Negro Leaders Criticize President

Va...to Close..or Integrate Public Schools

Washington, D. C.—To close . . . or integrate . . . its public schools . . . is the question facing Virginia after the Supreme Court refused to review an appeal Monday—in effect losing its battle of the community against the state.

Seven Students

Soon after seven students brought suit in Arlington, Va. for admittance to white schools, the state passed laws requiring the closing of any school that admits a member of another race and automatically cuts off state school aid to the county, even if the county is complying with a federal law.

Divided Citizens

However, the integration battle has launched something unusual for southerners in Arlington, which is located near Washington and boasts one of the best public school systems in the nation. The unusualness is that educational authorities within the county are divided—the school board members are resigned to a temporary school closure while P.T.A. Council president and 22 other civic leaders in the county have organized a committee to preserve the public school system.

Other States

Other southern states who have similar laws requiring closing of schools pending outcome of legal suits are South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi. Two other stubborn states—Florida and Louisiana—have laws permitting closing of schools under the state's police powers.

25 Days

Since Virginia has 25 days to ask for a reconsideration it is not likely that the seven students will apply for admittance at the door of the Arlington county schools until next September.

NAACP Denounces Powell's 'Racism'

New York, N. Y.—Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, today issued the following statement on Representative Adam Clayton Powell's address at a rally sponsored by the NAACP on Saturday May 17, when the Congressman issued a warning to certain political figures against "walking the streets of Harlem."

The NAACP wishes to disassociate itself completely from the threats made by Powell or the Powell organization against any person's right to go freely about the City of New York or about the nation.

The most important right in America is the right of a group or of a single individual to differ with others. If anyone threatened Powell's right to walk the streets of Yorkville or of Greenwich Village unmolested, he and his followers—and we—would promptly request police protection, if not that of the FBI.

As for his support of Eisenhower in 1956, we know of other Democrats elsewhere in the nation who did not support the Democratic ticket in that election and who have not been dropped by the party.

The NAACP is not in partisan politics. The trouble between Powell and the New York County Democratic organization will have to be settled by contests between party members and party factions. That is not our business and we repudiate any effort by Powell or anyone else to drag our name into it.

In addition we deplore and disassociate ourselves from the banner of extreme racialism raised by Powell in his May 17th address. If Negro citizens are to win permanent victory in the long run, we must be consistent. We cannot condemn racism in others while using it ourselves.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Marshall, Tex.—Dr. T. W. Cole, former dean of instruction has been elevated to the office of president, effective July 1 and replacing Dr. J. S. Scott, president 10 years who is retiring at the age limit.

Seattle, Wash.—Police patrolman Milton V. Price and his wife, Bernice, lost their suit last month against a cemetery for its refusal to bury their three-year-old son, a drowning victim. Attorneys for Evergreen cemetery argued that 8000 plots already sold since 1921 limited burial rights to whites.

Tulsa, Okla.—Will Wooders, a holdup victim who could not remember his age, testified in court last week how his "God's Head" came told him the identity of the man who robbed him of $1. He held the long crooked stick in his left hand rubbed it with his right hand, and asked for spiritual help. Pointing the stick straight in front of him, Wooders asked "Is this Sam Hamilton who robbed me?" The stick bounced up and down, a movement Wooders said meant "yes."

New York, N. Y.—Thirty-three member colleges of the United Negro College Fund will receive $33,000 and seven other non-member colleges will receive $1,000 each, as a portion of a $2,000,000 educational grant announced by the United States Steel Foundation.

New York—Margaret Grant, 21, a Hunter College senior became the first Negro to be hired as a stewardess for international flights by Trans World Airlines. She will begin training following graduation next month.

New Orleans, La.—A 34-year-old postal clerk was indicted for incest against his 13-year-old daughter, Beverly Ransom. Indictments for aggravated rape were returned in separate cases against William Lott, 26 and Benjamin Lowe, 40.

Declares 'Patience Plea' Encourages Southerners To Ignore Supreme Law

This is the fourteenth in a series of articles featuring Negro first, leaders. This is the 11th in a series featuring youth, 13 to 21 years, in the Washington, D. C.—Two NAACP leaders, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary, and Thurgood Marshall, special counsel, joined other spokesmen for the Negro in deploring President Eisenhower's admonition that Negroes exercise "patience and forbearance" in their efforts to secure desegregation and other civil rights.

Addressing the "summit" conference of Negro leaders called by the National Newspaper Publishers Association here on May 12, the President reiterated his conviction that time and education are more effective in the elimination of racial discrimination and segregation than "the letter of the law" which, he said, "will never solve problems that have their roots in the human heart and the human emotion."

Respectfully Differ

President Eisenhower addressed nearly 400 persons attending the two-day conference at the luncheon session on the opening day. That evening, Mr. Wilkins, digressing from his prepared text, said that he could understand "from where the President sits, he would like to have things go along smoothly and not have Negroes or labor or any other group kicking up a fuss for what they want. That's the way it is from where he sits. But we don't sit there."

We respectfully differ with the President. Negroes have been patient and moderate for 90 years, and what have they got? Another kick in the face. I don't know of any white people who would wait 90 years for what is rightfully and legally theirs."

Halls Adam Powell

Mr. Wilkins' remarks drew loud and prolonged applause from the audience. The NAACP leader also raised the question of what's behind the indictment of Congressman Adam Powell of New York whom he called "a great spokesman for civil rights." Many citizens of both races, he said, "are asking themselves whether Representative Powell is being singled out because he does not bite his tongue on civil rights for his people . . . All eyes will be on the government as it proceeds on the Powell case."

Ike's Plea Termed "Potentially Dangerous"

Miami Beach, Fla.—Pres. Eisenhower's plea for patience and forbearance by Negro leaders was assailed this week as "potentially dangerous" by the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., leader of the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott.

Rev. Martin Luther King

In an address before the National Biennial Convention of the American Jewish Congress in the Carillon Hotel here, Rev. King said the President's approach "can only encourage those who have defied the Supreme Court decisions and who have created the climate of tension and crisis culminating in violence across the South."

Dr. King said he wondered what the President meant in urging that the letter of the law not be pursued.

"Does this mean abandoning the decision of the Supreme Court, turning back to the days in which inequality was practiced in education throughout the South?" he asked.

Does this mean condemning one generation after another of Negro children to an inadequate, impoverished education?

"It is illogical to argue that because recalcitrant elements stubbornly resist the law, the degree and extent of their resistance should be the measure of our patience and forbearance," the Montgomery, Ala., Baptist clergyman declared.

Another Burglary At Willkie House

Police received reports Saturday of a burglary at Willkie House, at 900 17th Street in which an undetermined amount of coins were taken from a pay telephone and a vending machine.

Harlem Gets Behind 'Ousted' Powell in 'New' Campaign

New York City.—(CNS)—Even as Adam Powell walked free from the Federal Courthouse, after pleading innocent to tax evasion charges, plans were being made here to oust the debonaire Congressman from renomination—and heavy support given Mrs. Bessie Buchanan, Assemblywoman, Mrs. Buchanan received 4 votes in the meeting among 13 Democratic district leaders—with

Thurgood Marshall, brilliant attorney for the NAACP, receiving three and Councilman Earl Brown and Senator James Watson receiving one each.

Definitely Out

Tammany Leader Carmine DeSapio stated that Powell will definitely NOT run for re-election on the Democratic ticket "because he is not a Democrat." On hearing their decision, Powell stated "Thank God I got rid of Tammany Hall!" Then he added "I'm going to fight them as a Democrat. I'm going to run candidates in every area where there is a concentration of Negroes and Puerto Ricans in all five boroughs."

Staunch Followers

The people of Harlem are staunchly behind Powell and his most trusted followers have joined forces to bring in more sympathizers. They intend to win for Powell the next election by a landslide. They also intend to stick with him "through thick and thin" in his effort to clear his name in the tax evasion charge.

Small Victory

Jubilant over the first small victory—Powell's freedom (his lawyer was allowed 30 days for filing motions—he was also granted permission to travel anywhere in the U.S., or its territories on Congressional business.

Cherry Cream Cheese Pie Is a Spring Delight

SPRING MAY MEAN DAFFODILS AND SUNNY BLUE SKIES but it also means unexpected company weekends when friends and relations out for a drive decide to drop in on you generally just before dinner.

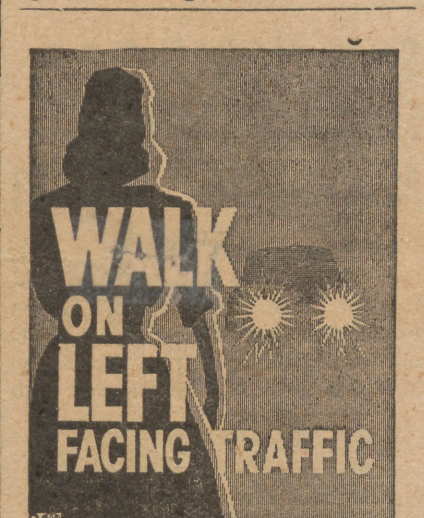

One familiar sight on the pantry shelf that comes in very handy at a time like this is a 15-ounce can of sweetened condensed milk. With it you can make a mouthwatering Cherry Cream Cheese pie in a wink because the filling requires no cooking at all. It is made by putting a layer of red cherries on the bottom of the pastry shell and then pouring in a fluffy filling made from sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice, cream cheese and 2 eggs. This luscious pie filling can also be combined with strawberries, raspberries, bananas or crushed pineapple for the sake of variety.

CHEERRY CREAM CHEESE PIE (Makes a 9-inch pie)

1 baked 9-inch pastry shell, 1 3-oz. package cream cheese cooled, 2 egg yolks, 1 1/2 cups sweetened condensed milk (15 oz. can), 2 egg whites, 1/2 cup fresh lemon juice, 1 1/2 cups (No. 2 can) cooked pitted sour red cherries, well drained.

Put sweetened condensed milk and lemon juice into mixing bowl; stir until mixture thickens. Soften cheese at room temperature; beat with spoon until fluffy. Beat in one egg yolk at a time. Fold into sweetened condensed milk mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff enough to hold a peak; fold into milk-cheese mixture. Spread 1 cup cherries evenly on bottom of pastry shell. Top with milk-cheese mixture and decorate with remaining cherries. Chill. (ANS)

FEEL YOUR BRAKES

It may be later than you think if you drive without getting the "feel" of your brakes and road surface. Your Des Moines-Polk County Health Department suggests that if you fail to get the "feel" of the road and brakes, you might get the unpleasant "feel" of an accident.

NATURE'S WARNING

"I sure feel rotten. I have had a stomach ache all afternoon. Must be something I ate." This was a statement heard today. The chances are the person was right, and it was a temporary upset, but, warns your health department, self-diagnosis is not safe. A stomach ache may be nature's warning of appendicitis, intestinal flu, or emotional upset. If the pain continues, see the man who can help you, your family doctor.

DRIVING TECHNIQUE

We are told there are fifty million people who can't drive a car. This seems like a large percentage in our age of machines and power. Your city and county health department suggests that a great number of accidents occur because many who can't drive are still behind the wheel.

Youth Of The Week

This is the tenth in a series featuring youth, 13 to 21 years, in the community and in Iowa who are setting a good example in wholesome living and achievements in their homes, schools, churches, sports and civic activities.

This week the Bystander takes its hat off to Michael Hawkins, 17, of 1028 15th Street, who has an unquestionable talent for leadership and organization.

A junior at North High school he is active in Junior Achievement and served as president of Ja Prodo, a student company that specialized in making breadboards, karton kaddies and dust cloths. Members of the company Michael headed represented Roosevelt, Lincoln, Dowling, East, and North High schools.

Youth Group

Michael's leadership abilities have received recognition at Burns Methodist church where for the past four months he has been presiding as president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship. During Brotherhood week in Des Moines his organization represented protestant churches' youth groups in a young people's observance of Brotherhood week sponsored by Jewish youth leaders.

Letter in Track

At North High where he is concentrating on his English in "tentative" preparations toward a teaching career, Michael is an avid participant in sports—in tennis, basketball and track, receiving a letter in the latter.

Organized Quartet

His interest and love of singing led him to organize a male quartet recently, in which he sings the lead. Other members of his group are George and Laurence Robinson, Tommy Williams and Harold Holt. Singing popular songs most of their engagements have been at school events but they made their first appearance at Willkie House last Saturday.

Summer Jobs

During the summers he usually works at a job. In previous years he was employed at the Wakonda club in charge of lockers and once worked for a local church. He doesn't know what he plans to do this summer but would like to work at Goode Park in some capacity. However, he's sure about one thing, following his graduation, he plans to become a member of the barbering trade and enter school to learn the skill.

A member of Crocker Y.M.C.A. and the Crocker street branch Michael is the oldest of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Hawkins.

Her tenure with the organization there was at the height of the League's efforts to break down the color barrier in that city.

Experiences

A Drake graduate of 1930, Mrs. Cothorn's experience with recreation agencies includes five years with Willkie House, Inc., and acting director of the then Negro Community center in 1940 during the leave of absence of the late Mrs. Lillian Edmunds. She also directed the East Des Moines branch of Negro Community center, now extinct.

In addition she spent seven years as director of Booker Washington Center in Rockford, Ill., but resigned that position to continue study at SUL. It was while seeking her Master's degree in social work at the school she wrote a case history that was recognized as one of the best 10 published in the 1953 case collection of the Family Welfare association. She also authored an article published in the Veterans Administration Program guide, entitled, "The Use of Role-Playing as a Basic Method in Inter-disciplinary Teaching."

Ipalco, Davenport Ia. - Ill. Light & Gas Co. Plan Merger

Plans to consider a combination of Iowa Power and Light Company and Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Company of Davenport into a single company were announced today. The announcement was made jointly by the respective presidents, N. Bernard Gussett and Charles H. Whitmore.

At the same time it was revealed that an exhaustive study to determine the desirability and feasibility of the project will be started immediately by Stone & Webster, engineering consultants, New York City.

Stockholders

In connection with the announcement, Gussett pointed out that any proposed consolidation would require approval of stockholders of both companies as well as favorable action by regulatory authorities. "In any event" he said, "the combination could not be completed before year-end."

Preliminary plans call for establishing a general headquarters in Des Moines. Important staff elements for the enlarged operation would be established in Davenport and the Quad-Cities, along with the operating headquarters for the Quad-City area.

Power for 236 Cities

Iowa Power and Light Company provides electricity for 236 cities and communities in central and southwest area, the largest being Des Moines, Council Bluffs and Okaloosa. It also serves thousands of farm and rural customers. It affords gas service to 24 towns. on May 13, Mr. Marshall challenged those who say "you can't end segregation with the law. The whole racial structure in the South was created by law," he declared. "It was law, not individual wishes, that kept whites and Negroes apart. And these barriers should be removed by law."

"When somebody's choking me to death," the NAACP counsel said, "that's no time to talk about patience. . . . We are more impatient than the founders of this country."

Award Presented

The Russwurm Award, presented to the Association by the NNPA, was accepted with thanks by Dr. Robert C. Weaver, vice chairman of the NAACP Board of Directors.

Rep. Powell

New Campaign

Powell himself, looking worn but ready for the fight, is building a whole new and exciting campaign for re-election. With his people behind him, he intends to talk his way into another victory. He began at the Brooklyn Zion Baptist church by telling the crowd that had gathered there to greet him on his return from Washington, that he had every confidence.

He quoted a statement made by Roy Wilkins of the NAACP which boosted his cause and rallied his followers. It was "What a mess our government has got into with Adam Powell." The people accepted this statement as a sort of slogan to pass around. They buzzed with delight as the handsome Congressman told it. "And", Powell added, with his famous gestures, "for the tremendous sum of $1,600!"

It is safe to say that Powell has lost few friends and followers because of this upset in his political

YELLOW CAB CREATES FRIENDLY DES MOINES POLICY

WARNING SIGNS

Someone has said when you grow old, (you don't feel your oats as much as you do your corns. This condition may be a warning sign for you to slow down. Your health department suggests that we must look for other warning signs, especially the signs of cancer throughout all our life. Cancer is not contagious or hereditary, but it can attack anyone at any time. Your best protection is to know the warning signs and have a regular physical examination.

Jobless Among Negroes Is Double That of Whites

New York.—Unemployment among Negroes is more than double that among white workers during the current recession, Herbert Hill, labor secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, declared here in an address before the tenth constitutional convention of the United Furniture Workers, AFL-CIO.

Addressing the convention on May 13, Mr. Hill cited figures from the United States Census Bureau which has estimated the non-white unemployment rate to be higher now than at any time in the past 11 years during which the Bureau has reported unemployment statistics by color.

Double Rate

"During the past three years the non-white unemployment rate has been almost consistently more than double the white unemployment rate," Mr. Hill said. "This would indicate that very limited progress has been made in securing for the Negro worker the same relative degree of employment stability that the white workers enjoys."

Differential Stability

"It is clear that the differential in employment stability between white and Negro workers has been extended both in years of prosperity as well as in years of economic decline," the NAACP labor specialist continued. "All available data clearly indicate that the ratio of unemployment among non-whites as compared to that of whites has been steadily increasing since 1951."

Baha'i Holy Day to Be Observed Here

The 114th anniversary of the Declaration of the Baha, a Baha'i Holy Day, will be observed by the Des Moines Baha'i Community and their friends on May 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Moffett, 2929 Cottage Grove.

The announcement by the Bab of His Mission as a Prophet of God occurred in Shiraz, Persia, May 23, 1844, and signaled the completion of the religious cycle that began with Adam and prepared the way for the coming of God's kingdom on earth. The Bab was the Forerunner announcing the advent of Baha' u'llah, Prophet-Founder of the Baha'i Faith, whose teachings on the oneness of mankind and religion are fundamental to the establishment of God's kingdom in this age.

The Faith has already been established in 254 countries and principalities, with its spiritual and administrative center in the Holy Land where on Mount Carmel the remains of the Bab are enshrined in a golden-domed tomb.

CLOSE SHAVE

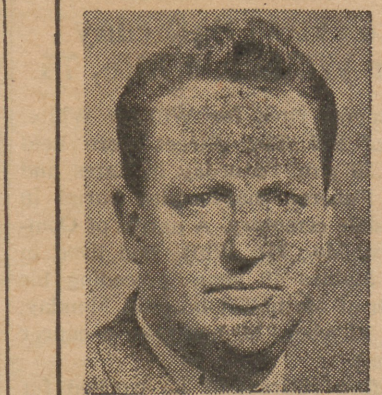

"That was a close shave. I was lucky that time." This is a statement sometimes heard and may be symptomatic of something to follow. Your city and county health department says that the first clinical symptoms of disease are visible warning signs. That close shave may be a warning sign of a slip in driving performance. How about getting that performance on a safe, professional level and eliminate close shaves?

GUARD YOUR CASTLE

Your home may be your castle, but all within may not be harmless. There may be hidden enemies within its walls. Your city and county health department suggests that these hidden enemies may be accident hazards that lurk to trip you and disrupt your castle. Home is where safety is needed, where it should truly begin. Be on guard in your castle.

Monrovia, Liberia: Without question, free Africa's needs are many, varied and tremendous. Her leaders know it and they acknowledge it. Africa needs experience, but how is she to get it without but by experimentation? She needs economic security and stability. She can only get this through the development and use of her many natural resources. Africa needs political stability, which can only come by the intense unity of purpose and determination. Africa must be determined to bridge differences in tribes and minorities through the painful method of trial and failure.

Africa needs a well rounded and adequately developed system of education which is now in the planning stage. The first step was taken by the beginning of compulsory free primary education, likewise in the high school, with the secondary colleges looking to university status. All of this takes time, patience, money, which call for taxes and more taxes. Along with this, a national health program is needed. Hospitals and embryo programs are

FOOD FADS

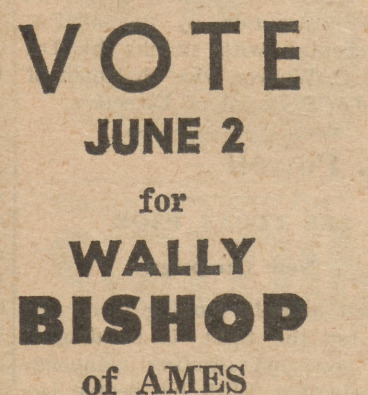

Don't be fooled by food fads. One girl said to another, "Lois is on some new kind of diet." She heard about it from a friend. Your Des Moines-Polk County Health Department can understand why Lois should want to lose some extra pounds, but they are wondering if she has the right kind of diet for her. Food fads are constantly taking the country by storm, but most of them have no real scientific basis. If you really want advice on diet, be scientific. Consult the man who knows, your family doctor.

If anyone doubts this, let them call the roll of the great nations of history and the mighty civilizations of the past; especially those who forgot God and looked on sin as a light thing and became drunk on the wine of power and self importance. History has yet to show one nation or civilization that has been able to avoid suicide.

It is not too early to warn Africa that it is not by might or power, but by the spirit of the Lord. The nations which forget, will be turned into hell.

Real "Democratic" Education Means Meeting the Needs of Both Mentally Retarded and Highly Intelligent Children

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Written by Lloyd Lovell, SUI Assistant Professor

"DEMOCRACY IN EDUCATION"

Every now and then we are confronted with inconsistencies in our thinking or behavior regarding the important issues revolving around free public education. One of the things we like to say about the public schools is that they are democratic. We may not be quite sure, however, about the particular meaning of the word "democratic" that we have in mind.

For example, there has been a great deal of public discussion over the suggested programs of acceleration for highly intelligent pupils in public schools. Some critics claim that such programs are "undemocratic" and are therefore bad.

Special Needs

Many school programs have special facilities for retarded or otherwise handicapped children; such programs are usually not criticized as being undemocratic, and are in fact, offered as proof that the democratic school program attempts to provide optimal learning opportunities for all of its pupils. I am not at all sure that it would be "democratic" to require that all students participate in these programs designed for children whose special needs demand these special provisions.

Starch And Shape A Summer Hat

Attractive summer hats can be made at home by starching fabric and shaping it over ordinary kitchen equipment. These hats are fun to make, can be trimmed in a variety of ways and cost only a few cents. The hat shown here is made of burlap, but any fabric that takes starch can be used. A small, shallow bowl and a frying pan provide the shape for a hat with a turned-down brim like this.

To make this hat, cut the fabric in a 16-inch circle and soak it in undiluted Sta-Flo liquid starch for about ten minutes. Place the bowl slightly off center on the frying pan and cover with foil. This makes it easier to remove the fabric.

Now mold the wet fabric over the bowl and frying pan. After the fabric has been shaped, lift off and allow to dry. For a good fit, wear the hat while it is drying but protect your hair with foil. When the hat is completely dry, tack on the trimming. Yarn, ribbon or rope can be used at the crown and along the edge. Sea shells were used to finish off this hat, but you can use flowers, buttons, ribbon bows or whatever you like.

Various hat styles can be made using other fabrics and shapes. You can be your own designer when you make hats this starch-and-shape way.

Instruction School for Advanced Modern Hair Styling to Open June 1

On June 1, Mrs. J. W. Morrow, of 1160 17th Street will open an instruction school for graduate and licensed beauty operators to teach an advanced process for natural straight permanents. The process—Mor-O's Natural Straight permanent—was demonstrated and introduced to the public for the first time in this area last April, at Morrow's Beauritorium.

In a pre-introduction to the instruction course, Ardell Vincent Neal, outstanding hair stylist of St. Louis, Mo., flew to Des Moines last Tuesday, May 13 and upon special invitation gave a two-day public demonstration of the modern process at the Beauritorium. Neal, who owns a salon of 30 beauty operators in St. Louis, has been one of the leading exponents of this advanced discovery in hair beautification for men and women, a process which saw its inception in California and in New York. Neal was making his second appearance.

Well-qualified to teach the modern hair styling course, Mrs. Morrow, took a 18-week-teachers' course

When I received "The Personal Touch" column from Miss Marie Ross last Wednesday, and read that she was turning the column over to me—the thought went through my mind . . . what will I say? . . . will I measure up to the expectation of our readers? It is true I knew last fall before Miss Ross left Des Moines—that in several months I would be doing the column. . . but still your first one is a little unfamiliar.

As for my predecessor—Miss Ross—I would like to go on record and say there are few people in the journalism field I admire as much or more than I do her. She is not only a top-notch newspaper woman and writer—but also a top-notch person in every way. I have had the opportunity to see and know the high regard she is held here in Des Moines. In addition, I had the opportunity of witnessing first hand the high esteem and respect that was given her by other women journalists in Iowa at the recent conference of press women held at Iowa City last month. My chief goal is to do the job as well as she and carry on the work that she so ably handled in her 18 year-tenure with this newspaper.

About the column, let me say this. You probably have noticed the title is changed but it has the same context and will have the same slant as "The Personal Touch". . . commenting on "personal" things and people that wouldn't ordinarily be published in a straight news story.

I don't intend to devote my first column to eulogies but some things are worthy of praise and in many cases I have not had the opportunity to thank everyone for their cooperation and promptness in sending in news. We only ask that you continue to do. All news . . . concerning family, friends, churches, schools, organizations and businesses are of interest and prime importance to us.

Mrs. Morrow

Speaking of business, Mrs. James W. Morrow, of 1160 West 17th Street is venturing into something new in beauty culture. She is opening an instruction school for hair-permanents—one that does not require application of heat. I had the pleasure of visiting her gracious, lovely home last week. Mrs. Morrow is recovering from recent surgery and is still unable to bend from the waist or walk down stairs to her "Beauritorium" which is one of the most modern in the city . . . elaborately furnished to make customers relax and not mind waiting if . . . they have to.

Mrs. Wimberly

Mrs. Joseph Wimberly of 1127 11th Street is busy dashing around the state holding conferences with club women in anticipation of one of the most successful conferences of the Iowa Association of Colored Women in June. Mrs. Wimberly also made frequent trips around Iowa visiting "Her children." These are children placed in foster homes by her and she places a special interest in their progress and welfare and enjoys just seeing them and talking to them again. It must make them feel good to know that one of the people who played such an important part in providing a new home for them . . . has not forgotten them.

Freeway

About the Des Moines freeway, noticed that it goes along School Street . . . where Corinthian Baptist is located at 9th and School yet there was no mention about the future of the building which is one of the largest Negro churches in the city and state?

A young lady in our neighborhood, Joanne Woods, 16, of 1239 10th Street recently underwent a correctional eye operation at Methodist hospital. Her mother, Mrs. A. T. Woods does secretarial work at the hospital.

Nash Pupils

Two youngsters at Nash elementary school were among four chosen to represent their school and appeared on a safety program televised over KRNT Sunday May, 11. Peggy Spates, a second grade pupil is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spates. She is also a piano student of Mrs. E. P. Jackson, who is now vacationing in Europe. The other young representative was Vickie Lynn Sprigg, 7, year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lacey Spriggs, of 1055 17th Street.

T.O.B. Club Entertains Husbands at Dinner

The T.O.B. club entertained their husbands May 2 at a pot luck dinner at the home of Mrs. Thelma Claybrook. Pantomime prizes were won by Jerry Hayes, first; Ben Wellington, second; and John Morrow, third.

On May 16 the club members had dinner at Buckman Steakhouse and celebrated the birthday of Mrs. Frances Morrow.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Muriel DeSleet.

THE NIXONS TASTE LITTLE ROCK

It is most unfortunate that Vice President and Mrs. Nixon met such an abusive reception as they encountered on their good will tour in South America. Surely, guests should not be subjected to the treatment they received whatever the cause back of it.

Too many people are prone to blame Communism for all incidents of this character. And undoubtedly, while a majority of the people do not feel as those who participated in the mob action, the South Americans, like the southern people in America, have a habit of allowing a wilful minority to set the pattern for their community.

Vice President Nixon has done a good job as a representative of the United States. He has preached good will among men both at home and abroad.

Some members of the mobs told Mr. Nixon to go back home and straighten up Little Rock. That statement must have hit the Vice President squarely between the eyes for he knows that America is treading on shaky ground when it goes out to teach others democracy when its own house is not in order. And Mr. Nixon must have felt as the high school kids in Little Rock did as he realized that he was being insulted and spit upon over something he did not control.

STRONG MORAL LEADERSHIP NEEDED HERE

The United States Supreme Court dealt segregationists another blow Monday when it refused to hear a case which one Virginia school district had lost in the lower court and thus draws nearer a showdown on whether that state will close the public schools in order to preserve segregated schools.

Undoubtedly, some unhappy incidents will arise there as was the case in Little Rock although many people in Arlington County are in favor of admitting the Negroes to the high schools.

Incidentally, the question of integrated schools was before the recent governors' conference but like most public officials, they dealt with the matter as a side issue rather than one of great importance facing the nation today.

The whole matter is being allowed to drift. And as long as this state of affairs exists, the success of integration will be made more difficult.

Desegregation has the law on its side. What the country needs is moral leadership and nobody is in a better position to provide that leadership than President Eisenhower. He should call together leaders of thought from North and South, not to debate the merits or demerits of school segregation but to lay out an orderly program carrying out the court decision.

Admittedly, the program will be timed differentially in different communities. But the program should not waiver, straddle the fence or apologize for the decision.

For almost a century, Negroes have lived under all kinds of segregation laws passed to deny them their civil rights. Never have they stooped to mob action in protest of these laws. They have carried on an orderly legal campaign to change them. Now that the shoe is on the other foot, proper respect for law and order should prevail by those who passed and enforced those laws.

If leaders in America tackled the problem in earnest and refused to allow a wilful minority to set the pace the job can be done. To do otherwise presents one crisis after another which is bad for all concerned.

7th Annual McCollum Golf Event Opens Sat.

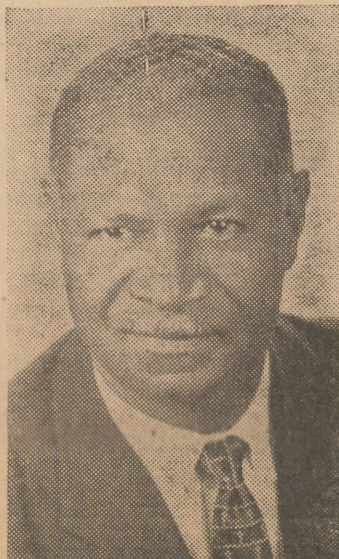

St. Louis, Mo.,—According to Tournament Director Lamar Smith, the Seventh Annual Mack McCollum Golf Tournament, sponsored by the Paramount Golf Club of St. Louis, will draw the largest entry list in its history.

Golfers from all over the midwest territory have entered the 36-hole classic scheduled for this weekend in St. Louis, May 24-25. The invading golfers will be headed by the contingent from Memphis headed by Elton Cranberry. At least twenty sharpshooters will be on hand from that city. Chicago, Evanston, Springfield, Cincinnati, Louisville, Gary, Decatur, Indianapolis, Nashville, and Kansas City are some other cities which will be represented. The tournament will be played over the Forest Park links.

Leroy Tyus and Flemming Cody are expected to battle with the visitors for the championship laurels in the men's division. However, there is a strong supporting cast of good St. Louis golfers who might beat the favorites. In the women's division, a new champ will be crowned, as defending champ Gail Patton will not be entered. Trophies will be awarded at the 18th hole Sunday afternoon at the close of the tournament.

Pole Vault Record Broken by FAMU

Atlanta, Ga.,—Florida A and M University ran away from the field of 17 schools in winning its second straight Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference track and field championship here last week.

In taking its fifth win of the 20-year old event, the Rattler cinder-men amassed 70 and 5/6 points. Their nearest rival was Xavier University with 32 and 5/6 points. The Floridians copped the meet in 1950, 1953, 1954, 1957, and again this year.

Record Jump

The gem of the Rattlers' impressive victory was James Denmark's record breaking jump in the pole vault. He cleared the bar at 13 feet seven and one half inches to erase a 17-year old mark set by William Farmer of Xavier back in 1941. Farmer's old mark was 13 feet two and one half inches.

HEALTH FOR ALL

In the spring when a young man's fancy turns, there is an awakening of little friends that hope their grandchildren will live to plague us. "One fly killed now," said Dr. James F. Speers, Director of the Des Moines-Polk County Health Department, "Will eliminate the need for swatting many unwanted winged guests later in the year." A single mother fly deposits a total of 500 eggs during her thirty-day span of life, so grab that spray gun, load it with DDT, and fire.

1,000,000 Germs

Public health authorities estimate that each fly has a million and a quarter germs clinging to its hairy body. In all, the fly probably transmits more than twenty diseases.

Flies hate their likes and dislikes. They hate garbage neatly wrapped. They like to flex their taste buds on a smorgasbord in an open garbage can. Let's make it difficult for the fly by wrapping that garbage.

Lincoln U (Mo.) Takes Second Place Behind Tennessee State in MAA Track Meet

Jefferson City, Mo.,—Bob Perkins, Lincoln University (Mo.) sprinter, cut a full second off the record for the open 440-yard dash in the Midwest Athletic Association annual meet held in Wilberforce, Ohio recently and sparked Lincoln's drive for second place honors.

Tennessee State came out ahead in the meet, totaling 53½ points. Lincoln was second with 56½; Central State College of Ohio, third 27; Grambling College, fourth, 11½; Jackson State, fifth, 6, and Kentucky State, sixth, 5½.

6 New Records

Six new records were set in the meet—two by Lincoln and four by Tennessee State. Besides Perkins' garbage cans with tight fitting lids. They want you to throw your garbage over the ground so they can have a choice of food particles. Now is the time to get that new container.

They are not happy in clean, well-kept yards. They do not want their breeding places disturbed. They want dirty animal pens, food containers, and filth. A breeding place destroyed now will make life more pleasant later on.

Breeding Place

Now is the time of the year to clean up unsanitary conditions around your home or farm before the flies start breeding. Every time you destroy a breeding place, you stop whole colonies of flies before they start.

Dr. Speers stated that fly control is an individual and community duty. It is the job of every person in every locality. The results in turn will benefit each person and family in Polk County.

new 440 mark, a Lincoln relay team composed of Don Herd, Otis Lee, Herman Adams and Bob Perkins, finished the mile in 3:16.5 for the victory and a new record. The old mark was 3:21. Lawson was high point man with 10½ points.

Boston

Tennessee State's Boston set new records in the broadjump and pole vault, leaping 24 feet, a half inch over the old mark, and topping the bar at 12 feet, six inches, 11 inches better than the old record. McNutt from Tennessee State set a new record in the 880-yard run with a 1:55.2 and Moon contributed to the Tennessee State cause with a new mark in the 100-yard dash, 9.5.

These, plus expansion of existing companies, have added over $27,000,000 to Iowa's annual payrolls.
