Two Negro Soldiers Beaten by Whites In Ark. Barracks

(Special to the Iowa Bystander)

Ft. Chaffee, Ark., March 15—Two Negro soldiers were beaten by a group of whites in an army barracks at Ft. Chaffee, Arkansas. The commanding officer has reprimanded the two Negro youths, Pvt. Vernon Lewis and Sp. 3 Lester Minor.

An assault and battery charge for court-martial has been issued against both Lewis and Minor. No action has been taken against the white soldiers.

Lewis has requested that the NAACP look into the matter. Pvt. Lewis claims that he and Minor are being denied justice because of color prejudice practiced by the Ft. Chaffee of Des Moines Tribune.

'Troops Ordered to Look The Other Way in Student Abuses at Little Rock'

New York.—Information that soldiers assigned to Central High School in Little Rock "are said to be operating under orders to do nothing in case of a disturbance except to observe it," is characterized as "astounding" by Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, in a letter to Wilber M. Brucker, Secretary of the Army.

In his letter, dated March 14, and released today, Mr. Wilkins recounted the continuing harassments to which Negro students attending Central High School have been subjected "by a small core of resisters among the white students," and expressed the opinion "that the duty of the troops extends to the halting of overt acts which have the effect of vitiating" the orders of a federal district court to desegregate the school "in compliance with the United States Supreme Court decisions of May 17, 1954 and May 31, 1955."

30 White Students

The NAACP leader cited a report from Little Rock indicating "that from Oct. 2, 1957 through Feb. 6, 1958, 42 incidents occurred in which 30 white students (out of an enrollment of about 2,000) were the aggressors. Allowing for the Christmas recess," he pointed out, "this means that in a span of 80 school days, 42 incidents took place."

"Do Nothing"

The reported "do-nothing" order, Mr. Wilkins told Secretary Brucker, "may explain the repeated shovings, beatings, kicking, and tripping of the Negro students. Also the disturbances of their lockers, knocking books out of their hands, throwing ink, spitting and dumping food upon them. The failure of the soldiers who must have observed many of these happenings to act upon them or even to report them, with names, to the school authorities undoubtedly contributed to the shameful expulsion of Minnijean Brown on Feb. 17."

Protection

The federal court order, Mr. Wilkins asserted, "contemplated not merely the bare admission of Negro students, physically, to the premises of Central High School, but also the protection of their declared right to an education without segregation as to race."

ABIDING THROUGH ETERNITY

Threescore years have flitted by While I have fumbled every try: To make a score in any game Or gather in a bit of fame. To parlay for a little pelf And make things softer for myself. While life . . . to some, is just a lark I've found it rough, tough, and dark. I'm thankful for the Saviours' light That fills my heart with hope so bright. And leads me to each needy one.. To testify . . . "Life, has just begun" That living in Lord Jesus will Gives each the power to fulfill: The pages writ in prophecy . . . Abiding through eternity! . . . —Glenn A. Gallagher.

Newsman Worthy Jr., Threatens Court Suit in Passport Renewal

New York, N. Y.—Newsman William Worthy, Jr., indicated today that unless the State Department made a prompt and final decision on his application for renewal of his passport he would be forced to seek court relief.

The Baltimore Afro-American reporter charged that "inordinate delay" in deciding his case had prevented him from pursuing his "normal occupation as a foreign correspondent." Worthy visited Communist China in 1956 despite a State Department ban and renewal of his passport has been turned down at various administrative levels since March, 1957. The case is still before the State Department's Board of Passport Appeals, the final administrative hurdle before the issue can be tested in the courts.

Coach Don Graves

A large crowd filled the Westminster Presbyterian Church to hear Don Graves, coach and teacher at Randall High School, when he appeared here Sunday, Mar. 16. Graves related his educational background at Des Moines Tech High, at Drake and Iowa State.

His youth, sense of humor and fair play won him over of his audience both during his talk and the question and answer period.

Graves stressed that if a person has the qualifications and can do the job, color should not be the difference. He was questioned about the reactions of his students in American Democracy class. He answered that the class has not begun, but is now teaching "Child Delinquency."

On his particular housing situation, Graves said it "seems to him for so small a town, that he has seemingly made more friends than he had in the large city, he came from."

Others on the program were the Boys' Octet of Senior High School; Mrs. Al Peters, who whistled a solo; and the Rev. Arthur Mortensen, pastor of Westminster who gave the invocation and benediction.

The Fort Dodge Interracial Commission presented the young coach.

Says Negro Artists Are Making Notable Contribution to Art

Chicago.—Negro artists are making notable contributions to American art and are gaining acceptance as artists rather than as "racial artists", according to a detailed study in the April issue of EBONY.

The three, full-color pages in EBONY mark the first time that a group of Negro artists have had their work presented in full color in a magazine.

The present generation of younger American artists contains more Negro painters of real talent than ever before. The pictures appearing in EBONY illustrate the diversity, the maturity, and self-expression of the painters.

The Negro's great artistic advance, technically as well as creatively, says EBONY, has been remarkable. A significant fact is that out of ten prize winners in the 1957 Emily Lowe competition (one of the nation's toughest), three were Negroes.

MAJORITY APPROVE UNCF COLLEGES, SURVEY SHOWS

New York—A poll of leading Negro citizens in a midwest city shows them to be overwhelmingly in favor of the United Negro College Fund and its member institutions. The results of the survey were announced today by William J. Trent, Jr., College Fund director. Eighty per cent of those polled favored the Negro colleges, and urged greater financial support of UNCF campaigns, Mr. Trent said.

Needed in South

The majority indicated their approval because the colleges are needed in the South, not only for social and economical reasons, but to help insure successful integration. Also, because of the mounting rush of applicants to all educational institutions, the Negro colleges, as accredited schools with high academic standing, will be able to serve all qualified students.

NAACP Worker Attacked On Bus in Mississippi for Sitting in Front Seat

Jackson, Miss.—Because he refused to move from a seat in the front of an inter-city bus as directed by the driver, Medgar Evers, NAACP field secretary for Mississippi, was set upon by a taxi driver who apparently boarded the bus for the express purpose of attacking the NAACP representative.

The attack took place early on the morning of March 11 as the highway bus was pulling out of Meridian where Mr. Evers had gone en route to his home in Jackson. He was returning from Greensboro, N. C., where he had attended an NAACP southeast regional conference the previous week.

Driver

When he boarded the bus at Meridian, Mr. Evers reports, he took a seat in the front of the bus. G. V. Melton, the driver, ordered him to the rear. Upon his refusal, the driver consulted with the ticket agent and with police who were in the bus terminal. Although informed he was not under arrest, police officers insisted upon taking him into the station across the street for a talk. There he was questioned about his identity and his purpose in refusing to be Jim Crowed and warned that he was imperiling "good race relations in Meridian."

Taxi Driver

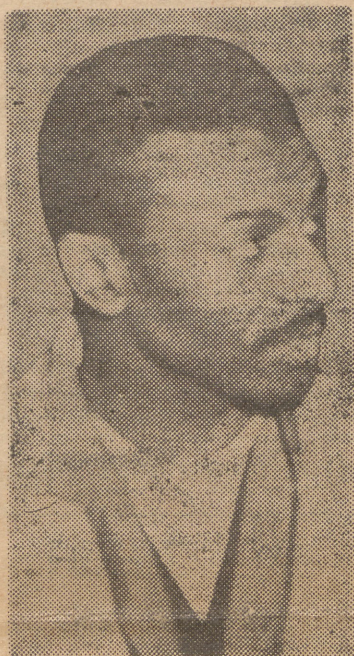

Permitted to return to the bus, Mr. Evers again took a front seat, whereupon the driver, already 45 minutes late, drove off. A few blocks from the station the bus was overtaken by a taxi from which the driver emerged and demanded entry into the bus. The taxi driver immediately launched a verbal attack upon the NAACP representative and followed it with a bruising physical attack. The bus driver ordered the assailant off the bus after which the bus proceeded to Jackson with Mr. Evers still seated in front.

No Intervention

None of the other passengers, all white save an elderly woman, intervened one way or the other, Evers reports. Only one passenger, a man from Arkansas, gave his name and address to Mr. Evers as a witness.

Clark Admits Shooting; Awaits Hearing Mon.

An unemployed kitchen worker was charged with assault with intent to commit murder, and jailed in lieu of $15,000 bond pending hearing Monday, following his daylight shooting of a bartender who was on his way to "take an exam for letter carrier."

Following his arrest Friday 20 minutes after the shooting, Arthur (Speedy) Clark, 58, admitted to police that he had shot George E. Baker, 35 of 813 Crocker.

Clark admitted firing a .32 caliber revolver at Baker in the 300 block on Locust Street, shortly after Friday noon, because he "was afraid for his life." He said he had been living at Bethel Mission.

The victim, Baker was hospitalized at Broadlawn. One of the two bullets fired struck him in the jaw. Baker admitted knowing Clark but believes he was mistaken by Clark for another man.

No Time To Say: Lord, Have Mercy

Kansas City, Mo.—One of the seven men injured last week when an elevator dropped from the third floor to the basement of the Central Bag company, Joe Fowler, 2723 Norton Ave., said yesterday that his wounds are healing but the mental horror he suffered as the elevator plunged, still makes him flinch.

"I didn't have time to say, Lord have mercy." I remember them closing the gate and then it happened. I tried to say something but I couldn't; it happened so fast, like a wink of an eye and were all lying stunned by the fall.

Nine men were on the elevator, but only seven were hospitalized, four of whom were admitted at Memorial hospital.

Charges N.C. Firms, Unions In Cahoots Against Negroes

Washington.—The North Carolina plant of a huge industrial corporation and a local of an AFL-CIO union are charged with collusion to deny job equality to Negro workers in a complaint filed with the President's Committee on Government Contracts by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The complaint, filed by the Association's labor secretary, Herbert Hill, on March 6, alleges that the North Carolina works of the Western Electric Company, located at Greensboro, conspired with Local 3062 of the Communications Workers of America, AFL-CIO, to violate the seniority rights of Negro workers and to restrict such workers to menial job classifications. Mr. Hill filed the complaint on behalf of seven NAACP members in Greensboro.

Four other members of the Greensboro NAACP complained of discrimination by two other large employers in the city—Cone Mills, a textile company, and the Southern

To Poll Churches For Attitudes on Negro Neighbors

During a panel discussion on Des Moines housing problems last week, Ralph Norris, chairman of the Des Moines Area Committee on Interracial Fellowship, disclosed that a survey of 200 Des Moines area churches is planned to determine members' attitudes toward having Negroes as neighbors. The committee is affiliated with the Des Moines Area Council of Churches.

Att'y. Glanton
A second panelist, Luther T. Glanton, Jr., attorney, launched a verbal attack on the mode of segregated housing in Des Moines and other northern cities, saying, "the desegregated school in the north has been negated by the segregated housing."

Labeling the northern segregation pattern as the "maintenance of an inferior-superior social scale," Glanton charged that "a few real estate men were responsible for spreading tales that Negro neighbors decrease property values."

Frank Price
A third member of the panel, Frank Price, administrator of redevelopment and housing for the city, explained Des Moines' new urban renewal program for a 330-acre area on both sides of the Des Moines river north of the loop.

He said that about 1,400 families live in this area. Of this total 104 are Negro families.

The author of the new bill is Senator Paul Douglas (D. Ill.). It improves upon the old one in that it provides for federal aid in helping local communities to work out desegregation plans. It would provide technical assistance, financial grants and administrative procedures for moving ahead in complying with the Supreme Court decision.

Atty. General

By information, education, conciliation and persuasion it seeks to encourage and foster compliance with the Constitution. It would also give the Attorney General broader powers in moving into areas to protect individuals whose rights are threatened instead of waiting until they have signed complaints and initiated action.

Douglas said that had there been these provisions last year, the violence at Little Rock could have been avoided.

Youth Of The Week

This is the fourth in a series featuring youth, 13 to 21 years, in the community and in Iowa who are setting a good example in wholesome living and achievements in their homes, schools, churches, sports and civic activities.

This week the Bystander lifts its hand in salutation to Victor Lee Propes, 19, who is working hard so that he will be able to go to college next fall to start studies in journalism at the State University of Iowa.

This future newspaperman is so intent on realizing his educational goal that he had dropped most outside interests and sometimes works seven days a week. For nearly a year he has been employed at Johnnie and Kay restaurant out near the airport from 6 to 10 p.m. week days and 6 p.m. to 1 a.m. weekends.

Before that he worked as a machine processor at Look Magazine and briefly for a tire and rubber company right after his graduation from North in June 1957.

Letters in Track

At North he concentrated on math mostly, particularly algebra. In addition he found Spanish, English, and biology "interesting." In the sports field he won a letter for three years in track. He also was active in football and basketball.

Chancel Choir

Victor sang baritone with the Chancel Choir at St. Paul AME Church, where he is a member. He accompanied the choir to Cleveland, Ohio for a singing engagement in 1955. Mrs. Loretta Reeves was director of the choir.

Boy Scout

A former Boy Scout, Victor held

membership at Crocker "Y" and Willkie House; he served about four years on the Dance Concert committee at Willkie House and was president for the group one year.

Victor dropped these outside activities because of the demands of his job which leaves little time for anything else.

Jazz Enthusiast

However, he finds relaxation in his hobby, jazz collection of 60 records including 20 LPs. His favorites are Modern Jazz Quartet and Dave Brubeck.

He lives with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Propes, 1118 17th Street.

Personal Touch
By
MARIE
ROSS

Now that spring has arrived officially on the calendar—the thoughts of many persons turn to the subject of "Diets," "How to Stick with Them," "How to Lose Pounds," "How to Put on Weight."

There is a diet for everything—and all of them are supposed to add up to good health.

Got a glimpse the other week of Louis (Satch) Armstrong, the ambassador of jazz, who was one of the entertainers at Kansas City's Auto Show.

Though, in recent years, he had made six tours of Europe, three to Australia, and just recently completed a South American tour of 67 concerts in five countries, his main theme—when he gets to talking—is health—for without health—he couldn't make music.

While in the city, he gave out a simple formula for healthful living: "Keep your stomach clean, eat wholesome food and relax."

One of his favorites is an herb tea which he revealed some months ago in a national magazine after he lost many pounds of excessive weight. A laxative, it is called Swiss-Kriss, and was introduced by Gaylord Hauser. Of the tea, he said you can drink all you want, eat anything, and it keeps the stomach cleaned. He added that he wasn't "promoting" the tea—but was passing the word along because he thought it was great.

After having spent 44 years in show business, at 58 years, in three performances here at Municipal Auditorium, he played to 90,000 persons. His largest crowd ever to attend his concerts was on Africa's

SOCIAL PROBLEMS

Physicians and dentists frequently admonish us to visit them at the first sign of trouble. Early detection often means an easier—and less expensive—remedy, they say.

Gold Coast, when 100,000 heard him.

About Prunes

One of the insurance companies advertising daily on the air that prunes are alright—but not good as a diet for the body when only four of them—with no other food—are eaten daily to lose weight.

At this time of the year, many persons are victims of colds, flu and other ailments that leave the body weakened. Some of the victims around our office, who are trying to gain strength and put on some weight, have found some real benefits in drinking goat milk. It is hard to secure—unless you are one of the few who can find a goat—milk dairy, or who lives near those persons who are brave and patient enough to endure the raising of goats. Goat milk, also may be secured in powdered form or in cans from health food shops and from some chain drug or grocery stores.

Whether one is interested in losing weight or putting on pounds—spring is a good time of the year to check up or clean out—like the farmer does his lands, in preparation for the coming seasons.

A Local Plant

Had a chat the other day with Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Blanks, former Des Moines residents. The Rev. Mr. Blanks, who pastored the Kyles AME Zion Church at Fifteenth and Crocker Streets, has just completed the building of a church, St. Paul AME Zion in Kansas City, Kan.

While "King Louie" was singing praises of his Swiss-Kriss tea and diet, the Rev. Mr. Blanks said: "The best tea that I have taken—that did me the most good was recommended to me by Mother Alice Bell—and it was made from the burdock plant." Mrs. Bell and her husband, Jesse, were neighbors to the Blanks' when or others who see our child in a setting different from his home can be helpful, since they can enlarge our perspective of the child's life and behavior.

Effective Ways

It can help, too, to try to understand why the child behaves in a given way, to look at what he is trying to accomplish by his action. Sometimes we can help the child discover more effective ways of accomplishing his needs, and sometimes we can even help modify his needs. And we can recognize that some behaviors need not be a cause of worry.

New York, (CNS)—"Climax," the TV show, brings actor James Edwards back to the screen in their drama, "Volcano" to be shown soon . . . The current series on "Harlem," feature of a liberal daily received much criticism from Harlem residents as being branded as dope peddlers, number players, etc. . . Planned as a feature to "educate" New Yorkers to this community, their articles, based on out-dated facts were much too critical—reopening old wounds and hitting some spots which has caused them to lose, instead of gain, circulation. . .

Diahann Carroll

Diahann Carroll, whose pert figure fits well into a chemise, heads for Rio de Janeiro to work the Copacabana Palace beginning May 17th—and she's quite thrilled over the reception promised her . . . Lillian Randolph, better known as "Birdie" of Great Gildersleeve radio and TV programs—and also as Madame Queen of "Amos N' Andy", has excited all with the news that she'll return to the stage as a blues singer—which she was originally before acting caught her fancy. . .

Nat King Cole

That Nat King Cole never ceases to amaze—and now since he's legitimately the best dressed in TV, he goes on to new fields: invading the music publishing biz. . . In partnership with Jack Gale, Nat has formed three companies: Comet, Sweco and Tr-Park . . . and tops on their publishing list is a tune by W. C. Handy called "Morningstar". Incidentally, Handy has been head of his own publishing firm for many, many years . . . Nat is the star of Handy's life story, "St. Louis Blues" which opens Eastertime in New York. . .

Sam Cooke's

Sam Cooke's debut at the Copacabana fell short, we're sorry to say—and though we were pulling for him all the way we hated to see him not to go over . . . for he's a good kid: talented and shy and with ambition to get ahead without tricks and stepping on others. . . But the critics felt it too: his performance at the Copa was lacking . . . he does his two hits extremely well but with the old classics, he falls short . . .

NEGRO NEWSPAPERS
EARN THEIR SUPPORT

March 16-22, Negro Newspaper Week is being observed, particularly in communities where they are published and in large areas of population.

Their history dates back 131 years with a meager beginning followed by a difficult existence until about the time of World War I. That difficulty arose over the lack of capital and knowledge of operation and the miserable advertising support secured from business.

Buyers of advertising space had little knowledge of the Negro Market; Negro business either did not appreciate or did not consider it a necessary business expense.

With the concentration of large numbers of Negroes in some areas, nearby business concerns decided that advertising in local papers obtained better results than in metropolitan dailies at less cost.

And as the circulation of these papers grew and advertisers found that there is such a thing as the Negro market, they bought more and more space. And thus the papers grew and grew.

During these 131 years Negro Newspapers have given wholehearted support to the fight for equality for minority groups. Unlimited space has been given publicizing the better side of life, lashing out at those who would block progress, praising those who aided it.

Like many efforts, Negro Newspapers have not and are not always appreciated even by those for whose special benefit they are operated. Not only have they been a great force in the uphill climb of the Negro but they have provided work and training for many young people. More and more, daily papers are becoming liberal about printing news of particular interest to Negroes; they are doing a better job of integrating their staffs, which only points to the day when class papers will disappear.

But as long as there remains a job to do—that democracy prevails in every respect—Negro newspapers will continue to fill an important niche in America.

POOR LAW ENFORCEMENT
ENCOURAGES THIS

It is no mere coincidence that Jewish structures in Florida and Tennessee were bombed last Sunday. Little publicity has been given since the early news flashes which of course makes it clear that very definite steps were taken to play it down.

Many people have deplored the bombing of Negro houses and churches over the years but little has been done about them. So those same perpetrators are bombing Jews now. And it looks pretty bad even in Germany where Jews were treated unmercifully by Hitler and in Russia where fingers of scorn are being poked at America for its hypocrisy.

Undoubtedly lawlessness is on the increase partly because those in authority have allowed offenders to go unpunished; partly because some offenders feel themselves above the law and get away with it.

NEGROES WON'T

the commission itself. He remarked that the Civil Rights Commission were being considered for confirmation in the Senate, Senator Tamm of Georgia spoke for the opposition both as to the persons and the commission itself. He remarked that creating a commission was a mistake; that integration was a mistake because both caused a division among the American people at a time when unity was needed.

It is true that American people need all the solidarity they can get but no race of people is in a frame of mind to forego its rights in order to maintain a solid front, when next door neighbors are not called upon to do likewise.

The Senator, like a lot of his backward colleagues, dies hard but they die just the same. And it is a pleasure that his views on this question prevail less and less.

Sugar Ray . . .
Will He Lose Second
Time to Basilio?

Chicago—The big contest is Tuesday, Mar. 25 featuring versatile, strong and aging former middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson versus tough, rugged and determined middleweight champion Carmen Basilio.

The big question echoing around is will Sugar lose the second time to Basilio? It would seem that the answer is in Sugar Ray's favor because, for one thing, no fighter has beat him twice. Then again the Harlem kid deems Chicago his lucky town. His fans there are many and he won the middleweight crown in the windy city.

But champion Basilio says that he can take Robinson again and so we shall see.

Marciano Says 'No' to $1,250,000 Offer to Fight Floyd Patterson

Chicago.—It became apparent here last week that neither nostalgic love for fighting or money ($1,250,000) could lure retired heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano back into the ring.

Marciano has flatly rejected a $1,250,000 offer by veteran promoter Jack Kearns to return to the ring and fight heavyweight title holder, Floyd Patterson.

Grateful

Marciano said he was "flattered and grateful" but: "I have retired, period. I have no desire to return to boxing."

The proposed bout prompted thoughts of a possible six-million-dollar total gate.

Kearns, one-time manager of Jack Dempsey, who helped make the first million-dollar gate a reality, saw theater or paid television as the biggest factors in establishing a record financial figure for a fight between the undefeated Marciano and champion Patterson.

Kearns said: "That's why I had the consent of my backers—a group of wealthy American and Canadian industrialists—when I offered Rocky $1,250,000 as a guarantee."

Champ Althea Beaten
in Colombia in 3 Sets

Barranquilla, Colombia.—Tennis queen Althea Gibson Friday suffered the first setback since she won the Wimbledon and United States championships when she was defeated 4-6, by Janet Hopps of Seattle in the semi-finals of the Barranquilla tennis tournament.

Miss Gibson appeared off form as she lost to Miss Hopps, whom she has defeated several times in the past.

The loss eliminated Miss Gibson from the tournament. Miss Hopps was to meet Maria Bueno of Brazil in the finals of the tournament.

2nd Dixie School
Destroyed by Fire

Houston, Miss.—The second Negro school to go up in flames within eight days was the Houston Negro High School, destroyed by fire early last week just before students entered classes.

Actually, it's the fourth school fire to occur within the state during the same period. The first school was McEvans High School for Negroes at Shaw on Feb. 17. Then two white schools, the J. C. George High School, Carrollton and the Vandaman High School, went up in smoke. Officials of the state fire marshal's office are investigating possible incendiary motives. Houston school was described as

HEALTH FOR ALL

If Your Child Stutters . . .

If your child stutters, don't count on his growing out of it. Especially if he's over six years of age, face the fact that he'll need professional help in getting over it.

When a child first leaves the protection of home and enters the big world of school he usually gets less sympathetic understanding. In his struggles to keep up with the group, the stuttering problem may well get worse.

4 to 1 Ratio

Present psychological research seems to indicate that stuttering in children is not the result of "nervousness". Rather the nervous mannerisms of the stuttering child are his reactions to the trouble he has speaking. Oddly enough, more boys than girls stutter; the ratio is four to one. If a child has not started to stutter before adolescence, he probably never will.

Treatment

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

We were going over the list of Negroes in the various track meets around the country and the big one here, the state A.A.U. meet. We discussed the doings of Deacon Jones of Iowa who has yet to lose a college two-mile race. Naturally, of course, this brought on others until we had all carried quite a list of names.

Then someone mentioned wrestling and the Negroes doing all right in it. We can remember when just about any white man would ask, "Why don't Negroes wrestle?"

The popular belief was that they had bad feet and couldn't stand foot holds. But, then we know that the feet of Negroes as a group were no worse than of white people.

College

We aren't sure just who did break the ice in college wrestling. It seems that Iowa State had a Negro middleweight named Browning in the early Twenties. He was anxious to show his wares in Des Moines wrestling to meet a suitable opponent. Well the deal never came off and to this day we don't really know if Browning could really wrestle or not. But there is no doubt about the ability of Iowa U's Simon Roberts, Big Ten and national amateur 147-pound champ, and Eddie Watkins of Iowa State.

Tennis

Negroes made the Big Ten grade in tennis probably before they did in any other minor sport. A couple of them are team captains. Richard Hudlin of Chicago and Doug Turner of Illinois, before Negroes were considered for anything in school.

The University of Chicago with its de-emphasized program opened the way for Negroes in other sports, including basketball. Their teams were so poor that the Maroons had to use anybody they could so Negroes naturally got to play.

Local Bans

In local high schools we aren't sure just how the bans were broken down. One story credits Francis Czetzmeier, then coaching at North High with giving Negroes a berth on his swimming teams and then threatening to pull the entire team when other schools refused to compete against the Negroes. Seems as if a boy named Richard Wright was the first.

being "a total loss." It has been estimated that between $100,000 and $150,000 will be needed to replace the structure. Built in 1928, the edifice was only partly covered by insurance.

Little enough is known about the reasons why children stutter. And there's no single method of treatment that can be prescribed in all cases. A speech pathologist should prescribe for the child. Sometimes speech therapy alone is sufficient; sometimes psychotherapy is also needed.

"Learning to Talk"

Many small children will stutter a little during the "learning to talk" period, when their speech apparatus just can't keep up with the ideas they want to express. It's important at this period not to hurry the child. Don't urge him to "get it out." Don't imitate or make fun of him in any way. If stuttering persists and seems to become a real problem, don't delay in getting help. Your family doctor or the school can advise you.

Broken Hand Keeps
Johnson from Chicago
Golden Gloves Meet

It has recently come to light just how game a fighter Fred Johnson of Waterloo really is. He fought the entire tournament with a broken right hand.

Johnson, who defeated Eugene Brown of Des Moines for the Central Iowa Golden Gloves middleweight championship last month at KRNT theater was forced to stay home from the Chicago Tournament of Champions because of his broken hand, which he incurred in the first fight with Burt Bailey in the first round of the tournament. Heretofore it was only known that Johnson "hurt" his hand.

Doctor Examines

After the fight, which Johnson won by decision, the boxer's hand was examined by a physician which maintained that it was only swollen, so he could continue on in the finals.

Manager

Johnson was admonished by his manager, Charles Pearson, to quit but the game fighter promised to fight only with his left hand and was allowed to continue. Johnson eliminated Bennett in the semi-finals with a left hook to the head which qualified him to meet Brown in the finals.

Decision

Johnson knocked Brown to the canvas with a left hand in the first round of their match and went on to win by decision.

North

Jay Neal of North was one of the first if not the first local high school mat man and Stanley Procter was the first Negro to play in local high school tennis competition. So now we can look back over the track and watch the kids come along it and hope they do better than we did.

Cedar Rapids

We had a brief talk about tennis in Cedar Rapids the other day and learned that there were a couple of Negro kids there who were about ready to walk into the better tennis circles. The guy told us to come back later and look them over.

Oh, yes, our poker playing friends and relatives were in session and they generously supplied our trip expenses. Thanks fellas.

Campy Still Maintains
He'll Walk, Play Again

Glen Cove, N. Y.—Despite his lingering paralysis, Roy Campanella, injured Los Angeles catcher, last week was reported full of confidence that he will walk and even play baseball again.

A Dodger official, Matt Burns, who visited Campy at Glen Cove Community hospital, reported that Roy was "the most cheerful fellow you ever saw. He listens to the radio and watches television and he has heard of these reports. He refuses to agree at all that he won't walk again and even believes he may play ball again," Burns said.

Meanwhile, the hospital has not issued a report on the catcher's condition since its bulletin more than a fortnight ago, reporting no change. Campanella is paralyzed from his chest down. He suffered a broken neck in an automobile accident January 28.

Follow in Footsteps of Floyd Patterson

New York City.—(CNS)—If shyness, and being soft-spoken and hard-hitting is anything to go by, then Jose Torres, serious Puerto Rican middleweight, will follow in the footsteps of Floyd Patterson, another boxer who fought as an Inter-City middleweight when the annual Golden Gloves bout comes up Mar. 24 at the Garden here.

Torres, 21, has a good army record in the ring and made good as a member of the U.S. Olympic team. Discharged in '57, he was one of the first entrants in the '58 Golden

Aside from winning the championship, Johnson was also awarded the outstanding open boxer trophy.

Will etch the toil and care:
When the brow remains unfurrowed
God's hands is resting there!
If heart stays young and hope is high
God's light keeps all aglow.
We know; that far beyond this sky
Some day our souls will go.
Body is scarred, and frame is worn

As the leaves of life unfold.
By heavens' grace we ARE reborn
And the soul will not grow old.
We testify, for Him on high
And hope we are understood:
For His Word has said to us
"That we; shall work for brotherhood."

Building a Greater Iowa

America's Top Pork Producer

Hats off to Iowa's farmers! Thanks to them, our hog production is now nearly one-fourth of that for the entire United States. This means more wealth for farmers, more jobs for workers, more income for all of us.

Similarly, our brewing industry, too, is pouring still greater and greater prosperity into Iowa. With over $30,000,000.00 a year in Iowa payrolls; $27,500,000.00 in business costs, and $25,300,000.00 in taxes, it adds over 80 millions a year to our wealth. Yet these are only three of the many ways in which beer—the light, bright beverage of moderation—adds to the advancement of our state. Truly, it can be said . . .
