Reports Negro Purchasing Power Totals $17 Billion

More Gain in 15 Years Since Era Of Reconstruction

San Francisco, Calif. — Although Negroes are far from winning the fight against prejudice, they have made more progress in the past 15 years in employment, education, and political participation, than in all the years since the Reconstruction era, according to James P. Mitchell, Secretary of Labor.

Mitchell said a survey by the department of labor showed the following:

Buying Power

1. Purchasing power of Negroes is over $17 billion, greater than that of the entire population of Canada;
2. A third of Negroes own their own homes;
3. Negroes own more than 200 insurance companies with five million policyholders;
4. Negroes own 30 savings and loan associations with combined assets of over $60 million;
5. Negroes own 14 banks with total assets of $40 million;
6. The Negro wage earner makes 4 1/2 times what he made in 1940;
7. The number of Negro proprietors and managers has increased 131 percent in the last 16 years;

Supervisory Jobs

8. A generation ago, Negro workers accounted for three percent of civil service jobs in Washington, D. C. Today, they make up 24 percent. In 1940 less than one percent were doing supervisory work; today 16.6 percent hold supervisory jobs and more than 300 Negroes have

Bruce, Accused of Attacking Officers, Held for G. Jury

Accused of assault with intent to inflict great bodily harm, Richard Bruce, of 847 8th Street was bound over to the Polk County grand jury Friday by Municipal Judge Howard Brooks, and released on bond pending jury action. An intoxication charge against Bruce was dismissed.

Bruce is charged with attacking two off-duty policemen — Patrolmen Hubert Exline and Jack Rose — the night of Dec. 7 near 8th and Mulberry Streets.

Motion Denied

Bruce did not testify Friday after Judge Brooks overruled a motion for dismissal. Brooks also denied a motion by Paul Walters, attorney for Bruce, that other witnesses be called by the County Attorney's office so he (Walters) could prove by them that someone had called Bruce "a dirty n—r."

Way to Dance

Exline testified Thursday afternoon that they and their wives were on their way to a dance at the Eagles Lodge when Bruce made a derogatory remark about Mrs. Exline.

Exline said he and Rose cautioned Bruce and then walked away. Exline said that Bruce followed threatening to get even and struck Exline over the head, and at this point they identified themselves as policemen and arrested Bruce at gunpoint.

A witness to the incident, Mrs. Albert Johnson of 2701 East 37th Street, testified Friday morning that she observed Bruce strike the officer.

Interracial Southern Group Plan Voting Rights Confab

New York. — Alabama's vote on December 17 to liquidate Macon County because of its large Negro population warrants action by the Congress "to reduce the number of representatives from Alabama," the NAACP declared here today in a comment on the Alabama balloting. Secretary Roy Wilkins labeled the Alabama vote "an open confession to the nation that Alabama will go to any length in order to prevent Negro citizens from enjoying their constitutional right to vote" and said that while the manipulation of district lines "is well-known in American politics, for the first time in our history an entire county has been liquidated."

Wilkins: Congress Should Reduce Alabama Members

Atlanta, Ga. — The board of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, meeting here Dec. 14, decided to hold a conference on violations of voting rights in Washington, D. C., April 27.

The SCEF is a Southwide organization of Negro and white citizens devoted to ending segregation in the Southern and border states. Present at the Dec. 14 meeting were board members and staff from nine Southern states.

Local Chairman Bishop Edgar A. Love of the Baltimore district of The Methodist Church, an SCEF vice-president, was named chairman of local arrangements for the Washington meeting. The theme of that conference will be "Report from the South." It will feature first-hand reports on tactics used to keep citizens from registering and voting in the South.

Petition

The board authorized Southwide circulation of a petition, to the United States Senate to modify Rule 22 to limit filibustering, which would be presented at the opening of the 1959 session of Congress.

The board also voted to step up the SCEF's work of forming committees for civil rights legislation in all Southern states. It has been found that such committees give strength and provide a means of positive action for thousands of right-thinking Southerners.

hope of parole Friday, December 20th, to federal penitentiaries, by Judge Edwin Hicklin who expressed "shock" at dope traffic reports revealed in recent dope trials and a pre-sentence investigation by federal probation officers.

One other person, Calvin Coolidge Gilmore, 29, whose address has been given as 813 School Street, was sentenced to three years in a curative institution because "he is a drug user rather than a peddler."

Identifications The persons who were sentenced to penitentiary terms, their ages and last given addresses, and the length of the concurrent sentences are:

Frank Crawford Brenkin, 35, of 1222 School St., 10 years on each of six counts.

Elizabeth Della Chandler, 37, of 1143 Enos St., 10 years on one count.

Richard Lee Elliott, 21, of 1028 Tenth St., 14 years on each of three counts.

Oliver Ford, 53, of 762 1/2 Ninth St., 12 years on one count.

David Jackson, Jr., 36, of 831 Sixteenth St., 15 years on each of four counts; 10 years on each of two others.

Felix (Big Frank) Parks, 34, of 810 Twenty-fifth St., 11 years on each of two counts.

Warren Albert Swanson, 26, of 1112 1/2 Center St., 12 years on each of two counts.

Clark James Yeager, 32, of 1316 E. Seventeenth Street, 10 years on each of two counts.

"Ringleader" In sentencing the first of the nine Judge Hicklin said he was interested in deterring others as well as punishment and rehabilitation. He accused them of having disgraced their race and of having robbed the buyers of their money, their will power and their responsibility.

Declaring his beliefs that Parks was the "ringleader" Judge Hicklin said Elliott needs punishment because he believed Elliott had lied on the witness stand and to his attorney.

Dope Buying Ease

Expressing his concern also, U. S. District Attorney Roy Stephenson stated that "our investigations and evidence offered in these trials indicate . . . that known addicts and users could purchase heroin on certain streets in Des Moines either in the day time or at night with the same ease that an ordinary person might purchase candy, with the exception of the price."

Dismantling Xmas Tree Calls for Organization

Now that Christmas is over, it's time to "undo" the halls with boughs of holly and restore your home to its normal decor. By advance planning right now, you can alleviate some of pre-Christmas bedlam in 1958.

For instance, as you take down each tree ornament, wash it with a well-sudged sponge, wipe it dry, then wrap in tissue paper and pack it away.

If you put the hanging ornaments on the bottom of the box, tinsel next, and then the star or angel you perch on top, you'll find tree trimming next time especially easy. You'll be able to start with the ornaments on the top of the box and work down—and all the trim will be sparkling bright.

PARTY IDEA: Sparkling Pineapple Punch

Pretty enough for a wedding.

Spring and summer are great party months—for brides, for graduates and for visitors. The problem of what to serve at any festive gathering is simple today, thanks to fruit juices in handy tins. These are ready to be mixed into refreshing punch and long, tall ice cold drinks in a jiffy.

A bowl of sparkling punch is an invitation to your guests to help themselves while you relax, instead of tripping back and forth to the kitchen to fill glasses.

TROPICAL PUNCH

3 cups sugar
3 cups hot water
2 1/2 cup lemon juice
1 (46-oz.) can pineapple juice
3 pints sparkling water
Dissolve sugar in hot water. Cool. Add lemon juice and pineapple juice. Chill. At serving time, add 3 pints of sparkling water. Serve in punch bowl with ice block. Decorate with fruit slices and fresh or frozen strawberries. Yield: One gallon or 30 to 40 small servings.

NOTE: To prevent dilution and to keep excellent flavor down to the last cupful, it's a good trick to freeze "pineapple cubes." Just fill a refrigerator ice cube tray with pineapple juice and freeze until firm.

For a colorful punch cup garnish, spear two pineapple chunks on a toothpick with a maraschino cherry between. Cut a little slit in the cherry and fit it over the rim of punch cup.

18 Negro Colleges Gain Admittance to Southern Ass'n

Richmond, Va.—The annual meeting of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools held at Virginia Union University, Dec. 3-6, attracted the largest delegation of representatives of regionally accredited Negro high schools and colleges in the 24 years life of the Association. Since 1932, the regional accrediting agency, the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, has been accrediting Negro schools but not admitting them to membership.

A year ago the Southern Association had adopted a policy to begin admitting Negro Colleges to membership this year and to complete the job by 1961. Keen interest at both associations which held concurrent meetings in Richmond centered around the questions. Which Negro colleges would be admitted this year? and "What about the Negro high schools?"

Dr. Donald C. Agnew, an executive of the Southern Association, reported to the final session of the Negro association that on the preceding day the Southern Association had admitted to membership 18 Negro colleges and that eight others had been judged as fully meeting all of the twenty membership standards of the former all-white Associations. He reported further that all of the 37 remaining Negro colleges would be retained on the approved list of the Southern Association but that some would be warned for failure to meet fully one or more standards. No date has been set to admit Negro high schools.

Colleges admitted in December were Talladega, Tuskegee, and Daniel Payne Junior College in Alabama, Florida A. & M., Albany State, Atlanta University, Clark, Fort Valley State and Morehouse in Georgia; Tougaloo in Mississippi; Bennett and N. C. College at Durham in North Carolina; Voorhees Junior College in South Carolina; Fisk University and Knoxville College in Tennessee; St. Phillips Junior College in Texas; and Hampton Institute and Virginia State College in Virginia.

Children Do Respond to Example of Courtesy, Consideration Displayed by Parents, Grownups

Written by May P. Youtz, SUI Associate Professor

CONSIDERATE PARENTS

"Mother, what was that cute thing I said the other day?" Thoughtful parents will shudder at this, which is a true story! Why do we disapprove? It is so unfair to a child to build up in his mind such a false idea of the way the world will treat him when he is grown. Some practical rules suggest themselves as we try to be considerate in relation to our children.

No Parlor Tricks

First: Do not tell the cute things children have said or relate the very naughty things they have done in their hearing. Dr. Douglas Thomas used to say about the latter, that the child may very well see to it that he lives up to this bad reputation. The parent, in such a situation, has only himself to thank if a trouble-some child develops.

Second: Children should not be put through parlor tricks for strangers or friends. The child may be embarrassed or, as the child mentioned above, learn to want to show off or call attention to himself.

Courtesy

Third: Treat the child with the courtesy you would accord a grown-up who is in your home. The child who is treated courteously will respond with courtesy. A nine-year-old boy on a farm came running in one day in a great hurry saying, "Mother, I need some string." His mother gave him some and as he went rushing out the door, he shouted, "Thank you, mother." His mother said, "He never fails to thank me." I pointed out that she had been invariably courteous to her children, a quiet courtesy, that registered with the children, of whom this boy was the youngest of six.

Personal Touch
By MARJE ROSS

Showers of beautiful greeting cards and some gifts from Des Moines friends, and, former Iowans scattered about the country this week filled my mailbox and ran it over with many good wishes for the season and the coming year.

I am admiring handsome cards—with the names of their senders printed or penned in colorful inks; but, somehow, I keep wishing that the senders had written some little message with the greeting.

When I find an annual greeting card with a note tucked inside or a postscript, to me it is like discovering a little hidden treasure—a pearl in an oyster. The greeting card, whether ordinary looking or exquisite seems to come alive. And many, did this week.

It was the first day of October, just about three months when I left Des Moines. Anna Mae and Oval Carter, 1180 Fourteenth Street, penned: "Miss seeing you very much." So wrote Mrs. Myrtle Paige, 2825 Fourth Street; Mrs. Mary Ritchey, 1157 Fourteenth Street, who added "lots of love—and blessings to your dear mother and family;" Mrs. Philip Tindrell, 1428 E. Fifteenth Street; and Miss Mabel Harris, 1319 Lyon, who wrote: "At times really miss you when I'd like to call you up."

Vincent and Rose Mele of the fruit store at 221 Locust penned to their greeting: "Miss your cheery hello and seeing you around;" Mrs. Lena Brown, 2825 Fourth Street, added: "Love—Sweet Girl."

Some greeting cards were quite new. Mrs. Ilene Dahlberg, 929 Fourteenth Street, West Des Moines, informed: "Our girl is nearly five. Does it seem that long? . . . Deannie takes dancing lessons this fall and winter." Miss Betty Jones, 1118 Twelfth Street, disclosed: "This year my club is dressing a child for Christmas, instead of giving a party. We thought that by this way a child would have something after Christmas as well as during it."

A Christmas Line

In "Just a Christmas line," Miss Mary Holmes, 955 Seventeenth Street, had this to say: "Just wrote Mrs. McGregor a note and sent her your article that appeared in the July Ladies Home Journal. So you can easily see when

The party was sponsored by the Crocker Conservation Club. Members of the club served as hosts.

WIN DIMES AWARDS

(Left to right): Wilda Dickerson, Richmond, Va.; James Race, Jr., Houston, Tex., and Frances Cutchin, Raleigh, N. C. are winners of awards for study in fields related to the care of polio patients. March of Dimes funds have aided 6,963 persons to become trained professional workers. There still remains a great shortage in trained personnel. Help the March of Dimes meet this great need. Join the March of Dimes with dollars.

I catch up on my correspondence. Could be you have already heard from her concerning same. "When you wrote in your column how nice it would be to entertain the newcomer, I remember Mrs. McGregor saying, when she left, how much she would have appreciated some of her leaving parties upon her arrival in Des Moines." (Mrs. Ruth P. McGregor formerly directed Koo-Way USO in Des Moines during World War II. She resides now in Los Angeles, Cal.)

"Mrs. Wiley has a new granddaughter born Friday, Dec. 1, the same date as my niece, Toni, who celebrated her eleventh birthday that date." Miss Holmes wrote. (Mrs. Mildred Wiley is another former USO executive, residing in Des Moines.)

Now, isn't it grand to get newsy notes tucked inside Christmas cards or written on the back of them.

Here is another, all the way from San Diego, Cal., in a card from the former Des Moines family, the Alfred Florences now of 4552 Zion Avenue.

"Just a note to say hello," penned Mrs. Harriet Walden Florence.

"Needless to say, we love Southern California. Living costs are high in comparison to Des Moines, but the climate compensates."

Lamonte, who was so sickly in Des Moines is an altogether different child out here. He's had no sickness since our arrival. All of the children are well and so active. My kingdom for some of their energy.

"Alfred is in college studying toward a degree in engineering. Educational costs seem to be cheaper out here. Haven't found-out why. But then, I should look the gift horse in the mouth."

"This is supposed to be a note and I mustn't let it get out of hand. If you're ever out this way, don't forget to look in on the five Florences. Will be so glad to see some one from the Midwest."

See how much more interesting the annual greeting cards are with just a line or a personal note added. Try it!

'Good health, happiness and prosperity—is my wish to all—for the new year.

BAD SIGN FOR LAW-ABIDING CITIZENS

Poll samplers have indicated that President Eisenhower's prestige has fallen considerably during the past few months. And in line with these findings, Richard Wilson, chief representative for the Cowles publications in Washington, writing in Look Magazine, concurs in this finding listing some of the contributing causes.

Among them, he states "The school integration incident in Little Rock, Arkansas, from the purely political point of view, was as great a liability as an asset." There is little doubt that a great many people opposed the use of federal troops to enforce court orders in this instance integration. On the other hand, there were many who, even though they did not favor integration, approved President Eisenhower's action because it was one of upholding law and order.

Many opposed Abraham Lincoln for the same reason. Writing in This Week Magazine, Judge Samuel Liebowitz of the New York Criminal Court stated that lawlessness in America far exceeds that in Italy and France.

Somewhere in our democracy, we have allowed too much crime to go unpunished. Politically minded law enforcement officials have winked at law violators among all classes of people. This is particularly true in the big cities; it has been almost ridiculous in the enforcement of civil rights law.

Those people who wish to penalize President Eisenhower because he chose to do his duty by upholding the courts and the law are pretty poor citizens and do the country a distinct disservice by approving rule by mob action rather than orderly court procedure.

LOCAL OFFICIALS DO A POOR JOB

Last week Federal Judge Edward Hecklin sentenced 8 defendants to long terms after being found guilty of or pleading guilty to charges involving sale and/or possession of narcotics. All had operated in and around Center Street. And while this section is almost totally inhabited by Negroes, this operation was considerably interracial.

Prior to the pronouncement of the sentences, Judge Hecklin expressed great surprise at the extent of the operation in such dastardly crimes; that these operations had lasted over such a long period.

It has been common knowledge among people on the street that traffic in narcotics has been almost wide open for months. In fact, protests were made to law enforcement officials which were either ignored or grand stand plays made with promises to clean up the mess but nothing was done.

This situation here is typical of conditions where, in a concentration of Negroes in a section, anything goes as long as what goes remains centered among them. Certainly, there is no more operation in such crime among Negroes than whites.

Fundamentally, there has been extreme laxity upon the part of local officials in this field—laxity which is difficult to understand. It is hoped that this wholesale arrest and conviction of narcotics dealers will serve to put down this loathsome practice which prevails among men, women and children. And it will be interesting to watch whether local law enforcement officials will carry their responsibility or wait for federal officials as was done in this instance.

ALA. VOTE—of the government of Macon County now that new 1957 civil rights legislation provides federal support of the right to vote.

In reference to southern representation in Congress, Mr. Wilkins added: "Alabama and other southern states have had a disproportionately large voice in national affairs because their representatives vote in the name of a phantom voting population as against the real voting population of non-southern states."

Magazine Report

The New York Times reported today that an analysis of the vote on the Macon County amendment revealed that only about 25 per cent of Alabama's registrants cast ballots on the issue. The latest returns reported by The Times were 58,824 votes for the measure and 40,718 against it.

It was stated in The Times story today that "if Alabama's white voters were as concerned about potential Negro strength as the white supremacists have contended, the voting on Tuesday would certainly have shown not only a larger turnout but would also have produced a top-heavy victory for those urging the abolition of Macon County."

Archie Moore Angling For Boxing Crown Yet

New York City — The bets are that Archie Moore will fight Carmen Basilio — and win? Why? Because Basilio, who won the crown from Ray Sugar Robinson, has happily indulged in eating ever since — and Archie is a guy who's always wanted the crown, and will wait for the opportune time. So, while Basilio gets the "Fighter of the Year" award in California this month and another at the Waldorf Astoria here in January, promoters will be trying to iron out difficulties to smooth the way for the bout this summer. A fight of this type, one official remarked, could bring in a gate of a half a million dollars.

But what about Basilio's weight? That's the problem of his trainers and backers, the fans feel. Meanwhile, the champ is just enjoying his title and his plump wife, who does all the cooking, is helping. By the time of his next bout, the fans expect Basilio to be a huge mountain, perhaps even past the lightweight scale limits.

Minnie Minoso Offered $40,000 in '58 Contract

Havana, Cuba. — The Cleveland Indians have reportedly offered former Chicago White Sox outfielder Minnie Minoso a $40,000 contract for the 1958 season. Minoso is expected to sign.

The terms were about $5,000 higher than Minoso received with the White Sox last season. Minoso was acquired from the White Sox in a four-player trade Dec. 4. In the trade, outfielder Al Smith of the Indians went to Chicago.

Rabbit Hunting

With closed seasons on most of the major game species now in effect, Iowa hunters are turning their attention to rabbit hunting.

Rabbit hunting, which ordinarily shifts into high gear about January 1, continues through January 31, with a daily bag limit of ten (10). Shooting hours are from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

9. In the past 17 years the number of Negro men in professional jobs has jumped 103 percent. Craftsmen and foremen have increased 112 percent. Operators and technicians have risen 181 percent and Negro clerical and sales workers have increased 223 percent.

College Enrollment

10. In 1956, 98 percent of Negroes between the ages of 7 and 13 were attending school. 751 southern school districts have been integrated since the U. S. Supreme Court decision in 1954.

11. Negro college enrollment is increasing at a rate six times faster than that of white enrollment.

12. Negro college enrollment now numbers 196,000, an increase of 622 since 1930.

Population

In Washington, D. C. the census bureau announced that the non-white population of the United States had increased about 19 percent between April 1950 and July 1957. The bureau said there are now about 18,766,000 non-whites, mainly Negroes and Orientals, in the U. S., compared with a white population of 152,464,000.

Contact Lenses

Contact lenses are far from a recent development, according to the Murine Company feature service. A similar idea was first recorded in 1508 by Leonardo da Vinci; and in 1887 a German, F. E. Mueller, and a Swiss, Dr. A. E. Fick, both had contact lenses made of blown glass.

Pictures

Our eyes see one million pictures every day according to the Murine Company feature service. They must make a multitude of minute changes to get a clear image of every object or person they look at.

Lighting

Contrary to some beliefs, fluorescent lighting does not possess any more harmful qualities than other forms of artificial illumination or sunlight. In fact fluorescent lighting is more desirable since it resembles daylight more closely than tungsten-filament lamps, according to the Murine Company feature service.

HEALTH FOR ALL

THE KING'S TOUCH

Royalty has lost yet another job. And scientific research has scored again against tuberculosis.

Time was when the touch of the king's hand was the only hope for people suffering from scrofula — tuberculosis of the lymph nodes. Certain times were set aside when patients could be brought to the king to feel his healing touch. Artists have recorded for us this pitiful spectacle. There was hope, at least, for the few who could afford the trip. For thousands of others there was no hope at all. Even after it became known that the disease was a type of tuberculosis, there was little that could be done.

Lymphatic TB

Today lymphatic TB is treated with antimicrobial drugs and surgery. More recently streptococcal enzymes have been tried with hopeful results.

Here is one more example of the progress being made against tuberculosis on all fronts. The TB germ is a tough and baffling adversary. There is still much that is not known about it. Research scientists must continue their painstaking search for knowledge in order to bring about the defeat of TB.

Seal Dollars

We can all play a part in this search. When we buy Christmas Seals we contribute to research in tuberculosis. Christmas Seal dollars support research in laboratories throughout the country where work is being done on various aspects of tuberculosis. More dollars are spent to prevent the spread of tuberculosis infection and to rehabilitate the victims of the disease.

When the day comes that it can be said that TB is under control in this country, all of us who have contributed to the Christmas Seal Sale can feel a glow of pride because we helped.

Sugar Ray Ponders Rematch With Basilio

New York, N. Y. — At least two reasons have been given for the extension of the return match between dethroned Sugar Ray Robinson and champion Carmen Basilio for the middleweight championship.

Robinson himself says that he has yet to receive his fabulous $500,000 plus purse from the last fight he had with Basilio. He says only $100,000 of that amount has been released by the internal revenue boys and that amount was, for expenses of the bout. He says he doesn't intend to fight until he has received all of his money.

Extension

Another view has it that the extension gives rise to the suspicion that Robinson is seriously thinking of returning to the ring providing he gets his price.

The International Boxing Commission officials granted Robinson an extension of the 90-day clause in his contract early this month that moves the bout from the scheduled Dec. 23 to Mar. 1.

North Not Far From South—As The Jim Crow Flies!

By Alton Levy

You need not travel to Little Rock To count democracy's losses; Just a jump from the City of Brotherly Love.

Bishop Announces 1958

Prairie View Tilt

Marshall, Texas. — The Director of Athletics at Bishop College says Prairie View and Butler Colleges have been added to the 1958 football schedule of the Bishop College Tigers.
Coach Dwight H. Fisher says that otherwise, next year's football schedule will be the same as this year's schedule except that Bishop will not play Benedict College. Bishop is a member of the Gulf Coast Athletic Conference.

Field Representative

New York. — Appointment of Gustav Henningburg as field representative for the United Negro College Fund has been announced by William J. Trent Jr., Fund executive director.

A graduate of Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., one of the Fund's member colleges, Mr. Henningburg will work with alumni groups in UNCF campaigns in order to stimulate wider interest and support. He will also work with the campus community chests of many universities, colleges and preparatory schools throughout the country which contribute to the United Negro College Fund each year.

record so far this season, the resurging Hampton Pirate cagers have won 4 and lost 1 under the tutelage of freshman coach Frank Enty.

They're busy burning crosses! You need no Kaubus to hand the Reds Their propaganda tools; In the heart of the biggest town of all

They're segregating schools! You needn't cross the Dixie line To find a job embargo; Just talk to Negroes out of work In Boston or Chicago! And don't go South to see first hand If Negro homes are crummy; Just sally forth throughout the North,

The kindest word is "slummy." For more and more this fact is clear: No section can be smug; The North has also been hard hit By the spreading bias bug.

And those who last out at the South Alone, just tend to swerve us

From a proper, clear perspective, They do all a great disservice! For considering where they started from, Ungoticed (more's the pity) The South has made much greater gains Than many a Northern City.

If only we remember that, These days so puter-spatial, Our approach may be more rational For being far less racial.

Stars

Stars don't twinkle—you do, according to the Murine Company feature service. Since there are motions of your eye and body you can't control, a pinpoint of light from a star dances over cluster after cluster of cells in your eye, thus giving a twinkling effect.
