In making the announcement of Parker's appointment, L. L. Fight to Save Condemned Man For Petty Theft in Alabama; Scheduled to Die Next Week

New York (CNS)—If condemned Jimmy Wilson, a 55-year-old handyman sentenced to death for robbing an elderly white lady of $1.95 doesn't realize the severity of his sentence—then surely the many Americans—Northern and Southern—will explain to him that in this modern day, such petty crimes just aren't punishable by death.

However, Wilson's lawyer, Southern Gentleman Sheldon Fitts of Marion, Alabama, remarks that his client got off well. In Fitts' own words, "That n----- was lucky he wasn't lynched."

In Death Row

Scheduled to die September 5th in the electric chair, Wilson now waits calmly in the death row at more prison farm, unaware of the national interest his case has created. He has served prison terms twice for theft. While letters are bombarding the office of Governor Folsom, others are being received by Warden Steve Nixon who is as baffled as the lawyer as to why people are so excited. The Warden insists that Wilson himself is prepared to die.

Race Against Time

Meanwhile, the NAACP and other organizations are working against time in an effort to convince Gov. Folsom to commute the sentence to life imprisonment. And the lawyer—he feels there is nothing to be done since under Alabama law robbery is a capital offense (although only 4 men have been executed for theft—and all four have been Negroes.)

Eugene Cook, 16, Fatally Injured in Missouri Car Crash

Fulton, Mo.—Eugene Cook, 16-year-old son of Mrs. Gussie Cowner, of 947 West 13th street, Des Moines died in a hospital here Sunday of injuries suffered in a head-on collision Saturday night on Highway 54 about 8 miles south of Fulton, Mo.

According to the Missouri highway patrol, young Cook was a passenger in a car driven by George C. Gibbs, 19 of 1182 West 10th Street in Des Moines. Gibbs and Robert Connor, 12, a half-brother of the Cook boy, were listed in serious condition in Callaway hospital in Fulton following the accident. Another passenger in the Gibbs' car, William Canada, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Canada, of 1401 McCormick street, Des Moines escaped with minor injuries.

The Missouri patrol said Gibbs car collided head-on with one driven by David Ross Lichty, 18, of Jefferson City, Mo., as Gibbs was trying to pass a car. Lichty and two passengers in his car were listed in serious condition at a Fulton hospital.

Gibbs' mother, Mrs. Helen Baker of 947 West 13th street, said the boys left Des Moines a week ago for Mexico, Mo., to visit young Canada's grandparents.

Eugene Cook is survived by his mother and half brother. Services were held Wednesday at Auxvasse, Mo. Up until about a month ago, he had worked at the Iowa By-stander.

Who's Who in Iowa

William T. Burns, 65, Has Served 40 Yrs. in American Legion; Joined Army at 14

This is the 28th in a series of articles featuring Negro firsts, leaders and outstanding personalities in Iowa who are excelling in civic, professional, business, religious, educational, fraternal and entertainment fields.)

By Mrs. Frances Hawthorne

"Old soldiers never die; they just fade away," quoted an American general, but William Thomas Burns, 65, has proven they don't always fade away. For the past 40 years he has been an active leader in the American Legion and prior to that he was a professional soldier for 10 years.

Early Age

Mr. Burns began his military career at the early age of 14 years when he enlisted at Jefferson Barracks on Jan. 20, 1907 in St. Louis, Mo. Three years later he was transferred to the 10th Cavalry for garrison duty. In the summer of 1912 the outfit was assigned to protect a new cavalry drill in Winchester, Va.

Mexican War

Then along came the Mexican revolution, and the 10th cavalry was ordered to Fort Huachuca, Ariz. In the early part of 1916 the 10th cavalry received its first taste of combat along the Mexican border at a place which when translated, means, "Hot Water."

Following 11 months service and several more combats with the enemy, a quick call came from Washington, for evacuation of the 10th Cavalry, and they withdrew to Columbus, New Mexico, making the 300 mile-march in 10 days.

Officers School

About this time, Mr. Burns decided to take advantage of his special abilities and talents and advance in his military career. So in 1917 he entered officers training school at Fort Des Moines and following his commission as a first lieutenant was assigned to Camp Dodge. In June 1918 he was sent overseas where he served with the 366th Infantry in France.

Before he was shipped back state side in 1919, Lt. Burns was wounded in action, and awarded two medals for service on the Mexican border and a liberty medal for service in the defensive area in France.

Following his discharge, he went to Springfield, Mo., where he had been a charter member of Norval Strafford Post of the American Legion. On his return to Des Moines in 1921 he had his membership transferred to Lincoln Post 126 in the city, and there it has remained.

Leadership

Through the years he has served with distinction and steadfastness as a leader. He has served as post commander, six years, adjutant, 16 years, historian, 1 year, on the trustee board, two years, Polk county vice commander, four years, Polk County finance officer, six years, chaplain and vice commander of the 6th district, a year each.

In addition he was a service officer with the old Des Moines American Legion Service Association for three years during World War II. Presently, he is president of the Des Moines Council of American Legion Posts, and on the board of

School's Open... Watch Out for Youngsters

School-age children comprise 14 per cent of the pedestrians killed each year in traffic accidents, L. J. Schuster, President of the Motor Club of Iowa, said today in urging motorists to drive carefully around school areas.

"Now that school is open again," Mr. Schuster said, "the streets of most communities will be crowded with youngsters going to and from their classes. It is up to the motorists to watch out for these youngsters, many of whom are just learning the fundamentals of traffic safety."

Mrs. Bernice Carter Is Delegate to Elks Meet In Washington, D. C.

Washington, D. C.—Miss Bernice Carter, of 911 West 16th Street, Des Moines was among delegates and visitors attending the national convention of the Protective Order of Elks of the World. She represented the Iowa Hawkeye Lodge Elks.

One of the outstanding highlights of the convention was the awarding of $1,000 scholarships to each of nine students who entered Central High school in Little Rock, Ark., last year, integrating the school. The grants were made by the Improved Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks as a part of a program of aid to students in tension areas in the South.

Six of the Little Rock students, who accompanied Atty. Thurgood Marshall to Washington, to file briefs in the integration case before the U. S. Supreme court, were at the Elks to receive their scholarships in person.

Little Rock School Board Delay School's Opening; Faubus Calls Legislature

Washington, D. C.—At noon today—five days before schools are scheduled to open around the nation—the United States Supreme Court convened in one of its rare special sessions to review the explosive crisis of integration in Little Rock, Ark. Specifically, the Nine Justices are to consider two briefs filed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People—asking the highest tribunal to overrule a federal district order granting suspension of integration at Little Rock and nullification of a stay granted by Circuit Court to its own order to resume integration at Central High.

Only 4th Time

When the Supreme court called its special session—fourth in 168 years—it also invited U. S. Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin to file a brief and participate in the arguments. Later, the same day the Little Rock School board, in an desperate attempt to play for time, postponed opening of schools in the city for six days, from Sept. 2 to Sept. 8.

Faubus

Meanwhile, following repeated conferences over the weekend, Gov. Orval Faubus went forward with plans to be ready—just in case things didn't go his way. After calling a historic special session of the Arkansas legislature, he addressed the group, Tuesday calling for emergency powers to close Central High and any other school if integrated by force.

No Surrender

He vowed no surrender, saying, "This battle for states' rights and constitutional government... has been forced upon us and we must either defend our rights against those who usurp them, or else surrender."

Negro Students

During the first of the week several of the Negro students have attempted to register at Central High but have been turned away. School Superintendent Virgil Blossom announced no Negroes would be allowed to register before the U. S. Supreme Court rules on the case.

In Virginia

Even though all eyes are focused on Little Rock, public school boards in Virginia which are under federal court order to integrate are watching the barometer of the Arkansas case. In Norfolk, Va., a federal district judge ordered the school board to reconsider the application of 101 Negro students. And in Richmond, Va., the Virginia pupil placement board denied all Negro applications for transfer to white schools in Arlington and Newport News.

CHRONOLOGY OF LITTLE ROCK

June 20—Federal District Judge Harry Lemley hands down ruling to suspend integration at Central High for 2½ years.

June 26—NAACP attorneys ask Supreme court to hold special session to review Little Rock. Files appeal from Judge Lemley's decision.

Aug. 4—Full court of seven jurists of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals hear NAACP and Little Rock School board attorneys arguments on integration at Central High School.

Aug. 18—In a 6-1 decision, appeal judges reversed Judge Lemley's ruling, ordering integration resumed at Central High School.

Aug. 20—President Eisenhower at his press conference issues emphatic statement, hinting he'll use troops again, if necessary; Little Rock School board asks Eighth Circuit court to grant stay; NAACP asks for issuance of immediate mandate instead of waiting until 20 days.

Aug. 21—Chief Judge Gardner issues statement, granting stay to court's decision, until Supreme Court rules on case.

Aug. 23—Atty. Thurgood Marshall, NAACP counsel, files papers before Associate Justice Charles E. Whittaker, asking nullification of stay order to allow Negro students to enter in September classes.

Aug. 25—U. S. Supreme Court orders special session to review Little Rock integration; Little Rock school board postpones school's opening to Sept. 8.

Aug. 26—Gov. Orval Faubus addresses special session of Arkansas legislature, demanding power to close schools in event of forced integration.

Mrs. F. D. R. Disagrees with Ike's Method on Little Rock

New York City (CNS)—"Although a U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals has granted the Little Rock School Board additional time to carry on its fight against resumption of integration, you can be sure that the ultimate question will be far from settled," speaks the former First Lady, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

"I wish very much that instead of hinting that federal troops might be sent again to Little Rock, President Eisenhower would try a different approach."

Need Encouraging

"There are forces in the South that are big enough to want to obey the law and to treat children, whether they are white or colored, fairly. But these forces need encouragement and backing, and no one in this country except the President can provide the leadership that is necessary to give these well-meaning people the strength to make this difficult fight."

Ike to Little Rock

"I am quite convinced that if these people know that the White House will move to back them they will suddenly show up in far greater numbers than most of us realize.

"Instead of sending troops I wish President Eisenhower would go down to Little Rock and lead the colored children into the school."

Fort Dodge Man Returned from Anamosa to Stand Trial for 1955 Slaying of His Wife

Fort Dodge, Ia.—Joseph Edward Culps, 32, Fort Dodge, accused of killing his ex-wife three years ago, will be returned to the city from the Iowa state men's reformatory at Anamosa sometime this week and will eventually stand trial for murder, County Attorney Arthur H. Johnson said Friday.

Culps, charged with shooting his former wife, Josephine Green Culps, Aug. 27, 1955, has been at the state institution's criminally insane ward since he was ruled insane on Jan. 10, 1956, by Judge John M. Schaupp in Webster county district court. Officials of the reformatory Thursday notified the county attorney's office that Culps is now sane and competent to stand trial or murder.

Culps was arrested a few hours after he shot his ex-wife six times in the back at the D. K. Frantz Service Station at about noon on Aug. 27, 1955. He was later arrested by Fort Dodge police near a grocery store where he had gone to buy some beer and pop.

Culps signed a written confession after his arrest stating he killed his ex-wife. He told officers that after the shooting he fled the scene and went into a nearby park where he hid in some bushes and went to sleep, later going to the store near where he was arrested.

Culps had been scheduled to be tried for the murder in December of 1955, but the trial was postponed after his court-appointed attorney, Donald J. Mitchell, asked for a sanity examination. Following the examination, held at Cherokee, officials told the court that Culps was not responsible for his actions. Judge Schaupp then ruled that Culps was criminally insane and the slayer was ordered committed to Anamosa.

NAACP Hails Ike's Statement on School

New York—President Eisenhower's declaration that "there can be no equivocation as to the responsibility of the Federal Government," in the event state and local authorities fail to protect citizens in the exercise of their constitutional rights drew praise from Dr. Channing H. Tobias, NAACP Board chairman, and Roy Wilkins, the Association's executive secretary.

The President made his statement at a press conference in Washington on August 20 in reference to the order of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals reinstating the Negro students in Little Rock's Central High School in compliance with the United States Supreme Court ruling of May 17, 1952.

In a telegram to the President, dated August 20, Dr. Tobias said:

As chairman of the Board of Directors of NAACP, and personally, I congratulate you wholeheartedly on your press conference remarks concerning Little Rock. I thoroughly agree with your position and see no other course to follow that will uphold the Judiciary and honor of the United States of America.

Mr. Wilkins' telegram said: I believe I reflect the sentiment of the overwhelming majority of the members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People when I offer our sincere thanks for your statement in your press conference yesterday. You

Little Rock Stay Order Goes to Supreme Court

Washington, D. C.—Attorneys for the Little Rock Negro students appealed directly to the U. S. Supreme Court to overturn the stay order of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals Friday and signed by Chief Judge Archibald K. Gardner.

Thurgood Marshall, director-counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, filed a motion with Associate Justice Charles Evans Whitaker asking that the stay order granting the Little Rock School Board a 30-day delay be voided so that the Negro students can return to Central High when it opens September 2.

Court in Recess

The Supreme Court is now in recess, but the rules of the Court empower a single justice to vacate a stay issued by a lower court. In this instance, it is Associate Justice Whitaker, who is also the Circuit Justice for the Eighth Circuit.

In a 6-1 decision rendered August 18, the Eighth Circuit had set aside Judge Harry J. Lemley's order of June 21 postponing integration of the Little Rock High School for 2 1/2 years.

School Board

The Little Rock School Board on Thursday petitioned Judge Gardner to stay the decision. The stay order granted carries the provision that if within 30 days the Court receives notice from the Clerk of the Supreme Court of application filed by the School Board seeking an appeal of the decision setting aside Judge Lemley's postponement mandate, the stay will be in effect until the Supreme Court acts on it.

NAACP Attorneys

Attorneys for the Negro students had petitioned the Eighth Circuit the previous day asking that the mandate on the August 18th decision be issued immediately instead of the customary 20 days. This would enable the Negro students to return to Central High when it opens in two weeks. The motion was denied at the same time the School Board's petition for the stay was granted.

Negroes Enroll At Clinton High

Clinton, Tenn.—Ten Negro students—all girls—will be enrolled at Clinton High School when classes begin Sept. 2.

Principal W. D. Human said two Negro boys who dropped out of school last year also attempted to register Monday but that their grades have been below average and he has not decided whether to readmit them.

Clinton High two years ago became the state's first public school to integrate the races. When violence flared, state troopers and national guardsmen restored order.

Youth Of The Week

This is the 23rd in a series, featuring youth, 13 to 21 years, in the community and in Iowa who are setting a good example in wholesome living and achievements in their homes, schools, churches, sports and civic activities.

This week we are turning again to the local scene to salute one of Des Moines' young teen-agers. Jo Ann Southers, 17, who has channeled a lot of her spare time into church and community activities. The oldest of four sisters and three brothers, Jo Ann graduated from Des Moines Tech last June after concentrating her studies in the clerical core area. Prior to her high school graduation, she had begun training at Crescent Beauty school toward a goal of future beautician. . . and if things go well, in the near future following her cosmetology graduation, she hopes to operate her own beauty shop.

Engaged

Uppermost in her future plans is her engagement and forthcoming marriage this fall to Airman Second Class Isaac Jones, of Oralabor, Iowa who is stationed at Scott Air Force Base, Ill.

Church Activities

At Corinthian Baptist church where she is a member she has been very active for several years. She is president and has been a member of Senior Red Circle Girls for two years and prior to that she was a member of the junior group of the same organization. She is also president of the 15-voice Jubellare choir which she has been a member of four years. Another group to which she belongs, the Corinthianettes, has been organized for about a year and a half. The four girls go around to various local churches on singing engagements and sang once at a church in Perry, Iowa. In addition she is a member of the Junior Usher board and helps out in the Sunday School when ever she is needed.

MISS SOUTHERS

Debutantes

At Willkie House where she holds membership, Jo Ann is vice president of the Debutantes, social club of the center. She has also played on the Correggies, basketball team there.

During her high school days Jo Ann also won a letter when she was the only Negro member of the Majorettes' team.

Hobbies

Despite church work and community activities she still finds time to engage in her hobbies of dancing, sketching cartoons, horse back riding and several other sports. She became interested in horse back riding through a girl friend who invited her out. Jo Ann recalls she didn't want to go, but went anyway, and she has "liked it ever since."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Southers of 1051 West 12th street.

pled with the youngness of today's families, means that the grandparent-grandchild relationship will change. More and more of the children now being born will be able to have an adult acquaintanceship with their grandparents, and even more children will have the pleasant opportunity to know their grandparents than ever was true before.

Grandparents

To many children of my generation, grandparents were almost mythical people. We saw them seldom, and then usually the influence of the traditional expectation of grandparents was strongly evident. Grandparents could try shamelessly to "spoil" us. Often, in fact, their relationship with us was almost one of a person with his favorite pets. By the time we were old enough to know them as people, many of them had passed away.

Traditional Role

Increasingly, however, children now will have the opportunity to learn to know their grandparents as individuals. The traditional role of the grandparent was in many ways a wonderful one for children, but perhaps the possibility of the new relationship will help the child feel his roots in a continuing stream of family life and find his place in human patterns that have stability and validity through time.

New York City — (Calvin News Service) — CLUBS BRINGING IN MONEY . . . Sammy Davis, Jr. is so good at the 500 club in Atlantic City, he's breaking his pal Frank Sinatra's record . . . and that wasn't easy. Sammy proves himself once again—he can sing for kings or paupers—but in this case the patrons of the 500 are paying an admission of $2 and are stuck with a $4 minimum. As far as Sammy's singing goes—he is in great shape—he handles such numbers as "Little Girl," "Then I'm Happy," "Birth of the Blues," "Hey There" and others from atop a grand piano . . . and he still does those impersonations of Jerry Lewis, Al Jolson, Billy

NAACP YOUTH COUNCIL HALTS LUNCHROOM BIAS

Wichita, Kans., Aug. 21—As the result of a two-day "sit-down" campaign, conducted by the NAACP youth council here, Negro citizens are now being served at lunchroom counters of a local drugstore chain throughout Wichita. Refused service, the young people occupied all of the seats in one of the stores from noon until closing time, 10 p.m., on two different occasions.

Following the second "sit-down," the company's vice president met with Chester Lewis, president of the Wichita NAACP branch, and agreed to abolish all discriminatory practices immediately.

Begins Training at Navigator School

Second Lt. Finnis E. Billingsley began his initial studies at the primary basic navigator training school at James Connolly Air Force Base, Texas, following his recent assignment there. He attended officers' candidate school at Lackland Air Force Base, in the same state and received his commission earlier this year.

He is the son of Atty and Mrs. Henry McKnight of 925 Laurel street and entered the service eight years ago.

Ekstine, Sinatra and others which have made him famous. He even does a real takeoff on Sinatra—trench coat over his shoulder, drink in hand, cigarette dangling from his lips and singing "That's Why the Lady Is a Tramp" . . . Sinatra himself loves this one.

Will Mastin

Since Sammy's father is out of show business now—his uncle, Will Mastin, is still in the setup with a short routine—strictly soft shoe—with Pete Miller Ork directed by Dick Stabile—and Damita Joe—borrowed from Club Harlem (where Larry Steele reigns) . . . the show is ALL Sammy Davis, Jr. . . and nobody else is really needed.

Diahann Carroll

Out in Reno, up-and-coming Diahann Carroll isn't breaking any records as far as making money goes—but she's well appreciated by those who see her at the Riverside Hotel, one of the big spots in the little town. The trouble is—Diahann isn't well known in the west—her popularity is high in N. Y. and Europe—but not out, in the nightclub circuit west of Chicago. . . her agent should have put on a building-up campaign before they allowed her to venture west as the poor girl must sing and pioneer for herself at the same time. However, her recent appearances on the Jack Paar "Tonight" show on TV help tremendously and being a real talented gal—that goes a long way too. Diahann wears a fabulous wardrobe . . . handles difficult audiences like a pro—and commands complete silence when she takes the floor. She's young, ambitious, talented and charming . . . but she just wasn't for star billing without a terrific buildup.

Louie Armstrong

In nearby Las Vegas, Louie Pops Armstrong is making merry with a terrific money-getting idea . . . opera and jazz mixed into one show. Marguerite Piazza is an opera star—Pops is a jazzman . . . together they tear the house down . . . and the Sands counts the dough. With them are 12 Texas Copa Girls—and with Pops is Velma Middleton, who sings "St. Louis Blues."

NEW NEGRO CONGRESSMAN FEATURED IN MAGAZINE

Longer Life Span of Aged Gives Children Chance to Know Grandparents as Individuals

Written by Lloyd Lovell, SUI Assistant Professor

Two important changes in the life patterns of Americans are bound to have effect on one of the potentially most enjoyable relationships that a child can have.

The life expectancy of the average American has increased by at least a decade within the last 40 years or so. At the same time, there has been a consistent trend for young people to marry earlier and to finish having their children at an earlier age than their parents did. In Iowa, for example, half of the women who married in 1956 were 19½ years old, or less, according to data compiled by the Iowa Division of Vital Statistics. A large number of these women will be done having their families by the time they are 30.

Ten Commandments For Parents And School Children

Pine Forge, Pa.—Alonzo Banks, principal of the Baltimore intermediate school, listed "Ten Commandments" for parents and children Friday at the 13th annual summer conference of Seventh Day Adventists. They were:

For Parents

1. Thou shalt not become an army sergeant, barking orders to thy children, but shalt guide them by thine own perfect examples.
2. Thou shalt not treat thine erring son or daughter as a criminal, but shalt remember he or she is but a chip off the old block.
3. Thou shalt not chase the almighty dollar so furiously that thou become a bear instead of a father, or a workhorse instead of a mother.
4. Thou shalt not let thine appearance go to pot, nor conduct thyself in such a way that thy children become ashamed of thee.
5. Thou shalt pray with and for thy children morning, noon and night.

For Children

6. Thou shalt not look upon thy parents as policemen.
7. Thou shalt not use thy home merely as a base of operations from which thou goest for pleasure, but shalt wash a dish and mow the lawn now and then.
8. Thou shalt remember that someday thou wilt become a parent and consider how thou wouldn't like a child who puts furrows in thine brow and gray hairs in thine head.
9. Thou shalt take counsel from thy parents, for it may be possible thou hast not yet found all the answers.
10. Thou shalt honor thy father, and thy mother that the days may be long and happy in the home thy parents giveth thee.

Legislation to Curb Supreme Court Viewed As 'Hostile'

New York—The chairman of the Democratic and Republican national committees have been warned that enactment of pending legislation designed to curb the United States Supreme Court will be viewed as an "extremely hostile act" by Negro citizens throughout the nation.

The warning was dispatched on August 18 by Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, in telegrams to Paul Butler, Democratic chairman, and Meade Alcorn, Republican chairman. Mr. Wilkins reminded the political leaders of the "beatings and shootings of Negro prisoners in recent weeks in Georgia and Mississippi" which resulted in acquittal of their attackers.

These cases, he told Butler, demonstrates the "necessity of more not less federal protection. Any legislation which throws Negro citizens to the state wolves will not make friends."

AKA Convention

Washington, D. C.—Dr. Marjorie Holloman Parker, associate professor of education at District of Columbia Teachers College, today was elected national president of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, the nation's oldest and largest social Greek-letter organization for Negro women. Dr. Parker will assume leadership of the 20,000-member group immediately, and serve through August, 1961. She succeeds Mrs. Arnetta G. Wallace of Chicago, who had headed the organization since 1954.

Dr. Parker was elected to Alpha Kappa Alpha's highest post as the group's 50th anniversary boulevards came to an end at the Sheraton Park Hotel. Nearly 2,000 delegates throughout the country attended the week-long meeting.

President Eisenhower was commended by the 2000-member group for his past efforts at "upholding the law of the land in the struggle to improve human rights;" however, the women urged him now to emphasize the moral responsibility of all Americans bringing about equality.

Housing and Jobs

Two specific areas were mentioned in the resolutions. They were employment and housing. Of the latter, the Sorority voted to call to the attention of the President "the regrettable extension of racial segregation in housing where it has been heretofore unknown, and urge him to use the machinery of his high office to establish non-segregation laws for all housing with which the Federal Government is in any way involved."

Other Resolutions

Other resolutions passed by Alpha Kappa Alpha called for the group's continued support of the total program of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; supplementation of the work of the President's Committee on Government Contracts by disseminating information about the work of the Committee in communities where nearly searing the wits out of the girl. Grabbing sofa pillows she sat like a cat on her head and another in her hand, taking ineffective jabs at the bat until he veered toward the dining room. She made a bee-line for the front door, opened it, and stood there holding it, silently pleading with the bat to fly out into the darkness which it loves so well. After several passes by the open door, it swooped outside and the relieved babysitter slammed the door shut.

Many Des Moines families are returning to the city after annual motor trips visiting relatives, friends and many vacation spots. Among vacationers were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Evans and children of 1320 Laurel street. They left Des Moines on Aug. 4 for a two week vacation which took them to Washington, D. C., for their first visit, and on to Alexandria, Ca., New York and Niagara Falls.

Traveling over the Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey turnpikes and stopping at motels at nights, the Evans made it to Washington, D. C. in about four days. They made a stop in Philadelphia and allowed their teenage daughters, Lana, 17, Brenda, 16, Ermayne 14 and 12-year-old Connie to see a live television show "American Bandstand", the musical show most town teenagers tune in on every day. The young ladies got autographs from some of the stars around the studios. Five-year-old Randy went along for a listen, too.

In the nation's capitol, the Evans visited Sgt. Clayton Brooks and family. He is a nephew of Mr. Evans. Also Mrs. Lillian Evans, a sister of Mrs. Evans, who works in the U.S. Government Printing office. They also visited a niece, Mrs. Rita Johnson, of Alexandria, Va., who commutes to her job in the Smithsonian Institute.

Places of interest they toured were the Pentagon, Arlington Cemetery, zoo, and George Washington monument.

From there they motored to New York and made a special trip to Coney Island, which was totally unlike what they expected with its miles of beaches on one side, dotted with personalities from all nations in the world, and its many giant constructions providing every kind of ride you can name, and concession stands selling anything from soft drinks, sandwiches to jam and waffles and corn on the cob.

Another Des Moines man took more drastic measures when one invaded his house. He got out his gun and proceeded to take pot shots at the swooping thing. The bat got away and left him with a few holes in the walls to patch up.

Getting back to the Des Moines mother, several weeks later the babysitter was looking at TV after putting the little ones to bed, and the creature reappeared, swooping and dipping about the living room, and

HYSTERICAL CAMPAIGNS AGAINST THE COURT

The State Chief Justices' association has been in session in California and as usual wound up their meeting with resolutions. The one which drew the most attention criticized the U. S. Supreme Court for lacking judicial restraint and invading the field of legislation.

They did not propose—at least the newspapers did not report any—resolutions condemning mob action against constituted authority of urging people to quit trying to govern by violence which is more dangerous.

This tirade is in line with the effort of some members of Congress to curb the power of the court.

Chief Justices of Pennsylvania, Maryland and New Jersey accused the resolutions committee of beating around the bush when the real complaint was the segregation issue.

Chief Justice Theodore G. Garfield of Iowa said he found nothing in the report to justify Justice Jones statement that the school integration case was the real reason behind the report.

The Bystander disagrees with Justice Garfield. His statement shows that he is not acquainted with the schemes and tricks that lawmakers have used in their efforts to segregate and/or disfranchise the Negro without even mentioning the word Negro hoping that by such omissions the laws would not be invalidated by the courts.

The resolution reminds one of a rule adopted by the American Bar Association several years ago when an effort was made to admit Wm. H. Lewis of Boston to membership. After a bitter debate, a rule for admission was adopted which did not require prospective members to state their race but to enclose a photograph—a good way to turn him down.

Since that time the rule has been changed and Negroes are admitted to membership.

Much of this criticism of the court has come because it has interpreted the constitution to mean that the Negro is not a second-class citizen and should be treated as such. Between opponents of desegregation and those who believe the court will be subject to much abuse but no doubt it can and will stand the assaults because their decisions are on solid ground.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE?

Given an opportunity to express their views, invariably students have voted to approve integration in the schools.

Running true to form a group of southern delegates at the National Student Congress has issued a declaration condemning school segregation.

"Though we are proud of the southern community's way of life," the declaration said, "we do not feel that a system that denies equal opportunity to some southern citizens is either necessary or desirable as a part of that way of life."

And striking hard at demagogues and those who foster racial hatred for their personal gain, the resolutions said further "We are personally opposed and will work to defeat all actions, legislative or otherwise, which in effect frustrate and prevent the obligation and right of local communities to progress toward compliance with the decision of the supreme court."

"We do also stand unalterably opposed to any demagoguery or attempts to use the highly emotional issue of desegregation for personal social, financial or political gain."

What the country needs is a moral force with definite leadership as against Faubus and his cohorts. Good citizens will follow. It is unfair that the NAACP or the U. S. Supreme Court should be left to do it.

MORTICIANS SUPPORT NAACP FREEDOM FUND

New York, Aug. 15.—Members of the National Funeral Directors and Morticians Association have paid $600 on a goal of $1,000 for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The fund was raised following a plea by Jackie Robinson, NAACP Board member, at the annual banquet of the NFDMA here on August 5.

Mortician Honored

The drive among the morticians for contributions to the NAACP Freedom Fund was under the direction of John Jay Jones, a member of the NFDMA and former president of the Texas State Conference of NAACP branches. He was named "Mortician of the Year" at the NFDMA four-day conference which closed here on Aug. 8.

Tuskegee Nursing School Receives $110,000 Grant

Tuskegee, Ala.—A March of Dimes grant for $110,000 announced today will make it possible for Tuskegee Institute to improve its school of nursing and increase its fall enrollment. The grant, effective immediately, was announced by Dr. L. H. Foster, president of Tuskegee, and Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation (originally the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis).

The Tuskegee Institute School of Nursing was founded in 1891. Its basic program in nursing was fully accredited by the National League for Nursing last year. It is the only college nursing school for Negroes in Alabama, supplying an increasing number of graduate nurses to the South.

Dean Lillian H. Harvey, director of the program and dean of the school of nursing, said that Tuskegee will now be able to make a greater contribution to the field of nursing. It is hoped, she said, that it will be possible to increase enrollment in the nursing school to 160 students and possibly to 180 in the near future.

BY ALLEN ASHBY

The talk got around to baseball managers and football coaches. Our old friend is strictly anti-Yankee and doesn't think much of Casey Stengel's genius as a manager. Our guy argued that anyone could manage a team like the Yankees.

"Every Yankee manager was classed as great and only one, McCarthy tried to manage someone else and got his ears pinned back. You have to have the players and if you don't your best laid plans don't have to work."

Sandy Amoros

"Remember the catch that Sandy Amoros of Brooklyn made that saved the last series the Dodgers won from the Yankees. You recalled that Amoros was put out there because he bats left handed. Yet only a left handed player could have made the catch he made. If he had been a Yankee player the credit would have gone to Casey."

Coach He Know

The old fellow warned to his subject, "I'll tell you what makes coaches. I know a fellow who has a high school basketball team. Those guys, about seven of them, could just naturally play the game and play any position; well, in this particular game, my friend's team was two points behind and the game was in its closing stages. So the coach calls a fellow who had not played much all season and told him to go in and have the boys play for a tie. Then to win in the overtime. Well the fellow, went out didn't say anything, grabbed the ball and shot a fifty foot basket."

Red Hot

The coach just about lost his uppers. The same guy intercepted a pass and let fly from about forty feet. Two more points and the lead, then second left the hero got in the way of another pass and plunked in another fifty footer. After the game the coach was receiving praise for picking the player.

"How did you know he was going to be hot?"

The coach shut up and he is still regarded as a basketball wizard. Now you tell me about coaches, well, no one could top that one so we went back to playing billiards.

HEALTH FOR ALL

More than eight million lives saved... an extravagant claim? But it's true. Back in 1900 tuberculosis was generally believed to be a hopeless disease. Death was almost inevitable. Since then an estimated 8,000,000 people have lived who might have died had the TB death rate remained at its 1900 level.

Research

There is a growing army of people alive today, who just a short time ago, would have been put in the category of "hopeless cases." One after another, mortal ailments have yielded to the medical profession's determination not to admit defeat. Frequently this has been the result of long and patient labor in research laboratories. Sometimes it has been the result of seemingly accidental discovery. Not rarely has it been the result of ingenuity and daring on the part of an individual doctor who kept trying one remedy after another in the face of certain failure. Often all three of these factors combine to save lives.

Althea Tells How She Almost Gave Up Tennis in Second Article in Saturday Evening Post

New York, N. Y.—Althea Gibson nearly give up tennis a couple of years ago, she relates in the current Evening Post.

(August 30) issue of The Saturday Evening Post. Althea reports this happened after she was graduated from Florida A. & M. College and had taken a job in the physical-education department of Lincoln University, Missouri.

Taught 2 Years

"I taught there for two years, in '54 and '55, and it was quite an experience," she writes. "For one thing, I had a winging of a time with a wonderful man while I was there. He was a captain in the Army, in charge of the ROTC unit on the campus. On account of him, I almost gave up tennis for good."

"I was discouraged anyway, and tired of never having any money. My pay at Lincoln was only $2,800 my first year, $3,000 the second year. I had a little apartment that cost me $48.50 a month, and a secondhand car that I was paying for on time, and it didn't look like I'd ever be able to put anything by."

Captain Friend

"When my captain friend began selling me the Women's Army Corps, I listened carefully. After all, if a WAC had a college education and could become an officer, she could make enough money to live nicely, send something home to the family and save something too. It might mean I could stay with the captain for a long time, and that interested me a lot."

In Love

"Being in love, and being loved by somebody, was something brand new to me. I'd had almost no ex-

Full Story

The story of tuberculosis meningitis is one of the most stirring in medical history. Ten years ago the rate of survival was zero. The disease sweeps with lightning speed, attacking the meninges covering the brain and spinal column. Too often the victim is a small child infected with TB germs from an older relative. Today, though many patients are brought to the hospital in a terminal coma, large doses of anti-tuberculosis drugs such as isoniazid turn them back to life. If they can be kept alive 21 days after beginning the treatment, they will survive. They must still take their medicine for months, but they do get well and stay well. The survival rate today is close to 90 per cent.

This dramatic change which has taken place in little more than a decade gives hope for all "hopeless cases." No one need despair. Help may be on the way.

THE HOLLOW OF HIS HAND

In the hollow of His hand, none will be forsaken

There's a lovely peaceful land Where all His children will be taken

To each his own, some one has said, yet few come forth to make their claim. They are looking down as they toil for bread, the spirit is blind to the glory and fame.

The Master saith, "seek and ye shall find,"

All treasure is within the soul. His divine power is in each mind, Fired by desire can make man whole.

All can be strong, and safe, secure Like the solid rock that will abide, Through the griefs and strains that all endure

To hold against life's wild, raging tide, Reflecting heavens' living light

In the shadow of a cross while I mourn my bitter loss, here he sleeps... my darling sleeps.

It seems just yesterday that he left, and went away,

Shortstop Record

He is three homers short of tying this major league record for a shortstop set in 1955, and two away from his total of 43 last year when Hank Aaron of the Braves was home-run champion with 44. Banks 43 total last year was a record for a shortstop.
