Argument on the joint NAACP and NAACP Legal Defense Fund brief, filed on March 16, were heard by the Court on March 23 with Thurgood Marshall, director-counsel of the Legal Defense Fund, representing the organizations.

Interpretation

The case is before the Supreme Court on appeal by the State of Virginia from the lower court ruling handed down on Jan. 21, 1958. In a two-to-one split decision the district court then held three of the five anti-NAACP statutes unconstitutional and enjoined their enforcement. The remaining laws were referred to the state court for interpretation.

Lawful Methods

"If the Acts of the General Assembly should be held to outlaw the activities of" the NAACP and the Legal Defense Fund, the decision declared the state "would be free to use all its resources in its search for lawful methods to postpone and, if possible, defeat the established constitutional rights of a body of its citizens, while the colored people of the state would be deprived of the resources needed to resist the attack in the state and federal courts. The duty of this court to avoid such a situation, if possible, is manifest."

Youth Of The Week

This is the 34th in a series featuring youth, 13 to 21 years, in the community and in Iowa who are setting a good example in wholesome living and achievements in their homes, schools, churches, sports and civic activities.

This week we are adding our complimentary words to the list of citations that our young candidate received a week ago Thursday.

At the 90th annual YMCA dinner meeting Maurice C. Perkins, 18 year old 12-A student at Des Moines Technical High school, received one of three annual trophies honoring him as "Y Boy of the Year." He received the coveted citation for his unselfish and steadfast participation in the activities at Crocker 'Y' branch.

Maurice has been an active member of the Crocker Branch for nine years and has participated in the boys program as well by attending 'Y' camp five summers. Presently, he is a member of the Phalanx Leaders, junior leaders organization. In addition to his full schedule of activities at the branch he has also worked on a part-time basis there for the past year and a-half, running the movie projector, supervising game room activities and helping out on the information desk.

Church Activities

Also, he finds time for community activities. He is a member of Corinthian Baptist church where he participates actively in the youth program, being a past treasurer of his Sunday School class.

For hobbies he likes to collect plans for new homes which ties in with his aspiring career. He also likes to sing. The oldest child and only son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Perkins, of 1032 W. 14th Street, he has two younger sisters, Paula and Portia.

TOO MUCH COMPETITION CAN BE DISCOURAGING

Two brothers I know of, three years apart in age, began piano lessons at the same time. At first they enjoyed sharing their lessons and practice sessions, but recently the arrangement has not been so happy. The younger boy plays nearly as well as his brother, and the older boy is becoming discouraged about his own progress.

The boys' piano teacher has wisely decided to give them different lesson exercises from different books, to help reduce the unhappy competition that presently troubles the older boy.

Discouraging

Competition can be an enjoyable spur to effort, but sometimes competition so discourages one of the participants that he loses sight of the possible pleasures the activity might offer him. It sometimes seems humiliating to be equalled by a smaller or younger child, and the older child's reaction to this disappointment may interfere with his continuing to increase his skill in the activity, and reduce his enjoyment of it.

Unavoidable

Competition is often unavoidable, but there are some times when we adults can reduce competition when it seems to be too disturbing to a child. The piano teacher's use of different materials for the brothers is one example. Sometimes we can help the child measure his progress against his own ability in the past. The older boy plays much better now than he did a year ago; perhaps he can be helped to make this comparison in a way that will encourage him. The fact that his brother also plays better now is natural, but coincidental.

Accomplishment

Increasing the child's security and feelings of being accepted seems to make it easier for him to cope with competition, too. Praise for his own accomplishment need not be put in terms of his having excelled over another person; it can be put in terms of the child's own developing competence.

On Nov. 28, 1956, the two organizations brought separate actions in the United States District Court for declaratory and injunctive relief against the Attorney General of Virginia and five commonwealth attorneys alleging that the acts were violations of the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

How to Sharpen Shears

A SIMPLE method of sharpening an old pair of scissors is illustrated. Drive a 6-penny nail into a wall, as shown. Draw the jaws of the scissors their full length over the nail, as though you were cutting it. A moderate, even pressure is required during the several strokes needed to put an edge on the blades. Cutting into a piece of sandpaper or emery paper is another commonly used method of sharpening a shears.

A&T DEBATE TEAM PLACES FIFTH IN NATIONAL MEET

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Teams representing the North Carolina A&T College at Greensboro, took fifth place, a field of 43 colleges and universities at the 12th annual Brooklyn College Invitational Debate Tournament held here March 13-14.

College

Negroes continue to dominate college basketball. The All-American teams can't leave off the names of Oscar Robertson and K-States' Boozer. Then they have to consider John Green of Michigan State and Tom Hawkins of Notre Dame. They could add M. C. Burton of Michigan U., and Willie Merriweather of Purdue but that would be a repetition of last year when the first five were all Negroes.

Then Tennessee State Wins the

Jiffy Coconut Ring

Turn breakfast into an event—serve hot Jiffy Coconut Ring with butter or margarine and marmalade.

In just about the time it takes to turn out a batch of rolled biscuits, you can also make this Jiffy Coconut Ring.

Made from a biscuit dough, the simple coffee cake has the glamorizing touch of a luscious coconut, brown sugar and nut filling. Appealing also is the ring into which you shape the coffee cake.

Any good breakfast becomes better when it includes a nutritious hot bread such as Jiffy Coconut Ring. When you bake or buy products made with enriched flour, you gain a nutritional advantage of three B vitamins and food iron. Breads are just one part of a healthy breakfast. They fit right in with fruit or fruit juice, milk, eggs or meat, and enriched, restored or whole grain cereals.

Your baker's enriched breads are stand-bys for good breakfasting, too. Enriched white bread is almost indispensable for toast. Make a point to add occasional variety to the morning fare with raisin, cinnamon or whole wheat bread and with sweet rolls and coffee cakes.

JIFFY COCONUT RING
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar

½ cup shortening
1 egg, beaten
½ cup milk
Melted butter or margarine

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Combine egg and milk and add to flour mixture, stirring only enough to moisten flour. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll out to rectangle ¼ inch thick. Brush with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle with Coconut Filling. Roll up like jelly roll, sealing edge. Form into ring on lightly greased baking sheet. With scissors cut through ring almost to center, in slices about 1 inch thick. Turn adjoining slices of dough in opposite directions and stand on end. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees Fahrenheit) 20 minutes.

Coconut Filling
½ cup chopped shredded coconut
¼ cup brown sugar
¼ cup chopped nuts
2 tablespoons enriched bread crumbs
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Combine all ingredients and mix until well blended. Makes 1 coffee cake.

small college tournament for the second straight year. Negro schools really stand out in that small college meet.

Economics
Economist Fred G. Clark points out that there are five costs which make up the selling price of any product, made anywhere in the world, under any system, at any time. These are: The cost of goods and services bought from others; the cost of payments to government human energy (payrolls and benefits); the cost of using tools (profit); tools (depreciation); the cost of (taxes); the cost of wearing out

Consumers
From Time: "Booms in hi-fi, boating, photography, travel, frozen and gourmet foods, all come from relatively new things that tempted consumers to part with their cash. This is the real road to growth, the innovation of exciting and useful new products and industries that Government alone cannot start. It can only provide the incentive for business to improve itself. As Harvard's Slichter says: 'You can't expand without demand for the product. We need less sales talk, less hot air and better quality and more originality.'"

Spring signs popping up all over—neighbors visiting over backyard fences; small boys trying their skills at kite flying while playmates warm-up for baseball, Little League or what not; Tulp shoots peeping through the cold wet soil and growing inches by the day, as homeowners tackle the big cleanup of winter's debris.

But, the big sign of spring will be Easter Sunday when families turn out in force in their Easter finery and new spring ensembles. The traditional observance, as usual will have a more enticing quality for youngsters as they scramble in Easter egg hunts.

Using store display windows as a fashion gauge, flowers, in all colors and hues will highlight feminine Easter garb.

Mrs. Joseph Wimberly, who has been making her own millinery creations for years, told us several weeks ago she was getting ready to create her Easter chapeaux with plenty of flowers, in keeping with the current fashions.

Pews in Des Moines churches will be especially full Easter Sunday. One local minister, after welcoming his Easter Sunday congregation, goes on to say, "Many of you, I have not seen since last Easter, and I will not see again until next Easter. While you are here I want to wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

In conjunction with Easter many persons observe Lent, the 40 days between Ash Wednesday and Good Friday, by giving up something.

Of course, not everyone is familiar with the Lenten season. We asked one young lady what she was giving up for Lent, and she countered, "When is Lent?"

After taking some news on the Elks from Mrs. Bernice Carter, we asked her if she observed Lent and she replied, "Of course!" She then went on to tell us she gave all desserts as she has been doing for 10 years.

Mrs. Carter pointed out, "It doesn't mean anything unless you give up something you actually enjoy very much. To give up something you do infrequently, really isn't sacrificing."

"Then after deciding what to give up, it's a matter of calling on your willpower to do it. It's a wonderful challenge," she enthused.

Mrs. Charlene Wharton, Willkie House director, who will be spending her first Easter in Des Moines, also started on giving up desserts but she said, "Mrs. (Corinne) Adams' delicious pies," caused her to falter.

Miss Lana Evans, mid-year graduate of North High School, landed a job as a typist at Bankers Life company about a month ago. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Evans of 1320 Laurel Street. By the way her birthday is on Easter Sunday.

Speaking of birthdays, my youngest son who was born the day before Easter Sunday six years ago, will celebrate his birthday the Saturday after Easter, Apr. 4. He has been counting the days since Christmas.

The Ten Keys club will meet at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Kinclow of 1331 Park street on Friday, Mar. 27.

Business Baron

Clark Mollenhoff, a Pulitzer prize-winning newspaperman, says: "The tremendous power of the Teamsters now overshadows anything the business barons of sixty years ago could have envisioned. This is a power over every other union in America. It is a power that touches every home in America. We have this power augmented by large tax-exempt treasures and special laws that make the operations immune from the anti-trust laws."

CARIBBEAN TRAVELOGUE

The final program of a series of travelogues, sponsored by the Department of Adult Education of the Des Moines Public Schools, will feature Nicol Smith, noted author, explorer and traveler presenting a film entitled ISLANDS OF THE CARIBBEAN, Thursday, April 2, at 7:45 p.m. at the North High School auditorium.

The film covers the Bahamas, Jamaica, Trinidad, Tobago, Barbados, Grenada, Dominica and the Leeward Islands. The film journey is made aboard a small yacht with complete tours of the various islands.

WELCOME GREEK LETTER ORGANIZATIONS

During the coming weekend, Des Moines will be host to regional conferences of two Greek letter organizations: the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity and the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. Both organizations have considerable strength, particularly in the midwest, and have a now number among the members some of the outstanding citizens in the country.

Generally membership in these organizations begins during college days and attempts to bring together students who demonstrate possibilities in character, scholarship and leadership while in school and later as they work in the community of their choice.

By and large, these selections have been good. This may well be demonstrated by getting acquainted by the fine men and women who will be attending their regional meetings and learning something of their accomplishments. They are here because in the colleges and universities, in their communities from which they come, they have demonstrated a type of leadership which has earned them the privilege of representing their local group.

The city of Des Moines has a reputation as a good host. Its public accommodations, its schools, its churches, its homes and business establishments and citizens all open their facilities to the visiting delegates this weekend and wish them a pleasant stay and a successful and profitable session.

NEW CIVIL RIGHTS BILL MAY PASS

Today there are several civil rights bills pending in Congress. They may well be placed in three categories as to the extent each purpose to go. The one introduced by Senate Majority Leader, Lyndon Johnson of Texas may be classed as the very mild; the ones by Senator Douglas and others of the liberal northern Democrats and Republicans extremely controversial because they reach deep into the whole question of racial discrimination and segregation; the administration bill which might be considered midway between the two extremes.

To be sure, this is a happy situation for with all shades of opinion asking for some type of civil rights legislation, chances seem pretty good that a measure will come during the present session of Congress.

Most legislation is the result of compromise. Neither extreme gets all it wants but by giving a point here and gaining one there, laws are finally passed.

Heretofore, the trading has been civil rights against some other measure. But in this instance, the trading will be on the type of civil rights opposing factions can agree upon. This is real progress.

REPEALING USELESS, ANTEQUATED LAWS

The Iowa legislature has repealed the law which sets up qualifications and requirements on absent voters' ballots which required the applicant to state his race and sex.

This was one of the few instances where the state of Iowa has required that an applicant for a license or privilege state his race. Fishing and hunting licenses as well as drivers' licenses still require that answer.

The excuse for the practice is the contention that statement of race helps to identify the person. This, no doubt, becomes more antiquated each year in that there has been so much mixing of races that, even though not admitted, many people don't know just what race they belong to. Locally our police department has caught few law violators by broadcasting their race to the public.

Many states are dropping racial designations in their laws. They serve no useful purpose. On the other hand, they agitate and breed differences that ought not exist.

Most of these laws were enacted years ago but as those in authority become more enlightened they are disappearing. They will continue to disappear to the extent that such silly laws are pointed out and vocal groups show just what little purpose they serve.

Cancer Control

The community physician is the most important man in cancer control, according to Dr. W. Kenneth Clark, vice president of the American Cancer Society. In his view: "If the community physician is not cancer-conscious, the specialist may come into the picture too late." The Society estimates that of 255,000 cancer deaths in this country, about 75,000 could be prevented by earlier detection and treatment.

The 21-year-old sophomore from Pleasantville, N. J. equaled the world's record in the 60 yard dash in winning the National AAU title in 6.1 seconds.

Cincinnati, Ohio.—The Cincinnati Royals' front office has unofficially indicated that it plans to make use of its first draft choice to obtain Bob Boozer of Kansas State, All-America center.

Next year, in all probability University of Cincinnati star and leading collegiate scorer, Oscar Robertson, will be asked to join the team.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

If you saw the N.B.C. All-American basketball team you saw six Negroes out of two teams and if you are like us you could think of four more. The six were Cal Ramsey of University of California, Tom Hawkins of Notre Dame, Tony Jackson of St. John, Bob Boozer of K-State, Bob Mason of Bradley and the one and only Oscar Robertson.

Negro Dominance

Isn't it about time some pseudo-scientific sports writer came up with the answer for the dominance of basketball by Negroes? Tennessee State and Grambling are among the best in the small colleges and might surprise some of the first 10 teams.

It has been a long time since a major college team tackled one of the good Negro college teams. Long Island U had what was the best Eastern team, took on Virginia Union, the best of the Negro colleges. The result was so shocking that it didn't get into the daily press. Union won by about 30 points. If they wanted to pack Madison Square Garden all they would need to do is book those good Negro teams in there against anyone.

Crispus Attacks

Crispus Attucks High won the Indiana State high school basketball tournament again, and by such a convincing margin, that the daily paper had stories something like "Well, they won. Just too big and too good." And That was that.

HEALTH FOR ALL

The Milk You Drink

Pasteurized, homogenized, irradiated—all those big words on the milk bottle or carton—what do they mean to you and your family? What labels should you look for when you buy milk?

"Pasteurized" means that the milk has been processed by heat to destroy bacteria. This process, developed by Louis Pasteur, has been in use for many years and it brings you milk you know is safe. In very special cases a doctor may recommend raw milk, in which case it should be "Certified." This means it has been processed under special regulations and guaranteed pure by a medical commission.

Homogenized

At an additional cost, you can buy milk that has been homogenized. The fat has been broken down so that the cream stays mixed throughout the milk and doesn't rise to the top. This saves you the trouble of shaking the bottle before pouring a glass of milk. Whether this is an important saving in energy to you is a personal matter. If your family is in any way related to the Jack Spratts, you may find it better to buy milk that has not been homogenized and pour off the cream for the use of those who need a little extra fat. The important food values are in the milk itself. Of course, most of the flavor of the milk is in the cream. Skimmed milk can taste a bit flat.

Fortified

You can also buy "irradiated" or fortified milk with Vitamin D added, also at additional cost. We all know that Vitamin D, the sun vitamin, is good for us, but if your family gets enough Vitamin D from other sources, there is no need to pay extra for it in milk. Your doctor will advise you on this point.

The labels on your milk are for your information and protection. Never allow your family to drink milk from an unknown source.

Al Collier, Dennis McCraven Help Polar Bears Gain Second Place in Class AA Prep Track Meet

Al Collier and Dennis McCraven played starring roles in helping North High to gain second place in the Class AA high school indoor track meet in Iowa City, Ia., Saturday. The Polar Bears were edged from a first place berth by a mere two-tenths by Ames Little Cyclones who copped their fifth consecutive championship.

Fleet-footed Collier matched one of the oldest state and AA records with a .054 winning performance in the 50-yard dash. The mark was originally set in 26 years ago by Clinton's Carl Nelson and since equalled by seven others.

In addition to his 50-yard dash triumph, Collier led off the winning half-mile relay team.

McCraven

Another North High star, McCraven took second place for his team in the shot put division with a 53-2 1/2. Ed Carter of North tied for fourth place in the 440; John Strothers of Des Moines Tech tied for fifth TKO over Sterling (Dizzy) Davis, former wrestler who has turned fighter.

The fight, in which Davis never got in a solid blow on Archie, was stopped in the third round.

Archie opened dep cuts over both of Davis' eyes.

BECAUSE HE LIVED

BECAUSE HE LIVED, death has no sting,

There in His lovely paradise, He waits for you and me . . . every one of us who know, pray we will soon be free.

Some drivers, when they park, try to avoid getting a ticket by leaving a note on the windshield. There was a lawyer who figured he might be away from his car too long. So he put a note under the windshield wiper, sayin', "I'm a lawyer. I'm inside, attending to business." When he came out, he found a parking ticket hanging on the car, with another note which said, "I'm a policeman. I'm outside, attending to business!"
