attorney for the schools and the statement dealt with the withdrawal of names of some petitioners. As stated clerk, Dr. Blake is chief of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A.—the Northern Presbyterians.

Southern Criticism

Criticism of the Klan by the Presbyterian Church, U. S. (Southern) this week at its own general assembly touched off the Klan's charges against the Northern church.

A Klan statement authorized by Robert E. Hodges, kligrapp (secretary) of the Columbia Klavern accused the Northern church of "sinking low in the mire of social gospel politics" by raising funds "for the race-mixing activities" of the NAACP.

Given Authority

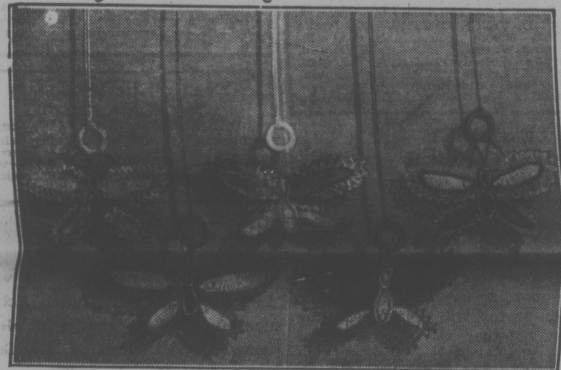

Chicago, Ill.—Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, chief executive officer of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America Thursday said "we don't intend to have our ministers pushed around by anybody."

Dr. Blake said he had been given authority to use church funds to aid "any of our ministers or members who get into difficulty because of taking the position for desegregation as adopted by our church."

His organization is composed of Presbyterians—living mainly in the northern states.

He said $10,000 had been given to the National Association for Advancement of Colored People to pay a settlement awarded a Sumter, S. C. attorney who sued the NAACP's 12 Sumter, S. C., directors on grounds of libel. One of the defendants was a Negro minister, Herbert Nelson.

The Ku Klux Klan of South Carolina Wednesday criticized the contribution made by the Presbyterian church.

'Time When Negroes Must Unite If We Must Win,' Bishop Gomez Tells Group

BISHOP GOMEZ

"This is a time when we need to be together in a vital sense more than we have ever been. It is a time when Negroes must unite if we must win," spoke Bishop Joseph Gomez of Cleveland, Ohio, as he addressed a representatives gathering of officers and members of the Northwest Conference, Fourth Episcopal District of the A.M.E. Church.

The banquet honoring Bishop Gomez, who was paying his first official visit to this conference since his appointment last winter following the death of Bishop A. J. Allen, was held Wednesday night, May 1, at Willkie House, attended by approximately 300 persons from the St. Paul, Minn., and Des Moines districts of the conference.

Work with Best

"We need to go out and cooperate with the best people of all races in this onward march," Bishop Gomez continued as he told of his eight years of experience in Texas, where he was the first Negro minister to be made president of the Texas Council of Churches; and, where he served on a governors advisory committee on school integration.

Interracial Fellowship

"I am a great believer of interracial fellowship. I contend that America cannot be half-black and half-white and win. I don't believe that color means anything. I believe that what is inside of a man counts most," the bishop emphasized.

"Negroes in the south could never have gone so far if it had not been that back in the shadows there were some of the finest white men," the bishop emphasized.

"If we are going to endure, we are going to have to emphasize character, particularly, in high places—the governor's chair, in the city council and, we certainly ought to have it in the ministry," Bishop Gomez stressed.

"The problem is that we have too many little men in high places. Often we elect men to high places who are not worthy to clean our shoes. There ought to be a return of prophetic ministry. We need prophetic insight. Most of us are afraid of our bread and butter, an upstart steward who tells us he or she will starve us."

"The old prophets were men of courage," Bishop Gomez praised as he called the names of Amos, Jeremiah, and Isaiah. They were men who preached an uncompromising gospel.

Wicked People in Pews

"There are wicked people in pews today because we don't have enough preachers to preach the truth," the bishop said and then he advised the young ministers: "Don't get yourselves in trouble unless you are prepared to pay the price."

"Freedom is something that you have got to pay for and pay to the fullest. It has responsibility. We have our responsibility because we are free and we must be worthy of key, baked ham, potato salad, cheese cubes, potato chips and dip, vegetable bowl, relishes and "etceteras." Mr. Jackson is president of the Roosevelt Club, Inc.

At a Saturday afternoon tea given at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Reese Marvin, Ames, wife of Mr. Marvin who heads the department of technical journalism at Iowa State College, Iowa Press women enjoyed an interesting variety of tea cakes, cookies and sandwiches, along with the tea and coffee.

Made by the wives of members of the journalism department, there was an interesting variety of cakes—miniature snowballs made by Mrs. Schwartz; brownies by Mrs. Ames; pecan squares by Mrs. Heath; miniature fruit cakes by a friend, Mrs. Marvin revealed. And, she added to the collection of sweets, molasses cookies and lemon tarts that looked like miniature lemon pies (about the width of a silver dollar) topped with meringue.

"Where on earth can you find such tiny pans in which to bake the pie or tart shells?" was the first question asked by some of the guests.

Someone said they can be purchased. There were open-face ginger sandwiches and avocado and olive. The ginger, Mrs. Marvin revealed, came from a Canadian friend.

Guests admired the Marvin flower gardens, the white and purple wild violets bordering the walks and bedecking the lawn, and the plants in the Marvin greenhouse that adjoins their home.

One seldom has to worry about over-eating at a hotel table, Sunday morning at the annual Ladies of the Press breakfast given by the Des Moines Alumnae chapter Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary and profession fraternity for women in journalism, served was the traditional breakfast menu—grapefruit half, scrambled eggs, link sausages, toast, sweet roll, jellies, coffee or milk.

After so much food, it isn't difficult to go back to the diet of dry bread and water or fruit juices—until the next event comes along. A happy Mother's Day to all of the mothers!

16,000 Cancer Patients Aided By American Society's Service Program

New York — Sixteen thousand cancer patients received free nursing care in their homes last year through the American Cancer Society's service program.

Dr. David A. Wood, the Society's president, said the total was "impressive" but that there is still "a vast, unmet and growing need."

national office. The divisions cover the United States and Alaska. Forty-four divisions spent a total of $514,900 for nursing service in 1956.

Nursing care allocations depend on the total division program, needs, resources and facilities available. Close to 200,000 visits were made by nurses to medically indigent cancer patients in 1956 under American Cancer Society sponsorship.

KLAN ACTIVITIES DISGRACE TO NATION

The Des Moines Register is publishing a series of articles by Clark Mollenhoff and Fletcher Knebel on the revived Klu Klux Klan. They are published in Look Magazine.

They tell a sordid story of an organization of low brow people who, in the name of white supremacy, thrive on illegal methods to intimidate Negroes from exercising their rights.

Opposition to Jews, Catholics and foreign born is included in their program as of old. But as to the Negro they have added another pressure—economic sanctions.

"Frankly, the members are an organization of cowards, hiding behind sheets over their bodies, pillow cases over their heads and the darkness of night to peddle their rotten wares. Any man who would stoop so low as to join it is not fit to be a citizen of the U. S."

On the other hand, it is a disgrace that our federal and state laws are so weak that such an organization is allowed to parade its wares as they do. Our federal government is trying to tell other people of the world how to treat their fellowman, is criticizing Russia's mistreatment of Hungarians and at the same time allows a pack of gangsters to roam the country intimidating a portion of its citizenry all in such a manner as makes our position a mockery.

Unfortunately, high public officials are not arising to their responsibility when they allow such conditions to go on. In fact, the failure to speak out against lawlessness against Negroes litigated because of the Supreme Court decision on school segregation has been a source of encouragement to the evildoers and robs the court of the moral backing which the decision needs.

Vice President Nixon suggested recently that the appointment of a Negro to a high diplomatic post in Europe would do much to help cultivate confidence in us by the people of Asia and Africa. With this, the Bystander fully agrees. But it would be far more important, and more valuable, if President Eisenhower spoke out against such lawlessness as bombing and shooting into the homes and churches, refusing registration and voting privileges to Negroes—in fact, every illegal act the rabble-rousers decide they want to do.

Is it more important to speak out against the misuse of union funds than the misuse of rights of our citizen, the Bystander thinks not.

BE FULLY ADVISED ON FREEWAY RELOCATIONS

It appears certain that Des Moines is to have a freeway thus adding to a systematic handling of traffic and beautification of the city.

Judging from the tentative announcement, a large portion of the route will pass through sections where much of the Negro population lives. This of course, means that hundreds of homes will be bought by the authority; that these same people will find it necessary to locate other places to buy or rent.

Under the law of eminent domain, the state has the right to take anyone's property for public use and compensate the owner for it.

The Bystander suggests that in this instance, more care be taken by owners in the proposed area to realize a fairer price for their property than was done when homes were bought for the East High stadium. Many of these people bought modest homes years ago and were comfortable in them. But when they went out to purchase a place to live, many did not have enough to make a good down payment.

The Bystander would suggest that homeowners be sure to get the proper advice of real estate men and lawyers before making deals to sell their property. Many think by handling the matter themselves, they save. But generally, it's just the other way.

And again, the Bystander hopes that in the course of this relocation, an effort will be made to move into better homes and in different neighborhoods.

At least get all the advice possible before making a deal.

fit. We must think of others as well as ourselves.

"No group in all humanity has the right to be selfish and think only in terms of self-interest; for when that happens—we turn our backs on humanity and not only does humanity lose by this, but we lose through our own selfish imposed limitations.

Regardless of how extensive and difficult our own problems may be, we cannot fail to show concern for the problems of others, simply because our own are so acute," he said.

Actually Advanced

Laws explained that minority rights are actually advanced by their becoming involved in work beneficial to the whole community. "What happens to members of minorities is reflected in the entire community," he declared.

Urging the setting up of strong special committees for handling some of the special problems in NAACP work, Laws asked the group to set up a general welfare committee to co-operate with all groups and agencies working for the good of the community at large.

Laws pointed out that all the discrimination against Negroes did not exist in the South alone. Which meant that the NAACP in Des Moines and elsewhere in the North has a double load to carry if we are to shoulder our own responsibilities and the additional load of aiding our brother in the South.

Clear Goals

"Therefore," he urged, "set out clear goals and strive to fulfill them. While you are working for betterment of our lot, don't forget that other's have toiled likewise for the right to be free from terror and oppression. Do not feel that we hold full claim to oppression and martyrdom. While we have our full share of terror, others have followed this road likewise and our suffering, like our good work must be looked upon as a part of the whole and not in itself the whole part. Otherwise we may waste ourselves in self pity and be lost."

"So think of the American Indian—shut off from the whole of civilization on reservations, think of the Hungarian people fleeing tyranny, consider the plight and history of the Jews when you think of our bloodshed, our bondage and our struggle through the years to be free. Remember, too," he said, "that the white people in the South, who speak up for the rights of Negroes are suffering the same injustice and intimidation as we are."

"If one dares to speak his true convictions in upholding the principles of Democracy, he places himself in danger of the violence which comes to those who oppose segregation. Crosses are being burned on their lawns. They are insulted over the phone in their homes and on the streets. Many lose their jobs or their businesses are boycotted. Some even suffer physical violence to their persons. If you remember this—that ours is but a share in the suffering of humanity, then it should be easier to offer a fair share of ourselves in the work and responsibility of the community."

Current Membership

Stressing the importance of the current membership drive now in its final weeks in Des Moines, Laws said, NAACP will lose $100,000 in membership money amounting to 12% of come. The only hope for overcoming this loss is for the citizens of Des Moines and other Northern areas to take on the load. He commended the Des Moines Branch for adopting Monroe, La.

Four Teams Over Top

Atty. Robert A. Wright, membership chairman of the Des Moines Branch reported that four teams out of the ten working in the drive had gone over the top for their team quotas. (Each team was required to obtain 100 memberships) They are: teams one, two, five and six under the leadership of captains, A. P. Trotter, Mesdames, Georgine C. Morris, Clara Bayles, Donna Greenlee and Inez Morrow.

Wright announced that there would be a special door-to-door campaign underway Saturday and Sunday, May 11 and 12 under the supervision of Matthew Johnson, in a special effort to reach the quota for Monroe, Louisiana and to take in any late memberships for the Des Moines drive.

A victory celebration will follow the close of the drive on the 19th of May with the crowning of the queen.

Rev. Gordon Here

Rev. Frank R. Gordon, chairman of the Southeastern region of the minister's council of the NAACP and past president of the Knoxville Tennessee Branch, an instructor in religion of Knoxville College, will speak at the meeting. He will tell the gathering what is happening in his state where opposition to desegregation has placed NAACP under severe attack. Knoxville is only 15 miles from

HEALTH FOR ALL

DANCE BALLERINA

The dancer whirling across the stage certainly proves that the feet can be faster than the eye. But did you know that science has also learned from her basic facts about the human eye?

Why doesn't the spinning ballerina get dizzy? Analyzing her movements in a pirouette scientists noted that she focuses or "spots" on a distant object before starting to turn. With each turn, she twists her body as far as possible, keeping her eyes focussed on the object. Then she snaps her head around to refocus on her point of reference. So she can spin round and round and never lose her balance.

Rotating Clearer

For a more careful scientific observation, the scientists put her in a rotating chair equipped with all kinds of gadgets to test responses during and immediately after rotation. When the ballerina was told to "spot" she had hardly any reaction. But when she did not, her eyes jerked haphazardly while the chair spun, and when it stopped she was dizzy.

The same test was given many other people—some were blind and some with only partial defects of vision. The result of all this whirling has been a reliable clinical test by which a doctor can distinguish between psychic and organic blindness.

Ballerinas, rats, mice, guinea pigs, monkeys, penitentiary prisoners, rabbits, fruit flies—they all have made their contribution to science. New discoveries in medicine can't be used to help you and me until they've been proved harmless on different kinds of animals and finally on human volunteers. The next time the doctor gives you a diagnostic test, or a shot of vaccine, or a prescription for an antibiotic, give a grateful thought to the thousands of animals and self-sacrificing human beings who have helped to make these miracles of medicine possible.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

That large silence you heard last week was the voice of yours truly after he predicted that Sugar Ray Robinson would fail to win back his middleweight boxing crown from Gene Fullmer. Not only did we guess wrong but we lost a couple of potatoes on the deal. Oh well, a lot of experts were there and they guessed wrong, too. We still don't believe Ray can go fifteen rounds and the first time he has to be will be in trouble but the guy is so smart and dangerous while he is fresh.

Track

Well, we stayed away from the Grinnell meet and what happened? Tech won and now the boys are convinced that we are a jinx. Well, we shall see this week end. But we promise not to say a word to the boys until after the meet. The Engineers won't win the state meet, but they should be well up among the leaders. And all their runners are neighborhood pals who grew up together. They got more coming on too. In ten years or less Tech will be East High's biggest rival for city athletic honors.

Baseball

The pennant races are beginning to look normal. The Yankees are on top again and the Dodgers and Braves are battling it out for the national league top. It will likely be that way all summer in the national with the ankees pulling away from the field in the American. Might get to see the Braves and Dodgers play if Buck Scott's plans materialize.

If you haven't seen the Des Moines Demons play you ought to. They have a hustling ball club. Seems odd that they should lose so many games but they are bound to get going later on. Seems as if the boys have the makings of a good club; just can't get started.

Vice President, "has long supported these principles and has sought to counteract anti-American propaganda by efforts to eliminate the 'raw material' which too often gives validity to the Communist charges. Our efforts have been thwarted by the failure of the leadership of both parties to press for congressional enactment of urgently needed civil rights laws."

Southern Senators

The NAACP leader charged that "a small bloc of southern senators in strategic committee positions has shamelessly delayed consideration and forced acceptance of amendments designed to wreck the bill. Despite the obvious urgency of such legislation which would protect the right to vote, the Republicans have merely endorsed it and the southern wing of the Democrats, as usual, has been hostile. The White House has remained silent not only upon the pending legislation but also upon the evil and destructive attacks upon the Supreme Court and the open defiance of its desegregation rulings. We earnestly hope that your recent declarations preface a reversal of this policy of silence and inaction."

Hank Aaron Off To Flying Start For Hitting Crown

Milwaukee, Wisc. — (CNS) — Milwaukee's sensational Negro batting king is off to a flying start to repeat last year's performance, and thereby become the first player since Stan "The Man" Musial to do it twice in a row if he accomplishes it.

Only five National Leaguers have been able to capture the batting championship two consecutive years. Hank isn't even discussing their records or worried about his own at the moment. He's just hitting when it counts.

Plenty More

Only 23 years old, practically all of his teammates say he hasn't begun to "mature" yet, that there's still plenty more to come. Opposing pitchers, though, are dizzy enough by his effortless swing.

Hank personally beat Pittsburgh for Milwaukee in its 8-7 triumph when he got in five hits in six tries and drove in four runs. With a triple in the 11th inning against the Giants, Aaron gave the Braves their third straight overtime victory.

MORE TAXES???

In the State House wheels are turning
Bright and late the lights are burning,
Hacking out, with mental axes.

Ways and means to grab more taxes!!!!
There's a limit to the squeeze
What we need is tax release:
We've a point of annexation
That's beyond our toleration!

Though, they give us little choice
We are free that we can voice,
How we feel; and let them note
Where the axe falls, when we vote!

is scheduled to be produced May 10 and 11.

Chapman said he called Dr. Wilson and discussed the opera casting.

"Assurance"

Chapman, told the Post that he thought it "probably wouldn't be good public relations to have a Negro star with a white person."

Chapman said he told Wilson that he wanted to keep the university out of any controversy and that Wilson "assured me . . . they would not do anything to start a controversy."

Miss Smith refused to discuss the incident.

ed; the nationalists of Algeria are not afraid of being strafed; and the masses of Hungary are not afraid of Russian tanks, he added.

The reporter also took the American white press to task for not taking a stronger stand in the defense of civil liberties. "By bowing to the edict of the State Department the daily press has forfeited its right to call the Red press Government-controlled," he said, "it's just another case of the pot calling the kettle black."

Guardian of Right

Mr. Worthy said that when a newspaper submits to censorship and restriction, even if voluntarily, the principle of the free press has been violated. He saw the Negro press as a guardian of this basic right. He told of his publisher's refusal to recall him from Red China following such a request from the State Department. He also told of the refusal by Negro papers in general to "play down" stories of discrimination and segregation during World War II even after the Office of War Information had strongly urged that it be done.

"The fact that the F.B.I. visited many of these papers in an effort to intimidate them did not frighten these editors," he said, "it only led to stronger stories."

Has Right

As for his personal behavior in defying the ban on travel in Red China, Mr. Worthy declared, "Any individual has the right to say 'no' to any Government at some point, lest in the future all of his rights will be denied him."

Among the groups being honored at the banquet were three juniors who will tour foreign countries this summer as recipients of Experiment in International Living Scholarships. They were James W. Brown, of Central Islip, L.I., N.Y., who will go to England; Miss June T. Mitchell, of Gatesville, N. C., who goes to Italy; and Donald Worden, of Pittsburgh, Pa., who goes to India.

Other groups honored included Liberal Arts Student Council officers, 1957 inductees into Phi Beta Kappa, students whose names appeared in the 1956-57 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities, and 13 students who received keys for outstanding achievement in and out of the classroom.
