Ask City Council Also to Shutdown Barbecue at 1003

Seventy-five residents in the vicinity of 17th and School Streets signed a petition Monday asking the city council to shutdown a teenage dance spot located at 1001 17th Street and a barbecue drive-in next door at 1003 17th Street.

The petition claimed that both places were a public nuisance, operating without a license and supervision and in violation of the zoning ordinance, and "an unwholesome gathering place for young people."

Spokesman

J. B. Morris, 955 17th Street, acting as spokesman for the group Monday said, "Kids are rolling up and down the street in cars all night." He said pop and beer bottles are tossed around and that flowers in front of his house have been damaged, and the jukebox plays loud into the night.

Law Called Nightly

Mrs. Voncel Cropp, 1002 17th Street told the council the "law was called in there "every night last week and that the noise is so disturbing you can't get to sleep until 12:30 or 1 in the morning."

City Manager

The Rev. R. N. Powell, 1024 17th Street asked the council to hold up action until "You have heard both sides," adding "we've just got to have juvenile centers."

The council referred the petition to the city manager for an investigation and report.

Who's Who in Iowa

Mrs. Korinne Jackson, Art, Music Lover, Tours Europe To See Works of Masters

By Mrs. Frances Hawthorne
This is the 18th in a series of articles featuring Negro first, leaders and outstanding personalities in Iowa who are excelling in civic, professional, business, religious, educational, fraternal and entertainment fields.)

Mrs. Korinne Jackson, 1155 Enos, accomplished artist and music teacher in her own right, returned last week from a six week tour of 11 European countries where she got a personal view of many of the art works of old masters that she had read and studied about. After leaving the United States for the expressed purpose of knowledge and experiences, she embarked on a tour, following oceanic voyage on the H.M.S. Elizabeth, which began in England and took her through Liechtenstein, Switzerland, Belgium, Austria, Holland, Germany, Italy, Luxembourg, Monaco and France.

Like any tourist Mrs. Jackson, saw and was impressed by Buckingham Palace, the Tower of London, old castle ruins in Heidelberg, the small principality of Monaco, the Coliseum, Arch of Triumph, Eiffel Tower, and the Thousand Fountains of Tivoli. But being an artist she had an eye out for art.

Owner's Paintings

When I left I made a note to look for paintings by Henry O'Tanner, a famous American-born Negro who later took up citizenship in France she said. "I saw works by such old masters as Rubens, Picasso, De Vinci and Michelangelo, of course, but no where did I see any of Tanner's."

"They have his 'Jesus Walking on the Water,' out at the Art Center here," she noted.

Louvre

She was particularly impressed by a sculpture of the Lion of Lucerne but mostly she loved her visit to the Museum of Burgheuse and the Louvre.

While in Italy I attended the opera Andreana LaCouvereur, and it was surely a beautiful experience," she recalled.

Spine Tingling

"However, one of the most spine tingling experiences I had was

No Trouble All Fall...Then Comes 'Dummy' Threat in Va.

Norfolk, Va., (CNS)—There was no trouble with integration since September in Virginia—when the first Negro children applied to be admitted to heretofore all-white schools. Everyone got along fine and accepted the Supreme Court ruling. Then suddenly, hate struck—violent hate—and it frightened everyone. Everyone but the Negro children and their parents.

It came in the form of a sheet-wrapped dummy, hanging high from the flagpole in front of the new Nordiew High School, a 3 million dollar project which the town is very proud of.

Written across the dummy was the threatening message "No niggers wanted at Nordiew." Despite the threat, 35 more Negro children filed applications.

Juveniles?

Though it was cited by Police Chief Harold Anderson to be the work of juvenile delinquents—school board chairman "Paul Schweitzer warned parents at a board meeting that there might be trouble between federal and state authorities. However, he felt sure it could be ironed out and that 36,000 children, who are expected to attend Nordiew, will

ICED TEA—LOW IN CALORIES—WELCOME BEVERAGE

It takes a little planning to be a gifted hostess... that is, one who enjoys herself as much as her guests. But it's a real gift to be able to plan simple, self-serving refreshments, that won't turn you into a hot, tired hostess during the summer months.

There's one thing you can count on when you're expecting company on a hot day—and that is that practically everyone who arrives is generally pretty thirsty. And what could be more thirst-quenching than a nice, tall frosty glass of iced tea topped off with a sprig of mint and lemon wedge. You cool off just by looking at it! And, of course, it has practically no calories, as you'll note from the following chart.

Beverages	Approx. No. Calories per six ounces
Iced tea (unsweetened)	4.0
Iced coffee (unsweetened—without cream)	11.0
Sugar-free carbonated beverage	18.0
Beer	59.0
Cold beverages	62.0
Lemonade, frozen	86.0
Carbonated, fruit-flavored beverage	97.0
Grape juice	111.0
Iced Tea—30 with sugar and lemon	111.0
Iced Coffee—34 with sugar, cream	111.0

To make 2 quarts or about 10 servings of iced tea, pre-measure 5 tablespoons loose tea (or 15 tea bags). Bring 2 quarts fresh cold water to a full rolling boil. Remove from heat.

Immediately add tea. Brew, uncovered. 5 minutes. Stir and strain into pitcher. Serve in ice-filled glasses.

A simple accompaniment that is both light yet satisfying is a combination of assorted cheeses and chilled fresh fruit. To go with it, try a bread that's really different, yet nutritionally wholesome and good! Raisin Bran Bread goes well with this kind of refreshment and could be made either early in the morning or even the night before. It requires little more effort than baking powder biscuits, but the taste thrill when combined with cheese and fruit is well worth any effort.

RAISIN BRAN BREAD	2 cups sifted flour
2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder	1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar	1/2 cup milk
3 tablespoons molasses	3 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening
1 cup raisins	1 cup raisins

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar, and sift again. Combine egg, milk and molasses. Add to flour mixture, add shortening and cereal, then mix only enough to dampen all flour. Bake in greased 8 x 4 x 3-inch loaf pan, in moderate oven (350°F.) 1 hour, or until done. Cool. Wrap in damp cloth or waxed paper and store several hours or overnight before slicing.

Escaped Prisoner Captured Here Sat

A 33 year-old escaped convict was returned to the state prison early this week and wound up with an additional five years to his sentence. Ralph Ben Reynolds, who had served part of a 10 year sentence for robbery walked away from the state prison farm at Montrose Saturday, June 7. He was captured by Des Moines police about 6 a.m. Friday at S.E. 6th and Racecon Streets following a two-day search by local authorities. A tip from a resident who reported a "suspicious-looking man" in the neighborhood led to his arrest.

Confesses Robbery

Arresting officers said Reynolds was carrying $157.02 in cash which, he said, he's won in a "poker game."

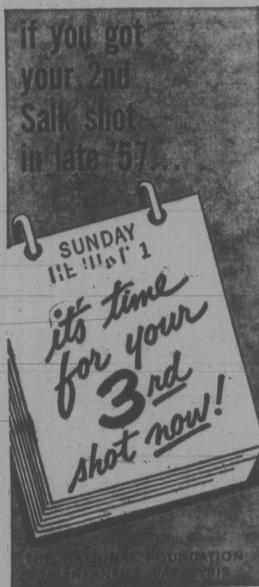

E. Williams, employed with Internal Revenue Service, filed suit in Federal Court asking that the District of Columbia Bar Association, end segregation and admit Negroes.

He later admitted to police that the money was part of $177 he had taken when he burglarized an apartment at 1821 Woodland Avenue about 11 p.m. last Thursday. He signed a confession to that effect.

Stole Car

Detectives also said Reynolds told them he and another prisoner, Edward Musselman, 24, had stolen a car when they escaped from the prison farm. For four days the two lived in a wooded area near Donnellson, then split up after Reynolds came to Des Moines, he said. (Musselman surrendered voluntarily at the prison gates Thursday night.)

Reynolds was returned to Fort Madison where he will serve the remainder of a 10-year sentence for a 1934 holdup of the Moscow grocery, 1131 6th Avenue. An automatic extension of five years was added to his term.

Understanding, Compromising on Minor Points Helps Give Children Leeway in Routines

UNDERSTANDING

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA
CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Written by Lloyd Lovell, SUI Assistant Professor

IN DAILY ROUTINES

Often our four children insist on doing what they are asked to do in a slightly different way from that we request. If we ask that a task be done by 10 minutes of 8, for example, they might argue that they will finish at 5 minutes of 10. If we ask that they do certain things in a given order, they might insist that they will use a slightly different order.

Demanding Requests

My wife and I are often irritated by their demanding these slight and seemingly silly deviations from our requests. But we have tried to understand what the children are trying to accomplish by these loud demands over minor points.

The material result of their demands is usually trivial. An added five minutes will not give them time to accomplish much, and it cannot really matter much whether they brush their teeth before getting into pajamas or afterward.

Real Intention

The real intention of their argu-

Charles Sanders Sued For Divorce Monday

Charles L. Sanders, executive secretary of Willkie House was charged with cruel and inhuman treatment in a divorce suit filed against him by his wife, Marjorie L. in Polk county district court Monday.

Mrs. Sanders of 643 West 20th street asks custody of the couple's two children, Kenneth, 7 and K. Lynelle, 4. She also asks child support, alimony, possession of household goods and title to the couple's 1953 model car.

According to the petition, the couple was married Feb. 16, 1949 in Hartford, Conn.

tingling experiences I had on the tour was at the Vatican," she declared. "We were fortunate to see the Pope blessing the people. There were thousands waiting in the court- yards" and when the Pope appeared, wave after wave of cheers went up, shouting in Italian, "Long Live the Pope." The crowd was as large as any you would find in a baseball stadium. Mrs. Jackson also saw the oldest clock in the world, built some 1100 years ago, and operated by water which pours back and forth from one cup to the other, causing it to tick.

Mrs. Jackson also saw many of Michelangelo paintings. "We were told by the guides that Michelangelo slept on the scaffold while he was painting. When he got an inspiration during the night, he lighted a candle and proceeded to paint."

Understanding

Trying to understand their requests has resulted in our adopting a program of compromises with them. We explain as clearly as we can the end result that we expect, and then give them as much choice of methods within these limits as is feasible. Many of the routine chores have become easier now. Sometimes the methods they use to get things done are pretty amazing, but we agree that the end result meets our requirements.

Compromising

This policy of compromise has, of course, not removed every difficulty around the house. But it does seem to have reduced the number of clashes of will with a parent insisting, "You will!" and the child saying, "I won't!" It must be a relief to the children to have the nagging reduced a little!

New York City, (CNS)—All hope of having the first Negro president of Actors Equity faded when Fred O'Neal, first Negro to be nominated to that position, withdrew from the race on finding Ralph Bellamy, stage actor, was back as candidate. Bellamy had withdrawn but heavy pressure from the membership persuaded him to change his mind. Many of the members, who chose their president by voting, urged O'Neal not to quit—but O'Neal stuck to his decision.

Cab Calloway

We hear that showbiz in Paris is definitely hurt by the political situation and one unit slightly suffering is Cab Calloway who is in the midst of his 3 week date at L' Olympia. Critics there don't seem to remember Cab—as "St. Louis Blues" hasn't played there and many didn't see "Porgy and Bess" when it toured and certainly don't remember Cab from the old Cotton Club days. Therefore, Cab has put his very best foot forward, giving the customer more than they paid for—conducting the French orchestra—singing as many songs as he can squeeze into the tight schedule.

Nat Cole

Meanwhile, Nat King Cole—Cab's good friend—has customers in Portland, Oregon complaining that the show's too short at the Paramount Theatre... and the price is too high... With $4.50 as top, the patrons get two 45 minute sets, where Nat proves himself all the way through—performing to the hilt. But it's not enough—the customers feel that for $4.50 they should have more. The theatre, holding 3400 seats, took in only $8,000 for one performance, which shows there were many empty seats.

Nat was grouped with the famous Nelson Riddle orchestra, which unfortunately is not a show work, and Connie Francis, whose powerful voice held the show together when Nat wasn't around.

Al Hibbler

Lionel Hampton into the Blue Note at Chicago for a month beginning Aug. 20th... Al Hibbler busy making more Decca albums... The Platters' "Twilight Time" reigns high on the best seller list... Ditto for Nat Cole's "Looking Back" which reminds us of that non-funny joke making the local circuits... where one says to another "Did you hear Nat Cole broke his neck?"... The other says in a shocked voice, "How?"... His friend smiles and answers "Looking back!"

Mahalia Jackson

Mahalia Jackson won her point on Dinah Shore's Chevy Show—that she does NOT sing the blues—but spirituals... and even with Dinah trying to break down her resistance to sing jazz and blues, Mahalia stuck fast to her beliefs... Dinah's show has top ratings because she's noted for her talented guests and her manner in using their talents—to best advantage... she also gives them a warm, sincere and unselfish introduction so that no matter how many famous singers she has, none take away from herself as star.

Tuskegee Choir

If the Tuskegee Institute Choir meant to do a public relations job on selling the south to these northerners—in these times of integration—then they created the mood... for with the setting of the Old South and its tradition—and is splendor—something we northerners often forget about—the Music Hall presented "Jubilee"—a great tribute to a great era... With some 35 beautifully mixed voices, the Tuskegee Choir, under the direction of Relford Patterson, thrilled the huge audience—filling the house with soft, sweet yet powerful music... which carried a message. They sang such numbers as "Deep River", "Battle Hymn of the Republic", "Oh What A Beautiful City" and many others.

Peg Leg Bates

Weaved into the "plot" is Peg Leg Bates, expert dancer, who portrays a pirate in a sort of "showboat" atmosphere... this is appropriately climaxed with "Ol Man River"... The Rockettes are the southern belles... beautifully costumed... The best thing about this show is its appeal to tourists... You can see the gay old south right here in New York City... so glorious in voice and color that you are sure to feel you are part of the setting... The Music Hall has come up with a star attraction this time.

Building a Greater Iowa

Where the Tall Corn Grows

All America pays tribute to Iowa as the greatest corn-growing state in the Union. We raise 17% of all corn produced in this country... for a bumper cash income of $255,000,000.00 per year.

One of the best customers for this corn and other grain is the brewing industry. Each year the industry buys over $240,000,000.00 worth of grains. That would equal 94% of the total cash corn income from Iowa's entire crop! In brewing beer... the light, bright beverage of moderation... corn is used more than any other grain, save barley. So we Iowans can certainly say...

...the Brewing Industry helps build Iowa

Demands Stoppage of Child Labor Statute Violations

Orlando, Fla.—Federal and state child labor laws and provisions of the 1957 Social Security Act requiring coverage of farm workers "are almost universally violated," Herbert Hill, NAACP labor secretary, charged here today at the conclusion of an investigation of the migratory farm labor system in six states along the Atlantic Seaboard.

"It is necessary," Mr. Hill asserted, "for the federal government to assume a fundamental responsibility in establishing uniform minimum standards and in securing effective law enforcement where the federal jurisdiction is clear. At present, there is virtually a total abdication of responsibility by the federal government."

Working Sites

Mr. Hill visited migrant labor camps and working sites in Florida, Georgia, Virginia, North and South Carolina. He was particularly interested in the locations in Florida where many migrant labor caravans originate for the movement north to New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Inspection

Accompanied by a photographer, Mr. Hill inspected the camps and followed the open trucks carrying migrant laborers and their families along the highway and witnessed at Mirror pictures are easy to make, nice to have, and fun to show and impress your friends.

It's Almost Like Seeing Double

Yes, when you picture your subject reflected in a mirror, it's almost like seeing double... but it also can give you a very striking and effective snapshot.

Mirror pictures are for the most amateur photographers—using the simplest of equipment, as well as for the professionals who are well aware of the effectiveness of this technique.

A simple camera with flash attachment enables you to take these pictures. There are only two things which you have to keep in mind that don't apply to other pictures.

First of all, be sure that neither your camera nor the flash is reflected in the mirror. Secondly, when you figure the distance, you add that between camera and mirror to that between subject and mirror.

This means that if you have a camera that won't let you shoot a picture closer than six feet—and your subject looks best posed a foot from the mirror, you will keep the camera five feet from the mirror. That's all there is to it.

Find a pretty mirror, a good subject, and take camera in hand to make some snapshots that are "different" and make a terrific impression on people who aren't "in the know."

Telephone Vignette

MEMO TO THE TELEPHONE COMPANY:
The other day, with the wind whipping playfully through the intersection of Fifth street and Park avenue, we witnessed an interesting study in frustration. A man paused to light a cigarette, three times sheltering it against a match with cupped hands and three times failing.

As he prepared to make his fourth attempt, his eye came to rest on one of those outdoor telephone booths a few feet away. In one blinding flash of inspiration he stepped inside, carefully closed the door, fumbled for another match and found it, and then with an air of one who triumphs over dark adversity, calmly lit his cigarette.

He didn't use the telephone, we're sorry to relate, and as he stepped outside again to brace himself against the January gusts, he didn't even murmur thank you.

Yet you never can tell. Here, obviously, was a gentleman with a new debt of gratitude to the telephone—and it would not surprise us if he arrived home that night in a mellow glow of good will toward the entire world, including telephone companies. "A great public benefactor," we can hear him tell his wife at dinner, "I mean this fellow Bell."

He came. I for creek, "stanap"

Your telephone company—Northwestern Bell—always tries to give you service above and beyond the call of duty—at a cost below what you'd expect to pay.

Miss Sandra L. Paige, Albert O. Dawson United In Double Ring Ceremony at St. Paul Church

MR. AND MRS. ALBERT O. DAWSON

St. Paul A.M.E. Church was the scene of a beautiful spring wedding when Miss Sandra Lynn Paige and Albert O. Dawson were united in a double ring ceremony at 8 p.m. May 24 with the Rev. A. Lewis Williams officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Price J. Paige of 2825 4th Street and the groom is the son of Mrs. Laura Mae Dawson and the late Matt Dawson. Over 150 guests witnessed the nuptial vows and attended the reception which followed.

The bride, wearing a gown of nylon tulle over slipper satin with a molded bodice embroidered in pearls and sequins and styled with a bateau neckline, walked down the aisle on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding March played by Mrs. Russell Reeves.

Attendants
Maid of honor was Miss Shirline Bell and the bridesmaids were Miss Josephine Boston, Mrs. Ernestine Harrington and Miss Lena Baker. Best man was Matt Dawson, brother of the groom. The ushers were Glen Blakely, Robert Dawson, Matthew Campbell and Charles Singleton. Miss Alberta Bates sang, "I Love You, Truly."

Out-of-Town Guests
Out of town guests attending were Mrs. James Brown and Miss Bar-

I do not intend to get off on a somber note this week, but an incident I witnessed last week shook a few people up for a few minutes. After finishing at the office last Wednesday, I boarded a crowded bus for home. Passengers noted a peculiar odor but attributed it to the newly surfaced top along High Street. Just as the bus pulled up for a stop light at Ninth and High Streets, there was a flash of fire which precipitated an equally flash of panic when all but about half dozen persons rushed to get off the vehicle.

Three women suffered minor burns on the legs, the most serious being Mrs. Seymour Gaines, 1048 West 10th Street. She had been sitting directly over the spot where the flash occurred. Her burns required the attention of a physician.

Mrs. Louise Glass 1517 Second Avenue informed us by letter last week that she had finished reading Paul Robeson's latest book, "Here I Stand." She expressed willingness to do a review for the Bystander if we were interested. We indicated we were. So in the next week or so watch for her review.

AN EFFORT TO SMEAR THE NAACP

Irrked over the continued success of the NAACP in its relentless blasting out of racial injustices, the opposition is turning its efforts toward an attempt to tie the organization in with Communist, and Communist influence. In fact, every person who evidences a favorable attitude toward racial advancement is being termed a Communist with left wing leanings.

This week, the Bystander received a pamphlet issued by Alliance, Inc., entitled "Red Intrigue and Race Turmoil." It cites a line of evidence, which the reader would discount immediately, in an effort to prove the NAACP is Communist dominated. And while it admitted reluctantly that the top offices were not controlled by Communist influence, it attempts to show that rank and file members were being used to shape the policy of the organization more and more in that direction.

A notation in the pamphlet directed attention to one called "The Leftist Background of Ralph Bunche." Of course, this is just another trick in an attempt to smear one of America's outstanding diplomats because he opposes racial discrimination in all forms.

A forward to this pamphlet was written by Archibald B. Roosevelt. His identity is not shown. The late Theodore Roosevelt had a son with the name Archie and if this is he or the grandson his acts are a disgrace to the Roosevelt family.

This whole series of propaganda is an attempt to hold the line in the Negro's march upward. It is a demonstration of the willingness of some people to violate the principles of human rights for all people. And most of all it presents Americans as hypocrites before the world.

Of course, that progress will not be stopped but it offers proof of the weakness of our leadership which all too often insists on ducking the issue wherever possible.

There can be no attempt to deny that some members of the NAACP are Communists or are so inclined. What organization does not have some? They have been found in the state department and other high places in the government. They are scattered everywhere. Naturally, all good Americans are opposed to Communism and Negroes are no exception to the rule.

But to attempt to smear the NAACP with that taint is nothing but reasonable to the highest degree.

CHARITY BEGINS AT HOME

The NAACP issued a release this week calling attention to reign of terror which prevailed in the town of Dawson, Georgia. An article was published in the daily press Monday morning, depicting incidents of murder, beatings, illegal arrests and other forms of brutality which have no place in a so-called free country.

The Justice Department is investigating and so are representatives of the newly formed Civil Rights Commission. But it is generally conceded that nobody will be punished because grand juries often refuse to indict; more often juries refuse to convict. And thus America, the great democracy of the western world, is powerless to protect its own citizens.

It just so happens that this week, Russia executed four Hungarian leaders for their part in a recent uprising against Communist domination. They were given a profane trial and condemned to death in short order.

President Eisenhower and other high American officials are horrified. But why all the excitement and horror about executing four Hungarians and it is terrible to be sure when in America Negro citizens are being executed almost every day and very little is done or said about it.

It is generally conceded that American prestige continues to suffer abroad partly because of its glaring hypocrisy. We are meeting some pretty severe rebuffs much to the consternation of those who feel that friendship can be purchased with money alone. Frankly it appears that America deserves no better fate than is coming to her, for the so-called righteous people don't seem to have the courage to stand firm for righteousness and justice. Billy Graham warns that there is danger of America falling to pieces from within. Those who can seem to do little about it.

Youth Literally Speared by Javelin

New Orleans—Harry Albert, 17-year-old high school student, was literally "speared" last week. He was struck in the chest by a javelin thrown by another high school student during track practice. The spear punctured his chest wall, causing his left lung to collapse. The boy is reported in "good condition" at Flint-Goodridge hospital.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

(This column, which should have appeared in last week's paper was accidentally lost when sent to the typesetter. We apologize to the many faithful readers of this column.)

We were forced to miss last week (June 5 issue) while we paid our last respects to one of the world's grandest mothers. But life goes on.

The pennant races are taking shape. The Yankees seem to be a shoo in for the American league race and the National league thing is up for grabs. Those pesky Cubs act as if they don't know they are a cellar team. The Dodgers' Don Newcombe is setting a record. If the big guy wins his next start it will be one game he has won since the start of the season.

Willie Mays and the Frisco Giants are having their ups and downs. Seems that as Mays goes so go the Giants. The Braves know they can't loaf around and come in first.

Local Dodgers

Here at home the Dodgers can't seem to put together enough wins to do any good. Heard there were a raft of Negro ballplayers in the Western league.

Track

The discussion got around to track the other day. The usual comparison of present day and old marks and records, was underway. The oldtimers said that so far as he could see the technique of doing things hadn't changed. The 440 was still a man-killing race from start to finish. The half-mile and mile were run at a faster clip but much on the order of the same pattern. The field events were better because of the difference in equipment used.

Smaller more compact discuses and shot puts. Add these things to the more competition and faster tracks and you have your answers.

Tennis

The kids are doing alright in tennis. Mike Knox reached the finals of the recent junior city meet and topped the champion to the limit. Glad they are finally turning over and getting ready to replace the veterans. Chet Williams is making a valiant start against time and the kids but he can't go on forever.

Althea Gibson

Don't be alarmed at the setbacks experienced by Althea Gibson as she goes her tennis way this summer. Everybody she plays is out to literally play themselves to death in a desperate effort to beat her because everyone wants to be the champ.

Miss Gibson can't stay at the top if her game weak after week and when she lets down she gets into trouble. Our guess is that the lady will come through in the big ones.

DODGERS OFFER COACHING JOB TO CAMPANELLA

New York—Roy Campanella revealed last week that President Walter O'Malley of the Los Angeles Dodgers has offered him a coaching job with the Dodgers when he recovers from the paralysis sustained in an automobile accident last Jan. 28.

Campanella, whose career as catcher was halted by the accident, is showing continuous improvement. He is now able to sit in a wheel chair with the help of a brace that supports his neck. The neck was fractured in the accident.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Let Us Spray

There was a snake in the Garden of Eden, but no bugs and no weeds. Today we try to recreate Eden in our own backyards. Science has given us weapons to fight off aphids and the thrip, the Japanese beetle, the dandelion and the purslane. But some of these weapons are two-edged swords, as dangerous to people as to their garden enemies.

No Playthings

Cases of poisoning from garden preparations are on the increase. Manufacturers warn us. Doctors warn us. It should be obvious that a chemical strong enough to kill poison ivy will harm a human being. But too many of us treat these powerful materials as if they were playthings. Sometimes the results of carelessness may be only minor skin irritations, burning eyes, an upset stomach. But tragedies have happened.

Locked Compartment

All garden preparations should be kept where children can't get at them. Don't think you've done your best by putting them on a high shelf. They should be in a shed or cupboard that can be locked. Don't turn your back on them for a moment while using them outdoors. Don't spray or dust when anyone is near enough to catch any of the drift. It's surprising how much drift there is even on a day that seems windless to you. Don't use poisons on lawns where children and pets may tumble about at play. Wash out sprayers and mixing utensils after every use.

Read! . . . Read!

Perhaps the most valuable advice is to read. The folders and labels that come with garden chemicals are important. Read them carefully and then follow directions to the letter. If, in spite of your best efforts, trouble comes, call your doctor immediately.

Don Newcombe Traded to Cincinnati Redlegs—Change Could Regain "Place in Sun" for Don

Los Angeles, Calif.—The bright spot in big Don Newcombe's pitching career has dimmed—and he has lost his place in the sun.

The brilliant pitching star of many Dodger pennants was traded, just before Sunday's midnight deadline on major league deals, to the Cincinnati Redlegs for first baseman Steve Bilko and right-handed pitcher Johnny Klippstein.

Losing Touch

The 32-year old, 240-pound Newcombe has been losing his touch since last season when he slipped to a 11-12 won-lost record after a 20-5 record in 1956 and an amazing 27-7 record in 1957. Newcombe has frequently been in trouble with the Dodger management ever since he came to the team back in 1949, because of his moody temperament.

But his real trouble seems to have begun in the 1956 world series when he started two games against the Yankees lasting only a total of 4-2/3 innings.

Last Game

Sunday, Newcombe pitched his last game for the Dodgers against Pittsburgh and was chased with three second inning homers. The Dodgers lost 12-1. Newcombe has completed only one game in seven starts this season and was charged with his sixth defeat against no victories. Don has been bothered with a sore arm this season.

123-60 Record

Up to the beginning of this season Newcombe has a 123-60 won-lost record for regular season play. Newcombe's pitching failures might be just a temporary thing and the

Dear Editor:

I cannot conceive the idea of the officials of Mississippi attempting to introduce evidence tending to show that Prof. Clemmon King was mentally incompetent on the theory that he applied for admission to the University of his own state.

Whereas, under the Constitutional law, no state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privilege or immunities of citizens of the United States, nor be denied on account of color, poverty or previous conditions.

In 1619-1863, the so-called "Negro" was looked upon as a piece of property, which was supported by the Supreme Court decision in the Dred Scott case. From 1863-1954 the period of segregation was dominated by the famous Plessy vs. Ferguson decision which established the doctrine of "separate but equal". This period abolished the institution of slavery through the emancipation of slaves by Lincoln, but it was really slavery incognito.

The third period began on May 17, 1954 with the Supreme Court decision abolishing the separate but equal concept and ordered desegregation of schools with all deliberate speed. This marked the beginning of the Construction era of integration.

HIS WORD

Since God has richly blessed us With wealth, and health, and love, We'll remember we accrued them Through the grace from up above. Let us send our praises daily To the source of all our good. May we shout the tidings loudly Of His wondrous brotherhood. We are thankful for protection From the perils of each day, And we see divine perfection In His works along our way. Our faith in Him is strong and true And all our needs come from His store.

In ratio to the good we do— Our profit multiplies by more. The splendor of His realm above Lives in all hearts bestirred: To share the blessings of His love With the power of His Word. —Glenn A. Gallagher
