Says Segregated Schools Get $192,000,000 from United States Taxpayers

Washington, D. C.—Testifying before a House subcommittee on general education, Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP Washington bureau, today urged amendment of existing school aid statutes to require, as a condition of receiving such grants, that the states be in compliance with the anti-segregation rulings of the United States Supreme Court.

Already, Mr. Mitchell told the committee members, the federal government has spent more than $192,000,000 for construction and operation of segregated schools under Public Laws 815 and 874, which provide federal aid to schools in defense-impacted areas.

Submit Plans

In order to halt such expenditures, the NAACP spokesman said, the states should be required to submit plans to the federal government with a clear commitment that "school facilities of the state are open to all children without regard to race. . . except that if a state plan does not so provide, it shall not prevent payment of funds authorized under this act to such state for use in counties or other political subdivisions within the state that are operating their schools in conformity with the Supreme Court decisions."

District Court Refuses to Enjoin Florida U. to Admit Virgil Hawkins at Mid-Term

Tallahassee, Fla.—U. S. District Judge Dozier A. DeVane last week refused to issue a temporary injunction enjoining the University of Florida from refusing to admit Virgil Hawkins to the University Law School in time for the start of the Feb. 1958 term. The case has been before the Florida courts 8 years. Three times it has been before the U. S. Supreme Court. The U. S. Supreme Court, upon the third appeal, suggested that Hawkins take his case to the U. S. District Court.

Final Hearing

The motion, turned down by Judge DeVane on Tuesday, Jan. 28, sought to restrain the University from excluding Mr. Hawkins pending final disposition of the action. It asked that Mr. Hawkins be admitted by Feb. 4.

Judge DeVane said he would not issue the order without a final hearing and refused to permit Mr. Hawkins' attorneys to present witnesses. He said such testimony was not necessary at this time.

Applied in 1949

Mr. Hawkins first applied for admission to the University of Florida Law School on May 13, 1949. Four other Negro students applied at the same time for admission to other schools and colleges of the University. They were all turned away because they were Negroes.

NAACP in Va. Rejects Demand Of Committee

Richmond, Va.—Officials of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Virginia have turned down the state's latest efforts to secure the Association's lists of members and contributors.

Contending that the legislative committee which demanded the NAACP records had expired on Nov. 1, 1957, the Virginia State NAACP refused to comply with a subpoena requiring production of Association documents on Jan. 27.

Committee Non-Existent

Meanwhile it was learned that only two of the ten-man committee had any prior knowledge of the demand by the committee chairman, James M. Thomson. The subpoena was served on W. Lester Banks, executive secretary of the Virginia State NAACP on Jan. 21. Some members of the committee, according to The Richmond Times-Dispatch, agreed with the NAACP that the committee had ceased to exist.

Refusals

The U. S. Supreme Court on two occasions ruled that Mr. Hawkins was entitled to immediate admission. Each time the Florida state court failed to order the University to admit him to the Law School. Finally, on Oct. 14, 1957, the Supreme Court refused to review the third refusal of the state court to order the University to admit Mr. Hawkins and sent him to the federal court.

The medal, awarded annually by the Association to a Negro American for distinguished achievement, was instituted in 1914 by the late J. E. Spingarn, then chairman of the NAACP Board of Directors. Winner of the award for 1956 was the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., leader of the successful Montgomery, Ala., bus protest movement, and was presented to him at the Association's 48th annual convention in Detroit on June 28.

Former Winners

The field of achievement may be intellectual, spiritual, artistic, scientific, commercial, educational or other. Former winners include such persons as Jackie Robinson, pioneer major league baseball star; Carl Murphy, publisher; Miss Marian Anderson, singer; Paul R. Williams, architect; William H. Hastie, jurist; A. Philip Randolph, labor leader; Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, undersecretary of the United Nations; Dr. Channing H. Tobias, chairman of the NAACP Board of Directors; Dr. Theodore K. Lawless, physician; and others.

Coveted Honor

The award, a gold medal, has long been recognized as the most coveted honor in the field. It has served to focus attention on distinguished merit among Negro citizens, to reward such merit and to stimulate the aspiration and ambition of young Negroes.

Nominations should be sent to the Spingarn Medal Award Committee, NAACP, 20 West 40th Street, New York 18, N. Y.

Conflicting Opinions

Previously, on Jan. 20, the Virginia State Supreme Court upheld the right of another legislative committee to require production of the names of NAACP members and contributors. However, the following day a special three-judge Federal District Court ruled that two Virginia laws designed to compel disclosure of the names were unconstitutional.

NAACP lawyers in the state are now seeking, in the State Supreme Court, a stay of its mandate of Jan. 20 pending a review of the issue by the United States Supreme Court.

Find Majority of Chicago Schools Segregated De Facto

New York.—A detailed analysis of racial proportions in the elementary and high schools of one large northern city discloses that a majority of all pupils attend schools in which the percentage of white or Negro is so great that the environment is one of segregation.

The analysis, which deals with the Chicago schools, is published in the February issue of The Crisis, official journal of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The article is a condensation of a statement made to members of the Chicago Board of Education by the Chicago NAACP branch in 1957.

Entitled, "De Facto Segregation in the Chicago Public Schools," it indicates that the trend is toward segregation, not integration.

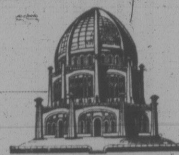

87 Per Cent in Grades

Eighty-seven per cent of Negro elementary school children are in predominantly Negro schools, the article states.

Of 355 elementary schools listed in the Chicago school directory, 250, or 70 per cent, are predominantly white (90 per cent or more non-Negro pupils), 73, or 21 per cent, are predominantly Negro (90 per cent or more Negro pupils), and 32, or nine per cent, are racially mixed, the report says.

90 Per Cent in High School

Citing further statistics, it states that of 35 academic high schools in Chicago, 35, or 71 per cent are predominantly Negro or predominantly white, adding: "In other words, seven out of every 10 Chicago high school students attend de facto segregated high schools in the sense that 90 per cent or more of the students in these schools are Negro or non-Negro."

Personal Touch

By
MARIE
ROSS

Winter days—filled with snow flurries and long when there are neighbors and friends cross the way who make it their business to remember birthdays, anniversaries and, the ordinary occasions of life—with greeting cards, letters on some little token of kindness.

I think of a Kansas mail-carrier who has been on one big city route so long that he knows the birthdays and anniversaries of many of the residents. He can tell by the number of letters that he delivers to an address, whether the occasion is someone's birthday or a couple's anniversary.

During the years he has delivered mail on the same route, some of his residents have grown feeble and are alone.

"Their mail has fallen off. No one remembers them anymore with birthday or holiday cards—and it hurts me to have to pass by their homes where they stand waiting for me," the carrier related.

"Several of these aged residents I have added to my list of friends—and I drop them a card with a little gift, and sign it—'from a friend,' just so that they will be remembered." The mail carrier added that "they feel happy that someone remembered them—even with just one card."

While you are celebrating the February birthdays of famous Americans—Abraham Lincoln, Feb. 12, Frederick Douglass—Feb. 14, George Washington—Feb. 22, warm the heart of some friend, neighbor, sick, aged or shut-in person by sending him or her an unexpected birthday greeting or a friendly Valentine card on Feb. 14.

The other day, I met a former Des Moines resident, Mrs. Enola Thompson Hill, who informed me that her mother, Mrs. Maude Thompson was ill at home with her; and that her brother, Nelson Thompson was in the hospital.

Mrs. Thompson has many friends in Des Moines where she lived for many years. I'm sure that some of them will want to shower her with get-well cards or letters. Her address is 1903 North Allis Street, Kansas City, Kansas.

Valentine Day is an ideal occasion for clubs to send showers of cards to any member who has been sick a long time; or, for individuals to remember any friend or person who has done him or her some small kind deed.

One of the valuable pieces I brought from Des Moines was a birth-dated calendar of St. Paul AME Church, sponsored by the Birt Pastor's Aid Club, for 1957, under the leadership of Mrs. Gladys Brown.

With the aid of her calendar and other sources—here are a few more February birthdays:

- Feb. 6—Mrs. Kaye Spriggs, 1341 Jefferson.
- Feb. 7—Atty. James B. Morris, Jr., 223½ Locust Street.
- Feb. 8—Howard Kelso, Edward Roane, Ruth Forrester.
- Feb. 10—Mrs. Rosa E. Wilson, 844 Fifteenth St. Mrs. Olivia Cooper, Mrs. Flossie Williams.
- Feb. 11—Mrs. Georgeanna Add, 1026 Sixteenth Street; Mrs. Josephine Trumbo.
- Feb. 15—Mrs. Julia Proctor, 111 Eleventh Street.
- Feb. 19—Mrs. Verlene Propes, 11-18 Seventeenth Street.
- Feb. 20—Mrs. May Wyatt, 1327 Crocker Street.
- Feb. 21—H. W. Walden, 3019 Amherst Street.
- Feb. 25—Mrs. John E. Johnson, 2407 Garfield Avenue.

For many more birthdays, check with Mrs. Joburness Kelso, 1181 Twelfth Street, whose hobby is remembering birthdays.

Help Parents to Understand Behavior of Their Children before Deciding What to do about Them

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Written by May P. Youtz, SUI Associate Professor

THINKING STRAIGHT

What does thinking straight about our children mean? It surely is the basis for understanding our children. According to Dr. Fritz Redl, we can try to understand what a child does, but doing so doesn't mean that we can always approve.

We need to do some straight thinking before we act. Insight into our own feelings, into our anger for the moment, will help us in our effort to help children grow and do better. This insight is sometimes hard to "come by."

Understanding

Understanding doesn't even always insure that we will know what to do—far from it. Nor can we find the answer in a book. I hasten to say that one can learn about child growth and behavior from books, but thought about our own specific child and his problems is required before deciding what to do.

Seek Advice

Attempting to understand "your own child doesn't mean that you should shun expert advice and help. More and more advice is available as time goes on.

Questioning a child about his behavior will not get us very far. The Overstretts tell of a little boy who was sitting out on the back step gazing into space. His very efficient mother hustled out on the porch saying, "Mark, what are you doing. What are you doing?"

Mark answered, "Just being myself," and the mother had the good sense to say, "I went into the house and kept still!"

Insight into our own needs and tensions will help us as we try to understand our children. If we enjoy our children, we will be on the way toward understanding them.

SEEIN' STARS....

WITH DELORES CALVIN

New York City (Calvin News Service) — NEW STARS BREAK OUT... It looks as though there's no stopping our two newest bright stars, Lonnie Sattin and Barbara McNair—who are steadily gaining fame, and fortune with every turn of the wheel... Stars of the "Tonight" show this past week only added to their many triumphs... For both aren't losing any time in keeping their names and faces before the public... Of course you can see them each evening in a Broadway musical "The Body Beautiful" which is the smartest thing of its type since "Guys and Dolls"...

Barbara has been compared to Lena Horne and Dot Dandridge—and doesn't fall short... The girl has definite beauty—the classic type which can wear almost anything and still look beautiful... Barbara brings to the stage a finesse and polish which is uncommon among the newcomers... She seems to have studied for years—and she hasn't... Just a short time ago she was a stage struck kid who was afraid to sing at amateur night at the Apollo Theatre...

Juanita Hall

"South Pacific," which had such a wonderfully long run here on Broadway, is ready to take its bow as a motion picture next month—with banners already beginning to wave... In the original role which she made famous, is Juanita Hall, who always included her songs from the show in her repertoire wherever she sang in concert since this show closed... Doing the movie made Juanita sad as the star on Broadway was Enzo Pinza, who died last year... She was a great admirer of his...

William Marshall

William Marshall, huge 6 footer who hasn't been seen on screen since he played the captured leader of the Mau Maus in "Something of Value," wasn't too satisfied with his small role in "The Bright of San Luis Rey," the TV drama which proved quite complicated except for those who had read the book...

Lena Horne

Lena Horne was so upset over Campanella's accident, her secretary was one of the 3,000 who phoned asking his condition... And Lena, we hear, takes two vitamin injections twice a week to keep up with the strain of "Jamaica"... She also calls her husband, Lennie Hayton, "daddy"...

NEGRO COLLEGE FUND MAKES PROGRESS

The United Negro College Fund has closed another successful year having met its 1957 goal. The proceeds of the contributions are allocated among 32 accredited Negro colleges (one was added in 1957) to help pay current expenses. A separate solicitation is made for capital improvements.

For the past five years, Iowa has been asked to raise five thousand dollars; in 1957 the goal was fifty-five hundred dollars. That goal was met, greatly because of the work of the excellent chairman and the support of business and individuals. Negroes did the best job yet in their contributions having raised the amount assigned. This was due, to a great extent, to the foresight of several churches and organizations by including their contributions in the yearly budget. This is an excellent idea—one which more organizations should adopt.

It is difficult to see how any Negro could refuse to make a contribution to this fund. And those who can and won't offer excuses which make little sense.

These schools have produced most of the Negro college graduates over the years; these schools are accredited by their respective associations; they are private schools and have nothing to do with the 1954 segregation case; integration is a two-way proposition, thus whites are attending some of them; it will take many years to completely integrate all schools and all Negroes will not be able to attend the so-called integrated colleges.

Des Moines will be asked to do the job again in 1958. The cause is worthy and sound and deserves the full support of the community as a whole.

UNFORTUNATE PROPAGANDA BROUGHT TO IOWA

Any Iowan who is acquainted with the activities of the White Citizens Councils of the South must hang his head in shame when he read in the Des Moines (February 4) Register that the secretary of the Mississippi organization had addressed a meeting in a school in Oakland, Iowa.

The group which brought the Mississippi to Oakland did so, as its secretary said, in order to hear both sides of the integration struggle now going on in the South.

There is no more excuse for inviting a representative of this organization to tell his side of the question than it would have been to call on a member of the Al Capone gang to tell their side of operating illegal undertakings. Both carry on most of their activities in a lawless manner.

Judging from the defense made for his action, it's apparent that the so-called law abiding people of Oakland don't know how these councils (and Mississippi is a leader in the procession) operate. And not only do they carry on lawlessness to block integration but also to prevent Negroes from voting; from exercising their rights to the end that they be given protection by the law, justice in courts and other civil rights which every citizen is entitled to enjoy.

They have killed innocent victims; intimidated Negroes and also whites who sought justice for all citizens. They do not hesitate to take the law into their own hands, which of course is mob violence.

Years ago when the old Chautauqua circuits were in operation, such men as the late Senators Ben Tillman of South Carolina and James K. Vardman of Mississippi appeared on their program to explain the position of the South on the Negro question. Unfortunately they were the most unrepresentative of the South for they spread their venom in small communities which has its influence even today.

There are many fine white people in the South who could have brought the citizens of Oakland a decent message well within the law of the land. Thus there is no excuse for the shortsightedness which ferments hate, distrust and prejudice among young people (there is little help for the older ones) when the world is struggling to make the brotherhood of man a real living thing among all people and between all nations.

Frankly, the Oakland organization has not brought any constructive ideas to the community by parading outlaws before these people whether they represent White Citizens Councils or leaders of gang warfare.

FREWAY PLANS ARE STUMBLING

Plans for the proposed freeway in Des Moines have begun to stumble. Some weeks ago, it was announced that the route of the project would be announced on or about March 1. Property owners in the general vicinity have been on the anxious seat about what to do when the project gets under way.

Tuesday, the Highway Commission stated that the estimated cost of building the 41,000-miles of super highway had increased 37 per cent during the past 18 months; that the amount allocated Iowa by the federal road authority had been cut by 69 per cent.

Of course this increase in costs has not gone to property owners.

All of these new conditions will delay definite planning and construction of the freeway.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

We read with interest an account of a world's championship wrestling match that took place about forty years ago. It was one of a series of articles written by Sec Taylor of the Des Moines Register that relate some great sporting events. We read that both contestants were on their feet for about an hour before one slipped to the mat. This we think is what killed wrestling as we used to know it. In those days wrestlers were on their feet trying to get each other off balance for from thirty to ninety minutes. It wasn't very interesting unless you understood wrestling but it was tough and grueling. You and your opponent locked hands around each other's necks and tugged, pushed, hauled and shoved until one or the other lost his balance and he was tripped or thrown to the mat.

Pushing

Most matches were often decided during the pushing sessions. The old-timers became so good at keeping their feet that we know an old fellow who used to wrestle them who had never been tripped. In fact he has stumbled so he couldn't control himself and slipped on ice and regained his balance. So you can see how hard it must have been to get one of those guys off their feet.

Amateurs

Then amateur wrestlers used just about the same tactics that the professional used; so one guy we know used to wrestle amateurs in school and professional at other times. Now in amateur wrestling there is so much that is illegal that we once had a very attractive offer to teach a young amateur the tricks but we didn't believe we could teach him anything that would do him any good.

Audience Whims

Nobody wants to see a couple of fellows walk around the mat for long periods at a time when he can see the stuff the modern alleged grapplers do.

So it is a show? Yes, but it is action and that is what people want. It seems that a way back in the late twenties a couple of prominent wrestlers got angry, lost their heads, and really went to it for keeps. It was so exciting that the crowd loved it and the boys realized they had something.

Basketball

Our all star team is now made up of Baylor of Washington, Robertson, of Cincinnati, Chamberlain, of Kansas, Rodgers of Temple and Green of Michigan State. Then there are Hawkins of Notre Dame, Boozer of K. State, Vaughn of Illinois, Cable of Bradley, and Burton of Michigan. Maybe we could dig up a good third team. Who could beat them?

Billiard Tournament

Clarence Hurd and Delmar Beldridge will have met for the championship of the pool room at Garrison, Hurd, who plays as if he is playing for fun would be a slight favorite to win although Delmar will be awfully tough.

HEALTH FOR ALL

The Worm Turns

In a laboratory in California a group of earthworms are crawling around looking for a home. The purpose is to find out how they learn. And the results may be useful to parents faced with the problem of getting their teen-agers to do homework.

Worms Education

The worms were taught by a system of rewards and punishments. When a worm turned the right way, its reward at the end of a six inch pathway was a nice dark spot with some moist earth and moss. A worm turned led over sandpaper, and if a worm persisted in such foolishness it received a mild electric shock. A worm was considered to have "passed the course" if it reached the moist earth without being shocked seven consecutive times.

Results showed that the worms who did their lessons in the evening between 8 p.m. and midnight learned faster than the morning class, between 8 a.m. and noon.

Teen-agers

Obviously, teenagers are much more complicated than earthworms. Their ability to concentrate on a job of learning can be affected by many physical and emotional factors. The wise parent can make sure that there is no physical reason why a youngster has trouble learning. Too many outside activities may be distracting and overloading. Eyes may need checking. Nutrition, especially with teen-age girls, may not be up to standard. Every teen-ager should have a regular physical check-up by a doctor he likes and trusts, in whom he can confide his personal problems.

Experimentation

With these factors taken care of, youngsters may enjoy a little "scientific" experimentation to find out when and under what conditions they can do their home-work best. The results might surprise some parents. It could develop that your teen-agers learn best at 10 p.m. with the radio playing, lying on the floor with a plate of cheese and crackers at hand.

CAMPY STILL IMPROVING

Glen Cove New York.—Meanwhile, Dodger catcher Roy Campanella, continues to show steady improvement although paralysis still prevails in his legs.

The hospital report said the "patient was cheerful and his lungs were improved" following a restful night.

Veteran Rube Walker To Replace Campy

Los Angeles, Calif.—Rube Walker will be the first-string catcher for the Los Angeles Dodgers this season replacing injured Roy Campanella who fractured his neck in an auto mishap last week.

Bench Warner

The 31-year old Walker is a veteran of six years with the Dodgers and has been largely relegated to a bench-warming role because of Campanella's strength which enabled him to play in almost every game. Walker, a left-handed batter, hit only .181 last season but his teammates, including Duke Snider, claim he can "single you to death."

Letters from Our Readers

A bit of prose... a line or two of poetry... a letter now and the to express thoughts in the minds of our many readers.

Send Yours Today

DEAR EDITOR:

The attitude of Governor Faubus of Arkansas, in trying to prevent the Little Rock school board from carrying out their modest beginning of integration at the Central High School there in accordance with the Supreme Court's decision against segregation education, has caused a revulsion among people in the North and West generally.

Express Revulsion

A practical way to express their revulsion was found by the Democratic Women's Club of Greenwich, Connecticut when they voted to give $200 as a donation to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, to be used whenever the need is greatest. They did this although, reflecting the racial composition of the town, only a small proportion of the Club's members are colored women. In giving this donation the Club stated, "Segregation in education and in all other aspects is harmful to the United States both internally, where it is wasteful of vitally needed talents and injurious to human rights and dignity, and internationally, where it has caused us to lose prestige and provided the Communists with their most potent weapon against us."

Public Stand

The Club took this action, according to their President, because these women Democrats believe that "Democrats in the North must take a firm, public, and active stand on the issue of civil rights."

It would seem to be a highly effective way for Democrats and Republicans alike in the Northern and Western states to express their opposition to Governor Faubus's thinly disguised appeals to violence against carrying out the Supreme Court's decision, if they follow the lead of the Greenwich Democratic Women's Club, and make a substantial donation to the N.A.A.C.P. to enable it to carry on its fight against racial segregation and discrimination in all forms. The Biblical command, "Go thou and do likewise," would seem to be applicable here.

Other Opponents

Jackson mentioned one proposal for such a match and said others were in the offing.

He said Tommy Anderson, a Minnesota promoter, proposes to match Brown, a 13-year veteran of the ring from New Orleans, and Lane of Muskegon, Mich., in Minnesota this spring.

When contacted Brown was quoted as saying, "The sooner the better, as far as I am concerned."

Negro Grid Star, Al Frazier to Chi. Bears

Chicago, — The Chicago Bears have acquired the rights to what has been called the greatest and most potent one-two scoring punch in Negro grid circles and possibly one of the greatest since Glenn Davis and Felix "Doc" Blanchard romped for Army back in the 40s. Frazier and Willie Galimore were the All-American twins for the Florida A. & M. University Rattlers two seasons ago. A recent announcement from the Chicago Bears front office by George Halas, former great coach and now president of the Bears organization stated that the Bears have signed Al Frazier to a contract for the 1958 season.

The amount of the contract was not disclosed pending approval by Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League.

The former Florida Rattler played halfback while Galimore played left halfback from 1952-56. Together they formed a double-barrel cannon loaded with TNT.
