Racial Violence Flares in Florida

Order New Orleans Schools Integrated, Now

Three Federal Judges Cite Attorney General For Contempt Also

New Orleans, La.—The New Orleans parish school board which had given passive support to segregated public schools and failed to act on an order given it four years ago to proceed integration with all deliberate speed, was electrified into action here Friday when a three man federal court Louisiana's racial laws illegal.

BULLETIN

New Orleans school board before it delay was granted Tuesday to the New Orleans school board before it must begin integrating the first grades of public schools. Federal Judge K. Skelly Wright granted the board's request of a delay until Nov. 14, the beginning of the second quarter of the school year.

The decision restrained state officials from interfering with the public schools, and returned control of the city's 118 public schools to the New Orleans parish (county) school board. The three court also cited Attorney General Jack P. F. Grimillion with contempt for his stormy walkout Friday during a hearing that preceded Saturday's decision.

NAACP Victory

For the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Saturday's interpretation of desegregation law was a complete victory. The NAACP had been fighting the racial school situation for the past eight years.

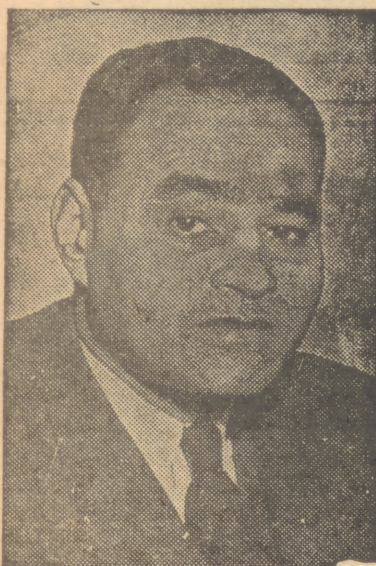

28 Schools

According to authorities, the decision could affect 28 of the city's white elementary schools, which are located in mixed neighborhoods or are located near Negro neighborhoods. It was also believed that the decision would prevent any alternative reciprocal action by the state officials to prevent integration unless they decide to close the school. Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, who had fired the school board and ordered schools open a day early on a segregated basis, some weeks ago, has hinted that he will close the schools if

NEWS In A Nutshell

Huntsville, Ala.—For the first time in history, a Negro has taken his place on a Madison county grand jury. He is Warren Q. Scott, county farm agent here and a resident of the county for more than 20 years.

Washington, D. C.—Edward B. King, Jr., charged last week that he and a friend, James Gibson, were told by the manager of the Trailways Bus terminal at Atlanta, Ga., that they could not use the white waiting room or rest room under any circumstances. He protested the incident to the Interstate Commerce commission.

New York—Following closely in her mother's footsteps, Gail Jones, 22-year-old daughter of singer Lena Horne, will make her stage debut a singing one when she plays the feminine lead in "Valmouth", a new musical opening off Broadway's the week of Oct. 3.

Charleston, W. Va.—Charleston hospital officials denied last week that Negro girls are refused entrance to the city's two nursing training schools. However, they wouldn't say flatly that the schools are open to Negroes. "We never had any apply," they added.

Minneapolis, Minn.—The first meeting of the National Society for the Preservation of the White Race nearly met disaster when members unwittingly nominated a Negro to head their organization. Nominated as chairman of the newly-formed anti-Negro group was Jean Pierre Guilment, former member of the Spokesman-Recorder staff, present news editor of the North Minneapolis Post and NAACP member.

Memphis, Tenn.—Memphis laws prohibit Negroes from watching the monkeys at the zoo on the same day that the "white folks" are looking at them. This absurd law was invoked last week when eight police squad cars converged upon the zoo to arrest three teenaged girls.

Muskegon, Mich.—Jesse Key was so pleased with the enticing aroma coming from the kitchen that he crept up behind his wife while she was cooking and tickled. Mrs. Kay was cooking and tickled her. Mrs. Kay was so startled by the unexpected dig that she sent a heavy iron skillet sailing into the air. You guessed it: the skillet came down on hubby's head—fracturing his skull.

Boston, Mass.—Mrs. Esther Henderson of Cochituate has begun legal steps to protect the will of a Miami lawyer who left his $500,000 estate to his Negro cook, Mrs. Lula Peacock and placed $32,000 in trust for her 11-year-old daughter, Bonita.

Miami, Fla.—Horseplay in a night club over a 25 cent piece resulted in the killing of Joseph D. Hamilton, 28. Police said Hamilton had flipped a quarter toward the band for playing a request. Arthur Clark, 20, seated nearer to the band, jokingly caught the quarter, and Hamilton walked over and slapped his face. Clark then jerked a pistol from a friend's pocket and chased Hamilton, before firing four shots into his body.

New Orleans, La.—Mrs. Rosemary Hall Domino withdrew a separation

ADMIRING ARMY RESERVE STICKER

Major Luther T. Glanton, Jr. (better known to most Iowans as Municipal Judge Glanton) and Col. Harry D. Easton, are shown above admiring the "One Army—One Team—Join the Army Reserves" bumper sticker placed on the personal automobile of Maj. Glanton!

Judge Glanton Rises High In 2nd Profession as Major In Judge Advocate Corps

For most men it is enough to conquer one profession in a life time. The exceptional man . . . dares to attempt two or more . . . and triumph over his conquests in parallel efforts.

One such man in Des Moines is Maj. Luther Thomas Glanton, Jr., better known to most Iowans and residents of surrounding states, as Municipal Judge Glanton. Here is a man who has made his way up the ladder in not one, but two noble professions . . . in the army and in law, first as a lawyer and now as a jurist.

He went down in the pages of Iowa history when he was appointed as the first Negro judge in the state in January 1959, to fill a vacancy on the municipal bench in Des Moines. Last November, he made history again when he was elected to the same office by a large majority of voters that crossed political lines.

Judge Advocate

Major Glanton, Judge Advocate General Corps, United States Army Reserve, was initially commissioned as a Second Lieutenant following his successful completion of the Provost Marshal General's Officer Candidate School on Feb. 26, 1944.

His wartime service in the European Theater of Operations earned him the American Defense Medal, the World War II Victory Medal, the American Theater Medal, the Europe Africa-Middle East Theater Medal with campaign stars for participation in the Northern France and Ardennes-Alsace Campaigns, and four overseas service bars. As might be expected of an officer of the Military Police Corps, he qualsuit she had filed two weeks ago against her husband, Antoine (Fats) Domino, Jr. It was the first time in New Orleans that a Negro woman had asked $2,500 a month alimony and also the first time in which a Negro man's income was listed in Civil Court records as $100,000 or more per year. The Dominos have seven children.

Masonic Officer from Michigan Is Guest At Iowa Meeting

Sunday, Aug. 14, a meeting of Prince Hall Masons of the Iowa Jurisdiction was held at the home of Charles Peguese, Deputy Grand Master of Iowa, 1433 Maple Street. Guest for the afternoon was Elmer Wallace of Detroit, Mich.

Mr. Wallace is a Past Grand Master of the Michigan jurisdiction and is presently serving as Chairman of the Committee of Foreign Correspondence for the Michigan Grand Lodge. Iowa Masons present were, Charles W. Peguese, R. W. Deputy Grand Master of Iowa, P.G.M. Frank M. Robinson, P.G.M. Paul Wilson, Warren Stovall, W.M. N. Star No. 2, Richard Henderson, W. M. Doric No. 30, Ralph Parker, P.M. N. Star No. 2, Dr. J. G. Mason, P.P. Zeld No. 90, and Dr. L. A. James, S.W. N. Star No. 2.

Named to Democratic Exec. Campaign Com.

Washington, D. C.—Frank D. Reeves, assistant to Senator John

Frank H. Reeves

F. Kennedy, has been named Honorary Co-Chairman of the Kennedy-Johnson Campaign Executive Committee for the District of Columbia.

The announcement was made this week by Senator Henry M. Jackson, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, at the opening of the District's Committee Headquarters.

Reeves is a well-known Washington lawyer who was elected a member of the Democratic National Committee from the District of Columbia last May.

Military Work

Following his release from active military service on Dec. 7, 1946, after having been successively promoted to First Lieutenant and Captain, he maintained his military whether it comes from a prejudice on race, color, or religious creed, for bigotry in any area of human life is a malicious disease and hurts human beings.

The TUC also attacked "Republican Big Business" which "owns the sweat shops and open shops in the South that exploit the working man, both Negro and white."

On The Political Scene

Washington, D. C.—A knee injury sustained when he bumped it on an automobile door 11 days ago in North Carolina, landed Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the hospital Monday for "approximately two weeks." Though it cut short his campaign appearances, it was believed that Nixon would be released from Walter Reed hospital here in time to begin his major campaign on Sept. 12 which will take him in a cross country tour from Indiana to Texas and on to the West Coast.

Press Secretary Herbert Klein said doctors described the injury as an infection ("hemolytic staphylococcus aureus") diagnosed by analysis of fluid drawn from the swollen knee. Klein said the hospitalization was recommended by the doctors as "a precautionary measure to avoid any possible permanent damage to his knee."

One Killed, Scores Injured Following Pitched Battle Between Whites, Negroes

Jacksonville, Fla.—Racial violence flared anew here Monday night when a young Negro was killed and another hurt after the two had fired shots on a downtown section service station. The two victims were reported when two police officers who were at the station investigating an earlier shooting, returned the gun shots. They said the Negroes' car then crashed into a power pole a block away. It was reported that it was undetermined whether the shots from the policemen's guns or the crash had caused the unidentified Negro's death.

Pitched Battle

Violence erupted here when groups of club wielding Negroes and white persons staged a pitched battle here Saturday. Sidney Walker, 22, standing in a group of white persons on a residential corner was wounded by shots fired from a carload of Negroes. Sporadic shooting and violence was reported throughout Saturday night. Motorists reported rocks, bottles and potash thrown at cars. A white youth was stabbed by two young Negroes and another white man reported facial burns.

Uprising Urged

There were reports that a panel truck with a loudspeaker driven by a Negro woman through the Negro area, urged Negroes to rise up in arms against the whites. A Jacksonville radio station that an anonymous telephone call from a man said white groups from all over the state would come to the city and break up a scheduled meeting of the NAACP youth council and Negro leaders.

Sit-ins

Despite the violence most of the injuries were minor. Mayor Haydon Burns said the trouble was touched off by a group of white men from out-of-town who showed up in front of a downtown variety store—scene of recent Negro sit-ins—carrying ax handles and Confederate flags. The mayor said officials could sense that racial trouble was brewing for at least four weeks and was fanned by the sit-in demonstrations.

U. S. WILL SUE IF NEGRO ELECTRICIANS ARE NOT HIRED ON FEDERAL BUILDING

Washington, D. C.—The United States Government is threatening a suit unless Negro electricians are hired to work on the construction of the Federal Office Building No. 6. According to Franklin C. Floete, head of the General Services Administration, a deadline of 10 days to hire a Negro has been set and a letter sent with the implied threat that the Government would step in. Mahew H. McCloskey, president of McCloskey is general contractors on the big building project and since he is also treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, the whole thing has political overtones.

Cancellation

Legal action could lead to cancellation of the contract and this would be based on charges that McCloskey and Co. had violated non-discrimination clauses written into Federal contracts.

At least one qualified Negro electrician has applied for work, according to Mr. Floete, but he has not even been granted an interview. The President's Committee on Government Contracts, which is headed by Vice-President Nixon several months ago pressed McCloskey and some other companies to hire Negroes for construction projects here. The companies said they were willing but maintained that Negroes who applied were not qualified.

Lumumba Forces Ready to Invade Katanga Province; Congolese Beat Americans

Leopoldville, The Congo—Determined to make a strong bid to deal with secessionist Katanga province to bring it back into the national Congolese fold, it was reported early Wednesday that Premier Patrice Lumumba's army was deploying troops to the Kasai province for an apparent invasion. However, it was also reported that the Congo Premier is receiving armed aid from the Communist and that 100 Soviet trucks of the type used for transporting troops have been sent to the interior to the mystery camp.

Soviet Planes

The report added that 10 Soviet Ilyushin-14 planes are being flown to the Congo and are expected to arrive in Stanleyville within a few days. The purpose of the flight is not known but it is being rumored that they may be piloted by Czechs and that a new airline may replace the old Belgian line known as Air Congo.

Meanwhile, over the weekend, the United Nations troops seem to be losing control of the situation, and their worst fears were realized when a screaming, dancing crowd of angry Congolese attacked and severely beat eight American airmen at Stanleyville last Saturday. The assault occurred when a Globemaster landed at Stanleyville with a cargo of signal equipment for U. N. forces. One of the Americans said the Congolese "were positive we were Belgians."

The United States drafted a stiff protest to the Congolese government, but a shocked and angry Ambassador Clare Timberlake was unable to contact Congo Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko.

AGGIE FOOTBALL FIELD GETS NEW PRESS BOX

Greensboro, N. C.—Sports scribes who cover A&T College football games will be afforded new and comfortable quarters for the upcoming season. The City of Greensboro is constructing a new press box at Memorial Stadium, home playing field for the Aggies. The new facility, according to Oka Hester, supervisor of Greensboro recreation, will be ready for the opening tilt, the A&T College Aggies versus Tennessee State University Tigers on Saturday night, September 24.

Besides a completely glassed-in radio booth and partially enclosed PA room, the new facility will give "front row" accommodations for 12 members of the working press. On a raised level at rear, accommodations are available for a dozen visiting scouts and "spotters."

PATTERSON MAY GET ONE MILLION FOR DEFENSE

New York—The Floyd Patterson-Johansson heavyweight championship fight is being held up for several reasons but the biggest of them is money. Patterson is about to get $1,000,000 from Feature Sports, the Promoters. However, it's rumored that Johansson wants the same thing and this is where the battle begins.

Green Stuff

Johansson knows that without him there would be no big money. And as much as he likes the green stuff, he's holding out despite the fact he looked so bad in the 2nd go. Patterson copped some $800,000 for his June 20th battle. So that a million bucks would be about right for his third go. How Feature Sports will resolve this will be interesting.

Charleston NAACP Seeks Police Probe in Mystery Death of 13-Year Old Boy

Charleston, S. C.—A deepening mystery surrounding the death of a 13-year-old boy at Edisto Beach, an offshore island near here, has caused the Charleston NAACP to demand a complete police investigation.

The boy's body, identified as that of Fred Robinson, was found washed ashore on Aug. 5. He had hired out as a helper on a shrimp trawler two days earlier. His eyes were reported gouged out, his skull crushed.

Accidental?

An official probe was urged by J. Arthur Brown, NAACP branch president, in a wire to Marion Schwartz, director of Charleston County Police, on Aug. 24. The county police head immediately acknowledged the NAACP request and has promised reinvestigation, according to Brown. A police spokesman later stated that when the boy's body was found it appeared that the death was "accidental."

But a later investigation among friends and relatives conducted by NAACP officials here indicated that Fred suffered possible violence, although there was no clear motive found.

Hint Foul Play

First hint at foul play in Fred's death was published not here, but in New York City by Columnist Carl Lawrence of the Citizen Call.

Mr. Lawrence told NAACP National Office that he had received a "tip" from a New Yorker just returning from Edisto Beach that circumstances surrounding the boy's death were suspicious and should be investigated. Lawrence's informant said residents of the area were fearful of reprisals if they made issue of the incident and remained close-mouthed.

Upon this disclosure, the NAACP National Office requested the local NAACP and its South Carolina field secretary, I. DeQuincey Newman, to initiate investigation.

It was shortly ascertained that young Robinson was hired on Aug. 3 as a helper on a shrimp trawler.

Not Seen Again

He was not seen again until his body was washed ashore on Aug. 5. Tommie Lybrand, the fishing boat skipper, said the boy vanished from the trawler following return of the boat to dock on Aug. 3. According to Mr. Newman no inquest was conducted and no autopsy performed.

Fred, who resided with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson, was buried two days later from the First Baptist Church of Edisto Beach. The body, according to Newman, was turned over to the Fielding Funeral Home by Charleston County Police.

A. PHILIP RANDOLPH REFUSES TO GO ALONG WITH KENNEDY ENDORSEMENT

Washington, D. C.—A. Philip Randolph—long known for his independent thinking—refused to go along with the rest of the chiefs of the AFL-CIO and was the sole one of 150 to vote against endorsing Senator John F. Kennedy for President of the United States.

"There is not enough difference between them (Nixon and Kennedy) to justify a choice," was his comment.

Thus the vote went 149 for Kennedy and one against Kennedy. Randolph wanted to start a new party—a labor party. But President George Meany squelched the idea and thought that all labor should work with the present two party system.

Another labor chief complained, too, but he, Joseph Curran of the National Maritime Union, voted with the rest. He said: "I'm not pleased with him (Kennedy). I've never been pleased with him and I doubt if I ever will be pleased with him. . . I'm even less pleased with the other guy." Curran finally came in line.

Boy Scouts to Collect Used Household Items

Beginning Sept. 17, Tall Corn Area Council Boy Scouts of America will sponsor a community service campaign to collect usable and repairable household discards for non-profit Goodwill Industries of Des Moines, Inc., newest member of the United Campaign.

Distribute Bags

On Saturday, Sept. 17, the Boy Scouts organization, also a United Campaign agency, will distribute 25,000 Goodwill Bags to households in Polk County, asking that residents cooperate in the campaign by filling the Goodwill Bags with usable and repairable items of clothing, shoes, small appliances, books, toys, dishes and other allied housewares—actually, items no longer needed or wanted.

On the following Saturday, Sept. 24, the Boy Scouts will collect the filled Goodwill Bags. The discarded materials gathered during the operation—designated as "Good Turn Day for Goodwill Industries"—will be used to aid the Goodwill program of employment and job-training.

AAA Motor Club Issues 'SCHOOL'S OPEN' Warning to Motorists

With the opening of school, the AAA Motor Club of Iowa Tuesday urged motorists to remain alert for youngsters crossing the streets on their way to and from classes. Pointing out that 14 per cent of all pedestrian deaths are school-age children, the AAA Club reminded motorists that youngsters seldom are sufficiently aware of traffic dangers and consequently take unnecessary chances in crossing the street.

Up To Motorists

"It's up to the motorist to watch out for these youngsters, many of whom are just learning the fundamentals of traffic safety," said the AAA Motor Club of Iowa.

The AAA Club said that a safety poster on the theme, "School's Open—Drive Carefully" will soon make its appearance on local streets, and motorists were urged to heed its advice.

Belafonte, currently in Israel after a tour of Europe, expects to sign talent for his Nov. 13 special while abroad.

Family Finances

Insurance Counselor Old Equity Life, Evanston, Ill

How would you like to dress your family better all year long and save money?

Just follow two simple rules: 1. Never buy strictly seasonal clothes when living in a four-season area. Before buying any item of clothing ask yourself, "Can this be worn all year around or at least three of the four seasons?"

The only necessary exceptions are heavy winter outer clothing or bathing suits and the like for extremely hot weather.

Play clothes for the whole family can be bought in either light weight washable wool or heavy duty cotton. Slacks in these fabrics are fitting for outdoor summer recreation or indoor winter spectator sports.

2. NEVER choose the dressiest or the sportiest outfit. Seek versatility. Color and style should be selected to fit a variety of places and events like church, picnics, etc.

These two rules will enable your family to buy fewer, better clothes that will last longer and serve any occasion, any season.

FULL HISTORY, THE NEGRO IN AMERICA TO BE PUBLISHED BY BALLANTINE BOOK

New York, N.Y.—Ballantine Books announced that on Sept. 29 it will publish THE PEOPLE THAT WALK IN DARKNESS by Dr. J. W. Schulte Nordholt. This original and full history of the Negro people in the United States will be released in a 75c paperback edition for newsstand distribution.

Dr. Nordholt is well qualified to author such a book. A Dutch historian, he came to this country for four years to analyze and study Negro history. His disassociation from his subject except in a professional sense lends his book a refreshing and lucid objectivity. Originally written in Dutch, the book was well received by the critics and was a best seller in Holland and Great Britain. James W. Ivey, editor of THE CRISIS, after reading an advance galley of the book, made these comments:

This is a book of importance for every thinking American . . . THE PEOPLE THAT WALK IN DARKNESS is concise and readable, and the author writes about Negroes with sympathy, perception, and erudition.

Elks Hold National Meeting in Chicago

One of the outstanding occasions was the conferring of the Emma V. Kelly Achievement Award to the nine Negro women members of State Legislature. In addition, a special award was given to Mrs. Alice S. Hannibal of Kinston, North Carolina who is the first Negro woman in the South to be elected to a City Council. The awards were given at a banquet on Thursday, Aug. 25, in the Grand Ballroom of the Sheraton Towers Hotel.

CORE Members Swim-In, Picnic At Beach in Miami, Fla.

Miami, Fla.—More than 100 whites and Negroes swam and picniced together in Miami's Crandon Park as part of the CORE Interracial Action Institute. There was little difficulty during the nonviolent swim-in. However, one white man did hurl insults at the white participants.

Members of CORE's Interracial Action Institute here for a three-week course in nonviolent methods, made up the bulk of the participants. Gordon Carey, field director, said that the group was invited on the outing by Miami CORE.

The Lord's Waters

"We're just swimming in the Lord's waters," laughed A. D. Moore, chairman of Miami CORE, as he dried himself with a towel. One Miami CORE member, Clifford Combs, was given a police summons as he left, for parking his car in a no-parking zone. The police were polite at all times, according to Carey.

The swim-in came as nine of the students and James R. Robinson, CORE executive secretary remained in jail. They were arrested at a restaurant sit-in and have refused bail.

GOOD HEALTH

Your teenagers need the right kinds of food, and plenty of it for good health and a good appearance advises the Des Moines-Polk County Health Department. So, no matter where he eats his lunch, in a cafeteria, out of a lunch box, or at home, his lunch should provide a third of his day's food requirement. To build his growing body for mental alertness, to give him energy—he needs enough of the right kind of foods.

Eisenhower Urged to Act in Chattanooga, Tenn., Bombing; $2,000 Reward Offered

Chattanooga, Tenn., — President Eisenhower and Attorney General Rogers were urged this week by the local NAACP and the Council of Cooperative Action to take action to end further bombings in this city.

In a wire to Mr. Eisenhower and the Attorney General, James R. Mapp, NAACP branch president, and the Rev. Horace Jerome Traylor, Council of Cooperative Action president, expressed fear that unless immediate action is taken to end the recent wave of violence, "death will result."

School Board

Mapp stated that recent bombings of the homes of John James and Thomas Reid took place in an area where Negroes have been living for 10 or more years.

"It is felt that the school board, in seeking to delay school integration and publicly expressing fears that trouble such as bombings would take place, has helped create a climate for this activity."

Johansson Sweating Out Title Rematch

Geneva, Switzerland — While heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson is traveling through Sweden on an exhibition tour, Ingemar Johansson, the man he dethroned two months ago, is anxiously sweating out the proposed title rematch between them, in much the same manner as Patterson following his knockout by Ingemar in 1959.

Patterson Irked

Irked recently when the promoters of Future Sports Inc., ignored him in early negotiations for the fight, Patterson has said he definitely will not fight on the proposed November 1 date, and there was talk that the fight won't be held until next year.

Last week Johansson expressed optimism about the bout but admitted it might hit a snag. He said he would fight Patterson in Los Angeles in November. "I have already talked with the promoters and for my side, it's fine. Patterson may have something to say, but that's not my problem," he explained. Decision to call upon the President and Justice Department for assistance was made during a mass meeting held here Sunday at the First Congregational Church.

$2,000 Reward

Following the meeting a reward of $2,000 was offered by the City Commission and Mayor Peter R. Olgiati for information leading to the apprehension and conviction of bombers.

In the wire to President Eisenhower the local NAACP leader asserted, "Our local law enforcement agencies are seemingly willing, but unable to solve any bombings."

In the communication to Atty. General Rogers the Association and the Council, demanded an investigation of a "possible violation of the federal law of transporting explosives across state lines."

Rogers was told that for the "past ten weeks some home has been bombed," and that in the "past six years there have been ten or more unsolved bombings and homes shot into."

CAMPAIGN TRAIN

The campaign train, making whistle stop after whistle stop, is coming back. Senator Kennedy says: "Aside from its historical value, the tradition of the campaign train is bound to regain its role in presidential campaigns because it brings the candidate face to face with the voters to a greater degree than any other method." Vice President Nixon says: "The campaign train affords an ideal way to reach small cities in heavily populated states. All of us who have been in national campaigns have a nostalgic feeling for the campaign train which long has been an integral part of presidential races."

Lounge Chairs

Garden lounge chairs with nylon strip construction make excellent "drying racks" for freshly laundered knits and other garments which are best dried flat. After washing, rinsing, and blotting in a towel, drape a fresh towel over the chair and spread the clean garment on it. Then air can circulate freely through and around the "wash" for quick drying.

Monday, Sept. 5 beginning at 12 noon. Prizes will be awarded to winners of games and races.

and Locust streets. The reception will precede the final session of the 40th session of the Northwest Conference Sunday, which began at St. Paul A.M.E. Church Wednesday. Preaching the final sermon will be The Rt. Rev. Bishop Gomez. Rev. David A. Blake, Sr. is host pastor.

Iowans Join Foster-Student Plan to Aid School-less in Prince Edward County, Va.

Iowa City, Ia.—At a time when most children of school-age in the United States are looking forward, however, reluctantly, to the beginning of another year of school, some 1700 students almost within the shadow of the nation's capital face the second successive year of community-imposed truancy. Far from being pleased, they are hoping that lifelines of help being extended from other communities in the nation will succeed in saving a substantial number of those whose right to an education has been denied.

GLAUCOMA
Glaucoma (glaw-ko-ma) is a major cause of blindness among adults in the United States today. Blindness due to glaucoma can be prevented. If you are over forty have a thorough eye examination at least once every two years advises the Des Moines-Polk County Health Department.

DEFENSE POLICY
From England's Manchester Guardian: "Anglo-American friendship and American participation in the defence of Western Europe are the cornerstones of the defense policy of the British Government—and so far, of the Labour Party also. Long may it be so. While it is, the American bases are here to stay, and the British Government, and the British people, will rightly ignore Mr. Khrushchev's threats to retaliate with rockets against bases from which American aircraft start on what he may declare to be espionage flights. If we give ground now, many other countries in which the United States maintains bases, not necessarily for reconnaissance purposes will be tempted to run for cover. If we stand firm, they will."

BREEDING MOSQUITOES
Many country dwellers like to keep a barrel of rain water or tap water standing in their garden for use in the event of fire. They can prevent mosquitoes from breeding there by dropping a cake of soap into the barrel.

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN
SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Written by Duwayne Keller, SUI Research Assistant

SPECIAL EDUCATION
Susie, a pretty little girl with dark hair, is glad to be back in school. She is looking forward to meeting her new teacher and classmates. A situation such as this happens in the life of nearly every child. Why is this event so different?

Rheumatic Fever
On closer observation we are able to see that Susie is one out of four million children who attend special education classes—Susie has just recovered from Rheumatic Fever. In her special education classroom she will be given the special care and attention that she needs. Within the last decade there has been an awareness of the need for special education for those children who cannot profit from a regular education. These children include the mentally and physically handicapped, the emotionally disturbed, the gifted and the speech handicapped.

Special Services
The children in special education classes need special services and training that cannot be given in a regular classroom. The special education teachers are trained to work with these exceptional children. They try to provide each child with the best possible education.

The Iowa City Sponsors for Equal Education invite inquiry on the part of those who may be interested. Correspondence may be addressed to Equal Education, Box 845, Iowa City, Iowa.

Personally Yours by Frances Hawthorne.

State fair time and the summer is ended . . . at least for school children in Iowa as thousands trek back to classrooms all over the state. And of course, since it's fair time, it's also rain and storm time, because just like the Drake Relays the Fair also attracts moisture from the skies . . . and though we had two beautiful days last Friday and Saturday, and one that turned out to be just as pretty Monday and Tuesday, we had a deluge Sunday and one preceeding the Fair's opening last Thursday.

Just as we had gone to press and reported the correspondence from our newspaper colleague, Marie Ross, we learned that she had arrived in the city and was the house guest of Mrs. Alice Bell, of 843 15th street. She arrived here Wednesday afternoon and stayed over until Friday afternoon. All day Thursday we waited to hear from her, but knew as Miss Ross long as we didn't that she was still in town.

About 5 p.m. Thursday, shortly before the thunderstorm broke in the city, we answered a knocking summons at our front door and there she was, looking as well as ever.

Naturally, we had much to exchange in ways of information and conversation. Until we received her card from Denver, Colo., where she had been visiting, we had not heard from her since Christmas or shortly afterwards. There was a lot to catch up on.

While in the city, though she was unable to visit all her old acquaintances and friends as she would have liked to, she was able to see a few and to call some others before she had to get back on duty at the Kansas City Call. However, she asked us to extend her heartfelt greetings to all of you.

She told us in colorful detail of her visit to the beautiful sprawling new home of the Atty. and Mrs. W. Lawrence Oliver of 5795 N.W. 73rd street. From her description there can be few owners of such a modern, handsome landscaped and furnished home in Des Moines, no matter who they are.

When Miss Ross left our home after several hours, she was on her way to see an old friend, Miss Gwendolyn Fowler of 1179 11th street.

We told you last week of the nearly half dozen local residents who have spent some time of their vacation this summer in the Hawaiian Islands. We received a letter mailed at sea that made it an even half dozen from Des Moines. The letter was from Mrs. Susie L. Evans of 1106 17th street.

She reported that she (the letter was dated Aug. 12) was sailing to the Hawaiian Islands aboard the Matson Lines luxury liner, "The Lurline."

Mrs. Evans was accompanied by her daughter, son-in-law and niece, Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson and Pamela, of Omaha, Nebr., and her son, Dr. Lawrence A. Whitfield, of Chicago, Ill. While in the Islands she said they plan to stay at the Hawaiian Village hotel on Waikiki Beach, Honolulu.

In addition we had a picturesque communication from our old friend, Miss Charlene Wharton, of Willkie House. On one side of the card was

CAN'T IGNORE CIVIL RIGHTS AS A CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Vice President Nixon has made two speeches in the South. In each instance, he has not hesitated to tackle the question of civil rights sticking to his often announced policy of equality for the Negro.

In those speeches, he has insisted upon strong support for the laws already in existence which, if given backing by the executive branch of the government, would give strength to those who favor law enforcement. In support of this position, he cites the fine job Attorney General Rogers had done with national chain stores which have changed their policy with reference to equal accommodation in eating facilities in the South.

Just now, some bad racial clashes are occurring in the South. And with the opening of school next month, particularly in Louisiana where three federal judges have invalidated recently passed laws aimed to obstruct integration. These are disturbances which do America no good at home or abroad. And to ignore them in a political campaign is pure cowardice and point the attention the respective parties will give the touchy question of civil rights.

Of course, there are serious issues before the people in this campaign, most of them economic problems. But experience shows that one without civil rights cannot protect his economic problems. And in spite of any other issue various groups may urge upon the Negro, his rights as a first class citizen are paramount to any other.

CONGO TESTS U. N. STRENGTH AND VALUE

The situation in the Congo is most difficult to unravel. Officials, led by Premier Lumumba, seem difficult to understand who their friends are.

Dr. Ralph Bunche, who has been in the thick of things since June, remarks that untold suspicion prevails among the Congolese and they have been skeptical of any groups which have come in to help restore order. That suspicion stems from years of mistreatment of the natives by Belgium and ignorance of the masses who place all outsiders as enemies in the same class.

Lumumba has not taken a cue from those African nations which have prospered with the help of America and some other Western countries. And it is most regrettable that some American members of UN forces have been mistreated without taking the precaution of determining their mission. This hurts when these men are there to do good.

Its difficult to deal with ignorant people and when their leaders seem to have little regard as to what is right or wrong the situation is hard to handle.

United Nations is undergoing a trying test in this situation.

It has the equipment and know-how to hang on until order is restored, officials get their feet on the ground and the people conclude that what the West offers them is for their best interest in the long run.

ALL ENTITLED TO GAINS BY LABOR

When the public schools in Des Moines first began High School day down town assuming the management of stores, business houses, and public offices, Negro students were not included. However, with the help of the NAACP, Interracial Commission and other groups, Younkers took on a few boys who walked the floor as service observers.

Drop in Younkers today, and you see Negro youngsters as salesmen, sales ladies and office workers; Wolf's likewise; drop in the Iowa Power and Light Company, there's a cashier in the cage; at the Telephone Company; Preferred Risk, Equitable Life, Bankers Life, Central Life Insurance Companies; United Federal S. & L. Assn., and some other companies and see some clerks and general office workers. In fact commercial, mercantile and financial institutions have moved ahead in this field of human relations.

Industrial unions, including such groups as the United Packing House Workers, United Automobile Workers and United Rubber Workers are pretty good examples of hiring and upgrading without regard to race. In the building trades, except the carpenters, even though their laws contain nondiscriminatory clauses, no Negro journeyman or any in apprenticeship trainees are on the job. This situation prevails in practically all unions originally affiliated with the AF and L group. The same situation is true with most unions which have not been listed here.

This review indicates that Negro labor has fared worse where unions dominate the hiring policy. And the higher the paid job the more difficult the chances.

Labor has made great progress since the turn of the century coming from the position of the underdog to that of equality with management. But unfortunately too many unions now in positions of power use that power to deprive Negro labor from sharing the fruits of what has been gained.

There is entirely too much of this in Des Moines as we come to Labor Day 1960. Labor should work to change this by Labor Day, 1961. After all, men are entitled to share in what their country and its public institutions have to offer. Certainly, the protection thrown around labor by the government—and it needs protection—should not be denied any citizen.

Hank Aaron Buys $34,000 Home In Milwaukee

Milwaukee—Hank Aaron, batting star of the Milwaukee Braves, has bought a $34,000 home in an exclusive all-white suburb of Milwaukee, it was learned last week.

AARON

Aaron, who led the National League in batting last year, said he and his wife and three children hope to move into the three bedroom, tri-level ranch home in Mequon after he returns from a road trip to the west coast this week.

Reaction to the move, as rumors of the purchase circulated through the neighborhood, has been divided.

Some unfavorable comments have been reported, but Thomas Cheeks of Comet Realty, which handled the sale, said several persons have called to say they were prepared to welcome Aaron into the neighborhood.

Tennis year just about shot. Baseball races nearing the showdown month and Football just around the corner. The year will see what is probably the earliest North high-East high game on record. Maybe the schedule makers figure the Roosevelt games with North and East produce more fireworks.

Looked at the East speed the other night and there weren't too many Negroes. Also, the squad was not made up of very many big boys. Hope we are wrong, but it could be

HEALTH FOR ALL

A Breath of Air

Don't know about you, but the artificial respiration methods taught until recently have always seemed to require the timing and coordination of a trapeze artist. But now there's a method so simple that you can revive someone who's stopped breathing, even if you can't tell your right hand from your left one.

Tongue

Step One—Get the victim's tongue out of his windpipe. When somebody is unconscious and not breathing, his tongue has probably fallen back into his windpipe, shutting off his airway completely. Put the victim on his back. Tilt his head backward until the crown of his head is touching the ground. Or hook your thumb over his lower teeth and pull his jaw forward. If you're afraid you might get bitten, place your fingers firmly on the hinges of his jaw just under his earlobes and push his jaw forward. Whichever of the three positions you use, hold it throughout the entire procedure. Sometimes just getting his tongue out of the way will start him breathing again. If it doesn't, get on with Step Two.

Nose Sealed Off

Step Two—If the victim is a baby or a small child, put your lips around his mouth and nose. If it's an adult, put your lips around his mouth, keeping his nose sealed off by pinching his nostrils with your fingers or by pressing your cheek against his nostrils.

Step Three—Blow hard. His chest will rise. Remove your mouth and let him exhale, while you take in another good deep breath. Blow in again. Let him breathe out again. For children, blow in about twenty times a minute; for adults, about ten times a minute. Keep this up until he starts breathing on his own again or the boys with oxygen tanks arrive.

Ray Norton, George Kerr Have Opportunity To Score 'Grand Slam' In Olympics In Rome

Chicago—Two tan stars, jet sprinter Ray Norton of San Jose (Calif.) and middle-distance star George Kerr of the University of Illinois and the West Indies, were considered excellent prospects to score an "Olympic grand slam as the games opened in Rome, Italy, Thursday, Aug. 25.

Norton, AAU and Pan American Games champion at 100 and 200 meters and considered the world's greatest sprinter, may score in these two departments and in the 400 meters relay, also, it was felt.

Coaches Favorite

Norton is the top choice of several coaches for Olympic stardom. Along with Kerr, he has a good chance to win three gold medals, the greatest achievement possible in the Olympics. Jesse Owens, whose 25-year-old world broadjump record was recently broken by tan Ralph Boston of Tennessee State University, was one of the few track stars to perform the feat, considered the "grand slam" of the Olympics.

Norton, although he will be strongly challenged by such fellow a long year for the Lee Township lads. Tech has quite a few veterans back and may give everyone trouble. Their chief city-opposition will probably come from Roosevelt. At North everyone is waiting to see what sort of a team the new coach will come up with. They have argued for years that the material is there but yours truly has argued just as stoutly that the Polar Bears haven't had a real take charge leader on their squad for some seasons. Well, we shall soon see.

Olympics

As the Olympics get underway with its usual quota of disputes and arguments, we are waiting to see what happens to our crop of sprinters and jumpers. Maybe Deasor. Maybe they won't get started, though we have our doubts. But we know our usual gang of short distance sprinters, and jumpers will do all right.

Hotentots

Thoughts got into a state softball meet. If we stay away they might win a game in one of these meets yet. When we go, they always find some way to lose.

Chamberlain

We were pretty sure Wilt Chamberlain would go back to the Philadelphia Warriors after he got a long rest and a chance to think it over. Now he has to lead the team to a title in order to square himself and that will be tough. Maybe too tough.

D. M. Dragons

The Des Moines Dragons have been having trouble finding a sponsor. Maybe they won't get started. They were lucky last year that no-

World's Record

He is co-owner of the world's records for 100 yards and 100 meters and for 200 meters around one turn.

If Norton wins three gold medals at the Olympics, it won't be the first time he has scored the triple threat. He did it in the Pan American Games at Chicago in 1959 and against the Russians in Philadelphia that same year.

Kerr won the NCAA championship at both 880 yards and 800 meters. He also won the 400 meters in the Pan American Games, matched Tom Murphy's winning time in the 800, and anchored the victorious West Indies team in the 1,600 meters PAN-AM relay. He was the fastest in the NCAA 800 meters this season, winning going away.

body got hurt seriously. Maybe their luck could have run out. Takes a lot of dough to launch a football team and everyone isn't going to get off that kind of money. The boy who passed for the Dragons last year is a third string quarterback for the Forty-Niners in big time pro-league. Didn't think he was that good.

This Is My Iowa

Thoughts For Today

Yesterday, tomorrow, everlastingly. far too late, to earn your wings! —Glenn A. Gallagher First American Serial Rights Only WINGS Wings across the arctic tundra hidden by the ice and snow, flashing over like the meteors the radar screen don't show, too low! Diving in at tree-top level strafing, burning, as they go, while destruction has a picnic in the burning hell below!! In the span of minutes, seconds we can learn the truth of things, just ignore all future warnings; wait and see what Ivan brings! When our way of life is ended, freedoms' bell no longer rings will you then awake to join us;

Laugh Lines

"You want to know why I came home half loaded?" said the soused spouse. "Because I ran out of money, that's why."

Wilt Plays In Game For Stokes, Twyman Organizer of Game

New York—Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain of the Philadelphia Warriors last week was among a number of top basketball players solicited by the Cincinnati Royals' Jack Twyman who played in a benefit game for stricken Maurice Stokes at Kutsher's Country Club, Monticello, N. Y.

Coaches Red Auerbach of the world champion Boston Celtics and Carl Braun of the New York Knickerbockers coached opposing teams.

Invitations

Stokes was stricken with a strange ailment more than two years ago and has been confined ever since.

Future Negro Manager But Not Robinson

St. Louis, Mo.—The suggestion made by a San Francisco columnist that Jackie Robinson be named manager of the Giants for next season undoubtedly is wishful thinking. Robinson has indicated he does not wish to return to baseball. The Giants would be unlikely to hire as their manager a man who quit baseball rather than join their club.

The fact that Robinson is a Negro does not enter into it. Some day, a day that is not too far away, there will be a Negro manager in the major leagues—and Negro coaches, too.

Campanella

Had not Roy Campanella (who is going through his purgatory on earth with all kinds of problems) been injured, he would have been a prime candidate.

Men like George Crowe, Ernie Banks, Earl Battey and Elston Howard, just to mention a few, seem to have the leadership qualities that are so important in a manager. If they have the talent and the desire, they should not be denied the opportunity in the future.
