3 Bombs Shatter Uneasy Peace in Little Rock

School Board Room,
Ruin Mayor's Office;
Faubus Flays Culprits

Little Rock, Ark. — Three bomb explosions Monday night shattered the hitherto peaceful integration scene here in Little Rock, but did not affect Tuesday's opening of Junior high and elementary schools or the operation of the four high schools which opened Aug. 12.

Public indignation mounted and a reward of $25,000 was proposed by the Chamber of Commerce. Another reward fund of $100,000 was proposed by a businessman.

Damages

One bomb seriously damaged the school board building. A second hit Mayor Werner C. Knopp's business office and the third damaged a station wagon of Fire Chief Gann Nailey. No one was injured. Police armed with riot guns patrolled streets and set up barricades around the four public schools. A shield was

Integrated for 1st Time
By Negroes in Miami

Miami, Fla. — Another state deserted the ranks of segregated public schools as Florida took the first step to comply with a federal court with token but peaceful integration.

Four Negro pupils entered Miami's Orchard Villa elementary school Tuesday with no hint of violence. Only three spectators and a score of newsmen and photographers witnessed the scene as the Negroes walked without escort into the school with a group of seven classmates. The spectators were the Rev. Theodore Gibson, president of the Miami chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and two strong segregationists, J. B. Stoner of Atlanta, Ga., and Fred Hockett, of Miami, who is executive secretary of the Florida White Citizens Council. Stoner said he is a member of the Christian Knights of the Klu Klux Klan. No

There's Hope, Help for Herschel Quinn, 10,
Who's Been Blind, Deaf Since Birth

For 10 years Herschel Quinn has lived in a world of dark silence. The hopes and prayers of a loving mother, the practical, specialized aid of welfare agencies and the legal redress of a court, will help Herschel, a blind deaf-mute since birth, to a happier, communicable world. He spoke his first, almost unintelligible word, at the age of five. With the help and long patience of his mother, he said, "Eat." Now he is able to dress himself, walk around the house and yard, and eat unsupervised.

Shortly after his fifth birthday he was committed to Woodward as a hopeless blind-deaf-mute, but was returned soon after when he refused to eat. Then he was sent for four-nine-months terms to the Iowa School for the Deaf in Council Bluffs. The world had increasing meaning for Herschel until he was dismissed by the school as "uneducable" in their program. What to do about Herschel was the question Polk County welfare officials asked themselves and one another? The Iowa School for the Blind at Vinton does not accept deaf students. Finally at a hearing in the county courthouse last week, Judge Wade Clarke placed Herschel in the custody of the Iowa Children's Home Society. The society will send him to the New York Institute for the Blind in New York City which has a program for deaf and blind children.

The words of Regine Seidler, psychologist at the Des Moines Child Guidance center, voice the hope and faith of the mother and officials. "His marvelous sense of touch gives us fair reason to assume Herschel is intelligent," she said. Photo courtesy of Des Moines Sunday Register.

Suggest U. S. Registrars To Assure Minority Rights In Report to Ike, Congress

Washington, D. C. — Five of the six-member Civil Rights Commission Tuesday recommended that federal voting registrars be used so that Negro citizens and other minority groups can take advantage of their voting rights.

The sweeping proposal, which was made in a report of President Eisenhower and congress, was promptly denounced as "extreme and shocking," and "a program of deceit and distortion."

Dissenter

John S. Battle, of Charlottesville, Va., only dissenting member of the commission, said, present laws are adequate and that use of federal registrars "would place in the hands of the federal government a vital part of the election process so jealously guarded and carefully reserved to the states by the founding fathers."

Ellington to Receive Spingarn Medal Aboard S. S. United States

New York — Edward Kennedy (Duke) Ellington, who will become the 44th Spingarn Medalist this week, has a long record of supporting the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The Spingarn Medal, awarded by the NAACP annually to a Negro of outstanding achievement, will be presented by Benny Goodman, jazz clarinetist, aboard the S. S. United States Friday, Sept. 11.

Ellington became an NAACP life member in 1939, 12 years after the first life member was enrolled and long before the program gained its current popularity. He was responsible for raising $8,600 for his native Washington, D. C. NAACP branch in the spring of 1946. Ellington was presented in a mammoth NAACP benefit concert at New York's Metropolitan Opera House in January of 1951. The affair grossed more

Additional insurance for minority voting rights was recommended by three members of the commission, who proposed a constitutional amendment that would insure the right to vote to every citizen who meets his state's age and residence requirement. The proposal would wipe out educational and other requirements that some states demand of voters. The commission unanimously recommended federal action to require that all voting and registration records be preserved for five years. Public inspection would be permitted under restrictions that would preserve the secrecy of the ballot.

Housing

In the housing field, the commission urged that the president issue an executive order stating the constitutional objective of equal opportunity in housing, and directing all federal agencies to shape their policies toward achievement of that goal. It recommended that the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration require builders taking advantage of their program to agree in writing to abide by existing laws against discrimination.

Legion Head Seeks To End Bias in 40 & 8

New York — Affirming his conviction that the "essential requirements for eligibility in the American Legion" should not be added to by a subsidiary organization, Martin B. McKeenly, newly-elected commander of the Legion, has pledged "immediate action" towards the elimination of racial discrimination in the 40 & 8, a Legion auxiliary which now bars Negro veterans from membership.

In a telegram to NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins, Commander McKeenly promised to "appoint a committee to meet with the 40 & 8 to discuss and clarify and to bring to a proper conclusion this conflict." The telegram to Wilkins, dated Aug. 31, was in response to a protest from the NAACP leader against the refusal of the American Legion to "remove the anti-Negro ban in its subsidiary" which, he charged, gave "ammunition to America's communist enemies."

Although Ellington has been a staunch NAACP supporter personally, the Spingarn Medal is being awarded in recognition of his outstanding musical accomplishments. He is the first musician from the world of jazz to receive the Association's highest symbol of recognition.

Supreme Court Split Seen on Civil Liberties Issues; Still Unanimous on Race Issues

New York, N. Y. — A growing split within the Supreme Court on civil liberties issues was described today as the most striking feature of the 1958-59 term of the high court.

In a 74-page summary and analysis of 43 cases decided during the term ended last June, the American Jewish Congress found the court divided into two opposing blocs—a conservative majority and a liberal minority—in matters affecting freedom of speech, press and association. This new grouping, it was said, marks a "significant change" from the two previous terms, which saw a third or "centrist" bloc of justices holding the balance of power between the conservative and liberal wings of the court on these issues.

Civil Rights

In civil rights cases however, the court continued to act unanimously in condemning racial discrimination and segregation, as it had since 1948, the report noted.

The survey—third in an annual series—was prepared by the Commission on Law and Social Action of the American Jewish Congress under Shad Polier, chairman, and Leo Pfeffer, director.

Analysis

The AJCongress report analyzed the opinions of the individual justices according to whether they were favorable or unfavorable to upholding the rights claimed by the aggrieved parties in the 43 cases studied. This method of classifying the justices' votes, it was explained, was adopted to insure objectivity. No assumption was made that in asserting these rights the parties involved were necessarily correct.

Analysis of the justices' voting records, according to the American Jewish Congress study, indicated the apparent crystallization of two blocs in the Court: a liberal group of four consisting of Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and William T. Brennan, and a conservative group of five—Justices Felix L. Frankfurter, Tom C. Clark, John M. Harlan, Charles E. Whitaker and Potter Stewart.

Major Shift

The new line-up represents a major shift in the balance of power within the court, the report stated.

In the 1957-58 term, it was noted, the four liberal justices were joined on a number of occasions by either taker, who thus determined the Justice Frankfurter or Justice Whit-Court's position in several key cases. Similarly, during the 1956-57 term, it was Justice Frankfurter and Justice Harlan whose votes frequently furnished a majority for the liberal wing.

This "centrist" position, which held the balance of power within the Court, has now disappeared, the report said. During the most recent term Justices Frankfurter, Harlan and Whitaker all voted consistently with the conservative bloc, the voting records indicated.

5-4 Decisions

The polarity of opinion within the Court was shown most clearly in the ten civil liberties cases that were decided by a 5-4 vote during the last term, according to the report. In eight of the ten cases, the vote within the Court was exactly the same: the five-man conservative majority opposing the claim to a Constitutional right, with the four justices of the liberal wing in favor of granting the asserted right.

Teenage Gang: Curb And Curfew Called For Harlem Area

New York City—No sooner had they buried two teenage victims last week—one a 15 year old Negro girl—then two more were viciously stabbed in senseless killings, causing the Mayor, the Governor and all the city officials to use every force available to put an end to the crime wave which has swept the city. A curfew of midnight for kids is suggested.

Police in Harlem areas have joined with civic leaders to halt this delinquency with the addition of a stronger police force and more guidance counsellors. They are meeting the emergency by patrolling "troublesome" neighborhoods day and night in an effort to clean out the bad seeds.

Racial Tension

Still, new arrests prevail. Two brothers were seized for possession of narcotics and identified as former members of "The Imperial Lords", a Harlem gang. Racial tensions against Puerto Ricans rose when 13 youths were arrested in the recent "playground killings" and Governor Rockefeller expressed the fear that unless they acted fast in booking and sentencing and cleaning up the city, racial resentment would rise and cause riots which might get out of hand.

Parents Unaware

Rockefeller, who recently returned from a vacation in Puerto Rico, confirmed that there is little or no delinquency there—and that the Puerto Ricans come to New York, get into bad company, and form gangs to rob, molest, mug and finally—murder.

In too many cases, the parents are totally unaware of what their children are doing, until it is too late. To curb this negligence on the part of parents, the Governor has urged them to seek guidance from counselors on how to curb this frightening situation. The parents of Ronald and Charles McClain were completely in the dark about their sons' activities in narcotics. Cops found a scrapbook loaded with pictures on teenage killings as if the boys patterned their lives from these "heroes."

thrown around the homes of Little Rock school board members. They checked cars—and homes of nearly all public officials and others who have been prominent in the integration upheavals.

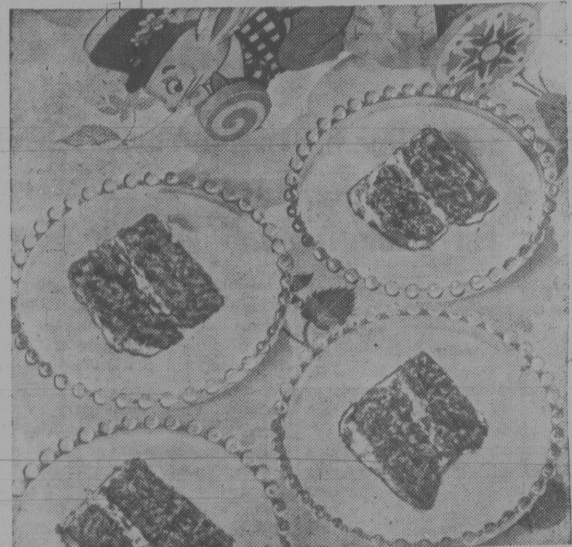

FBI Called In

The Federal Bureau of Investigation was called in, and were reinforced by police from North Little Rock. Gov. Orval Faubus, who closed down public high schools here a year ago last September, called a news conference and condemned the bombings as "sickening and deplorable."

Two men reportedly were seen fleeing from the bombed building after hurling objects at them. The three explosions all came within 35 minutes. Police were not sure if one or several persons triggered the bombs.

SOFT CUSTARD OVER CAKE FOR EASTER BRUNCH DESSERT

PART OF THE JOB of menu-making is making the menu appealing as well as wholesome and nourishing. In the dessert course this is not too difficult. Take a plain jane standby like soft custard and make it into a delightful Easter Brunch dessert, by serving it over slices of devil's food cake. Then watch your little bunnies gobble it up.

This recipe for Soft Custard will give you a thinner more delicate consistency which you will not find in any other recipe. That is because it is made with sweetened condensed milk. This particular type of canned milk is whole milk and sugar cooked down and blended to a creamy smoothness that is perfect for custards. Furthermore, this custard means more nourishment through the

1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk
1/2 cup hot water
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 to 3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Combine sweetened condensed milk, hot water and salt in top of double boiler. Gradually add beaten eggs while stirring constantly. Cook over hot, not boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture coats a silver spoon. Remove from heat at once. Cool quickly. Add vanilla and pour into dessert dishes (or pitcher, if to be used as a sauce). Chill.
• If eggs are small, use three.

Youth Of The Week

This is the 45th in a series featuring youth, 13 to 21 years, in the community and in Iowa who are setting a good example in wholesome living and achievements in their homes, schools, churches, sports and civic activities.

After a rather dry spell we present a young lady who not only has a goal but is diligently and persistently working toward its end. She is Miss Evanette Mays, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. Everett Mays of 1136 17th street.

Evanette wants to be a school teacher. Currently, she is working at a fulltime job at Northwestern Bell telephone company during the day and taking a full load (12 hours) of courses toward a B.S. degree in education at Drake university in the evenings.

Telephone Company

After graduating from Des Moines Technical High where she lettered in tennis and was captain of the team, she enrolled at Fisk university and studied there her freshman year. Then she landed a job as billing clerk at the Telephone company and decided to transfer to Drake. After a year she was promoted to her present position, balancing and investigating clerk in revenue and accounting.

At Drake U.

Mainly, her job is composed of billing customers and checking and balancing statements compiled by billing clerks. She also aids in folding bills to be mailed. She got her job through the co-op program at Des Moines Tech.

"When I began at Drake I wanted to carry 15 hours but they talked me out of it and was I glad," she said. "It is hard to keep up when you are working at a fulltime job."

However, the attractive young lass manages to do so, but admits she "has little time for outside activities," especially tennis, which she likes.

Active in Tennis

Evanette has been active in the sport for six years now. She had already inherited an interest in tennis from her father who is president of the Hilltop Tennis club, but when she entered high school there were few sports open to girls, excepting tennis, so she went out for it and made the team, eventually being named captain. She also participated on the team at Fisk. In city competition she won a second place ribbon in junior girls' matches.

Wilberforce, Ohio

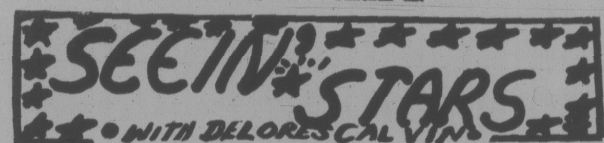

For the past three years she has accompanied her father to the American Tennis association which is held annually at Central College at Wilberforce, Ohio. Each time she and her father competed but were eliminated in the preliminaries. She has been a longtime member of the Hilltop Tennis club, where she regularly competes.

She would like to continue her tennis game, but as she says, right now her main interest is that college degree.

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help... My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth.—(Psalm 121:1, 2)

What a glorious, uplifting feeling it is to look out upon another new day and realize that Almighty God, who made the shining sun to rise and stay true on its course, also is Our Father—merciful, loving each of us. His children, ever willing to forgive us our sins, to help and sustain us.

New York City—JAZZ OPEN AIR CONCERTS SUCCESSFUL—BUT

Just about everybody and his uncle was out to the three day Jazz Festival—the Randall Island spectacular—and the weatherman even gave it a good hand and had three clear nights in a row—a most unusual thing indeed... For those who love modern jazz—and the cult is ever-growing, there were no flaws—but for critics or just plain music lovers who like a side dish of jazz now and then—the whole operation was full of mistakes...

Duke Ellington

First—the acts were often too long and in many cases, boring... Sitting on hard seats with smoke puffing from every direction and an audience which was a show in itself, indeed the acts could get boring when all performing the same type of music... Then to make matters worse, the sound system went... There were big names for the three nights: Duke Ellington, Ahmad Jamal Trio, Chico Hamilton, Dinah

Washington, Miles Davis, Dakota Staton, Stan Kenton and many many others... The Lonesome Monk wore an odd outfit—topped by a coolie hat—but when the modern jazz people are unusual people anyway... Most of the performers wore ivy league suits with crew cuts and thin figures...

Dizzie Gillespie

Producer Franklin Galtman had the bright idea of giving City Councilman Earl Brown a check for $1,000 to aid the special narcotics investigation committee and it was given in the name of Dizzie Gillespie—which was a goof from the beginning... especially with the death of Billie Holiday still fresh in the memory of her fans... Besides—the committee is most unpopular with showpeople and Dizzie blushed and squirmed and said a few uncomplimentary remarks during the proceedings which didn't help matters...

Earl Grant

Earl Grant's in-town and with a big show at the Copacabana, famed East Side nightery, he's got two sidemen with him—Maurice Simon on sax and Bill Norris on drums... The minimum at the Copa is $5—but you never get away with less than $20.

Pearl Bailey

Pearl Bailey, doing so well in Las Vegas at the Flamingo Hotel—signed for 12 weeks beginning next March 30th... Geoffrey Holder, the tall, bald dancer and artiste, adds a new item to his career—that of a singer... He opens at the Village Gate after Labor Day... Also to his credit is a new book penned by him entitled "Black Gods, Green Islands" published by Doubleday...

"MISS AMERICA OF ELKDOM" SELECTED

Cleveland's Judge Perry B. Jackson, grand treasurer of the Elks, extends congratulations to pretty Adessa Brown, Talladega College student, elected "Miss America of Elkdom" during recent 60th grand lodge session of the Elks at Atlantic City. Standing back of Miss Brown is P. M. Blair, Montgomery, Ala., businessman, who heads the beauty

Nina Simone

Sad-faced Nina Simone, who does "Porgy" so beautifully in her new "Central Park" album that fans are wearing out that one number—has a new single release for Colpix called "Children Go Where I Send You"—from a classic folk song—and the other side is "Willow Weep For Me"—another oldie given a new lift. Miss Simone, a North Carolina lass, has proven it doesn't take looks to hit the top—she's simple, young, ambitious—and plenty talented...

Ella Fitzgerald

Ella Fitzgerald singing "But Not For Me" in the new Paramount flicker of the same name starring Clark Gable being released for Christmas business... Johnny Mathis has returned to the album scene with a new gorgeous collection they call "Heavenly" for Columbia... All the old favorites are here in this romantic-mood setting... and many new songs including "Heavenly"...

Alan Freed

Lloyd Price up to Number 2 with his "I'm Gonna Get Married" but his kid brother, Sammy Turner, who doesn't want to ride on his name, is right behind him with "Lavender Blue", an oldie he's turned into a swinging favorite... We understand from teen talk that Alan Freed takes a big cut from the kids' payroll—but that's the price they have to pay for latching on to the bandwagon...

Dorothy Dandridge

We're all happy to hear that ress Daughtry, New York, Elveta Neal, Arizona, Mattie Peoples, North Carolina, Jeanne Echols, Wisconsin, and Joan Rudrow, New Jersey. "Miss Tennessee," Ida Jones, is not seen, while at upper right Barbara Lyons, Mississippi, pauses backstage as Coca-Cola representatives Moss H. Kendrick, Washington, D. C., and

Powell To Return To Fight For Control Says He Is "Stronger Than Ever"

New York City—Showing a poor record for the year, mostly due to illness, dynamic Adam Powell will arrive in Harlem in an effort to put the pieces together to campaign once again for district leadership. He had formerly announced his campaign leaders would have to do the job without him—but he was persuaded to come back to the home front, as his fans will listen to no one else.

Street Corner Speeches

Last year Powell polled votes by discrediting Hulan Jack (Boro President) and Carmine De Sapio (Tammany Boss) among others. This year his platform seems to include the same type of insults to the present law-makers and denouncing of government officials.

Confined to the island of Puerto Rico for awhile by illness, Powell is well rested and ready to start his street corner speeches where he stirs up Harlem citizens against whoever he is opposing.

Negroes Moving

Many of his staunch supporters have left the congested Harlem area—some 50,000 moved away in the past seven years—more than 15,000 now reside in the East Side where there were virtually none before.

Negro Pupils

The four Negro children are Ian Errol Glover, 9, his sister, Irene Amanda, 8, Sherry Marrie Joseph, 6, and Gary Chandler Range, 6. They were admitted under Florida's pupil placement law. Sixty-nine other Negroes have applied for admittance to the school but their applications have not been processed.

Integration Elsewhere

In Virginia 21 Negro pupils peacefully entered Warren County High school at Front Royal and 11 were admitted to an elementary and a high school in Charlottesville. Schools at Norfolk, Arlington and Alexandria were integrated last February.

Integration began in the first grade Wednesday and today in the Delaware's public schools under federal court order. Thirty-nine Negro children have applied for admission in eight previously all-white schools in Kent and Sussex counties in southern Delaware.

Tuesday, at Nashville, Tenn., a federal judge began hearing arguments for a temporary injunction restraining Rutherford county school officials from refusing to admit 16 Negro children to all-white John Coleman Elementary school at nearby Smyrna. Their parents are stationed at Sewart Air Force Base at Smyrna.

Rev. William Wheeler Celebrates 93rd Year

The Rev. Mr. William H. Wheeler of 1026 16th street, retired Methodist minister, quietly observed his 93rd birthday Tuesday, Sept. 1, at his home with children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and great-great-grandchildren.

Harlem still remains the largest Negro sections, though the newcomers to other districts have strengthened that district with votes.

Benjamin Banneker Receives Mag Tribute

Tribute is paid to Benjamin Banneker, author of the famous Banneker's Almanac, in the September issue of Jack & Jill magazine. Four pages of text by Ann King includes three illustrations in color.

The true story, entitled "Benjamin's Clock," details the life of the humble farm boy from Elk Ridge near Baltimore whose amazing memory and mechanical ability brought him international fame back in 1792. Besides his almanac, the article mentions the famous clock he carved from wood whose intricate works and accuracy amazed the people who came from as far as Baltimore to see it. It also tells how Banneker reproduced a survey map entirely from memory which was used in building the nation's capital after the engineer-in-charge took the original map and walked off the job.

EVALUATING ADVICE TO PARENTS

The other day a visitor came to my home and promptly proceeded giving me advice on feeding and caring for my young infant. Some of the things she suggested I was already doing; some of them I was not doing. When she left, I felt unsettled, uncertain, a little angry, and a bit guilty.

You see, this unsolicited advice was very definite about what I should and should not do. It was given irrespective of my particular situation and goals and so was unindividual circumstance. It was a prescription in general. But prescriptions are most helpful when given for the particular.

Common Sense

Today's parent is bombarded by radio, TV, books, "experts," and columns like this one, all giving advice. How does one evaluate all of this free aid? I think some common-sense principles can be used in deciding how useful advice is and how much of it you need take seriously.

If it is advice in general, it should leave room for the individual situation to determine whether it is applicable. It should provide a perspective of the problem area by reviewing the various aspects of factors that might be involved. It should not be a pronouncement of right and wrong. As a result of the advice given, you as a parent should not feel guilty or ashamed, but

All Things Considered

In selecting a portable electric saw for the home workshop it is wise to consider its versatility, say Speed-Way power tool specialists, who have developed a circular saw capable of zipping through 2 x 4s at a 45-degree angle. The new SpeedWay No. 70 saw, with 7-inch blade, is complete with rip guide and combination blade and is easily adjusted for depth and angle of cut.

Basket Weave Fence

A NEW idea in fencing can provide privacy to your patio, or it may be used as a lawn divider. Some families have used this attractive basket weave design to screen an unsightly corner. Built in units 6 feet long and 6 feet high, the fence may be set up to form a corner enclosure. It may be set up also as a straight or a staggered fence.

Pliable but strong Masonite Tempered Presdwood is used for weaving this fence between lumber supports. Available at lumber yards, the panels may be cut readily with a cross-cut saw. They take a beautiful paint job which, with the unusual basket weave design, will enhance the appearance of any lawn.

Flower pots may be hung on holders formed from wire coat hangers that are hooked over the Tempered Presdwood near a post. The plan may be obtained by sending 20 cents in coin to Craft Patterns, Elmhurst, Ill., and requesting pattern No. 436.

Use Simple Props to Make Story-Telling Snapshots

Every one who has ever had anything to do with a "theatrical" production, whether it be a grammar school pageant or a community theater group offering, knows the importance of having the right properties. We've rummaged through trunks in attics, through boxes in basements to find just the right things to use in the setting to help tell the play's story to the audience.

Props can be similarly used in your snapshots to tell a story that will be fun to read and re-read in the pages of your family albums for many years to come. Instead of taking a picture of little Susie, who is the family's pride and joy, standing staring straight into the camera—picture her in one of her favorite play settings.

You can sometimes do this candidly, but on other occasions you'll want to set-up such a picture. This will enable you to arrange the props for the best possible composition of your snapshot scene.

The picture which illustrates today's column was chosen because it brings out this point very nicely. Whether the little girl had arranged her "pupils" in exactly this fashion, or if the camera-user had a hand in it, we can't say. In either case, they are nicely arranged so that their attention—and the attention of anyone viewing the picture is neatly centered on the little girl playing teacher. Choose the right props, and arrange them nicely to help your family snapshots tell an interesting story. —John Van Guilder

Take Breakfast To The Park

Avoid crowded picnic areas by picnicking at breakfast time. Early risers know that picnics are more enjoyable if the surroundings are cluttered with people—or things.

Breakfast is an easy meal to take on a picnic. Ready-to-eat cereals are just right—no cooking is necessary—merely pack the cereal box in the picnic hamper. This breakfast takes just a few minutes to pack.

MENU
Shredded Wheat
with
Fresh Sliced Peaches and Milk
Peanut Butter
Chocolate Milk

The peaches could be sliced and sugared at home. Additional sugar would not be necessary with the sweetened peaches. Peanut butter is a favorite—butter probably would be unnecessary.

Colorful plastic spoons, paper plates (except the cereal bowls) and gay handkerchiefs for napkins add a festive note to the outdoor breakfast. Another way to vary the way you serve that all important meal—breakfast—is to serve it on trays that can be carried to the porch or patio.

Doctors and dietitians agree that a basic breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter will provide one-fourth of the daily nutritional requirement. You and your family will feel better and work better, especially in the late morning hours, if you eat a basic breakfast the year round.

Summer waning into fall with occasionally cool "fall-like" days to remind us what the forthcoming months can be like. The last big holiday, Labor Day, marking the end of summer as vacationers stream back into the city . . . and school children, some eagerly, other reluctantly, make their way back to classrooms. Couldn't help but get a chuckle over a front-page cartoon in a Sunday newspaper depicting a pooped mother of two children and vigorous teacher of 40 pupils. Couldn't help acknowledging the "surface" grain of truth, either.

It's always nice to get letters from our readers and especially from those on vacation who remember us with a few lines while they are enjoying themselves away from home. Last week just as the paper went to press several came in the mail.

First there was one from Mrs. Gertrude North, District Deputy, who was attending the Elks Grand Lodge convention in Atlantic City, N. J., as a delegate from Rose Temple No. 33. Her letter read: "Mrs. Beatrice Washington, State Director of Education for Iowa, and I are in Atlantic City. On our way here we were met at the Railway station in Chicago, Ill., by Mrs. Hannah Adams, formerly of Des Moines and then member of the Mary Church Terrell club.

"The thrill of this going, was that we, Beatrice and I, received our Past Grand Daughter Ruler's pin. As we marched down the aisles of Senior High school that Sunday afternoon (Aug. 23) with all the other applicants in white after-five dresses and our sponsors walking with us pinning on orchid corsages amid the applause of the Grand Temple, was the thrill of once in a lifetime.

"The three great personalities of the Grand Convention were Grand Dt. Ruler, Nettie A. Jackson, Grand Dt. Sec. Buena V. Kelley and Grand Exalted Ruler Robert Johnson.

"Atlantic City, the playground city of the world, lived up to its reputation in entertaining the 50,000 Elks delegates.

"In the audience at the National oratorical contest was Atty. Charles P. Howard, formerly of Des Moines and his son, Charles, Jr., a practicing attorney in Baltimore, Md.

Other information concerning Iowa delegates supplied by Mrs. North appears in separate story.

Another letter came from a former Des Moines resident, Mrs. W. H. Martin (Hazel G.) of Evanston, Ill. She began, "The Mrs. Gola King that I'm sending the paper to as a gift is formerly from Des Moines, now living in Omaha, Neb. She was so pleased with my paper that I mailed on to her that I thought she should enjoy the paper each week. "She says she had not had news of Des Moines for several years until I sent her the papers. I think it would be so nice if you could mention her in your column and give her address. Perhaps, some of her friends will write to her.

"She told me that come Sept. 11th she will be 80 years old. She lived at 1051 12th street for a long time. I, too, am formerly from Des Moines and have many friends there.

"We moved to Los Angeles, Calif. in 1955 and back to Evanston, Ill. in 1958. I still have to visit Des Moines as I have not been there since I left for California. When I visit there I shall stop in to see you. I enjoy your column."

For those who would like to write them, Mrs. Martin's address is 640 Judson ave., and Mrs. King's is 1925 North 20th Avenue.

Greetings postmarked Santa Monica, Calif., came from Miss Charlene Wharton. Scripted on scenic postal cards, were the words, "Wish you were here. Having a good vacation. See you soon."

Shortly after the Luther Glantons returned to the city from their vacation in Chicago, Ill., we were talking to Mrs. Glanton and during the course of our conversation she asked if we got her card. A little embarrassed, we had to tell her no. Later at home, remembering how a pretty picture sometimes captures the attention of our little four-year old lass, we dug into some likely places, and up came the "lost" card.

Also in our mail came a souvenir and greeting from Evangelist Orzealya Roberson who is enjoying a month's vacation in Los Angeles, Calif.

During her visit in the city over the weekend Mrs. L. A. Garland, Jr., of Sioux City, Ia., had a talk with our editor and revealed that she was thinking about serving as news correspondent from her hometown for the Bystander. Mrs. Garland, is a former employee of the Bystander, and of course, news gathering would be old stuff to her.

A letter also came from Mrs. Willa Mae Williams of Ottumwa, Ia., calling our attention to several news worthy events and with a promise also to send news more regularly from our city.

Detroit, Mich.—The 57th Annual Convention of the Grand Temple Daughters of I.B.P.O.E. of the World, which recently drew to a close at Atlantic City, N. J., with a dramatic coronation of Grand Daughter Ruler, Nettie Carter Jackson, was as colorful as it was inspiring.

more than 2000 Elks and friends heard Jackie Robinson, baseball star turned business executive, extoll the virtues of perseverance as he praised the fight initiated by Negro students in Virginia and North Carolina. Robinson was the featured speaker for the occasion which was referred to as the "International Graduation" exercises for Ann Rhodes, the 17-year-old student who was the leader of 21 children in the Front Royal, Virginia integration controversy.

Named the recipient of an Elk $1000 scholarship, Miss Rhodes was handed a number of presents at the meeting which also honored 40 other students who are attending integrated schools in the South.

Achievement Award

Mrs. Vivian Carter Mason, former president of the National Council of Negro Women and a leader in the efforts to gain full civil rights, was the recipient of the annual Achievement Award for her dynamic role in connection with the integration of schools at Norfolk, Va. Especially noteworthy among her activities, was her organization of a temporary school for the "Shutout Seventeen" in Norfolk when the schools were closed rather than follow an integration edict.

STATE RIGHTS COMMISSION GETS RESULTS

The Governors Commission on Human Relations is to be congratulated upon its efforts which brought about the elimination of racial designation on student housing application forms of Iowa University and Iowa State Teachers College.

This action is in line with the continued desire to eliminate the term in all every-day activity, for such designation not only places a stigma on minorities as something set apart but also offers a chance for unscrupulous officials to penalize applicants because of their race.

The state public safety department refused to go along with the program arguing that racial designation on license help to identify the holder thus aiding in the detection of crime.

This is not surprising for the Des Moines police department not only has taken the same view but also has asked news media to follow suit in reporting crime stories.

As a practical matter, experience has shown that just about nobody has been apprehended because designated as Negroes. Whites often paint their faces to appear as Negroes, Negroes are many different colors while the practice prompts undue surveillance by police officers of every Negro they meet.

Maybe, some day, public safety officials will understand that the interest of millions is more important than that of one as long as no rights of that one are violated.

MASTERFUL EFFORT MAKES THEM HOWL

The Commission on Civil Rights of 1957 issued its report to the President and Congress this week in compliance with the law creating it.

Anyone who followed the hearings (held by the commission) in Alabama on voting knows that it uncovered unfound violation of civil rights of Negroes including refusal to permit inspection of voting records and other harassing tactics.

Hearings in Chicago and New York pointed up sorry housing conditions for non whites and consistent program of continuing and extending ghettos.

The commission recommended federal registrars in instances where Negroes are not permitted to vote, a constitutional amendment setting up qualification for voting for federal offices, (age and residence requirements are left in state control), an interracial housing committee and school committees which would work with local people to resolve differences and help create a respect for law and order which must be done to implement any civil rights measure which may be passed.

Southern senators emitted a howl from the house top for the report hit squarely upon many injustices about which we have complained in years gone by. These same senators, as well as former Gov. Battles of Virginia, (he's a member of the commission) insist that laws are already on the statute books which can take care of whatever needs to be done. This has been the old story but few results have come about.

The report is to the point and undoubtedly will smoke out many who have couched their racial view.

The commission should be continued. It will not get everything done which has been recommended, but a part, along with a continued operation which helps intelligent leadership and direction; working for solutions of crimes and injustices against minorities, attain their objectives.

Kid Bassey's Pilot Asks Him To Quit Ring

Manchester, Eng.—The manager of Hogan (Kid) Bassey, who recently lost in his bid to regain his featherweight crown from Davey Moore in Los Angeles, has advised the Nigerian fighter to quit the ring.

Fan Sues Cepeda For Baseball Throw

San Juan, Puerto Rico—A $6,500 suit against Orlando Cepeda of the San Francisco Giants was filed in court by the father of a 12-year-old boy for alleged injuries suffered during a baseball game last January.

Antonio Sanabria filed suit in behalf of his son, whom he claimed suffered cuts in trying to dodge a ball thrown into the grandstand by Cepeda—reportedly incensed by fans who were deriding him.

The Puerto Rican winter league fined Orlando $200 as a result of the incident. However, the big Giants first baseman-outfielder was acquitted of assault and battery charges filed against him because of the incident.

Handing Out 'Homerun' Dough

At the start of the Three-I minor league baseball season, Harry Robinson, left, promised to pay $50 to each Des Moines Demon player who hit a homerun over the fence farthest away from homeplate. No one accomplished the feat, but Cal

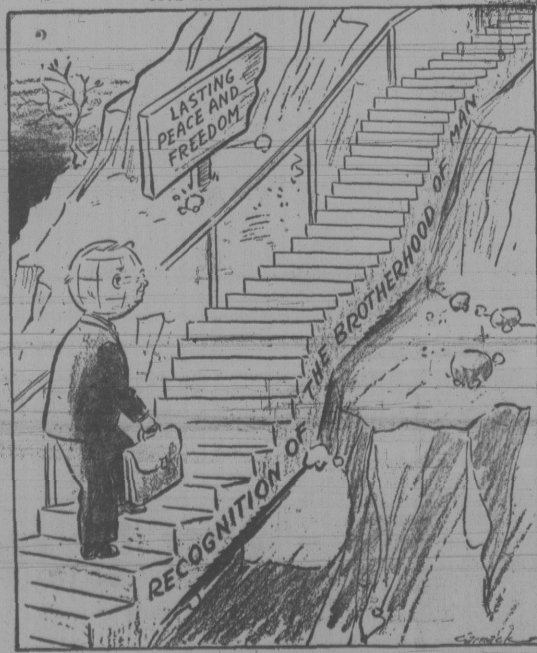

Emery (center) and John Kennedy, came closest to it. So Robinson presented them each with $25 checks for near misses.

The Demons clinched the Three-I league lead Friday night with an 11-6 victory over Lincoln. Photo courtesy of Des Moines Tribune.

Boxing

Then some nitwit says Negroes don't like to get hit in the boxing ring. Do you know of anybody who does like to get hit? Oh well, there are so many things that people say Negroes can't do or that when if one will look at everyone he will find that those statements can be peris.

One of Coaches for Pan-American Games Was Negro from Morgan State College, Va.

Chicago—One of the four coaches for the American track team at the Pan-American games here was the track and football coach of Morgan State college, Edward Paulette Hurt.

"Uncle Eddie" Hurt is known at Morgan for an attitude toward hard work that is almost as legendary as his teams' successes.

His Morgan Bears football team has won 14 CIAA championships. As coach of the track team, he has led his team to 22 open and closed CIAA championships since 1930, and since 1944 has seen them win 11 National AAU individual titles and several relay titles, 9 NCAA and four NAIA individual titles, and 10 Penn Relays team championships, plus 9 individual titles, along with other national and international wins of note.

No Magic Formula

Hurt says, "There's no magic formula for success, it takes hard work and plenty of it. I'm no miracle man. I can't pull rabbits out of the hat. If I've done any thing at all it's been because of the help I've had from everybody. I've had only one formula and that's hard work."

Quite An Honor

Regarding his selection by the U. S. Olympic Committee to the Pan Am coaching staff, he says it is applied to everyone regardless of race, or color. We wish someone would muzzle those self-styled experts.

Give Him A Day

What shall you give to one small boy?
A glamorous game, a tinselled toy,
A barlow knife, a puzzle pack,
A train that runs on curving track?
A picture book, a real live pet...
No, there's plenty of time for such things yet.
Give him a day for his very own—
Just one small boy and his dad alone.
A walk in the woods, a romp in the park,
A fishing trip from dawn to dark,
Give the gift that only you can—
The companionship of his Old Man.
Games are out grown, and toys decay—
But he'll never forget if you "Give him a day."
—ANON

GOOD MORNING, GOD.

I say, "good morning God;"
For He has given me this day,
To share with everyone who comes my way.
Because I know that He is always near:
I do not fear what perils may arise,
Nor do I dull the glory of the dawn
With dark foreboding thoughts.
This day is mine to glorify
And I arise and thankfully, I say:
"Good Morning, God."

Davis Boys Shining On Dodger Farm Club

Los Angeles, Calif.—The Dodgers have two Davis boys on their farms. They're not relatives. Tommy is a native of Brooklyn. Willie is a native of Los Angeles. But don't bet they won't wind up playing in the outfield of the Los Angeles Dodgers in the not-too-distant future.

Willie, an all-around athlete from Roosevelt high, may become the first rookie to win the California League batting title. He is currently pacing the Reno Silver Sox with a robust .364 average, and heads the league in runs, 108, triples, 11, and total bases, 239.

Since the departure of Willie McCovey from Phoenix to the San Francisco Giants, Tommy has taken over as the Pacific Coast League's batting leader at Spokane. He is hitting .339, 16 points higher than his closest rival. He tops the PCL in hits with 160.

Gene Fullmer Says He Wants To Fight Basilio or Robinson

Los Angeles—NBA Middleweight Champion Gene Fullmer, fresh from his triumph over Carmen Basilio, was voluble about what he intends to do now that he again answers to the name 'champion.'

First off, he had a lot of praise for the gameness and gentleman qualities of the man he kayoed Friday night in San Francisco's famous Cow Palace. He was quick to announce that he would be happy to give Basilio a rematch.

But he was equally emphatic in issuing a challenge to two-state middleweight champion, Sugar Ray Robinson, saying: "I will be delighted to fight Robinson for full possession of the 160-pound crown if 'The price is right.'"

In view of this, a matchmaker, George Parnassus immediately started action to arrange a Fullmer-Robinson title bout, saying that if Robinson wasn't agreeable he would try to line up a Fullmer-Archie Moore fight.

Parnassus said he would go to New York within the next few days

How to Sharpen Shears

A SIMPLE method of sharpening an old pair of scissors is illustrated. Drive a 6-penny nail into a wall, as shown. Draw the jaws of the scissors their full length over the nail, as though you were cutting it. A moderate, even prestige is required during the several strokes needed to put an edge on the blades. Cutting into a piece of sandpaper or emery paper is another commonly used method of sharpening a shears.
