REVIEWING THE POLITICAL CONVENTIONS:

Wilkins Compares Rights Planks

Notes Parties Far-Sighted Stand on Minority Race; Calls for United Efforts

By Roy Wilkins
Executive Secretary, NAACP

Chairman, Leadership Conference on Civil Rights

New York, N. Y.—There are striking differences between the 1960 planks of both parties and the ones adopted by them in 1956. Both are far ahead of those chosen four years ago.

The Democratic plank is stronger and more comprehensive and does not shrink from the touchy topics of F.E.P.C. and the Part III provision which was chopped from the 1957 civil rights bill. Even more significant than the differences between the Republican and Democratic planks this year are the areas of agreement.

First Time

For the first time both parties have put themselves on record unequivocally as favoring the elimination of segregation and other forms of discrimination from all areas of community and national life.

Both have pledged to remove the procedural roadblocks in the Congress that have impeded progress towards that goal.

Both have reaffirmed support of the historic right of peaceful protest against the indignities and injustices of discriminatory treatment; Most importantly, both have recognized the need for affirmative legislative and executive action by the federal government and have committed themselves to such a course.

Voting and Housing

In the area of voting, both parties have pledged action to prohibit existing statutes and new legislation to overcome the barriers imposed by present "literacy" tests. In the area of housing, both parties have pledged action to prohibit discrimination in all housing constructed with federal funds or subsidies. The Democratic plank goes beyond this in that its term, "federally-assisted," would appear to include as well all the insuring and lending functions of the federal government.

Employment

In the area of employment, both parties have pledged the elimination of discrimination within the federal establishment and on all work performed under government contract. We strongly favor the provision in the Democratic plank calling for the enactment of a federal F.E.P.C. and we trust that the "full scale re-under certain circumstances. The Democratic language is plain and unrestricted, authorizing injunctive action "to prevent the denial of any civil rights on grounds of race, creed or color." Ironically, this provision was included in President Eisenhower's legislative program which was adopted as part of the 1956 Republican platform.

Rights Group We approve the provision in the Democratic plank for a permanent civil rights commission with broad powers and we heartily endorse the important and significant opposition by the Republicans to the use of federal funds for the construction of segregated community facilities.

of the civil rights plank in both the Republican and Democratic national conventions indicate clearly that civil rights can no longer be regarded as a narrow issue of concern to minority groups alone. It must be recognized and dealt with as a national question that challenges the integrity of our democratic professions and our leadership of the free world.

United Effort Neither the Republican nor the Democratic party by itself can make good the promises for civil rights legislation set forth in their platforms. Neither alone can "deliver."

Only through united action by both parties in vigorous support of the pledges they have made in common can we realize the goal of equal justice and equal opportunity to which both parties stand committed and to which our nation is dedicated. We look forward to a beginning on such united action in the post-convention session of Congress next month.

Fabrics Fabrics in the cotton family are a great boon to the home decorator because they are colorful, durable, and washable. Sailcloth and mattress ticking wear wonderfully well and stand up perfectly under repeated washings. Denims are equally hardy and come in a gamut of luscious colors. Corduroy never needs ironing if you let it drip-dry. Glazed chintz sheds soil and also washes beautifully.

Senate Support Student's Demand for 'Freedom Now' For Negroes in Armed Forces

Washington, D. C.—The Constitutional Rights sub-committee of the U. S. Senate, headed by Senator Thomas C. Hennings (D. Mo.), has before it Bill S. 1199, a Bill "to prevent discrimination in any public or semi-public place or by any public or semi-public transportation against members of the Armed Forces because of race, color or creed."

Grant Immunity This proposed law is fully in accord with the stepped-up demand of student "sit-in" leaders who recently demonstrated at the U. S. Capitol on behalf of Negro GI's and veterans. Their petition read "we . . . beseech Congress to enact before the forthcoming national elections a law granting Negro American servicemen and veterans immunity from the racial segregation laws of the several Southern States. We believe that human rights takes precedence over States Rights, that the American way of life takes precedence over the Southern way of life. We feel that the time is long past due when those who have offered life and limb in defense of the American ideal of the equality of all men enjoy that equality within their own country and in their lifetime". Wire Congressmen

The students and veterans who participated in this demonstration strongly urge every citizen, civic group, veterans organization and similar bodies in sympathy with this law to wire their Congressmen NOW in support of this measure. More such demonstrations by "sit-in" leaders and veterans are planned when Congress reconvenes Aug. 15. A "March on Washington" by Negro veterans during this session of Congress has been proposed. Write the District of Columbia Branch, NAA-CP, 1517 Y ou Street, N. W., Washington 9, D. C., for further details.

HELPING CHILDREN IMPROVE IN BEHAVIOR Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Beck were chatting in their neighboring back yards one morning. As usual, they were talking about their children.

"Rex comes by his bad temper and stubbornness naturally, I suppose," remarked Mrs. Kelly. "He's just like his father. As a matter of fact, all the Kellys have quick tempers and once they make up their minds to something, there is just no reasoning with them. Children inherit those things."

To a lot of people such explanations make sense. They quite sincerely believe that temper, stubbornness, a nice disposition and a number of other good and bad qualities are inherited. Even the experts don't always agree on what is inherited and what is not.

However, we can be fairly certain that biological inheritance is not the most important cause of behavior.

Chased by Pursuer Raymond Hines, 38, of 1420 Carpenter Ave., was reported in "good condition" Wednesday at Broadlawn Polk County hospital where he is recovering from a dislocated shoulder sustained Sunday morning when he ran into a tree while being chased by another man near 13th and Park Streets. Hines told police that his pursuer fired two shots at him during the chase and that he had fought with the man earlier at the Eleven Twelve Vets club at 1112 Center Street.

Suds Sisal Rugs Attractive sisal rugs can—and should—be scrubbed often. This is important because dirt allowed to settle between the fibers becomes difficult to remove. Use a stiff brush dipped in thick, hot soap or detergent suds and scrub—first on one side and then the other. If possible, wash the rug out of doors so you can rinse it with a hose. Be sure to wash the floor, too, before replacing the dry rug.

Family Finances by John Roberts Insurance Counselor Old Equity Life, Evanston, Ill

Do you give contributions to charities that use "professionals" to solicit donations over the phone? The cause itself may be worthy, but how much of your money will actually go to the charity itself?

According to a Chamber of Commerce estimate, the usual breakdown of every $10 raised by telephone solicitation is $3 commission to the canvasser; $2 to the crew manager; $1.50 for rent and overhead; $1 for telephone service; $0.30 for the pick-up man; $2.20 to the charity.

Contribute directly to your charity, or check the fund-raising method used to insure that the major portion of your donation will be used for the charity's purpose.

If you have questions about your family finances write to me in care of your editor. No letter can be answered directly or returned; however, as many questions as possible will be covered in future columns.

New York City—Ghost of "Shuffle Along" Returns . . . They are starting to bring back "Shuffle Along" again—and this time the producer is a Riverdale, N. Y. man—Harvey Glick—who is advertising for Negro dancers to do "strut and tap" and singers . . . He hopes to open this Fall in an off-Broadway theatre . . . But his main mistake is the same mistake all the other hopeful producers made who tried to bring back "Shuffle Along." It was a very good musical, we understand, back in the twenties, but the world has progressed so far—the people are so far away from it—their tastes and their entertainment needs are no longer on the "strut and tap" kick . . . They want keen entertainment, the kind you stop and look at when you're turning the TV dial searching for something . . . They want new faces—new and interesting talents—different approaches—new songs and above all—music of today: modern jazz.

Famous Musical

To keep trying to bring back a ghost is not a very good compliment to a famous musical which had its day. Its day is now gone and new musicals must come. Returning to the past—reaching back a couple of decades is not box office . . . why these smart producers keep wasting their money when they could better put it into "New Talent" is beyond us . . . However, if they have a sinking fund from which money does not return, then this is the hole to put it in.

Eubie Blake

We have the utmost respect for both Eubie Blake, a greyed Brooklyn musician who'll play excerpts from his "Shuffle Along" at a moment's notice . . . and for Noble Sissle, another grey-haired musician who certainly has a fabulous record in the music field . . . But surely they too will agree—the revivals which succeed are few and far between so there's no sense living in the past.

To bring back moments of greatness for one evening—for a charity affair or something like that deserves praise . . . But to try to revive a whole different era of which these modern adults and teenagers know nothing—is almost a hopeless cause . . . And surely someone should tell Mr. Glick before he loses his shirt.

Eartha Kitt

Eartha Kitt has a new album out "Eartha Kitt Revisited"—a strange name—but the same old songs . . . Numbers like "Santa Baby", "I Want To Be Evil" and "C'est Si Bon" are all part of the Kapp collection.

Jonah Jones

Jonah Jones Quartet has done

"One Touch of Blue" for Capitol which has a wonderful chorale quality—everything comes up blue—"Blue Skies", "It's a Blue World" and "Blues In My Heart."

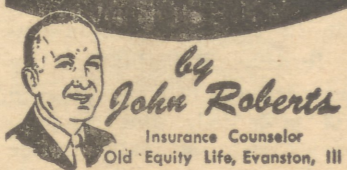

Nixon Shoe Shine

The public went for Nixon's unscheduled interview with the little Negro shoe-shine boy who said just the right thing on TV . . . such a bright kid couldn't be a victim of planned politics—and gave the right flavor after a brilliant acceptance speech by Nixon. Kennedy, losing no time kicking off his tour, gathered our old favorite Adlai Stevenson to help him map out the best possible campaign.

Earl Grant

Earl Grant is really serious about portraying Bill Robinson on the screen and to prove it—he's taking soft shoe dancing lessons which he's included in his nightclub act . . . Right now he's at the Fairmont in Frisco where the cover is $3, and the hour-long show received tremendous reception . . . He and Brother Bill, who is a real snappy drummer, do a vocal duo on "When The Saints Come Marching In" which tears up the show . . . Earl has done wise in bringing in Brother Bill for Earl was for many years playing one dive after another up the west coast waiting for a break.

Family Finances

Three out of five women who work are married. What are the advantages and disadvantages of being both job-holder and housewife? Here are some questions to consider before you apply for a job:

Is hubby merely tolerant or is he prepared to meet the increased demands this will put on you both? Will he help with the housework? Will the children get adequate care and attention?

A job may free you from some routine household work, but your responsibility to the home is still there. Can you arrange your schedule to handle both assignments without damaging yourself or your family, either physically or emotionally?

Does it put you ahead financially? At first glance, a pay of $40 or $65 a week seems like a good addition to your budget; but, is it really that much after taxes, transportation, lunches, clothes, baby-sitters, increased social obligations?

Deltas to Cite Daisy Bates at National Confab; Dr. Noble, Top Officers Renominated

Washington, D. C.—Delta Sigma Theta Sorority at its Chicago convention will award on behalf of all sit-in demonstrators at Southern lunch counters the North Carolina A. & T. College student who initiated the movement at the F. W. Woolworth store in Greensboro, N.C.

It will also award: Little Rock integration leader Daisy Bates; the yet un-announced "Delta Woman of 1960;" and its Savannah State College chapter for academic excellence. Mrs. Bates, president of the Arkansas State Conference of Branches of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, will be the first annual recipient of Delta's newly-established "Mary Church Terrell Award" for distinguished public service.

Top Officers Renamed

President Jeanne L. Noble and all but one of the top-ranking officers of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority have been unanimously renominated for second two-year terms by Delta's Nominating Committee.

The Committee met June 11 at Chicago's Palmer House Hotel, where Delta's 26th National Convention will be held Aug. 14-21, and made its report publicly available this week. Headed by Attorney Frankie M. Freeman, associate general counsel of the St. Louis Housing and Land Clearance Authorities, the Nominating Committee in a preface to its report said:

Leadership

"Our Committee recognized the need to maintain the calibre of leadership that can meet the challenging needs and opportunities of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority at this unprecedented time in history as we approach the observance of our Golden Anniversary."

Government

There are 8½ million civilian government workers, federal, state and national, according to the Tax Foundation, or about one for every 21 Americans. The most recent count shows that there were nearly 200,000 more of these workers last October than a year before. Most of this increase came at the state and local level.

Lunch Counter Jim Crow Ended in Greensboro, N. C.

New York—News that lunch counters were desegregated in Greensboro, N. C., on July 25, the city where the current wave of sit-ins was set off by four Negro college students, brought cogent comment from one of the original demonstrators.

One of the youths, 18-year-old Joseph McNeil, an A & T College sophomore working this summer as an NAACP field secretary for youth, said here today:

Inspiration

"The move really inspires me. We've got 13 more lunch counters to integrate when we get back to school this fall."

Segregation ended quietly at the counter of two variety stores—Woolworth and Kress—in Greensboro where store managers agreed with the Mayor's advisory committee to begin service on an integrated basis. Eating facilities were also desegregated this week in the Norfolk-Portsmouth area of Virginia.

14 States

Young McNeil recalled that when he and friends sat down for coffee on Feb. 1 in Greensboro, a waitress warned him they would get in trouble.

"She said, 'It's your kind of people who hold your race back.' I'd say what happened in Greensboro this week proved how wrong she was."

Sit-ins have been led by NAACP youth members in many cities. The original sit-ins were conducted by NAACP young people in Oklahoma City and Wichita, Kans., in August 1958. The current wave, beginning in Greensboro early this year, has spread to 14 southern states.

Lumumba, Leader of Congo, Likes U.S.

New York City—Tall Congo Premier Lumumba is really a smiling diplomat who, although he speaks no English, finds a way of communicating with Americans. He is having a good time in this country.

As guest of many foreign officials, he is entertained lavishly. As a guest in the home of the Liberian Ambassador to the UN, Nathan Barnes, Lumumba greeted many Americans so warmly, signing autographs and speaking through an interpreter about his country, he made many new friends for the Belgian Congo.

Troops

Meanwhile, troops were being sent to Leopoldville and more diplomats to survey the situation. They were greeted with "Long live free Congo". The most urgent business was a matter of the treasury which is almost depleted. The UN is negotiating to make immediate bank loans, plus help the country to help itself by sending trained technicians to replace those which fled and were run out of the Congo.

Can Tomatoes Whole for Salads

In home-canning tomatoes, the utility or regular pack, in which the tomatoes are pressed down tight, is all right for most purposes, but a few whole packed tomatoes come in handy. When chilled and cut in quarters, they add much to tomato aspic and other congealed salads.

Regardless of how you are going to pack tomatoes, use only clean, fresh, sound, firm, red-ripe tomatoes for canning. Every tomato should be washed, rinsed, and drained before scalding. To scald tomatoes without over-cooking, put 8 or 8 in a square of cheesecloth or wire basket and hold in boiling water about one-half minute. Dip in cold water and drain before cutting out the core. (Cut deep enough to get it all.) After the core is out, slip off the skin and drop tomato into a hot Ball Mason Jar. If whole tomatoes are wanted, pack them closely without crushing and add hot tomato juice or water to cover. If using utility pack, press the tomatoes down tight until juice runs from them. One teaspoon salt is usually added to each quart of tomatoes, although tomatoes keep as well without salt.

Don't forget to leave almost ½ inch of headspace when filling the jar. Run a knife down between the tomatoes and the jar to bring up air bubbles. More liquid may be needed to fill space left when the bubbles are removed from jars of whole packed tomatoes. Don't bother to add more to the utility pack.

Wipe tops and threads of jars clean. Then apply your Ball Dome Caps according to instructions printed on the box. Process tomatoes in a boiling water bath, 35 minutes for whole tomatoes and 45 minutes for a utility pack.

Personally Yours
-by-
Frances Mulhorne.

Well, here we are again after a most delightful vacation. However, after the very excellent job my husband did last week we are more than a little tempted to turn the job over to him permanently. His column especially drew many nice comments, including mine. Thanks, to him I did not have to worry one bit whether the job was being done last week so I was able to relax and thoroughly enjoy our latest addition to the family fold as well as get in a good visit with my mother, Mrs. Pauline Watson, of Eolia, Mo., who came to spend two weeks with us and help with the household cares and duties.

During the past several weeks and for some time to come this paper has been coming to your door by mail or by your news carrier, as a finished product, as far as reporting goes, through the combined efforts of my husband and myself. I could not do it otherwise. We also want to thank the many kind and thoughtful people who have gotten their news in on time. That helps tremendously.

We don't like to say we told you so but we can't pass this one up. About two months ago we were downtown waiting for the bus, when a lady walked up and said, "What are you going to name him?" I smiled and answered, "You mean, 'She' don't you?" She answered, "No, he. You are carrying a boy. Mark my word." We continued to smile a little but we wondered a little, too.

The lady identified herself. "I'm

Mrs. Bertha Record. Remember what I said." So Mrs. Record, our insincere but respectful apologies for crossing you up. We did so want a girl.

One of the ladies employed out at Lutheran hospital who had duties in the maternity wing while we were there was Mrs. Norman Blackburn, a lifelong resident of the city. Conversing with her we learned she lives not too far from us at 1507 University. One morning a nurse aide popped smilingly around the door, saying, "Hi, why didn't you wait until my shift to have your baby?" She chatted a while then left, but returned shortly, saying, "You don't work here do you?" For a while I thought you were the girl who worked downstairs. We learned she was an even closer neighbor of ours. She is Mrs. Gloria Moore of 1101 University Ave. There was another young woman who had duties in the nursery and frequently brought our baby to us but unfortunately we did not learn her name other than that she is a former Miss Green. By the way Mrs. Moore is the sister-in-law of Laurence Griffith, Des Moines postal clerk, who lives at 716 Laurel St.

CONVENTION COMMENTS AND HIGHLIGHTS

National political conventions are big spectacles which fortunately most people have seen on television. There is just no substitute for them. Much time and effort were put into the platforms at each of the major political conventions. Both came up with rather creditable documents but the real test is just how well those who are elected choose to implement them.

The Democrats pledged repeal of senate rule 22 requiring 2/3 majority to invoke cloture. They must secure the help of Republicans to accomplish the job; there is the hard core Southern Democrats who vow never will there be a change and a few conservative Republicans with their heads in the sand and allies of the Democrats, must be dealt with.

Vice President Nixon and his close admirers have been allied with groups known to take liberal views toward civil rights and other measures aimed to the attainment of first class citizenship. Many of Kennedy's admirers fall into the same category.

Both parties propose to use Negro workers in their campaign and thus human rights will get full emphasis.

Convention Speakers

E. Frederick Morrow, member of the White House staff, and grandson of a slave, thanked the President for "acting to bring equality for all," for integration in the armed forces and in Washington, D.C., and for "the first two civil rights bills enacted in the last 80 years." He spoke on the Thank You Mr. President Program.

Mr. Morrow was among the 30 top Republicans who conferred with Vice President on policy Thursday following his nomination.

Mrs. Jewel Rogers of Chicago seconded the nomination of Vice President Nixon.

Edward Brooks, Republican candidate for secretary of State of Massachusetts, led the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag on Wednesday night.

Iowan's In Evidence

Fred D. Hawkins, formerly active young Republican in Des Moines, was much in evidence among Iowans in the Conrad Hilton and Blackstone Hotels.

An interesting Iowan, born in Charles City, Joseph F. Albright, was an official greeter at the "Volunteers for Nixon" headquarters in the Conrad Hilton hotel.

Unusual Visitors

A 106 year old minister from Brooklyn, N. Y., Commander E. A. Jackson had a lot of advice for visitors who called at the office of Val Washington, head of the Minorities Section of the National Committee. He was appointed a lieutenant navigator by President Wilson.

Attorney Joseph A. Bailey, who opposes Rev. A. Clayton Powell for Congress, was on hand.

High Finance

William Parker, alternate delegate, Gilbert Randle, Calvin Pruitt and James B. Morris, were among the Iowans at the convention. One of these gentlemen made a mistake when he allowed himself to be led into the Stock Yards Inn for dinner. The cheapest thing he could find was a cut of roast beef. He muffed the price to be 85¢ when as a matter of fact it was $4.85. He gave the waiter $5.00 bill who never returned with the change. He wailed, scolded his friends for "leading me wrong" and vowed to eat hot dogs and beer thereafter.

Val Washington

The office of Val Washington, head of the Minorities Section of the Republican National Committee, buzzed all during the convention with delegates and visitors from most states. In fact, word got around that if you wanted to know who was at the convention, visit Val Washington's office.

Gala Affair

Chicago Republicans were hosts at a buffet dinner at the Palmer House which outstripped all social events given during the convention. It was given during the convention. It was terracial. It is reported that the tab was ten thousand.

Both Gov. Rockefeller and Vice President Nixon had a hardy welcome and handshakes at their receptions all in such a manner as to make one feel he was a real part of the convention.

Resorts

Just a few miles from world-famous resorts on the French Riviera, there are little towns utterly untouched by the twentieth century

Joe Black Just Days Short of Qualifying For Baseball Pension

New York, N. Y.—Joe Black, the former Dodger mound star, was at the International League opener in Jersey City, July 15. Joe teaches in a nearby community and came over on the chance the new team might need him to pitch in batting practice. The Jerseys are an affiliate of the Reds. Cincinnati was one of the teams Black pitched for after he left Brooklyn.

15 Days Short

Black revealed he is 15 days short of qualifying under the five-year-rule for a pension and this has to stand out as one of the major equities to develop since the plan was instituted. Not that Joe is going to need the $88 a month to keep him off the relief rolls, but, if ever a fellow warranted inclusion, it was Black. He started three games in the 1952 World's Series, including the opener for one thing, and lest we forget, without TV-radio revenue from the World's Series, there wouldn't be a pension.

Others Around

There are others in the same boat, and Black named names, including a fellow who has been around for half of his 40 years, but doesn't have enough pieces of major league service to add up to five years. One particular club is carrying this man just long enough to qualify him.

When it was suggested that perhaps someone might be convinced it would be mutually advantageous to carry Joe on its rolls for a month, he answered, "No, I wouldn't want it that way."

This is the week that the Hilltop tennis club works toward each year. The week of the Des Moines open tennis tournament. The thing is in a favored spot being the first major meet of the season here and the boys and Mrs. Esther Myers, who runs the meet, expect one of the biggest entries in the history of the thing. In the Men's singles, Gene Nadig is the defending champion and if he can get to the finals is awfully hard to beat on the Good park courts.

After Crown

Mrs. Myers, former winner, would like very much to wrap up the women's singles crown again and she has been carrying along a couple of youngsters of whom she expects great things. She is especially high on Armilla Bell who will be in the 13 and under girls.

In the men's doubles the Nadig brothers could be the tops if John has recovered from his fall at Cedar Rapids.

Original Idea

Funny thing about the meet . . . the idea was to develop some Negro boys into top notch tennis players and in all these years we have had one finalist, Paul Williams. The rest of our prospects just haven't come through in spite of our program that has been pushed real hard by the club.

Mrs. Myers is our only major winner in the men's and women's events, but the club keeps on trying. Now, we have had some fine prospects that just didn't have enough time to devote to the game after —where women still gather in the town square to do their washing at a common trough.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Are You Welcome?

When Mrs. Brown left the hospital after visiting hours, she was pleased with herself. She felt she'd done a good job of cheering up poor Dorothy. But back in her hospital room, poor Dorothy was having hysterics.

Mrs. Brown meant well but she broke most of the rules for making a hospital visit a welcome one. Here they are:

Rules

Call the hospital to find out if the patient wants visitors that day. A hospital patient who is feeling particularly tired or ill or who has been given a sedative may not want to see anyone.

Don't say, insincerely, "How well you look." But also don't say with obvious shock, "Good heavens, you poor thing, you look awful."

Don't complain about the tough time you had getting to the hospital or how long you had to wait downstairs because you arrived too early.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by: YOUR TUBERCULOSIS AND HEALTH ASSOCIATION.

Attitude

Don't make the patient dissatisfied with the way the hospital is run or with the treatment given. This is especially important in long-term illness such as tuberculosis, when the patient may be anxious to leave the hospital anyway, though against medical advice.

Don't talk about your own ill health or hospital experience.

Don't press for details if the patient seems unwilling to talk about the illness.

Don't tout a pet home remedy that's "every bit as good as a hospital—such expense!"

Enter a hospital room quietly, keep your voice low, don't lean or sit on the bed, and don't stay more than fifteen minutes unless the patient insists.

Satchel Paige To Get Another Honorary Degree; Veteran Pitcher May Yet Make Hall of Fame

Wichita, Kas.—Satchel Paige, veteran baseball pitcher who gained fame in colored baseball and later in the major leagues, will be honored for his long contribution to the game when the National Baseball Congress, of which he is an alumnus, awards him a degree in full cap and gown ceremony, Aug. 19.

The tall, angular colored hurler is the leading graduate from the Congress program over the last 25-year period. He will wear the traditional cap and gown for the presentation at the opening of the 26th annual national non-pro tournament next month.

Long List

The latest in a long list of honors to the ageless moundman, the Congress degree revived speculations Satch may yet be considered for inclusion in the Hall of Fame, where the names of past greats of the American national pastime are enshrined.

In his heyday, Satch was terrific, to say the least. He was without doubt one of the greatest pitchers of his time, rivaling such immortals as Dizzie Dean and "Rapid" Bob Feller, the strikeout king, who was Paige's teammate on the 1948 American League champions Cleveland Indians.

Greatest in Negro Loop

Paige was for many years the they outgrew their junior days. But it looks as if that boy with the golden touch just hasn't come along yet. But be that as it may, we will see you Sunday at the park for the finals.

Football

A friend of ours went to the Canadian football game in Cedar Rapids last week end. We asked him what he thought about it. Well aside from the fact that Homer Lewis nearly ran down on the field to block for his nephew when Leo Lewis took off on that 80-yard sprint, the game wasn't much different from what we kids grew up on the East side playing. We didn't block after our runners got past the line of scrimmage. Too busy watching them run. In our games if a man caught two passes in a row it was a pretty safe bet that he would not catch number three or if he did he would probably wish he hadn't. Yep, the game was interesting in that it brought back memories of many a Sunday afternoon on East 16th street and University. Oh yeah, we never had less than 12 guys on a side so even that wasn't different.

top pitcher and main attraction in the Negro American League. He has written a book based on his career, entitled "Pitching Man."

Although entering the majors after he was past his prime, Paige helped the Indians win the pennant in the '48 season. But perhaps his most brilliant performance in the big show came in August 1952, when he shut out the Detroit Tigers in 12 innings to lead the St. Louis Browns to a 1-0 victory. His opponent in the game was Virgil "Fireball" Trucks.

After leaving the major league, he played for the Miami Marlins of the International League.

Negro Members of U.S. Olympic Women's Team Start Drills

Emporia, Kansas—Members of the U. S. Olympic women's team, including several Negro stars, arrived here late last week to begin training for the 1960 games opening in Rome, Italy in August.

Included in the group were these alumni of the 1956 Olympic: Earlene Brown, Los Angeles, shot put and discus; Barbara Jones, Chicago, 100 meters and relays; Wilma Rudolph and Lucinda Williams, Tennessee State A. and I. university stars from Clarksville, Tenn., and Nashville, Tenn., 100 and 200 and relays, and Willie White, Greenwood, Miss., broad jump.

The team is expected to number about 26 athletes.

VISION

Vision means much more than sight that separates the left from right, far more exists than the gain of today what is tasted or seen, fun frolic and play. The cultures that are dead and gone, or this passing show we're gazing on. Beyond the planes of mundane life above its grief, its toll and strife, dwells glory beyond the comprehension of mental slaves in this dimension. Vision is—to the searching mind in the hunt for ease for all mankind. The sight that aims each questing thought, to penetrate those barriers wrought: by time and nature, or bigoted men; that mess up the world we're living in.

God bless all the pioneers who make the decision, to fight for the truth through their power of vision.

Thoughts for Today

I like a Highland friend who will stand by me, not only when I am in the right, but when I am a little in the wrong.—Sir Walter Scott.

Not in clanging fights and desperate arches only is heroism to be looked for, but on every railroad bridge and fireproof building that is going up today. On freight trains on the decks of vessels, in cattle yards, in mines, on lumber rafts, among the firemen and the policemen, the demand for courage is incessant and the supply never falls.—William James.

I like not only to be loved, but to be told that I am loved. The realm of silence is large enough beyond the

Fishing

From Life magazine: "The one incontrovertible charm of fishing is the shaded pool, the lazy lake, the mild mystery of the next bend, and the clean solitude. Fishing is a good excuse for getting closer to nature, if you need an excuse; in which case it is better to fish crudely than not to fish at all. But not so crudely that you spoil nature for the next man. The only fisherman who really deserves the name of slob is the litterbug who leaves a trail of capacious vandalism, empty beer cans and soggy cartons. These are signs of a character that even nature can't reform."

Here's Way to Mix Paint
AN EASY way to mix paint or enamel in small cans is to use an old egg beater. Simply cut down the revolving vanes so that the center rod remains a little longer. In this way, the vanes will be kept off the bottom of the can. Wind a piece of wire around the vane stems to hold them. This device will mix the contents more thoroughly than a paddle or stick. (Illustration courtesy Popular Mechanics.)
