Muscatine Eulogizes Late A.G. Clarke

To Keep Oration Of Negro Leader For Posterity

Muscatine, Iowa.—A unique city-wide brotherhood program was presented here Feb. 23 on the birthdate of the late Hon. Alexander G. Clarke, one of Muscatine's most illustrious citizens, in a eulogy of his life and works.

Mr. Clarke lived such a distinguished, trail-blazing life as an oratorical champion of his race, community, church and country that he was often referred to as the "Frederick Douglass of the West." And—at his death—an oration of his life and works prepared by state, national and international leaders in religious, fraternal, political and civic circles, was bound in book form for his surviving family and friends.

It was a copy of one of these books that the Junior Missionary society, who sponsored the brotherhood program, built their oration around.

Proclamation

Feb. 25 was proclaimed by Muscatine Mayor Walter I. Conway as Alexander Clarke Day; this proclamation along with resolution received from the Board of Education, Chamber of Commerce, a statement from Mrs. Adaline Clarke (Mr. Clarke's daughter-in-law), of Oskaloosa, Ia., who made the program possible, and from the Rev. Charles Copeland, presiding elder of the Des Moines District of the Northwest Conference, will be placed along with other valuable tablets of Muscatine history.

To Iowa in 1842

Mr. Clarke came to Muscatine in 1842 as a barber. Delicate health forced him to channel his interests elsewhere and he became a steamboat supply contractor and investor.

Who's Who in Iowa

Mrs. Gloria Bowman Saw Ad; Became First Negro at Iowa's Largest Insurance Co.

By Mrs. Frances Hawthorne

(This is the third in a series of articles featuring Negro firsts, leaders, and outstanding personalities in Iowa who are excelling in civic, professional, business, religious, educational, fraternal and entertainment fields.)

GLORIA BOWMAN

Bowman, of 3005 Ames, was the first Negro first in Iowa when she became the first Negro in the State Life Insurance Co. in 1954.

est insurance company had employed no Negroes. Presently they have two, but Mrs. Bowman was the first.

Answered Ad

The initial step towards securing the job was taken when she answered a newspaper advertisement. That was followed by three weeks of concentrated personal interviews. "Each time I went back," Mrs. Bowman recalled, "I was interviewed by someone a little higher up in the company."

She passed the interviews and was given the job of calculator which she held for one and a-half years before being promoted to Calculations checker in the actuary section. Specifically, her job entails checking figures and estimates to questions mailed in by individuals and agents.

Nice From First

Speaking well of her co-workers and employers, Mrs. Bowman said, simply, happily, "Everyone has been nice, . . . always, from the very first."

Mrs. Bowman came educationally fortified for her present position. A

Tornado Injures 4, Damages Buildings At Piney Woods

Jackson, Miss.—Piney Woods, the famed school founded by Dr. Laurence D. Jones, was one of the hardest hit areas damaged to a tornado last Wednesday, Feb. 26.

A native of Iowa, Dr. Jones, termed the damages at the 41 year-old school as "terrible." Four persons were hospitalized in nearby Jackson with injuries and roofs of at least four large buildings were torn off.

The industrial school, largely supported by Iowans, was founded in 1907 by Dr. Jones, who is a graduate of Marshalltown, High School and the State University of Iowa. The school now occupied 1,600 acres and has an enrollment of 500 students.

NAACP Legal Defense File Six Cases During February

New York.—Three legal actions involving the constitutional rights of Negroes were taken this week by attorneys for the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. One was in the Little Rock High School case and two were continuing efforts to gain the admission of Virgil Hawkins to the University of Florida Law School.

6 Cases

The filing of these three court matters brings to six the number of legal actions taken in February by the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund attorneys in behalf of persons whose constitutional rights are being violated. In addition to the three matters referred to above, memorandum briefs were filed in the Nashville, Tenn. school case on Feb. 3 and in the Memphis, Tenn. bus case on Feb. 11. The U. S. Supreme Court was petitioned on Feb. 12 to review the conviction of one white and two Negro college youths for violating the Tallahassee, Fla. bus segregation law.

Favorable Decisions

In addition, favorable and important decisions were rendered in seven cases during the month of February. They are: (1) the Arlington County, Va. school case, (2-4) the three cases attacking Louisiana's new law requiring certificates of good moral character from the high school principal of any Negro seeking admission to a white college in the state in the face of another statute which makes it grounds for discharge for a principal to do anything to bring about integration in Louisiana, (5) the New Orleans, La. school case, (6) the New Orleans public golf course case, and (7) the New Orleans bus segregation case.

In each of these cases, federal appellate courts affirmed lower court rulings in favor of Negro plaintiffs.

Committee Members Vote Investigations of KKK, White Citizens Council

Miami.—Following refusal of NAACP officials in Florida to disclose the names of Association members, the Florida State Legislative Committee today suspended further investigation of the NAACP pending outcome of contempt proceedings against four NAACP leaders who, on constitutional grounds, refused to turn over membership lists to the committee.

KKK, WCC Too

Prior to announcing suspension of the hearings, Rep. Cliff Herrell, Committee member, who the day previous verbally attacked NAACP witnesses, disavowed bias against the Association and stated that the Committee should also investigate the White Citizens Council, the Klu Klux Klan and others who advocate violence in the settlement of racial issues. The committee voted to extend the investigation to these groups.

Cite 4 for Contempt

Cited for contempt by the committee for refusal to disclose names of NAACP members were Mrs. Ruth Perry, secretary of the Miami branch and of the state organization; Rev. Mrs. Davis wishes to contact any one who might have known any of the Clarke family so the compilation of notes gleaned for use in future programs at the church, might be complete. If any of our readers have any such information please write particulars to 705 Breese.

Guacamole Delivers Magic Life To Any Party Table

"Guacamole" is a magic word in Mexico that signals a real taste treat.

An avocado mixture that is at once a sauce, a dressing, a salad and a unique "dip" to be served at your next party, guacamole goes far back in Mexican history. There are records that Cortez ate his avocado base the first time he was feted as a guest of Mexico in 1519.

Today Guacamole plays just as big a part in the Mexican diet, and is rapidly being discovered by American homemakers who are looking for something new and exciting to serve when entertaining.

In Mexico, Guacamole is prepared in a number of different ways, but invariably at Mexican cocktail parties it is served with corn chips as a "dip."

Guacamole dip with corn chips is wonderful for parties, an excellent adjunct to meals, and fits perfectly on the table in front of the TV set.

GUACAMOLE DIP

2 medium onions, peeled
2 small tomatoes, peeled
1 small hot pepper
1 clove garlic, crushed
2 teaspoons salt
2 avocados
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Corn chips

Grind onion, tomatoes and pepper together using fine knife of grinder. Blend in garlic and salt. This mixture may be refrigerated several hours before serving. When ready to serve, pare avocados and remove seeds. Mash avocados and blend with lemon juice. Combine tomato mixture with avocado mixture and serve as a dip with corn chips. Yield: 3 cups dip.

If a slightly more spicy dip is desired, add one teaspoon of hot sauce to the mixture.

On a tip from a dying victim, the police have centered on one area, but there is believed to be more than one illegitimate business in operation. The wave of panic began at a weekend party where six alone have died as a result. One apartment, when raided had three rooms, all of them used for distilling. It belonged to Roberta Garland 45, who told police she was on relief but distilled the whisky to make extra money. She sold 5 gallon containers for $45. each.

Arrested with Miss Garland was Henry Newbold, a 40 year old handyman who aided her in the distillery. Police poured most of the liquor down drains but on the analysis of what they took back to the police department, it was not poisonous. Therefore, the search continues.

Heavily Policed

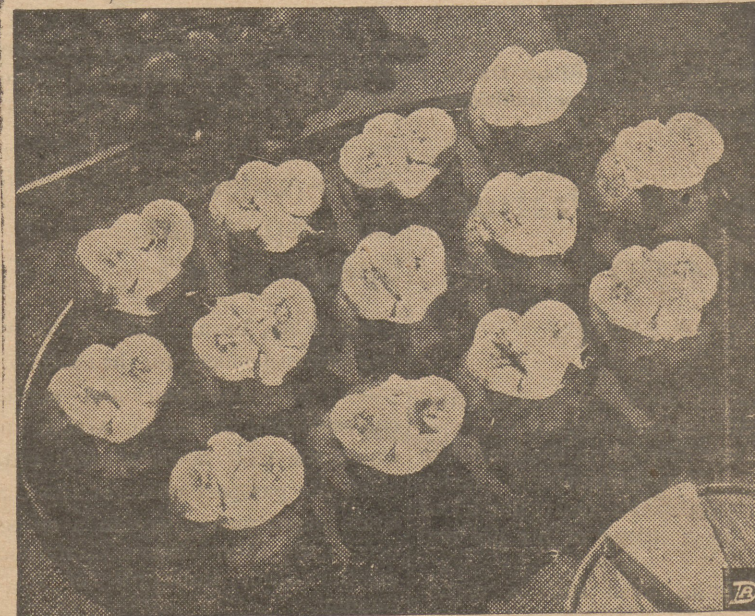

East Harlem, which houses mostly Puerto Ricans, has become heavily policed. Two Puerto Ricans were arrested for owning a hand-made distillery, one held in $10,000 bail. One Negro has been arrested in that lineup—Willett Clark, 61, who was found with home-made liquor in his home, hidden in a jug. He is being held in $250. bail on a charge of possession of illicit alcohol.

Banana Cup Cakes

Sliced bananas show off their good looks in these tempting banana cup cakes made with enriched flour for better food value.

Fruit variety is limited at this season so let's find different ways for using the "dependables" on the market. There are more ways than one to eat bananas. For proof, we offer these cup cakes with a real banana flavor, their fluffy frosting decked with two slices of the fruit. The cup cakes are made by the usual cake method, with the flour mixture added to the creamed mixture alternately with mashed bananas and milk. Measure ingredients carefully, sifting flour once before measuring. Preserve the golden yellow of the cut bananas in the topping by dipping them in lemon or other citrus juice.

Besides good eating, the cup cakes boast of good food value supplied by the enriched flour with its protein, iron, and B-vitamins. The recipe makes a sufficient quantity to serve at a casual afternoon tea, or for after-school snack and dinner dessert.

BANANA CUP CAKES

2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten

1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup mashed bananas
2 tablespoons milk
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, mixing well. Add orange rind, lemon rind and vanilla extract. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with bananas and milk. Fold in nuts. Fill greased three-inch muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Yield: About 14 three-inch cup cakes.

THE NAACP MOVES AHEAD

Admittedly, the NAACP is under terrific pressure by enemies of equality for Negroes in America but each blow simply makes those who back the association believe more firmly in their cause and fight harder to attain the goal.

Those who heard Gloucester Currlant, director of branches of the NAACP, speak in Des Moines Sunday took new courage for he told the debit as well as the credit side of the ledger as far as the fight for freedom is concerned. He said:

"That the association lost 48,000 members last year but raised more money than at any like period."

That many members who had been lost by devious methods engineered by white citizens councils were finding their way back on the membership rolls.

That the issue of equality (the South calls it all integration) has been drawn clearly between those who believe and those who disbelieve in it.

That many of the so-called white liberals, who heretofore had been counted upon by the association, had run for cover. (Senator Morse of Oregon is a splendid example—our quote).

That the NAACP had stuck to law and order and thus greatly disarmed those who oppose its program.

That "No Negro rates who does not belong to the NAACP." The By-stander goes further and says "no Negro is worth his salt who refuses to join the NAACP."

It is well to emphasize that the victories which the NAACP has won cost money, and much of it, all of which comes from voluntary donations by friends of the organization, while the white citizens councils are financed, in part, by tax money some of which Negroes are forced to pay involuntarily.

That those people who cautioned that the time is not ripe or that integration was being pushed to fast, fell in the class of the weak kneed—a precaution which has been heard for fifty years.

The By-stander has supported the NAACP over the years believing it was and is doing a job of implementing the constitution of the United States—a task which the government itself should be doing.

GOOD PROGRESS IN HUMAN RIGHTS

In the struggle for equality of citizenship, which at times calls for criticism of those who attempt to block the way, it often happens that friends who make contributions to progress are overlooked.

Here in Des Moines, much progress has been made in comparison to what the situation was twenty years ago. New avenues are still being opened. The By-stander has not hesitated to criticize the unfair; it makes every effort to praise the fair.

Two new incidents worthy of note have made history this week: for the first time a Negro has been hired as a cab driver. (Ruan Cab Company has broken the ice).

Two lawyers, one Negro and one white, former classmates at Drake University, formed a partnership for the practice of law. Lawyers and doctors have not had the courage to take in young Negro practitioners. Most agree it is a decent thing to do.

These are splendid examples of closer cooperation among the races and indicate bold action by those who dare make the first step.

Progress is being made in interracial employment in many of the large industries in Des Moines while some others are still dragging their feet. But with continued prodding by public and private agencies working in the field of human betterment, good results are bound to follow.

THIS CONDUCT MUST BE STOPPED

A hotel keeper in Iowa can bar Negro guests for fear he will lose white business, can continue such a policy only if those discriminated against fail to stand up for their rights.

Certainly, it is ridiculous that one who is the president of the Waterloo NAACP and officer in the United Packing House Workers who was rebuffed in Council Bluffs, will not so abdicate her dignity as to allow such a thing to go unchallenged.

Quote of The Week

"Don't use any name that might be derogatory; Say Negro, long 'e' and long 'o'. That's better than 'your people' because then you make separation right away."

The above is an excerpt taken from answers given by Emmett Dickson, executive secretary of the National Christian Missionary Convention of Disciples of Christ, Indianapolis, Ind., to questions asked here Tuesday on criteria for integration in churches.

Predicts Possible 1st All-Negro All-America Basketball Team

New York.—The possibility of the first all-Negro All-America basketball team is suggested by Life Magazine this week. According to an article in the March 10 issue, there are five Negro college players "whose talents are too great and too conspicuous to be by-passed."

In choosing this year's teams, Life says, "the selectors automatically start out with Oscar Robertson"

BOOZER

RODGERS

Robertson" of the University of Cincinnati. "Most coaches say the 19-year-old sophomore is worth two or three ordinary players—it takes that many to guard him and even then he gets loose to score."

Oscar Robertson is called "not the only sure-fire choice for All-America honors. On the basis of performance over the past season it is possible—and many coaches think it very probable that this year will see a unique All-America: Every person on it would be a Negro."

The other players, as shown in action in Life:

Others

Bob Boozer, Kansas State. Playmaker of the country's number one team.

Elgin Baylor, Seattle University, currently locked in a battle with Robertson for national scoring honors. Wilt Chamberlain, Kansas University, All-American last year. Life calls him "even more effective this season with a weaker team."

Guy Rodgers, Temple University. The only scorer in the group, whose speed, agility and ingenious ball-handling make up for his lack of height. He's only six feet.

N. C. High School Basketball Tourney Moves to A & T College

Greensboro, N. C.—The annual North Carolina High School Basketball Tournament will be held at A&T College, here, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 13, 14 and 15. Sixteen-teams, winners in double-A and triple-A eliminations in eastern and western divisions will compete for State championships. The event is sponsored by the North Carolina Negro High School Athletic Association.

The tourney, previously held in Durham, was transferred to A&T College this year by vote of the Association last fall.

Spriggs Bowls 662 Series—Week's Best

Lacy Spriggs, a general science teacher at a Junior High School here and, of course, one of Des Moines' better bowlers, delivered the best series of the week last Monday when he rolled a commanding 662 at McCasky's East Side Lanes.

On Tuesday of last week Spriggs would have had a 700 series "if" he had not rolled splits in the fifth and sixth frame of his 182 opening game and if he had not had just plain rotten luck in his 215 third game.

His second game was just fine. He opened with four strikes and had another string of five. The third game gave him his trouble. He hit the vulnerable 1-3 pocket in three straight deliveries but each time the stubborn No. 10 pin refused to go down.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Be An Escapist

Do you pride yourself on your ability to take it? To suffer in silence? To hold your temper under all circumstances?

These are generally considered great American virtues, inherited from our stern and rock-bound Puritan ancestors. However, if you go too far with them, you may be building up big trouble for yourself.

Escape Awhile

Forcing yourself to "take it on the chin" is no way to solve a painful problem. Actually it's a form of self-punishment. Sometimes it's better to be an escapist for awhile. Note "for awhile". Lose yourself in a movie or a book or a game, or a brief trip for a change of scene. The you can come back to your problem and deal with it in better condition emotionally and intellectually.

Physical Activity

If you're boiling internally with anger, physical activity is a good escape and relief for tension. Pitch into something strenuous like gardening or tennis or window washing or wood chopping. Work the anger out of your system, and you'll be better prepared to handle your problem intelligently.

Confide Problems

Frequently it helps to confide your problem to some level-headed person you can trust: husband or wife, father or mother, clergyman, family doctor, or teacher. Talking things out helps relieve strain and often helps you see your troubles in a clearer light. You might even get help toward a solution. There's no virtue in shutting yourself off from help that's available.

Everybody has problems. Everybody gets anxious and tense occasionally. This is normal. The time to worry is when emotional upsets are frequent and severe and don't wear off. A little common-sense escapism can help maintain good mental health.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by: Polk County Tuberculosis & Health Assn.

Harrison Pollard On 1st. Conference Team

Valley High's Harrison Pollard was selected on the all South-Central Conference basketball team chosen by conference coaches.

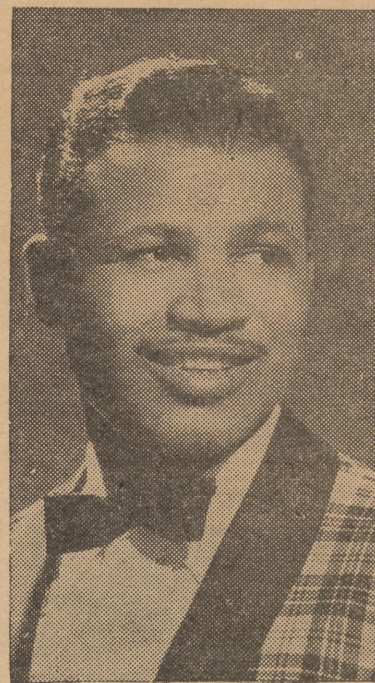

Named to the first team were: Pollard of Valley, Keith Eubanks, Chariton; Don Steffenson, Indianola; Larry Bankus, Knoxville; and Jim Van Werden, Winterset.

Pollard is tied for fifth in scoring in the conference with Steffenson of Indianola with 159 points and a 11.3 game average.

Pollard is also noted for his defensive play.

Sugar Ray "Cools It" At Training Camp

Greenwood Lake, N. Y.—If Sugar Ray can be as cool and methodical in his coming bout with middleweight champion Carmen Basilio

SUGAR RAY

Mar. 25 at Chicago as he was last week then he's again champion. The former champ had a cool workout here last week.

When a blizzard cut off the cabin where he trains from his living quarters, Ray got out and did a lot of snow shoveling to help clear a path to the highway, 30 feet away. Then, the job done, he went to the gym, donned boxing togs and boxed four rounds with sparmates.

A YOUTH PRESERVER

It's magnificent to grow old, if one keeps young. That's a good thought and comes from your Des Moines Polk County Department of Health. Keeping young may mean having a youth preserver or hobby. You may not like golf, but you don't have to like the other fellow's hobby. Just like your own.
