President Hints He Will Use Federal Troops

Washington, D. C.—With states of the Deep South more defiant than at any time since the Supreme court decision of May 17, 1954, outlawing racial segregation in public schools, President Eisenhower indicated last week that he has no plans to head off a clash between Federal and state forces.

Willing to Talk

He told his news conference, however, that he has no objections to talking with Governor J. Lindsay Almond of Virginia, an all-out foe of racial integration, who has said that a final federal court order for the admission of a single colored child into a previously all-white school will prevent the school from opening in September.

Lesson Tensions

Both the questions of what plans the President has to lessen tensions over the desegregation issue before the schools open this fall and of talking with Governor Almond about the situation in Arlington County Va., almost within sight of the White House, came up at the press conferences.

The Arlington county school board is under specific orders from the Federal District Court in Alexandria, Va., to admit specific colored students to specific white schools at the opening of the fall term.

No Specific Plans

At President Eisenhower's news conference last week, a reporter prefaced his question with the statement that "we are approaching the start of another school year that seems likely to produce as much tension in the South over racial integration as last year and, perhaps, more."

"I wonder, sir," the reporter asked.

Dr. Stokes Mourned By NAACP Leaders

New York.—The passing of Anson Phelps Stokes, former president of the Phelps-Stokes Fund, evoked messages of condolence from Dr. Channing H. Tobias, NAACP Board chairman, and Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins.

Dr. Phelps Stokes was for many years a leader in interracial activities and in the promotion of educational opportunities for Negroes and members of other minority groups. He lived in Stockbridge, Mass.

Telegram

In a telegram to his widow, Dr. Tobias, retired executive director of the Phelps-Stokes Fund, extended sympathy on behalf of the NAACP Board and of himself personally. Dr. Stokes, he said, "was a good man, observant of every detail in Phelps-Stokes Foundation during his presidency and during his years on the board. I feel I owe him a great debt of gratitude. Mrs. Tobias and I are with you and the family in this hour of bereavement."

The NAACP, Mr. Wilkins said in his message, views the passing of Dr. Phelps Stokes "with deep sorrow and wishes to extend to you and the entire family its expression of sympathy."

Senate Confirm New Civil Rights Chief

Washington, D. C.—Despite vigorous dissent from Southern senators, the senate Monday confirmed by a vote of 56-20, W. Wilson White's nomination to be assistant attorney general for civil rights, and will lead the justice department's new civil rights division. The position was made by Congress last year.

Southerners who objected to White's nomination, did so on the belief that White had promoted Mr. Eisenhower's use of troops at Little Rock, Ark. last year to enforce court-ordered school integration there.

Negroes Refused Admission in Norfolk

Norfolk, Va.—As the 1958 fall school term draws nearer, Southern school boards are becoming more adamant about refusing Negro student admission to white public schools. In Norfolk, Va., 151 Negro pupils were denied application by the school board Monday night.

The board's action came shortly after two justices of the state supreme court of appeals had granted an injunction until Oct. 15 restraining the board from executing its assignment plan.

Virginia law requires immediate closure of any school that becomes integrated.

Judge Lectures Group of White, Negro Boys

Memphis, Tenn.—When a group of white and Negro youths were hauled before Judge Heard Sutton, he let them off with $5 fines and this stern lecture:

"The South has its troubles, but the races have got to learn mutual respect and control. You've got to use your minds and not flex your muscles and throw rocks or get guns."

"If there is a recurrence, I'll send every one of you to the workhouse to make little rocks out of big ones in the hot sun."

Asks Army to Investigate Attack on Timmie Rogers at Officers' Club in Germany

New York.—Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has called upon Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker to make an "immediate and thorough investigation" of the charge that Timmie Rogers, popular entertainer, was severely beaten by an Army officer in Germany.

Gravely Concerned

In a telegram to Secretary Brucker, dispatched on August 14, Wilkins said that the NAACP is "gravely concerned" about the charge as reported to the Association. The NAACP leader called upon Mr. Brucker to take "appropriate action against Major Leonard V. Bailey should the charge be sustained."

In Germany

Upon receipt of Rogers' complaint

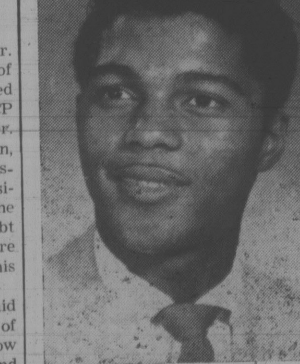

Late for Show

According to information received here, Rogers was brutally attacked by Major Leonard V. Bailey, in charge of the Officers' Club at the Baumholder sub-area, Baumholder, Germany. The attack occurred on the night of August 2 allegedly because Rogers and his troupe arrived late for a show scheduled for the Officers' Club at the Army installation. The entertainer was hospitalized with three broken ribs.

Attends Any Town, U. S. A. in California

Tommy Randle, 17 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Randle of 1155 West 14th street, attended Any Town, U.S.A., a human relations youth camp held Aug. 2-9 in the San Bernardino area of California. The interracial camp was attended by thousands of young people from all over America.

Tommy with his family spent three weeks in California, visiting relatives and friends.

TOMMY RANDLE

The Mary Church Terrell club met Monday evening with Mrs. Howard Kelso, of 1081 West 12th street. Reports of summer vacations were given by the members. The next meeting will be a social night at the home of Mrs. Bonnie Herndon, of 1300 Harding Road.

MAJORITY OPINION OF JUDGES

St. Louis, Mo.—Judge Marion C. Mathes, 52, of St. Louis, Mo., youngest judge on the Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, wrote the majority opinion, which said:

"The issue plainly comes down to the question of whether overt public resistance, including mob protest, constitutes sufficient cause to nullify an order of the federal court directing the (school) board to proceed with its integration plan."

"We say that the time has not yet come in these United States when an order of a federal court must be whittled away, watered down, or shamefully withdrawn in the face of violent and unlawful acts of individual citizens in opposition thereto."

Chief Justice Archibald Gardner, 90, oldest on the bench, and the only dissenting jurist, wrote, the school authorities "have acted in good faith both in formulating a plan for integrating and in attempting to implement that plan."

"The action of Judge Lemley was based on realities and on conditions, rather than theories."

Sorry . . . Wrong Picture

FRANK HOGAN, SR.

Last week we ran a story about Frank Hogan, chief rabban, of Zeid Temple No. 90, planning to attend the Shriners convention in Chicago, Ill., this week. The story was correct but we used the wrong picture . . . that of Frank Hogan, Jr., instead of his father, who appears here this week.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Washington, D. C.—A 36-year-old native Virgin Islander John D. Merwin was nominated by President Eisenhower to be governor of the Virgin Islands. Walter A. Gordon, the present governor, was named to be judge of the U. S. District court for the islands. Merwin will move up from the past of governor-secretary.

New York.—Returning from a trip to Liberia last week Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan predicted to reporters here, "Things are getting ready to pop in Africa." The governor also visited Ghana and expressed the opinion that the African people are "hepped up" over the idea of being independent. "Africa," he said, "is more than restless with the desire for self-rule."

Trenton, N. J.—Deputy Attorney General J. Ashby, of Newark, will be given the highest post to which a Negro has ever been appointed in New Jersey state government, according to Gov. Robert B. Meyner, when he announced he will appoint Ashby, a Democrat, chairman of the New Jersey Parole Board, a $12,000-a-year job.

Memphis, Tenn.—If racial agitator John Kasper comes to Memphis, he will be arrested "as soon as the cops can lay hands on him." Police Commissioner Claude Amor said last week in a television interview. Kasper had been warned previously he is not welcome.

Linborg, Kans.—The first Negro to teach at Bethany college local religious institution, will be Enuewemba Obj. of Warri, Nigeria, West Africa, when he begins serving as assistant professor of physics and mathematics.

New Jersey Unions Condemn Housing Bias

Trenton, N. J.—The AFL and CIO in the state of New Jersey have condemned plans by William F. Levitt to build a third Levittown in Burlington County, N. J. on a segregated basis. This same policy in Levittown, Pa. resulted in mob violence less than a year ago when the first Negro family moved into the community.

In a telegram sent to New Jersey Attorney General David Furman, Paul Krebs, New Jersey State CIO President, stated: "This plan to institute segregation is in open defiance of our state law which prohibits such discrimination. We urge you . . . to take the forthright and immediate action required to prevent Levitt & Sons from planting the seeds of venomous segregation in our state."

Mrs. Mary Finch to Celebrate 89th Year

Mrs. Mary Finch will celebrate her 89th birthday, Saturday, Aug. 23. She resides with Mrs. M. Williams, at 412 S.E. 3rd street and is a charter member of Mt. Olive Baptist church.

New Jersey State AFL President Louis P. Marcantone, communicated his support to those organizations opposing the segregationist policy of not selling homes to Negroes.

Little Rock School Board Vows Appeal of Decision To US Supreme Court

St. Louis, Mo.—Six judges . . . cognizant that the respect and high esteem of the federal courts was at stake, and above all else, JUSTICE MUST PREVAIL . . . handed down a ruling Monday ordering integration to continue at Central High in Little Rock, Ark.

The 6-1 decision of the Eighth circuit court of appeals, reversed last month's ruling of Federal District Judge Harry Lemley, calling for a two-and-a-half year suspension of racial integration at the school which is said to be the largest high school in the world. The ruling came exactly two weeks after a hearing here before all seven judges.

Problem Unsolved

The U. S. Eighth Circuit court of appeals . . . which has the oldest active federal judge in the nation . . . has unerringly done their part. And even though the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has won this all important leg of their legal battle . . . the problem is far from solved.

Many Questions

There are many questions that only the next few eventful weeks will supply the answers. The fall school term is just a little over a week away. Will the Negro students' presence precipitate the mob violence of a year ago? What will Governor Orval Faubus do? Will the Little Rock School board resign? And, what will the President of the United States . . . if he is forced to act again? Indefinite, insufficient answers are falling from lips of interested parties, parrying for time to think and to act.

Mrs. Bates

On Tuesday, Mrs. Daisy Bates, famed integration leader and State

BULLETIN

Washington, D. C.—At his press conference Wednesday President Eisenhower, issued an emphatic statement on school integration in the South, said, "My stand is the same as a year ago." The statement which intimated he will use federal troops again if necessary, was in sharp contrast to that of last week, when he said he "had no plans."

NAACP president, declined to reveal any plans until after a meeting of the organization with School superintendent Virgil Blossom and the school board which has been hinted will take place in a few days.

Mrs. Bates' commented, "When the school board calls us, we will listen to their plan; then we'll decide what to do."

Mob Violence

If it should be decided to re-enter the students will the unruly segregationists repeat the mob violence of a year ago? There is absolutely nothing to indicate otherwise. There is no deterrent factor . . . promised from either the executive leaders of Arkansas or the White House.

Besides, a meeting with the NAACP the School Board has only one definite plan . . . to appeal the decision.

Who's Who in Iowa

Simon Wilson Enjoys Fishing Since Retirement from John Deere Works Last December

This is the 27th in a series of articles featuring Negro firsts, leaders and outstanding personalities in Iowa who are excelling in civic, professional, business, religious, educational, fraternal and entertainment fields.)

By Mrs. Frances Hawthorne

Cleanliness is next to godliness," is one of America's pet phrases, yet all the beautiful buildings in the world, for all the scientific and industrial constructions and machinery . . . their beauty and efficiency would not last for long . . . if it were not for the patient, thorough services of caretakers and janitors. Yet, the men who serve them give dignity to their jobs, for there is a job for everyone.

Simon E. Wilson, a native Californian who moved to Iowa, is such a man, established a record of respect with one of Des Moines industrial plants, John Deere works, until his retirement last December.

To Iowa

Born in Coronado Beach, Calif., he came to Osceola, Ia., where he stayed eight months until he found the farm for which he was looking. There he remained for 17 years cultivating his crops in the rich Iowa soil.

Janitor Service

On Mar. 1 in 1915, just as the rumblings of World War I was being heard in this country, Mr. Wilson came to Des Moines and went to work for Century Lumber company serving as a janitor for 22 years. In 1941 he went to work on contract for the plant which was owned by White. After a time he transferred to the U. S. Rubber company, but then went back again to White, working until it was bought by John Deere. He continued to work there for ten years until his retirement two days after Christmas of last year.

Elks

Mr. Wilson, has not been one to join a lot of organizations but at one time he was a member of the Elks Lodge along in 1927. He stayed with them for about five years before discontinuing his membership.

Since his retirement he has found much time to cultivate his hobbies of hunting and fishing.

"I've just been fishing and sitting down," he put it laughingly.

However, he just arrived from one of his annual trips to the West Coast where he enjoys deep and salt water fishing.

Largest Fish

"On my trip this time I caught the largest fish I ever caught . . . a 18-pound yellow tail," he said proudly. "I have caught calico bass, out there too."

However, Mr. Wilson's fishing is not all confined to his yearly trips to the Coast. He makes seasonal jaunts to Minnesota, also.

A member of Maple Street Baptist church, Mr. Wilson lives with his wife, Vivian, by a second marriage at 1638 Walker. He is the father of six children by his deceased first wife.

The present-day fraternal breach among Negro and white Masons does exist, and possibly so because of the large number of illegitimate masonic groups among Negroes which operate largely without legitimate charters. Many of these groups have been put out of operations by lawsuits brought by Prince Hall Masons, and other suites are being brought.

Concert

Thursday, Aug. 7, and Sunday Aug. 10, were two big red letter days in the history of Coppin Chapel A.M.E. Church. On Thursday a concert featuring the choir of Payne Memorial A.M.E. church of Waterloo, Ia., and James Tanner, blind tenor soloist and a widely acclaimed Iowa Musician, Mr. Tanner, a member and officer of the Waterloo church again thrilled Fort Dodgegers who were hearing him sing again, at the Junior High School. Sunday

Sunday, Dr. J. L. Glover, pastor of St. James A.M.E. church of St. Paul, Minn., headed a great number of automobiles loads of his members who motored here to also help Coppin Chapel in a special evening service. Both of the christian events were highly successful.

The supper show seats 450—midnight show—600.

Campanella

All of Campanella's friends and fans wish him well with his new radio program, which though only 5 minutes now, will be extended as time goes by. For a start this show will give Campy a much needed boost to his morale as with the baseball season in full swing, Campy feels almost "lost" without being in the game. Not too much could be told by the first show—which was a sort of premiere—calls and telegrams ready. Campy didn't say much—he has to get used to the idea of speaking before the public again and with the cast on his neck, that's not easy. But sports fans are pulling for him and hoping this show will let Campy know he may shuttle between the two counties of their hearts.

Powell's Fight Renewed by Victory; Out to Break Foes

New York City . . . Sparked by his overwhelming victory, Adam Clayton Powell has vowed not to rest on his laurels but to forge ahead to greater glory. And immediately after the primaries, he renewed his fight to try and uproot Democratic officials beginning with Boro Pres. Hulan Jack. The fight against Jack has been one of the bitterest of political modern history as it was Jack against Powell—personally and politically—developing into a feud which divided voters and public opinion until the last minute.

Demands Resignation

Citing that Boro Pres. Jack is an "Uncle Tom" and demanding his resignation as a Tammany leader, Powell bellowed out at a street meeting—"I believe our Borough President should devote his full time to being Boro Pres. We want ell cited that Harriman had asked him to stop changing signs on the lamp posts and start changing personnel in his office." (Powell was referring to the many occasions when Mr. Jack participates in charity activities and names of main streets are changed for the day.)

Catering

Powell also accused Jack of catering to white personnel at the risk of reducing salaries of Negro employees. He named Mrs. Aretha Brooks whose salary was lowered by $2,000 per year (which had been approved by the Mayor—at the higher figure) so that a white employee's salary could be boosted. To are working in the Borough President's office under Jack than there ever were under any white man who served there. . . . On the basis of our strength, we should have 42 per cent of the jobs in that office."

Defiance

Defying even the Governor, Powell, since his sweeping victory—but he replied with "He's a little too late. What can he do for me? Nothing."

Showers

Showering or bathing after a day at the beach requires use of a backbrush to soap the shoulder blade area and rid it of sand, salt, and perspiration.

La. AFL-CIO Defies White Citizen's Council

Shreveport, La. — Louisiana's merged labor body, the Louisiana State Labor Council, has stated in no uncertain terms that it refuses to be intimidated by racists. It had been attacked by the Shreveport White Citizens Council for electing as one of its vice-presidents-at-large, E. A. Bryant, president of the Shreveport division of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and a local leader of the NAACP.

Victor Bussie, president of the Louisiana State Labor Council, defended its actions in a full page ad in the Shreveport press. President Bussie declared that the officers and members of the Labor Council "are proud of their State Council and its many accomplishments," and they do not intend to permit any "person or organization to influence the election of our officers."

Despite the attack by the White Citizens Council, President Bryant of the Shreveport Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters remains in his electd position as a vice-president-at-large of the Louisiana State Labor Council. The White Citizens Council has done nothing further to change the situation.

To Exhibit SUI Satellite Equipment at Iowa State Fair

Iowa City, Iowa.—Visitors at the 100th Iowa State Fair in Des Moines Aug. 22-31 will have a chance to see State University of Iowa Satellite equipment similar to that which is now circling the earth in Explorer IV.

Dominating the SUI exhibit in the State Board of Regents display booth will be a 20-foot model of a Jupiter-C rocket, the type used to send all of the Explorer satellites into orbit in outer space. A scale model satellite will be mounted on the rocket.

SUI Exhibit

The SUI part of the exhibit, called "Iowa Satellite and Rocket Research," will be part of the "Age of Science" display, which also will include exhibits from Iowa State College and Iowa State Teachers College.

The National Science Foundation which has provided financial support for much of SUI's IGY research, will show their remodeled exhibit on earth satellites for the first time at the state fair. It will include a model of the Navy's Vanguard satellite.

Loki Rockets

Loki and Rockoon rockets, used by SUI scientists in probing cosmic rays in the upper atmosphere, also will be on display. Loki rockets will be blasting from launching pads in Canada's Hudson Bay area while the exhibit is open at the fair, as SUI physicists continue high-altitude research.

A balloon will be attached to the Rockoon rocket display. The Rockoon "hitchhiker" ride on a balloon and is then fired to greater altitudes.

Plans No Speech

"Well, I haven't planned at this moment any particular speech, as you point out," President Eisenhower replied, adding:

"Now, I have consistently tried over five and a half years to show that any belief—that mere law will never solve the problem."

"I believe we have got to look inside ourselves, and this means not only as individuals, this means as groups. It means county authorities, state authorities and federal authorities."

"How are we going to solve this problem? It is a difficult one, and I keep preaching that there must be some wisdom, some sense of civic duty in accordance with the principles which have been laid out for a citizen in this country, and that, I think, we must continue to do."

"I just say it is something all of us have to work, and I would—if I could think of anything I thought would be effective in August or in the few weeks before the two or three weeks before the schools start, why, I certainly shouldn't hesitate to do it."

Gov Faubus

Following a hasty conference with his aides, Gov. Faubus told reporters Tuesday, "I am not saying what I will do."

Eisenhower

However, he indicated he is leaving it up to the school board and the NAACP to seek relief for the situation, and advise the people and him how things will be Sept. 2 when school resumes.

Then he added, "the school board has every right to resist the order by and every legal means." He hinted if they took no action the Arkansas Legislature might be called into special session.

As for President Eisenhower's plan . . . he indicated last week he has no plan but hinted he would not use federal troops again . . . if necessary. (See separate story).

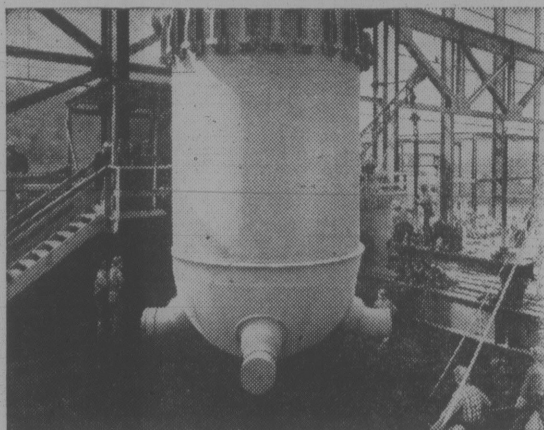

Last Year

Guardsmen ringing Central High School at Faubus' order last fall blocked the attempted entry of nine Negro students. After a riot at the school President Eisenhower sent federal troops to Little Rock and the Negroes attended classes under protection of bayonets. One, Minnie Jean Brown was expelled in mid-term and enrolled in a private school in New York. She is eligible to reenter this fall. Another, Ernest Green, graduated last June.

YOUR FUTURE IS GREAT IN A GROWING AMERICA

ELECTRONICS Nearly 40% of all the electronic products that will be in use ten years from now have not yet been invented! The industry now employs 75,000—and the number should double by 1965.

NUCLEAR ENERGY Already 36,000 people are employed in nuclear research and development. Nuclear energy is now supplying power for ships and electric plants. Future possibilities are virtually unlimited.

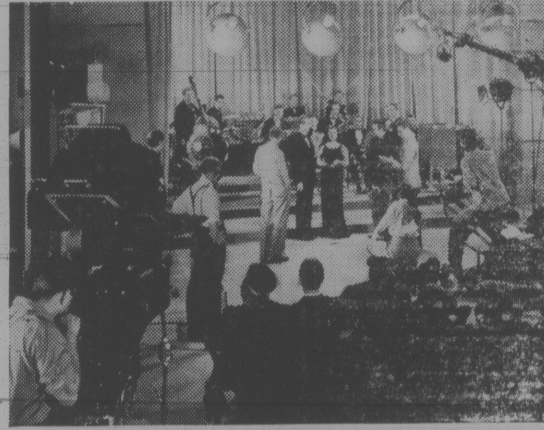

TRANSPORTATION The Jet Age promises faster and more comfortable travel. With more leisure time, our growing population demands increased mobility. Result: thousands of new opportunities.

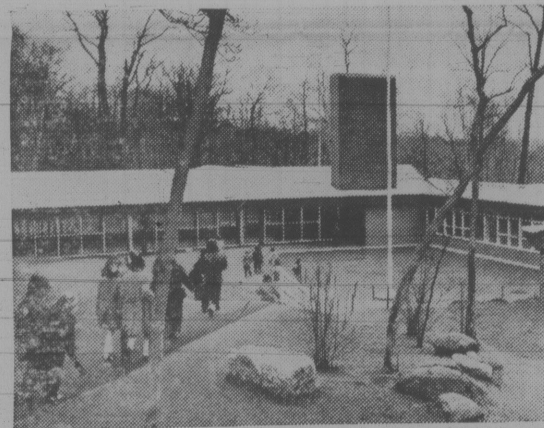

HEALTH There are an ever-increasing number of opportunities in research, development and production. In the field of antibiotics alone, roughly 30,000 people are employed. 50% more should be required by 1970.

CHEMICALS New products and processes account for the phenomenal growth in this field. Today there are more than 800,000 workers in chemicals and related industries. By 1970, there will be twice as many!

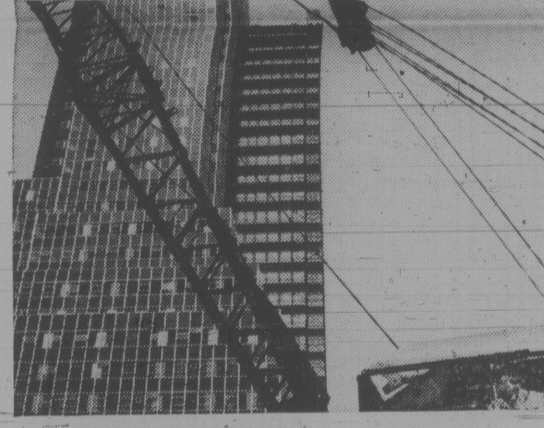

COMMUNICATIONS As our nation grows, the demands made upon communications grow proportionately. For example, the radio and television industries will soon need double the 85,000 people now connected with them.

EDUCATION Our national teaching staff should be increased by 200,000 now. And the giant school-building program now beginning will offer new jobs to many thousands of construction workers.

PACKAGED FOODS The trend today is to labor-saving packaged—mainly frozen—foods. Needed to man this relatively new industry will be more than 50,000 more workers in the near future.

CONSTRUCTION Record-breaking highway and home construction programs are now getting under way. America's 3 million construction workers will benefit and more workers will be required.

7 BIG REASONS FOR CONFIDENCE IN AMERICA'S FUTURE

1. MORE PEOPLE—Four million babies yearly. "U. S. population has doubled in the last 50 years! And our prosperity curve has always followed our population curve.

2. MORE JOBS—Though employment in some areas has fallen off, there are 15 million more jobs than in 1939—and there will be 22 million more in 1975 than today.

3. MORE INCOME—Family income after taxes is at an all-time high of $5300—is expected to pass $7000 by 1975.

4. MORE PRODUCTION—U. S. production doubles every 20 years. We will require millions more people to make, sell and distribute our products.

5. MORE SAVINGS—Individual savings are at the highest level ever—$340 billion—a record amount that is now available for spending.

6. MORE RESEARCH—$10 billion spent each year will pay off in more jobs, better living, whole new industries.

7. MORE NEEDS—In the next few years we will need more than $500 billion worth of schools, highways, homes, durable equipment. Meeting these needs will create new opportunities for everyone.

Add them up and you have the makings of another big upswing. Wise planners, builders and buyers will act now to get ready for it.

FREE! Send for this new 24-page illustrated booklet, "Your Great Future in a Growing America." Every American should know these facts. Drop a post card to: ADVERTISING COUNCIL, Box 80, Midtown Station, New York 18, New York.

MARKETING The tremendous task of distributing the vast and ever-increasing output of our factories has become ever more important. Nearly a million people are helping to do this now. Marketing includes sales, consumer research, product and package design, advertising and public relations. All need new talents and skills every year.

Beginning next week we will start several new features which we hope will add to your, the reader's enjoyment. In addition to the regular features, we are adding a birthday and anniversary calendar. If there is a birthday or wedding anniversary in your family, or if you know of friends or relatives, call the By-stander and give the full name or names, address and birthdate or anniversary date to one of the able secretaries who answers the phone. It will only take a minute, and what better way is there to remind a friend or loved one you are thinking of them? The same thing goes for our regular feature, "In Hospital."

Another feature we will add will be household hints from our readers under a column titled, "In the Kitchen," or "Around the House," depending on the nature of the information. Each household hint must be confined to one paragraph of 75 words or less. You can call it in or send it by postcard or letter. All hints will be acknowledged with name and address of the sender.

Youth Of The Week

This is the 22nd in a series featuring youth, 13 to 21 years, in the community and in Iowa who are setting a good example in wholesome living and achievements in their homes, schools, churches, sports and civic activities.

Again, our bouquet of roses go to an out of town lass . . . but this time, an outstanding teenager from our fair state, Miss Lonel Schuler, of Mason City, Ia., has gained the respect and commendation of youth and adults alike.

However, outstanding among her feats was her selection as a delegate from the Mt. Zion Baptist church in her hometown to attend the fifth Baptist Youth World Congress, held in Toronto, Canada.

She came to Des Moines where she boarded a chartered bus with other delegates, and motored to Toronto, and was among 1500 delegates from 63 nations represented at the week-long youth conclave. In addition she was the only Negro delegate from Iowa.

Upon her return, among the congratulatory greetings, she was presented with a Bible. Her pastor, the Rev. George Kendrick of Des Moines says, "She is a very brilliant girl and an outstanding young church worker."

She also gave a report in a special travelogue program at her church several Sundays ago.

A member of the Cedar Valley Association of Baptist church and the youth conference of that association, Miss Schuler has served a number of years as junior counselor.

When the G. B. Tuckers of 1101 School Street went to Arkansas recently to make preparations for the 80th celebration of his parents' wedding anniversary, they stopped enroute in Little Rock, made an appointment to see Daisy Bates, school integration and NAACP leader. However, they were unable to keep it, but on their way back they stopped for a brief visit with the famed lady.

The Tuckers relate it was about 10 o'clock in the morning when they rang the doorbell of the Bates Home which is built of brick with a glass front. They noted the glass was the one-way kind and the windows were equipped with barred protection.

However, what impressed them most was Mrs. Daisy Bates. "I wanted to see what kind of woman was pushing integration in Little Rock," said Mr. Tucker.

"We didn't know her and she didn't know us, but we went anyway," added Mrs. Tucker.

"But she was the most down to earth person. She is just a little thing. She was dressed in a robe when we arrived but she changed into a dress, and offered us coffee," he related.

His wife corroborated, "Yes, she was the nicest person you ever met; just really charming. And she has such a beautiful home."

They asked her whether the Negro children would be enrolled into Central High again this fall, but she declined to comment, saying, "I wouldn't want to say something that I later would have to retract." However, in less than a week, since the Tuckers chatted with her, the appellate judges, who heard the case, answered the question, for the seven judges reversed the decision of Judge Lemley, saying, "Integration should not be suspended . . ."

Back to Daisy Bates the September issue of Ebony magazine has quite a lay out on the lady herself.

In the same issue of Ebony, there is also a big spread on Masonry in the United States. There is a color photo of grand masters of 32 states. Frank B. Robinson, Sr., grand master of Iowa, of 810 Boyd Street is among the group.

While perusing through a Minneapolis paper I came across a social item about Des Moines folks visiting the Warnell Rhodes of that city. The Des Moines folks were Mrs. J. L. Madison, mother of Mrs. Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brooks, sister and brother-in-law and Lonnie and Lattie Brooks, niece and nephew, and Miss Cecile Madison, of Los Angeles, Calif., who came back to Des Moines with her mother and spent a few days before going on to Los Angeles.

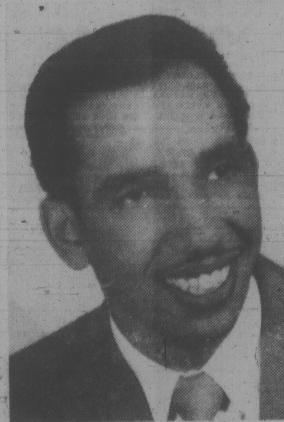

On the same page of the Minneapolis paper there was a social note about another son, and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Madison. Their daughter, Miss Blodnell Madison of Des Moines is spending part of the summer with them.

CONGRESS DUCKS ITS RESPONSIBILITY

During the present session of Congress, a Senate committee, looking into racketeering and illegal operations by labor unions and management, has uncovered wide-spread misdoings by both groups from coast to coast. It is almost unbelievable that some labor leaders have milked millions of dollars from union treasuries; that some reprehensible criminals have weaved themselves into positions where they do just about what they choose without the rank and file knowing what is going on.

In spite of the embezzlement and theft of these millions, nobody has been punished—so far—and yet some unfortunate devil who goes out and steals twenty or fifty dollars is given 10 years in prison.

Some members of Congress have wanted to do something which would stop these abuses. The Senate passed the Kennedy-Ives bill which, while exceedingly short of effective measures, was a step in the right direction.

But the lower house did not have the courage to pass any labor law even in line with the Kennedy-Ives bill partly because the big union bosses did not want it; partly because some members feared reprisals at the polls in November.

Of course, all union leaders are not involved in the big steals of the funds of the members, the racketeering or other forms of dishonesty and naturally those decent leaders are not to be condemned. But it is most unfortunate that even the good ones opposed efforts to clean up the bad practices which give their organizations a black eye and at the same time encourage hoodlums to continue to prey upon honest workers.

City manager Forester criticized the Des Moines City Council last week saying some members lacked courage to do the things that were best for all the people because their actions were based upon pressure from cliques and groups which made demands for their selfish interest. Congress duplicates that statement.

ATHLETICS SHOW WHAT CAN BE DONE

Those who saw the All Star-Detroit Lions football game in Chicago last Friday were treated to a remarkable job put on by the young collegians who beat the pros 35 to 19.

It is said that athletic competition has done much to demonstrate that given a chance, Negroes can and do measure up; not all but like any other race or group individually.

Two Negro half backs on the All Stars: Pace of Michigan and Mitchell of Illinois were given starting spots and played most of the time until the game was won, then lesser stars were given a chance so that they might play some in the classic.

The Coach Otto Graham recognized in Pace and Mitchell the best men for the job. He wanted to win and did not allow superficial equasions such as race to swerve his best judgment. Congratulations.

If business, labor and industry and other units which control America's economy adopted the same rule in dealing with men as Coach Graham, the Negro would soon come into his own fully and integration would be no problem anywhere.

DECISION AS WAS TO BE EXPECTED

As had been expected by most people whose minds are not warped with race prejudice, the Federal Circuit Court at St. Louis did reverse the ruling of Federal Judge Lemley in which he deferred integration in the Little Rock schools for thirty months.

Speaking for the majority of the Court of 8 to 1, Judge Matthes of St. Louis said:

"The issue plainly comes down to the question of whether overt public resistance, including mob protest, constitutes sufficient cause to nullify an order of the federal court directing the (school) board to proceed with its integration plan."

"We say that the time has not yet come in these United States when an order of a federal court must be whittled away, watered down, or shamefully withdrawn in the face of violent and unlawful acts of individual citizens in opposition thereto."

It seems ridiculous that many people want a set of rules to apply one way for Negroes and another way for whites. If these people had their way, a dozen states would apply the same laws differently and of course what inconsistency would exist.

The court of appeals found itself in a position whether to uphold law and order or how to mob violence. They chose to follow the rule of law and reason rather than expediency.

Undoubtedly, this decision will be appealed but the court should, and no doubt, it will, make the way clear to continue integration in September.

In the meantime, America has home work to do which is equally as important as the Middle East for if it cannot maintain law and order at home, chances for doing so abroad are not good.

President Eisenhower, as the leader of the nation, has the first responsibility of doing something about it. He should not wait until it becomes necessary to call out troops to enforce court orders, but should proceed by asking governor, state attorney's general and the justice departments in for a conference to plan a reasonable orderly process of integration. This indeed would be a summit meeting of the greatest importance to the nation. He still has great influence which should be used to help encourage people to obey the law.

Satchel Paige Quits Miami Marlin Club

Montreal, Leroy (Satchel) Paige, fabulous 52-year old Negro pitcher, has "hit the road"—and it could lead to the end of his baseball trail.

Paige left his club, the Miami Marlins of the International League Tuesday night, and General Manager Joe Ryan said: "he has departed the club; he is off the payroll; but he has not been granted his unconditional release and his contract is still the property of the Miami club."

Ryan refused to disclose the nature of the dispute between Paige and the Marlins but said, "we have hopes everything will be smoothed over."

Will Aaron and Mays Wrangle for National League Batting Title?

It looks like two tan players will be battling down the wire for the National League batting championship late in September.

Right now, Stan Musial and Willie Mays are still the principal contenders for the NL stick honor, but should they falter, they might find a familiar figure looking over their shoulders.

The National League's most valuable player, Hank Aaron, finally reached the 300 mark in batting after an uphill struggle with a slump that persisted in most of the first months of the season.

Milwaukee's young outfielder, in nine games, collected 19 hits in 37 trips to raise his average from around .280 to .305.

Aaron also was coming up on the outside to challenge the leaders in other offensive departments. He was pressing the leaders in runs (66), doubles (10) and home runs (20).

HEALTH FOR ALL

Swim for Fun

Hang your clothes on a hickory limb, but don't go near the water." It's not surprising that Mother gave that advice to her darling daughter. The number and complexity of rules for safety in the water might discourage any anxious parent.

As a matter of fact the one really important rule is often forgotten among the smaller ones. That is: learn to swim.

Learning to Swim

To be on the safe side, children must first learn to be happy at home in the liquid element. They should start early in life playing in safe, shallow water. If you're at all afraid of the water yourself, make every effort to avoid transmitting your fears to them. As soon as possible have them taught to swim under proper supervision. Almost every public beach or pool offers instruction in swimming and Red Cross life saving. Every youngster should master correct breathing technique, floating, treading water, and one simple stroke. The old fashioned method of tossing them in off the dock may have developed a few swimmers, but it probably developed more non-swimmers who were paralyzed by fear of the water.

Safety Rules

Once the children have learned how to swim, you can lay down a few simple safety rules that must be followed "or else." Insist that they follow the "buddy" system, swimming in pairs and keeping their eyes on each other. Allow no swimming immediately after eating. Insist that they come out of the water when you call. Children will protest that they're perfectly comfortable when they are shivering and turning blue. Ignore their protests for their own sake.

A day at the beach can be fun and free from worry. It will be, if these essentials for safety in the water are followed.

Patterson Mauls Harris into Submission—Wins By KO in 12th.—Dissatisfied With Victory

Los Angeles, Cal. Even after a year's layoff heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson still had enough savvy and know-how to win his third title defense via a 12-round knockout over his "toughest" opponent, Cut and Shoot's Roy Harris here Monday night before 17,000 fans.

Round one was "feeler for both fighters." Round number two saw Patterson hit the canvas for a three count from a left jab and a right which some say was more of a push than a punch. But from then on it was decisively the champion who mauled and cut the courageous challenger's face into a bloody, grotesque mask.

Harris Reeling

The champion sent Harris reeling to the deck in the seventh for a count of eight with a right to the head. In the eighth the challenger was down again for counts of seven and three. He took a nine count in the twelfth and failed to answer the bell for the thirteenth. Harris was knocked down a total of four times.

Under California rules, if a fighter has been beaten, and is unable to answer the bell, it is ruled a knockout.

But after all this, the 23-year old champion was disappointed and dissatisfied with his performance. Patterson: "I'm more dissatisfied with this fight than any one I've fought in the last few years."

The inactive months of the champion took its toll. His timing was markedly off and his reflexes dulled. As a result Patterson plans to fight more often, perhaps as early as June for a main defense of the title with intermittent bouts in the winter months.

As a consolation for their wounds and disappointments the combatants will receive a $100,000 guarantee for Harris and Patterson's take will probably be in the neighborhood of more than $300,000.

But after all this, the 23-year old champion was disappointed and dissatisfied with his performance. Patterson: "I'm more dissatisfied with this fight than any one I've fought in the last few years."

The inactive months of the champion took its toll. His timing was markedly off and his reflexes dulled. As a result Patterson plans to fight more often, perhaps as early as June for a main defense of the title with intermittent bouts in the winter months.

As a consolation for their wounds and disappointments the combatants will receive a $100,000 guarantee for Harris and Patterson's take will probably be in the neighborhood of more than $300,000.

DEAR EDITOR:

The blood-race labeling law, recently passed in Louisiana for the purpose of segregation is in conflict with the Supreme law of the land. The rule is that where the state law and the Federal law comes in conflict with each other the Federal law is supreme.

The federal law holds that this constitution and the laws of the United States and all the treaties made or which shall be made under the authority of the United States shall be the supreme law of the land and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby and any law in any state to the contrary notwithstanding. The states statutory law must conform to the constitution's provisions. Otherwise the states statutory law cannot stand, and are usually reversed and the case remanded.

The congress which has been created under the constitution as the law making body has power to declare wars and to stop wars, in the land, in the air and on the high seas. Also has power to stop segregation, requiring less expenses and effort.

George Washington referred to the Stoics, 300 B.C. and obtained the rule of freedom, upon which this government was framed, that all men are created equal and free. The Holy Scriptures teaches us that God made of one blood, all nations to dwell upon the face of the earth, Act. 17:26.

Althea Gibson Tells How Her Father Thought She Might Become Pro-Boxer in Post

New York, N. Y.—There was a time when Althea Gibson's father seriously thought she should become a professional boxer.

In the current (August 23) issue of The Saturday Evening Post, the world's leading woman tennis player discloses that even today her parent thinks she "would have been the champion of the world" because she was "big and strong and could hit."

Althea comment is "I had the right temperament for it. I was tough. I wasn't afraid of anybody, not even him (her 190-pound father). He would box with me for an hour at a time. He did a good job on me, maybe too good."

This pugilistic training, she relates in the first of three articles

Antibiotic Fabric

Sweaters, skirts and other clothing of the future will have an antibiotic woven into the fabric. Textile mills are able to weave the antibiotic—called neomycin—into both natural and synthetic fibers. In addition, the antibiotic will remain in the fabric through countless launderings.

Fracture Patients

A prominent orthopedic surgeon advises his convalescing fracture patients about the importance of keeping crutch and cane tips clean. These rubber tips should be washed daily with a sudsy sponge, then-wiped dry, to prevent gathering of lint and dust which break their suction and gripping power.

Under medical jurisprudence there are two kinds of blood. Namely, liquid and solid. And it has been held that there is no difference between solid or liquid of one person and the other.

The early men of the sub-man or "pseudo man," known as the Pithecanthropus, running around in Europe 500,000 years ago, obviously there would be a difference between the blood of these creatures and that of a human-being.

THE CONSTANT THREAT

The constant threat that hovers near—to keep alert the sense of fear, precludes the chance of normal life—while lives the constant threat of strife.

The lure of tropic isles may call—and hurricanes may wreck it all. A cabin on a mountain side, an avalanche . . . and there you died. Out on the fertile country loam—a cyclone comes, and goodbye home. That dream home by the oceans side, is swept away by some high tide. The chance refrains at one to one—

There is no surety that you, will live to twelve or twenty two. God's children have the best of it—there is no need for them to fret. They know the future they will get, and do not fear the constant threat.

WOMAN 75 YEARS OLD GETS HIGH SCHOOL DIPLOMA

Chicago—An ambitious Georgia woman "didn't want to die dumb and ignorant" so at the age of 75 Mamie Stephens received her high school diploma and the "Most Outstanding Senior" trophy at an evening school in Atlanta, according to an article in the September issue of EBONY Magazine.

Commenting on her completing high school, Mrs. Stephens said she hopes her diploma shows "older people that their life is not over, that they can still learn and be useful."

Born of slave parents, Mrs. Stephens is the oldest person ever to graduate from Atlanta's Booker T. Washington Evening High School, and the first to earn 12 perfect attendance records, church several Sundays ago.

A member of the Cedar Valley Association of Baptist church and the youth conference of that association, Miss Shuler has served a number of years as junior consessor at the Baptist Youth camp in Iowa Falls, Iowa.

A June graduate of Mason City High school, she plans to further her education by attending Mason City Junior College. She is rather undecided between a career as a foreign missionary worker and an elementary school teacher. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shuler of Mason City.

have lasted long. I was still living pretty wild, playing tennis in the daytime and having fun at night."

But Althea was determined to be somebody. "If I've made it," she says, "it's half because I was game to take a wicked amount of punishment, and half because an awful lot of people cared enough to help me."

In addition to Walker and Serrell, she mentioned Sugar Ray Robinson, Alice Marble, Fred Johnson and two tennis-playing doctors, Dr. Hubert A. Eaton, of Wilmington, North Carolina, and Dr. Robert W. Johnson, of Lynchburg, Virginia.
