Several NAACP Branches Exceed Fall Drive Quotas

New York. — With more than 30,000 members reported enrolled since Oct. 1, NAACP branches throughout the country are continuing vigorous campaigns to reach the goal of 100,000 in the year-end renewal and membership drive, Miss Lucille Black, the Association's membership secretary, said today.

Among branches which have exceeded their original goals and are continuing to enroll members are Cleveland with a goal of 12,500, Camden, N. J., 2,000; and Richmond, Calif., 600. Southern campaigns in progress include New Orleans, Houston, Miami, Tampa, Chattanooga, and Winston-Salem, N. C.

Ghana Official to Headline Anniversary Celebration of Noted Negro Publisher

Chicago, Ill. — Honorable J. E. Jantua, head of the Ghana Mission to the United Nations will be the principal speaker at a banquet celebrating the 88th Anniversary of Robert S. Abbott, late noted Negro publisher, on Monday evening, Nov. 24, at the Wabash Y.M.C.A.

The affair is under the auspices of the Afro-American Heritage Association's Committee on African Affairs chaired by Mrs. Christine Johnson. Mrs. Johnson, a public school teacher who has traveled widely in Africa declared, "Mr. Abbott has indeed left a great heritage to people of African descent and to America."

"At a dismal time when a voice was needed, for democracy and against racism and lynchings, the paper he founded was the leading clarion call among the Negro people to unite, develop themselves and fight back."

"Mr. Abbott's paper was once barred from many places in the South. His paper many times voiced the needs of the African people for freedom from colonialism and imperialism."

Mr. Abbott's paper was a voice for new beginnings in the political life of black America which had been reduced to naught following the betrayal of Civil War objectives at the end of Reconstruction. Indeed in a period when the noted Negro scholar, Dr. W. E. B. DuBois was the "soul of black folks," Mr. Robert S. Abbott was the voice."

To welcome Mr. Jantua, there is a Greater Chicago Citizens Committee of business, labor, civic, professional and church leaders headed

Who's Who in Iowa

Mrs. Dorris Wilson Started Working as Cashier at Iowa Power and Light 2 Yrs. Ago

This is the 38th in a series of articles featuring Negro firsts, leaders and outstanding personalities in Iowa who are excelling in civic, professional, business, religious, educational, fraternal and entertainment fields. By Mrs. Frances Hawthorne

Mrs. Dorris Wilson of 1164 W. 14th Street became the first of her race to be employed in the office at Iowa Power and Light company. Two and a half years ago upon the recommendations of J. B. Morris, attorney and publisher, Mrs. Wilson sought and secured employment as a cashier at the company, a position she still holds.

Mrs. Wilson has high praise for the firm and her fellow employees. "From the start everyone was wonderful. And I enjoyed the work very much," she said. "The company's benefits are very good, among the best in the state."

She pointed out there were many divisions in the company which the general public are not aware of, such as history, engineering and of course bookkeeping, filing, typing and real estate business. She retains her real estate license.

Mrs. Wilson, a former practicing beautician, received her first experience with the adding machine when she worked in the Will Call department at Younkers for one and a half years. Prior to that she worked for nearly six years for her husband, Paul Wilson, who is in the realty and real estate business.

Born in St. Joseph, La., Mrs. Wilson moved to Chicago, Ill., at an early age with her parents. She graduated from Wendell Phillips high school there. After receiving training as a beautician at Poro Beauty school in Chicago, she worked in her own shop for nearly three years. She met and married her husband there, and 18 years ago moved to Des Moines where for a while she continued to work as a beautician. Besides her husband, Mrs. Wilson, has a special affection for young folks.

"When our children were growing up our house was another community center," she recalled. "Lots of parties and social gatherings were held here for young people. And the children always had pets."

Although their own children are grown now, the Wilsons still open their home to young folks. On the day of the interview, a half dozen teenage ladies had held a pajama party there following a dance at Willkie House and were coming wide awake to their favorite rock 'n' roll music.

Six Members of Civil Rights Commission to Hear Vote Complaints

Washington, D. C. — All six members of the Commission on Civil Rights will be present for the hearing on voting rights complaints from Alabama which has been scheduled to begin on Dec. 8 at Montgomery, the State capitol.

One of the Commissioners is J. Ernest Wilkins, Assistant Secretary of Labor for International Affairs. The others include two Midwest college presidents, a Texas law school dean and two Southern ex-governors.

Unanimous Vote

The Alabama hearing was voted unanimously by the Commission at its regular monthly meeting in Washington last Thursday. On the preceding Monday, the Board of Registrars in Macon County had refused to let two representatives of the Commission staff see voting

After a two-week delay the Des Moines city council Monday unanimously approved a 35-acre east-side tract for urban renewal. The decision followed recommendation from the urban renewal board after it had met with the Human Rights commission which had protested the "proposed housing" area on the basis it would tend to "extend an established Negro neighborhood." After discussing alternate sites, with the commission the board agreed to stick by the original site. On Oct. 27 the council had delayed its final decision until Monday.

Friends Meeting

Joining the right commission and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in their vigorous protest against the project was the Des Moines Valley Friends Meeting, who submitted a letter to the council.

Peter R. Haviland, chairman of the committee on social concerns for the group read in part,

"If (Des Moines') unwritten restrictions are not removed, there will be no place for these families to go, except to other already crowded Negro areas or to a relocation project. The proposed relocation site is in an already predominantly Negro area."

N.A.A.C.P.

Mrs. Stanley Griffin, chairman of the housing committee of the Des Moines branch of the N.A.A.C.P., said:

"We feel the city council should be first to go on record, officially by ordinance, with respect to open occupancy."

"We hope and believe that our city council is going to be in front in this matter. It's important that this be an official record, not just general assurances to us."

Advance Notice

Chairman John Connolly, Jr., of the renewal board said that, in any matter concerning the board, "our recommendations unquestionably will be open housing... no matter

Anticipate Sellout of NAACP Freedom Fund Dinner

New York, Nov. 6. — With only a few days remaining before the second annual NAACP Freedom Fund Dinner at the Hotel Roosevelt, 7 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 16, Franklin Williams reports a pickup in sales of the $100-a-couple dinner tickets that presages a sell-out.

The dinner which honors John H. Johnson, magazine publisher of Chicago, and Rudolf Bing, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera, is being sponsored by a committee of more than 100 distinguished citizens under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Marguerite Belafonte and Duke Ellington. Robert McFerrin, the gifted young baritone, will sing at the dinner.

Mr. Williams, the Association's West Coast secretary-counsel, was recalled from his San Francisco office last week to work on the dinner. Last year Mr. Williams aided Jackie Robinson, the dinner chairman, in securing 1,300 guests who witnessed presentation of scrolls of honor to Branch Rickey and Duke Ellington. "Judging from the number of tickets already sold, Mr. Williams said today, 'we will have another sell-out matching the huge success of 1957. Subscribers to the dinner this year, as last, include professional, business, labor and organization leaders.'"

Corrections

We the officers and members of New Jerusalem Church of God in Christ at 1198 W. 14th Street truly thank God for a spirit-filled leader, whom God sent to us less than six years ago and purchased the church property with seven members. Bishop Goodman on September 28, 1958, sponsored a mortgage burning drive which was conducted by State Supervisor Mrs. E. McGill which was a success, and ended Oct. 30, 1958. And we were blessed to pay off the mortgage. We thank our friends and every one that helped us in this effort.

Handy Jim's FIX-UP TIPS For the Home

Freshen Old Furniture

MUCH old furniture still is useful, but its appearance is against it. Yet, it's too good to give away and not old enough to be considered antique. What can be done? A bit of ingenuity and effort will transform an old dresser into a thing of modern beauty — and at small cost. Note the "before and after" sketches of the same dresser. There's quite a change!

In general, removal of the gingerbread from the dresser is the first step in the renovation. A recessed wood base, instead of legs, does much to modernize the piece.

Most likely, the top has been scarred. Easiest cure is the addition of a panel of Masonite Tempered Presdwood, 3/4" thick. This then may be primed and painted. Alternates might be black Presdwood, or Leatherwood, a textured hardboard. One of the gay plastic-surfaced hardboards would be suitable, too, as they are resistant to stains and cigarette burns. Various colors and patterns in Marlite are available.

Matching material, if needed, may be used to re-cover dingy-looking drawer fronts. Standard 1/2" Presdwood is excellent for replacing cracked drawer bottoms and dresser backs.

CRANBERRY DIXIE.

To give your meals holiday flavor throughout the year, try adding color and flavor with this tempting sauce. Your guests will never appreciate the festivity and glamour this dish will bring to the occasion. Your family will thrill to the flavorful goodness of fresh cranberries blended with a popular beverage food (Dr. Pepper).

1 pound raw cranberries

1 1/2 cups sugar

2 bottles Dr. Pepper

Wash and pick over cranberries, then combine in 1 large kettle with sugar and Dr. Pepper. Cook over moderate heat until all the berries have popped.

To make Dixie Cranberry Jelly from this same recipe, just use the same process, doubling the amount of sugar and putting the sauce through a sieve before allowing to set.

The Self Culture Club held their 44th anniversary banquet last Monday evening at the Hotel Iowa.

Mr. Ralph Pickett who is a patient at Iowa City hospital is recuperating nicely.

Mrs. Joe Scott is still a patient in the hospital, but is doing nicely.

Mr. Jim Watson of Pontiac, Mich., was visiting friends last Sunday.

The District Y.W.C.A. girls met at Pilgrim Rest Church and a tea was served afterwards.

Mr. Art Fox, and Mr. Leon Bland are both patients in the hospital suffering from heart attacks.

The next meeting will be the first Sunday in December at Buelah Baptist Church.

Cheese Crusted Hamburger Pie

Here is a flavorful, colorful, meal-in-a-dish—just the thing to please the end of the month food budget.

Tempt family appetites with this Cheese Crusted Hamburger Pie early this spring. You may even be surprised yourself at how your family will accept a new dish so quickly—and demand repeats in the future.

This pie can be your economy dish for the week. The hamburger pie picks up a delicious new flavor with the "melt in your mouth" cheese crusted topping. Luckily too, it not only tastes good, but is good for you! When the cheese crust is made with enriched flour, you get extra shares of B-Vitamins and food iron along with food energy and protein.

Along with this Cheese Crusted Hamburger pie you will like to include a fresh green tossed salad with some of the new spring vegetables. This in itself would make a complete luncheon but if a dinner perhaps you'll want to include a dish of fresh new asparagus. Nothing more will be needed to get the "You're the best cook, mom" reward.

Clip this recipe not only for this week's menu but also for future demands.

Youth Of The Week

This is the 29th in a series featuring youth, 13 or 21 years, in the community and in Iowa who are setting a good example in wholesome living and achievements in their homes, schools, churches, sports and civic activities.

Again, we are saluting one of Des Moines deserving youths. Granville Welch, 18-year-old 12A East High School student is considered a "brain" by his associates and classmates. And, well, they might think so, for Granville has maintained a 1.2 average during his entire high school attendance and has a straight 1.0 average in all science courses. He has taken a science course every semester and is currently taking chemistry. To supplement his knowledge of sciences he reads leading national magazines like Mechanics Illustrated, Popular Mechanics and others.

Electrical Engineering

Granville's deep interest in science has motivated him to seek a career in electrical engineering following his graduation in January. Although he has not decided definitely he plans to seek a college education in the field, at either Purdue or Michigan if possible.

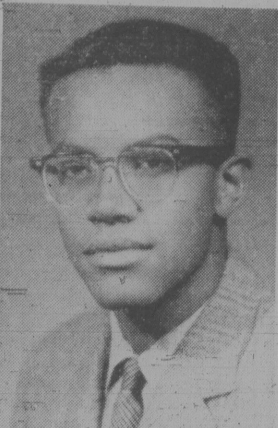

Scholarship

To augment his educational finances, he hopes to land a scholarship and is concentrating very hard on his studies. His academic abilities won him the Superintendent of School medal in physics.

Granville is a very balanced young man. Matching his capacity for learning is an equal capacity to get along with his fellow man. He is well-liked and respected by teachers and students alike.

Predictions

He has a special spectator's interest in the three major sports: baseball, basketball and football. In the latter two he roots for Iowa all the way but in baseball, he likes the Cincinnati Reds, and consequently has missed in his predictions of pennant winners.

Predictions of sports contests and games are his hobby and he says during the past season he has been 85 per cent right. He predicted the Hawks would go to the Rose Bowl; remain unbeaten this season and win over California in the New Year's football classic.

5 Brothers

Granville is a member of the track team at East and has received a one ring letter for his efforts. He went out for football but didn't make the team. He is also a member of the Hi-Y club, sports club at school.

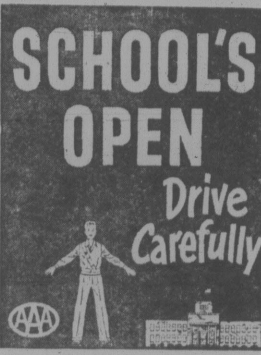

A member of Union Baptist church he is the next to the oldest of six sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Welch of 1266 E. 18th Street.

TRAVEL ADVENTURE PROGRAM ON HOLLAND

A 90 minute color motion picture on Holland will be presented by its producer Gerald Hooper Thursday, Nov. 20, at the North High School auditorium, Sixth and Holcomb at 7:45 p.m.

Hooper's film covers all the centers of interest in Holland—Amsterdam with her canals and odd architecture, the paintings of Vincent van Gogh, the Hague, Rotterdam now completely restored after being gutted by German bombs in World War II, Roermond, Dordrecht, Delft, Gouda, Alkmaar, Middelburg, Ens, Urk, the Friesland lake area and more. The film shows the agriculture in Holland, farming below sea level, the dairy industry, the folklore, the gay festivals, the people at work and play.

Admission is 60c for adults and 30c for students. The program is sponsored by the Department of Adult Education of the Des Moines Public Schools.

Survey Proves Happy Childhood Is Most Important Foundation for Successful Future Marriage

Written by Eleanor Luckey, SUI Assistant Professor

"What are some of the things that I can do to help my child prepare for his own marriage?"

When parents ask this question, and they are asking it more and more frequently, they usually expect a rather specific list of Do's and Don'ts which might include: See that your child has adequate sex information. Teach him the value of a dollar. Train him to hold a job. Develop in him the church-going habit. Impress upon him the importance of sexual continence before marriage.

Childhood Happiness

Terman, who has made one of the most extensive studies of marriage and what makes for a happy relationship, found that nothing in a child's background was more important for his marriage adjustment than his childhood happiness. It far out-weighted such items as adequacy of sex information, who gave him that information, religious education, experiences in adolescence with petting and coitus.

Locke's investigation of happily married couples and divorced couples substantiated this. In his study there was a significantly larger percent of both happily married men and women than divorced who reported their childhood as "happy" or "very happy."

Sense of Security

"Happiness in childhood" is a big term and can be a vague one. Most psychologists would agree, however, that helping a child have a happy childhood does not mean keeping him deliriously happy with gadgets and sweets and letting him rule the roost. The most adequate preparation he can receive for his own marriage consists of his sense of security and affectional belonging, the knowledge that he is being treated fairly and is responsible for his own acts and decisions, that people are good, and that life is to be lived fully.

This Easter, decorate your dinner table for the delight of the youngsters. The grown-ups, too, will love the perky stuffed animals that solemnly guard a treasure-trove of colored eggs.

For the easy-to-arrange centerpiece, group several stuffed animals on a fringed napkin of sunny yellow. To give a blithe Easter spirit, arrange colored eggs and fresh green leaves around the animals. For the finishing touch, parade a crystal clear mother duck past each place setting.

To save laundry, use yellow plastic place mats that look like linen. And for the sharp contrast that gives this table a truly spring-like air, use spruce green glassware atop pastel flowered china.

Catherine Gray, Fostoria Glass consultant on correct table settings, points out that the low bowls used for fresh fruit cocktail are actually finger bowls in disguise. "The versatility of today's American glassware is really exciting," says Miss Gray. "For it means that each piece of glassware has almost unlimited use—and we women want to use our pretty things on every possible occasion." Finger bowls also make perfect dishes for sherbet, desserts, and sundaes.

The low tumblers that match the finger bowls have many uses, too. Use them as large juice glasses, for milk or soft drinks, or as cocktail glasses.

NAACP Views Election Results Help in Rights Fight

New York.—The results of the elections, viewed as a whole, are encouraging to the advocates of civil rights and "may enhance the possibility of securing an effective anti-filibuster rule in the Senate at the opening of the 86th Congress," Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, said here today in a post-election statement.

The NAACP leader also indicated that "the chances of rejecting proposals to curb the Supreme Court may have been improved" as a result of the election inasmuch as some of the strongest advocates of such legislation will not be returning to Congress.

The text of Mr. Wilkins' statement follows:

Rockefeller

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is heartened by the election results which it views, on the whole, as a triumph for liberalism and an affirmation of civil rights. There is regret for the loss of Governor Averell Harriman who has been in the forefront of the fight for civil rights in the councils of the national Democratic party. But the election of Nelson Rockefeller places in Albany a man who, in his own right as well as by family tradition, is committed to efforts to improve race relations and to the support of civil rights.

Senator-elect

Senator-elect Kenneth B. Keating of New York is the author of the Civil Rights Act of 1957 and has consistently played a leading part in the fight for such legislation in the House of Representatives even though there was only a handful of Negro voters among his constituents in his congressional district. Similarly, the election to the Senate of former Rep. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania adds another strong civil rights voice in the Senate.

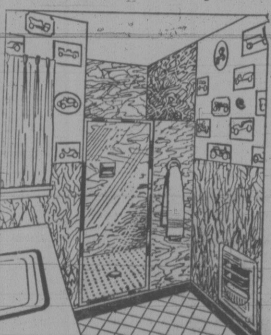

Liberals

Senators-elect Harrison Williams of New Jersey; Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota; Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut; and Jennings Randolph of West Virginia established reputations as liberals when they were in the House of Representatives. A number of new faces with advance

The paneling's smooth, hard baked surfaces, resistant to moisture and soiling, is easily wiped clean. It has a durable and serviceable base of Masonite tempered hardboard. Matching moldings are available for the panels, as are waterproof adhesive and joint-sealing compounds. The paneling also is made in plain colors and wood grain patterns.

Highlight of Seventh Fall Clinic Held At Crescent School

Cosmetiste Club local 102 of the National Beauty Culture League recorded one of its most successful annual state educational clinics, Nov. 9 and 10 at Crescent Beauty School when they were hosts to beauticians and guest artists from eight states in the Midwest.

Guest artists were Miss Perita Bates, model of St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. Paul, Chicago hair stylist; Sammye McCanne, dye technician, of Chicago and Mr. Orville Nelson of the House of Nelson, Chicago. Mr. Nelson and his associates demonstrated a new permanent, "Easy Straight" which is beautiful in appearance, easy on the hair, leaving hair lustrous and lasting from 4 to 6 months.

Style Show

Highlight of the clinic was a style show, "Symphony in Fashions," featuring Miss Bates and models by beauticians and Cosmetiste 1 and 2 using all products demonstrated, held at the Val Air Ballroom Sunday evening. Other features of the show were an interpretative modern jazz dance entitled "Tequila" by Elita Young, Crescent Beauty school student, numbers by vocalists Willis Dobbs and Rosa Marie Gaiter, and benefit dance with the Gray Brothers orchestra.

1,400 Attendance

The show, attended by nearly 1,400 persons, was very ably commented by Bernice Durham of Waterloo, Ia., and Barbara James of Des Moines.

Cities and states represented during the two-day clinic were Chicago, St. Louis, Sioux Falls, S. D., Rock Island, Galesburg, Moline and Rockford, in Illinois; Omaha, Nebr.; Kansas City, Kans. and St. Paul, and Minneapolis, in Minnesota.

Poiter and Curtis to Receive NCNW Human Relations Awards

Washington, D. C.—Sidney Poiter and Tony Curtis were named today as winners of the Human Relations Achievement Award issued annually by the National Council of Negro Women.

The two were selected for their roles in the movie "The Defiant Ones," during which they gave a convincing demonstration of how two men, one white and one Negro, overcame a fierce racial hatred of each other.

Notified of their selection by telegram, Mr. Poiter, replying for both, told NCNW President Dorothy I. Height:

"I am overwhelmed by this honor. Mr. Curtis and I are deeply grateful for being chosen for your 1958 award."

The two will appear for the presentations at an awards dinner at 7:30 p.m. in the Congressional Room of the Statler-Hilton Hotel. The event marks the last of the activities of the three-day 23rd annual convention of NCNW which starts (today) Nov. 13 in Washington, D. C.

Themed "Women's Role in Community Leadership," the convention will be featured as an institute in which NCNW representatives will be trained as leaders in the integration process.

Perita Bates, Sammye McCanne, Mr. Paul Lead Guest Artists

Sunday and Monday it was like old home week at Crescent Beauty school, 1407 Center as it bustled with beautician alumni and former students at the annual fall clinic.

Top flight hair stylists and dye technicians, charm experts, and demonstrators for the latest products of widely known cosmetic firms created eye popping and fascinating hair do's and cultures for both female and male models.

Perita Bates

Leading the list of famed guest artists was Miss Perita Bates, Powers model and charm expert. For the last four of seven years she had modeled, she has served as National model and charm consultant for the National Beautician League. A native of St. Louis, Mo., she received her training as a model in New York City under John Robert Powers. She has traveled to Nassau in the Bahamas and plans to tour Europe next summer following the national beautician's convention. Her present tour has taken her to Tennessee, Texas and Georgia. After making her third annual appearance in Des Moines, she will be guest star in Ohio, Indiana and Louisiana.

Sammye McCanne

Monday's guest artist was Sammye McCanne, hair stylist and dye technician, from the Selena House of Beauty in Chicago, Ill. Mr. McCanne, who was making his second appearance in Des Moines, was actually returning to his alma mater, as he received his initial training in the beauty world at Crescent Beauty School in 1946. Born in Chicago, he was raised in Iowa and operated his own beauty shop at one time.

Mr. Paul

Another guest artist Sunday was Mr. Paul Slaughter, Chicago hair stylist.

Known in the world of cosmetology as Mr. Paul, is a native of Chicago and has been in the beauty trade for eight years. He has studied in Europe and New York, becoming nationally known for his work as a hair stylist. He operates his own salon in the Temple building, at 63rd and Cottage Grove.

Famed cosmetic firms were also represented by demonstrators. Jackson R. Champion, vice president in charge of sales of Lovely Locks, Inc., in Pennsylvania was accompanied by Mrs. Clara Yarbrough of Chicago who demonstrated the company's non-chemical product used without heat. Mr. Jackson stated his firm bought the patent outright for $200,000 from Northwestern Research in 1957. Mrs. Yarbrough has been a beautician 18 years.

Precious Cosmetics

Mrs. Louise Mullen, of Chicago demonstrated carbonel Creme Press for Precious Cosmetics, company and has been in the beauty profession for 10 years.

La Femme, Inc.

Another Chicago firm, La Femme, Inc., sent its demonstrator, Mrs. Juanita Bridgeforth to illustrate its very new hair straightener product. She has worked as a beautician for five years.

Making his first demonstration in Des Moines was Paul Miller of Miller Supply Co., a firm he has owned and operated for 13 years, in St. Louis, Mo. Originally from Mississippi, Mr. Miller carries a complete line of general supplies.

Mrs. Alice Bell Feted With Surprise Parties

Mrs. Alice Bell of 915 W. 15th Street was feted with two surprise parties in honor of her 62nd wedding anniversary and 84th birthday.

On Nov. 1 the Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Reese, Mesdames Mable Dant, Willa Malone and Louise Simmons of Maple Street Baptist church held the first of the surprise parties presenting the honoree with a birthday cake.

Two days later Mesdames Rosa Wilson, Sadie Hammit and Anna White held another surprise party for Mrs. Bell and presented her with fruit and flowers. A brief religious meeting ended both parties.

Mrs. Bell who was born in Alabama Oct. 29, 1904 also received greetings from many former friends and relatives now living in Kansas, Ohio, California, Minnesota and around Iowa.

Her husband, Jessie, is bedridden and has been ill 13 years at their home. Besides caring for her husband, Mrs. Bell keeps busy with reading and adding to her collection of religious clippings. She also ministers to sick friends and neighbors who call upon her for help and encouragement.

Marie who was the first and only Negro member of the Zwan and national organizations. Many of you perhaps remember also that Marie won many writing contest honors in both groups.

I followed up an invitation from Mrs. Alice Bell, of 915 W. 15th Street who was also a long time friend and ardent admirer of Marie's. Mother Bell, as she is more affectionately known to close friends and neighbors, recalled times when Marie had taken pictures after dining with her and Mr. Bell. Recently, Mr. and Mrs. Bell recorded their 62nd wedding anniversary and also, the 84th birthday of Mrs. Bell. Mr. Bell, who has been ill for nearly 13 years, is bedridden.

Among the congratulatory cards and letters from well-wishers, was a greeting card from Marie.

Speaking of greetings, we had a letter from Mr. LeRoy Bird, of Denver, Colo., thanking us "for the nice write-up" in the Bystander when he was in the city several months ago.

We were rather embarrassed last week when we got ready to include a paragraph-story on Mrs. Helen Williams. The picture which was to accompany it did not arrive in time for the deadline. For some reason it was held up. So we have it for this week.

Last week when we were ready to write the story about Hawkeye Elks Lodge and Rose Temple celebrating their 50th anniversary, we realized we did not have a picture of the daughter ruler, Mrs. Helen Williams. We called her and she graciously

Mrs. Ruby Cooper Feted with Dinner

A birthday dinner was given in honor of Mrs. Ruby Cooper of 1435 W. 2nd Street place by her daughter, Mrs. Garland Haynes on Oct. 26.

Those sharing the courtesy were Mr. and Mrs. John Michael and granddaughter, Miss Donna Ferrell, son-in-law and granddaughter, Suzanne, and Mark and Craig Haynes. The evening was spent watching television.

An extra celebration also followed Nov. 2 with out-of-town guests, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fields, attending from Kansas City, Mo. They are cousins of Mrs. Cooper and motored here with friends, Mrs. Charles Black and daughter, Demitria. Mrs. Fields brought with them a beautiful birthday cake.

The guests were taken on a sight-seeing tour of the city by Mr. Garland Haynes, son-in-law of Mrs. Cooper.

While we were talking to her, she confirmed our belief that she marks the first time a man and wife are leaders of the respective lodge and temple at the same time.

On the local scene, that is, her husband, Mr. John Williams, is exalted ruler of Hawkeye Lodge, No. 160.

Mrs. Williams has been a member of Elks for 15 years, is a member of both the local and state council, the drill team unit and although she worked on all of the various committees, has held office only as a doorkeeper prior to her becoming

After giving a brief history of the group she recommended that the fourth Sunday in May be celebrated annually as Iowa Club Women's day, on the anniversary of the founding of the group. A recommendation was also adopted to change the name of the association to the Iowa Association of Club Women, to be acted on at the state meeting next June.

Following the session dinner was served in the library at Willkie House, scene of the meeting. A social gathering was held that evening at the home of the president, Mrs. Trotter.

Jett, Mrs. Trotter, Mrs. Wimberly and Miss Jessie Walker.

Says Wasted Manpower Endangers Economy

St. Paul, Minn.—The elimination of all "restrictions and limitations which prevent Negro youth from becoming highly skilled workers" is one of today's "Basic needs," Herbert Hill, NAACP labor secretary, told delegates attending a state-wide conference on developing industrial, technical and scientific skills in the Negro community.

The 1958 pheasant season literally got off to a BANG Saturday as hundreds of hunters swamped the fields of Iowa farmers. Many of the hunters, who are also avid Hawkeye football fans, kept up with their favorite team via portable and transistor radios. Some even came in from the stamping grounds of the famed prairie bird and sat down in the living rooms of farm homes and viewed the game electronically via television. No hunter, who went afield Saturday and Sunday came back to the home fires empty handed.

Among local hunters getting in on the pickings of opening day were Messrs. Dave Kellogg, Floyd Perry, Loren Deering and son, Loren, Jr., Leonard and Robert Stovall, J. B. Morris, Jr., and son, Braddie III, J. B. Morris, Sr., John M. Estes, Sr., and his guest, Mr. C. C. Stumph of Chicago, Ill.; James Morrow, John Morrow, Roy Todd, Samuel Miller and two sons, Walden and Norman, William Montgomery, William Brooks, J. W. Mitchell, William Taylor and son, William Jr., Thomas Taylor, and John Warfield.

Also, Nimrod Deering, Malcolm Hogan, Curtis Tillman, Vernon Ashby, Robert Patterson, Emery Jackson, William Jackson, the Rev. D. V. Stewart, and Dr. J. C. Cradle, of Minneapolis, Minn.

Perhaps, most of you have a favorite method for plucking the game the men of your house return with after an outing. If not here's a helpful hint if your happy hunter has brought home some waterfowl: For quick plucking, dissolve two tablespoons of household detergent in a big bucket of boiling water. Dunk one bird at a time in this solution, rinse in cold water, and get busy!

Four local Iowans received commendations for "foregoing the Iowa Minnesota game and the opening day of pheasant hunting" from Iowa Press Women who held their annual fall meeting at Drake University Saturday. The four men, all public relations in various fields, were speakers for the afternoon program.

After walking nearly a mile across the campus I met and became acquainted with many of the lady journalists I met at the spring meeting of the group when I accompanied my predecessor, Marie Ross, as her guest. I also met several ladies who had not attended the meeting at Iowa City last May.

Many of them inquired about

AN ARMISTICE TO ARRANGE FOR PEACE.

Forty years ago Germany and the western powers called an armistice to a war which was killing off their manpower and destroying untold property. This cease fire was arranged so the diplomats might work out a settlement between contending forces.

A settlement was reached and the war formally declared at an end. But the terms of the settlement were never carried out.

In the meantime, a clamor for some type of an association of nations, which would prevent a recurrence of World War I, arose. And while progress was made in that direction, the skepticism and greed of nations made the League of Nations a failure.

Still chafing under their defeat in 1918, Germany, led by Hitler, tried it a second time. Aided by two former enemies, Italy and Japan, Germany and her allies were defeated. Nothing was settled even among the nations themselves. But out of this conflict came the United Nations. It got a better start than the League of Nations because the U. S. was pretty well convinced that some sort of forum where men can talk over their troubles is better than one to fight over their troubles.

Most peoples agree that it is making progress toward the task of providing facilities for nations to work out their differences. Its progress is necessarily slow for physical, language, economic, religious and world of other differences make the job painstakingly difficult.

While strengthening of U. N. for peace, new weapons for war are being developed. The armistice, which began in 1918 but was interrupted in 1941, must be continued so that man may prepare the necessary machinery to save this world from destruction.

DAVID LAWRENCE TIPS HIS HAND

David Lawrence, who writes a syndicated column in the Des Moines Evening Tribune, never passes up an opportunity to tell his readers how the South is mistreated, how the North does not understand the South and why integration is wrong.

Tuesday, he tipped his hand in an article singing the swan song for Rep. Brooks Hayes, who was defeated for reelection to Congress from Arkansas. Admittedly, Rep. Hayes, the only member of Congress from Arkansas who tried in any way to bring peace in the Little Rock School situation, deserved to be reelected. Undoubtedly his campaign strategy underestimated the strength of his opponent.

After beating around the brush for months, Lawrence said Tuesday: "The resentment of Arkansas voters has been intensified by what they regard as an unwillingness of people in other parts of the country to take into the account the fears of the people of the South, especially the women, concerning the possible consequences of school integration."

"When will the tragic dispute over desegregation be viewed realistically everywhere?"

"Certainly not as long as the feelings of the people of the South are disregarded on the all-important subject of social life in the schools and possible intermarriage—the true barrier to integration."

He speaks of "the fears especially of the women." This sounds like the old excuses which mobs used years ago to justify the large number of lynchings of Negroes in the South which continued until southern white women rose up in indignation in their clubs and associations and exploded the myth. Little has been heard of this myth in recent years.

David Lawrence says the South opposes integration to protect their women from marrying Negroes. That, of course, is preposterous. Southern women, like any other women, know who they wish to marry; that nobody can or will force them to marry anyone they don't wish to marry. It is true in Iowa; it is true in Georgia.

The white women of the South know well that mixed blood came about by illicit cohabitation—often openly—of white men and Negro women. In other words, the men did as they pleased about mixing. The white women generally dared not.

Let David Lawrence keep up this line of attack. It will drive southern white women to resent the theory that simply because they go to school with Negroes they must marry them rather than white men. He is not helping the cause he attempts to serve.

Ted Williams, Keokuk, Makes First Team of Little Six Season

Keokuk, Ia.—Ted Williams of the Keokuk Chiefs was among three high school football players who were awarded first team honors in the 1958 Little Six season. Teammates making the first team were Earl McQuiston and Jerry Lockett. Placing on the second eleven were Warren Shoemaker and Jerry Amon, also of the Keokuk Chiefs. The team as a whole made a rather poor showing during the season.

Ted plays guard with the Chiefs and is also far above average high school player with the ability to work the trap and pull out assignments with ease despite the fact he weighs in at 210 pounds.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Williams of Indianapolis, Ind., and the grandson of Mrs. Muriel Berry of Keokuk, with whom he makes his home.

Bright, Hagler Set Canadian Records

Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada.—Two former Iowa college football stars established records last week in the closing games of the season in Canadian professional football.

Johnny Bright, former Drake university star and fullback with the Edmonton Eskimos, picked up 119 yards breaking his own rushing record set by him last year in Canada's Western Interprovincial Football Union. His total of 1,722 of this season broke by 43 yards his record of 1,679 yards.

Another former Iowa star, is Mike Hagler, who was an outstanding backfield star with the Iowa Hawkeyes last year holding both Big Ten records for punt and kick-off returns. This season with the Saskatchewan Roughriders, Hagler set a league punt return record by running back kicks for 779 yards. Hagler suffered a twisted knee in the Roughriders final league game and may not be able to play in the two-game total-point semifinal series with Edmonton.

ASK PERMISSION BEFORE YOU HUNT

With hunting season in full swing around the state, now is the time to give consideration to courtesy in the field, particularly for farm property and possessions and the hazard of fire in dry fields and cover areas.

A big percentage of Iowa farmers have no objection to hunting on their property, if the hunter asks permission FIRST—BEFORE entering private land to hunt. This is a small request and one which the strength of his opponent.

After beating around the brush for months, Lawrence said Tuesday: "The resentment of Arkansas voters has been intensified by what they regard as an unwillingness of people in other parts of the country to take into the account the fears of the people of the South, especially the women, concerning the possible consequences of school integration."

"When will the tragic dispute over desegregation be viewed realistically everywhere?"

HEALTH FOR ALL

Prescription for Penelope

Penelope was waiting in the doctor's office to hear the results of all the tests she'd been through. She lit one cigarette after another. Heart disease? Cancer? TB? Maybe some rare disease?

At last it was her turn. The doctor was writing on a prescription pad as he greeted her sternly: "Penelope, I've given you a complete check-up and find no organic trouble. But the symptoms you've had since your husband has been away in the service call for strong measures. I'm sending you to the hospital. Here are your instructions."

Penelope took the prescription with trembling fingers. This is what she read, "Volunteer work, the harder the better, to be taken at least three times a week. See Mrs. John Doe, Director of Volunteer Services, Jones Hospital."

Community Jobs

Now, years later, Penelope laughs when she recalls how quickly her vague symptoms disappeared when she began to help others much worse off than herself. She found that her community was full of jobs—in health and welfare organizations, hospitals, schools, civic groups—jobs that needed to be done by people like her, with time on their hands. She was amazed to discover how many busy men and women found time to give, for nothing but the satisfaction of giving. Penelope is still an active volunteer. And there are millions like her who serve in jobs that have little glamour and less glory, but are tremendously important to their communities.

Volunteer Service

Certainly volunteer service can be good for you, for your mental health and happiness. But the important fact is that without you, the volunteers, many community organizations—your tuberculosis association among them—could not exist.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by: "Your Christmas Seal Organization" Polk County Tuberculosis & Health Assn.

Big Ten Cup and Roses to Hawks As They Sail Pass Game Gophers 28-6

Minneapolis, Minn.—With the enticing combination of the sweet smell of roses permeating the chilled air and the glitter of the Big Ten championship cup illuminating their desire Iowa sailed past never-say-die Minnesota 28-6 here last Saturday.

Fleming

With Willie the Wisp Fleming displaying his lightning-like speed and passing Ace Randy Duncan throwing the oblong object with bombardier accuracy the Hawks unofficially assured themselves of a trip to the Rose Bowl and captured the Big Ten title to boot. The latter being added by contributing loss of Northwestern to Wisconsin 17-13 and a tie of 14-14 by Purdue to Ohio State; the Hawkeyes next opponent.

5th Undeclared Season

But all is not complete. Iowa has other paths to travel. Paths that could lead to a national championship and still another that could lead to their fifth undefeated season in Hawkeye history.

If these laurels are to be added farmer has a perfect right.

Common Courtesy

Asking permission before you hunt is a common courtesy that can result in making new farm friends and insure a place to hunt during future seasons. If all hunters would adopt the courtesy of ASKING BEFORE HUNTING, there would be a surprising reduction in the number of "turn downs" and "No Hunting" signs during the season.

When you stop and obtain permission to hunt, ask the farmer:

1. About his property boundaries and where livestock is located.
2. Ask about where you can park your car so that it will be out of the way for his farm work and other farm activity.
3. Ask about the best way to get to cover areas and don't trespass on those areas the farmer wants untrampled.
4. Make a point to tell the farmer you'll be careful with open fires and firearms and that you'll enter fields only at gates. Tell him you'll make doubly sure all gates are closed behind you.
5. Ask the farmer and/or his youngsters to join your hunting party.

INTOLERANCE

Intolerance has no reason—No right to exist in a civilized state.

Education is enlightenment. So intolerance and knowledge cannot live harmoniously in the same environment. There is no sane excuse for intolerance in any free democracy. So intolerance is a form of insanity, because no sane person would refuse the tenets of democracy. And true democracy is based on tolerance and good will to all peoples and without any special regard for or toward any race, creed or color.

LITTLE COUNTRY GRAVEYARD

Slowly I walked through a little country graveyard,
I was alone and wrapped in my thought...

Abstractedly sifting my nebulous day dreams—

And amazed at the wonders that heaven hath wrought.

My half-awake eyes were reading the stories

That were carved on slabs so wind-worn and old.

That told of the past of those who lie sleeping;

The souls He has gathered into His safe fold.

How lovely: I wondered, was this little girl...

Is she now an angel, in the gardens on high?

Does recollections of this darling daughter,

Bring the bitter tears to a mother's eye?

This lad—was he a handsome youth, his daddy's only joy?

Companions in their work or play, Does Daddy grieve, believe, God's with that boy?

And will he change to go His way?

There is many a sweet one that He has called home—

To the haven of rest in the mansions on high.

Each waits for their mate—to leave this sad loam,

For the eternal joy—up there in the sky.

Here are mothers and fathers, who worked out their days.

The lovers, the sweethearts, called to their rest.

Some souls so loveless, so wrong in their ways;

There's wonder if they too—were called with the best.

I'm saying to Him, as I follow this troubled road,

"I will work, and I'll speak—for the kingdom above,

And do what I can—just to ease every load;

With my words, and my hands, and my heart filled with love...

Wilt "The Stilt" Returns to Hometown in Blaze of Glory Saturday in First Appearance as Pro

Philadelphia, Pa.—All Philadelphia is awaiting the triumphant return of its most famous and celebrated athlete—Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain.

The greatest basketball player in the game today—and maybe the greatest of all time—Chamberlain will be greeted by thousands here next Saturday night, Nov. 15, when he returns to his home town with Abe Saperstein's fabulous Harlem Globetrotters.

First oWn Fame

It was here that Chamberlain first won fame, playing at Overbrook High School. He broke every scoring record in the book and became the most publicized basketball player of all time.

When he graduated from high school, talent scouts from more than 100 of the nation's leading colleges camped on his doorstep with flattering offers. No high school player had ever been pursued so zealously before.

The 7-foot wonder-man of basketball selected Kansas University, where he starred for two years and made every recognized All-American team in the country each season.

Last summer he decided to quit the college ranks and join the pros. The Harlem Globetrotters outbid all other teams for his services. Chamberlain signed a Saperstein contract for a whopping $65,000, largest in cage history.

So now he comes marching home with the incredible Trotters in a blaze of glory. Thousands will greet and hail this wizard of the court when he appears here for the first time as a professional.

Enclose Laundry Tubs

STORAGE is a "must" in the laundry, but oftentimes it is makeshift and unsatisfactory. Wise homemakers can readily make a combination linen chest and laundry supply cabinet which will serve also to hide unsightly stationary tubs.

As shown in the illustration, the handyman can enclose the tubs, construct a chest of drawers next to them, and create a handy clothes

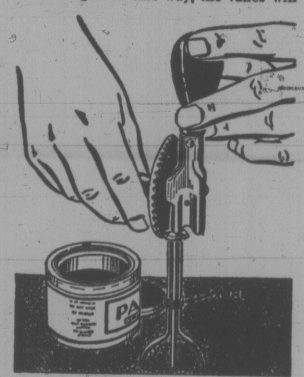

Drawer construction can be simple. Just form the framework of lumber and attach a bottom of Presdwood. Wooden slides attached to the cabinet and sides of the drawers complete that part of the project.

The lumber framework for the enclosures should be no farther than 16" apart. Swinging doors to enclose the tubs may be made, too, as illustrated, or sliding doors of Tempered Presdwood unframed, may be made. They will slide in grooves cut into the cabinet floor and upper framework.

Prime and paint the installation for the best appearance.
