NEWS In A Nutshell

Tulsa, Okla.—B. C. Franklin, 81, one of Tulsa's most highly respected citizens and a nationally known attorney, died Sept. 24 following two heart attacks. He retired recently from 52 years of law practice in Oklahoma.

Boston, Mass.—Edward W. Brooks, young attorney here, became the first of his race to be nominated by the Republican party to be candidate for Secretary of State.

Washington, D. C.—Mrs. Zelma Watson George was among the representatives and alternatives of the United States delegation to the 15th Regular Assembly of the United Nations, who took the oath of office last week.

Elizabethville, The Congo—Patrice Lumumba, deposed premier of the Congo, held a press conference at his residence last week and showed a document to newsmen which he termed was a text of "reconciliation" agreement between him and his political opponent, President Joseph Kasavubu. Spokesman for Kasavubu later denied that he had signed such a pact.

New York, N. Y.—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., who had threatened to sit on his hands during the Democratic presidential campaign, announced plans last week to stump the country for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

Philadelphia, Pa.—The board of directors in a special executive meeting Sept. 9 voted unanimously to sustain the official vote (by voice) of approximately $500 for Dr. J. H. Jackson, as president of the National Baptist convention, and about 500 for the candidate Dr. Gardner C. Taylor.

Cincinnati, Ohio—Police here said two girls and a boy, students of Withrow high school, admitted last Friday they made up a story that three Negro boys grabbed the white girls near the school. The boy had claimed that he had been knocked down when he went to the aid of the girls.

Denver, Colo.—Last week the Colorado Anti-Discrimination commission lost another battle in its effort to force Continental Airlines to hire a Negro pilot. The Colorado Supreme court denied a petition that the court rehearse an appeal from Denver District court concerning the case of Marlon D. Green, 30. Greene is now a pilot for the Michigan state highway department, has been attempting to break what he calls the color line on pilot employment by major U. S. airlines.

Report Four-Year Increase Submitted to President Eisenhower

Washington, D. C.—More Negroes than ever before are holding down upper bracket federal jobs was reported by a presidential committee Tuesday.

The report submitted to President Eisenhower by Archibald J. Carey Jr., chairman of the President's committee on government employment policy, was based on a study of 53 federal agencies in Washington, along with field offices in Chicago, Ill., St. Louis, Mo., Los Angeles, Calif., and Mobile, Ala. Studies were based on the past four years.

Grade Levels

The number of Negroes holding government positions in civil service grades 5 through 15 in 1960 was compared with the number so employed in 1956. The totals were given as 9,295 and 4,979 respectively, although the distribution varied substantially between the cities studied and among the different grades.

"Although Negroes continued to represent a small proportion of the total number of jobs in these levels," Carey said, "the present trend demonstrates a manifest rise in the job status of Negro employees in the federal government."

Percentages

The committee also reported the percentage of Negroes to the total number of persons employed in the grades studied in 1956 and 1960 for each city. The percentages were: Washington, 4.1 per cent in 1956, 6.4 per cent in 1960; Chicago, 3.7 and 7.5; St. Louis, 2.2 and 4.3; Los Angeles, 1.4 and 2.7; Mobile, 0.2 and 0.6; all cities 3.7 and 5.9.

Maxwell, is the first Negro teacher hired by the school and of course the first of his race to live in the community in some 40 years.

A bachelor, he teaches instrumental music in grade and high school and vocal music in high school. He directs the school and town bands, managed a Little League team two years ago and plays in a dance combo with other music teachers. He plays trombone, baritone and French horn and gives individual instructions to about 80 of the 417 Wayland school students.

He is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Artice Maxwell of Marshalltown.

His father is pastor of the Colored Cumberland Presbyterian church there. He is a graduate of Iowa State Teachers college. On The Political Scene

J. ROBINSON, AME BISHOPS

Washington — Jackie Robinson, world famous, former Brooklyn Dodgers baseball star, joined by four Bishops of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, told more than 1200 people at a Faith Crusade rally that America must have civil rights faith in Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Robinson warned that the election of Senator John F. Kennedy and his running mate, Senator Lyndon Johnson, "would cast a shadow of tremendous doubt" over the future of civil rights in this nation. Robinson, one of the leading advocates for full civil rights, spoke at the Metropolitan AME Church (1518 M Street, N. W.). He said:

Castro, Khrushchev

"The introduction of Castro and Khrushchev to Harlem has indicated before the eyes of the world just how important the Negro vote is. These anti-American leaders are hoping to woo Africa into the communistic group, by coming to Harlem."

"Yet Senator Kennedy, on his southern tours, has been completely silent on civil rights," Robinson asserted:

"I have talked to Nixon and Kennedy, and Kennedy can not look you straight in the eye, when talking about civil rights. I don't believe Kennedy is sincere. 'I have strong convictions about the future of Negroes, and I have taken a leave of absence from my job to campaign for Vice President Nixon."

"NEGLECT" OF AFRICA

Washington — Former Governor Averell Harriman of New York charged today that the Eisenhower administration was treating the new African republics with "shocking neglect." He said the United States did not have a single representative in any of the six African countries.

Hulan Jack Trial on Again

New York — Borough President Hulan E. Jack begins his second trial this week and the question most are asking is "What Is Jack Doing These Days?" Technically, he's suspended from his job as Borough President and has been for the last nine months. Though this city has been swarmed with visiting foreign personalities, Jack has been unable to take part in greeting them as owner of New York's top job outside of Mayor.

"I've been confining myself to my home, the club, and doing a lot of reading," he says. "I've not left the city."

No Salary

Of course, Jack can't collect any salary—he made $25,000 a year—since he's suspended. Nor can he work on any other job. "I discussed this with my counsel, Carson DeWitt Baker," he replies when asked about doing other work.

He admits to having to give up his insurance policy and to converting his daughter Julianne's trust fund to cash—to make ends meet. "Fortunately my wife has always been thrifty and her thriftiness is now very much appreciated."

No Discussion

Jack doesn't discuss any possible outcome of the second trial these days. Though his terms as Borough President doesn't expire until '62, he won't say if he'll return to office if he's acquitted this time or not. He's still accused of violating the City Charter on three counts of letting Real Estate Promoter Sidney Unger pay $4,000 to remodel his apartment. This involves three counts and a fourth count accuses him of conspiring to obstruct justice by concealing the source of the money.

Meanwhile, he's working at the New Deal Democratic Club, six blocks from his apartment, where

No Negroes Registered in 4 Parishes Ever; Systematic Purge of Rolls in Others

New Orleans—Six methods of denying Louisiana Negroes the right to vote are outlined in a statement submitted to the United States Civil Rights Commission which held a two-day hearing on discrimination in voting rights here last week.

Tactics

The statement, prepared by Clarence A. Laws, NAACP field secretary, cited the following means by which election officials deprive Negro citizens of their constitutional right to vote: (1) Outright refusal to register Negroes; (2) telling Negro applicants that the registration office is closed; (3) requiring them to come back at another time even though white persons are being registered; (4) alleging that applicants have failed to identify themselves properly or to establish citizenship; (5) claiming that application forms have not been filled out properly; and (6) asserting that questions have been incorrectly answered.

None in 4 Parishes

As a result of these tactics, Laws said, "not a single Negro is presently registered in the four parishes with the highest percentage of Negro citizens, nor has any been registered in the memory of the inhabitants of these parishes." Moreover, he pointed out, a systematic purge of the voting lists has, since 1956, drastically reduced the number of registered Negroes in more than half of the state's 64 parishes.

Noteworthy Decline

"One of the most noteworthy declines occurred in Ouchita parish where the number of registered Negro voters dropped from 5,782 on March 18, 1956 to a mere 956 by October 6, 1956," the NAACP field secretary asserted. "This represented a drop of 83.6 percent of the Negro voters in this parish in six months. As of June 30, 1960, there were only 722 Negroes on registration rolls in that county."

It is significant, the statement continued, "that the leading segregationists and opponents of equal rights for Negroes, are politicians who come from parishes where the Negro vote is inconsequential or non-existent."

State Senator

In the parish from which former State Senator William Rainach comes there were only 16 Negro voters as of June 30, 1960. District Attorney Leander Perez comes from a parish with only 44 registered Negro voters. Both are leaders of the segregation movement in Louisiana.

During the hearing, which closed on Sept. 28, the Commission heard testimony from 35 Negro witnesses.

Protest Omission of Vital Rights Issue in TV Debate; Press for Negro Panelists

New York—The NAACP has queried the four major networks and the team of television and radio panelists about the failure to raise the "vital civil rights issue" in the joint television appearance of Presidential candidates Richard M. Nixon and John F. Kennedy on Sept. 26.

The NAACP also revealed that prior to the opening of the series of network debates it had urged inclusion of Negro newsmen on panels to question candidates. The request had been submitted both to the networks and to the campaign headquarters of the two candidates.

Went Unmentioned

Protesting omission of civil rights questions in the Sept. 26 debate, Henry Lee Moon, NAACP public relations director, in wires to the sponsoring networks declared:

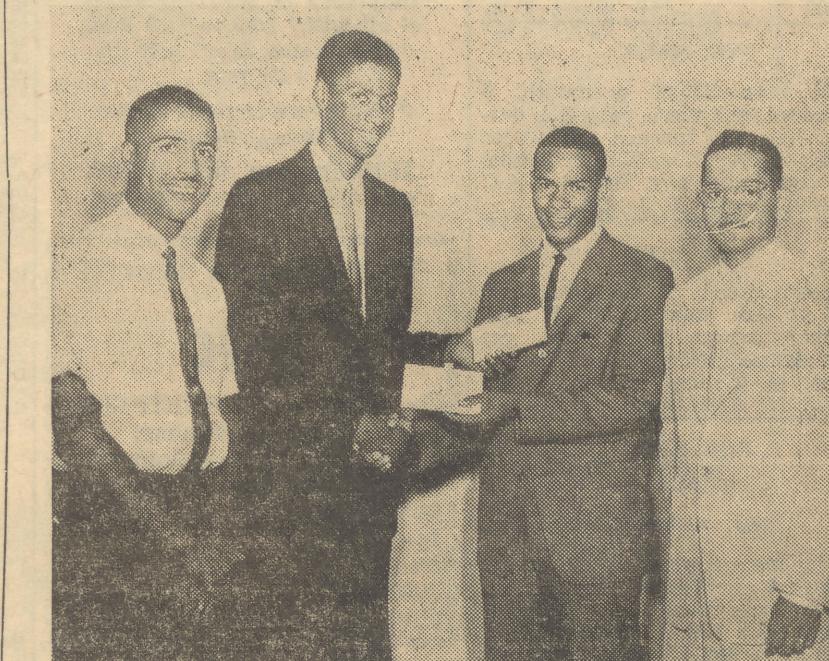

"This program was announced as a discussion of domestic issues. Yet, save for a brief reference in Senator Kennedy's opening statement, the nation's most challenging internal issue went unmentioned."

the networks and presidential candidates' headquarters appeared to be "passing the buck" as regards the question of placing Negro panelists on the panels.

In correspondence from the John F. Kennedy For President headquarters in Washington, D.C., Frank D. Reeves of that staff indicated that Kennedy's press representatives liked the idea of including Negro panelists on the debate program.

In a letter of Sept. 19 to the NAACP, Reeves said:
"I have discussed this with (Pierre) Salinger and his assistant, Andy Hatcher, who agree wholeheartedly with the idea. Salinger is meeting with (Herbert) Klein this morning, and I will advise you further with reference to any developments."

No Developments
Until now there have been no "developments," in Kennedy's camp pertaining to use of Negro newsmen on the panels.

On Sept. 14 Carroll P. Newton of the Nixon For President national headquarters in Washington, D.C., wrote to Moon:

"Certainly it would be a fine idea to have a Negro reporter on the panels in any or all of the forthcoming joint programs. However, inasmuch as this time is donated as a public service by the networks, we do not have any control of the make-up of the panels."

William McAndrews, vice president in charge of news for the NBC network, wrote Sept. 27 expressing appreciation for the suggestion of Negro journalists, but added: "... the decision is not ours; ground rules on these panels will be devised by representatives (of) the two candidates themselves."

that recently joined the United Nations.

Harriman, just back from a three week fact finding trip to West Africa on behalf of Democratic Presidential candidate, Senator John F. Kennedy, also said the Administration had "failed to foresee the needs of emerging people" all over the globe.

Condemns Own Program

He said President Eisenhower's speech at the United Nations last week contained some constructive ideas. But he said the President's address had amounted to "a condemnation of his programs," because it had contained proposals that "should have been made a long time ago."

The United States can suffer "infinite damage" in the eyes of African leaders because of racial discrimination, Harriman said.

Need Closets? Build 'Em!

THERE'S no need of waiting just because your home hasn't enough closets! Fortunately, this shortcoming can readily be cured, especially if there's a man in the house who can use a saw, hammer and other simple tools.

Even in a room without any closet at all, there must be a corner in which the ingenious craftsman can construct one rather easily with the aid of modern building materials. If worst comes to worst, he can use the same construction principles outlined here to build a storage wall or a foot locker.

Materials often recommended for closets and similar built-ins are lumber and Masonite 1/4" Presdwood, an all-wood panel which has a reputation for "having what it takes." Made by exploding wood chips, these panels have no grain or knots, they are strong, abrasion-resistant and easily painted.

The only guide needed for making built-ins like closets and cabinets is to use large enough framing, about which your dealer can advise, and quarter-inch Presdwood. The vertical framing members should be 16 inches apart. Joints of the panels may be "cased" slightly with a sandblock, file or beveling plane. A slight gap at the joints is recommended for good installations.

Sliding doors may be made in the home workshop, following the same construction principles, or one may install manufactured doors with Presdwood surfaces finished in long-wearing, beautiful colors. They're ideal especially for a storage wall.

There's no need to be "closet-hungry" when closets are so easily made!

Washington, D. C.—Sen. George Aiken (R-Vermont), ranking Republican member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, today issued the following statement: In his first major farm speech, at Guthrie Center, Iowa, Vice President Nixon revealed not only his clear understanding of the problems confronting American farmers but also his determination to take affirmative and constructive action to solve those pressing problems.

New York—Harlem Settling Back to Normal . . . With the departure of Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba and his whole retinue, Harlem is beginning to get back to normal. For a week the town has been in a holiday mood from the excitement that only good business and extra interest can do. The world was interested in Harlem as it has not been in a long, long time. And Harlem responded—not as partisans of Castro, for Harlem could never go Communist or even lean Communist—but as a community who has been composed of loyal Americans and were glad to be a part of the "world stage."

At a "kick-off tea" for the Dollars for Democrats campaign in Washington, D. C. last week, Mrs. Frank Reeves, wife of the assistant to Senator John F. Kennedy and Democratic National Committeeman from the District of Columbia, stood in the receiving line along with Mrs. Robert Kennedy, sister-in-law of the Senator, and W. John Kenney, chairman of the District's Democratic Central Committee. The tea was held at historic Prospect House in Georgetown, the home of Mrs. Thurmond Chatham, widow of the Congressman from North Carolina. Senator Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota addressed the Democratic Party workers at the tea.

with thousands milling in and out, with all kinds of tourists who were not gaping but genuinely interested in how Harlem felt and at the same time saw Harlem with new eyes—the old community spruced up and took on a new look. This was a down-to-earth communication as had not existed in a long time. Harlem was on an equal basis with any other community and the Hotel Theresa was doing business as any other hotel in business with the remarks of Hotel Owner—Love B. Woods being anxiously listened to as any other hotel owner who housed a noted personality. We must remark here that he did know the right thing to say at the right time.

Joe Louis

Theresa Hotel employees who can recall back to the Joe Louis championship days, say the Castro days were very much similar for hotel prestige . . . Businesses around the Hotel on 125th St. didn't fare well despite the huge crowds. And that was the irony of it all—the huge crowds blocked traffic instead of sending it into the stores. Many stores could scarcely be found by regularly customers with so many outside. It was a case of starvation in the midst of plenty.

Disciplinary Action Taken Against Greyhound Driver; Caused Shuttleworth's Arrest

Birmingham, Ala.—The Greyhound bus company has taken disciplinary action against the driver who caused the arrest of three teenage Negroes on a bus in Gadsden, Alabama, recently.

This was learned through letters being sent by Greyhound officials to residents of Alabama who protested to the company about the treatment of the children.

Caused Arrest

The driver caused the arrest of the Negroes on Aug. 16 because they refused to sit in the rear of a Greyhound bus when traveling from Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tenn., to Birmingham.

The trio arrested are children of the Rev. and Mrs. Fred L. Shuttleworth, Birmingham civil rights leader. The 3 were found guilty of "delinquency" in Juvenile Court at Gadsden on Sept. 16th, but they are appealing.

Letter of Protest

Shuttleworth is an officer or director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the Southern Conference Educational Fund, both Southwide civil rights organizations. These groups called for protests to the Greyhound.

The company wrote as follows to the Rev. Francis X. Walter, pastor of St. James Episcopal Church, Eufaula, Alabama in reply to his protest: "Greyhound did not initiate prosecution or any action against the Shuttleworth children. The Greyhound driver operating the bus on which the Shuttleworth children rode has had disciplinary action taken against him for violating our instructions not to enforce segregation on our buses."

A Message From "Your Pharmacist" ARE PRESCRIPTION PRICES HIGH?
With so many publicity seekers saying so, we don't blame you for wondering if this is true.

HOW DO WE PRICE PRESCRIPTIONS?
To the cost of ingredients, we add a charge for overhead, compounding time and a fair profit. Because we also supply you with other medicines and many health aids, only part of the overhead expense of conducting a pharmacy is charged to the prescription department.

DR. PAUL OLSEN — Eminent Statistician, reported on April 11th, 1960 that after charging only the proportionate overhead expense of the prescription department, only about 8c of each prescription dollar's selling price remains as net profit, before taxes in the average pharmacy.

IS THAT TOO MUCH?
About 80c net for us on a $10, or 16c net on a $2 prescription, from which we pay our taxes and keep the rest. We're not complaining. We do enough total volume to satisfy us. But, don't you think pharmacists deserve much credit for keeping prices so low? You can help us to always keep them that low, if you also get your other medicines and health-aids from us.

WHAT ARE CHILDREN READING?

"Why do my children read comic books in preference to the good books and stories that I read as a child?" This is the question uppermost in the minds of many parents today.

Very likely, these same parents would be surprised to know that 25 per cent of the adults of today read comic books, and that 10 per cent of the present-day population read 90 per cent of the books which are read.

Right Type

Comic books of the right type have a definite place in the reading program of your children, but they are very definitely on the lowest rung of the ladder which leads to desirable reading patterns. Today's comics are big business—some 300 different comic magazines are bought by over fifty million purchasers—25 per cent of them are adults.

Parents' Awareness

Parents should be aware of the type of comic books their children are reading and try to guide them in the selection of better reading materials.

Parents who are concerned about this problem would find the Public Affairs Pamphlet No. 148 helpful in answering some of these questions. This pamphlet is entitled "Comics, TV, Radio, Movies—What Do They Offer Children?" and may be purchased for 25 cents from Public Affairs Committee, Washington, D. C., or perhaps borrowed from your public library.

Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah Impressive In Diplomatic Role in United Nations Bid

New York—Diplomatic circles and Newspaper Correspondents alike were impressed with President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana as he became a sponsor of the five power resolution calling on President Eisenhower to meet with Nikita Khrushchev and resume discussions. Many are saying of him, "A clever man," even though his country is one of Africa's youngest.

Another Role

In another diplomatic role, Nkrumah proposed this: "I consider the time has come for the appointment of three deputy secretaries-general acceptable to the Western and Eastern blocs and to the neutralist countries," he told UN Reporters. The President of Ghana, though, seemed to have no reason to pull his troops out of the UN forces in the Congo. "Our only hope today is the UN."

MEAT, RICE 'N' PARMESAN EGGS

There couldn't be a better tasting main dish than this one! It's made of cut up canned luncheon meat with rice baked until bubbly in mushroom soup and sharp cheese. Some green pepper adds color and crisp texture. When the rice is tender, six eggs are broken over the top and baked until done under a generous covering of nippy flavored Parmesan cheese.

INGREDIENTS:

1. 12-oz. can luncheon meat, diced (cut some of the meat into wedges to use as garnish, if desired)
- 1 cup uncooked white rice
- 1 10 1/2-oz. can condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 1 cup grated sharp cheese
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
- 3 1/2 cups water
- 1 cup cooked green peas
- 6 eggs
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

METHOD: Put the chopped luncheon meat (but not wedges), rice, mushroom soup, the 1 cup grated sharp cheese, salt, pepper, green pepper and water in a greased shallow baking dish. Stir gently to mix well. Place in a pre-heated 350° F. oven. Bake uncovered for 1 hour or until most of the liquid is absorbed. Add a small amount of water if mixture becomes too dry. Stir once during the baking to mix any uncooked grains of rice with the liquid.

Remove from the oven and stir in the cooked peas. Make six depressions in the rice-meat mixture. Break an egg into each depression. Arrange the wedges of luncheon meat around the eggs. Sprinkle with the grated Parmesan cheese. Return to the oven and bake 10 to 15 minutes or until the eggs are set. Serve at once.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

AMBASSADOR WADSWORTH
DUCKS THE ISSUE

In a report to the nation following his first goodwill trip abroad as a representative of President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon told radio listeners that he was convinced that America must treat the Negro better if it expected to gain and retain the friendship of African and Asian nations.

Certainly Premier Khrushchev exploited that weakness to a large degree when he told U.N. delegates Saturday that the U.S. permits lynching of Negroes. He charged that dark representatives here on U.N. business are not allowed to take a room in a hotel so as to spend the night there or get a meal served.

He said: "This is a humiliating offense and an insult to the dignity of every human being and this is something that is commonplace in white and black America . . . is this democracy? Is this respect for the dignity of man?"

"No, this is human hatred, a human-hating theory against the blacks . . . In the United States blacks have been lynched. They are being hanged and this is considered to be the law because they happen to be black."

Now, everyone knows that his tirade against America was passed out in order to impress upon the darker races that democracy is but a sham.

Undertaking a reply to Khrushchev, James W. Wadsworth, America's ambassador to the U.N., said:

"I want to say this there is more freedom, more opportunity, there is more well being for every American—I say every American regardless of race, color or creed—in the United States than there is in any Communist country."

Unfortunately our U.N. Ambassador did not meet Khrushchev's statement head-on. First thing, he did not tell the truth when he said every citizen without regard to race, creed or color enjoys the same freedom in America—whatever that may imply.

The record of lynchings in America is known to Khrushchev. But Wadsworth's answer simply ducked the issue instead of admitting the facts and calling attention to the great improvement which has been made in this field and the efforts that are being put forth to rectify these conditions.

Such an answer would have been realistic and one which Khrushchev could not refute. Ducking the issue is the cause of the predicament in which America finds itself when it is called to account for its conduct toward its dark citizens.

CITY AND STATE HAVE NO REGARD FOR FAIR
EMPLOYMENT

The law in this country is that you cannot tax an individual and deny him what his tax dollar helps to buy.

Here in Des Moines, two large projects are being built with tax dollars—the freeway and the urban renewal. Walk from one end of the freeway project to the other and no Negro employees are seen working on the job.

The work is being done by the Iowa Highway Commission, on a contract let to a private firm, and the Des Moines Water Company.

The urban renewal project is in the early stages. However, its staff at city hall hires no Negroes. This work is being done by the city. And like the general employment situation at the city hall, nobody seems to be able to unravel the red tape as to how it succeeds in keeping Negroes out.

The members of the urban renewal board include one Negro. Des Moines has a commission in human rights and job discrimination. Both of these groups are in a position to make their voices heard and demand that this rotten situation is changed. And even though the freeway job is done by the state, the job is located in Des Moines and subject to local laws and regulations. Instead of these governmental bodies serving as a good example of interracial participation, just the opposite is being done.

The Bystander thought the present city council would have been more responsive to this problem about which they have been reminded constantly, but to date its efforts have been disappointing. Not one bit of progress has been made, including the failure to name any Negroes on city boards and commissions other than the human rights commission.

Somebody, preferably those charged with the responsibility of seeing that Negroes get a better break in employment, needs to raise hell, if necessary, carry out their responsibility. Certainly on these two projects, taxation without representation is the policy so far.

ARCHIE MOORE
FIGHT ON AGAIN

Washington, D. C.—The Archie Moore light heavyweight title defense against Eric Schoepner is on again and may actually get underway in 8 weeks. Now that there's a children's fund tie-in, both fighters can reduce their original guarantee to assure the fund of "sufficient proceeds." Moore is believed to want close to $200,000 and the German fighter—$50,000.

We guess most of the football followers are just regaining their breath from that Iowa U game. Then there were a few other no-sided games that give a hint that the Hawkeyes are in for a busy season. So don't go yelling conference champs for a while yet. Purdue is awfully rough and Minnesota has a line big enough to play pro ball, and they are just awaitin' for Iowa.

Sudden Breaks

What turns what was figured to be a close game into a rout? A fellow said it was a case of a couple of sudden breaks, a fumble, an intercepted pass, a penalty, at a crucial moment, a long run or such. Then the other team starts to gamble and when the gamble fails the gamblers are in real trouble. Such was the case of at least two games last week. The Iowa-Northwestern and the Purdue-Notre Dame. Then one team can really be up and the other just be up and the other just a shade off and there you have it.

Watkins

Sure would like to be at Ames Saturday to see that Kansas-Iowa State game. After they demoted Watkins he really went to town. Evidently, plays just as well as he wants to. We know Watkins blocked last year. Probably he is being played down to help give the newest Cyclone find a good boost. Well, got special mention on several times for him line defensive game.

Drake had the usual troubles and were sunk by a good Iowa team.

High School

Looks as if East and Tech could decide the winner or a tie. When these two teams play it reminds us of the old East high-West high battles. North had a good line and plenty of determination but one just could not stop those fleet Tech backs who really need a dry field, so they can get out.

After practice a couple of the boys gang around and practice goals. Well, they made the varsity and are not hard to name.

East could lose only one game.

"Big O" Signs 3 Year
Pact With Pro Royals

Cincinnati—Oscar Robertson, the former University of Cincinnati All-American and a star on the 1960 U. S. Olympic basketball team, last week threw in his lot with his hometown pro basketball team—the Cincinnati Royals.

The contract was for three years and Robertson, three-times scoring champ in collegiate basketball, said he was pleased with it, but wouldn't disclose the amount. He admitted, however, that it contained "a few benefits," and it is reported that the contract also includes an incentive clause based on attendance. Robertson is a great drawing card.

Robertson holds the collegiate records for the highest total points scored during one season (2,973), and the highest points per game

HEALTH FOR ALL

One in Ten Has It

"I like tomatoes, but tomatoes don't like me."

You have heard that statement, or similar ones. Maybe you have laughed at it. But allergy is no joke. Doctors take it seriously. Allergic diseases are seldom fatal, but the symptoms are always distressing. Sometimes there is so much discomfort that work, sleep, appetite, and recreation are interfered with and general health suffers.

Sensitivity

Allergy is sensitivity, or hypersensitivity, to substances which are harmless to most people. About one person in ten is allergic to something. The substances that cause allergy are called allergens, and there are hundreds, even thousands of possibilities; pollens, house dust, furs, various foods, feathers, cosmetics, drugs, and even heat, cold, and sunlight. The most common allergic diseases are hay fever, asthma, skin disorders like hives, and stomach and intestinal disturbances.

Not Imaginary

These diseases are not imaginary. If you have allergic symptoms, you should get medical advice both for immediate relief and future protection. The doctor can make tests to discover the allergens which are causing trouble. Sometimes this is easy, but frequently it requires great patience.

Easing Symptoms

Once the causes are discovered, you can learn to avoid the trouble-makers as much as possible. Drugs may be prescribed to ease the symptoms. In some cases injections, medicines, and vaccines are given to desensitize the patient. With complete cooperation with your doctor, you will be able to save yourself from years of unnecessary suffering and disability.

Iowa Hawks Annihilate Favored Wildcats 42-0
Unleash Devastating, Hurricane-Like Attack

BY STAFF WRITER

Evanston, Ill.—The Iowa Hawkeyes released their offensive and defensive might here Saturday with the sudden fury and speed of a hurricane, without warning, as they completely annihilated a highly vaunted Northwestern team by a devastating score of 42-0; in their first Big Ten test.

Quarterback Wilburn Hollis was the master strategist with his fakes, and roll outs, often running and picking up valuable and needed yardage and deceptive play calling as he and his teammates sought to vindicate their 14-10 loss to the Wildcats in their last encounter.

14 Points

Their sudden attack was electrifying as they rolled up a 14 point margin in less than six minutes of the game. The Hawks continued their onslaught throughout the second quarter and had the score at 28-0 at half time. The Hawks had a brief respite in the third quarter of the game and went scoreless but recouped their resources in the fourth and scored another 14 points. Kicking quarterback, Tom Moore, had a radar educated toe and did flawless punting and PAT kicking.

Tough Line

Iowa's rugged, tough line played rough, opening gaping holes in the Wildcats defenses sending little (Capt.) Jerry Mauren scampering through on a 45-yard scat and a T.D. Moments later Mauren intercepted a Northwestern aerial blast and streaked 38 yards for another Iowa tally.

It seems Mother Fortune was not even smiling on the Wildcats this day (let alone losing their top quarterback, Dick Thornton) for on an Iowa kick-off that was rolling unmolested touched a Northwestern average (33.8). He has no noticeable weakness and is a fine all-arounder.

Robertson decided to cast his lot with National Basketball Association's Royals, despite persistent offers from other teams. The most persistent of these, he said, came from the Harlem Globetrotters, the fun-making exhibition team All-Negro. The Trotters have been trying to sign him since his junior year, he said.

Robertson, who graduated into college basketball from Crispus Attucks High School in Indianapolis, said he didn't expect easy sailing in the N.B.A. Asked if he thought he would be roughed up, he replied: "I expect that. There have been other guys that were marked, too."

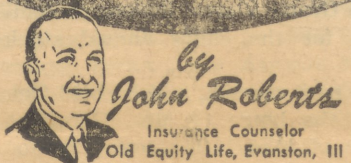

Robertson returned home recently from the Olympic Games in Rome where he paced the U. S. basketball team to a gold medal championship.

player on the ankle and rebounded to their 27 where Iowa's stalwart guard, Mark Manders, pounced on it. In a succession of plays that culminated in a masterful piece of faking by Hollis to fullback Joe Williams. Hollis kept the ball and after almost the whole of the Northwestern line had snared Williams, Hollis sailed over the goal for Iowa's third touchdown.

Save Face

To save face and erase the goose-egg from the score board Northwestern called in their aerial specialist, Fred Quinn, and went to the air with a wide open and reckless

Family Finances

Postage is probably a minor item in your budget, but odds are you can save money in this department. Try these:

- Don't airmail letters going less than 150 miles.
- Use a proper size container for parcel post. If a box is too big for an item, you're paying extra postage for the padding.
- Mail books and phonograph records at the special rates. Ask your post office personnel.
- Purchase stamps in books or rolls to last until your next visit to the post office. You save $1 by buying 100 4-cent stamps in a roll rather than buying two stamps at a time in a dime stamp-machine.
- Don't use special-delivery stamps for servicemen's mail. Their mail is usually given out at a "mail call"—the stamp won't speed delivery.
- Send fourth-class parcels "special handling" rather than special-delivery for comparable delivery at lower cost.

BROKEN IDOLS

While broken idols gather dust
Unnumbered souls, whose fibers rust:
Are snared in webs of evil mist
Sans future . . . dies the atheist.
On barren peaks and rugged crags
Forlorn; they cling to the jagged snags
Used in some ancient, long lost rite
The pagan altars, crumbling on this site.
On Easter Islands' lonely strands
Are statues built by unknown hands
By people from some strange, dead race:
Their idols stand, in this barren place.
Could these odd forms, with mein
so bleak
Be part of a culture many men seek:

From lost Atlantis, and the land of Mu?
Could they have been here, & the legends true?
The Empires built with slaveries'
blood
God scourged away with fire and flood.
The Inca's gone & the winged sun
god:
Has fallen to dust, wrapped in jungle sod.
All the idols will fall, and the isms
die
Our God still rules, on earth and on high.
