START YOUR HOME CANNING EARLY!

A wide variety of early vegetables and fruits can soon be on YOUR shelves in Ball Mason Jars ready for winter meals. Plan to start your home canning when the first fruits and vegetables come to market. When they are best for table use, they are best for home canning. That's an easy rule to follow.

You will need a steam pressure cooker or canner for processing low-acid vegetables such as asparagus, beans, beets, carrots, corn and peas. Acid foods—fruits, tomatoes, pickled beets, rhubarb and sauerkraut—should be processed in a boiling water bath.

The steam pressure cooker provides the hotter than boiling temperature needed to destroy bacteria in low-acid foods. Be sure the gauge is accurate and all parts of the cooker clean and in good working order.

Your water bath canner may be any metal container with lid and a basket or rack to keep the jars from touching the bottom. A wash boiler with a wooden rack placed in the bottom will serve.

Use the open kettle method for jams, preserves, relishes and pickles, but this method is not a reliable one for canning fruits and tomatoes.

Have your supply of Ball Mason Jars and Ball Dome Caps ready at hand as the canning season starts. Examine the tops of jars to be sure they are smooth and free of sharp edges. If jars are nicked, discard them as they may not seal properly; it is better to buy a new jar than risk losing a pint or quart of your precious home-canned food.

If you do both canning and freezing, have a supply of Ball "All-Purpose" (Freezer) Jars to use for either purpose. These jars are made of glass with high silica content and may be used for both canning and freezing. They come fitted with wide-mouth Ball Dome Caps, which close in a vacuum seal for home canning or twist airtight for freezing.

Have your supply of Ball Mason Jars and Ball Dome Caps ready at chester, Mass., Gladys Rummel of Decatur, Ill.; Mrs. Consuela B. Tatum of Berkeley, Calif., and Mrs. B. H. Toomes of Keokuk as well as several grand nieces and nephews. In addition to his wife, he was preceded in death by a brother, Otis, and four sisters, Mary Ada, Josephine H., Maude and Mrs. Ethel B. Brummel.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Palmer of Macon, Mo., celebrated their 36th anniversary at dinner June 30. The table was lovely, decorated with cream lace cloth and white Snowball flowers for the center. The dinner was served by their two children, Mrs. Johnny Palmer of Jefferson City, Mo., and Miss Mary Jane Palmer of Keokuk, Iowa. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Green of Moberly, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Dayo Grimmer and son, Rudolph of Keokuk. The other guests were from Macon, Mr. and Mrs. Monty Grant, Mr. and budget of $1,991,297 for the 1957-58 Fiscal Year was adopted by the Fort Dodge Community School District Board of Education at its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, July 9.

Mrs. Elmer Grant, Rev. and Mrs. Mosely. The couple received a number of lovely gifts.

The new budget figure is an increase of $221,228 over the 1956-57 budget. The increase is due mainly for teacher's salaries, new school fixtures and improvements not payable from the Schoolhouse Fund Bonds. Despite the increase in estimated expenditures by the board, the tax levy for the next fiscal year is expected to be reduced by .077 of a mill. The second consecutive year that school millage rates have been lowered. Property owners will find their share of school support to be a little

Pops Armstrong Throws Temperament On Newport Jazz Festival

Newport, R. I. (CNS)—In what seems to be just "one of those things", Louis (Pops) Armstrong, jazz great, threw his temperament around and in doing so, threw cold water on what loomed to be one of the greatest testimonials to a person of this stature a birthday celebration representing much effort, expense and love of labor. But Pops just wasn't interested and after a few incidents which ruffled him, he told more than 10,000 persons it would soon rain and they all scurried home. Unfortunately, the prediction was incorrect. It didn't rain.

Leaving Ella Fitzgerald ready to sing a specially composed number for his birthday, Pops Armstrong suddenly decided the party was over. Johnny Mercer had just sung the traditional birthday song and others were listed for the kick-off.

It is believed Armstrong became infuriated when his singer of long-standing, Velma Middleton, was substituted and could not be consoled. She cried in her dressing room until Armstrong gave orders she must go on. Then the celebration became a nightmare with one thing happening less, due to the increased assessed valuation for the school district. Public hearing on the budget was set for Tuesday, July 23, at 7:30 p. m. in the Board of Education office. Interested residents may bring their views on the budget before the board.

May See Picture

The Sunday School of Coppin Chapel anticipates seeing "The Ten Commandments" Tuesday, July 23, in a body at the Strand Theater. The pastor, Rev. Pryor, highly recommends the picture and suggests the plans to work out so that all classes of the Sunday School see it.

Coppin Chapel AME Church, 151 Central Ave., Rev. Nelson Pryor, pastor; Rev. LeRoy Patterson, associate pastor; Sunday School at 10:30 a. m. Mrs. Lillian Lewis, Supt. Morning services at 11:30 o'clock. The Women's Missionary Society meets Wednesday, 2 p. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Nearly time for the Annual Conference. The fourth and last local Quarterly Conference was held Sunday, July 7.

Second Baptist Church, 1827 Fourth Ave., So. Rev. Wm. Scott, pastor; Sunday School 10:30 a. m. Mrs. Irene Fox, Supt. Morning worship at 11:30 o'clock. Home Mission society meets the second Tuesday monthly. The Seeds of Kindness Auxiliary meets each Monday. Mrs. Mary Mosley is president.

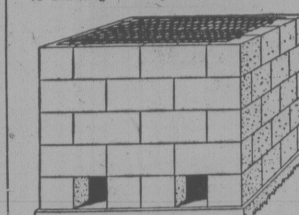

Mr. John Downing continues to do real well from his recent major operation.

after another. It all ended when everybody went home and Armstrong celebrated his birthday in another fashion.

Handy Incinerator

FOR burning household rubbish, an incinerator built of concrete blocks on a concrete foundation is excellent. The base is 4 by 5 feet, and the concrete should be reinforced with chicken wire, according to Family Handyman.

Use standard size building blocks, setting the first course on a thin layer of mortar and leaving two 8"x8" spaces at the front to provide ample draft for complete incineration.

The cover is chicken wire, 1"x2" mesh, with welded joints so the wires won't separate due to the heat. Eye-bolts may be inserted in the joints between two of the top building blocks, if you want to hinge the mesh cover by looping down two pieces of the wire into the metal eyes.

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help... My help cometh from the Lord, who made heaven and earth.—(Psalm 121:1, 2.)

What a glorious, uplifting feeling it is to look out upon another new day and realize that Almighty God, who made the shining sun to rise and stay true on its course, also is Our Father—merciful, loving each of us, His children, ever willing to forgive us our sins, to help and sustain us.

To continue her vacation with other children.

Iowa youth are leaving Des Moines working and going to school in other cities and—proving to their parents that they are able to survive away from home.

A recent letter from Walden S. Miller, a 1955 graduate of Des Moines Tech High School, proving these points was written to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Miller, 1140 Fourteenth Street.

From San Diego, Cal., "Wallie" as his family calls him, had this to say, "Well, school is out now and I have been sleeping like a Rip Van Winkle. Sure feels good to get something more than a nap. As yet I haven't received my grades, but they are supposed to be mailed sometime in the near future. (He is attending junior college in San Diego).

"It is really hot down here. For the last four days we had 90 degree temperatures and I haven't even been to the beach yet.

"I saw Irving's picture (his brother) in the Bystander. It's a nice one. What's of hard-headed Norm doing? (another brother) Does he have a job for the summer or is he still at home washing dishes? . . . Wish he was out here for the summer. I would send for him to come out if I had enough room—and enough money.

Go to Gettysburg

"We spent the 4th of July at Gettysburg, Pa., where we got a glimpse of the Eisenhower Farm and the Gettysburg countryside, took pictures and had a picnic. We drove all over the 35 square miles of the Old Battle Fields where hundreds of monuments have been built.

"At the National Museum there, we saw every old relic which was used during the great Battle of Gettysburg and also the spot where Lincoln gave his famous Gettysburg Address. I was very impressed with a statue of Albert Woolson, a Negro gentleman, who was the last surviving member of the GAR. (one of the last). The Battle Field is so big that it would have taken a week to really see and understand it all. I suggest every one who comes to Washington to go by Gettysburg, Pa., and see these great things. I must say, however, that I was extremely fortunate to have the privilege of being taken here by an old friend and former Des Moines resident, Mr. James Toler, who was most certainly an able and well informed guide having been to Gettysburg many times himself.

"Wish I had time to tell it all, but will save the rest until I get home."

In Colorado, Mrs. White will visit another son, then fly to California.

Cab Calloway Back in New York; Billie Daniels Moves to Macomb in Hollywood; TV Film of Louis Armstrong 'Insulting'

WITH DOLORES CALVIN
New York City (CNS)—Cab Calloway Returns . . . Back to his old stomping ground, New York City, after a lengthy stand at Miami Beach and Las Vegas, Cab Calloway has returned to show New York what the south and west went wild over . . . Featuring the Norma Miller dancers (talented lasses indeed) and "the prettiest sepiu girls," Cab's show is spicy and full of life . . . It's engagement here in Central Park has been highly heralded—and expects a huge turnout . . .

The Coconut Grove, Hollywood's most fabulous nightspot, has a new record breaker and it's a glamourous little lady: Miss Lena Horne . . . Proving herself the queen after 2 weeks of a 4 week engagement, Lena has played to capacity and standing room only . . . She has surpassed the mark set even by Harry Belafonte . . .

Billy Daniels has moved his "Old Black Magic" to the great Macomb in Hollywood where the biggest stars are out every night—to thrill to his "Yiddish Mama" and other special material . . . The Steel Pier in Atlantic City, all set in their 10 week summer season, boasts the Mills Brothers' appearance among their great lineup . . .

June Christy who has been a long-time friend and headliner with Nat King Cole (as vocalist with Stan Kenton)—joined him again for "Record Star Parade" which nearly sold out for a Sunday evening show at the Civic Auditorium, San Francisco . . . with $4 top, 6,000 attended totaling $19,000 . . . Only disappointment was a delay of half hour in starting—but the audience enjoyed every minute thereafter . . .

We don't give television much credit for allowing that film of Louis Armstrong during a news interview to be shown—the lighting was so poor, all that could be distinguished was eyes and teeth—and this was most insulting to a person of Armstrong's importance in the jazz world . . .

We'd like to state that the television situation comedy, starring Stu Erwin, is just another one of those degrading deals—with Willie Best, Negro comedian, as the victim . . . One film shows Willie afraid and shaking when Erwin's young daughter, Walden . . .

"Guess that is it for now," closed the former Des Moines youth.

Table Delight

NO HOME ever has enough doilies, especially the type shown with alternating motifs of fascinating beauty. Approximate size of this crocheted doily is 14 1/4 inches in diameter. Atlas News Service, 243 West 125th Street, New York 27, N. Y., supplies free directions on request. Simply enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope for Pattern No. 7271.

Boring Thin Material
AMERICAN BUILDER, leading magazine for builders, recently disclosed a fool-proof method of boring holes in thin material. Simply place a block of wood on each side, holding the blocks together with a "C" clamp and then boring through the blocks. This method provides a clean, smooth cut with no ravel or splinters.

ter tells him she forces a tall man coming to visit him . . . Willie immediately thinks it is the finance company and prepares to leave town. . . . Then Edwin walks in . . . and "saves" Willie . . . The manner in which Erwin handles the situation is disgusting . . . He talks to Willie like a child—belittling him and ridiculing him all the way . . . In this modern day, TV films of this type must be stopped . . . Eyes-bugging and seariness is no longer hilarious but shameful and to be pitied . . .

Just when we really believe Hollywood is stepping ahead in the portrayal of the Negro in films (re: "China Gate," "Island In The Sun," "Edge of the City," "Something Of Value," etc.)—we stumble across something of no value at all—a thing called "Tarzan and the Lost Safari"—and in it we hear, those old-time familiar phrases "white man," "savages," etc. . . . Of course, for Tarzan lovers, there is a new and younger man to play the role and though he is not as convincing as the former Tarzans, he gives a fair performance and naturally the chimpanzees, as always, steals the film . . . But here we are back to the natives—ignorant, superstitious, stupid-looking, painted in a million hues, this-time with white circles around their eyes and lines for glasses—brilliant blue knees and a language all their own . . . Of course the drums did all the talking and there was about one out of the wild-looking lot who could speak broken English . . . These type of films are no longer entertaining—the scene of the frightened white hostages tied to trees while the "savages" dance wildly before them is as old as Adam and Eve . . . and has definitely lost its value and meaning . . . So why waste valuable film?

With two summer productions going full force at legit theaters under the stars, Negro performers have been well represented . . . In "Rosalia" (which left to make room for Cab Calloway's new musical), Geoffrey Holder did choreography—Carmen de Lavallade (of Duke Ellington's "A Woman Is A Drum" fame) and Geoffrey do dances . . . In "Show Boat" which opened at Jones Beach—many Negro small players have good parts headed by Helen Dowdy who plays "Queenie" . . . Stars of the vehicle is Andy Devine of the movies . . . Latest item on "Island In The Sun"—it's doing so well in the south it will now venture into Texas, Virginia and Florida . . . Based on a racial theme, it stars Harry Belafonte . . .

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
Each one of us knows in his heart when he has done unjustly, unkindly by his brother. And though he may present an unconcerned face to the world, the injustice, unkindness he has done will lay like a heavy, cold stone on his conscience, his soul—in the quiet of the night, alone with his God, he cannot escape it.

But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.—(Proverbs 4:18.)

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL MAKES FIRST HURDLE

After prolonged debate on the motion to place the civil rights bill on the calendar for consideration on its merits, the senate by a vote of 71 to 18 did just that. And even though the southern diehards fought to the last ditch, the vote was somewhat encouraging.

Of course, the fight has just begun for southerners will do everything possible to defeat the bill or water it down to such an extent that its effectiveness will be nil.

Some senators who claim they favor the measure have been weakened by the opposition's attack on the section which would permit trials without juries where injunctions have been violated. They are proposing amendments to that feature.

Everybody knows this is the crux of the measure for experience has shown that southern juries will not convict defendants who violate civil rights. On the other hand, our laws include many types of equity cases where judges only hear them and nobody seems to complain.

The measure will be before the senate for several days. Proponents need all the favorable votes possible to insure passage.

Iowa's two senators, Hickenlooper and Martin as supporters of President Eisenhower's administration, should back the measure, work for it and vote for it. Generally, speaking they have supported civil rights measures in the past. They voted right Tuesday. As good supporters of human rights, they should do so again.

The Bystander would suggest that organizations and individuals write their views to Iowa senators. They will be glad to get them. They want to know how Iowa voters feel about the measure.

This measure has the best chance of passage of any civil rights bill since Reconstruction days. President Eisenhower is backing it strong; so are the Republican and liberal Northern Democrats who put human rights above property rights.

On the other hand, should the measure fail our sincerity in seeking democracy and freedom for people away from home while reniging on them for our own citizens will not argue well for our sincerity.

SUPPORT THE DES MOINES BASE TEAM

The Western Baseball League has just passed the half way mark of the season. Des Moines, is in last place due, to a great extent, to the poor showing in the earlier portion of the season.

However, the team is playing excellent ball and the Des Moines rooters should turn out and give the team their support. After all, Des Moines is our team and with the fine showing they are making, an evening at the park will provide excellent entertainment.

LITTLE ENCOURAGEMENT TO STAY AT HOME

Last week, the editor spent a few days in northern Iowa where crops are excellent. Some of the time was spent in the cities where a few observations were made with respect to the Negro population.

One rather sad note prevails in that Negroes are drifting away from these communities. Few, if any, new people are coming in and the youngsters move away because they find little sources of earning a livelihood.

These youngsters attend classes with the white children, study the same thing and must leave home to practice what they have learned in school. The picture looks more dismal because nobody seems to do anything about the situation.

These same facts were presented to the legislature last spring in support of a fair employment practices measure but the plea fell on deaf ears.

If this program continues no Negroes are going to be left in any but the three or four larger towns in the state. Local citizens seem unwilling to improve the situation.

Robert Dacus—"Always Kind"
"It was with deep regret and real sadness I read in the current issue of The Bystander of the passing of Robert Dacus."

"I once lived on his mail route in the Highland Park area for eleven years; and, during that time I found him always kind, courteous and efficient. I have never been acquainted with his family, but certainly they all have my sincere sympathy." (Mabel Harris, 1319 Lyon Street, Des Moines, Ia.)

Civil Rights Motion Voted

Motion would have required the committee to return the bill after one week of study. He argued that the senate would be taking a dangerous step in by-passing an established committee.

"Deal" Charged
Some Republicans have charged that Morse and other northwestern advocates of public power made a deal with southern senators under which the southerners backed the bill federal development of Hells Canyon.

Morse's motion was defeated by a vote of 54 to 35. Voting with Morse were four Republicans and 31 Democrats, including James Murphy of Montana and Joseph O'Mahoney of Wyoming.

Opposing Morse were 38 Republicans and 16 Democrats, including Richard Neuberger of Oregon, Henry Jackson and Warren Magnuson of Washington, and Frank Church of Idaho.

Both of Iowa's Republican senators voted for taking up the bill and against sending it to committee.

Mrs. White's purpose of writing "Gentle Knight" is to better acquaint all people with the work—the sincere effort and the beliefs of her husband and to let the world try and understand the problems he faced, the decisions he made and why he made them. The book is a dedicated work to his memory. She says she used her career name of Poppy Cannon so that she may say exactly what she wished and not be limited because of the marital relationship. This way, she expressed, she gives a clear picture.

Seining Minnows

Witte and Denny Huen, also eight years old, were seining minnows in the river just prior to the accident. Witte was walking out from the bank with one end of the net when the current pushed him into water over his head. He said he doesn't know how to swim.

Although thankful no harm came to the boy, Keith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arla Witte, of 1125 Ninth street southwest, decided he needed to be disciplined for being in the river.

The next two weeks, Keith will be staying in his own backyard, most likely thinking about how fortunate he is to be alive.

HEALTH FOR ALL

POISON OF POVERTY
When the American ambassador to Italy contracted lead poisoning, it was front page news. The beautiful Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce suffered from a strange poisoning, finally discovered to be caused by flaking plaster from the ceiling of her bedroom in the ancient Italian palace which is the Ambassadorial residence.

Lead poisoning in a palace may be news, but it's not news when it happens in the slums of St. Louis, Baltimore, Chicago, or New York. Our poorest citizens often live in houses 70 or 80 years old, and little effort is made to keep them in repair. The paint used in old houses was usually lead paint, and the old plaster is likely to be thoroughly impregnated with lead after having been painted over many times. It's not at all uncommon to find plaster falling from ceiling and walls and paint flaking from the woodwork. And small children being what they are, they will play with the crumbly stuff and even try out the flavor.

Lead poisoning is one of the most terrible hazards of the poor. The most common and alarming symptoms are vomiting, abdominal cramps, convulsions, and stupor. If a child survives the early stages, anemia and mental retardation may follow. Of the children in one hospital who recovered from the poisoning, one third had permanent neurologic damage.

Doctors now have a remarkably effective de-lead agent called "EDTA" which can carry the lead out of the system through the urinary tract. But it must be used quickly, before the brain has become irreversibly involved. And after recovery, what? Does the child go back to the same circumstances, where he may again fall victim to lead poisoning.

This is a community problem that can only be solved by facing the facts about our slums—whether in big cities or small towns. Citizens who care can push for progress on decent low-rent housing, can at the very least demand enforcement of housing.

Tuskegee Science Workshopers Visit Oak Ridge Institute

Thirty-three teachers of science enrolled in two separate workshops at Tuskegee this summer made the 340 mile journey over the week end to tour the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies.

TWO OF ME
The two of me, both day and night
Are in a knock-down, drag-out fight!
If minus I, becomes the boss
My life would be a total loss!
When plus-entirety is strong
The heights are mine, where I belong.

And now I will, command, dictate
Demand my rights and laugh at fate!
But if I waver—just one slip
And let old minus get a grip;
Then I and me, myself have found,
We're right back on that battle-ground.

To make sure of my final score
I'll give full measure, then some more,
Where e'er I can of the best of me:
And I shall not fear what becomes of me . . .

The supplementary scholarships, however, are necessary to bridge the gap between college scholarships, modest parental resources, summer earnings, and the students' total financial needs.

the organization also assists many hundreds of seniors through its advisory service which brings qualified students together with appropriate colleges.

As a result of its efforts, the National Scholarship Service and Fund has helped more than 4,600 Negro students to enter over 300 interracial colleges and universities during the past nine years. Total scholarship aid of over $1,600,000 was secured by NSSFNS for these students of which $1,300,000 came from college and other sources and $300,000 in direct supplementary grants. This year NSSFNS counselors screened more than 1,400 high school seniors of whom at least 600 will be attending interracial colleges in September.

Among the students is an Iowan, Constance L. Fox, 1402 South Seventh Street, Council Bluffs, now a student at Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa.
