W. C. Handy, 61, Famed Composer, Dies

Two Weeks Before Movie Premiere Protraying His Life

by Dolores Calvin
New York City (CNS) . . . The death of W. C. Handy, at 84, ended an era and began a legend . . . For nowhere do we find a man so rich in world knowledge, so eager to talk of his background, and so talented in writing the blues . . .

In just two weeks Handy had planned to fly to St. Louis for the premiere of his life story—a life he was well proud of—"St. Louis Blues" starring Nat King Cole and Eartha Kitt. . . He was happy that he received so much ovation before death . . . that he was so well remembered and loved in life . . . that he lived long enough to see the progress in jazz and other forms of music come and sweep the country—yet never ride over his own immortal "St. Louis Blues" . . .

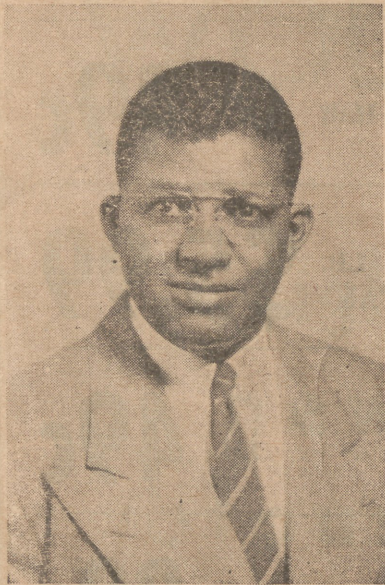

"Father of Blues"

"Father of the Blues", a true title, was not only a composer, a music publisher and a great American—but an expert on jazz and the blues . . . His memory, even in his later years, was extremely vivid and blindness was no handicap . . . He enjoyed and loved the many varied versions of "St. Louis Blues", from sophisticated arrangements to low-down "bluesy" satires . . . He laughed at some—swelled with pride at others . . . And he never tired of helping youngsters or advising those in the business . . .

Willa Glanton Was First Woman Appointed Ass't County Attorney in Iowa

By Mrs. Frances Hawthorne

This is the seventh in a series of articles featuring Negro first, leaders and outstanding personalities in Iowa who are excelling in civic, professional, business, religious, educational, fraternal and entertainment fields.)

When Atty. Willa Glanton was appointed as assistant Polk County Attorney on July 1, 1956 she became the first woman in the history of the state of Iowa to hold that position.

Specifically, her assignment is in child desertion but she handles cases in all areas including paternity, responsible relatives, and OMVI (operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, and juvenile cases on specific assignment by the courts.

Trial Work

Her daily calendar includes trial work, other disposal of cases, numerous conferences, and interviews and juvenile hearings, and of course handling preliminaries.

Besides her first court cases (an OMVI) Mrs. Glanton cites juvenile cases as being most memorable. She sees much of the resulting heart-break of neglected and broken homes and is particularly concerned about the problems.

Lack in Home

"I don't put all the blame on parents," she said, "But I do feel there is much to be desired in the home."

"We as parents, have a grave responsibility to know and understand our youngsters and to make a conscientious effort to direct their

Army Denies 'Do Nothing' Orders to Army Troops at Little Rock's Central High

New York.—The Pentagon has denied "that the federalized troops on duty in Central High School (in Little Rock) are operating under orders to do nothing in the case of a disturbance, except to observe."

The Army position was set forth in a letter to Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, who previously had reported to Wilbur M. Brucker, Secretary of the Army, that he had received information from Little Rock "that the soldiers on duty at the school are said to be operating under orders to do nothing in the case of a disturbance, except to observe it."

In his letter, of March 14, Mr. Wilkins cited 42 incidents of harassments, intimidations and violence directed against Negro students attending Central High School by 30

Until Negro Is Appointed As Fireman; Say Council Is Favorable to Changes

Malcolm B. Higgins, executive secretary of the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights and Job Discrimination told the Bystander Monday that the rights group will continue to meet and work with the city council until a Negro is appointed to the fire department.

He said the city council later (after last Thursday's meeting) expressed belief that it now has enough evidence (of discrimination in employment) to act on the changes in methods of civil service exams and job applications recommended by the

Lehman, Spingarn 80th Birthdays

New York.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People felicitated two of its oldest and most distinguished Board members who today became 80 years old—Herbert Lehman, a member since 1930, and Arthur B. Spingarn, NAACP president since 1940 and Board member since 1911.

rights commission in January. The rights group suggested then that more weight be given the oral portion of the exams instead of "judging a man on his worth,"; that they be given by qualified persons as is the practice of other mid-west cities and the Federal government; that all photographs and fustions of birthplace and nationality be omitted from applications.

No Desire to Belittle

Also, Monday, Higgins reasserted a statement included in a letter he read before the council in last Thursday meeting which said, "We have no desire, nor do we feel the need, to belittle another City agency in order to support our own practices or activities. Our sole concern is to clarify issues—not cloud them."

Mrs. Dahlberg

Last week he referred to "uncomplimentary comments" written in a letter to the city council by the Civil service commission. Monday's re-statement was in answer to Mrs. Mary Dahlberg, secretary and chief examiner of the city civil service commission. Mrs. Dahlberg, in an "open letter" (published in part in a local daily) to Higgins and Jack Lowrey, of 602 S. E. 26th Street denied charges of un-cooperativeness and of "advising Lowrey not to seek appointment as a fireman."

However, she admitted, "Many times, after finding out the background . . . of a candidate we decide that he or she should take a different examination than the one in which they were originally interested."

Frank Kaiser

She went on, "I do remember such a conversation with Frank Kaiser (police patrolman) when he came in several years ago. We had a little visit, and Frank later came in after thinking it over, and took the patrolman's examination."

Such practices were questioned by the rights group as "going beyond the province of the civil service commission to examine candidates impartially . . ."

"Strange Fact"

The rights group had questioned the "strange fact that for 35 or 40 years there has not been a single Negro member of the Fire department" declaring it to be the "most suspicious-looking instance of possible racial discrimination in the City's employment picture."

Police Department

In last week's meeting Higgins reading from the letter said, "The Commission on Human rights questions the opportunities for Negroes to advance in the Police department also. We have a letter signed by leading white and Negro citizens questioning this too."

Only 7 Negroes

Higgins pointing out there were only 7 Negro officers out of 228 men and women on the police force, SEE PAGE TWO

THEY HAVE GONE

They have gone into the valley Out across the other side. On His harvest day they'll rally When no soul will be denied. Do not weep—for they lie dreaming In that peace beyond our eyes, comes the time of all redeeming They will rise into the skies. When in reverence we're praying For our loved ones resting here; Know the saints above are saying "Blest are these that had no fear." With these wreaths we breathe a prayer. When it's our time to pass on, That we'll meet again up there— In the place where they have gone . . .

Sesame Puffs Go With Frozen Fruit Salad

Fragrant, warm Sesame Puffs with margarine give appeal to frozen fruit salad.

A frozen fruit salad is at its cool best when a hot bread is served with it.

Bread and margarine are an excellent foundation for summer eating. One leading nutritionist says that menus planned around bread and margarine are tops nutritionally. And, says he, the idea that bread and margarine are fattening is old hat. It might have been true in the days when bread was not enriched and when margarine did not contain vitamin A. But nowadays, with their fine food values, these basic foods ought to be included in every meal, even in the diets of those seeking to lose weight.

To go with a frozen fruit salad and to make the menu a complete meal, it would be hard to find a bread more delicious than Sesame Puffs. They are easy to make and they keep well for several days. Any left over can easily be reheated in the top of a double boiler, or foil-wrapped in the oven.

Sesame Puffs are made from a yeast-leavened batter. It need not be kneaded, only stirred and perhaps beaten a bit to make it extra good. Since the batter contains milk and eggs along with margarine and enriched flour, the puffs are practically a meal in themselves. To make them extra easy to mix, the recipe calls for dry milk. This means there is no bothersome scalding of milk and that extra pan to wash.

If any of the mps in the family belong to the "no salad for me" brigade, these cloud-light hot little rolls may help them change their minds.

SESAME PUFFS

(about 30 2 1/2-inch puffs)

1 1/4 cup warm water
1 package yeast
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
8 3/4 cups sifted flour
4 tablespoons dry milk solids
1/2 cup melted margarine
2 eggs
1/4 cup sesame seeds

Measure warm water (100°F.) into 3-quart bowl, or into large bowl of electric mixer. Sprinkle yeast over water and let stand 5 minutes. Add sugar, salt, 2 cups flour and dry milk solids. Mix smooth. Stir in melted and cooled margarine. Add eggs and beat until smooth and shiny. Add remaining flour and mix well. (Batter should look glossy.) Cover and set in warm place to rise until doubled (about 1 hour). Stir down and drop by tablespoons into well-margarined muffin pans. Fill each muffin cup half full. Sprinkle a teaspoon of sesame seed over batter in each cup. Let rise until doubled (about 45 minutes). Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 20 to 25 minutes, until golden brown. Remove from pans at once. Serve warm or cold with margarine.

A man who skipped town last June after setting up a fictitious firm and cashing $1,500 in forged checks here was apprehended in Hartford, Conn., upon the request of Des Moines police and brought back to this city to face trial.

Cleveland Parker, jr., 33, told police on his arrival here that last year he came to Des Moines, set up a fictitious firm known as Nesbitt Auto, in a rented building at 1221 Center street and hired a man to answer a business phone.

Also, she is a member of a social club called "14 Sweethearts"; is an avid TV "westerns" fan and enjoys her hobbies of basketball, swimming and dancing. "Rock and Roll" is all right with her, especially Sam Cooke, but she doesn't care too much for Elvis Presley.

W. C. Handy stood like a rock—for truth and for righteousness. . . Each time we talked to him at the offices of his music publishing company on Broadway, where he reigned with power, he was always accurate on his facts and comparing statistics. . . He knew the latest at ASCAP, the latest news in Variety, show business journal—and what the stars were doing music-wise. . .

Illness

There's no word for his fighting back each time he was felled with illness. . . Two days before his death he came out of the coma, regained consciousness and seemed to be rallying. . . All had thought he'd done it again. . . Many times he just missed death. . .

Subway Fall

We remember the time he fell from the subway platform. . . He was totally blind at the time and had been left alone for a short second. . . The fall alone would have finished a man his age, but not Mr. Handy. . . Recuperating remarkably well, he was scheduled to return home in a private ambulance. . . DISMISS DRUG CHARGES AGAINST MRS. SOMMERVILLE

Charges of narcotics violations were dismissed against Katherine Devita Sommerville, 26, by Judge Russell Jordan in district court Monday upon the recommendations of James P. Denato, an assistant county attorney.

Mrs. Sommerville who gave her address as 1414 East 9th street, had been accused of obtaining narcotics fraudulently by using a fictitious address on a prescription filled Jan. 27 by the Fifield Drug Store at 954 6th avenue.

Denato moved for dismissal after Dr. Stanley Griffin, an osteopath whose address was listed as 408 1/2 E. Walnut st., testified that he has a record of Mrs. Sommerville's correct address and that the address on the prescription he wrote apparently was an inadvertent error.

Lucky Cab Driver Gets $11,000 in N. Y.

New York City (CNS)—It pays to be honest and turn in $11,200. That's what cab driver Harold Petrie believed—and his hunch paid off when he was awarded the $11,200 left in the back of his cab. Petrie says Tammany leader Carmen De Sapio had been driven to a downtown hotel and he found the money immediately afterward. That was 8 months ago but De Sapio would not claim it. To claim it would have caused many questions to be asked, some rather embarrassing.

Petrie, 65, and happy over his tremendous gain, says he will spend it quickly. Meanwhile, a claim against the money by 70 year old Walter Robinson, was dismissed. He had sought to prove that the money was part of an estate of the late Mrs. Josephine Norcum who died in 1929. Citing it was collected between "1914 and 1920", Robinson lost his case mostly on these grounds. The Judge, Arthur Klein, examined the money in detail in his chambers and found the dates on the dollars were 1934 and afterward.

Edna Mae Robinson returned to New York with her party completely elated that her man had won... A veteran of many fights, Edna Mae thinks Sugar is the greatest... She talks about the fight game like a baseball wife—completely interested.

Late Bill Robinson

The story goes that the late Bill Robinson had a great deal of faith in Mike Todd, the fabulous producer, and even though Uncle Bill was a bit on the temperamental side himself, he never let the Todd loud voice ruffle him... When Bill did "The Hot Mikado" under Todd's production, it was a hit—and the two worked well together... Bill, then, was at the height of his career, having been rated in Hollywood for his films with Shirley Temple... It is said that the grand ovation given Bill at his death—the funeral pro-

Lena Horne

Lena Horne is looking forward ever so anxiously to Easter when she'll watch the parade along Fifth Avenue, and join it too... Lena loves New York and feels being here on holidays such as Christmas and Easter can't be beat... Personal Touch

By MARIE ROSS

When the Personal Touch column was in its second year—1942—housewives and shoppers in Des Moines, as well as throughout the country, were feeling the shortage of paper bags—and taking home articles from the grocery stores—unwrapped or in pans or dishes that the customers carried with them. Sugar was being rationed by the spoonful—in restaurants.

In the office of the Bystander—"Spring was in the air"—and office secretary, the former Evelyn Green, now Mrs. T. Frazier, was yawning in the rays of the early spring sun and brouching through fashion books.

Mrs. Leona Kelley, now a resident of Seattle, Wash., was planning the Bystander's World War II cooking school session—and—complaining about hte scarcity of articles.

Mrs. Mari Johnson, at 2407 Garfield avenue, was worrying over the shortage of canned goods and wondering what she would do for her lunch when canned sardines disappeared from the shelves of stores.

Stationed out at Fort Des Moines—three months before the arrival of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps which later became the WAC—were men recruits from Des Moines, among whom was Pvt. Archie W. Silva of Fort Scott, Kas., was was cooking for hundreds of recruits.

About Ten Years Ago

When April arrived ten years ago—busy making stunning hats were Beauty Shop operators Bernice Carter and Murlean Taylor, who are still neighbors on West Sixteenth street.

During that month Mrs. Marguerite Sorrell was spending much time at home, 2830 Fourth avenue, confined with a broken right knee, which she received in a fall. Before her injury Mrs. Sorrell made a promise to assist April 3 at the wedding reception when Mary Jane Asbury became Mrs. C. E. Devan.

Avoid "Typing" Children by Detecting Changes In Them and Judging them as Individuals

Written by Lloyd Lovell, SUI Assistant Professor

"TYPING" CHILDREN

My deportment in high school was not always ideal. My younger sister, on the other hand, was a model student. When my brother came along to high school, he had some of the teachers whom my sister and I had had earlier. Two of these teachers asked my brother, "Are you going to be like your brother, or like your sister?"

Stereotypes

Neither of these teachers was willing to let my brother be himself. Each was asking him to choose between two stereotypes, neither one of which was a very accurate model of his own personality. In many important ways my brother was not at all like either my sister or me, yet these teachers seemed to be forcing him to be like one or the other of us.

Generalizations

Such generalizations are easy to form. We tend to think, "All five-year-olds are like this," or "All

Out at Drake University, ten years ago, during April Paul Robeson, world-famed baritone, preluded a speaking engagement with a brief concert. "Following an old French song, the nearly 3,000 persons, mainly university students, gave him an ovation after Robeson offered his arrangement of 'Ole Man River' in which he sang—I keep laughing instead of crying," and then, put emphasis on 'I must keep fighting until I'm dying.'" During the years, his concerts have ceased—Mr. Robeson keeps on fighting for his civil rights. More next week from the Personal Touch file.

TOO MUCH WEAK
KNEES SHOWN

So far, the Des Moines city council is not displaying the courage necessary to correct the injustices heaped upon Negro applicants for civil service jobs. The Commission on Human Rights and Job Discrimination has pointed out very clearly examples of discrimination and methods which evidently have been used to accomplish the desired results.

It is only fair that the council would uphold a department which has a clean record. On the other hand when it appears otherwise, then steps should be taken to rectify a situation.

Like altogether too many people, the Civil Service Commission has not taken complaints of racial discrimination seriously. It, like most departments, has resented inquiry by the Human Rights Commission about their methods of doing business.

When the complaints were filed, the Civil Service Commission sent the Human Rights Commission a letter of reply but released it to the press before it was received by that commission. The secretary of the Civil Service Commission sent a letter of protest last week to the Human Rights Commission but released it to the press before it was received by them. The Civil Service Commission announced it would gladly confer with the City Council and manager about the complaints but made no reference to the Human Rights Commission.

These are breaches of orderly decorum and point up just what little some people know about good taste. There is an old saying "throw a rock among a pack and the one which is hit will yell."

In most towns, Negroes hold a fair number of jobs where civil service—state and federal—is in use. Civil Service was adopted for the purpose of giving every applicant fair and equal opportunity. But judging from the number of Negroes working for the city of Des Moines, the system has been used as a stop gap to keep out whom they chose. And this situation has prevailed over the years. The Bystander supported the majority on the city council at the election last fall believing that they came closer to what good councilmen should be. But if it does not take more positive steps to rectify the long standing unfairness which has existed within the Civil Service Commission then a serious question arises whether our judgment was good in the choice.

HATS OFF TO
GOVERNOR LOVELESS

Governor Loveless has announced the appointment of a human rights commission. Former Governor Hoegh appointed such a commission in 1956 in response to a resolution passed by the legislature to study the extent of discrimination in employment on the basis of race and report at the 1957 session. The committee found that such discrimination existed in every community but the legislature did nothing about passing legislation to correct the evils. Its duties expired when the report was submitted to the legislature.

Of course the present committee has no power to do other than investigate and make recommendations. But it is a step in the right direction in that a commission exists and recognition that something tangible must be done to eliminate discrimination in employment. And because Iowa has a civil rights law is no reason to believe that the state is free from discrimination by any means. Most of the river towns are deplorable. These conditions account for the dwindling population among Negroes which has gone on during the past decade. Congratulations to Governor Loveless.

Watch Those Yard
Fires . . . Please!

When you are burning leaves or other yard rakings The Des Moines fire marshal advises that you follow a few rules of caution.

Above all do not start such fires if there is wind, or the fire you start may burn down your own home.

When a householder does start a fire, the fire marshal said, he should:

Use an incinerator or trash burner; or, if he has a large amount of material to burn, burn it in the open in small piles, adding to them gradually.

Make certain the fire is not near a building or bushes or trees that might ignite.

Not use kerosene or any similar fuel on the fire.

Not let small children play around the fire.

Keep a shovel or rake handy for use if fire starts to spread.

Redlegs' Robinson Sets
Sights High for 1958

Tampa, Fla.—Frank Robinson, star center fielder for the Cincinnati Redlegs is setting his sights high as he begins his junior year with this club, for he seriously declares that he would like to "bat .350, hit 40 homers and drive home 125 runs."

ROBINSON

Triple Crown?
To accomplish those feats would mean the national league triple crown for the young player; a gargantuan task in anybody's book. However Robinson has developed tremendously in the past two years and he just might reach his goal. As manager Birdie Tebbetts puts it: "There is no telling what this kid might end up doing. He has all the natural ability in the world. He has been learning constantly, so it figures he is about ready to enjoy a great season in every department he mentions."

In 1956 Robinson was the national league's "Rookie of the Year", hit 38 homers and batted .290. Last year he boasted a batting average of .322 and made the All-Star team for the second time in a row.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

The track season sneaked up on us while we were watching basketball finish. In local track, a fellow has been running around the vicinity of Third and Locust Streets waving greenbacks to bet that his brother Jim Hutchinson can outrun anybody in the state.

High School

Well, Al Collier of North who gets out of his holes like greased lightning, is the unbeaten sprinter in the fifty yard dash. Of course, we have always argued that Hutchinson's real race is the 220. It takes him about 80 yards to get unwind and most anyone who can run at all is apt to beat him in the 50 or 100 yard races.

Comes the outdoor season, Big Brother will probably get his money back. East High is getting back up near the top after a short lay-off. If they aren't watched the Lee Townshippers may sneak into a State title yet.

Baseball

In baseball there have been enough trades going on to keep interest livened up. Can the White Sox take on the pennant? Depends on how much they have stretched themselves and on how many mistakes Casey Stengel makes.

Some guy remarked that the Yankees aren't too keen on Negroes. But still the American League champions have Howard and Simpson back. Gossip has it that Vic Powers of the Kansas City, A's would still be a Yankee if he didn't have a bad disposition.

Cleveland

Cleveland has Minoso and Doby back after all these years. What will they do. The Indians couldn't win with both of these fellows in their prime, so we can't see them going too far away now.

The champion Milwaukee Braves are so loaded with talent and Negroes that they almost run over each other. They will be hard to beat.

But watch the Giants. With a little pitching and luck, they could go all the way.

HEALTH FOR ALL

DON'T GAMBLE YOUR LIFE AGAINST POLIO

The chances are that somewhere in your community next summer an ambulance will come clanging down the street and take a neighbor of the hospital, the victim of crippling polio. "Polio?" you may exclaim. "Why, I though polio was conquered!"

Your neighbor probably thought so, too. He had seen polio drop from 28,900 cases in 1955 to 5,894 cases in 1957. He noted the absence of widespread epidemics. He could see no immediate need to get vaccinated. He felt safe. Yet he may pay for this false sense of security with a lifetime of crippling!

Pass Virus

If you have not been vaccinated against polio, you, too, are gambling with your life. The fact that millions of others have been vaccinated gives you no protection whatever. The protected may not get the paralytic disease. But they are still capable of passing the virus on to others—to you.

Disease into Homes

Many parents who have been quick to insist upon vaccinations for their children of school age fail to realize that these same children can still bring the disease into the home, where it may find prime targets among infants and adults who have not had the advantage of Salk shots. You owe it to your family—and to yourself—to see that all of you receive maximum protection.

Start 3-Shot Series

No one can tell how widely the virus will be distributed during the coming months. Certainly, you will not be able to detect its presence in your community or your home until somebody gets sick. There is only one way to remove yourself and your children from the target area. Go to your doctor—or to your polio vaccination clinic—and start your three-shot series TODAY. Don't be among those who waited until it was too late.

Another Robinson With The Dodgers—Earl

Berkeley, Calif.—The Los Angeles Dodgers have another Robinson on their baseball club. Twenty-one-year old Earl Robinson, former University of California star, was signed by the Dodgers to a rich bonus contract last week.

Exact figures were not mentioned but indications at press conferences have it at "over $50,000."

It was reported from another source that Robinson received a $60,000 bonus, payable over a five-year period, plus a starting $7,000 salary graduating to $10,000 the third year.

Robby, of Berkeley, stands 6-1 and weighs 187-pounds, plays both the outfield and infield.

THE SHEPHERD OF
THE HILL

By E. M. Buckner

You heard of a green hill far away,
A place we all may dwell some day,
A kindly Shepherd there to guide
Mid pastures green, what ere betide;
The Shepherd of this peaceful hill,
Will gladly receive you,—you pay
no bill;
Then brighten the corner where you are,
That you may dwell on the hill afar.
To the old-fashioned church your mother went,
While you were out, mere pleasure
bent;

LOVE WAS CRUCIFIED

She heard the worthy pastor say,
Come unto the Shepherd, "Go not Astray."
Why wander from the Shepherd's fold?
He will protect you, so we are told;
On the beautiful isles and hills they say,
"Sweet Peace" is yours in every way.
There'll be shining stars, in your crown
When at evening the sun goeth down;
The Master quite pleased,—your duty fulfilled
With the omnipotent Shepherd of the hill.

LOVE WAS CRUCIFIED

Love was crucified, upon a barren
hill,
He died upon the cross, to save because it was His will . . .
Two thousand years ago, He paid,
To ransom all from sin, and grave,
When He was killed, our sacrifice was made.
The blood for all atonement, flowed
from His wounded side.
Hallowed is the lonely spot, whereon
our Saviour died.
There on that cruel cross of pain . . .
His Love was crucified . . .

L. U. Track Team
Prepares for Season

Jefferson City, Mo.—Lincoln students and followers of the Lincoln university track team will have to do some tall and fancy traveling this spring if they want to see their cinder stars in action. Lincoln has 11 meets scheduled and all of them are "away" contests.

Poor Shape

Reed explains this, by saying that "our track is in poor shape and there's no point in competing against good teams under those conditions." He adds however that a rich home schedule would be obtained in the future when the Lincoln track is in better condition. The condition of the track would not interfere with the team's workouts this spring.

Eleven lettermen from last season's team are training in the early drills. There are 16 members on the team.
