FBI Has 'No Comment' on Negro's Death

Witnesses Tell of Jail Beating of Victim by Sheriff

(Special to the Iowa Bystander)
Water Valley, Miss.—The FBI refused to say if it is investigating charges that a 35-year-old Negro died of head injuries after being beaten by a sheriff in the county jail here.

But two more witnesses—both white persons—say they are willing to testify that they saw the beating. They say they watched it from a neighboring cell.

The FBI in Washington issued a flat "no comment" to inquiries about the charges, lodged against Yalobusha County, Sheriff J. B. (Buster) Treloar.

Asked if an investigation was in progress or being planned, a spokesman refused to answer. The FBI agent in Jackson, the state capital, was not in his office and could not be reached.

The new witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Vaughan, a Water Valley couple who happened to be in a neighboring jail cell on forgery charges, which were dropped.

They said they had been taken into custody earlier on June 21 the day Sheriff Treloar brought in SEE PAGE TWO

Ernest Green Awarded 1st American Conscience Fund Scholarship; Iowan Named

The National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro Students has granted the first supplementary scholarship award from the American Conscience Fund to Ernest Green, the first Negro graduated from Central High School in Little Rock, Arkansas.

"This award, together with 52 similar awards totaling about $17,000 were made available this year to outstanding Negro high school seniors," John U. Monro, Chairman of the Trustees of the Supplementary Scholarship Fund of NSSFNS and Director of the Financial Aid Office at Harvard, announced today.

"These awards," Mr. Monro said, "are going to students from 21 states including 11 in the south and the District of Columbia. They are the final link in the chain of financial assistance needed over and above college scholarships, family contributions, and the students' earnings and savings.

"Ernest Green, for example, has already received a full tuition scholarship from Michigan State University. The American Conscience Fund award will provide for all his other expenses not covered by his summer earnings and his family contribution."

The only student winning from Iowa was Rebecca S. Ferguson, of Waterloo. She will be attending Grinnell College, at Grinnell, in addition a winner from Mississippi, Carolyn Y. Williams of Greenwood, has chosen to attend Briar Cliff College, in Sioux City.

Personal Sidelights of Local Delegates Who Attended the 49th Annual NAACP Convention

BY BESSYE GREENE

(The following is a personal account of some of the sidelight activities of the NAACP convention and is not an official report of any branch organization.)

Mrs. Clara Bayles and Mrs. Alta Herndon were guests at the Statler hotel. Mrs. Georgine Morris and I stayed at the Hotel Auditorium which was right across from the convention hall. Mr. A. P. Trotter stayed at the Hollenden hotel.

Mrs. Herndon was happy to see an old friend of many years, Mrs. Bessie Lee Banks. I also met again, many friends I had met in Kansas City, Mo., in 1945, the first convention I attended.

Our Des Moines delegation belongs to Region 4 and the regional meetings opened up each morning at 8:30. An early morning breakfast invitation was given to the Des Moines delegation by Mr. Trotter.

Mrs. Morris was at her best at the F.F.F.F. dinner, making the Ike Smalls trophy presentations. Mrs. Bayles, looking real charming, received the two awards for the Des Moines branch, along with many congratulations for our local branch's recognition. I, also, gave the report for Region 4 at the dinner.

Mr. Trotter spent a great deal of time with the Resolution committee and served on Time and Place committee for the Spring regional conference which is set up for Des Moines in April 1959.

Mrs. Herndon served on Credential committee and really worked hard. Mrs. Bayles served on Constitution and Revision committee.

Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Kelsey Bessie, dressed attractively, dropped in on the dance Saturday evening after having dinner with friends.

All the local delegates had the

Little Rock Appeal To be Heard Aug. 4

St. Louis, Mo.—Upon the suggestion by an attorney of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the U. S. Circuit court of appeals set Aug. 4 to hear an appeal from an order suspending integration at Little Rock's Central High school for 30 months.

When the Little Rock school board agreed to the date, Judge John S. Sanborn issued the notice. He did not say where the hearing would be held but it was presumed it would be in St. Louis where the court generally sits.

E. church will be presiding and the Rev. W. J. Canafax of Burns Methodist church will be in charge of devotions. Music will be provided by the Corinthian Chorallers.

Recommend Purchase Of 12-Acres Along Riverfront in N.D.M.

The city council which heard recommendations Thursday night from the city planning and zoning commission to buy a 12½-acre tract west of the Des Moines river for development of a riverfront parkway, referred the proposed Monday to its newly established riverfront commission.

The action came after the commission refused last Thursday to rezone for industrial use an entire 24-acre tract on both sides of Euclid which had been suggested by Atty. W. Lawrence Oliver, owner of the land. By a unanimous vote, however, the city planning commission endorsed a change to light industrial zoning for the remaining property. Because most of it is subject to flooding, it has been zoned "Unclassified." The property extends 616 feet north of Euclid and 412 feet south of Euclid from the Des Moines river west to the Des Moines and Central Iowa railway.

Dredging Approved

On Tuesday, July 8 the Iowa natural resources council approved plans for dredging the Des Moines river to build up most of the Oliver property north of Euclid to above flood level. Oliver, appeared before the city council meeting Monday and said the land, subject to rezoning, already has been leased.

That same evening yours truly was a platform guest.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Louis Jones, ex-husband of actress Lena Horne and father of her two children, was arrested and charged with election fraud last Wednesday after being installed the night before in elaborate ceremonies as a member of the 61 Assembly District Republican County Central committee. He was accused of registering and voting from a false address.

Kansas City, Mo.—Miss Margaret Grant, 21, who began her training as the first Negro airline hostess June 18, resigned nine days later from Trans World Airlines when it was discovered she has a rare non-infectious disease which would have been aggravated by air travel. The lines said they plan to hire another Negro.

New York.—First Negro Grand Knight of St. Columba Council of Knights of Columbus, James I. Pierce, assumed office July 1 becoming the first Negro head in the history of the California "Fraternal order."

Charlottesville, Va.—The school board here made public a plan whereby it hopes to prevent integration of schools by barring Negroes on other grounds other than race... such as redistricting school attendance areas, tests, for children and conferences with parents.

New York.—Former State Senator Julius A. Archibald has taken office as New York Commissioner of Jurors, the first Negro to hold the post.

Gulfport, Miss.—Negro minister Clennon King, who returned to Mississippi because "I don't have a job anywhere else," apparently won't face prosecution in connection with his vain attempt to enter the University of Mississippi so long as he stays out of the county where the school is located.

Baton Rouge, La.—Mrs. Mary Moses Reed, ex-supervisor of Negro schools of West Feliciana Parish and an educator for 23 years has begun serving a term for forgery of checks made to teachers not working in the school system.

Mrs. Fant accused her husband of cruel and inhuman treatment and asked for custody of the couple's four minor children, temporary alimony and title to the home and furniture.

At her request, Judge Tom K. Murrow issued an order restraining Fant from molesting Mrs. Fant and the children. According to the petition the couple were married Dec. 7.

R. Wilkins Outlines Ass'n. Goals at Closing Session Of Largest Nat'l. Meet

Cleveland, Ohio.—The advocates of a go-slow policy in the desegregation struggle will find "no comfort in our resolutions," Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, warned in an address at the closing session of the Association's six-day 49th annual convention here Sunday.

"We have said before," the NAACP leader told the convention delegates and visitors assembled in the huge Public Auditorium, "that we expect no overnight miracles, but we do expect beginnings to be made. We expect perceptible movement. . . . We have waited too long, we have been too truly the soul of patience to be told now that we must abide by the never-never pace of Mississippi—and her sister states."

Greetings from West Africa were brought by Madam Ella Koblo Gullama, one of Africa's leading women, a member of the House of Representatives of the British Colony, Sierra Leone, and Paramount Chief of the Kaiyamba Chiefdom.

Also, at the last meeting of the Association's largest convention with more than 1,200 delegates was the presentation of a scroll of honor to Arthur B. Spingarn, NAACP president, for his 47 years of "devoted service and leadership in the cause of human liberty."

Indicating the Association's course of action, Wilkins declared that the nation's leading civil rights organization "will press in the new Congress immediately for a change in the filibuster rule in the Senate so that civil rights legislation cannot be choked to death."

Moreover, he assured the delegates and visitors, "we will support in the Congress the civil rights bills which will restore Part III of the 1957 bill so that the Attorney General of the United States may have the authority to protect all civil rights—not merely voting rights."

"We will urge more speed by and longer life for the new Civil Rights Commission, which was hamstrung for nine months by Southerners in the Congress."

Who's Who in Iowa

James P. Thompson Is 1st Negro Traffic Investigator at D. M. Police Department

By Mrs. Frances Hawthorne

This is the 22nd in a series of articles featuring Negro firsts, leaders and outstanding personalities in Iowa who are excelling in civic, professional, business, religious, educational, fraternal and entertainment fields.)

Twenty-five years ago James Patrick Thompson came to Des Moines as a young teen-ager, set high school athletics firsts for his race, and went on to make history in the Des Moines Police department where he has been employed since 1948, becoming the first Negro to be promoted as accident investigator, specializing in hit-and-run cases.

Receiving his middle name because he was born on St. Patrick's day, Thompson said of his new job, "It's not exactly a promotion, unless you want to say promotion, without pay. I am still a patrolman."

In connection with a recent hit-and-run case, still unsolved, Thompson said he worked 19½ straight hours before he was relieved. Ordinarily, his hours are eight to four with "most weekends off."

Studied Denver System

During his vacation last month to Denver, Colo., Thompson combined pleasure with education and picked up some pointers on the traffic department in that city, and brought them back to his superiors at the local department. He was quoted by the Highland Park News as admiring the use of small stickers on cars in Denver involved in accidents—exceeding $50 damages.

Saves Hours

Thompson pointed out this system saves hours of checking and double checking for officers when investigating a collision. The sticker reports the date, place and time of accident, and a referral to the stick-to the beating. Earlier, Daniels' boss, Maury Fly, 73, who had gotten out of bed to post bond for his employee, told reporters he saw Treloar beat the Negro with a stick when he arrived at the jail. "I couldn't stand it," said Fly, a grocer, "I had to get out of there."

During that night, the sheriff telephoned Dr. D. A. McMillan to "come take a look at one of my nigger prisoners."

Daniels was released the next day and told his wife he was "bad hurt." He was taken first to a doctor and then to a hospital in Memphis, Tenn., where he died July 1. An autopsy showed that the cause of death was "a stroke or brain injury."

Sheriff Treloar has answered the accusations against him by saying the case is under investigation. He asked the State Highway Patrol to look into the matter. But Gov. Coleman replied:

"I do not see what there is for the state to investigate. It looks to me like a matter for the Yalobusha County grand jury."

In Water Valley, meanwhile, Negroes talk about Daniels' death, but only in low tones and with fear on their faces.

Atty. Roy Johnson said a grand jury will investigate.

Robeson Is Jubilant Over First Passport In Eight Long Years

London, England—Expressing jubilation over his victorious fight with the U. S. state department which refused him a passport, Paul Robeson, 60, had additional reasons to rejoice when he received a hero's welcome in England Friday.

When he landed at the London Airport there a cheering mob of diplomats, stage folk, artistic folks and just plain folks.

After entertaining well-wishers with snatches of his favorite tunes, Robeson said, "A wonderful thing has happened. I have won the struggle in my own country to regain my rights."

"When asked if he regretted 'any of his past actions,' he replied, 'I did what I thought was right. What happened was unfortunate but it is all a past chapter now.'"

Robeson's passport was withdrawn in 1950 by the U. S. government when he refused to sign a non-Communist affidavit required by the State department. This requirement was knocked out by a recent supreme court decision.

He was also asked what he thought of a bill proposed to Congress by the White House that would legalize the anti-Communist affidavit requirement and presumably once more make him stay at home, Robeson answered:

"I hope that the American people will understand what is at issue here and that the bill will never go through."

leader; and August Scholle, President, Michigan State AFL-CIO, Detroit.

The Committee held its organizational meeting on July 2 at Michigan State University here. This is one of 48 such state committees the Commission will appoint to advise it about civil rights matters and recommend corrective action. Other states in which Advisory Committees already have been named are Florida, Texas, Indiana and Virginia.

MURDER OF SIX STOPPED—BUT WHAT HAPPENS TO WOULD-BE KILLER?

New York City . . . While the Welfare Department, police dept. and a daily newspaper boasted their vital roles in saving a woman and her five children from death at the hands of her husband—no immediate provision was made to aid the family which the harassed father planned to kill because—in his own words—"they are better off dead—and so am I."

Letter

The father, 38 year old messenger Robert Dawson of Harlem, wrote the newspaper that he planned to kill his entire family on a certain day, certain time because he made such a small salary and Welfare gave him only $5. per week—that he was in debt for rent, had no food and his kids were ragged. He planned to blow up their apartment, he said, unless he could get help.

Search

Immediately, ten detectives were assigned to find Dawson, out of more than eight million New Yorkers.

Omaha Janitor Held in Fatal Shooting

Council Bluffs, Ia.—According to officials here a 36-year-old apartment house janitor from Omaha has confessed to the fatal shooting Sunday of Joseph David Dixon, 18, of Omaha. A charge of first degree murder was filed against Larry D. Jackson by Atty. Matt Walsh of Pottawattamie county following his confession.

Police said Dixon was killed when he tried to protect his girl, Rita Ficke, 15, when they were attacked by a gunman while sitting in their parked car.

Authorities, who said Jackson's car and a blood spotted shirt was found near the scene of the struggle, also disclosed the suspect would be questioned in connection with other unsolved holdups.

ers because blowing up the apartment meant death or injuries to other innocent people. Racing against time, they were able to trace Dawson through the Welfare and from another letter he had written last year stating he had been gyped by a door-to-door salesman selling silverware.

Family

On finding the troubled father, police hauled him into court before the grand jury for writing a "threatening letter" and sent him to the psychiatric division of Bellevue. His only concern was "maybe now my family will get looked after."

But the police are too busy receiving praises for averting a murder of six-and-a-half and possible serious injuries to innocent people to remember the reason for the letter: that the family is destitute and needs help.

Youth Of The Week

This is the 17th in a series featuring youth, 13 to 21 years, in the community and in Iowa who are setting a good example in wholesome living and achievements in their homes, schools, churches, sports and civic activities.

This week the Bystander is saluting its first youth from out of town. Helen Elizabeth Jones, of Council Bluffs, Ia., established some landmarks in present day Negro history during her studies at Thomas Jefferson High school prior to her graduation last month, when she ranked third from the top in a class of 215. She had maintained a straight "A" average since Junior High.

A member of the National Junior Honor Society for freshmen and sophomores, she also is a two-year member of the National Honor Society for juniors and seniors, becoming the first member of her race to earn these honors at her school. In addition she was a member of the Spanish club for two years serving as president in her second year. She also headed the Art club and held membership in the Student Council and Junior Red Cross.

HELEN JONES
Council Bluffs, Iowa

Editor of Paper

Her greatest honor in high school came to her during her senior year, when she became the first Negro in the history of Thomas Jefferson High to serve as editor-in-chief of the "Signal," school publication, and had served as managing editor prior to stepping into the top job. (Her picture along with two members of her staff was featured in the local daily in Council Bluffs shortly after she took the helm.)

Workshop Award

Last February her journalistic talents won her a third place award in editorial writing at the Omaha University Journalism Conference for high school journalists, in which over 200 prep-journalists participated this year.

A member of Quill and Scroll Honorary society for high school journalists, Helen "feels that her position as editor of the school paper has helped the other Negroes in her hometown."

"The white people in our town can see for themselves what any Negro is capable of becoming, and that we are not an inferior race," she wrote. "I sincerely hope there will be other young Negroes who will follow in my steps and perhaps surpass me."

This fall Helen will establish another first for her race when she becomes the first Negro to enter Jenny Edmundson School of Nursing in September.

About her career in nursing Helen explains, "I realize I have other abilities, but nursing is the profession in which I would work best and be happiest."

Dowling Teacher Is Attending Science Institute at Howard U.

Washington, D. C.—An eight-week institute designed to train high school science teachers in the detection and uses of radioactive substances reached the midway mark at Howard University this week.

The institute, which is being sponsored by the Atomic Energy Commission and the National Science Foundation, is under the direction of Mr. Marie C. Taylor, associate professor of botany at Howard. It will continue through August 8.

A group of 20 teachers representing high schools in 14 states and the District of Columbia are enrolled in the institute. They were selected from more than 100 teachers from throughout the country who applied for admission. Each of the enrollees is under a grant from the National Science Foundation. The grant covers the cost of travel to and from Washington, tuition and fees, and maintenance while attending the institute.

Sister Mary Nugent of Dowling High school in Des Moines, Ia., is among the science teachers attending the summer institute.

Army Record

After working for Wilson Packing company in Cedar Rapids for a while and then Youngers in Des Moines, he was called into the Army. He rose to the rank of M-Sgt. at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., where for two years he trained inductees and served under the command of a local officer then Lieut. Robert N. Hyde. From there he went overseas, first to Okinawa and on to Pusan, Korea. He was there when the famed 38th parallel was established.

An avid spectator sports fan, Thompson has served three years as police officer in uniform at all Iowa football home games, right alongside the Iowa bench.

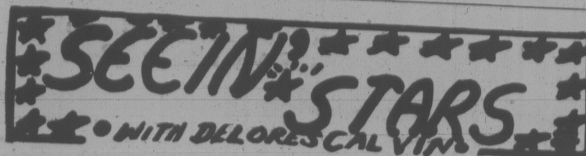

Instructor

At the police department he is also an instructor in the rookie school, receiving his qualification to teach first aid and the art of self defense when he attended a National Red Cross school in Ardmore, Okla., several years ago.

In the community he is polemarch of the Des Moines Kappa Alpha Psi alumni fraternity and is secretary of the Olympian club. A member of Burns Methodist church he formerly directed the Men's chorus. His wife, Esther is a long distance operator at the Northwestern Bell telephone company. He is the father of two children by a previous marriage, Lowell Deane, 8 and Mina Dee Marie, 6, who are living in Minneapolis, Minn.

WHAT THE NEW RATES WILL DO TO PROTECT YOUR FUTURE

To meet your future electric needs, Reddy has an ambitious expansion program set in motion. Most of this money must come from private investors like yourself, willing to put their money to work. To attract this money, the Company must be financially strong. The new rate will enable the Company to show prospective investors that they will earn fair returns.

WHAT THE NEW RATES WILL DO TO YOUR ELECTRIC BILL

Less than 10 cents a week — $36.50 per month is the effect on the average home user's bill for electric service. Yet, because of efficient use of men and modern materials, this small increase will assure the continuation of the construction program which will meet your requirements of the future... for better living electrically.

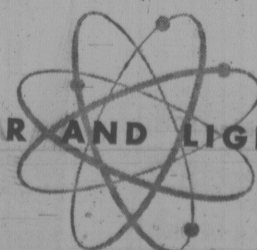

COMPARING COSTS OF MATERIALS - 1946 and 1957

It takes lots of manpower and money to keep you powered for progress

Our cost of doing business, like your cost of living, has been climbing steadily and appears to be headed for new highs. For instance, of the major costs of supplying electricity to you, since 1946, Ipalco's taxes have gone up 10.9% — Fuel costs have risen 19.9% ... and wages are up 115% during that period. At the same time your use of electricity has grown year by year. Thus, Reddy finds himself in the position of doing more and more ... while getting less and less for his work. This is why he's asking for a modest increase in his wages to help balance the cost of supplying you with plenty of power ... Power that lets you live better electrically!

Credit for this week's "Youth of the Week" goes to Mrs. Helen Wimberly, 1727 11th Street. Petite, five foot one-inch, Helen Jones, is one of Mrs. Wimberly's "children" whom she placed in an adopted home when she was serving with the Iowa State Board. She also is our first candidate from out-of-town. Perhaps, some of our readers have not noticed but the weekly feature is open to youths all over the state. To our out-of-town readers, if you know some youngster whom you would like to see featured, write us their names and addresses and we will take it from there.

A local young teenage lass who had a congenital eye defect corrected this summer, was telling us the difficulties she had following the operations. She suffered no pain but was made very uncomfortable by itching from the stitches. However, that was not what bothered her most. Since she no longer had Strabismus (cross-eyes), she had difficulty focusing with both eyes on the same object, and went around for almost a week, seeing double.

Before the operation she had also suffered from a divergent squint, which is commonplace with the defect. Afterwards, she says many of her friends had to remind her not to squint her eyes, or that she did not have to do it any more.

As for the young lady herself, I cannot honestly say she has been made more sunny or had gained more self-confidence, despite her physical defect, she was, always one of the most pleasant, courteous and certainly naturally self-confident young ladies I have seen, thanks to her mother and father, who taught her the boundless value of spirit, mind and heart.

Personally Yours by Frances Hawthorne.

Des Moines residents are busy going out of town for vacations or entertaining relatives and friends who have come to the capital city for theirs.

Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Spates, 1244 West 13th Street, left for Wichita Falls, Tex., making their 11th annual trip in their 12 years of marriage to be with Mr. Spates' parents and other family members. Their daughter Peggy was eagerly making plans for happy playtimes with three cousins from Seattle, Wash., and two from Texarkana, Ark., who will make the trip with their parents, too. The family reunion is held in Wichita Falls every year.

Early next week the Gilbert Randles of 1155 West 14th Street will be on their way to California for their vacation this year.

Mrs. Floyd Bailey, 1144 West 17th Street, called to remind us that she is making preparations for a yearly family reunion. She says two brothers from Hannibal, Mo., and one from Shreveport, La., have notified her they will be here this weekend.

Yours truly had made plans to make a visit to my hometown, Eolia, Mo., but a current bus strike in six states has prevented it, unless the drivers end their strike by press time. I had intended to attend an annual church basket dinner there, along with visiting relatives and friends.

Last week while I was writing the column there was a loud but minor car collision outside my front door which sent my heart pounding, wondering if any child had been playing in the street. Four days later while endeavoring to catch up on my household chores, that I fall behind on the first part of each week, I was aroused by the wails of sirens that sounded as if they were converging up on our block. Immediate investigations showed three fire trucks, the inevitable police car and fire chiefs' car stopping at the house next door, to put out a fire that had started in the kitchen. While we were reassuring neighbors that it was not us, and telling them what was happening, a local television reporter-camera man called to inquire "about the seriousness of the fire" which was confined mainly to dense smoke due to the fast thinking of the fire department, and the fast action of a visitor who grabbed a fire extinguisher in the house.

RECKLESS USE OF JUDICIAL DISCRETION

Alabama has renewed its fight to outlaw the NAACP in that state following its defeat before the U. S. Supreme Court.

An article printed on this page contains a disturbing account of the action of a judge who, by all the rules of procedure, should disqualify himself. Of course it is not obligatory that he do so, but the use of such inflammatory language against a litigant raises grave doubts of his propriety.

Just what kind of justice is this? Can a judge who boasts in advance that he would rule against a litigant be trusted to render fair and impartial decisions? Absolutely not. Such conduct shows the low state to which some people, even in high places, will stoop to stop the progress of the Negro.

THIS SWEEPING ADVICE IS QUESTIONABLE

Speaking before a mass meeting of the NAACP Convention in Cleveland, Roy Wilkins, secretary of the organization, admonished Negroes to forget party lines and vote for the man. And this in spite of the fact that he warned last year that the Democratic party would be held responsible for emasculating the Civil Rights bill of 1957.

This would be good advice if the country was governed by individuals. Not so. It is governed by parties. It is difficult to see how the Negro or any other group can have any influence in Congress or any other legislative hall if somebody did not tie to a political party.

Undoubtedly, Mr. Wilkins is being guided by the old policy of labor leaders who gave their members such advice. But today nobody can deny that every labor leader is championing the cause of the Democratic party.

Close example is here in Iowa. Labor leaders, many of them former Republicans, have gone to the Democratic party lock, stock and barrel. They are not telling their members to vote for good Republicans and against bad Democrats but for Democrats only.

It is difficult for a party not in power to emasculate a bill of any kind. Civil Rights—never and as long as the Democratic party is in power, southerners will do just that because they are in control of most important committees which, to a great extent, run Congress.

The Bystander is not here arguing that all Negroes must join any particular party. A man's political leanings are his privilege. But it does argue that as long as one party plays both ends against the middle in this matter, the Democratic party cannot be trusted to go any further up the ladder of justice to the Negro than the southerners in Congress wish.

INCONSISTENCY IN RESPECT FOR LAW

Senator McClelland of Arkansas is chairman of a committee now conducting hearings which have uncovered some startling instances of racketeering, stealing and other irregularities in the labor movement. It is shocking how underworld figures have maneuvered themselves into positions of authority which has permitted them to steal union funds but to date little has been done about it.

Now the committee is investigating and holding hearings in an effort to determine the hookups between members of the criminal syndicates who, either with or without management, have double-crossed the unions to their great riches. And as these men have been called to testify before the committees they have refused to answer the most simple questions pleading that to do so might tend to incriminate them. While, maybe technically legal, these men hold the law with contempt, defying constituted authority. In other words, these men feel that they are the law unto themselves. And the senator is horrified.

But Senator McClelland should not be. He is equally as guilty as these men he seeks to investigate by defying the law and urging the people of his state to follow mob rule rather than the orderly process of the law.

It was Senator McClelland who praised the decision of Judge Lem when the organization refused to produce records of contributors and other papers. The state's case then was handled by Attorney General John Patterson, who is now handling the effort to have the persons named as NAACP representatives key styming integration in Little Rock, Arkansas thus encouraging his constituents and others similarly situated to defy the law to the extent that authorities fear to try to integrate the schools—purely law defiance.

The senator takes the position that racketeers and crime manipulators should obey the law, and rightly so. But his constituents at home should be encouraged to defy the law. Under the circumstances it is difficult to see how any man who takes the oath to uphold the law, at the same time encourages a segment of the population to violate it.

These inconsistencies don't create respect for America among a lot of people in the world.

Ala. Renews Fight On NAACP with New Contempt Case

Montgomery, Ala.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Alabama again is under fire with a new contempt of court case being heard here in the state's capital.

The state has brought second contempt proceedings before Circuit Judge Walter B. Jones, charging NAACP still is engaged in business, although it is under an injunction of some two years' standing. NAACP also had been fined $100,000 for refusing to turn over certain records. This is under appeal.

Original Injunction

The original injunction was granted by Judge Jones of Montgomery cited for contempt.

Mr. Patterson interestingly was nominated for the governorship recently.

And similarly, Judge Jones was renominated to the bench in May. Indeed, the fact that the judge had campaigned using references to NAACP came up in court proceedings.

Judge Refuses Plea

"Negro attorneys for NAACP had asked that Judge Jones excuse himself from the case on the grounds that he has shown bias and prejudice against the Negro organization. The judge refused to do this, stating that the Negroes' contentions were inadequate to justify such action on his part.

"The record of the proceedings, however, asked Judge Jones if he had said in his recent campaign for renomination that he would deal the NAACP a blow from which it would never recover."

Question Struck Out

"That is substantially correct," the judge said. His further explanation was that during the campaign he had come to the conclusion that NAACP was fighting his candidacy, and that he was simply saying to the people that if they renominated him they would deal a "blow to the organization that attempts to further its own interest by having judges elected to wight be subservient to its will."

Another Point

At another point in the hearing, the judge was asked whether he agreed with some people that NAACP is communist-dominated. The judge said that he did, but later struck both the question—by Mr. Carter—and his answer from the record. Nevertheless, the answer indicates that, at the very least, Judge Jones has strong feelings. Indeed, he writes a weekly column for the Montgomery Advertiser, and it is common knowledge that the judge's point of view is strongly in favor of white supremacy. One of his articles was titled, "I Speak for the White People."

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

There has been quite a debate raging on the merits of our Des Moines Open tennis meet. One school of thought has it that since no Negroes have ever won the thing the meet is about due to fold. Another group cites the progress of our younger players and attribute that to our annual meet. But we do know that the Des Moines offer has done a lot towards cementing good will among tennis players of all races all over the state. So far as I can find out this is the only tennis meet in the country that has about 90 per cent white players and is run by Negroes.

The way has been paved so that if a really top notch Negro player wanted in our meet, he would be in. We like to think of the beating we took to keep the meet open for all comers but we didn't expect them to be shown up as they have been under year after year. The three of us got into meets that we were left out of, until we made our presence felt.

Now with this meet going each

HEALTH FOR ALL

Safety-Tested for TB

Remember the old verse about the purple cow? It ended "I'd rather see than be one."

But now a veterinarian comes up with a different point of view. As far as tuberculosis is concerned, he says, it's "much safer to be born a calf than a baby in America today." This is the way Dr. Paul S. Dodd sums up the comparative progress in eliminating bovine and human tuberculosis.

Cattle

Years ago TB was the most serious disease the American farmer had to deal with. In 1918 a cooperative campaign for the eradication of bovine TB was begun. The plans was to give all cattle the tuberculin test, the skin test that shows tuberculous infection even though active disease may not be present. All cattle found to have positive reactions were to be slaughtered. You may never have been a farmer, but you can imagine how difficult it must have been to face the destruction of valuable animals for the general good.

Number Tested

By 1936 more than 176,000,000 cattle had been tested and more than 3,000,000 had been slaughtered. By 1956 only one a half percent or 14,000 of the cattle tested had positive reactions to the test. But in the same year, 14,000 human beings died of tuberculosis and there were about 800,000 active and inactive cases of the disease.

Available to People

The tuberculin test is just as easily available to people as to cattle. With the evidence of a positive reaction, it's often possible for health workers to find the source of the infection—the active case of TB that is spreading germs. And, of course, extra care can be taken to protect the health of the reactor to prevent the development of active disease.

Perhaps we could do as much for our own safety as for our animals.

Tax Problems Make Ray Robinson Quizzical--To Fight or Not to Fight Is the Question

New York, N. Y.—To fight or not to fight seems to be the question with Sugar Ray Robinson, world's middleweight champion.

The latest report has it that Robinson will fight in a rematch with dethroned Carmen Basilio in September at Yankee Stadium.

It was reported that Sugar Ray called Truman Gibson by phone to ask that the options on his contract to fight Basilio be extended to February.

Gibson, International Boxing Club president, said that "Robinson asked for a meeting, and I am inclined to think he intends to fight."

year and drawing more and more out of town players, we are having trouble keeping pace with it. Our younger players are doing all right in their division, but our older players will just have to wait the development of the kids.

It has been some time since Negroes got into the state golf meet and we don't think of them ever won a match. Louis Dade of Fort Madison became the first Negro to accomplish this feat. Then the guy was eliminated in the next round.

Incidentally, we used to wonder why the local Negro golfers didn't open their meet to everybody as the tennis players do. Well we received this explanation. The Valley golf club is made up of fellows who like to have a good time together and incidentally play a little golf. Their purpose of meeting other golfers like themselves who like to have fun and play some golf. If the meet used a wide open mixed affair, all the fun would be out of it because promoting it would be work. This way the members play golf, have fun, win a few trophies, and are relaxed and contented. Now you can't beat that!

Baseball
There are so many Negro kids in the Little Leagues and Babe Ruth League that we can't begin to name them all. However we hope to devote a column to the boys next week.

Dear Editor:

I noted with a great deal of satisfaction your articles "Youth of the Week" in recent issues of the Bystander.

I think this is a splendid way to help call attention to the many wonderful young people we have in our communities. Somehow or other the boys who get in trouble always make the headlines and those of us who are involved in youth work appreciate the efforts of a paper like yours to call attention to the constructive and wholesome things young people do. Keep up the good work. I enjoy your newspaper very much and very frequently refer to it in my conversations with business and professional men.

A FEW LESSON IN EASY LIVING—

We can strictly to our own business. Say only kindly things or keep our mouths shut.
Learn to laugh freely and easily;

We can avoid all cutting and nasty remarks;

Keep all our troubles to ourselves; Learn how to tell an interesting story;

Hide our aches and pains with a grin;

Stop our foolish cussing and grumbling;

Above everything else, learn to keep smiling;

Always believe in, and depend on God.

Serious Knee Injury Sidelines Gene Baker For Rest of Season

St. Louis, Mo.—Trying to convert a hit into an out, Gene Baker, Pittsburgh's regular third baseman, suffered serious injury to his left knee Sunday and a physician said he may be lost to the Pirates for the remainder of the season.

Baker, a native of Davenport, Iowa, tripped hard and fell on his knee, rupturing a ligament that attaches the knee cap to the leg, and was carried off the field on a stretcher.

At St. Louis Cardinal surgeon, Dr. I. C. Middleman, who examined Baker's knee, said the knee would require surgery and would have to
