IN LITTLE ROCK, ARK., MONDAY:

Voters Give Faubus Slap in Face Local NAACP Telegraphs Housing Complaints

On Property Prices to Federal Bureau and New York Office

Additional complaints from homeowners in the first leg of the proposed freeway area on sales prices for property prompted the Des Moines NAACP to adopt a resolution to send telegrams protesting freeway purchasing procedures to the Bureau of Federal Roads and the national NAACP.

The complaints were voiced at the local NAACP meeting Tuesday evening at Wilkie House with 100 persons attending, after two officials from the Des Moines freeway office discussed appraisals formulas and procedures of purchase. Speakers were H. A. Heverly and Don Cole.

Mrs. Maude Pickett, of 1004 16th Street, asked: "What am I going to do? They paid me only $3,400 for my home and I've been looking two or three months and can't find a place to go."

"When I told people I was looking for a house which would cost what the highway commission paid me they laughed at me. My home is a nice home, with apple trees and room enough on the ground for another house to be built."

Mrs. Lavonia Craddock, 977 24th Street said the freeway office had not kept its promise to give her another month to move to a house which her family is purchasing.

"We were paid only $5,500 for our three-bed room house and now are forced to buy a two-bed room house, not as good, for $9,500."

Mrs. Pickett's son, David E. Pickett, of 1215 School Street, said he asked Heverly why Des Moines real estate men are employed on freeway appraisals.

"I was told," Pickett said, that it was because they know the situation in Des Moines better."

Other speakers pointed out that Negroes in Des Moines have to pay $1,000 to $5,000 more when he buys a house."

U.S. Supreme Court Agrees to Examine Legality of Ark. Law

Washington, A 19-month deadlock moved toward solution this week as the Supreme Court agreed to examine the constitutionality of two Arkansas city ordinances requiring the NAACP to disclose its membership lists and file financial statements.

The ordinances were passed in Little Rock and North Little Rock on October 14, 1957 with October 31, 1957 designated as the deadline for NAACP compliance. The ordinances were designed for the specific purpose of compelling the disclosure of the names and addresses of Association members in Arkansas.

In the first test, Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the Arkansas State Conference of NAACP branches, was fined $100 plus court costs on December 3, 1957, in the municipal court of Little Rock. Mrs. Bates refused to release names and addresses of Association members.

Protection Sought

In the next development, Mr. Carter and George Howard, Pine Bluff attorney, met with Federal Judge Roy Harper in his chambers on December 19, 1957. The attorneys sought to ward off threats, by local officials, to arrest NAACP officers in their continued attempt to secure Association records.

It was agreed upon at that time that no one except Mrs. Birdie Williams, president of the North Little Rock branch of the NAACP, would be prosecuted. Messrs. Carter and

Waterloo Jury Finds 'Sandwich' Killer Guilty of Manslaughter

Waterloo, Ia.—After a four-hour deliberation Thursday, May 21 a district court jury returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter against Charles E. Pearson who was accused of killing John E. Harris, 30, with a revolver in a scuffle last Dec. 19. Judge George C. Heath set the sentencing date for June 5 at 4 p.m.

3-Day Trial

After a three day trial, Pearson and his wife took the witness stand Wednesday afternoon, May 20.

Pearson told the jury that he kept a snub nosed .38 caliber revolver—the gun that killed Harris—under the counter of the Dixie Barbecue, 720 Mobile St.

He said that he also kept the shop's money bag under the counter and said that he carried the gun when he took money from his shop to his home.

Demanded Sandwich

He said that when Harris had come into the shop and demanded to have a sandwich, Pearson already had the money bag and the gun in his pockets.

Pearson said that he gave Harris a push, and that Harris backed into the glass door, breaking it. He claimed that he then hit Harris on the head with the butt of the gun, holding the barrel down.

Pearson added that he hit Harris because he thought he would be carrying a weapon. He added that he had only meant to "subdue" Harris by knocking him out.

Wife Involved

Pearson said that he had "once invited Harris into the parking lot at the Rath Packing Co." for a fight.

When asked why, he said that his wife was involved. He said Mrs. Pearson formerly went with Harris before she married Pearson.

On the night of the shooting, Pearson said that Harris "appeared to be intoxicated, but said that the man was definitely in a condition to give a good account of himself in an argument."

Howard surrendered Mrs. Williams to the police and posted bond. In turn, North Little Rock authorities agreed not to prosecute anyone else, except Mrs. Williams, until the issue was taken to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Subsequently, Mrs. Williams was ordered to release Association records. She refused to do so on December 22, 1957, in the municipal court of North Little Rock and was fined $25. Her appeal thus paved the way for the U. S. Supreme Court hearing.

FBI Withdraws from Miss. Lynching Case; Turns Facts Over to Governor Coleman

Bulletin—Reports from Poplarville, Miss. Wednesday stated the FBI had turned over names of seven men believed to be involved in the Parker kidnapping case.

Washington, D. C., — After a month of intensive investigation, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers announced Monday that F.B.I. men were being pulled off the Mack Charles Parker kidnapping-murder case because there was no evidence that federal statutes had been violated by the perpetrators or local law enforcement officials.

However, Rogers directed F.B.I. agents to turn over all information and evidence pertinent they had obtained on the case, to Gov. J. P. Coleman at Jackson, Miss. Federal authorities also indicated that the F.B.I. facilities "are fully available to Mississippi authorities in the event additional assistance is needed for prosecution of state violations in the Parker case.

The attorney general said Monday the federal investigation "clearly established that the persons responsible for the death of Parker had not violated the federal kidnapping statute and no other successful federal prosecution could be maintained."

This means the FBI found no evidence that local authorities had co-operated with the mob, and that the mob members never crossed a state line after carrying out their lynching.

Parker, 23, was abducted from his jail cell shortly before his trial for raping a pregnant white woman, by a masked mob Apr. 25. His body was found May 4 in the Pearl River swamps in Mississippi. Death was attributed to two bullet wounds.

Former Virgin Island Official Recalls Days with The Late A.A. Alexander

"It was right here in this room that I first met Arch," recalled a former Virgin Island official and close friend of the late Archie A. Alexander.

Dr. Robert Cotton and his wife of Grass Lakes, Mich., were guests earlier in the week of his widow, Mrs. A. A. Alexander, of 2200 Chautauqua Parkway. They were enroute to visit relatives and friends in Topeka and Kansas City, Kans.

Going back in time, Dr. Cotton continued, "It was around 1952, Arch was a trustee at Tuskegee Institute and the school was looking for a new president."

"At that time I was president of Kansas Technical Institute at Topeka. I was informed my name was on the president's committee of 15. Arch and Claude Barnett of ANP were sponsoring me," he said.

Interview

"The list narrowed down to five; Arch was slated to interview me and I had come to Des Moines for that purpose," he went on. "He later informed me I had lost by one vote."

Dr. Cotton recalled that soon after, he invited Mr. Alexander to speak for the founder's day program at Kansas Technical Institute. While there Mr. Alexander broached the subject of Dr. Cotton coming to the Virgin Islands to take over the educational program there, if a new organic act should be passed.

"We kicked the idea around a while, but the next thing I knew Arch wrote me and invited me down to the Islands for the summer to look things over. I liked it and accepted the position of superintendent of education, which is similar to your state commissioner of education here," he said.

400 Teachers

During Dr. Cotton's tenure in the Islands all schools with a staff of about 400 teachers were consolidated under his supervision. Adult education, vocational, and teacher training programs were instituted also.

Upon leaving the Virgin Islands, Dr. Cotton then went to Grass Lakes, Mich., where he established an integrated nursing home for the chronically ill and aged, building it from 17-beds to its present-day 75-bed establishment with a staff of 34. He is the only Negro operating nursing homes in that area of Michigan.

Civic Activities

Active in civic and professional organizations, Dr. Cotton is secretary and former treasurer of the Michigan Nursing Home Association and chairman of the Educational Committee on Nursing problems at state schools. In addition he is one of the directors on Joint Council for Improved Health of the Aged and

Johnson Held In Jail For Pistol Assault On Woman Monday

John E. Johnson, 33, is being held in jail without bond pending a hearing June 16 after he pleaded innocent to a charge of assault with intent to commit murder Tuesday.

Johnson, who gave his address as 1223 E. Court Avenue, is accused of shooting Shirley Frakes, 24, also of 1223 E. Court Avenue, following a disturbance at 10th and Center Streets, Monday.

Detective Allen

Detective James Allen, who was off-duty at the time, said he had been told there was a disturbance in the vicinity and stopped to investigate. He said as he came to the 1000 block on Center Street he heard a woman scream from a passing car. A moment later the woman either jumped or was pushed from the car, he said. Allen said he shouted at the driver, and when the man failed to stop, fired a shot at his car. He then arrested the man when he stopped the car about a block farther.

The woman, identified as Mrs. Frakes was taken to Broadlawn General hospital with a bullet wound in her neck, but her condition was reported as not serious.

Outstanding Majority Vote Recall of Segregationists And Support of Moderates

Little Rock, Ark.,—Voters here gave Gov. Orval Faubus a "slap-in the face" when they went to the polls Monday and voted for the retention of three moderates and for the recall of three segregationists on the Little Rock school board.

Prior to the election Faubus had publicly backed the segregationists and urged voters to do likewise, but time and the sobering sight of empty schools, intensified by the recent findings of 44 school teachers by the racially biased board members, worked their toll against the seemingly impregnable Arkansas state leader and his followers. From the start the balloting returns indicated the moderates were winning and they never got behind.

Winners were Everett Tucker, Jr., Ted Lamb, and Russell Matson. On the losing end were Ed. T. McKinley, Robert Lasker and Ben Rowland.

County Board

Replacement of any board member will be up to the Pulaski County Board of Education, which has only one Little Rock school district resident among its five members. The county board until now has not participated in the integration controversy.

It was just last fall when Little Rock voters went to the polls and overwhelmingly indicated their support of Gov. Faubus in his decision to let the city's four senior high schools remain closed.

A transplanted Iowan, Mr. Ewing came to Des Moines at the age of five with his parents from his hometown, Keyettesville, Mo. After graduating from North High school, he entered Grand View Junior college where he took studies preparatory to a pre-law career before he left and went to Washington, D. C., where he worked for about a year at the postoffice there. Later, he entered Catholic University in D.C. and studied science and chemistry. Again, he switched and entered Howard University on a scholarship to study architecture.

After his father, the late Samuel Ewing, passed in 1953 he returned to Des Moines to be with his mother Mrs. Zorah Ewing, who died four years later. In 1954 he enrolled at Drake university and graduated last summer with a degree in business administration. During his matriculation at Drake he had held down a fulltime job as cost reporter for Spolar Aircraft.

Medicine Cabinet

When you make that vital periodic house-cleaning of the medicine cabinet, be sure that you really get rid of old medicines. Empty containers down the drain and flush them away. Then use a well-sudsed washcloth to wipe all bottles and jars with contents worthy to be returned to the cabinet.

Nobody... But Nobody... Should Skip Breakfast

YOUNG AND OLD, EVERYBODY NEEDS A GOOD BREAKFAST each day. And the nice thing about breakfast is that one menu does for the whole family. Especially when you base the morning meal on this Quick 'K' breakfast pattern of fruit, or fruit juice, crisp ready-to-eat cereal served with milk or cream, bread, butter and a beverage. It's hearty enough for the man in the house and yet has lots of appeal for children's fickle appetites.

If you have a problem getting your children to eat in the morning, try decorating the table with colorful, attractive dishes. Choose a cereal, such as Kellogg's Raisin Bran Flakes with plenty of plump sweet-tasting raisins included in every package. Or, perhaps one of the presweetened cereals, such as Sugar Frosted Flakes, is more popular in your house. Round out the menu with orange slices, or other fruit in season, bread, butter and milk. And feel sure that your children are getting the energy and nutrients they need to romp and play these sunny summer days. (ANS)

Youth Of The Week

This is the 40th in a series featuring youth, 13 to 21 years, in the community and in Iowa who are setting a good example in wholesome living and achievements in their homes, schools, churches, sports and civic activities.

Here's another of our community's fine and deserving youths—a young man who likes to cook so much that he is contemplating a career as a chef which will eventually lead him to being a restaurant manager.

Arthur Triplett, 16, is studying to be a chef at Des Moines Tech where he is a 10-B student. Next semester his studies will take him into the kitchens at the school. He is also taking book-keeping along with English, speech and biology.

"I especially like to barbecue outside in summers. I like to do steaks best but I have a hard time getting them right," he remarked, laughingly.

Desserts, too

Arthur also likes to try his hand at dessert, especially chocolate cakes and apple pies. At Tech he is interested in sports and participated in track meets at Creston, Ia., and triangular and intra-city contests. He plans to go out for football and basketball next fall.

His keen interest in the trampoline began four years ago at the Central 'Y', he said. "I was hoping a club would be formed but no one seems to be interested but me."

Crocker 'Y'

For six years he has been active at Crocker 'Y' and was formerly chaplain of the Phalanx club there.

ARTHUR TRIPLETT

A member of Willkie House two years, he recently joined the NAACP Youth Council. Also, he has attended 'Y' camp for the past five years and was on its honor roll last year.

Collects Stamps

Active in the Sunday School at Corinthian Baptist church, Arthur likes to collect stamps for a hobby and in two years has amassed more than 500 in his collection. Another hobby is painting model airplanes, which he does in connection with his activities at Crocker 'Y'.

He will attend as a state delegate, the group's national convention June 11-13, in Washington, D. C. He is also 1959 convention treasurer of the American Nursing Home association and will attend as an official delegate later this year.

While there he supervised plans for all new constructions on the campus serving as a "go-between" school officials and the architect.

Planning Buildings

"While at Lincoln I helped with the planning of the Journalism building, Anthony Hall, Home EC cottage, cafeteria, and also helped to set up the law school in St. Louis, Mo. My last major project was Tull Hall," Dr. Cotton related. "Then I left to take over the school in Kansas, after 10 years at Lincoln."

Work Prospects Better for Negroes But Vary with Regions, Ebony Reports

New York, N.Y.—Work prospects for Negroes are better than ever, according to an EBONY Magazine survey, but opportunities and salaries vary with the region. In a June article called "Profitable Careers Without College" the magazine points out that of 144,000 Negroes who will graduate from high school this Spring, 63,000 will be seeking work.

Negro Business

In the predominantly agricultural South, expansion in both the number and quality of Negro businesses is providing more clerical and sales jobs for girls. Negro doctors, lawyers, dentists, insurance companies and retail outlets are requiring increasing numbers of girls.

Unskilled

EBONY says that most jobs for Southern Negro boys will be concentrated in unskilled and semi-skilled occupations, as drivers of trucks, buses and taxis; in lumber mills, mines, laundries and food processing plants, with the second greatest number working as porters and janitors.

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help... My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth.—(Psalm 121:1, 2.)

What a glorious, uplifting feeling it is to look out upon another new day and realize that Almighty God, who made the shining sun to rise and stay true on its course, also is Our Father—merciful, loving each of us. His children, ever willing to forgive us our sins, to help and sustain us.

Negro farm workers, formerly a large employment category, are diminishing as the stability and higher economic return of urban employment lures families to the city.

Construction

Negroes continue to predominate in the Southern construction trades, with their ranks needing graduates who have training in bricklaying, carpentry, sheet-metal work, and other building skills. Civil service jobs in the South also are becoming more available.

EBONY points out that while jobs for unskilled laborers are diminishing, more work is available in semi-skilled and white collar classifications, and more and more white firms in the North, East and West are seeking Negro clerical, sales and secretarial help.

Roadblocks

Despite the generally good outlook, one of the big roadblocks for Negro high school graduates is the lack of equal opportunity. Only 16 states have comprehensive laws which seek to eliminate discrimination in hiring.

However, EBONY says that students who have taken their education seriously should have little difficulty cashing in on their abilities and pursuing their ambitions. Youngsters of average skill will find less satisfactory work, but may better their opportunities by taking advantage of part-time education.

COUPLES NEED TO DISCUSS EXPECTATIONS OF MARRIAGE

The young man thinking of getting married often has a very clear idea of what his marriage will be like. He often knows what he expects his spouse to do and how he wants his wife to behave and what he wants her to be interested in. He knows what he expects that he will do as husband and as eventual parent; these expectations somehow seem "right" to him.

Anticipations

And the girl who is thinking of marriage often has the same clear ideas about what she will do as wife, and what her husband will do in his role, too. These anticipations are often so strong and clear that they are taken for granted; the young people assume that they will be fulfilled in their marriage as a matter of course.

When a particular young man begins courting a specific girl, however, it often happens that the clear expectations that each of them has toward the proper roles in marriage don't mesh with each other. Many young men expect that their prospective wives will not work after marriage. In fact, however, a great number of wives do work.

Sharers

Many wives expect that their husbands will be confidants and sharers of emotional experiences. In fact, however, many husbands are pretty tongue-tied when it comes to communicating about their feelings, or even about the feelings of others.

These expectations and anticipations can be deliberately explored by couples who are contemplating marriage. They can discuss what each expects his own behavior, duties, wishes and requirements will be, and what each expects of his spouse in these respects. Such deliberate discussion can often provide a comfortable basis for the many inevitable compromises that married couples must make. And such discussions can help the pair understand better their reasons for expecting the things that they do of their marriage.

Kenyan Leader Tom Mboya to Deliver Commencement Address at Howard University

Washington, D. C.—The Honorable Tom Mboya, member of the Legislature of Kenya, will deliver the principal address at Howard University's 91st annual Commencement Friday, June 5 at 5:30 p.m. The exercises will be held in the upper quadrangle of the Howard campus, in front of Frederick Douglass Hall, and will be open to the public.

Window Frames

If cracks around window frames of older houses let in drafts and dust, you can make your own papier mache insulation at practically no cost. Put a little glue in hot rich soapuds, and add a large quantity of shredded newspaper. Squeeze out a bit of the paper, work it into cracks with a small screwdriver, and smooth the edges carefully. It will actually harden enough, when dry, to be painted.

Toreador Pant's

Light up your legs below those warm weather clamdiggers or torreador pants by wearing seamless Knee-highs embroidered up the sides. These are, as timely as clocks, and far gayer in many colors. Like all hosiery, "toreros" should be sudsed after every wearing.

It's any woman's privilege to tint her grey hair if that makes her feel more attractive. But all women should remember that hair color is less important than its cleanliness and sheen which are based on regular, frequent shampooing.

Wilkins Sees Arrest Attempt As Intimidation of NAACP

New York.—The abortive attempt to arrest NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins and the Association's state secretary, Medgar Evers, in Jackson, Miss., last week was today characterized by Mr. Wilkins as "a brazen attempt to intimidate NAACP members in Mississippi."

Wilkins was the principal speaker at a state-wide NAACP meeting in Jackson on May 17 held in observance of the fifth anniversary of the United States Supreme Court's historic decision banning racial segregation in public schools.

Eight Deputies

During the meeting, attended by 2,000 persons from 40 Mississippi counties, eight armed plainclothes deputies arrived at the hall. Reportedly they had warrants for the arrest of Wilkins and Evers on the charge that their advocacy of desegregation was in violation of a Mississippi statute. The warrants were never served and the NAACP leader left Jackson shortly after the close of the meeting, unaware of the suspended arrest order.

"Folly and Futility"

"The withdrawal of the warrants," he said later in New York, "is clear indication that someone in authority realized the folly and futility of arresting us for exercising our constitutional right of free speech. The NAACP will continue to call for desegregation in Mississippi and to take every possible step to that end."

The warrants were instigated by an affidavit sworn to by one Elmore Greaves, a director of the Jackson son White Citizens Council, who was infuriated by the failure to serve them. In a lengthy statement published in the Jackson Daily News of May 19 he berates Governor James P. Coleman, Attorney General Joe Patterson, Mayor Allen Thompson and other state and local officials charging that they conspired to prevent execution of the warrants.

However, the Hinds County Sheriff's office refused to comment on the issuance or withdrawal of the warrants. The Jackson State Times of May 18 quotes District Attorney Robert Nichols as saying: "It's news to me. One, I made no affidavit and, two, I called off no warrant."

Governor Disavows

Governor Coleman, the State Times reports, said he did not know about the arrest attempt until he returned to the city from Goodman where he had delivered a commencement address at a junior college.

Answers to Your Beauty Questions

by Genevieve Young

Q. Can I use a hair straightener safely on color-treated hair?

A. A leading cream hair straightener advises testing first on a few strands of hair before attempting to straighten color-treated hair. Be sure to read directions very carefully.

Q. How can I make my hair glossy and shiny?

A. Keep your hair shampooed regularly—then use a creamy type (not a greasy type) hair creme.

Miss Dorothea Towles, internationally famous Negro model, fashion and beauty expert, shows a spray hair set by Royal Crown, made expressly for pressed hair styles.

Q. I've heard a lot about silicones. Do they really help your hair?

A. Definitely! Silicones act as a conditioner to hair AND scalp, and also protect against moisture and perspiration.

Q. Can I use spray net if my hair is a pressed style?

A. By all means. Choose a spray net containing lanolin (the label will give you this information). Some spray net products are specifically for pressed styles—so check this before you buy.

Q. Why do I perspire more when I'm excited or upset?

A. This nervous perspiration comes from larger, more powerful glands. The glands are stimulated by tension, excitement or emotional upset. Nervous perspiration is more offensive and causes stains and odor. To guard against offense at all times, use a deodorant with a creamy base rather than alcohol-based products that evaporate rapidly.

Miss Young will answer your letters on "Beauty Problems." Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Miss Genevieve Young, R. C. Beauty Institute, P. O. Box 2841, Memphis 2, Tenn.

per and the preacher who marries the couple. He also will be in the style show. I am in the chorus," she explained.

"We auditioned back in February and up until April 1 rehearsals were once a week, then they began holding them two and three times a week until about three weeks ago," she continued. "when they were held every night from 7 to 11:30 p.m. Last Sunday we had two rehearsals from 2 to 5 p.m. and then back again from 7 to 11 p.m."

Mrs. Clinton explained they took a picnic lunch out to the Playhouse after church because there wasn't time for dinner at home.

"I've planned meals sometimes two days ahead and we have worked together to keep the grass-cut and do other chores," she said. "The children's school work hasn't suffered. We did get a report from East that Alice was day-dreaming quite a bit."

Mrs. Clinton admitted everyone is a little sleepy. "My husband usually takes a nap after work and then he is ready to go," she said. "Judith catches upon hers during the days."

"We feel very proud to be in the play. It's the biggest they have had in Des Moines. They have been very nice to us and it has been a wonderful experience for all of us," she enthused. "They wanted all of us in the play because it would be something new and different for the Playhouse to have a whole family in the cast."

The George Clinton family of 725 S. E. 26th Court, who believe in doing things in a big way and together where possible, are at it again. All six are participating in "Finian's Rainbow," the musical production which begins at the Des Moines Community Playhouse Friday and will run nightly through June 13.

Members of the family in the 67-cast play are Mr. and Mrs. George Clinton, their daughters, Alice, 17, Carolyn, 14, George, 10 and Judith, 4.

In a telephone interview Monday Mrs. (McCl) Clinton revealed that all members of the family excepting Alice had performed last year's production, "Green Pastures."

Mr. Irvin White had urged us to participate in that and he also suggested we audition for "Finian's Rainbow."

Mrs. Clinton and her husband went out first. At the Playhouse they were informed that children would be used in the cast and suggested the Clinton children try out also.

"Our son, George landed the part of Henry, the best children's part. Judith will be in the children's group and they gave her a pajama costume to wear in the dress parade style show. Carolyn likes to sing so they put her in the chorus. Alice is in the chorus also and has a speaking part in the play. My husband will play two parts, that of a sharecropper and the preacher who marries the couple. He also will be in the style show. I am in the chorus," she explained.

Several weeks ago we wrote a few lines about a former journalism teacher of ours, Mrs. Thelma T. Gorham. During our interview with Mrs. Irma B. Estes, she told us she and Mrs. Gorham are former

New York.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People this week called for recognition of the employees' union by the city's six struck hospitals.

NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins, in a telegram dated May 18, to presidents of the six hospitals acknowledged that the "operation of a voluntary hospital rendering urgently needed services... involves certain special problems."

An Alabama legislator does not want black and white rabbits to marry for fear it will enhance the progress of integration. How ridiculous can a man get? Desperation, no doubt!

WHAT OF THE ELECTION JUNE 23?

Mayor Iles has issued a proclamation calling for a special election on June 23, when the citizens of Des Moines will be called upon to determine whether the present system of government—council-manager—is to be continued. This gives little time for the voters to learn what the election is all about. The date is entirely too early but nothing can be done about that at this time.

Unfortunately the vote, if carried by the opponents of the present system, would eliminate the city manager and return the government to a mayor-council set up. Both the opponents and proponents have merit in their position and it remains for the contending forces to convince the voters which is best.

Des Moines and some of our larger cities in Iowa blasted the legislature for its failure to pass a reapportionment bill contending that representation in that body is unfair. It was argued, and rightly so, that some counties and districts with sparsely settled areas are able to exert as much influence as those with larger populations.

Maybe the same can be said of the city of Des Moines where, instead of population, certain groups running at large, get elected while some in others never have a chance. Few large cities operate under a system such as prevails in Des Moines. Of course, no system is better than the people who operate it. At least the voters will have another chance to decide next month whether they think the one we have is doing the job they want it to.

TWO BODY BLOWS TO RACE HATE

Segregationists were dealt two telling body blows Monday when the citizens of Little Rock, Arkansas, voted to recall the die hard anti-integration members of the school board. It is generally understood that this paves the way for opening the high schools on an integrated basis in September.

The results serve as a rebuff to Gov. Faubus and indicate that the majority of the people felt that it is more important to assure an education for their children than to maintain segregation of the races in the public schools; that the decision of the Supreme Court is the law of the land and that as law abiding citizens, they will obey the ruling.

Louisiana has a law forbidding boxing matches between white and colored people. Sometime ago, the federal circuit court of appeals held the law unconstitutional. The attorney general of Louisiana appealed that ruling to the United Supreme Court.

Monday, the Supreme Court upheld the circuit court which had ruled that the law violated the fourteenth amendment to the constitution.

Thus, the court has consistently struck down such restrictions and indicated what the ruling would be should laws be passed barring interracial competition in other sports.

It is little wonder southern congressmen have introduced a flood of bills in Congress which would restrict the jurisdiction of the U. S. Supreme Court and make state laws paramount to federal measures which would permit southern states to treat Negroes as they chose with no chance for a remedy.

The wheels of the gods grind slowly but grind to powder.

Metal Beds

The entire frame of ornate metal beds should be washed periodically with hot soap or detergent suds and rinses. Allow to dry before re-making the bed.

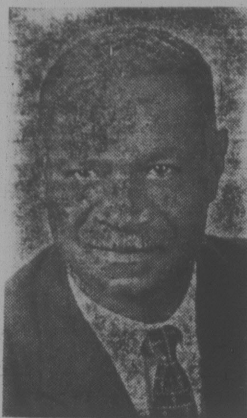

Ticklish Feet

If your youngsters kick and splash when you wash their ticklish feet, try using a well-sudsed sponge instead of a washcloth. Something in the texture seems to make sponges tickle-proof!

Chamberlain Signs With Warriors—to Get Record $30,000 Salary

Philadelphia.—Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, one of the tallest players in basketball, last week became the highest paid player in the history of the National Basketball Association when he signed a one-year contract for more than $30,000 with the Philadelphia Warriors.

Prior to Chamberlain's signing, Bob Cousy's reported $25,000 plus salary with the Boston Celtics was considered the highest pay for an NBA performer.

Chamberlain, who said his exact height is 7 feet 1-16th of an inch, earned some $67,000 with the Harlem Globetrotters last year and could have equalled that in 1959, but he decided to give up the role of clown for a place in big league basketball.

Three Reasons

Wilt stated that he was joining the Warriors for three reasons. "First, I've always wanted to play in the NBA. Secondly, it gives me a chance to play with my home town team and be home with my family and friends. My family wants it that way and last but not least, I have a good future in Philadelphia in other phases of life besides basketball.

HEALTH FOR ALL

How Not to Drown

It's not summer yet, in many places, but you can bet your money the kids in your family are counting the days till it comes. And what is a kid's idea of a heavenly summer? Easy. The chance to go swimming every day, of course.

So this is the time when parents ought to be thinking of what they can teach their youngsters—now, before summer starts—to keep them out of the clutches of that tragic and useless killer, summer drownings.

Swimming Ability

You give them swimming lessons, naturally. But there are other things. For instance, point out how easy it is to overestimate swimming ability. It's tempting to jump into a lake and start swimming straight out from shore. Youngsters sometimes forget that they have to swim back, too.

Teach them never to swim without a companion, preferably with a boat nearby. Don't swim too soon after a meal—a two-hour wait is not too long. Don't rely on water wings or an old inner tube if you're not ready for deep water—they have been known to fail.

Danger of Panic

Impress on your youngster the danger of panic—he can always float and rest if he is tiring dangerously. Muscle cramps can be handled, too—teach a boy or girl how to massage them away while staying up. Tell them to hang onto a boat if it overturns—not to try to swim ashore.

Rescuing swimmers in trouble is not as easy as it looks—and often the rescuer gets into trouble, too. If your child is not an expert swimmer with lifesaving training, teach him to help another swimmer with an oar, a rope, or a life preserver, instead of jumping in himself. Use a boat—that's the best way.

Get ready for summer by teaching your kids how not to drown!

really helped beat Ames because all the kids turned up in other events.

Baseball

Everybody has something to say about the Yankees being last so we might as well get in our licks. Now we see they have made a trade with their farm club, Kansas City. Our guess is that the Bronx men are too weathered. Most of the regulars are in business and doing all right.

The only hungry player is Elston Howard and he is really playing ball. The additions of a couple of hungry players will make a big difference.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

If the ensuing fist fights are half as hot and heavy as are the legal battles for the middleweight boxing championship, the boxing public better get set for a couple of Jim Dandies. The newest twist to the deal is that the challenger has refused to meet the champion. Never heard of that one before.

Track

It is very seldom we say I told you so, but we thought a while back that Tech and North with help from East might gang up and beat Ames, out of the state track title and that is just what happened. Davenport with Gayle Hopkins and Emmett Hoosman of Waterloo did their share by winning some firsts in the jumps. We didn't think Al Collier of North could beat that big Kreamer of Roosevelt in the 220 because he just couldn't keep his pace.

But the kid did alright in the relays as did Tech and East. That medley team that Tech broke up

Larry Doby Sold to Chisox in Cash Deal

Detroit, Mich.—Larry Doby, the first Negro player in the American League last week, was sold to the Chicago White Sox by the Detroit Tigers in a straight cash deal. The White Sox paid over the $20,000 waiver price—reportedly $30,000.

The 34-year-old outfielder started the season in left field, later he was moved to right, but when Harvey Kuenn returned after being sidelined by an injured elbow, he was put in right field and Doby was benched.

In 18 games, Doby failed to hit a home run. Doby is believed to be in the $25,000 to $30,000 a year bracket.
