Josh White, Famed Folk Singer, to Give Recital Here Saturday

Josh White, celebrated top-ranked folk singer will appear in a recital here Saturday at 8:00 p.m. at the Des Moines Art Center terrace.

The dynamic entertainer will use as his accompaniment a guitar, at which he plays with almost virtuoso skill. He will include in his repertoire a wide-range of all folk-music forms which he learned from itinerant troubadours like Blind Lemon Jefferson and from his own youthful wanderings among railroad and turpentine workers, chain gang laborers, waterfront riff-raff and cotton pickers.

Admission will be $1; tickets are available at the Center, and downtown at the Des Moines Music House, Younkers record department and Frank's Music Room.

Library of Congress

White has at least 15 commercial recordings and has recorded his own learned-from-life minstrelsy for the archives of the Library of Congress after six concerts there. A native of Greenville, S. C., he has appeared at the White House, toured Europe, Canada and Mexico and has sung with the Southernaires and Golden Gate quartets.

In later years, however, he has been a solo "name" star of cabarets, recordings, radio-TV and recital tours. He will be the third top-notch folk singer appearing in Des Moines in the last 25 years. Photo courtesy of Des Moines Sunday Register.

SHAMPOO

If you think your hair takes a long time to dry after a shampoo, consider the case of Mrs. Maria Stev of Minneapolis. Her hair is five feet, three inches long—and requires two days to dry after lathering up!

Include Sympathetic Write-in on Student Southern 'Sit-in'

Los Angeles, Calif.—After strenuous vocal opposition by southern delegates, the 1960 Democratic convention adopted the strongest civil rights plank in its history by an overwhelming voice vote and also defeated an amendment by the minority report.

The civil rights plank, adopted in its original form, which was drafted by a committee headed by Sen. Chester Bowles of Connecticut, pledged the Democratic party to use its legal and moral power to eliminate discrimination in many fields including:

1. to eliminate literacy tests and the payment of poll taxes as requirements for voting;

Education

2. to ensure the beginning of good faith compliance with the constitutional requirement that racial discrimination be ended in public education and give technical and financial assistance where needed;

3. to support a federal legislation establishing a fair employment practices commission;

4. to broaden the scope and strengthen the powers of the present Commission.

Says Disbarment to Be Brought Against Judge Duke Slater

Chicago, Ill.—Cook County Prosecutor Frank Ferlic said Tuesday he will ask the Chicago Bar Association to recommend disbarment of Criminal Court Judge Fred (Duke) Slater on the grounds of disgraceful conduct in the trial of Evanston Chief of Detectives Sigmund Wroblewski and three other trials.

Slater, the only Negro judge on the Chicago criminal court bench dismissed Ferlic's statements with, "The action of Ferlic is motivated by politics. My conscience is clear. I think it is too bad the general public and the state's attorney are convinced that a conviction record is an indication of the state's attorney's effectiveness.

Conspiracy

Slater had acquitted Wroblewski of charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice over a week ago. Ferlic said that Slater had not followed court rules of evidence and charged the judge had hurried the state in its prosecution of Wroblewski's trial and three other criminal trials.

Slater, a Democrat, is a former great football player of all time and played with the State University of Iowa where he was star tackle from 1918 to 1921. He received his law degree, there.

Southern Farm Scientist Attends Iowa State Meet

Ames, Ia.—Emil W. Owens, 36, a southern farm scientist from Houston, Tex., and a friend last week were the only Negroes among 100 distinguished educators from America and Canada who attended a three-day conference on agricultural policy and goals at Iowa State University here.

Owens grew up at Houston, the son of a railroad foreman. He served during World War II with the 777th Field Artillery seeing action in the European theatre, including participation in the Normandy invasion. He also served in the Philippines before being returned home with 30 per cent disability.

Prairie View

Heading the urgings of education-conscious parents, Owens enrolled at Prairie View school, a branch of Texas A & M university and completed a bachelor of science degree and met his wife-to-be, a home economics major. They now have two boys and two girls.

Ohio State

Having completed his studies, Owens enrolled at Ohio State university. In three years of study he maintained an A-average and was the first Negro to be admitted into a campus honorary scholastic fraternity. Owens, now holds a doctorate degree from Ohio State with major studies in Produce marketing in Horticulture.

Government Financed

After completing his doctorate studies, Owens repaid the government which had financed his entire education, by accepting two years of Liberia under sponsorship of the International Cooperation administration.

"Of course, I was well paid for my services, but I sincerely felt I owed something to the government for my education. Also, I wanted to help the people of Liberia who are descendants of Negro slaves from this country. My job was that of technical advisor in horticulture, but my real job was serving as an unofficial ambassador," Owens said.

NACW's 32nd Confab Planned

Washington, D. C.—Some 1,500 women are expected to gather in New York City beginning July 30th for the 32nd biennial meeting of the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs. The meeting will be held at the Park Sheraton Hotel, and will continue through August 5th.

The theme of this year's meeting, which marks the 64th anniversary of the founding of the 100,000-member organization, will be "New Frontiers for Women and Youth." The theme will be developed in a series of discussions and workshops featuring such noted personalities as Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Bishop Joseph Gomez of the A.M.E. Church, Jesse Owens, Singer Muriel Rahn, and many others. Dr. Rosa L. Gragg of Detroit, NACWC president, will preside over the week-long meeting.

BRIGHT ENAMEL

Apply a coat of bright enamel to the interiors of closets as a real work-saver. It's much easier to wash the enamel with suds than to repaint

NEWS In A Nutshell

He was the first colored student to deliver the Latin address.

closets. Besides this practical consideration, bright color aids closet visibility and promotes order. If you feel too tired to eat dinner, take a refreshing bath—or a warm shower followed by a short cold splash—just before dining. This is an extra, by no means to be substituted for your daily cleansing bath!

7,200 Volt from Power Pole Leaps to Crane, Travels Cable to Victim

A Des Moines man met death by electrocution while at work helping to lay sewer pipe south of the city last week. Robert Byrd, 57, of 1012 Enos street was electrocuted Wednesday, July 6 when a crane touched a power line at County Line road and Highway 28, just south of the City. He was working as a laborer for the Somerville Co., which is laying a gas line for Iowa Power and Light company.

Laying Pipe

According to power officials Byrd and another worker were laying a section of pipe which had just been unloaded from a truck by a large crane. James Toey, of Carlisle, operator of the crane said he saw a spark jump from a 7,200-volt power line to the top of the crane. The current traveled down the metal cable to the pipe section. Byrd was touching a metal hook at the end of the cable and was killed.

Warnings

Toney said he had warned Byrd several times not to touch the metal part of the crane but to use the rope. When he saw Byrd fall Toney jumped from the crane and applied artificial respiration but to no avail. Byrd was taken to Broadlawn General hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Services

Masonic services for Byrd were held at 1 p.m. Friday at Estes and Son Funeral Home. Funeral services and burial were in Mansfield, Ia., hometown of the deceased. A resident of Des Moines nine years he was a member of the Masonic Star Lodge No. 111 and the St. James A.M.E. church in Mansfield.

Surviving are his wife, Hattie of Mansfield; one step daughter, Annie Johnson of Mansfield; three stepsons, Nathaniel Johnson of Prairie View, Tex., Brad Johnson of Detroit, Mich., and Emmett Johnson of Des Moines; one sister, Mrs. Mary Bristo of Mansfield; four brothers, Phillip Gilbert, of Des Moines, Rufus of Mansfield, of Charles Port Arthur, Tex., and John of Sacramento, Calif.

FBI Arrest 3; Caught in Act of Lighting Bomb Fuse At Philander Smith College

Little Rock, Ark.—FBI agents early Tuesday seized three white men and charged them with trying to blow up a dormitory classroom building at Philander Smith college here, a Methodist college for Negroes. Agents said two of the men were caught as they were lighting a candle leading to a fuse in a small black box, loaded with 40 strikes of dynamite.

Dynamite Box

According to J. J. Casper, FBI agent in charge at Little Rock, he said the dynamite box was under a stairwell of a four-story brick building housing Negro students on its top floor. Police authorities said they had been guarding public buildings for several days "for security re-learned of a dynamite plot but would sons" and stated that they had not elaborate further.

Sit-Ins

Students at Philander Smith college had participated last spring in sit-in demonstrations at local lunch counters but the school is closed for the summer and only a few students remain on the campus.

The two men picked up at the scene of the attempted bombing were identified as Emmett E. Miller, 44, and Robert L. Parks, 38 both of West Memphis, Ark. The third man arrested was Hugh L. Adams, 33, who was picked up at his home at Bassett, Ark.

Nixon Policies Are Outlined in New Book

"We must have the courage to take firm and clear positions on the great issues of our times."

"It is the responsibility of a leader to lead public opinion—not just to follow it."

"We politicians, Republicans and Democrats both, owe it to our country to stand for to put on nothing less than a fighting, hard-hitting campaign on the great issues confronting the nation. That is the kind of campaign we are going to have."

These are the words of Vice-President Richard M. Nixon in a new book published this week. The Challenges We Face, compiled by the editors of McGraw-Hill from the speeches and public papers of the Vice-President during the years 1956 to 1960, covers a vast range of leading issues—from personal observations of Khrushchev to civil rights, from U.S. defense policy to a detailed prescription for sustained economic growth. And without equivocation, the Vice-President lays down the guide-lines for a program of action in nearly every major area of public policy.

The publishers have re-arranged and pieced together material drawn entirely from the public record into a consistent presentation of the Vice-President's views to date. The result—officially authorized for publication by the Vice-President—is a systematic statement of Nixon's general philosophy of government and of the major principles on which he bases his policy recommendations.

There are two keynotes to his views. In the area of foreign policy and national defense, it is the principle of "strength for peace and freedom"—maintaining overwhelming American deterrent power. "In the cause of freedom, worldwide." "The American challenge in the next half-century," in Nixon's words, "is to fulfill the mission implicit in the . . . American revolutionary tradition" so that "throughout the world, nations have the right to be independent," and "individuals to be free." This "American revolutionary tradition" is, in his view, "the real way of the future."

In the field of domestic policy, the Vice-President affirms his "unshakable faith that the way to achieve our goals is by the free choice of millions of individual consumers" and "by the productive efforts of free management and labor." He argues that our phenomenal national development has been a case of "growth with and because of freedom"—with the role of government one of support and stimulation of individual and private initiative.

Handy Jim's FIX-UP TIPS For the Home Old Door Becomes Table AN OLD door may be converted into a sturdy play table for youngsters. First select some old water or gas pipes that will serve as legs of the right height for the youngsters who will use the table. Fittings that screw on the door, at the corners, and into which the threaded end of the pipes will fit can be obtained at a hardware store. Similar fittings will protect the floor.

All hardware on the door should be removed. Provide a smooth, splinter-free surface by attaching a panel of Masonite 1/2" Tempered Plywood with 1" brads. Protect the children's fingers further by applying strips of this material to all edges. By putting on the strips first, the top panel will cover the edges and make a neat job. The legs may be painted, and the new table top likewise primed and painted or given three coats of waterproof varnish. With a table like this, children can have fun, indoors or out, for years, as the sturdy construction and durable surface will allow all sorts of rough treatment. As the children grow, the table can grow with them—simply by increasing the length of the pipe legs.

Here's proof that a camera is an exciting gift for a youngster. YOUNGSTERS SHOULD HAVE THEIR OWN CAMERAS

Maybe the younger members of the family have been taking an occasional turn at using the family camera, but that's no substitute for brother or sister with his or her own camera. At what age should a child be given his first camera? It all depends on the child. With most of them, eight is about the right age. To an eight-year-old, a camera is an exciting gift, one that ushers in a whole new world of experience and pleasure. Start him off with one of the inexpensive modern day versions of the old familiar box camera. It's easy on your budget, easy for him to use. He'll find countless subjects that he'll want to snap—pets, playmates, parents, and things you'd never think about. And that brings us to point which we feel is very important. Remember that an eight-year-old's idea of good picture subject material isn't necessarily the same as that of an adult. So, don't be surprised if Junior turns up pleased as punch with pictures that you'd never take. And while we're giving advice, remember that to the average youngster a camera is just a toy. Try to think of it that way yourself and don't make him afraid of using it. You shouldn't expect much more of him in handling a $5 camera than if it were a toy fire truck at the same price. He'll have a lot more fun and be much more inclined to use the camera if you keep your supervision to a minimum. —John Van Guilder

Urges No Trade with Oil Companies Refusing Supplies To Fayette County Negroes

New York—Members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People throughout the country have been called upon to withhold patronage from national oil companies whose local dealers in Fayette County, Tenn., have been "cooperating in the present scheme which has deprived colored filling station operators of gasoline, prevented colored farmers from obtaining needed supplies, and which has revealed a flagrant defiance of law by those who are determined to prevent colored citizens from voting."

Memo

In a memorandum dispatched to all local units of the Association on July 6, NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins cites an NAACP convention resolution calling for such action in defense of Negro citizens in the West Tennessee county who have been denied gasoline and other supplies because they have insisted on exercising their right to register and vote.

Companies

"In accordance with the spirit of this resolution," Wilkins' memorandum asserts, "we wish to advise our membership that the national companies thus far identified with refusal of local outlets to sell to Negroes in Fayette County are the following: Texaco, Inc. (TEXACO); Gulf Oil Co. (GULF); American Oil Co. (AMOCO); Standard Oil Co. of N. J. (ESSO); and Delta Refining Co. (DELTA), Lion Gas, and Southern Oil Refining Co., which are regional concern."

Managements

The NAACP, the memorandum points out, "has vigorously urged the national managements of the companies involved to do something about the acts . . . of their locally franchised agencies. The companies reply that there is nothing they can do, since the local outlets are independent contractors over whom they have no control. We reject this excuse. We are fully convinced that the companies have it in their power in one way or another to see to it that the Negro farmers of Fayette county get the supplies they so badly need."

U.S. Turns Down Congo Request for Troop Help

Leopoldville, The Congo—In a desperate effort to quell the week-long rioting and mutinous actions of soldiers and natives in the Katanga region and surrounding area, the Congo government Tuesday requested help of about 3,000 soldiers of the United States. However, the American government refused to send U.S. soldiers, although reports have been that a regiment on duty in Europe has been alerted for days on possible action in the Congo.

High American officials said that any U.S. aid should come through the United Nations, which the same day had agreed to send an administrative task force to try and intervene with rioting troops instead of sending a division of UN troops.

Crowds Flee

Fierce rioting which sent white women and children out of the Congo in droves with no personal possessions but the clothes on their backs, began shortly after the Congo was declared its independence less than two weeks ago. Late last week reports came through that many of the women told tales of rape and violence on their persons by Congo troops.

25 Rebels Killed

Unconfirmed reports said 25 Congolese rebels were killed in battle with Belgian paratroopers in two southern provinces Sunday. Mutinous Negro troops earlier killed six Europeans at Elizabethville where most of the rioting has occurred in the Katanga region.

Dr. Ralph Bunche, UN trouble shooter, has been conferring with U. S. Ambassador to the Congo, Claire Timberlake and the three top leaders of the Congo, President Joseph Kasavubu, Premier Patrice Lumumba and Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko. Earlier UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold asked African delegates to confer with him on UN aid to the Congo.

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Written by Duwayne Keller, SUI Research Assistant

TIME CONCEPTS ARE DIFFICULT FOR CHILDREN TO LEARN

"Doesn't time mean anything to you, Billy? Hurry! You are going to be late."

Billy is a dawdler, a "slow poke," and his mother is upset. She had given him 15 minutes to get his dirty clothes off and make a start toward dressing for the pre-kindergarten round-up. Now she finds him with both shoes off, one sock and his dirty pants on, happily leafing a picture book.

Estimate

Fifteen minutes means a great deal more to his mother than it does to Billy. She can estimate the interval, she knows what can be done during that interval, she knows whether to hurry to "get done" and so forth. To Billy, it means little. Mother has been learning about and experiencing things about "fifteen minutes" for 30 years. Billy has had only four or five years' experience and little practice in fitting activities into fifteen minutes.

Much harassment could be avoided

Consistency

Many of us need to be more consistent with our own usage and meaning of sometimes loosely defined time concepts like "in a minute or two" or "in fifteen minutes." When we say a minute or fifteen minutes, we should mean what we say and point out the beginning and ending of the period to the child and help him realize what may or may not be done in the interval and about how long it is.

We may also anchor time concepts by relating them to concrete events important to the child like "in an hour when daddy comes home." Then, too, we may keep checking on a child and remind that "five minutes have gone by and you just have your shoes off; that leaves just ten minutes."

Time concepts are difficult to learn and call for patience in both parent and child.

5. to take action to end discrimination in federal housing programs, including federally-assisted housing;

6. to use full executive powers to assure equal employment opportunity and to terminate racial segregation through federal services and institutions and on all government contracts.

Above all, it will require the strong, active, persuasive and inventive leadership of the president of the United States.

Sit-ins

In a sympathetic write-in for the recent student sit-in demonstrations the civil rights plank stated, "The peaceful demonstration for first-class citizenship which have recently taken place in many parts of this country

And He said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace.—(Luke 8,48.)

When we have faith in God, our Heavenly Father, even as little as a grain of mustard, nothing is impossible to us. We can overcome doubt and fear, illness and despair—our faith can make us whole, and we will know peace.

Be sure that everything is in order for projecting your film before the meeting opens. That's the secret of a good smooth showing.

Films Give Variety to Club Programs

Many clubs and organizations have heard their first "meeting come to order" for the season, and program chairmen are looking for good material.

That's why we feel it's a good time to talk about the vast fund of program material that's currently available in professionally-made movies—and at prices well within the budget of even the smallest club group. We think you'll be pleasantly surprised to learn that it's possible to provide an interesting program for as small a rental fee as $1.25 to $2 per film!

Movies are really hard to beat as program material. For they not only offer fine fare for a tiny price, but present a wide enough choice of subject matter to fit any type of program you may be planning. General interest, pure entertainment, special interest, educational—dramatic or documentary—you can have what you want strictly a la carte! If yours is a literary group, look into the classics of literature available on film. A Mothers' Club and the Parent-Teachers Association will be interested in films on child care and development. The garden club will be pleased with films on flower growing and arrangement. An internationally-minded group would probably be attracted by films about distant lands or perhaps a visit to the United Nations. For farm groups, a film program devoted to specific agricultural problems might well be your best choice.

If you're not familiar with the sources from which rentals may be made, just go to the public library for information. In some cases, you'll find that the library itself has a film-rental department. If not, you will be given a direct lead to a convenient source. You might also like to know that the Government Printing Office publishes a little fifty-cent handbook, called "A Directory of 2,680 16mm. Film Libraries." If you order a copy, you'll discover an extensive list of film sources in your area—including your state film library—along with a description of the type of film carried by each source.

So we say, never underestimate the power of a movie—it may turn out to be the best program material your club ever had!

Comic, Tone Editor Join Hands in Paying Tribute to Negro Press

Even a comedian has his serious moments.

During a night-club act at Robert's Show Club in Chicago, famed-comic Redd Foxx took time out from his usual humorous antics to pay tribute to the Negro Publishers throughout the nation.

"These men and women have dedicated their lives to telling the story of their people," Foxx began. "In the face of threats, and tremendous opposition from many other interests, these leaders of the press have maintained a high standard as they try to better the conditions of their brothers."

Fifty representatives of the press, in Chicago for the National Newspaper Publishers' Assn. convention, were in the audience as the guests of Tone Publications, which produces the magazine-section servicing 300,000 readers of the Negro newspapers.

New Innovation

Tone publisher Don McIlvaine later said, "It gave me a feeling of pride to be part of the group representing the Negro journalists across the nation. Tone now services 36 newspapers and although we are a comparatively new innovation in the Negro press, we have been made to feel a welcome part of the working press."

Unified Effort

Speaking of the convention, McIlvaine said, "A unification of effort, such as this, can only result in a superior final product being placed in the reader's hands. In the process of bringing the real story to the Negro, it is helpful to have these publishers meet. Whenever anything involving the Negro takes place, the local Negro newspaper is consulted. When the newspapers get together, the first-hand view from each area is available. Then the jig-saw puzzle of racial problems can be put together in the true proportions."

DR. SAMUEL D. PROCTOR ASSUMES PRESIDENCY OF A&T COLLEGE

Greensboro, N. C.—The new president of A&T College has sounded a challenge for a continuing increase in the emphasis at the institution on academic excellence.

He said this will be his foremost objective "to enhance the growing reputation of the college as a center of scientific and technological education related functionally to the social sciences and humanities."

Cooking Thermometer Shelf

THERE is a growing trend in American kitchens to keep many utensils out in the open where they are easy to reach. This is particularly valuable in the case of often-used instruments and those which are apt to be damaged if left to roll around in a drawer with a lot of other tools. For instance, if you have a fine set of cooking thermometers, as so many good cooks do today, it is a very simple matter to construct a small, handy shelf to display them and protect them.

First take a rectangular piece of one-inch board and two rectangular pieces of Masonite Preswood. This is a particularly versatile material which can be used for innumerable jobs around the home. The dimensions of these pieces are up to you, depending on the available space and the number of cooking thermometers you wish to display.

These two pieces will actually make two shelves. Into the piece to be used for the top, drill two small holes, into which you can insert the stainless steel stems of your roast meat thermometer and your candy-jelly-deep fat frying thermometer. The round, clock-like faces of the thermometers will prevent them from slipping through the holes, and the thermometers will be always within easy reach if you attach your shelf to the wall or cabinet near the range.

Toothless Cabbie Downs 7 Chickens

Pensacola, Fla.—A toothless cab driver downed seven fried chickens in one of those "all you can eat" deals at a Pensacola drugstore.

Jim Ferguson wandered into the store, spotted an "all the chicken you can eat for 99 cents" sign and told the fountain manager to "start frying and don't stop."

Store manager Jimmerson scoffed. "If you eat five chickens it won't cost you a cent," he said. Two hours later, seven chickens had been eaten. "I haven't got a tooth in my head," Ferguson said. "It's kind of hard to get the meat off the bones."

The cabbie said his last full course meal had been on Wednesday. What did he eat then? "Why, chicken, naturally, I love it."

GLASS FORMULA

A new glass formula pitcher incorporates several convenience features—measurements clearly marked on one side; a comfortable, easy-grip handle; and a wide tip for pouring without the bother of a funnel. This pitcher has an extra-wide mouth, making it easy to get the dishcloth into every corner for thorough washing in hot soap or detergent suds—very important because all utensils used for infants' food must be sanitary. Remember that milk should be rinsed with cool water before going into hot suds.

RELAXED FOR SLEEP

Just like adults, a baby must be relaxed in order to go to sleep. And to be relaxed, he should not only be fed but comfortably clean. That

Game for Young or Old
IT'S FUN for youngsters and grown-ups alike—the tumble-bug game. For the bugs, get some capsules from your druggist. Drop a ball bearing into each, close the capsule and mark it with a colored tape, so that each player will know his own bug.
The only other equipment needed for the game is a playing board. Cut a piece of Presdwood about one foot square and nail it to a block of one-inch lumber four inches wide and as long as the playing board, to form a ramp. You'll need to plane the block of wood to the proper angle to make the Presdwood fit evenly.

Up to four players can participate with a board the size of the one described. Each player holds his capsule in an upright position at the top edge of the playing board. At the signal to "go," the bugs are released to tumble end over end down the ramp. The one reaching bottom first is the winner.

Personally Yours by Frances Hawthorne.

Conventions are in swing around the state and country as delegates attend the national meets of their respective organizations. At the same time the grand-daddy of all conventions got underway in Los Angeles with Democrats having a whale of a time as usual and the Republicans getting ready to converge on their convention site in less than two weeks.

One of the most loyal groups are the masonic and fraternal organizations. Just recently the Elks held their Midwest regional in Omaha, Nebr., and bus loads of fraternal members and visitors went down, some just for a day or two.

We were talking to our neighbor, Mrs. Margaret Williams who is active in Rose Temple No. 33, auxiliary of Hawkeye Elks No. 160. Mrs. Williams went down for the annual traditional parade. She said marchers were told the march was supposed to be only two miles but that an Omaha resident said that actual distance was five miles. Even though aching, tired feet were the result for marchers it presented a colorful scene for viewers, with Elks in varied color fezzes and uniforms.

If you haven't made a visit to Willkie House to view the Day camp activities, you should. It is quite an experience to see the campers and their counselors in action. You also should hear their group singing, which is lusty and enthusiastic indeed. Our daughter and sons participated in the birthday celebration there last Thursday noon and it was amazing how capable the campers were, even the five and six year olds. We only regret that we were unable to attend the carnival the next day.

We talked with Mrs. Nathaniel Craddock, who said her son, John Strother had completed his course at the General Motor school at Omaha, Nebr., where he was chosen to attend following his high school graduation in June. She said he received a certificate informing any prospective employer that he had completed the course in hydraulic systems.

However, as it is with capable Negro mechanics, he ran into trouble with unions, and employers who refused to hire him unless he belonged to a union.

After going to the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights and Job discrimination, he was informed to attempt to join a union and if turned down because of his race, then the commission could proceed to help him. His mother said that he heard of job possibilities in Ames and had gone there to investigate. He will follow up the union here later. She said he had one lead from a small firm here, who has no union employees and was told that "any student completing the General Motors course was a top notch mechanic, indeed.

Back to the commission, few people realize that in order for the organization to help them in case they are refused a job because of their race, they have to sign a formal complaint with the commission. Too often "victims" tell their neighbors or a friend, but when it comes to a formal charge they get cold feet. It shouldn't be as the Commission is there to help all in need of its services.

We want to commend you for sending in news as promptly as you have been doing the past several weeks. It has helped us tremendously. If a news item is sent in and arrives at the news desk late, it more than likely will be delayed until the following week, for reasons that you can understand.

MONARCHS MEET MONDAY

STRIKING BELOW THE BELT

When Negroes in Fayette County, Tennessee showed a determination to register and vote, the business interests hit upon a program of economic squeeze to force them out of the communities.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

The Democratic National Convention went a long way in the adoption of a civil rights program which goes to the heart of injustices suffered by Negroes everywhere.

In that platform it tacitly endorsed the peaceful demonstrations of students in the South against discrimination in these words:

"The peaceful demonstrations for first-class citizenship which have recently taken place in many parts of this country are a signal to all of us to make good at long last the guarantees of our constitution."

It called for a fair employment legislation designed to guarantee Negroes equal economic opportunity in these paragraphs:

"The new Democratic administration will support federal legislation establishing a fair employment practices commission effectively to secure for everyone the right to equal opportunity for employment."

"In addition, the Democratic administration will use its full executive powers to assure equal employment opportunities and to terminate racial segregation throughout federal services and institutions, and on all government contracts. The successful desegregation of the armed services took place through such decisive executive action under President Truman."

Needless to say these planks drew stiff opposition from southern delegates but, who in the final analysis, were snowed under by the majority.

Speaking for the minority, Senator Irwin of North Carolina said that the provisions enumerated above were defeated in the last two sessions of Congress and that there was no reason to expect a different result in the next. Democrats controlled each of these sessions.

The southerners did not walk out of the convention because they had no place to go which would offer patronage and leadership as they now have; because they have been able by their strategic chairmanship of committees in Congress to block effective civil rights legislation. They simply propose to transfer their scene of battle from the convention to the floors of Congress.

The liberal Democrats made a fight for their views more so than the liberals in Congress. And even though they may fall short of their goals, at least the thinking has been pretty clear.

SUMMER ENROLLMENT

More than 4,800 students—the highest summer enrollment since 1949—are attending The State University of Iowa this summer. Summer registration has increased every summer since 1952, when it reached a postwar low of 3,601.

NYLON MOP

A newly-developed nylon mop head holds six times its weight in water. Dip this into a pall of hot soap or detergent just once, and it soaks up enough to wash an entire kitchen floor! It wrings out easily, is odor and mildew-free, and fits all standard mop holders.

BOY SCOUTS

The Boy Scouts of America have given official endorsement to a dry-dry sailcloth printed with Scout activities and merit badges on a beige background. This fabric is excellent for bedspreads, slipcovers, and curtains for the bedrooms of young scouting enthusiasts. Scouts' mothers will be equally enthusiastic about its wonderful washable qualities!

Baseball School Starts Here July 28

The Philadelphia Phillies school of baseball, conducted by Eddie Dancsak, will be at Sec Taylor Stadium, July 28-30.

The school, featuring Hall of Famer Paul Waner as batting coach, will be held for the benefit of players, coaches and fans from Iowa and bordering states. On July 28 only, the 9 a.m. to noon session will be for players 15 and younger. The afternoon session will be for players between the ages of 16 and 21.

As recently as fifteen years ago; just before Negroes began to make organized baseball we had an idea about a baseball school for local Negro kids. Since pro baseball was on its last legs, here at least, for Negroes. There was no young Negroes players coming up and the veterans had just about reached the end of their trail. We even made a trip to Chicago and talked to some of the big figures in Negro baseball along with Ray Young of the Chicago Defender.

Just about everyone talked to discouraged us saying Des Moines was far off the regular Negro baseball path to bring anyone in. We left Chicago with the feeling that we had butted our heads against a stone wall. But we kept poking and looking for a way to make our idea take shape. We never said much about it; just looked and listened.

Little League

Then came the Little League and American Legion baseball. Negro kids got in on this and received the same training that everyone else got. They didn't have to have the same chance. Just the same training was all they needed and they wanted to make their chance.

And so it worked out that Negro kids began to get their pictures and names in the daily paper for outstanding performances. We sat back and smiled that what we had wanted so much had really come to pass; but not exactly as we had wanted it.

Recognition

Now why don't we recognize those kids in this column? Well there is the number one item . . . lack of space. Then our regular job is a night job and we have a hard time getting out to the games because of this. And in spite of what you may say or think to the contrary we don't copy items from the daily paper here about local athletes to run in our column under our byline. If we don't see it we don't make much more than a comment about it.

But we are sincerely glad for the dozens of kids playing in all the Little League around this city and hope they continue to shine.

All Star Game

Guess you saw the first All Star game. Ernie Banks certainly supplied the answer to critics who wondered why he was selected over Dick Groat of Pittsburgh. Banks not only is a glove man but a top notch hitter as well. Wondered what happened to the power of the A. L.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Hic!

Like flatfalls and pie in the eye, hiccups get a horse laugh—from everyone but the victim. Hiccups are embarrassing at best, sometimes painful, and if they continue very long, dangerously weakening.

Hiccups result from a spasm of the diaphragm, the thick sheet of muscle that separates the abdominal cavity from the chest. The diaphragm is part of the breathing mechanism. When you inhale, your diaphragm flattens and air is pulled into the lungs. When you exhale, the diaphragm resumes its normal dome shape and air is pushed out of the lungs.

Overeating

The spasm which produces hiccups sometimes comes from overeating, when the too full stomach presses upward against the diaphragm. Hiccups also result from the irregular explosive breathing which goes with laughing too hard. Sometimes hiccups just happen, with no cause that anyone can pin down.

There are all kinds of remedies for hiccups. Practically everybody has one. Those that work best do so by changing the breathing rhythm. That gives the diaphragm something to think about besides its spasm.

Remedies.

... Drink a glass of water from the far side of the rim.

... Hold a paper bag tightly around mouth and nose. Breathe out into the paper bag through the mouth and breathe in that same exhaled air through the nose.

... Drink a glass of water slowly, without inhaling until you reach bottom.

... Hold mouth and nose closed for one minute.

European Press Hails Patterson

London, Eng.—Floyd Patterson's champion comeback shocked European boxing fans the way his blows stunned Sweden's Ingemar Johansson.

Patterson's knockout win over Johansson was front page news in most capitals. The London Evening News said Patterson had "blown history sky-high." The Evening Standard called it "sweet and savage revenge, born of despair, cradled in determination and fashioned in sweat."

Even in Lisbon, Spain, where boxing is not a popular sport, morning newspapers managed to get brief reports into their late news columns. In Paris, the mass circulation newspaper France-Soir said Patterson deserved his victory "because it was won with spirit."

Rafer Johnson Breaks World Decathlon Mark

Eugene, Ore.—In a series of sensational performances Rafer Johnson broke the world decathlon record here Saturday in a dramatic duel with C. K. Yang of Formosa. Johnson, who is returning to competition after being sidelined by auto injuries last year, racked up 8,683 points in the National A.A.U. decathlon meet cracking the old mark of 8,357 set by Russia's Vasily Kuznetsov last year. Yang also broke the old record with 8,426 points.

Thomas Makes Dean's List at Boston U

Boston, Mass.—Just as effectively as he has soared to astronomical heights in his specialty of the high jump, John Thomas, Boston University's great athlete, has bounced over another hurdle and made the Dean's list.

As a graduate of a technical high school, John was at a disadvantage of bridging the gap between such training and the liberal arts courses at the university.

A wallet designed to hold favorite snapshots is an excellent Mother's Day gift. Let the whole family join in helping her pick out just the right pictures for it.

Focusing on Mother

Mother's Day is one dear to the hearts of all families, and one which just naturally makes everybody think about pictures—pictures to take and pictures to give. Each family's own special way of honoring Mother is worthy of record. Your own version of the whole "Queen-for-a-day" story—from Dad's serving her breakfast in bed to the children's goodnight kiss—will make a series of wonderful pictures that Mother can enjoy over and over all through the year.

Among the gifts that Mother will treasure are pictures of various members of her family in an album especially compiled for her. So, this week is a good time to collect the family snapshots from their hiding places in odd drawers and boxes and make up an album as a surprise for Mother. Other gifts will be doubly welcome if they carry an extra dividend of pictures, too. A leather wallet for Mother will look twice as handsome to her if its transparent identification pockets hold snapshots of the family. And so will a locket or one of the new watch bands with place for tiny pictures of those she holds dear. An enlargement of an especially good picture of Dad and the children—framed appropriately for her desk or dresser—is another gift that says "I Remember Mama" in a way that's sure to please any mother. Or perhaps you might want to take a series of small snapshots—one of each member of the family—and arrange them in a long narrow frame to grace her dressing table.

As you can see, the day set aside to honor Mother is one on which pictures really have their day, too! —John Van Guilder

Send Yours Today

DEAR EDITOR:

After having attended the NAACP National convention at St. Paul June 21-26 and witnessing the most spectacular affair and one that reports the most progressive accomplishments in its history, with the attendance exceeding all others in the past, I feel it only fitting and proper for me to make a semi-official report of the convention proceedings to the press, also reissue a policy statement as it pertains to the Iowa State Conference, of Branches NAACP during my administration.

16 from Iowa

The state was well represented at the convention with delegates from (7) seven branches and of course the state being represented by myself a total of (16) from Iowa. This was the largest delegation in proportion to our membership of any state at the convention. The Iowa delegation was very much in evidence as the Iowa section of the auditorium was full at each mass meeting; and most of the workshops of Region 4 of which Iowa is a part was well attended by Iowa delegates with some taking very active parts in the discussions; several Iowa delegates were put on important committees.

Expansion

The convention as a whole was so full of the spirit of successful growth and expansion, spurred on by those high militant spirited students from the southern colleges (each one with a message) determined to march on towards a goal of first class citizenship and human dignity for all people alike—and all this to be attained by the NAACP. And it can best be done by getting more people interested in our noble work, so more and more people will feel the urge to join in and help us carry on.

Membership

At the beginning of our administration we said, we hope to increase our membership to twice its present number that we hope to concentrate our effort towards this goal. After the convention in St. Paul we are more determined than ever that we are pointing in the right direction and will work on towards this end. We feel if the membership roll is increased all other departments will benefit in like proportions, such as the FFF, Life Memberships, etc.

Methods

It is well known that each community has different methods which has proven to be most successful in obtaining new members or getting renewals such as holding mass meetings, making appeals through churches, Lodges and clubs or by button holing people on the street, house to house canvass, by phone, or appointing committees to contact prospective members. We respectfully urge you to do whatever is best or most conveniently suitable for your own respective community so as to be able to report a 100 per cent increase in memberships at the State Conference in October.

George J. Cooper, President Iowa State Conference of Branches

DOORS TO DESTINY

The doors to destiny are numbered. Like the words that bring success. Many hurdles must be conquered Obstacles no mind could guess To that rung upon the ladder Leading to the heights men seek Many fail—and wiser, sadder, Claim it takes a winning streak There's a pattern set by justice Sign-posts for all eyes to see Forces of the right shall triumph That was planned by destiny Find that un-named, un-seen quotient, Men through-out all ages seek Though these words are worn and Ancient, they still rule; "God loves The meek." Arrogance and strength may Conquer, for a short while, rule by Might. History's pages show the totals, Final scores of wrong and right. Every soul does know the answer And each mind does hold the key, To the simple faith that opens All the doors—to destiny.
