Deplores Nationwide Housing Evils

Dr. Lett Blames Both Public and Real Estate For Double Standard

A noted Negro civil rights leader from New York City, N. Y., Saturday afternoon deplored nationwide housing evils before an audience composed of representatives of labor, student and civic groups.

Dr. Harold A. Lett, associate director of the commission on labor-management organizations of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, spoke before the closing sessions of a two-day human relations conference that met at Veterans auditorium last weekend.

Blaming both the public and real estate industry, Dr. Lett declared, "Discrimination in housing, is perhaps, the most widely practiced form of injustice on the American scene today."

Not to Highest Bidder

"It may be coincidental," he continued, "but it seems to have special significance that the most deeply entrenched and highly-organized economic structure in the free enterprise system, the real estate industry in all its ramifications from financing and development to leasing, is that which has made the greatest contribution toward developing a SEE PAGE THREE

Civil Rights Meet Votes to Seek State Measure Against Bias

Representatives of labor, student and civic groups ended a two-day human rights conference in Des Moines last weekend by voting to seek legislation that would effectively end discrimination in housing, employment, public accommodations and law enforcement of civil rights laws in Iowa. They also voted to form as a permanent organization that would seek to solve many of Iowa's subtle, but racial discriminatory-practices and incidents. Officers will be elected at a later date.

Proposals

After discussion and concentrated studies of Iowa's problems, the group voted to seek legislation that will (1) prohibit discrimination in housing and employment; (2) allow towns and cities to participate in federal public housing; (3) provide an adequately financed statewide commission which will assist in enforcement of such laws, if enacted, and co-ordinate activities of local human rights agencies;

Recommendations

They also recommended (1) that the Iowa attorney general act "vigorously" to obtain respect for and compliance with civil rights laws and to assign a member of his staff specifically to this field; (2) recommended to the Iowa secretary of agriculture that in licensing and inspecting hotels, motels, restaurants, gas stations and other public accom- SEE FRONT PAGE

10 Million Negro Vote Could Tip Scale in Close Election

More than one-tenth of those Americans eligible to vote in the coming national election are voters to be courted, not counted. Of the total national population over twenty one, of 104,000,000 more than 10,500,000 are Negro-Americans. Of this number, it is conservatively estimated that more than 5,500,000 are registered.

No Bloc Votes

This great potential does not constitute a bloc vote. Negroes as other Americans respond to election issues as businessmen, union members, housewives, or any of a dozen other interest groups to which they belong. They are acutely aware of their stake in every major political decision which will be made by the next administration.

One issue, however, will inevitably color the choice of the Negro voter whether he is a farmer or a missile expert. That issue is civil rights.

Legal Gains

The rapid tempo of his legal gains during the 1950's has been followed by dramatic action by Negro citizens themselves to implement their legally recognized rights. Both political party platforms reflect a sharp awareness that the Negro is looking more than ever for the full attainment of his civil rights. There is a searching and impatient look, which heads between the lines of party platforms and campaign speeches. It is a highly sophisticated look, hardened by years of empty promises.

Burden on Parties

The burden is on both parties and their candidates to provide convincing assurance that meaningful action on civil rights will come next year. The reward for the most convincing appeal will be a sizeable portion of the Negro vote—enough possibly to determine the outcome of the election. It is a vote to be wooed and won!

10 Pivotal States

More than 3,700,000 Negroes live in ten pivotal states with a total of 232 electoral votes. In a close election they can tip the scale in any or all of them—California, Illinois, Indiana, Maryland, Michigan, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

2 Southern States

In addition to these there are two southern states in which the registered Negro vote now amounts to more than 14 per cent of the total—adequate to swing any close election. There are more than 185,000 Negroes registered to vote in Tennessee and an additional 227,000 in Texas. Tennessee has 11 electoral college votes and Texas 24. These 35 added to the 232 in the 10 pivotal northern states is enough to put either party in office.

Church Convention Embarrassed by Racial Incidents in Louisville

Louisville, Ky.—The 300-member resolutions committee of the International Convention of Christian Churches petitioned the 9,790 delegates here Saturday to "exercise utmost vigilance in arranging future assemblies in cities where racial segregation would not be found. The action came after two Negro delegates were refused rooms at a downtown hotel and two others were not permitted to eat with white delegates at a cafeteria.

The incidents were "termed as very embarrassing by officials of the convention.

On The Political Scene

LIFE SUPPORTS NIXON

New York—LIFE Magazine today completed its two-part endorsement of Richard M. Nixon for the Presidency.

The magazine, which last week announced its support of the Vice-President's domestic program, in its current issue urges the election of the Nixon-Lodge ticket on the basis of foreign policy. In an editorial, the magazine noted that in contrast with their stand on domestic problems the difference between the two candidates on world policy was "narrow and the choice not easy." The magazine said, however, that with Nixon and Lodge in charge of U.S. world policy "we shall feel both safer and more hopeful in the enlarging struggle."

LIFE praised the record of the Eisenhower Administration as being "markedly successful" in its conduct of world affairs and said that Nixon "is quite right to take pride in this Eisenhower record, and to claim it as a Republican achievement."

CANDIDATES RATED

Greensboro, N. C.—A national leader weighed the civil rights voting records of the presidential and vice presidential candidates Friday night and gave Democratic Candidate John F. Kennedy a rating of "excellent."

NEGRO CABINET MEMBER

Hartford, Conn.—Vice President Richard M. Nixon faced an apparent disagreement with his Vice Presidential running mate Henry Cabot Lodge over whether a Negro should be named to the Cabinet if the GOP wins the election.

Lodge, who first raised the issue, maintained Sunday that such an appointment "would be a wonderful thing," but Nixon said all Cabinet posts would be awarded "without regard to race, creed or color." The two men even were unsure of how to handle the situation; Lodge at first denied he had discussed it with SEE PAGE THREE

NEWS In A Nutshell

Brownsville Tenn.—After a white grocer insisted that Buddy Rawls purchase all the grapes in the bag instead of the mere pound he ordered, Negroes in Brownsville, began selling shares in a $250,000 cooperative supermarket of their own. Negro grocer Odell Sanders whose own store went out of business when wholesalers refused to sell him supplies because of his leadership in encouraging Negroes to vote, is expected to manage the proposed market.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Dean Whitney Young, Jr., of the Atlanta (Ga.) university school of social work, was among three alumni Monday who received the University of Minnesota Outstanding Achievement award at the annual meeting of the College of Science, Literature and Arts and the University College Alumni association.

Shreveport, La.—Among several prominent Negroes, active in the fight for civil rights and equal opportunity, who were arrested as they were returning from a mass meeting sponsored by the Southern Christian Leadership conference, were the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, president of the Montgomery (Ala.) Improvement association.

Topeka, Kans.—John Morrison, director of the state employment security division, suffered a fatal heart attack last week during a heated conference with members of the Kansas Anti-Discrimination commission.

Chicago, Ill.—Willie Spears, 24, a Chicago construction worker, was held to the grand jury last week by Judge Emmett Morrissey in felony court on two burglary charges. Police said Spears has confessed to 100 small burglaries on the south side in the last two years.

Jackson, Miss.—Mayor Allen Thompson turned down an invitation Friday to debate Negro "sit-in" demonstrations with Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. The local White Citizens Council group termed the invitation an "insult."

Washington, D. C.—Rep. William L. Dawson, (D., Ill.) was free on his own recognizance last week in Washington after his car hit and fatally injured a 5-year-old boy, who ran from between parked cars into the path of Dawson's car as he drove home from a grocery.

Chicago—Jesse Norfleet, 31, unemployed Chicagoan, received 20 years in the penitentiary for attempting to teach a man a lesson by beating him to death with a two-and-a-half foot board and dumping his victim's body head first into a garbage can.

Newark, N. J.—Two New Jersey Negroes reported here last week they had held a 45-minute talk with Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev in which they discussed problems of Negroes. William J. Clark, of Newark and Clarence C. Coggins, of Jersey City, said they met the Russian leader at New York headquarters of the Soviet UN Mission.

Chicago—L. Alex Wilson, editor-in-chief of the Chicago Daily Defender, died Oct. 11. He headed the Defender's publications' Memphis office and won the Wendell Willkie Award for the best feature writing in Negro journalism in 1950.

Sentenced on Old Traffic Violation; Denied Bond; Eighty Students Released

Atlanta, Ga.—Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., militant integration leader, was the only one of 80 sit-in demonstrators arrested last week, remaining in jail earlier this week. Dr. King, who led a group of youthful sit-in followers, both Negro and white, on Atlanta downtown department stores, was held by suburban DeKalb county in connection with a suspended 12-month sentence for driving without a license. The other demonstrators were released from jail after a 30-day truce agreement was worked out by Mayor William B. Hartsfield.

Letter of Protest

Following the jailing incident, a letter protesting the move was sent to the Mayor and officials of one of the department stores, by the United Packinghouse, Food and Allied Workers, AFL-CIO, signed by Russell R. Lasley, vice president and G. R. Hathaway, secretary-treasurer of the union.

Ask for Release

The letter in part read . . . "We strongly urge that you use the influence of your office to protect the rights of Negroes and their white friends in their peaceful and non-violent pursuit of full citizenship and that you exercise the authority vested in your office to release the Rev. Mr. King and the student leaders without the necessity of bail."

DR. KING

The Southern Conference Educational Fund, also, has called for a nation-wide protest of the arrest of Dr. King, and 50 others in a lunch counter sit-in demonstration in At-

BULLETIN

Atlanta, Ga.—Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Tuesday was sentenced to four months in jail to serve four months on a suspended traffic sentence and was denied a defense motion for bond. Earlier last week he had been arrested with eighty others under Georgia's new trespass law when they demonstrated at lunch counters in downtown department stores here.

Dr. King was given a $25 fine and a one-year suspended sentence Sept. 22 on a charge of driving without a license. He pleaded guilty at that time, but he told the court Tuesday that he had no knowledge that he was under a probationary sentence until advised of it three days before.

In the courtroom bustle and confusion, the president of the Atlanta chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Rev. Samuel Williams, was arrested and charged with interfering with the duties of a deputy sheriff.

Atlanta, Ga. In a telegram to Mayor Hartsfield of Atlanta, SCEF's executive director, Dr. James A. Dombrowski, called for the immediate release of Dr. King, and urged the Mayor to point out the "moral rectitude of the position taken by Dr. King and his fellow sit-in demonstrators."

Crusade Urges Voting Calls

New York—A. Philip Randolph, Chairman of the Non-Partisan Crusade to Mobilize Negro Voters, today announced that the Crusade was urging all registered Negro citizens to participate in a CALLS FOR FREEDOM program on election day.

Randolph noted that "full participation in the electoral process" was one of the most effective techniques for "making progress in achieving civil rights."

Last Election

"In the last national election only 37 per cent of those Negro-Americans qualified by age actually went to the polls and voted," Randolph said. "Many who were already registered simply forgot or failed to go to the polls on election day."

"This year," Mr. Randolph said, "we are proposing that every Negro who votes then make five CALLS FOR FREEDOM; that is he should visit or telephone five friends or acquaintances and remind them to vote, asking them, in turn, to visit or call five others. If this idea catches on," the Negro labor and civil rights leader said, "it will start a chain reaction that can reach millions of potential voters with a few hours on Nov. 8." Mr. Randolph urged that "every Negro should be a freedom worker. This is a simple and effective way for him to be one—make five CALLS FOR FREEDOM on Nov. 8."

TESTIMONIAL DINNER TO HONOR PRES. EMERITUS MORDECAI JOHNSON

Washington, D. C.—Howard University officials today announced plans for a testimonial dinner in honor of Dr. Mordecai W. Johnson, who retired as president of the University in June following 34 years in office. The dinner is scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 21 at the Sheraton Park Hotel.

National Committee

A national committee of some 40 distinguished citizens was named today by University officials to serve as co-sponsors with the Howard board of trustees of the dinner. Co-chairman of the national committee are Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt of New York City and Lorimer D. Milton of Atlanta. Mr. Milton is president of the Citizens Trust Company and chairman of the board of trustees at Howard.

Sammy Davis, Jr., have postponed the date for their marriage from Oct. 16 to Nov. 13. A spokesman for the blonde Swedish actress and Davis said complication over her divorce from Edwin J. Gregson caused the delay.

Speakers

Among the features of the dinner program will be testimonial remarks to Dr. Johnson by five speakers. The group includes Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Arthur S. Flemming; Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president of Morehouse College in Atlanta; Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America and chairman of the Committee for International Economic Growth; Harry I. Wood, president of the University's General Alumni Association; and Dr. Herman R. Branson, professor of physics at Howard. Howard President James M. Nabrit, Jr., will present Dr. Johnson.

Former Pastor

Dr. Johnson, who is now president emeritus of the University, was appointed president of Howard in 1926. He came to the University from Charleston, W. Va., where he had served as pastor of the First Baptist Church. During his 34-year tenure the University experienced the greatest growth and development in its 93-year history.

Plan Dedication of New Payne A.M.E. Memorial Church on Sunday, Oct. 30

Two hundred and fifty guests are expected to attend the dedication of Payne Memorial A.M.E. Church, 1044 Mobile Street, which will be held Sunday Oct. 30th at 4:30 p.m. The Rt. Rev. Joseph Gomez, presiding Bishop of the Fourth Episcopal District of the African Methodist Episcopal Church will deliver the dedicatory sermon. Other participants on the program will be the Rev. Fred Graham, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church and president of the Waterloo Association of Churches; and Mayor Edward Jochumsen of Waterloo. Music by combined choirs will also be featured.

Ministers

Among the numerous ministers and congregations from the Des Moines and Chicago conferences slated to attend the dedication service will be: Rev. Louell Johnson of St. Peter's A.M.E. Church, Minneapolis, Minn.; Rev. Mordue Williams of St. James A.M.E. Church, St. Paul, Minn.; Rev. John I. Thomas of Bethel A.M.E. Church, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Rev. J. K. Brown of Bethel A.M.E. Church, Des Moines, Iowa; Rev. Thomas Cooper of Bethel A.M.E. Church, Muscatine, Iowa; and Rev. W. F. Ogletun, Jr. of Mt. Zion A.M.E. Church Ottumwa, Iowa. The Waterloo Ministerial Association will also be in attendance.

7 Years

Payne Memorial was built last year climaxing a building program of seven years under the leadership of the late Rev. George T. Stinson, Jr. The Rev. I. V. Tolbert continued the program upon his arrival in February of 1960 and with his progressive and enthusiastic leadership, the $150,000 structure is now ready for dedication. Having a seating capacity of eight hundred in the auditorium, the main floor, also features the pastor's office, secretary's office, stewardess room, and sound proof crying room for babies. The downstairs features a nursery, choir room, dining room and kitchen, Sunday School area, and educational and recreational area, giving a total seating capacity of five hundred.

THE LATE REV. DAVIS

In an interview with your columnist, Rev. Percy Burt, well known civic leader and pastor of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, extended an appeal to the many residents who are still not registered as voters. Rev. Burt, who spent many hours contacting residents and answering questions, stated: "If we are to better our own economic condition, we must take a personal interest in matters of government. Our forefathers fought and many in the South today are still risking their lives for the opportunity to register and yet here in the North many residents are unconcerned." Bystander readers: let's aid Rev. Burt by checking with our neighborhood friends to see if they are registered to vote. Every resident must be made aware of the importance of picking a man who will serve God and America best.

Waterloo, Iowa

BY BETTY HACKETT

It seems very natural to resume sharing our news with that of other cities as we did sometime ago. It was certainly heartwarming to receive letters of friends from other states who had used our column as a means of keeping posted on relatives and friends.

Due to the complications resulting from the use of several paper boys, we now have a new plan. Only four boys will deliver papers weekly. Their names will be published at a later date. The major stress will be placed on subscriptions to be sold at the rate of $3.00 for one year. The Choral Club of Payne Memorial A.M.E. Church has agreed to sell subscriptions to the Bystander as one of their projects. Anyone wishing to subscribe may contact Mrs. George Carnie, AD 3-16-25 or Mrs. Marvin Ellis, AD 2-6998. Other groups desiring to use this as a fund raising project are welcome to contact your columnist.

I feel that this our first renewed column should be dedicated to the memory of the late Rev. Samuel Davis, pastor of Antioch Baptist Church, whose sudden death recently shocked our community. A resident of Waterloo for many years, Rev. Davis was a firm Bystander supporter and was well known for his religious and civic role here. I believe that Attorney William W. Parker's comments at the funeral of Rev. Davis certainly summed up Waterloo's feelings. He stated: "Rev. Davis was a minister that lived his sermon. He was a man that was liked by some, loved by others, and respected by all. He was a man that hated discord and implied peace and harmony. In keeping with one of the last wishes of Rev. Davis, Antioch Baptist Church held their Men's Day Rally, Sunday. Funds of the rally are to be used to redecorate the church. School Citation

Hats Off! to the Grant School Parents and Teachers Association who received a National Citation of Merit for their project of "Pre-School Readiness" which they submitted in the Action in Education Awards sponsored by the Better Homes and Gardens magazine in cooperation with national education. Grant School is the only Waterloo school to be thus recognized in 20 years. Mrs. William Coney, 736 Cottage St., was chairman of the project. She was assisted by Miss Glenda Mabrey, Visiting Teaching Consultant; and Miss Ruth Mikelson, Primary School System Supervisor.

The citation stated: "Activities such as yours give reassuring evidence that education is in action throughout the country."

Officers of the Grant P.T.A. are as follows: Atty. William W. Parker, Pres.; Mrs. Russell Bryant, V. Pres.;

Mrs. Tommie Henderson, 2nd V. Pres.; Mrs. Morgan Pearson, Sec.; and Miss Mercedes Fairbrother, Treas.

You, the members of Grant P.T.A. should be especially proud, but we the residents of the community should share your pride for you have not only set a noteworthy record in our city but nation as well.

ELECT Gilbert H. Randle POLK COUNTY DISTRICT COURT Clerk

Says Reds Plan Major Cold War Issue Over U. S. Bias

Oakland, Calif.—Russian Premier Khrushchev's farewell United Nations speech is "a clear signal that America's treatment of her Negro citizens henceforth will be a weapon in the cold war for world domination," NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins predicted here this week as he addressed 4,500 persons attending a NAACP-sponsored civil rights rally in Oakland Auditorium.

Specifics

"This is the first time in many years," he said, "that the head of the Soviet government has been so specific. Usually these charges are left to Soviet publications or to lesser officials to handle."

Wilkins said the Khrushchev criticism, "because of its timing and setting, must be regarded more seriously than all similar attacks in the past."

Premier Khrushchev has said "formally to the assembled nations of the world, including sixteen new African nations, that the United States must not be believed when it talks of freedom because it denies freedom to non-whites."

The United States must "disarm" Khrushchev in his attempt to use the weapon of racial discrimination by wiping out all forms of racial inequality, the speaker declared.

Domestic Politics

Turning to current domestic politics, the NAACP spokesman assured the gathering that, "Negro voters will consider the record of the two parties on civil rights.

"Both the Republican and Democratic 1960 platforms on civil rights are better than ever before," he said.

Rights Accomplishments

Secretary Wilkins cited civil rights accomplishments of both the Republicans and the Democrats and referred to favorable action by President Eisenhower and to a key parliamentary ruling by Vice President Nixon in the 1957 civil rights bill debate which helped the bill. He praised the civil rights voting record of Senator Kennedy and cited the pro-civil rights work of Democratic Senators like Paul Douglas and Hubert Humphrey, and of Republican Senators like Thomas Kuchel, Jacob K. Javits, and Clifford Case. He said the first civil rights bill in 82 years, though weak, was passed in a Democratic Congress under the Senate leadership of Lyndon B. Johnson.

African Question

Returning to the African question, Wilkins said the movement there "is forward and cannot be denied, likewise the anti-discrimination efforts over here are forward and can no longer be denied."

"We want everything that every other citizen enjoys. We don't want anything extra—no special or separate arrangements or procedures for Negroes. The NAACP intends to press and to intensify our civil rights program."

HEALTH FOR ALL

Teen-Age Tiredness

Does your teen-ager sleep till noon on Saturday to the tune of the vacuum cleaner and other assorted bedlam? Does he (or she, of course) do his geometry stretched out on his bed? Does he carry on his telephoning sprawled on the floor? Is he always too tired to help with the dishes?

Normal

He may be ill, but he's more likely to be normal. And he isn't faking either. Teen-agers tire easily for one or more of a dozen reasons, doctors tell us. It's just natural for them to need extra rest and sleep. Fortunately, it's one more of those periods of life about which parents can say hopefully, "They'll grow out of it." Wise parents can help them get through this period with the least fatigue.

No Illness

First, of course, it is important to be sure that there is no illness causing your teen-ager's tiredness. He should have a thorough physical examination, including a tuberculin test. Unhappiness and worry also can cause fatigue. It isn't always easy for parents to get to the bottom of the anxieties from which adolescents sometimes suffer seriously. The family doctor can often be of great assistance.

Major Reason

The major reasons for normal fatigue are rapid growth, too little sunshine and outdoor exercise, an overloaded schedule of social and school activities, poor diet, and overweight. You can't slow up your teen-ager's growth, but you can make sure that he gets plenty of outdoor exercise and a proper diet with the extra protein he needs. You can help him budget his time so that he can get his work done, have fun, and still get to bed at a reasonable hour. And let him sleep late on Saturday morning.

NAACP Wins Apprentice Plumbing Training in NY

New York—The NAACP announced this week that a Negro will be admitted into an apprenticeship training program of a plumbers' union for the first time in New York. The disclosure was made by Herbert Hill, NAACP labor secretary.

Hill also announced the admission of a Negro for the first time into a sheet metal apprenticeship program in St. Louis set up in a Negro-owned firm after the local AFL-CIO rejected Negroes.

Referring to the plumbers' union break through in New York, Mr. Hill said, "It was the result of a request for action by the NAACP to the Attorney-General of New York."

The program is administered by Local 2 of the United Associations of the Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe Fitting Industry of the United States, AFL-CIO.

Off-Campus Housing

In addition the conference voted to seek legislation that would eliminate discrimination in off-campus housing at universities and colleges, and that legislation relating to employment should be extended beyond the areas of race, color and creed to include denial of jobs to persons, who have reached the age of 40.

Words of Praise

Presiding over the conference was Municipal Judge Luther T. Glanton, Jr., conference chairman. The conference also adopted a resolution which praised operators of hotels and motels and others providing public accommodations who have cooperated in the area of civil rights, but also asked them to work with other members of their groups to seek their compliance with the law. It called on county attorneys, sheriffs, police chiefs and other peace officers for fair enforcement of civil rights laws.

NAACP Dinner to Honor Hammerstein and Lena Horne

New York—Lena Horne, star of stage and screen and Librettist Oscar Hammerstein, in memoriam, will be honorees at the NAACP's fourth annual Freedom Fund Dinner here Nov. 27. Announcement was made this week by Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary.

The gala $100-per-couple dinner, to be held in the grand ballroom of the Statler-Hilton Hotel, is under national co-chairmanship of Dr. George D. Cannon and Cornelius McDougald, Esq., of New York City.

It is the climax of the Association's annual Fight for Freedom Fund raising activities. This overall national drive is under co-chairmanship of Jackie Robinson and Marguerite Belafonte.

Longtime Enthusiast

Miss Horne is a long-time NAACP enthusiast. She has been chairman of the Association's Holiday Seal Campaign since 1952 and has done many NAACP benefits across the country through the years.

During the period when she toured with Noble Sissle's and Charlie Barnett's orchestras as featured vocalist, Miss Horne was discovered by Hollywood talent scouts and selected to perform in "Panama Hattie" and "Cabin in the Sky." The rest of her highly successful career is well known.

Board VP

Hammerstein served as a vice president on the Association's National Board of Directors until his death last Aug. 23. He wrote, in collaboration, the book and lyrics for many of Broadway's most successful productions, including "The Desert Song," "Show Boat," "Oklahoma," and "The King and I."

NEGRO U. S. JUDGES

Washington—Sen. John F. Kennedy has urged "a greater effort" to bring Negroes into higher government jobs, possibly including the cabinet.

Kennedy was asked in a television interview (NBC "Meet the Press") Sunday, Oct. 16 how he would feel about a Negro in the cabinet if he were president.

The Democratic nominee said: "I think we ought to pick the best people we can and the best for each of the tasks. If the best person is a Negro, if he is white, if he is Mexican descent or Irish descent or whatever he may be, I believe he should get the job."

"But I do believe we should make a greater effort to bring Negroes into participation in the higher branches of government," he said.

"There are no (Negro) federal district judges," he added. "We only have about 26 Negroes in the entire foreign service of 6,000, so that I . . . particularly now with the importance of Africa, Asia and all the rest, I do believe we should . . . encourage fuller participation on all levels, of all the talent we can get . . . Negro, white or any race."

CONGRESSMAN DAWSON

Washington, D. C.—Congressman William L. Dawson of Illinois, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, predicted Tuesday that close to six million Negroes will vote on Nov. 8, the largest vote in their history, and over 75 per cent will vote for Senator John F. Kennedy.

Dawson cited estimates of the Census Bureau released last Saturday that 9,988,000 Negroes will be of voting age on Nov. 8. "Our registration drives indicate that we have at least a million new Negro voters this year and from all reports we now have considerably more than five million Negroes on the books," Dawson declared.

Predicting that more than seventy-five per cent will vote for Kennedy, Dawson said: "The issues are clear in this campaign and many Negroes who voted for Eisenhower have had enough of the Republicans."

Bishop Gomez Plans "Summit" Meeting for Leaders of 4th District

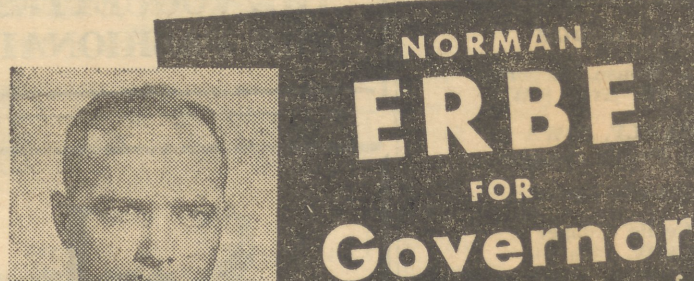

Cleveland, O. — Bishop Joseph Gomez, president of the AME Council of Bishops and presiding bishop of the 4th Episcopal District, returned to the city last week after completing annual sessions of the six conferences over which he presides.

The bishop announced a forthcoming "summit type" meeting of ministers and laity of the 4th District, which includes Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Canada. The meeting, to be held in Chicago, Dec. 16-17, will consider vital issues affecting the church and community.

Agenda

Consideration will be given to decreasing employment opportunities for Negroes in southern Illinois, the shifting Negro population, and the relationship of church and society. Pastors of the District will study "preaching in the light of an integrated society," pastoral counseling, evangelism and stewardship.

Bishop Gomez stated that he felt "the Protestant church ministry has lost much of its spiritual fervor." He insisted that today's ministers need to interpret the Holy scriptures in the light of current needs and problems. "The time has passed," he said, "when preachers can serve the spiritual needs of people with warmed-over sermons."

group of young children her daughter's age helped this mother. It also helped other mothers whose only children were lonely. They took turns supervising the play of the little children. They also took turns having the play group in their yards or in the house on rainy days.

"Shall I put my lovely vase out of reach of my baby or let him handle it?" queried a second mother in this group. "I'm afraid he will break it."

Handling

Another mother in the neighborhood group answered the question—with seven children, she had learned ment-sponsored goodwill tour of Africa, Europe and conceivably Russia, world famous trumpeter Louis Armstrong proposed the establishment of an International Jazz Friendship Festival. A sort of "musical Olympics," the concert would be held in a different world capital each year as an aid to mutual interest and understanding. Armstrong, whose "horn" speaks a universally appreciated language, was full of enthusiasm as he discussed the project. He said the current tour gave him the idea of the festival. "There ain't a single foreign country wher the cats don't dig jazz," Louis said.

a lot about handling them! She said, "The other day I brought home a length of bright-colored cloth for a dress for one of my daughters. The baby was at hand to see me open the package. He reached for it, but I asked him to come with me while I washed his hands and dried them thoroughly."

"Then I let him touch and pat the pretty goods for quite a while. Finally, I said, 'This is mother's.' Next I handed him one of his favorite toys and said, 'This is yours.' Then I put the new material on a high shelf."

Developing

She added, "We never know when the love of beauty begins to develop. We all want our children to be aware of beauty. Touching and looking at the dress material, for instance, seemed to satisfy my baby."

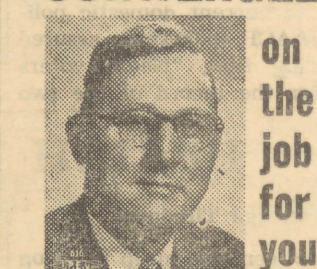

The mother who asked about her beautiful vase had her answer: "Let the child under supervision touch and handle the vase, then give him something that is his, putting the vase up out of temptation's way."

Administrative, Executive Boards of IACW Hold Fall Meeting in Des Moines Last Weekend

The fall meetings of the governing boards of the Iowa Association of Club Women were held last weekend in Des Moines. Many of the club women attended also the Iowa Commission on Human Relations conference Saturday and participated in the several workshops and the general sessions. In every city where a federated club is located, members are very articulate and active in the area of human relations.

Administrative Board

On Saturday evening Mrs. A. A. Alexander of 2200 Chautauqua parkway, and chairman of the Administrative board, entertained at a dinner preceding the meeting. Members attending were Mesdames Daisy Smith, of Sioux City, and president of the IACW; Luberta Bentley, Sioux Falls, S. Dak.; Inez Bruce, Council Bluffs, Ia.; Josanna Spencer, Marshalltown, Ia.; and Mesdames Sarah Jett, Pauline Humphrey, Adah Johnson, Goetha Trotter, Gertrude Rush, Helen D. Wimberly, Rose Johnson and Miss Jessie Walker, all of Des Moines. Also attending as a guest, was Mrs. Etta Grider of Sioux City, a member of the clubhouse committee.

Club House

Chief subject discussed was the clubhouse project which is the most important phase of the activities of the IACW. Permission was granted the clubwomen of Iowa to launch a money-making project this fall.

Officers of the Administrative board re-elected were Mrs. Alexander, chairman and Mrs. Jett, as secretary.

Executive Board

The Executive board meeting was held on Sunday beginning at 10 a.m. with Mrs. Smith presiding, Mrs. Jett, chairman of ways and means committee, presented her program for the year which included plans for the awarding of a Sue M. Brown trophy, from her department at the state association.

Questions Clarified

Mrs. Wimberly, chairman of the club house project, made a progress report, and presented Atty. Willie S. Glanton, legal advisor to IACW, who clarified many questions for the members present. Committees suggested for the on going work of the committee by Mrs. Wimberly were approved by the board.

Reports on Convention

The president made a vivid account on the National Association of Colored Women's club, Inc., which she attended in New York City. Interesting sidelights were given by Mrs. Cecil Lewis, of Des Moines, who with Mrs. Bentley, also attended the NACWC convention, also.

Attendants

Members attending the executive board meeting were Mesdames Grider, Smith, Bruce, Spencer, Humphrey, Jett, Johnson, Trotter, Lewis, Glanton, Alexander, Wimberly, Lucille Smith, Dorothy Bush, Inez Jones, Mary Ruth Simmons, Delores Bailey, Erma Carr, Geraldine Ayers, Ocie Simms, Gertrude North and Miss Jessie Walker.

Life Member Plaques

Mrs. Smith presented to Mrs. Alexander and to the Parliamentary Law and Culture club, two beautifully framed certificates signifying life memberships in the National association. Mrs. Smith received the certificates from Dr. Rosa L. Gragg, national president, in New York City last summer.

T.O.B. Club Opens Fall Activities; Hear Talk On Fashion, Hair Styles

Crescent School of Beauty Culture, 1407 Center street, was the scene of the T.O.B. club's first fall activity, on Friday, Oct. 21. Mrs. James B. Morris, Sr., noted NAACP worker and one of Des Moines' authorities on millinery and dress fashions, spoke to the group on fashions and charm. In addition hair styles were modeled by Lillie Keyes, Barbara Newton, Wanda Griffith, Freddie Parkey, Cora Hopkins, Ada Thomas and Lillie Forbes. Miss Keyes also served as commentator.

Sharing Courtesies

Sharing the courtesies were Mesdames Emma May Greene, Thelma Clark, Delores Bailey, Lula Harris, Edna Well, Marion Morrison, Margaret McCracken, Verlene Propes, Julia Southall, Mildred West, and Mary Baker.

The club colors of pink and blue were carried out in the decorating motif for the refreshment table.

New York Beauty Queen Added to National Models for Wardrobe of Ebony Fashions Fair

A Who's Who of American beauties will be unveiled, Tuesday, Nov. 15, when the sensational Ebony Fashion Fair, appears at the Hoyt Sherman Auditorium for a return engagement to Des Moines.

Added to the high-powered cast of Ebony lovelies is Ann Porter, the New York beauty queen, winner of the coveted title of "Miss Subway 1960" and now rapidly becoming one of the top high fashion models in the country. Also included in the cast will be attractive Joyce Bowman, fashion expert and owner of one of the leading modeling agencies in New York City. Miss Bowman serves as an assistant to Mrs. Freda DeKnight, producer-director of the show.

Dreams Come True

Over 200 applicants were rigidly screened for this year's version of "A Symphony In Fashions". Their acceptance by Mrs. DeKnight was based on experience in modeling, poise and talent in addition to their outstanding beauty. To the ten lovely models that were selected it meant a "dream come true" for, appearing in America's greatest fashion show, is the gateway to a highly successful career in this field. Iowa's weather glorious again after a brief, chilling encounter with the first nipping, vanguard of Ole Man Winter, sent residents scurrying for cold weather togs, storm windows and furnace thermostats. Hunting enthusiasts cleaning and readying hunting gear and equipment and mentally sight down the barrel of their favorite firearms for wild game that will stock freezers and grace dinner tables. Football fans still stoically hanging on as the Hawkeyes continue to have no mercy for hearts and emotions, as they continue their Custer-like stands' on the Big Ten gridirons. And voters plan entertainment for election night that they have a chance only to enjoy once in every four years.

Back at her job as secretary to the executive secretary of the Des Moines commission on Human Rights is Mrs. Leola Hubbard, of 1130 11th street. She had been away on her vacation for a week. She had decided sometime ago to take it in the full when the hottest part of the weather had passed.

By the time you are reading this our oldest girl, Venita, will have undergone a tonsilectomy at Iowa Lutheran Hospital and return home with the rest of her family. That is everything goes well and there is no cause for a postponement. We were hoping that she could be out and recuperated enough that she would get a chance to participate in the annual Halloween costume parade at Nash school and of course, Trick or Treat night. She had along with her brothers, kept at her dad until he took them downtown for the costume of their choice.

With the spookiest night of the year coming up, here is some Halloween advice, for the mothers and neighbors of young ghosts, witches, and assorted hobgoblins. If you can't talk or 'treat' the little fellows from the "spirit world" from marking up your windows, don't get up in the air about it. Chalk scribbles can be washed off by using a sponge saturated with soap or detergent suds. For wax or crayon markings, use turpentine first; then follow with hot suds and rinses.

Many residents are also preparing for their nightlong vigil on election night which usually take the place of parties, of neighborhood get-togethers. Usually by that time, political tempers have been stretched so fine that often they are not bipartisan, but of one party or the other. Here, too, is a chance to use the political theme in refreshments, table decorations, and party attire. One company, located in West Des Moines, makes part aprons, printed with black elephants and donkeys on a white background. A patch pocket, emblazoned with a choice of a high kicking donkey or jaunty elephant, indicates your partisan feeling.

There is a national movement for getting out the "calls for freedom," on election day. It consists of first voting yourself, then calling five friends and acquaintances and reminding them to vote. Whatever you do, DO VOTE.

The Jesse Browns Have New Granddaughters

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Brown of 301 S.E. 28th street became the proud grandparents of twin girls, Lynn Alison Dent, 5 pounds 8 ounces and Leslie Annique Dent, 4 pounds 9 ounces, born Sept. 15. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dent of San Francisco, Calif.

Mrs. Dent, the former Beverly Brown, is a graduate of Drake university and was a first lieutenant in the Women's Medical Army corps. She is a registered physical therapist. Mr. Dent is a psychologist, and hails from New York.

Mrs. Brown returned to the city recently after spending some time in San Francisco visiting her new granddaughters, Jessie Anne Brown, sister of Mrs. Dent, visited in San Francisco in August.

The maternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Daniels of 900 S.E. 27th street and Mrs. Lucy Williams, of 2727 Racoon street.

WHY NATIONS VOTE AGAINST AMERICA

Nowadays, a body seldom schedules a convention in a city where its delegates, black and white, are denied public accommodations. But it seems ridiculous that the International Convention of Christian Churches, a great religious group of all bodies, should have the ugly head of discrimination raised against some of its members.

And that is just what happened in Louisville, Ky., when some hotels and cafeterias refused to accommodate Negro members of the delegation.

With all the wonder why some African countries voted against the United States in U.N. on vital questions, incidents like these are some of the answers.

Of course, Khrushchev will note this in his records and at a convenient time shove it down America's throat.

Like the Human Rights Conference in Des Moines last week, which failed to get much from the politicians, we continue to deplore these ugly practices but hesitate to set up proper machinery to deal with them.

FACE UP TO THE FARM PROBLEM

The farm problem continues to be an issue in every campaign. All sorts of panaceas are advanced to deal with the farm problem but most of them refuse to look at realities.

The farmer complains that the price he gets for what he produces is too low; that the price of what he buys is too high.

Both complaints are true. With the ease of producing enormous crops, his selling price is bound to be low unless subsidized by the government. His purchasing price will continue to be high because the cost of labor and material which goes into processing, is so far out of line with his costs of production that the two fall to balance each other.

Unfortunately, the farm problem continues to be a political football and the side which promises the biggest subsidy gets their ear and often their vote.

IT COSTS TO DEFEND RIGHTS

The U. S. Supreme Court has agreed to review a decision by a special three-judge federal court in New Orleans that Louisiana may not compel the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to disclose names of its members and contributors.

NAACP officials contend, and rightly so, that the sole purpose of the so-called inspection of membership rolls is to provide definite people upon whom they may invoke sanctions.

Fortunately, the NAACP has kept its affairs above board and the only methods the stinkers have of intimidating the organization is to find out who belongs. In this way, they propose to put fear into the hearts of Negroes who belong to the organization.

It is hard to imagine the length these people in the South will go in order to keep the Negro down. And yet these same people contend that they are the Negroes' best friend and a group of northern people working with them attempt to make some Negroes feel that they are right.

Of course, the cost of this appeal must be paid by the NAACP while the tax payers in Louisiana, black and white, foot the bill.

Sometimes its pretty hard to make Negroes understand that they are helping to pay the bill to fight cases designed to block their progress.

D. M. NAACP Xmas Seal Drive Underway

The 1960 NAACP Christmas seal drive is underway in Des Moines with Mrs. George C. Morris, as chairman and Mrs. Guy E. Greene and Mr. A. P. Trotter as co-chairmen. Mrs. Greene is charge of seals for the executive board and will be contacting members.

Ernie Bank Named One of Chicago Top Young Men

Chicago—Ernie Banks, to whom winning honors has become a habit, won another distinction last week when the Chicago Junior Association of Commerce and Industry cited him as one of the city's "10 Outstanding Young Men" of 1960 at a luncheon at the Morrison hotel.

The Chicago Cubs shortstop, the 1960 major league home run king and two-time National League Most Valuable Player winner, was selected from a wide field of candidates by a panel of judges made up of leading business men.

They did it again! As we looked at the Iowa-Purdue game last weekend, we began to wonder where the teams got all those Negroes. Each team fielded at least eight and they had a big hand in their team's part. Little Jim Tiller, scored one marker and intercepted a pass that gave the Boilermakers their final threat. That guy, Bernie Allen was one whale of a passer. You know the Iowa players, Hollis, Furgerson, Perry, who ran like a halfback, or a scared rabbit, Williams, Perkins, and rest. For a while Michigan State seemed to have monopoly on Negroes in quantity. Then along came Indiana and then Iowa. But, now Purdue, once a hard school to ever get into has as many Negroes on the football and basketball teams as probably any mixed school in the country.

Iowa's Opponents

Now comes Kansas and the big, bad Gophers at Minnesota. They haven't beaten Iowa for many a year and it wouldn't be a bad short end bet to take Minnesota over Iowa. If they should get by that one, the boys from Iowa face the task of stopping one of the greatest one-two punch in college football; you guessed it another big, rough Negro fullback in Bob Furgerson of Ohio State.

Iowa State Cyclones

Iowa State really took it on the chin at Missouri, but things should get better from now on. Still they didn't stop Tom Watkins, who ought to rate some all star honors. That is if the writer covering Cyclone games can stop writing about Hoppman for just a while; at least until he gets back into a game.

Drake Bulldogs

Drake did better than they expected to at North Texas and will be at home this weekend; ought to go out and watch them play. Win or lose, it is always a good game.

High School

We asked one of the East High players about that Tech game last week. "Bet, there were all kinds of 'lovely' names called out there. Some of them probably wouldn't have sounded a bit good in church."

The fellow grinned and said, "No, we were pretty decent. We really were pretty sports-minded. There wasn't much talk like you think. We guessed they were too busy clobbering each other, if they guy wasn't pulling our leg and how do we know he wasn't."

Globetrotters Present 2 New Stars, Frank Burks, G. Vaughn

Chicago—As great as the Harlem Globetrotters are, there is always room on their roster for a new star. Owner Abe Saperstein has never been a stand-pat executive. Ever since he organized basketball's most famous and popular aggregation, the energetic leader of the sparkling Trotters has made it a habit to give young prospects a chance to crack his team's star-studded lineup.

2 New Stars

This year, for example, the Globetrotters are introducing two ex-college stars whom Saperstein predicts will eventually be listed among the game's all-time greats. The two rookies are Frank Burks, ex-star of the Wisconsin University Badgers, and Governor Vaughn, a sensation at the University of Illinois the past

Iowa Bumps Purdue 21-14 in Another Thriller, 80-yd. TD for Center D. Perry; Hollis Scores 2

By Staff Writer

Iowa City, Iowa—The amazing Hawkeyes, who seem to thrive on excitement and the unorthodox, continued their exciting journey up the rocky road toward the Big Ten title with their usual assortment of thrills, suspense and heroics as they bumped the mighty Purdue Badgers 21-14 in a Homecoming clash before a capacity 59,200 fans, here Saturday.

Balloons

Simultaneous with the kick-off thousands of brightly hued balloons were released by the homecoming crowd and permeated the blue sky like huge floating Easter eggs.

This was the most exciting of the festivities for a while as the first quarter ensued. Neither team could get their offense in gear. One offensive tactic after another was bogged down and countered by a defensive one.

Perry

This contest was slated to be a mighty offensive battle but as it turned out it was mainly one of defense. As a matter of fact, a defensive gem that involved end Felton Rogers and big center Dayton Perry was turned into a touchdown and the most exciting play of the game. The Badgers had begun to move the ball and carried all the way to the Hawks 16 yard line. Purdue quar-

Missouri Tigers Rip Iowa State 34-8

By Staff Writer

Columbia, Mo.—The Missouri Tigers showed they haven't been tamed yet as they took a big 34-8 bite out of the Iowa State Cyclones here Saturday in a Big Eight conference match.

From the onset it was evident that the Cyclones were ill-matched to this fifth ranked team in the national poll and leader of the Big Eight conference.

Overpowered

Mighty Mo simply overpowered the Cyclones gaining 294 yards on the ground to the Cyclones 105. Iowa State's lone tally came on a freak play. An infrequent pass thrown by the Tigers ricocheted off the hands of end Ray Horky at the seven yard line and flew into the hands of Iowa State end Larry Schreiber on the one yard line and he stepped across the goal marker.

Iowa State coach, Clay Stapleton said after the game that "we hustled and hustled hard today. We were just beaten by a real fine team."

Iowa State is at Oklahoma State for Saturday's contest.

three seasons.

Scoring Records

Burks, who is 6-4, broke all kinds of scoring records during his prep school career in Chicago, while Vaughn, 6-4, scored 1,001 points during his collegiate career to become the third highest scorer in Illinois history.

These two rookies have blended well with such veteran Trotter stars as Meadowlark Lemon, Tex Harrison, Ernest Wagner, Murphy Summons and Joe Buckhalter.

Iowa fans will have their first opportunity of the season to see them in action at the following sites next week: Waterloo, Iowa and Spencer, Iowa.

terback Bernie Allen had cocked his trigger-like arm and aimed for a target but discovered they were covered. He started to run but end Felton Rogers slammed into him and out squirted the ball into the alert, ready hands of 215 pound, six feet one inch center, Perry, who huffed and puffed 80 yards for a touchdown. Perry was elated and so were the yelling, hilarious fans. This was an unusual spectacle to see and it marks the first time in 41 years that an Iowa center has scored a touchdown.

Hollis

Earlier in the second quarter, quarterback Wilburn Hollis and Co. had begun to move the ball. The Hawkeyes moved 39 yards in six plays with Hollis accounting for 30 of them. He ran for five, four, and 21 yards in this series and scored the TD. He later went over again for his second touchdown of the game. However, Hollis could not get his passing arm working as he completed 2 of 12 and had two intercepted. Iowa led 14-0 at half time and 21-0 in the third quarter.

The victory for the Hawks seemed pretty secure at this stage. But in remembrance of previous performance and the Hawks' zest for drama and excitement it just should not end this way.

Allen

And so it was that the Badgers quarterback, Allen, seeming to take mental cognizance of this fact, began to bombard the air with aerial blast after aerial blast that soon netted them two touchdowns. They were working away at another one as the clock said it was all over. And so as it turned out Iowa had made a mighty defensive stand and Purdue had gotten too little too late. And for the Hawkeye fans, who two weeks previously had witnessed offensive dramas, saw this week, a drama of defense.

Halfway

Now the Iowans of the gridiron have sped past the half-way mark with a perfect record, still perched on the highest echelon in the nation and the Big Ten. Playing as they have in these past games they seem to have reached a higher plateau in their playing skill. To test whether

IMAGE OF FAITH

The image of faith, is a gentle man Who does his work, as best he can: And as he labors, takes time to pray, "God bless all the faithful; this day. Give them the strength, to meet the need

To breach the walls 'tween race and creed.

And to lift up high, a falling soul: Bringing us closer, to our goal." Remembering: what the Master saith."

Thou be the image: or true faith. —Glenn A. Gallagher

EVERY DAY

It isn't just on Sunday That you need Him by your side: But every day, all through the week In Him we should abide. You were not made, to walk alone For God is part of thee: We need His strength, to guide us Through out eternity. Safe in the shelter of His word Our faith will show the way: And take us through the perils On the paths of every day. —Glenn A. Gallagher

Thoughts for Today

Few human activities affect our lives so deeply or so widely as conversation.—Milton Wright.

Most of us live too near the surface of our abilities, dreading to call upon our deeper resources. It is as if a strong man were to do his work with only one finger.—John Charles Wynn.

or not this is so will be two stalwart Big Ten opponents in Minnesota and Ohio State and Kansas and Notre Dame in non-conference tilts. Kansas will tussle with the Hawks Saturday.
