DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING IN DES MOINES SPEECH:

Says Old Race Order Crumbling Negro Delegates Walk Out of UAW Meeting

Detective Allen Fired By City Manager

Exactly a week following a two-and-a-half hour hearing on five charges against Detective James Allen, City Manager Elder Gunter Monday ordered the veteran policeman of 21 years to be fired from the police department.

ALLEN

Gunter's order cited Allen's "failure and neglect of duty and misconduct in properly performing duties." His action upholds Police Chief Howard Eide, who suspended Allen Nov. 2 for "accepting a bribe, withholding evidence, obstructing justice and concealing stolen money."

Allen's attorney, W. Lawrence Oliver, said an appeal will be taken to the civil service commission.

$40,000 Robbery

Allen's suspension grew out of the police investigation of a $40,000 safe robbery of Hiland Potato chip company on Oct. 5. Three men have been indicted in connection with the burglary.

During last week's hearing, Allen testified that he took $62 from one of the suspects after the burglary and spent it. He said he took the money during the investigation of the crime in an attempt to convince the men he was on their side. Allen said he later accepted three $100 bills from the other two suspects and turned them over to his superiors at the police department.

Confirmed Testimony

Malcolm Dailey, an assistant chief, Chief of Detectives E. J. McCarthy confirmed this testimony. Allen said he had been working with the suspects to get a large denomination bill to use as evidence.

The three who were indicted were identified as Harry Joe Gossett, 24, who gave his address as 1160 9th Street; Bernard L. Clay, 25, of 619 Maury Street and Clifford C. Hobbs, 26, of 930 25th Street. Evidence relating to Allen's part in the investigation has been presented to the grand jury.

Detroit Delegation Protests Racial Snub During Caucus Hearing

Atlantic City, N. J.—Although United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther appealed for a "greater effort" in behalf of Negro rights, Robert Battle III, a Negro delegate from Detroit, led 45 Negroes from the convention floor in protest against union leadership making civil rights the last order of business.

The convention unanimously approved a civil rights resolution proposing that the United States Attorney General be authorized to act on his own initiative "to insure every citizen equal protection of the laws."

Slap in Face

An hour before adjournment, an hour before adjournment, Reuther because of what he termed "a slap in the face," claiming Reuther had promised to bring up the civil rights resolution earlier.

On the convention floor other delegates complained that civil rights were put off until most of the delegates started homeward and only several hundred of the 2,500 were left.

In an eloquent speech Battle elaborated on his loyalty to the administration and the right-wing caucus over the years. He spoke of lack of concern regarding this question on the part of those in position to do something about it.

No Endorsement

"In all these years, Battle said, the Steering Committee has not had the decency to consider a Negro for endorsement. Everybody knows that in order to get elected one must have the endorsement of the caucus."

A white Canadian delegate pointed out that Negroes were not the only minority group, stating that he too was a member of a minority group. To this Mrs. Octavia Hawkins, Negro delegate from Chicago, replied:

"You say you're in a minority group—you may be—I wouldn't know. But the fact that your face is white places you with the majority. The difference between your minority group and mine is the matter of pigmentation, which makes a very big difference."

Time Delayed

Reuther told the convention that action on the resolution had been delayed because of the time required to revise the UAW constitution.

"I am sorry a number of delegates left," he said, adding that the union leadership considered the civil rights issue a top priority item.

Civil rights was not a controversial issue in the UAW, but some delegates insisted that the AFL-CIO give affiliated unions practicing discrimination a definite time to remove the color bars.

Admission is $1.00 for adults and .50 cents for children. Memberships for the youth council will also be sold. They are .50 cents under 17 years; $1.00 for 17 to 21 and over 21, $2.00. Youth memberships go, up to 25 years.

Tickets are on sale at the New Utica or may be gotten from any Youth Council member or write Talent Show, 705 Clark street or Phone AT 3-1067.

Dr. King Before Des Moines Speech

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., famed civil rights leader, chats with Mrs. Clifford Bayles preceding his dynamic speech at University Christian church here last Thursday evening. Mrs. Bayles, president of the Des Moines branch of the NAACP, first contacted the Montgomery, Ala., minister during a speaking engagement at Kansas City, Mo., about three years ago.

Other platform guests, last Thursday were Ike Smalls, National vice president of the NAACP; Mrs.

Georgine C. Morris, president emerita and state organizer of the state branch; The Rev. N. R. Olphin, introduced speaker, Rev. Stanley Hunt, Rabbi Jacob Nadoff, and the Rev. Warren Muir. George Cooper, NAACP state president of Council Bluffs, wired greetings because highway conditions prevented his attendance. Roy Wilkins, National Executive Secretary of New York City, phoned greetings to the branch. Photo courtesy of Des Moines Register.

NAACP Urges Rockefeller To Save Willie Reid, Chain Gang Escapee, from Fla. Law

New York—To return Willie Reid to Florida "will be sending him to his death," NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins told Nelson A. Rockefeller in a telegram urging the New York Governor to revoke the writ of extradition which would send the fugitive from a chain gang back to the jurisdiction of Sheriff Willis McCall.

Wilkins sent his telegram to the Governor on Nov. 10 following refusal of the United States Supreme Court to review the case. Action by Gov. Rockefeller was required, the telegram said, "in view of the very real danger to his (Reid's) life should he be returned to the custody of a sheriff whose record includes the shooting down in 1951 of two handcuffed Negro prisoners, killing one and seriously wounding the other."

Escaped in 1952

Convicted of assault in 1950 and found refuge in New York where he found employment and avoided any trouble. Informed of his whereabouts, Florida officers came to New York to pick him up in 1955 and return him to that state.

The Brooklyn branch of the NAACP came to his aid arranging for counsel and other assistance to prevent his return to Florida. He remained in a New York prison until last August when the U. S. Court of Appeals ordered him freed in $2,000 bail in response to a petition filed by the law firm of Cohen, Jaffin and Nussbaum which is representing the fugitive. Mr. Wilkins signed the bail bond which liberated him.

After the Supreme Court refused to hear the case, Gov. Rockefeller held an extraordinary clemency hearing on the case in Albany on Nov. 10. Reid's voluntary lawyers—Lawrence A. Cohen, L. Donald Jaf-fin and Laurence G. Nussbaum, Jr.—explained the background of the case and made the plea for revocation on the writ of extradition. The Governor indicated, they said, that he would give a decision within a week.

Snowstorm Delayed Dr. King's Arrival

Des Moines's second big snowstorm of the season delayed Dr. Martin Luther King's arrival in Des Moines by nearly six hours last Thursday. Consequently, a scheduled press conference and a caravan of civic officials for a greeting party, had to be canceled.

Because planes in Iowa City were grounded, Dr. King made the trip from there to Des Moines by bus. He explained for his home in Montgomery, Ala., early Friday morning.

YMCA Open Drive For 2,000 Members

The 1959 Des Moines YMCA membership enrollment began last Friday with about 175 workers soliciting new members and renewing present memberships. A kickoff meeting was held for membership workers the previous evening at the new YMCA, on the Des Moines river front.

Richard Ryden, campaign general chairman, said the goal is $47,000 in memberships for 1960. He estimated it will take about 2,000 boys', men's, social and sustaining memberships to meet the goal.

Cites Struggle to Save Soul of America; Warns Negro to Prepare Himself

By Frances E. Hawthorne

For those of you who heard the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King's speech last Thursday in Des Moines, this is not for you. For those of you who did not hear him, we are presenting his speech in full as a public service of the Bystander. Such a speech is heard rarely in a lifetime. Perhaps, you would like to clip and save it for posterity. The following is his dynamic speech given at University Christian Church. He appeared under the auspices of the Fighting Fund for Freedom committee of the Des Moines branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Ladies and gentlemen I bring you greetings from Montgomery, Ala., and the 50,000 Negroes who live there. I'm sure they join me in saying "thanks" for your prayers during the time when we were conducting the bus boycott there. It would not have succeeded had not you been concerned and prayed for us, as did people all over the world. 50,000 men and women in Montgomery succeeded because they believed that it was ultimately more honorable to walk in dignity than to ride in humiliation.

Momentous Time

Ladies and gentlemen, this is a great time to be alive. Tonight I would like to speak to you on the subject, "Facing the Challenge of a New Age." The 20th century is one of the most momentous times of all ages—between the dying old age and the emerging new age. The old order is passing away and a new one is coming into being.

During the old colonialism, nations—some 800 million in India, more than 500 million in China, 200 million in Africa, another 400 million in Indonesia and Asia, and some 96 million in Japan, were dominated politically and exploited economically; many of them have broken loose and declared their independence. In Africa eight new countries in the past 25 years have declared their independence; four more will do so by 1960.

Freedom Day

Back when Ghana won her independence, my wife and I were in the country for the freedom day festivities; there were some 200,000 people and as we watched a man mounted the platform and in a voice that had not been heard before, told his people, "This is our independence day." And the people cried "Freedom, Freedom!" in a way they had never been able to say. And in the background the old Union Jack flag was being taken down a new flag went up. An old order was going out and a new one was coming in.

Old Order, Nationally

"Not only have we seen the old order in an international way but also in a national way. It started in America back in 1619 when the first load of Negro slaves were brought to the colonies. Negroes were then looked upon as a deplorable cog in a vast machine. Then came the Dred Scott case when the courts ruled that Negroes were not persons but property to be used at will by the white man. Then came the emancipation which gave the Negro a sort of freedom, but that was not enough. Then came another decision, "separate but equal."

Tragedy of Bias

The tragedy of segregation, the real tragedy is not only the physical inconvenience, but it does something to the soul; it distorts the personality. It caused the Negro to lose faith—and to really feel that he must be inferior.

But, something happened to the Negro. There were automobiles, two world wars, his cultural life was rising and so was his economic life. They all conjoined, and caused the Negro to take a new look at himself. His religious life taught him God loves all and all men are made in His image. He had dignity.

May 17, 1954

Then came the greatest of all court decisions. On May 17, 1954 the Supreme Court said that the old separate but equal doctrine was unconstitutional. SEE PAGE THREE

Ballots Sent to NAACP Branches for Board Election

New York—Ballots for the election of 16 candidates for the Board of Directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People were sent out this week to the Association's 1300 branches throughout the country.

James Stewart, Oklahoma City businessman and former president of the Association's branch in that city, has been nominated for a first term. The remaining 15 candidates are incumbent members and have been nominated for re-election. A vacancy was created by the resignation last summer of Roscoe Dunjee, veteran editor of The Black Dispatch and longtime NAACP Board member.

The Association's constitution provides for nominations by a seven-person nominating committee. Independent nominations may be made by petitions signed by 30 or more members in good standing and filed with the Executive Secretary not later than Nov. 1 of each year. For the first time in several years there were no independent nominations.

City. The boys and girls there are learning to coax their dogs into tubs of soapy water! It usually ends up with the children even wetter and sudsier than the pets, but everyone is having a wonderful time anyway!

Nominees

In addition to Mr. Stewart, nominations include Theodore Berry, Cincinnati; Algernon D. Black, Ralph J. Bunche, Hubert H. Lehman, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Mrs. J. E. Spingarn, all of New York City; Kivie Kaplan of Boston; Dr. Leonidas Leach, Flint, Mich.; Alfred Baker Lewis, Greenwich, Conn.; Alexander Leoby, Nashville, Tenn.; Benjamin E. Mays, Atlanta; Dr. James J. McClendon, Detroit; Jackie Robinson, North Stamford, Conn.; Dr. J. M. Tinsley, Richmond, Va.; and Mrs. Jessie Vann, Pittsburgh.

Ballots will be counted at the Association's annual meeting in New York City on Monday, Jan. 4, 1960. The candidates will be elected to terms ending Dec. 31, 1962.

Early Deadline for Thanksgiving Issue

The Thanksgiving issue (Nov. 26) of the Bystander will go to press one day early. Therefore, the news deadline for all club, church and social news will be Monday noon, Nov. 23. PRE-FREEZE FOR ANGEL PIE

When the freezer is put to use the best of the season's crops can be preserved for later enjoyment. One of the most eagerly awaited is the strawberry. Home frozen strawberries retain the fresh, juicy taste of newly picked ones for months when packed in approved freezing containers like Vapocans, square, waxed-board containers with rigid plastic lids.

Strawberries to use later in dessert recipes should be prepared in a dry, sweetened pack before freezing. This is all you have to do. After they are washed, drained, and hulled, tumble berries in sugar, 1/2 cup per quart. Pack in square, waxed-board containers and freeze immediately.

STRAWBERRY ANGEL PIE
Here is a way to put a container of home frozen strawberries to mouth-watering use. Add 3/4 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar to 4 egg whites. Beat until stiff. Beat in 1 cup granulated sugar. Beat in 1/2 cup vanilla. Spread in well-buttered, 9-inch pie plate, having mixture higher around the edge to make a rim. Bake 1 hour at 275°, then cool. Spread with 1/2 cup whipped cream. Let stand several hours. Spread a layer of 1 1/2 pints thawed strawberries over cream. Cover with second layer of whipped cream.

More Buying Power for Iowans...

"Up and down our Main streets, and out on our farms, most every Iowan sees and feels the contribution the brewing industry is making to our state's prosperity. Take the item of general business costs alone... the industry spends over $27,500,000.00 a year here in Iowa for such items as rent, insurance, office supplies, and the like, benefiting almost every city and town in the state.

...all Iowa Shares

"Or, take the matter of wages... the industry has an Iowa payroll of over $30,000,000.00. It buys more than $240,000,000.00 worth of farm products, with corn heading the list. And, there are many more such items by which it swells our prosperity. Yes, from every standpoint, we can certainly agree...

Harry Belafonte—a leading man?? All was going well—Harry Belafonte was fooling the panel on "What's My Line?" TV show and the audience was getting a big kick out of his creole French and other dialects mixed in as he endeavored to throw the panel off the scent of his real identity. They had established the fact that the guest was a singer—a recording artist and a night club entertainer. Then Arlene Francis asked the question which blew the lid off. "Are you a handsome leading man?" To this, Harry blushed. What could he say? Fact is—he is—but what parts have allowed him to be this symbol in movies?—what producer has dared to cast him as they would Rock-Hudson, Gregory Peck and the others without an all-Negro cast or a problem where he becomes a villain because of his race. To answer the question—Harry had to say a sad "no" but it was recorded that he is a "leading man". By then, the panel knew who he was.

Nat Cole

Nat King Cole has already begun boosting the Christmas season with a new single release: "The Hap-piest Christmas Tree", a cut number for Christmas-believers of all ages. Nat has always topped the season since his "Christmas Song" some 13 years ago.

Duke Ellington

Now the Eskimos up in the cold country claim their favorite: Harry Belafonte. Duke Ellington is back in USA after his European Tour—and his first date is the Red Hill Inn in Philadelphia. Earl Bostic also playing Philly and Johnny Mathis does a Thanksgiving Eve date there at the Academy of Music.

Nina Simone

Nina Simone was just waiting for the chance to play a spot like the Interlude in Hollywood where Earl Grant won fame—and she gets it for the last two weeks of November. Here she'll be seen and heard by all the great talent scouts of TV, movies and clubs. And if she's due for a big career after her smash recording of "Porgy"—then she'll surely get it.

Platters

The Platters—now doing two weeks in Mexico—go on to Dutch Guiana and Germany and they'll spend Christmas in Belgium. They're taking 15 days off from New Year's Day and will open in England, then do a 4 week tour of France and North Africa. The finale comes Feb. 25th when they open for 4 weeks at the famous Olympia Theatre in Paris.

Earl Grant

Carmen McRae back at Baker's Keyboard Lounge. Sarah Vaughn in Hollywood contracting for a new club act. Earl Grant, a very busy guy, jets in from Frisco where he'll do a date at the Municipal Auditorium then back to NY to appear on Ed Sullivan's show, then right out to open the Royal Casino in Washington.

Sammy Davis, Jr.

Everyone has a right to his opinion—but most of the public couldn't go along with the prejudiced remarks by Sammy Davis Jr.'s future mother-in-law who doesn't want the song and dance man in her family—mainly because he's "of a different color". The "different religion" was obviously just an after thought. Sammy, we felt, handled the tense situation rather well by retorting "when you meet the right girl, marry her". The mother probably expected him to cry prejudice for sympathy.

Eartha Kitt

Leonard Sillman casting for another "New Faces"—and when young hopefuls remember what his revues did for Eartha Kitt and many others—they flock to get even a small part.

Pearl Bailey

Pearly Mae is quite a performer—and she certainly sparked the Big Party for Revlon when Irene Dunne proved too weak to hold up as hostess. Pearl, right now, is riding the crest of a new success—her own revue is playing coast to coast to rave notices and she's become a symbol of greatness. Her easy going style and ad libbing have made her one of the top comedienne. Also: that mink coat she wore at constitutional. Surely, we are on the threshold of the most constructive time in history. . . . we are standing on the border of a promised land of race relations. The old order is passing away.

New Responsibilities

However, with each new age there comes new responsibilities and challenges. I would like to speak of a few here now. First we must rise above individuality to a broader human oneness. The age in which we live is geographically one. We must live as brothers or die as fools.

Depressing Sight

When Mrs. King and I traveled to India recently, we saw a depressing sight. How can one be wholly happy when one sees millions of people sleeping on the sidewalks at night—seeing millions goant with hunger, without enough bread to eat. . . . when the majority make only $60 a year before taxes are taken out. . . . when they have no doctors or dentists to look after their medical cares. One cannot be wholly healthy. . . . or happy.

U. S. Destiny

For the destiny of the United States is tied up with all nations of the world. We should use our resources to help. . . . because I can never be what I ought to be until you are what you ought to be. I am a piece of the continent of man.

Second, we must put forth our efforts for achievements; doors are open now that were not open before. It is not enough to compete with Negroes, we must be ready to compete with people. Above, all we must have the determination to be the best. If it is a street sweeper, we must be the best street sweeper of all; so it is with doctor, mechanic, or whatever calling.

Good Will

"Third, we must enter the new age with understanding and good-will in our hearts. To those of you who have been the oppressors, you must have penitence; to those who have been oppressed, you must not indulge in bitter retaliation, but have love in our hearts. We must never use second class methods to secure first class citizenships. There is a Greek word for Love which means redemptive good will for all men. We must love all men because God does. We love the person but hate the deed.

Human Progress

Now, I can tell by your faces that you have misinterpreted just about everything I have said. Most of you will go home, sit back and do nothing and wait on the inevitable. Human progress is never inevitable. It takes a lot of hard work. Segregation is still a reality even in the

Howard U Looking for Successor to President Mordecai Johnson

Washington, D. C.—Howard University officials this week announced the appointment of a Special Committee of the University's Board of Trustees to canvass the field and to recommend a highly qualified person to be the successor to Dr. Mordecai W. Johnson, who will come to the end of his thirty-third year as President of Howard University on June 30, 1960.

At that time Dr. Johnson, by his own request, is scheduled to retire from the presidency of the University. As early as April of this year, just prior to the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees, Dr. Johnson advised the Chairman of the Board of Trustees and his associate executive officers, of his determination to retire at that time, and requested them to take all needed steps to provide for his successor.

There is segregation in employment and in housing. Because of his color, a Negro cannot buy a home where he wants to even if he has the money to do so.

No section of America can boast a clean hand in the area of brotherhood. The judicial department has done its share, but the executive and legislative branches have been apathetic and hypocritical.

And the church which has such a great opportunity to wage to the forefront, has a tragic example of high blood pressure of creeds and anemia of deeds.

The Negro must assume responsibilities for reality, he must sacrifice and suffer and save the soul of the United States. We are not merely fighting for 17 million Negroes but for all men. This is not a race struggle but a struggle against all systems of injustices.

Fable: Boy With Sticks

A FABLE about a boy with a bundle of sticks he wanted to break has its meaning for today's home craftsman. Unable to bend the bundle, he asked for advice. His father told him to break each stick separately.

The beginning home handyman too often feels he should buy numerous tools and much material. Doing so often is frustrating, so the experts advise him to "take it easy," buying just essential tools and materials and learning their use and application in simple projects.

Lumber dealers are good sources of tools needed in the home workshop, and they can advise the beginner which ones he should obtain first. They can tell him also about basic materials to have on hand. Among these is Masonite Tempered Presdwood, an all-around panel that wears like iron, is free of splinters, knots and grain, and is low in cost.

Getting back to the fable, the handyman needn't buy even a 4 by 8-foot panel for his beginner's project, for his dealer usually has short lengths available, and their price usually is a bargain. Gaining confidence in the use of a few fundamental hand or power tools, the home craftsman can make a success of his initial undertakings and then branch out to build an under-stairs project, line the old coal bin, and build some basement or kitchen cabinets.

He'll do well to break just a single faggot at a time.

JOBS MAY HELP

MEET EMOTIONAL NEEDS

Why is it acceptable for a mother to put in hours of work at club and service activities but not acceptable for this same woman to hold down a half-time job?

We can agree that probably most women should not take on both these commitments at the same time. But where household matters can be handled efficiently and the family not neglected, a woman might make a choice between community organizations and a job. She may find a job that makes use of her particular talents and educational background in such a way that the work will be more satisfying than other activities.

Demanding

True, a job may be more constantly demanding and less flexible than club work, though possibly not as time-consuming. But with intelligent planning and by building in

Outside Interests

For many women, work with clubs and community groups adequately meets their needs for outside interests. For some, such activities are not satisfying. So a woman should have a right to make a choice in terms of her emotional needs, family situation, educational background and interests. It need not be just a matter of economic considerations.

HEALTH FOR ALL

A Case of Expansion

There comes a time in every woman's life when she notices that they're making size 12 smaller than they used to.

Then one day while she's visiting a friend, she sees a scale in the bathroom. Just out of curiosity, she steps on it, takes a look and hurriedly hops off again. Ouch! Ten pounds! Where'd it come from? And, what's more important, how is she going to get rid of it?

Less Activity

The ten pounds came from continuing to eat the same amount of food while gradually growing older with the passing years and getting less and less active. Firmly ignoring "crash" diets, fad diets, and non-prescription drugs (at best they're a waste of money, at worst downright dangerous), she will lose that ten pounds slowly and gradually. How? By keeping her fingers out of the bowl of potato chips or peanuts while watching TV; by walking firmly away from the dinner table with never a backward look, while she still wants a second portion of cake or ice cream; and generally by avoiding snacks, which she knows perfectly well are high in calories and low in nutritive value.

Doctor's Aid

Our friend is going to lose no more than a half pound or a pound a week, as long as she wants to do it on her own. If she wants to lose any faster than that, she'll go to a doctor for instructions and supervision.

Many women have made haggard, tired, nervous wrecks of themselves trying to get whittled down to willowy in three weeks. Don't!

Mrs. Beatrice Bailey, past president of the Central District convention and board member of the Five States Convention will be guest speaker Sunday afternoon, Nov. 22 at Pleasant Green Baptist church in Omaha, Neb. The Rev. Mr. Sykes will be host pastor for the women's day program there.

UNION BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

The message was brought by the pastor, the Rev. Seymour Gaines. He was assisted by the Senior choir. At 3 p.m. the Pastor's Aid program was held with Mrs. Jessie Bell-Davis, as guest speaker. She dedicated a song to the Pastor's Aid president, Mrs. Hackney, "Only God Knows; No One Knows But God."

NEW JERUSALEM CHURCH OF GOD IN CHRIST NEWS

BETHEL A.M.E. CHURCH NEWS

"Why Do We Sin?" was the topic of the Rev. R. J. Parker's sermon last Sunday. Visiting worshippers were Mrs. Hattie Bruner, of Fulton, Mo., Mrs. Virginia Steamer of Omaha, Neb., Mrs. Levada Watson of Waco, Tex., and Mrs. G. Lamb of Des Moines.

Evangelist McClinton, Daughter Feted at Brunch at Hotel Here

Evangelist Attila McClinton and daughter, Miss Tillie Marie of Detroit, Mich., were guests at a brunch at Hotel Kirkwood's Country Kitchen. Hostesses were the Mmes. Ann Goins, Josephine Jones and Mary Moore. Also participating were Mmes. Eula Spears, Luberta Dixon and Mary Anderson.

Ireland, has its way. These Irish women feel that the schools should teach the children to wash themselves, and so passed this resolution: "That the Department of Education should be asked to include in all primary schools a weekly period for the teaching of health rules and hygiene."

Enclose Laundry Tubs

STORAGE is a "must" in the laundry, but oftentimes it is makeshift and unsatisfactory. Wise homemakers can readily make a combination linen chest and laundry supply cabinet which will serve also to hide unsightly stationary tubs.

As shown in the illustration, the handyman can enclose the tubs, construct a chest of drawers next to them, and create a handy clothes storage table on top. To do the best job from the standpoint of cost, appearance and long life, he should build a framework of 2 by 2-inch lumber and cover it with smooth Masonite Tempered Presdwood, one-quarter inch thick.

Drawer construction can be simple. Just form the framework of lumber and attach a bottom of Presdwood. Wooden slides attached to the cabinet and sides of the drawers complete that part of the project.

The lumber framework for the enclosures should be no farther than 16" apart. Swinging doors to enclose the tubs may be made, too, as illustrated, or sliding doors of tempered Presdwood unframed, may be made. They will slide in grooves cut into the cabinet floor and upper framework.

Prime and paint the installation for the best appearance.

It's hard to believe, isn't it, that Thanksgiving is only a week away? Like you, we are saying, where have the months and weeks gone? So much can happen in a week sometimes. For instance, during the past week, the transit system drivers went on strike, leaving thousands of riders to shift around for transportation as best they could or take pains and walk. Then there was our second big snow of the season and a record cold wave that kept residents hugging their warm homes, all except those brave and hardy pheasant hunters. In addition, there was the speech of one of the most admired leaders of today, the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King. For those of you who did not brave the snow and cold, you missed an address that would have made you forget what the weather was like outside.

Thanks to our nice neighbors, we have a way to get to work as long

Recently, we published a picture of the Shriners accepting a check for $80, in behalf of the polio fund, from Mrs. James Claybrook, of 223 E. 13th street. Mrs. Claybrook, had said that money was coming in all the time; well, when the money was turned over to the Polk County chapter of the Polio foundation, the donation had grown from $80 to $100. We would like to commend her and her friends and neighbors who helped her make the undertaking a success.

By the way Mrs. Claybrook dropped by the office last week with a note of appreciation for all those who helped her. She had called me the week before wanting to know if it would be published then. We told her we had not seen it, but perhaps, one of the secretaries had handled it, and of course, it should be in. Well, it wasn't. The letter returned a few days later, indicating it had been sent to the dead letter office. Mrs. Claybrook called again to explain, and to make sure it got in last week, she brought it down in person.

Several weeks ago, Linda H. Griffin, 10-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Griffin, of 1608 44th street made her first appearance in the Drake Children's recital (undergraduate department). NEGROES MUST MEASURE UP SAYS DR. KING

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s speech in Des Moines was everything his buildup indicated: oratory, logic, sincerity, dedication to the cause of the Negro.

He lashed out at injustices suffered by the Negro. However, unlike many people who blame all their ills upon others, he charged that the Negro himself had a great responsibility to prepare himself adequately for the work he proposes to follow, and to carry his civic, religious and political responsibility as a good citizen should.

Often it is easy to blame others for our ills, to feel self sufficient and selfish ignoring the fact that others had a hand in our success, to forget that, just as we were helped, we must be willing and ready to help others.

The Baptist Church in Montgomery, Ala. is fortunate to have Dr. King as its pastor even though outside events take a large part of his days.

THE TRANSIT PROBLEM

It appears that those who have been trying to settle the bus strike in Des Moines are not willing to come to grips with the problem and thus too much time is being spent on things we would like to have rather than what we have.

The Des Moines Transit problem has been a management-union-political football game for years and thus nobody seems willing to come to grips with realities.

The Bystander does not believe the city of Des Moines should further obligate itself to raise taxes by buying the street car system. Taxes are high enough already.

A committee has been appointed by the mayor to solve the problem maybe.

EXPERTS DO POOR JOB ON GAS STUDY

The Des Moines council is granting the Iowa Power and Light Company an increase in gas rates of 23.26 per cent for those who heat with gas and 19 per cent for others. The heating rate is about 54¢ less than requested by the company.

When the request was first presented to the council, the hired experts said the company was entitled by a 7 per cent increase, later they raised it to 11 per cent and now 23 per cent and this came only after the company went to court and pressed its demands.

Undoubtedly the company is entitled to a fair return on its investment. And while the request was for a large raise, it came only after being pushed into the situation by the Northern Natural Gas company which furnishes the gas for process and resale.

The experts which the council hired to advise them took three guesses before it came up with a final recommendation and this at a good fee for their services. A local firm could have done no worse.

Like the fellow who buys an imported suit which is no better than the one made at home, there is always a tendency to hire foreign rather than local experts. After all their fees are higher but the work no better.

PHEASANT SEASON SOMEWHAT DISAPPOINTING

Last Saturday saw thousands of pheasant hunters in the fields starting the season under the most adverse weather conditions since 1940. And while more hours were allowed for hunting (shooting began at nine A.M.) indicating that the pheasant population was heavy, most parties were disappointed. The weather drove most of the birds to the unplowed corn fields where farmers disliked hunters to go.

Undoubtedly, pheasant hunters pay more license fees than for any game shooting, or for fishing. However, it does not appear that the proceeds from their license are used proportionately to make pheasant hunting more desirable.

There was a time when considerable cover was available in northern Iowa for pheasants. But in recent years, farmers have cleaned up their farms to the extent that nesting and hiding places are at a premium.

Under the federal soil bank law, farmers are paid to keep acres out of production with the privilege of growing grass and other soil building vegetation without violating their contract. Of course, Iowa land, where most of the pheasants are found, is pretty expensive. But in conjunction with this federal program, the conservation commission might well (within the law) cooperate by adding to the soil bank payments of those who participate on the federal program permitting a better income but it becomes a drag when few are pheasant crop. This, of course, would require some type of indemnity against destruction of newly planted corn by pheasants in the spring.

Pheasant hunting is excellent sport but it becomes a drag when such are available.

Althea Coming to Town With Globetrotters

Althea Gibson, tennis star who recently turned pro for a $100,000 contract, will make her first appearance in Des Moines on Thanksgiving night, Nov. 26. She will play an exhibition match with Ila Figueras at Veterans Auditorium preceding the Harlem Globetrotters game.

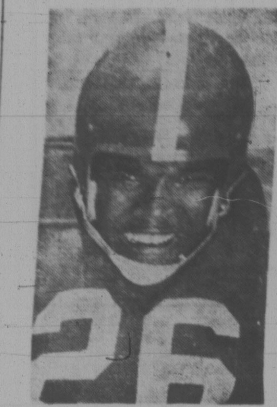

Miss Gibson, who signed with the Trotters last month, is reportedly the highest paid woman tennis pro in U. S. history.

Michigan State Spartan

East Lansing, Mich.—Herb Adderley and his teammates of Michigan State upset Rose Bowl aspirant Northwestern Saturday at East Lansing, 15-10 to create a 3-way tie in the Big Ten conference.

The Spartans, who played their last conference game (six) must sit back and await the outcome of this Saturday's games of Wisconsin-Minnesota and Northwestern-Illinois.

While the Spartans were handing the Wildcats their second Big Ten defeat a surprising Illinois team climaxed an 82-yard drive against Wisconsin in the final few seconds and won 9-6 at the gun.

Herb Adderley

Already people are eyeing the 1960 chances of the Iowa Hawkeyes. Looks, as if Wilburn Hollis will be a big part of those plans. If he can't make it as a quarterback, it will be hard to keep a fast 200 lb. runner out of a halfback slot. They might do better than the present edition of the Hawks.

While all this is going on the Iowa State boys can think that they have very few losses from their present squad and could be much tougher next year. This weekend is the big one for the Cyclones. Never in all our career have we pulled so hard for an upset as we have for a win over Oklahoma. With our present successes we haven't called one right all year; it doesn't look too promising for the State boys.

Drake came up with a surprising game last week. If as they thought, the Wichita boys were stealing their signals a few fake ones might have made for fun for everyone. They have been getting better each week and also may be tougher next year.

To those who argue for an Iowa State-Iowa U game when would it be played? Iowa State argued that it was hard to get up for the Drake game after a tough conference schedule and either suggested dropping the game which is the big one for

Hawkeyes Forgot "Fumble Play" in Last Half Comeback; Went on to Defeat Buckeyes, 15-7

Columbus, Ohio—The Iowa Hawkeyes "forgot the fumble play" in the last half and turned a losing game into a decisive victory, 16-7, here last Saturday. It marked the first time in 11 years that Hawkeyes under the tutelage of Coach Forest Evashevski had beaten the Buckeyes on their own stomping ground.

Drake or playing them first. Iowa might feel the same way about Iowa State and Iowa State might not want to play first on the Hawkeye schedule. Then who would want to play at Ames with its small stadium when one corner at the Hawkeye stadium could hold the Cyclone crowd? When those details are worked out maybe there will be a game.

Miscellaneous

Never have we heard so much criticism of officials as we have this year in all levels of football from high school to pro football.

We have one first hand case here in the city. Roosevelt should have lost two games instead of one and Tech an unbeaten untied year but for the goof of an official who admitted it. Then in the Big Ten Indiana argued that they actually beat Ohio State and so it goes all the way up to the pro teams. Maybe we ought to do something about it but what?

WINTER COMES

And now the snow comes down on the feathered wing,
To fold in whiteness every field and bluff,
To make of each barn roof a jeweled thing.

To weave for every post a plump new muff,
Once more the russet paths of fallen leaves,
The stubble-gold, the pumpkin vines are gone;

Each sprig is gloved, each branch wears ermine sleeves;
In silence, Winter puts his white robe on.

And one might doubt that elms could leaf again,
That buried gardens, farmland deep in snow.

Thoughts for Today

Anyone can carry his burden, however hard, until nightfall; any-ing important plays and carrying the ball himself for precious yardage up the middle, with the first team. It was the first time this year he has played with the first team. The big 6-foot 4-inch sophomore's promotion was largely due to his unstinting performance the week before against Minnesota.

Winning Touchdown

After a half-time admonishment by Coach Evashevski to "forget the fumble play" the Hawks came back to score a field goal, making the score a slim 9-7 in their favor. With time running out in the last quarter, Iowa treated the Buckeyes to some of its own medicine. They pounced on Ohio's one and only fumble and turned it into a T.D. and thus led 16-7 after the P.A.T.

Early in the game Iowa's nemesis, Bob White re-injured his leg and was unable to play.
