Regional Field Sec'y. Praises Branch Efforts As 1 of Nation's Best

A resolution to support Negroes in some southern states in a sitdown movement protesting lunch counter racial discrimination was passed last week by the Des Moines branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The resolution was in response to a letter urging support from the national headquarters of the NAACP. The sitdown movement which began in North Carolina has spread to Tennessee, South Carolina, Virginia and Florida.

Resolutions

The Des Moines branch decided to send letters to stores against which the southern Negroes are demonstrating, "deploring" inequality of service given whites and Negroes; send telegrams to Iowa congressmen expressing support for federal legislation that would help the demonstrating Negroes accomplish their aims; circulate a resolution of support among all Des Moines ministers, who will be asked to read the resolution in a service on some specific future Sunday.

Rejected Picketing

The local NAACP however rejected a suggestion from the national organization that local "picket lines" be formed in sympathy for the southern movement. Branch members said they felt a degree of equality exists at many Des Moines lunch counters and that "picket lines" outside such places probably would have little actual effect on the southern situation.

Carter Speaks

In his initial appearance before the local branch, Leonard H. Carter of St. Paul, Minn., and field secretary for the fourth region, said that many American Negroes still face "great hostility" in their "fight for

Retired Citizens

President Canham of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States urges that retired citizens plunge into politics—and says that they will find it active, rewarding, exciting, productive and engrossing work. He points out that retired people can serve the political parties of their choice by working at the precinct level, and that they do not have to become candidates for office. As he sees it, "We need more doorbell ringers."

Restrictive membership clauses to "white Christians" are in by-laws of Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi, Pi Kappa Alpha and Alpha Tau Omega fraternities. Sixteen other fraternities have no such clauses.

The controversy has been raging on the campus since last fall when Myrna Balk, 21, a sociology junior from University City, Mo., introduced a resolution asking that restrictive clauses be removed from membership requirements of all student organizations by 1964.

Upholds Key Sections of Civil Rights Act; Restores 1,377 Votes in Louisiana

Washington, D. C.—Because of the unflinching stand that the U. S. Supreme court took Monday, probably thousands of Negroes in the South will be able to exercise their voting privilege during the all important presidential election year. In two unanimous decisions the high tribunal:

1. Upheld key sections of the 1957 civil rights act, throwing out a Georgia federal judge's ruling that this law gave the U. S. attorney general unconstitutional powers to seek injunctions against alleged violations of voting rights.

2. Restored voting privileges to 1,377 Negroes stricken from registration rolls of Washington Parish (county) in Louisiana. The Justice department had charged that this was an illegal "mass purge." The department hastened an appeal, so the Negroes could vote in a state election Apr. 19.

Challenged

The Negro voters were challenged and removed under Louisiana law by members of the White Citizens Councils, because of errors. These errors included minor technical deficiencies such as misspelling, miscalculations of age, deviations from printed instructions, and assertedly illegible handwriting.

"Massive Bias"

U. S. District Judge J. Skelly Wright in New Orleans ruled removal of the Negroes was "massive discrimination" and hence was unconstitutional. He ordered the names restored to the rolls and enjoined members of the White Citizens Council from making any challenge having as its purpose or effect any discrimination based on race. Wright's action was stayed last Jan. 21 by the U. S. circuit court in New Orleans, pending action on an appeal by council members.

State Law

Weldon A. Cousins and Henry J. Roberts, Jr., assistant attorney general of Louisiana, argued that the parish registrar of voters had followed state law. They insisted there had been no discrimination. State law, they said, permits two registered voters to file a challenge citing errors in the application of another voter. The challenged voter then has a chance to refute the challenge by getting three other voters to say the statements are correct.

Cousins stated the 1,377 Negro voters made no effort to refute the challenges. He argued that actually the names were removed by the Negroes themselves because they did nothing about them.

Plan Investigation of Bias By Barbers in Burlington

The Governor's Commission on Human Relations voted to name a special committee to investigate barbers' refusal to cut Negroes hair in Burlington.

It was disclosed that there are 350 Negroes (one percent of the population) in Burlington but barbers had not served Negroes for many years.

According to John M. Klein, Burlington businessman and commission member, "an unlicensed Negro cuts hair in a back room" because there are not enough Negroes in the city to "support a barber of their own."

Fines

"Labor unions have not been helpful," he added. He also quoted a Burlington restaurant owner as saying that he will "close up rather than serve Negroes."

Donald Boles of Ames, commission chairman, noted that levying of fines has corrected discriminatory practices of businessmen in other Iowa cities. Klein disagreed, saying that "Other restaurant operators could come to the aid of one fined and help him pay the fines. It would just build up a lot of opposition if this thing is pushed too aggressively."

Revoke License

"The license of a barber who refused to give service should be revoked," said Commission member Eugene E. Garbee of Fayette, president of Upper Iowa University. Larry Russell to Des Moines advised Klein to "write a super-charged letter to Ray Mills" if the reported Burlington barber discrimination continues.

Mills is president of the Iowa Federation of Labor. Barber union locals are affiliated with the federation. Discriminating against any customer is against Iowa law.

Urge Virginians to Stay Out Of Stores That Discriminate

Richmond—Three thousand Negroes attending an NAACP mass meeting here this week were told to stay out of discriminatory stores; pay up all bills; and wear old hats and shoes, if necessary.

These actions are in support of the widening protest demonstrations against refusal of public lunch counter service to Negroes. J. Rupert Picotte, executive secretary of the Virginia Teacher's Association told the enthusiastic gathering to bank their money.

"It seems to me we can curtail our social activities and can go on a new austerity program. We can't walk as they did in the Montgomery bus boycott, but we can save our money."

Portsmouth, Va.—While white and Negro youths were battling in the streets over a demonstration aimed at ending Jim Crow seating at lunch counters, integration made a quiet gain when a federal judge ordered immediate end to racial segregation in the public library here.

Buying Power

Dr. Felix Brown told the gathering that "we have a tremendous buying power, and we can do anything with it and involve every merchant downtown, if we have to stop trading at all stores that don't take our money for all their wares."

The meeting was held on Feb. 24 at the Fifth Street Baptist Church under sponsorship of the local NAACP branch and the State Conference of NAACP branches. Rev. C. B. Walker, president of the local branch, presided. A temporary steering committee was formed to continue the protest movement. Rev. Walker was elected chairman. Charles Sherrod, vice chairman and Clarence L. Towns, secretary.

National Dental Ass'n. Holds Mid-Winter Meeting

St. Louis, Mo.—The Executive Board members of the National Dental Association and local Committee Chairmen held their Mid-Winter Meeting at the Claridge Hotel in St. Louis, Mo. to arrange for their 47th annual convention August 1-4. This is the first all Negro group to successfully hold a complete four day meeting with convention headquarters and residences at any hotel. The dentists plan scientific sessions, business meetings, clinical exhibits by manufacturers of the latest equipment and supplies along with luncheons and the Presidents Dinner-Dance.

The Ladies Auxiliary under its President, Mrs. R. P. Breshnars of St. Joseph, Mo., will also hold all of their sessions business and social including a fashion show in the same building.

freedom." In discussing the advances of equality for Negroes, Carter said "You are very near the end of the legal barriers that deny Negroes the full measure of American citizenship." But he deplored "apathy" among some NAACP branches, remarking that five in Iowa have been in danger of losing their charters. He cited the Des Moines branch as "one of the best in the U. Over-flow Audience Attends Brotherhood Tea In Ft. Dodge; Negro Soprano, Chicago, Featured

Fort Dodge, Ia.—An overflow audience attended the annual Brotherhood tea held here Sunday in the social rooms of the Beth-El-Synagogue Sunday afternoon, Feb. 28. Guest speaker was Donald Winner, manager of Younker's in Fort Dodge.

Marvin B. Vedvig, as president of the Fort Dodge Interracial commission and co-chairman of the National Council of Christians and Jews—joint sponsors of Brotherhood Week in Fort Dodge—presided during the program which preceded the tea. Mr. Vedvig said, in welcoming the more than 200 persons who attended the Brotherhood Week observance, "the church is one place man can find his brother again, whether he be attractive or not, congenial or not, of like mind or not. No matter who or what he is within the orbit of the Holy church, he finds and is found by his brother. This is the miracle of reconciling the community called the church. Here he finds brotherly love, here he becomes his brother's keeper." Other members of the local council of Christians and Jews are F. B. McTigue and David Lurie.

Negro Soprano
The Rt. Rev. E. L. McEvoy of Corpus Christi church delivered the invocation at the opening of the program. She was accompanied by Miss Leda Everson at the piano.

Miss Ethel Shannon introduced those taking part in the program and Mrs. Annell Banks and Mrs. Irene Fox were door hostesses.

SEE IN STARS

WITH DELORES CALVIN

New York City—If King Cole has anything to say about it—he's sure to be mad at that San Francisco manager who refused to allow him to play at his temple because "he brings the wrong type of audiences and we are afraid they will do damage to our temple" . . . The manager, Alvin A. Howege, was speaking of Nat King Cole—one of the foremost entertainers of our time . . .

NAT COLE

He insisted it was not a question of race but a "personal thing"—pointing out that he had Dakota Staton and Ella Fitzgerald but he's just down on Nat . . . How any civilized person could complain about the crowd which follows Nat is un-heard of . . . He's played the finest houses over the world—at more society gatherings and debuts than most—over the finest television programs comparable to any top star—and yet Mr. Horwege is narrow-mindedly protecting every pebble in his temple—the Cole drawing power is getting larger.

When Lena Horne let loose like a wild woman in that Hollywood nightclub, it was releasing a lot of pent up emotions the star has held for years—emotions a lady . . . Suddenly she just couldn't take any more . . . Lena has always been very race conscious and through the years has done little things to show it—but surprised everyone with her sudden action . . . Meanwhile, that very eve of the fracas, millions were watching Lena at her best on

Frank Sinatra's Timex show—thrilling audiences with her clever singing and gorgeous skin-tight gowns which hardly allowed her room to sit.

Sam Cooke

Now Edmundo Ros and his orchestra has gone and put out an album "Showboat and Porgy and Bess"—and it's in the Latin tempo and is a sensation . . . He's done medleys of both shows . . . Sam Cooke has a new single: "Teenage Sonata" backed by "If You Were The Only Girl" for Victor—the first is a sure-fire hit and teenagers already are hailing it as their song.

Dorothy Dandridge

Dorothy Dandridge starring at the Waldorf Astoria on a month's date under management of Joe Glaser and his Associated Booking Corp. . . . We're glad to see Jack Paar back on his show—he was instrumental in bringing many Negro stars to TV notice through his Tonight medium—and urged and encouraged many more, such as Diahann Carroll and Barbara McNair in their careers.

Kid Bassey Quits Ring; To Be Trainer

Lagos, Nigeria—Hogan Kid Bassey, former world featherweight champion, is reported pondering retirement and a career as trainer and director of Nigerian sports in his native Lagos, the Associated Negro Press learned authoritatively.

The announcement that Bassey, only 27, was pondering retirement came prior to his leaving Liverpool, England for Nigeria recently. At that time it was reported that D. J. Collister, more popularly termed "Deejaysee" and considered the "father of Nigerian boxing," was reportedly training Hogan for the new role as trainer. Hogan was also preparing to go before the British Boxing Board of Control to apply for the license.

Scrappy Boxer

Meanwhile, friends here feel that the scrappy little boxer could make a valuable contribution to boxing by helping and directing up-and-coming youngsters. One newspaper, the (Lagos) "Sunday Mirror," proposed that he be employed as trainer for Nigerian boxers at the 1960 Olympic Games.

Northwestern Bell Telephone Reports Year of Growth in Finances, Construction, Research

More telephones and more calls, roll costs totaled $125 million. Purchases from suppliers added $58 million to the economy of the area. Operating and other taxes totaled $83 million; and Earnings for the year were 5.73 per cent related to the net present value of the plant and equipment.

Constructions

By year's end, it said, telephones in service totaled 2,376,000, which was 147,000 more than the year before. The company provides service in 649 exchanges located in Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota, and South Dakota.

The 1959 construction work included 102 new buildings or building enlargements, 488 additional inter-city circuits, and 800,000 miles of local service lines in cable.

Modern telephone plant construction, the report said, uses methods and materials that are increasingly resistant to storms. Most long distance circuits, for instance, are either in weatherproof cable or provided by weatherproof radio relay.

Highlights

Scientific research continued to play a big part in the company's operations. Several new type telephones were put to customer tests. One of them the "Princess" will be introduced during 1960, the report said. Such vital defense activities as SAC and SAGE put much dependence upon telephone circuits and equipment.

Citations

A number of Northwestern Bell men and women were cited during 1959 for outstanding service and meritorious acts. Three men received Vail Bronze Medals and $250 along with company citations. Among them was Robert L. Stolz of Creston, Iowa. Company citations went to five others including Mary Kay Husemen of Shenandoah, Iowa and Glenn Schriver of Ackley, Iowa.

Other highlights of 1959 listed in the company report included: Pay-Dispute Over Cash From Church Sale Ends Up in District Court

A dispute over the cash received from the sale of a church building condemned for the urban renewal project ended up in district court Monday. Four members of the Cleveland Avenue Church of God in Christ asked the court to determine who should receive the $5,000 proceeds.

Filing the suit were Charles Dixon, Ernest Wilson, Mrs. John Condee and Leoma E. Ward against James Boston, as an individual and trustee of the church, the city of Des Moines and Sheriff Wilbur T. Hildreth.

Warrant for Payment

A warrant in payment for the property, they explained, has been issued by the city and made payable to the church, Boston as trustee, and the church's former attorney, Henry T. McKnight, who has a lien on the proceeds for past services. The plaintiffs said they themselves are entitled to all or a portion of the proceeds. In the alternative, they said, the proceeds should be left in the church.

through their efforts and contributions, the church was able to buy the property and erect buildings. They also said that either the city or Hildreth now has the warrant for $5,000 and should be prevented from giving it to the church, Boston or McKnight until the court matter is settled. Raymond Fenton is attorney for the plaintiffs.

Bassey may also go into business. He is known to have a keen interest in restaurant and shops.

Bassey, the first Nigerian ever to win a world title, held the featherweight crown for two years. He won

Waterloo Man Sentenced To Hang; New Trial Denied

Waterloo, Ia.—Lee Hawkins, 47-year-old packing plant employee, lost his motion for a new trial and his execution date was set for May 2, 1961. The jury convicted him of first degree murder and recommended death by hanging. If he goes to the gallows it will be the first hanging in Iowa since 1952.

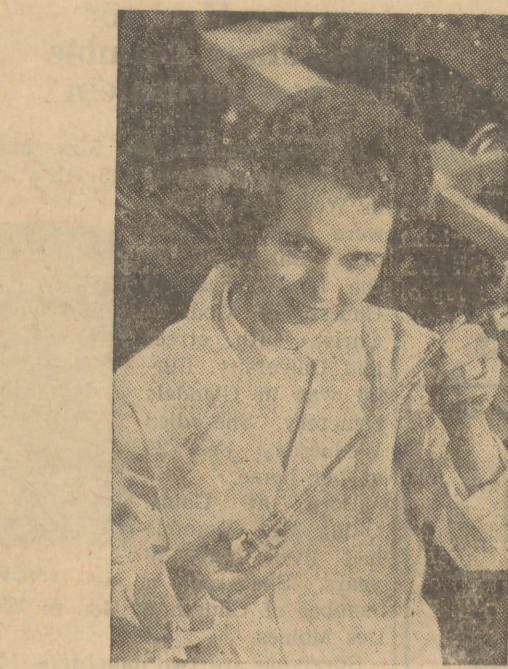

Hawkins was convicted of the brutal slaying of Archie Fox of Waterloo, Jan. 1. Hearing on a motion for a new trial had been postponed twice before it was overruled by Judge Van Metre last Friday.

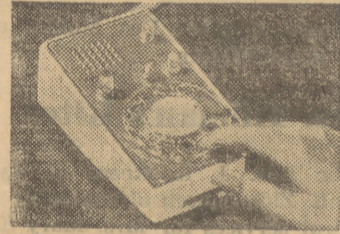

Hawkins

The body of the victim was found in an elimination tournament following Sandy Saddler's retirement from the ring.

He was dethroned by Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio, who also beat him in the rematch.

NEW IDEAS IN COMMUNICATIONS — Telephone circuits connect radar warning systems to the nation's defense watchposts. Above, at a SAGE Direction Center, an airman is using a photo-electric light gun to "question" an electronic brain on an approaching plane's identity. At left a young lady is holding a new "traveling wave tube," the key to a new transmission system that will more than double the communications capacity of trans-continental radio relay routes.

PHONES OF THE FUTURE — Here are new telephones developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories. The one at the top may become part of a "home communications system." In the center is a "hands-free" business phone being tested for customer appeal. At the bottom is The Princess phone which will be available in Northwestern Bell territory later this year in a wide range of colors.

Jan. 2 in a cornfield on the outskirts of Waterloo. Authorities said he had been badly beaten. He was employed in a tractor plant.

The prosecution charged that Hawkins planned to dispose of Fox because he objected to Hawkins' attending to a sister of Fox's wife.

Nixon Sees Progress Against Training, Job Bias

Washington—Significant progress in breaking down discrimination against Negroes in apprenticeship training programs and in building trades employment is anticipated by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

At a conference here Thursday with Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and Herbert Hill, the Association's labor secretary, the Vice President, who is also chairman of the President's Committee on Government Contracts, expressed his conviction that racial barriers in training and employment can and will be removed.

60-Page Report

In presenting to Nixon a 60-page report on racial discrimination in apprenticeship training, Wilkins stressed five recommendations "to counteract the various restrictive and undesirable policies, practices and patterns described in the report" and fostered by employers, trade unions and governmental agencies.

The study, entitled "The Negro Wage Earner and Apprenticeship Training Programs," was prepared by Hill who conducted a nationwide survey. It reveals widespread discrimination against Negro work-alike persons now enrolled in apprenticeship training programs.

President's Committee

The meeting followed by a day a session of the President's Committee at which a new program to break the color bar against Negro mechanics on government construction projects was announced. Attending the committee meeting, presided over by Nixon, were Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell; George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO; Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers; and others.

The NAACP representatives expressed appreciation for the action taken by the committee and assured the Vice President that the Association would cooperate fully with employers, unions and the committee in efforts to eliminate racial discrimination on government construction jobs.

Myer at Cohen's Super Market

Meyer Kessel who formerly operated a grocery store at 11th & University, was a butcher at Save-U-Market and sold automobiles is now in our meat department. He would certainly welcome his many friends to come in and say hello.

the Camera Guild

Be sure that everything is in order for projecting your film before the meeting opens. That's the secret of a good smooth showing.

Films Give Variety to Club Programs

Many clubs and organizations have heard their first "meeting come to order" for the season, and program chairmen are looking for good material.

That's why we feel it's a good time to talk about the vast fund of program material that's currently available in professionally-made movies—and at prices well within the budget of even the smallest club group. We think you'll be pleasantly surprised to learn that it's possible to provide an interesting program for as small a rental fee as $1.25 to $2 per film!

Movies are really hard to beat as program material. For they not only offer fine fare for a tiny price, but present a wide enough choice of subject matter to fit any type of program you may be planning. General interest, pure entertainment, special interest, educational—dramatic or documentary—you can have what you want strictly a la carte! If yours is a literary group, look into the classics of literature available on film. A Mothers' Club and the Parent-Teachers Association will be interested in films on child care and development. The garden club will be pleased with films on flower growing and arrangement. An internationally-minded group would probably be attracted by films about distant lands or perhaps a visit to the United Nations. For farm groups, a film program devoted to specific agricultural problems might well be your best choice.

If you're not familiar with the sources from which rentals may be made, just go to the public library for information. In some cases, you'll find that the library itself has a film-rental department. If not, you will be given a direct lead to a convenient source. You might also like to know that the Government Printing Office publishes a little fifty-cent handbook, called "A Directory of 2,660 16mm. Film Libraries." If you order a copy, you'll discover an extensive list of film sources in your area—including your state film library—along with a description of the type of film carried by each source.

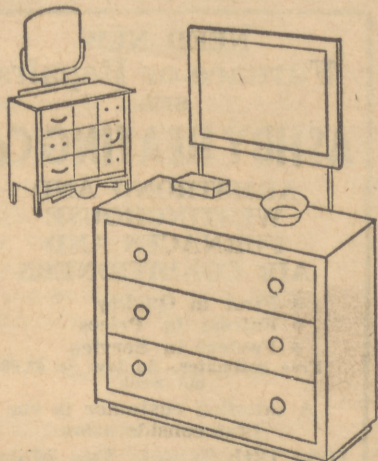

So we say, never underestimate the power of a movie—it may turn out to be the best program material your club ever had!

Handy Jim's Fixin' Up Tips For the Home

Freshen Old Furniture MUCH old furniture still is useful, but its appearance is against it. Yet, it's too good to give away and not old enough to be considered antique. What can be done? A bit of ingenuity and effort will transform an old dresser into a thing of modern beauty—and at small cost. Note the "before and after" sketches of the same dresser. There's quite a change!

In general, removal of the gingerbread from the dresser is the first step in the renovation. A recessed wood base, instead of legs, does much to modernize the piece. Most likely, the top has been scarred. Easiest cure is the addition of a panel of Massonite Tempered Presdwood, 1/4" thick. This then may be primed and painted. Alternates might be black Presdwood, or Leatherwood, a textured hardboard. One of the gay plastic-surfaced hardboards would be suitable, too, as they are resistant to stains and cigarette burns. Various colors and patterns in Marlite are available. Matching material, if needed, may be used to re-cover dingy-looking drawer fronts. Standard 1/4" Presdwood is excellent for replacing cracked drawer bottoms and dresser backs.

METHODISTS URGED TO SET UP SOCIAL ACTION DEPARTMENTS

New York—The NAACP has urged predominantly Negro Methodist denominations to organize social action departments, it was reported this week.

Rev. Edward J. Odom, Jr., NAACP church secretary, said "this would facilitate co-ordination of church work in areas such as civil rights and race relations."

This recommendation was set forth in a recent letter to Senior Bishops and denominational editors. Two of these denominations will hold quadrennial general conferences in May, 1960. Odom told the top clergyman of a recent NAACP spot survey of 100 representative churches in 12 urban centers.

These findings indicated that 95 per cent of the churches had some

WATCH THAT COLD

"But Mom, I have to go to school today. We're having the Valentine Box and I want to go," Billy Jones wailed when told he must stay home because of his cold.

His mother wouldn't budge from her decision. Mrs. Jones might have thought that Billy's cold wasn't really serious, and possibly he would have been none the worse for a day spent in school with a bad cold.

But the little blond girl who sat next to Billy in the third-grade room might have picked up the cold "bug" if he had gone to classes. Her cold might have lasted several weeks and even turned into something more serious than a "running" nose and bad cough.

Colds spread from child to child in school very quickly. Teachers urge parents to keep children at home who are just coming down with a cold.

Another reason his mother might have had in mind in keeping Billy home was the fact that he needed care and would recover sooner by following early treatment.

Parents must use their judgment about consulting a doctor, but to err on the side of safety is probably wise, especially since in the young child so many complications can arise from the common cold—infections of the respiratory tract, "running" ear, bronchitis and pneumonia.

So don't send your child to school with a cold.

RICHMOND POLICE MANHANDLE WIFE OF FORMER NAACP HEAD

Richmond—The wife of an NAACP national board member was dragged from the scene of a student sit-in protest here this week by two white policemen and a K-9 police dog.

Mrs. Ruth Tinsley, wife of Dr. J. M. Tinsley, said that she was not involved in the protest. "I was merely standing on the street waiting for a friend," she said.

"The two policemen came along and told me to move. I asked why but received no answer. Instead, they lifted me bodily by my arms and dragged me away. The dog aided them by shoving me."

Mrs. Tinsley, arrested on Feb. 23, was booked for loitering and her trial scheduled for March 9.

current activity related to the civil rights issue. However, only 40 per cent had organized social action groups on a par with the church's activity in missions and religious education.

Congressman Diggs Criticizes U.S. Air Force for Condoning Biased Published Articles

Washington, D. C.—For the third time, the Air Force expressed deep regret over an admittedly un-screened, unvalidated publication. This time the incensed protest came from Congressman Charles C. Diggs, Jr. (D-Michigan) over an article citing integration in the Armed Services as one of the elements reducing the quality of our fighting men and creating adverse moral problems. Entitled, OUR FIGHTING MEN HAVE GONE SOFT, the article was reprinted from the November, 1959 Reader's Digest in the official Air Force publication, STRATEGIC COMMAND SECURITY MOTIVATION PAMPHLET No. 48, January, 1960.

On Feb. 8, Diggs wrote to the Secretary of the Air Force saying he was "absolutely shocked" over the reprint of the Hanson W. Baldwin article. He said, "Whereas Mr. Baldwin is entitled to his viewpoint and to express himself through commercial publication, I am amazed that the Air Force would expand the circulation of this erroneous propaganda and give the impression of official agreement by the act of reprinting this matter without even a disclaimer." Diggs told the Secretary the action was poor judgment. He pointed out that the contents of the article are contrary to official Air Force policy, but the printing of it gives credit to charges that unofficially there is all manner of racial discrimination practiced in the Air Force.

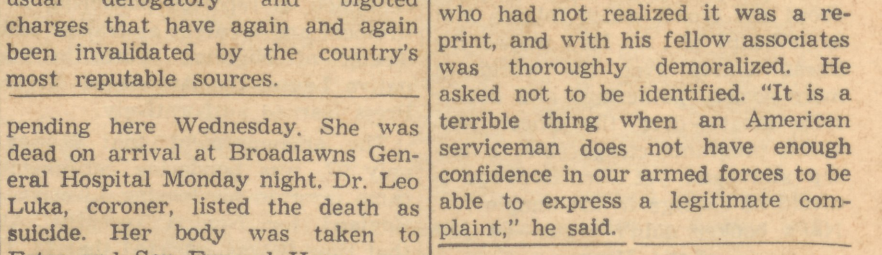

Calling the whole thing "pretty political" for an Air Force publication, the paragraph Diggs specifically protests starts off: "In addition to the national trends which affect our fighting men, there are those 'reforms' forced upon the armed services by the executive department, by Congress, or by public pressure. One was the integration of Negroes and Puerto Ricans into all branches of the armed services." Diggs said the article goes on to assert that integration has been at the expense of over-all morale and combat effectiveness and makes the usual derogatory and bigoted charges that have again and again been invalidated by the country's most reputable sources.

Diggs charged the Air Force is taking for granted the Executive Order on integration. He said over the years he has had many complaints from Negro Airmen of racial discrimination. Many of the complaints are anonymous, he said, others sign names but ask not to be identified and in both cases say the fear is intimidation and reprisal. Diggs said the article was called to his attention by an overseas airman who had not realized it was a reprint, and with his fellow associates was thoroughly demoralized. He asked not to be identified. "It is a terrible thing when an American serviceman does not have enough confidence in our armed forces to be able to express a legitimate complaint," he said.

pending here Wednesday. She was denied on arrival at Broadlawn's General Hospital Monday night. Dr. Leo Luka, coroner, listed the death as suicide. Her body was taken to Estes and Son Funeral Home.

Medical Care

According to the American Medical Association, in 1939 the average U. S. factory worker worked 15 hours and 54 minutes to buy $10 worth of medical care. In 1958, on the other hand, it required only nine hours and 24 minutes of work to purchase—even at a higher price—the same quantity of care.

Government Bonds

There has been much controversy over the Administration proposal to raise the legal interest rate on long-term government bonds. In an article explaining why the rate is now too low, Time says: "Every economist agrees that the U. S. Treasury is in a tough spot to refund Government issues that are constantly coming due. With top-grade corporate issues bringing more than 5 per cent, the Treasury cannot sell long-term bonds limited to a 4 1/2 per cent ceiling. The Treasury is forced to get its money by short-term issues, has to keep going to the market to raise cash, thus disrupting short-term borrowing for business and helping to drive up rates.

Personally Yours by Frances Hawthorne.

Looking back it doesn't seem too long since we were gaily celebrating Christmas and sprinkling cheer and good will on our fellow man. Now, here it is March . . . the month in which the wind traditionally blows something fierce. It came in like a lamb—cold lamb. Kind of reminds you of a leg of mutton just taken from the home freezer. Listening to long range forecasts there was no mention of high winds but there were apologetic promises of continued, below-season cold. There was also a reminder that last year we got our worst snows and blizzards in March with a few heavy flurries thrown in for good measure in April. And all the time weather scientists glibly tell us that the temperate zone is getting warmer with each passing decade. Now, who is going to believe that, least of all Iowans?

Despite the cold, cold temps outside, my weekend was made very warm and special at home. My family decided to celebrate my birthday in the same lovely style of Mother's day last year. The men folks took over the kitchen with generous helpings of morale support from our four year old princess. Unlike the previous time, I did not "wonder" how they would make out. They had done so surprisingly well before. There was the colorful dinner but best of all was a pretty birthday cake—in our favorite flavor—chocolate fudge, with chocolate frosting and beautifully decorated in yellow and blue, "Happy Birthday" letters and florets and candles. The candles rather flooded me since there were the exact age amount. Oh yes, we almost blew them out with one puff, but a half dozen die-hards refused to snuff out and flickeringly weathered our brief windy blast.

Here and There: The two ladies who prepared and cooked the delicious annual dinner for the Willkie House board meeting recently were employees of the Y.W.C.A. cafeteria. They are Mmes. Corine Adams and Geraldine Roper.

Last Sunday was Heart Sunday drive and solicitors who got out had to brave one of the coldest days of the season, plus wade around in a lot of snow. One who got out is a neighbor of ours, Mrs. Frances Scales of 1235 10th street. She had a big smile, also. This marked her fifth year that drive officials have called on her help.

We were very pleased to note the large number of Negroes attending the recent Brotherhood tea at the new Y building. Much of the large attendance can be attributed to Mrs. Marshall Smith, sr., 1422 E. 17th street court, who has worked on the annual event each year. She got on her phone and called just about everyone in her church and they responded by coming out in the nearly zero weather to swell the crowd.

Among those who participated in the annual Concert of Jewish Music last Sunday evening at the Tifereth Israel Synagogue was the Richard Allen chorus of St. Paul A.M.E. church. The chorus sang Jewish and Yiddish numbers as well as American numbers. The chorus is directed by Mrs. Lauretta Reeves and Mrs. Marian Morrison is accompanist.

Last week Mrs. Geneva Robinson of 1223 Dixon street, sent in an article about the Blue and Gold dinner of the Boy Scouts and Pack No. 5. Somehow, after we typed it and sent it over the typesetters, it got lost in the shuffle somewhere. We did not notice it until Mrs. Robinson called us earlier this week. We are running it this week.

Mrs. Robinson reported the troop and pack are going great guns on the east side. There are eight den mothers working with the boys.

NCCJ Plans Awards Dinner Here Apr. 27

The regional officers of the National Conference of Christians and Jews today announced that they plan to hold an Anniversary and Awards Dinner in Des Moines on April 27, and that Mr. N. Bernard Gussett, Chairman of the Board of Iowa Power and Light Company will serve as Dinner chairman.

Gussett described the threefold purpose of the dinner: "It will mark the 32nd anniversary of the founding of the National Conference as well as the 25th year of the Conference in Des Moines, a pioneer in this activity in the Midwest. Secondly, we propose to honor several individuals with awards for outstanding service in the field of human relations. And finally, we hope to encourage by this dinner the program of the Conference in the Iowa and Quad Cities Region."

THAT SILLY SENATE PROCEDURE

Southern members of the U. S. Senate are engaged in a round the clock delaying debate in an effort to block passage of a civil rights bill.

In the light of the guarantee in our constitution of equal rights to all citizens, it does seem ridiculous that a substantial number of senators should be fighting to deny the rights of a substantial number of Americans.

In the light of our appeals to other countries to take their heels off the necks of some of their people or their satellites, it is terribly inconsistent that we have not put our house in order.

It must be amusing to some of our enemies to see us act like such fools. It must be embarrassing to some of our friends that they are aligned with a great country which while, helping other people, has not been able to solve its own problem.

This nasty mess can be stopped if the senators who are backing civil rights mean what they say. The rules of the Senate evoking cloture may be put into action by a vote of 2/3 of a constitutional majority or 66 members.

This has rarely been done, the senators preparing to maintain its rule of "unlimited debate in the Senate." Generally speaking this is good but when that unlimited debate is simply a scheme to block a vote on a measure which has been studied and debated for years, then to maintain or uphold the rule becomes ridiculous.

MONEY HELPS

CIVIL RIGHTS

This week, a news release from the convention bureau of Miami, Fla. reported a golf tournament held in the municipal course, and called attention to the fact that it was an interracial course.

Well, that's fine. Miami is looking for more conventions. It wants to be known as a convention city. It hopes none will refuse to come there because convention courtesies maybe denied Negroes.

That's progress, and a lot of people thought that objecting to meeting in cities which denied convention facilities for Negroes was barking up the wrong tree.

Money transcends a lot of race prejudice.

TOO MANY BUMS AROUND

It is sometimes easy to place our mistakes and shortcomings on the other fellow when we ourselves have a good many of our own.

The Bystander has said on more than one occasion that in spite of the criticisms leveled at those who deny every opportunity to Negroes they have a responsibility to keep their own house in order.

This year, Des Moines seems to be harboring—unknowingly we hope—an unusually large number of criminals. Most of them are strangers with their identity unknown until something happens.

The present system of localizing vice has made it easy for dives and speakeasies to carry on their operations keeping them pretty well hidden from police surveillance.

It's poor business to run people out of town permissuously but we believe law enforcement officials should keep an eye on strangers who seem to have no visible means of support.

Soil Bank

Newsweek says, under the title "The Great Bank Robbery": "For Americans wondering why the U. S. soil-bank program has not been more successful in holding down the staggering farm surpluses, U. S. Comptroller General Joseph Campbell had an answer . . . Of all the 23 million acres that have gone into the soil bank, nearly one-quarter (or 5.4 million acres) of the 'idle' land had not been producing crops anyway . . . Campbell said owners of fallow acreage have been paid $54 million a year for five years. Thus the government, now moving to halt the abuses, spent a total of $270 million to reduce crops that never existed."

Sets Cage Record at Grand View College

Marv Torrence set a school basketball record last Friday night when he scored a record 52 points to lead the Grand View's basketball team in a 101-70 win over Ellsworth.

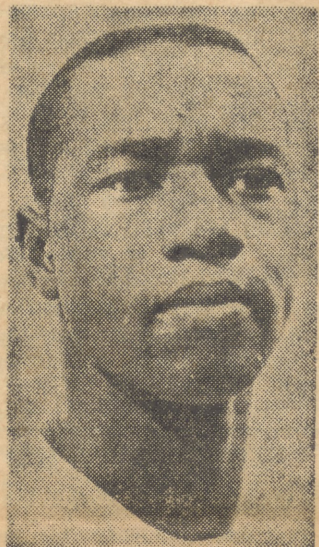

Marv Torrence

The game was one held in the state junior college tournament held in the North High school gym.

Torrence took most of his shots under the board connecting on 22 for a red-hot 67 per cent. He scored 20 points in the first 10 minutes.

Tom Watkins Returns To Iowa State U

Ames, Ia.—Tom Watkins, Iowa State halfback, returned to Ames late Monday afternoon and said he would enroll at the start of the next quarter Tuesday. He dropped out of school because of financial reasons last quarter to work in Los Angeles. Watkins said he plans to go out for indoor track. He is a sprinter.

Clay Stapleton, Iowa State coach, said he had received assurance that halfback Mickey Fitzgerald and End Don Webb also will return for the next quarter. They also dropped out last quarter to work.

The cage season draws to its close. Now that the various conference titles have been decided, there remains but the post-season tournaments. But in our opinion, these meets, coming at the beginning and end of the season, are just a part of the regular season, and ought to count in the final ratings. If they did, there would be some shaking up of the top clubs at the end of each meet.

The hottest team in the midwest right now seems to be Indiana. The Hoosiers, pre-season favorites for the Big Ten title, dropped their first three games, and then went the rest of the way without a loss. Ohio State had to drop at least one because the strain of keeping up a winning pace from week to week was just too much.

Iowa started out like a good contender, but injuries, and the loss by ineligibility of Bobby Washington and Ron Zager hurt the Hawks. They weren't a great team for depth; they needed everybody, and the loss of even one man hurt them, then when they lost three, well, that did it. They began to lose their poise in the first Wisconsin game, and gradually went down hill. But they still finished with more wins than losses over the entire season.

Iowa State had about the same luck as Iowa. Winners of the Big Eight meet title, the Cyclones thought they had a chance to win the regular season crown. But, as we viewed it, they seemed to be hurt by some of the boys not playing to their pre-season level all season. They hit the top in spots, but the consistency wasn't there.

HEALTH FOR ALL

For Adults Only

The little girl had a nasty case of chicken pox. She was tossing around, getting more and more restless and irritable all the time. Her mother gave her some aspirin but it didn't seem to help.

Having a new baby to care for as well as her ailing seven-year-old, mother began to feel she'd go out of her mind if she couldn't quiet the youngster. Then she remembered a tranquilizer the doctor had given her for morning sickness while she'd been pregnant. She had some of the capsules left and she gave one to the little girl. The next afternoon she gave her two more.

Poisoned

They seemed to work. The child slept soundly that night. But by noon the next day, she suddenly became twisted and rigid with severe muscle spasms. Her jaws were locked tight, so she couldn't open her mouth. Her head was twisted to one side. Her arms and legs jerked uncontrollably.

The alarmed mother rushed her to a doctor, who got her to the hospital. The hospital had seen other children poisoned by that powerful tranquilizer and promptly administered an antidote. The seizures soon stopped and the little girl left the hospital the next day. She was lucky.

Risky

It's always risky to give somebody else medicine that has been prescribed for you. To give a child a drug prescribed for an adult is doubly dangerous. A child's constitution differs from an adult's. Something that does you good can do your youngster a great deal of harm. Let the doctor tell you how to dose a sick child.

played an interesting game, and if you watched them we are sure you went away thinking you had seen a good game, no matter who won.

Drake Bulldogs

Drake, playing in just about the toughest cage conference in the country, did well. They have Iowa State and Cincinnati coming up next, and if they can break even with those two, which we doubt, they will have an even record for the season. They played some jim dandies at times, but they just didn't have the bench to keep up with their strenuous schedule. But they always

Grand View

Grandview, seemed to have just about the best junior college team in the state, but had to forfeit three games because of a silly rule that doesn't let summer school count towards eligibility. So they didn't get into the state JC meet. But at this writing, are playing in the regional JC meet that could send them to the national meet. Hope they got out in this one. They have three Negroes, had four at the start of the season but got an assist by a big boy from Pilot Mound, just outside of Boone.

Joe Louis' Income Tax Worry Settled

Washington—Who says the Internal Revenue Service doesn't have a heart?

The bureau has admitted closing the books on its long drive to collect back income taxes from former Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis because "his earning days are over."

"We have gotten all we could possibly get from Mr. Louis, leaving him with some hope that he can live," said Internal Revenue Commissioner Dana Latham.

In testimony before a closed-door House Appropriations subcommittee made public Tuesday, Latham said "we did not get by any manner of means what he (Louis) owed us. However, his earning days are over. He cannot make any large amount of money."

Constant Problem

Latham revealed that the Internal Revenue Service has a constant problem of collecting taxes from people like prize-fighters and movie stars. They pay no withholding taxes or their tax obligations are larger than their withholding taxes.

The government has tried to remedy this by terminating an individual's taxable year at a given time and then, in effect, placing a levy on his purse, Latham said. Citing that a purse of Sugar Ray Robinson is still tied up under this procedure Latham said "we are very reluctant to do that in many instances."

Ray Robinson May Lose His Wife Too

New York—Sugar Ray Robinson, former middleweight champion who lost his title to Paul Pender in Boston recently, may lose his wife also, it was learned last week.

The speculation arose in the wake of a paternity suit in which the Harlem fancy dan is accused of fathering the six-year-old son of a pretty former night club singer.

Paternity Charge

Mrs. Barbara Trevigne, mother of two other children in addition to the one she says is Ray's hauled Robinson into Special Sessions court last Thursday to answer the paternity charge. However, Magistrate Ludwig Glowa postponed the case until March 10 after the Corporation Counsel's office said both sides wanted the continuance.

The postponement also came amid rumors that Robinson and Mrs. Trevigne were trying to affect an out-of-court settlement. Robinson and his wife, Edna Mae, also a former night club performer are reportedly separated, and friends say that if the paternity suit is proven, the Robinson's marriage could end in divorce.
