NAACP TO MEET IN ST. PAUL FOR 51st ANNUAL CONVENTION

Cleveland—The 51st annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will be held in St. Paul, Minn., in 1960. The Minnesota city, where NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins grew up, was chosen by the delegates to the Association's 49th annual convention which closed here last week.

The golden anniversary convention will be held in July, 1959, in New York City where the NAACP was begun in 1909. Preparations for the 1959 convention have already been initiated.

Showing of Banned Movie Interrupted by Threatening Men

Wetumpka, Ala.—About 25 patrons who dared to see an interracial movie at an outdoor theater owned by a manager "who dared to show it but not endorse it" were rudely interrupted when an estimated 200 persons in 75 cars started milling around the gates, cut the power to the movie screen and threatened the manager with violence.

Shortly after 8 p.m. when the showing of "Island in the Sun", starring Harry Belafonte and Joan Fontaine in an interracial romance, men starting arriving blocking the gates to patrons. Employees fired shots over the heads of some of the demonstrators who tried to drive cars into the theater from fields along the side.

Later, Theater Manager Max Singleton, who escaped with his wife and telephoned for help, issued a statement, saying, "We will not attempt to show the show again for our own protection."

Previously the theater had advertised, "This is the one that is banned all over the south. While we dare to show it, we do not endorse it. Make up your mind about seeing it."

Negro Appointed As Associate Justice in Mass. Superior Court

Boston, Mass.—Edward O. Gourdin, 60, became the first Negro to be appointed to the second highest court in Massachusetts when he was sworn in as associate justice of the state's superior court.

Gourdin, a member of the bar, since 1925, served as an assistant U. S. attorney in Boston from 1936 to 1951. He was appointed a special justice of the Roxbury district court in 1951.

During his college days at Harvard, Gourdin set an international record of 25 feet 3 inches in the broad jump. He was commanding officer of the 372nd infantry regiment during World War II with the rank of colonel.

Howard U. Coed Is College Consultant at Chicago Dept. Store

Washington, D. C.—Officials of Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., one of Chicago's leading department stores, this week announced the appointment of Miss Sylvia A. Taylor, a senior in the College of Liberal Arts at Howard University, as a consultant in the store's College Shoppe.

Miss Taylor is believed to be the first coed from a predominantly Negro institution to receive such an appointment in Chicago. She began work on Monday (July 7) and will continue through September 13th.

As a consultant Miss Taylor will recommend wearing apparel to teenage and college-age shoppers. She will be among 25 college consultants selected by Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co. from colleges throughout the country.

Powell, Brown Campaigners Clash; Voters Lured from All Angles in Last Weeks

New York City—(CNS) As Adam Powell continues to wage what he hopes to result into a sweeping victory for himself—and his beliefs—the "little people" are working just as hard to put over their candidate, Earl Brown, for Congress, in a solid way.

Party members have started a whispering campaign against Powell and for Brown—exposing many of Powell's weak points and building up Brown as "a real people's man." More and more the voters are becoming accustomed to stories on Brown's fine background and his untarnished record. Many have expressed they will vote for Brown because they are "just sick of Powell and all his noise."

NEW SINGING STAR FEATURED IN EBONY

Chicago—Valerie Carr, a 2-year old New Yorker who was studying Bach and Beethoven at the Boston Conservatory of Music two years ago, now she has two pop records going strong for her on the best-selling record list.

Valerie, who is featured in a picture story in the August issue of Ebony, says she has long had a secret passion for singing.

She got her big break during her first year at the conservatory. A friend took her to audition for a night club owner who was so intrigued by her style that he employed her on the spot.

Who's Who in Iowa

Hugh Semple Is Disc Jockey Announcer at KWDM D.M.

By Mrs. Frances Hawthorne
This is the 23rd in a series of articles featuring Negro firsts, leaders, and outstanding personalities in Iowa who are excelling in civic, professional, business, religious, educational, fraternal and entertainment fields.)

To Hugh Semple, music is not exactly his whole world, but after his family and full-time job as a vehicle operator with the U. S. postoffice, practically all of his remaining hours are devoted to music.

For the past two and a-half years he has been D-J announcer at radio station KWDM, and has built up a two-hour daily-weekly show with four hours each Saturday evening, entertaining his audience with popular music, and pops, jazz and spirituals, country music and westerns.

This job did not just drop into his lap, Semple readily admits.

"It was a well planned thing. After many voice auditionings and interviews on electronics among other things, I got the job with the help of Atty. Luther Glanton and my predecessor, Bill Anderson."

Electronics

His knowledge of electronics came from a previous two year correspondence course. However, his interest in music had its beginning in his pre-school years, after his parents brought him from his birthplace, Blockton, Ala., at the age of two. His father, who was an outstanding singer and church worker, began teaching him the arts of voice and singing, and at the age of five, Semple started public singing, first in Sunday School and has been singing ever since.

Vocalist-Entertainer

Long before he landed the job at KWDM, he was known locally and all over Iowa as a vocalist-entertainer. He sang in churches but his deep baritone voice was best known in nightclubs. He is a member of the well-known Richard Allen Concert Chorus of St. Paul A.M.E.

Tension Mounts

Though Powell's followers have cited that Brown cannot possibly win—the tension is mounting as voting time draws closer. Brown's backers believe if the people are given enough time to stop and think for themselves—they cannot help but choose a man whose record speaks for himself.

Powell, seeking the Democratic nomination, has just three weeks left before the August 12th primaries and does most of his speeches from street corners in Harlem where traffic stops to listen and his followers swarm over him to prove support.

Mrs. Isabel Barker entered Union Hospital at Iowa City, Ia., Sunday where she underwent eye surgery. She is a member of Shiloh Baptist church.

Appointed Assistant Director in Foundation

New York, N. Y.—Samuel B. Ethridge of Mobile, Ala., has been appointed assistant director of interracial activities of the National Foundation, it was announced by Basil O'Connor, president of the organization supported by the March of Dimes.

Ethridge will assist in interpreting the program of the National Foundation for organized groups. He will serve national headquarters and field staff as a consultant on interracial activities, working closely with Charles H. Bynum, director of interracial activities.

Samuel B. Ethridge

Ethridge has been a volunteer worker with the National Foundation for the past ten years. He has served both as a leader in March of Dimes activities and as a board member of the Mobile County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. He also has been active in various other organizations including the Community Chest, Boy Scouts, Y. M. C. A., N. E. A., and P. T. A.

Before joining the staff of the National Foundation, Ethridge was a supervisor of instruction in the Mobile Public Schools. He has been a high school teacher and an elementary school principal in the same system. He is a veteran of World War II with service in the Army Air Corps and the Medical Corps.

He is a graduate of Allen Institute of Mobile, Ala., Stillman Junior College of Tuscaloosa, Ala., Howard University, Washington, D. C., and the University of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Full Court of Seven Judges to Review Little Rock Case

St. Louis, Mo.—A full court of seven judges will decide to uphold or reverse U. S. District Judge Harry Lemley's ruling for suspension of integration at Little Rock, Ark. The hearing is set for Aug. 4.

Because he believes there is "sufficient reason" to warrant a full court, Chief Justice Archibald K. Gardner, of the federal court of appeals, notified the court clerk in St. Louis of the transfer of the case from a three-judge division to seven. He sent the order from his home in Huron, S. Dak.

The case had been assigned to a division composed of Judges John B. Sanford of St. Paul, Minn., Martin D. Van Oosterhout of Orange City, Ia., and Harvey M. Johnson of Hastings, Neb.

In addition to Judge Gardner, the other judges of the appellate court are Joseph W. Woodrugh of Omaha, Charles J. Vogel of Fargo, N. D., and Martin C. Matthes of St. Louis.

NAACP HONORS 1000th LIFE MEMBER

Cleveland—Mrs. Nettie Scott King of Indianapolis, the 1000th person to become a fully paid $500 life member of the NAACP, was honored at a luncheon during the Association's 49th annual convention which closed here on July 13.

Long an annual member of the Indianapolis branch of the NAACP, Mrs. King took out a life membership early in June in response, she asserts, to "a very persuasive letter" from Henry J. Richardson, chairman of the Indianapolis life membership committee.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Greenville, S. C.—Members of the white Clear Springs Baptist church secured a loan of $2,000 to help a fellow Baptist congregation recently. The "fellow" congregation is Negro.

Memphis, Tenn.—The fund to erect a monument to E. C. Handy in the Beale street park—that beats his name, stands now at $9,000. Spearheading the drive is a citizen's committee headed by "Mayor" of Beale street, which Handy immortalized in his blues, Matthew Thornton.

Atlanta, Ga.—Thirteen of the 127 Roman Catholic archdioceses and dioceses in this country have a Negro Catholic population of more than 10,000 according to a report released by the commission for Catholic Missions among Colored People and Indians.

New Haven, Conn.—"The Castle," a prominent New Haven landmark for many years, was purchased for $130,000 last week by Charles M. "Daddy" Grace as trustee of the House of Prayer for All People, Inc.

Chicago, Ill.—Master Sgt. Joseph A. Burney, whose retirement from the Army concluded more than 31 years of active service, was honored recently with a military review in front of the Fifth U. S. Army headquarters on Hyde park boulevard.

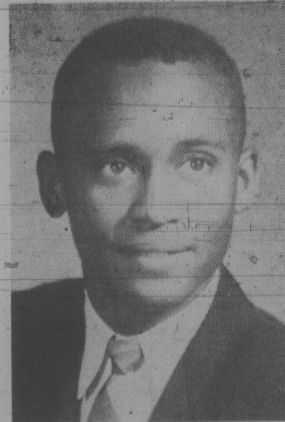

Little Rock, Ark.—Five Negroes arrested near Central High School on baccalaureate night were found innocent last week of charges of disturbing the peace.

Cleveland, Ohio.—Police thought they had heard absolutely everything last week when 7-year-old Alvin Anderson told them he was robbed of $5.50 in broad daylight by a woman carrying a baby in her arms. Alvin said he was going to the store for his mother when the woman ask him if he had any money. When he said no, she shifted the baby to her other arm, opened his fist, took out the money, and sent him on his way.

Students' Attorney Calls Program Discriminating Evasion of Desegregation

Charlottesville, Va.—Placement testing programs which have been adopted by school boards in several southern states, to combat desegregation orders, received their initial boycotts when about 20 Negro students seeking admission to white elementary schools here, refused to take the tests. The day before, 11 Negro students requesting entrance to White Lane High school also boycotted the tests.

New Program

Under a new program of the city school board, the tests are required of any pupil transferring to another city school or coming to a city school from out of town, and also help school officials determine at what grade level the students would be admitted to assigned schools.

New Districts

Also part of the plan are personal interviews with the parents and the establishment of a Negro elementary school district encompassing almost all Negro homes.

Virginia law calls for closing of any school with interracial enrollment. Charlottesville is among four localities in the state facing federal court orders to open their schools to Negroes.

Negro Attorney

Atty. Oliver W. Hill, counsel for the children, telephoned City Atty. John S. Battle, informing him the students "would not comply with the testing program because 'the tests were discriminatory and merely an effort to evade the court's order,' and determined to take the matter up with the courts."

NAACP Resolutions Call For Fed. Action on Rights

Cleveland—Federal action to protect the civil rights of American citizens was urged in a series of resolutions adopted at the 49th annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which closed here on July 13.

The executive branch of government and the Congress were called upon for affirmative action to uphold Supreme Court decisions banning racial segregation. Initiation of action in support of the Civil Rights Act of 1957 was also urged.

The President of the United States was called upon "to travel through the southern states . . . and speak out against . . . (terroristic) actions on the part of the White Citizens Councils and similar groups." Further, the President was urged "to speak and continuously to use his influence to safeguard the right of the NAACP, as an organization, to operate."

White House Action Urged

The convention resolved "that in potentially explosive situations such as that of Virginia, the executive arm of our government aid, abet

Council Bluffs NAACP Takes Stand on Omaha, Nebr. Murder

Council Bluffs, Ia.—(Special to the Bystander)—Since the unfortunate murder of Joseph David Dixon at Carter Lake, Iowa, Sunday night, June 13th people are wondering what is the position of the Council Bluffs NAACP relative to the suspect of this hideous crime.

According to the news dispatches, Larry D. Jackson of 1920 Locust Street, Omaha, Nebraska has confessed this crime. I think our law is based upon the principle that all accused is innocent until proven guilty under the law. The NAACP stands for justice. Justice, as you know, when impartially applied works two ways. It protects those who are tried and proven innocent, it condemns those who are tried and found guilty. But whether one is innocent or guilty, the Council Bluffs NAACP stands for justice under the law.

and buttress the ruling of the 1954 Supreme Court decision; that it shall make clear to the people of Virginia and other states similarly affected that the unanimous and historic decision of 1954 is the law of the land and will be implemented without any regard to local objections and opposition; and that the President and the Attorney General of the United States leave no door ajar for anarchy and violence to enter.

Congress was called upon to restore Part III to the Civil Rights Act of 1957. This section would have enabled the Attorney General on his own initiative to intervene in school desegregation and other civil rights cases.

Intensify Vote Drive

The convention also affirmed the intention to "increase financial expenditures to promote registration and vote campaigns in the South" and called upon "the United States Department of Justice to stop dragging its feet in enforcing the law and to begin an effective program of applying the new civil rights law so that all qualified citizens may vote without fear of reprisal."

Bill to Curb U.S. Supreme Court Big Threat to Negroes

New York—Enactment of a bill designed to limit the jurisdiction of the United States Supreme Court would "sell 17,000,000 Negro citizens down the river in states which continue to flout federal authority," Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, warned in a telegram sent to 250 non-southern Republican and Democratic members of the House of Representatives.

Under terms of the bill, federal laws would not supersede state laws on the same subject unless Congress specifically indicates the priority of each federal law passed or unless there is a direct and irreconcilable conflict between federal and state law.

In identical telegrams to the congressmen on July 16, Mr. Wilkins said that passage of the bill "would enable states to continue racial segregation laws and enact new ones without restraint by the U. S. Supreme Court. Regardless of the language used, it (the bill) would deny "Fancy" this bread further by arranging chopped nuts and Christmas-like candied cherries and citron or angelica over the icing.

Serve Swedish Tea Ring on Christmas morning as a special family treat. Or, feature fresh, warm slices anytime during the holidays when you're serving coffee or spiced tea to guests. Home-baked products add a note of hospitality.

Your baker's coffee rings, cookies and pastries for the Christmas season also ring an inviting note. So, when you want to serve something sweet and festive but haven't the time to "do-it-yourself," take a look at your baker's shelves.

Baked goods you buy, like those you make yourself, contain enriched flour for added nutritional value. Enriched flour provides extra amounts of three essential vitamins and food iron at no extra cost.

SWEDISH TEA RING

1 package yeast, compressed or dry
1/2 cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry)
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt

Soften yeast in water. Scald milk. Add sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in 1 cup water and 1/2 cup milk. Beat well. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead until smooth and satiny. Place in greased bowl and let rise until doubled (about 1 1/2 hours). Punch down. Cover and let rest 10 minutes. Roll out to rectangular sheet about 12 inches long and 6 inches wide.

2 TABLESPOONS SHORTENING

1 egg
3 cups sifted enriched flour (about)
Melted butter or margarine
Cinnamon sugar
Confectioners' sugar icing

Brush with melted butter or margarine, and sprinkle with cinnamon sugar. Roll up like jelly-roll and seal edge firmly. Shape into ring on greased baking sheet, pressing ends together to seal. With scissors, cut through roll almost to center, in slices 1 inch apart. Turn each slice slightly on its side. Let rise until doubled. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. When cool, frost with confectioners' sugar icing. Makes 1 tea ring.

Temper Tantrums Often Indicate Deep Need for Parental Attention, or Real Ill Health

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Written by May P. Youtz, SUI Associate Professor

A Child's Problem

"Jane, would you like to go to the country with Cousin Mary today? She is going home," asked Jane's mother, Jane, aged six, said, "Yes."

The two drove out in Mary's car. All went well the first day, but the next morning Jane had a temper tantrum. Mary, who was a nurse, knew that Jane sometimes had tantrums; she simply walked out of the room and left Jane completely alone. Finally the crying stopped.

Somewhat later in the day Jane said, "Don't you like me?" "I love you very much," Mary said, "but I'd rather not see you when you are angry."

No More Tantrums

Never again did the child try a tantrum with Mary. This may sound too easy!—But notice that Jane got nothing for her tantrum, and she was reassured about Mary's love for her. She needed this.

Children need attention as they need food. If not given them for acceptable behavior, they will use other or less desirable ways of getting it. Jane had fun with Cousin Mary and wanted to be accepted by her. She could not have put this longing into words but it was there—a real motivation for her behavior.

Deep Need

Temper tantrums, once were thought to indicate a badly "spoiled" child who needed stern discipline. Today, plenty of evidence shows that a deep need for attention, possibly too many "don't" in his life, and occasionally real ill health may be causes.

Keep Own Temper

As we deal with a temper tantrum it is imperative that we remember to keep our own temper! Fuel to the fire is not what is needed. Many times parents will need, after the tantrum passes, to reassure a child that he or she is loved. But for the child never to gain anything, especially horrified attention, by a tantrum is important. Often, time spent with the individual child pays great dividends. A discipline based on love and understanding is also necessary.

FRUSTRATION

"I am frustrated." This is a condition often heard and is not helpful for good mental health. Your Polk County Association for Mental Health suggests that it isn't what we have done that makes us feel tired so much as seeing so many things that need doing. How about entering into action in some community service to frustrate frustration?

Youth Of The Week

This is the 18th in a series featuring youth, 13 to 21 years, in the community and in Iowa who are setting a good example in wholesome living and achievements in their homes, schools, churches, sports and civic activities.

This week the Bystander tips our hat to a young man, with a very pleasant personality, 17-year-old Tom Randle, who has participated actively in school and community but has his sights set on entering West Point military academy. If he listens to the encouragement and advice of his father, he just might make it, however, he is wise enough to select a second choice, which is architecture.

However, he readily explained that his grades suffered a little when he worked the past two sessions as page boy at the Statehouse, landing the job due to the help of his father, which was followed by a thorough background checkup by authorities, who are in charge of selecting personnel to fill such jobs.

During the times, he attended North High only one hour a day, and had to turn in all assignments a week in advance.

Church

A member of Maple Street Baptist church, he is also secretary and former treasurer of the Phalanx, young boys club, at the Crocker branch of the YMCA, where he has been a member for six years. In addition he is a member of Willie House and the NAACP Youth council.

Boone Camp

During the first part of the summer he worked with a group of teenagers who are representing the American Friends Society in taking surveys of persons who will be directly affected by the proposed freeway for the city. Tom first met the group at the camp near Boone which was supported by the Society. He went on a scholarship from North High which also paid all his expenses.

After trying the work, Tom, says all kinds of music, he built a hi-fi set, which took him three months, and has music piped throughout his home. In addition he reads anything he can get his "hands on", books from the library and trade magazines, to learn about current trends in music and the history and background of certain music. These he makes available to his children.

Auditions at Home

For his D-J announcer's job, he auditions all new records, at home and depends on his oldest daughter's opinion for selection of pops and rock 'n' roll records, and on magazines and other music publications, plus opinions of competitive D-Js for his selections of jazz and spirituals.

Because his job is serious to him and not just merely throwing a record on a spinette, Semple is constantly thinking up new ideas which usually meets with the approval of his boss and then his audience.

Telephone Requests

"I was the first D-J to accept telephone requests from individuals, back in 1956."

"Just recently, I began a new idea, 'Around the World in Music,' he said, later on, (he's working on the idea now) he hopes to open a jazz school. "Only about two or three such schools are open around the country, so far," he revealed.

Rock 'n' Roll

About rock 'n' roll music, Semple maintained, "I honestly, think many disk jockeys have killed real music. They are pushing rock 'n' roll records too hard."

"There are many a record of good music that is never heard," he went on. "Even though teenagers don't begin to feel and hear music until they are 18, they should be exposed to it. My children listen to all kinds of music. I explain jazz to them, and they know rock 'n' roll comes from jazz."

Semple has been with the post office department for 10½ years and served 22 months of his three-year army hitch overseas in the European theater during World War II, rising to the rank of T-sgt. He collected five bronze stars which are indicative of the areas in which he served with the U. S. 3rd Army.

His hobbies are his family, fishing and of course hi-fi. A member of St. Paul A. M. E. church he is

Airport Post No. 6852 Holds Carnival to Assist Flood Drive

Airport Post No. 6852, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ladies Auxiliary to Airport won first place in the state of Iowa on their community service program for 1957-58. Their first undertaking this year has been the assistance with the Veterans of Foreign Wars Flood Relief Drive for southwest Iowa under the auspices of the Polk Co. Council V. F. W.

Kennedy Reaffirms Support of Civil Rights Legislation

Washington, D. C.—Senator John F. Kennedy (Dem.-Mass.) reaffirmed his support of legislation giving the Attorney General authority to intervene in all Civil Rights proceedings and again called for revision of Senate Rules to end the filibuster. Senator Kennedy also urged action on his anti-dynamite bill, which would make it a federal criminal offense to damage or destroy homes, schools, churches and other property with explosives.

In a statement to a Massachusetts NAACP meeting in Boston, the Senator said Title III, which was stricken from the Civil Rights Bill of 1957, should be written into law by the next Congress. This measure would give the Attorney General authority to intervene with injunctive powers in all civil rights proceedings, including school desegregation. The remainder of the 1957 bill was limited to voting rights.

Novel Table for Cottage Folds Against Wall

A COMPACT, out-of-the-way table and benches suitable for a camp cottage will be a pleasure to build and a delight to the family because of its novelty.

The table top, when folded up, serves as a door for the wall cabinet. Because it will wear long and is easy to keep clean, Masonite 1/2" Tempered Preswood is used to surface the lumber framing of the table top. The same material covers the planks serving as benches.

The cupboard is built of 1-inch lumber framing, covered with Tempered Preswood. Shelves are similarly constructed.

Note the hinges which permit the table and benches to be pushed out of the way, against the wall, to which they are fastened with hooks.

Panels of Preswood can be used effectively in other ways at the summer cottage—to cover unsightly interior walls, for converting a large room into smaller ones, corner closets, floors, fish cleaning and bait cutting boards, sunshades at the beach, or resurfacing old picnic tables.

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP

Seemingly has said, "One way for a man to keep his head above water is to stay out of expensive dives." Your health department suggests that there are other dives that are dangerous, especially the dive into the unknown water of a sand pit or creek. Enjoy the beautiful recreation of summertime sport in approved places, and above all, look before you leap.

BIG WHEELS

It doesn't make good sense, but the boss believes in living dangerously. He is a big "wheel" in action. He has three phones ringing all at one time, with important decisions to be made, one right after the other. Your Polk County Association for Mental Health says that high-tension living can be disastrous. Big "wheels" should calm down before they explode.

TALK IT OUT

"Talk it out." This is good advice and comes from your Polk County Association for Mental Health.

the Camera Guild

Mirror pictures are easy to make, nice to have, and fun to show and impress your friends.

It's Almost Like Seeing Double

Yes, when you picture your subject reflected in a mirror, it's almost like seeing double. But it also can give you a very striking and effective snapshot.

Mirror pictures are for the most amateur photographers—using the simplest of equipment, as well as for the professionals who are well aware of the effectiveness of this technique.

A simple camera with flash attachment enables you to take these pictures. There are only two things which you have to keep in mind that don't apply to other pictures.

First of all be sure that neither your camera nor the flash is reflected in the mirror. Secondly, when you figure the distance, you add that between camera and mirror to that between subject and mirror.

This means that if you have a camera that won't let you shoot a picture closer than six feet—and your subject looks best posed a foot from the mirror, you will keep the camera five feet from the mirror. That's all there is to it.

Find a pretty mirror, a good subject, and take camera in hand to make some snapshots that are "different" and make a terrific impression on people who aren't "in the know."

CHARITY ABROAD;
LITTLE AT HOME

President Eisenhower has struck quickly and decisively to protect freedom living people in the Middle East. And while his decision to send troops has been criticized by our friends, and while to do so tends to bypass UN, results were needed quickly and the majority of the American people back the program.

It is difficult to understand how freedom for people is so important for foreigners thousands of miles away to the extent that the possibility of a third world war is involved, when citizens right under his nose are denied their freedom and just about nothing is done about it.

A resolution adopted at the SAA-CP conference in Cleveland criticized President Eisenhower and others who admonish Negroes to go slow in their quest for full civil rights, that they must be patient and not expect changes to come about too fast. That criticism is just and every opportunity should be taken to point out the inconsistency of "supporting freedom abroad and wait and see at home."

Experience has shown that it does not pay to coddle law violators. They have been tolerated too much already. And the more they are coddled, the more difficult it becomes to have them abide by the law.

GOOD ADVICE

Jackie Robinson told the NAACP delegates in Cleveland that he did not think that Negroes fought hard enough for their rights. With this, there can be little disagreement. And since his adversaries are fighting harder than ever before, the battle gets tougher even though the Negro is coming closer to realizing his ambitions.

There are three angles to the fight which must be given closer attention:

First, the south, is fighting with tax dollars plus contributions to their cause while the Negro and his friends are dependent upon contributions to a large extent. Thus, the Negro must give more. And this is particularly true of those who have accumulated wealth, many of whom have gone into a shell leaving the job to the other fellow, in some cases, almost entirely.

Second, Every Negro should be sufficiently interested in his own cause to be counted in time as well as money, in order to lend moral support to those who are leading the way. He must be a good citizen so as to demonstrate that he earns a place in the community.

Third, He must be willing to gamble with his job, his personal safety, his "friend" who cautions more patience. He must not be afraid to take a positive-intelligent position for complete equality of citizenship.

The "friends" he loses by following such a course were no good in the first place. Examples of this and those who are discriminated against in the enjoyment of their civil rights and refuse to prosecute the wrong doer; those who fear and refuse to report to the proper authorities discrimination in employment.

Here in Iowa, reasonable safeguards are available to protect Negroes, in their efforts to be first class citizens. Use them and use them intelligently. No progress can be made by sulking in a corner and whispering complaints. Even the enemy hates a coward.

TRICKS POP UP
IN MANY PLACES

Last week the Chamber of Commerce in Indianola, Iowa, sent about 2,000 letters to Des Moines residents who it is reasonable to assume will be seeking new places to live when the Freeway is built.

Rather interesting to note that these letters went to people living west of Twenty-sixth street—and why? It is also interesting to note that Negroes and white people living in other sections of the so-called blighted area, were not invited. Apparently they don't want these people in Indianola, many of whom are excellent citizens.

And it is interesting to note that Indianola, the seat of Simpson College, has had the reputation of being a "clean town." It is reported that liquor, gambling and other forms of vice are at a minimum there.

It is rated a strong church town, a liberal social community. In fact the late George W. Carver attended school there and the citizens boast of that fact. Speakers have been invited in during brotherhood week and received fine receptions. (The editor of the Bystander has been one of them.) But when it comes to the practical application of brotherhood, they fall flat on their faces.

Visit the cemetery in Indianola and some gravestones bear not only the name of the deceased but the inscription "in memory of our black mammy." These were some of the freed slaves brought North by old residents of Indianola who tried to do something practical toward these newly emancipated men and women. Would these old patriots be pleased with their sons and daughters? There is serious doubt.

The Chamber of Commerce of Indianola should be ashamed of this tricky conduct, for in this instance, representatives acting for townspeople, indicate that the community does not practice what it preaches.

JACKIE ROBINSON:
BUSINESS EXECUTIVE

Chicago. Jackie Robinson has settled down into the role of a suburban commuter and his interest in baseball today is only a passing one, according to the current issue of EBONY.

Jackie Robinson

The ex-Brooklyn Dodger star only attended two games in 1957, and has not attended any games this year.

"I'm not even a fan anymore," Jackie says. "I have little or no interest in the game. I'd like to see the Dodgers win, because some of my old pals are still with the club. But I have no feeling of loyalty to the club itself, nor to the people who own it."

The EBONY article follows Jackie through a day in his life as vice president-in charge of personnel for a New York restaurant chain.

Althea Looks
To Next Year

Wimbledon, Eng.—Althea Gibson won her second Wimbledon tennis championship and said she may go for three.

"I hope to be at Wimbledon again next year, health permitting and God willing," the 30-year-old net queen from New York's Harlem said after beating Angela Mortimer of Britain, 8-6, 6-2.

Previously, Althea had hinted she might give up tennis for a singing career. She has made several records and appeared on American television.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

As usual when one plans a column a week ahead, something usually happens to ruin it. This was to have been a spiel on Little League but it didn't turn out that way. Couldn't collect all of our dope in time.

Well, anyway the kids, Mike Knox, Ronald Holt, Bruce Sharp and a couple of others had their fun in the Hawkeye open tennis meet last weekend. Everybody lost but Knox, who has a good chance to make the finals of the boys' singles when play is resumed.

But our trouble with most of the kids is that they won't train. They regard tennis as a game for fun and play it that way so long as it doesn't interfere with social life. Line tennis that way is all right but not match tennis. That is played for keeps and one should be ready.

If one isn't in shape it doesn't matter how good he is he can't play his best game. The kids know that and should try to act accordingly.

The Tenth annual Hilltop open tennis meet gets underway next week. The thing has got so big that housing is a serious problem. If it could be arranged there will probably be some white tennis players quartered in Negro homes and that will make history. This tennis tournament gets bigger by the year.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Sense About Sun

There's nothing more uncommon than common sense, says the old adage. Just look at the thousands of people roasting their bodies on the beach.

Everyone knows that the sun's rays can burn the delicate human epidermis. Everyone knows that it's wise to tan gradually. Yet millions of us will try to get a whole season's suntan in a single weekend. We'll turn lobster-red, blister, swell, and peel. We'll be miserable on Monday, feel better by Friday, and try again on Saturday. Some will be burned seriously enough to need medical attention.

Therapeutic Value

Why do we do it? The therapeutic value of sunshine, highly rated in the past, has been scaled down by modern medical opinion. We have more reliable sources of Vitamin D in butter, milk, eggs, cod liver oil, and vitamin pills, not to mention the many foods that have artificially added vitamins.

Exposure

Let's face it. We lie in the sun purely for pleasure and vanity. If we must do it, let's make it as easy on ourselves as possible. Use a preparation that screens out the burning rays of the sun. Reapply it frequently, because perspiration as well as bathing will wash it off. Start with ten minutes of exposure and increase the dosage gradually thru the season. Wear good sunglasses. Lubricate the skin to prevent drying. Keep your hair covered so it won't become brittle and discolored. Remember that you're safer before 10 a.m. and after 3 p.m. Only "mad dogs and Englishmen go out in the noonday sun."

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by Polk County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Campanella Vows: "I'll Walk Again!" in
Two-Part Article in Saturday Evening Post

Roy Campanella, the Dodgers' star catcher who was paralyzed from the neck down as the result of an automobile accident last January 27, is confident that he will walk again.

He expresses this conviction in a two-part article beginning in the current (July 26) issue of The Saturday Evening Post, which he dictated from his wheel chair at the Rusk Institute of New York's Bellevue Hospital.

Although he is still paralyzed from the waist down, Campy reports that he now can move his arms and has feeling in his chest and some sensation in his legs.

Progress

"I have made progress—definite progress," he says. "My spinal cord was not severed, and I know I'll walk again. It will take a long time. With nerves, you can't rush them. But I can move my arms, and I have feeling in my thumbs and chest now. In the early weeks after the accident, none of those things were so."

First Article

In his first Post article, which is entitled "I'll Walk Again," Campanella recounts what he remembers of the accident and tells of the ordeal of long months in the hospital. The first hundred days were spent in the Glen Cove Community Hospital, Long Island, where he was taken after his auto skidded and overturned on icy roads near his home. On May 5 he was moved to the Rusk Institute, a part of the New York University Medical Center, where he is being given special treatments and exercises to combat his paralysis.

Messages

With simple modesty Campy tells of the messages of encouragement that have come to him from prominent people and just plain fans all over the world.

"I had quite a long letter from Red Skelton, who was having his own sorrows then over his son, Richard, who later died of leukemia. Perry Como and Art Linkletter sent telegrams. Even the President wrote to me, and Vice President Nixon."

HIS WAY

Enlightened by His matchless grace—
I'm waiting just to see His face,
I hope to rest in His embrace,
and go His way...
My faith and trust—I place in Him—
Believing keeps me safe from sin,
For tis His path I'm walking in,
always His way...
My daily needs—He does supply—
And many blessings from on high,

Giants Vs. Dodgers in Negro Player Roster

San Francisco.—The San Francisco Giants have replaced the Los Angeles Dodgers as the major league team with the largest tan representation.

The Dodgers' rank, once boasting seven tan players, has now thinned to Johnny Roseboro, Junior Gilliam and Charley Neal. The Giants, starting the season with five tan players in the regular lineup, now have seven players on their roster.

Willie Mays, Valmy Thomas and Ruben Gomez are holdovers from the team that played last season in New York. Willie Kirkland and Orlando Cepeda are rookies who made the team in Spring training.

Felipe Alou came up to the Giants about three weeks ago when Kirkland was sent to Phoenix of the Pacific Coast league to regain his batting eye. Kirkland was recalled recently, and he was accompanied by another Phoenix prospect, Leon Wagner.

WILLIE, SPOUSE
NOT HITTING IT

Chicago.—Marital woes are plaguing Willie Mats, star San Francisco Giants outfielder, and his wife, the former Miss Marguerite Wendell of Elmhurst, N. Y., according to reports circulating around the town.

Just what seems to be wrong, is not known because Willie is not talking, even off the record.

The couple were married in February, 1956, by the Rev. Rufus I. Bond, Bethel A. M. E. church, Elkton, Md.
