Dr. Geo. Johnson Resigns from Howard U to Accept Full Professorship at Mich. State

Washington, D. C.—Dr. George M. Johnson, a member of the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights, has resigned his position as professor of Law at Howard University to accept a full professorship at the faculty at Michigan State University, it was announced today by Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University.

First Assignment

Dr. Johnson's first assignment will be to serve as chief of the Michigan State University group assisting in the establishment of the University of Nigeria. Upon returning to the United States, Dr. Johnson, who served as dean of the Law School at Howard University for 12 years, will assume responsibilities at Michigan State as a professor in the general field of taxation and education.

Statement

Appointed a member of the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights by President Eisenhower on March 10, 1959, Dr. Johnson plans to continue to fulfill the duties and responsibilities of that position.

In submitting his resignation to Dean Spottswood W. Robinson III, Commissioner Johnson stated,

"The timing of my resignation is entirely fortuitous and I want very much to assure you that I would have considered it both an honor and a privilege to serve on the faculty under your deanship. I have accepted a very challenging offer of a professorship on the faculty of Michigan State University.

Voting Hearing

Dr. Johnson, dean of Howard Law School 12 years, is planning to participate in the Commission on Civil Rights voting hearing in New Orleans, La., on Sept. 27-28, and depart shortly thereafter for Nigeria.

In an interview, Dr. Johnson stated: "One of the most challenging features about this Nigerian project is the thought and planning behind it. This will be an effort to create a University and eventually an educational system geared to the special needs of Nigeria.

NEGRO VETERANS STILL SUFFER BIAS

New York—While Negro servicemen are well integrated, they are still subjected to racial discrimination. In a survey by the American Veterans Committee, which has been submitted to the government, it shows this:

1. Practically no Negro veterans are in white collar jobs in southern VA office.
2. Southern Negro veterans were too discouraged by economic discrimination to apply for GI home, farm and business loans.
3. Negro veterans were unable to use their GI-on-the-job training because no decent jobs are available to Negroes in the south and few in the North.

To correct a few of these points, a proposed amendment of the GI bill has been suggested whereby the lot of Negro veterans would be improved. Representatives would be established to help Negro GIs get their rightful benefits, and to halt federal funds which in any way supported discrimination against veterans.

Judge Glanton May Be Sent to Africa By State Department

Municipal Judge Luther T. Glanton, Jr., may be sent to Africa by the U. S. state department as a symbol "of democracy at work in America," it was revealed last weekend. The announcement came from Iowa Democratic congressman Neal Smith, who said he had been thinking about the matter for some time and had broached the idea to the state department officials.

Neal said state department officials that the appointment may soon become official.

Judge Glanton, also a Democrat, made history in Iowa two years ago when he became Iowa's first Negro judge, having been appointed by Gov. Herschel Loveless to fill a vacancy on the municipal bench. Last November he ran successfully to win the same post.

When contacted about the possible appointment, Judge Glanton said that he "would be happy to represent the U. S. state department in Africa."

Schools Opened Without Violence for First Time Since 1954 Court Decision

New York, N. Y.—Following the opening of the 1960-61 school term last week in most of the southern and border states, significant legal progress in public school desegregation is reported in several quarters.

With an estimated 767 school districts in twelve states opening with some degree of integration, it is the first time since the 1954 Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in public education that the southern schools opened without a single reported incident of violence.

14 New Districts

It is reported that 14 new districts in seven southern states enrolled Negro children in white elementary schools for the first time. This does not include Houston, Texas which has the largest segregated school system in the country, and where several Negro children were enrolled for the first time.

All districts remained segregated in Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina.

Thurgood Marshall, Director-Counsel of the N.A.A.C.P. Legal Defense and Educational Fund, pointed out that the highlight of this year's legal victories in the organization's continued efforts to speed up school desegregation was reflected in the refusal of the Supreme Court two weeks ago to grant delays requested in three separate cases to authorities in New Orleans, Houston and Delaware.

Houston

The ruling in the Houston case is of particular significance, Mr. Marshall explained. Until the time of the decision Houston was the largest segregated district in the country. The Court rejected a plan presented by the Houston Board as a "sham" and "palpable fraud", ruling that where school boards do not present plans courts will institute desegregation plans of their own and demand compliance with the Constitution.

New Orleans

The New Orleans case came before the Supreme Court as a result

Desegregation SEE FRONT PAGE of an order by a United States District Court to put into effect a year-by-year stair-step integration plan in September, starting with the first grade. The school authorities appealed the order, but a United States Appeals Court refused to interfere. Upon request, the District Court gave the school board until Nov. 14 to effectuate the plan.

November Deadline The state Attorney General then asked the United States Supreme Court permission to put off integration. Legal defense attorneys for the Negro children also petitioned the Supreme Court. They asked that the November stay order be vacated and that integration begin immediately. The Court refused to postpone desegregation beyond the Nov. 14 date set by the District Court.

In Delaware In Delaware the Court of Appeals reversed a District Court ruling which gave all of the school districts south of Wilmington twelve years to desegregate and demanded that complete desegregation be in effect by 1961. The Court also ordered that the named plaintiffs in the case be admitted immediately. The State Board asked the United States Supreme Court for a postponement of these orders, which was denied.

Dr. L. H. Holman, president of the Illinois State Conference of NAACP branches, said the Association will take the case to court if need be. Students and adults, under Dr. Holman's direction, are picketing Horace Mann School, Robbins and Nathan Hale schools. The Association has said it would maintain picket lines until the case is won.

Overcrowded School officials say about 45 Negro pupils, who previously attended the Hale school, were transferred to the Robbins school because of overcrowded conditions.

Dr. Holman charged that the Hale school is not overcrowded. Youngsters and their parents are carrying signs reading "Why Can't I Go To School Here?" and "All Children Should Have The Same Opportunity."

New York—Coast Theaters Worried by Inter-Racial Teenage Fights . . . The theater managements of two downtown movies in San Francisco are very much worried by some racial outbreaks among teenagers. Recently between 40 and 50 Negro youths attacked five white youngsters in the lobby of the Paramount Theater and fled from a side exit before police could arrive.

Outer Space

The theater was showing "Battle in Outer Space." Youngsters were said to have flashed knives. The theater management claimed "the fights were part of the worst summer of racial scraping" they could remember in 10 years they've run the theater.

"It's a police problem primarily," they added and that they were employing two Negro police on Sundays when outbursts are most likely to occur.

Negroes Migrate

This is what interested us most about the situation. Since most cities are getting a heavy Negro element as many whites move to the suburbs and many Negroes migrate to the cities from the south, every city has to face a new thinking by its merchants, who pay the most taxes. In the movie business, San Francisco's theaters in the Negro districts have one by one closed up—leaving only the downtown theaters for the youngsters to go to.

Audience

Now on Sunday, 30% of the audience has been found to be Negro. In dollars and cents this means a take of $500 to $1,000 from Negroes. Unfortunately, the hoodlum element wants to see these wild shows as much as the others. So, how to control them and still keep the coffers filled—this is a problem for the managers of downtown theaters. It's a problem all over as more and more folks integrate and become a part of the main stream.

Seek to Stop Birmingham Police from Dispatching Detectives to Meetings

Birmingham, Ala.—Two Negro leaders filed suit in federal court here Sept. 7 to establish their right to assemble peacefully without harassment by police. They asked the U. S. District Court to stop the Birmingham Police Department from sending detectives to regular weekly meetings of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights.

Intimidation

The suit charges that this practice is a form of intimidation and violates rights guaranteed to American citizens by the First Amendment to the U. S. Constitution. The First Amendment provides for freedom of assembly, speech, press, petition, and religion. The suit also cites the Fourteenth Amendment, which makes the U. S. Constitution applicable to the states.

Plaintiffs

The action was filed by the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, president of the ACMHR, and the Rev. Charles Billups, another leader of the civil rights organization. Mr. Shuttlesworth is also secretary of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and a director of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, both Southwide civil-rights organizations. Defendants in the suit are Police Commissioner Eugene (Bull) Connor and Police Chief Jamie Moore. Shuttlesworth and Billups also ask for $97,000 damages.

Attorney Barred

The two ministers acted as their own attorneys. Len Holt, civil rights attorney from Norfolk, Va., helped them draw up the suit, but he was barred from acting as their attorney. This resulted from a previous ruling that no out-of-state lawyer can practice in Federal Court here unless he is associated with a local attorney.

Rode Busses

City detectives began attending meetings of the ACMHR when Birmingham Negroes rode city busses integrated in October, 1958. The organization has always met once

F.F.F. Quotas

Upon assuming her new position Sept. 1 as a full-time NAACP national staff member, Mrs. Belafonte announced that she will "work with branches that heretofore have found it difficult to meet their Freedom Fund quotas."

Emphasis, she said, will be upon aiding these branches plan and arrange on a professional scale such fund raising events as fashion shows, teas, dances, banquets, and luncheons.

NAACP Launches Full Scale Selective Buying Drive In Jacksonville, Florida

Jacksonville—The NAACP today called on this city's 140,000 Negroes to join in a full scale selective buying campaign against the entire downtown business district.

Mrs. Ruby Hurley, the Association's south east regional director outlined the local NAACP Youth Council's "don't pay to be segregated" project at an enthusiastic mass meeting, sponsored by the Jacksonville NAACP Youth Council. The Council has proven a major stabilizing force in this hate-ridden community of high racial tensions.

Violence flared here Saturday, Aug. 27 when 300 white men and boys, armed with baseball bats and ax handles, attacked peaceful and orderly NAACP youth demonstrating against lunch counter bias—as nearby police turned their heads.

Charge Cards

Mrs. Hurley called for the turning in of all Cohen Brother's Department Store charge cards saying "white businessmen in this city must learn once and for all that they can no longer collect the Negro's cash in one hand—while slapping him with the other."

Others Cited

Other Jacksonville stores "congratulated" include McCrory's, Kress', Grant's, Sears-Roebuck, Morrison's Cafeteria and Woolworths.

Mrs. Hurley cited the success of

Preparations Begin For SUI Homecoming

Iowa City, Iowa—Initial preparations are now underway for that pleasant hodgepodge of festivities, football and fellowship which is Homecoming at the State University of Iowa.

Following a familiar format, the similar selective buying campaigns in Savannah, Ga., and Nashville, Tenn., both of which have about the same proportion of Negro populace.

Biased Editorial

The NAACP executive also criticized the "biased editorial policies of the Jacksonville Times-Union and Journal" terming their reportorial activities "among the most unprofessional I have seen in my 18 years in the field of race relations."

She then called for the Negro community to cancel all subscriptions and all newsstand purchases, pointing out that both publications have their circulations verified by the Audit Bureau of Circulation—an independent agency.

2 Leaders Claim Presidency Of Nat'l Baptist Convention

Philadelphia—Thousands of delegates and visitors to the 80th annual session of the world's largest Negro religious body left here last weekend without knowing who is president of the organization.

It appeared that they would not know for sometime whether Dr. J. H. Jackson of Chicago, who was seeking re-election for an eighth one-year term, had been elected or whether Dr. Gardner C. Taylor of Brooklyn, N. Y., had unseated him as president of the National Baptist Convention, USA, Inc.

The controversy, it appeared early this week, would be settled through court litigation or by a court supervised election to be held at some later date.

Halts Convention's Business
The violent election dispute brought sessions to a disharmonious halt three days ahead of the scheduled closing with much of the convention's business left unattended to.

What effect this will have on the operation of the 5,000,000-member denomination is a matter of speculation. Meanwhile, each of the two contending factions has appealed to the courts here for legal orders restraining the other for conducting the business of the church.

The convention opened Sept. 14 under controversy when supporters of Rev. Taylor began a campaign for a "fair election."

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION
Written by Duwayne Keller, SUI Research Assistant

KEEP TEENS IN SCHOOL— BUT HOW?
"How am I supposed to know whether my child is likely to quit school next year? He thought I nagged at him about his grades last year and wouldn't talk with me about school." This parent wants to prevent trouble before it becomes serious. How ARE we supposed to know?

Dissatisfaction
Most students who leave high school before graduating have indicated long dissatisfaction with some area of school life. Teachers are too busy to help them, they are compelled to take dull courses, discipline is too strict, they have no friends in school, or school costs too much—these are some of the complaints. What can parents do to help these children stay in school?

Harry Dandridge Harper, Jr., Fort Madison, claimed Miss Marilyn Eugenia Hill as his bride at 5 p.m. Aug. 27 in Clemson, S. C. They are the children of Dr. and Mrs. Harry D. Harper, Fort Madison RFD 2, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. C. Hill, 306 S. Oak Street, Seneca, S. C. The Rev. J. Tierney read the ceremony in the St. Andrew's church, which was decorated with tall standards of white chrysanthemums and gladioli. Family pews were marked with bouquets of white mums and glads. Miss Effie Tyler was the organist; C. Gabriel the vocalist.

Mr. Hill gave his daughter in marriage. The bridal gown was of white embroidered nylon organza over net and taffeta. The molded bodice was made with bateau neckline accented by a pointed collar of eyelet organza. Wide bands of the eyelet gathered the elbow length sleeves and formed panel-effects in the full skirt. A large bow accented the chapel length train. The bridal veil of illusion was attached to a coronet of lace and seed pearls. A white orchid centered the bridal bouquet of white tube roses. The bride's double strand of pearls was a gift from the bridegroom.

we come unexpectedly across a familiar name, one perhaps of a former classmate. We had two such cases like that this past week. The first was to scan the Minneapolis Spokesman and noted that the number two story in that issue carried the by-line of a former journalism teacher of ours, Mrs. Thelma Thurston Gorham. The last we had heard of her, she had been working in Oklahoma on a paper, and had just won a fellowship to work on her Ph.D degree at Stanford university in California.

Our second case was a news release from St. Louis, Mo., in which a former classmate, Belya T. Simmons, appeared. She had attended a convention in Missouri as a representative of one of the state senators. We had lost track of Miss Simmons since she left the St. Louis Argus where she had served as women's page editor.

We had the pleasure of running into another former friend and fellow Missouri native recently, Mrs. William Anderson. She married sev-

The first official day of autumn and the leaves are already turning brown and gold . . . and Ole Jack Frost chillily nipping at our heels. School children have settled down to their routine and college students have again returned to the rolling hills, and tree lined campuses and ivy-cloistered buildings. A few more weeks and Hallowe'en trick and treaters will be hob-goblin' at our doors. Then winter . . . the skins of morning ice growing thicker and thicker . . . and the snows begin to fly.

One good annual sign that autumn is really here is the annual United Community Services campaign. We have the pleasure and work of serving as a team captain in the west area this year. Tuesday morning we briefly joined some 200 more captains at the Hawley for a final briefing and coffee hour. Plans were then revealed in details for the big rally being planned at KRNT theatre for some 4000 women who are serving as soliciting volunteers for UC. Among them were Mesdames Hayes Johnson, James Hunter, Woodrow Lewis, A. P. Trotter, Carroll De Van, and of course, yours truly.

We had sensed earlier that this campaign took considerable more planning and work in advance (months before—we began in early July) than other campaigns, but we didn't realize how much more, until Tuesday morning.

From the information we learned from a lady we tried to solicit as a worker on our team, Mrs. Josephine Pickett must be a captain also, but we didn't see her at Tuesday's meeting. We were unable to confirm it.

It's a funny thing about going through news releases and exchange papers that come to our news desk. In most cases it is material of no use to our media. Then, some times

IOWA POWER FRANCHISE DESERVES UNITED EFFORT

The election Monday to determine whether the Iowa Power and Light Company shall be granted a 25 year franchise in Des Moines is one opportunity the voters have to exercise control over a public utility. True, the company has been doing business here for years, but a vote of approval gives it better legal standing in the financial and business world.

Iowa Power has conducted a well planned campaign among the voters. Its employees have done a big share in many ways. The two groups together have worked diligently to help people understand why the election is necessary and the franchise should be approved with a good vote.

It happens all too often that voters fail to go to the polls for special elections and yet the question up for consideration involves expenditure of a big share of their dollars. Take the school election: not since 1926 has there been a decent vote recorded on any measure or set of candidates. To bring the illustration to Monday's vote, a man whose average gas and electric bill is thirty dollars per month over a year will pay $9,000 during the life of this franchise. That's a lot of money and a person should be interested that he gets good service for his money.

So far, no organized opposition has appeared on the scene. Of course there are bound to be a few disgruntled people here and there. It is to be expected. It is true of any business. This, of course, does not mean that all complaints are phoney. The fact is that Iowa Power tries and does correct most mistakes.

The company would appreciate a good favorable vote at the polls. The public should respond with a vote of confidence so that the company may proceed with its program of expansion and improvements planned for the immediate future and thus keep pace with a growing Des Moines and vicinity.

AMERICA IS NO SECOND RATE COUNTRY

America leads in many fields of endeavor and that includes the matchless armies it has placed on the battlefield in all wars; the development of modern weapons of offense and defense and the abundance of supplies necessary to fight a war.

When Hitler began his campaign to conquer the world, his military establishment had perfected war machinery far in advance of that which the other countries had. There were no charges that America was a second rate power or that our defenses were inadequate. We simply got busy and caught up with them.

From the moment the Russians put a satellite into space, some Americans, for political reasons, began to preach that we are a second rate country, that our defenses are inadequate and that our prestige abroad had slipped to its lowest ebb. The trouble is we never had any prestige among those who vilify us both during and since the last two wars. On the other hand we have given them, as well as others, considerable aid.

Men of all nations are constantly struggling for new inventions of instruments of peace and war. No one will be in the lead at all times. However, we have faith in Uncle Sam that whatever race is being run he will always be among the winners.

DON'T BE FOOLED BY SHOWMEN

Premier Castro is always expected to do the unorthodox thing. This explains why his staff and he are staying at the Theresa Hotel (in Harlem) rather than in one of the hotels being used by other UN delegates downtown in New York City. And his stay has been further dramatized by a visit from Khrushchev.

These actions of Castro and Khrushchev have excited some people. They hail it as a great move upon the part of Castro and Khrushchev to show their sympathy for the darker races particularly as against the white man in the west.

No such ideas must ever get into the heads of America Negroes or Africans for these fellows simply want allies to help them in their campaign against the democracies.

Both of these men are showmen. What they do is done for the personal aggrandizement without regard to whether it is right or wrong. Negroes must not be fooled by their antics.

The Negro in America is getting far less than the Constitution guarantees but he is doing better here than anywhere else. Sure, there are Negro haters in all sections of the country but they don't outnumber those who believe what the constitution says.

Tan Players in Bantam Hockey Play

Toledo, Ohio—Three tan youngsters will participate in the 1960-61 Bantam Hockey League, sponsored by the Toledo Amateur Hockey Association.

Charles Penn and Curtis Hill will be members of the Huskies, who took all the honors last season, and Denny Belcher, rated the best goalie in the league, will be a member of the Spitfires.

SIT-INS JAILED AT BOWLING ALLEY

Washington, D. C.—Five college students—two Negroes and three whites—were jailed for their part in a sit-in campaign against prejudiced bowling alleys in the suburbs of Washington.

Of the five, one was a Divinity student at Howard U., three of George Washington University and the fifth of Oberlin U. They were charged with refusing to leave the alleys as ordered by county police. They were charged with trespassing, disorderly conduct, destroying private property and were forced to spend two nights in jail. They were even reported as "sloppily dressed."

Syracuse Nationals Sign Dick Barnett

Syracuse, N. Y.—The Syracuse Nationals has announced the signing of Dick "Skull" Barnett, former star player at Tennessee State university, to a 1961 National Basketball Assn. contract.

The Nats signed Barnett, a jump shot artist, along with Leroy "Spike" Gibson. Both were drafted by the Nats last season, but Gibson was cut off the roster before the season started.

In his rookie season last winter, Barnett averaged 12.4 points per game.

Football season has arrived with the well known bang, and we still aren't sure who is going to play in the World's Series. From right at this point it looks like the Yankees and Pittsburgh Pirates. We have heard a lot of Negroes express satisfaction that Baltimore lost out (if they have) because they seemed to have got rid of most of their Negro players. As things stand now Kansas City has no Negro players and our pool hall managers seem to think Baltimore is trying much to make like the Athletics. We are for the Pirates because of the deal they gave Gene Baker, but we can't see them beating the Yankees in the Series.

Jim Grant

Heard a lot of comment from white people about the temper flare-up between Jim Grant of the Cleveland Indians and the coach. While some think it would hurt Negroes' chances in the game but we doubt it. When a team has a disappointing season as Cleveland has had, tempers are apt to get short and things are said that afterwards the fellows would like to take back. In our judgment White was lucky that Grant didn't swing on him. The suspension? That was strictly a club matter and we don't know about it.

Football

If Tech high can keep up the early season form, the Engineers may not only keep their city title but may end up with a claim on state honors. Barring injury or some other hidden development it should be pretty hard to keep Norm Taylor off the All-State team.

North Comeback

East has improved a lot since the North game and North let fellows know that they are on the comeback track by trying and nearly beating a good Mason City team. Never saw so many good Negro backs around the city.

North, Tech and East have a gang of them, far too many to be in one school. If they were, somebody would have a tough second team.

College

Ratings didn't mean a thing last weekend. Of course, the hapless Drake Bulldogs were definitely out of their league at Iowa State. But we are thinking about the rest of the teams. Don't know when the fourth western conference lost so many games on opening day. Iowa State with depth and vet-

HEALTH FOR ALL

Me and Who Else?

—as told by a TB patient to a Health For All reporter

I'd hardly got over finding out I had TB when I got clobbered right between the eyes all over again. I was still home waiting to get into the TB hospital when a public health nurse calls. What does she want? First she wants my wife and the youngster to be tested to see if they caught TB from me. It's catching, she says. So okay, that makes sense.

Gets Back Up

But then she goes on with where do I work, what are the names of the people who work with me, things like that. First I start to tell her, then suddenly I get my back up. Look, lady, I say, so I got TB, so it's my business. What's anybody else got to do with it?

She tells me what. Maybe the guys who worked next to me on the assembly line caught my TB. Or, on the other hand, maybe I caught my TB from one of them; he'd need to find out about his own sickness. I hadn't thought of it like that. But, still, I don't like the idea. Look, I ask her, do you have to use my name? What about my job—my friends?

Same Deal

She says, I don't see how we can help it, do you? They'd know anyway when you didn't show up for work. There are at least two men I know of, she tells me, right in that same factory who've had TB and are back at work. You'll get the same deal, I'm sure. As for your friends, when they come to visit you in the hospital, you'll know how they feel about you.

So that was that. I've been here in the hospital two months now. My boss says he'll have my job waiting for me. And I've had plenty of visitors.

Gee, I wonder what the nurse found out. I hope nobody else had TB, but it's good she's checking.

Mike Jones, 15-Year-old Pitching Ace Signs Bonus Contract with St. Louis Cardinals

St. Louis—A 15-year-old Negro seventh grader, declared a pitching whiz after he tossed 30 no-hit games against adult teams, (Sept. 8) was signed to a bonus contract by his hometown major league team, the St. Louis Cardinals, with the permission of Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick.

Native of St. Louis

The youth, Mike Jones of Webster Groves, a St. Louis suburb had to receive permission from Frick to sign as "a hardship case" because he normally would have to wait until his high school class was graduated.

A righthander who reportedly pitches like Satchel Paige and hits and runs like Willie Mays and Jackie Robinson, he had attracted the attention of scouts from the major league teams because of his pitching, hitting and fielding prowess.

Pitches 14 No-Hitters

The amount of the bonus was not disclosed, but it is believed he was well rewarded by the Cardinals, who were in competition for his services by such other major league teams as the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers, the American League champion Chicago White Sox and Detroit Tigers.

Jim Grant of Cleveland Indians Fined, Suspended For Walking Out at Epithet

Cleveland, Ohio — Pitcher Jim Grant took a walk when Coach Ted Wilks called him a black. That walk is costing Grant two weeks pay—something over a $1,000 and suspension to the end of the season.

Front office manager Frankie Lane, who's been bitterly disappointed over the Indians as they try hard to make it to first division, is backing Dykes all the way over Grant. Grant explains it all this way: "I was standing in the bullpen singing along with the National Anthem, as I always do. When it got to that part, 'Home of the Brave etc.' I sang, 'This Land is not so free. I can't even go to Mississippi.'"

Called Name

"I sang it in fun . . . Wilks heard

eran crewmen, could be tough but so is the rest of the Big Eight, Iowa U.? Tell you more about them this weekend. They are said to have speed to burn. Well, we shall see.

Hardship Case

He was declared a hardship case as one of 10 children of a laboring father. Ambitious, he would like to buy a home for his mother and become a great baseball star.

Jones was discovered three years ago while pitching for the Brentwood Congregational church team. He tossed a no-hitter in his first mound appearance. That afternoon he walked the first batter and then proceeded to strike out 21 batters in succession.

A Natural

Called "a natural," he can also catch and hit with power. One of his homers traveled some 450 feet.

The Cardinals must have been fully convinced that Jones is a top prospect, for the boy was at the Redbirds training camp last spring after his junior teammates donated funds to finance his trip. He returned from training camp to pitch 14 no-hitters for the Brentwood Cardinals.

Ironically enough, the Cardinals team which catered so much for Jones' service is the same team whose members some years ago were accused of trying to conduct a boycott against Jackie Robinson, the first Negro to enter organized baseball.

me and called me a black so and so. I got so mad I couldn't hold myself back and told him that Texas is worse than Russia. (Wilks' home is in Texas.) Then I walked straight into the clubhouse. Maybe I should have told Dykes but in a situation like that, you can't think straight."

Gen. Mgr. Lane says: "I don't care what was said . . . There's no excuse for what Grant did. He's not

EVASION
EVASION is a coward's cloak—
And the habit keeps on growing,
It eats away good character
Until the bones are showing.
EVASION is a coward's cloak—
A camouflage they use,
Without the will to face the facts,
When the chips are down, they lose.
EVASION props the shiftless ones—
Like the women of the streets,
The bums, the drunks, and the drifters,
And the hoodlums that one meets.

EVASION can not cover up—
The signs of dissolution,
That mark the sick and wasted souls;
Who spurn the Lord's salvation.
Our GOD above, and only He—
Can grant full absolution
So sad that those who go astray,
Don't pray for His protection.

END SEGREGATED SEATING IN NORTHERN VIRGINIA; DEFY STATE LAW

Arlington, Va.—This suburb of the Nation's Capital is defying a State law by ending segregated seating of public meetings in school buildings. Virginia's State law prohibits racial integration in public halls, theaters or other public places of entertainment or assembly.

"We're going to be sued . . . We're actually inviting a violation of the law," said one member of the Arlington School Board. But the other three members say that since today "peace and tranquility exists," the new ruling can be carried out effectively. Besides, the State law is widely disregarded in other parts of Virginia on occasion.

PEOPLE MAKE IOWA GREAT

...the business man

To Iowa's business men, special recognition is due for the great part they are playing in this state's stable economy and growing prosperity. Without the continuing investment these men are making in stores, factories, warehouses, and other facilities . . . and without their tireless efforts . . . we would not have the thriving communities of which all Iowa is so proud.

In this attractive Iowa business picture, the brewing industry plays a substantial role. It has over $62,500,000.00 invested in business facilities in Iowa . . . spends another $27,500,000.00 per year in general business expenses . . . and has Iowa payrolls of more than $30,000,000.00 per year. Yes, for the solid advancement and prosperity of our home town communities, we all can say . . .
