Annual NAACP Reports 'Encouraging Year'

Says Segregationists Lost on Every Front

New York. — The advocates of "Massive resistance" to the Supreme Court's desegregation rulings "lost ground on every front" last year, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People asserts in its annual report for 1958 released here today by Roy Wilkins, the Association's executive secretary.

The 96-page booklet, entitled "Progress and portents," was published on the eve of the 50th annual NAACP convention here, July 13-19. It reviews the activities of the Association during 1958, evaluates the progress made in the area of civil rights, and projects a program of action for 1959.

Cites Decision

As indications of ground lost by the segregationists, the report cites the Supreme Court decision of Sept. 29, 1958, in the Little Rock case "re-affirming, amplifying and clarifying its historic 1954 ruling which banned segregation in public education"; the public reaction to the closing of schools in Little Rock and in Virginia; the revolution against the bombing of schools, churches and synagogues; and the election of two southern moderates — Senators Albert Gore of Tennessee and Ralph Yarborough of Texas — "over opponents committed to defiance of the United States Supreme Court's desegregation decrees."

Encouraging Year

For the NAACP itself, 1958 was "an encouraging year," the report states. "Membership and income figures reflected the upward trend of the Association. Despite continued exclusion from Alabama under a state court injunction and restrictive pressures in other southern states, the membership losses of 1957 were recouped and for the first time the Association's income from all sources exceeded $1,000,000.00, reaching a total of $1,522,282.30. The number of fully paid $500 life members amounted to 1,216 with an additional 4,000 partially paid life memberships."

Various chapters of the report deal with organizational progress and fund-raising activities, legal cases, political and legislative action, efforts to eliminate discrimination in housing, the economic status of the Negro and church support of the organization.

Tobias Cites Gains In Keynote Address

New York. — Despite remaining racial discriminations and obstacles there is "ample ground for optimism" based upon the progress made during the past half-century, Dr. Channing H. Tobias, chairman of the NAACP Board of Directors, declared in the keynote address delivered here tonight at the opening session of the Association's Golden Anniversary convention.

Also speaking at this session in the New York Coliseum was Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. The convention will continue through the week, closing with a mammoth rally in the Polo Grounds, Sunday afternoon, July 19.

"In this 50th year of our organization, we can take justifiable pride in the notable progress made towards elimination of some of the grosser manifestations of racial prejudice," Dr. Tobias said.

New National Policy

"The official national policy is now against the forced separation of American citizens on the irrelevant and irrational basis of race," Dr. Tobias continued.

"Fifty years ago, the national policy, as enunciated by the Supreme Court in 1896, was that separate facilities and services, if 'equal' were constitutional," he said.

"Largely because of the success of our activities," the NAACP officer said, "life for the Negro in America today is far different from what it was in 1909."

Jumping in Bed With White Nets Man 99 Years

Decatur, Ala. — Willie James Sykes was sentenced here to 99 years for the night-time burglary of an inhabited dwelling, a capital offense in Alabama.

Sykes was accosted of breaking into the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. James Crosswhite last August and of getting into bed with the woman and her husband.

Mrs. Crosswhite testified that Sykes awoke her, putting "his arm around me and hugging me." She said she thought it was her husband. The husband awakened and chased the intruder. Sykes was packed up 15 minutes later.

Three Await Grand Jury Action; in Jail For Armed Robberies

A series of armed robberies that have plagued a Des Moines service station during the past eight months was apparently cleared up last week with the arrest of three local youths.

Following arraignment before Municipal Judge Harry B. Grund Thursday, July 9 on armed robbery charges, they were ordered held in jail after failure to post $25,000 bond.

Plead Innocent

The three, who pleaded innocent to the charges, gave their names and addresses as LaVerne (Sonny) Greenfield, 19, of 1025 12th Street; John LeRoy Walker, 19, of 857 1/2 17th Street; and Michael Gage Lewis, 17, of 1119 8th Street.

They were arrested in connection with a series of armed robberies at the R & S Service Station, 800 University Avenue, over a period of the last eight months. Police said all three have made signed statements admitting their part in at least one or more of six holdups at the station.

Iron-Lung Patient Moved to Iowa City

Mrs. John Wesley, a 27-year-old polio patient was transferred from Broadlawn General hospital to University hospitals at Iowa City because doctors decided that facilities at the latter were better suited for treatment of her illness.

A temporary problem of how to transfer her without taking her from the iron lung to which she is confined was solved when an appeal for help from the National

Former Waterloo, Iowa Man Asks Help for GI Fathered Children in West Germany

An American Negro and Iowa native is founder and leader of a unique organization in Germany. He is Al Hoosman and he was born and reared in Waterloo, Ia. The organization is known as H.F.E.K., of "Hilfe für Farbige und Elternlose Kinder" ((Help for Colored and Parentless Children). It celebrated its first anniversary Apr. 19, 1959.

Having lived in Germany nine years Hoosman has been closely associated with the growing problem facing Germany in providing welfare for between 80,000 and 100,000 American fathered children. These children fall in the age bracket of from new born to 13 years old. The probability is very likely that one-third of this number are fathered by Negro servicemen and often referred to as "brown babies."

Contributions

"H.F.E.K. is a welfare organization that can survive and complete its set goal only through contributions and grants by interested and cooperative people, organizations, institutions and foundations," said Hoosman.

"Send clothes, food, money and any kind of assistance not for any particular child but for them all," he emphasized. "Our plans and any GI-fathered child to have and cherish as his very own for his complete lifetime."

Negro Status

"Since the end of slavery and for understandable reasons the Negro has usually been the one receiving aid and help from the white man," Hoosman continued. "Naturally, his economical status was nil for so many years. However, today, the Foundation, which helps polio victims, was answered July 9 by the 734th ordinance battalion, of the Iowa national guard.

Residents Urged to Take Anti-Polio Shots; Over 100,000 Now Vaccinated

Des Moines polio epidemic — the worst in the nation — continued to climb with almost automatic increase of two to four cases daily. Wednesday morning the number of cases totaled 80 in Polk County with 70 in Des Moines.

This compares with only 73 polio cases in the entire state in all of 1958. Of that almost half are Negro victims. It has been noted that the largest incidence has been among Negroes and persons in the low income bracket. Last week for the first time since the polio hit the Des Moines area about a month ago — more new cases were reported outside Polk county than in Polk County.

Urges Shots

In the face of the increasing polio cases health authorities continued to urge residents to get their anti-polio vaccinations in sequence. Dr. Jonas Salk, discoverer of the Salk vaccine, when reached by phone at his Pittsburgh home by a local daily, reiterated his faith in the effectiveness of the vaccine and also urged

Des Moines residents to take advantage of the shots.

Effectiveness

Dr. James F. Speers, Des Moines-Polk County health director, said a re-calculation of the effectiveness of Salk shots shows them to be from 82 to 97 per cent effective against paralytic polio. The new studies show one shot to be 82 per cent effective, two shots 84 per cent, three shots 92 per cent and four shots 97 per cent, he said. The effectiveness studies are based on a survey of 1958 vaccinations in Polk County, plus vaccinations since then and cases reported this year.

100,000 Shots

More than 100,000 polio shots have been given in Polk County since

Animosity Rises over Tennis Club vs. Bunche

(Burglund resigned his position Tuesday as the club issued a statement saying that all applications for memberships would be "regarded, irrespective of race, color or creed.")

New York City. — (CNS) — Now that Mayor Wagner has returned from his Russian tour, he expects to view at once the facts of the charges that the West Side Tennis Club is prejudiced and refused membership to Ralph J. Bunche and his son, Ralph Jr. because they are Negroes. Mayor Wagner is a great admirer of Dr. Bunche and has promised "a thorough investigation."

Honorary Member

In an attempt to show Dr. Bunche the tennis world's respect for him and their embarrassment at the incident, the Town Tennis Club, with memberships of millionaires, elected the famed UN Undersecretary to honorary membership.

George Agutter, tennis instructor at the West Side Club, hung fast to his story that he merely asked young Ralph to join the club because he found him a good pupil. He insists he did not know the youngster, 15, was a Negro. "It never occurred to me," he said, "I honestly didn't know."

Dr. BUNCHE

fred Burglund, President of West Side, who is quoted as having told Dr. Bunche he and his son were not eligible because of their race, has made no further comments, on advice of his lawyer.

Ex-slave, 105, Getting Education

Tampa, Fla.—To James Williams, former slave born in Louisville, Ky., 105 years ago, an education is important, even if it must be gotten late in life.

Williams who didn't marry until he was 60 and who took his first drink at 77, enrolled in a twice-a-week night class at Blake center recently because he wants to learn the fundamentals of education.

"All I want to do is learn to read and write," he said. "By the time I get to that, I'll be ready to die anyway."

He is confident if he had started school younger, he could have gone right on up through high school and college. He outdates his teacher by some 80 years.

Williams, spry for his age, was born Aug. 31, 1854.

Proof of her oratorical abilities is the fact that she won first place for the third consecutive year in the annual Sunday School and B.T.U. Congress oratorical contest, this year held at Davenport, Ia. She will not go onto the regional because none is being held this year. Last year she advanced to the regionals in Omaha, Neb., but did not make the finals there.

Coaches

Her subject this year was, "Christian Faith and World Peace." Her coaches were Atty. Henry T. McKnight, superintendent of the Sunday School at Corinthian Baptist; the church she represented, and her sister, Mrs. Sandra Mae Bobbins.

At Corinthian she is a member of the Red Circle girls and sometimes teaches and helps out in any of the Sunday School classes where she happens to be needed.

CHILD'S BEHAVIOUR

Because of the seriousness of the problem of juvenile delinquency to individuals and to communities, many families are greatly concerned about whether their own children are on the road to delinquency. If their children do some of the things that delinquent children have done, they ask, does this mean their children are delinquent, too?

Some Rules
Unfortunately, we have no easy, short or simply ways of predicting the answer to this question. There are, however, some rules of thumb that can help in understanding the possible meanings of such behavior to the child.

Much research supports what our own experience tells us—that many people engage in youthful misbehavior without becoming criminal or delinquent. Some of us can actually say that the lessons we learned from the consequences of our own escapades were valuable guides to improved conduct.

This research does not suggest that young people's unacceptable behavior should be ignored; it does indicate that such behavior can only be understood in the context of interpersonal relationships within which it occurs.

Severe Disturbances
Other studies of juvenile delinquents indicate that their behavior frequently comes from a background of severe disturbances in relationships with other people. Often these disturbances were made apparent in many other avenues than the delinquent behavior, and often were discernible over a long period of time.

These findings suggest that parents can examine the general adequacy of their children's relationships with other people. If these relationships are reasonably satisfactory, the chances of improvement

Requirements for Becoming a Model

by Genevieve Young

I have received many inquiries about the necessary requirements to become a successful model. The picture of flawless perfection a model presents is no accident.

Being a model takes painstaking work and rigid self-control. Well-proportioned bone structure is only the beginning. It takes real stamina to adhere to the strict diet and exercise necessary to develop and maintain your best figure proportions.

Walking, standing or sitting, a model must present a uniformly perfect picture. This requires hours of practice. Never allow yourself to have poor posture, even in private.

A model must become a make-up artist, trained in the careful selection and application of cosmetics to enhance the color tones of skin and clothes. The ideal "look" today is called the "natural look." However, it requires expert skill to achieve the perfect balance between the washed-out look of too little make-up and the artificiality of too much.

Your hair is always your crown—coax it into looking as if you have just come from the stylist, shining clean and perfectly groomed. The use of the proper type hair dressing will keep it soft, smooth, and easy-to-manage.

There are many excellent schools in our country offering self-improvement courses, or the more exacting training required to be a professional model. If you desire to be a model and are willing to follow the never-to-be-broken rules, I suggest you talk or write to the student counselor at the school nearest you.

Miss Dorothea Towles, internationally recognized model and fashion authority, is now Beauty Consultant and Educational Director for Royal Crown Hair Dressing and Beauty Products.

Whether you long to become a professional model or are happy as a housewife, career woman or school girl, the above basic rules can be an asset to you in appearing more beautiful always!

Miss Young will answer your letters on "Beauty problems." Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Miss Genevieve Young, R. C. Beauty Institute, P. O. Box 2841, Memphis 2, Tenn.

Venita Hawthorne Feted on 4th Birthday

Venita Hawthorne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hawthorne, Jr., of 1223-10th Street was feted on her fourth birthday, Wednesday, July 8, with an informal party.

Little neighboring friends sharing the fun and refreshments were Milo Woods, Mary Waggoner, Eddie and Edna Seales, Dawn, Alvin, Jr., and Lynelle Simmons, and her two brothers Victor and Vance Hawthorne.

This is the time of year when residents are busy entertaining incoming vacationers or planning one of their own or perhaps have just returned from visiting relatives and friends in neighboring or far-away states. Many local residents are combining a vacation by following the national convention circuit either as a delegate or as a visitor. Some entrain or go by plane while others take in a more leisurely trip of fishing trips to Iowa and Minnesota lakes, while others venture as far as Canada in search of the "Big Ones."

A group of Des Moines professional and business men, including Attorneys, J. B. Morris, Jr., W. Lawrence Oliver and others made a trip to Canada several weeks ago on a fishing jaunt.

Vivacious, Wallie Glanton, who is boasting a very becoming henna red hairdo, started her reign as president of the Des Moines chapter of Links, Inc., by officially attending the 11th annual Assembly of the national organization in Chicago, Ill. She was accompanied by her husband, Judge Luther Glanton, Jr. Mrs. Glanton reported the convention schedule was packed so much so that she had no free time to visit with her father and brother and his family who was in the Windy City and had to "take" off during a combined business-social event to spend several hours with them.

Mrs. Alta Herndon, another of Des Moines active club women, attended the Links' assembly accompanied by her husband, Mr. Bonnie Herndon, and after returned for a few days at home, took off again for another convention, this time, the 50th annual session of the NAACP in New York City being held there this week.

Mrs. Herndon, and Mrs. Clara Bayles, an official delegate, entrained Sunday for the Big City. They were accompanied by delegates from the Youth council, Misses Irene Hays and Ada Triplett. Another official delegate, Mrs. Georgine Morris, left

Des Moines by plane Sunday afternoon for the New York city convention.

James Harris took his family with him and they made the trip by car. He and his wife are officially attending the convention, also. He is advisor to the Youth council.

When we returned from our vacation there was a communication on our desk from Germany addressed to Des Moines Ia., in care of Leading Negro press of your City. A notation below the "address" also read, "Attention Post Office! please forward as requested above. Thank you."

The communication was from a former Waterloo man, Al Hoosman. He is founder of H.F.E.K. "Hilfe für Farbige und Elitenlose Kinder." (Help for Colored and Parentless Children.) (See story front page.)

Attached to the news release was a postscript by Hoosman which read: "A shot in the dark. By golly time sure flies: Twenty years ago when I was last in Des Moines I knew a family very well. The son whom I knew along with several sisters was Edward Eves—could you possibly inform me as to where his whereabouts might be, or of one of the sisters? The father was a minister there long years ago. Dead now I'm sure."

"In those years gone by I was called 'Austin' or 'Austy'. I knew your town so well."

He added, before leaving Waterloo in the late 30's he was an often visitor to Des Moines and had many other friends there. Any remembering he would be glad to have a line from.

Contributors or friends were asked to write to: HAFKE Acc't. 5140 Amexen, Munich, Germany.

While pursuing the Minneapolis Spokesman came across these items: Called To Iowa: Mrs. Otto Howelton, 822 Elwood Av. N. and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Valdez and children were called to Des Moines because of the critical illness of Mrs. Howelton's granddaughter, Tyanna Valdez, who was stricken with polio. Tyanna is still hospitalized, but is when the overwhelming heat brought out a record audience to the cool open-air Carter Barron Amphitheatre in Washington, D. C. . . but it brought out the bugs too—and one particular little insect crept right down Ella's throat as she warbled and being a real trouper—she tried her best to continue . . . Nothing could save the song but a cup of water which Nelson Riddle, the orchestra leader, finally was able to get for her . . . Before the water came, Ella coughed and looked so miserable the audience really felt sorry for her . . . All was well then, but getting off on a bad foot never let her take command as she always does . . . Singing many favorites, Ella was glad when a break came and the Oscar Peterson Trio took over . . . This is a wonderful group led by Oscar who has a terrific touch on the piano and the audience really got their money's worth—even if they did have to fight the insects.

New York City... (CNS)—ELLA AND THE BUG... It all began

The Rev. Leroy Patterson, uncle of the bride, gave her in marriage. She wore a floor-length white gown of Chantilly lace and bridal satin over taffeta, fashioned with short sleeves, and a portrait neckline. An inset of satin in the bodice extended to a flowing panel in the back. A taria of lace studded with pearls and iridescent sequins held her fingertip veil of French illusion. She carried a white Bible with red roses and sprays of rosebuds.

Attendants

Miss Sandi Bailey, sister of the bridegroom, was the honor attendant and Miss Shirley Ann Patterson was bridesmaid. Miss Bailey was attired in a ballerina-length gown of white nylon net over tiers of ruffled tulle, featuring a rose pink cummerbund. She wore a rose tulle headpiece and carried a bouquet of rose pink carnations.

Miss Patterson wore a similarly styled dress of mint green nylon-net over taffeta and rows of ruffled tulle. Her mint green headpiece was of tulle and she carried an arrangement of carnations.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Banks wore a street-length dress of aqua nylon chiffon with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a floral printed dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Best Man

Charles K. Banks, brother of the bride, served as best man. Ushers were Granville Williams of Mason City, cousin of the bridegroom, and Robert White, Jr.

Reception

A reception was held after the ceremony in the community room of the YMCA. The bridal table was covered with an Italian imported linen cloth and centered with a two-tiered wedding cake decorated with rose buds and wedding bells. On each side of the cake were double candelabra with white candles. Guests were served from a table decorated with bouquets of baby breath and pink carnations.

Hostesses

Mrs. Leroy Patterson was the reception hostess, assisted by Mrs. Lettie Thompson and Mrs. Jeannette Gates. Mrs. Robert White, Sr., circulated the guest book and caring for the gifts were Miss Cora Lee Patterson and Mrs. Frank Bailey, Sr. Mrs. Al Peters and Miss Adele Thompson poured.

After a wedding trip trip to Minneapolis, Minn., the bride will reside in Fort Dodge until she can join her husband, who is stationed with the air force at Great Falls, Mont.

WORRYING ABOUT
PHONY IDEAS

Last week, the country was shocked to learn that Dr. Ralph Bunche and his son had been denied membership in the West Side Tennis Club of New York which its president, Wilfred Burglund announced, does not admit Negroes and Jews to membership.

While the evidence shows that it is a private club and has a right to admit whom it chooses, the fact that National Tennis Matches are held there and Negroes have competed as well as the statue of Dr. Bunche, certainly shocked the public. The unfavorable publicity has done the organization no good, Burglund has since resigned.

This week more than 40 fashion editors protested a fashion show intended for American national exhibition in Moscow which included family scenes in which whites and Negroes appeared.

The more than 40 editors signed a petition that declared: "We, the American fashion press, protest the presentation of American fashions to Moscow as not being representative of the American way of life."

One editor said the following scenes were protested by the editors as not typical of the average American family:

A wedding with a Negro bride and groom and white attendants; a wedding with a white bride and groom and Negro attendants; a barbecue at a private home at which some of the guests were Negroes, and a teen-age fashion skit in which boys wore black leather jackets.

Maybe the scenes are not typical but they occur in many instances and in many places today.

Deputy Prime Minister Kozlov of Russia, on his tour of New York City, took a subway ride Monday. He was pictured in the daily press visiting with a Negro passenger, and remarked that the color of her skin was similar to that of Mrs. Nastudinova, wife of the chairman of the Presidium of the supreme council of the Uzbek Republic in Soviet Russia.

On the other hand, a tremendous amount of energy is being spent to keep the races apart as a precaution against intermarriage. Judging from the color of many people in America, the job is not being successful.

Americans are exerting a great amount of energy trying to keep the Negro separate and apart from white people; from raising his standard of living—energy which might be better directed toward competing with Russia in the sciences, with foreign industrial advancement, with winning other nations for Democracy.

Western diplomats, including Americans and headed by Secretary of State Herter, are in Geneva, Switzerland sparring with Russia in an effort to settle the cold war. And, admittedly Russia started out putting extreme pressure on our ministers and keeps it there day after day. That pressure is in line with the campaign Russia carries on over the world to win the hearts of men.

But we, a democracy, continue to expend energy which might well be used to advance the overall picture of American life and gain the friendship of some of the countries which are spending our money and at the same time looking down their noses at us.

SHAME ON SENATE
PROCEDURES

The U. S. Senate is often spoken of as the greatest deliberative body in the world. And, admittedly, over the years, some great statesmen have served in the Senate who did much to earn that reputation for the body.

Several civil rights bills have been introduced in the Senate and referred to the Judiciary committee of which Senator Eastland, Democrat of Mississippi, is the chairman. He holds the post because of his seniority on the committee.

In 1957, he refused to hold a meeting to consider the civil rights bill and it got before the body by a vote to bypass the committee.

The same situation exists today. Most senators favor some new civil rights legislation during this session but it cannot be had unless Senator Eastland's committee is bypassed again.

Some things can be great and at the same time contain some very undesirable angles to their operation. This situation presents one of the weaknesses of chairmanship succession of Senate committees.

Tom Hawkins Signs
With Minneapolis

Minneapolis, Minn.—Notre Dame's All-American Tom Hawkins last week signed a contract to play with the Minneapolis Lakers of the National Basketball Association for the 1959-60 cage season.

The former Irish basketball captain was the top draft choice of the Lakers following the 1958-59 campaign.

Reports were given that Hawkins had originally asked for $20,000, but it was assumed that the contract terms were far less.

We watched the Hilltop-Hawkeye club tennis matches last week and it made us a bit put out. These were the same old veterans, Chet Williamson, Everett Mays, Louis Miles, aided by Phil Tindrell, a newcomer named Manning and Marshall Knox. But take Williamson and Mays out of the picture and there isn't much of a picture.

The youngsters who ought to be just about ripe for beginning play in the men's singles are sitting on the sidelines telling the girls how good they used to be. The fact is that none of them was a ball of fire although they had great potentiality and had they really worked at the game could have become pretty good.

Moving Spirit

Of course, Mrs. Esther Myers, who is now the moving spirit behind tennis, did her part. Mrs. Myers is an example of what we mean by working at the game. She literally herself a tennis player until now she ranks among the first half dozen women players in the state. The other kids could do it, too.

As we watched Mays and Williamson battle through their losing efforts we almost wanted to get out there and help them. Phil Tindrell had quite a day and Marshall Knox won the only men's singles match. Manning is a new player around here who will improve with work.

Young Girls

Mrs. Myers beamed with pride at the performance of her thirteen and under girls, Phyllis Sharpe, Armellia Bell and Tony Holmes. The first two

HEALTH FOR ALL

Headaches Are No Strangers

Is there anybody you know who has never had a headache? Such people are hard to find. Some of us get them rarely, some frequently. Eight out of a hundred Americans get headaches regularly. Almost nobody can say headache is a stranger. You might get an occasional headache from almost any upset—a cold, sinus trouble, a toothache, eye-strain, an upset stomach, lack of sleep, bad dreams, not eating, drinking too much, stuffy rooms, sticky weather, noise, and just general confusion. For relief, try the old standby—Aspirin, coffee, and fresh air.

Tension

The headache unit at Montefiore Hospital in New York likes to call the usual kind of headache "tension headache." It is tied in, the New York doctors say, with constant or periodic emotional conflict. Aspirin will help, and so will any method of relaxing the muscles, such as massage, hot packs, or soaking in a warm tub. But for prevention, working out your emotional problems with your family doctor is recommended. Formal psychotherapy is generally not necessary.

Hilltop Tennis-Loses to Hawkeyes 10-5 Sunday

In an Iowa Tennis Association League match at Good Park Sunday, the Hawkeye defeated the Hilltop 10-5. Marshall Knox was the only winner in men's singles. He defeated Erle Fitz in a two hour marathon 6-3, 3-6, 8-6. Chet Williamson, Everett Mays, Leon Mann and Louis Miles were losers in men's singles. Phillip Tindrell won by default. Mays and Williamson, Knox and Tindrell were defeated in doubles. Mann and Warren Weathers won by default.

In women's singles Esther Myers of the Hilltop defeated Robert Lavine while Evanette Mays lost to Teddy Lovejoy. Bruce Sharp lost in boys singles, Lloyd Jones of the Hilltop won by default.

In extra matches which do not count in league scoring, Phyllis Sharp and Armiller Bell of the Hilltop won while Tony Holmes lost. Next matches Newton at Good Park July 19th.

Her specialties are torch numbers . . . just outlasted their opponents and came in with wins. Tony Holmes got a little disgusted with herself but her opponent was probably the best coached and most experienced of the three girls. So she really shouldn't feel badly about losing. She simply has to keep hustling a little harder on each shot.

But Phyllis and the little Bell girl had all the hustle and fight they needed. It was just that, that won for them. They may all develop into fine players if the three of them keep after the game. Bruce Sharp has the stuff to become a fine player as soon as he overcomes his habit of looking on the courts. But, it was really quite a day.

Migraine

Another 5 or 10 out of a hundred headaches are migraine or "sick headaches." A migraine headache may begin with a dull or tired feeling, irritability, and difficulty in concentration. There may be a dizzying flash and nausea or actual vomiting. Often the only thing to do is to lie down. Aspirin does not help; much stronger remedies are usually prescribed.

Disease

More than half the migraine sufferers are women. The problem has been linked with their emotional characteristics. Such women may be meticulous, compulsive, perfectionists; they react poorly to stress. But many women have also found some connection between migraine and their menstrual cycle.

Pain in the head may sometimes mean serious disease. All headaches mean time out from work and fun. If they persist, see your family doctor. Meanwhile, try to modify your day-to-day living to lessen your tension.

LAND OF NO RETURN

Through-out the years, the loved ones wait,
For signs from out of space . . .
A token from the ones who've gone;
To meet Him face to face . . .
When people know they're going on—
From life—through unto death,
Some promise they will send word back—
Almost with their last breath . . .
Many famous names have gone—
And they said before they died . . .
A message they would send on back,
When they reached the other side . . .
They died and went away, we know,
They've sent no sign nor word.
May be they tried—but it didn't show.

Sugar Ray
Still Trying

Trenton, N. J.—Sugar Ray Robinson is still trying to get Carmen Basilio in the ring for a third match between the two fighters.

Following a recent meeting in nearby Elizabeth, N. J., between State Athletic Commissioner Joseph E. Walker and Robinson, Walker said he would approve a middleweight title bout between Ray and Carmen, if an offer was made to Basilio.

And no voices have we heard!!!
Despite all tries—since tests began—
The only fact we learn; . . .
That God alone—can pass at will, . . .
From the LAND OF NO RETURN.

Laugh Lines

The president of a department store was walking through a packing room on an informal inspection tour and he saw a youth lounging on a box, whistling cheerfully.

"Look here, my man, how much are you paid a week?"
"Ten dollars, sir," was the reply.
"Here's a weeks pay, you loafer. You're fired!"

A little later the president met the foreman and asked him: "When did we hire that boy I just fired?"

"We never hired him, sir," was the answer, "He just brought a package from another firm and was waiting to take a letter back with him."
