4 Die, 2 Injured in Auto Accident 13 Stoned by Jeering Crowd at Dollarway School

Pine Bluff, Ark.—Thirteen Negroes were stoned by a group of 200 jeering white persons last Thursday night as they were leaving the all-white Dollarway school. In the group were three students. Their case for admission to the Dollarway school had been presented to the school board.

A soft-spoken plea by the school board President Lee Parham, possibly averted a more serious incident. Shortly before the Negroes left the meeting, Parham came out and told the unruly crowd that there would be no immediate decision on the appeal and added, "anything you might do here tonight would hurt us."

"There are no Negroes in the school now. We feel we won a significant victory when the integration order against us was overturned."

Students

He asked the crowd to help "by not creating a disturbance."

The three students were Ernestine Dove, 16, James Edward Warfield, 14, and Corliss Smith, 12. They were accompanied by their parents, attorney and several others.

The eight U. S. circuit court of appeals at St. Louis recently overturned a district court decision ordering the board to admit the three Negro students to Dollarway when it opened for the fall term.

Alert Newsboy Saves Dixon Home from Destruction by Fire

If it had not been for the alertness of a carrier newsboy, the Ernest Dixons home at 1100 School street might have been completely destroyed by fire.

Keith McCaughey of 1605 Gillette street, was delivering papers about 6:10 p.m. Monday when he saw flames leaping from the front porch and roof of the Dixon home. Running next door to the home of Mrs. Edith Webb, he called the fire department.

Firemen arrived in time to confine the blaze to the three down stairs rooms. According to Fire Chief Floyd Harter, Jr., "If the newsboy had acted five minutes later, the entire house would have been destroyed."

All Asleep

Mr. Dixon and his wife, Thelma were asleep on the porch when the fire started but they escaped uninjured. Two other roomers in the Dixon home were asleep upstairs but they climbed out on the roof of the two-story frame house, where firemen rescued them with a ladder.

Harter said the fire started from wiring in a lamp on the enclosed front porch. He estimated damage to the downstairs rooms as $3,000. There was some smoke and water damage upstairs, also.

THIRD HOWARD UNIVERSITY JUNIOR AWARDED RCA SCIENCE SCHOLARSHIP

Chicagoan Horace Webb became Howard University's third RCA Scholar when he was recently awarded an $800 scholarship by the corporation to continue his studies as a chemistry major at the historic Washington, D. C. institution.

A junior in the College of Liberal Arts, Webb is among scores of college science and mathematics students around the country awarded grants under the Radio Corporation of America's Scholarship and Fellowship Program. In addition to the student grant, RCA also made an unrestricted gift of $500 to the University.

In 1957, the Chicago Hyde Park High School graduate received a scholarship of $500 a year for four years from Howard, as a result of the University's national competitive examination. During his freshman and sophomore years he received departmental honors in chemistry.

Freedom Fund Dinner Honors M. Anderson

New York—Miss Marian Anderson will be guest of honor at the third annual NAACP Freedom Fund dinner in the Hotel Commodore here, Sunday, Dec. 6, 1959.

Announcement of the celebrated singer's participation in the gala $100-per-couple dinner was made by Jackie Robinson, co-chairman with Mrs. Marguerite Bealonte, of the Association's 1959 Freedom Fund campaign. Meanwhile more than 100 members of the dinner sponsoring committee launched an active ticket-selling campaign with a view to filling to capacity the vast ballroom of the Hotel Commodore.

Dinner Committee

Heading the general dinner committee in this sales campaign are Dr. George D. Cannon and Cornelius McDougald, New York attorney. Co-chairmen of the committee include Kivie Kaplan, Duke Ellington, Mrs. Ethel Gorton, George Gregory, Oscar Hammerstein, II, Miss Rose Morgan, Dr. A. H. E. Thomas, Jr., Dr. Harry J. Greene, and Dr. Cecil Marquez. The dinner this year is expected to top those of former years. The committee has set a goal of 1,600 dinner guests for the occasion.

Kills Neighbor Who Helped Push Car

Jackson, Miss.—Winston Prince should never have insisted on paying J. C. Dampier for a favor.

Because he did, Prince is dead and Dampier is charged with murder. Both are Negroes.

Chief of Detectives M. B. Pierce gave this account of the killing:

Dampier was in bed at his house on John street when he heard a knock at the door. It was Prince, who lived two doors down the street. Prince told Dampier his car was stalled and asked Dampier to push him off. Dampier got up, put on his clothes, cranked up his own car to push the one of Prince.

Dampier went back to bed. Later, there was another knock on the door. Again, it was Prince who insisted on paying Dampier $1 for pushing him off.

"Go head on, I don't want your money," said Dampier.

Prince refused to "go head on" and tried to push him out of the door. A struggle ensued. Dampier got a shot gun and Prince fell dead. It was Jackson's 17th homicide this year.

THIRD HOWARD UNIVERSITY JUNIOR AWARDED RCA SCIENCE SCHOLARSHIP

The new RCA scholar is a member of the Tutorial and Advisory staff, the American Chemical Student Affiliate Chapter and Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity. His brother, Paul, is also a chemistry major at Howard and is now in his senior year.

Thief Has Flair for Latest in Fashions

Boston, Mass.—Directors of the Ebony Fashion Show, currently on national tour, have told Boston police that, following a showing here at Blinestub's Village on behalf of Freedom House, a thief stole $27,000 of dresses and gowns.

The window of a bus with dresses and gowns was broken by the fashion-conscious thieves who gained entrance to a South Boston garage in the vicinity of the nightclub.

DELTA-SPONSORED AFRICAN LEADER

New York City—Miss Lucy Lambeck, left, 27-year-old Tanganyikan political leader who has been called "The female Tom Mboya of East Africa," is shown shortly after arrival in this country on a study trip sponsored by Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. NAACP Official Sees End Of School Placement Laws

Danville, Va.—A high NAACP official predicted here this week that school placement laws "will be declared unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court because of the way they are being used."

Speaking before the Virginia State Conference of NAACP branches, Gloucester B. Current, director of NAACP branches, declared that "this law gives prejudiced officials a device with which to deny admission of Negro pupils to previously all-white schools."

Token Number

These laws have permitted "only a token number of schools to be desegregated in North Carolina, Virginia and Arkansas," he said. Current then called for more "Negro parents and pupils to make applications for admission to local schools in order to receive the best education afforded in their communities."

Earn Better Grades

"We must prepare our children for the new opportunities which exist," Current continued, "and motivate them to earn better grades and aspire to even higher standards of performance."

The Virginia State Conference of NAACP branches was holding its 24th annual meeting attended by delegates from the 85 branches throughout the state. Virginia, like other NAACP state conferences, is in the midst of a national NAACP drive for 500,000 members during 1959, Golden Anniversary year of the NAACP.

Plan Testimonial Dinner For Arthur B. Spingarn

New York—The Bronx branch of the NAACP will honor Arthur B. Spingarn, veteran civil rights attorney and NAACP national president, at a testimonial dinner here, Sunday afternoon, Oct. 18.

Former Domestic Relations Court Judge Hubert T. Delany, who is also an NAACP national Board member, will deliver the testimonial address at the dinner, slated for the fashionable Port Arthur Restaurant.

President Since 1946

Spingarn has been NAACP president since 1940, following in the footsteps of his late brother, J. E. Spingarn. Although he celebrated his 81st birthday last March, Mr. Spingarn continues the active practice of law, having first been admitted to the bar in 1900. He was named to the Association's Board of Directors in 1915 and has served as a vice president and as chairman of the National Legal Committee.

In the early days, before there was money for a regular legal staff, Mr. Spingarn served as a one-man volunteer legal department. He gave his time, knowledge and experience to the cause of freedom without charge.

Charges Filed Against Two D. M. Patrolmen

Charges were filed in Justice of the Peace J. H. Swan's court in West Des Moines Tuesday against Patrolmen Frank Kaiser and George Schinkel. Filing the complaint was Angelo J. Mazza, 35, of 3709 Merle Hay road, who charged the two with refusing to allow him to make a telephone call after his arrest Sept. 8.

Kaiser and Schinkel pleaded innocent to the charge, waived to the grand jury and were released on bonds of $1,500.

Minneapolis Trapped in Flaming Wreckage Near Chariton, Ia., Last Friday

Bulletin—The Bystander contacted Richard Estes of Woodward Funeral Home in Minneapolis, Minn., Wednesday for additional information on the Oct. 9 car accident near Chariton, Ia., which claimed four lives and injured two. Mr. Estes carried the victim's bodies back to Minneapolis, where they subsequently were shipped to Admore, Ala.

Mr. Estes said the Minneapolis group were enroute to visit grandparents in Admore, Ala. The previous night had been cold and frost was on the highways. Mrs. Woodrow McNeil was driving and apparently hit a slick spot, losing control of the vehicle, which crashed into an embankment, overturning and trapping all passengers inside.

Mr. Estes added he was told a sheriff was passing by about the time of the wreck, called an ambulance and with the aid of the ambulance driver pulled the victims from the flaming wreckage.

Chariton, Ia.—Four persons, all from Minneapolis, Minn., died as a result of a car accident near Lucas, Ia., last Friday.

Authorities said the Minneapolis group were enroute to Admore, Ala., and apparently were traveling at a high rate of speed when a tire must have blown out. The vehicle hit an embankment and overturned, trapping all six passengers in the flaming wreckage. Three persons were killed outright and a fourth victim, 15-year-old Alice Jackson, died later in a Chariton hospital. The accident occurred a mile south of Lucas on Highway 65.

Killed instantly in the crash were Mrs. Woodrow McNeil, 23; Benny Greer, 24, owner of the car and Mrs. McNeil's son, Sherman, 5. Injured in the same accident were Woodrow McNeil, 3, another son of Mrs. McNeil and Katherine Jefferson, 19, also of Minneapolis.

Russian People Receive 'Facts' on U.S. Negroes

New York—The Russian people were introduced to the NAACP and American Negroes this week through the United States Fact Book, published by the Freedom Fund, Inc., an independent agency. The booklet is printed in the Russian language for distribution in the Soviet Union and among Russian-speaking people elsewhere.

Negro Progress

Under a section entitled "The American Negro," accomplishments of the NAACP, starting with the reduction of lynching, are listed. The Russian people are told that "progress is being made in solving the problems of the Negro" however, the publication adds, this progress seems slow to most Negroes.

Of the 60 pages included in the booklet, only one is devoted entirely to Negro Americans who represent 10 per cent of the nation's people. No Negroes are pictured in the 37 photos included in the United States Fact Book. The publishers said the purpose of the publication is to give "a better idea of our country with the hope that they (Russians here and abroad) will convey these ideas to their friends back home."

TEENER NABBED ON DOPE CHARGES; ACCUSED OF INCITING RACIAL TENSIONS

New York City—A 20 year old, calling himself Ronnie The Mau Mau, was arrested this week for illegal possession of narcotics and weapons. He had also been watched for inciting racial tensions in the Greenwich Village area between whites and Negroes.

Renowned Beatnik

A renowned "beatnik", Ronnie Jackson was dressed in typical beatnik fashion—tight black pants, open sport shirt and unruly hair. All his clothing was dirty. He was arrested with three young girls—also beatniks—who claimed to be associated with the writing profession. Ronnie himself stated he was a writer but could give no definite address.

Recently racial tensions had grown in the neighborhood among teenagers and police, who are covering New York like a blanket, patrolling every corner. They have been on the lookout for the trouble-maker. It was then that they heard of Ronnie's boasts.

Apartment

Operating from one of the girl's apartment, which rented for $155 per month, Ronnie was fingered by the girls as the leader. He had recently been bragging that he was "stocking up on guns and dope" with intentions of traveling. Two loaded automatics found in the apartment were identified as belonging to him plus a 30 British army rifle.

Dressing as beatniks and circulating in the neighborhood, Detectives Edward Lehane, James Derry and Donald Weber watched the apartment for two days, then, with guns drawn, circled the group as they stepped inside an expensive station wagon.

Battle Resigns From Rights Commission

Washington, D. C.—The resignation of former Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia from the civil rights commission, was accepted by President Eisenhower Monday. The resignation will be effective as soon as a successor takes over.

Battle, who plans to return to private law practice, had dissented strongly from the recommendations of the civil rights commission first report, claiming that the group "was not impartial." The life of the commission was extended by congress last month.

Inflation

Charleston, Mo., Enterprise-Courier. "Ever since inflation began to cheapen the dollar, business has been automatically prevented from laying aside enough money, before taxes, to make up for the wearing out of the tools it must use to keep it alive. Unless some provision is made—and soon—to enable industry to replace its tools at present-day inflated prices, the entire economy (and the tax collector) will suffer."

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Written by Lloyd Lovell, SUI Assistant Professor

HELPING THE SHY CHILD

"Don't be bashful," a well-meaning father told his two-and-a-half-old daughter at a social gathering. He was attempting to encourage her, but a little thought should have made it apparent that making such a comment to a shy youngster is useless. Directing a child not to be shy is like telling a person not to limp when he has sprained his ankle. In other words, the parent's words were wasted.

Correcting Cause

There is a reason for shyness. Eliminating shy behavior depends upon finding and correcting the cause.

Many children seem to outgrow shyness. But actually, they probably learn to feel more secure in social situations as they grow older and thus change their behavior rather than outgrow the pattern.

For one child, shyness may indicate a serious problem of social relationships. For another, shyness may be a quiet reserve rather than a social problem. In the first instance, increasing a sense of security and providing positive social experiences may be useful in abating the shyness. In the second instance, the parent may not need to make any special efforts.

Labeling

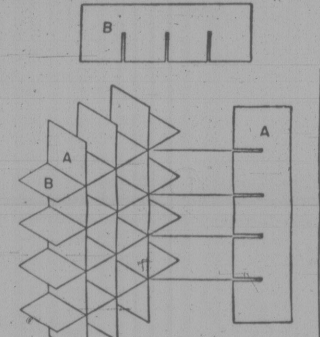

Thus, diagnosing the meaning and background of shy behavior will aid the parent who is concerned with his child's social development. But in neither case will the simple and oft repeated directive, "Don't be bashful," accomplish anything. It may, on the other hand, help the child label himself as bashful and make it more difficult for him to fit into social settings.

To Make 'Classifiers'

IN THE well-ordered home, there is ample opportunity to use "classifiers" in cabinets and drawers. Probably the simplest kind is the egg-crate type illustrated.

As shown, these pigeonhole classifiers are first-rate for a tool or storage cabinet. In a flat position, the same style of classifiers may be used in a drawer.

One-eighth-inch slots should be sawed into pieces of Masonite 1/4" Tempered Duolux, a strong, smooth two-sided hardboard which won't snag the finest fabrics and which wears indefinitely. Each slot should be cut half the width of the hardboard. To make the egg-crate construction, fit the slots together.

HEALTH FOR ALL

How Catching Is Catching?

"I just found out that my next door neighbor has TB. She's in the hospital with it now. Her little girls and my kids have always played together. I'd hate to break it up, but I'm worried. Can my children catch TB from hers?"

The woman calling the TB association sounded worried, all right. We told her that when one member of a family gets sick with TB, the rest of the family is tested promptly to see if they have been infected. If they have, they are treated too. They wouldn't be likely to be running around, a danger to others.

Long, Close Contact

We went on to explain that although TB is infectious, it isn't catching in quite the same way as measles is, for instance. You can catch measles just by sitting next to somebody in the bus who has measles. You can get TB that way, it isn't impossible, but you're not likely to. Usually, you won't get infected with tuberculosis unless you've been in long, close contact with somebody who has TB in its active form.

Necessary Tests

But because an active case of TB is infectious for anyone who's been around it a long time, the doctor reports each new case he diagnoses to the local health department, which sees that others who have been exposed get the necessary tests. So the neighbor's husband and children have undoubtedly been checked and pronounced okay.

Finally, we told that anxious mother that she could set her mind completely at rest by getting her own children tuberculin tested and, if the tests were positive, following up with chest X-rays. That's a sensible precaution for anyone to take.

Molasses Orange Bars

An unusual flavor combination—molasses tang with sparkling orange—makes these bar cookies a delight to eat. They're quick to make, too.

If you like to serve snacks and desserts that are nutritious as well as taste-pleasing, plan to make the molasses orange bars pictured today. Both enriched flour and molasses are excellent sources of food iron, and in addition enriched flour contributes essential B-vitamins, protein and food energy.

A new quick-mix method for making these bar cookies enables the home baker to turn them out with a minimum of time and effort. Sift dry ingredients into a bowl, sprinkle with orange sugar, and then add remaining ingredients. Stir to blend, then beat two minutes. It's as easy as that—your cookies are ready for the pan. These "in-a-bowl" cookies make a saving on dishes, too.

A simple topping of sugar mixed with grated orange rind is spread over the cookies before baking. They may be frosted later, if desired.

Molasses orange bars are perfect dessert companions with apricots, apple sauce or other fruits. Or have them with milk, hot chocolate, or coffee.

MOLASSES ORANGE BARS

(Quick-Mix Method)

1 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1/4 cup new-type shortening
1/2 cup molasses
2 eggs
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 teaspoons shredded orange rind
1/2 cup sugar

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt, and sugar. Sprinkle orange rind over flour mixture. Add shortening, molasses, eggs, milk and vanilla extract. Stir to combine ingredients.

then beat 2 minutes. Pour into greased pan 9x14 inches. Sprinkle with Orange Sugar. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 30 minutes. Cut in bars or squares.

WITH DELORES CALVIN

New York City—Dot Dandridge to play Billie Holiday . . . Dorothy Dandridge, who has two films going on Broadway—"Porgy and Bess" and "Tamango"—will probably play Billie Holiday in the film story "Lady Sings The Blues" . . . It is based on Billie's bio. . . Dorothy is a natural for the role—though much thinner, she is a look-alike of Billie, and being a singer herself, she could more easily adapt to the mannerisms than a straight actress . . . Whether Dorothy's voice will be used or Billie's voice dubbed for songs has not been decided—nor has the rest of the cast been chosen . . .

Cab Calloway

Ali Khan, who spends most of his time at the UN with his fabulous international crowd, has made reservations for a party of 15 to see the floorshow at the new Copper Door . . . Cab Calloway is the star . . .

Harvest Moon Ball

Winners of the Harvest Moon Ball rock and roll group appeared on Ed Sullivan's show and hope to get a few big engagements as a result . . . Last year Sullivan was so rushed, they went on last as the curtain fell, and lost out when promoters didn't get a look-see . . .

Erroll Garner

Erroll Garner and Sam Cooke in town from L. A. . . Audiences wince when Harry Belafonte boldly calls himself "a nigger" in "The World, The Flesh and The Devil" . . .

"Porgy and Bess" third in box office sales—nationally . . . which is quite a triumph . . .

Billy Eckstine

Dorothy Donegan had a contract with The Embers in New York, to play 16 weeks a year for 5 years . . . The deal is nearly up and she's out for a new contract at better terms . . . Billy Eckstine going into the New Frontier Hotel, Las Vegas, for five weeks . . .

Eartha Kitt

We haven't too much faith in Eartha Kitt's forthcoming play, "Jolly Progress"—even if it is a Guild Presentation and practically a guaranteed success . . . for the story itself is more documentary than entertaining . . . and besides, we're firm believers that the day for stories such as "bringing a poor little colored girl up from the South and educating her" are passe . . . especially shown in New York City where progress is all around us . . . However, Franchot Tone had the male lead, and left it because his part was too meager . . . Eartha had seen to it that hers was big enough . . . Now Wendell Corey, another Hollywood actor, has taken the reins—giving up four other parts to do this one . . . We hope before stage time, they will at least change the title since they declare to be finished with the re-writing . . .

Charges Negligent Jurors Let Off Accused Drunk Drivers

Denver, Colo.—Prosecutors and "soft-hearted jurors" were called the weak links in the chain of enforcement designed to control the drinking driver traffic problem here Oct. 7.

Dr. Horace Campbell, of Denver, chairman of the Automobile Safety Committee of the Colorado State Medical Society, rapped prosecutors for what he termed "lying down on the job" in handling drinking driver cases in court. He spoke at a session of the American Temperance Society national convention meeting at the Shirley-Savoy Hotel here today in Denver.

Weak Enforcement

Dr. Campbell, who is also vice-chairman of the Committee on the Medical Aspects of Automobile Injuries and Deaths of the American Medical Society, said "courts and prosecuting attorneys are at fault in not enforcing strictly controls which would help to eliminate drunk driving." He said "jurors are shirking their responsibilities when they refuse to convict drivers who have been drinking and become involved in accidents."

agents see what a mistake it was to book her at the Apollo Theatre . . .

She's one of those Lena Horne styles who excels only in a small, intimate niter where the lights are low and the customers are dreamy . . . In a large commercial hall like the Apollo, filled with rough teenage, hard rock and rollers and blase adults—all with that "so-what's-new-with-you" attitude—Barbara was lost in the crowd . . . Her whole professional level is far above a booking of this type—though Barbara herself is a simple, down-to-earth girl who remembers her struggle but now she's just risen above it . . .

In an effort to "save the day," Barbara tried to please by singing "He's Got The Whole World In His Hands"—definitely not her style but a song evidently dedicated to the rock and rollers . . . To make matters worse, she asked the audience to join in clapping—and to show their indignation and stubbornness to accept her—they refused . . . "Surely this girl deserves a better reception than this . . .

Topping the bill was smooth singer Sam Cooke, whose easy style captured the listeners—and incidentally it was his show—called "The Sam Cooke Revue" with Reuben Phillips Band and The Wanderers . . .

Negligent Jurors

"Jurors who fail their responsibilities to protect the public by seeing that drinking drivers are deterred by appropriate punishment are deliberately consigning people to death on the highways. The victims of drunk drivers are being killed in principle by negligent jurors," Dr. Campbell declared.

He pointed out that present efforts at controlling the drinking driver problem "are not effective, since it is assumed there is no driver impairment in a person with a blood alcohol content below .15 per cent. There is definite evidence to show from experiments and tests that impairment occurs when the blood alcohol content is .05 per cent."

Engineering

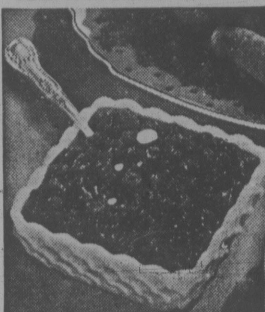

Newberry, S. C. Observer: "Dr. Robert B. Corbett, president of New Mexico State University, said in a speech recently that a few years ago young men were told not to take engineering because engineers were a dime a dozen. Today, he stated, men trained in engineering are the scarcest and most demanded in our economy. 'The same situation could conceivably develop in farming. Our population is increasing so rapidly that in 10 years, according to Dr. Corbett, unless the nation is careful, it may wake up and find itself incapable of providing food for that sharply expanding population.'"

Public Power

Pasadena, Calif., Tribune: "In the wake of the . . . death of President Eisenhower's tax-saving proposal for a government-private industrial partnership in the development of Trinity River Project power, taxpayers may as well tote up all the bad news. 'Multiple millions of dollars were lost by local, state and federal governments because of Congressional insistence that Trinity be added to the growing domain of public power. Those millions must be added to the total bill that public power already has presented to the American taxpayer—5 billion, 500 million hard earned dollars.'"

CRANBERRY DIXIE

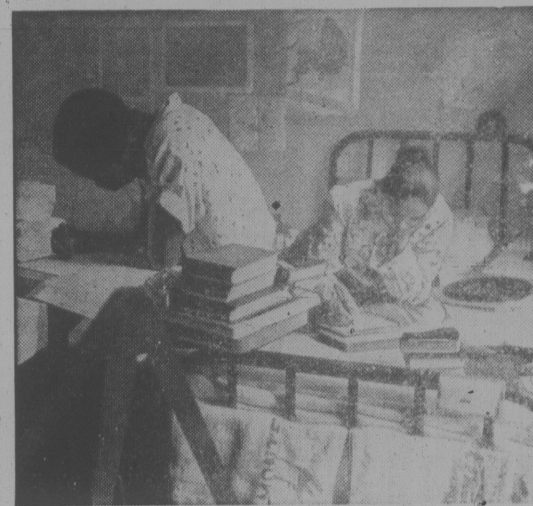

To give your meals holiday flavor throughout the year, try adding color and flavor with this tempting sauce. Your guests will forever appreciate the festivity and glamour this dish will bring to the occasion. Your family will thrill to the flavorful goodness of fresh cranberries blended with a popular beverage food (Dr. Pepper).

1 pound raw cranberries
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 bottles Dr. Pepper

Wash and pick over cranberries, then combine in 1 large kettle with sugar and Dr. Pepper. Cook over moderate heat until all the berries have popped. To make Dixie Cranberry Jelly from this same recipe, just use the same process, doubling the amount of sugar and putting the sauce through a sieve before allowing to set.

the Camera Guild

Here's proof that a camera is an exciting gift for a youngster.

YOUNGSTERS SHOULD HAVE THEIR OWN CAMERAS

Maybe the younger members of the family have been taking an occasional turn at using the family camera, but that's no substitute for brother or sister with his or her own camera.

At what age should a child be given his first camera? It all depends on the child. With most of them, eight is about the right age. To an eight-year-old, a camera is an exciting gift, one that ushers in a whole new world of experience and pleasure. Start him off with one of the inexpensive, modern day versions of the old familiar box camera. It's easy on your budget, easy for him to use. He'll find countless subjects that he'll want to snap—pets, playmates, parents, and things you'd never think about. And that brings us to point which we feel is very important. Remember that an eight-year-old's idea of good picture subject material isn't necessarily the same as that of an adult. So, don't be surprised if Junior turns up pleased as punch with pictures that you'd never take.

And while we're giving advice, remember that to the average youngster a camera is just a toy. Try to think of it that way yourself and don't make him afraid of using it. You shouldn't expect much more of him in handling a $5 camera than if it were a toy fire truck at the same price. He'll have a lot more fun and be much more inclined to use the camera if you keep your supervision to a minimum.

Concords for Jellymaking!

CONCORD GRAPES really rate when it comes to jellies—they make the most popular jelly in America! These tart, dark grapes with their midnight blue duskiness and pale green flesh are quite sweet at the skin and surprisingly tart near the center . . . Just right to make a tangy jelly! Now, when Concords are in such plentiful supply, try this tested recipe for homemade Grape Jelly. To make 10 sparkling glasses, sugar, grape juice and pectin require only a one-minute boil—what could be easier!

GRAPE JELLY

Yield: about 10 medium glasses (5 lbs. jelly)
4 cups juice (about 3 lbs. ripe grapes) 7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar
1/4 bottle Certo fruit pectin
First prepare the juice. Stem about 3 pounds fully ripe grapes and crush thoroughly. Add 1/4 cup water; bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan. (Concord grapes give best color and flavor. If wild grapes, Malagas, or other tight-skinned grapes are used, use 3 1/2 cups grape juice and add 1/4 cup lemon juice.)
Then make the jelly. Add sugar to juice in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. At once stir in Certo. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon, and pour quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with 1/4 inch hot paraffin. (ANS)

What Overseas GIs Want And Don't Want for Xmas

New York—More photographs of family, more mail from home, topped the list of GI preferences for Christmas gifts in a survey just completed by the USO in its 22 clubs overseas. Following close were requests for subscriptions to hometown newspapers, pictures of sweethearts, "home-made" (not store-bought) cookies and cakes, subscriptions to news and men's magazines, money orders, telephone calls from home, and pictures of friends.

Requests for civilian clothing, while high in Alaska (especially for sweaters), and Europe, were at the bottom of the list in the Pacific bases, in Japan and Korea.

Do Not Want

USO overseas directors, conducting the survey, were emphatic that things the GIs did not want for Christmas were articles which could be purchased at PXs and ships' stores. These would include watches, cameras, film, records, cigarettes, tobacco and "store-made" candies and cookies, all of which are in plentiful supply overseas and at "bargain" prices.

"Home-Made"

However, requests for "homemade" cookies and cakes were high on the list of GI tastes for Christmas remembrances with the proviso that they be carefully packed so that they would not be crushed or crumpled in transit, and that they be shipped air-mail so as to arrive fresh. It was pointed out that in some cases it takes 45 days by surface transportation to reach some overseas bases. The USO joins military and postal authorities in urging that Christmas packages for overseas be mailed early so as to avoid delays and disappointment.

1 Million Overseas

The USO cited the fact that of the 2,500,000 men and women now in the uniform of the American Armed Forces, about 1,500,000 are stationed overseas, where they are served at the following places by USO clubs: Anchorage, Fairbanks and Kodiak, Alaska; Balboa and Cristobal, Canal Zone; Nice, Cannes and Paris, France; Casablanca, Morocco; Athens, Salonika and Rhodes, Greece, Istanbul, Turkey; Naples and Rome, Italy; Seoul, Korea; Guam, Manila, Philippines; Tokyo, Japan; Honolulu, Hawaii; Okinawa and Puerto Rico.

Past President Parley Of Lincoln Unit 126 Holds Meeting Oct. 6

The past president parley of Lincoln Unit No. 126 of the American Legion held its meeting at Willkie House, Oct. 6. Mrs. Jesse Mae Rogers, chairman, appointed officers, Mrs. Georgia Jones, co-chairman; Dorothy B. Bush, secretary; Elsie King, assistant secretary; Mary Frye, treasurer; Sarah E. Jett, program; Cora Chapman, entertainment; Anna Mae Carter, social hostess; Essie Davis, publicity and Elsie King, sick committee.

W. H. Youngsters Attend Ice Follies

Because of their advancement and attendance record in skating classes at Willkie House, four youngsters earned tickets to attend the 1959 Ice Follies at Veterans auditorium. They were Charles Holmes, Jennifer Bethel, Vicki Henderson and Bill Herndon. Other class members who attended were Johanna Law, Danny Law, and Debra Henderson. They were accompanied by their instructor, Charles Jones and his wife, Mrs. Jones who served as chaperone.

Where are the gold and blue hazy autumn Indian summer days of the Octobers of yesteryear? The old adage "as changeable as a woman" should be rewritten to "changeable as Iowa's weather." The first large flock of southward-bound-trip of our Northern vacationing webbed-footed feathered friends sighted in the northeast corner of the state. More than 5,000 estimated reported following the leader for the land of sunshine.

Giving the fall social season impetus was the third annual "Autumn Splendor" at the Val-Air ballroom Sunday evening. Patrons came to see the latest in fall fashions and to enjoy the reactions and enthusiastic comments, were very pleased with what they saw. They stayed later to dance and dream the evening away.

Certainly, the fashionable costumes, ranging from casuals, street wear, after five, cocktail and evening wear, enhanced by the graceful carriage of the models, was a lovely panorama to gaze upon. In addition four models graced a patio scene, equipped with pink metal chairs and benches and lounge chaise.

The commentary read by Mrs. Gloria Miller, with some ad-libs by her, was written by Miss Myrtle Lanier. This is her third year at script writing for "Autumn Splendor". She also modeled.

Last August Miss Lanier graduated from the American Institute of Business. On Oct. 19 she will begin her employment with the United Campaign as a key punch operator.

Like us, you probably wondered how clothes and costumes are selected for a fashion show. Miss Lanier, who formerly worked at Stearns, said the store appoints a date for the models, who have been previously selected by the organization, sponsoring the show. The models select their outfits under the supervision of the wardrobe mistress, in this case Mrs. Freda Garland. Care is taken to fit the costume to the particular model.

No bonds are posted by the organization. The garments are taken out by trust. At least, this is the case of the Hawkeye Elks and Rose Temple representatives for their Notes from a (last week) Minneapolis social page: Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Herndon of Des Moines will arrive in the city Saturday by motor and will be the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson. They will be guests of the Johnsons at the 50th anniversary celebration of the D.Y.W.Y.K. club on Saturday evening at Farrington House in St. Paul.

Mrs. Marguerite Cothorn, secretary at the Council of Social Agencies, was chairman of a panel of seven, discussing recreation in Polk County on KDPS-TV Monday evening. If you saw you probably was amazed at the number of categorized areas of recreation offered in the city and county. For instance, there was dancing, swimming, crafts, sports, games, camping, singing and music and boating. Surely, there is no excuse for saying there is nothing to do for youngsters and adults, individually or in groups or teams.

Speaking of scouting, the Cub Scouts under the supervision of Den Mother Mrs. Laura Taylor made a

300 Persons Get Eyeful of Colorful, Latest Fall Fashions at 3rd Annual "Autumn Splendor"

An audience of nearly 200 persons got a colorful eyeful of what Milady will be wearing this fall at the Val Air ballroom Sunday evening. The occasion was the Third Annual "Autumn Splendor" sponsored by the Hawkeye Elks Lodge No. 160 and Rose Temple No. 33 to benefit the Junior Herd, Drum and Bugle corps and Majorettes.

Newest Fashions

Milady and her escort expressed pleasure at the latest in daytime gay plaids... noted the newest color is Loden green which goes with just about every color... that evening wear features the feminine full-skirt look in bright shades of emerald greens and reds... The basic color of black is a standard... the sheath is here to stay and bags are bigger than ever, if that's possible... necklines are square and low cut and furs are enhancing just about everything—collars, cuffs, linings, stoles, jackets, dresses and suits.

Men's Clothes

Lord Lochinvar also got pleasure from a birdseye view of men's fashions, thanks to Model Lewis Brown. A suit in the new spice brown and a "smoking man's outfit in gray and trimmed with red and gold braid, all but elicited smoke signals of pleasure from the audience.

The crowd liked them all but naturally some outfits were definite crowd pleasers as evident from the amount of applause and comments.

Crowd Pleasures

Such was the reception of a white wolf collared sweater and black and white plaid walking skirt modeled by Zoe Wood.

And a travel ensemble with poncho influence of Loden green and plaid jacket worn over a plain Loden green sheath modeled by Gaynelle Gray. Her huge bag was brown with black shadows with a watch on the front. Her accessories were black.

Guitarist

Also a red wool creation by Ollan modeled by Zoe Wood, which almost stole the show when Guitarist Pee-wee Crayton struck up a syncopated beat. The dress's tiny waistline was emphasized with unusual satin ribbons.

Attended Homecoming Game at SU Saturday

Then, Frances Banks modeled a handsome styled black suit flecked with white, by Lilli Anne. It's lavish black fox fur collar flowed the length of the jacket front. A cotton blouse and matching bag and pumps in white with black dots completed her ensemble.

Lilli Anne Coat

Gaynelle Gray returned wearing an international Lilli Anne fitted red coat with wide flung collar and small bows accenting the softly flaired skirt. A Ted Brown original, in a black wool sheath with low square neckline and long fox fur trimmed sleeves and low cut back modeled by definitely caught the crowd's fancy. So did a young sophisticated black chiffon dress with long intriguing sleeve and low cut back modeled by Blondell Winston.

Evening Wear

Climaxing the evening of fashions was a Janice Frocks creation of aqua and beige ballerina length evening gown artfully combined in lace featuring a large side bow and mink stole modeled by Ida Hannah. Mr. Brown, appropriately dressed in Tuxedo with small matching blue bowtie, hankie and cummerbund, emerged to escort her around the ballroom.

Other Models

Other models, equally graceful and wearing their costumes as if they were created just for them were Marie Sharp, Maxine McNair, Lula Schuler, Myrtle Lanier, Wanda McClain, and Minette Copeland. Models for the background patio scene were Helen Weathers, Patty White, Jackie Ratton and Florence Parker.

All women's fashions were presented by the courtesy of Stearns, and the Men's fashions were from Frankel's. Mrs. Gloria Miller was mistress of ceremonies.

Iowans Return from Eastern Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Williams of 811 E. 17th Street and Mrs. John Ward, of 1527 Walker Street, recently returned from New York and other points in the East.

Their first stop was at St. Anne, Ill., where a big family reunion was prepared for them by the Ted Warthen family. Mrs. Warthen is a sister of Mrs. Ward. They were also accompanied by the Sgt. Stanley Johnson family of New York City after spending the night in the Warthen home. Enroute to New York by the turnpikes and superhighways, they stopped in Toledo, Ohio for sightseeing and shopping.

Tours

They proceeded to New York City, where they were the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Morris on Long Island. They toured the United Nations building, Empire State buildings, Rockefeller Integrated church, Madison Square Garden, Music Hall and other points of interest. They also shopped at Macy's, largest store in New York.

In addition they were breakfast guests of Mr. Ambrose Morris at the Empire hotel. On Saturday evening a party was given in their honor. Others sharing the courtesy were Mr. and Mrs. William Blakely, Mr. and Mrs. W. Davis. The evening was spent with Mr. Leonard Morris making records on his tape recorder.

Enroute home they were accompanied as far as Harrisburg, Pa., by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Morris.

Proposed Bill

William N. Plymat, Des Moines insurance executive, presented a proposed drunk driving bill which is being studied by legislatures in several states. Plymat also said automobile insurance rates will continue to climb unless drunk driving is effectively controlled. "The public is paying up to 40 per cent more for insurance than would be necessary if drunk driving were curbed."

GOP LOOKS FOR RACIAL IMPROVEMENT

Republican party leaders, chiding under the loss of Congress in the past three elections, named a committee to evolve a positive program to take to the people in 1960. There are more registered Democrats than Republicans and in order to win, a strong appeal must be made to independent voters.

Included in the recommendations was one on minority groups. At one time, Republicans could count on a pretty solid Negro vote, but the advent of the New Deal changed that. The close cooperation by some of the old line Republicans with southern Democrats has not helped the situation at all.

That portion dealing with the minorities said: "vigorous programs to be developed to make effective for all members of minority groups equality of opportunity to compete for jobs and upgrading on the job, to receive the best in education and obtain health service and financing."

Undoubtedly, great strides have been made since World War II toward realizing these goals. And had strong leadership by heads of government been carried on, the situation would have traveled much faster. Men like Gov. Faulstich and his ilk have been loud in their opposition to racial advancement making it appear that they, rather than forward looking citizens, speak for America. And so much so that they make it appear over the world that their views represent the American position.

Just how much the views of this committee will be accepted as the position of the party remains to be seen. Certainly, watered-down resolutions and half hearted action aimed to capture southern votes, fool nobody. They simply antagonize those they attempt to convert.

Iowa Republicans need a lot of prodding in this matter. Too often, in an effort to penalize Negroes for voting the Democratic ticket, they have failed to accord them decent representation in party affairs including patronage. Too often they bypass able leadership among Negroes in favor of those who demand little and dare not call the party to task for its shortcomings.

The time for shadow boxing is past.

VOTE TUESDAY AT THE PRIMARIES

The citizens of Des Moines go to the polls Tuesday to nominate candidates for the City Council and judges, a clerk and bailiff of the municipal court. City elections attract little interest these days and thus few people go to the polls.

Maybe Des Moines has efficient city government but it certainly is not responsive to the will of the people. In fact, so far as the Negro is concerned, the system stinks. It consists of nothing other than begging for the crumbs.

Frankly, the city council should be ashamed of the representation that is accorded Negroes in the operation of the affairs of the city. There are numerous boards and commissions appointed by the mayor with the approval of the council and except Human Rights and Urban Renewal where they are affected far out of proportion to whites, no Negroes serve on them.

Generally speaking, most of these commissions and boards have been fair, open and above board when the rights of Negroes were at stake. Some have used their closed door operations to do the dirty work which negates in part for the lack of recognition.

The Bystander hopes that during the campaign a group of Negroes can visit with all candidates, explain their position and, in the end, support those who offer hope of righting the injustices that have gone on under the past few administrations.

POOR EXAMPLES

Disclosures of rigging of contests in quiz shows have turned up conditions that are a blot upon decency, and fair play. They tend to prove that people generally will do whatever is necessary to make money.

Involved here are big business men, college professors and scholars to whom the public looks for high standards. But here their conduct parallels the small gambler or thief who gets hauled into court and dubbed petty criminals.

They say laws are inadequate to deal with these people. Maybe so but they are criminals whom the public trusted but who, by their position in life, ought to set a better example.

Ernie Banks Sets Two Fielding Marks

Chicago—The value of Ernie Banks to the Cubs both as fielder and hitter can be attested by the fact that he set two major league fielding records for shortstops. He committed the fewest errors, 12, and had the highest fielding percentage, .985.

Banks had already set a major league home run record for shortstops when he clouted 44, and bettered the record last season by hammering 47. He fell short of the latter mark by two this season.

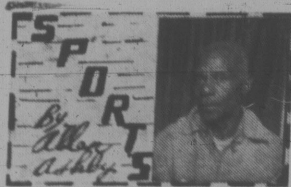

However, although he failed to equal last year's homer output, Ernie acquitted himself admirably in the runs - driven - in, department. He knocked in 143 runs to lead both leagues. It was his highest RBI total since joining the Cubs, and missed by seven tying the National League record.

Breadwinner

For a guy who never played a day of minor league ball, this is an amazing feat for Ernie, now the chief breadwinner for the Wrigleys. His big bat has been overshadowing his fielding all these years, however.

At the plate, Ernie is as graceful as a cat as he strides into pitches. And so potent has been his bat that fans came to Wrigley Field daily just to see "Ernie hit one." Announcers, meanwhile, use the familiar phrase, "there she goes," to describe Banks' blasts over the fence.

Banks is the Associated Press' choice for National League Most Valuable Player award. If he gets it, it would be the first time that any player has won the award twice.

If you were an Iowa fan, that was a swell homecoming game but if you were on the other side it was rotten. To an impartial observer, the question would be, How tough was Michigan State? Looks as if the Hawkeyes have a tough defense. But, they will need it. Wisconsin can be rough. Indiana can beat anybody on a given day. Everyone knows about Purdue and Notre Dame won't be a push-over. Then there is a good old Ohio State wanting to upset someone. Let's hope it isn't Iowa.

Iowa State

Iowa State looked good but didn't have too much opposition. Still think they will be hard to handle. Drake is still trying to get on the right side. They may do much this year but the Bulldogs are looking down the road.

Getting back to Iowa U. We still refuse to accept that list of reasons for the dissatisfaction of the Iowa coach. Some day we will learn the real facts.

High School

We always thought East needed a passer and their last game here proved it. The Scarlet has a fine running attack but not a passer to make it click.

Tech ought to rate pretty high. They are unbeaten and actually beat Booneville but an official admitted error cost them the game. Yet the Roughriders get the headlines and Tech keeps right on winning.

North doesn't seem to have the spirit or desire for a winning team.

Another, to a considerable degree, then the strength of the U. S. will be ebbing, and we will have frittered away a sound dollar and much of our power. The wild spenders should keep this in mind in their efforts to arrange for the government to furnish every taxpayer with everything he needs."

Iowa Hawkeyes Tune-Up Football Machinery; Roar Past Michigan State Spartans 37-8

By Staff Writer

Iowa City, Iowa—After a previous sluggish showing in Big Ten competition the Iowa Hawkeyes tuned-up its football machinery here Saturday and roared passed a supposedly stalwart Michigan State-team 37-8 before a jubilant Homecoming crowd of 59,300.

Proving that everything was in tip-top shape the Hawkeyes held the Spartans by fast take offs into the line and wrecking would-be passers and runners . . . busting up plays and throwing them for huge losses. Meanwhile Iowa's offensive was running smoothly . . . searing while the game was a young seven minutes old on a succession of aerial blasts that was climaxed in a 31 yard pass play from Olen Treadway to end Don Norton. Just four minutes later Tom Moore power-steered a 22-yard field goal (he had previously kicked the PAT) and Iowa led 10-0. A combination of runs and passes and penalties and fumbles netted the Hawks two more touchdowns and they had a commanding 23-0 halftime lead.

Spartans Score

Humiliated by the lop-sided half time bulge the Spartans quarterback Dean Look came back firing through the air—mostly to his end Art Brandstetter. In this session Michigan State moved 65 yards in 11 plays. Look threw a "pass to Carl Charon alone in the flat; who then picked up a wall of four blockers to move unimpeded from the 13 for their only touchdown. A toss to Brandstetter for the conversion gave Michigan State their 8 points.

Jeter Races

On the Spartans kickoff to Iowa, the most spectacular play of the day occurred. Iowa half-back Bob Jeter took a booming kick at the four . . . like a streamlined racer accelerated into high gear and headed for protection in the center of the field . . . at about the 30 yard line he saw a narrow barren highway and throttled into still higher gear where he was headed for the finish line . . . almost there he ran out of gas and was hauled down on the one yard line by Jason Harness, the Spartan whose kick he had received. It was a 95-yard return. Still out of gas Jeter tried to carry over from the one but was held. Quarterback Wilburn Hollis made the plunge for him. Altogether Jeter had an exceptionally good day. He also had 104 yards in 11 carries aside from outstanding defensive play. Iowa's substitutes added another touchdown.

Tennis Classes Begin Saturday

Boys and girls, from 8 to 16 years old, are reminded that the first tennis class of the fall season will be held at the Willkie House Saturday, Oct. 17.

The first class for 8 to 12 year olds will be held from 12 noon to 1:15 p.m. and from 13 to 16 year olds from 1:15 to 2:30 p.m. Classes are sponsored by the Hilltop Tennis club and are free. Mrs. Esther S. Myers is instructor. For further information call the Willkie House or AT 8-8719.

So you better be ready, too. Don't rest on this one win. Jesse Hill is now acting coach and he is doing all right. He wants to play too, but don't do it Jesse. You are too nice a guy to make a trip to some infirmary.

Local

The Des Moines Dragons went to Anamosa last week and won their first game, 26-21. They say Don Hall and Jim Ward made the T.D.'s and the whole Dragon line was tough.

The prison boys invited them back in two weeks. Well, boys, if they want you back, they will be ready.

Letters from Our Readers

A bit of prose . . . a line or two of poetry . . . a letter now and then to express thoughts in the minds of our many readers.

Send Yours Today

TELL US WHY.

Are we ready for the scrap-heap, or that place up on the hill? Where the others who have left us, rest so quiet, peaceful, still? When we pass that three-score milestone, are we useless and too old. Our experience, skill and wisdom; is it gross or precious gold?

Though we're hale and hearty, lusty, muscles sticking out all over:

Are we doomed to go to pasture, to be turned out on the clover?

Though the pressure still is normal, and pump is right on time:

Can you tell us why they scrap us, for someone who has the brains

To utilize potentials that could make colossal gains.

No wonder that the "commies," who use each drop of blood:

Are swallowing up nations, in a never-ending flood!!!!

While we pension off the elders, or put them on a dole;

Iowa's next foe will be Wisconsin at Wisconsin.

SWADDLED

Syracuse, N. Y.—Infants snooze better and are happier when swaddled, Dr. Julius P. Richmond and associates reported at the annual meeting of the American Psychosomatic Society.

Irritable and colicky babies, they said, may be helped by swaddling.

The "Ivans" never miss a trick, as they roll on toward their goal. At forty-five, at peak of skill: we're put to graze out on a hill.

Why fret and study, work, and strain, half our life goes down the drain!

By everything that's holy, on earth or in the sky

Can you give us one good reason? Can you tell us, tell us why??

Laugh Lines

I like the one about the college professor at a party who became highly indignant when asked if college professors were absent-minded.

"Professors haven't got bad memories," he declared. "They're not absent-minded. Don't you think I know where I am right now, and don't you think tomorrow I'll know where I was last night? Would somebody like to ask another question?"

With that, another fellow asked if it was true professors are absent-minded and have bad memories. To which the professor replied, "Good, I knew sooner or later somebody would ask me that question."

In the face of wartime conservation of fuel and scarce materials, no other means can compare in efficiency with long trains rolling on steel under a single source of power—that deliver nearly six times the ton-miles per fuel dollar that highway transport can provide."
