Jackson, Miss. — The Rev. Clennon King in a letter received in Jackson last week reportedly said that racial conditions he found in California made him regret that "I deliberately antagonized Mississippians" by trying to integrate the University of Mississippi.

Boston, Mass. — During the course of a garden party which Atty. Harry J. Elman was giving in honor of Mrs. C. T. Nylander, wife of Ghana's Minister of Defense, he was called to the phone. The raspy voice of a Boston grown bigot asked indignantly "When are you going to get the N. . . rs out of Boston?"

Waterloo Mason Gets 50-Year Service Pin

Waterloo, Ia. — On Saturday, Sept. 19 the Rev. William Bell was presented with a pin for 50 years of service in the Masonic organization. A special program and banquet was held in his honor at the YMCA building with Frank Robinson, M.W.G.M., of Des Moines, as guest speaker.

Making the presentation to Rev. Mr. Bell was Robert E. Burt, Jr., W.M. of St. John's Lodge No. 35. Program chairman was Russell Burt, senior warden. Included on the program was a saxophone solo by Nathaniel Taylor of St. John's lodge and a tenor vocal solo by James Tanner. William Coney, past master of the lodge was toastmaster.

The Rev. Mr. Bell was a third degree mason in 1909 and demitted to Waterloo (St. John's lodge) in 1914 and also served as worshipful master of the lodge for five years. In addition he was past grand custodian of Iowa, high priest of bank, chaplain of Royal Arch, Grand high priest of Iowa, Nebraska and Minnesota, past eminent commander of Hirman, commander of K. T.

Currently, he is pastor of the church in Centerville, Ia., and is a 33rd degree mason and the first mason of St. John's lodge to receive his award.

small business is in a bad way these days. "A report from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, based on government figures, tells a very different story. "In the last year corporations with assets of less than $250,000 have shown the greatest increase in profit margins."

New Judge Is Young And Forceful; Appeals To Harlem Politicians

New York City—Dynamic and young but forceful is Judge Samuel Pierce, Jr.—just 36—and already well on his way as a leader and political figure. A brilliant constitutional lawyer, Pierce is certain to appeal to Harlem Democratic groups led by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell.

In this rat race for power, it is refreshing to find honest and clear-thinking men who are fighting daily for the improvement of conditions for the Negro in their area and not afraid to speak out against wrongs. Judge Pierce had received a temporary appointment as General Sessions Judge in January, as one of Governor Rockefeller's first acts. He's now proud of having the formal support of the Liberal and the Republican parties for a full term.

Good Record

He has not, however, the support of the Committee for Democratic Voters and the Council of New York Democrats. They, in turn, took much of Carmine DeSapio's power in this week's primary election. However, Pierce is certain to draw from all groups.

Pierce has a good record and a good family life. He has served as an assistant U. S. Attorney and an assistant to Under Secretary of Labor Larson.

Kenya Youth on Central College Campus

Beginning his planned six year study in the United States is Geoffrey Moriaso Ole Maloy, 20, a member of the Masai tribe, Kenya, British East Africa. Above he demonstrates his skill with spear throwing on the campus of Central College at Pella, Ia., where he begins his freshman year.

Tribal rituals decree that Masai youths indicate their manhood by killing a lion with a spear. Maloy says he will confine his spear throwing to the athletic field. He won several prizes in high school in javelin throwing.

Maloy will be studying in the United States under a scholarship for about six years and plans to be a veterinarian. He hopes to work in a research laboratory in Kenya. Photo courtesy of Des Moines Sunday Register.

Residents Express Hope That History-Making Visit Will Help World Peace

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, accompanied by his family, Russian emissaries, his American representative, Henry Cabot Lodge and scores of other dignitaries and newsmen arrived in Des Moines Tuesday afternoon on the last leg of his history-making tour of the U. S. After a banquet in his honor and a tour of the Garst farm in Coon Rapids Wednesday he was scheduled to leave the city Wednesday evening.

Residents reacted to his visit with mixed emotion. Some felt it was good that he came to the U. S.; others were of the opinion that his visit could do little or no good. Threading through most of the sampled opinions were the hope that he would be treated courteously, that nothing happens to the Russian premier while he is in the U. S. and . . . that they hoped some good toward world peace could be achieved.

The following are the expressions of various Des Moines residents to Mr. Khrushchev's tour of the U. S.:

Mrs. Luther Smith, 901 23rd St. — "It's a good neighbor gesture. One cannot know what people are thinking but something good will probably come of it. If we are to have peace in our country we must have peace in our hearts."

Plan State NAACP Conference Program

President Ollie Lewis with assistance from the Council Bluffs branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will host the 20th Annual Session of the Iowa Conference of Branches on Oct. 3-4.

Conference highlights will include a workshop on "Vocational Guidance and Job Placement." Discussion leaders will be Malcolm B. Higgins, Executive-secretary of the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights and George H. Robinson, executive secretary of the Omaha Urban League.

NAACP Youth

This workshop has been planned so youths may participate. Several members from the Des Moines Youth Council of the NAACP plan to attend along with their supervisor, James Harris.

The Saturday evening banquet's guest speaker will be Atty. William R. Ming, of Chicago, Ill. The mass meeting speaker will be Rev. Charles E. Tyler of Calvin Memorial Presbyterian church, Sunday, at 3 p.m. at Bethel A.M.E. Church.

Delegates

The two-day-parley will hold all meetings, which are open to the public, at Bethel A.M.E. church. Ten delegates were elected by the Des Moines branch to attend the state meeting, of which A. P. Trotter is now serving his third term, as president.

John M. Estes, Jr., 811 14th St. — "His primary reason was to come to Iowa to see the agricultural methods and products. I hope his visit at the Garst farm will help our relations with his country."

Mrs. Billie Jean Morrow, 1701 Carpenter, — "A fine thing if he sees the normal living without too much fanfare. Hope some good will come out of it."

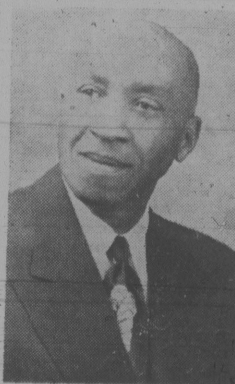

Mrs. W. W. Jones, 1318 Ascension, — "Of course, the heavy guard seemed a little unnecessary, but just think if anything should happen to Mr. Khrushchev while he is in the U. S., World War III could explode."

Mrs. Besaye Greene, 1412 Center Street — "I'm wondering if it were the correct thing to do to invite him to this country; however I congratulate the people on their courteousness. The President knows more about these things than the ordinary citizen and I do stand behind the President."

Miss Charlene Wharton, 900 17th Street — "It's good that he could come; when we can sit down and talk about our problems and keep talking, there is not time for guns and swords. If we are to represent

"Murderer" . . . Yells Harlemite While Khrushchev Drives By

New York City—Confident that he would conquer Harlem as he had won many new friends during his visit to America, Nikita S. Khrushchev was a very disappointed man, but the crowd never knew it. He waved and smiled to the residents of Harlem as he drove by—but they took nearly the same viewpoint of the Russian leader's visit as the Hungarian patriots did. As the Russians passed through the streets in a big black limousine, Harlemites looked from windows but did not cheer. They did not greet Mr. K. They did not wave. They just stared.

Undisturbed

But the Russian's weren't disturbed. They were used to such treatment from New Yorkers. Anti-Communists formed pickets wherever Khrushchev was speaking and demonstrations were put on proclaiming the visitors as "murderers," etc.

"I have the impression that the people who took an unfriendly attitude were few—a drop in the sea," stated the pudgy leader as he took off for Hollywood where actors had already excused themselves from a luncheon in his honor.

"I was glad to see that the majority of the business people, local authorities and the working people were indeed very friendly toward us," Mr. K. said he did not get a chance to get out of the car and mingle with the people of Harlem as he wanted to—but that perhaps next time he would have the opportunity.

At least he was happy he got a chance to get his "peek" at Harlem—which he had twice requested. Each time the tour was postponed or canceled he asked again that it be returned to the agenda.

Scottie for House Number

A TIME TRIED method of displaying a house number in an attractive manner is illustrated. Either the Scottie-dog cutout or some other animal will serve the purpose. Set in a parkway, on the lawn or at the curb, the jaunty puppy, with its sparkling eyes, will prove to be an attractive addition.

Scottie is 15 inches long and his height is 11 1/2 inches. Cut him from two pieces of Masonite 3/16"

Tempered Presdwood holding the panels, screen sides together, with C-clamp and following a pattern with a coping, keyhole or band saw. Slightly round the edges with a file or sandblock.

Reflector-type bolts used for car license serve as eyes and reflect the light from passing cars. The numbers are saved from the Tempered Presdwood and glued to each side of the cutout.

Two wooden stakes, shaped from 1 by 2-inch lumber, are laid between the two cutouts and fastened with screws applied through holes drilled in the hardboard. Paint Scottie in appropriate colors, first using a primer. Push the stakes into the ground, and your new house number will be in service. All the materials needed are available at lumber yards.

Luxuries of Life

Pleasantville, N. J., Press: "Apparently many people have the idea that our governments—Federal, state, county and municipal—should give us every service suggested. That would be nice. It would be nice, of course, to have all the luxuries of life. It is quite necessary that we learn there is a limit to what we can expect our governments to supply. In our private lives, we can't provide ourselves and our families with everything our heart's desire. All of us do not have the many resources to fill all of our wishes. So it is with governments; unless taxes are upped, and upped, and upped."

terial should be large enough to allow for the sawing of a "collar" to fit around the clock.

The center of the "collar" may be cut out with a coping or similar-type saw. To get the blade started, insert it in a hole bored near and inside the line marking the outline of the clock.

Shape of the clock will determine whether the outer edge of the "collar" is round, square or hexagonal. The distance between the clock and the outer edge of the Presdwood should range from four to six inches, depending on the size of the clock and the amount of wall space available.

Friction ordinarily will keep the "collar" in position, flat against the wall at the back of the clock, but if the sawing has been irregular and the border is loose, insert small pieces of wood to take up the slack.

Collar the Clock!

PUTTING a collar on the average kitchen timepiece will brighten up the clock wall and make it both attractive and more useful.

Lay the clock on a piece of paper and trace its outline. Transfer the drawing, by means of carbon paper, to a panel of Masonite Tempered Presdwood one-eighth inch thick. The ma-

Sesame Puffs Go With Frozen Fruit Salad

Fragrant, warm Sesame Puffs with margarine give appeal to frozen fruit salad.

A frozen fruit salad is at its cool best when a hot bread is served with it.

Bread and margarine are an excellent foundation for summer eating. One leading nutritionist says that menus planned around bread and spread, citrus and milk are tops nutritionally. And, says he, the idea that bread and margarine are fattening is old hat. It might have been true in the days when bread was not enriched and when margarine did not contain vitamin A. But nowadays, with their fine food values, these basic foods ought to be included in every meal, even in the diets of those seeking to lose weight.

To go with a frozen fruit salad and to make the menu a complete meal, it would be hard to find a bread more delicious than Sesame Puffs. They are easy to make and they keep well for several days. Any left over can easily be reheated in the top of a double boiler, or foil-wrapped in the oven.

Sesame Puffs are made from a yeast-leavened batter. It need not be kneaded, only stirred and perhaps beaten a bit to make it extra good. Since the batter contains milk and eggs along with margarine and enriched flour, the puffs are practically a meal in themselves. To make them extra easy to mix, the recipe calls for dry milk. This means there is no bothersome scalding of milk and that extra pan to wash.

New York City—HARRY'S DOING IT AGAIN. Harry Belafonte never ceases to amaze us—and this week the management of the Palace Theatre and Harry's agents are both tearing their hair trying to figure where this guy will end with the restrictions. He's due to play the famous Palace in November—but wants no matinees—and the prices must be reasonable.

Plus this, he is hand-picking the musicians and it'll be a one-man show with himself on stage all of the time. Because of the no-matinee request—the agents cannot arrive at either a salary or percentage until they figure more closely what profits can be made under such restrictions. To top it all, Harry has said he doesn't care to break attendance records. Judy Garland is the all-time record breaker there—he just wants all the people possible to get a chance to hear him. Oh yes, one last request: he insists on one night off—so that's not even a full week of appearances.

Eartha Kitt

Eartha Kitt in town for Apollo Theatre 2 week date—and she's fine doing her fabulous Waldorf-Astoria routine—but when she gets too hinky for the audience they let her know it and down she comes. She does quite a strip tease-appearing bit when she changes behind a flimsy screen in a tempting manner.

Statistics

Bartow, Fla., Democrat: "Sometimes statistics provide very boring reading, yet there are times when they contain information which should be of interest to every one of us. Like, for instance, the information that in 1930, 664,000 persons were in the employ of the federal government. . . . today, exclusive of our armed forces, the number has reached 2,100,000, an increase of more than 200 per cent. . . . the same statistician reports that in 1930 taxes took 13 per cent of the national income, while today the figure has reached 29 per cent. . . . in 1930, the per family share of the national debt amounted to $540, while today the figure is $5500.

Louis Jordan

The big news is that since Louis Jordan changed managers—he's now with Joe Glaser, who guided Billie Holiday—he's been re-born with the public. At the Golden in Reno, Nevada, business was so good, he was turning away customers. Funny thing, he's doing all his oldies "Caldonia," "Saturday Night Fish Fry" etc. and when he leaps and cavorts around the room like a teenager, the audiences love it. His vocalist, Dottie Smith, who does a few singles, was well received also and all the company five is new—Charlie Rice on drums, Pete Gentry on vocals, Teddy Bunn on guitar, John Huston on piano and Jimmy Mobley on bass.

Billy Eckstine

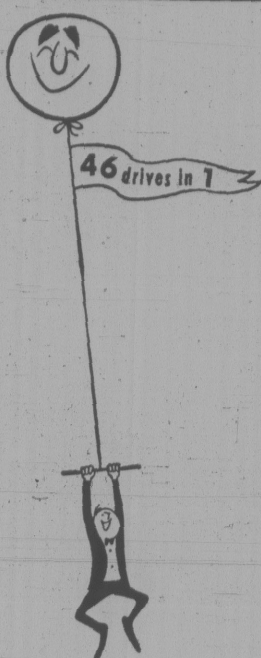

Billy Eckstine goes Latin for 5 weeks and the Spanish women are waiting for this handsome American who's currently enjoying European successes. Billy is booked in Venezuela and Rio, doing two shows a night—which is really living lazily to us—and he's looking forward to much fishing and swimming—and definitely lounging on sun-kissed beaches cooled by palm trees.

Eddie Heywood

Urania Records has put up an album of the late Fletcher Henderson and his All-Stars with Rex Stewart on trumpet. There are old favorites like "Honeysuckle Rose," "King Porter's Stomp" and many others. Eddie Heywood to Baker's Keyboard in Detroit where the best pianists all go.

Khrushchev

The Christian nation that we are, we should receive Mr. Khrushchev in a hospitable way.

Peter Hawthorne, Jr., 1223 10th Street—"Witnessing the unfolding of an historic event of world-wide importance is the most impressive to me about Mr. Khrushchev's visit to the U. S., and too, from my vantage point, this initial visit of a Russian leader. . . . serves to halt or thaw the tensions inherent in the cold war. By his personal visit, in the main, friendly and happy, Americans have seemingly put Mr. Khrushchev in a less hostile attitude."

A. P. Trotter, 934 14th Place—"I think some overall good can be achieved by the exchange of visits between President Eisenhower and Mr. Khrushchev."

Mrs. Bernice Carter, 911 16th St.—"Since President Eisenhower invited the Russian leader to this country, it is good that he came, but I don't think we are going to benefit a great deal from his visit other than the courtesy."

CLYDE MORRIS, 1046 17th St.—"He is entitled to see as much of the country as any visitor."

Mrs. James Harris, 1150 14th Place—"I think he is getting his eyes full. . . . and impressed by the great freedom and prosperity of the U. S."

Dr. James Bowman, 3005 Amherst—"I think it's a fine thing and if it can do anything toward world peace it is well worth the effort and expense."

Mrs. Korinne Jackson, 1155 Enos Street—"It's a good thing to see how other people live but I'll be glad when he's gone. Mr. Khrushchev is making a grandstand show and the diplomacy of the United States, in the face of such hamming, has been marvelous. Despite her smiling pleasant face, Mrs. Khrushchev's eyes have not smiled, and to me that reveals what a person is thinking."

Mrs. Gertrude North, 813 13th St.—"As a visiting head of state, it's no more than right that he should be extended courtesy."

United Campaign Kicks Off Monday; Boat Parade Sunday

The 1959 United Campaign kicks off Monday on its annual drive to support the 46 health, welfare, and recreation agencies in the Greater Des Moines area. The goal for this year is $1,633,053. Four thousand woman solicitors will begin their Women's Division drive on Oct. 5 with a goal of $100,000.

Slogan for this year's U.C. is "Get that BIG lift with your ONE gift." Posters and signs will be seen throughout the community emphasizing the slogan.

Boat Parade

On Sunday a giant boat parade will be held on the Des Moines River to emphasize the kickoff of the Campaign. Approximately 150 boats from the Des Moines Power Boat Club will start parading down the river at 1:15 p.m. and should pass under the 6th Avenue Bridge at 2:30 p.m. The boats will be decorated with flags for the various agencies of the United Campaign, and will carry representatives of each agency. Balloons will be released, and rockets will be fired to emphasize the kickoff.

Theater Rally

On Wednesday, Sept. 30, the women's division Belle Ringer solicitors rally will be held at KRNT Theater. Featured in the rally will be Meredith Willson, Mrs. America, a one hundred piece band representing the five Des Moines public schools, and five $100 outfits given as door prizes to women solicitors. The entire program is without cost to the United Campaign including the theater, and Mrs. America's and Meredith Willson's performances.

Winnemucca, Nev., Star: "We're taking a chance. We know Nikita Khrushchev has been angling for a chance to sit down in two-way talks with the United States. We're taking that chance—but after full consultation with our allies. . . . We're gambling that Khrushchev, a few peasant that he is, will go home impressed by a country happy with its rich distribution of consumer goods, united on foreign policy and without the slightest intention to knuckle under to Red domination anywhere from Berlin to Oshkosh."

"We should remember, however, that it IS a gamble."

Dr. Julien Mason, 932 16th St.—"I think Des Moines treated him very nicely; after all if you invite a guest to your house he should be treated courteously."

Samuel Miller, 1140 14th Street—"I'm like Walter Reuther, Mr. Khrushchev is too emotional. Not too much can be accomplished from his visit."

NAACP Calls for Civic Action to Curb Delinquency

New York. — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has pledged "its continuing support of every constructive effort" to eliminate the causes of and curb juvenile delinquency and adult crime. A policy statement adopted by the Association's Board of Directors at its regular monthly meeting here on September 14 further calls upon its branches throughout the country "to cooperate with other responsible citizens and agencies in this vital task."

Responsibility

"This is a responsibility shared by all elements of the community, one from which no segment of the population is exempt," the statement asserts. Governmental and private agencies and individual citizens alike have legitimate roles to play in community wide efforts to protect life and property, to uphold the highest standards of public morality, to safeguard the rights and privileges of citizens, and to eradicate the economic and social cesspools which breed crime."

Asserting that "regard for law and order and respect for the enforcers of law are essential in any community," the statement also indicates that a "regard for the rights of citizens by law enforcement officers" is equally essential. "Only in a society in which these mutual responsibilities are recognized and upheld can effective action be taken to reduce delinquency and crime," it states.

Mass Hysteria

"Mass hysteria will not do the job," the statement continues. "Neither will disregard of citizens' constitutional rights, nor large-scale indiscriminate arrests of alleged offenders against whom there is no incriminating evidence."

Pointing to the rise in delinquency rates in other cities and countries, the statement expresses the conviction that "here, as elsewhere, crime and delinquency will be curbed on a basis of an understanding of the causes and a concerted effort to eliminate or minimize the social, economic and psychological origins of anti-social behavior."

Two Replacements Appointed at Hampton

Hampton, Va., Sept. 21—Two replacements for faculty members on leave in the Division of Physical Education, Recreation, and Athletics at Hampton Institute have been appointed, according to Dr. William H. Martini, acting president of the college.

Appointed substitute instructors in physical education are Mrs. Geneva Taylor Wells, 657 18th St., Newport News and Otto H. Harvey, Elizabeth City, North Carolina.

Mrs. Wells, a graduate of Huntington High School, Newport News, received the B. S. degree from Virginia State College in 1944 and the M. A. from Columbia University in 1948.

Department Head

She has been employed as health and physical education teacher at Huntington High School since 1944 and since 1956 has served as head of the Physical Education department there. At Hampton, Mrs. Wells will teach physical education and direct the Creative Dance Group.

Harvey received the B. S. in physical education at North Carolina college in 1955 and the M. S. in 1956. He was an all CIAA center during his student days at North Carolina.

A native of Elizabeth City, N. C., he has been coach and teacher of physical education at the P. W. Moore High School in Elizabeth City for the past three years. He is a member of the North Carolina Teachers Association and the National Education Association.

Dr. J. H. Jackson Re-elected to 6th Term as Baptist Leader

San Francisco, Calif.—Dr. J. H. Jackson, was elected to a sixth consecutive term as president of the National Baptist convention before the 79th annual session of the organization closed here recently.

Dr. Jackson who criticized the NAACP last month for initiating court suits in Little Rock, Ark., to bring about school integration, defended the NAACP in his annual address before 25,000 delegates and visitors.

Dr. Jackson who electrified the nation with a release to the press, stating that the NAACP was not giving Little Rock a "chance" to integrate, said that people who are suing the NAACP "seeking to stop the activities of this organization... have sued the wrong organization... one of the most American of all American organizations."

"Unity is one of the great needs among Negro Baptists and Negro people," he said.

DISINTEGRATION

Dr. Jackson warned that "integration must not mean the disintegration of all the values of the Negro race. It must not mean the glorification of all that is white and the disrespect of all that is colored."

"The struggle for first class citizenship is not a struggle for so-called race mixing. The mixing, or fellowship groups and races must always remain a matter of personal choice and group preference."

"The second great task of the American Negro," he said, "is to make full and creative use of the freedom already acquired. We tend to excuse ourselves in the name of the external conditions that have been forced upon us and deceive ourselves into thinking that others are wholly to blame for all the sins we commit."

Dr. Jackson added that he pities "the Negro who has so lost his self-respect and the regard for his own race that he thinks it is... insecure to cast his lot with his own people."

TREATMENT

The Baptist convention, which claimed 25,000 delegates and guests, received the full dress treatment from San Francisco.

It was claimed that Dr. Jackson led a three-train delegation of some 60 Pullman cars into the convention city, where he was met by the chauffeured limousine of Mayor George Christopher. Mayor Christopher alter greeted him officially on the steps to the City Hall and gave him a 'key' to the city.

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Written by Lloyd Lovell, SUI Assistant Professor

INFLUENCES ARE SUBTLE

If you stop to think about it, you probably would agree that you influence your children in many subtle ways as well as direct ones. There are some things you distinctly set out to teach your child: crossing the street, handling tableware, using the toilet, and performing many other large and small tasks.

Because you are aware that you are playing the role of a teacher, you may question what you are doing, you may read up on the topic, you may even seek specific advice about the area. But in subtle matters where you are not as acutely aware of yourself as a teacher, taking an objective look at what you are doing is more difficult.

Language

For instance the language you use or refer to your child may help the child learn about himself. I know two fathers: one says to his son quite often, "Oh, you're a fine boy, Bobby." The other always indicates his disapproval by saying, "Bad boy, Paul. Paul is a naughty boy."

Each is teaching his son what kind of person the child is, and the child may eventually come to think of himself as having the characteristics that his father described him as having. Bobby may indeed come to think of himself as "okay" and have a certain amount of self-confidence. Paul may regard himself as naughty and feel uncertain about his own abilities.

Powerful

Thus the language you use can have a powerful influence. It is probably one of the most important ways you teach your child about himself. Taking a critical look at your own language patterns may help you to know better what and how you are subtly teaching your child.

Ask Reversal of Convictions Of State Leaders in Arkansas

Washington.—The Supreme Court of the United States was today asked to invalidate the Little Rock and North Little Rock ordinances under which Mrs. Daisy Bates, the Association's Arkansas state president, and Mrs. Birdie Williams, president of the North Little Rock NAACP branch, were convicted and fined for refusal to disclose the names and addresses of NAACP members.

In a brief filed by NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter of New York City and George Howard, Jr., of Pine Bluff, Ark., the Supreme Court was asked to reverse the convictions and to strike down the laws contrary to the due process clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.

Convictions, Fines

Charges with violating ordinances requiring them to turn over to city officials the NAACP membership lists. Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Williams were tried and convicted in municipal court, Dec. 1957. Mrs. Bates was fined $100 and Mrs. Williams $25. On appeal to the Circuit Court of Pulaski County, they were again convicted and each fined $25.

On Dec. 22, 1958 the Supreme Court of Arkansas, by a divided court, upheld the convictions and sentences. The court, in its opinion, sought to distinguish the Arkansas ordinances from the Alabama case in which the United States Supreme Court ruled that the NAACP did not have to disclose the names of its members.

No Valid Purpose

In the brief filed Sept. 18, the NAACP contends that the ordinances were invoked against Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Williams for no valid purpose. "The record does reveal," the brief asserts, "that the ordinances were enacted to find out what was going on in the NAACP, but mere curiosity would not seem sufficient warrant for curbing freedom of speech and association or for invading the privacy of association which the federal Constitution secures."

Interference

The NAACP further asserts that the United States Supreme Court ruling in the Alabama case applies likewise to the Arkansas cases in that "unwarranted interference with the free exercise of rights of freedom of speech and of association are involved." Moreover, the brief points out, the tax provisions of the ordinances do not apply to the activities of a non-profit membership organization "whose primary objectives and principal activities are directed towards the improvement of the status of Negro citizens."

Ask High Court to Intercede In Case of Discharged Teacher

Washington, The United States Supreme Court has been asked to review a lower federal court ruling which sustained the refusal of the United States District Court "contending that the refusal to renew their contracts was based upon discrimination barred by the due process and equal protection clauses of the Fourteenth Amendment."

Sustained

The case was tried on its merits in August, 1956. Two years later, on Oct. 2, 1958, the court upheld the Moberly school board. This decision was appealed to the United States Court of Appeals which on June 17, 1959, sustained the opinion and judgment of the lower court.

Contending that the lower courts' ruling cannot be reconciled with previous decisions of the Supreme Court and that the case represents an issue of great public importance, the petition asks for a review of the lower courts' decisions and a hearing of the case before the Supreme Court.

Recipe of the Month

REGAL CHEESE CAKE PIE

NANCY HAVEN

October is Cheese Festival Month... we know of no better way to observe it than by serving this delicious Cheese Cake Pie. Decorate it with a sparkling lace collar—cut center from paper doily, brush the rim with egg white and sprinkle with Beet Sugar; let dry. Add a small fresh flower bouquet to one side.

CRUMB CRUST:

Combine 1 cup fine dry breadcrumbs with 6 tablespoons Beet Sugar and 4 tablespoons each ground almonds and melted butter or margarine. Press firmly into a 9-inch pie pan. Chill.

FILLING:

- 1 cup cottage cheese, large curd
- 1 (3-oz.) pkg. cream cheese
- 1/2 cup Beet Sugar
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 3/4 cup rich milk or cream
- 1 pint cultured sour cream (optional)

Measure all ingredients but milk or cream into bowl and beat vigorously with rotary or electric beater until smooth; stir in milk or cream.

Pour into Crumb Crust. Bake in slow oven (325° F.) 40 minutes; turn off heat; leave pie in oven with door closed 30 minutes longer. Remove and let cool on rack. Spread sour cream on top of pie, if desired. Decorate with slivered almonds.

Have pie meringue troubles? Send for JUST DESSERTS, a 32-page booklet which contains a section on how to make the perfect meringue, besides many recipes. For your FREE copy send a postcard to: NANCY HAVEN, Dept. C-7, Western Beet Sugar Producers, Inc., 59 East Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Summer's gone almost before it came as autumn officially upstages the few warm humid days recorded the past several months... Des Moines dotting a page of international history as it hosts Nikita Khrushchev and his entourage from Soviet Russia.

A young India student who had taken pre-medical studies at the University of Washington in Seattle, Wash., arrived in Des Moines this fall to enroll at Still college. He planned on working for his tuition but learned after his arrival that it was against the rule for first-year students to do so.

Without tuition funds and hardly knowing what to do, he wrote university officials at his former alma mater in Seattle and told them of his situation. They in turn sent him the full amount of a year tuition fee as a loan.

Another student from India who graduated from the school of pharmacy at Drake last year will be remembered by several Des Moines residents. She is Penny Thomas. She is currently starring in her first off-Broadway role in a play about her native country.

Among the gifted pupils to be assigned to Wallace school, East 13th and Des Moines street, this fall was Robert Hyde III, 11 year old son of Robert Hyde, Jr. of 817 13th street and Mrs. Mary Hyde of 1105 14th street place.

Gifted pupils will take special class work higher than their normal grade and were enrolled Sept. 3.

A perfect picture of picturesque anachronisms: A highly polished black, red and gold trimmed 1901 Oldsmobile, puttering proudly along among the modern sleek, long, low new automobiles. It was driven by a uniformed-local bank guard as a publicity stunt.

Chatted with Mrs. Loren Deering, sr., of 1639 Lyon street and she informed us her daughter, Loretta, who formerly worked at the city library has enrolled as a student at Drake to seek a degree in elementary education.

Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mae Watkins of 1501 E. Park avenue landed her first teaching assignment this fall at Lucas elementary school. Mrs. Watkins' husband, Clifford also has completed their new home out in Highland park. Mr. Watkins had no previous building experience and did all of the work himself.

They expect to move to their new abode soon.

Back to Nikita Khrushchev: Thousands of Iowans got a personal view of the Russian leader at the Des Moines air port or along the route to the Hotel Fort Des Moines or across from the hotel itself, Tuesday. Others got a closeup view on their TV screens.

Yours truly continued to derive our impressions of Mr. K from our TV, where ever possible. However, we did walk past the scene where he spent Tuesday night in Iowa. People had already picked out choice viewing spots before noon Tuesday.

We got the impression residents were more impressed by the show than by the mercurial Russian boss himself. They got a good idea how security officers operate, patrolling rooftops scanning the crowds and adjacent rooftops and windows with spy glasses, while others manned rifles and machine guns. Other officers, some in uniforms and others in plain clothes, could be detected among the crowds. Then there were the huge Boeing Air force jet planes, the like of which had not been seen locally.

The reaction of many residents seemed to be one of curiosity tinged with uneasiness, as if they are holding their breath. Many express the opinion, "It's a good thing he came, but I'll be glad when he is gone." They unconsciously thought he should be courteously treated.

In some schools, teachers abandoned their schedules and escorted youngsters to the auditoriums where they could view live history and witness the arrival of Mr. K. It's surprising but some youngsters even managed the pronunciation of the Premier's name a little better than adults.

Some sightings: Among the police who had the job of directing traffic or patrolling the streets on the Khrushchev route were Patrolman Richmond Kelso and Patrolman James Thompson. Mr. E. P. Jackson, employee at the Hotel Fort Des Moines along with all other employees, has to stay all night at the hotel because of the added work not for security reasons. A LOVE LETTER CAKE

VALENTINE'S DAY IS THE DAY to be frankly sentimental. And this cake in the shape of a love letter "sealed with a kiss" is just the way to express those romantic thoughts. One package of white cake mix does the job for you, and a velvety chocolate frosting envelopes the wonderful contents. It's fun to take care of this kind of correspondence, and so wonderful for the receiver, too!

VALENTINE LOVE LETTER

- 1 package Swans Down White Cake Mix
- 1 cup water
- 2 egg whites, unbeaten
- Chocolate Frosting
- Decorating Icing

Empty contents of package into large bowl. Add 1/2 cup of the water. Blend; then beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer or 300 vigorous strokes by hand. (Scrape bowl and beaters or spoon often.) Add egg whites, blend, and beat 1 minute in mixer or 150 strokes by hand. Then add remaining 1/2 cup water gradually and beat 1 minute longer in mixer or 150 strokes by hand.

Pour batter into 13x9x2-inch pan, lined on bottom with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 30 minutes or until done. Cool. Frost with Chocolate Frosting. Make Decorating Icing and tint pale pink with a drop of red vegetable coloring. With a cake decorator tube, decorate cake with lines to resemble back of an envelope and write "From Your Love" and "SWAK."

CHOCOLATE FROSTING

- 4 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 2 1/4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- 3/4 cup hot water
- 1 egg and 1 egg yolk
- 6 tablespoons butter

Melt chocolate. Remove from heat, add sugar and water, and blend. Add egg and egg yolk, beating well. Then add butter, a tablespoon at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition.

Decorating Icing. Beat 1 egg white with 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar until smooth. Add additional 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar gradually, beating until stiff enough to use for decorating. (ANS)

FOOTBALL SEASON
OPENER

Football in the larger Iowa Colleges got off to a good start Saturday night led by the traditional rivalry between Iowa State University and Drake.

This was the first game of the season for both teams. Iowa State with more experienced team, played an excellent game sparked by Nichols and Watkins; on the other hand, Drake with predominantly sophomore talent, showed that the team, while demonstrating good work at times, is much in need of more instruction in fundamentals and a heart to wade in and tackle the opponent.

The lopsided score 41 to 0 did not tell the whole story for Drake did a pretty good job during the first half. Coach O'Connor while terrible disappointed, can get a lot out of his boys. Too, its his first year as a college coach. Its different being coached and coaching.

Football fans turned out well for the event. And while succeeding engagements will not involve games which bring fans from close by in large numbers, Des Moines should support the team with their presence.

College football is good recreation for the fans; people should take advantage of it.

YOUR VOTE TUESDAY
IS IMPORTANT

Next week, the citizens of Des Moines will get to the polls to decide whether the city shall establish, acquire, maintain and operate a transit system.

Sometime ago, the mayor appointed a committee to study the problems of the system and recommend what course should be taken to help solve the transit muddle.

The group recommended that the city purchase the company and either operate it or lease it to a private firm. A threatened strike by operators was averted after Mayor Iles agreed to call an election, the one set for September 29th.

There has been little enthusiasm about this election. (Des Moines has come to the place where nobody cares much about a city election.) There have been no campaign speeches no election literature distributed, except a nominal amount by the local union.

And in view of the fact that 60 per cent of the voters must favor the proposition, the situation does not look good.

Like a great many other cities, the Des Moines system has operated with difficulty for years. All kinds of reasons for its plight have been hurled back and forth, none of which has helped. The company has reached a critical stage and something must be done to straighten out the difficulty which will mean good service to the public, fair and stable working conditions for the employees and a reasonable return on the capital invested by the owners.

Should the city decide to operate the system or lease it to a private firm, it is hoped that politics will not enter into the transaction. This is one of the chances the voters are asked to take.

The Bystander is inclined to go along with an approval of the proposition with the hope that the mayor will appoint a good board of authority and that Negroes will not be ignored in those appointments as Mayor Iles and his predecessors have done in the past.

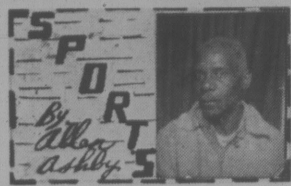

EXTEND LIFE OF
RIGHTS COMMISSION

By a vote of 71 to 18 the Senate extended the life of the Commission on Civil Rights. The bill came on by an amendment to the foreign aid bill which required a 2/3 vote for passage.

The 1957 civil rights bill was a mandate from Congress for the commission to get the facts on racial discrimination — voting first — for it was not satisfied with data on hand which would enable it to legislate intelligently. Of course they knew, for what the commission turned up is just what the Negro press and other media have been telling all along.

What the commission found was so distasteful that even the members from the South chastized election officials.

All the opposition to the report came from southern members of the Senate who made their canned speeches but got nowhere. Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa supported the measure; Senator Martin was absent on official business but left no indication how he would vote had he been present.

Football should take over the spotlight but with that National league baseball pennant race tighter than the skin on a bald head who can think entirely of football. Would like to see Sam Jones of the Giants in a series. But, it looks like they won't make it. That Milwaukee veteran poise is paying off and by the time you read this the Braves may have picked up the marbles.

The Sox are in and just about everyone would like to see them win the big one.

Football

Either East High has another one of those powerhouse running attacks or Lincoln High doesn't have a thing. We'll find out maybe this weekend. Early candidates for all city honors are East's Jerry Cooley at fullback and Fred Butts at guard.

Tech is stamping themselves as a tough team and this could be their year. Would like to see that. Their chief candidate is Bill Taylor at tackle. North just can't seem to get going and the Polar Bears seem to have the ingredients of a good team. They will likely beat someone at the most surprising time.

College

Iowa U unveils its game next week end and we may see the debut of Wilbur Hollis at quarterback along with Jeter and Brown. Iowa States brought out Tom Watkins at fullback and Mike Webb at end. Those who were too late getting tickets to the Iowa U games would do well to go up to Ames. You will see some good football, and in most of their games the Cyclones have a good chance to win.

Local

Our local semi-pro club has played one game, been walked on and is now getting ready for Fort Madison and Anamosa. They will need more than luck.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Things to Come

If you're a science fiction fan, as we are, you've read at least one of those stories in which people live to be hundreds of years old without any of the disadvantages which go with being elderly today. In the last two decades, fiction has had a tough effort to eliminate the causes of time keeping ahead of fact in many respects. But the aging process is still an unsolved puzzle. Perhaps some day scientists will be able to prevent, or reverse aging. Meanwhile, we must help ourselves.

There is much we can do right now to prolong our lives and ensure a happy healthy, and active old age.

Annual Checkup

Perhaps most important is to make a habit of an annual physical checkup. Many of the ailments which rob oldsters of the joy of living would never become disabling if they were detected and dealt with early. And some, like tuberculosis, cancer, glaucoma, high blood pressure, and diabetes give rise to no apparent symptoms in the early stages. Only a doctor can detect them.

Eating Habits

Healthful eating habits are important to later well-being, too. It has been said that we in the U. S. are both overfed and poorly nourished. That's because some of us eat too much of the wrong kind of food and not enough of the right kind. An adequate diet includes, every day: dairy products; meat, fish, or poultry; green and yellow vegetables; and bread and cereals. A diet including all of these foods will not add unwanted pounds if rich cakes, pies, and pastries are omitted.

Boredom

Boredom and loneliness are hazards of the later years. Both can be avoided if we start now to develop hobbies which involve other people—chess and bridge clubs, volunteer welfare work, music and art groups, for instance.

It's said that we begin to age as soon as we are born. Certainly it is never too soon to prepare to enjoy what can be the best years of our lives.

D. M. Dragons Defeated by
Kansas City Buffs, 32-0

Kansas City, Mo.—The Kansas City Buffs, an integrated semi-pro football team that would like to be considered as available if and when the proposed new American Professional football league grants a franchise to Kansas City, played in pro tempo Sunday, Sept. 13, in Bishop O'Hara stadium as it inaugurated the Des Moines, Iowa, Dragons, 32-0 before an estimated crowd of 2,000 mixed spectators.

Both teams made a pleasing and impressive presentation as they took the field garbed in colorful and appropriate football attire, the Buffs in sleek and powerful looking in blue jerseys with black numerals and tight pro grid pants while the Dragons were correctly dressed in form fitting white jerseys with black numerals and white pants.

Fast and Furious

Once the game got underway the action was fast and furious, with the Buffs displaying a spirited brand of play and the visitors battling relentlessly to stop the attack on their goal line. Early in the first quarter, the Buffs gained possession of the ball deep in Dragon territory and after a few probes at the right side of the Dragon line, they took to the air and passed for the first touchdown and converted for a 7-0 lead, the conversion coming on a play from scrimmage.

Thereafter, the Dragons threatened to equal the score as they made a determined assault on the Buffs.

FOR SILVER AND GOLD

For silver and gold, destruction is wrought.
For power and plunder, all wars are fought.
All illegal gains, will be nothing but dross,
The laws of the gods are not those of might,
nor the ill-gotten gains of a thief in the night.
No person, no people, no kingdom or state, can fatten on conquest, and live to be great.
The laws of the God-head, the righteous defend,
yet stupid ones break them, and pay in the end!

Says Red Sox May
Hire a Negro Scout

Boston, Mass.—Unofficial reports have it that the Boston Red Sox management is contemplating the hiring of a Negro full-time scout, as well as a public relations staff member.

Next year the Red Sox reportedly will invite members of the Negro professional baseball leagues to perform in Fenway Park where regular scouts can eye more closely promising Negro players.

Tuskegee Tigers to Open Against Xavier

Tuskegee, Ala.—The Tuskegee Institute Golden Tigers will open the 1959 football season with a game against Xavier university here, Sept. 26. The game will launch a nine-game home-and-away schedule of opponents as Fisk university, Morehouse college, Knoxville college, and Dillard university.

Green, Don Buddin and Jerry Casale smashed their homes in a six-run, second inning to duplicate a feat often equalled but never exceeded. Buddin hit a three-run homer off Yankee starter Duke Mass. Casale and Green followed with circuit-blows off righthander Bob Turley.

Research

Waltham, Mass., Tribune: "For many years scientific researchers estimated that the market value of the substances in the average human body was only 98 cents. Great nations have risen, and scoured all the earth, then fallen to dust—that once gave them birth.
The innocent suffer, along with the bad, and wail to the wind, "there's no good to be had."
If they'd raise up their hearts, be brave and bold;
they would find greater values than silver and gold.
Most precious on earth is our land of the free,
with peace and with plenty, for you and for me.
Here—there's no "iron curtain", nor slaves to be sold;
we own greater values than silver or gold.

Los Angeles, Calif.—Joe Louis, former heavyweight boxing champion, has been signed to play the role of the referee in "Body and Soul," the first Du Pont "Show of the Month," for the Fall season. The show will originate live from New York, Monday, Sept. 28, from 8:30-10 p.m. on the CBS Television network.

Louis is the second ex-heavyweight champion participating. Jack Dempsey serves as technical advisor for the staging of the fight-sequence as well as trainer for Ben Gazzara, star of "Body and Soul."
Since his retirement from the ring, Louis has often acted as a referee at boxing exhibitions. Although he performed previously in a "Studio One" drama, this will be his first television appearance in the role of a referee.
