NEW NORTH DES MOINES HIGH SCHOOL TUESDAY OPENED DOORS TO 1,300 STUDENTS; EQUIPPED WITH EVERY MODERN FACILITY

The new $3,500,000 North Des Moines High School opened its doors Tuesday, Sept. 3, to approximately 1,300 students. Registration continued this week. The building, located between Second and Sixth Avenues, north of Holcomb, was fully completed this summer by the main contractors, Knutson & Sons. The new school ended a "fight" of many years standing, during which parents and friends of North High students tried valiantly to get a replacement building for the Old

North School Building, at Eighth & College. The new building contains every modern facility, including a spacious gymnasium, 1,800 seat auditorium, 20 general classrooms, 26 special classrooms; study hall, library, snack bar, cafeteria. The gym will be able to seat 4,100 with use of bleachers. The school also has a 1,000 seat area around the swimming pool, as well as other physical education areas for wrestling and minor sports. S. Edward Thompson, long-time

Files $200,000 Damage Suit; Judge Rules Knox Guilty of Two Charges

A municipal court hearing that ran into the fourth day ended Thursday afternoon, August 29, when Raymond Knox, 41, of 223 Racoon Street, was found guilty of disturbing the peace and resisting arrest.

Judge Harry B. Grund pronounced his verdict before the courtroom about a half-hour after the defense had presented the case to the court.

Judge Grund fined Knox $10 on the first charge, sentenced him to 15 days on the second and paroled him for six months to his attorney, Henry T. McKnight.

McKnight immediately appealed the case to district court and posted a $200 bond.

the left eye, over the left eye and on his nose. He said 29 stitches were required to close the wounds. As a result of the injuries, Knox said he is permanently disfigured.

He said he already has lost two weeks' wages totaling $280 and expects to lose another $280 because of his injuries. He said he is employed at Booky Packing Co.

Knox also said services of a private physician will cost about $100.

Claiming that the assault was "willful, wanton and malicious," Knox asked for $75,000 actual and $125,000 exemplary damages. He asked for a jury trial.

During the trial, police did not deny striking Knox with their fists

Files Suit

Knox, filed on Friday, August 30, a $200,000 damage suit against three Des Moines policemen who he said assaulted him "without provocation." Named as defendants were: Sgt. Frank Manny and Patrolmen Bruce Dyer and Ralph E. Baker.

Knox was arrested by police Aug. 12 at the scene of a drowning in the Des Moines River near the Scott Street bridge.

In his petition, Knox said that after his arrest, the policemen "did violently assault him and wrongfully struck him over the head and face with a night stick" and that he "was knocked to the floor in the basement of the city jail and was beaten about his body and kicked."

Knox said he suffered a cut under

'Necessary to Protest Police Brutality'

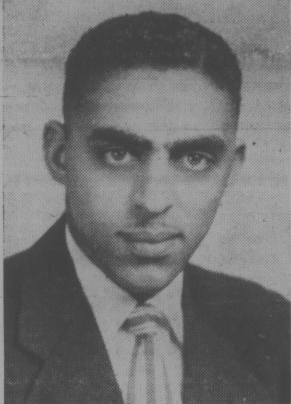

Mrs. Clara Bayles, president of the Des Moines Branch of the NAACP, made this statement regarding the case of Raymond Knox:

"I feel that it is necessary for us as citizens to protest unnecessary police brutality and violence to any person in custody. It clearly appeared as though Mr. Knox's civil rights were violated while in the custody of the police."

"None of us can be sure that any citizen's civil rights are protected unless we strongly indicate our abhorrence of such practices as these meted out to Mr. Knox."

Gets B.A. Degree From Drake University

PAUL H. JOHNSON

Paul H. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Johnson, 1132 Seventeenth Street, received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Drake University at the summer commencement, Friday evening, August 23.

A North High School graduate and Korean War veteran, he is a member of Omega chapter of the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity.

Mr. Johnson plans to continue his education, working towards his master's degree.

Question Bias Order in Omaha Fire Department

Omaha, Neb.—A fire department captain reported to the Omaha Star last week that Fire Chief E. W. Fields had issued a verbal order directing captains at the four integrated fire stations not to allow Negro firemen to go into homes during the department's voluntary home inspection.

The Star said: "The captain whose name we promised not to reveal, said that Chief Field said that the Negro firemen should remain on the truck during the inspection. Customarily, the regular driver is assigned to watching the truck."

"Friday morning Chief Fields would not confirm or deny that he had issued such an order," the Star reported.

Visit Farms in Kossouth County

Attorney James B. Morris and his grandson, James B. Morris, III, spent the holiday weekend in Kossouth County the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Boldridge, Jr. They also visited several friends in and around Lone Rock including Mr. and Mrs. John Verbrugge, Jr. of Swea City.

St. Louis NAACP To Begin Special Anti-Bias Events

St. Louis, Mo.—The St. Louis NAACP branch soon will begin a special program to reduce racial discrimination in employment in this area, it was announced here this week by Ernest Calloway, branch president. Mr. Calloway said the program will be "one of the major continuing activities of the St. Louis NAACP for the next several years."

An Employment Opportunities Council has been formed within the NAACP branch to conduct the work. Council chairman is T. D. McDeal, national vice president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

Greater Employment

Working with the Council will be professional consultants from social agencies, St. Louis University and Washington University. Mr. Calloway said. He described the Council's program as incorporating the following work:

1. Seek greater employment of the Negro in the sales, administrative

Public School Integration Battles Rage in Arkansas, Tennessee and Other States

The battle for racial integration in the public schools are going on in the South as the fall-winter term opens.

Battle in Arkansas

Little Rock, Ark.—A federal judge Tuesday night, Sept. 3, ordered the Little Rock school board to "proceed forthwith with integration."

Supt. Virgil Bloom immediately announced that Central High School would be opened Wednesday to Negro students.

The Little Rock school board issued a terse announcement saying Judge Ronald N. Davies' order restores its gradual integration plan.

Guardsmen Ordered

The statement that the high school would open to Negroes apparently was in defiance of Gov. Orval Faubus, who sent in national guardsmen Monday night, Sept. 2, with apparent orders to prevent integration. Under the gradual integration plan ordered by Judge Davies some time ago, nine Negro students were to be admitted to Central High School Tuesday. Other schools were to be integrated later.

Last week a state court enjoined the school board from starting the program. Judge Davies promptly set aside the state court's injunction, and issued his own injunction barring anyone from interfering with admission of the nine students.

In Tennessee

Nashville, Tenn.—A day of riotous registration for Nashville's first desegregated classes wound up Tuesday, Aug. 27, with telephone threats aimed at a school official and six of the 13 Negro first-graders enrolled for mixed schools.

Assistant School Superintendent W. H. Oliver confirmed that his family received phone threats after a truck driver of the same name reported he received such threats from

NAACP to Review Knox Case Sept. 10 At Willkie House

The facts of alleged police "brutality" case will be given at a special meeting of the Des Moines Branch of the NAACP to be held Tuesday, September 10, at 8 p.m. at the Willkie House, 900 17th Street.

Mr. Raymond Knox and his wife will be present to relate the story. The NAACP legal redress chairman, Atty. James B. Morris, Jr., will speak on the position of the Des Moines Branch of NAACP in the case.

The up-to-date official stand of the organization will then be given. The meeting is open to the public.

National Reports

There will be a report on the national conference Sunday, September 29.

The Youth Council will meet Friday, September 20, at the Willkie House. It is open to all the youth of Des Moines, ages 12-21. Time will be announced later.

Levittown Hires 2 Negro Teachers

Levittown, Penn.—School authorities disclosed Tuesday that the first Negro teachers—a man and a woman—have been hired for jobs in this young, rapidly developed town where violence flared recently over the arrival of the first Negro family.

One teacher has been assigned to a new elementary school in the area where crowds gathered for nine straight nights protesting the coming of William Myers, 32, and his family.

The Myers are the only Negroes in this development where 60,000 people live.

The school will be opened Sept. 16. It will serve the Dogwood Hollow section, scene of the demonstrations earlier in August, and Bloomdale Gardens, a township area outside Levittown. The Myers family formerly lived there. The Myerses have three children, not of school age.

Other to Junior High

The second Negro teacher has been assigned to a junior high school, scheduled to open Sept. 5.

Dr. Guy F. Eberhart, superintendent of schools, said the appointments were made in July and announced at a school board meeting Tuesday.

Council to Meet Sunday at 5 p.m.

The Administrative Council will meet Sunday, Sept. 8, 5 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Jessie Newsome, 1315 Laurel Street. Members are urged to attend.

Senate Passes Civil Rights Bill, Approved by House, After 24-Hour Filibuster

Washington, D. C.—The senate Thursday night, Aug. 29, passed the house-approved civil rights bill, after Senator Strom Thurmond (Dem. S. C.) had ended a 24-hour filibuster against it.

The final vote was 60 to 15. All those voting against the bill were southern Democrats. Voting for it were 37 Republicans and 23 Democrats.

Thurmond, who frankly sought to set a new filibuster record rather than to prevent a vote, held the senate floor from 8:54 p.m. Wednesday until 9:13 p.m. Thursday, an elapsed time of 24 hours and 19 minutes.

Morse Record

The previous filibuster record, 22 hours and 26 minutes, was set by Senator Wayne Morse (Dem., Ore.)

in a 1953 speech against the tidelands oil bill.

However, Morse's office pointed out that Morse talked non-stop without a single rest period, and rules of the senate were strictly enforced to prevent him from sitting down or leaning on a desk.

Thurmond had several breathing spells which gave him a chance to rest his voice. They totaled one hour and 18 minutes.

Weak Moments

At some points Thurmond seemed to stagger with fatigue and his voice cracked. But Thursday afternoon he seemed to get a second wind; both his voice and gestures became more vigorous.

It was strictly an individual effort. Thurmond got very little help

Dr. L.S. Jones Indicted by Grand Jury, Faces Charge

Dr. Leon S. Jones, an osteopathic physician, Friday afternoon, August 30, appeared before District Judge C. Edwin Moore on an indictment charging "attempting to produce a miscarriage."

He waived formal arraignment on request through his attorney, was given until 9 a.m. Friday, Sept. 6, to enter a plea.

Judge Moore set bond at $3,000. It was immediately posted by a professional bondsman.

Dr. Jones was indicted by the Polk County Grand Jury Wednesday, August 28. He came into the court with his attorney, Henry T. McKnight.

The indictment alleges Dr. Jones performed an abortion on a young Knoxville woman at his home, 940 Sixteenth street, where he maintains his office, on payment of a $300 fee.

Routine Queries

Investigation of the case started from routine police queries on a bad check given to an east Des Moines pharmacy for a prescription signed by Dr. Jones, officials said.

Penalty, under Iowa law, for conviction on a charge of attempt to produce abortion, is a mandatory penitentiary sentence of five years, (under the indeterminate sentence law), and a fine not exceeding $1,000.

Rites for Sharon Kay Washington

Rites for Sharon Kay Washington, 11, killed in an auto accident, were held 2 p.m. Friday, Aug. 30, in the chapel of Laufferweiller Funeral Home. The Rev. LeRoy Patterson, associate pastor of Crippin Chapel A.M.E. Church, officiated.

Richard Lockman, Felton Trotter, Everett Cabell, Henry Wells and June Hopper were honorary pallbearers. Active pallbearers were Rudolph Anderson, John L. Dunkin, John MacMillin, David Norman, Morgan Herd and Bilbo E. Miller.

Seven members of the Salvation Army Girl Guard troop to which Sharon belonged, sang during the service. They were Charlene Swift, Linda Sills, Mary Stephenson, Judy Sandgren, Anna Marie Sills, Joanne Hook and Norma Sandgren. Marshall Wells also sang a solo during the service and Mrs. Warden W. Clark was the organist.

Other members of the Girl Guard troop formed an honor guard at the funeral home and at North Lawn cemetery, where Sharon was buried.

Flowers were arranged by Mrs. Jane Burleson, Mrs. Marshall Wells, Mrs. Sadie Fugett and Mrs. Myrtle Coffman.

Several hundred persons attended the rites, filling the funeral chapel to capacity.

Sharon, daughter of Mrs. Justine Washington of Fort Dodge, was instantly killed when the stalled car, in which she was a passenger, was struck by another car on Highway 20 west of Moorland last Sunday night, Aug. 25. Her mother, brother, sister, a cousin, and two other persons were injured in the accident.

To Graduate in January

Miss Glenda Horn of Austin, Texas, a co-ed at Houston-Tillison College will resume her studies soon. She is majoring in physical education and her minor is biology. Glenda will graduate in January, 1958. If current plans work out, she anticipates teaching school by midwinter and her brother, Vernon Horn of Los Angeles, Cal., will also graduate.

NOTICE OF INCORPORATION

OF TANN, INC.

Notice is hereby given of the incorporation of Tann, Inc., with its principal place of business in the City of Des Moines, Polk County, Iowa.

The object and purpose of the corporation is to purchase, acquire, own, hold, lease, sell, convey and transfer, and dispose of real and personal property; to execute leases, mortgages, convey real estate and transfer personal property; to make loans and to loan money to individuals, firms and corporations; to borrow money; to execute notes and mortgages, bonds or other written obligations; to pay the same; and to pledge its assets for security therefor; to acquire property by legal procedure or judicial process in the collection of any indebtedness to the corporation; or by its enforcement of contract or otherwise; and to conduct and operate any business which may be necessary or advantageous within the general provisions of the Articles of Incorporation, and not in violation of the laws of the state or country where the transaction takes place.

The authorized capital stock of the corporation is Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00), divided into five hundred (500) shares with a par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) per share, to be paid for in full when issued, in money or property, as required by law, and shall be non-assessable. The holder of such stock are entitled to vote in any and all stockholders meetings, and each share of stock shall be one vote, which may be exercised either by person or by written proxy.

Coconut Ice Cream RECIPE OF THE MONTH

By BETTY BARCLAY

In this day of "easy-to-fix foods" even busy homemakers find it fun, once in a while, to prepare something "from scratch." Usually, the idea presents itself when some special occasion is being planned . . . and for such times this Banana Toasted Coconut Ice Cream is our favorite. We'd like to share it with you . . . and also several interesting ways of serving it. For example: (1) scoop out balls of ice cream and roll quickly in flaked coconut to make "snowballs"; (2) make a banana split using two or three scoops of ice cream and your favorite maple-blended syrup, plus a topping of fluffy flaked coconut.

Banana Toasted Coconut Ice Cream

1 cup mashed bananas (2 to 3 ripe bananas)
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
1 cup whipping cream
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
2 egg yolks, well beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup Baker's Angel Flake coconut, toasted

Mix together bananas and lemon juice. Add sugar, salt, and milk, stirring until blended. Whip cream until thickened but not stiff. Fold egg whites, yolks, cream, and vanilla into banana mixture. Turn into freezing trays of automatic refrigerator, setting control at coldest freezing temperature. Freeze until mixture holds its shape, stirring every 30 minutes and adding toasted coconut during final stirring. Freeze until firm. Makes 1 1/2 quarts.

All-African Play 'The Next Phase', Is Smashing Hit

New York—The all-African play, "The Next Phase," written and produced by six members of Parliament of the new nation of Ghana, has been a smashing hit in Washington, D. C., Atlanta, and New York.

Created at the Assembly of Nations for Moral Re-Armament in Mackinac Island, Michigan, the play had its world premiere on July 24 at the National Theater in Washington and received a standing ovation from an audience drawn from Congress, the Diplomatic Corps, the State Department, the Pentagon, the press, labor and social Washington.

Popular Demand

Popular demand held the play over in Washington for three extra performances before the cast was flown by special plane to Atlanta.

With only 30 hours' notice the play took the southern city by storm. Four thousand Atlantans, both Negro and white, flocked to two performances in the great Municipal Auditorium. A. T. Walden, outstanding Negro attorney at Atlanta, said, "We who live in the Southland have fought and prayed for this moment."

The impact of the play's finale in this Southern city was breathtaking, as men and women from all parts of Africa in their richly colored robes crowded the stage and gave evidence of the uniting force of Moral Re-Armament at work in their nations.

Prolonged Ovation

Two nights later the play was on Broadway. A prolonged ovation greeted the cast of fifty-four from fourteen nations of Africa in the American National Theater, New York.

The audience, which included Marlon Anderson, world famous concert singer, stayed on past midnight to talk to the cast. A Negro playwright said, "Broadway saw something unique in theater history tonight."

Citizens Who Listened to Knox Trial Make Varied Statements About Issues

(From persons who were in the courtroom)

Mr. Phillip Tindrell, 1418 E. 15th Street, who with his wife, Ernestine, spent their vacation attending the Knox trial, had this to say of Judge Grund's verdict:

"I do not think the decision was a reflection of the major issue of the trial."

"During the trial, the judge kept ruling out any questions that asked 'was Knox drunk?' Then, when finding Knox guilty, said the medicine Knox had taken and the liquor he had drunk 'so befuddled his mind that he didn't even know he was in the river.'"

Mrs. Tindrell said: "I think the case was too much for a one-man decision. Why didn't they charge Knox with intoxication—if he was drunk?"

Like Smalls, one of the National vice presidents of the NAACP, made observations at the Knox trial.

Alonso Harris, 1158 Eighteenth Street: "I don't feel that it was necessary to give him (Knox) that beating."

W. F. Sloan, 1012 Day Street: "I don't feel that the police have a right to beat any man. There were three of them and they had handcuffs to put on Knox to take him to jail."

20 Witnesses Testify for and Against Knox

Judge's Opinion

In announcing his decision Thursday afternoon, Judge Grund said he was "convinced from the evidence that Knox had been drinking."

"The court believes that a mixture of medicine the defendant had taken and the liquor he had drunk so befuddled his mind that he didn't even know he was in the river," the judge said.

Judge Grund said he thought the officers in the car used more force than was necessary to subdue Knox—both in the car and at the jail. He said "force was also used by Knox."

"What else could they (the officers) have done considering the condition he (Knox) was in—and fighting them all the time?" the judge asked.

"The defendant's efforts to locate the body of a drowned youth is commendable, but his lack of respect for constituted authority was very poor."

Manny, Patrolmen Ralph Baker and Dyer—testified Knox fought them when they placed him in a police car after he said they would "have to whip me to take me to jail."

Patrolman William Pennington testified he arrested Knox after Knox cursed police and refused to leave the drowning scene.

20 Witnesses

The testimony of 20 witnesses—nine for the prosecution and 11 for the defendant—ended Thursday morning. Final arguments started before noon and ended at 2 p.m.

McKnight and James B. Morris, Jr., attorneys for Knox, told the court the policemen were brutal and that their testimony was inconsistent.

The physical evidence in this case speaks for itself, McKnight said. He pointed out that "even if Knox had been guilty of violence," policemen were well trained in "the art of judo."

Louis P. Galtner, Jr., 1009 Fourteenth Street: "I don't feel too good about the case. I think enough patrolmen should be able to take a man in without beating him up."

Jessie Taylor, 940 Fourteenth Street Place: "I don't feel good about the verdict. I feel that they shouldn't beat up on any man. They could possibly injure him for life."

Richard Daniels, 986 Twenty-Fourth Street: "I don't feel that it was necessary that they had to put the stick on him, especially three of them."

O. M. Brewer, 764 Twelfth Street, "Don't think it was a fair decision."

Mrs. Susie Jones, 400 S.E. Sixth Street: "They had to put it off on drinking."

Rev. D. V. Stewart, pastor of Bethel AME Church: "I'm opposed to beating unless necessary. . . . I think it was completely unnecessary in this case."

Mrs. Ransom Cogswell, 2066 Lyons: "Seems to me that officers as big as those three were don't need to beat on any one."

Mrs. A. P. Trotter, 934 Fourteenth Place, who accompanied her husband, to the Knox trial last week, said: "I don't think the city proved its case against Knox. I think it was an unfair decision. They didn't convince me that Knox resisted arrest—and I listened to all of the case."

"They could have used those tactics instead of wielding fists and blackjacks," McKnight said.

"Open Season"

City Attorney I. Joel Pasternak told Judge Grund that Knox was "either drunk or suffering from false courage as the result of drinking." "I believe the defendant is a liar and that if he is found not guilty it will result in an open season being declared on the entire police force," Pasternak asserted.

Knox, who finished his testimony Thursday morning, denied he used loud or profane language. He said he was "whipped for nothing" by the policemen in the car.

Claimed Self-Defense

Knox testified he struck only one blow in the police car, and that in self-defense. He claimed he was beaten with fists and saps by Sergeant Manny, Dyer and Baker in the car and later sapped and kicked in the ribs at the police station.

Knox denied he told the officers he was "going to whip them." He also denied a statement he was alleged to have made to Patrolman Pennington that "it was all my fault; my big mouth got me into trouble."

Two prosecution witnesses testified they heard Knox use loud and profane language toward police and heard him tell police he'd have to be whipped before being taken to jail.

They were Ray Carney, KIOA newsman and Dean Erickson of 611 S.E. Eighteenth Street. Dorothea May Campbell, a student nurse at Broadlawn Hospital, testified she heard Knox say "I apologize" several times to an officer in the emergency ward of the hospital while Knox was being treated for head wounds.

Mrs. Mabel Simms, 426 S.E. Third Street testified she was standing near the police car when the officer brought Knox to the car by the arm.

"I asked what they arrested him for," Mrs. Simms said, adding that Knox replied that he was arrested "and that was all he said."

Rev. William S. Heath, a former boxer and co-worker of Knox at the Bookery Packing Co., and an assistant pastor at Shiloh Baptist Church, said he went to the police station at the request of Mrs. Knox, to ask why "Knox was beaten up."

Pennington told me he was the arresting officer . . . that Knox had threatened or hit at Sergeant Manny that Sergeant Manny came over and showed he his hand," Rev. Heath said.

"He (Manny) said look at my thumb. He said he's (Knox) pretty rugged, but we worked him over."

Mrs. Delores Heath, wife of the Rev. Mr. Heath testified that she heard "Manny say that they beat up Knox." She accompanied her husband to the police station that night.

Mrs. Knox on Stand

Mrs. Mary Hilda Knox testified that she went to the river when a girl friend notified her that her husband was in the river "trying to save a boy from drowning."

She said she found Knox and "ran up and said 'honey—are you all right?' He said yes. Then Officer Pennington tapped him on the shoulder and asked him if he (Knox) owned the river," Mrs. Knox testified.

"My husband was standing on the bridge," Mrs. Knox said. "I asked him if he was all right and he said 'yes.'"

Dispensing Crowd

She said Patrolman William Pennington was dispersing the crowd on the bridge.

"He told my husband, 'you'd better go home or I'll arrest you,'" said Mrs. Knox. "Then he turned right around and arrested him."

Mrs. Knox said when she protested, Pennington told her to "shut up your mouth or I'll arrest you." She said she left at her husband's request and saw him put into a police car.

"You mean to tell the court your husband never said a word to the policeman?" City Attorney Pasternak asked.

"No," Mrs. Knox replied.

"All Beaten Up"

Mrs. Knox said she next saw her husband five hours later at the police station, after he had been taken to Broadlawn General Hospital for treatment.

"He was all beaten up," Mrs. Knox said. "He had patches on his face, a big gauze turban around his head and was bleeding from his right eye, which was completely shut."

Three defense witnesses—including two who said they volunteered to come to the trial in Knox's behalf—testified they did not hear Knox curse or threaten police.

They were Mrs. Ruth Helm of 2439 Logan Avenue, who said she and others at the drowning scene gathered around the squad car and asked police repeatedly why Knox was being arrested. She said she "never heard Knox use any loud or profane language."

Sgt. Carlton Kittleson of 1515 King Street, stationed at the army reserve center at Fort Des Moines testified he volunteered to testify because he could see no reason why Knox was arrested.

Saw Knox Wading

Kittleson said he saw Knox wading and swimming in the river, trying to help locate the drowned youth's body. He said he later saw Knox talking to Mrs. Knox on the bridge.

"Patrolman Pennington was ordering people off the bridge and told Mrs. Knox to take her husband home before he got him," Kittleson said.

"Knox kept saying there was not more than five feet of water in the river—and Officer Pennington came over to him and grabbed him—and took Knox by his left arm to the patrol car, Kittleson testified."

Forest Hoover, 400 Leach Street, father of the drowned boy, testified Knox went into the river with him. He tried to recover his boy's body. He said he heard Knox conversing with an officer who asked Knox if he could swim; heard Knox say he could, and the officer say—"okay."

Luther P. Nelson, 1403 E. Walnut Street, who took pictures at the drowning scene, said he saw Knox come to the river, noticed someone make a gesture to Knox and a "motion towards the river."

Knox took the stand Wednesday, August 28, in his own defense.

Knox testified he arrived at the river about 5:30 p.m. and, after watching attempts to rescue a boy from the river for about a half hour, he went down to the river bank.

(Two boats, one manned by police and another by deputy sheriffs, were searching for the body of the 16-year-old boy who had drowned.) "I told an officer standing on the bank of the river that I had been fishing in the river for 15 or 20 years," Knox related.

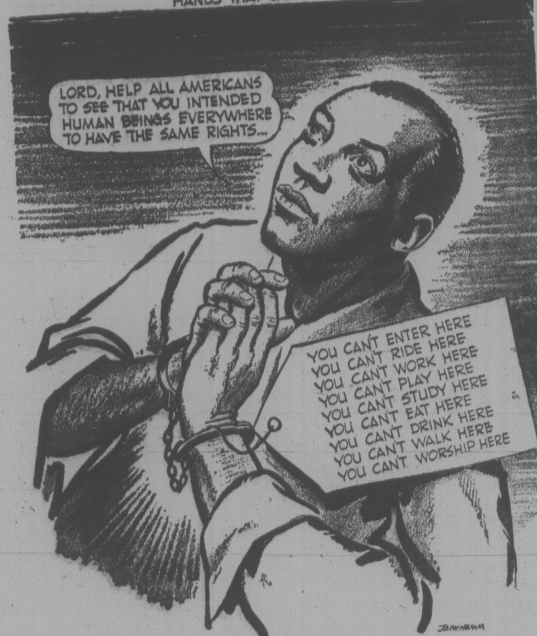

"I asked him if it would be O. K. to go into the river and assist in recovery of the body. He said it would be O. K.," Knox testified.

Doesn't Know Name

Knox said he did not know the name of the officer nor could he recognize him.

Knox said he then took off his outer clothing and waded around in the river until he saw the boy's body pulled into one of the boats.

HANDS THAT CAN STILL PRAY

Knox said he then went up onto the bridge where a number of people "ran up to me asking about the river and whether I was the one who recovered the body."

Knox said he started to leave the bridge to go home when two friends stopped him.

Tap on Shoulder

"I told them that if I had got there sooner, I probably could have recovered the body quicker," Knox said.

"About that time, someone tapped me on the shoulder. It was Officer Pennington. He asked me if I was an expert on the river and I told him that I had fished around here for 20 years."

"He told me to move one or he would put me in jail. I told him to put me in jail if he wanted to. He grabbed my arm and told me I was under arrest."

"My wife protested, but I told her to go on home, that I was going to jail. The officer told her to 'shut up' or he would put her in jail."

Describe Head

Knox testified he was beaten in a police car by Sgt. Frank Manny and Patrolmen Druce Dyer and Ralph Baker with fists and a black-jack.

Knox claimed he was taken to the basement of the police station where he was beaten, kicked and sapped, and that Sgt. Manny threatened to shoot him. He said the beating was resumed for the third time on the jail elevator.

During the beatings, Knox said, he struck only once at the officers—in self-defense.

"I was ducking and dodging to ward off the blows," Knox said.

Denies Profanity

Knox denied police charges that he used loud and profane language when he was arrested.

"Everything was calm in the police car until I heard Sgt. Manny make a derogatory remark to Baker about members of my race," Knox testified.

"I leaned over and asked him: 'What did you say?'" Knox testified. "You hear what I said you black—"

"—," he said Manny replied. He said Manny struck at him and that he struck back to "ward off the blow."

"Beaten All the Way"

He said Baker, using a black-jack, and Dyer, using his fist, beat him all the way to the police station.

After he had been pulled from the police car by Manny in the police station basement, Knox said, he fell to his knees. He said Manny kicked him in the ribs and back while he was down. He continued:

"As I tried to get up Manny struck me over the head. Then he told the other two policemen to 'get back and let me shoot the black—'"

Knox said the other policemen grabbed Manny and restrained him. "I was hit several times—by whom I don't know—on the elevator," said Knox. "Then I was taken to the jail washroom. After I had washed off the blood from my head and face I was booked and then taken to the hospital."

Denies Apology

Knox denied he told Patrolman Pennington on the way to the hospital that his "big mouth" got him into trouble. He denied apologizing at the hospital to Sergeant Manny.

On cross-examination by City Attorney I. Joel Pasternak, Knox said that on the day he was arrested, he had not worked at his job at the ill.

Knox said he drank beer—"just one bottle"—at a tavern near his home before he left to visit his doctor.

He said he was driving home in his car from the doctor's office when he learned of the drowning, and went into the river.

Doctors Testify

Two doctors were on the stand earlier as witnesses for Knox.

Both described head injuries which Knox claims he suffered when "beat up" by Sgt. Frank Manny and Patrolmen Bruce Dyer and Ralph Baker. Knox has claimed the "beating" occurred in the police car en route to jail and in the jail basement.

Dr. James R. Stewart, an interne at Broadlawn General hospital where Knox was taken by police after he was booked at city jail, testified, "I detected an odor of alcohol on his (Knox's) breath."

"Sap"

Stewart said he put 16 stitches in two lacerations on the back of Knox's head, four over his left eye, six under his left eye and three on the bridge of his nose, for a total of 29 stitches.

When asked what caused the cuts on Knox's head and face, Dr. Stewart said he could not state flatly from his examination, but added that a police officer had said they were inflicted "with one of these."

He held up a pocket "sap."

Dr. Stanley Griffin, an osteopathic physician, and personal doctor for Knox, testified he removed 39 stitches from the head and face of Knox.

Dr. Griffin claimed doctor-patient privilege when asked by City Prosecutor Pasternak "whether or not you detected an alcoholic odor on the breath of Knox when you saw him about 1 a.m. Aug. 13."

Judge Grund ruled Dr. Griffin was not required to answer the question. Dr. Griffin told of finding bruises on the lower back and left shoulder when he examined Knox.

When asked how Knox's injuries were inflicted, Dr. Griffin said he could not tell whether they were caused by "an object or a fist."

A delegation from the Des Moines branch of the National Advancement of Colored People and the Interdenominational Alliance of Des Moines, composed of Negro ministers, protested to Police Chief Eide after the arrest.

A Fort Dodge Girl Killed In Stalled Car

Fort Dodge, Ia.—An evening outing in the country ended in grim tragedy for one Fort Dodge family Sunday, Aug. 25.
Dead, after a westbound car crashed into the stalled car in which she was a passenger, was 11-year-old Sharon Kay Washington of Fort Dodge.

The accident happened on Highway 20, about two miles west of Moorland, at 11:30 p.m. The Fort Dodge car was being pushed onto the highway by a wrecker at the time.

Six persons were injured in the crash and two others escaped injury.

Hospitalized

Sharon's mother, Mrs. Justine Washington, 829 Ninth avenue southwest; her brother, Lonnie Gene, 8; sister, Jinx Ann, 12; and cousin, nine-year-old Cass Horn, were all hospitalized following the accident for treatment of injuries. Lonnie's condition is regarded as critical.

Also hospitalized here are Arthur Charles Blodgett, 47, Fort Dodge, driver of the car in which the Washington family and the Horn boy were riding; and Roger Charles Doster, 22, of Rockwell City, driver of the second vehicle.

Only eight-year-old Ronnie Dean Washington, twin of the critically injured boy and Jerry Wearmouth, 913 north Sixth street, driver of the wrecker, escaped injury in the accident. Blodgett had taken the Washington family and the Horn boy for a ride in the country a short time before the accident. They were on their way back to Fort Dodge when the car stalled on the highway.

D. M. Human Rights Commission Has Educational Display

The Des Moines Commission on Human Rights had an attractive display at the Iowa State Fair describing the organization and work of the Commission.

The two-panel display was built by Mr. Lloyd Olsen, City Carpenter, who has constructed many fine projects, including the City Council table, for the City.

The Commission's display pointed out that the primary objective of the nine member Commission and its staff is to eliminate and prevent racial and religious discrimination against Des Moines citizens. To accomplish this the Commission places its emphasis on educational programs, but under the new ordinance it can call upon the City Legal Department to enforce its recommendations if education and persuasion fail.

Literature on Human Rights was available at the booth. One pamphlet entitled "Discrimination Costs

Squashes in a Variety of Shapes and Sizes Are Plentiful Now; Assistant SUI Professor Tells How to Cook Them

Iowa City, Iowa—Squashes in a variety of shapes and colors are plentiful right now and can provide a delicious and different vegetable for your family, says Edna Bowersox, assistant professor of home economics at the State University of Iowa.

They are an excellent source of vitamin A, and also provide other vitamins and minerals.

Don't buy summer squashes that have a hard rind, as the flesh is likely to be stringy, advises Miss Bowersox. Squashes should be washed and trimmed, but not pared or scraped before cooking.

'Pattypans'

Tiny, scalloped "pattypans" or cympling squashes range in color from pale green to white. Cut these in half crosswise and cook 10 to 15 minutes in one-fourth to one-half inch of boiling salted water. Drain and place the halves in a greased pan. Top each with a slice of tomato and a slice of cheese. Bake or broil until the cheese melts.

Yellow crookneck squash should have a curved neck, a tender warted rind and should be deep yellow in color. If the crooknecks are tiny, (up to one-half pound), cut them in half, cook them in a small amount of salted water, then brown them in hot butter and brown sugar or onions. Larger crooknecks may be cut into thick slices, cooked with condensed tomato soup, a little brown sugar, vinegar to taste, and salt and pepper. Or you may prefer them seasoned with catsup or French dressing.

Zucchini-Like Cucumber

Zucchini is an Italian variety of summer squash that resembles a striped cucumber. Buy small (half pound) or medium sized zucchini, the rind of which you can pierce easily with a thumbnail. Use a brush to remove sand. It's delicious when sliced and cooked in a covered skillet with one thinly sliced small onion and one clove of garlic until "tender-crisp" (usually about 10 minutes). Remove the garlic and just before serving sprinkle one tablespoon of soy sauce over the zucchini, and toss.

You may prefer to slice zucchini into thin strips, dip in milk, roll in flour and then fast fry them in hot fat. The crisp strips, seasoned with salt and pepper, will appeal to almost everyone.

Pattypans, crooknecks and zucchini are summer squashes and should be stored in the vegetable container of your refrigerator.

Acorn Squash

Acorn squash is just coming into season. Select medium-sized squashes that are dark green in color, firm and ridged. They may be oval or round as well as acorn-shaped. Buy acorn squashes that have a hard shell, as they will keep better, says Miss Bowersox. Since this is a winter squash, it should be stored in a dry, dark, ventilated place.

The easiest way to prepare acorn squash is to wash it and bake it whole in a hot oven for 45 minutes or until tender. Then slice it lengthwise, remove seeds and stringy center and season. A few more minutes in the oven will dry it slightly. You may prefer to cut the raw squash in half, remove the seeds and bake it, cut side down, in a pan containing bacon drippings. Or you may want to scrape the baked squash out of its rind, mash the squash with butter, place it in a casserole, top with marshmallows and bake until the marshmallows are slightly brown.

DINNER SOCIETY

The Reggar Webbs and Family Return from New York Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Reggar Webb and daughter, Luella Mae, and niece, Vicki Jo Webb, have returned from a ten-day vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Webb of New York City.

Enroute, they spent a day in Chicago, Ill., visiting relatives and sight-seeing. In New York some of the places of interest included a tour of RCA Building, a boat ride around the Island of Manhattan, a visit to Coney Island and Times Square at night.

The Iowans also were guests at a patio barbecue dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bayles and Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Webb, at the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. Bayles of Freeport, Long Island, N. Y.

On their way home, they were guests at the Statler Hotel in Washington, D. C., where they took a tour of the U. S. Capitol and other spots of interest. They stopped in Chicago, Ill., dinner guests of Mrs. Marjorie Braxton, aunt of Vicki Jo.

Mrs. Robinson and Daughters Motor To Long Beach to Live

Mrs. Ethelda Robinson and daughters, Deborah and Stephanie, left the city Friday morning to live in Oakland, Calif.

They accompanied their sister and aunt, Mrs. Doretha Weathers, who drove here from California. She spent two weeks' vacation here.

Mrs. Robinson was honored at a handkerchief shower on Wednesday night, Aug. 21, by Princess Zorah Chapter No. 10 of OES, at the home of Mrs. Bertha Wolder.

The Robinsons will reside at 960 86th Street in Oakland.

Mrs. Lillian Neal of Chicago Here

Mrs. Lillian C. Neal of Chicago, Ill., was a visitor in the home of Mrs. Lola Reeves, 1029 Thirteenth Street. She attended the Iowa Buxton Club picnic Sunday.

The Herndons Spend Week End in Omaha

Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Herndon, 1300 Harding Road, spent the Labor Day week end in Omaha, Neb., guests of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Hawkins.

Guests at Home of Mrs. Drew Williams

Mrs. Zoe Mitchell, Mrs. Armstead, of Chicago, Ill., daughter and granddaughter, and Mr. James Williams of Providence, Rhode Island, son of Mrs. Drew Williams, 1333 McCormick Street, were recent visitors here.

The Shumates of K. C. Visit the Buices

Mr. and Mrs. Olney Shumate of Kansas City, Kas., after spending three days visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Buice of 1070 Seventeenth Street, left last Tuesday for St. Louis, Mo., where they will visit a brother of Mr. Shumate, then go to Hot Springs, Ark., to visit Mrs. Shumate's parents, and her cousins, Dr. J. B. and Edith Jones.

Mrs. Shumate is the former Geneva Looer, niece of the Buices.

Mrs. Walton and Son Leave for Boston

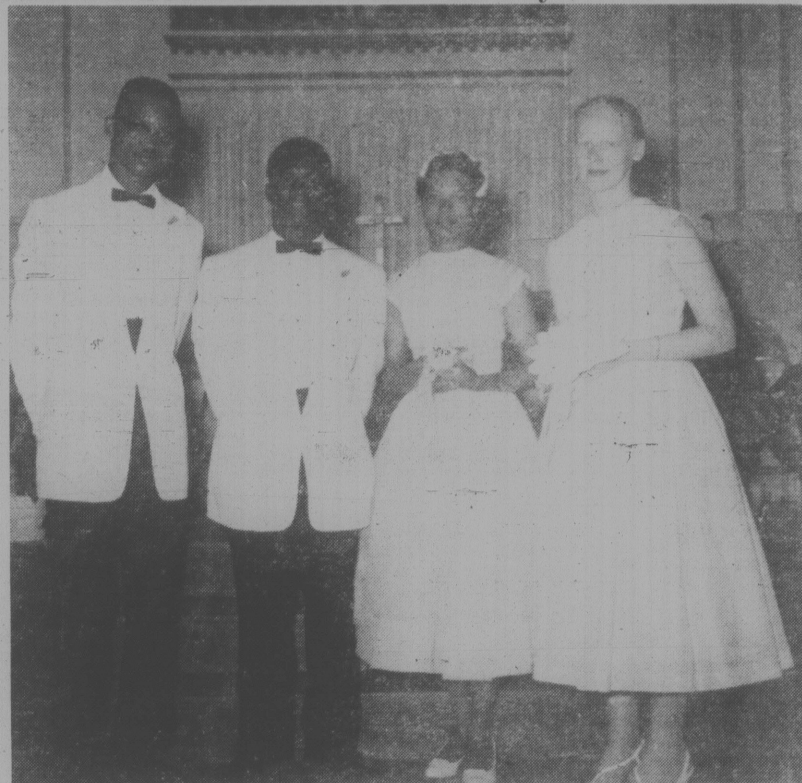

Mrs. Gladys Walton and son, Clyde, who visited her sister, Miss Minnie Wray, 1110 University, returned Friday to their home in Boston, Mass.

While here many courtesies were extended to her. They included dinners by Mrs. Helen Martin, Mrs. Bessie Greene, Mrs. Virginia Martin, Mrs. Beatrice Brown; breakfasts by Mrs. Julia Proctor and Mrs. Willa Jones; and luncheon by Mrs. Wm. Spriggs.

The Wm. C. Browns Visit in Missouri

Minta Smith and John E. Uzodinma Take Holy Vows

Mrs. Dorothy Cherry of 842 Sixteenth Street announced the marriage of her daughter, Minta LaVerne Smith, to Mr. John E. Uzodinma of Onitsha, Nigeria. The couple was wed in a double-ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church in Iowa City on August 8. The Rev. Thomas Fattarusio officiated.

Attendants were: Mr. Chiori O. Chiori of Uzuakoli, Nigeria, and Miss Nancy Carter of Muscatine, Iowa. Mr. Clifton Miles, the bride's grandfather, gave the bride away.

Ushers were Mr. Herbert Brewer of Cape Palmer, Liberia, Mr. Norman K. Wright, Saxton River, Vermont, and Mr. Thomas McManus of Des Moines, Iowa.

The bride wore a street-length white organza dress with pink-lavender undertones. She carried yellow roses on a white New Testament. Her attendant wore a lavender dress and carried a white colonial bouquet of carnations.

Reception

Miss Barbara Woodcock of Charleston, Iowa, was the organist and also poured at the reception held in the Fellowship Hall of the Church.

Miss Rhoda D. Smith, the bride's sister was the hostess. Forty guests were present at the reception.

The bride is employed as a staff nurse in the Pediatric Department of the University Hospitals in Iowa City. She was graduated from Iowa University's School of Nursing in August.

Mr. Uzodinma received a B.A. degree from Grinnell College, Grinnell, Iowa, and a M.S. from State University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa. He is employed in the State Hygienic Laboratories in Iowa City, Iowa.

The Raymond Wyatts Of Detroit Visit Here

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Wyatt of Detroit, Mich., left last Thursday for their home after spending a week's vacation with their mother, Mrs. Claude C. Wyatt of 1042 Seventeenth Street, and other relatives and friends.

Many social courtesies were shown them. They were entertained by Mrs. Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Flipping, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Colbert, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus McCraven, Mrs. Lottie Jones and daughter, Mrs. Lorraine Harris; and the couple attended St. Paul AME Church Sunday services.

Travel Notes

From Portland, Ore., at the Lambert Gardens, came a travel note from Mrs. J. P. Jones, 1232 Dixon, who penned: "This is a lovely place, like other places I've been seeing since away. Somewhat crowded. The roses are very pretty."

Still on her vacation jaunt is Mrs. Ida Green of 1313 Fremont Street, who wrote from Richmond, Va., this note:

"Leaving today for New York. I'll write you along the way. Wonderful time."

A vacation note arrived Wednesday from Beaufort Doraeva Mackay, 1022 Thirteenth Street, who with her sister, Mrs. Virginia Williams and children, were in Baltimore, Md., visiting their brother and family, Mr. Clifford Mackay.

Miss Mackay penned: "Here we are in Baltimore. We're trying to take in all the sights. . . Thursday spent the day in Atlantic City, N. J., on that seven mile boardwalk. Friday and Saturday in Washington with Magree Brown. Monday and Tuesday, New York will be seen by the gang plus all the surrounding sights here in Baltimore. We even went to Vermont, Va., to see George Washington's birthplace. Tell you more when I see you."

THESE GANSTERS DON'T SEEM TO BE CURBED

America has had a lot of gangsters operating many fields of law violation. Some of these law violations have been for crimes because made so by law; some crimes within themselves. The public has looked upon these gangsters as menaces to society and thus billions have been spent to prevent and track down the perpetrators.

However, there has been one set of gangsters which has operated almost without opposition much because they have worn the cloak of good citizens. These gangsters are those who have denied Negroes their rights over the years, and who now, like the gangster who would kill the victim if necessary to accomplish his aim, are willing to kill even students whose aim is simply to get an education.

This type is eminently represented by such men as Governor Faubus of Arkansas who, while he takes the oath of office to uphold the laws of the land, does not hesitate to disregard that oath where the rights of Negroes in his state are being violated.

These gangsters also include such troublemakers as John Kasper who roams from town to town stirring up trouble and nobody, no law, seems able to stop him. There is definitely something wrong with a government which cannot protect the lives and property of its citizens.

It was expected that integration would stir up trouble in many places, but most people felt that at least those charged with enforcing the law would make an honest effort to do the job. But many have not. And it is a sad commentary that America, the land of the free and the home of the brave, should be so infested with these gangsters that it seems difficult to control them.

It would appear that the Arkansas governor is making a deliberate attempt to force the federal government to use drastic measures to enforce its laws.

These gangsters must not win for if law and order cannot prevail in America than anarchy will.

KNOX GUILTY ONLY THE BEGINNING

The Raymond Knox case involving admitted brutality by Des Moines police officers ended just as was expected.

But never have we witnessed such a crude line of prefabricated testimony which it is different to understand how anyone could believe it.

However, this is only the beginning for fairminded people are not going to let this type of law enforcement prevail.

LIST OF CANDIDATES NOT IMPRESSIVE

Des Moines will hold an election this fall when three members will be elected to the council.

So far, twenty candidates have evidenced their intention to seek one of these posts. Any voter is eligible to seek office but so far this list of candidates is not impressive.

As members of the council, members are charged with serious responsibility. Generally speaking they should be those who can make a contribution to the job but it looks as if this will be lacking unless the voters make a pretty close screening on election day.

demand that cases filed here against it be heard in New York where the courts are so crowded it takes as much as five years to get to trial.

Apology Not Printed

Miss Dandridge's new denial was caused by the assertion on the witness stand Thursday of Fred S. Meade, operator of Hollywood Research, Inc., Hollywood 'legman' for the scandal magazine, that even though the magazine "settled" with Miss Dandridge, the story about her had been "wholly authenticated".

Meade said that after paying Miss Dandridge, the magazine changed its mind about printing an apology which branded the story as "completely untrue and without foundation in fact."

In an interview with newsmen, Daniel G. Ross, New York lawyer for Confidential, also said the magazine decided not to print the "apology" because Branton gave the story to newspapers and called it a "retraction". The lawyer said there is a difference.

In a statement which Branton said is additional grounds for 'suit, Ross said he personally checked on Terry's story and in his opinion the bandleader's allegations about Miss Dandridge are true.

In her statement, Miss Dandridge said Confidential's "efforts to weasel out of the printing of the apology" were caused by the act that soon after the settlement, the grand jury indicted it and it knew the settlement "would be used against them."

New Suit?

She said she is considering "filing a new lawsuit against Confidential and others, and collecting all over again."

Branton said he had to send to Chicago for a copy of Confidential to determine that it had not printed the apology as agreed upon because after the grand jury indictment, sales of the magazine in California were forbidden.

Under the terms of the settlement, the apology was to appear in either the July or the September issues of the magazine.

Branton said he has turned over to the District Attorney the original copy of the settlement bearing the signature of Confidential publisher Robert Harrison, and agreeing to pay the $10,000 "in cash," setting forth the actual wording of the apology, the alternative dates on it was to appear and the size type and location in the magazine.

The lawyer said Miss Dandridge has recourse to two courses of action to compel Confidential to print the apology or retraction.

He said the star could return the settlement and re-institute her $2 million-suit, or could keep the $10,000 and sue to compel the magazine to complete the terms of its contract by printing the apology as set forth over Harrison's signature, and along with this, the star now has in Meade and Ross' statements new grounds for a libel suit, Branton stated.

board of education, industry and unions.

Commenting on the forthcoming campaign, Mr. Calloway declared:

"The tremendous income gap between Negro and white workers in the St. Louis area constitutes the foremost social and economic problem of our community. Negro income represents 56 per cent of white income.

"The Negro community in St. Louis cannot survive under traditional 'trickle down' results in the matter of job opportunities. The crumbs from the table of full employment cannot sustain a normal, healthy view of the over-all problems of our city, and it certainly does not contribute to the development of a modern, progressive and well-balanced metropolitan area."

The NAACP announcement was made on Aug. 27.

from other Dixie Democrats, and the senate leadership let him talk himself out. Minor infractions of senate rules were overlooked to allow him to keep the floor.

Senator William Knowland of California, the Republican leader, told Thurmond he couldn't win, that there would be no adjournment of congress until the senate had voted on civil rights.

The house passed the compromise measure Tuesday. The senate action sent it to President Eisenhower,

HEALTH FOR ALL

POST-VACATION BLUES

Once there was a man who hated holidays, hated weekends, and particularly hated vacations—because they kept him from going to work. He was the only one. The rest of us feel just the opposite. We talk despondently about "getting back to the old grind." As the sun tan fades, we fade with it.

We don't have to fade. It's true that most of us feel better in the summer and get sick less often. But it's not just because of long weekends and vacations. It's because we get outdoor-exercise, as nature meant us to. The end of summer need not, and should not, mean the end of regular exercise.

Exercise improves the circulation of the blood. And good circulation makes us better able to withstand an illness, accident, or operation. Exercise helps us digest our food and improves bowel function. Taken before bedtime, exercise can do a better job of giving the insomniac a good night's sleep than any pill. Probably most important in this modern age, exercise is the best antidote for the nervous strain and tension.

Most housewives, of course, feel that they get plenty of exercise, just keeping up with the children and the housework. But it's not the kind of exercise that fills your lungs with good-fresh air—and brings all your muscles into play. Fine time for a half hour's brisk walk every day, and you'll feel the difference.

Instead of singing the blues because vacation time is over, remember there's a blue sky outside. Let's get out and get under it as often as we can.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

The baseball season heads into its home-stretch and now it looks very much like the Yankees and Milwaukee Braves in the fall classics known as the World Series. Brooklyn or the White Sox could come through but time is running out and the top teams aren't batting.

As baseball heads for its last stand, the other great American pastime of pick-out-your-man-and-sock-him, called football starts to unfold. Here at home there is a little league-like deal set up for kids from eleven to fourteen, we think. The other day we saw a gang of Negro boys in their outfits. We didn't inquire if they were all on one team, but turned out they weren't. John Estes, Jr., and Frank Kaiser are on the coaching staff that teaches the kids things about football. Ought to be a lot of fun for the kids.

At Iowa University, the Hawks get ready for the big season. Folks who expect them to repeat on the Big Ten Title will do well to recall that thirteen points was the winning margin of the Hawks in their three important games. Thirteen points placed the wrong way and our state pride could have four losses instead of one.

This year every team will be ready for them wanting to knock off the champs. Maybe the breaks that made the team a winner will go the other way. So if the Hawkeyes drop two or three games don't disown them and say they were lucky last year. Every championship team has to have some luck.

Local High Schools

The local high school teams are getting ready and everyone expects to come out a winner. But over at East they are saying nothing and when they are quiet in Lee Township, the roof is usually about to fall in on someone. East is supposed to have a fairly weak team this year, but the people over there are too calm about it. So look for a surprise East outfit that will get together by the week.

Tennis

Esther Myers and Bruce Sharp went down to Burlington competition. They must be awfully rough. Noticed a lot of St. Louis kids playing in the meet and they must be pretty good. Incidentally the kids came to our Des Moines open from Cedar Rapids and around were just some more tennis players in their own meet.

whose close associates say he will sign it.

After passing the civil rights bill the senate approved several other measures and adjourned at 12:59 a.m. Friday. It had been in session continuously for 39 hours.

Results of ATA Tournament at Wilberforce, Ohio

Evantette Mays was defeated in the women's singles at the ATA tournament in Wilberforce, Ohio, Aug. 19, 24, by Gwen McEvans, 6-3, 6-0. (McEvans was seeded one in junior girls' singles and two in women's singles. She was on the Wightman Cup team this summer and her picture was in a recent World Tennis Magazine).

Everett Mays was defeated in Veteran's Men's Singles by Maurice Anderson 6-4, 7-5. Anderson was quite unorthodox as far as stroking but had good placement. He said he had not had the benefit of proper instructions. Mays should have beaten him but he said the groin muscle he pulled during the first set hampered him.

Esther Myers defeated Billie Prossley in the first round 6-4, 6-2 in women's singles. Myers also defeated Virginia Glass in the second round 4-6, 6-4, 6-3. In the third round Gwen McEvans defeated Myers 6-3, 6-3.

Everett Mays and Esther Myers were defeated by Harrison and Ingram in mixed doubles 6-2, 6-2.

Bruce Sharp was defeated in boys' singles 6-0, 6-0. He did well for his first year and because of his size most people were quite surprised to see him handle the racquet as well as he did.

Tri State Tournament Results (Burlington)

Kizzie Strother was defeated 6-0, 6-0 in women's singles and is more determined than ever to master the game.

Esther Myers was defeated 6-1, 6-1 in women's singles by second-seeded Beverly Tolan.

Bruce Sharp was defeated 6-1, 6-1 in boys' singles by Denny Ellerston who was seeded fourth. Ellerston won the boys' singles championship several weeks ago in the Hilltop tournament. He is a power hitter and did not have any mercy on Sharp. These games that Sharp won were really earned. He passed Ellerston at the net several times with beautiful drives.

Thirteen-year-old Sharp is one of the most promising young players. Right now he is practicing hard to get in shape for the national junior indoor tournament in St. Louis, Mo. Nov. 28.
