Powell, from Sick Bed, Urges Friends to Rally To Support Hulan Jack

New York City—Directing his flock from a sick bed in the sunny climate of Puerto Rico where he was ordered for an operation, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell turned the tables and backed up Boro. Pres. Hulan Jack in his present difficulties, after campaigning heavily and almost viciously against him last year. He urged this week the public to be fairminded and stand behind him "until the facts are in."

Belligerence

Jack himself, obviously beruffled at the sudden twist of fate which has led him to the front pages and choice TV spots more so than any other statement made during his life in public office—has retained his belligerent attitude of being annoyed throughout the investigation. Snapping at newsmen who ask innocently such questions as "Did you pay for the renovation?" "Was your apartment renovated?" etc.—Jack seemed at a loss to understand why the remodeling job has just come up. It was done back in 1958 and "was just something between friends" he insisted.

Will Not Resign

Almost all of Jack's severest foes agreed—he should not resign. Jack

NEWS In A Nutshell

Montgomery, Ala.—In an effort to crash the rigid color bar in the insurance field, the Montgomery Restoration and Amelioration Assn., has asked 13 white Southern insurance companies doing millions of dollars in business with Negro policyholders, to "hire Negroes" as agents and in administrative and public relations posts.

Boston, Mass.—Brenda E. Scott of Manchester, N. H., has been elected president of Northwestern University's Jazz society, becoming the first of her race to hold the position.

New York City—Charles (Chuck) Berry, 30, rock 'n' roll singer, was charged with transporting a 14-year-old girl across state lines for immoral purposes. Assistant U. S. Attorney Frederick H. Mayer said Berry admitted bringing the girl from El Paso, Tex. She was working as a hat check girl in Berry's St. Louis tavern.

Deerfield, Ill.—A poll of residents in this all-white community on a proposed integrated housing project has reportedly shown about 8-to-1 opposition.

Erie, Pa.—Outraged by their conduct, a judge sentenced three white youths to severe penalties ranging from 14 to 23 months in prison, probation and fines of $100 a piece, for assaulting four Negroes at a drive-in restaurant here last September.

Chicago, Ill.—About 25 worshippers were stunned when an irate man crashed the services at the Central Baptist church and slew its pastor, the Rev. John P. Scott, in a hail of bullets. The assailant was the son-in-law of the pastor and choirmaster of the church.

Washington, D. C.—Congressman Charles Diggs, Jr. (D., Mich.) has urged President Eisenhower to extend his "goodwill tour" to his own southland upon his return from foreign shores.

Biloxi, Miss.—The United States District court located in this Gulf of Mexico city, has subpoenaed 44 persons from which a grand jury will be chosen Jan. 4 to investigate the brutal lynching of M. C. Parker.

Washington, D. C.—The U. S. Supreme Court has speeded-up its handling of a Louisiana case that had tied up the Civil Rights Commission. Acting on the plea by Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin, the court listed the case for argument Jan. 18.

Commissioners Hear Allen's Story

Expect Decision on Reinstating Former Detective after Jan. 11

A city civil service commission hearing ended here late last Tuesday, Dec. 22 after former detective James S. Allen went on the witness stand in his own behalf. The commissioners said that they will rule whether Allen will be reinstated to his old job—a few days after Jan. 11, deadline date for written statements to be filed before the group by attorneys.

Allen, a veteran policeman of 22 years, was suspended Nov. 2 as the result of a police investigation growing out of the $40,000 safe robbery of the Hiland Potato chip company on Oct. 4. He appeared Nov. 16 before City Manager Elder Gunter who fired him effective on the suspension date.

Allen was accused of accepting sums ranging from $625 to $200 from each of three men later found guilty in the burglary. He also is accused of changing $1,500 in $500 bills into small bills for one of the burglars.

No other Charges

The commission ruled as it had earlier on a temporary basis, that the city would not be permitted to deal in the hearing with additional specifications made against Allen after he was discharged by Gunter.

The specifications alleged incidents occurring before the Hiland Potato Chip burglary investigation was begun. Friday's ruling denied the city's resistance to a motion by Allen's attorneys that the additional specifications be stricken.

Confidence

Allen testified that he accepted $62 from one of the burglars, Bernard L. Clay, the night after the burglary. He said he spent the

We simply want all qualified citizens to be registered to vote.
"The drive is more or less a stimulation of an already established campaign by the NAACP," Alexander asserted. "Although the vote drive is nationwide, the major emphasis will be in the South where the smallest proportion of Negroes is registered. This is an important election year and we think we will get results."

NOTICE OF CANCELLATION AND FORFEITURE OF REAL ESTATE CONTRACT

TO: FREEMAN S. FREDERICK and RUBY N. FREDERICK, Husband and Wife.
You and each of you are hereby notified that default has occurred in the provisions of a real estate contract, dated May 1, 1959, which was executed by Charles Junior Foster and Ruth A. R. Foster, husband and wife, as Vendors, and Freeman S. Frederick and Ruby N. Frederick, husband and wife, as Vendees; that said contract has been duly assigned to the Trustees of the HOFESALO FUND, and it is now the holder of the legal title to the property involved in this action, and is the owner of the Vendors' interest therein, said property being described as follows:
The North One-half of the East 141.88 feet of Lot Eight (8) in MEFFERD ACRES, an Official Plat, Town of Grandville, Polk County, Iowa, and that the monthly payments on said contract are $87.50 per month, plus one-twelfth of the annual taxes and insurance.

That you have failed to pay $104.13 due in September, 1959; that you have failed to pay $104.13 due in October, 1959; that you have failed to pay $104.13 due in November, 1959; that you have failed to pay $104.13 due in December, 1959; that there is therefore a total delinquency in the amount of $416.52. Because of said default on said contract in performance of the terms and conditions of said contract as above stated, you are hereby notified that this notice is served pursuant to the terms and conditions of said contract and the provisions of Chapter 456 of the 1938 Code of Iowa, and unless within thirty (30) days from and after the completed service of this notice, you make payment of all said delinquency, and in addition, the additional costs of preparing and serving this notice, said contract will stand cancelled and forfeited, and will become null and void, and you will be forever barred, estopped, and foreclosed from having, claiming and asserting any title and interest in and to said real estate. IT WITNESSETH our hand at Des Moines, Iowa, this 14th day of December, 1959.

SEE IN STARS

WITH DELORES CALVIN

New York City—Nat King Cole has come a long way—from a poor little Chicago boy to rubbing elbows with Kings and high society—and we were proud to see him so at ease at the fabulous debutante party Henry Ford 2nd, the automobile King, threw for his shy daughter, Charlotte, just turned 18. Nat was the guest entertainer and reigned in true style as he cooed to the audience with his songs. Always a hit with the younger and older crowd—Nat was a much-sought after man during the evening... and enjoyed meeting some of the most influential men in America—and in the world... The deb's gown was created by Yves St. Laurent, successor to Dior—and her paraisian interior decorator, who turned the Detroit Country Club into a replica of an 18th century French palace where Charlotte was the princess, made many trips back and forth from France just to "get the feel of the thing." Over 1,000 of the world's top social register attended which cost her father a pretty penny—about $100,000.

Sarah Vaughn

Sarah Vaughn, who's been climbing much higher since she changed her personal manager from former husband George Treadwell to C. B. Atkins of Progressive Talent in New York... Now they're building her as a legend... and rightly so—for anyone who can command an audience at the Empire Room of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, where Lena Horne has scored many times—they deserve the biggest banner we can find. She's added some thing new singing spirituals—very out accompaniment which is terrific... and especially on her face and features... In other words, our Sarah is going more towards an everlasting appeal—getting away from the here today—gone tomorrow hits. Now you see a Sarah with talent and feeling we never knew she had... singing as a high-style highly polished artist who's been through all the preliminaries and is now ready for the most sophisticated crowd which can only afford the Waldorf's prices.

In his very first week—that dynamic Harry Belafonte did sellout performances—which is $45,000 for six shows—playing to a grateful audience who adored him and paid an upped price of $9.95 for heat seats. For the 8 week run, the box office has much in advance—about $200,000, worth—surely the management picked a priceless gem here.

Ella Fitzgerald

They've gone and lined up a terrific itinerary for Ella Fitzgerald and she's so excited over being the best and on top of the world—she can't get used to such fancy living. After all, it wasn't too many years ago she used to play cards with the boys between shows in the basement at the Apollo Theatre—now the star is just too busy with all her TV dates—concerts and college dates and the like to think about much except a busy year ahead... They've got her trekking back to Europe in February and March, South America in April and May—the Riviera—all the plush places of the world where they really go for—Ella—and believe every word she utters is simply gorgeous.

Personally Yours
by Frances Muthorne.

Another year has faded away as we stand on the threshold of another decade. Dec. 31, 1939 marks the end of the fifth decade of the 20th century. All eyes are turned in mass accord to 1960—with her promise of hope for a better tomorrow, a better year, a more prosperous and advanced decade... a decade that will solve the age old problems—economic, social, health, food and educational—of our fellow men in distant lands that are now only a few jet-hours away.

This is the time of year when the social season receives impetus, hitting one of its yearly peaks. Parties, dances, dinners, receptions and other engagements are bumping heads with one another. Campus students return for a few days with families and friends, some bringing our guests along. Friends and relatives travel from a far, for holiday reunions—jamming planes, trains, and other means of transportation to capacity.

Friends go from house to house bringing good cheer and basking in the warmth of hosts welcome. School children enjoying themselves fascinated by new toys and their "just what I wanted" articles for Christmas. Some are enjoying a double treat with birthdays following or preceding the annual holiday.

This is also the time of year when you hear such remarks as "Christmas isn't like it used to be" or "They have taken all the heart out of Christmas," or remarks similar to these. We had opportunity to hear quite a few as we rode to and from work during the week before Christmas as the bus drivers started the public vehicles rolling again. Sure Christmas is not like it used to be. We are not going to argue the point at all. Christmas has changed, some for the good and some for the bad. The chief complaint is commercialism. But, the commercialism is a product of our present inflationary age. We live in an age of a little more money, more jobs and the installment plan. These came about after World War II. Before the economic wages were a little more tighter. As we have better houses, food and clothing, so do we spend more money on gifts and toys.

Then too there is the complaint that people are more selfish than in earlier days. We wonder if they mean blanket selfishness or include cautiousness, reserve, and introversion? Actually, did our forefathers know any more people in proportion to their descendants? After all the population has almost doubled that of several decades ago. Small towns are still friendlier than the big cities and the big cities are even bigger nowadays.

Despite the complaints which are true in part, many of the traditions handed down from our forefathers are still with us, unimpaired, which is the essence of all changes. New things are added but some of the old that we value most remain. In our Christmas today we still have the story of the Christ Child, Churches and Sunday School programs depicting the glorious event; the ode of the "Night before Xmas" is ever new and youngsters, though sophisticated in many ways in our new atomic-age, still believe in a "Santa Claus" if that is the

North Star Guardsmen Entertain Children With Holiday Party

Also visiting Mrs. Esters and Mrs. Marguerite Cothorn, is their grandson, and son, respectively, John Cothorn who is a student at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. He will return to the campus Sunday.

Paul Junkin Family Visits in Des Moines

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Junkins and daughter of Bloomfield, Ia., visiting in Des Moines over the holiday weekend.

Mary Church Terrell Club Gives Party

The Mary Church Terrell Club No. 2 entertained their husbands and other guests at their annual Christmas party Sunday night at the Brotherhood Youth Center. About 60 enjoyed the buffet style refreshments, dance and holiday good cheer.

Out-of-town guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. William Harris of St. Paul, Minn., and Miss Mercedes Blaney of Milwaukee, Wis., swell to the strains of carols and eyes brightened at the decorated tree and other decorations. Home baked tradition of their home; hearts still goods, candies and pop corn still are a major part of the holiday preparations.

So, has Christmas changed so much? For some there is plenty and more than our forefathers dared dream of in their days. Still we have with us in this country and abroad those who are not so fortunate. Some of these hearts are made glad though by the unselfish giving of those who have more. So you see the heart has not been taken out of Christmas in the home, in church and in their neighbors' abodes. Happy New Year one and all!
