NAACP Kicks Off Membership Drive Tues.

Local Workers Seek Minimum Goal of 1500 in Des Moines

On Tuesday evening the Des Moines branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People held the kick-off of their annual spring membership drive at Willkie House at 7:30 p.m.

About 150 workers, (about 100 named already) under nine area directors are seeking 1,500 members in Des Moines during a six-week period.

240 Tuesday

About 240 members were received Tuesday toward that goal. The evening was confined chiefly to an instructions period presided over by Attorney Robert Wright, 1958 membership drive chairman. Reports were given also by the executive board.

Atty. Wright said the drive is "still in the formative stage and all of the workers had not been secured as yet."

Area Directors

Area directors named for the drive are: Mrs. Georgine C. Morris, Edward Harris, Mrs. Maize Lewis, Rev. D. V. Stewart, Mrs. Dolores Alexander, Matthew Johnson, A. P. Trotter, Mrs. Ione Lloyd, and Mrs. Inez Morrow.

Mrs. Guy E. Greene is serving as Membership Secretary.

Federal Plan

Writing in National Review, Russell Kirk, the distinguished teacher and writer, finds this central fallacy in the federal-aid-to-education plan: "It isn't money that we need for the improvement of instruction in science, or in anything else. For already we spend far more on schools than any nation ever has before in history—far more, per capita, than the Russians do. Our trouble is that we are not obtaining value for our expenditures." As Dr. Kirk sees it, too much money goes for non-essential frills, and not enough for real education.

Denies NAACP Operates Underground in Alabama

New York — The charge that the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is operating underground in Alabama "is ridiculous on the face of it," Arthur B. Spingarn, president, said here today.

Mr. Spingarn's statement was in reference to a court order issued on April 9 by the Circuit Court Judge Walter B. Jones of Montgomery, Ala. requiring William P. Mitchell of Tuskegee and W. C. Patton of Birmingham to show cause why they should not be held in contempt for violating an injunction against the NAACP on the ground that the organization in which they have been to be neglectful in driving your car. Either course of action will kill.

working is a front for the NAACP.

Suspended in 1956

The Association suspended activity in Alabama in June, 1956 after an injunction was issued against it and a fine of $100,000 imposed for refusal to turn over the names and addresses of NAACP members in the state. The Association withheld the names out of fear of exposing its members to official and unofficial intimidation pressures and persecution.

Appealing from the decision of the Alabama court, NAACP lawyers took the case to the United States Supreme Court which last January heard argument on it. No decision has been handed down as yet.

Latest Move

The NAACP president branded the latest Alabama move as "another futile and malicious maneuver" intended "to stop the Negro's struggle for civil rights. This struggle," he asserted, "will go on, with or without the NAACP, because the southern Negro is no longer willing to put up with second-class citizenship."

Clarence Smith Jr., Pleads Innocent to Charges of Assault

Clarence Smith, Jr., 28, of 512 East 16th Street pleaded innocent to charges of assault with intent to commit rape, following arraignment before Municipal Judge Don L. Tidrick here Tuesday. He is being held under $10,000 bond pending hearing Apr. 24.

Smith is alleged to have attempted to assault a 17-year-old high school girl Monday. He is accused of luring the girl into his car but she escaped and called police.

According to police, Smith has a prison record in Kansas.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Washington, D.C. — Negro pastors of this city estimated that their one day boycott of the "big five" downtown department stores to protest what they called a policy of not hiring Negroes as sales people, was 90 percent effective.

Detroit, Mich. — Last week's general election set a precedent in River Rouge when 2,223 voters elected Clarence B. Babath, 44, to the city commission, as its first Negro member in history.

Fort Valley, Ga. — Last week, Dr. Otis Wesley Smith, 33, was "granted" to leave this immediate area in preference to serving an eight month sentence for using "obscene" language in an argument with a white woman when, their phone lines became entangled.

Dallas, Tex. — A state charge of murder by abortion was filed in McKinney last week against Dr. F. Rodman Doyle, 60, in connection with the death of a 27-year-old Farmersville woman.

Washington, D.C. — Claude A. Barnett, director of the Associated Negro Press, recently presented to President Eisenhower an elaborately carved, circular brass tray, four feet across, on behalf of Fauzi Naas, noted artisan and artist of Tripoli, Libya. Naas designed the gift for the president.

Chicago — Negroes carrying signs reading, "Don't do business here This bank is unfair to Negro people who have millions on deposit here," picketed the First National Bank here last week. The bank has refused to hire Negroes as tellers, clerks, typists, and guards.

The picketing was sponsored by the Negro Labor Relations League, headed by the Rev. Earl Sardon who said Negroes have more than $16 million on deposit in the bank.

Corpus Christi—Candidates for the school board here have expressed the belief that integration of Negro teachers in the school system is inevitable.

Fourteen candidates, giving their views on various issues, agreed that study and careful planning should be applied to integrating Negro teachers. They agreed also that student integration has been carried out in local public schools in praiseworthy fashion.

The previous week Negroes had asked the school board to consider teacher integration.

Governor—We Seek to Guarantee Rights Of Each Individual

"We seek to guarantee our citizens the right to employment, to education, to housing, to the use of public accommodations, to health and welfare services and to the right to live in peace and dignity."

These were the words of Governor Herschel C. Loveless, as he spoke to the initial meeting of the Governor's commission on human relations, here Monday.

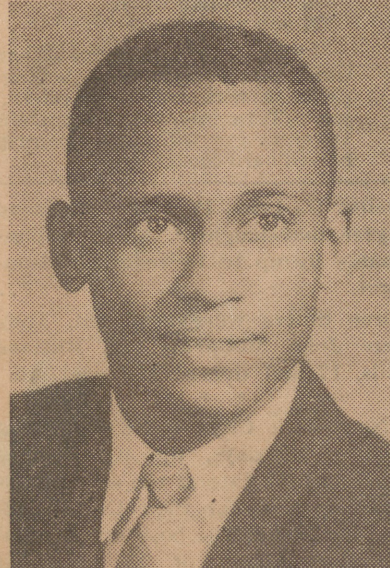

Explaining that the group's main role would be that of "watchdog," Loveless said, "A misunderstanding today may grow into a prejudice and discrimination."

Publishers Schedule 'Summit Meet' of 800 Negro Leaders

Cleveland, Ohio — Invitations to what promises to be the most significant gathering of Negro leadership in the past half-century were sent out last week to a select group of 800 influential Negro citizens by the National Newspaper Publishers Association, urging attendance at a summit meeting to be held in the Nation's Capitol, May 12 and 13.

Using the theme, "Freedom's Road Begins in The Nation's Capital", the publishers are calling upon outstanding leaders in religion, education, business, labor, politics and social welfare, to participate in two days of workshop sessions aimed at seeking a formula for national unity among Negroes in attaining the full economic and constitutional freedoms which have been opened up through recent U. S. Supreme Court decisions.

William O. Walker, editor of the Cleveland Call & Post and president of the publisher's group, in issuing the call, declared:

"As Negro newspaper editors, we believe that all leaders, through frank discussion, can, in a unified way, see clearly the direction we must take to attain our common goal of first-class citizenship."

Food Chains

More money was spent by households for fresh fruits and vegetables last year than ever before. Food chains with two or more stores sold $2.2 billion worth—10 percent of their total sales.

Malcolm Higgins, executive secretary of the Des Moines commission on Human Rights and Job Discrimination, was elected to a committee which will meet with the chairman and secretary more frequently than the regular quarterly meetings of the group.

Committee

Others of the seven-member committee are Luther T. Glanton, Jr., Des Moines attorney; Don E. Johnson, West Branch; Fred Morain, Jefferson editor and publisher Blaine Kuehl, Waukee; Larry Russell, Des Moines and Kenneth Everhart, Des Moines.

Acquits Defendant of Resisting Arrest at River Drowning Scene Aug. 12

At noon Wednesday, after nearly 12 hours of deliberation, the Polk County district jury still had not brought in a verdict on the Raymond Knox case. Following a three-day review in district court beginning last Friday, Apr. 11 and ending Tuesday afternoon, the jury had begun deliberations at 3:30 a.m. Tuesday to acquit or declare guilty. Knox, 41 of 223 Racoon Street who is charged with disturbing the peace by using profane language and resisting arrest, at the scene of a drowning Aug. 12.

BULLETIN

After nearly 15 hours of deliberations a Polk county district jury Wednesday afternoon found Raymond Knox guilty of one of two charges. Knox was found guilty of disturbing the peace by using profane language and acquitted of resisting arrest at the scene of a drowning in the Des Moines river last August 12. Judge Carroll O. Switzer set May 1 at 9 a.m. for sentencing Knox.

Knox, who became known as the "man in the river"—was found guilty last Aug. 29, 1957 by Municipal Judge Harry B. Grund and fined $10 on the first charge, sentenced to 15 days on the second and paroled for six months in the custody of his attorney, Henry T. McKnight.

Appealed

Immediately, McKnight appealed the case to district court. If the present jury fails to reach a verdict, Judge Carroll O. Switzer will have to dismiss it for that reason and another jury will be selected and the entire proceedings will have to be heard again. If Knox is acquitted, the verdict will reverse the ruling of the Municipal court. If found guilty, he will pay a $10 fine. In addition a $200,000 damage suit is pending. Knox filed the petition last Aug. 30 naming Lt. Frank Manny, Patrolmen Bruce Dyer and Ralph E. Baker as defendants, who he said assaulted him "without provocation."

Few Spectators

Unlike the Municipal court hearing, the courtroom was sparse with spectators—only a handful, most of them witnesses in the case. The witnesses and testimony presented were substantially the same—word for word in some instances—as that presented in the Municipal hearing last August.

Mrs. Knox

During the three days it took to review the case, Knox sat, leaning back in his chair with arms crossed on his chest, listening intently yet displaying no emotion to the favorable and unfavorable testimony. He only changed his position when his wife, Mrs. Mary Hilda Knox, took the stand to testify for him. When she began testifying he sat up, leaning forward a little.

Unprovoked Attack

In their summation arguments, Knox's attorneys, Henry T. McKnight and James Brad Morris, Jr., said "laws should be enforced . . . but on an impartial basis . . . and that the attack on Knox was "unprovoked, unnecessary and brutal." Morris said "It's a sad commentary on our city law officials" that "a man should get this kind of treatment" for showing manhood and guts.

Salad-of-the-Month

A recent contest sponsored by the packers of canned Japanese King Crabmeat gave crabmeat gelatin salad the first prize. This is, however, only one of the many ways you can serve these big, luscious chunks of king crabmeat.

The king crab is caught in the frigid depths of the North Pacific where it grows to giant size and is especially popular in salads, cocktails, sandwiches and spreads. Ready to eat when you open the can, Japanese King Crabmeat is ideal for tasty salads which abound in health-giving vitamins, proteins, iodine and minerals.

CRABMEAT GELATIN SALAD

1 1/2 oz. can Japanese King Crabmeat
1 tbs. unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1/4 cup boiling water
1/4 cup mayonnaise

Flake crabmeat, remove hard water and dissolve it in boiling water. Combine with crabmeat, celery, parsley, cucumber, salt and lemon juice. Turn into wet mold, chill. When firm, unmold on watercress. Decorate top with pimento strips in shape of a crab; garnish with halved hard cooked eggs.

(Jello) De Leon, 17, guilty of second degree manslaughter, which is punishable by up to 15 years imprisonment.

Three others were acquitted. They were John McCarthy, 15, Richard Hills, 17 and George Melendez, 16.

New York City—(CNS)—After a trial of 65 days, the windup has come and the fate of the seven teenagers on trial for their lives is expected shortly. The boys are on trial for the slaying of 15 year old Michael Farmer, polio victim, who was killed last summer as he sought to enter a swimming pool.

Many emotions were laid bare during the final summations as two defense attorneys flared up at each other accusing each other of damaging their cases.

SEEIN' STARS....

WITH DELORES CALVIN

with Delores Calvin

New York City — (Calvin News Service)—Though the title is appealing, "Lost In The Stars", the musical which opened at the City Center here, just isn't . . . Packed with famous stars and players, the musical is based on the play which performed on Broadway 8 years ago to rave notices . . . Then it was made into a motion picture which starred Canada Lee and Sidney Poitier . . . The name of it: "Cry The Beloved Country" . . .

Backed by the City Center orchestra, the score is by a genius, Kurt Weill and Maxwell Anderson . . . It's a production of the New York City Opera Company and the engagement is for a limited time only . . . Very limited, we are afraid . . .

Diahann Carroll

Diahann Carroll seems to have become a permanent fixture on the Jack Parr show and even Jack comments on her unusual gowns . . . One was an off the shoulder affair and Jack says "Wow—this is the lowest one we've had on the show yet" . . . Diahann chooses ballads which have a torch beat and she does them beautifully—except for a few annoying mannerisms which she injects into each one . . . A lovely girl with a lovely figure, though a bit thin, Diahann has become more and more internationally known as the months go by . . . She's heading right for the top.

Sammy Davis, Jr.

Sammy Davis

Sammy Davis, Jr. at the Apollo is busting out all over and even though the Easter season was nothing but rain, sleet and gloom, and continues so—Sammy is doing big biz . . . Another act might have suffered greatly . . . Still billed with the Will Mastin Trio despite his announcement that he would be going it alone from then on (this was at the Chez Paris in Chicago) — Sammy insisted the Trio's name get equal billing with himself, as always . . . With the happy group at the Apollo is chirper Fran Warren and supporters Coles & Atkins, dancing team, and Hortense Allen's chorus—she's the girl who once stated she had walked a million miles from her dressing rooms to the stage—and back . . . and chorus girls' rooms aren't on the ground floor, so we believed it . . .

James Edwards

It was said that just as actor James Edwards was set to appear in the "Climax" story on TV named "The Volcano Seat" with Michael Wilding, it was postponed . . . Wilding got pneumonia and was replaced, then the show suffered the technicians' strike which cancelled quite a few "live" ones . . .

Geoffrey Holder,

We were amazed to watch Geoffrey Holder, the famous artistic dancer of Broadway stage revues, namely "House of Flowers" try for the $16,000 ques. on "The $64,000" and win . . . We had no idea Geoffrey is such a wizard in things other than dancing—and to hear him rattle off information on movies, their titles, players, directors and important dates, etc. is really something we hadn't figured on . . . Tall, with the Yul Brynner cut, Geoffrey is an oddity in appearance enough to be well remembered . . . If luck stays with him clear up to $64,000 and even beyond, he'll be made as far as his career is concerned . . . Appearing on these TV quiz shows opens many doors for its contestants as it is a severe test of knowledge and the does much for race relations in a quiet, unobtrusive way."

Honor Society

His achievements in the dramatic world has won for him membership in Theta Alpha Phi, national drama fraternity, one of the few Negroes to be selected. In addition he is a member of the Poetry Reading group of Drake university, Des Moines Regional Drama Workshop and Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic fraternity.

Church Officers

A member and steward of Bethel AME church where he teaches a Sunday School class, White received his formal education at North High, Drake university and Washington and Lee university. He has been a Mason for five years of the Order of the North Star No. 2.

A selective reader, White likes poetry, history, historical novels, westerns and mysteries. Of poets, he prefers James W. Johnson, William Cullen Bryant, Sam Walter Foss, Robert Burns and Edgar Allan Poe.

Golf and Chess

Also he is an enthusiast of golf, chess and hunting. He even trained his own bird dog, a thoroughbred of five international champions, that he named Sir Buffington of White acre.

Family

A devoted family man, White and his wife, Ruth, are the parents of three daughters, Mrs. Robert Stovall, Mrs. Phil Dudley, and Jill, 14, a student at Amos Hiatt junior high.

Juveniles

On juvenile delinquency, White, who has been a postal clerk for 11 years at the Main post office, "feels there is no such thing as juvenile delinquency . . . but is inclined to think of adult delinquency . . . because the breakdown of family life and attitudes and acts of adults . . . contribute most to the situation."

His solution, "would be to conduct a cleared survey of contributing causes and then acting to eliminate the ills as a matter of community-mindedness."

public appreciates brains as well as talent . . . Geoffrey however never achieved the fame we would expect of him, though married to a very talented dancer, Carmen . . . The two do skits at the Roxy Theatre whenever colorful calypsos are wanted . . . (Geoffrey is from Trinidad originally) . . . the couple also led the cast in Duke Ellington's TV drama last year. . . .

Nat Cole

Ed Sullivan expects a very high Trendex rating when Nat King Cole comes to sing "St. Louis Blues" . . . Incidentally, Jane Powell's arrangement of the famous Handy blues is one of her features at the Plaza Hotel's Persian Room where she's appearing nightly. Sophie Tucker, who's most famous number was "Some of These Days", penned by a Negro, was at the ringside. . . .

"warrants a verdict of guilty . . . because laws are not just made for white people . . . they are made for colored, too."

"Police Sore"

McKnight said "I am not talking about colored laws or white laws . . . I'm talking about the rights of individuals."

"The police were sore because they had failed in carrying out their duty (referring to the drowning rescue) and took it out on Knox," he went on.

Began Aug. 12

The entire legal procedure was precipitated on the evening of Aug. 12. On that day Knox testified he had gone to the scene of a drowning (after learning of it on his car radio) near the Scott Street bridge to assist in the recovery of the body of the 16-year-old victim. He said he entered the river after getting an "OK" from nearby policemen.

On Bridge

Following the recovery of the body, Knox said he went on top of the bridge, and was preparing to go home with his wife, after being questioned by persons in the crowd that had been attracted to the scene, when he was approached by then Patrolmen William Pennington, (now serving a six month jail term for larceny).

Arrested

Denying he had used loud and profane language, Knox said Pennington threatened to arrest him if he didn't go home and he (Knox) answered "If you want to arrest me, there is nothing I can do to stop you."

Derogatory Remark

Knox said Pennington turned around, arrested him and took him to the police car. On the way to the police station Knox said Lt. Manny made a derogatory remark about members of his race. He said the "beating" started when he leaned forward to inquire what Manny had said, and claimed he only struck back once, and that in self defense.

"Beaten Up"

He claimed that he was "beaten up" by Lt. Manny, Patrolmen Bruce Dyer, and Ralph E. Baker, who used fists and saps on him in the car and later struck him on the head and kicked him in the ribs at the police station. There he was taken upstairs and booked on charges of resisting arrest and disturbing the peace by using loud and profane language.

41 Stitches

He said that 41 stitches were taken in his hands and face to close

Dallas Honors Ralph Bunche

Dallas — Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, under secretary of the United Nations and former Nobel Peace Prize winner was honored at a luncheon

DR. BUNCHE

Wednesday, April 9, by the Dallas Association of the United Nations, following an address at Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist university.

Dr. Bunche was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for his work in settling the Middle East dispute after the assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte, the U. N. mediator he succeeded.

The wounds, a defense witness, Dr. James R. Stewart, an interne at Broadlawn General hospital where Knox was taken by police following booking at city jail, testified that he had taken 16 stitches in two lacerations on the back of Knox head.

Knox finished his testimony Tuesday about 11 a.m. after he had taken the stand the previous day about 3:20 p.m.

Case Began Friday

The appeals case began early Friday morning when Pennington who made the original arrest, took the stand as the prosecution's first witness.

Pennington testified that he had arrested Knox on the Scott Street bridge because he was using loud and profane language directed to the officers."

Admitted Hitting

Patrolman Dyer testified he and officers in the squad car hit Knox when he (Knox) hit Manny and started using profane language.

Under cross examination Dyer admitted he hit Knox "so many times he . . . couldn't remember," that Knox was "shoved out of the car . . . hit three or four times by Manny, knocking him down. He said Knox was bleeding but that it had stopped when they (police) got him upstairs for booking."

Other Police

Three other policemen Patrolmen Baker, and Gerald Lemke and Sgt. Manny — appeared as prosecution witnesses Friday, testifying Knox had cursed them and said they would have to "whip" him to arrest him.

Ray Carney . . . Two persons, Ray Carney, KIOA newsmen and Dean Erickson, of 611 S. E. 18th Street testified Knox had

Paul Robeson Honored on 60th Birthday by Chicagoans Sends Telegram to India

Chicago, Ill. — "Recent concerts have been warmly received at last in this country of my birth, and I am proudly nurtured in the bosom of my closest kin — the American Negro people."

These were the words included in a cablegram from Paul Robeson to the people of India April 9 on the occasion of that nation's celebration of his 60th birthday. Mr. Robeson arrived in Chicago in the midst of arrangements that include six days of speaking engagements, concert appearances, and receptions planned by various groups in his honor, starting with his birthday on April 9.

World Tribute

Mr. Robeson's itinerary while in Chicago began with a celebration given in his honor by the American-Soviet Friendship Council. Simultaneously, far from the shores of Lake Michigan, people in other countries like France, England, Russia as well as India paid tribute to this man who is known the world over for his artistry, dignity and humane endeavors.

India

Prime Minister Nehru, in imploring all of India to join in observing Mr. Robeson's birthday declared, "this occasion deserves celebration because he (Mr. Robeson) has represented and suffered for a cause which should be dear to all of us—the cause of human dignity."

Public Reception

Chicago's Negro community will close its arms around Mr. Robeson, the man who before a Congressional Committee, shook his hands in the face of Mississippi's white-supremacist Eastland and lectured him on discrimination and the right of Negroes. Climaxing his stay in Chicago was a free public reception by the Chicago Negro community at the Parkway Ball Room.

Woman Files $250,000 Suit Against Five Detroit Policemen

Detroit Mich.—A $250,000 civil suit charging five policemen caused her "great anxiety, mental harm, humiliation, embarrassment and disgrace" was filed in Circuit Court Saturday by Mrs. June Simpson.

Struck Her

Mrs. Simpson charged in her suit that the officers struck her, used vile language and unlawfully detained her during and after the arrest of her husband, Jack, for reckless driving last June.

Named in the suit were Patrolmen Ervill Goolsby, George Van Landeghem, Rudolph Vidmart, Marvin Gillespie and Donald Glisman. They were members of a McClellan Station cruiser crew which arrested Simpson at McDougall and East Jefferson June 19.

Husband Innocent

Charged with resisting an officer, Simpson, a postal clerk, was found innocent by a Recorder's Court jury in January.

In her suit, Mrs. Simpson said that when she asked why her husband had been stopped, Goolsby raised his hand to strike her. Her husband intervened and was beaten.

Hawkeye Lodge No. 160, Rose Temple No. 33 Hold Annual Thanksgiving Services Sunday April 13 at Mount Olive Baptist Church

The Hawkeye Lodge No. 160 and Rose Temple No. 33 of Des Moines, Iowa held their Annual Thanksgiving Service Sunday April 13th at Mt. Olive Baptist Church.

The new $20,000 Mt. Olive Baptist Church was filled to capacity. The Hawkeye Elks wore their colorful Fezzes, uniforms & capes.

Choir

The service was opened by the choir, singing: "Angles Watching Over Me". Prayer was by Rev. Thomas Pack. The welcoming remarks were by Miss. Catherine McFarland.

Master of Ceremonies James Rhodes, speaking for the lodge, said that he and the Hawkeye Elks were delighted when they received the invitation from Mt. Olive to worship there on the Elks Annual Thanksgiving Day.

Exalted Ruler

Exalted Ruler John Williams explained that the Elks set aside the second Sunday of April each year as a day to give thanks to God for the blessings bestowed upon us, and for the progress the Elks are making in our grand city. He also praised his officers and grand officers for the co-operation they are giving him, and with continued support, the Elks will go forward. He said;

"A man that has never made a mistake, never did anything."

Daughter Ruler

Daughter Ruler, Mrs. Helen Williams, of Rose Temple No. 33 presented her officers and grand officers, also the officers of our Youth Group. Mrs. Williams said that "we Elks are proud of the Educational Division of our lodge".

Each year they grant a scholarship to some worthy American boy or girl for outstanding achievement in their school work. She said that the youth of today will be our leaders of tomorrow; "For blessed are those than can give without remembering, and take without forgetting".

Sermon

The sermon was delivered by Rev. H. R. Fields, pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist Church. He delivered an inspiring sermon, and everybody rejoiced in singing with the choir. Dr. Julian Mason, Illustrious Potentate of Zeid Temple, gave a brief talk on health.

Daughter Bernice Carter, chairman of the Mid West Education Division, made the announcement that the Oratorical Contest would be Thursday, April 17th at 8:00 P. M. at Union Baptist Church. Public invited.

Says Ministers Speaking for Integration in South on Sun. May Land in Jail on Monday

Durham, N. C.—Full use must be made of the ballot in the South if there is to be religious freedom in that region, an NAACP official declared here.

Addressing a state-wide interfaith meeting of churchmen on April 9, Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP's Washington bureau, asserted that southern "pastors who preach about integration on Sunday may find themselves in jail on Monday." He called for "enough votes to halt political persecution of clergymen who speak out in favor of upholding the United States Constitution."

Incidents

Mr. Mitchell cited a number of incidents reflecting a denial of religious freedom in the South.

Africa 1958

Declares Independent Ghana Is Symbol of 'New Africa'

FOREIGN MISSION BOARD, N. B. C., U. S. A., INC..

The Second Of A Series Of Articles
By Dr. C. C. Adams, Secretary

MONROVIA, Liberia: What is Africa today compared to the Africa I saw in 1945 when I made my first trip here? The change is like one from the gloom of night to the rosy dawn of morning. The change overtaxes the imagination and can simply, in the best terms, be described as "The New Africa".

In 1945

In 1945 the people were listless and without hope. There was not even a whisper or hint of nationalism, freedom or self government. This was the height and the beginning of the climax, and the close of World War II. This event brought with it a new conception of men and nations. This was a war which brought nations together as comrades or contestants.

History Rebirth

Through this conflict, history for Africa was born again. The people gained new evaluations of and respect for each other. Thence came the sacredness of human personality. The idea of the dignity of man had a new birth. Africa also witnessed her rebirth and began a conscious new life and demanded her true place in the family of the sons of God.

Value Resources

Now new visions and hope reign supreme. Education and knowhow are being sought throughout the world. Africa is now beginning to realize the value of her great resources, how she has been exploited, and she is now determined to utilize their benefits more fully. Africa also realizes her many unchanneled resources and plans to do something harnessing the rivers and developing the vast oil deposits recently discovered.

Despite the exploitations by other nations in the past, Africa has benefited in know how. This, of course, verifies the truth that no one can benefit himself without helping others.

Ghana

Importantly, the real, living symbol of "The New Africa" is Ghana. It is the symbol of freedom of all Africa, for all Negroes everywhere. But this is a time for caution, much sober planning, hard work and unselfish sacrifice. The eyes of the world are watching with varying emotions while Premier Nkrumah and Ghana are walking the tight rope of experimentation; the great and awful chasm of newness and inexperience in self government.

5-Year Plan

Nkrumah's five-year plan of three million dollars, to develop and diversify agriculture and build small industry, seems wise and not overly ambitious. He seems to avoid the mistakes common to new drivers to exceed the speed limit. It is felt that his future plans call for the development of the numerous mineral deposits of the Volta river, and the control of this river for electrical power as a sound basis for the economic independence of the nation.

Outside Investment

Since this will cost hundreds of millions of dollars, they hope in Ghana for outside investment and help. If Ghana will but walk with her hand clasped in the outstretched hand of God, hers will be a glorious experiment and shining symbol to all Negroes.

Bishop for Congress

The latest entry into the Democratic 5th District congressional primary race, Wally Bishop of Ames, is well known to central Iowa television audiences. He's been a television newscaster at WOI TV for six years and is the senior television newscaster in the state of Iowa.

Bishop has invited 5 members of our community to join his Polk county Committee of 100. The committee, representing most Democratic groups in Polk county, is now being organized.

Bishop said, "Only by getting a representative group together may we gain the support which will insure our success in the June 2 Democratic primary."

Bishop says he is an earnest supporter of fair employment practices, and anti-discrimination legislation. He intends to join in support of drastic revision of the "anti-labor" Taft-Hartley act, favors tax equalization, and says he may be counted solidly in the Midwestern Democratic farm bloc, which is expected to gain strength strongly in November elections.

3 Missouri Girls Win L. U. Journalism Essay Competition

Jefferson City, Mo.—A free, color-blind world of peace stands before Paula Ann Morris as the one she would like to help build when she moves from her teens into adulthood.

Her 1,000-word essay on "The Kind of World I Want to Help Build" won for Miss Morris, Central High School student in Kansas City, Mo., first prize of $100 in the 8th annual National Scholastic Essay contest conducted by the Lincoln University Department of Journalism.

No Boy Winners

No boy contestant reached the money in this contest. Charlotte Sue Meyer, of Jefferson City (Mo.) senior high school, copped the $50 second prize, and a Carthage (Mo.) high school senior, Judy Jeffery, won the third prize of $25.

Banquet

The three winners received their awards at the 10th annual Headliner Week banquet, Wednesday, in the Lincoln University Cafeteria. Toastmaster for the occasion was L. Alex Wilson, editor of the Tri-State Defender of Memphis, Tenn. Banquet speaker was William O. Walker, editor and co-owner of the Cleveland (Ohio) Call and Post.

EASTER ASSEMBLY UNITES RACES IN SOUTH AFRICA

Umtata, South Africa—In a tense national situation where opposing political parties fight bitterly against each other and African leaders plan a national strike on the eve of the General Election, a Moral Re-Armament Assembly of different races met over Easter in Umtata, capital of the Transkei. The Assembly was held at the invitation of the Paramount Chiefs of Tembuland and Western Pondoland.

William Nkomo, founder and first president of the African National Congress Youth League, opening the Assembly, said, "We are starting the second three hundred years of history in South Africa and we are starting under the leadership of God."

Teaching Child Fundamental Rules of Bicycle Safety, Competence is Important for Him, Others

Written by Lloyd Lovell, SUI Assistant Professor

BICYCLE SAFETY

When I was a boy my father had an adult-sized bicycle which he rode occasionally. One day I decided to surprise him by learning to ride it while he was at work.

I surprised him, all right—and myself. I tore my pants leg getting it caught in the chain. It had not occurred to me that a bike had to be stopped somehow—I managed to do it by running into a tree and bending the front wheel. I altered a neighbor's flowerbeds, too, during my misadventure.

First Bike

A first bike is a big adventure for most children, and the occasion brings plenty of thrills and spills. Learning to ride involves not only developing the necessary physical skill, but developing the judgmental skill needed to use the bike wisely and safely. Parents can help their children learn both of these required lessons.

To School

Many schools request that children wait until reaching a certain age to bring bikes to school. Some schools offer tests of cycling proficiency. Most towns have special traffic regulations regarding proper use of bicycles.

Parents can help their children use the bike wisely if they inform themselves of school and town regulations about bikes, and if they support the spirit of these rules. They can make sure that their children understand the reasons for these rules, and the importance of abiding by them.

Competence

Parents can make sure the child has demonstrated his competence with the bike before granting him unrestricted use of it. In many towns parents may wish to confine its use to areas free of traffic until the child can use it safely.

A bike that is not in good repair is unsafe, of course. Parents can help their child learn the essentials of maintaining the bike in good condition, and can make sure that handlebars, seat height and the like are proper for the child's size and skill. These preparations can increase the fun and safety of the bike for the child.

V.F.W. Auxiliary to Sponsor Free Trip to Knoxville to Visit Vets

The Roy Leonard Roland V.F.W. Auxiliary No. 5487 is sponsoring a free trip to Knoxville, Ia., to entertain veterans on Friday night, April 18. Anyone desiring to go be at the Crocker YMCA, 14th and Keo at 6 p.m. or at Quigley Pharmacy at East 14th street and Walker at 6:45 p.m.

Center got its start during the time of World War I—and how the center got its start during the time of World War I—and how the center outgrew its program in the building at Fifteenth and Crocker Streets—and when the center changed its name and moved into the new building at Seventeenth and Crocker Streets—Mrs. Johnson was there—as one of the board members—welcoming the 1,500 or more guests who jammed the Willkie House building for the opening program.

Whether it is garden club activities—the arranging of flowers or the planting of shrubs; or, art club interest—books of the month—NAA-CP membership drive—Delta Sigma Theta Sorority pledging—St. Paul AME Church's William Sampson-Brooks Missionary Society doings—one person you always expect to be present—is Mrs. Johnson.

Some of the extra time she has to give in volunteer service can be credited to her husband, Fred. If I remember accurately, I think she has to cook for him only one day of the week—and that is on his day off from his employment. So—both should be congratulated!

TABLE TRICKS: Tea for the Bride-To-Be

Pot holders come to the tea table without blushing when the occasion is an informal tea and shower for the bride-to-be. Willing hands will make short work of finishing the pot holders when you place them on the table, along with needles and thread, tape or rickrack edgings that will be sewn on while the guests chatter.

"An informal tea table can be just as pretty as a formal one," according to Catherine Gray, Postoria Glass consultant on table settings. "And of course, every woman appreciates the ease with which such a table can be prepared."

Tall tapers on the tea table reflect the glow from a polished table top and prettily etched glassware. A large oval cut from pastel-colored linen (or a lace doily) is the only cloth that is used on the table—a different and effective touch. To make the floral arrangement, place roses, an assortment of broad green leaves, and tall white tapers in a glass garden set. This usable piece consists of a low bowl with removable flower block and individual candle holders which are also removable. You'll bring the bowl to your table often, to serve cookies, cake, salad, canapés or berries.

Personal Touch

By MARIE ROSS

Congratulations to Mrs. Fred (Adah) H. Johnson, 817 Thirteenth Street, who has been named the second United Community Services Distinguished Volunteer Award winner for her outstanding long-time volunteer work in community service. She is truly deserving of the award.

Although her years of community service (if strung out) total 79 years, not including her volunteer work—chat with Mrs. Johnson and she can tell you much of the progress that has been made in Des Moines since she was a girl—playing and entertaining friends at her late parents' home—the B. N. Hydes on Thirteenth Street.

Nearly all of the organizations that have come into being into Des Moines—for the social, civic or community benefits—Mrs. Johnson has served in some capacity.

I recall the first time I met Mrs. Johnson was in the spring of 1939 just after I had come to Des Moines, one of her clubs was holding a breakfast on the lawn of Mrs. Nellie Esters at 1425 Center Street. Mrs. Johnson was active then on various committees of Blue Triangle Branch YWCA, which was located at 1407 Center until it went out of existence with the YWCA's integration program in 1946.

Later Mrs. Johnson was secretary of the Blue Triangle Branch YWCA, where I resided seven of the eighteen that I lived in Des Moines.

When World War II started—and the Keo-Way USO center opened where the Crocker Branch YMCA is now located, Mrs. Johnson was there, heading the operating committee of the club. As one of the volunteer hostesses, we, along with dozens of other Des Moines women and girls helped to make the USO Center a cheerful place for the many WAC's, soldiers and sailors who came into Des Moines from nearby bases. Mrs. Johnson made many trips to the WAC Center at Fort Des Moines, which always reminded her of the days when she was a girl—and the young women of Des Moines planned entertainment for the World War I officers in training at the Fort—and the soldiers at Camp Dodge.

Just talk with her and she will tell you how the Negro Community

Rhubarb Meringue Pie For the Man in Your Life

IT IS AN AXIOM THAT THE WAY TO A MAN'S HEART is through his stomach. Taking advantage of a package of quick-frozen rhubarb, sweetened condensed milk and pie crust mix off the pantry shelf, you can whip up a delectable rhubarb meringue pie in jig time.

The recipe for this creation shows how easy it can be. Frozen rhubarb is always in season and needs only a few minutes cooking. The 15-ounce can of condensed milk, lemon juice and rind are blended thoroughly; then add the egg yolks and pieces. Once the rhubarb is cooled, combine with the condensed milk mixture. Presto! the filling is ready for the baked pie shell. On top goes a cloud of meringue and the pie is whisked to the oven for a brief browning.

RHUBARB MERINGUE PIE

- | | |
|---|------------------------------|
| 1 9-inch pie shell, baked and cooled | 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind |
| 1 package frozen rhubarb cups (1 15-oz. can) Eagle Brand sweetened condensed milk | 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon |
| 1/2 cup lemon juice | 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg |
| | 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten |
| | 2 egg whites |
| | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| | 1/2 cup sugar |

Cook rhubarb according to package directions. Drain well. Cool. Blend sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice and rind until mixture thickens. Add slightly beaten egg yolks, cinnamon and nutmeg; mix thoroughly. Fold in rhubarb. Pour filling into shell. Beat egg whites and salt until soft peaks are formed. Add sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time; continue to beat egg whites until smooth and shiny. Cover filling with meringue attaching well to shell edges to prevent shrinking. Bake in slow oven (325° F.) about 15 minutes or until meringue is lightly browned. Cool about 2 hours before serving. (ANP)

INTEGRATION PROPOSAL
IN ARKANSAS

A group of citizens in Little Rock has come up with a plan to end the stalemate in integration in Arkansas. The movement is headed by Herbert L. Thomas, Sr.; millionaire insurance man, who while chairman of the board of trustees of the University of Arkansas, permitted the first Negro to enter the University law school and paved the way to admission of Negroes to the eight tax supported schools of higher learning in that state.

This program provides: "Negroes would withdraw all pending integration suits in Arkansas; segregationists would stop harassing Negro students at Central High; with the approval of federal court, a biracial commission would be named to meet with each local school board and help it work out its own program for meeting the Supreme Court's 1954 order to integrate 'with all deliberate speed.' Starting time for the 'voluntary progress' plan: the opening of school next fall."

It is laudable that somebody has the courage to get the program off dead center but unfortunately the first step would be a back down—a compromise—which would set a dangerous precedent for other states to emulate. The cases could be held up pending good faith showing by school boards and officials.

There has been entirely too much compromise all along—a course which has mitigated against the success of the program. There is no such thing as compromising the law. And as much as every good citizen wants to see integration succeed, it must not be done on that basis.

RIGHTS COMMISSION
GETS ORGANIZED

The commission on human rights set up by Gov. Loveless has held its first meeting. The membership is large and cumbersome and yet, spread over a large area, members may help in interesting more people in its success.

Included among the membership are some who have had a genuine interest in "rights" programs and it will be their responsibility to educate those who have little idea what it is all about.

In a speech before the body defining its scope of operations Gov. Loveless said:

"The fundamental purpose of this commission is to help every citizen of our state—whatever his religious, national, racial or economic background—enjoy the fullest extent of the privileges and benefits of citizenship.

Of course, the commission has no power to do other than call attention to discriminatory practices, urge their correction and possibly help put some backbone in law enforcement officials, to enforce laws in existence.

The Bystander hopes for the success of the commission. And it can be of service if members take their responsibility seriously.

Davenport, Iowa—Nolden Gentry and Dave Gunther Thursday night were named co-captains of the Iowa basketball team for the 1958-59 season. The selection was disclosed at the Iowa Boosters dinner.

Gentry is a 6-foot 7-inch sophomore who starred as a prep at West High School at Rockford, Ill. He was honorable mention on the Associated Press All-Big Ten selections.

L. U. Tigers Place
Second in Missouri
U. Tract Meet

Columbia, Mo. (Special) — Participating in their second meet of the season, Lincoln's Tigers placed in Missouri's triangular event here last Thursday.

Although handicapped by a leg injury, Lincoln's Louis Watkins took broadjump honors with a leap of 23 feet, 6½ inches. Earlier, Coach Dwight Reed had advised him to "take it easy in order to avoid putting too much stress on the leg. Watkins who was disqualified in the Drake Relays in 1956 will appear in Des Moines for the relays April 25-26.

Two other Lincoln thinclads — Robert Perkins and Richard Taylor captured firsts in their events.

Perkins sailed around the track to cop the 440 in 48.6; Taylor cleared the high jump bar at 6 feet 4 inches for top honors.

Lincoln wound up with 41 points for the day; Missouri scored 101; and Kirkville trailed with 20.

It was the season's first outdoor meet for the three teams; the first ever held on the new track at Memorial stadium at the University of Missouri; and the first the Lincoln and the University of Missouri had competed against each other in track.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

Is there anybody in Des Moines who doesn't know that the San Francisco Giants and the Cleveland Indians played a ball game here at the league park last Saturday? Well, just about every one who could get into the ball park was there, and a whole host of people were trying to get into the thing when the game was half over.

Your illustrious scribbler was just about sold on the Valley Relays, when he met the whole gang at Claudine's where he had stopped for a cup of coffee. It wasn't much of a job to recognize them as the visiting baseball players. You could tell Willie Mays anywhere you saw him. And the way the gang was eating! A breakfast that the average man would have to leave half finished, was just a light meal for them.

Pool Game

Then they went down to the pool hall, and that was the first free for all pool game we ever saw. They had themselves a time knocking the balls around, and one or two of them could play pretty well. By that time we were curious as to why they didn't stay downtown and eat or whatever they wanted to until game time. So we asked. We were told that it was good to get off by themselves once in a while, and that was what they were doing.

Willie Mays

We guess everybody got a good look at them and most of them were probably as surprised as we were at how small Willie Mays looked in his street clothes. In fact, all of them looked much smaller in their casual dress than they did later in their uniforms.

Even Larry Doby looked rather slender, and he is no small man.

Baseball Fans

There isn't much to say about the game itself. It was an interesting dual with just about a little of everything people like to see in a baseball game. Some good fielding in spots, some good long range hitting, and some tight pitching at times. But the daily papers covered the game, and what they didn't say, those who were there did tell their friends, so what can we say. But the whole show proves that Des Moines baseball fans will come out to see what promises to be good baseball.

Track

Brother Cecil is really cleaning up on Jim Hutchinson. Has a standing bet with a fellow down town on each of Jim's individual performances. To date the fellow is way behind and losing ground each week. The speed merchant added three more races to his collection last week and skipped the Valley Relays. Al Collier finished second in the hundred to an Ames lad. Most of East High's runners gave a good ac-

HEALTH FOR ALL

BETTER THAN NONE

Here's further proof that the female of the species is stronger than the male. Women get along better with one lung than men do. They aren't singing, "I get along without you very well." But they do seem better able to manage with only half the standard equipment.

Male Fatality Higher

This, at any rate, was found to be the case with tuberculosis patients in a Washington hospital. In a recent study a group of patients who had been through the radical surgery were followed up. Only 11 per cent of the women had died, while 27 per cent of the men died. The women also suffered less restriction of physical activity as the result of the operation.

Discovery

TB can—and should—be discovered in an early stage before it has done damage so widespread as to require radical surgery. If you make a practice of having a regular physical check-up, your doctor will have a chance to spot any possible trouble before it goes too far.

Hurricane Jackson
Longs for Comeback

New York City—(CNS)—If Hurricane Jackson, the big guy who was so badly beaten last November 13th by Eddie Machen, gets back into this fight business, it'll be mostly his mother's doings. Mrs. Jackson, who used to cook for the camp wherever her son went, is doing most of the pushing—and she's determined her boy is ready now to show them he's a good fighter.

Needs Money

Then, too, Hurricane confides he needs the money. And his friends have shied away since he lost the last one. Now he wants to get back in the ring and back in the limelight. He loved it when he was a popular guy and the press and fans followed him. So Hurricane has his personal reasons too.

"Sick List"

But first—he'd have to get off the New York State Commission's "sick list" where they have listed him as "unavailable" since his last fight. To do this, Hurricane would have to undergo a complete physical. His mother insists he can pass with flying colors. The California Commission, which suspended his license, will make the physical extra tough if he count of themselves, and we still say watch them, come the state meet trials and finals. Will plan to be there.

Drake Relays

Next week is the umpteenth running of the Drake Relays. Hope you plan to be there. Time was when you could go out to or call the Relays Headquarters and find out just about what Negroes would be there. But time changed all that. Now you can't even find out all of the Negro schools unless you happen to know them. The custom of not mentioning a fellow's race has done away with necessary feature stories concerning Negroes. Now the winner in each race gets his dues, no matter who he is. But we shall be on hand to see what the daily papers miss and tell what we can about the also rans who happen to be Negroes. See you out there.

Pinson is Top Rookie
Prospect for Majors

Tampa, Fla. — The top-rated Negro rookie with the most promise and potential, and perhaps the one who is attracting the most attention, for major league baseball is Vada Edward Pinson, 19-year-old outfielder in the training camp of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Pinson, whose experience has been limited to Class C competition in the California State League, is not on the Redlegs' roster; but manager Birdie Tebbetts values him highly.

Second Season

In his second season in organized baseball, Pinson batted .367 for the Visalia club last year. He socked 20 round trippers, batted in 97 runs and was the league leader in doubles (40) and triples (20).

Pro-Debut

In his pro-debut two seasons ago tries to make a comeback.

"I Got to Fight"

Despite all the odds, Hurricane still won't give up. "I got to fight," he says earnestly. "I'm no made fighter. I'm a natural fighter." He hasn't forgotten that night with Floyd Patterson and certainly not the night with Eddie Machen. But still he trains—and diligently. He trains when no one asked him to start—not even his manager—because he's still determined to get back in the ring.

CHRISTIAN LIVING

In reverence . . . our heartfelt praise
Flows out to greet our peace-filled days.

The fruitful harvest fills our store:
Gifts from the One whom we adore.
He lifts our spirit—fills our need Each silent prayer, our Lord will heed.

Through-out this day of praise and prayer
As spirit strives, to reach up there:
Each spoken Grace . . . or hidden dream

Speaks of our constant, fervent theme:

"Help us, dear Lord—to be understood
To share good-will and brotherhood.
Let us find full favor in Thy sight,
And know Thy healing, guiding light.
Lord, keep us faithful and forgiving
And to be true symbols of christian living . . .

A FEW DECADES AGO

My heart is filled with melodies

special batting coach for the Cubs.
Last season Banks hit 43 home-runs, just one short of major league batting champion of last year, Hank Aaron.

Started Slow

The contention is that if Banks had not started slowly last year he would have hit a dozen more home-runs and thus become the first National league shortstop in history to win the coveted homerun title.

"In the past," Banks said, "I've had a tendency to swing at bad balls early in the season. I'm working with Hornsby to determine the strike zone better. And I'm working to hit more to right field when pitchers throw away from my power. I've popped up a lot in the past trying to pull pitches on the outside of the plate to left."

Highest Paid

Ernie is currently the highest paid player on the Cub's roster and is starting his fifth full season in the majors all with the Chicago Cubs.

He joined the Cubs after he was purchased from the Kansas City
Monarchs late in the 1953 season.

Cancer Vaccine

Dr. John R. Heller, director of the National Cancer Institute, states that research scientists are on the verge of major break-throughs in the war against cancer. One may be a vaccine producing immunization.

Ernie Banks

Poor timing of baseball's greatest hitters and a with Wausau (Wis.) in the Northern League he hit a homerun his first time up. He played first base for Wausau after a high school career as a pitcher. He attended the same high school in Oakland that produced Bill Russell of basketball fame and Cincinnati's Frank Robinson.

Building a Greater Iowa

America's Most Literate State

The people of Iowa stand first in the nation in literacy . . . truly a tribute to our fine schools!

To maintain such schools requires substantial and continuing tax support. And the brewing industry is proud of the fact that it contributes in taxes each year more than the combined total of all direct state aid to our schools. Direct state aid totals $22,881,500 . . . while taxes last year derived from beer sold in Iowa were $25,300,000. These substantial taxes from the brewing industry reduce the rates everyone has to pay in income, real estate, and other taxes; or, put in another way, they add to the revenue available for better schools. Here again, we can truly say . . .

...the Brewing Industry
helps build Iowa
