4 Local Residents Killed in Auto Accidents

Victims Die Wit' in 24 Hour Period

A car-truck accident near Wentzville, Mo. was fatal to a Des Moines minister and his wife and later claimed the life of a third local resident, early Thursday morning.

They were the Rev. J. C. Thompson, 36, pastor of the Holy Temple Church of God in Christ at 1104-9th street and his wife, Mary Noel Thompson, 37.

Mrs. Anderson

A third victim, Mrs. Belle Anderson of 1715 was injured in the accident, taken to nearby Lincoln County Memorial hospital, Troy, Mo., where she died Thursday night.

The three were enroute to a church convention in St. Louis when the car in which they were riding collided with a tractor-trailer five miles north of Wentzville.

Less Than Year

The Rev. Mr. Thompsons had resided in Des Moines a little less than a year. They came here from Sioux City, Ia., where he had held a pastorate. The Rev. Mr. Thompson was also employed as a section laborer for the Rock Island road here.

He and his wife are survived by a daughter, Joan, who is attending school in Tennessee. According to acquaintances, the body of the Rev. Thompson was shipped to Blatzville, Tenn., his birthplace and his wife's body was taken to Memphis, Tenn., her native hometown.

SERVICES HELD WED. FOR MRS. ANDERSON

Funeral services were held for the third Missouri crash victim, Mrs. Belle Anderson of 1715 Walker street, at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Church of God in Christ No. 1, East 17th and University, where she was a member with the Rev. A. C. Carroll officiating. Burial was in Glendale cemetery.

Mrs. Anderson was born at Upshu, Tex., and had lived in Des Moines 20 years. She ANDERSON was Sunday school superintendent of her church, state Sunday school representative to the national organization of the Church of God in Christ, and a member of the woman's state executive board.

She also was president of the Young Peoples' Willing Workers Club and an evangelist missionary for her denomination.

Anti-Communist Record of NAACP Cited by FBI Chief

New York.—Successful efforts of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in turning back Communist party efforts to infiltrate the organization are recounted in J. Edgar Hoover's recently published book, "Masters of Deceit."

The director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation summarizes NAACP counteractions against the Communists from the days of the Scottsboro case in 1931 through the Prayer Pilgrimage held on May 17, last year, in celebration of the United States Supreme Court ruling against racial segregation in public education.

Higgins Lists Ways NAACP Can Promote Equal Job Rights

Speaking before the NAACP meeting held at Willkie House Tuesday evening, Malcolm Higgins, executive secretary of the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights and Job Discrimination, pointed out some specific ways in which the organization can help promote equal rights in employment.

He suggested that the association invite employers and personnel directors to speak on employment needs and how qualified Negroes should apply for work, and urge young people to "develop their highest skills, healthy attitudes toward their fellow men, and the desire to excel in their jobs and studies."

"Know who your allies are," Higgins told the group. "Find out what organizations in the community will back you up when you attempt any promotion."

He pointed out "parents are inclined to pass on a feeling of defeatism to their children because they remember rebuffs (Racial) that beset them in years gone by. But

Wilkins Requests Funds For Bombed Jewish Center

Memphis, Tenn.—The hope that Negro citizens of Tennessee "will rush to contribute to the building of the bombed Jewish center in Nashville" was expressed by Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, in an address prepared for delivery here tonight at a mass meeting of the Memphis branch of the Association.

Unrestrained violence against Negroes stems from defiance of law and order and leads inevitably to violence against others, Mr. Wilkins pointed out. Those who preach defiance of the Supreme Court "are

Jan. 10 has been used against Garland twice. The state tax commission charged Garland with failure to pay $8,515 in sales tax and penalties from 1953 through 1957. A "distress warrant" gives sheriffs authority to seize assets of the one owing delinquent taxes.

Pawnshop

The "distress warrant" was first used against Garland on Jan. 13 to take $227.76 from him upon arrest by Des Moines police on charges of operating a pawnshop without a license. Garland pleaded guilty and paid a $50 fine.

During Garland's arrest Monday the "distress warrant" was used a second time to take $244.35 from him. The tax commission had issued another "distress warrant" claiming Garland owes $250 in state income tax and penalties for 1952 through 1956.

Encouraged by freedom from prosecution for assaults upon Negroes, the bigots "have become so bold that they have threatened a federal judge in Nashville," Mr. Wilkins charged. "First these people denounce the law. Then they slander the nation's highest court. Then they defy the court. Now they threaten federal judges. The next logical step is to enter the courtroom, drag the judge from his bench and beat him up. At that point law will vanish for white people, just as, on so many occasions, it has vanished for Negroes."

Henry Hasbrook to Speak at Crocker 'Y'

Henry Hasbrook, former physical director of the Des Moines YMCA and a former city Safety Commissioner, will speak at the Crocker 'Y', Sunday, March 30, 3 p.m.

Mr. Hasbrook, now of Fort Dodge, Iowa, will discuss his experiences in working with youth. Many of his friends and former associates are expected to attend. The public is invited.

The Hoover work, subtitled: "The Story of Communism in America and How to Fight it," gives detailed examples of how the NAACP and Negro Americans generally have pushed the Communists.

2 Life Memberships Presented to NAACP

Two life memberships for $500 each were presented to the local chapter of the NAACP at its meeting Tuesday by Mrs. Georgine Morris, president of the Des Moines Chapter of Links, Inc.

The memberships were for the late Archie A. Alexander and his widow, Mrs. Audra A. Alexander, of 2200 Chautauqua Parkway.

Both were charter and active members of the Des Moines Branch, Mr. Alexander having served as its first vice president and later as president.

doors that were closed then are now opening up."

Higgins also spoke in detail on the two general areas—housing and employment—which are under the educational and administrative jurisdiction of the commission.

Prior to the speech, a board meeting was held at 7 p.m. The membership campaign of the local NAACP will get underway on April 15. Robert Wright, attorney, is membership drive chairman.

sowing the winds of disobedience and, unless they are checked by wiser men, they will reap the whirlwind of anarchy," he asserted.

"Already the nation has had a taste of what it can expect from the doctrine of hatred and defiance," the NAACP leader declared. "Just this week in Nashville and in Miami, Jewish centers were bombed."

Sick with Prejudice

"These were cowardly acts by sick but dangerous people. Already ill with prejudice against both Negroes and Jews, those who planted the bombs were made bold by groups of so-called respectable people which have urged publicly that the courts be defied. They were made bold, also, by the timid ones who know what is right, but who are afraid to speak out. When the higher-ups make their law-defying statements and pass their resolutions of resistance, the sick little haters below take these for a go-signal to use violence."

"I hope that the Negro citizens of Tennessee will rush to contribute to the rebuilding of the Jewish center in Nashville and thus express in a tangible way our horror and outrage over the dastardly act."

Judge Threatened

Encouraged by freedom from prosecution for assaults upon Negroes, the bigots "have become so bold that they have threatened a federal judge in Nashville," Mr. Wilkins charged. "First these people denounce the law. Then they slander the nation's highest court. Then they defy the court. Now they threaten federal judges. The next logical step is to enter the courtroom, drag the judge from his bench and beat him up. At that point law will vanish for white people, just as, on so many occasions, it has vanished for Negroes."

Allows 1st Civil Rights Case to Reach Courts Since Decision in 1954

Jackson, Miss.—Mississippi's first civil rights suit to reach the courts since the 1954 Supreme Court decision in the School Segregation Cases was filed here in the United States District Court on Friday, March 14. The action challenges amendments to the state constitution and laws which, in effect, deny Negroes the right to vote. It was filed by NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund attorneys in behalf of Rev. H. B. Darby and other Negro citizens of Jefferson Davis County.

Challenger

The action also challenges Mississippi's new anti-NAACP laws which prohibit the giving and receiving of financial aid and furnishing of legal services without charge in law suits. Violations of these statutes constitute a crime punishable by a prison term of one year.

Interpretation

Rev. Darby on two occasions tried to register in Jefferson Davis County in order to vote in Mississippi elections. On each occasion the registrar of voters required him to take a written examination. This examination included a requirement that the prospective voter give a "reasonable interpretation" of a provision of the Mississippi Constitution and demonstrate a "reasonable understanding" of the duties and obligations of citizenship.

This requirement was instituted following a 1955 amendment to the Mississippi Constitution and voting statutes which are designed to restrict Negro voting in the state.

Provision

Prior to these amendments the Mississippi Constitution and statutes required a prospective voter to be able to read or write any provision of the Mississippi Constitution or give a reasonable interpretation of it when read to him. The "reasonable understanding of citizenship" clause was not previously in the state constitution.

Wilhelm Kaiser II and postwar economic circumstances prodded him to enter the Des Moines police department — where he has served 25 years — longer than any other Negro.

"I am not bitter but I must be fair," Detective McGuire maintained. "My work with the Des Moines police department has not been pleasant until the past several years. Unpleasantness—based on prejudice—has been such a part of the Negro's job in the local police department."

of the police department," he continued.

Gentleman's Agreement

Under the city ordinance after five years policemen are eligible to take the promotion exam for "Gold Braiders", the policeman's term for sergeant.

Detective McGuire condemned the existing police department's "gentlemen's agreement" where the races are not mixed for assignments on patrol cruisers.

"Some still have the idea we are 'Negro police officers'," he said.

"We are just officers of the Des Moines Police department."

TV Versions

Detective McGuire who is on the 4 p.m. to 12 midnight shift, scoffed at the TV and novel versions of the plainclothes cop. "It's not that easy," he said. "Sometimes we dig and dig and are ready to file, then our case won't hold up or the accused fails to sign statement. Then we have to dig some more."

Into Private Homes

Much of the investigative work takes Detective McGuire and his partner, James Allen, into private homes of whites and Negroes. He readily admits that this practice began only in the last several years. Their reception in these homes lacks nothing in courteous and respectful

SPEAK NOT OF DEATH

Speak not of death as the final curtain
But as the glorious new birth,
Into a new life, free from all evil:
Far away from the sins of this earth.

Every seed that grew and ripened
All the creatures, beast and bird,
Man and all his works are counted:
We read this in the living word.
All are ready, and not fearful
When the reaper, death, comes by
Singing praises for our blessings:
When He takes us up on high.
We shall not be sad and weeping
When His harvest time draws night,
For we're all to be His children
In that peace beyond the sky . . .

Poor Whites Holding Up Negroes in La.

New Orleans.—Either the recession is getting mighty bad in New Orleans or the financial condition of the Negro is greatly improving. Poor whites are holding up and taking money away from Negroes.

Lionel Mutin, agent for the People's Life Insurance Co., was held up by two white thugs in broad daylight at 9 a.m., on busy St. Bernard Avenue, opposite a housing project occupied by 1,700 families and on a street crowded with early morning workers going to their jobs.

Mutin was in his shiny car when a shabby car blocked the street before him and the white men brandished guns and demanded money. He complied.

New Orleans is a much-segregated city and it is strictly against the law for whites to hold up Negroes.

Truck Driver is Hero in Fire Claiming 24 Lives; Many Negro Workers Injured and Dead

New York City (CNS)—A 35 year old truck driver, father of five, never gave thought to himself when he became a hero in the blazing fire of a five-story loft building which took 24 lives and injured 15 here this week. He blacked out after showing great courage and woke up in Bellevue Hospital with a fractured skull and other head injuries.

5-Alarm Fire

The five-alarm fire, one of the city's worst in recent times, was the result of an explosion which came so sudden, the workers of the garment factory, many of them Negroes, became frightened and panicked as heavy smoke spread and fire raged. Many jumped from windows to their deaths, others were overcome while at their machines.

Edward Wine

The truck driver, Edward Wine, was four doors away and perfectly safe. He was unloading his truck near the end of the working day when he suddenly saw smoke and fire shooting out of the third and fourth floor. Then he heard horrible screams.

Missed Net

"Four women jumped—one right after the other and landed in the net," he remembered. "The smoke got very thick. I was soaking wet from the fire hoses and I suddenly saw a fifth woman come to the ledge. She jumped. I saw her coming. She was going to miss the net. It was a terrible feeling. I let go of the net, thinking I could break her fall by trying to catch her. I can't remember what happened after that. I blacked out."

What happened was—the woman missed the net and landed on the truckerman, smashing him to the ground.

Substitute Teeth

Mother found it hard to answer when her daughter said, "I don't like to smile, my teeth are not pretty." Your health department suggests that mothers start early to instill good dental habits in children. A visit to the family dentist for information and regular dental checkups are important in this routine. TEETH ARE LIKE FARM MACHINERY, IT'S NOT ALWAYS THE AMOUNT OF WEAR THAT DETERMINES THEIR LIFE OR BEAUTY, IT'S THE CARE THAT DETERMINES WHEN REPLACEMENTS MUST BE MADE.

This week the Bystander salutes a very musically inclined young miss. Nineteen-year-old Charlotte Ann Jones of 940 16th Street, views music as both a hobby and a career. Currently, she is seeking her degree in voice music education at Drake University with a minor in piano and English. After that she would like to study voice at the famed Julliard School of Music in New York and then go on to Europe for further study on the continent.

Charlotte wasn't exactly "born singing" but as far back as she remembers "I was singing . . . because I love to do it."

Boston Born

However, the musical training for this Boston, Mass. born lass goes back more than 10 years.

Her parents brought her to Des Moines in 1946 where she was entered into St. John's parochial school and, later Grant elementary and on into Callanan Junior High. Her senior high school studies were taken at Roosevelt and in June 1956 she was the only Negro graduate among 268 students. She entered Drake that fall.

Music Background

Her music training included nine years of piano and four years of voice study at Drake. Cultivating her interest in dramatics she studied five years at Drake's Children's Theater. Her acting honors include the role of governess in "Princess and the Swineherd," and a temperamental opera singer in "Radio Rescue."

Retire at 63?

Detective McGuire says he has had several close calls in apprehending suspects but that he has let Mrs. McGuire handle all the business because he can give no assurance that he will come back alive from a given assignment. If he listens to the urgings of his wife, he "might retire when he's 63."

Juvenile Conduct

Detective McGuire also had his say about juvenile delinquency which he terms "more parental than child." He is particularly concerned about the public conduct of Negro juveniles which he called "deplorable," citing the sloven dress, discourtesy, loud and boisterous talks in theater and public conveyances.

Perhaps, if the parents took the bull by the horn and the preachers stop preaching so much heaven and hell and more sermons on young people, maybe there is hope, if the club women will do a little more, too.

Shoots Golf

During off duty hours when he can get away Detective McGuire finds relaxation in golf which he shoots in the high 70's and in reading historical novels and travel magazines.

By Dr. C. C. Adams, Secretary

FOREIGN MISSION BOARD, N. B. C., U. S. A., INC.

In talking about such an important and currently dynamic subject as Africa in 1958, there will be many thousands in America who will listen to be taught about this newly arisen land of great destiny. There will still be others who will listen critically, because they may have great knowledge of their own about the land once known as "the dark continent."

Experiences

Therefore, I feel obligated to state my own record and experiences in observing Africa and in working in Africa in person and for Africa in my official capacity as Corresponding Secretary of The Foreign Mission Board.

7 Years on Board

I served seven years as president of the Pennsylvania Baptist State Convention and ten years as Chairman of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board. I have been the Board's Secretary for the last sixteen years, having travelled to and about Africa seven times during this tenure. This trip, of course, is my seventh.

Extensive Travel

My trips to Africa were not casual in the least. They were extensive and thorough. Liberia, Nigeria, East Africa and South Africa were carefully travelled, covered and worked.

Observations

My observations, which will be will be closed at the end of the current school year, according to the City Board of Education.

There are 163 students now enrolled in the school. They will

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Preparing Children in Advance Helps Them To Accept Changes—Permanent or Temporary

ACCEPT CHANGES

Parents are often careful to prepare their children for new experiences, like a visit to the doctor or dentist, or school. There are many temporary or permanent changes within the family itself for which young children can be prepared, too. Such advance preparation often makes the adjustment to the change more pleasant and more efficient.

Overnight Visitors

Our house is small, so that overnight visits from friends require rearranging of furniture and alteration of many of the routines of eating, sleeping and playing. We find that having our small children help plan the rearrangements and move the furniture often makes the changes themselves seem less distracting and disrupting. Sometimes we can even try several different arrangements beforehand to discover which one goes most smoothly.

New Baby

Many families are concerned, too, to prepare their children for such exciting events as the arrival of a new baby, but there are other changes that sometimes leave the young child bewildered. Perhaps the father must take a business trip for several days, or one of the parents must spend some time in the hospital.

Personal Touch

By MARIE ROSS

Within a few weeks, the Personal Touch Column will be seventeen years old. It has appeared weekly, written by the columnist, since May 29, 1941, and, during the interim, much has happened, including World War II, Korean War, and other emergencies.

The first column got started after several teen-age chatter and gossip columns ceased. The last one, known as "Sippy Writes," was short-lived. The writer got the spring fever—and no column appeared. But the readers wanted one—and so did the paper; hence, I began pitch-hitting as follows:

"Sippy, (the Teen-Ager Naomi Walden, now school teacher, Mrs. Nelson of Detroit, Mich.) has the spring fever this week. She sits and sighs and dreams of days to come when she can curl up in some cool, shady corner and snooze from morn till night. But—remember to awaken her for breakfast, lunch and supper. She makes such a restful picture that I would not disturb such a moment of peace—in this war-torn world—to inform her that it is press time."

With that, the Personal Touch Column began—but was not named until the next week.

In that first column, some of the items were these:

"Mrs. George Clinton, 725 S. E. Twenty-sixth Court, is a busy little housewife these days. In her annual housecleaning campaign she is changing the color scheme of two rooms—doing the painting herself. She doesn't mind if friends stop her—she rests a while, serves fresh strawberries and cream or some other delicacy from her frigidaire—and—chats."

Mrs. Clinton, seventeen years later, still is a busy housewife and mother. Her oldest daughter, Alice, is a very musical high school miss who each year wins honor in the annual local and state piano competitions.

Another item observed: A beautiful piece of needlework which catches the eye of persons visiting Mrs. Myrtle Butler, 1620 Walker Street, is a crocheted tablecloth which graces her dining room table. She made it during her leisure time.

Before leaving Des Moines last fall, I had the pleasure to see the beautiful tablecloth gracing the dining room table of the former Mrs. Butler, now Mrs. Thomas J. Royston, 850 Fifteenth Street.

Mrs. Russell Reeves, 1100 School Street, in the spring of 1941 working steadily on a colorful crash lunch cloth, with her small son, Tommy, "helping her." Since that time, Tommy has travelled to Europe with the military services, and is married. Mrs. Reeves is now Mrs. Dixon.

Mrs. J. Alvin Jefferson, 1825 Washington Street, was "proud of the pink lucious pink peonies which were unfolding in her garden." She has been residing in Tuskegee, Ala., since the death of her husband.

At that same time, in 1941, John Melvin Estes, Jr., and Mrs. Frank Robinson, 1329 Center Street, had completed painting a colorful little lath fence to protect her flower garden, while John M. Estes, Sr., on the Fourteenth Street side, was high up on a ladder putting the finishing touches of a paint job around the windows of the funeral home.

Now John Estes, Jr., married, is in partnership with his father at the funeral home; and, Mrs. Frank Robinson, and her letter-carrier husband, are planning flower gardens about their home at 810 Boyd Street.

Another item in that first column stated that "Arthur J. Esters and his little grandson, John Corthorn, are early risers at the La Marguerita Hotel (1423 Center Street). While Mr. Esters does a bit of carpentry, the little fellow toddles over the lawn, chasing his pup, 'Sparky.'" Mr. Esters died in later years—and John, who was a North High honor graduate last June, at the age of 17, was made an Eagle Scout last August—and now is interested in the study of aeronautical engineering at Michigan State University.

League of Women Voters Set Financial Drive For April 7-20

With a goal of $5,250 the League of Women Voters of Des Moines will launch its annual finance drive April 7-20, according to Mrs. Roger C. Silver, chairman. Letters to prospective contributors announcing the drive and its purpose are being mailed Monday.

Assisting as co-chairmen will be Mrs. R. D. Mooney and Mrs. Robert Bliss. Area captains who will direct the 80 workers are Mesdames D. E. Wright, David Hamilton, Maynard Meservey, John T. Doyle, H. A. Weinberg and Byron Lodwick, Jr.

Supplement

Money from non-member contributors is necessary to supplement the $3.00 membership dues to carry on the league's program to strengthen and support the council-manager form of government in Des Moines; continue action toward keeping school board meetings open to the public; get out the vote, publicize candidates' stand on vital issues; and make an objective survey of government in Polk County.

The league, a non-partisan organization for 451 members, neither supports nor opposes candidates, but seeks to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation in government.

Southern U. Becomes Largest Negro Univ.

Chicago—Southern University in Baton Rouge, La., has become the nation's largest Negro University, and it's 900-acre plant is still growing to provide for the enrollment expected, relates EBONY in the April issue.

Southern with an enrollment of 5,745 students is in the midst of a building program that will cost seven and a half million dollars, and construction crews are constantly at work.

Tough hampered by over-crowded conditions, Southern boasts a widely diversified curriculum, including a comprehensive teacher-training program, courses in physical and social sciences, business, engineering, law and a graduate school authorized to award the master's degree in education.

Those were some of the items that appeared in the first Personal Touch Column. A review of the column—through the years—will be continued next week.

If there's going to be a wedding at your house or if you want to delight one of your friends who's going to be married, here's an idea: make a bride's cake of white cake mix.

It's a lovely cake, quick, easy and beautiful. And inexpensive, too. Just figure it out for yourself—three packages of Instant Cake Mix, three and a half cups of milk, and sugar and egg whites for frosting. It cuts into pieces enough for 25 or 30 people, downy light and delicious, a bride-cake masterpiece.

After you've frosted the cake smoothly, you can decorate it with flutings and curls put on with a pastry tube, and for extra trimming add a few little birds or flowers sold for cake decorating. Practice with the pastry tube by squirting a sample of your frosting on a piece of waxed paper. You can scrape up the practice frosting and put it back in the tube to use again, so no waste is involved in perfecting your technique.

WEDDING CAKE

(Two-tiered oblong cake for 25 to 30 people)

Preparations. Line 13x9x2-inch pan and 9x9x2-inch pan on bottom with paper. Start oven for moderate heat (350°F.).

3 packages Swans Down Instant Cake Mix
3½ cups milk

Combine contents of two packages Swans Down Instant Cake Mix in mixing bowl. Add 1 cup milk. Blend, then beat 2 minutes. Add 1½ cups milk. Blend, then beat 1 minute longer.

Pour batter into prepared 13x9x2-inch pan. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 55 minutes, or until done. Remove from oven and increase oven heat to 375°F. Cool cake in pan 10 minutes, then turn out on cake rack to finish cooling.

Place contents of third package of Swans Down Instant Cake Mix in mixing bowl. Add ½ cup milk. Blend, then beat 2 minutes. Add ½ cup milk. Blend, then beat 1 minute longer.

Pour batter into prepared 9x9x2-inch pan. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 30 minutes, or until done. Cool. Frosting. Prepare seven-minute frosting, using 2 egg whites. Then place the large cake on an attractive oblong serving plate or tray. Spread top and sides of cake with frosting. Trim the 9x9x2-inch cake to measure 9x7x2-inches by cutting a 1-inch slice from opposite sides of the cake. Place on top of the frosted layer, centering evenly. Prepare another batch of seven-minute frosting and spread on top and sides of small cake, reserving some for decorating. With a knife, go over entire cake, making a smooth flat surface for decorating.

Decorating. Using a pastry bag or decorating tube, decorate frosted cake as desired with the reserved frosting. Place wedding bell or other suitable ornament in center of top layer, if desired.

Coconut Mint Dessert

Cool, pretty, simplicity itself to make—and oh, so good to eat! What more can a busy homemaker ask for a hot summer's day dessert or party salad idea! Time-saving trick: Prepare melon balls in advance, even to the rolling in flaked coconut. Prepare orange slices, too. Then, at serving time, assembling this attractive dessert will be easy.

COCONUT MINT DESSERT

1 cup sugar
½ cup water
1 tablespoon fresh mint leaves

1 can tender-thin flaked coconut
2 oranges, cut in thin slices
1 pint pineapple sherbet
36 chilled melon balls
(watermelon, honeydew, and cantaloupe)

Simmer sugar, water, and mint leaves for 2 minutes. Strain and cool. Dip melon balls in the minted syrup and roll in coconut. Cut orange slices in half. Place a small scoop of sherbet in center of each serving dish. Arrange 6 melon balls around sherbet. Place half slice of orange between each melon ball. Garnish with sprigs of mint, if desired. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

SLACK ENFORCEMENT
ADDS TO TRAFFIC PROBLEMS

Undoubtedly, the traffic problem is giving public officials and the public generally a difficult situation with which to deal. Accidents are on the increase everywhere. Here in Iowa more deaths have occurred on the highways so far in 1958 than at the same period in 1957.

One thing which has contributed to these accidents and deaths is the brazen operation of cars by some drivers and who somehow continue to get away with their conduct.

Take this report from a newspaper of a trial which occurred recently.

"Police say that since August, 1954, speeding eight times and reckless driving three times, and has been involved in five accidents since.

"Police say his operators license has twice been suspended for 30 day periods, once for one year and on . . . was suspended indefinitely.

People with such a record have no business holding driver's licenses for it demonstrates a reckless disregard for the lives of others and themselves.

DONOR AND RECIPIENT
DESERVE HONOR

Periodically, some of the smaller communities in Iowa come up with decisions and actions which demonstrate that people eventually move in the right direction if someone takes the proper leadership to get them done.

The Kiwanis Club of Perry, which awards honor to an outstanding citizen each year, chose a Negro minister—who, because of his race, cannot belong to the organization.

Here again, men rose above superficial standards and selected a citizen on his merits. Both the Kiwanis Club of Perry and the Rev. Lewis are to be congratulated.

It is not always the case that men who merit honors get them—that gives spread their selections over a wide area of the population. This honor for the Rev. Lewis should be an incentive to youngsters to be good citizens, to develop leadership in their community so that they may build even higher than this man in Perry has.

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGNS
ARE DESIRABLE

Considerable effort has been put forth in a program to better housing among minority groups. One lending organization after another, including real estate boards, agencies and individuals have been found to have had a hand in blocking improvements. Much of this goes on.

There are two sides to this controversy, one of which must be resolved, to a great extent, by minorities themselves.

For several years, the Junior Chamber of Commerce has conducted an annual clean-up campaign; also the Bystander did likewise among its subscribers. Thorough clean-up campaigns are desirable.

This year, the real estate boards have undertaken test campaigns starting with one block which they propose to renovate at little expense in order to demonstrate what a community can do. This gets down to the people, the only way the job can succeed.

The Bystander hopes the program spreads for certainly the poor appearance of many Des Moines streets and blocks show that something tangible along these lines is needed.

To the Friends of The Bystander

Recently, a letter was sent to a number of you—on short notice— notifying that a sponsored ad would be published on March 20 emphasizing Negro Newspaper Week.

Individuals, rather than business concerns or organizations, were asked to sponsor the ad and to pay three dollars. The name only was to be used, which might include Mr. and Mrs.

The letters went out too late to give ample time for many replies to reach the office on time—after the deadline.

In view of the fact the rendition of the School Segregation case of May 17, 1954 by the Supreme Court will be observed on that date this year and that special emphasis should be given the occasion, I decided to defer the sponsored page to May 15.

Those who did not signify their intention to join as sponsors of the Negro Newspaper Week ad will be welcome in the Supreme Court day recognition ad.

BY ALLEN ASHBY

Sure pulled hard for Seattle to come through in the finals of the NCAA basketball meet. Couldn't and wouldn't say the West Coast boys were cheated but will argue that if the thing had been played somewhere else besides the home state of Kentucky U the Southern boys might not have won.

Glad to see Xavier of Ohio come through against Dayton, although at times we didn't think much of their chances.

Speaking of Negroes dominating basketball, not only do they stand out in the national collegiate teams but they do all right in other competition, too. Tennessee State won the national small college meet two years straight now. This year they had to beat Texas Southern, a team that many had picked as the winner.

Then the girls held their own in the Monroe A.A.U. meet, two teams won at Nashville and Philander Smith College of Little Rock, Ark., being in there right to the last round. In the men's A.A.U. meet a team that has Carl Cain of Iowa university and K. C. Jones of San Francisco as a nucleus, will likely be pretty hard to beat.

Did you ever see so many good junior teams around the country. Basketball is going to be rough on coaches for a few years.

While this is going on around the country, our basketball players are not doing much locally. Seems our kids have too many distractions to want to play basketball and if they have no incentive they just don't want to play.

The league at Wilkie House could come up with some kid teams. We hear they play some pretty good ball in the Men's league. Guess they do. Got a bunch of good old vets there so it wouldn't be too tough for them.

Did you like the fight and if not what can you do about it?

Dudley High Wins N. C.
State Championship

Greensboro, N. C.—Dudley High School of Greensboro won its first State basketball championship in history by defeating Booker T. Washington High of Rocky Mount, 49-40, in the triple-A division of the North Carolina High School Athletic Conference Tournament held here at A&T College last weekend.

Discuss Plans for

John M. Estes, Jr., acting chairman for the group, announced that the club would be open to both women and men. Mr. Russell B. Dickinson, president of the Des Moines Archery Association, will discuss the equipment needs of prospective archers.

Interested adults and young adults are invited to attend.

HEALTH FOR ALL

ARE YOU POSITIVE—IV

"Fish is a brain food." Do you believe that? Are you positive? Feed Billy with fish three times a day if he likes it that much, but it's no guarantee he'll come out with a high I. Q. Like other nutritious foods, fish benefits the brain and other body tissues. But it won't turn a moron into a genius. It won't help Billy pass an exam he hasn't studied for.

Are You Sure?

What do you believe? What you see? What you hear? What "everybody" says? Do you try to find out for sure? Of course, believing that fish is brain food probably won't do you any harm. But some incorrect notions can harm you.

Here's one you may have heard: "It's easy to cure TB with the new miracle drugs." Do you believe that? Are you positive?

New Drugs

There's no doubt the new drugs for TB are the greatest step toward the defeat of TB since the chest X-ray. But they won't perform miracles. The TB germ—the tubercle bacillus—is a hardy bug. The drugs used today couldn't kill it except in doses so large as to kill the patient. But in small doses they can slow down the germs' activity so that the natural disease-fighting strength of the body can defeat them. No drug, of course, can repair body tissue destroyed by tuberculosis.

Resistance

Tuberculosis germs can also build up resistance to drugs. Using two or more drugs in combination often helps slow down development of resistance. The doctor determines which drug or combination of drugs is most effective for each individual patient. The patient usually has to take his medicine for 12 months or more. He is positive that it isn't easy to cure TB.

Ask your TB association about the new educational cartoon film, "Are You Positive?" Showings can be arranged for community groups.

FOUR NEGROES AMONG ST. LOUIS CARDINAL HOPEFULS

12 and 9 Record

Jones is one of the big 4 of the Cardinal pitching staff along with Larry Jackson, Lindy McDaniel and Vinegar Ben Mizell. Last season the 6'3" righthander won 12 and lost 9 for his first winning year in the big leagues. He compiled that record despite the fact that he was often sidelined with injuries—once a ligament in the area of the right knee and once in the elbow of his pitching arm.

15 This Season?

It is this record that makes Manager Hutch look forward to at least 15 victories. He bases that feeling on Jones' past record and on a 4

Trade

Secretary of Commerce Weeks has appealed for extension of the reciprocal trade program in line with Administration requests. He states that the jobs of more than 4,500,000 Americans depend on international trade and that "it's either more trade or more trouble."

WHAT IS LIFE?

Spring he speaks of childhood
So happy and so gay,
The budding of life itself,
The Flowers of May
Summer, so unpredictable
Has all the marks of youth,
Seriousness and tempest,
Romantic and uncouth;
Autumn, so very beautiful,
The settling down years

The fulfillment of ambitions
The vanishing of summer cares.
Winter, the crowning glory
Has so much to offer, too.
For it is life in its entirety
Though the year is almost through.
This, life is like the seasons
Birth, days, months and years—
Full of beauty, joys and heartaches
Happiness, hard work and tears.

Sugar Ray Wins Over Basilio in 15 Rounds;
Champion for Unprecedented 5th. Time

Chicago, Ill.—For an unprecedented fifth time Sugar Ray Robinson, at 37, has again become the middleweight champion of the world by methodically spanking Carmen Basilio for 15 gruelling rounds and won by a 21-1 split decision. This feat places Sugar Ray in the annals of the great fighters of all times.

Sugar was a methodical, clever worker as he hooked and jabbed and smashed a courageous but defeated Basilio. Early in the second round Robinson opened cuts over both eyes of Basilio and by the fifth round the left eye was beginning to close and by the sixth was completely shut as a result of a one-two combination that hit squarely on Basilio's eye.

From then on it was Robinson's fight—steadily moving to Basilio's left pummeling him with left jabs to the face and body following with devastating hooks and crosses to the body and face.

Surprising Decision

Carmen, however was a durable fighter of raw courage, a never-say-

Ageless

With his magnificent showing at the age of 37 Sugar Ray has proven to thousands of fight fans that age is a relative, abstract negligible thing. And too, if only physiologically (Chicago and Chicago Stadium do seem to be lucky to the amazing Harlem Kid. Sugar also remains unbeaten in a rematch as a result of his mastery of his latest adversary, Basilio.

The official attendance was 17,956 with the gross receipts $351,955 both far below the anticipated 20,000 and $450,000.

Covington Rejects
Braves' Contract

Bardenton, Fla.—Wes Covington, Milwaukee Braves outfielder and one of the stars of the 1957 World Series, rejected a contract calling for a salary increase from general manager John Quinn last Friday.

However, Covington said he was willing to compromise if the general manager does. He admitted that he was offered a raise but that he and Quinn were still far apart. "I wasn't asking for the world," he said.
