COSTUMED WILLKIE HOUSE DAY CAMPERS PARADE ALONG ...

Seventy-eight children ranging in ages from 4 to 13 who have been attending day camp at Willkie House, 900 West 17th Street, this summer had a fun-filled day last Friday, beginning with a parade from the center to Goode Park, and climaxing with a circus at the park. The parade, led by Jack Johnson, was complete with three colorful floats which the youngsters made themselves, decorated bicycles and costumed day campers.

Shown above, are Michael Roper, pulling the float, Mike Fine, riding; Jessie Hill, on the side pushing; June Marie and Sheryl Shepard, riding bikes. The parade which had been originally scheduled for Friday, July 18 was postponed because of rain. A police car cruised in front of the procession.

Open House at Willkie House was the highlight this week, prior to the closing of the day-camp today.

Faubus Wins by Landslide in Arkansas

Little Rock, Ark.—Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas, who spearheaded the integration resistance in Little Rock last fall at Central High School, won the Democratic nomination by a landslide, Tuesday. And since the Democratic nomination is virtually indicative of election in most southern states, Faubus is likely to be sitting in the state capitol next fall serving a third term, the second governor in Arkansas history to do so.

Faubus centered his emotional campaign not around his opponents who were for segregation, also, but against what he called, "outside interference" in Arkansas—race problems.

Allow Negroes to Seek Civil Service Jobs in Birmingham

Birmingham, Ala.—Another "traditional" law for "whites only" was taken off the books here in this southern city last week, as city officials permitted for the first time in history ... Negroes to apply for city civil service jobs.

Thus the way was paved for Negroes to apply for such jobs as policemen, firemen, clerks, and other administrative jobs. Four Negroes promptly applied for jobs as clerical assistants, typists, clerks, and health inspector when removal of the racial ban was made public by Director Ray Mullins of the personnel board.

Who's Who in Iowa

Robert L. Weeks Has Been Linotype Operator at D. M. Register and Tribune 8 Years

This is the 24th in a series of articles featuring Negro firsts, leaders and outstanding personalities in Iowa who are excelling in civic, professional, business, religious, educational, fraternal and entertainment fields.)

By Mrs. Frances Hawthorne

For the past eight years Robert L. Weeks, 35, of 1108 West 10th Street, has been working nights as linotype operator at the Des Moines Register and Tribune setting news and advertising copy mostly for the morning daily.

However, he readily admits his first acquaintance with newspaper composing rooms began back in his teens during his high school days in his hometown, Ottumwa, Ia. Then his father was employed as a custodian for a small white weekly, the Ottumwa Free Press. He used to go along with his father and worked around the place and took a liking for the type of work.

World War

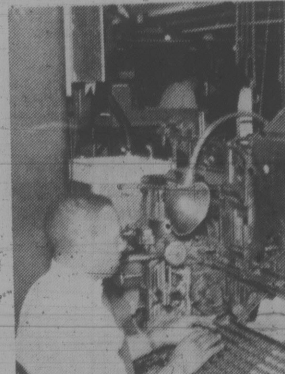

But before he could really get going good-on-that-part-of-newspaper production, World War II intervened and he went into the air force, serving three years, two of them in Italy. He emerged with the rank of corporal, with several bronze stars and battle ribbons.

Afro-American

Following his discharge from the air force he went to Baltimore and worked the next three years as a linotype operator for the Baltimore Afro-American, Negro weekly newspaper. While in Baltimore he met his wife, Muriel.

Leaving the Maryland city, they returned to his hometown and he applied for membership with the International Typographical Union in Jan. 51. Following his acceptance he received his union card, which is a work permit, enabling him to work anywhere in the United States.

daughter, Mrs. Maurice Evans and her daughter, Pamela, of Omaha, Neb., is also in Des Moines attending her father during his illness.

ROBERT WEEKS
At Linotype Machine

Less than three months later he began with the Register and Tribune where he has been since.

Family

A family man, Weeks is the father of four children, Robert, Jr., 8, Lynn Karin, 7, Vicki Ellen, 5 and Michael Alan, 3. His family also serves as good practice material for one of his hobbies, photography, which he "enjoys very much." He keeps his German Kodak camera "within grabbing distance, most of the time."

Other means of relaxation are fishing, usually up in the Minnesota lakes, experimenting with his tape recorder and reading prose of early Americans like Thoreau.

Community

Just the same, he still finds time to take part in community organizations and projects. He is a member of A.M.E. church, Elks, Hawk-eye Lodge No. 160 and Antlers Walking club, an affiliate of the lodge. In addition he sponsors a boy ever year at the YMCA.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Rumors that Lanston university was about to close were killed last week when a letter to Dr. G. L. Harrison president was made public, from the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education—praising the school for the work it has done in the past.

Croydon, England.—A sign "for colored tenants only" was displayed in the windows of several apartment houses last week. The landlords, operate this color bar in reverse, said colored people are tidier than whites.

Washington, D. C.—James C. Gasikin, age 42, has just taken over the position as special assistant to the manager of the Veterans Administration hospital in Philadelphia, becoming the first Negro to be appointed to such a position in a VA hospital besides Tuskegee.

Birmingham, La.—Following bombing of a Negro home and a white home in a mixed neighborhood, a group of 18 to 20 angry Negroes jumped two whites shortly after the explosion and gave them sound beatings.

New York, N. Y.—Hundreds of New York outstanding personalities from the world of politics, sports, stage, screen, television and radio attended a large reception given in honor of World Tennis champion Althea Gibson last week.

NAACP Holds Board Meeting Tuesday

The Des Moines Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People held a board meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Alta Herndon, 1300 Harding road.

At the meeting the current membership drive was discussed, noting that only 28 members were required to bring the total to 1,000.

In addition committees were planned for the fall appearance of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King in Des Moines. A. P. Trotter is chairman of the committee.

Trip by Ghana's Leader Called Significant After Intervention in Lebanon

Chicago, Ill.—He is gone ... but not forgotten ... will be the distinct impression left behind by Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah when he leaves this country tomorrow for his homeland, Ghana. What was described as a purely friendly state visit for the leader for Africa's only independent state, took on political significance of major importance following the United States' intervention in Lebanon.

Dignitaries Attend Dinners, Receptions In Honor of Nkrumah

Washington, NAACP executive Secretary and Mrs. Roy Wilkins were among distinguished American and foreign guests at a state dinner here (Thursday) in honor of Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, Prime Minister of Ghana, Secretary of State and Mrs. John Foster Dulles were hosts to the African leader at the dinner held in the Pan American Union.

Friday night, Dr. Nkrumah was host at a dinner at the Mayflower Hotel to which Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins were also invited. While in Washington, the NAACP leader and his wife attended a reception for the Prime Minister on Friday afternoon at the Sudan, Morocco, Tunisia, Libya, as guests of the chiefs of missions of the African countries of Liberia, the United Arab Republic and Ethiopia.

Dr. Nkrumah arrived in Washington on July 23 and remained here through July 26 when he left for New York where he was entertained by Governor Harriman and Mayor Wagner. A dinner in his honor, sponsored jointly by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the National Urban League and the Committee on Africa, was held at the Waldorf-Astoria Tuesday.

He visited Harlem where a giant reception in his honor was held in the National Guard Armory following a motorcade tour through the community. He left for Chicago yesterday. Returning to New York on August 1, he will depart for his home the following day.

Sidelights of Nkrumah's Visit

Although Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana was a guest of President Eisenhower, he did not stay at the White House as all other visiting heads of state have done, but at Blair House.

Dr. Nkrumah did not address the Senate and House of Representatives, but was merely introduced "from the floor."

He made a national television appearance when he was guest for a group of reporters, on Sunday's "Meet the Press."

Nkrumah, 47-year-old leader of the Negro republic of Ghana, came to the U. S. last week at the invitation of President Eisenhower, following a state visit to neighboring Canada and a month-long 20,000 mile tour of seven countries which, with Ghana, make up the newly formed Conference of Independent African states. The seven countries are the United Arab Republic (Egypt and Syria), Ethiopia, Sudan, Libya, Morocco, Tunisia, and Liberia.

Nkrumah brought with him, and undoubtedly carried into conferences with President Eisenhower, a vast knowledge of African and Middle Eastern affairs. He was also expected to lay bare before the President the hopes and aspirations of the suffering peoples of Africa, and explain the real reasons behind the surge for national independence. Besides, Nkrumah can be counted upon to unravel what at times seems to Americans as a baffling game by Middle East leaders of playing the East against the West for economical and political stakes.

In fact, few Americans realize how important Nkrumah's visit is. A keen political leader, the American-London educated prime minister comes at a critical time when advice is sorely needed from someone who, through actual experience, is intimately acquainted with the economical and political revolution taking place in Africa.

Nkrumah is widely respected throughout Africa. His ties with Egypt through his marriage to an Egyptian beauty (they are expecting an heir soon) has endeared him to the people of that country, where he is said to have his admiration of President Gamal Abdul Nasser. And in so-called "Black Africa," he is hailed as somewhat of a Black Moses.

In the recent African tour, for example, most people, even politicians in the countries he visited (except Liberia) had their first look at a national native leader and were impressed.

On the basis of the tumultuous reception accorded Nkrumah on the African tour, he now appears to be second only to Nasser in popularity with the peoples of Africa. And because Nkrumah has been rubbing shoulders with most of the leaders of those countries, he not only knows their political temper, but enjoys their confidence as well.

In this respect, Mr. Eisenhower can lean heavily on Nkrumah for a genuine appraisal of the complex Arab-African situation and obtain yeoman services from him as a liaison.

5,000 Shriners Expected to Meet in Chicago Aug. 17-22

Chicago, Ill.—Shriners, members of the Ancient Egyptian Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, will return to Chicago for their 57th Imperial Council Session, August 17-22. With an expected attendance of more than 5,000. The delegates will represent more than 147 Temples in as many cities throughout a nation. The organization last held a national meeting in Chicago in 1943. The 1958 Convention will be held in the Historic Coliseum.

Keynote Speech

The meeting will be keynoted on Monday, August 18 when Booker T.

Alexander, Imperial Potentate from Detroit, Mich. will deliver his annual address. In addition to the report on the growth and stability of the Order, he can be expected to point up the Shrine view on international affairs relating to the Near East; and to spell out a constructive program for the national economic and educational problems facing his racial group.

Pre-convention

The Shriners are expected to begin pouring into the convention city on Saturday. Pre-convention events

Nation's Top Home Economists Applaud New 'Hostess' Costume at Fashion Show

Slim, trim and chic were the words to describe lovely young Sylvia Everett as she modeled this sew-it-yourself "hostess" costume before an admiring audience of more than 600 leading home economists attending the recent national convention of the American Home Economics Association in St. Louis. All fashions presented at the show, a feature of the popular pre-convention "brandy brunch", were worn by top Negro models from New York and St. Louis.

This Spanish-inspired matador ensemble, made entirely on a standard home sewing machine, offers dramatic proof of the smart "custom-made" look which the home seamstress can achieve by using inexpensive printed patterns, a bit of imagination and the attachments on her sewing machine.

Combining three different McCall's patterns into a charming "at home" costume, it was made by seamstresses of the Geist Manufacturing Company, world's largest maker of home sewing machine attachments, for easy duplication by fashion-wise young marrieds and career women like Mrs. Everett. The important Spanish designer influence is shown in the tight-fitting slim pants and short bolero of creamy white corduroy, with richly decorated green and gold braid trim in a continuous "doodle" design; the braid "doodling" can readily be applied from any free-hand sketch, by using either the top braider or underbraider on the machine. Perfect Spanish accent appears again in the finely ruffled shirt front, made by using the ruffler on the machine.

Top stylists point out that smart fashions-to-sew like this ensemble are easy and fun to make—and to wear!

MARCH OF DIMES

Apple Pie

Cool weather calls for hearty desserts—such as this tender, juicy Apple Pie—served warm.

Serve the all-time favorite, Apple Pie, for dessert tonight when hungry children trip in from school. It doesn't take long to make—and how pleased your family will be.

The recipe for the crust makes golden color and tenderness as easy . . . well, as easy as pie. The pretty design is no trick at all. Make one like it or draw upon your imagination plus a cookie cutter for your own version. Be sure, though, that there are open ups in the top of the crust to let out flavor-laden steam for the baking apples. Press the top and bottom layers of pastry together and there'll be no spilling over of savory juices.

If you are hurried, order a baker's pie and pop it in a low-heat oven just before dinner is called.

Everyone is convinced that Apple Pie is good eating. Ever consider, though, that it has important nutrient contributions? The enriched flour in the crust contributes extra B-vitamins, food iron and protein. The apples add more vitamins and minerals.

Feature Apple Pie at your next dessert party. Trim the pie with wedges of sharp Cheddar cheese and serve along with a bowl of grapes and a dish of salted mixed nuts.

APPLE PIE

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup shortening
3 to 5 tablespoons cold water

Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Divide dough in half and let stand while preparing Apple Filling. Roll out half of pastry to circle 1/4 inch thick and line pie pan with it. Fill with Apple Filling.

Apple Filling
1 1/2 quarts apples
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup sugar (about)
2 tablespoons enriched flour

Peel and slice apples. Mix lightly with butter or margarine and lemon juice. Combine sugar, flour and cinnamon and mix well with apples. Arrange evenly in pie shell.

Makes 1 9-inch apple pie.

Family Cheer With a Pot of Tea

New Year's parties are traditional—and traditionally planned for the adult members of the family and their friends, or for the near adults and their respective friends. Not often enough are New Year's parties given exclusively and privately for the intimate family group. There's no one loves a party more than your small fry—and there's no one who needs the emotional security of belonging to the adult family group than these youngsters. So why not plan a family New Year's party especially to include the early-to-bed-early-to-rise members.

There's no need to go into a lot of party preparations, either. Just a few noise-makers, paper hats and streamers will do to give your regular evening meal a festive look. One of those ready-mix cakes, baked in an 8-inch square pan, frosted and decorated with the words "Happy New Year," will make them happy. And to give the youngsters the feeling of attending a real grown-up party, prepare a pot of hearty, relaxing tea. Serve it as is for the adult members with sugar, milk or lemon. To the youngsters serve cambric tea (very, very weak tea with

Will Be Honored with "Appreciation Hour" By National Baptist Convention Sept. 11

Omaha, Neb.—Action was taken at the Annual Meeting of the Board of Directors of the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc., June 20, at Omaha, Nebraska, to honor Dr. J. H. Jackson, President of the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc., with an "Appreciation Hour" during the National Baptist Convention at Chicago, September 9-14. It was decided that the "Appreciation Hour" will follow immediately after Dr. Jackson delivers his Annual Message, September 11.

As you are surely aware, Dr. Jackson is not only a native of Mississippi, a citizen of Chicago, Ill., and the United States of America, but as the leader of 4,500,000

Baptists—the largest Negro organization in the world—he has become a leader of international respect and responsibility. In such a capacity it has always been his fervent hope to represent his country, his vast Convention, and the Christian religion at a level far beyond questioning.

Thus, for these reasons the Convention has decided to give its President a much deserved "Appreciation Hour." This comes as an invitation for you to join in the hour by sending a telegram or message of congratulation to Dr. J. H. Jackson. Please send your message by August 11, 1958, to Rev. A. E. Campbell, Appreciation Hour Chairman, 2500 Carnes Avenue, Memphis, Tenn.

Choirs of Five UNCF Colleges to Be Heard On ABC Network in August

New York.—The choir of five member colleges of the United Negro College Fund will be heard over the American Broadcasting Network during August, W. J. Trent, Jr., Fund executive director, announced here today. The choir represent UNCF member colleges in Tennessee, Louisiana, Georgia and Mississippi.

Knoxville College, Knoxville, Tenn. will open the month's radio program Aug. 3.

Now in its eighth consecutive year, the weekly Negro College Choir series originates in New York City on the ABC network, 10:30 to 10:55 Sunday mornings. Local radio listings should be checked for broadcast times in the various regions of the country.

The College Choir series is re-broadcast by the Armed Forces Radio and Television Service and heard by GIs throughout the world.

In a communication to Rev. Edward J. Odom, Jr., NAACP church secretary, Bishop Greene, senior bishop of the A.M.E. Church, urged "our entire constituency as well as God-loving people everywhere to be active and alert in giving the full support to the NAACP membership drives now and hereafter, and moral support in general."

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Elsie Simpson of Centerville, three sons, Earl of Minneapolis, Minn., Henry of Chicago, Ill., and Floyd of Des Moines, 13 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Youth Of The Week

This is the 19th in a series featuring youth, 13 to 21 years, in the community and in Iowa who are setting a good example in wholesome living and achievements in their homes, schools, churches, sports and civic activities.

Here we are again with another one of the artistically inclined member of the Wilcots family. 17-year-old Angie Wilcots. The 11th child of 13, she is majoring in commercial art at Des Moines Tech where she is a junior.

Although she is not as famous yet as some of her brothers, she has been interested in art and line drawing since back in elementary school at Nash, and has her sights set on being a fashion designer.

Art Center

When she first began at Tech she had a piece exhibited at Younkers which won her honorable mention. A member of the Festival Guild, a foreign student organization of the YWCA, she also has been sent out to the Art Center for eight years.

At school she is a member of the student council, and of course from time to time has "been asked to do things off an on." She has been on the honor roll once.

Active in Church

At Burns Methodist church where she is a member, she is very active in the Youth Fellowship, serving as president for three consecutive years until 1958. Recently, she arrived home from Kansas City, Mo., where she attended a week-long session of Wesleyan National College. There she was sent with all expenses paid, by the Women's Society of Christian Service of Burns. Besides she was the lone Iowa representative among 125 students from three states.

Hampton Instructor Gets Yale Fellowship

Hampton, Va.—Benjamin L. Wigfall, an instructor in the art department at Hampton Institute for the past three years, has been granted a fellowship by Yale University where he will spend the coming academic year studying to earn the master of fine arts degree.

Teaching painting, basic design, graphics and introduction to art at Hampton, Mr. Wigfall will study

AUTOGRAPH FOR A PREXY

Washington, D. C.—Dr. Warren D. St. James, right, St. Louis author of new book on NAACP, autographs a first-run copy for Earl M. Dickerson, president of Supreme Liberty Life Insurance Company, Chicago, during recent annual meeting of NAACP at Cleveland. Book, described as "a case history in pressure groups," and published by the Exposition Press, New York City, traces the development of the NAACP and discusses various aspects of the activities of such organizations as the well-known national body. The book's author, Dr. St. James, holds a doctorate in philosophy from Saint Louis University. He is a St. Louis school teacher, businessman, and is a member of NAACP, Kappa Delta Pi, the Masons, and Shriners.

128 Top 4-H'ers to Attend Camp; One Has Grossed Over $7,000

One hundred and twenty-eight colored 4-H club boys and girls, who have set the pace in farm and home improvement projects for their 354,000 fellow clubbers, have been selected as delegates to the 11th Annual Regional 4-H Club Camp, August 10-18, at Howard University in Washington, D. C.

Some of the delegates have raised grand champion hogs and cattle, others have produced highest yields of soybeans, cotton, and tobacco, and still others have taken the lead in repairing and painting their homes and in beautifying their lawns.

Community Improvement

Several of the boys are champion tractor drivers, and most of the girls have won top honors in sewing and cooking. Almost all the 4-H delegates have had a hand in such community-wide improvements as beautifying church and school grounds, and painting mail boxes, and all are outstanding in leadership.

One of the most outstanding is Jack Pennington, 20-year-old son of a Hollandale, Miss., tenant farmer. Like eight of his 11 brothers and sisters, Jack joined his local 4-H club as soon as he reached 10 years of age. Up to now he has completed 24 projects in livestock, poultry, and field crops. These have earned him $7,737.80, a score of blue ribbons, a dozen red ones, two watches, two pen and pencil sets, and other prizes.

Having graduated from high school in May, Jack plans to enter Mississippi Vocational College this fall where one of his brothers is a sophomore. He has been saving up from the sale of hogs, calves, cotton, and corn to help pay his way through.

Contract Cancellation Urged To Enforce Bias Ban Clause

Washington.—The President's Committee on Government Contracts has been urged to recommend cancellation of contracts with employers who refuse to comply with the contract provisions against racial discrimination in employment.

Herbert Hill, NAACP labor secretary, made this request of Major General C. E. Ryan, executive vice chairman of the committee, and Dr. Jacob Seidenberg, executive director, on July 18, when he filed new complaints charging violation of the contracts by the Atlantic Steel Company, Atlanta; Glenn L. Martin Company, Orlando, Fla.; U. S. Industrial Chemical Company (a division of National Distillers Corporation), Ashtabula, Ohio; and the American Banner Lines, Inc., New York City.

The complaints were filed on behalf of NAACP members in Georgia, Florida, Ohio and New York who alleged that they had been denied employment by the firms solely on the ground of race. A complaint against the American Banner Lines was also filed with the New York State Commission Against Discrimination.

In his conference with General Ryan and Dr. Seidenberg, Mr. Hill reviewed 20 complaints filed by the NAACP now pending before the committee. He noted that "in the five years since the inception of the Committee not a single contract has been cancelled because of prov-hits around 100. You may think you are only as old as you feel but years make a difference. Your health department states that the human body was not built to work at winter speeds in 100-degree weather, so let the temperature determine the extent of action.

en charges of racial discrimination. Major industrial corporations with large multi-plant operations," he said, "continue blatantly to violate the anti-discrimination provisions of the federal government contract."

Korean Bonus Blanks Are Now Available 2 Places in Des Moines

Veterans eligible for the Korean bonus will find forms available for making application at their nearest Iowa State Employment Service office, Kenneth A. Madigan, Chairman of the Iowa Employment Security Commission said today. The forms are to be distributed July 28.

A Veteran's Employment Representative will be on hand at each of the Employment Service's thirty-five local offices to assist and instruct veterans in making out the proper forms, Madigan said. A certified copy of a veteran's notice of separation from the armed forces, a form DD-214, must also be submitted with the application, he said. Original DD-214s will not be accepted.

Korean veterans wishing to apply for the bonus have until December 31, 1958, to do so. In order to be eligible they must have served in the armed forces between June 27, 1950 and July 27, 1953.

Iowa State Employment Service offices are located in Des Moines, Sioux City, Spencer, Algona, Mason City, Charles City, Decorah, Oelwein, Dubuque, Storm Lake, Fort Dodge, Webster City, Waterloo, Cedar Rapids, Clinton, Davenport, Muscatine, Burlington, Fort Madison, Keokuk, Centerville, Ottumwa, Fairfield, Oskaloosa, Iowa City, Newton, Marshalltown, Perry, Ames, Boone, Carroll, Atlantic, Council Bluffs, Creston, and Shenandoah.

Forms are also available at the Polk County Recorder's office located in Room 212, Polk County Courthouse, 6th and Mulberry.

New York City (CNS)—ETHEL WATERS FOR NEW FILM

Ethel Waters, who has never let her name slip from the pedestal each performer should maintain—is very happy over being signed this week for "The Sound and The Fury" which will star Yul Brynner. It will be an important picture—a Jerry Wald production—directed by Martin Ritt who recently did "The Long Hot Summer" and 20th Century Fox will release it. This will bring Miss Waters out of semi-retirement where she has been "resting and waiting" for the right vehicle to come along.

"Porgy and Bess"

While Hollywood makers of "Porgy and Bess" go through their problems of filming the motion picture—the touring production which is playing summer stock in the east is being cited as the last "live" edition for the next six years. This is an unusual agreement made between the Gershwin Estate, Mrs. Buboise Heyward (lyric writer) and Samuel Goldwyn, who's making the film.

Roy Campanella

LIFE Magazine has received much praise for its very fine picture-story on Roy Campanella and his tremendous fight to get well. . . . It is often said that out of sight—out of mind. . . . and when a big star meets with hard luck his friends and fans soon forget. . . . but not so with Roy—whose big heart and big smile captivate all around him. . . . many who wrote LIFE expressed how they thought their own troubles were so large until they read what pain Campanella goes through to enjoy the simple little things in life we take for granted each day. . . . Campy has become a symbol of great courage—which in baseball is all part of the game. . . .

Both 17, one of the young misses is from Talledega, Ala., and the other from New York City.

While waiting for a bus enroute downtown Saturday about noon, I caught sight of a group of youngsters and a lady walking along 9th Street. The children were equipped with fishing poles and large stuffed paper-racks, which I found, after inquiring, contained food and swimming equipment.

In the group of 27 were Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts ranging in ages from six to 13. They were hiking their way to Union Park from 9th and Keo Way. The lady accompanying them was their den mother, Mrs. William Green, of 829 West 9th Street. She was being assisted in the supervision of the energetic but orderly youngsters by her daughter, Debbie, 10, of Pack 30, Maria Thomas, 12, (Pack 32) of

Famed Model Dorothea Towles to Headline AKA Fashion Show During Fiftieth Boule Next Month

Washington, D.C.—International famous model Dorothea Towles will be the featured artist at a fashion show and luncheon presented by Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority when the group holds its 50th anniversary boule in the nation's Capitol next month.

The fashion show-luncheon is scheduled for Tuesday, August 19 at the Sheraton Park Hotel, convention headquarters for the Sorority. Some 1,400 of the 2,000 delegates to the boule are expected to view Miss Towles' wardrobe, which is said to be valued at more than $40,000. In addition to Miss Towles, some one dozen models, several of whom are nationally famous, will perform for the sorors.

A native of Texas where she attended Wiley College, Miss Towles' rise to fame in the highly-competitive field of modeling has been meteoric. Moving to Los Angeles following graduation from Wiley, Miss Towles was appointed to the faculty of Jefferson High School as a biology teacher and dramatic coach. Simultaneously she enrolled at the University of Southern California to study for the Master of Arts degree in dramatics.

It was at USC that the idea of modeling as a profession struck Miss Towles. She enrolled at the Dorothy Farrier School of Modeling, the first Negro to be accepted at the noted institution, and in less than a year she had more requests for fashion and photographic assignments than she could fill.

Parents Can Help Children Accept Restrictions On Their Actions with Substitutes, Suggestions

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Written by Lloyd Lovell, SUI Assistant Professor

If we are responsible for supervising children's activities and behavior, we must often ask them not to do certain things. We remind the angry boy that he must not hit with his bat, we ask a daughter not to spill water on the floor when she is trying to see where it will run to, and we insist that the children may not use the wallpaper to draw on.

Necessary

These restrictions are necessary, of course, and for many reasons—but sometimes the child seems to be left wondering what there is left that he can do. Such restrictions are necessary in relation to the child's expressions of his strong feelings, too. It is sometimes hard, though, to help the child understand the difference between having the feelings, and behaving as a result of the feelings.

We teach the child that it is not nice to hit another person just because we're angry, a him, but we less often try to help him learn more acceptable ways of getting rid of the angry feelings. It is not nice to hit another person, but the temptation to do so is sometimes a natural one.

Substitutes

If we try, we can usually think of a good substitute for the children's wilder or more destructive physical activities. We can provide harmless drawing materials, and suggest games that aren't quite so likely to ruin the furniture, for example. Maybe we can make the same kinds of suggestions about the behavior based on strong emotions, making it clear that it is not the

Pot holders come to the tea table without blushing when the occasion is an informal tea and shower for the bride-to-be. Willing hands will make short work of finishing the pot holders, when you place them on the table, along with needles and thread, tape or rickrack edgings that will be sewn on while the guests chatter.

"An informal tea table can be just as pretty as a formal one," according to Catherine Gray, Fosteria Glass consultant on table settings. "And of course, every woman appreciates the ease with which such a table can be prepared."

Tall tapers on the tea table reflect the glow from a polished table top and prettily etched glassware. A large oval cut from pastel-colored linen (or a lace doily) is the only cloth that is used on the table—a different and effective touch.

To make the floral arrangement, place roses, an assortment of broad green leaves, and tall white tapers in a glass garden set. This usable piece consists of a low bowl with removable flower block and individual candle holders which are also removable. You'll bring the bowl to your table often, to serve cookies, cake, salad, canapés or berries.

Illinois Residents Are Weekend Guests Here

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Thurston and daughter of Shreveport, Ill., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bailey, of 1144 West 17th Street. Mr. Thurston is a brother of Mrs. Bailey. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson of the same city.

While here they were guests of honor at a dinner given Sunday by

If some of your readers are under the impression as I was, that there are a "lot of Negroes" employed as operators at the telephone company, you are about to be enlightened as I was. I was trying to track down the oldest employee in terms of service other than elevator operator at the company, and was talking to Mrs. James Thompson, a long distance operator, for the past 15 months.

She informed me emphatically, "A lot of people are under the impression there are a lot of Negro operators down there, but there is not according to the ratio, of total operators."

"There are about 800 in the three units, and only about a dozen Negro operators."

"The working conditions are fine, they treat you real nice, there are a lot of benefits, and the salary is way above anything else for women in town, unless it is secretarial work," she said.

"But I think the thing that discourages most young girls, and that goes for whites too, because there is a terrific turnover in personnel there, too . . . is the fact that for the first two years you work such crazy hours, split shifts, night hours and just about everything else," she explained. "Even though you don't have to be too smart for the job, other than writing legibly, the night hours just kill the date life for he young kids, especially if they are just out of high school."

But if you can stick to it there's nothing better," she said.

Have you ever wondered how big stores protect themselves against shop lifting especially during sales like the annual "White Elephant" day when aisles are jammed so with buying and "just looking" customers, that no one can hardly move? I overheard a salesman tell a customer who questioned him about it last week, "They wouldn't have a chance. There are hidden television cameras all over." Sounds something like "Candid Camera" of the movies?

Construction is at a near high boom in Des Moines. At the corner of 9th and Keo, one of the cities "landmarks", the Watkins Hotel, is almost demolished. While right across from it on 9th Street construction is going up for a garage for telephone company service trucks.

Remember Helen Jones, our out of town "Youth of the Week"? Mrs. Helen Wimberly informed us she is one of seven adopted children of Mr. and Mrs. Jones, in Council Bluffs, Ia. Mrs. Wimberly said the couple adopted six motherless children, who were brothers and sister of Mrs. Jones. And of course, Helen was placed with them by Mrs. Wimberly.

In addition, Mrs. Wimberly who is outgoing president of the Iowa Association of Colored Women, told us she was not able to attend the National convention of Colored Women in Detroit, Mich., this week be-

REFUGEES OFFER UNWELCOME TACTICS

At one time it appeared that Russia and the other two big western powers would be holding a meeting in New York in an effort to solve the Middle East troubles. As the days pass by, it appears that the chances for such a meeting grow dimmer due to the battle of words which has been going on between the contending forces.

Of course, as long as they are passing letters—negotiating—fighting is not on the agenda. It is desirable and wise that the parties agree to sit down and talk things over.

One fear expressed when the New York meeting seemed eminent was the safety of the Soviet Premier Khrushchev. It was reported that a large number of refugees from Hungary, now living in New York, had planned to picket, embarrass and possibly harm the Russian visitor.

The attitude is entirely wrong and smacks of mob violence. It contemplates doing to Khrushchev what the South Americans did to Vice-President Nixon and about which America became almost fighting mad, and rightly so.

In fact, these Hungarians who fled from terror abroad, came here to practice terror on others. Now, the Bystander has no bouquets for Russian Premier Khrushchev but it does believe that a visitor to our shores who comes at our invitation or with our consent has a right to expect to be treated courteously by his host. It would be no excuse that a few mad Hungarians are responsible for the discourtesy. And that is why the Federal government, even though not instigators of the disorder, in Little Rock, must take the responsibility for the reputation Little Rock has made.

BREAKING AWAY FROM THE OLD ORDER

Last week, city officials at Birmingham, Alabama, announced that applications for civil service examinations as policeman and certain clerical positions would be accepted from Negroes. This is a wide departure from the past and a definite break from the strict policy of segregation and exclusion which brought on the Montgomery bust boycott and the gerrymandering at Tuskegee.

Some of these jobs call for work on a nonsegregated basis. And it is pretty certain that once the new program begins, little difficulty will ensue.

The change indicates a break away, even though slowly, from the old order and a lesson to the "go slow" advocates that progress will not come unless someone has courage to go to the front and make a fight. Certainly Rev. King did it in Montgomery and the good people at Tuskegee, Alabama likewise.

Congratulations to Birmingham.

JUDGE GUTHRIE

Newspapers face a problem of deciding who of the dead should be eulogized in the editorial columns. Thus are only a few of those who leave some pretty clear footprints on the sand of time can be so included. In the death of Judge Thomas J. Guthrie, Des Moines lost one of its finest citizens; one, who while involved in few activities, made himself felt where he labored.

Besides his outstanding ability as a lawyer and service to the Catholic Church, the Bystander remembers Judge Guthrie as a longtime member of the Des Moines Branch NAACP. For several years he served as a member of the legal redress committee where he took an active part in the work giving of his time and energy whenever called upon. He was always ready to do a job. His advice and judgment on questions involving the legal aspects of racial sound and practical.

Men like Judge Guthrie are not found on every corner; men who are willing to stand up and be counted on the great problem of social justice for minority groups. Certainly his death is a distinct loss to those with whom he labored and those whose lot has been made better because of his contribution.

A WORTHY UNDERTAKING

For a number of years Warden Percy Lainsow of Fort Madison has permitted Negro prisoners to hold an Emancipation Proclamation Celebration in the prison. Just whose idea this was in the beginning, the Bystander does not know, but it does congratulate the warden upon allowing the men to carry on constructive programs which should help in their efforts to rehabilitate themselves.

It has never been clear why Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation should be celebrated in August when as a matter of fact it was issued on September 21 and took effect on January 1. This August date is prevalent in the Midwest. This is not important. But it is important that this great act gave Negroes physical freedom, with some exceptions in certain spots. These celebrations should emphasize that Negroes themselves, with almost complete physical freedom, are in a fairly reasonable position to, by the following, the path of other good citizens, become valuable citizens.

And this emphasis cannot come too regularly because all too often many people are inclined to blame others for their own failures and downfalls.

FAMU Second Baseman Signs With Pirates

Pittsburgh.—The Pittsburgh Pirates today announced the signing of second baseman Elmer Eugene Edwards to a contract for next season (1959) with their Clinton (Iowa) club in the Midwest League.

Edwards, 20, is a senior at Florida A & M University in Tallahassee (Fla). The youngster—who stands 5-10 1/2 and weighs 167—was rated one of the "finest infielders in the South" by his coach, O. A. Moore. A righthanded-batting-and-throwing, Edwards is very highly thought-of by the Pittsburgh organization. He will report next spring.

Second sacker Edwards batted only .281 and had 11 R.B.I.'s to his credit. He is a slick fielding glove man and made several spectacular plays this spring. He had only one extra base hit in his total of 18 blows and scored 16 runs.

Baker Doing O.K. After Operation

Pittsburgh.—Gene Baker, Pittsburgh Pirates infielder, who injured his left knee attempting to field a ball in a game with St. Louis recently, last week underwent "successful" surgery at Presbyterian hospital here.

Doctors, optimistic about the operation, stated: "Baker stands an excellent chance of being in perfect shape for the current season. Baker is expected to remain in the hospital a few more days, then leave for his home in Chicago."

$1,500 Golf Purse Meet to Get Underway in Pittsburgh Aug. 25

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Final plans have been mapped for an expected record participation in the 32nd annual United Golfers Association Championships to be played at North and South Park Golf Courses in Pittsburgh, August 25-29.

The announcement was made by George Harris, president, Yorkshire Golf Club, Inc., host for the Pittsburgh meet. A purse of $1,500 awaits pro players, and events will also be held in men's, women's and junior amateur divisions.

According to Harris, nine major championship trophies will be presented to winners, all donated by The Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta, through The Moss H. Kendrix Organization, D. C. public relations firm.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

The Tenth Annual Des Moines Open Tennis tournament gets underway this weekend at Birdland with the finals scheduled for Good Park Sunday. This meet has grown in recent years until it has attracted players from all over Iowa. It started out as a sort of a stop gap for local tennis players.

During the centennial year somebody thought up the Hawkeye holiday meet and gave the state meet to Cedar Rapids. Well, Cedar Rapids worked at the meet and put it over big, so big in fact, that they have kept it ever since. Our local Hilltop meet was about the only tennis tournament around here that was worth entering. So somebody got the bright idea that the Hilltop meet be made open to everyone and then the Des Moines open was born.

We have not had a winner in a division yet, but a couple of runner up players done all right.

This year we don't have anyone in the men's singles but Mike Knox has a fine chance in the boy's meet. Eva Myers may win the women's singles title. She is perfectly capable if she can play her game and the same goes for Mike. With added competition our kids may grow up into pretty good players.

It will be interesting to see the big mug, the Langston Hardway trophy. Three of the players in the Men's singles have the chance to win it. Gene Nadig, last year's winner, said he'd be back to try again and he is. But, there will be a lot of

HEALTH FOR ALL

The Gourmet's Delight

"Take a wolf's liver boiled in thin wine, bacon of a sow fed on herbs, and the flesh of a she-donkey. Eat with the broth."

A Cordon Bleu Casserole? No. An ancient Roman cure for tuberculosis.

Recipes for TB cures can be found in the records of every civilization from ancient to modern times. The theory seems to have been: the more ghastly the medicine the more likely the cure. They all start with exotic ingredients such as there: "Take a peck of garden snails . . . take a tree frog . . . take a vulture's lung."

It's possible that some people who took these medicines got better. Otherwise the recipes wouldn't have been preserved. Occasionally, people do recover from TB without any treatment, so good results were probably pure coincidence.

Modern Treatment

Modern treatment of TB doesn't depend on coincidence. When a research scientist gets a clue to a substance that may have an effect on tuberculosis, he tests it in many ways before it is used on human beings. The drug has to show its effectiveness against TB germs in test tubes. It has to be proved safe on laboratory animals. It has to be tested over a long period of time, to be sure that there are no bad effects after its use, and that its effectiveness will last. It is used under careful supervision on thousands of patients before it is released for general use.

Effective Drugs

Scientists have developed several effective drugs which help cure TB patients. There is not yet one ideal drug that will cure every case, there may never be one. Research continues for more and better drugs. No clue is neglected—not even the possibility that wolf's liver may have some value.

Campanella: I Think the Dodger Pitchers Miss Me; Vows He'll Be Back in Baseball Uniform

Roy Campanella thinks the Los Angeles Dodgers are a good ball club but that his young players have not yet had a chance to develop.

In the second installment of a two-part article appearing in the August 2 issue of The Saturday Evening Post, the Dodgers' paralyzed catcher tells what he believes is wrong with his old club and also gives his opinions of various players and managers in big league baseball.

"I think the pitchers miss me," Campy avers. "From the oldest to the youngest, I've worked with them since the first day they joined the Dodgers. Roseboro and Pignatano are good young catchers, but they don't have my experience, and they haven't worked with these kids as much as I have."

As to what has been wrong with the club, Campanella asserts: "It just didn't have a chance to develop. It took some of the kids a long time to get the chance. Where could they have played, with guys like Robinson, Snider, Reese, Furillo, Hodges and me in the regular lineup?"

Campy says his greatest ambition is to get back into the Dodgers' uniform. He says Walter O'Malley has told him that he will never have to worry about a job, that he has

Plan for a Playhouse

A WELL-STYLED playhouse, built in sections and put together on the site, can be dismantled and brought inside until the next outdoors season.

How to build such a playhouse is explained and illustrated by Popular Mechanics in its June, 1956, issue. The walls and roof are made of pre-assembled panel units consisting of a lumber framework that is covered with Masonite 3/16" Tempered Presdwood.

Advantages of the Tempered Presdwood are its splinter-free qualities which safeguard youngsters, its durability in all kinds of weather, its easy paintability and its economy.

A detailed diagram showing how to build this playhouse may be seen in the magazine, or you may obtain a free copy by writing the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting Plan No. AE-813.
