University of Michigan where he is a student in aeronautical engineering.

On May 8-9 he represented the chapter at the Northern Province meeting of the fraternity held at Flint, Mich., and was elected vice-polemarch of the northern province. He is the son of Mrs. Marguerite Cothorn and grandson of Mrs. Nellie Esters of 1425 Center-street.

Protest Proposal to Televise Hate Film

New York—A New York film distributor who reportedly is planning to release the anti-Negro film, "Birth of a Nation," for television showings has been urged to reconsider his plan "in light of the nature of this film."

In a letter to Saul J. Turell, president of Sterling Television, a film distributing company, NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins charges that the old D. W. Griffith film, first released in 1915, "glorifies the Ku Klux Klan."

Who's Who in Iowa

Kennth Brewer, TV Traffic Manager at KRNT, Began In Radio Work 13 Years Ago

This is the first in a series of articles featuring Negro firsts, leaders and outstanding personalities in Iowa who are excelling in civic, professional, business, religious, educational, fraternal and entertainment fields.

By Mrs. Frances Hawthorne

Often a man is without recognition of his special abilities in his hometown, but it is not so with Kenneth O. Brewer, TV traffic manager with KRNT-TV station in Des Moines.

With 13 years of radio and television experience behind him, he handles the key job of scheduling all the air time from sign on to sign off. This includes keeping track of all the programs, national and local, commercials, and spot announcements.

Weekly List

Each week Mr. Brewer, with the aid of his secretary, compiles a 20-page availability list for spot schedules which is somewhat different than regular scheduling. This list is sent to the national network headquarters in New York City and to the seven regional localities, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, St. Louis, Atlanta, Dallas and Detroit.

Commercial orders come from each of these stations and it is Mr. Brewer's job to keep them posted of what the local station has to sell and well as schedule them. He advises the regional offices where commercials will appear, what program they are adjacent to, and some of the programs where commercials can be given within.

Emergencies

"The same thing is done for local sponsors," Mr. Brewer said. "They get the same availability list."

However, like in all jobs, emergencies occur and sometimes a more important program pre-empts a scheduled local or national network program. It is the responsibility of the traffic manager to notify the national network by teletype and offer them alternate times, or if local, get in touch with the salesman and do the same thing.

"Then too, perhaps a 60 second commercial is scheduled where only a 20 second will go. The auditing department, who checks the time element, will call me and want to know if it is supposed to be there," he explained.

Following Pressure by Council Bluffs NAACP Bullies Create Incident

By Mrs. Inez Bruce
Council Bluffs, Iowa—Under the leadership of local NAACP officials, youth "fought fire with fire in a passive way and won a moral victory" at a skating rink where they recently had been refused admission.

About two weeks ago a group of Negro youths were told they could not use the facilities of the Rainbow Skating rink, 2620 W. Broadway, because of their race.

The day following the incident, a committee from the Council Bluffs branch of the NAACP called on the manager. According to the committee, the manager said, "It isn't that we don't want Negro students; we just have never had them mixed on the rink before."

Consented

The manager then offered the Negro youth a "certain evening" which the committee refused. After numerous excuses, the manager finally consented to admit Negroes. Members of the committee were Oille Lewis, NAACP president, Robert Jordan and the Rev. Marshall Smith.

Bullies

Last Friday, May 8 the Rev. Mr. Smith accompanied a group of young people to the rink which normally caters to high school students. However, on this particular evening, bullies not attending high schools, were present and proceeded to "rough up the Negroes."

The Rev. Mr. Smith reported the admirably. "Negroes kept their tempers becoming irked at the actions of the bullies," spoke to the manager but he (manager) didn't say a word."

Upon leaving the Negroes were asked by the manager if they had had a good time. They assured him they had and would return in the future.

The Charles Lewises Return From Missouri

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis returned last Saturday evening from New London, Mo., where they attended the funeral services of Mr. Robert Lewis, father of Mr. Lewis, on May 8.

One other son, Mr. David Lewis, also survives. Mr. Charles Lewis is a deacon at Mt. Olive Baptist church here.

Dr. Williamson to Speak at Mental Health Meeting Sun.

Dr. S. J. Williamson, psychologist at Veterans hospital and teacher at Drake university, will be featured guest speaker at a public open meeting Sunday, May 17 at 3:30 p.m. at Willkie House. His subject will be "Some Factors Influencing Mental Health."

Sponsoring the meeting will be Phi chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority who have been involved in the regional project of Mental Health. Plans were made last fall for Delta Pyramids, patronesses and sorors to study mental health problems and how a lay person could assist trained personnel in preserving the mental health of the community.

Mrs. Hirman Hunn, treasurer of the Polk county association of Mental Health, has met with sorority members and plans are now underway for members to be trained in the procedures to qualify them to become volunteers in the association mental health setup.

Hampton Athletes Receive Awards

Hampton, Va.—Athletic awards will be presented to 81 Hampton Institutes athletes at the annual Awards Night program in Ogden Hall, Thursday, May 14. The awards will be made in football, basketball, baseball, swimming, track, tennis, cheerleading, and to sports announcers for the academic year.

The program will be highlighted by an address by E. Frederick Morrow, Administrative Officer for the Special Projects Group in the Executive Office of the President of the United States.

"Actually, I work closely with all departments of the station," he went on. "There is never a dull moment, because you never know what is going to happen."

In addition, Mr. Brewer compiles a monthly schedule of all programs which is sent all over the country. While he is working on this, emergencies often occur in weekly programming that takes him away from this.

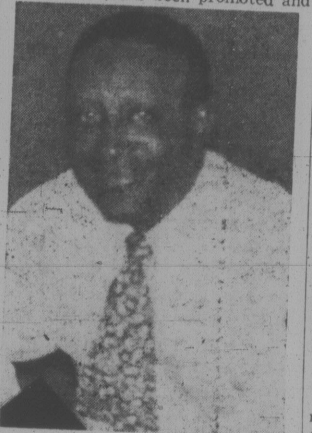

Armed Forces

During his boyhood and even later Mr. Brewer had no inkling that his future career would be that of traffic manager in television work. The son of Elder and Mrs. A. B. Brewer, he graduated from East High and worked for about a year at the Rock

For Advocating 'Eye for Eye' Violence in Southland, Williams Sticks to Stand

New York—Following confirmation of a newspaper report that Robert Williams, president of the Union County (Monroe, N. C.) NAACP branch, had advocated meeting "violence with violence" and stopping "lynching by lynching," Roy Wilkins, the Association's executive secretary, sent a telegram directing Williams to "suspend activities as a local officer pending consideration of (his) status by the Board of Directors at its meeting May 11."

Wilkins' telegram was dispatched on May 6 after he had talked with Mr. Williams by long distance telephone. Citing the acquittal by a Union County jury of a white man accused of attempted rape upon a Negro woman, the North Carolinian acknowledged the correctness of the quotations credited to him and asserted that he would repeat them on radio and television. He also said that he knew that the advocacy of violence was against NAACP policy.

Williams Notified

In his wire to Williams, the NAACP executive secretary said: "When I pointed out that you were identified in the news story as president of the Union County branch and that because of this you could not separate the Association from your statements, you said you would make it clear that you were speaking for yourself, not for the NAACP."

In view of your recognition that the NAACP does not advocate the use of violence and lynching and in view of your disagreement with this policy and of your stated intention in further interviews to repeat your original statements, we direct that you suspend your activities as a local officer pending consideration of your status by the Board of Directors at its meeting May 11.

Bitterness Cited

At the same time, Williams released the following statement to the press: The NAACP does not and has never in its history advocated the use of violence. We have fought against lynching from the first day of our organization fifty years ago and we repudiate any pro-lynching statement by one of our officers, regardless of provocation.

New York, N. Y.—Robert F. Williams, former North Carolina NAACP branch president who advocated an "eye for eye" violence by Negroes in the South, reiterated his stand at a press conference Monday after the National board of directors of the National organization backed his suspension.

Williams, a former combat marine, was suspended as president of the Union County, North Carolina branch by Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins last Wednesday for advising Negroes to "fight violence with violence."

Remained adamant

Nearly a week after his suspension, Williams remained adamant, stating, "Negroes, as a matter of forethought, must be ready to combat violence. When you have strength of force to bargain with it becomes a matter of mutual security for both whites and Negroes."

Williams added that he did not mean for Negroes to go out and lynch a white man each time a Negro is lynched.

No Authority

When the former North Carolina NAACP leader first learned of his suspension by Wilkins, he stated the national officer had no such authority and that he would remain in his official capacity until the local branch dismissed him.

Eighteen of the 48 board members who were present at Monday's meeting, voted support of Wilkins, maintaining the association has always opposed violence.

Double Standard

At the same time it must be recognized that the mood of Negro citizens from one end of the nation

The annual queen contest will be held at the close of the contest followed by crowning ceremonies. Hosts to the state contest will be Wapello Lodge and Ruth Temple.

Civil Rights Hearings End Tomorrow

Washington — U. S. Senator Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., (D-Mo.), Chairman of the Constitutional Rights Subcommittee, Monday set May 15 as the date when civil rights hearings will end. Hennings also fixed May 19 as the date the Subcommittee will meet to consider specific civil rights proposals.

"I have no other alternative but to fix a termination date," Hennings said. "Efforts to get a quorum of the Subcommittee to agree to a date have failed."

In fixing the termination date, Hennings said he had done his best to be fair to both proponents and opponents of civil rights legislation.

"The hearings began on March 18, 1959," Hennings said. "The most recent witness was heard on April 22. Subsequent dates have been held open for witnesses who have not yet availed themselves of these opportunities. We must end sometime."

Urban Renewal Board To Hear Complaint on Property Prices

At its meeting Friday morning the city urban renewal board will take up a complaint concerning prices offered by the state highway commission for property affected by the proposed freeway project. The complaint which was first made at a city council meeting Monday, was made by David Pickett, whose house at 1215 School Street is in the freeway area.

Pickett said the highway commission was "not paying 'open market' prices . . . but, rather . . . cash market prices . . . which are from $2,000 to $4,000 lower than the former."

"We are being forced to move from our area into the 'white' slum areas and pay fantastic prices for homes not as good as ours," he said.

Two Relay Records Fall At Tuskegee

Tuskegee Institute, Ala.—Two relay records were shattered at the 33rd annual Tuskegee Relays Carnival and 31st annual Junior and Senior Women's Sports Day, held Friday and Saturday in historic Alumni Bowl.

Florida A. and M. university's crack combination, composed of Willie Poole, Ralph Johnson, Clarence Childs and Zeon Clayton, established a new record in the College Sprint Medley Relay. Clocking at 2:22.9, the Florida foursome erased the mark of 2:31.4 set by Philander Smith college in 1954.

Baton-carriers, John Parks, Raymond Smith, Charlie Smith and Cecil Myrick, from David T. Howard high school, Atlanta, Ga., broke their own record in the high school 440-yard relay. Stepping the distance in 43.2, the Howard Rams smashed their 1958 record of 43.5.

BY BETTY HACKETT

In spite of rain and tornado warnings, approximately 300 persons witnessed the "Fantasy In Spring" style show held at the Elks Annex Saturday evening.

Models made their entrance through a canopy style archway decorated with green and white streamers, and modeled in an area set off by a fence of green and white tapers.

Craig Houghton created the musical background while co-narrators, Mrs. Robert Oden and Mrs. Margaret Williams gave the audience an interesting, enjoyable and yet brief resume of each model's attire.

Mmes. Oden and Williams are to be commended for their presentation to the audience of every phase of living through clothing including sportswear, casual street attire, dress up fashions with accessories, traveling wear, rainy day attire and formal attire.

The Drum and Bugle Corp. of Cedar Valley Lodge No. 426 who sponsored the show presented a trophy to Miss Tiny Magee who was judged the best model of the evening. Other models were Misses Carolyn Anderson, Rosie Allen, Darlene Derden, Camille Bryant, John Ella Roby, Kaye Goodson, Lee Ella Cunningham, Virgie Alexander, Also Mmes. Willie DeLaney, James Moore, Wanda Williams, T. J. Wright, Leon Roberts, and Roy Stevenson. Williams Hodges, Gary Cook, Willie Ammons, and J. B. Riley modeled mens' wear.

Six local stores furnished the apparel for the show. Wardrobe and jewelry arrangements were managed by Mmes. Red Smith, Harold Stierland, Horis Ceaser, and Miss Lulu Smith.

The Cosmetist Club No. 2 who were present in a group deserves mention for they gave the audience an opportunity to see the very latest in hair styles, trends, and colors. As a finale to the style show, a new and different waltz act was presented to the strains of the "Missouri Waltz". Participants in the act were Carolyn Anderson, Willie Ammons, Tiny Magee, Willie Robertson, Craig Houghton, Darlene Derden, Gary Cook, and Verona Stevenson.

Three musical numbers were given by Phillip Graves, Alfred Anderson, and the Elvick Quartette, a popular teen group. Music by the Strollers brought the evening to an end.

The D.Y.W.Y.L. Club are planning a picnic for their members and invited friends Saturday, May 30th. The picnic will be held at the Cedar River Park.

The Waterloo Women's Civic Club held its meeting Tuesday, May 5 at the home of Mrs. Marjorie Alexander, on Willow Street. In promoting their theme of Ways and Means of Beautifying Our City, the club has purchased flower seeds to distribute to different churches to beautify their property. Mrs. Palmer Byrd assisted Mrs. Alexander as hostess to the members.

ANTIOCH BAPTIST CHURCH

French Influence in This Cheese-Onion Pie

The idea for this dish came from the famous French dish, "Quiche Lorraine." Serve it for lunch or with bacon slices for a dinner main dish. Here, a subtle, turky-flavored sharp cheese and custard mixture is baked in a crumb crust.

A layer of tender cooked onion rings is spread over the crust. Then comes the quickly made filling. For this filling, cooked rice, grated sharp cheese, eggs and milk are mixed and poured in the crust.

INGREDIENTS:
1 1/3 cups water
2/3 cup uncooked white rice
1/4 teaspoon curry powder
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups thinly sliced onions (half large slices)
1 cup milk
2 eggs, beaten
1 1/2 cups grated sharp cheese
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon curry powder
1/4 teaspoon black pepper

Cover and simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat and leave the lid on until ready to use, at least 10 minutes.

While the rice cooks add 1/4 teaspoon curry powder to the 1/2 cup melted butter. Pour over and through the cracker crumbs. (Crumbs are easily made by rolling crackers between layers of waxed paper or putting through a fine bladed food chopper.) Press the crumbs over the bottom and sides of a greased deep 10" round pie plate holding about 6 cups.

Melt the 3 tablespoons butter in margarine in a saucepan. Add the onions and cook slowly until tender and slightly yellow. Spread over the bottom of the pie plate.

After the rice cooks, stir in the milk, eggs, cheese, 1 teaspoon salt, curry powder and black pepper. Pour over the onions. Bake in a pre-heated 325°F. oven for 45 minutes or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. It is important that the oven is at 325°F. and not too hot.

Allow to stand several minutes before cutting into wedges. This recipe makes 8 servings.

Council Bluffs, Iowa

BY MRS. INEZ BRUCE

On Sunday, May 17 at 3 p.m. the Council Bluffs branch of the NAACP will observe Freedom day with a special program. Churches cooperating with the local branch are Broadway Methodist, Broadway Christian, Our Saviour Lutheran, Bethany Presbyterian, Tabernacle Baptist and Beulah Baptist. Guest speaker will be the Rev. Robert Plagge of Bethany Presbyterian church.

All of the ministers are emphasizing the moral aspect in the civil rights controversy in their services.

Last Sunday at 3 p.m. the NAACP met with Ollie Lewis, president, presiding. The Rev. Marshall Smith, Jr., and the president gave interesting reports on the Regional Conference held recently in Des Moines.

The local chapter is concentrating on their quota of members, also their quota of life memberships.

In charge of the program were Mmes. Willis Haddix, John Rhem, Calvin Duncan and E. S. Walls.

How Can I Be Absolutely Sure?

by Genevieve Young

Dear Miss Young:

With the bewildering variety of types and brands on the market today, how can I be sure that the deodorant I am now using is giving me complete protection?

Dear Perplexed:

There is very little, if any, real psychological basis for the common belief that the skin tends to build up a resistance or "immunity" against any particular type of deodorant protection.

However, one of the best ways I know to make certain is to make this simple test with a freshly cleaned or new blouse or dress. After wearing it for a normally active day, hang it in a plastic or paper bag such as that in which "cleaned suits or dresses" are delivered. (Your sense of smell is usually less sensitive at the end of the day and you are not apt to notice any unpleasant personal odor.) Next morning, while your nose is refreshed and alert, sniff the underarm areas of the garment. If you can detect any lingering body odor, you can be certain your deodorant is not doing its job effectively.

A dependable cream deodorant and anti-perspirant is usually most effective because it can be massaged deep into the pores to stop odor-forming bacteria, the cause of the most offensive odors.

To provide most effective protection, apply a dependable deodorant liberally each night after your bath so that your skin can build up protection while you sleep. The next morning bathe underarms with clear water and reapply lightly, rub in gently, then wipe off any excess. You are now ready to face the new day without fear. This is as important to good grooming as a daily bath. The long-lasting anti-bacterial action of Royal Crown's new super-blend cream deodorant is one that I can personally recommend for anyone who is having deodorant "effectiveness" problems. You owe it to yourself, your friends, and your loved ones to be sure 24 hours a day.

Miss Young will answer your letters on "beauty problems." Be sure to stamp, self-addressed envelope and send to Miss Genevieve Young, R. C. Beauty Institute, P. O. Box 2841, Memphis 2, Tenn.

WITH DELORES CALVIN

New York City—Any Negro who remembers "Birth of a Nation" back in 1924 will probably feel like doing everything he personally can, short of murdering the producer, to keep it from returning to the scene to be glorified just as a money-maker for some studio bent on exploiting the race problem—a theme which is riding high at the moment. . . . But despite this feel of resentment against "Birth of a Nation"—a story of the Civil War where Negroes are shown in most uncomplimentary positions—news comes that swift action is being taken to put this out-dated film on television. . . . For the world to see. . . . Already a bid of $21,000 has been approved for the rights to this—and other films—made by the late producer, D. W. Griffith.

Playing the local area now are a few racially-toned films, two of which are outstanding: "The Sound and the Fury" with Ethel Waters in an important role and "Night of the Quarter Moon" with Julie London and John Drew Barrymore. . . . There were just two lines in the latter which should have been stricken: one, when Miss London confesses to Nat King Cole her reasons for trying to regain her husband's love—I'm not Negro", she said "I'm white—well part white anyway". . . . It seems no matter how good a plot is and how much it teaches the white theatre-goer the ugliness of race hatred—the white producers MUST always include a line which to us tears down everything they are trying to build. They always want the Negro to admit dissatisfaction with his color—never should he be happy or proud about it—as for instance the Irish are about their race. . . .

The second line which should have been left out was when Anna Kashfi (Marlon Brando's ex-wife and incidentally a dark girl who fit more as a Negro than any of the others)—and King Cole both told Barrymore to leave his wife alone as if the solution to an interracial marriage is simply not to get married—but as Barrymore believed in the beginning, the ONLY solution is to fight it out—no matter how tough the odds are. . . . And as Julie London said when they decided to fight: "We'll have to love each other an awful lot". . . . And they did. . . .

Lena Horne

Roy Hamilton

Out in Chicago, a summer replacement for WBKB is disc jockey Sid McCoy, their first Negro. . . . Roy Hamilton, completely cured from his illness which at one time appeared to be permanent—is making so many new albums the record stores can't get them on the shelves fast enough. . . .

To show their good faith, Fack's made the contract for 5 weeks, which is considerably longer than most—and Earl has gone to town on bringing in the biz. . . . An organ man who can either rock and roll or sing the soulful tune, Earl has made a hit in the east and on the Steve Allen show. . . . Now he's doing "Imitation Life" as he sings it in the film and his old standards: "St. Louis Blues" and "Nearness of You". . . .

Luther Henderson

Luther Henderson, whose orchestra plays exclusively for Polly Bergen's albums, is one of the finest Negro musicians in the country today. . . . Hampton, Tuskegee Students Win Awards

New York — Outstanding senior students Shirley Ann Johnson of Hampton Institute, Va., and Jacqueline Quinn, Tuskegee Institute, Ala., are the winners of the 1959 Florida Lasker Fellowships, W. J. Trent, Jr., United Negro College Fund executive director, announced here today.

Graduate Study

The fellowships were established in 1949 by the trustees of the late Florida Lasker's estate to "aid the education of Negro women." Candidates are chosen from among senior women students of the 33 member colleges of the United Negro College Fund. Winners receive between $1,000 and $2,000 to finance a year of graduate study. Each student is free to choose her own field of study and select any suitable university for her graduate work.

Miss Johnson has chosen Columbia University, New York City, for advanced studies in social work. Miss Quinn has selected Smith College, Northampton, Mass., for advanced work in physical education.

3rd IMHOTEP Nat'l Conference on Hospital Integration Planned

Washington, D. C.—The Third Imhotep National Conference on Hospital Integration will be held at the Fifteenth Street Presbyterian Church, May 22-23. The National Medical Association, the N.A.A.C.P. and the National Urban League are the sponsors of the Conference. Dr. R. Stillman Smith of Macon, Ga., president of the NMA; Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP; and Julius Thomas, director of industrial relations of the National Urban League will address the opening day meetings.

Purpose

Purpose of the Imhotep Conference is to work for the elimination of racial discriminatory practices as they exist in hospitals in the United States in respect to patients, staff privileges for physicians and the employment of non-medical personnel. Imhotep was the Egyptian demigod of medicine, who lived in about 3000 B.C. and is the first figure of record in medical history. His name means, "He Who Cometh in Peace." This symbolizes the spirit and method of approach of the Conference.

LAUNDRY WORKERS STRIKE AT 6 HOSPITALS

New York City—Carrying signs which show clearly: "A City Welfare allowance is bigger than our Mount Sinai salary" and "We can't live on $32. per week", non-professional workers at six non-profit hospitals staged a successful walk-out in union. Under orders of local 1199, striking employees totaled 3,625—the majority of them being laundry, cleaning and service employees with 75% of them Negro.

At Mount Sinai Hospital, a stone's throw from Harlem, and where the local is strongest, Director, Dr. Martin Steinberg, stated that out of 950 non-pros, 385 of them went on strike. To replace them they took in volunteers, many of them wives of the doctors and cots were set up for those who could sleep in.

HELPING CHILDREN GAIN CONFIDENCE IN SPEAKING

When my father and mother went to public meetings, my father would listen without saying a word at the meeting, come home and spend the next couple of weeks telling my mother what the speaker should have said and what was wrong with what he had said and what other members of the audience should have commented about.

My mother's reply usually was, "Don't tell me, tell the people at the meeting!"

Self-Consciousness

The prospect of having to make an oral report in class or at a meeting used to be a fearsome one for me and for many of my classmates. At meetings I attend now, many adults mention that they would have liked to mention this or that point during the meeting but that they felt too shy or self-conscious to do so.

In an age when rapid, clear and easy communication seems tremendously important, many people feel unsure of expressing themselves in public. They remember their childhood terrors of reciting and their adult uneasiness about "speaking out."

Do we worry about the importance of what we want to say, or about our ability to convey our meanings clearly, or both? If communication is so important, can we give our children practice at expressing themselves easily?

Classroom

To listen to the endless chatter among my children at mealtime, one could not imagine that any of them could ever feel self-conscious about his ability to talk, yet perhaps they do feel uneasy about talking to less familiar audiences. For most children, the classroom gives the most frequent setting for speaking, and perhaps the teacher can make the act of speaking as unthreatening as possible.

And maybe we parents can try to listen to our children with an attitude that suggests that we think they are interesting and that what they have to say is worth listening to.

Urges Gov. Collins of Fla. See that Justice is Done

New York—"All eyes will be upon the State of Florida as it proceeds in the prosecution of the four white men accused of raping a 19-year-old student of the Florida A. and M. University at Tallahassee, Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, warns in a letter to Governor Leroy A. Collins.

The letter, dispatched on May 6, notes that "thus far the police work has been prompt and effective." However, Wilkins points out, past experience indicates that "full punishment has been certain and swift in cases involving a white victim and a Negro accused, whereas the penalty has been neither certain nor heavy in cases involving a Negro victim and a white accused. This circumstance," he asserts, "focuses special attention on the Florida crime."

Receive Justice

Wilkins assures the Governor of his conviction that "as Chief Executive you will use whatever authority of your office that properly may be applied to the end that the wronged community and the grievously wronged victim will receive justice."

Citing instances of miscarriage of justice in cases involving Negro citizens, the letter declares that these citizens merely "seek even-handed, color-blind justice. . . . The crime of rape is a despicable one, regardless of the color, station, or age of the victim or the assailant."

National Office

The Associations' national office, the letter asserts, joins its officers and members in Florida "in their request that the law enforcement officials of the city and county—and of the state, if necessary—prosecute the accused parties to the full extent of the law."

The young university student was seized at gunpoint from her escort on the night of May 1 after a dance. She was found bound, gagged, and bruised in the car with the four men who had taken turns in attacking her. She was removed to the university hospital in a hysterical condition.

Radio Messenger

A few months later in October he joined KRNT radio station as a messenger. After a year the station manager realizing his abilities were far above that of messenger, moved him up to part promotions and part radio traffic, and eventually he took over as radio traffic manager scheduling programs and commercials.

When KRNT-TV was licensed in 1953, Mr. Brewer transferred to the TV station with the same position and he has held the position since.

Family

Mr. Brewer lives with his wife, Rose, a native of Waterloo, and their four children, Carlotta, 8, Kenneth II, 5, Daryl, 4, and Jeffrey, 1, at their home at 1345 E. 17th street court. He was formerly affiliated with the YMCA, NAACP, and other civic and social groups, but since going into radio and television work, the demands of his variable work schedule, he has ceased to be active.

He relaxes at home by putting and making things around the house and likes most spectator sports especially track, which is a holdover from his high school days when he himself lettered in the sport.

University Officials Term Mass Rape on Coed Worst Crime Ever Committed

Tallahassee, Fla.—"Disgraceful . . . one of the worst crimes ever committed in this area . . . Florida A&M University officials termed the recent alleged mass rape of a University co-ed by four Tallahassee white men.

The victim, a native Tallahasseean, allegedly was kidnapped at gunpoint by the four white men as she sat in a car with another co-ed and two freshman male students shortly after the "big" spring dance of the year had ended. The second co-ed was also taken at gunpoint from the University male students, but broke away from her would-be abductors and disappeared before she could be recaptured.

University President George W. Gore, Jr. subsequently commented: "The incident is both disgraceful and regrettable. Everything possible is being done to protect the girl, to insure a fair trial, and to hasten the triumph of justice."

Shortly afterwards, the Administrative Council, composed of the president, vice-president, director of public relations, registrar, director of libraries, business manager, personnel and academic deans, issued the following statement:

Shocked

"For the past several days the local community has been shocked by, what is in our opinion, one of the worst crimes ever committed in this area. We deplore the alleged mass rape of a Florida A&M student, and we feel that this act threatens racial relations in our community.

"The law has moved swiftly and efficiently. The press, radio, and television have reported the crime with completeness and without bias. This we recognize. We are opposed to any act of violence, and pledge full reliance upon law and the courts to resolve this matter.

Victim

"The victim is a Tallahassee girl, who has grown up in this community, and has spent all of her school life under the influence of Leon County schools. She represents hard-working, Christian parents of the type whose devotion to the simple verities of life make up the backbone of our democracy. Such persons deserve the full protection of the law. We feel that all decent people in Tallahassee abhor this heinous act. We trust that this deplorable crime will generate a determination on the part of all Tallahasseeans to prove to the world that justice in Florida can be meted out to all of its citizens alike."

SUBTLE APPROACH

New York—Ask a woman whether she cleans house in spring or fall and her answer will tell you what kind of a climate she lives in. "Spring" house-cleaners live in areas where the winters are long and cold, while the woman who tears up the house in the fall lives where the winters are mild and the summers long and hot.

CRANBERRY DIXIE.

To give your meals holiday flavor throughout the year, try adding color and flavor with this tempting sauce. Your guests will forever appreciate the festivity and glamour this dish will bring to the occasion. Your family will thrill to the flavorful goodness of fresh cranberries blended with a popular beverage food (Dr. Pepper).

1 pound raw cranberries
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 bottles Dr. Pepper

Wash and pick over cranberries, then combine in 1 large kettle with sugar and Dr. Pepper. Cook over moderate heat until all the berries have popped.

To make Dixie Cranberry Jelly from this same recipe, just use the same process, doubling the amount of sugar and putting the sauce through a sieve before allowing to set.

De Luxe Club Meets

The De Luxe club will meet this evening, Thursday at the home of Mrs. Edna Harris of 1030 5th street.

If you are like me, you are probably just coming down out of your Mother's day cloud. At this writing, on the day after, I'm still marvelling at the special feeling of having been treated like a queen.

Although I fear I may be repeating similar stories of what transpired in other homes, I would like to tell you what my family did for me. On Saturday, after having gone downtown and picked out my gift, my husband and two sons announced plans for "taking over" in the kitchen on Mother's day. For a minute I probably looked a little unbelieving, but I heartily and readily agreed.

Sunday began with the opening of my gifts. My sons had already brought cards and handmade gifts they had made at school, and they were proudly displayed on the mantle. Then, they served me breakfast restaurant style, assisted by our little three year old daughter whose contribution was mostly moral support. When I declined to eat in bed, I was served in the dining room... with the biggest breakfast you ever saw.

After church, I was told to go to bed and rest, or do anything but stay out of the kitchen. I did. From time to time I heard snatches of conversation, dishes rattling, and smelled whiffs of cooking food. And like most women, I was itching to peep in and see how things were progressing. Intermittently, the children came in to inquire if I were enjoying Mother's day. I assured them I was. There was not the usual inquiries of where cooking vessels or dishes were kept. Apparently, they looked until they found them. So, I relaxed all the way and read a book I had been planning to read since I checked it out three weeks ago from the library.

Exactly, at our usual dinner hour I was summoned to the dining room and there I was nearly stunned for of the season's crop) in a long stem the second time. White tulips (last vase flanked by full course meal, including fruit gelatin salad, a very attractive and appetizing relish dish, succulent roast, two vegetables and punch... All this was arrayed on my best lunch cloth, accompanied by Sunday dishes and silverware.

Later, I was served dessert in the living room as I watched TV, while my family washed dishes. They had done what they set out to do... keep me out of the kitchen all day. Let me explain, one thing. Because of illness or demands of a job or assignment, my family has taken over before. Occasionally when well, I have been treated to breakfast in bed. But, never on Sunday, when meals are given extra touches, had they taken completely over and not allowed me to lift a finger. So it was with exhilaration engendered by the feeling of being loved and cared for by my family who didn't just take a few minutes to select and present a commercial gift but added to it the gift of time and energy that is priceless to a woman.

That is why I say... I had the best Mother's day ever!!!

Enthusiasms, Variety of Programs will Keynote Statewide Celebration of Club Women Day

Enthusiasm and variety of programs will mark the celebration of the 57th anniversary of the Iowa Association of Colored Women, known as Iowa Club Women's Day. The observance will be statewide on Sunday, May 24 at 4 p.m. The element of competition is accelerated by the "Mattie Dameron award," to be presented at the 57th annual meeting in Council Bluffs, June 6-7.

Sioux City

From Sioux City, Mrs. Daisy Smith, general chairman, reports the federated clubs have completed all preparations for their elaborate program to be held at Sanford community center. Other members of her committee are Mesdames Frenzel Shores, publicity; Lola Stokes, club invitations; Fannie Walker, finance; and Buelah Webb, and Etta Grider.

Council Bluffs

Mrs. Erma Jones, general chairman in Council Bluffs reports their celebration will be combined with a memorial for the first president of the 20th Century Civic and Art club. Clubs in Davenport, Marshalltown, and Cedar Rapids are using ingenuity in their program planning, also.

Des Moines

In Des Moines Mrs. Roberta Frazier is the general chairman. She is assisted by Mesdames Sarah E. Jett, program; Cecil Lewis, hospitality; Goletha Trotter, finance; Helen D. Wimberly, publicity; Geneva Robinson and Olivia Cooper. An outstanding program will be presented at Corinthian Baptist church.

The Iowa federated club women are dedicated to the proposition that in unity of purpose and action, there is strength. Following the foresighted philosophy of the national president, Mrs. Rosa L. Gragg, of Detroit, Mich., the women are determined to face the many issues of the time, particularly as they affect the Negro race, with intelligent understanding and action.

STATES RIGHTS
MEASURE A FARCE

Among the large number of bills introduced in Congress to head off integration and equal justice for Negroes and the enjoyment of their civil rights is one sponsored by Rep. Howard Smith (Dem. Va.) which would declare that no act of congress supersedes a state law unless congress specifically declares its intention of doing so or unless the laws are clearly incompatible.

A combination of southern members and their allies on the House Judiciary committee by a vote of 17 to 15 has reported the measure favorably to that body for consideration. "Their allies" no doubt, are some Republicans who pretend to fear that laws and decision are making life easy for the communists. The justice department is opposed to the measure.

For years, congress did not have the courage or moral stamina to pass any civil rights legislation and it is only after the courts, which in recent years, have rendered decisions in keeping with the professed doctrine America lives by as embodied in the constitution, has any law seeking to deal with those who refuse to accord equality of citizenship to all, been passed.

Should such a measure become the law, utter confusion would exist between federal and state jurisdictions, it would leave the individual states free to pass all kinds of discriminatory legislation that would clutter court dockets beyond the ability of judges to try them. Besides, this would keep Negroes fighting indefinitely and over a wide range of territory with untold expense and inconvenience.

Ninety percent of this states rights business is the effort of southerners to be left free to handle the Negro as they please, and those northerners who join in with them, giving communism as an excuse, are equally as bad.

Surely, there must be enough sane men in congress to defeat these moves. No stone should be left unturned to let members of both houses know that such legislation is dangerous and not best for the interest of the country as a whole.

MAY VOTE ON MANAGER PLAN

Considerable grumbling has been going on in opposition to the city manager form of government in Des Moines. That dissatisfaction has resulted in the presentation of a petition to the city council calling for an election to determine whether that system shall continue.

The city clerk is checking the validity of the signatures on the petitions and if sufficient qualified names remain the election must be had.

There is merit in the manager form of government. Those who fathered that program in Des Moines argued that it is more efficient and would give the people more value for their tax-dollars. The cost of operating the city has gone sky high. But what has not?

What the Bystander thinks objectionable is the manner of selecting members of the city council. Once, a so-called good government committee composed of people in all walks of life, controlled the council; later that control went over to the labor group. In any event, because candidates are elected at large the fellow who can get in with a clique rather than those from true represented areas get elected.

And as long as the present system prevails, no Negro will be elected to the council and thus he has little influence in how the city is run. There are other groups with the same complaint. It will be interesting to watch the campaign as it develops.

ELECTION LAWS
ARE UNREALISTIC

A measure was before the recent session of the legislature, which would place state employees under a civil service system. As a part of this civil service system, employees would be removed from participating in partisan politics and of course banned from making contributions to candidates.

Some abuse of contributions by employees to state candidates has caused considerable criticism—and rightly so—for at times, certain officers have misused their positions. The trouble with the objection to contributions by employees is the terrific financial burden a candidate undertakes to get elected. Ninety nine per cent of those seeking state office must get help to finance their campaign. The salary won't pay the bill.

And it is for this reason that election laws provide that a candidate need not report money spent in his campaign by others. This, of course, accounts for the bulk of the money spent in any campaign. This is a method of getting around the law.

So until the cost of getting elected to a major office is paid in some other way, employees should be left free to take some part in politics including contributions to the candidate of their choice.

Lonnie Brooks, Robert
Calderon Win in Ping
Pong Tournament Here

Winner in the open division of the Willkie House Inter-Agency Ping Pong tournament, May 4 was Lonnie Brooks of Willkie House, who defeated Mile Salamon of Salvation Army in the novice. Robert Calderon of Roadside settlement won the championship in the novice. His feat was exceptional in that he was undefeated throughout the novice division.

Agencies represented were Salvation Army, Roadside Settlement, Jewish Community center, Crocker Y.M.C.A. and Willkie House. There were 22 entries age 14 and over in the open division and 14 entries in the novice division.

Attending the National Volley Ball Tournament held at North High school recently from Willkie House (with courtesy tickets) were Marvin Parker, Michael Porter, Reginald Fowler, Cecil Banks, Kenny Whitney, and John Burrell.

Providing transportation to and from the tourney for the boys were Messrs. Kenneth Whitney, Athletic director at Willkie House, Charles Jones and Sgt. Otis Banks.

Aggies Win Third
CIAA Flag in Year

Greensboro, N. C.—The A&T College Aggies made a clean sweep in winning CIAA championships in the three major sports by clinching the baseball title last week.

Earlier the Aggies had won the conference football title for the first time since 1951 and had broken all records repeating as both the visitation and tournament championships in basketball.

Aggie baseballers bowed up the CIAA flag with a convincing 11-5 win over Howard University in the game played at Washington, D. C., May 4. They completed the season with a 10-1 record, losing only to Maryland State College.

High Jump Champ
Undergoes Surgery

Boston — High jump champion John Thomas last week underwent a tedious skin-grafting operation on his injured left leg, and the operating surgeon at Massachusetts Memorial hospital said he stood up well under the hour-and-a-half surgery.

During the operation, about eight square inches of skin from Thomas' thigh was removed and stitched on top of the injured leg.

The grafting was necessary because Thomas scraped his foot so badly in an accident last March 24, that the skin on the upper side above the toes, died.

The lanky athlete, hailed throughout the sports after he leaped seven feet, one and one-fourth inches—the world's highest mark indoors or outdoors—was injured when his foot got caught in an elevator he was operating at Boston university, where he is a sophomore.

We looked over the kids running in the district track meet the other night and reflected that we can see Why East and North have their football troubles. Time was when both schools had a whole host of big tall runners. Now, the kids who run for these schools are small and the boys from Roosevelt are the big ones.

So, it looks like a long dry spell for the former powers on the grid-iron until they get some big fast boys.

Every year Tech gets some break that keeps what looks like a certain winner disqualified. Some years it is a bad baton pass; at other times it is disqualified on some races. Monday night they were four miles ahead of Ames only to lose because some leadoff man ran out of his lane.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Your Child and TB-I

Are you protecting your child against TB? "But children don't often get TB," you say.

Right, depending on what you mean by "often." Speaking statistically, the tuberculosis age picture has changed. Formerly, most TB cases are among people over 45. But young adults. Today, the proportion of cases and deaths among older people is rising. About half of the case are among people over 45. But this change in the statistical picture is not much consolation to the thousands of younger people who are still getting TB. Even in the age group where the lowest number of cases are found—between 5 and 14—more than 2,000 new cases are found a year.

Infections

Unlike most of the infectious childhood diseases, TB is not a one-time problem. You can't say, "Well, at least we won't have to worry about that one again." A child who has once had TB has to be wary of it for the rest of his life. The disease may be cured for the time being, but foci of infection remain in the body quietly waiting for another opportunity to start active disease.

Protection

Of course, you want to do what you can to protect your child against such a future. What can you do to protect your child? First, of course, he needs a healthy body fortified with good nutrition and good health habits which will enable him to fight back against any infection. Second, he should have regular tests to find out whether he has been exposed to TB. There may be a tuberculin testing program in his school. If not, the family doctor will give the test. If the result is negative, you have nothing to worry about except to make sure the test is repeated as often as the doctor advises. If the test is positive, the source of the germs will probably be found in some adult in close contact with the child. Chances are your child won't have active disease, but the doctor may advise special measures to keep up his resistance.

Archie Moore Plans
To Start Health Club

San Diego, Calif.—Archie Moore, the world light-heavyweight champion, and a man of many ambitions, plans to run a health club, among other things, when he retires.

Archie made the disclosure while discussing his future in a series of articles in a local newspaper.

His proposed club will be on a 120-acre track of land in rocky hills about 30 miles east of here. Archie refers to it as the salt mine. Buildings on the land are now undergoing alterations. Moore, 42 by his own admission, said he plans to use the club to show people how to lose weight.

"I will prove that I can take any man—I don't care how fat he is—and take off from 25 to 35 pounds without his losing any strength whatsoever."

Archie is famed for taking off weight rapidly. For one of his light-heavyweight title defenses, he took off as much as 25 pounds in a little over two weeks.

Moore claims he picked up a secret diet prescription from an aborigine in Australia some time ago.

When will he retire? It's anybody's guess.

Satchel Paige Signs
With a Cuban Team

Satchel Paige, who says he started his baseball career in 1925 and hopes to sign his third major league contract yet this season, said last week that he will play this year with the Havana Cuban Stars out of Beloit, Wis., in a series of baseball dates.

Satch recently demanded and received his release from the Miami Marlins of the International league, for whom he has pitched the past three years.

Last season, Paige was one of the top hurlers for the Marlins with a 10-10 record.

Elected

Mr. Thomas Howard, one of the fine young men members of Coppin Chapel, was elected delegate to the District conference of the A.M.E. Church to be held at Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 20-21.

"It's Just Good To Be Livin"

by Mrs. Montrose Johnson
Oh! it's just good to be a livin' After the winters blast and cold. And enjoy the blessed sun-shine As Nature to Spring unfold. It's just good to be a livin' If you're rich or if you're poor, And see the world all bathed in sun-shine

As you look out your open door. It's just good to be a livin' And sit a basking in the sun And watch the Neighbors little children As they skip and play and run. It's just good to be a livin'

Just to hear the birdies sing, And drink in the golden sun-shine As they sing their song of Spring. It's just good to be a livin' And to aid your fellow man. Speak a word of love encourage, Lend a helping hand where are you can.

It's just good to be a livin' If it's only for a day, Life's not always smiles and sun-shine There's days that's blue—days that's gay.

If we always had the sun-shine We'd never appreciate the rain, We'd never steer around misfortune If pleasure always followed pain. Let's all thank God to just be livin' If this old world is filled with pain For the sun that shines the brightest Is often followed after rain.

IF YOU BOUGHT ELECTRIC SERVICE LIKE GROCERIES...

you'd see right off what a bargain it is! Suppose you made up a "shopping list" for the electric service you would need for the month ahead. Twelve hours of automatic washing... 200 hours of lighting... 100 hours of television... and on-and on-and on.

But you'd be amazed by the number of items on your list—and the hundreds of hours of help and enjoyment your low-price electric service gives you.

And you'd be reminded how big a bargain electric service really is.
