Omaha Club Hits Racial Bias in Public Schools

Claims Money, Law and Order Values Are Forcing Southern Compromises

Denies Sale of Pittsburgh Courier

New York—Mrs. Robert L. Vann, treasurer of the Pittsburgh Courier, Thursday denied that the newspaper had been sold to anyone.

An item appearing in a New York daily newspaper column said the paper had been sold to S. B. Fuller, head of Fuller Cosmetics company. Mrs. Vann said the paper has not been sold and that she has no intention of selling it. If and when it is sold, she said, there will be an announcement by the Pittsburgh Courier Publishing company.

Negro Teachers Are Kept in Five Schools in Own Racial Ghetto

Omaha, Nebr.—Representatives of the Omaha Urban League, the Omaha School Board and the Omaha De Portes club were scheduled to discuss charges of discrimination against teachers in the Omaha public schools. The initial charge of bias was made by the De Portes club.

Dr. Harry Burke, Superintendent of the Omaha Public Schools in a televised interview July 20 was quoted as answering, "his teachers whether white or Negro are placed according to their ability to handle the job."

Others Satisfied?

He added, "Other Negro groups in this city have declared they are satisfied with his record."

During the 1956-57 school year a survey made by the Omaha Urban League revealed that Omaha had 1350 public school teachers. Thirty-seven were Negroes confined to teaching in five elementary schools located in an area of the city inhabited predominantly by Negroes.

With Degrees

A follow up survey the same year by the League revealed that out of 30 full-time and 3 substitute teachers in the public schools, 22 held M.A. degrees, 6 were working toward M.A. degrees, and 4 were doing work toward Ph.D. degrees.

Fifty-four Negro graduates of accredited colleges were reported as having applied for teaching positions in the Omaha school system within the last five years without being hired. Some of the schools from which these applicants graduated were: the University of Omaha, the University of Nebraska, Tulsa University, Yale University, Paris Conservatory (France), Columbia University, and Drake University.

disease struck 20 Polk county residents. There were 18 more new cases the following week which ended July 4. In contrast, only two new polio cases have been confirmed so far in patients who became ill last week. Nine Polk county residents contracted polio the previous week.

In addition the demand for Salk vaccine shots has fallen off so much that the health department is cancelling its Saturday morning vaccination clinics and will cut back to a half-day schedule next week, the health director said.

Into September

"We will probably continue to have a case here and there into September," said Dr. James F. Speers, city-county health director. "But we are getting close to the end on the large numbers of cases, unless a new outbreak occurs in outlying Polk county areas that have not been hit. That, of course is something we can't predict."

Worst Week

The worst week during the epidemic occurred June 20-27 when the

JOINS DEMOCRATS' 750 CLUB

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler (left) greets Harvey Johnson, Cleveland attorney, who has just joined the Party's 750 Club, at Party Relations Conference in Washington, D.C. earlier this month.

Johnson, who attended the two-day conference of more than 100 Negro and white Democratic leaders, became a 750 Club member with his contribution of $1,000 to the National Party. Goal of the Club, which now has 326 members, is to obtain $1,000 each from 750 Democrats to pay off the Party's deficit. 750 Club members are entitled to two tickets to the National Convention with preferred seats in a 750 Club section of the Sports Arena in Los Angeles, admission to Clubrooms reserved for members during the convention, and other special convention arrangements.

Family of Five Evicted from Home Condemned by Health Officials as 'Unfit, Filthy'

Failure to heed two previous warnings by health authorities to "clean the place up" resulted in a court-order eviction of a mother and her three children last week.

Mrs. Almada Ellis, 40, and her three children were evicted from their home at 1179 13th street Thursday afternoon and the house was condemned as a health menace.

The 16-year-old girl has an I.Q. of 109 but has had a poor school attendance record (absent 18 days in three months) has different mannerisms and dress and has a difficult time adjusting socially. The 13 year-old boy has an I.Q. of 78 and has a poor attendance record at school.

When health officers appeared at her door last week, Mrs. Ellis, who reportedly allowed no one to enter, was finally coaxed to open the door.

"I don't know what this is all about," Mrs. Ellis said. "I've complied with the authorities and they come and take me away like ruffians."

Father

Her husband, Howard Ellis, 53, returned home from his job as hotel porter just as the Ellis children were being taken away by sheriff's deputies and juvenile court officers.

"They told me to fix this place up, but we planned to move anyway," he said.

Officials said they are contemplating the filing of charges of "wanton neglect" or contributing to the delinquency of minors against Ellis.

Sgt. Otis Banks Honored by NAACP

At the regular monthly meeting of the Des Moines branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Tuesday evening at Wilkie House, M/Sgt. Otis Banks, Jr., of 953 17th street was awarded a wallet for five years of service to the local chapter.

Sgt. Banks, who has served as chairman of the veterans committee and on the executive board, is being transferred to Fort Riley, Kans.

Gordon Kihls, first vice president of the branch, presided. The next meeting will be held Aug. 23 when Mrs. Clara Bayles, president, will report on the 50th NAACP National convention she recently attended in New York, N. Y.

Children Behavior

Juvenile court officers under Carl Parks investigated the family and found: The 9 year-old girl has never been to school, doesn't talk, is poorly dressed and would jump on a couch and utter unintelligible sounds.

Manning Johnson Buried in California

San Bernadino, Calif.—Manning Johnson, former avowed communist who later became an F.B.I. agent, was buried after a military funeral here July 24. He died of a heart attack July 2. Interment was delayed because it needed consent from his wife, Mrs. Mae Johnson of New York, N. Y.

A native of Washington, D. C. Johnson joined the Communist party in the thirties and became a party organizer in Buffalo, N. Y. Later he expressed disillusionment and tried to quit the party. But he was

NEWS In A Nutshell

Accra, Ghana—A bust of Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, made by the Italian sculptor Cataudella, was unveiled in the Ghana High Commission in London by the minister of external affairs, Ako Adjei. "We are not merely honoring Kwame Nkrumah, the man," he said, "but the spirit of the new Africa."

New York, N. Y.—Mrs. Aretha B. McKinley of New York City has been appointed national director of the American Council on Human Rights which maintains offices in Washington, D. C.

East St. Louis, Ill.—Frank Freeman, an ex-slave who says he is 106 years old, was married for the third time to a 39-year-old woman, the former Ruth Davis.

Knox County, Tenn.—Segregationist John Kasper last week entered Knox county jail to await transfer to a federal prison where he will serve a six month sentence for contempt of court. It was his second conviction on a charge of interfering with school integration at Clinton, Tenn.

New York—Dr. Gardner C. Taylor, pastor and President of the New York Protestant Council flew to Australia Monday from Idlewild Airport on a two-months trip which will take him around the world.

Pine Bluff, Ark.—Cleon Flowers, Jr., 15, admitted to police that he made "harrassment" phone calls to a white girl, also 15. He was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to six months in jail. The latter was later suspended.

Appleton, Wis.—William Van Linn, 23, sentenced to two years probation for beating his wife, told the court he did it because she wouldn't bake him a cake. "Bakery cakes aren't as good as my wife's homemade ones," he said.

New York—Josh White, internationally known folk song artist, was among the 112 passengers miraculously saved from a fiery death at Idlewild airport recently. The Pan American jet airliner lost part of its landing gear and the pilot circled four hours before making a safe belly landing.

Raleigh, N. C.—Ralph Lee Betts, 36-year-old white ex-convict who was convicted for raping an 11 year-old Negro girl, was sentenced last week to life imprisonment. An all-white jury recommended mercy when giving the verdict.

Columbus, Miss.—Justice of the Peace M. C. Edward sentenced two white men to jail recently for seeking service in a Negro cafe.

persuaded to remain a member by the federal bureau of investigation, which used him as an undercover agent.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Most Southerners prefer several things to segregation—money, law and order, and the maintenance of their reputation for good manners—and these things are bringing in direct pressure on Southerners to accept integration.

So says Dr. Howard Zinn, history department head at Spelman College, a Negro women's college of the Atlanta, (Ga.) University Center. Writing in the August issue of Harper's Magazine, Dr. Zinn says:

Isolation

"Any pollster, any white Southerner, or any Negro will tell you that white Southerners are overwhelmingly for segregation if the question is put to them in isolation. What is often overlooked, however, is that, like everyone else, the white Southerners cherish a large number of values; that these values are arranged roughly and unconsciously on a kind of ladder of importance; and that although the Southerner may not consciously acknowledge it, segregation is scarcely ever at the top."

Dr. Zinn names these examples of the values which white Southerners may consider more precious than continued segregation:

Economic Boycott

The power of the boycott, directed against the bus companies in Montgomery, and the white tradesmen of Tuskegee, "needs no elaboration." Also, a white plumbing contractor will hire a Negro helper, and sit beside him on the front seat of his truck rather than hire a white helper and pay ten dollars more per week. Too, Negroes are respected customers in the stores of the Deep South, and white and Negroes stand on the same lines in supermarkets, to handle the same food, encounter for the most part the same courteous service which is a special pride of the South.

Law and Order

Even in the most flagrant cases of violent opposition to integration—Little Rock, Clinton, the Nashville school dynamiting, the Autherine Lucy affair—only a small minority of Southerners has preferred violence to quiet if unhappy acceptance. There are still Southerners who talk in terms of "last ditch resistance." But greater numbers are succumbing to the doctrine of inevitability. Many who talk uncompromisingly withdraw in silence when the time comes actually to defy the laws.

Good Manners

Many Northerners have noted with surprise a phenomenon which the South takes for granted: a vociferous segregationist, in personal contact with a Negro, can often be gentle and courteous. As the Negro dares to appear in places and situations where he has never been, the courtesy will face a genuine test for the first time.

And in many cases the individual white, facing a situation where he must violate ordinary rules of courtesy in order to defend racial separation, will maintain his conduct, at the cost of permitting a breach in racial tradition.

Political power is another value that may prove more important than segregation at least so far as Southern leaders are concerned, wrote Dr. Zinn. So long as few Negroes voted southern politicians could successfully exploit the race issue. But the point where political power may depend more on concessions to the Negro.

Integrated Schools

Now, to many southern parents, the education of their children is beginning to seem more important than the maintenance of segregation. The petitions, circulated in Little Rock, the placards borne in Virginia, were only the advance signs, he said.

It is possible that we have come to a turning point in the evolution of the integration controversy, he stated.

African Leader Criticizes Negro Press, NAACP for Lesser Role in World Affairs

Chicago, Ill.—Critical of the American Negro press and the NAACP for not taking a more active role in international affairs, Tom Mboya, Africa's brilliant young nationalist outlines in the August issue of Ebony Magazine a program that he feels will put United States Negroes in the vanguard of the global struggle for freedom and brotherhood.

"The time has come," says the chairman of the All-African Peoples Conference, in an exclusive article called, "Message from Mboya," when we must do missionary work. In this, the colored people in this country have a large part to play to exerting their influence, by winning for themselves freedom, liberty and equality, by giving the world the moral leadership it needs."

Initiative

Deeply proud of his dark good looks, the 28-year old Mboya says the biggest hurdle is not the white man or the colonial powers. "Our major struggle is with ourselves," he says. "We must retain the initiative, we must have self-respect. I consider this basic in our struggle."

According to Ebony, Mboya condemns the use of hair-straighteners and skin-whiteners by American Negroes. Their use, he says, betrays an inner question of personal worth, a sense of shame and a feeling of inferiority. However, he points out that the problem is not peculiar to American Negroes. He says he tells his own followers in Africa what Dr. J. E. K. Aggrey, the great educator said: "If I could be blacker, nothing would give me more pleasure."

Victimized

Mboya advises the American Negroes "not to fall victims of vindictive action by seeking revenge on other peoples or by fighting racism with racism, or by seeking to lower ourselves to the level of any of the white races. The moment we fall victim to vindictiveness—and there is a real temptation in this particular case—we impair our effectiveness."

The task ahead, says Mboya in Ebony, requires a concerted effort. There can be no room for little personal grievances and jealousy or other and probably more noble aspect ambition. Mboya says there is, an of the struggle rarely mentioned.

Ridding World

"This is inherent in any battles we win" he says. "We shall have contributed in a large measure to ridding the world of un-Christian, inhuman and undemocratic practices. We shall also have served the white man and colonial powers by saving them from a sin against mankind. Our struggle is therefore doubly blessed and therefore all the more justifiable."

Angel Cream Loaf

Slice a bar angel food cake from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department into three even layers. Cut one pint of slightly softened chocolate ice cream and one pint of strawberry ice cream into four even slices each. Place one layer of cake on plate. Arrange slices of the chocolate ice cream on top. Add another layer of cake and arrange slices of strawberry ice cream on top. Cover with top layer of cake. Bar may then be cut into two smaller portions, wrapped securely in foil and stored in the freezer until ready to serve.

Orange Angel Wedges

Cut away about one-inch from the center of a round angel food cake from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department. Pack solidly with slightly softened orange ice. Place in freezer until serving time, or serve immediately. Cut cake into wedges.

HARRY BELAFONTE

Belafonte—in our opinion—it's Harry . . . Anyone who remembers the immortal original cast with Anne Brown (now living in Europe), Todd Duncan, the late Ruby Elzy and Avon Long will find Harry's portrayal of "Porgy" left lacking . . . Strictly a ballad singer, Harry has no feeling for this sort of thing—and putting songs of "Porgy" into a calypso beat just isn't the answer . . . Lena, we thought, had more of the feel of a production—singing more with feeling of a troubled girl—more with understanding and passion . . . As you remember, it was Lena who thought she didn't sound her best and tried to get RCA Victor to recall the albums . . . which incidentally is selling well

The Textured Rug New Look for Home

FREE DIRECTIONS are available for crocheting the Textured Rug. You'll find it an attractive addition to your home.

News on the home front is the trend toward texture. A striking example of this "new look" is the Textured Rug, designed by Kentucky Yarns. The soft high pile and interesting pattern add beauty to polished wood or linoleum floors.

Its uses are varied. Teen-agers will find it a perfect "camping spot", small children will love a bright-colored version by their bed. Use it, too, as a color accent in a living room, hallway, or den.

Easy to crochet, the rug can be made in any size you wish. It works up quickly in rounds done in a fast loop stitch, set off by squares in contrasting colors. Shown here in fluffy loops of white Soft Spun, with squares in black and red, the rug is equally handsome crocheted in a single color—Kentucky's rosy new coral, for instance. Or, choose among the wide range of colors available in Soft Spun yarn for the combination that fits your decorating scheme.

Economy-minded homemakers will applaud the news that, in these days of rising prices, Soft-Spun is still sold for 29c a skein at leading variety stores. Washable, color-fast and shrink resistant, the yarn is guaranteed to give 100% of wear.

To obtain a free, illustrated instruction leaflet for crocheting the rug, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the women's editor of this newspaper. The leaflet will be mailed to you promptly.

Angel Dream Dessert

Place round angel food cake from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department on dessert plate. Frost top and sides with sweetened whipped cream. Fill center with fresh whole raspberries, sliced and sweetened strawberries, and scoops of vanilla ice cream.

Angel Sundae

Make any flavor angel-ice cream sundae by topping a slice of angel food cake from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department with a generous serving of vanilla ice cream and adding any flavor of favorite sundae sauce. Serving suggestion: strawberry, marshmallow, hot fudge, chocolate or butterscotch sundae toppings.

MRS. F.D.E. VISITS

INTERRACIAL CAMP

New York (CNS)—When family groups camp together it has more of a significance than when each member of the family vacations alone. This camp in Brewster, N. Y. is operated by the Educational Alliance of New York City—and all the families are from the lower east side—the slum section of New York. The families are a mixture of all racial groups—and get along well together. There are young families and old ones, all singing together and enjoying camping life together.

Surprise Visit

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt paid them a surprise visit and had nothing but good reports to make on their progress. She found on one of the families isolated from each other and many children not too far away from grandparents. Children under 8 slept in the same cabin with their parents but over 8, they camped with boys and girls their own age. Once a week they eat in a big dining room with their families and friends. Girls do their own cooking.

Rev. Fields to Preach Anniversary Sermon For Waterloo Pastor

The Rev. H. R. Fields, pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist church and moderator of the Central District Baptist convention, will preach the 22nd anniversary sermon for the Rev. Samuel Davis of Antioch Baptist church in Waterloo, Ia., Sunday, Aug. 2 at 3 p.m.

The Rev. Mr. Davis is president of the Five States Baptist convention. Mt. Olive Senior choir and congregation will accompany the Rev. Mr. Fields. A basket dinner will be served prior to the services.

Mrs. Alfred F. Bell, Of New Orleans Feted

On Wednesday, July 22 Mrs. Sadie H. Jackson of 1155 8th street entertained Mrs. Alfred F. Bell of New Orleans, La., at a luncheon.

Sharing the courtesies were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Willie T. Bailey, Mmes. E. A. Gaiters, Orea Buice and Mr. Russell Jackson. After the luncheon a social hour was spent singing songs accompanied by Mrs. Bell. She is director of her church choir in New Orleans, and also secretary to the president of Dillard University.

cleaning and washing and enjoy playing house. The main idea is learning to live together and cooperate.

Projects

Boys work on do-it-yourself projects and here too, they aid each other. Perhaps one will know more about carpentry than another—if so, he will offer to teach him. The camp is being used as a model to show other agencies the merit of integration and living in peace and harmony.

A&T HUSBAND-WIFE TEAM TO STUDY IN MICHIGAN

Greensboro, N. C. — A husband-wife team on the A&T College faculty has been elected as participants in a National Science Foundation supported Conference on Plant Distribution in Time and Space to be held this summer in Michigan.

T. A. Clarke, associate professor of Geography and Mrs. Elizabeth Clarke, the wife, instructor in Botany will attend the two week conference to be held at Western Michigan University at Kalamazoo beginning on August 3.

Central Regional Ass'n. of Club Women To Meet in Omaha

The Central Regional Association of Club Women will be held Aug. 14-19 in Omaha, Nebr., at the North Side YWCA, 2710 N. 28th street.

Mrs. Fannie Baxter, O'Bannon of Chicago, Ill., president, will preside. Mrs. Rose B. Johnson of Des Moines is first vice-president.

Members of the Iowa Association of Club Women are urged by the state president, Mrs. Goetha Trotter of Des Moines to attend this meeting.

From Nine States

"Since the meeting is so near geographically, women of Iowa will have an opportunity to meet club women from Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Kansas, Missouri, Kentucky, West Virginia and Nebraska," she noted.

Mrs. Trotter says she is expecting enough Iowa club women to attend to certify them as 20 delegates to which the state is entitled.

Mrs. Trotter heads the delegation from Iowa which will include Mrs. Daisy Smith of Sioux City, first vice president and Mrs. Sarah E. Jett of Des Moines, former chairman of the Executive Board and former treasurer of the Central Regional.

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Written by Lloyd Lovell, SUI Assistant Professor

CONFLICTS OF OPINION

The growing child's changing relationships with new authority-figures often cause parents both grief and amusement. A child who has argued about or refused to accede to a request from his parents is often willing, even happy, to accept the same suggestion from an outsider. The family doctor, for example, often asks the child to do the same things his parents have been asking, but because the request now comes from the doctor the child follows the regime without fussing.

Resulting Conflicts

The outcome is not always this happy, however. Sometimes the outside authority makes suggestions that are not the same as those the parents prefer, and conflict can result. What happens when the driving-course instructor makes a recommendation different from the parents' habitual ways of driving? Or what happens when the teacher interprets a fact or suggests a point of view which runs counter to the opinions of the parents?

The rebellious child may say that teacher is right and parent wrong, or the submissive child may feel that teacher is wrong and should therefore always be questioned. These reactions can be serious for the child himself, and they can also be serious for the parents.

Proper Hair Dressing a Vital Beauty Aid!

by Genevieve Young

Many of our readers continue to seek advice on hair styles.

In general, the best hair style for you will be the one most becoming to you. This, of course, depends upon your face type (round, square, oval) and your personality.

For the sophisticate, you'll want a smart, brushed-back style. If you're the casual type, you'll prefer a longer coiffure with becoming end curls.

A shining, soft, all-over curl helps give a youthful look, and this hair style is readily adaptable for formal occasions where you'll turn eyes your way with smart, upswep curls.

Normally, curly hair requires frequent and expert hair cuts to accent the beauty of natural hair and trim away unruliness. Very curly hair gets a bushy, untamed look if worn too wide on too long, so thin and taper your tresses as often as necessary, or have it pruned professionally.

Hair which is too curly can be controlled by the use of a hair straightening process now available in do-it-yourself kits that are inexpensive and easy to use.

One of these products now comes in gentle strength for women and children and regular strength for men and those who have coarse, wiry hair, so that you and your entire family can enjoy the glory of smooth, soft, straight hair styles at a very small cost.

For the sophisticate, a smart brushed-back style adds glamour and beauty to a face with regular features.

A change of hair style now and then works wonders for your appearance. You'll find it helps to chase the blues away, too!

Miss Young will answer your letters on "beauty problems." Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Miss Genevieve Young, R. C. Beauty Institute, P. O. Box 2611, Des Moines 2, Tenn.

Mary Church Terrell Club No. 1 Installed Officers Sunday

Installation of new officers was held Sunday evening, July 26 by the Mary Church Terrell Club No. 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Johnson, 1331 McCormick.

A picnic supper was served to the husbands and other guests on the spacious lawn. Following the supper the social activities continued with games in the summer house.

Mrs. A. A. Alexander is the new president.

Omaha Guests Are Entertained Here

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holmes and family of 1328 Jefferson street had as house guests last weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Elmore, Mrs. Lois Teal, and George Camphor of Omaha, Neb. The visitors were dinner guests in the home of their hosts Sunday.

Later that afternoon they attended a picnic in the back yard of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hebert D. Minter and family of 711 Boyd street.

Just as stores were preparing to open their doors for the annual White Elephant sales, we ran into Mrs. Pinkie Goode on her way to her job last Wednesday at the S&L store. Many of us perhaps, hold the notion that just about all a saleswoman has to do is look pretty, wait on the customers and ring up the sales.

Naturally, at no store is it quite that easy. There are a number of harassing as well as heart-warming things that happen in the day of any salesgirl. However, Mrs. Goode says where she works each salesgirl has to "keep their own books," of in plainer language, do their own book-keeping, recording sales, amounts, mark downs, taxes and everything pertaining to sales.

Mrs. Goode, who heads the departments of hats and jewelry, keeps two sets of books, and says she "likes her job very much because it is more than just a job to her." She often takes her books home to do her "homework."

Commenting on shop lifting, Mrs. Goode says, "On sales days and of course, holidays, more shoplifting is done than at any time. Almost all of them are caught one way or another."

"Some people have the nerve to bring dresses, skirts, or things back with the sales tag still on them and ask for a refund. Naturally, they are caught because a sales tag is never left on an article after sales, too, if they can't show a sales slip, we know it was taken."

You never know how small the world is until you go far away from home. Ada Triplett found it out last week at the NAACP convention as many others have. During a conversation with a young delegate at the convention she found out he and she were former childhood acquaintances and school mates in Miriam, Miss., where they both were born. The young delegate was Amos Brown, who was chosen chairman of the NAACP National Youth Workshop committee for 1959-60. Miss Triplett, is also on the same committee.

Local residents have not had too much to complain about in the way of hot weather. But in case we get our long overdue dose in the future weeks here are a few hints for keeping cool, that we ran across. Before you take your bath on a hot day, make room in the refrigerator for a bath towel rolled in wax paper. Then add a plastic bag with your clean undies. You will feel wonderful after drying off with the cool towel, and putting on the chilled underwear.

For you swimmers, here is another, if you don't already do it. Always take a soapy shower or bath after swimming or sunning. And use a well lathered backbrush to smooth your back and to wash away sand, salt, and perspiration.

Vacation calendars are still crammed with plans; more and more residents are taking time to get away from it all for a few days, or a few weeks. Many however, are waiting for the fall months to take theirs. Others are relaxing at home or bypassing this year's trip to fix up or remodel their homes.

Among those who have already enjoyed a visit away from home is Mrs. Dorothy Collier of 1223 E. 17th street court. She returned two weeks ago after spending two weeks in San Diego, Calif., visiting her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Freelow. She took advantage of her first trip to the coast by making side trips to Tijuana, Mexico and to Long Beach and Los Angeles, Calif., to see the sights and visit friends. She also made a trip up into the mountains and described the weather as "perfect."

Last month Mrs. W. D. Hunt of 1283 DeWolf street took her four children, Linda, Diane, Pamela and Craig with her for a week's visit in Minneapolis, Minn., in the home of her sister, Mrs. Travis Bailey, Jr.

Friends have been asking Mrs. E. P. Jackson of 1155 Enos street when she is going to take her vacation

Miss Geraldine Harper Becomes Bride of Mr. Russell H. Carter Saturday

Fort Madison, Iowa—In one of the most elaborate and beautiful weddings of the summer, Miss Geraldine Frances Harper, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry D. Harper of this city became the bride of Mr. Russell Herman Carter, son of Mrs. George Carter and the late Mr. Carter of Wilkes-Barre, Penna., in a double ring ceremony Saturday, July 25 at 5:45 p.m. Scene of the ceremony was St. Joseph's Catholic church with Father L. M. Boyles officiating.

Church Decor

Church decorations were white gladioli on the altars and baskets of the same on stands in the sanctuary. Pews were enhanced with white ribbons with triple spikes of white gladioli. Before the ceremony "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus," and "Heart of Jesus, Meek and Mild," were sung by Miss Beverlee Oliver, of Cleveland, Ohio accompanied by Mr. John Myles of Kansas City, Mo. She sang "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother," as the bridal party took their places in the sanctuary.

Ceremony

The bride, radiant in a white silk organza gown over a bouquet taffeta, marched down the aisle on the arm of her father, to the strains of "Dreams of Heaven." She carried a cascade bouquet of white stephanotis and ivy and a white pearl rosary given her by her mother. During the ceremony the bride accompanied by her maid of honor, Miss Virginia Harper, her sister, went to the altar of the Blessed Mother and knelt after leaving her bouquet. The bridal party this year. She says emphatically, "I'm not taking one this year. I'm staying here and enjoying my pipe-dream of an eventual trip to Hawaii and back to the California coast to visit relatives I have never seen."

Mrs. Jackson added laughingly, "I was hoping it could be next year but my pocketbook hasn't said a word yet."

Several weeks ago she treated her eight voice and piano students and her 12 Girl Scouts Troop to a vacation from their summer routine by taking them to Riverview park for a picnic. They brought their own sack lunches and Mrs. Jackson furnished the drinks and rides.

Their fun and enjoyment was dampened only when a "fierce storm" came up and nearly drenched them before they got to the car.

If you have been on a vacation or are planning to go very soon, will you call us at the office and tell us about it? We will be glad to have the account for our news column.

Bridal Gown

The bridal gown with a basque bodice featured a scalloped lace neckline embroidered with tiny seed pearls and cap sleeves. Its floor-length skirt was flared and had a chapel train. Her fingertip illusion veil flowed from a Juliette cap. She wore bracelet length white lace gloves and a strand of cultured pearls which belonged to the bride's mother.

Maid of Honor

The maid of honor wore a pink silk organza bouffant street length gown with V-neckline and empire cummerbund of ivy green which formed a sash in the back. Her headress was a full circle of net held in place by a hand of pink silk petals and she carried a spray of pink daisies. Her accessories were green shoes, and pink gloves.

Attendants

The bridegroom and his best man, Dr. Robert Foster of Philadelphia, Penna., were attired in cutaways with black coats and white vests, white gloves and grey and black striped ties. Their boutonnières were white carnations.

Bridesmaids, similarly gowned as the maid of honor in cherry pink, were Miss Anna Jeanne Fields, cousin of the bride, Chicago, Ill.; Miss Barbara Fields, St. Paul, Minn.; Mrs. Betty Youngue, Chicago; Mrs. Colleen Curtis, Canton, Ohio; Mrs. Connie Patterson, Evanston, Ill., (all former classmates of the bride) and Miss Audrey Belle, Chicago, friend of the bride.

Ushers were Messrs. Harry and Frank Harper, Fort Madison, brothers of the bride; George Harper, cousin of the bride; Leon Josie, Maywood, Ill.; William Kate, Washington, D.C.; Milton Fuentes, Puerto Rico, friends of the groom; Edward Clark, Fort Madison; Phillip Saunders, Mason City, Iowa, and Lee Ferguson, Waterloo, Iowa.

Couple's Mothers

Flower girl was Lileah Harris, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, goddaughter of the bride, who wore a floor-length gown of deep pink organza over taffeta. She carried a basket of pink and green daisies.

The bride's mother wore a street length gown of rose silk chiffon with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of pale blue lace over pink taffeta with matching accessories.

400 Attend Reception

More than 400 persons attended the reception held at 7 p.m. at the country residence of the bride's parents. Large baskets of coral and yellow gladioli adorned the house and large potted palms and other greens lined the walks and were placed around the patio where the receiving line was formed. Potted yellow flowers circled the fish pond on the patio and lightoliers were placed through out the garden and around the lawn.

The wedding cake was a five-tier white confection adorned with pink and white roses. Groom's cake was placed on tables in separate boxes for the guests.

Hostesses

Assisting at the reception were Miss Lois Ann Harper, sister of the bride, Fort Madison, Mrs. Charles Law, sister of the groom, Detroit, Miss La Doris Foster, Chicago, Miss Earline Neil, St. Paul, Minn., Miss Isaac Marshall, Fort Madison, Miss Barbara Oliver, Detroit, Miss Marie Moore, Ottumwa, Iowa, Miss Becky Ferguson, Waterloo and Mrs. Edward Clark, Fort Madison.

Assisting the bride's mother during the day were Mrs. Lee Ferguson of Waterloo, Mrs. Kenneth Belle of Iowa City, and Mrs. Louis Dade of Fort Madison. Guest Book was taken care of by Miss Lois Harper.

A teacher, the bride holds a B.A. degree and M.A. in Public Administration from Howard University in Washington, D.C. She has done work towards her doctorate at Columbia University in New York, N.Y. The bridegroom holds a Bachelor of Science, Lincoln University, Penna. and is a senior year student at Howard University's School of Medicine.

Out-of-Town Guests

Guests from away included Dr. Ernest Harper, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Naomi Jordan, Chicago; Rev. Charles Jordan, Chicago; Mrs. Leon Blake, Estherville, Iowa; Mrs. Harry Jefferson, Columbus, Ohio; Dr. Vernon Wilkerson, Washington, D.C.; and Mrs. George Flannigan, St. Louis; Miss Helen McGuinn, Washington, D.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Belle, and Mr. Heywood Belle, Iowa City; Mrs. Lee Gurgerson and Miss Betty Jean Ferguson, Waterloo; Dr. and Mrs. Emmett Seales, Mrs. A. A. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Herndon, Miss Betty Evans, Atty.

HIDING FROM IDEALS FAVORED

That the people of Iowa fear Communism can not be doubted as evidenced by the results of a sampling taken by the Iowa poll testing sentiment on the provision in the national student loan fund law which requires a recipient to take a loyalty oath that he is not a member of the communist party.

Results of the poll shows 74% favor taking the oath, 11% opposed it and 15% undecided.

Frankly, this is amazing. In the first place, students who belong to the communist party will not admit it anyway and second the oath is not required of others seeking loans from the federal government.

As much as the Bystander opposes Communism, it is certainly against this requirement for a loan. America will not win by hiding from that doctrine, but by making this country superior in ideals and the practical application of them among all its people.

BETTER COVERAGE BY RIGHTS COMMISSION

As the city budget looks today, the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights stands to increase its staff beginning the next fiscal year.

The wide range of activity demanded of the secretary has required that he spread his efforts too thin. Great progress has been made in some areas, while others have not been sufficiently covered in order to get the desired results.

The Bystander feels that the employment situation in the field controlled by union labor has lagged, and although the leaders point to provisions in their constitution banning discrimination, a casual glance at work projects on the streets, on building projects and even in the city itself shows that the application of these rules is very poor.

Of course, Negroes themselves have a responsibility to prepare and present themselves when openings occur, to bid for better jobs when they are available and to insist on their rights to a better deal by working closely with the commission which is equipped to give valuable assistance.

The city has done a pretty good job supporting the commission by providing the necessary funds for its work.

HARD CORE FEAR RIGHTS MEASURE

The combination of southern Democrats and those Republicans who are today to them object to a provision which would authorize the federal government to initiate cases on its own when violations of civil rights occur.

It would appear that the contemptuous action of voting officials in Alabama in refusing to submit their records to scrutiny by the Civil Rights Commission last year showed very clearly the utter contempt for any effort to stop their shameful conduct. In other words, too often the law breaks down in some sections when the rights of Negroes are involved.

In spite of much progress that is being made even in the South in some areas, the hard core segregationists, led by politicians, are constantly fighting a rear guard action in an effort to stay the tide. And their action emphasizes the necessity of fighting every inch of the way—and particularly those northern politicians who have tried to play friendly in the open and cut their constituent's throat in the dark.

Hilltop Tennis Club Loses to Marshalltown

The Hilltop Tennis club continued their usual performances in the defeat column when they lost to Marshalltown 11-2 at Marshalltown, Ia., Sunday.

The men players lost some close matches, however, with Marshall Knox suffering his first defeat in league matches, 6-2, 6-2. Leon Mann, Louis Miles, Knox, Everett Mays and Chet Williamson also lost in singles. Mays and Williamson lost a very good 3-set doubles match. The Mann-Knox double team lost but Miles-Knox had to default their doubles match because of previous commitments.

In women's matches, Evanette Mays defeated Kathy Mullen 6-3, 4-6, 6-4; Esther Myers defeated Barbara Funke 6-1, 6-0. There were no girls matches but Phyllis Sharp, Ruth Ann Green and Armiller Bell went along as rooters.

Cards End Win Skein of Big Don Newcombe

St. Louis—Don Newcombe, fast-balling right-hander of the Cincinnati Reds, ran into trouble here last week as the St. Louis Cardinals bombarded him with 17 hits to snap his winning streak at eight straight games.

Until then, "Big Newk," who once led the National League with 26 victories, had won nine and lost three.

Johnny Green Signed By N.Y. Knickerbockers

New York—Johnny Green, formerly of the Marines and an All-American center from Michigan State, has been signed by the New York Knickerbockers.

As a college senior, Green scored 427 points in 23 games, had an 18.6 average and grabbed 383 rebounds.

With 1,062 points in his collegiate career, the spectacular player is ranked third in Michigan State basketball history.

Green also holds the record for the best shooting percentage in Big Ten history, a .538 clip which was made during his junior year in college.

K. C. Jones Signs Pact

Boston—K. C. Jones, who recently completed his first year with the Boston Celtics, champions of the National Basketball association, has been signed by the team at an undisclosed salary for the 1959-60 season.

To be married shortly to an Illinois girl, Jones played collegiate basketball with Big Bill Russell at San Francisco with the Dons.

K. C. and Big Bill guided the Dons to a record-breaking string of 56 victories.

We always enjoy our visits to the state tennis tournament, which is usually held in Cedar Rapids. One meets people he doesn't see but once a year and they always seem glad to see each other. Then it is a great tonic to be around a bunch of kids for two or three days and just listen to them talk. We, of course, got to pass our opinion on several things that made us feel as if we knew what we were talking about. We didn't have to sell our Hilltop meet.

John Nadig

Just about everyone asked us about it and had we been possessed of enough brains to take along some entry blanks we could have got rid of all of them. But, John Nadig was our best salesman for the Hilltop meet. He told us he would talk the thing up and you would have thought it was his personal merit from the way he went all out. He was a great deal responsible for the Iowa singles champion Joe Martin coming here, if he can possibly make it.

Don Klotz

Then, there was one of our longest talks with Don Klotz, Iowa University tennis coach. Klotz was off on the subject of why people don't come

DON'T GAMBLE WITH POLIO

VACCINATE BEFORE TOO LATE!

HEALTH FOR ALL

Mr. Smith Didn't Know

Mr. Smith was a man in his seventies who had always enjoyed good health. Yet he died in the hospital after only two days of illness. His wife was bewildered. What had her husband died of?

The Smith's family doctor said he did not know. The symptoms might mean any one of a number of diseases. Only an autopsy could tell which one.

Mrs. Smith had the usual feeling about an autopsy. But she consented. To the astonishment of herself and her children it was found that, although Mr. Smith had died of heart disease, he also had active tuberculosis! "How could a man with tuberculosis be so well all his life?" the widow asked.

No Warning

But TB—especially early TB—often gives no warning; you don't feel sick. That is why doctors tell us to have a tuberculin skin test or chest x-ray. The tuberculin test reveals the presence of TB germs in the body; the x-ray shows if damage has been done to the lungs. Both help find TB early, when it is easiest to cure.

Fewer Americans are dying from TB every year, but they are still too many. Mr. Smith, you may say, lived his three score years and ten and didn't suffer, so why worry? But Mr. Smith had a family and tuberculosis is an infectious disease.

You Catch TB

You don't inherit TB, you aren't born with it, you catch it—from someone who has it—by breathing air with his germs in it, putting in your mouth something he has used that hasn't been sterilized, or kissing him.

When Mr. Smith's autopsy revealed TB, all the members of his family were given chest x-rays and tests for tubercle bacilli. Several were positive to the tuberculin test. His youngest grandchild was found to have active TB and he was treated and cured. Early detection spared the family from further tragedy.

Marciano Says Floyd Patterson May Regain Heavyweight Boxing Title in Rematch Bout

BISHOP CRANSHAW

Daytona Beach, Fla.—Former heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano last week gave recently dethroned Floyd Patterson a "fair chance" of regaining the title when he meets Ingemar Johansson in their rematch. Johansson knocked out Patterson in the third round last June 25 to take the heavyweight championship outside the United States for the first time in 25 years.

Saying everyone knows Patterson is the better all-around fighter, Marciano made these observations about Floyd's chances:

(1) If Patterson has anything he has a fair chance to regain his title when he fights Johansson again.

(2) I don't know how much that beating took out of Floyd. I hope he's not gun-shy. He's a hard trainer and in the next couple months, they'll be able to tell about him from his workout performance. I think he's got an even chance.

(3) Everyone knows Patterson is a better fighter. Patterson has the works to the body and fast combinations, while Johansson doesn't give out any inside punishment and needs plenty of room for that long overhand right. That's why he keeps that left out, even though he doesn't do much damage with it.

Marciano made the comments while vacationing here. He now to watch tennis matches. The Cedar Rapids club really put on a fund-raising drive and sold a lot of tickets in advance but almost no one came to watch the finals.

The Iowa coach argued that poor tennis attendance is because people don't know what is going on. They have almost no way of keeping a running score of the match. This, Dr. Klotz says, is the only sport in which even the most experienced players don't know what is happening once they become spectators.

Umpire Score Card

He has a theory that the umpire should have a score card and keep it up to date. In fact he has several in the experimental stage and expects to try one out this fall. Then, we, Klotz and yours truly, decided that there ought to be a better spacing of the various meets around the state so they will not conflict. He said he really enjoyed bringing his kids to our meet but in later years just couldn't get here because of other meets.

Yes, we really enjoyed our visit at the tennis tournament and our in-laws generously bought our gas for the entire trip around the eastern part of the state.

Thoughts for Today

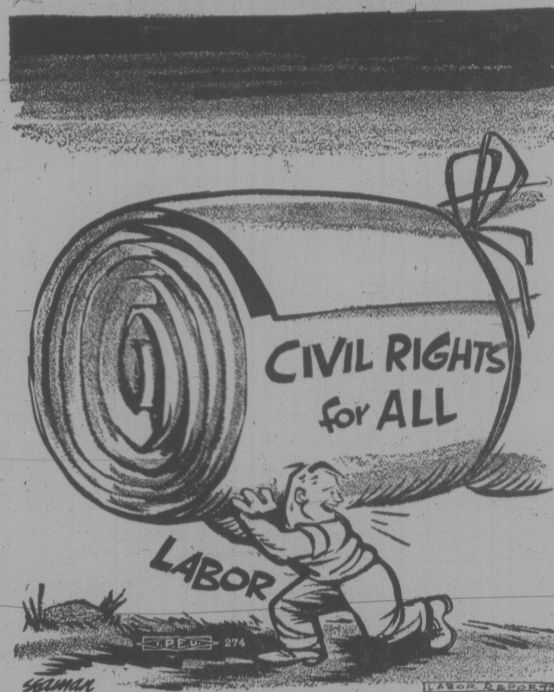

If we hope to amount to anything, we must break away from the herd.

William Feather.

There is but one straight course, and that is to seek truth, and pursue it steadily—George Washington.

The most manifest sign of wisdom is continued cheerfulness. — Montaigne.

"WE'LL MAKE IT!"

Laugh Line

The singer asked, "Don't you think the audience shows feeling when I sing?"

"You bet," came the sarcastic reply. "They're feeling for their hats and coats."

EACH DAY WE DIE

Each day we die a little though few ever take a thought of precious hours they throw away or what this day has brought. The profligate who does not use some hours each day for good, is wasting time beyond recall; that Christians never would.

Brotherhood's the only cure for mankind's many ills, and every one who lives this theme the Master's will fulfill.

Let's use our eyes that we may see the world respects success, renown All the tool one needs are free, for fortune, laurels or a crown.

So pray and pray, but do the work, and look up to the sky, he always faithful, never shirk, no matter what, just try.

We know this life is but a trial our time on earth is flying by. We know that here, each day we die to live, to grow, in grace on high.

—Glenn A. Gallagher.
