Scales which was followed by four years of residency in general surgery with women surgery at University hospital in Iowa City and men's surgery at Veteran's hospital in Des Moines.

He lives with his wife and three children, Vernon, Gary and Blanche at 1517 Jefferson ave.

Named to 7-Member Urban Renewal Board

Atty. Willie S. Glanton was among seven members appointed to the Urban Renewal board by the City Council Monday for terms ranging from one to three years. Atty. Glanton will serve two years.

ATTY. GLANTON

Others named to the board were Mrs. James A. Newsome, Milton S. Olson, and Simpson P. Smith, three years each; Fred Powers, two years, and Clyde W. Lighter and Fred D. Mathis, one year each.

Atty. Glanton, who in private life is the wife of Municipal Judge Luther T. Glanton, jr., was the first woman in Iowa to serve as assistant county attorney. She is active in the Des Moines NAACP, women clubs and other civic groups. She is also the mother of a son, Luther III.

George Meredith, 51, Sentenced to 30-Days

Restaurants, And Laundries Lagging in Job Opportunities

"Slow, but certain, signs of progress can be observed in the effort to eliminate racial segregation in Des Moines housing, but real estate 'etiquette' is still retarding progress and hindering economic growth," says Malcolm B. Higgins, executive secretary of the Des Moines Human Rights commission in his report on local housing segregation.

"Fewer and fewer people in Des Moines today question the right of an individual to live where he chooses and can afford, he said, but real estate brokers continue to show a reluctance "to accept listings from owners in all white neighborhoods . . . who want to accept all qualified buyers."

Real Estate Etiquette

"This attitude changes though as soon as the first Negro family moves into the neighborhood. Then realtors are over enthusiastic about soliciting listings and selling to Negroes.

"This kind of real estate 'etiquette' is doing more to perpetuate housing segregation in Des Moines than anything else. Such real estate 'etiquette' also harms the city's future economic growth."

Housing Committee

Higgins also noted that the Des Moines Committee on Integrated Housing has set up a fair housing committee to: (1) provide Negro buyers with information about houses for sale outside of transitional or segregated neighborhoods. SEE PAGE THREE

Mrs. Bayles, Morris, jr., Attend Midwest Meet Of NAACP in K. C.

Kansas City, Mo.—Plans for stepped up desegregation programs in the Midwest were discussed at a meeting here Jan. 16 by representatives of area NAACP branches.

The meeting was called by Gloster B. Current, director of NAACP branches. Mr. Current introduced Leonard H. Carter, newly appointed field secretary for the region.

Among those who attended were: Judge Carl R. Johnson, NAACP National Board member; State Conference Presidents, Dr. C. R. Rocquemore, Kansas; Mrs. R. P. Beshears, Missouri; Mr. Carl L. Weschcke, Minnesota; and Mr. George J. Cooper, Iowa.

From Des Moines

Also, branch presidents, Mr. William H. Pinkett, Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Clara W. Bayles, Des Moines, Iowa; Mr. Solomon H. Cates, Kansas City, Kans.; Mr. Douglas Hall, Minneapolis, Minn.; Mr. Chester I. Lewis, Jr., Wichita, Kans. Also attending from Des Moines was branch president elect, James B. Morris, Jr.

In addition, Mr. McKinley Burnett, Topeka, Kans.; Mrs. Addie C. Few, St. Paul, Minn.; Mr. Lee Vertis Swinton, Kansas City, Mo.; and Mrs. Margaret Bush Wilson, St. Louis, Mo.

Meredith previously had received a 15-day sentence on a charge of driving without a driver's license. He was arrested by police who saw him drive through a stop light at E. 1st and Locust st. on Dec. 29. Police said Meredith was the driver of a car which fatally injured Manson L. James, 51, of 929 10th street on Dec. 27.

No charges were filed against Meredith in connection with the accident other than one of driving without a license.

Higgins Receives Appreciation Scroll

Before he left for his new position as director of the Washington State Board Against Discrimination, Malcolm B. Higgins, was presented a scroll in appreciation for his work while he served as executive secretary of the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights.

Making the presentation on behalf of the Des Moines Committee for Integrated Housing is its chairman, Lawrence O. Hutchinson. The scroll read in part that Higgins has "drodded the consciences of the citizens of Des Moines on an issue where we have not been able to live up to our Democratic and Christian beliefs."—Photo courtesy of Des Moines Register.

Less than Month; Brother Killed in Accident Death Comes to Glanton Family Second Time in

Death came to Municipal Judge Luther T. Glanton's kin for the second time in less than a month when he received word Monday morning that his brother, Robert Lee Glanton, 27, had been killed in an auto accident in Tennessee.

Judge Glanton said his brother, a licensed embalmer, was returning to Murfreesboro from Nashville when his car was in an accident with one driven by a serviceman.

Judge Glanton left Tuesday for Murfreesboro to attend the funeral which was held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. He is expected to return to the city later this week.

He was also called to Murfreesboro shortly after Christmas to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Cindy Glanton Hodge who died Dec. 27 in Chicago, Ill.

Daisy Bates Says Moral Rearmament Helped Her Meet Faubus Without Hate

Washington, D. C.—Mrs. Daisy Bates, President of the Arkansas NAACP, said today that it was her experience with Moral Re-Armament that made it possible for her to meet Gov. Orval E. Faubus "without hatred" last month. She told 600 people at the MRA Strategy Conference at the Willard Hotel that three months ago this would not have been possible.

Mrs. Bates and Governor Faubus met in the state capitol for the first time since the fall of 1957 when the school crisis erupted.

"Little Rock is known around the world as the symbol of American democracy," she said. "We must change that symbol from 'hate' to 'hope'. I am deeply grateful to Dr. Frank Buchman who through MRA is giving the world the answer to hate and bitterness.

Missed the Boat

"We have won our law suits, but somewhere we have missed the boat," Mrs. Bates admitted. "We have fought against all we felt was wrong and for what we desired for our children. But the suspicion, hatred and fear that I grew up with was always with me. I saw I could not be used by God with hatred in my heart."

She told how three months ago she invited Moral Re-Armament speakers to address the Arkansas NAACP on the answer to hate and bitterness. "They stayed in my

Reduces Dismissal to Five Month Suspension; Cites Extenuating Circumstances

James S. Allen, veteran detective, was given a second life with the Des Moines police department when the City Civil Service commission shortened a dismissal into a five month suspension without pay last Thursday. In a unanimous ruling the three-man commission ruled that Allen be restored to his job effective April 1.

However, before he returns to work, he must pay to the city the $62 he accepted from a known burglar and spent last October during investigation of a safe robbery.

In a four-page decision the commission said, "We do not doubt that Detective Allen has definitely been wrong in some of his actions. On the other hand, some of the practices indulged in by the police department, particularly the detective bureau, are to be strongly censured and condemned."

Accepting $62

The detective's action in accepting $62 from a known criminal and spending "any amount of it on himself can in no way be justified," and he should be punished for it, the commission said.

Allen's firing on Nov. 16 by City Manager Elder Gunter grew out of the Nov. 2 suspension by Police Chief Howard Eide on charges of "withholding evidence, obstructing justice, accepting a bribe and receiving and concealing stolen property." The charges grew out of Allen's action in the investigation of the $40,000 safe robbery of Hiland Potato Chip company, for which three men were later found guilty and sentenced. Allen, 49, and a policeman nearly 22 years, appealed to the civil service commission.

During the five-month suspension, Allen will not gain any pension or vacation benefits, but he still will be eligible to retire on pension in less than six years, officials said. A flat dismissal would have cost Allen his chance for a pension.

Same Area for Years

An example of "laxity" in the detective department, the commission contended, is the fact that Allen was assigned to the same territory for the same hours for many years with "practically no supervision from his superiors."

This "may have tended to make him feel that it was not necessary

Asks Court to Order Dallas Schools to Stop Stalling, Submit Desegregation Plan

Dallas, Texas—A United States Court of Appeals was requested to order the Dallas School Board to stop its stalling and submit a plan for the desegregation of its public schools in time for Negro children to be enrolled in integrated classes at the beginning of the September 1960 term.

The request was made in a brief filed with the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans on Monday by attorneys for the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund in behalf of Negro public school children of the City. It is the fourth time the Dallas School Case has been brought up to the appellate court in 4½ years.

"Final Judgement"

The district court on April 16, 1958, entered a "final judgment" which restrained and enjoined the school board from requiring and permitting segregation of the races in any school under its supervision.

The school authorities on July 27, 1959, contended that while they have done their best to comply with the state and federal laws, it is physically impracticable to desegregate immediately due to a state law which provides for the withdrawal of state funds from any school district which desegregates without voter approval in a local referendum.

Modified Demand

However, at a hearing held July 30, 1959, attorneys for the Negro children, despite the court ruling restraining the school authorities from permitting segregation, modified their demand for immediate desegregation and asked that the school board merely submit "a plan for desegregation within a reasonable time which would provide for desegregation beginning September 1960."

The school board, instead of complying, has used every stalling method and finally offered to initiate the referendum which calls for local voters' approval.

District Court

On August 4 the district court agreed with the school board's contentions that its actions constituted good faith in implementing all constitutional principles, that more time should elapse before a definite date for desegregation be set, and that the local referendum calling for voters' approval should be invoked.

In the brief filed in behalf of the Negro children, Legal Defense attorneys argue that the district court erred in its decision and asked the Court of Appeals to reverse the decision and to instruct the district court to order the Dallas school authorities to submit a plan for desegregation which would provide for desegregation beginning September, 1960.

TEXAS AFL-CIO Urges Race Bias End

Austin, Tex.—The demand that something be done about civil rights at the Texas AFL-CIO Convention sparked a heated discussion on segregated locals, similar to the debate which took place at the AFL-CIO Convention in San Francisco. In its report, the Convention's civil rights committee unanimously recommended "that our membership look closely at their agreements, by-laws and constitutions, and remove from them any provisions which discriminate against or deny membership on the basis of race, creed, religion or nationality." To enforce this, the Texas AFL-CIO urged that civil rights committees be established in each local, and instructed state officers to issue monthly civil rights bulletins to members.

Other civil rights action taken by Texas labor included resolutions to make the bombing of public places and lynchings federal offenses, repeal of the poll tax, and passage of state and local fair employment practices legislation.

2,000 YEAR OLD SKYSCRAPER

Long before Manhattan Island was purchased from the Indians—a time when the word "skyscraper" had not yet been coined—a magnificent twenty-story palace dominated the skyline of Yemen's capital city of San'a.

This regal structure, known as the Palace of Ghamdan, was as great a tourist attraction two thousand years ago as New York's Empire State Building is today. Many historians have described the wonders of the famed palace, which had a ceiling of transparent alabaster so clear that its inhabitants reportedly could distinguish the species of different birds as they alighted on the roof or flew overhead.

Because of Ghamdan and other palaces which once towered twenty to thirty stories in the air, the Yemenites can fairly claim that they were the first people to erect skyscrapers. Only traces of the palace of Ghamdan remain in present-day San'a, but the capital contains many seven- and eight-story buildings with the same type of original architecture. Even today the upper windows of some Yemenite palaces are made of translucent alabaster instead of glass, and the lower stained-glass windows beam forth at night in multi-colored splendor.

Although San'a is situated on a flat plateau, some of its buildings are so tall that from a distance it seems as though the city is built on elevated land. The average Yemenite, accustomed to climbing his country's rugged mountains, is undaunted by long flights of stairs and instinctively seems to prefer tall buildings. Foreign visitors have noted with amazement that the Yemenite of the plains, when unable to live on high ground, erects a tall house—and chooses the top floor to live on!

Soap-Water Best Bet

Filling surgical patients with antibiotics is no substitute for strict soap-and-water cleanliness. This precaution is emphasized by Dr. Ivan L. Bennett, Jr., professor of pathology at Johns Hopkins School of Medicine. Even in this era of "wonder drugs," there's nothing like soap and water—applied with lots of "elbow grease"—to protect surgical patients against infection.

A wallet designed to hold favorite snapshots is an excellent Mother's Day gift. Let the whole family join in helping her pick out just the right pictures for it.

Focusing on Mother

Mother's Day is one dear to the hearts of all families, and one which just naturally makes everybody think about pictures pictures to take and pictures to give

Each family's own special way of honoring Mother is worthy of record. Your own version of the whole "Queen-for-a-day" story—from Dad's serving her breakfast in bed to the children's goodnight kiss—will make a series of wonderful pictures that Mother can enjoy over and over all through the year.

Among the gifts that Mother will treasure are pictures of various members of her family in an album especially compiled for her. So, this week is a good time to collect the family snapshots from their hiding places in odd drawers and boxes and make up an album as a surprise for Mother. Other gifts will be doubly welcome if they carry an extra dividend of pictures, too. A leather wallet for Mother will look twice as handsome to her if its transparent identification pockets hold snapshots of the family. And so will a locket or one of the new watch bands with place for tiny pictures of those she holds dear.

An enlargement of an especially good picture of Dad and the children—framed appropriately for her desk or dresser—is another gift that says "I Remember Mama" in a way that's sure to please any mother. Or perhaps you might want to take a series of small snapshots—one of each member of the family—and arrange them in a long narrow frame to grace her dressing table.

As you can see, the day set aside to honor Mother is one on which pictures really have their day, too! —John Van Gulder

Any person who wishes to sell his house to a qualified buyer, regardless of race, and who cannot get a real estate broker to accept his listing will now be able to register his house with the Committee on Integrated Housing, whose address is 4211 Grand avenue, CR 4-0453.

Review Progress

In a speech before the Des Moines Committee on Integrated Housing last Thursday evening at the Y.W.C.A., Higgins said that some Des Moines families, both whites and Negroes, displaced by the freeway are being offered houses where conditions are "shocking." He said one house didn't even have plumbing.

He said the city government should "no part" in such offerings and by being a party to such activity, is indirectly condoning segregation.

Employment

Discussing employment opportunities for Negroes here, Higgins said the city civil service commission still requests job applicants submit photographs altho few employers ask for them. He also said he has never seen a Negro clerical worker in a Des Moines bank, nor been waited on by a Negro waitress in a Des Moines restaurant.

Laundries

"Cleaning and laundering establishments in this city are not creating an image of fair employment," he said. Locally-owned retail and department stores are making some progress in hiring Negro sales clerks but some of the national chain department stores are not, he said.

The taxicab companies do employ Negro drivers now, Higgins said. During the past year one of the Des Moines large insurance companies promoted a young Negro accountant to head of his department in a regional office.

Higgins was presented a scroll of appreciation by the Committee on Integrated Housing.

Hulan Jack Sits ... Waits as Democrats Ponder Successor

New York City—As rotting Louis Cioffi took over Boro Pres. Hulan Jack's duties until the case is settled, Harlem leaders pressed for another Negro to be named to the post if and when Jack resigns or is removed from office.

Spearheading the group is none other than Adam Clayton Powell, much recovered from his recent operation and rest in Puerto Rico and looking tanned and healthy—ready for another battle. Powell was greatly opposed to Jack in the last election—calling him "a puppet" among other things but was unable to keep him from being re-elected.

Replacement

In selecting a possible replacement, Tammany Hall has few faithful candidates to choose from. One—Thomas Dickens, a General Sessions Judge who figures in Jack's present difficulty, is a likely choice. So is Darwin Telesford, City Court Justice and also a politician of long-standing. Any replacement would try to decide how to proceed," the commission said. The civil service body noted "the mass of conflicting evidence and testimony that has complicated the issues for the commission."

Allen's Attorney

Allen was represented in his appeal before the civil service commission by attorneys W. Lawrence serve only until the election next Fall—but would possibly allow the new Boro Pres. to be elected for the job on his own.

Judge Dickens, an old friend of Jack's, has the power to dispose of the minutes of the Grand Jury—to decide whether they would be sent to Governor Rockefeller. Jack's lawyers have argued against sending the minutes to Albany. Meanwhile, Governor Rockefeller has graciously consented to postpone his meeting with Mayor Wagner to discuss the case until the matter of the minutes is settled.

Shaken by Ordeal

Meanwhile, Jack, obviously shaken by the ordeal of being arrested and facing possible indictment, has gone into seclusion with a farewell message to reports to "see my lawyer."

His friend, Sidney J. Ungar, who has admitted paying $5,500 for Jack's house renovation when he was seeking sponsorship for a city-owned project, has exclaimed his innocence. "I have not done anything unethical in my opinion. I think Mr. Jack will be exonerated."

Oliver, Ted Sloane and Ralph L. Powers.

Commissioners agreed with Allen's attorneys that the detective did "good work" in helping solve the case, but they said that is "exactly the kind of work" that is expected of a good detective.

The three civil service commissioners are Chairman Karl B. Greenlee, president of Hopkins Sporting Biloxi, Miss. — A 21-man federal grand jury adjourned last Wednesday, Jan. 13 without returning an indictment in the Mack Charles Parker lynching case. Federal Judge Sidney Mize was told that the group, which included one Negro, were unable to return any true bills from evidence garnered from the testimony of 32 witnesses.

A 378-page report by the F.B.I. was also available to the grand jury.

The jury's action apparently has the effect of ending the Parker case unless federal agents uncover new witnesses or new testimony. Parker was kidnapped from a jail cell at Poplarville, Miss., last April four days before he was scheduled to go on trial for the rape of a pregnant white woman. His body was found in the Pearl River 10 days later.

Chicago—Holly Mims, Washington, D. C., middle weight, Thursday drew a 90-day suspension from the Illinois Athletic commission for failure to report for a pre-fight medical examination on December 28, 1959.

The examination was scheduled in connection with his nationally-televized 10-rounder with Dick Tiger of Nigeria in the Chicago stadium Wednesday. Mims unpredictable title contender, showed up 27 hours late for the examination.

In the fight, he dropped a split decision to Tiger. Also drawing 90-day suspensions were Mims' handlers. The suspensions became effective December 31, 1959.

NEGRO TROOPS NOT ASSIGNED TO ICELAND

Washington, D. C.—No Negro personnel are assigned to Air Force or Army bases in Iceland, a spokesman for the Defense Department admitted. The United States signed a base agreement for western defense with Iceland in 1951 as part of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Though no written agreement between the United States and Iceland enforces the restriction, the Pentagon spokesman indicated that Washington's policy has been to defer to the wishes of the country in which bases are situated.

Norfolk CORE Pickets For Jobs For Negroes

Norfolk, Va.—Nightly picket lines by Norfolk CORE (Committee of Racial Equality) are increasing the pressure to end discriminatory hiring practices at the Be-Lo Grocery Store in Norfolk.

Negotiations to effect a fair and democratic hiring policy began more than three years ago. Six months ago a store representative told CORE that he would "give the matter consideration." "Consideration" hasn't brought about the hiring of Negroes and so the CORE group began picketing on Dec. 21.

Each evening since then interracial teams of CORE members have picketed the store and passed out explanatory leaflets to shoppers. CORE also provides a car pool for those shoppers who decide to buy elsewhere.

One Lexington's, Ky., Largest Restaurant Chains to End Bias

Lexington, Ky.—One of Lexington's large restaurant chains has worked out a plan of "progressive integration" in negotiations with representatives of Lexington CORE (Committee of Racial Equality).

Interracial teams of CORE members are served at one restaurant of the chain near the University of Kentucky campus. The reactions of both employees and customers are carefully noted by CORE observers and testers as well as by management. So far neither waitresses nor customers display any interest in the situation. The owner of the chain has agreed to the tests as a preliminary to complete service at this restaurant. If all goes well here then other restaurants in the chain will begin to serve all later.

Wanted to Plan

As it developed, he wanted to plan the whole thing himself: invitations, entertainment, the eats and all. Finally, his mother agreed. In telling about it afterward, she said, "It was certainly an eye-opener for me! He did a very creditable job, even to the refreshments—hamburgers on buns and all the trimmings; beyond asking me for a recipe or two, I was not needed. And they had a wonderful time at HIS party."

The foregoing is an actual account of a boy of fifteen and his mother's reaction.
Health Needs
As we consider the adolescent, what are his needs as he grows up? Health needs, especially in nutrition, are important. There is much in this field available to us all. In the second place, adolescents must replace their childhood emotional dependence on parents with a mature friendship with these same parents. Adolescents have to develop an effectiveness in relation to a vocation in life. They must develop capacities for mate love.

Sense of Values

And, they must develop a sense of values that will give some meaning to life. They depend on our love and understanding as they face these developmental needs. Many who may read this aren't so far from their own teen days. Cannot we live again our own needs and, possibly, problems and imaginatively put ourselves in our teenager's place to help him as he goes along?
Believe me, it's great fun to try and the stakes are very high!

Personally Yours by Frances Hawthorne.

Winter hit Iowa with a vengeance over the weekend after last week's deluge of unsavory rains. Just think Des Moines' record 3-in-rain was the equivalent of 30 inches of the beautiful, but traffic paralyzing white stuff. A newspaper cartoon amused us no end with its caption "Nothing Like a Snowstorm to Bring man down a Notch."

We thought—man is able to drive through blistering desert in comfortable air-conditioned cars, but in a snowstorm and frigid cold, he risks death constantly if traveling by car. Even a heater is scant protection against the creeping cold because of the danger of running out of gas, or monoxide poisoning if no windows are opened or smotheration if buried in snow drifts.

We hear quite often the erroneous statement that man has conquered space. He really has not. He really is only able to do so when nature and the elements are at their best temper. Man can predict the weather conditions and approaching storms hours and miles in advance. But he cannot control the storm. If he wants to fly a plane the weather has to be right, if he wants to launch a rocket into space, the weather has to be right for a successful flight. When Nature is in a tempest, man has to ride it out or sit back and wait—until it is over.

We had a delightful chat with Miss Mattie Burke last week before she concluded her visit with her mother, Mrs. Pearl S. Burke. Mrs. Clara Bayles had called us earlier to let us know she was in town. While here she was guest of Mrs. Bayles at the traveling section of the Iowa Business and Professional Women's association at Younkers teatroom.

We asked Miss Burke, who had just come back from an appointment at the beauty shop, if she was from New York City. She quickly corrected us, "No, I'm from Des Moines; I've been working in New York City for the past 10 years."

Last May she was appointed coordinator of the Children services and Bookmobile at Farmingdale public library. "There are two clerks, two pages and a bookmobile librarian working under me," she said. "And of course, I'm the first Negro to hold the position."

the children library of Brooklyn Public library since 1950. She matriculated at Drake university where she received her B.A. degree and at Syracuse university in New York where she received her masters in library science.

Friends had reported that she came back "with a big diamond this time." Miss Burke hinted that announcement of such news would be forthcoming soon and that we would probably hear from her around March.

Our bus companion one morning shortly after the New Year was Mrs. Julia Proctor of 1111 11th street. She reported that her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wilbekin, had returned to their home in Cincinnati, Ohio in good health. Mrs. Wilbekin called long distance to let her parents know they were home as soon as they arrived. This was her first winter in the Virgin Islands and she reported she had not returned with a cold as was her custom because of the change in climate.

Mrs. Proctor also had high praises for Mrs. Roberta Frazier's speech at St. Paul A.M.E. church. She said they felt quite proud to have had Mrs. Frazier first. Mrs. Frazier as you know is president of the Des Moines Council of United church Women.

Sesame Puffs Go With Frozen Fruit Salad

Fragrant, warm Sesame Puffs with margarine give appeal to frozen fruit salad.

A frozen fruit salad is at its cool best when a hot bread is served with it. Bread and margarine are an excellent foundation for summer eating. One leading nutritionist says that menus planned around bread and spread, citrus and milk are tops nutritionally. And, says he, the idea that bread and margarine are fattening is old hat. It might have been true in the days when bread was not enriched and when margarine did not contain vitamin A. But nowadays, with their fine food values, these basic foods ought to be included in every meal, even in the diets of those seeking to lose weight.

To go with a frozen fruit salad and to make the menu a complete meal, it would be hard to find a bread more delicious than Sesame Puffs. They are easy to make and they keep well for several days. Any left over can easily be reheated in the top of a double boiler, or foil-wrapped in the oven.

Sesame Puffs are made from a yeast-leavened batter. It need not be kneaded, only stirred and perhaps beaten a bit to make it extra good. Since the batter contains milk and eggs along with margarine and enriched flour, the puffs are practically a meal in themselves. To make them extra easy to mix, the recipe calls for dry milk. This means there is no bothersome scalding of milk and that extra pan to wash. If any of the men in the family belong to the "no salad for me" brigade, these cloud-light hot little rolls may help them change their minds.

- SESAME PUFFS
(about 30 2 1/2-inch puffs)
- 1 1/4 cup warm water
  - 1 package yeast
  - 1/4 cup sugar
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 3 3/4 cups sifted flour
  - 4 tablespoons dry milk solids
  - 1/2 cup melted margarine
  - 2 eggs
  - 1/2 cup sesame seeds

Measure warm water (100°F.) into 3-quart bowl, or into large bowl of electric mixer. Sprinkle yeast over water and let stand 5 minutes. Add sugar, salt, 2 cups flour and dry milk solids. Mix smooth. Stir in melted and cooled margarine. Add eggs and beat until smooth and shiny. Add remaining flour and mix well. (Batter should look glossy.) Cover and set in warm place to rise until doubled (about 1 hour). Stir down and drop by tablespoons into well-margarined muffin pans. Fill each muffin cup half full. Sprinkle a teaspoon of sesame seed over batter in each cup. Let rise until doubled (about 45 minutes). Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 20 to 25 minutes, until golden brown. Remove from pans at once. Serve warm or cold with margarine.

DES MOINES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION USED SOUND JUDGMENT

The Des Moines Civil Service Commission, to which police detective James Allen appealed his dismissal from the force, overruled both Chief of Police Eide, who fired him in the beginning and City Manager Gunther who approved the police chief's action.

The Bystander has refrained from commenting on such a proceeding while it was in progress because to do so is unwise. But the Bystander felt all along that the whole affair was bungled by the city officials from the beginning, that they were more anxious to kill off Allen than to solve the crime (the $40,000 burglary at the Hilan Potato Chip Co.) or prosecute those who committed the crime.

And they capped the climax by bringing in charges of graft and corruption as a part of this prosecution, either one of which, if proved beyond a reasonable doubt, was sufficient to dismiss Allen from the force. It is interesting that if such things were known to the officials all along, why bring it up now? And if such is the practice are there others on the force (Negro or white) who are similarly situated?

Very properly, the Civil Service Commission refused to consider these latter charges.

The decision of the commission was based upon pretty sound reasoning, certainly in line with the argument of Allen's counsels who said if the acts, charged were committed, it was an error of judgment rather than a criminal act. Thus it became a question of suspension and not one of dismissal.

The commission went further and criticized the police department for leaving Allen on a beat for twenty years with but little supervision. With this the Bystander fully agrees. Such practice is poor law enforcement according to good police standards. And in spite of this long service and reasonably good ability (Allen was very popular when he went on the force) none of the men who have served on this beat has even been promoted.

The Bystander congratulates the Civil Service Commission for looking through the maze of evidence and coming up with a decision which seems fair to Allen, fair to other men on the police force. It hopes that officer Allen has learned that old lesson—even one which police officers should know—that you just can't play with fire without getting burnt somewhere along the line.

It is hoped that the city manager and the police department have been jolted sufficiently that in the future the department will deal with all of its officers on the basis of good police administration which calls for treating all members alike rather than setting up deals like the one in question which gets everybody in trouble.

DEDICATE A FINE YMCA BUILDING

The new YMCA building was dedicated Sunday. And even though the weather was miserable a large crowd turned out where they heard an excellent dedicatory program and saw, many for the first time, a modern, beautiful, well equipped YMCA building of which Des Moines should be proud.

The board, committee and staff are to be congratulated upon their foresight and tireless effort, for coming up with a Y that should meet the needs of the men and boys in the community for years to come.

Fortunately, the Y has a board and a secretary who place meaning in the word Christian in YMCA. Under this administration, Negro participation has moved from a segregated Y to one which offers all Y facilities to them.

Of course memberships cost more than did those in the Crocker Street branch but they offer more. It is hoped that Negro men and boys will spend some of their hours of recreation at the YMCA, participate in its activities and that the public will find it convenient to drop in and see what the people of Des Moines have brought.

LEADERSHIP CALLS FOR MORAL RESPONSIBILITY

Hulan Jack, president of the Boro of Manhattan which corresponds with the mayor in most cities, has been indicted for accepting a loan from a contractor who was doing and or bidding for city work and for obstructing justice brought on by his attempt to cover up the deal when the grand jury began its investigation of rumors about what had happened.

Undoubtedly, Jack holds one of the highest municipal jobs ever held by a Negro in America and is a power in the Democratic machine in New York City. Upon conviction, he would be subject to a small penalty for the loan deal—it is a misdemeanor; a heavier one under obstructing justice which carries a stiffer penalty. At least he will lose his post or maybe resign.

This is very unfortunate for Jack but more so for Negroes generally. And while what Jack did benefitted nobody but himself, some Americans still have the habit of placing guilt by association. And to say others do the same thing, but are not caught, does not help the situation one bit.

Those people who reach the top have a responsibility to the ones who placed them on the pinnacle not only to do a good job but also conduct themselves in such a manner that they are reasonably free from unjust criticism. This is particularly true of minorities both here and elsewhere for their numbers are not large, their effort to reach the top exceedingly difficult.

This is all the more reason why those scheduled to be placed in high posts should be looked over pretty carefully for who they are inside as well as what they can do.

Looks as if we have three top flight cage teams in the state. Drake is getting tougher by the week, and may upset some more of the top rated teams before they are through. Iowa State has a good chance to win a big Eight title, and the Iowa U boys are in the thick of the fight for Big Ten honors if someone can beat Ohio State. At the start of the season we didn't think much of the chances of the three teams, but they really fooled everybody. More folks ought to get out to see Drake play. The Bulldogs never put on a dull show, even when they are losing, and it might be a good way to spend a night. Our local hopefuls, Grandview, are having their troubles without Torrance, their high scorer, who won't be eligible until the last of this month. The guy better get back there, cause the Vikings surely need him.

Iowa State Players
We really hope those three guys who quit at Iowa State get back in time to become eligible for football next fall. They all made such fine records last fall, that it would be a shame to have their careers cut short because of lack of funds. We don't know, but we suspect that jobs for Negroes are rather hard to find around Ames, in spite of their liberal attitude towards students of any race or color. So we can see why they had to drop out to replenish their funds. Sure would like to see them all get back.

HEALTH FOR ALL

High Cost of Fashion
Mary was pretty, plump, eighteen, and very interested in her first job. She was also interested in her good-looking young supervisor. So after he had made a few teasing references to her well-rounded curves, Mary decided to lose weight in a hurry.

Without consulting anybody, Mary planned a rigid diet for herself. "A wisp of hay and half an apple" pretty much describes Mary's menu for each meal. Her parents were horrified, of course, but she ignored their protests. Sure enough, after a while Mary was fashionably slim.

Expanding Diet
She decided to expand her diet a bit. But now she found she had no appetite, so she didn't eat much more than before. And although she didn't intend to, she lost more weight. Now Mary admitted to her uneasy mother that she felt tired all the time, and her legs would hardly take her up the stairs to her bedroom at night. To the suggestion that she eat more, she said she couldn't.

But it wasn't Oscar's fault. The big fellow canned enough to win an ordinary game, but on Bradley's home court they are awfully tough. Might beat most anybody there. Wonder if they will still be rated number one? They broke even with the Braves, swamping them at Cincinnati, and losing that close one last weekend.

Chamberlain
In pro basketball, Wilt Chamberlain goes on his way scoring more points than most people thought there were, and may cause a revision of the twenty four second shoot rule before he gets through. Teams may be glad to hold the ball as long as they can, instead of giving it to that guy to dunk into the hoop. Gonna be awfully hard to keep Chamberlain, Elgin, and Russell off the all pro team. Then there are certain to be some more to slip in through the back door. If K. C. Jones weren't playing behind Bill Russell, he would be one of the league's stars. Why is he anyway?

Pro-Football
If you were a football fan, we don't have to remind you of the pro bowl game last Sunday. That is a lot better than the silly Senior bowl game in which Negroes, many of whom are among the best in the land aren't used. You know why. Wonder how they can call that an all-star game and leave off such guys as Bill Burrell of Illinois, and Jeter of Iowa, and Burton of Northwestern, just to mention a few. Oh, well, maybe we will learn some day how these things can be done. Lennie Moore, Big Daddy Lipscomb and Patton, along with Jim Brown were our nominees for the honors of the day. The story of Lipscomb is one to inspire kids. One of the few pro ball players who didn't go to college, he has made the grade on determination and ability. Of course, we wouldn't advise any kids to quit school to try to follow in his footsteps.

New Bathtubs
If current news has you down, here's an item to brighten your day: The number of new bathtubs purchased in America is double the number of new housing starts, according to recent figures. And the bulk of these bathtubs were bought not for the new homes but for the modernization of older ones. What could result but a brighter world

Then Mary's mother took her to the family doctor. He took some chest x-rays. A couple of days later he had a laboratory test made. Then he told them. Mary had tuberculosis.

Doctor's Supervision
How did she get it? Well, like millions of other Americans, Mary had carried TB germs in her lungs for years. All that time they were quiet and could have remained inactive for the rest of her life. But Mary's reducing diet, lacking a doctor's supervision, had brought on malnutrition, a state that is practically an invitation to active TB.

Mary was in the hospital for six months. Back home again, Mary continued to rest, take her prescribed drugs, and eat properly. Now twenty, Mary is once again pretty and, while not yet plump, she no longer has that super-fashionable figure for which she paid so high a price. If she ever wants to regain it, it's a safe bet she'll do any future reducing under a doctor's guidance.

Boozer Won't Quit Peoria for Pro Team
Peoria, Ill.—Bob Boozer, former all-America cage star of Kansas State college, announced this week that he will continue as a member of the Peoria National Industrial Basketball league team and retain his amateur status, with the intent of playing later in the 1960 Olympics.

Boozer, who is on the draft list of the St. Louis Hawks, had been reported to be toying with the idea of turning professional and joining the Hawks, who are extremely desirous of having the player who was largely responsible for pacing the Kansas team to a basketball championship in the Big Eight conference.

More Satisfaction
The affable 6-8 athlete, who won All-American favor last season at the Manhattan, Kansas school, said he feels that playing in the Olympics will give him more satisfaction than turning pro now and missing a later opportunity to play for his country.

"I've got plenty of time to think of professional basketball later; I would rather continue with Peoria and dream of participating in the Olympics. I may never make it, but this way I have a chance."

Boozer added that he found N.I. B.A. basketball to be a real challenge, much tougher than college basketball. He also said that he is not burning up any nets now with his scoring, but he hopes to get his scoring eye in sharp focus in future games and be ready if his Olympic chance comes.

New York—Following refusal Jan. 13 of the federal grand jury sitting in Biloxi, Miss., to indict any suspect in the kidnap-lynching of Mack Charles Parker, NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins called upon Attorney General William P. Rogers to make public the Federal Bureau of Investigation's exhaustive report on the lynching last April.

The NAACP leader, in a telegram to Rogers, said that the failure of

THE GATE

Some place along the highway— as you struggle on your road, your tired heart will want to rest you'll want to drop your load... You will look to find a haven—that has shelter, food, and love, your soul is crying for relief; you pray to Him above... When suddenly—you see the light—may you not be too late... to feel His love and hear His call, and open up the gate... The gate through Him to paradise—His blessed holy place... and no more hunger, fear, nor pain, we're living in His grace.

TROUBLED HEARTS

Those troubled hearts, that cling to grief

That squander time, spread disbelief
They could search for happiness
And find it now: within the soul
There could not be the troubled hearts
If heavens' harbor, was their goal.
The troubled hearts are free to choose
With the Comforter: no soul can lose.
The One who knocks, and spurned, departs:
Can heal the world of its troubled hearts.

Today's Chuckles

A couple had just returned from their honeymoon and the bride was preparing her first dinner for her new husband, when he walked into the kitchen to see her standing, over the sink with a puzzled expression on her face.

"What's the matter honey?" he asked.

"I don't know," she answered. "I was rinsing the ice cubes in hot water and now I can't seem to find them."

Watkins, Fitzgerald, Webb Leave Iowa State U Because of Finances; Plan to Return in Spring

Ames, Ia.—Tom Watkins, Mike Fitzgerald and Don Webb, three of the Cyclones top football players, did not enroll in the quarter at Iowa State university because of "financial difficulties." The three, all juniors who have a year of eligibility left, are expected to return for the spring quarter.
