Over 1,000 Plan to Attend Conference

Cleveland, Ohio.—Advance registrations indicate that some 1,000 delegates from 40 states will attend the 49th annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which opens here on July 8.

In addition to formal addresses and panel discussions, the six-day convention will include such activities as the annual freedom fund dinner at which reports on funds raised by the branches will be made, a life membership luncheon at which plaques will be presented to fully paid-up life members, and a breakfast for delegates who are clergymen.

The delegates will have a preview of the film, "The Constitution and the Right to Vote." This documentary, produced by Columbia University's Center for Mass Communications, depicts the NAACP's successful challenge of the Texas white primary. A Supreme Court decision of 1944 banned this device to disfranchise Negro voters.

Two Mistakes Lead to Arrest of Alleged Forger Last Week

Two mistakes on a check obvious to an alert grocery cashier led to the arrest of Paul R. Davis, 38, of 605 S. E. Scott Avenue, last Wednesday, June 25, on charges of forgery.

When Davis presented a check for $60 to Winnick Grocery, 9th and University, Wednesday evening, Mrs. Ida Winnick noted it was the name of a grocery firm that had been out of business four years and was drawn on a bank that closed in 1953. She called police and Davis was arrested nearby.

Davis told police he had found the check writing machine (found in his room) on "the city dump" and that someone had given him the checks. He also admitted to writing four other checks for $60 on another firm.

Davis pleaded innocent to charges of forgery and intoxication when arraigned Friday before Municipal Judge Don L. Tidrick and was held in lieu of $1,100 bond, pending his hearing July 7.

Malcolm Hogan Promoted to Examiner Auditor in Dept of Internal Revenue in Iowa

By Mrs. Frances Hawthorne

This is the 20th in a series of articles featuring Negro firsts, leaders and outstanding personalities in Iowa who are excelling in civic, professional, business, religious, educational, fraternal and entertainment fields.)

Several months ago Malcolm Hogan, 34, was among 20 aspirants taking a federal promotional examination for the position of examiner auditor. Following screening by a panel of interviewers, he emerged victorious and Monday began his new job, becoming the second of his race to reach the high position in the Internal Revenue department in Iowa.

15 Years

Hogan, who has been with the department seven and a half years and boasts a total of 15 years of government service, has his new offices in the Valley Bank building. His position of examiner auditor, is closely related to that of revenue agent, differing only that the former's duties is performed at the office audit level, and the latter goes out into the field.

"Just Lucky"

"I was just lucky," was his reaction to his new job. Remarking on his change of offices, Hogan said jokingly, "At least, I can hide for a few days. Most of my clientele will be looking for me in my old office." Most of his job is done through personal or phone contacts.

First Negro Examiner
"I was also the first Negro examiner in Iowa," Hogan explained.

Could be Passed

Expressing confidence that the new legislation could be passed, Mr. Wilkins called "for action now," in this session of the Congress. We do not concede that it is too late to pass a law that will help to prevent troubles at the schools in September. We believe that the members of Congress have an obligation to act just as surely as the President of the United States has a duty to uphold the law with all the powers of his office."

Part III Stricken

Part III which would have enabled the U. S. Department of Justice, on its own initiative, to enter into school desegregation cases such as Little Rock was stricken from the civil rights bill of 1957 after a bitter Senate debate. In an effort to restore the provisions of that section, Representative Emanuel Celler (D., N. Y.) introduced new House bills in support of which Mr. Wilkins testified.

Restoration of Part III is needed," the NAACP leader told the committee, "in protecting many other rights beside the right to an education in public schools that are open to all children without regard to race. Mississippi still enforces racial segregation in the waiting rooms at railway stations. Florida continues to bar colored citizens from public parks."

HOGAN

He began as a clerk in 1947 with the Veterans administration in the department of registration and research. He also served as a lab technician at Veterans hospital in the bio-chemistry and urinalogy departments. In 1953 he was promoted to examiner and held that position until Monday.

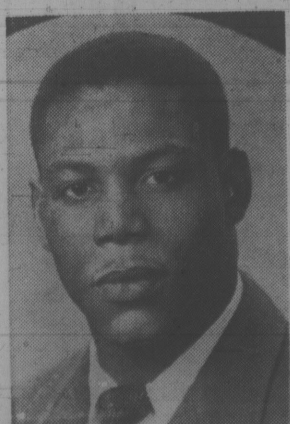

Education

Preparing himself early for his career, Hogan graduated valedictorian from high school.

Marble-Pattern Bath

FOR a bathroom decor that is attractively different, walls may be covered with distinctive marble-pattern paneling of hardboard with baked plastic finish. Marble paneling offers a choice of five imported marble patterns in authentic reproductions that provide the beauty of the luxurious stone at a fraction of its cost.

Large four-foot-wide panels cover walls more quickly than do materials fabricated in small units. The paneling's smooth, hard baked surfaces, resistant to moisture and soiling, is easily wiped clean. It has a durable and serviceable base of Masonite tempered hardboard. Matching moldings are available for the panels, as are waterproof adhesive and joint-sealing compounds.

The paneling also is made in plain colors and wood grain patterns.

ICED TEA—LOW IN CALORIES—WELCOME BEVERAGE

It takes a little planning to be a gifted hostess . . . that is, one who enjoys herself as much as her guests. But it's a real gift to be able to plan simple, self-serving refreshments that won't turn you into a hot, tired hostess during the summer months.

There's one thing you can count on when you expect company on a hot day—and that is that practically everyone who arrives is generally pretty thirsty. And what could be more thirst-quenching than a nice, tall frosty glass of iced tea topped off with a sprig of mint and lemon wedge. You cool off just by looking at it! And, of course, it has practically no calories, as you'll note from the following chart.

Beverages	Approx. No. Calories per six ounces	2 cups sifted flour powder
Iced tea (unsweetened)	4.0	2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
Iced coffee (unsweetened—without cream)	11.0	1/2 teaspoon salt
Sugar-free carbonated beverage	16.0	1/2 cup sugar
Beer	59.0	1/2 cup milk
Cola beverages	82.0	3 tablespoons molasses
Lemonade, frozen	84.0	3 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening
Carbonated, fruit-flavored beverage	91.0	1/2 cup raisin bran
Grape juice	111.0	Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar, and sift again.
Iced Tea—30 with sugar and lemon	111.0	Combine egg, milk and molasses. Add to flour mixture, add shortening and cereal, then mix only enough to dampen all flour. Bake in greased 8 x 4 x 3-inch loaf pan, in moderate oven (350°F.) 1 hour, or until done. Cool.
Iced Coffee—94 with sugar, cream	111.0	Wrap in damp cloth or waxed paper and store several hours or overnight before slicing.
Total	2 quarts or about 10 servings of iced tea, pre-measure 5 tablespoons loose tea (or 15 tea bags). Bring 2 quarts fresh cold water to a full rolling boil. Remove from heat.

Personally Yours by Frances Hawthorne.

Here we are at another July 4th weekend, and as it is with the tradition of the occasion, it has turned hotter than a firecracker, Iowans along with other fellow human beings over the nation are planning trips, parties, dances and entertainment of friends and relatives.

One Des Moines woman who is planning for a "whole house of company" is Mrs. Dorothy Holmes, president of the Mary Church Terrell club No. 11. Funny thing, we have been riding the same bus to work with different boarding points for nearly six months without knowing who the other was. We spoke or exchanged casual talk from time to time, but it never occurred to inquire about each other's identity until last Saturday when we formally introduced ourselves.

The author of this week's book review, Mrs. Louise Glass, 1507 Second Avenue, reports she does a lot of reading but she has never read any of Paul Robeson's books until this one, "Here I Stand." However, she has read many articles about him, she says. Back about 15 to 20 years ago she used to do book reviews for the Bystander quite frequently, she disclosed.

Mrs. Josephine Jones, 947 West 16th Street called us last week to submit the name of a possible "Youth of the Week" candidate. New York City, (CNS) - "JAMAICA" FOR MOVIES... While "Jamaica" is cleaning up in profits along Broadway, plays are brewing to make it into a movie... with Lena Horne as the star but with perhaps another male lead... The Apollo Theatre continues to book rock and roll revues... appealing only to the teenagers who somehow scrape up the $1.00-$1.50 admission and sit through two or three shows... They're all going down to hear Dakota Station with the Jimmy Jones Trio at the Village Vanguard where $3.50 minimum is the price... but it's tight shimmering numbers with good effect... and businessmen and out-of-towners make up most of the trade... STRAIGHT TO THE POINT

It has been said that the treatment of the Negro is the test of democracy. In other words, if all policies and laws are applied equally to him as to all other citizens, then America will have reached the status of a real democracy.

While, more and more, there is improvement in numerous fields, it is quite glaringly demonstrated that in others equal application of the law is woefully lacking. This situation is fully recognized by a lot of people who see in that inequality dangerous avenues of approach.

On June 25, Senator Humphrey of Minnesota inserted in the Congressional Record an editorial from the Washington Post on the recent decision of Judge Lemley on the Little Rock school case. A portion is quoted here which strikes deeply at the question and the Bystander supports it fully.

"Judge Lemley contends that his action does not constitute a yielding to unlawful force or violence but is simply an exercise of equitable discretion. But no words will stay the invitation he has issued to every southern community which is resisting the liquidation of segregation to follow the Little Rock example. Consequently the result of the ruling, if it should stand, would more likely be the spreading of violence and the use of Federal troops than the restoration of smooth racial relations to Little Rock.

"It must be remembered, too, that none of the reasoning by which the Supreme Court justified a gradual approach to integration can be invoked to justify an actual rollback. The rights of the Negro students at Central High School have been judicially and administratively recognized and Federal troops have been dispatched to put down the violence that would have destroyed those rights. This progress, incomplete though it is, cannot suddenly be reversed without making a mockery of justice and bringing chaos into the process of law enforcement.

"The Little Rock School Board appears to have based its appeal for 2½ years more of segregation on the belief that by that time Governor Faubus would no longer be in office. But what kind of reasoning is this? Are rights to be suspended because an unenlightened and unreasonable State executive is willing to wreck the school system and defy the Federal courts in his efforts to thwart enforcement of the Constitution? When great principles are at stake, the cost of bowing to expediency can be enormous. The courts no less than the President ought to stand firmly behind the law of the land and its enlightened application in all parts of the country. If there comes a day when they fail to do so and seem to suggest to rowdy elements that they can defeat the ends of justice by ignoring our Federal system will indeed be in peril."

NOT DISCOURAGED

The fact that the Supreme Court refused to hear the appeal of Judge Lemley's decision in the Little Rock case must not be taken as a rebuff for to circumvent the Court of Appeals is an unusual procedure. There remains a chance for the Circuit Court to act in time for the fall term.

On the other hand, to relieve the NAACP from the $100,000 fine levied by the Alabama Courts was a distinct victory.

HILLTOPPERS PLAY

INDIANOLA TENNIS CLUB

On Sunday June 29th, the Hilltop Tennis Club team played Indianola, in the first inter-club match in about five years. Many others are planned for the summer.

The team consisted of adults and juniors with this lineup: Men: Everett Mays and Chet Williamson; Woman: Evannette Mays and Kizzie Strother; and Juniors: Mary Ann and Toni Holmes, Bruce Sharp, and Bobo Wince.

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help... My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth. (Psalm 121:1, 2)

What a glorious, uplifting feeling it is to look out upon another new day and realize that Almighty God, who made the shining sun to rise and stay true on its course, also is Our Father—merciful, loving each of us, His children, ever willing to forgive us our sins, to help and sustain us.

LITTLE JOE LOUIS

Chicago—Lightweight champ Joe Brown is referred to as "Little Joe Louis" in the July issue of EBONY Magazine.

Both have same first names; Brown, as did Louis, punches with devastating power from either hand. Brown, as was Louis, is a stalker, hitting when and where it counts rather than wasting energy in harmless pitty-pat.

On dissimilarity—Louis was youngest heavyweight to win crown (23), while Brown was oldest lightweight (31).

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

Your humble servant doesn't claim to know much about the standards of education in various countries, but if as many people claim we Americans are falling behind in educational standards, one has but to look at the sports to see why. You read about kids 17 or 18 years old barely out of high school getting what was once considered a lifetime fortune for simply writing their names on a piece of paper. And if they could knock a baseball a mile they don't need to know how to write their name. A simple "X" will do.

We always thought a fellow went to college mainly to acquire a better living and be able to earn that better living longer. But here you have a kid of maybe 21 who wouldn't recognize his name if he saw it in letters a foot high. This cookie gets $80,000 for whacking another guy on the chin. How long will it take a college graduate to earn that much?

Or another youngster 18 who gets $100,000 because he can throw harder than lightning bumping a stump. The list grows each day as we read the papers. Why bother to learn anything at all outside of how to play some games well?

Now don't get us wrong. There isn't anybody who, likes and appreciates athletes any more than we do, but we wonder when this bonus business is going to stop. Pretty soon it will be so that a scout can approach the baby's crib and look him over. If the youngster has big wide hands and big feet the scout name his price and the boy will be the property of some pro league club in some sport from the cradle to the end of his athletic career.

We don't know how but we would like to see the emphasis on finishing college as it was in the early days.

Tennis

The Hilltop tennis club went down to Indianola and dropped a club match Sunday. Guess they were warming up for their Hilltop open next month.

Our chips are on Althea Gibson to win the big mug at Wimbledon, then the U. S. title and then for gosh sakes, get out, and make some of that dough we have been yelling about... make it while you are still a drawing card. They will find some one to play you, even if Jack Kramer has to put on a skirt and take the courts.

Indianola

Highlights of the Indianola vs. Hilltop match was the long drawn out battle between Phyllis Frank, one of the states leading girl players and Evannette Mays... the showing in the junior match of the 15 year-olds and under... also the determination of Mike Knox.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Toward Independence

This is the week we celebrate "the Glorious Fourth," the day that marks the American Declaration of Independence. Our ancestors decided that independence is a good thing for people, and the development of our nation in 182 years seems to prove them right.

Develop Properly

Independence isn't just a political affair. People, the same as nations, must be independent to develop properly. Some of us seem to forget this. You've seen people who bring up their children as if they expect them to be dependent for the rest of their lives. They spoil them while they're little and cute, and can't understand why they grow up wilful and irresponsible.

In a delightful book titled "The Story of Human Emotions," Dr. George M. Lott, a psychiatrist, gives directions for making your child grow up "with a maximum of handicaps and undesirable character traits." Here they are:

Do Everything

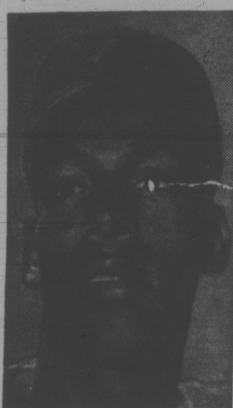

"First, do everything for the child, so he can't learn to do for himself. Lie down with him to get him to sleep. Help him to dress, and do not let him participate. Pick up after him so he won't learn to put away his toys. Usually keep him in so he won't be hurt or get dirty. Allow no playmates of his own age, and take his side and protect him in his struggles with his contemporaries. Deny him little, so that he will expect too much."

Hypochondriac

"Follow the above directions and you are guaranteed that your child will grow to be a hypochondriac and a spoiled brat. And "when in the course of human events, it becomes necessary" to cut the apron strings, he'll fall flat on his face.

Landslide

There were 235 votes in the American League and 231 in the National, the difference resulting from varying numbers of men on the active list or the number of coaches. Banks won by a landslide at shortstop with 184 votes to 16 for Milwaukee's Johnny Logan.

In this 25th annual All-Star contest the National League will be trying to move closer to the American League. The American League holds a 14-10 edge in the series which began at Chicago in 1933.

Declines Job

When he does recover from the injuries sustained in a Jan. 28 auto accident, employment will be his least worries. As a matter of fact the 36-year old catcher just recently declined an appointment to the New York Athletic Commission, a job offered to him six weeks ago by Gov. Averell Harriman, a strong Dodger roofer. And president Walter O'Malley of the Los Angeles Dodgers, for whom Campy starred for many years, said he would like to offer him a coaching job.

Campy's Improving—To Spend Weekends At Home With Family

New York, N. Y.—Roy Campanella, injured backstop of the Los Angeles Dodgers, has been making such fine progress that a medical spokesman said he may soon be permitted to spend weekends at home with his family.

Wheelchair

Campy was transferred from the NYU-Bellvue Medical Center for special treatment from Glen Cove hospital six weeks ago. He is still paralyzed from the waist down, but has progressed to the point where he spends most of the day in a wheel chair and participates in daily workouts. He is able to lift 10 to 12 pound weights with either hand the doctor said. The doctor also said Campy is in "fine spirits, is enthusiastic about his work and is looking forward to the time he will

GAME OF CHANCE

Some say life's a game of chance. How many will agree And liken life to cards or dice? And their uncertainty? Chemin-de-fer or baccarat Or draining twenty-one Would seem a cheap comparison To the right ways life can run. Roulette, poker, duces wild. Or how a parley pays Could hold no fascination. To those who use their days. Fan-tan or a lottery Has built no worthwhile thing Bets on chess or checkers No profit do they bring. In Christ there is no gamble

As upward we advance: All HIS wondrous things are free, And His life no game of chance... —Glenn A. Gallagher
First American Serial Rights Only

Dear Editor:

THE NEGRO PROBLEM: What the Negro stands in need of today is an industrial education which will make him more efficient and independent that he may rise to the level of this civilization. This ill treatment is greater in the South. In the North their political rights are better protected, yet, their lives are not free. They are forced to live in restricted congested sections and on limited economic conditions... purporting to be in the land of the free and home of the brave, which was purchased beyond the price of money.

Here we have lives and opinions of world's greatest philosophers, from Pitto to John Dewey. Although there have been no collaborations on the subject matter, Epicurus, the Greek philosopher taught that happiness is the highest good and that virtue alone produces happiness. In the absence of exercising the privileges of citizenship, where the qualifications are equal to others, there can be no freedom nor happiness.

Fish

Like humans, fish are most likely to be found where there is food and shelter, so try your luck in such likely spots as weed beds, or near sunken logs, stumps, boulders and overhanging banks.

Angel Melba

Make Angel Melba, the elegant summertime dessert, the easy way. Heap a slice of angel food cake from your grocer's ready-to-eat-cake department with vanilla ice cream. Place a peach half on top of the ice cream. Cover with raspberry sauce and serve immediately.
