Finds Integration Leader Innocent of Perjury Count In State Income Tax Case

Montgomery, Ala.—"This verdict is a real ray of hope in the sense that it reveals it is possible for one to get a just decision in the South." These jurors acquitted him Saturday on a charge of perjury.

Dr. King, who first gained fame when he led a successful bus boycott here in 1956, had been accused of filing false state income tax return in 1956. A similar indictment based on his 1958 income is pending. The verdict of acquittal came after nearly four hours of deliberation, climaxing a four-day trial in state circuit court.

Commended Jurors

As he left the courtroom, Dr. King commended the jury for what he called a "just and honest verdict." Negroes, who had jammed the courtroom during the trial, milled around the courthouse for several minutes, then marched to the Dexter Avenue Baptist church for a prayer meeting. Dr. King had served as pastor of the church before moving to Atlanta, Ga., where he now shares the pastorate of Ebenezer Baptist church, with his father.

The indictment in the present case accused Dr. King of reporting his income at $9,150 while the state claimed he actually earned $16,162. Defense lawyers argued that the prosecution had proved nothing except that the integration leader deposited more money in banks that year than he reported as income.

They said Dr. King accounted for the $7,000 difference with the explanation that some of the money came from tax-exempt gifts, and the rest amounted to re-deposits of funds previously withdrawn.

Editor of Defunct L.A. Tribune Says Paper Was Taxed to Death

Los Angeles—Mrs. Almena Lomax telling why she had "suspended publication" of her newspaper in a "Letter to the Editor" in the Los Angeles Times said the paper "just died—taxed to death."

The militant Tribune editor attributed the closing of operations to "excessive" and "repressive" Federal taxes.

Last Chance

Judge Hooper, in postponing the start of integration until May, 1961, ruled that he wants to give the newly elected Georgia legislature a "last chance" to prevent the tragedy of closed schools, but also ruled that the plan will go into effect in 1961 whether the legislature acts or not.

Wilkins Hails Organization of New Negro Labor Council

New York—In a letter of felicitation to A. Phillip Randolph, veteran labor leader and convener of the Negro American Labor Council, NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins expressed "the hope that out of this gathering will come a vigorous force in the struggle for equality in citizenship in America."

The organizing meeting of the NALC was held in Detroit, Friday and Saturday. Wilkins expressed his regret that previous commitments made it impossible to attend the sessions. The Association was represented at the conference by Herbert Hill, labor secretary.

Militant Cadre

The NAACP, Wilkins said in his letter, "believes that today Negro workers, more than any other group of wage earners, need a vigorous and militant cadre within the labor movement. We have supported and will continue to support the legitimate and desirable goals of organized labor which are essential to the building of a democratic society that is sound and just.

The NAACP leader noted that organized labor has made some progress toward the elimination of racial discrimination within its ranks, "but it has been spotty and slow, far too slow when compared with the speed of technological advances."

Not at War

"It has been fashionable in the very recent past for certain ones who pose as analysts to assert that the NAACP is 'at war' with the organized labor movement," Wilkins said. "Nothing could be more silly or more futile or further from the truth. It would be as valid to say the NAACP is 'at war' with the concepts and ideals of the United States of America," he continued.

River Patrol Still on Lookout for Body of Drowned Boy, Age 8

Despite continued dragging operations in the Des Moines river the body of Larry Colton, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Colton of 1127 13th street has not been recovered. Members of the Des Moines police department, Sheriff's office and other authorities have continued to search but to no avail since the boy drowned Sunday morning, May 22 when he leaped from a raft. Two brothers, companions with the Colton boy on the raft, leaped overboard but were saved.

Following heavy rains here last week which caused the river to rise, Assistant Police Chief Charles Andreano last Thursday, May 26 ordered a halt to the dragging operations because the river was too high, too swift and too filled with debris. The order came after one of the deputies was dumped into the river when a log hit one of the boats.

Reports Credit NAACP For Desegregation of Lunch Counters in Texas Cities

Atlanta—NAACP activity is credited with the achievement of lunch counter desegregation in two Texas cities in a detailed 21-page special report issued this week by the Southern Regional Council.

The study was made for the Council by Dr. Kenneth Morland, chairman of the department of sociology and anthropology at Randolph-Macon Woman's College at Lynchburg, Va. It reports on lunch counter desegregation in Corpus Christi, Galveston and San Antonio. The decisive role of the NAACP in Corpus Christi and San Antonio is recorded. On-the-spot investigations were made in each of the three cities.

Corpus Christi

In Corpus Christi, the report points out, "the local NAACP took the lead in asking for desegregation." Dr. H. Boyd Hall, former NAACP state president, initiated a series of conferences with store managers which led to the abolition of the color bar at the lunch counters of Walgreen's, Grant's, Kress and Lichtenstein's, a local department store, on March 25. Previously, Woolworth's and the H. E. Butt grocery store chain had desegregated their lunch counters.

On March 7, Dr. Morland reports, "a 17-year-old college freshman, president of the San Antonio youth group of the NAACP, began sending letters to downtown stores requesting equal service for Negroes. On March 13, at a mass rally of 1,500 Negroes, the NAACP decided to mail a formal 'ultimatum' to downtown stores requesting desegregation of lunch counters by Thursday, March 21."

Church Leaders

Meanwhile, church leaders of all faiths took a hand in the issue. They arranged a meeting with the store managers on March 19. The all-day session "ended with an agreement among almost all of the managers

Positive Attitude

Mother, for example, might let her 13-year-old daughter help plan and cook the meal once in a while instead of having her run to the store or burn the trash. Mother still will get as much help and in addition will be building a positive attitude about work in her daughter's mind (to say nothing about developing Suzie's skill as a cook before she gets married!)

Allowing the child to take a more active part in the important and interesting aspects of the parents' domestic responsibilities helps make routine tasks become more tolerable. If the child develops interest in work in this manner, responsibility will develop naturally as a by-product.

DEVELOPING RESPONSIBILITY TOWARD WORK

We commonly think of responsibility as a desirable trait for a person to have, but we also associate with this trait the idea that being responsible means being willing to do things that we don't ordinarily enjoy.

However, many of us behave responsibly simply because we enjoy what we are doing. It's easier for us to be responsible when we enjoy our work. In addition, we accept those tasks considered less desirable more eagerly when the over-all job is rewarding.

Sawing Board for Workshop

TO SAVE the home workshop bench on particularly tough jobs such as chiseling, flat sawing or boring holes, it's wise to have a sawing board. It may be made any dimensions desired. A suggested size is 10 by 14 inches.

As illustrated, the sawing board consists of three pieces—a panel of Masonite 1/4" Tempered Freshwood and two equally-sized pieces of 1 by 1 lumber. Fasten the panel to the sticks of wood through evenly-spaced, counter-sunk holes.

Toughness of the Tempered Freshwood will withstand any serious damage despite the cutting operations mentioned. Incidentally, workbench tops of this material are considered a "must" in many home shops. Industrial workbenches generally are covered with these wear-resistant panels due to their low cost and long life.

THUMB-SUCKING
IN EARLY CHILDHOOD

"I'm worried sick. My three-year-old Jimmy is a thumb-sucker. I've tried everything I know, but he won't stop. Surely this will have all sorts of bad psychological effects and will cause his jaw to be deformed." This mother was expressing the concern that many mothers feel in similar situations. They see thumb-sucking as having rather drastic results and become quite concerned.

Accepting

Perhaps Jimmy's mother would do well to relax a bit and be more accepting of this behavior during this young age. Thumb- or finger-sucking in early childhood is rather common—in fact, it is so common one might say that it is normal or average at these ages. So Jimmy's mother need not think that she has a special problem or that Jimmy is "different" from other three-year-olds because he has this habit.

Probably she need not blame herself for something she has done to bring this about either. Thumb-suckers come from large families and small families, early weaners and late weaners, bottle feeders and breast feeders, long feeders and short feeders, and so forth.

Relatively Harmless

Although there are exceptions and all authorities do not agree, it appears generally that thumb-sucking at these ages—two, three and four, is relatively harmless. It does not seem to cause psychological problems nor does it appear to cause permanent jaw deformity and tooth displacement when practiced at these early ages.

Most children stop this habit themselves. Nagging, punishment, and parental upsets may cause it to persist. Parents would do well to be more relaxed and accepting of this habit and not pressure their two-, three-, or four-year-old. Perhaps then the young child will stop this practice on his own and not prolong it beyond the relatively harmless early years.

Classrooms

According to Washington Report, a publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, some 680,000 new school classrooms have been built since World War II. So, of the 1,330,000 classrooms that will be in use this fall, more than half will be of postwar construction. Communities have stayed ahead of enrollment requirements for classrooms, it adds—"without federal intervention!"

Russian Medicine

The overall quality of Russian medicine is "well below" that of the United States, according to "Today's Health" magazine. It says: "The state insists on medical services to all citizens, but it gives the physician a limited budget, insufficient laboratory personnel and equipment, and saddles him with a patient and administrative load far in excess of that which any physician can handle and still practice a high quality of medicine."

Students Looking for Job Should Have Social Security Card First

Vacation time for some students often means "work" time for others, according to Leo W. Smith, Manager of the Des Moines Social Security Office. When school lets out, young people all over America begin the exciting adventure of looking for their first job.

Social Security Card

You can get started in the right way by having your social security account number card with you when you apply for that job. Your employer needs the number to properly report the amount of your earnings. If you don't show it to him, you may lose some of your future social security protection.

Duplicate

If you have worked before, even part time, you probably have a social security card. In that case, show it to your employer when you get a job. If you've lost your card, get a duplicate with the identical number that was on your original card. Having more than one number causes confusion and delay when you collect benefits. Remember—one social security number lasts a lifetime.

If you never had a card, or if you need a duplicate card, visit the nearest office of the Social Security Administration.

The Des Moines office is located at 910 Grand Avenue.

National Disaster

The 1950's constituted the worst decade of disasters in the nation's recorded history. That statement comes from the American Red Cross, in a report on the havoc wrought by hurricanes, floods, tornadoes and other catastrophes. It says the toll included more than 29,000 houses destroyed, nearly 600,000 damaged, and more than 1,600,000 Americans made homeless.

Mrs. S. B. Boyers, Benjamin Manuel Honored at Maple St.

Presbyterians Endorse Student Demonstration

Cleveland—When laws favoring racial discrimination "violate the law of God, peaceable and orderly disobedience" is justifiable.

This was the overwhelming consensus of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. that convened here for eight days ending May 25. Three million Presbyterians are represented by the Assembly.

Non-violent and orderly student demonstrations against racial segregation were specifically endorsed. The movement led by Negro college students was described as being consistent with "our Christian heritage, the Federal Constitution and the moral consensus of our nation."

A report by the standing committee on social education and action: (1) deplored violence against student demonstrators, and termed "unjust" arrests of demonstrators in some cases while their assailants went free; (2) commended students who when attacked or cursed did not retaliate, but acted with patience and dignity; and (3) urged church-goers to patronize those places of public accommodation that serve all without regard to race.

Coconut Cake Goes Native

Use the Hawaiian motif when giving a party—whether for an entire meal or just a dessert! It will give added sparkle to the occasion and a feeling of informality. And what could say "Hawaii" quicker than this exotic Niu Niu Meano—"Big Coconut Cake" piled high with luscious Butter Cream Frosting and sprinkled lavishly between layers and on top and sides with snowy moist coconut. Arrange a real flower lei around cake, and fill coconut shell bowls with after-dinner mints and nuts from Hawaii.

For the cake and frosting, here are the recipes you will want to use. So Aloha! and a wonderful party!

WONDERFUL LAYER CAKE

- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 2 cups C and H pure cane granulated superfine dessert sugar
- 4 eggs, separated
- 3 cups cake flour, sifted
- 4 tsps. baking powder
- 1 cup milk
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- ¼ tsp. almond or lemon extract

Cream butter; add sugar gradually, creaming until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks one at a time, and beat thoroughly after addition of each. Sift flour, measure, sift again with baking powder. Mix vanilla and almond extract with milk. Add dry ingredients and milk alternately to creamed mixture, beating gently after each addition. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Spread batter in three 9" round layer pans and bake 30 mins. in moderate oven (350). You may halve the recipe and bake in two 8" round layer pans.

BUTTER CREAM FROSTING

- 4 cups C and H pure cane powdered sugar
  - 6 tbsps. soft butter or margarine
  - 1 egg white, unbeaten
  - Dash of salt
  - 2 to 3 tbsps. cream
  - 1 can coconut or 1 fresh coconut, grated
- Sift sugar; add about ¼ of it to the soft or melted butter and cream well. Beat in egg white, vanilla and salt. Gradually add rest of the sugar alternately with the cream. Beat hard. Spread be-creasing in proportion. This requires a special effort as far as cleanliness is concerned. Frequent washing with soap or detergent suds—of person, clothing, and home—is not a luxury; it's a necessity.

Could you have asked for a more beautiful holiday on Memorial day—Monday? Weatherwise, the weekend began as if rain and dark clouds would obscure the fair skies, but Monday turned out to be what the weather man forecasted and what any holiday loving person could wish for. Many residents took advantage of the day by enjoying outside activities, backyard barbecues, picnics, outings, and out of city drives and visiting with relatives and friends. Others, glad of a long weekend off from routine and work, slept late in the morning cool, and later relaxed around their homes enjoying the quiet and summer warmth and beautiful blue skies. It's funny how a holiday seems so much like Sunday. It's not only the general relaxation with little to do, but the neighborhood, in which you live, always is as quiet as Sunday mornings.

Several weeks ago Rev. Luther Smith of 901 23rd street dropped in the Bystander office and we chatted a few moments with him, inquiring as to his vacation plans. He said this year they are not planning on taking a vacation out of town as all their sons and their families are coming from their respective homes in New York and California to visit them in Des Moines, sort of a family reunion.

We also had a call from Glenn Gallagher, author of many poems and verses for our poetry section of the Bystander. He informed us that he has had to curtail the allotted time for his writing now but still manages to get some done, and promises he would get some work to us as soon as he goes over the rough drafts and puts it in its finished form. During the conversation he also inquired about Rev. Mrs. Oryzealyea Roberson who is convalescing from a double major operation, and also Miss Marie Ross, with whom he worked before our tenure on the paper. He said he read about Mrs. Roberson's illness in the Bystander.

Mr. Gallagher, since Solar Aircraft went out of business here, has been working at Mercy hospital and on the side has been taking special courses in engineering at Des Moines Tech, in order to get his engineer's license.

He also informed us that at last he has a membership in the NAACP.

You have all probably read, if no where else but in the comic strips, of the man who by mistake picks up the garbage sack instead of his lunch as he leaves for work. We

VOTE AT THE PRIMARIES, JUNE 6

On Monday, the 6th, Iowa voters go to the polls to nominate candidates for the Republican and Democrat party tickets for the November election. A full ticket including United States Senator, governor and other top state posts, representatives from each of the congressional districts, representatives and some senators for the Iowa legislature, county and township offices.

In spite of the large list of candidates, the campaign has been relatively mild. Generally speaking, few candidates are particularly impressive. Somehow stalwart towering candidates seldom run for office but out of the pack, generally speaking, the best of the lot wins.

But in spite of the lack of ample material, the voters have a responsibility to go to the polls and cast their ballots. It is a privilege Americans have to express their preference for candidates and issues and thus say by whom and how the government is run.

Included in the list of candidates for the Republican nomination for governor are three men. They have conducted a spirited campaign. Among them are two lawyers, both excellent young men and the other a turkey raiser and farmer from Clear Lake.

The latter, Wm. H. "Bill" Nicholas brings to the voters experience in state and county government and the successful operation of a business which is outstanding and highly regarded in the field.

Republicans would do well to nominate a candidate who has a wide and a successful career which is sound reason that he would conduct the people's business in the same manner.

THE IGNORANT DON'T SPEAK FOR THE SOUTH

Last Friday Ed Morrow, CBS commentator and producer of many outstanding programs, had as his subject "Who speaks for the South" in the integration controversy.

High feeling was displayed by those opposing integration in Georgia, often reaching the point where the moderator felt called upon and did cut short their statement. Generally these die hards were of the cheap John class led by the governor and his executive assistant who, for political reason, were terrible.

On the other hand, there appeared encouragement from those who thought more of keeping their schools open than to maintain segregated institutions, a system which is bound to fail in the long run.

Generally, women took the lead favoring sound school administration arguing that to close the schools would be a catastrophe for the children and the state. They rightly said that individuals were not able to sponsor private schools as is evidenced by such efforts in other states.

Mayor Hartsfield of Atlanta delivered a sound defense for maintaining the schools with integration stating that he felt little trouble would ensue when the program is commenced.

Everybody knows that the rubble rousers sound off at every opportunity leading the public to believe that they speak for all the people. The sound thinkers say little, often fearing reprisals themselves. But in this instance, the good people spoke up, and if nothing else the program proved further that there are many good people in the South. They will speak up when the opportunity presents itself.

JUDGE SWITZER

The citizens of Polk County were shocked Monday to learn of the death of Judge Carroll Switzer. He established a good record as a public servant, as he served as county attorney and district judge.

Judge Switzer was a hard worker, made friends readily and was interested in the improvement of his community and all the people in it. He, as a member of the Des Moines Branch NAACP, had often expressed interest and support of the program the organization stands for.

Men like Judge Switzer are not available generally as public servants and it is a great loss when such people pass on.

GOLF TOURNAMENT TO BENEFIT NAACP

St. Paul, Minn.—The Twin City Golf Association has arranged a special added attraction for delegates and visitors to the national NAACP convention meeting in St. Paul, Minn., the week of June 20.

Golfers coming to the convention are urged to include togs and clubs in their luggage and enter the Open Tournament at Keller Golf Course, home of the St. Paul Open, June 19-20. All proceeds will be contributed to the NAACP, according to the sponsors.

18-Hole Tourney

The 18-hole tourney is expected to attract entries from every major city in the country, said Fred Ewing, president of the Twin City Golf Association. Contenders will have plenty of trophies to shoot at—three each in the four flights (men's and women's divisions) plus low medalist awards.

Award Luncheon

Sponsors will host the award presentation luncheon in Keller Club House for players and their guests. "Picking up the luncheon tab is our way of saying thanks to the golfers for supporting the NAACP fight for freedom," Ewing said.

Entries will be accepted up to and including tournament dates. The $7.50 fee may be mailed to the secretary, Bert Davison, 3745 Fourth Ave. S., Minneapolis 9, Minnesota.

Don't Take Chance With Rabies—Report All Animal Bites

Rabies is fatal. Don't take a chance. The Des Moines-Polk County Health Department urges you to report all animal bites to them.

Your Des Moines-Polk County Health Department also warns that only dogs and cats which have been immunized against rabies are safe from the disease. Make sure your pet is safe by having it vaccinated every two years.

The bite of a rabid animal can pass this terrible disease to children and adults. Once symptoms of rabies develop, the disease is fatal. After the bite of a rabid animal, vaccination of the person bitten is resorted to in an effort to prevent the development of the disease.

Bitten or Scratched

If you are BITTEN OR SCRATCHED by an animal report it to the Health Department at once. If possible, keep the animal alive. If it must be killed to prevent its escape, do not damage its head in the process. The brain has to be examined in the laboratory to determine whether rabies was or was not present. This examination cannot be done if the brain is damaged or destroyed. See your family physician immediately.

COOL ARE THE EMBERS

Cool are the embers—in the ashes of romance. The fires of love that burned so bright, All felt its' warmth and saw its' light; And wished to share in its delight. Help, please help, Thou God on high, Things all go wrong; please tell us why. Each little word, we misconstrue; The ties that bind us, we undo. That keep true lovers, far apart. Send down the words to girl and boy The words to say, the words of joy; And how to spread them 'long the way, To share their blessings every day. —Glenn A. Gallagher

Laugh Lines

A Senator once delivered a speech in a Swedish community of northern Minnesota. Although he gave what he considered one of his greatest addresses, he was disappointed by the utter lack of enthusiasm from his audience.

When he sat down, another speaker arose and addressed the audience in Swedish. His words were received with thunderous applause.

The tactful senator also applauded lustily. Then he turned to the chairman: "What was that fellow talking about? He certainly went over big!"

The chairman replied dryly. "He was merely translating your speech into Swedish so the audience could understand."
