Let Us Be Thankful--- On This Thanksgiving Day

On this Thanksgiving Day—as on all in the past—we have so much to be thankful for. In comparison to the Pilgrims who first settled in this vast country we seemingly have so much more to thank our Maker. Basically, there is little difference.

Back in the days of the early settlers, the Pilgrims had just come through a terrifying winter and prior to that a terrible journey across the Atlantic ocean into the unknown. At their first Thanksgiving, they gave thanks for a bountiful harvest, corn, beans, wild berries and game, for the forests which provided trees and for axes to chop and hew them into logs for cabins and crude furniture; and a plot of ground to call their own.

Some Indian Friends

Among the Indians they had some friends, but above all they had freedom . . . freedom to work, to love, to worship, to die . . . as his own man.

Yet, he had challenges . . . the endless reaches of the Atlantic to his front and the vast unknown, unfamed frontier to his back filled with hostile Indians. Yet, they were deeply thankful to God.

Close Parallel

This day, hundreds of years later, a close parallel can be drawn. Our horn of plenty runneth over with bountiful agriculture and consumer goods. We, too, have survived wars, natural disasters and catastrophes. We and our children have all that is epitomized as GOOD—homes, health, worship, love, schools, recreation, communication, public protection, and above all—freedom.

Unfortunates

There are peoples in other lands—and even in our country—who are not so fortunate. These unfortunates wonder where the next meal, job, clothing and shelter are coming from. Police are for their terror. Simple luxuries we enjoy are only theirs to dream of.

Domed Wilderness

Like the Pilgrims, we too, are standing between unknowns. To our front is the century old—but now ripe—social problems of racial and national segregation; at our backs is the fear of communistic ideology which challenges the very foundation of our way of life. And unlike the Pilgrims who could look to the skies for unadulterated peace and faith, we look with a mixture of hope and fear of space ventures and destructive radiation from atomic bombs. This is our dome-shaped wilderness.

So, as we look around upon our own . . . let us indeed give thanks . . . on this THANKSGIVING DAY.

ROBESON WILL NOT REMAIN IN ENGLAND

New York . . . (CNS)—Mrs. Eslanda Robeson, wife of the renowned Paul Robeson, told a crowd of 1200 at Carnegie Hall that her husband is in no exile in England. She claims that he's been misquoted in saying that he would not return to the United States.

"My husband considers that his home is in the U.S.A.," she remarked to the rally which was promoting peace and friendship between this country and the Soviet Union.

Statute Lists 11 Criteria; Be Under Control of Individual School Boards

Washington, D. C.—An Alabama pupil placement law, to be controlled by local school boards, received legal sanction Monday from the United States Supreme Court when it upheld the decision of a three-judge special U. S. District court. Parents of four children in Birmingham who had This is the 40th in a series of articles featuring Negro firsts, leaders This is the 29th in a series featuring youth, 13 to 21 years, in the challenged the law, had appealed to the high tribunal to review and reverse the special court, declaring that the intent of the law was to subvert rights declared in recent segregation case.

Limited Grounds

In a brief unsigned opinion, the supreme court said it affirmed the special court judgement "Upon the limited grounds which the district court rested its decision."

In upholding the Alabama law, the special court said it "furnishes the legal machinery for an orderly administration of the public schools in a constitutional manner by the admission of qualified pupils upon a basis of individual merit without regard to their race or color."

Must Presume

"We must presume that it will be so administered," the special court added. "If not, in some future proceeding it is possible that it may be declared unconstitutional in its application. The responsibility rests primarily upon the local school boards, but ultimately upon all of the people of the state."

Local Boards

The law has eleven criteria for admitting pupils including aptitude tests, and gives local school boards where to assign each pupil. It makes no mention of race, but it's chief architect, State Senator Albert Boutwell, admits it is a plan to maintain segregation of the races.

Virginia Reversal

A year ago, the supreme court upheld a lower court finding that a Virginia pupil placement law was illegal. The Virginia law transferred power of assignment and administration to a state board, taking it from local control. The Virginia legislature also passed a statute cutting off all state funds from schools that integrate.

Man, 20, Confesses Killing 34-Year-Old Common Law Wife

Fort Dodge, Iowa.—People in this northwest section of the state and mainly here in Fort Dodge were shocked when news came that Mrs. Hattie Mae Wade, 34 year-old common law wife of a 20 year-old man, Walter H. Naylor, was killed Saturday, Nov. 22 in their home.

Naylor admitted to police he held a .410 gauge shotgun with the muzzle of the gun pressed to the stomach of the slain woman. He claimed he only intended to frighten her, but must have pulled the trigger when, according to Naylor, she hit him over the head with her shoe.

Police said they had been arguing and fighting over his reported attentions to other women. Some of Mrs. Wade five children saw the shooting.

NAACP Youth Council Advised "Not to Force Issue" At D.M. Children's Home

Pointing out that discrimination is hard to prove, especially in private institutions, Malcolm B. Higgins, executive secretary of the Des Moines commission on Human Rights and Job Discrimination, urged the Des Moines NAACP youth Council not to force the issue this year by attempting to place a Negro child in the Des Moines Children's Home.

Higgins suggestion came during a discussion meeting of the Youth Council held Thursday evening at the Y.W.C.A. building 9th and High streets.

Educated Approach

Higgins told the group. "You might find the (home) board receptive. You would find out what is the criteria for selection, what the board fears from the Negro child."

"Counter with real facts and you have an educated approach," he said, and urged them to think in terms of "what you want to accomplish."

Letter to Board

Following the discussion the council decided to write a letter to the Home board chairman requesting a meeting of the board and council representatives.

Ronell Brown, a council member, said he was told by Mrs. Louisa Danks, executive home director, that the home never has had Negro children and is not planning to admit any. J. B. Morris, Jr., suggested presenting a well qualified Negro child for admission and pointed out that private institutions such as the children's home can set their own policy.

Sammy Davis, Jr., Receives Citation

From City Council in Los Angeles During 7-Day Celebration

Beverly Hills, Calif.—Sammy Davis Jr., is one of show business' most honored performers. Already cited scores of times for his achievements in entertainment and his work for charities, he received three more honors in Hollywood last week.

Day in His Honor

During the seven day period, Davis was awarded a citation by the Los Angeles City Council, had his latest recording named a top hit on a widely viewed television show and had a day celebrated in his honor on radio. Celebrating the "Sammy Davis, Jr. Day," local disc jockeys devoted special time to spinning the versatile performer's recordings on their programs.

Movie Song

On TV's "Juke Box Jury," Davis' recording of "That's Anna," the movie title tune from United Artists' "Anna Lucasta," was voted the "Hit of the Week" by a panel of well-known movieland figures, acting as judges of new disc releases.

30 Years

Davis is used to coping honors on radio and television, but the Los Angeles City Council commendation represented something novel for him. Appearing before the Council for the award, he was cited for his 30th year in show business, his untiring efforts on behalf of charities and his emergence as a dramatic actor in his first motion picture, "Anna Lucasta."

Conscientious Citizen

Additionally, the resolution noted that Davis has distinguished himself both as an entertainer and as a conscientious and public-spirited citizen. It specifically praised him for his "one-man benefit in behalf of the Asthma Research Fund" and his "upcoming November 15 benefit for the San Bernardino Community Hospital."

Solo Performance

Davis' solo performance resulted in subscriptions of $50,000 to the Asthma Research Institute and he planned the SEE PAGE TWO

Sam Cooke Recovering From Auto Accident

Memphis.—Singer Sam Cooke was expected to be discharged from E. H. Crump hospital here this week where he has been recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident which claimed the life of his secretary-chauffeur while Cooke was en route to his native Mississippi Nov. 10.

Cooke suffered injuries to the left hand and left arm, necessitating three stitches, injuries to the left eye from flying glass, injuries to the left shoulder and internal injuries. Killed was Arthur "Ed" Cunningham, 41, of New York City and Los Angeles. Also injured were Louis Rawles, 21, and Cliff White, 36, both of Los Angeles. All members of Cooke's band were in his Cadillac convertible. Rawles remained unconscious in Kennedy Veterans Administration hospital in Memphis for some time.

Cooke was asleep on the front seat of his car when the accident occurred.

First Negro Named Chairman of Rights Advisory Group

Washington, D. C.—Nivelle Beuven, vice president of the Industrial National Bank of Providence, R. I., and manager of its Six Corners Branch in East Providence, was appointed chairman of the Civil Rights Commission's Rhode Island Advisory Committee.

Mr. Beuven is the first Negro to be appointed by the Commission as chairman of a State Advisory Committee. Harry A. Cole, Baltimore lawyer and member of the Maryland State Senate, became the first Negro to head a state committee when he was elected chairman by the Maryland group a few days before Mr. Beuven's appointment was announced.

He was enroute from St. Louis, Mo. to Greenville, Miss., to keep a singing engagement. His band had preceded him.

Forsees Danger to National Unity in Wasted Manpower

Morristown, N. J.—Today's race for world leadership requires "the maximum utilization of all the bodies, minds and hearts at our disposal," Dr. John A. Morsell, assistant to the executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, warned at the conclusion of his debate here tonight with James J. Kilpatrick, editor of The Richmond (Va.) News Leader.

The debate, sponsored by the Morristown Forum Association, posed the question: "Is Integration a Responsibility of the Individual States Rather than of the Federal Government?"

Resisted Compliance

The NAACP spokesman maintained that the southern states had failed to assume any responsibility in facilitating desegregation and, accordingly, the federal government had to assume that obligation. Instead, the South has resisted compliance with the Supreme Court's desegregation orders, he pointed out.

"Since there is no record of a southern state ever relaxing the grip of segregation entirely on a voluntary basis," Dr. Morsell asserted, "it is evident that there must be pressure to bring about school desegregation. Understanding and sympathetic pressure, to be sure, but determined and consistent pressure also. No one would be happier than I to see signs of spontaneous acceptance, by the politicians and publicists of the South, of the moral and legal verities which underlie the Supreme Court's desegregation ruling. If this occurred or were manifestly in process, I, too, might become a staunch advocate of states' rights."

National Survival

In this crucial period, he declared, "we do not have the time to pursue a leisurely course, and to forego efficient use of our manpower in order to accommodate the romantic delusions and selfish interests of a misguided regional minority. National unity and survival cannot be jeopardized by acquiescence in injustice. Integration must move, in federal and state partnership where possible, but above all it must move."

PERFECT FOOD

A housewife said to her grocer. "We should have food that has in it all the minerals and vitamins we need in our diet, then we could cut down on shopping time." To this the grocer responded, "Your city and county health departments said there is almost one answer to your wish. Milk is the most nearly perfect food we have. It supplies the calcium needed for strong healthy teeth and bones. Its also a good source of energy and good muscle builder. It offers good health protection. Remember to add milk to your shopping list."

Youth Of The Week

This is the 30th in a series featuring youth, 13 to 21 years, in the community and in Iowa who are setting a good example in wholesome living and achievements in their homes, schools, churches, sports and civic activities.

We are presenting our bouquet of roses to Carole Kennerly, who has plans and is working toward making her dreams and plans come true. One of her immediate dreams is a college education and presently, she is working as a stenographer in the Des Moines Elementary School board office all day Mondays through Fridays and is taking classes in Drake Community College at nights. Eventually, she hopes to be able to take fulltime classes at Drake.

Tech Graduate

An efficient young lady with a very pleasing personality, Carole ranked high academically while she was a student at Des Moines Tech. In fact, she missed by one of making the top 15 percent of her graduating class last June. She was the 35th student of 219.

At Drake she has channeled her interests and studies toward social studies and would like a career as a social worker, but she smilingly admitted, "of course, that could change."

Church Organization

Besides her fulltime job and college studies, Carole is very active in church, community and social activities. At Corinthian Baptist church where she is a member, she is a member of the Junior Usher board and is assistant secretary of the Sunday School. She also served as former president of the Senior Red Circle Girls B.T.U., and the Jubilaires. In addition she is assistant secretary of the Youth Department of the Baptist Five State Convention.

Social Activities

In the community she is a member MRS. WHITE IS FORMALLY DECLARED WINNER IN TEXAS ELECTION

Houston, Texas . . . (CNS)—Up until last week, there was still doubt that Mrs. Charles E. White had won the election to the school board formally certified her as a winner. The wife of an Optometrist, and a comely housewife thereby became Houston's first Negro public officeholder since the days of the Reconstruction.

A board canvass showed she polled 36,348 votes—more than 8,000 over her nearest opponent, Dr. John Glenn. A few days after the election results were known, a cross was burned on her front lawn.

of Willie House and is a former president of the Debutantes, one of its social clubs. A member of the NAACP Youth Council, she became active in the YWCA. She also is a member of the recently organized, Les Bridgees, collegiate function society, La Belle Societe and is president of the Pyramids, pledge club of the Phi chapter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority.

Sports Activities

Carole loves most sports dancing, bowling, roller skating, swimming, golf, and tennis, and first became interested in the latter two while at Tech.

She lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kennerly, at 1129 W. 12th street and has one brother, Harold Kennerly, Des Moines Tech football star.

Greensboro, N. C.—A stormy figure in Greensboro's recent desegregation issues was last Sunday cited by local chapters of a national fraternity.

Elijah H. Herring, Sr., a defendant in the famed Gillespie Park Public Golf Course case, which later resulted in its closing and whose two sons were among the first of his race to enter previously all white public schools here and who has been the victim of telephone threats, dynamiting attempts and hurled missiles, was presented the "Citizen of the Year" award at a public program at the Union Memorial Methodist Church.

Achievement Week

The citation was given by the local Tau Omega and Mu Psi Chapters of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity at the annual observance of Achievement Week. Herring was voted the award for "his convictions and courage in a noble stand for human rights." It was presented by B. A. Hall, basileus of the Tau Omega Chapter.

GOOD POSTURE

Here is a reminder from your Des Moines-Polk County health department and pertains to good posture. Don't be a slouch! Keep the chest high, shoulders blades flat and knees straight. This will help hold your body in balance and avoid strain and fatigue.

New York (CNS)—POWELL IS OFF AGAIN. Unless Adam Clayton Powell can really turn on the charm, he's out in the cold again. At the last moment in the recent election he pulled a real desperation act, we think. He struck some pretty foul balls by declaring he was offered a bribe to turn Republican and then naming—mind you—calling names of prominent people who witnessed it.

Well, of course, they've had to deny it—though he probably expected his chain to keep them going along with him. And on top of that, one socialist-newspaperwoman is suing. So Powell is back in the "doghouse," seemingly and what a pity when it looked as if he held all the winning cards.

Thelma Carpenter was sobbing in court this week when she was brought before the Magistrate's court for disorderly conduct. Thelma had gotten in a row with her arresting police officer and instead of a license after her car had lurched three times at 5 o'clock in the morning, Carpie cried out: "It's because I have a white man in my car that you're picking on me."

The white man was a former newspaperman, Stiney Chahit. But Thelma's wild remark was certainly uncalled for, no matter what the policeman thought. And so she was booked and so she sobbed. The sentence was suspended but the publicity unwarranted.

Qualities That Make for a Happy Marriage, Depends on The Attitudes of Mate to Himself

Written by Eleanor Luckey, SUI Assistant Professor

Marriage

Do certain personality traits go with being happily or unhappily married? Does it make a difference to marriage success whether a wife is a methodical or an erratic worker, for example? Are husbands who find they are happy in marriage daydreamers or alert individuals? Or are traits of this kind associated with adjustment or lack of adjustment in marriage? And if they are, are they the same for husbands as for wives?

Significant

These are some of the questions that Terman investigated in his classic study of 792 married couples. And he found that there are, indeed, certain traits associated significantly more frequently in the happily than the unhappily married.

Wives who were happy were more likely to show these characteristics: kindly attitudes toward others, expectation of kindly attitudes from others, methodical and painstaking habits in their work and cooperativeness. They also were not easily offended and were not unduly concerned about impressions they make upon others.

quently in happily married husbands were: even and stable emotional tone, cooperativeness, attitudes toward women that reflect equalitarian ideals and benevolent attitudes toward inferiors and the underprivileged, unselfconsciousness, and superior initiative.

In reading lists like these, one is struck with the evidence that it is the man and woman who is apparently happy with himself and able to look outside himself to other people that is happiest in his marriage.

Unhappy Persons

The traits found most frequently among unhappy wives were emotional tenseness, moodiness, and inferiority feelings to which they react aggressively. The same traits were found most frequently in unhappy husbands.

No doubt these unfavorable personality characteristics make for unhappy men and women whether they are husbands and wives or not—but whatever feelings of inadequacy and instability we carry are emphasized when we attempt to live closely and intimately with another human being.

Brain Concussion Fatal to Boxer after Bout in Sioux City

Sioux City, Iowa.—A week ago Wednesday a California boxer died in Iowa—a state where boxing is illegal. Lightweight boxer, Nate Simon, 25, from Los Angeles, died a few hours after undergoing surgery for a brain concussion he sustained in a bout the night before here at Municipal Auditorium.

Staggered

A few seconds before the end of round nine, Simon was staggered by a powerful left hook to the side of his head by his opponent, Danny Davis of Minneapolis, Minn. Returning to his corner he collapsed. The ringside physician diagnosed a brain concussion and he was rushed to St. Joseph Mercy hospital.

Inquest

According to Dr. Thomas L. Coriden, Woodbury county coroner an inquest was scheduled after Simon's widow arrived from Los Angeles. He also planned to ask her permission for an autopsy. Simpson's death was caused by an acute brain hemorrhage, he said.

Height, President of the National Council of Negro Women announced Council plans recently for erecting a Freedom memorial to Mary McLeod Bethune, founder of the organization. The announcement came as the National Council was adjourning its 23rd Annual Convention at their Council House, 1318 Vermont Avenue, N. W.

Tentative plans call for the memorial to be located in Lincoln Park. It would be the first statue erected in honor of a Negro in the Nation's Capital.

The unveiling of the Bethune Memorial on Jan. 1, 1963, would coincide with the 100th anniversary of Negro freedom gained when Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation in 1863.

Even though we are a little late may we extend to all of you wishes for a most happy Thanksgiving week end. By the time some of you read this, the big feast will have been over hours ago, and thoughts are formulating for going to the cuisine to grab a turkey sandwich or two. We say turkey, as a matter of tradition, but we know many households are taking advantage of stocked freezers to bring out a different bird... the pheasant. Still others turned to ham, ducks, etc.

Many families also are enjoying reunions, or get-togethers with relatives and friends. Whatever, you have, it is a time and day of Thanksgiving.

Wharton, new director of Willkie House, we were impressed by her graciousness and her deep understanding and love of people. Miss Wharton has had many opportunities to see and be among people of most states in the nation and in other continents. In fact, all but Africa and Russia, she says.

She readily admits that language proved a barrier for her as with other American tourists. However, she believes that if we travel with an understanding and appreciation of the cultures of other countries and why they value them so, coupled with behavior to treat others as graciously as we wish to be treated—there would be no trouble.

Acting upon this belief, Miss Wharton says she made a point of learning five basic words in the language of countries she has traveled. These words are "Good Morning," "How are you?", "Thank you," "Please," and "Goodbye."

Several days ago we received a letter from Miss Ellen R. Manderscheid, of Cambridge, Mass., which we are publishing as follows:

"I am secretary of the Five Shillings Fan club, and I have spoken with two of the fellows' mothers and found out they were from Des Moines, Iowa. Their mother, Mrs. Gladys G. Walton, is from Afton, Iowa, and her sons are Melvin E. Walton and Dennis A. Walton. The last name used to be Carr, sons of Melvin E. Carr from Des Moines.

"They have been out here for some years. They have a record out called, 'LETTER TO AN ANGEL,' and 'THE SNAKE,' on the Decca label. 'And as I said I was talking to Melvin's mother and she told me how strong your paper (Iowa Bystander) was in the Midwest.

"These fellows, whose professional name is 'The Five Shillings,' have been through so much to make this record. They have starved all over New York for two months making the record. No one helped them, but

FOOLISH LAWS SHOULD BE REPEALED

Last week, Nate Simon died in a hospital in Sioux City following his collapse in the ninth of a ten round boxing match. In spite of a law in Iowa which makes boxing matches illegal, prize fights have gone on in several cities for years.

A grand jury has been empaneled to determine if the law has been broken by the promoters of this bout. This course, was taken because death occurred.

The anti-boxing law is just another of the foolish and unrealistic measures on Iowa's statute books today. Boxing tournaments are held here every year leading up to the national golden glove match in Chicago. Up until recently regular boxing events were held in Des Moines and other Iowa towns. In Des Moines, the matches got so poor that the public did not turn out in numbers to support them.

It is against Iowa law to tip a waiter or invite a friend in and give him a highball. These and some other ridiculous laws should be repealed during the next session of the legislature.

HAWKEYES DESERVE STATE'S APPRECIATION

All Iowa is proud of the record the Hawkeyes made in winning the Big Ten football championship in 1958 and thus a trip to the Rose Bowl for a game on January 1. This is another fine public relations job the boys have done for the University—the state of Iowa for that matter—and they, along with the coaches, deserve the highest praise.

The New Year's football game is preceded by a parade in which beautiful floats form a great part. Iowa law authorizes the legislature to name an interim committee composed of members from each house whose job is to consider emergency expenditures and allocate funds to the requesting department out of a special fund appropriated for that purpose.

Since Iowa will represent the Big Ten on January 1, officials thought it highly desirable and asked the committee for $13,500 to provide a float. Of course, officials could not anticipate that Iowa would win the championship this year and thus an expenditure out of this fund is well within the law as Attorney General Erbe has ruled.

But Iowa, like all other states, is made of many kinds of people. And of course among them are some who think this a foolish expenditure of tax money. In fact, a member of the House had lodged serious objections.

This committee acted wisely for such an expenditure not only helps give recognition to these splendid men but also advertises the state—a practice which penny-foolish people seldom approve. In fact Iowans don't do enough advertising of what Iowa offers and thus lacks in the job of inviting newcomers into the state. These horse and buggy proposals don't help the state's progress.

NOTHING NEW IF CARRIED OUT LEGALLY

The U. S. Supreme Court upheld Alabama's school placement law which would permit school officials to use 11 criteria for placing pupils, but makes no mention of race. Included in the criteria are aptitude tests for pupils, along with other examinations, with local officials given the authority to determine which school the pupils will attend.

While the author of the measure said that it is designed to maintain segregated schools, the briefs and written arguments did not so state. The court said further "We must presume that it will be so administered," the special court added, "If not, in some future proceeding it is possible that it may be declared unconstitutional in its application. The responsibility rests primarily upon the local school boards, but ultimately upon all of the people of the state."

Must school systems have student placement programs designed to fit them in advantageous classes and schools based on scientific selections. Des Moines had such a program for several years and thus the decision is no surprise.

But the trouble is that in most cases these placements will be on the basis of race and Negroes will be placed into the position of fighting endless law suits to protect their rights. These lawsuits cost a lot of money and are financed out of private funds. Friends of racial justice will find it necessary to dig deeper each year to help keep up the fight.

Harold Kennerly Makes All City 1st Team;

Harold Kennerly, 16 year-old Des Moines Tech guard, was the only Negro prep football player to place on the first team of the All City Series. On the state roster he received honorable mention.

Making the second team was Al Collier, North High back. One of his teammates, Bernard Gaines, a lineman, also received honorable mention.

Tech's Bad Season

Kennerly's performance was particularly outstanding, especially since Tech had a bad season, (1-6-1). One of his top performances came against East, when he twice stole the ball from Scarlet backs.

HAROLD KENNERLY
Des Moines Tech Guard
Receives Letter

Kennerly—known to family and friends as "Butch"—is a junior at Tech concentrating his studies in the welding core area. Always interested in sports he played sophomore football making the first team on the varsity football team. He received a letter in football this month. He also enjoys basketball, swimming, and roller skating.

Active in YMCA

For two years he has been active at Willkie House where he has served on the Dance council, and in the YMCA where he is a member of the Phalanx club, teenage social club, for boys.

A member of St. Ambrose Cathedral, his main aspiration is to seek higher education following high school graduation. He is son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kennerly, of 1129 W. 12th street.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

It's all over but the shouting and the congratulations. Then the Rose Bowl. As we look back over the season, we reflect that there were several people among our circle of acquaintances who wouldn't concede to the 1958 Hawkeyes more than three games. Now those same people are among the first to know they would go all the way.

Of course we are proud of the part played by Jeter, Fleming, Borroughs (who never did get his just dues), Brown and the rest. They were just cogs in a machine that ran a lot better than a lot of people thought it would. We wonder if the Iowa coaches knew they had a winner from the start.

Big Ten

The Big Ten was loaded with Negroes. This was probably the greatest year enjoyed by Negroes in the conference in history. And just about all of them had important roles in the success of their teams. If their particular team had any success, time was when we went to a game just to see certain teams in action or a certain Negro. Well, any time you went to a ball game, you were apt to see some game deciding action by some Negro.

Big Eight

It spilled over into the Big Eight, where the leading ground gainer of the champions, Oklahoma was Prentiss Gault, the first varsity player in history of the school. Kansas State, Iowa State, Kansas Missouri, Colorado, and Oklahoma State all had their share of players who wouldn't be allowed to even watch the games in other years.

Read a tearful article in a Southern paper the other day in which the writer was bemoaning the fact that those silly segregationists was costing some states real money. For instance, the Louisiana law makes fighters go over into Texas and peddle their wares. Texas promoters make money while the boys across the river look on hungrily.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Christmas Sealed

Most of us have received our Christmas Seals in the last few days. As always, they're attractive. We'll enjoy using them to seal our holiday greetings and decorate our packages. But, as we all know, their decorative value is the least of it.

The dollars we spend for Christmas Seals fight tuberculosis in many different ways. The money raised in each community is spent according to the need. In our town one of the important needs is for more aid for the recovering TB patient, to help him get back on his feet again and stay healthy. In your town the most pressing problem may be to discover unknown active cases that are spreading infection. Each of the TB associations throughout the country attempts to spend Christmas Seal money on a balanced program of TB education, case-finding, and rehabilitation suited to specific local problems. Of course, there never seems to be enough money to do everything that could and should be done.

TB Control Program

There is one part of the TB control program in which we all share when we make our Christmas Seal contributions. That is medical research, the hope for future eradication of TB. Knowledge about TB gained from research has increased rapidly in recent years, but there are still large gaps to be filled. Two fundamental problems—the underlying cause of the virulence of the TB germ and the mechanism of human resistance to it—must be solved. The great dream is to find some reliable preventive that could be given to everyone of us.

Important Gains

Until this dream comes true, the TB associations must continue to fight TB with the methods which have already made important gains. We all have a part in this fight when we contribute to our tuberculosis associations through the Christmas Seal Sale.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by: "Your Christmas Seal Organization" Polk County Tuberculosis & Health Assn.

Iowa Hawks Capture Third Straight Win Over Irish in Interesting Aerial Maneuvers

Iowa City, Iowa—An interesting battle in the air took place here Saturday as the State University of Iowa Hawkeyes, Big Ten victors and Rose Bowl visitors, navigated a versatile aerial attack against a stubborn, likewise aerial minded Notre Dame, to bombard the Irish, 31-21.

High Class Finish

The victory gave Iowa a very high class finish with a 7-1-1 season record and a 5-1 conference tally. Another feather was added to the

Sugar Bowl

The Sugar Bowl promoters had this in mind when they tried to get the law to exempt such contests but the legislators said no, all contests involving races must go. So new Louisiana State, one of the nation's powerhouse teams has to face Clemson when they would much rather play some good team like one of the better Northern ball clubs. Clemson isn't really a bad team, but another team would have been better.

This Bowl game will likely be a sellout, but how long will those fans of Louisiana and surrounding territories go on seeing second rate teams in the Sugar Bowl when all they have to do is go either direction and see a top-notch attraction?

See Better Ones

Sports may well be the answer to this whole silly segregation mess. No locality wants to have to take second class sports events when they can see better ones for a couple of hours car ride. And if they don't support them, such segregated activities will just naturally die.

Then how many athletes are going down there from other parts of the country when they know they can't compete against the best in other parts of the country. Yes, sports may help kill this whole thing.

Delmar Baldridge

Say, this started out to be an article on the Hawkeyes and the Rose Bowl. But, Oh well, you will probably read enough about that from now until Jan. 1st. Delmar Baldridge, who wrote a good article for us last time on the Rose Bowl game will likely do the honors again.

Hawks cap in their defeat of the Irish. Saturday's triumph marked the third straight Hawkeye victory over this long time rival. A feat few have accomplished over the years.

Willie Fleming continued his razzle dazzle on the gridiron and continued his two touchdowns per game average to bring his total to eight. Willie also sparked on pass defense along with running mate Bob Jeter.

Willie Fleming

In Saturday's game, which for the most part was airborne, Willie took a 36-yard pass on the three and danced across for the score, on the other he ran behind good blocking from six yards out. Iowa made 260 yards through the air to 196 rushing; as against 297 passing for the Irish and 175 on the ground.

Randy Duncan

An avalanche of spiraling footballs, like miniature satellites, sailed through the pale blue sky; propelled by the orbiting arms of the Hawk's Randy Duncan and his quarterbacking stand in, Mitch Oglego. Enemy orbiter, George Izo, also did an admirable launching job though for a losing cause. The fact that the passes were hitting their targets as if guided by radar are laid to fine receptors on both sides.

Letters from Our Readers

A bit of prose... a line or two of poetry... a letter now and the to express thoughts in the minds of our many readers.
Send Yours Today

DEAR EDITOR:

To begin with I would compliment you on your fair-mindedness in printing on the front page of the Nov. 6th issue of the Bystander the news item, "Democrats Protest the Republican Ad."

I, too, was about to write in protest of this same ad. While of course, I understand that it is paid for by the Republican Central Committee and as the saying goes, "is not necessarily the opinion of the editor," I nevertheless regard it as unfair and untrue to state or imply that to vote the Democratic ticket in Iowa or in any Northern state,

Brown Cracks Record

Thundering Jimmy Brown, Cleveland's running virtuoso, today had picked one of the National Football

Air Battle

Interceptors, however, played a part in the air battle too. Iowa had four passes stolen from them while Notre Dame had three. And at times these aerial attacks were disintegrated by fumbles. Iowa lost the ball twice on such errors and so did Notre Dame.

The margin of victory for the more versatile air attack but rather in their consistency in air defense Hawks came not altogether in their which they evidently were adept in.

Rose Bowl

Football, as far as the Hawkeyes are concerned, will sleep for awhile now, to be awoken in the latter days of December when a host of Iowans will make a pilgrimage to Pasadena and the Rose Bowl game New Year's Day against the Golden Bears of California. California's season record of 7-3-0 comparable to Iowa's 7-1-1. The Pacific Coast Champions have a conference record of 6-1 to Iowa's 5-1.

League's juiciest plums, was near another, and had propelled the Browns closer to a division championship.

Brown gained 152 yards in 27 tries, totally eclipsing the standard of 1,146 yards set in 12 games by Steve van Buren of Philadelphia in 1949. The former Syracuse All-American now has amassed 1,163 yards in only eight games.

is to help Faubus.

I should like to call to your attention to the stand by Paul Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in which he is reported to have said he believes the Democratic party can win in 1960 only by a most forthright stand in the area of human rights. Further, I would call to your attention to a rather recent Gallup Poll in which those interviewed were questioned on their stand on the subject of racial integration. Those interviewed were divided into four groups as follows: Republicans, Northern Democrats, Independents and Southern Democrats.

While I don't have the figures at hand, I do recall that percentage wise the Northern Democrats ranked first.

And so, as a member for several years of the NAACP and a great admirer of its splendid leadership on all levels, I would vigorously protest the attempt of any political organization to influence the NAACP, or any of its members for purely political gains.

DEAR EDITOR:

Permit me to say briefly to you that your editorial of Nov. 13th on "David Lawrence Tips His Hand," was timely and well suited and was read with interest and approval.

I am glad someone had a mind to say something about it. In times past I have read Mr. Lawrence's articles generally with approval but recently "the roots of nearly 100 years ago seem to crop up."

In my mind a careful analysis of last national election—New York is a good illustration which does not so conclusively back up his predictions year hence.

Let us give thanks

We have so much to thank Thee for, dear Lord—

Thy love that gathers us in sweet accord

To pray and praise. For tables richly spread

And blessed peace that sweetens daily bread.

For joys of life that gild the passing days—

Home, work, love, friends. For freedom's shining rays

That spotlight cherished rights to think, to speak,

To worship as we please. Lord, help us seek

For ways to share these gifts with all mankind!

And hasten on the golden years that find

From sea to sea the battle flags all furled—

Thanksgiving Day observed throughout the world!
